Steel Lined SHOT SHELLS

Arrow and Nitro Club Steel Lined Speed Shells

Scientific tests show that Remington-UMC Arrow and Nitro Club Steel Lined Speed Shells are the fastest shells in the world. The steel lining grips the powder—puts every ounce of the explosive force into a straightaway drive. No loss from shell expansion.

You take a shorter lead on the fast birds, get more of them. Like many other shooting refinements, this steel lining is an exclusive Remington-UMC feature, found only in Remington-UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club"—the steel lined speed shells.

For all around field shooting, get Remington-UMC "New Club"—the "Old Reliable Black Powder Shells."

Go to the dealer who shows the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—the sign of Sportsmen's Headquarters. He sells them.

25 YEARS AGO AND NOW

In the following items taken from the Phillips Phonograph of 25 years ago we are also giving information in regard to the persons mentioned, at the present time. The first item will be 25 years ago, and the second the present time.

George Willard Wood, Ph. D. of Lewiston, has been elected professor of Latin and Mathematics at Bates college.

Mr. Wood is now the editor and proprietor of the Lewiston Daily Sun. He married Miss L. N. Brackett of this town. Mrs. Wood is very prominent in several of the literary clubs, serving as president and program committee.

Ernest Butler is attending the Normal school at Farmington.

Mr. Butler is the son of Benj. Butler, Phillips and brother of W. B. Butler. He taught school for several years, afterward studying law and is now practicing in company with his brother, A. K. Butler in Skowhegan, and both are lawyers of ability.

Mr. J. H. Sherburne, formerly of Phillips, now located at the Ponca Agency in Indian Territory, has sent N. U. Hinkley a sample ear of corn raised by the Indian girls. It is very large and full and has 20 rows.

Mr. Sherburne is now living in Browning, Montana but Mr. Hinkley died several years ago.

Capt. J. E. Thompson, cashier of the Phillips National Bank of Phillips, is one of Phillips' old school teachers and writing masters. Penmanship was always one of his specialties and being himself a very smooth writer he always admires a handsome, dashing style.

Haley & Byron have been buying cattle for out of town buyers.

Postmaster Haley is more interested in the lumber business at the present time than in buying stock and Mr. Byron has to look after the interests of the town as he is first selectman.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Toothaker of Auburn are visiting in Phillips.

Mrs. Toothaker still resides with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Oakes since the death of her husband several years ago. She is in very poor health. Her many friends in Phillips have missed her visit for the past few years and sincerely wish that she might regain her health.

The Phonograph is not mistaken. The prospects for the Phillips & Rangeley Railroad are good. The directors of the Sandy River Railroad will meet Mr. Rich at Farmington where arrangements which have been mentioned in the Phonograph will probably be completed. It is confidently expected by those who know best about it that work on the road will be begun this season.

Mr. Frank Russell will teach the Grammar school at Calais this next year. He is now in Waterville.

Mr. Russell has been a most successful teacher the past 25 years.

Will Bunnell will finish his course in telegraphy at Winthrop.

Mr. Bunnell was employed by the Maine Central Railroad at the time of his death and was station agent at Leeds. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lyman H. Bunnell of this town and brother of Abel Bunnell now residing in Phillips.

Mrs. R. M. Ellsworth has gone to Great Falls, N. H., where she will spend the winter with her aged parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth are both deceased.

Mr. Fremont Scamman who has purchased the W. M. Fellows' stock of goods, has an announcement in this week's Phonograph. He has a new stock of school supplies; also a stock of miscellaneous articles to be closed out at low prices.

Mr. Scamman was proprietor of this store for some time, but is now residing on the Henry Butterfield farm the old home of his wife.

WONDERFUL BOY MARKSMAN

Twelve years old Bloice Bowen of La Junta, Col., is a crack rifle shot. Only the other day Buffalo Bill called him the most wonderful boy marksman in the United States. Such praise does not mean that Bloice is a youngster who can shoot as well as a grown-up; it means that he is a marksman whose performances compare favorably with those of the most famous experts in the country.

Small in stature, he could easily pass for a boy eight years old. One notices at once the keenness of his eyes, and his steady nerves are partly the cause and partly the result of his work with the rifle. Bloice began fancy shooting about three years ago. At that time he was the proud possessor of an air gun. His father, William Bowen, who is an enthusiastic and successful trap shooter, recognized his son's interest and aptitude and presented him with a .22 calibre Remington rifle. Since then the boy's proficiency and fame have grown by leaps and bounds and he has accepted many invitations from one of the shots were misplaced it would spoil the effect. There are no lines or marks of any kind to guide the artist in making this picture.

