main to the special exercises. Mrs. E. H. Whitney gave a report of the address on "Teaching Children" given at the County Sunday school convention held at Farmington last week and Miss Wilbur, the superintendent, told the children in a very charming way, the story of "The Piper," the prize play written by Josephine Preston Peabody.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN

Racing at Phillips

The rainfall on the 21st and 22d together with the industrious efforts of the managers on the 23d and 24th ult. had put the track in excellent condition for racing. The footing was firm and the turf fairly smooth. The racing was unusually interesting throughout. No serious accident occurred to mar the pleasure and only two minor ones that merely damaged the sulkies without injuring the drivers or their horses. The purses were small but the drivers could not have raced more earnestly had the purses been $10,000 each. The honor of winning seemed to be sufficient incentive to cause the drivers to make vigorous efforts to head the summaries.

When Starter W. L. Jones of Strong, rang out the horses for the first race on the card, the 2.25 class trot and pace, on the 25th ult, the grandstand and grounds were well filled with interested spectators. There were eleven horses named on the card, but only five of them all pacers responded to the starter's summons. This race was won in straight heats by the bay mare, Eola Patchen. She was entered and driven by F. E. Southard of Norridgewock. Her sire, Senator Patchen, as stated by Mr. Southard, is a son of the renowned Joe Patchen 2.01 1/4 (sire of the champion pacer, Dan Patch p. 1.55 1/4). The dam of Senator Patchen, as stated by Mr. Southard, was by Gideon 145, a son of Hambletonian 10. The summaries at the close of this article tell the story of this race.

The next event on the program, the 2.50 class, had twelve entries, six of which came out for the word, four of them pacers. While scoring a few times for a send-off it looked as though the contest would be between the Fall River mare, Queen Patchen and Sis, the little handsome little bay mare owned by D. B. Ross, Esq., of Phillips, and driven by Dr. Rollins of Portland. After five heats had been contested the race was postponed to the following day. There was a great surprise in the fifth heat of this race. Queen Patchen and Sis, each of which had won two heats, were racing down the home stretch, almost head and head, drivers and mares straining every nerve to be first at the finish, when the trotter Cyclone came down on the outside and barely nosed Sis out at the wire. Queen Patchen's head was at Sis' shoulder. But few prettier finishes are seen in a lifetime. Sis won the deciding heat on the 26th ult.

Dr. Rollins was formerly a resident of this town, and every Philliplian is in love with sweet little Sis, her victory was highly gratifying to home people, though all felt a pang of regret for Queen Patchen, that had struggled so nonestly to win and were sorry for the disappointment that her defeat caused her driver, but he is evidently a game man who will not be discouraged at trifles. Sis is bred in race winning lines and is as game as she is handsome. She has inherited the blood that made C. J. Hamlin's noted breeding establishment, Village Farm, East Aurora, N. Y., famous by producing many high-class race winners including The Abbott 2.03 1/4, the champion trotter of his day. The Abbott 2.03 1/4 was by Chimes 2.30 1/4, dam by Mambrino King 1279. Sis was by a son of Chimes 2.30 1/4 and her dam was by Mambrino King 1279 if I am correctly informed. Her owner, D. B. Ross, Esq., of this town, bought her from her breeder, near Buffalo, N. Y., the home of C. J. Hamlin. Queen Patchen is a blood like looking black mare, and "bred in the purple." Her sire is Joe Patchen p. 2.01 1/4 (sire of the world's champion Dan Patch 1.55 1/4), a son of Patchen Wilkes 2.29 1/2 by George Wilkes 2.32. Her dam is Helen R. p. 2.08 1/2 by Redfield 6248, a son of Red Wilkes 1749; second dam, Katie H. by Ontario 4812, a son of Blue Bull 75. She resembles her sire strongly especially her head and neck, and should make a valuable brood mare when her racing days are over.

Nan T., that won fourth money in that race should head a summary one of these days. Her sire, Wm. J. Hynes 2.29, was by Woodbrino 2.25 1/2, a son of Nutwood 2.18 1/4, and her dam is given as by Wilkes 8571, a son of Alcyone 2.27. Such a combination of blood lines should make her valuable for a brood mare. Sir James, that started in the above race, is a large, strong, sound, good gaited trotter with plenty of bone and substance, can show 2.20 speed and has power enough to pull a grocery or express wagon. His sire was Siroc, by Elder Boone p. 2.18 1/4, a son of Daniel Boone 2.31 1/4, and his dam was by Robert Bonner 270, a son of Hambletonian 10. He is owned and driven by Dr. A. L. Stanwood, Rumford.

Nell Sable 2.29 1/4, winner of the 2.35 class is a brown trotting mare by El Sable, a full brother of Sable Wilkes (3) 2.18. She was entered and driven by W. A. Nelson, South Paris. Van G. that won the first heat of the 2.35 race in 2.29 1/2 is a handsome bay gelding by Van Helmont 2.19 1/4. One of the most interesting events of the meeting was an exhibition mile by a grey or white pacing mare owned and trained by W. A. Nelson. She went twice around the track at speed without rider or driver and the spectators were greatly delighted at the performance. Victor Leader, winner of the two-year-old trot is bay in color, got by Dexter Beed's son of Alcyone 2.20 1/4; dam, a fast natural pacer. He is a level-headed, steady-going, fearless fellow that will stand a drive from wire to wire without showing symptoms of nervousness. Lord Wilkes Jr. is a large, handsome, pure-gaited trotter, that with careful handling until he is well matured bids fair to make a powerful horse and a valuable trotter. It pays to wait a little while before training that kind for racing as large, sound, handsome, clean-jimbed, good-gaited trotters will always bring good prices.

After four heats had been contested in the free-for-all race and the usual time for cooling out the horses had expired, it was too dark to race another heat with safety. Starting Judge W. L. Jones called the drivers in front of the stand and asked them if they would agree to end the race and have the money divided according to the summary as it then stood, and thus avoid coming to the track the next day to race to a finish. Mr. Stanwood, the driver of Brownette, winner of two heats; Hanscome, the driver of Van Brown, and Southard, the driver of Hazel R., were in favor of a division of the money according to the summary as it then stood, but Mr. Nelson, driver of Attorney M., objected. The judge then declared the meeting closed and instructed the four drivers to have their horses ready to start in the unfinished race at 10 o'clock the following morning.

The writer is informed that Mr. Nelson packed his horse equipments, etc., and took his horses from the track early Saturday morning, and it was generally understood that he, too, had decided to agree to have the money divided according to the summary. Mr. Stanwood also took his horses and followed after Mr. Nelson.

The other two drivers, neither of whom had won a heat the previous day, and both of whom had expressed a willingness to have the money divided, brought their horses to the track at the time stated by the starting judge, and demanded of the managers of the fair, that the race be renewed and continued to a finish. After considerable delay this was done. The two horses went one heat. As this heat was the fifth heat of the race only the horse which won that heat started in the next heat, as the rule says that in races best 3 in 5, no horse that has not won a heat at the finish of the fifth heat shall start in a subsequent heat of that race. Of course the managers of the fair refused to pay first and second monies to the participants of this farcical race and will await instructions from the officers of the National Trotting Association of which the Phillips track is a member.

RECEIVING MANY INQUIRIES

Higher prices for licenses to non-resident hunters, lower fines for violation of the moose law and fewer days in which to hunt moose are some of the changes that have been made in the Maine game laws since last season. The moose-hunting season formerly was from Oct. 15 to Dec. 1; now it is limited to the month of November. The deer season remains as before—Oct. 1 to and including Dec. 15. One bull moose, not less than one year old, may be killed in the month of November, and two deer may be killed within the time specified. The penalty for unlawful killing of moose formerly was a fine of $500 and costs, or imprisonment for four months; the imprisonment period remains unchanged, but under the amended law the fine is reduced to not less than $100 and costs, nor more than $200 and costs. The license fee for non-resident hunters has been increased from $15 to $25.

Here is the new law section. Section 51. Persons not bona fide residents of the State, and actually domiciled therein, shall not hunt, pursue, take or kill any bull moose, deer, or ducks, partridges, woodcock or other birds or wild animals at any time without having first procured a license therefor as herein after provided. Such licenses shall be issued by the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game, upon application in writing and payment of twenty-five dollars, to hunt bull moose, deer, ducks, partridges, woodcock and other birds and wild animals during their respective open seasons, and in the manner provided by law, in October, November and December. But to hunt, in their respective open seasons, and in the manner provided by law, ducks, partridges, woodcock and other birds and wild animals in the counties of Aroostook, Washington, Hancock, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset, Franklin and Oxford up to October first of each year, a license fee of five dollars shall be paid annually; provided, further, that in the counties of Androscoggin, Cumberland, Knox, Kennebec, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, Waldo and York such person may procure a license for five dollars to hunt, in their respective open seasons, and in the manner provided by law, ducks, partridges, woodcock and other birds and wild animals prior to November first of each year. A person having paid the fee of five dollars may procure a license to hunt bull moose, deer and other wild animals and wild birds in their respective open seasons during the open season on bull moose and deer by paying an additional fee of twenty dollars, such license shall entitle the purchaser to take to his home in addition as now provided, properly tagged with the tag detached from his license, and open to view, ten partridges, fifteen ducks and ten woodcock that he had himself lawfully killed, and under such rules and regulations as may be established by the commissioners, as may be required to carry out the true intent of this act and not inconsistent herewith.

Many inquiries are being received at the office of the passenger traffic department of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad in relation to the outlook for the hunting season along the line of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad, and according to Passenger Traffic Manager Houghton of the railroad the season promises to be one of the best for years.

Word comes from the camp proprietors up along the line that the deer are unusually plentiful, owing to the fact that the past winter months were unusually mild and the young deer passed through the severe season in great shape. There was but comparatively little snow, which made it easy for the deer to find plenty to eat, and in consequence they are said to be very plentiful.

Most of the inquiries that are coming to the B. and A. offices are from out of the state, and notwithstanding the fact that the non-resident license fee for hunters is $25 under the new law instead of $15, Mr. Houghton does not believe that the increase will keep many away and says:

"When the license was first put on there is no question that it kept no resident hunters from Maine, but I feel sure that those who have been coming down here, and have been paying $15, will not balk at $10 additional. Under the provisions of the law the non-resident can come into the state to hunt birds in September by paying a license fee of $5. If they came to stay over into October and hunt deer they can pay the balance of $20 and get a regular non-resident license."

According to the reports that come down from the lakes and ponds, the September fishing has been particularly good, especially at Square Lake in Aroostook county, which is fast becoming one of the leading salmon lakes of the state, and bids fair in the estimation of many to rival Grand Lake.

Square Lake was stocked a good many years ago with salmon, and during the past two or three years the fishermen have been getting the benefit. The fish are good sized and gamey, and there are plenty of them.

