BODY IS FOUND

Near Where the Boy Was Drowned

DIVERS HAD SEARCHED

But Were Unsuccessful and Reward
for Finding Body Will Go to Residents of Port

The body of nine-year-old Robert Wormwood, who was drowned in the Kennebunk river at Kennebunkport a week ago last Sunday was found about one o'clock this afternoon by Lewis Towne, and a boy by the name of Treaner. The body was not disfigured by its long association with the water. It was found near the railroad buildings and not far from where the boy was drowned.

Mrs. Albert Walker of Alewife visited with Kennebunk friends, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Dane are visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Nathan Dane.

Mrs. Addison Haley and daughter Margaret were Portland visitors, Saturday.

Library of the Baptist Sunday School was opened Sunday; there are about 200 books.

Rev. E. J. Prescott of Sanford will preach at the Unitarian Church, Kennebunk, Sunday morning.

St. Monica's parish will hold a fair some time in February. Mgr. Collins is in charge of the arrangements.

Ralph E. Howard returned to his home in Auburn, Saturday, after two weeks visit to his uncle, Alfred Babb.

Mrs. Annie Joyce Credford made a business trip to Auburn and Brunswick, Saturday, returning Monday evening.

Mousam Lodge No. 26, I. O. O. F., will hold a Joint Installation of officers with Pine Encampment, No. 29, on Thursday evening, Jan. 12. Supper will be served in the banquet room after the ceremony.

Decrees have been granted in the divorce cases of Charles E. Waterhouse, vs. Sallie Waterhouse, Ethel Coolbrith vs. Irvin Coolbrith, D. A. Benson vs. Eva M. Benson, Susan F. Booth vs. John W. Booth.

Miss Margaret Tredt, K. H. S., '09, stenographer and bookkeeper for the Bellows Falls Pulp Plant Co., Vt., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tredt. She was accompanied by a friend, Miss Bessie Thompson of Saxton's River, Vermont.

The Webhannet Club will meet Monday Jan. 16, at 3 p. m., with Miss Eliza Burke.

CENSUS BUREAU

Gives Kennebunk's Population as 3099

LESS THAN 20 YEARS AGO

And Is a Loss from 1900 of 129—
Telegram from Director E.
Dana Durand to Enterprise

A telegram to the Enterprise from the Census bureau at Washington announces Kennebunk's population as 3099, a loss of 129 from the census of 1900. The population in 1890 was 3,172, 73 more than in 1910. The Telegram follows:

Washington, D. C. Jan. 11, 1910.

TO ENTERPRISE,
Kennebunk, Me.,

Kennebunk town population thirteenth census 3,099.

E. DANA DURAND, Director.

Mrs. Delphina Bragdon has been on the sick list.

Joseph Chase is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Balch were Boston visitors, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seavey of Portland were Kennebunk visitors, Sunday.

Edward and John Ward attended the funeral in Bangor, Monday, of Senator James B. Mullen, who died suddenly, in Augusta last week. They were cousins of the deceased. Occupying seats in the church were members of the House and Senate, and prominent State officials were present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Whitcomb have gone away for the remainder of the winter. During their absence the studio will be in charge of Mr. W. L. Pierce, who has been in Mr. Whitcomb's employ since last spring. Before coming to Kennebunk Mr. Pierce was connected with one of the best Boston studios.

Rev. E. J. Prescott preached his first anniversary sermon as pastor of the Sanford Unitarian Church, last Sunday. In a years time the congregation has steadily grown, there is a Sunday School of over 200 members, a Woman's Branch Alliance of 65 members, a Junior Alliance of 35 members and up to the present time 175 persons have joined the Church, subscribing to the bond of union and signing the Church book.

Myrtle Lodge, No. 19, Knights of Pythias, Ivy Assembly, Pythian Sisters and Myrtle Company, No. 10, Uniform Rank, will have a joint installation of officers on Friday evening, Jan. 20, 1911, at the lodge room in Pythian Block. The installation is not public, except that Knights have the privilege of bringing their ladies and the Pythian Sisters the privilege of bringing their gentlemen. A supper will be served at the conclusion of the exercises.

Enjoys Records

To the Editor:

I wish to state that the column in last week's Enterprise containing the "Arundel Records" was perused with intense interest by one of its readers, Mrs. Hiram Waterhouse, who found many familiar names which she can remember of hearing about as far back as she can recall. Mrs. Waterhouse was born in 1821 and many of the names are as familiar to her, when mentioned, as those of present day people.