With the aid of a mirror Bloice hits targets behind him—but of course it would be much nearer correct to leave out that word "aid." Mirror sighting is about as difficult an accomplishment as a fancy shooter can acquire. Our young marksman is expert not only with stationary but with flying targets, most of which he throws himself. In such instances it is, of course, impossible for him to regain his poise before firing. He puts several bullets through a small tin can before it falls to the ground, "doubles" on small marbles in the air and, with a blind over the end of the rifle, breaks little clay spheres and pieces of coal. With this blind, which renders the sights useless, he even hits rifle balls which he tosses up for targets. He covers his weapon with a leather case, so that only the trigger is visible, and breaks washers and discs, these also being tossed in the air. All these are only a few of the stunts which Bloice has mastered. Wherever he gives an exhibition the spectators are enthusiastic, and the residents of La Junta take much pride in his growing fame.

towns all over the west to give exhibitions of his remarkable skill. When professional shooters have come to La Junta, Bloice has always been on hand to get points by talking with them and by observing their work.

So this active and alert Colorado schoolboy, who has not yet had a birthday with a "teen" in it, is able to perform many of the most difficult stunts in the repertory of the professionals. One of his astonishing feats of marksmanship is to outline an Indian head on a sheet of cardboard at a distance of 20 feet. In doing this he shoots more than 150 holes in the cardboard, and if Buffalo Bill was in La Junta two years ago with his circus and heard of the lad's great ability. When he returned last month he had Bloice with him as his guest during the day, and the two crack riflemen—one old and the other young—rode together in the parade.

"BILLY" AT LAKE MILLMAGASSETT

Several Real Estate Changes May be Made Near Home Camp.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Ox Bow, Me., July 27, 1914. Mercury 58 degrees and fine. I'm stuck! Not a single inspiration has popped up for a text for our weekly letter. Heavy loads of lumber, stores of supplies, and autos more than full of lumbermen have been going by bound for the flats, thence up river to the several camps in the woods and at the lakes.

Billy is at his cabins again at Lake Millmagasset, chinking and nailing, and will soon return to take up a chef and the heavy baggage of a party from Chestnut Hill, Brookline, Mass. Mrs. Billy is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Ed Harrison, from St. Mary's, N. B., also Mrs. Miles Richardson, wife of our fire warden, who is rapidly recovering from an operation for appendicitis, resting here before going up river to her forest home.

Mrs. Eva Noyles of Levant, Maine, is here with Master George Noyles, helping out as "chefess" at the home camp and at the lake as needed. She came in with Mrs. Richardson.

The powerful thunder storm which struck Boston and parts of New England last Tuesday, the 14th, gave us a savage kick and pelted us with large hailstones for about ten minutes. The ground was white like snow but soon lost its color in the heavy rainfall which followed.

A. B. Hall, Al Currier guide, returned from a week's trip up the Aroostook, going home to Brooklyn, N. Y., last Saturday. He said he had a very fine trip and good success fishing.

Dr. Martin Burke, 147 Lexington Ave., New York City, is expected soon at Libby's home camp at the Bow. The Doctor has been here every season for the past 20 years and is always a welcomed and familiar figure.

Walter D. Hinds and party of Portland are looked for to arrive at Billy's in the near future.

Several real estate changes are on the tapis. The local Grange want a lot; a Mrs. Grant wants one and a friend of Walter Hinds wants another, all quite near Billy's home camp on the ridge, overlooking the forests even to the Canada line.

Notices of births, deaths and marriages hereabouts are as scarce as hen's teeth. Not that we are not alive and "up and doing, with a heart for any fate," but we are too busy reaping and curing hay, spraying potato vines and catching chubs, to make room for the grim Reaper, tie any unnecessary knots or ring up the doctor in the dead of night.

Hauling wood and drawing water make up a large part of our day's work, especially on wash days which, with a family of eleven is, believe me, some stunt. A friendly hand on the wringer is not despised and a boiler full of water is a "sine qua non."

Billy's fall guests are in for a feast of good things. We have 60 or more tender young chicks growing fatter each day. It is quite a trick to guard so large a hen family from the onslaughts of Sir Reynard and the hawk. Mr. Billy is an expert shot and woe-betide the beast or bird which comes too near our ranch.

FIFTY GUESTS ARE BOOKED

The Trout and Square Tails are Making their Appearance.

(Special Correspondence.)

Jackman, July 30, 1914.

Reports from these camps advise that the black flies are all gone, and owing to the cooler weather of the last few days, trout of the square tail or red spot variety are making their appearance in the shallow waters of the lake and tributaries. W. R. Hoyt brought to net a two pounder and 15 smaller ones. He thinks that by the first of the week there will be lots of sport there. Several parties are starting on short trips and guides are all busy.