J. P. Yerra, proprietor of the Square Lake camps, writes the B. and A. that the fishing will hold good until the last of this month. The birds are thick in his section, he says, and there is every indication that there will be lots of deer taken there. He has had an unusually busy season, and most of his guests are coming back next year.

As already stated there is considerable agitation for the imposition of a license tax on non-resident fishermen, and for a tax of $1 each on resident hunters. It is said that thirty thousand or more non-residents come into Maine every year to fish, and with a license fee of three dollars each imposed upon these and a tax of one dollar on resident hunters, the commissioners estimate that the State treasury would receive about $100,000 yearly. The money would be used to protect and propagate game fishes, chiefly, they being regarded as of more importance than the big game.

From all accounts there will be plenty of deer, this season, the game having wintered well in 1912-13, when there was little snow and the weather was mild. It is thought that the moose have at least held their own in the last few years, and that as a result of protection there will soon be a very fair supply of well grown bulls with good horns.

Game birds have been unusually plentiful this year, and fifty per cent more licenses have been sold than in 1912.

GIANT MUSHROOMS

Lester Thompson of Biddeford has in his possession a mushroom which weighs six pounds and seven ounces. It was picked on a local farm, where others were found weighing from three to five pounds.

A. H. Jordan has growing in his garden at his home in Gardiner, three giant mushrooms of the edible variety. The smallest of the three is thirty-five inches in circumference and is eight inches high.

LADY RIDER SEES A BEAR AND A FOX

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Great Pond, Sept. 30—what can be more beautiful than the woods of Maine? Certainly no place more satisfactory for summer vacationists as is shown by the increasing numbers each year who visit the fashionable resorts and the lakes, streams and even the quiet farm houses, for the childhood home has a strong attraction for those whose business calls them to other states.

It has been very lively here this summer every bungalow and cottage with their share of company and many socials in the hall, boating parties by moonlight and picnics by the lakeside have been popular.

One party still lingers at Alligator.

Mrs. Haynes when riding horseback to the lake met a large bear and a little farther on a fox. She did not know which was the more frightened but at least her ride was interesting.

Now the trees are showing shades of russet and gold and the hunting season will soon be on. The lumbermen are talking wood lore and planning for the winter. Bert Haynes will close his camps at Jo Mary and go to Moosehead Lake to take charge of lumbering camps for the winter, work that he is well fitted for. He has hired Ezra Williams and Amos Archer, two expert lumbermen and all the men he can get from this way. Mr. Archer has moved his family to Bangor for the winter.

PLEA FOR ALL BIRDS EVEN HAWK AND OWL

An attempt is made to make all persons acquainted with 50 common birds and their usefulness to mankind in a bulletin freely distributed by the bureau of biological survey at Washington. A description of the appearance and habit of each bird is given that he may be appreciated for what he is doing apart from filling the air with gladness and be protected and nurtured for it. A direct appeal is made to children.

Introducing the birds, one at a time, this preliminary comment is made:

"Entomologists have estimated that insects yearly cause a loss upward of $700,000,000 to the agricultural interests of the United States. Were it not for our birds the loss would be very much greater, and, indeed, it is believed without the aid of our feathered friends successful agriculture would be impossible. A knowledge of the birds that protect crops is, therefore, as important as a knowledge of the insect pests that destroy them. Such knowledge is the more important because the relation of birds to man's interests is extremely complex. Thus while it may be said that most of our birds are useful, there are only a few of them that are always and everywhere useful and that never do harm. Insectivorous birds, for instance, destroy, along with a vast number of harmful insects, some parasitic and predatory kinds. These latter are among nature's most effective agents for keeping destructive insects in check. To the extent, then, that birds destroy useful parasitic insects they are harmful. But, taking the year around, the good they do by the destruction of insects injurious to man's interests far outweighs the little harm they do. It may be said, too, that of the birds usually classed as noxious there are very few which do not possess redeeming traits. Thus the crow is mischievous in spring and sorely taxes the farmer's patience and ingenuity to prevent him from pulling up the newly planted corn. Moreover, the crow destroys the eggs and young of useful insectivorous and game birds but, on the other hand, he eats many insects, especially white grubs and cut-worms, and destroys many meadow mice, so that in much (although not all) of the region he inhabits the crow must be considered to be more useful than harmful. Most of the hawks and owls even—birds that have received so bad a name that the farmer's boy and the sportsmen are ever on the alert to kill them—are very useful because they destroy vast numbers of insects and harmful rodents.

"Birds occupy a unique position among the enemies of insects, since their powers of flight enable them at short notice to gather at points where there are abnormal insect outbreaks. An unusual abundance of grasshoppers, for instance, in a given locality soon attracts the birds from a wide area, and as a rule their visits cease only when there are no grasshoppers left. So, also, a marked increase in the number of small rodents in a given neighborhood speedily attracts the attention of hawks and owls, which, by reason of their voracious appetites, soon produce a marked diminution of the swarming foe.

"No other creatures are so well fitted to capture flying insects as swallows, swifts and nighthawks. Among the avian ranks also are wrens, trim of body and agile of movement, that creep in and out of holes and crevices and explore rubbish heaps for hidden insects. The woodpecker, whose whole body exhibits wonderful adaptation of means to end, is provided with strong claws for holding firmly when at work, a chisel-like bill driven by powerful muscles to dig out insects, and a long extensible tongue to still further explore the hidden retreats of insects and drag forth the concealed larvae, safe from other foes. The creepers, titmice, warblers, fly catchers, quail, doves and other families have each their own special field of activity. However unlike they may be in appearance, structure, and habits, all are similar in one respect—they possess a never-flagging appetite for insects and weed seeds.

"One of the most useful groups of native birds is the sparrow family. While some of the tribe wear gay suits of many hues, most of the sparrows are clad in modest brown tints, and as they spend much of the time they lay the farmer under a heavy debt of gratitude by their food habits, since their chosen fare consists largely of the seeds of the weeds. Selecting a typical member of the group, the tree sparrow, for instance, one-fourth ounce of weed seed per day is a conservative estimate of the food of an adult. On this basis in a large agricultural state like Iowa tree sparrows annually eat approximately 875 tons of weed seed.

"Some idea of the money value of this group of birds to the country may be gained from the statement that the total value of the farm products in the United States in 1910 reached the amazing sum of $8,926,000,000. If we estimate that the total consumption of weed seed by the combined members of the sparrow family resulted in a saving of only one per cent. of the crops—not a violent assumption—the sum saved to farmers by these birds in 1910 was $8,260,000.

"The current idea in relation to hawks and owls is erroneous. These birds are generally classed as thieves and robbers, whereas a large majority of them spend the greater part of their long lives in pursuit of injurious insects and rodents. The hawks work by day, the owls chiefly by night so that the useful activities of the two classes are continued practically throughout the 24 hours. As many as 100 grasshoppers have been found in the stomach of a Swainson's hawk, representing a single meal, and in the retreat of a pair of barn owls have

THE STATE ROAD HEARING POPULAR.

The Maine State Highway Commission is planning to keep busy for some time yet with hearings. Hearings will be held on State Highways G and H, which the commission has tentatively laid out. Plans are being made for a hearing to be held at Bangor, as soon as possible, to cover all the highways in that section.

State highways G and H, upon which the hearing at Waterville will be held, start at Augusta and run to Waterville. Highway G runs from Augusta to Waterville via Belgrade, around the shore of the Mes-salonskee lake, through Oakland. Highway H, the Quebec road, will run from Augusta to Waterville, via Vassalboro and Winslow. And from Waterville via Vassalboro and Winslow. And from Waterville, this road will run to Jackman, passing through Skowhegan and Madison.

The members of the commission have returned from Rockland, where they held a hearing on the proposed road from Rockland to Augusta. While making investigations along the route, the commission was greeted with a number of receptions at villages, where the people were enthusiastic that the route should be planned as the State highway. At Cooper's Mills, over 300 people were ready and waiting for the commissioners and presented them with a petition.

NOT FAMILIAR WITH ALL WATER FOWL.

Down at and the State house there is a bit of gossip going which alleges that one of the department clerks has become just a little bit tired of late, answering questions relative to wild ducks, and the subject is said to be all the more tiresome to him because, according to general impression, he is not as familiar with that type of water-fowl as he might be, which fact seems to be brought out by the details of the story. According to the tale which is going the rounds, the man recently enjoyed with others, a ride by automobile to Rockland, and while passing a small pond he noticed, not far from the shore, some ducks. Like any true sport, he longed for a gun, but none was at hand. In a few moments, however, the party in the car passed a man trudging along the highway with a gun over his shoulder. Halting the car, the man who had seen the ducks halted the man with the gun, saying, "Hey, you. There's a flock of ducks down on the pond just back of here." He thought that he had given the hunter a valuable tip, but he speedily learned otherwise when that individual, without hardly looking at him, replied: "Yep—I jest put 'em out there, myself," and trudged on.—Kennebec Journal.

STATE SHOOT ON AUBURN RANGE.

The second company, Coast Artillery, of Portland, captured the tyro team matches at the opening day of the annual shoot of the Maine National Guard. Gov. William T. Haines was an interested visitor. At the completion of the first two stages of the match, the lead was held by Company A, Second Infantry, of Pittsfield, but their lead was wiped out at the 500 yard range.

W. Lewis Company D, Norway, was high at 200 yards rapid fire with 46. Private Johnson of the Second Company led at 300 yard rapid fire with 49 and two members of the same team were tied at 46 at 500 yards slow fire. The tyro re-entry match at 500 yards was captured by Corporal Henry F. Caldwell, Fifth Company, C. A. C., Portland, with 46 and the tyro re-entry at 1000 yards by Private J. D. Stiles of Company D, Norway, with 43. Lieut. Dan F. Christie of Co. F, Dover, with a possible score led the field at the close of the first day's shooting in the Frank M. Low match.

MASQUERADE PARTY BY EMPLOYEES

Mr. Kennedy a Visitor for 24 Years, and Many Friends Hope for His Return in 1914.

The Birches, Mooselookmeguntic Lake, Sept. 19—As the swallows homeward fly, the city guests are now making ready to go to their home for the summer has ended and the chill in the air reminds one "Jack Frost" will soon take up his winter residence in the Rangeleys.

"We are going to stay just as long as possible, for we love the log cabin life," remarked one of the young ladies who has been here for weeks as happy as the birds and squirrels on the island who are her friends.

Mrs. H. C. Kennedy of New York this week accompanied her daughter, Miss Marion to Massachusetts where she this week takes the examinations for Wellesley College. Mr. Kennedy and daughter, Miss Olive, will keep the fire bright on the hearthstone at Camp Mayflower until the first of the week. Mr. Kennedy has been coming here for 24 years and says the weather this summer has been the finest he has ever known. In July there was not a day of rain, although there were showers. In August there were 24 perfect days, and the others did not include even one rainy day. "We have had a very happy summer and plan to return early next year," said Mr. Kennedy, whose many friends hope the coming winter will bring health and happiness, and the family will be among the first arrivals in 1914.