Among them she recognized the names of Joseph Whitten and Annie Burnham, Joseph Whitten being her grandmother's brother; also the names of Israel Burbank and Ruth Merrill, Mr. Burbank being her grandfather's half brother; also Moses Wadlin and Lydia Whitten, Miss Whitten being her grandmother's niece.

Another which appears brings to mind an amusing incident, which was a true story of one who was tempted, and who took a pollock fish, which did not belong to him. Upon being discovered in his misdoing the penalty pronounced was that he should take the fish and carry it around the store three times, repeating the following:

"From Henry Macculloch
I stole a pollock
And I'll never do so any more
He made two rounds as directed and when making the third he added

From Henry Macculloch

I stole a pollock
I swear I never'll do so any more
Mrs. Waterhouse is anxiously awaiting the further installments of the Records.

SUBSCRIBER.

Mrs. Waterhouse, whom the above article refers to, will soon reach her ninetieth birthday. She is a true daughter of the Revolution, her Grandfather Burbank being with Paul Jones

Rev. F. L. Cann exchanged pulpits with Rev. F. K. Ellsworth of the Congregational church of Wells Sunday.

A crew of men started this morning to erect a dwelling house for Frank Waterhouse on the lot recently purchased by him on Fletcher street. Joshua Clark is the Contractor.

The Red Cross

The Red Cross Tanning Process

The ordinary sole is tanned in six weeks; acids used to hurry the tanning parch and burn the leather. This is why ordinary shoes feel hot and heavy, why they draw your feet. The Red Cross sole is tanned by a special process that takes six months—you can bend it double when new.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11, 1911.

Clergymen will be obliged to work overtime this year. They are fifty-three Sundays in 1911.

It has been suggested that articles in the Spring warrant, which call for the expenditure of the town's money, be postponed for consideration to an adjourned meeting to be held a week from election day or at meeting in April. This method is in vogue in a number of villages and towns and has proved a money saver. It checks extravagance. It would give the citizens time to more than glance at the reports of the town officers, which usually reach them too late for careful reading.

In all probability the citizens will be asked at the Spring meeting to appropriate 500 or more dollars for taking the valuation of the town and the printing of the same. This would give all citizens a knowledge of the taxable property in the village and stop the alleged favoritism in making valuations. Those who advocate this expenditure say that it is not enough to know that "A" pays taxes of $50, but what does he pay that $50 on, real or personal property and if real estate where is it located and what are the various appraisements. This method has been adopted in Kennebunkport, Wells and in many other towns and villages. There are citizens who contend that a just appraisal on property in this village would put the tax rate below the $20 mark.

Justice Waterhouse says the tramp is one of the biggest problems of the day. Nearly every morning he considers the case of some unfortunate who has been provided sleeping quarters for the night. Some of the lodgers are young men who have worked until they have saved $30 or $40, gone to the larger centers, spent their money for rum, and are tramping back to their former jobs. Others are known as "professionals," who do not want to work and who believe the world owes them a living. This latter class constitutes the problem. The county jail has no terrors for them and in winter they quite often suggest to the presiding officer that he send them to Alfred. They adopt every method to get through life by the minimum amount of work and only show a desire to labor when cold and hunger stares them in the face. They are human sponges. But is there much real difference between the professional tramp, who believes the world owes him a living without any effort on his part and the man who refuses to pay his debts to the doctor, the grocer, the baker and the candle stick maker. This class of people who could meet their necessary living expenses, but who take the money that belongs to the trader and indulges in luxuries beyond their incomes, or in dubious financial schemes are living and doing business on money that belongs to others. There is a great difference between the man who runs behind as a result of sickness and death in his family and who tries to keep square with the world, and the man who adopts every method, as the professional tramp, to evade his obligations to the world. The only real difference between the man who can, but don't pay his bills and the professional tramp is that of disguise.

Banks Burglarized

Reports from the west say that over thirty banks have been burglarized during the last year. They have an easier and more refined way of obtaining the money in this section of the country and again they don't use such harsh names in referring to it. A man on the outside breaking in is a thief and a burglar. A man on the inside taking money out simply misappropriates the funds.

ARUNDEL RECORDS

Harold Clarke Durrell, Compiler

This is the second installment of Records which will be printed under this heading and which were taken from the first volume of the Town Records at present in possession of Mr. Wells, the town clerk of Kennebunkport. It is the intention of the compiler to publish all the vital statistics of the Towns of Kennebunk (Arundel) and Kennebunk (Wells) prior to 1850 which he may be able to get together. These statistics and other interesting matter which will appear in the Enterprise during the year will be of much value for reference and the tracing of family trees. Have your name on the subscription list to assure a complete file. The Enterprise will not guarantee complete files other than to subscribers.