John L. Heaton of New York City and guide from West Outlet Camps, Moosehead Lake, stayed over night at these camps after a trip around the Bow. He claims it to be the finest canoe trip he has ever made.

The next week will fill the camps, as 50 guests are booked for August 1st. The guests at these camps number twenty-two. Among the late arrivals are: John L. Heaton, New York City; Charles C. Smith, Skowhegan; Joseph C. Smith, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pillsbury, Miss Mabelle H. Bonelli, Jacob Wirth, W. A. Beverly, Boston; W. R. Hoyt, Atlanta, Ga.; L. Whitten, West Outlet Camps; Miss Louise, H. Coburn, Miss H. C. Judkins, Skowhegan; Miss Mary Huston, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hallowell and Master Hallowell, New York City; Miss Maria Franckenhoff, Miss Alma Gaden, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Seiss, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Brown, New York City.

EXPERIENCES OF FIFTY YEARS

In his new book, "Random Reminiscences of Fifty Years in the Adirondacks," H. L. Ives gives many useful hints for campers. "In reviewing my Adirondack camping experience, reaching out over a period of 50 years," he says, "I notice that, through the changes that have taken place in this particular line in recent years, primitive camp life, as we enjoyed it in my boyhood days, is in danger of becoming a lost art, and the younger element are losing much of the real sport and exhilarating influences of camping. The invalid who goes to the Adirondacks for the purpose of gaining his health makes a great mistake when he fails to adapt himself strictly to a life in the open air both night and day.

"I have often remarked in the later years of my life that I have always received the greatest benefit by going to the Adirondacks when I have established my camp remote from civilization and lived, ate and slept in an open camp where I could breathe the balsam and ozone laden air 24 hours in the day, free from the contaminating influences of civilized life. I know from actual experience that one can cure a bad case of malaria by this treatment and take no medicine, except Adirondack air and Adirondack water.

Question of Height.

Lady Southwark, in her recently published reminiscences, tells a story of an Irishman who was cutting turf near a bog when a friend came up to him, crying: "Patrick is stuck in the bog up to his ankles." "Don't worry, then," was the reply; "if he's only up to his ankles he can soon get out again!" "Yes, but he went in head first!" retorted the other.—Pearson's Weekly.

RETURN MANY FISH TO WATER

August Will See Many Guests—Man Loses Valuable Rod.

(Special Correspondence.)

Carry Pond, Me., July 31, 1914.

The fishing through July has been unusually good.

Messrs. Charles Bickard and Adolph Geering of New York are in camp for three weeks. They are having a fine time and catching lots of trout. Mr. Geering sent home a fine box to his family.

There are some large fish in East Carry pond. Mr. Geering loves fly fishing. He was letting his line trail behind the boat, and it must have been a very large trout that took his leader as the rod which was a fine one was snatched from the boat and lost. Mr. Geering felt very badly about the loss of the rod as it is one he has had for many years.

Dr. Edmund H. Stevens and E. W. Stevens of Cambridge, Mass., with John L. Gay of Porto Rico, have returned home. They had fine fishing with R. V. Ham, guide.

Charles F. Ham and D. G. Bean of Bingham are here for a few days.

Samuel Folk and A. Capove of Boston are here for two weeks.

K. A. Burnham of Boston has returned home after three weeks in camp. George Spaulding of Caratunk was his guide. Mr. Burnham caught over 500 trout while here. Many of them were returned to the water.

J. P. Cruikshank and son of St. John, N.B. are in camp with R. V. Ham, guide.

Miss Faustie E. Lane of Attleboro, Mass., is visiting her father at Carry Pond.

The camps will all be filled early in August.

FORMING CLUB TO BUY CAMP

Henry J. Lane who is proprietor of Carry Pond camps is thinking of selling, after catering to the sporting element for over 20 years.

There is a movement on hand to form a club of 40 members and buy out Mr. Lane. Mr. Henry Holding of New York City, who is there for the entire summer has the matter in charge.

The object of forming this club is to give each member special privileges such as reduced rates, the right to build cabins, put in furnishings, boats or canoes to his own liking. Just how the place would be run would be decided when the proper directors were chosen.

These two ponds positively produce more square tail trout than any other ponds in the State of Maine.

A number of prominent sportsmen in different parts of the country have signified their intention of becoming members. All those interested should write to Mr. Holding at once for particulars or visit the camps. The postoffice address is Carry Pond, via Bingham, Me.

To Seal Bottles.

Bottles may be securely sealed in the following manner: Melt together a quarter of a pound of sealing wax, the same quantity of resin and two ounces of beeswax. When the mixture froths, stir it with a tallow candle. As soon as each ingredient is melted, dip the tops of the corked bottles in the mixture. It will completely exclude the air.