At the casino on Friday evening a masquerade party was given by the employees which was a great success, and the costumes, both comic and pretty, showing much ingenuity, for this island is far from Broadway. The first prize was won by Billy Meyers, a box of cigars, which Billy, as "Mephistopheles" passed to his friends. Sadie Prevost as "Miss Rag Bag" won a box of candy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morse and daughter, who since the first of the summer have been happily located in one of the camps will linger until the last days of September and go to Poland Springs for October.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Patten, Henry Patten and Mrs. J. A. Cochrane of Lowell, Mass., who were on an auto trip through Maine, spent Sunday here while taking a tour of the lakes and were much pleased with this their first visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnston and Miss M. Elise Johnston of Prince's Bay, New York, are for two weeks enjoying life in Birch-Barker Lodge.

R. L. Barstow and daughter of Boston left for home this morning after a happy month in Camp Clover. Miss Barstow was very proud of her first record fish, a 3 pound salmon and her father caught the mate, Harry Nelson, guide.

Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Reynolds of New Haven, Conn., have had a delightful summer here. Oscar Parker, guide, was with them and the morning the professor left he reeled in a 3½ pound salmon.

All through this section are many old friends of John Danforth, who with Capt. Fred C. Barker in the seventies as boys together, came to this wilderness. Both loved the forest where they hunted and trapped together for years.

A short time ago the Maine Woods recorded the death of John Danforth, but were unable to relate more. This week, Capt. Barker received a letter from Miss Sarah T. Danforth in which she wrote regarding her brother's death, which occurred in Juneau, Alaska, after an illness of only three days with congestion of the lungs, and that he was sitting up in bed half an hour before his death which came unexpectedly and he passed away without pain.

His body was taken to Stuart, Fla., in charge of the Masons, where he was buried under Masonic orders by the side of his wife, who died several years ago.

Thus we record the death of one of the best known of the early guides, who made Pamachenee famous and was the prince of guides and camp landlords and was a true friend and a great favorite with all who knew him.

Capt. Barker and John Danforth were close friends for many years and each winter the captain visited him in his southern home and only last January spent some time with him there where he found him well, prosperous and happy and they planned this October, as Mr. Danforth was to visit Capt. Barker, to take long tramps over this, their old hunting grounds and together note the wonderful changes that have come over this region.

Gone, but not forgotten, is this good man, and John Danforth will be kindly remembered by many old friends for years to come.

BIRDS SCARCE AROUND HOULTON.

A correspondent from Houlton says:

The man who goes out into the woods on foot with a dog around Houlton stands but little chance of getting much of a bag of partridge this year. For the past few years auto hunting parties have been going into the neighboring bird harvests each season driving the birds farther back into the forests, so now they are pretty scarce in this vicinity. It is as easy for the man in an auto to go twenty-five miles from Houlton as it is for the man on foot to go three miles, so the autoist has far better opportunity to make a good showing.

BULL MOOSE SWAM ACROSS CUPSUPTIC LAKE.

A bull moose was seen swimming across Cupsuptic lake last Sunday

by Mr. and Mrs. Tipkee, who were in a row boat, fishing. Mr. Tipkee rowed around the animal, and instead of being frightened, it swam along complacently. This instance will demonstrate that these animals are not exterminated in the Rangeley region.—Rumford Times.

HUNTING ACCIDENT

Samuel Lamieux, aged 18, was shot in both legs Sunday while out hunting in company with other boys, but he escaped serious injury. A squirrel hopped over a wall and one of the other boys fired. The gun was loaded with bird shot and Lamieux, who was on the opposite side of the wall, received the charge in both legs. Drs. Haggart and Dascomb were called and removed the shot. This was the first hunting accident of the season at Skowhegan.

MONEY IN MAINE SKUNKS

The sale of skunk skins to the fur trade, mounts up into the tens of thousands of dollars in Maine alone. A member of the fish and game commission was interviewed at Augusta and also Curator James of the Museum of the state. Both agreed that the skunk was a furbearing animal and a strong one at that, in his opinion, the skunk very wisely was included by law, as, during close time, its fur is less valuable and also because few animals sought by fur dealers for their skins are in greater demand or yield so much revenue to those who make a business of killing them for the trade, more than are skunks.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR PHILLIPS

Excelsior Plant Will Soon be Installed.

We are pleased to report this week
that Phillips is to have a new industry
in the form of an excelsior plant.

The International Mfg. company will add six new machines for the manufacture of excelsior and the man will come from New Hampshire very soon to superintend the setting of the same.

J. C. Tirrell, who is the buyer for the company, informs us that it will take about five men additional for the present to run the new machinery in addition to those now employed. The material used for the excelsior will be popular.

When asked if the toothpick plant
would be in operation this fall he said probably it would not start up until spring.

Although this industry will not be on an extensive scale at first, the additional business will help the town in many ways.

START IN WITH GREAT RACES

First Two Days of Farmington Fair as Big a Success as Usual--

Fine Races For Last Day.

The first two days of the Farmington fair started in with crowds
and a fine exhibit in every way.
Tuesday afternoon there were some good races trotted. Wednesday morning the weather was threatening but it did not prevent a record crowd on the grounds. Farmington has won the reputation (and justly)
of first-class fairs ranking on a par with the state fairs, and people are going rain or shine.

Wednesday afternoon there were great races. Fat Hand, owned by L. A. Worthley of this town and driven by Dr. J. H. Rollins did herself and driver credit.

In one of the heats a pile up of three drivers, horses, etc., gave cause for plenty of excitement but there were no serious injuries.

We understand that there was such a crowd on the Maine Central train that after they got to Liver-more Falls the train did not stop at any of the remaining stations
to Farmington as they could not carry the crowd. This seems a little hard on the people who had made plans to board the train.

Just as we go to press this morning word has come that the Fair
is postponed to the first fair day.

Fine races are scheduled for the last day and everyone will be on hand.

There will be services at the Methodist church next Sunday, Oct.
5 at 10.45 and in the evening at 7.30. All are invited.

IN AND ABOUT PHILLIPS

J. H. Ogier owner and editor of the Camden Herald and Mrs. Ogier made a brief call at this office last Monday on their return from Mountain View where they went by automobile Sunday. They were accompanied by Dr. Bisbee and wife, the latter a sister of Mr. Ogier's and several other friends. Mr. Ogier is one of the most able and successful newspaper men of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Blanchard accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Tiersey with Glidden Parker chauffeur, took a trip to Long pond Sunday.

W. D. Grant of Grant's Camps,
Kennebago, was in Phillips Monday on business. He was accompanied by Lode Haley as chauffeur.

Dances were enjoyed at the Grand hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week and there was a good attendance especially the last evening. Music was furnished by Selden Parker, Miss Florian Wheeler and Dan Steward.

Mrs. D. F. Field had as guests at her cottage at Rangeley on Thursday of last week Mrs. E. H. Wiggin and Miss C. E. Hamlin of Boston.
These two latter ladies were

Orris Vose to Rangeley on a business trip Sunday in his automobile.

Mrs. Sadie Lambert Prescott of Arkansas City, Kansas, was in town last week for one day of the Fair and received a cordial welcome from her many friends. Mrs.
Prescott has been at the Exchange
hotel in Farmington for some weeks and plans to go on to Boston this week, where she will attend the meeting of the Bankers' association as a representative from the National Bank of Arkansas City,
as her husband, the late A. D.
Prescott, was one of the directors and stockholder of that bank. Mrs.
Prescott expects to pass the winter
in California.

George S. Hobbs, general manager of the Sandy River and Rangeley Lakes railroad, Mr. Wheeler, chief engineer, F. A. Lawton, F. N. Beal
and W. S. Toothaker of the Sandy River railroad were in Rangeley
Tuesday night of last week, coming out by special Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Jackson and Miss Caroline Thompson, employees of the Maine Telephone company
at Farmington, were in town recently on telephone business. They came by auto and went to Rangeley returning to Farmington the same day.

Mrs. Weston Parker went to the hospital last week with her daughter Evelyn, who is obliged to have an operation for adenoids.

Mrs. R. T. Hayes of Gardiner and Mrs. Carrie Myers of Lynn, Mass., are the guests of their sister, Mrs.
Raymond Ross. They came to Phillips last week.

Carroll Knapp, bookkeeper for the C. H. McKenzie company is having a week's vacation and is stopping at the Russell cottage at Mt. Blue pond enjoying a little hunting. He is accompanied by his wife. Miss Elma Byron is substituting at the store.

Mr. Hiram Ellis of Portland is in town stopping at DeBerna Ross'.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Avor of Skowhegan, accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jewett, were in Phillips last week on their return from a business and pleasure trip through the Dead River region. They were the guests of Mrs. Avor's uncle, J. H. Byron and niece, Miss Elma Byron while in town.

Mrs. Sarah Bradbury, who has been in town for several weeks
with friends returned to her home in Wayne Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Haskell, who have been at Breezy Point, N. H., the past season have returned to Long pond for a few weeks, before going to Bradentown, Florida, where they will have the management of a hotel the same as last winter.

Rev. Sarah A. Robinson and Belle C. Adams of Weld were the guests this week of Mrs. T. M.
Parker.

Friends of Emery S. Bubier made a bee last Monday and dug his potatoes, 50 bushels. The following were the workers: Messrs. J. James Dunham, Charles Heath, Frank Dunham, James Bursiel, Joel Byron, George Powell, Will Leavitt, Howard Beal, A. G. Cronkwhite, Whit Toothaker, C. M. Hoyt, D. F. Hoyt
and Rev. M. S. Hutchins. We are very glad to report improvement in
Mr. Bubier's condition.

Mr. and Mrs. John Egan of Portland and children, who have been visiting at Mrs. Bump's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Timothy Sweet in Avon returned to their home in Portland Monday.

Harry Meham has moved his family into one of the rents in Mrs.
Samuel Harnden's house.

Mrs. Dora Trufant was a caller at Lucian Warren's Sunday.

The annual excursion to Boston occurs this year on Monday, October 6th,
and the round trip rates are as follows:
Strong, $6.60; Phillips and Salem,
$7.00; Kingfield, $7.35; Bigelow, $8.15;
and Rangeley, $8.50. Tickets good for return to October 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker of Gardiner, Mrs. Edith Gould and daughter, Amy, of Brunswick and Lawrence Prendergort of Oakland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett Sunday.

Miss Marguerite Bates has returned from Rangeley where she has been employed at R. L. Spotts' camp this season. Her mother, Mrs. Alice Bates who has cooked at the Mooselookme-gantic House this summer, has gone to Pleasant Island Camps to cook for a few weeks, as they have quite a large party there for the hunting.

Miss Leona Stuart brought a little girl from the Orphans' Home in Augusta last Monday night and has placed her in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett. The little one is four years old and is a very attractive child. Presumably Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will adopt her legally.