SIMPLE SENSE

By Sam Silliman

The Master Better Half

Nineteen-eleven is with us,
Ye husbands be good;
To be joyful and happy,
Ye must chop the wood.

Ye must mind wifely strictly,
Must be in by tea;
If ye do not obey her,
Ye are not good men.

For neighbors will gossip,
Oh, how they will talk;
Ye gents must be perfect
Or wifely will balk.

The moral of this nonsense,
Is to have a law enforced,
That will put you right with wifely,
Or—you'll find yourself divorced.

Attention Snorers

Dear Mr. Silliman:

My husband snores so loudly nights that I find it quite impossible to woe sleep till the gray light of dawn peeps through the shades of our chamber, and as I am living the simple life and arising early, my health is suffering from lack of sleep. I am pale, pinched and poor, whereas a year ago I weighed 199, I now weigh but 182 and am fearful lest my health 'is gradually being undermined. Please tell me how Mr. B. can be cured.

Yours confidentially,
Mrs. B.—, Kennebunk,
N. D.—Please answer secretly by mail (enclosed find stamps.)

My Dear Madam:—If you wished me to answer by mail, why for goodness sakes did you not enclose proper postage instead of sending me those two green trading stamps? But I suppose that I shall have to excuse you on the grounds that it was all a mistake. I have my doubts, however; I cannot pay out cold cash for postage as I receive almost daily many, many bulky letters which demand answering.

I do not conduct a medical correspondence school, Mrs. B., for the simple reason that I am not an M. D. But as I have had considerable experience in the line of snorology I can impart to you some valuable information on the matter. Are you listening, Mrs. B., if not, dig the earth out of those pearly ears and hark intently while I advise you.

If Mr. B. has light hair or a wooden leg or arm, mix the following in a large bottle or jar: 3 bars soap, 1 ounce gastric juice and 1 pound of the best seeded raisins. Chop these ingredients to a pulp, then heat, and you will have a gray molten mass. If Mr. B. has dark hair or false teeth, fix him this solution, prepared in a similar manner to the above: 2 quarts refined washing fluid, 10 ounces beef tallow, and a piece of wax the size of a walnut. Mr. B. sleeps with his mouth open when snoring, and you are to have a quantity of the prescription close at hand at night; take the bottle or jar and pour with deft hand the contents of the bottle or jar down Mr. B.'s dark throat. If he gasps or breathes a little heavily after administering the dose get a Japanese fan, or a Chinese one for that matter, and fan toward the east and over his head until all signs of restlessness have passed away. However, I would not get too close to Mr. B. after giving him this remedy, for it is just possible that his last meal may not agree very well with the snoring solution, although trouble between the two is unlikely. It is not probable that he will snore a great deal even after the first dose, but do you know, Mrs. B., I would keep awake till dawn, administering the remedy every hour at least, or oftener if he is not perfectly quiet; the second night less frequently than the first, and so on; but to be effective this treatment should be extended over a period of a fortnight.

By the way Mrs. B., if your husband awakes after having taken the remedy and complains of having a queer taste in his mouth, tell him it has been raining or snowing in the window and has probably rained or snowed in his food trap. Say this last in a light and airy manner, and he will turn over on his other side and at once go to sleep. It is not likely that he will awake, for the remedy is not bad to take; I tried it once and just doze on it.

Let me hear from you again at the end of two weeks, and when you write please enclose two green pictures of Bennie Franklin, in order that I may send you by mail another receipt for the prevention of snoring, in case the one I am now giving you proves a failure.

Papers received from Seattle, Washington, tell of a Church trouble in that City in which Rev. J. D. O. Powers, formerly of Kennebunk is a prominent figure. Rev. Powers is quoted as saying that Unitarianism is a thing of the past and that he advocates a new liberalism and freer Church. An effort is being made to have him removed. He is fighting the attempt.

The grand jury at the January term of the Supreme Court in Saco reported Saturday afternoon after a four days session. In all 48 true bills were found. Nine indictments were made public and were for breaking and entering, assault, larceny. More than one hundred witnesses were examined. About half of the secret indictments are said to be against various people for violation of the prohibitory law.