Ernest Mills had charge of George Bean's store while he attended the fair.

At the regular meeting of Sherburne
Chapter, O. E. S., next Wednesday evening, October 8th, there will be inspection by D. D. G. M. Mrs. Briggs of Canton. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Daniel T. Harnden has been ill
this week with pleurisy. Mrs. Ed Mc-Cleary, who has been caring for Mr.
Charles A. Berry for the past two months, is stopping with her for a few days.

Mrs. Charles A. Berry, who has had an illness extending over many months,
passed away last Saturday at her home
a short distance from the village. The services were held at the home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W.
Canham of Farmington, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. Mrs.
Berry leaves a husband and one son in her immediate family who have the sympathy of friends in their bereavement. An obituary of the deceased will be published in our next issue.

R. H. Trecartin was in Portland for the day Monday.

Hon. and Mrs. H. B. Austin went to Lewiston Tuesday for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cleveland were in Skowhegan recently on a visit to their son, Charles Cleveland.

where he will be employed by the express company there as agent.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Miss Luette Timberlake at 2.30 on Friday afternoon of this week.

The last day of the Fair at Farmington has been postponed to the first fair
day. It is much to be regretted that the management are obliged to do this on account of the rain, but it will be worth waiting for, and the people will see some of the best racing ever seen in Franklin county.

Hon. and Mrs. H. P. Dill of Orilla,
Ont. greeted old friends for a day in Phillips, Tuesday, on their way to their cottage at Moxey Ledge at Rangeley.
They have also been the guests of their son, General E. C. Dill and family at Hallowell.

Mrs. A. A. Sanborn of Somerville,
Mass. is in town visiting relatives.

Rev. M. S. Hutchins went to Bangor
Tuesday to attend the Free Baptist State association. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Jacobs in their automobile.

Mrs. Sadie Lambert Prescott has given the fine piano that is now in the Union church to the Union Meeting House association as a memorial to her Grandfather Lambert who was an interested and active member for many years of the Free Baptist church, and to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lambert who was identified with the Universalist church. It is a timely and

DAVENPORT HEAVY LOSER BY FIRE

Insured for $1,500 but Does Not Nearly Cover All of Loss.

Mr. Will Davenport and family of Madrid are heavy losers from a fire which totally destroyed their home
last Thursday.

The fire caught around the chimney and got such headway before it was discovered that hardly anything was saved. All of the furniture, with the exception of the piano and a few things were burned. There was quite an amount of hay in the stable and the winter's supply of wood. All of the clothing that was saved was what they were wearing.

Mr. Davenport was employed at the mill and Mrs. Davenport went over to get him for a call on the telephone. He went to the house and had hardly gotten back to the mill when the neighbors called to him that the house was on fire.
Miss Gertrude the daughter was in Phillips attending the races.

What few there were within reach worked with a will but the fire had gained such headway that it was of no avail. Two automobiles came along, one containing F. W. Butler, E. E. Richards and others and assisted what they could.

Mrs. Davenport had been taking in the forenoon and the chimney
either burst out or sparks dropped down. The chimney went up through an open room where they had papers and many things stored
that would ignite quickly.

The property was insured for $1,500 but the loss is much heavier.
These buildings were the best in Madrid and the house was equipped with hot and cold water, bath room, etc., and is a very heavy loss to Mr. Davenport and their many friends sympathize with them in their misfortune.

WHITE—WEBBER

Rev. M. S. Hutchins officiated at a wedding last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock when Mr. Harlan O. White of Phillips and Miss Mamie Webber
of Madrid were united in marriage.
The single ring service was used.

The wedding took place in their own home which Mr. White purchased sometime ago of George Huff.
The room had been beautifully decorated with autumn leaves by the bride's sister, Miss Hazel Webster.
The bride was daintily gowned
in white silk.

Mr. and Mrs. White are both much respected by their townspeople
and are receiving congratulations
from their many friends.

Sunday morning they started on a week's carriage drive through the Dead River region, Mr. White's former home being in Stratton.

very much appreciated gift by the association and of a nature that benefits
the whole community and everyone interested is very grateful to the generous woman and consider it a fitting memorial to the highly esteemed friends in whose memory it was given.
They are well remembered by some of our present citizens of Phillips.

On account of illness in the family of Mrs. N. H. Harnden, Mrs. D. F. Field assisted Mrs. Harnden in entertaining the Christmas Present club at the for-ter's home last Tuesday afternoon.
Threes of the members were absent,
Mmes. C. E. Parker, H. H. Field, H.
B. Austin. The guests of the club were Mrs. Charles Cushman and Mrs. Lester Bean. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. W.
True.

At the next regular meeting of Hope
Rebekah lodge, which occurs October 10th, the committee in charge of the entertainment are to have an old fashioned masquerade and every Rebekah is requested to be present in costume. This occasion is to be the christening of the new piano and a renewal of enthusiasm for the coming fall and everyone should take an active part.
There will also be a program and supper. This entertainment will not be public but is for members of the Rebekah lodge only.

Miss Evelyn Calden who has been employed all summer as waitress at the Birches has returned home. She has been spending a few days with her

A special event the 25th that did not appear on the score card was a farmers' race to wagons in which were five entries. The conditions of the race were that the horses hitched to wagons
should be driven in front of the judges'
stand and their positions assigned.
The harnesses except bridles were removed from the horses. No horse was allowed to wear boots and no driver was permitted to carry a watch. First money was to be awarded to the driver who harnessed and trotted a mile nearest to five minutes from the time that the signal was given by the starting judge when the watches of the timing judges were started. At the signal the drivers got busy at once. Some of them were a trifle nervous and a little pleasant advice from the observant spectators in the grand stand evidently increased their embarrassment. The first driver to mount his wagon had harnessed with remarkable celerity but was compelled to dismount as his off rein was caught under some part of the harness. Those of the spectators who noticed his predicament smiled approvingly, or at least audibly. The awards of the judges were as follows:
Fred Hathaway of Phillips, 1st; Dill
Bros., Phillips, 2d; Mrs. Marion Jennings of Fayette, 3d; and Alf Withee
of New Sharon, formerly of Rangeley, 4th.

A special event the second day not on the score card was a mile to saddle by lady riders. The first half mile at an ordinary saddle gait, manners, grace
and ease the points to be considered,
the horses to stop and line up at the end of the first half, and remain standing for the word go from the starting judges when they were to start and ride the second half as fast as they pleased. There were but two entries,
viz., Miss Florian Wheeler of Phillips
and Miss Mabel Gatchell of Kingfield.
Both ladies rode remarkably well.
They showed evidence of natural horse-womanship. They were well poised in their saddles and rode easily for themselves and their horses. To spectators in the grand stand who watched them carefully throughout the first half, it looked as though Miss Wheeler's mount was somewhat better mannered,
or more easily controlled than the other. In the second half Miss Wheeler soon passed and drew away from Miss Gatchell, and as they went up the back stretch the latter was several lengths
in the rear, but it was suspected that she was saving her horse for a fast brush at the finish. When but a few rods above the wire she rallied her horse and by a few sharp cuts on the flank sent him under the wire in advance of Miss Wheeler whose horse not being in condition for a race seemed to falter in the last few strides, as the best of horses not specially conditioned
often do.

Would it not be better to have two awards in this class? Let the first half mile be decided on the points of grace and ease, poise in saddles, and ability in controlling their horses; also manners and saddle gaits of horses to be taken into account; the judges to announce their decision and make their awards on those points before starting in the second half. After that let those who care to do so, send their horses along at speed and let those who do not wish to race, ride at a canter,
and after the finish of this half let the judges make their awards to those who
in their judgment exhibited the best horsemanship at speed and announce their decision. Some such plan, if adopted, would undoubtedly increase the number of entries considerably.
Horseback riding is an exhilarating and health promoting exercise for ladies and should be encouraged.

Another special class the last day
that was not on the score card was for gentlemen's driving horses. Seven were entered. First prize went to a rangy brown gelding, entered by Chas.
Richards of Strong; second to a Morgan-patterned, black mare entered by Stephen Twombly and owned by Dr.
Higgins of Phillips. She was by Senator Patchen, a son of the renowned

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta- ble Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years

I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. LEE MANGES, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

games. A sumptuous dinner and supper were served consisting of meats, all kinds of vegetables, bread, pie, cake, pickles and coffee. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Huntoon, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Huntoon of Westbrook; Mrs. Chas. Haley, Mrs. Ed Hoar, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman P. Hoar and little Althea, Austin and Mildred Huntoon, Howard and Richard Herrick, Mrs. H. O. Huntoon, Mrs. F. C. Porter, Thelma and Theron Porter, Mr. and Mrs. David Hoar and guest Mr. Beals of Brunswick. Their example is one the old families of the town can well follow by getting together once in awhile and talking over old times. A very enjoyable time was reported by all present and pictures of the group were taken during the day.

BRUIN AT DINNER

Rare Privilege of Observing the Feast of a Big Black Bear.

To watch wild animals feeding at a time when they do not suspect an audience is always an interesting experience, and in the case of black bears, owing to their keen sense of smell, a comparatively rare one. Charles S. Moody, writing in the Outing magazine, tells how he came upon a big black bear which was indulging in a feast with every evident symptoms of enjoyment.

I was fishing a small trout stream that ran through a narrow mountain meadow, at times approaching quite near to the timber on either side. A friend was fishing the same stream something like half an hour before me. I became aware of a voice droning a song. The sound kept on, but I was very interested in my sport and did not look up. I crept along the shore, casting my fly. The sound all the time became more distinct. I thought my friend had turned musical.

When the sound became very distinct I looked up. I was less than 30 feet from a black bear which looked about the size of a load of hay. His bearship did not see me, but was busy licking ants off a dead pine tree that stood at the edge of the forest. I was so close that I could see the insects running about in great confusion. Occasionally the bear would cuff the tree, and on would come the ants. He would lick them up, rising on his hind paws to reach those above his head. All the time he was whining in a singsong to himself and seemed to be very much pleased with his success.

His dinner over, he dropped down and started through the dense skunk cabbage toward where I stood I yelled. He reared on his haunches, took one look, and mowed down a wide swath of skunk cabbage as he plunged back into the forest.

Another time I watched a bear fishing. It was in August, on the upper Lochsaw river, during the height of the salmon run. A forest fire had swept over the Clearwater mountains and destroyed all the berries, so the bears were coming to the river, attracted by the fish that were seeking the shallow, still water where they could bask in the sunshine.

I walked up the river one evening about sunset in search of a deer. Coming round a bend, I saw a large black bear perched upon a flat rock several feet from the shore. I could not tell at first what he was doing. He was stooping down with one paw in the water, and waving it gently to and fro. I watched closely and saw, just beyond his reach, a large male salmon, so nearly dead that he could not swim. The bear was using his paw to create an eddy that would draw the fish within his grasp. Slowly the salmon drifted toward the rock.

It was amusing to watch how carefully the bear moved his paw so as not to frighten his prey. At last the fish came within reach; Bruin reached over, gave it a quick slap, seized it in his jaws, leaped ashore, and lumbered off, to eat his evening meal in privacy.

TAME FOXES LOST

Two tame foxes owned by a lady in one of our Maine cities have somehow escaped from the small house in which they were confined. The foxes were great pets of the children and seemed more like kittens than wild animals of the forest. They were both very young and have been in captivity but a few months. It is a mystery to know how the animals were able to get away for the house was thoroughly locked at night.

The police have been asked to assist in the search and a reward has been offered for the return of the animals.

DAMON PARTY LEAVE FOR HOME

Farewell Party Given to Friends
--Mr. Lilly Gets Record
Salmon--All Hope For Return of Fisherman
Hawkins.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Mountain View House, Rangeley Lake, Sept. 25—"This is just one handsome day" remarked one of the party of ladies who had been for a walk over the carry this morning "walking over the carpet of leaves and pine needles." The bright faces of the city ladies and their costumes of scarlet sweaters make a pretty picture.

Al Sprague has just come in to shake hands and say "good bye friends until next time" for the first cottage is closed for this season and the Damon party have gone home. Last evening Mrs. Henry E. Haywood and Mrs. I. N. Damon of Gardner, Mass., arrived to accompany their husbands home in their touring car and the party have just waved good bye and are off over the hill.

The Hawkins family of Providence, R. I., who have been spending the summer here left for home on Thursday and they surely will be welcomed another season for "Fisherman Hawkins" has made some big catches this summer.

Wm. Lilly of New York seems to be the "lone fisherman" for he will not reel in until October and every morning early T. S. Rollett of Boston is out and there is always fish for the fry pan when he does not toss them back.

Popcorn is now served at all times of the day, for the ladies can keep a big fire and pop corn in the office without any help from "Ye Lords of creation."

R. C. Dawset and party of Brooklyn, N. Y., had a most delightful auto trip of four days the last week of their stay. With Mr. Bowley's touring car they went down to Bar Harbor and visited other places en route.

At one of the cottages on Thursday evening Mrs. Henry Perry and Miss Lilo Knapp gave a delightful farewell party to a few friends. After cards and music dainty refreshments were served and it was not until a late hour "good night, hope we shall all meet at Mountain View in 1914" was said.

A. Montgomery, Jr., of New York had the pleasure of taking a 4½ pound salmon on the fly the day before he started homeward. "I have had one of the best times ever this September at Mountain View, and hope to spend the next here" was his good bye and "so say we all" for Mr. Montgomery is a great favorite in this region.

"We must take down our fish rods today," has been the remark heard every morning the past week as the guests would come from their breakfast and some of them in their city clothes and straw hats ready to go home were so changed they needed an introduction to their guides.

Geo. B. Fox of Boston is spending two weeks here.

"Commodore" F. A. Newlin, who came early in the season has put on his city clothes and returned to hotel Charlesgate, Boston, where he will spend the winter, and his friends here all wish him a merry Christmas and hope his boat the Comet will be one of the first to be put into the Rangeley lake next season.

The last fish recorded reads "Wm. Lilly 3½ pound salmon caught on the fly at the outlet" but there are three more days to catch them and many a blank page in the record book.

The roads are in excellent condition and the auto parties will continue to toot the horn until the snow flies and as this is one of the few hotels that will be open for the winter, they will know where to come and always find a good dinner waiting.

Everyone is rushing about the place closing up the camps, packing away things that will not be used this winter and soon will be comfortably located in winter quarters.

NEW MOOSE CASE AND PLACE FOR SKINNEY COLLECTION.

A casual visitor in the Fish and Game Museum will quickly notice a great improvement in the appearance of things says the Kennebec Journal. During the last few weeks, under the direction of the Curator of the Museum, Thomas A. Jones, the animals and birds have been classified and the classes put into their proper places, about the room. The H. L. Skinney collection of birds, which in all numbers about 200, has been carefully sorted over and put into a new black walnut case. And the appearance of the museum has been further improved by the completion of the moose exhibit by Mr. James. He has, very recently painted a winter woods scene as a background for this exhibit, and the beauty of the picture shows that Mr. James is a painter of merit, besides being an expert taxidermist. The three moose seem to be coming out of a clump of birch trees, and with a dull light reflecting upon the snow, the exhibit is true to life.

GENERAL DILL HAS CANADIAN BULLET USED IN THE MEET AT CAMP PERRY.

On Adjutant General Dill's desk at his office in the Capitol is a cartridge from which the bullet projects an inch or so from the shell, the bullet being sharpened like a lead pencil to a point for the purpose of avoiding deviation from the effects of the wind. It is one of the Canadian bullets used in target shooting at the late international meet at Camp Perry.

These bullets worked admirably during one of the contests cutting the wind and hitting the bullseye all right until the wind shifted in behind the rear of the missile, causing it to strike the target sidewise.

The United States army used a bullet also sharp on the tip, but without the Canadian straight lines.

ADDITION TO THE FISH AND GAME.

The fish and game department at the State House at Augusta, has just received as an addition to its fine collection of birds a handsome specimen of night heron, a bird that while it is not rare in Maine, is not very common in Kennebec county. The bird was killed, a few days ago, at the Spring brook hatchery, established several years ago by the late Ex-Gov. John F. Hill, and when discovered by Mr. Greeley, who has charge of the hatchery, was engaged in making a meal of such trout fry as came within his reach. It was the bird's fondness for trout that was the cause of his undoing, for when picked up by Mr. Greeley it disgorged about 50 of the little fish. Curator James of the museum will mount the bird, and later it will be placed on exhibition.

POLLARD THINKS MOOSE ARE MULTIPLYING.

Capt. W. T. Pollard of Dover, chief of the fish and game warden's in Maine, thinks the coming hunting season, which opens Oct. 1, is to be one of the best in recent years. Game is plentiful in all parts of northern Maine, according to Capt. Pollard who says "The deer seem more numerous than ever before, also, though it has been commonly reported that moose are dying out in Maine, I have seen signs this summer which lead me to believe they are multiplying."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement has been made known this week of Miss Janet Webb, daughter of the late Judge Nathan Webb of Portland and George S. Hobbs vice-president and general manager of the Maine Central railroad.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Oquossoc, Sept. 30—Game is plenty in this section this season. Quite a few bird hunters from out of the state are enjoying the sport. Even with the passing of the increased license law on hunting for non residents there promises to be a large number of big game hunters coming this season.

Why not come to Maine for hunting, for without a doubt Maine has the game in plenty for all who enjoy shooting and it is generally known among sportsmen of wide travel that there is not a place in any game country on the globe where a sportsman can have good shooting and have the comfort and attention given them as they can in Maine.

Even with the tents pitched under the forest trees and moving from place to place as case may require, there is not one moment of discomfort for those who enjoy nature as it is. The guides and camp owners know what is needed for a party's comfort and there is nothing left out.

Of course we admit that New Brunswick has the game but not so much more as to warrant the extra expense and exposure and long buckboard routes or horseback riding on a hard old lumber draft horse and sleeping in a sleeping bag in a very small tent, or not any.

Why go through a hard trip when Maine has good guides, good camps, spring beds, clean throughout, the best of food and only a short distance from the railroads that penetrate our north wilderness.

The deer can be seen by the guests from the camp verandas in most any section of the state.

There are many large moose in this state and they naturally change their feeding grounds and are working westward and eastward to better feed.

Partridges were never more plentiful than this season and there is an abundance of small game. We have the fish and game in our lakes and forests as never before and many sportsmen are coming to enjoy what the people of this state have saved and had laws enacted to further increase it.

H. O. Templeton.

NEVER SHOOT A BEAR IN THE HIND QUARTERS.

A bird hunter up in the Lake Region came unexpectedly in close quarters with a bear one day last week, and having one shell loaded with buckshot, fired the charge into bruin's hindquarters. The papers tell us there was a small maple tree nearby, and the hunter was a good climber, otherwise bruin would surely have gotten him. The bear was called away by the crying of her cubs, and the hunter escaped with a pair of shattered pantaloons and a few claw scratches on his lower limbs. Moral: Never shoot a bear in the hindquarters. It spoils part of the best steaks—Sanford Tribune.

Is Sound and Logical.

Both by day and by night it is necessary to have enough oxygen from fresh air to keep the blood pure and in best condition to repair waste and so maintain life. If confined by day, sleep in open air at night, well protected of course by suitable clothing.

If the liver or bowels become sluggish take a proper dose of "J. F." Atwood's Medicine occasionally to prevent congestion. It is a safe old family remedy.

HOTEL CLOSES FOR THE WINTER

Huge Bull Moose Seen--Closing Dance and Card Party Given --The Misses Rocschen Entertain.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, Sept. 25--This is the time when all about the piano everyone is hurrying to put things away and get ready for the coming winter days that are not far away. The boats are being taken from the water. The things in the cabins being packed away, in the house carpets are being taken up and painting and papering will soon be going on. It was expected that the hotel would close this morning but several parties have asked to remain until Saturday and Mrs. Burns has kindly consented to keep open a few days longer than she intended.

This morning Mrs. Burns' mother, Mrs. Blair, who has been here for the summer left for her home in Bowdoinham accompanied by Mrs. Burns' two little sons who will spend October there and later be joined by their mother for a short time before opening the home in Rangeley village for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Carpenter have closed their camp. Crow's Nest for the season and returned to their home in Pawtucket, R. I.

To-day Garret A. Hobert and family are leaving their beautiful summer camp on the Cupsuptic for the season has ended.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spotts return to their New York home next week. They are charming people who have done much for the social life here this season.

Last Thursday Henry E. Tiepke of Pawtucket, R. I., had an adventure he will not soon forget. With George Robinson his guide, he started out fishing. They were trolling in the lake near Camp Frye when they noticed something black swimming in the lake near the ledges on the shore above Indian Rock. They could not make out what it was and decided to row over. Before they got there they were greatly surprised to find it was a huge bull moose with a large set of horns. They rowed up to within fifteen feet of the big creature and could have touched him with their fish rod and got Mr. Moose to turn back. When he reached the shore he started to climb up and slipped onto one knee then slowly got up, shook himself from the water, turned around and looked at the fishermen as if to be admired then walked off into the woods and later was seen by some of the railroad men. This proves that there is at least one moose around the Mooselookmeguntic.

Mrs. C. Z. Southard of Groton, Mass., who is at Kennebago with her husband, was here on Tuesday accompanied by I. Hendrickson and J. E. McCama two young gentlemen from Boston, who are their guests and they made a trip through the lakes.