The local telephone office will soon be removed to Odd Fellows Block, in the room formerly occupied by Burnham, the barber. A 3 position switch-board is being installed which will accommodate 800 lines. The work men are at work laying 10,000 feet of cable wire and when completed the new office will be ready for occupancy.

At the annual meeting, Monday, of the Ocean National Bank, the following officers were elected: Pres., Robert W. Lord; V. P. F. M. Ross; directors, W. E. Barry, S. T. Fuller and A. M. Welch, with Robert W. Lord as president of the board, and F. M. Ross as secretary. N. P. Eveleth was re-elected cashier and George W. Smith, teller.

People who have money to buy, even though they may not be in need of clothing and dress goods at the present time, would do well to take advantage of the special sales advertised in the Enterprise today. Youland's annual white sale begins tomorrow, Polakewich's semi-annual demonstration sale is in progress, and E. C. Neal & Co. begins a great reduction sale tomorrow. Read these ads. carefully. It will be money well invested to purchase now when the goods are offered at such low prices.

High School Notes

Several graduates have been genially welcomed visitors during last week. Robert N. Cram has been confined to his home during the past week with a mild attack of grippe.

Those two popular brothers, Gordon and Russell Carter, once students of K. H. S., will be greatly missed in the school, both from scholastic and social standpoint. They recently become students at Kents Hill seminary.

Miss Cleaves of Kennebunkport is substituting as music instructor for the regular teacher, Miss Merrill, who is enjoying a vacation in St. Louis, Mo.

The school committee, newly elected this term, is composed of the following members: Stanford, '12; Miss Emmons, '13; Brigham, '14; Tvedt, '13, and Emmons, '11.

A Rare Old Coin

In tearing down a partition in an old building, one of Chas. H. Robinson's workmen came across an old English coin dated 1740. The coin is about an inch in diameter, a little larger than our quarter, and very much worn. There are no figures by which its denomination can be determined, but on the face, around the edge, are the words "Rex Georgius" and a numeral which is hardly distinguishable, but which is probably "1." In the center between the words is a profile of the king. On the reverse side, around the edge is the word "Britannia," and upon the bottom "1740." In the center is a profile figure of the Goddess of Liberty, holding in the right hand an olive branch, and in the left a spear. There is no rim around the edge of the coin as there is around ours of today, and the face is so worn that it is difficult to distinguish the letters.

A coin such as this must of necessity have quite a history. Made by the order of George I., thirty-five years before the Declaration of Independence, it may have been on many fields of battle, through Indian wars and many other interesting places. The coin is certainly a valuable relic of the days before the Revolution.

JOSEPH ROBINSON,
Kennebunkport, Me.

The statement of a local real estate dealer that he had received five applications for tenements in one day which he could not supply, nor even suggest where there was a vacant tenement, is a pointer for the investor.

Officers Elected

Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 21 I. O. O. F., has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:
Noble Grand—Miss Carrie Dutch.
Vice Grand—Miss Sue Elwell.
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Mabel Babb.
Fin. Sec.—Mrs. Mabel Greenleaf.
Treas.—Miss Iva Porter.
Trustees—G. A. Gilpatrick, Mrs. Hattie Gatchell and Mrs. Belle Gilpatrick.

D. H. A. Kelley of Portland will deliver a lecture in town hall, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of January 20. This lecture will be on "The care of the Teeth" and has been arranged by the School Committee for the children. Parents are also requested to be present.

Obituary

Miss Lucy P. Webb, a sister of the late Mrs. Benjamin Lewis of Kennebunkport, died last Saturday at the home of her great-nephew, H. L. Tripp of Cambridge, Mass. She was 83 years of age and well remembered by the older inhabitants as a former resident of Kennebunkport. The body, which was brought to Kennebunk Monday and placed in the tomb at Evergreen cemetery, was accompanied by H. L. Tripp, and W. L. Tripp, another grand nephew, also of Cambridge. They are the only surviving members of the family.

St. Monica's Church

The following fine programme was rendered by the members of St. Monica's church choir, Rev. Mons. Charles W. Collins, pastor. Mrs. Lavina Wormwood, who is the organist, used a part of her own mass which was written several years ago and was dedicated by his permission, to his eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore.

Sanford National Bank

SANFORD, MAINE

Some People

Deposit money in a Bank, simply because it IS a Bank; some other people use the same care and judgment that they would in loaning their money to an individual.