Several parties have recently stopped here on their way home from Kennebago, going through the Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. White of Bath registered here Monday on their way through the lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chase of Cambridge, Mass., are spending their honeymoon in one of the log cabins here.

One evening this week the closing dance and card party was given in the parlor to the guests before the good byes were said. Sargent's orchestra of Boston who has been passing the summer at Dodge pond furnished music.

The Misses Dickey of Philadelphia who came in August have greatly enjoyed the weeks spent in camp here and regret that the hotel closes so soon.

The postoffice will be open until October first, after which the mail will come to Oquossoc until next May when this summer office which is greatly appreciated by the traveling public and that has given excellent service will again be open.

The Little Brown House on the Trail is now closed for the season. Wednesday evening the Misses Rocschen gave a delightful farewell party to their friends in this section who hope for them a pleasant winter and that they will return with the spring flowers in May.

Mrs. J. R. Burns, who has been here for the summer goes to Boston on Saturday where she will spend the winter and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Page will join her there the first of October.

U. S. Postoffice Inspector, J. F. Casey of Boston is here to-day, while inspecting the offices in this region.

Dr. E. S. Bennett of Waltham, Mass., returned home Monday after his second visit here this season.

The water in this lake is now very low and the shores are being cleared up by the owners.

PLEA FOR ALL BIRDS

been found more than 3,000 skulls, 90 per cent. of which were of mammals, the bulk consisting of field mice, house mice, and common rats. Nearly half a bushel of the remains of pocket gophers—animals which are very destructive in certain parts of the United States—was found near a nest of this species. The notable increase of noxious rodents during the last few years in certain parts of the United States and the consequent damage to crops are due in no small part to the diminished number of birds of prey, which formerly destroyed them and aided in keeping down their numbers. A few hawks are injurious, and the bulk of the depredations on birds and chickens chargeable against hawks is committed by three species—the Cooper's hawk, the sharp-shinned hawk, and the goshawk. The farmer's boy should learn to know these daring robbers by sight so as to kill them whenever possible.

"From the foregoing it will at once appear that the practice of offering bounties indiscriminately for the heads of hawks and owls, as has been done by some states, is a serious mistake.

"Field observation of the food habits of birds serve a useful purpose, but they are rarely accurate enough to be fully reliable. The presence of certain birds in a corn of wheat field or in an orchard is by no means proof, as is too often assumed, that they are devastating the grain or fruit. They may have been attracted by insects, which, unknown to the farmer or orchardist, are ruining his crop. Hence it has been found necessary to examine the stomachs and crops of birds to ascertain definitely what and how much they eat. The Biological Survey has in this way, examined upward of 50,000 birds, most of which have been obtained during the last 25 years from scientific collections, for our birds are too useful to be sacrificed when it can possibly be avoided, even for the sake of obtaining data upon which to base legislation for their protection

Birds Are Great Eaters

"It is interesting to observe that hungry birds—and birds are hungry most of the time—are not content to fill their stomachs with insects or seeds, but after the stomach is stuffed until it will hold no more, continue to eat until the crop or gullet is crammed. It is often the case that when the stomach is opened and the contents filled up the pile is two or three times as large as the stomach was when filled. Birds may truly be said to have healthy appetites. To show the astonishing capacity of birds' stomachs and to reveal the extent to which man is indebted to birds for the destruction of noxious insects these facts are given, as learned by stomach examination made by assistants of the Biological Survey.

"A tree swallow's stomach was found to contain 40 entire cinch bugs and fragments of many others, besides ten other species of insects. A bank swallow in Texas devoured 63 cotton boll weevils, and 35 cliff swallows had taken an average of 18 boll weevils each. Two stomachs of pine siskins from Haywards, Cal., contained 1,900 black olive scales and 30 plant lice.

A killdeer's stomach taken in November in Texas contained over 300 mosquito larvae. A flicker's stomach held 28 white grubs. A night hawk's stomach collected in Kentucky contained 34 may-beetles. Another night hawk from New York had eaten 24 clover leaf weevils and 375 ants. Still another night hawk had eaten 340 grasshoppers, 52 bugs, 3 beetles, 2 wasps, and a spider. A boat-tailed grackle from Texas had eaten at one meal about 100 cotton boll worms, besides a few other insects. A ring-necked pheasant's crop from Washington contained 8,000 seeds of chickweed and a dandelion head.

"Few are aware of the difficulty often experienced by birds in obtaining water for drinking and bathing, and a constant supply of water near the house will materially aid in attracting birds to the neighborhood and in keeping them there at least till the time of migration. Shallow trays of wood or metal admirably serve the purpose, especially as birds delight to bathe in them.

"Considerable success has been met with in Germany and elsewhere in Europe by supplying artificial nest boxes for birds, and the same methods of increasing the number of birds and attracting them to farms and orchards where their services are most needed should be extensively employed in this country. The experiment can be more easily be tried since several firms in the United States are now prepared to make and deliver boxes specially designed for martins, swallows, bluebirds, wrens, woodpeckers, and other species.

"One of the worst foes of our native birds is the house cat, and probably none of our native wild animals destroys as many birds on the farm as cats. The household pet is by no means blameless in this respect, for the bird-hunting instinct is strong, even in the well-fed tabby, but much of the loss of our feathered life is attributable to the half-starved stray, which in summer is as much at home in the groves and fields as the birds themselves. Forced to forage for their own livelihood these animals, which are almost as wild as the ancestral wildcat, inflict an appalling loss on our feathered allies, and even on the smaller game birds like the woodcock and bobwhite."—Bangor Commercial.

"THE LONE PINE TREE OF THE UMBAGOQ"

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

West Paris, Sept. 26—"And if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be."—Eccl. 11: 3.

Near the place where I once lived, on the high land quite near the Magalloway river, stood a big pine tree. About all the pine timber had been hauled off and they were getting the spruce timber.

Now this old pine tree had stood there for years and years, it must have been very old. It may be that Elo, the eagle, and Father Scheech Owl and his family had called there to rest for a while, surely if so, they had a most lovely view of mountains, river, and the lake. However, be that as it may, I called it my old "Pine tree clock" for I had no other time piece, and when the sun was shining, the shadow on the tree at noontime was always twelve o'clock, with the noon mark, so it was a true signal.

But there came a time when the old tree had to be cut down and hauled off to the river to be taken to the mills below, and sawed up into lumber for building purposes, and this is how it was: There had been piles of snow that winter, but a smooth good road had been kept by so much teaming over it. They invited me with another lady to go to see them fell the big pine tree. It was a cold day, but they made a fire, then cut off some large chips from the tree for us to stand on near the fire, back of the tree. They cut away quite a while, soon it began to lean a little the way they wanted it to go. I begged to go away a little farther but they said we were safe where we were. Soon it began to lean a little more, then fell, and "great was the fall of it." The oxen and the bob sled were then taken around, and after the tree was cut in three lengths they soon loaded one of them on the sled, and started for the landing. There were three cuts, the first one, I should think, was as big around as a hogshead, the biggest log I ever saw. The men expected to realize as much as twenty-five or thirty dollars for it. If the birds missed its lovely branches to light in for a women's rest or to build a downy nest any more than I did, I pity them. I missed this Giant Pine Tree, the home of many a happy bird and its family of little ones.

This was once a youthful pine tree, and stood not far from the little island called "Metaloc" so called because the last old Indian chief, Metaloc, used to go there so often. He dug a deep hole in the center of the island to bury some things he wanted to keep in safety, and I can tell quite an interesting story about this Indian, and, I may later—till then, good bye,

Mrs. S. E. Bates Bartlett.

WAS LOST IN WOODS

Don McLeod, who has been spending a few weeks at Tenny's camps Umucous lake, had an experience last week which he does not care to repeat. He started out from the camps and, during the forenoon, lost his bearings and suddenly realized that he was lost in the woods. He wandered about all day and stumbled on a deserted lumber camp, ten or 12 miles from the lake, where he spent the night, suffering greatly from the cold.

The next morning he started out again, chilled and exhausted and ravenously hungry. He managed to pick a few berries during the day and at length succeeded in getting his bearings. That night he managed to find his way out of the woods unaided.

Much alarm was felt at Tenny's camps over McLeod's protracted absence and in the afternoon Mr. Tenny telephoned the facts of the case to Houlton, with a request that a crew of men be sent out to hunt for the missing man. Several automobile loads started during the evening. About 10 o'clock, word was received that McLeod had returned.

140 Millions Spent for Bettering the Railways of New England

Within nine years the New England Lines have spent $140,780,907 for additions and improvements.

This vast sum is greater than the total deposits in the savings banks of New Hampshire and Vermont.

All expended for heavier rails, stronger bridges to carry heavier trains, new stations, new equipment.

Every dollar spelling transportation efficiency for New England!

NOTES

H. C. Moody was on hand as usual on hand with his peanuts, etc., and called attention to his wares by ringing a bell that was 12 years old. It was one that Sam Farmer used for years at the Barden House and in his removal was given to Mr. Moody.

The crowd in the midway witnessed the seizure of the stock of a crowd of Italians who were selling beer. High Sheriff Small accompanied by Deputies Bell of Phillips and David Richardson of Strong performed their duty. They made the wife of one of the men open her trunk, as it was suspected that something stronger than beer might be concealed there. She complied with their request, but while doing so used some quite expressive language. The whole outfit was taken off down town.

A ball game was on in the forenoon between Phillips High school and Weld High school. The game was a good one and enjoyed by all who watched it. The line up: Phillips High school, Swett, 2b; Croteau, c; Reed, p; C. Wing, ss; Aldrich, 1b; Warren, 3b; Graffam, rf; Howland, cf; Davenport, lf. Weld High school, L. Hutchinson, 3b; Chase, ss; E. Hutchinson, 1b; Winter, 2b; Brown, cf; Storer, c; D. Pratt, p; F. Pratt, rf; Welch, cf. Umpires, Barker and Kinney. The score was 5 to 8 in favor of Phillips.

The officials declare it the best fair in 20 years, both in numbers of exhibits and from a financial standpoint. The question that is agitating the people now is what will be done when the bonds come due November 1. The officials are very optimistic on the subject and in an interview with Treasurer Davenport, he said that he had no doubt but what some arrangement would be made so that the fairs would continue. He was of the opinion that a stock company would be formed and that the grounds would then be loaned to the society.

The United States Government had a representative on the grounds during the three days looking for recruits for the army. He found about ten whom he thought would pass the examination safely.

The ball game in the afternoon was between Strong and Phillips, with the following line-up: Phillips, Trevarin, p; Chandler, lf; Kinney, 3b; Weber, 2b; Hathaway, rf; Reed, ss; Witham, c; Stewart, 1b; Hoyt, cf. Strong, Allen, 2b; Whiting, 1b; Johnson, cf; Simpson, p; Hanson, ss; Sample, cf; True, 3b; Rounds, lf; Smith, rf. Phillips won 23 to 15.

George Bean, assisted by Opho Ross and Antonio Croteau did a flourishing business through the fair at his tent on the grounds. Besides the fruit and confectionery and other small stuff they put out 100 pounds of frankfurts, 60 dozen rolls, 200 baskets of grapes, two full barrels of peanuts and 25 gallons of ice cream in 5 cent cones.

C. E. Cleveland did a fine business at his restaurant which he run through the fair. He had baked beans, oyster stew and everything in the line of pastry and you could get a good square meal there at a reasonable price.

In other tents were F. M. Hammond and Roland Hinds and Hollis Holt and Reynold Graffam, and both companies were kept busy dealing out fruit, confectionery, etc.

John Hubbard of Farmington was dispensing the soft drinks.

The Farmington band furnished music for Thursday afternoon which was much enjoyed. A band is as good an addition to a fair as anything a society can hire.

Colby Whittemore very acceptably acted as marshal through the Fair.

SUITABLE MILLINERY FOR THE MOST FASTIDIOUS

Mrs. J. C. Tirrell delighted her patrons with a beautiful collection of autumn and winter hats at her opening last Saturday, being of brilliant and beautiful materials and clever shapes.

From the large display we can copy but a few. Among many we noticed the following handsome ones:

A medium sized velvet and plush with two elegant ostrich plumes and a jet butterfly.

A chic little green tam with fancy feathers.

Quite a good sized felt hat of deep blue, feathers to match and gold lace.

A close hat of golden brown French felt with breast around the crown of shades from the dark brown to almost a lemon and two fancy aigrettes and feathers.

Quite large beaver with large ostrich plume of one of the golden shades and a bunch of velvet flowers of the Bulgarian shades.

A stunning little hat was a black velvet turban with wired shirring of a fancy shade and a black numid in the back.

COMMISSIONER BLUNT CALLS ATTENTION OF PROPERTY OWNERS.

Honorable J. W. Blunt, Insurance Commissioner of the State, is calling attention to some of the causes of fires which, with a little care, could be prevented. His suggestions regarding chimneys, furnaces, stoves, stove-pipes, ashes and kerosene as an illuminant are of especial value at this time when we are about to make the most use of these different articles. He calls attention to the fact that this is the season of the year when a large percentage of the fires reported to the insurance department are shown to have been caused by carelessness and neglect of the occupant to see that the heaters, furnaces and stoves and the connections thereof, which in many cases have not been used since last spring, are in a suitable condition to undertake the work to be imposed upon them. A little effort and care now may save you from a bad fire later in the winter. You, as a householder or tenant, should see that the chimney is in good repair and if you find bricks loose or mortar falling out between the bricks it should be repaired at once, as many fires are caused by the condition of chimney neglect. Also see that the chimney is cleaned. If possible have the creosote which has collected removed. Don't wait until it burns out itself for if you do you may be without a home some cold night during the coming winter.

Have your stove pipe taken out and cleaned. It won't cost much and may save a bad fire; if it is found to have rusted through or the seams to have opened insist on its being replaced or repaired. Stoves should always be placed on a sheet of zinc or some other metal. This should be extended in front of the stove some little distance to catch ashes, coals and burning wood which is likely to fall on the floor. If the stove is set within three feet of the wall a shield of metal or asbestos board which is not expensive should be placed over the wood work or plastering. This should extend at least a foot above the top of the stove. A little time along these lines may save a serious fire.

Ashes are another source of danger. They should never be placed in wooden boxes, barrels or receptacles of this nature or piled up against the back of wooden buildings or partitions. Many fires have been caused by these things which are sheer carelessness.

Another great danger from fire is caused by kerosene lamps. Lamps are responsible for nearly two thousand fires each year in the United States. Under no circumstances fill a lamp which is burning. Never use paper shades. If lanterns are used around the barn be sure to hang them up. Do not leave them on the floor for the dog or cat to upset.

A little attention to these things may save you a big loss and if people as a whole in the State of Maine would exercise an amount of care along these lines we would not have as many fires as we do now by one-half.

HANDSOME MILLINERY DIS-PLAYED.

At Mrs. Grace Mitchell's store is seen a great variety of all that is approved in fall and winter millinery. For her opening she had 50 hats on display. We copy a few of the most admired ones:

A brown plush, sailor effect, with two ostrich plumes of the peculiar yellowish shade that is used so much this year. Flowers to match with green leaves.

A black velvet with rolling side, with wired black lace standing above crown. The crown of a fancy shade and two feathers in the back to match crown.

Blue plush tam, with two beautiful blue plumes falling in the back shaded down to nearly white at the ends.

Another blue velvet turban, with shirred band around crown of lighter shade of silk. A fancy feather in the back.

Large black beaver with two large Nell rose plumes and flowers of beautiful blending.

Misses' large white beaver with the natural beaver rim. Fancy feather shaded from blue to the natural beaver color. Handsome bunch of various colored roses in front.

Mrs. Mitchell had her store prettily decorated with autumn leaves.

EVANGELIST SMITH TO WORK AT STRONG

The Congregational and Methodist churches of Strong are announcing a series of special evangelistic services under the leadership of Evangelist Reuben S. Smith of Boston, to begin Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, and to close Sunday, Oct. 19.

Mr. Smith has been closely identified with evangelistic effort for over 20 years. As a business man who gave much of his time on week nights and Sundays, he was regarded as one of the strongest lay evangelists in New England and he was, especially in demand for men's meetings in connection with churches and Y. M. C. A's. In the Y, M. C. A. of his home city, Somerville, he organized a "Men's Gospel Band" which rendered most effective service to the churches of Somerville and many neighboring cities and towns.

REUBEN S. SMITH

In 1908 at the suggestion of the officers of the Evangelistic Association, he decided to devote his entire time to this work and since then he has labored continuously in New England. His strong and vigorous sermons, his pleasing personality and his wise and approved methods have won for him an enviable reputation.

Whilst he has labored very successfully in large cities like Lowell, Lawrence, New Bedford and Malden, Mass., and Providence, R. I., still he has preferred to give most of his time to the work in the smaller communities. His all around adaptability for the work is shown in the fact that he has assisted pastors in Congregational, Baptist, Free Baptist, Methodist, Friends, and Advent churches in addition to campaigns in Union churches. One pastor says: "Evangelist Reuben S. Smith is King's gold. His manly and business-like manner of presenting the Gospel won everyone. Not a man in town has a word of criticism of Brother Smith."

PHILLIPS WINS OUT IN BALL GAME

The Phillips High and Kingfield High baseball team crossed bats at Toothaker Park, Saturday, Sept. 20th, and the result was a victory for Phillips High by the score of 15 to 13.

Kingfield started in with a rush and crossed the plate twice in the first inning. But Phillips was right on deck and ran in four runs in the same inning.

The game was close, but loosely played up to the fifth inning when Kingfield took the lead and the score stood 11 to 7 with the visitors on top. The Phillips team now opened their eyes and sprang to their feet. They had just got on to that Kingfield twirler and the ball went flying over the diamond like magic. The "spit ball" which the visiting pitcher used to advantage in the first five innings, was now being pounded in all directions. The game ended 15 to 13 in favor of Phillips High.

Will G. Richmond, a resident of Inglewood, Cal., will answer any inquiries about Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. He says further "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough, after I used other remedies that failed. It's more like a food than a medicine." Do not accept a substitute.

vor of Phillips High.

We hope the student and townspeople will attend these games as Phillips is putting out a strictly High school team and they are putting up a good game.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

R. H. Preble will pay back your money if Hamilton's Old English Black Oil fails to cure all kinds of flesh wounds, sprains, stiff joints, inflammation of all kinds, on man or beast. It is the most healing preparation known to the medicine world to-day. Never in the history of this store said Mr. Preble to a representative of a wholesale drug house, "has there been so great a demand for any remedy as there is just now for Hamilton's Old English Black Oil. Phillips people are coming in every day inquiring if it really is true that we will say Hamilton's Old English Black Oil with the understanding that it will do all that is claimed of it or pay back the money." But we do just as we agree and we will hand back your money without the least argument if you are not satisfied.

TRIP THROUGH
WHITE MOUNTAINS

Workman Meets with Painful Accident--Large Addition to Starbird's Mill.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Strong, Oct. 1.—The Queen Esthers and families will meet at the home of Miss Stella Bangs, Oct. 7 if pleasant, if not, the first pleasant day, for a picnic dinner and a social time will be enjoyed.

Benjamin Kilkenny of New Portland and nephew, Russell Kilkenny from Lawrence, Mass., visited relatives in town last Friday.

Rev. T. B. Bethler of New Vineyard preached a fine sermon at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the text, "Blessed are the pure in heart." Mr. Bethler has been hired to preach here each Sunday afternoon. He will board here three days each week.

Miss Laura Luce went to Lewiston Saturday to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Dr. Richard H. Stubbs and family of Augusta have been in town this week visiting relatives. Dr. Stubbs' many friends are glad to see him.

The union meetings will open at the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, October 7, at 7.30 o'clock. Reuben S. Smith, the evangelist has been closely identified with evangelistic effort for over 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hinds and son Roland of Phillips were callers in town Sunday.

Rev. W. P. Holman preached a very helpful sermon last Sunday morning from the subject, "The Abiding Companion."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Bates and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Partridge spent Sunday at Bates' cottage, Porter's pond.

A large crowd attended Phillips fair last week. It was reported as being the best one ever attended at Phillips.

The friends of Mrs. W. P. Holman will be glad to know that she has improved very much since her return to her home last spring.

There was a good attendance at the mid-week prayer meeting last week. The subject for that service was, the wheels of the church. These meetings are always helpful to all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leighton and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Look spent Sunday at Kingfield.

The High school dance which was held in Luce's hall Saturday night was largely attended. Music was furnished by Dyer's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eustis from Winthrop have recently been in town visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Eustis and other relatives.