In choosing a bank, your decision should be based on a close study of the most important factors, the bank's capital, surplus and undivided profits. It is these three items that protect the depositors in any bank. Compare the statement of the Sanford National Bank with that of any bank in York County, or in the whole State, and judge for yourselves. Our record is well established.

The paid up Capital of this bank is $50,000. The accrued profits or surplus is $184,943.75. The Stockholders of the bank are liable for an additional amount equal to the Capital Stock. The security we offer our depositors is therefore the equivalent of $284,943.75. That is the amount our shareholders would lose, before you could, as a depositor, lose a cent.

Sanford National Bank, Sanford, Me.

The body of little Robert Wormwood who was drowned a week ago Sunday, has not been recovered, although every method has been used. Bickford Brooks, a noted diver, formerly of this town, but now of Massachusetts, spent three days hunting for the body without success. The river has been dragged and every one has been interested in the recovery of the little body, and all deeply sympathize with the sorrowing parents.

Ernest Benson, Jr., spent the week-end with his cousins, Lawrence and Norman Ross of North Kennebunkport.

Eggs are still forty cents the dozen, potatoes eighty five cents a bushel and apples one dollar per bushel; why we expected that everything would be cheap in democratic times. This was the cry last fall. We fail to see where times are any better. Was it this that caused the banks to fail? Well, it does not seem to make much difference either way, only some talk so foolish about this.

The Whist Club report fine times. There are about sixty members.

Mrs. Lucy Wheeler is quite sick with rheumatism.

Mrs. Edward Goodwin is in very poor health.

Born, Monday Jan. 9th, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deinstadt, a son.

As Charles Averell rowed down the river one morning this week to reach his motor boat which lay near what is known as "Nigger Island," he was surprised to see it occupied by a good-sized seal. The seal probably weighed one hundred and fifty pounds.

Local Notes

Superstitious ones will remember that Friday is the 13th.

Leland S. Ross is visiting friends in Auburn, Me., for a few days.

John Coombs and his bride arrived at his home in Alwerve this afternoon.

Miss Mildred Brown of Rumford is visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Lord.

The Festival Chorus will have a rehearsal Friday evening. The new music has been received.

Recently chosen officers of Wawa Tribe, I. O. R. M., will be installed Monday evening, Jan. 16.

The "1910" Assembly will hold their next dance in Mousam Opera House, Tuesday evening Jan. 17, 1911.

The engagement has been announced of Dr. D. M. Small of this village and Miss Mildred Brown of Rumford.

Times sure have changed when the Hon. Cabot Lodge is obliged to defend his acts before a Republican legislature.

The Union meeting at the Methodist church, Sunday evening, was well attended. It was the closing service in the Week of Prayer meetings.

Charles Chesley, an engineer on the Boston & Maine and a former resident of Kennebunk, has been confined to his home in Berwick by a sprained ankle.

Deputy Grand Sachem J. Frank Warren, assisted by G. S. H. S. Taylor, installed the officers of Squando Tribe, I. O. R. M. of Biddeford, Monday night.

Charles H. Cole was the foreman of the January term of the grand jury which reported Saturday. It was one of the longest and busiest sessions ever held.

Messrs. Deering and Nutter, co-receivers of the Saco Savings Bank have filed the joint bond of $100,000 required of them by the court and have begun preliminary work at the bank.

Charles W. Cousens has purchased the story and a half house at the corner of Sayward and Lincoln streets from Mrs. Stella M. Haley, taking possession January 2. Mr. Cousens contemplates extensive repairs.

The joint standing committees of the Legislature were announced yesterday. Representative Perkins of Kennebunk was assigned as a member of the committee on Telegraph and Telephone, and that on Pensions.

The case of Benjamin L. Gordon against Dr. Frank Ross of Kennebunk has been postponed until next week. This is a malpractice case in which the plaintiff contends that he was improperly treated for injuries to his hand.

The S. A. R. Pratt farm in Wells has been sold by Agent Don Chamberlain to Robert M. Ham of Portsmouth, N. H. It consists of 54 acres of land, modern house and the usual buildings. Mr. Ham will take possession in the spring.

Thomas R. Goodwin, who runs the general store at West Kennebunk, speaks most favorably of the electric light service which he has recently had installed. He has figured out the expense carefully and finds that in labor alone he saves nine days a year in cleaning and filling the old style lamps. At the lowest estimate this time, he says, should be considered as worth $20.00. Then there is the oil expense and breakage to be counted. Even allowing for first cost of installation Mr. Goodwin considers he will be ahead at the end of the year.