Herbert Cook met with a painful accident one day last week, while working in Starbird's mill. He went to reach in between two rollers and in some way his hand caught and tore the flesh from his third finger nearly off. It was dressed by Dr. C. W. Bell and it is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Will and Fred Dodge enjoyed a delightful automobile trip the past week. Leaving home early Wednesday morning the party started for the White Mountains passing through Weld, Rumford, Bethel and Gorham, N. H., circling Mt. Washington by the Twin Mountains, Fryan, Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Washington and Crawford Houses through the Crawford Notch to Bartlett where the first night's halt was made after a run of 136 miles. Thursday morning the party left the hospitable "Howard" making a shorter run of 86 miles to Portland through Conway Intervale, with its beautiful broad Intervale, Bridgton, Naples, Raymond and Windham. They passed many corn fields ruined by drought and frost and learned at Raymond that the corn-shops at that place had remained idle owing to the long continued drought. Friday's run was through Yarmouth, Freeport, Brunswick and Bath, crossing the Kennebec river by ferry to Woolwich, Wiscasset, New Castle, Damariscotta, Waldoboro, Thomaston and Rockland, the distance registered being about 90 miles. At Brunswick calls were made upon J. F. Will, E. A. Will and Mr. and Mrs. George Richards. Mrs. Richardson who is Mrs. Daggett's sister had prepared a delicious lunch, which was eaten further on the road. At Bath a brief call was made upon Rev. and Mrs. T. N. Kewley who are located there. At Rockland the lime kilns were visited and the transformation of the hard rock to lime in the huge furnaces was interesting to see. Saturday the party journeyed to Randolph, Gardiner and Augusta a detour through the latter city being taken to view the chief places of interest. It was with a feeling of relief that the tourists left behind the barred windows of the Insane Hospital at Augusta and the high walls of the State's prison at Thomaston and although all were interested to see where part of their money was invested no one expressed a desire to board at either place. At noon Winthrop was reached where Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Clifford were on the watch and were prepared for the hungry crowd. From Winthrop the journey home was quickly made, Saturday's trip being about 106 miles. It has been the good fortune of this party to travel nearly 2000 miles with Mr. Dodge's automobile in the past three years and during the several trips have never been delayed by the weather nor experienced a particle of tire trouble nor have other delays amounted to an hour for the entire number of miles, thanks to Mr. Dodge's skillful management of his car.

Mrs. Olive Dodge spent several days recently with friends in Farmington.

Mrs. Nancy Daggett has been very ill the past week, but is, however a little better. She has been suffering from jaundice.

The many friends of Mrs. Mertie Pushee will be pleased to know she is able to leave her room and be about the house.

Glenis, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Kenhedy had an operation one day last week for the removal of adenoids and tonsils. The operation was performed by Dr. Bell.

Charles Richards took Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Luce and Mr. and Mrs. True Luce on an automobile trip last Saturday. During the trip they visited New Portland fair.

Miss Bessie Burns underwent an operation Sunday for the removal of an ingrowing toe nail.

C. V. Starbird has recently added a large piece to his already large mill. The addition is about 35 by 50 feet. It is well lighted and has a row of windows near the roof extending clear across the front. It is to be used for a box mill and has several new machines already to set up and a large blower which will carry the dust and shavings out of the building. He already has a large crew and expects to have more help this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Witherell are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby boy to their home, born Sept. 30.

Miss Flora Willis of Somerville, Mass., is in town visiting her father Nathaniel Willis and other relatives.

William O'Corner, who has spent the summer at Belgrade lakes is visiting his wife and little son at her father's, L. A. Worthley's.

Chester Robbins of Industry visited his uncle, A. C. Robbins and family a few days the first of the week.

There was a box supper at the Grange hall last Tuesday evening.

Wednesday morning a hunting party consisting of Raymond Starbird, Leslie Vining, Fred Look and Ralph Starbird started for Parson's Farm, Dead River for a few days' hunting.

A large crowd from town are attending Farmington Fair this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Partridge started Tuesday noon for Portland to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

James Record and family went to Lewiston Wednesday noon where they expect to make their future home. Their many friends much regret their departure. The rent they have vacated in Mrs. Olive Dodge's house will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chandler of Phillips.

Warden Templeton Puts in Screens
at Lovell.

H. O. Templeton, game warden, was in town last week, registering at the Hilton House on his way home to Oquossoc, from Lovell where he has completed putting in a fish screen at Kezar pond outlet to keep the landlocked salmon from running out.

This screen is 40 feet long and eight feet high. Also a wooden screen on Big Brook 30 feet long and 3 1/2 feet high to keep salmon from running up Kezar lake inlets into shoal water for, spawn to hatch with success.

All this is being done by the Kezar Lake Fish and Game Association that has recently been organized. Its members include all of the camp and hotel proprietors and business men of Lovell and nearly all of the visiting sportsmen. This association has about 200 members and they are taking great interest in improving their fish and game in that part of Oxford county.

Mr. Templeton was accompanied by his wife and little daughter and they made the trip by automobile.

WEST FREEMAN

Sept. 30.

When one is in the throes of moving there's not much time for news gathering, neither does it leave much time to appreciate gorgeous pictures mother Nature has been painting these past few weeks. Alas, that the colors fade so quickly but there are other pictures to quickly succeed these of early autumn which if not of such exquisite beauty give us infinite variety.

After a little respite from the strenuous days of haying farmers are now busy with their harvesting. There is rather more sweet corn being taken to the factories than the outlook a while ago indicated. Potatoes and apples are being rapidly harvested. Perhaps not so many fine specimens of fruit and vegetables as common will grace the fairs this year.

Quite a number from this place attended the Phillips Fair and gave a very favorable report.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff nee Miss Zilda Marden held their reception at their home in Avon Saturday evening. Several from here attended. The Thimble club of which Mrs. Huff is a member sent them a pretty

Our new cemetery fence is not in place yet but is paid for and will be very attractive and ornamental and certainly reflects great credit upon the earnestness and ambition of the ladies of the Thimble club.

Will Lovejoy of Rangeley has sold out his business there and plans with Mrs. Lovejoy to spend a little time with his mother here. Harry Lovejoy has returned to Temple for a few weeks.

Farice Douglass of Lewiston is stopping with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Huff.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes of Bean's Corner, who recently visited her sister, Mrs. Ed Webster and family are on their way to Oregon where if they like they will make their permanent home. Mrs. Small of Los Angeles a sister of Mr. Webster has also set her face steadfastly to the west but will make the return journey by easy stages arriving in Los Angeles sometime in November.

J. P. Savage, who has been for some time located in Wilton has just removed his family there; A. A. Savage of Farmington kindly taking Grandma Hamblet there in his auto. The journey which was accomplished in an hour's time was greatly enjoyed by Grandma who remarked at the close of the day that she was not so weary as she was at the close of a usual day at home.

Mrs. I. P. Savage visited her hen house the other morning to look for early eggs and reaching over to a nest in a dusky corner placed her hand on a skunk. Mr. Chick with a gun quickly ended his skunkship's career but he left his breath behind him.

All are hoping for pleasant weather for the Farmington Fair.

Easy Check to Forge.

Judge Lumley Smith remarked at the Old Bailey that checks for £8 odd were most frequently altered by forgers engaged in what was now an extensive business. Only a "y" was needed to change the eight into eighty. In the case before him a check for £8 14s had been made into one for £80 14s.

THE BEST PROOF.
Given By A Phillips Citizen.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Phillips residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is home testimony—

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Phillips residents.

H. H. Vining farmer, Pleasant st., Phillips Me., says: "The public statement I gave several years ago regarding Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I am glad to confirm it. I have had no need of a kidney medicine since then and I think the cure is a permanent one. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Cragin's Drug store, (now Preble's Drug store), when I was suffering from kidney trouble and they cured me in a short time. I hope that other people who are suffering from kidney complaint will be led to try Doan's Kidney Pills by reading my statement."

The death of Mrs. Vesta A. Sargent which occurred at her home in Madrid, Sept. 26, although looked for by all in the near future was very unexpected and cast a great gloom over the entire community. More extended information regarding her life will be given next week in these columns.

The Department of Agriculture succeeded in eliminating most of the objectionable features from the State Fairs and all have been the cleanest for years.

A most interesting deed was recorded recently at the register of deeds office and conveyed the largest estate ever recorded in Franklin county with the exception of one other, that being the transfer of Barnum of timber lands. The transfer is of a large township comprising 23,040 acres of land at Kennebago to the Kennebago Land Co. The deal is unusual in another way as a German Baroness is among those giving a title. It reads as follows: Lily, Baroness Treusch von Buttlar Brandenfels of Weisbaden, Germany, formerly of England, Louise Stetson Foote Pennbur., Eng., formerly of Cairo, Egypt, Eleanor M. G. Stetson of Cambridge, Mass., Mary Stetson Taylor of New York and I. K. Stetson of Bangor convey to the Kennebago Land Co., etc. The land has been in the Stetson family since 1860. The Kennebago Land Co. is a corporation for the purpose of buying and selling real estate. It was organized, July 11, 1913. The president is George F. Goodspeed, Wilton; treasurer, H. A. Furbish, Rangeley; directors, W. L. Butler and F. W. Butler of Farmington; F. O. Goodspeed and G. F. Goodspeed of Wilton; H. A. Furbish, Rangeley.

Misses Ruth and Hazel McGregor, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James McGregor of Rumford have returned to Wellesley college. Miss Mildred Daggett of Lowell, Mass., who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. McGregor has returned to her home. Price Webber of the Price-Webber company was presented with a gold headed cane and a nice address by his friends in Westville, between the second and third acts of a performance at that place. Mr. Webber has been on the road as a show man for over 40 years and has kept up the reputation of presenting good, clean, wholesome shows. The old gentleman was so completely taken by surprise that at first he was almost speechless but Mr. Price is seldom at a loss for words and quickly recovered himself and thanked the donors in appropriate words. Mr. Price has friends in Phillips where he has visited with his company in years past. If we remember rightly it was about three years ago that Mr. Price was in this place and we shall hope to receive another visit from him in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hersey will go to Portland Monday and will attend the Music Festival. Mrs. M. W. Bean will spend the winter with her daughter Mrs. J. W. Brackett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wing have returned to their home in Mexico after a few weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Phillips and vicinity.

The following taken from a private note of Mrs. Alice Worthley of Arkansas City, Kansas, will be of interest to her many friends in Maine: "I arrived home from New York City Saturday night, September 20, having spent the entire summer with my daughter and husband. I had a most enjoyable time yet I regret I could not go to my old home in Phillips and greet the many friends and schoolmates there. I had the great pleasure of meeting in New York old schoolmates whom I had not seen for 48 years. Carrie Sylvester and sister Emma, who is now Mrs. W. Stoddard and lives in New York City and has for several years. She would not have known me, nor I her. It cannot be on account of age, only that we have changed the color of our hair. I hope next year to see you and all other old friends in Phillips."

F. M. Hammond has a position as clerk for the Pelepscot Paper company and will be located in Madrid.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Field and Henry Hamlin started Tuesday morning for a trip through the White Mountains. They will go to Boston and Mrs. Field will go to Houlton from there for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Sawyer.

Mrs. D. F. Field is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Norton in Farmington this week.

Mrs. C. E. Parker and son Floyd Parker and wife of Portland are at their cottage at Long pond this week. Mr. Parker passed Sunday there.

The 1913 club will be entertained by Mrs. O. H. Hersey on Friday afternoon.

We are sorry to report that Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rawley are to leave Phillips as Mr. Rawley has finished work for the Sandy River and Rangeley Lakes railroad as their telephone lineman. They have made friends since their sojourn in Phillips who will greatly regret their departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of New Vineyard were in Phillips Friday attending the races. They came in their auto.

Mrs. Octavia Badger has sold her farm to Dana Witham and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. E. V. Holt in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McKenzie went to Rumford Tuesday for a few days.