Was Looking for It, Too.

"I say, my friend," called the motorist to the farmer, as he drew up alongside of the field, "I'm looking for a decent road to take me into Squigglesville." "I'm durned glad to hear it," replied the farmer. "Ef ye happen to find it, stranger, send me a tellygram, will ye?"

Nature's Own Wrapping Keeps Tobacco Best

No artificial package—tin, bag, or tin-foil and paper—can keep tobacco as well as the natural leaf wrapper that holds all the original flavor and moisture in the Sickle plug. When you whittle off a pipeful, you always get fresh tobacco, that burns slowly, and smokes cool and sweet.

Chopped-up, "package" tobacco loses much of its moisture before it goes into the package, and keeps getting drier all the time. And the drier it gets, the faster it burns in your pipe, and the more it bites your tongue. Only fresh tobacco gives real pipe-satisfaction—and only tobacco you cut off the Sickle plug as you use it, can be fresh.

POACHERS' FIREARMS CONDEMNED

The importance of the recent wholesale capture of Canadian poachers by Warden Gross is being made plainer every day through the wardens scattered throughout the State. Renewed interest was aroused when the guns seized from the poachers arrived at the State House and were unpacked at the office of the Fish and Game Commission. The lot will be added to the accumulation of firearms seized by wardens and of which the commission now has about 25 of all kinds and descriptions, taken from aliens.

This feature of the case is an important one. He specifies that:

"The commissioners of inland fisheries and game, upon the application of any unnaturalized foreign-born person who is a resident of any city, town or plantation within the State and upon the payment of a fee of $15 may issue to such person a license * * * authorizing the said licensee to hunt and kill game birds, game or other wild animals on any lands on which said hunting is not forbidden by law * * *"

Another part of the law says: "If any firearm or firearms are found in the possession of any foreign-born unnaturalized person required to be licensed under the provisions of this law, when he is upon the wild lands or in the woods of the State, not having a license as here-in provided, it will be prima facie evidence that such person is hunting in violation of the provisions of this act and he shall be subject to a penalty of $25 and costs for each offence and a further penalty of forfeiture to the State of all firearms found in his possession. * * *"

This last seizure is a sharp notice to the poachers that the illegal business must cease and the loss of the firearms will serve as another warning to aliens that they must observe the law in that regard, as all others.

An interesting thing in connection with such seized firearms is their disposal. It was formerly the method to put them up at auction at the annual meeting of the Fish and Game Association, but it was found that private sales gave better results financially to the department and that plan is now followed. The purchaser always gets his money's worth, because he needn't buy unless he wants the goods and the department is satisfied with the price received, because a fair price is set and the weapon does not have to be sold; that being the would-be purchaser's option.

BIRDS INCREASING NOW

The Bristol correspondent of the Lewiston Journal, writes Edwin E. Bailey, the warden appointed and paid by the Audubon Society to watch over the birds on Egg Rocks, reports a tremendous increase in his feathered wards. There are black gulls, lemons, laughing gulls, sea gulls, Wilson's tern and stormy petrels. The gulls and terns lay their eggs on the bare rock or turf. The gulls stick their eggs away under the ledges so that it is impossible to get at them. The Cary chickens dig out of sight into the sod and each parent takes a turn on the nests. Just at dusk a bird emerges from the burrow and takes flight and another enters the nest. Apparently they take 24 hour watches. The Weston Egg Rock has been abandoned since mink raided the rookery a few years and the Eastern Rock is overcrowded. Shark Rock, Jones' Garden and Round Island are also patronized by the birds. On the Egg Rock is believed to be the only colony of the laughing gull east of Massachusetts. The dry ledges near New Harbor were tried as nesting places a few years ago, but the Ravens robbed the nests. The more remote ledges seem to be too far out for the robbers.

The Voice of Misanthropy.

"Suppose some power were to answer the poet's prayer and give us the gift of seeing ourselves as others see us!" "Well, for one thing, it would do a great deal to discourage the craze for dancing."

NEW AUTOMOBILE ROUTES LAID OUT

By Following These Practically All Construction Work Is Avoided.

In each place in Maine where the roads are being reconstructed, the Maine Automobile Association has laid out entirely new routes covering the same territory, and erected signs, not only at the starting points, but at all intersections. By following these routes, practically all construction work is avoided. As a whole, these routes are as good as those formerly used. Moreover the Association has issued a neat pamphlet giving complete running directions, showing all turns, indicating the mileage and stating where connections are made with the older routes. These can be obtained free of charge from nearly all the leading hotels and garages in New England or will be sent upon request by the Information Bureaus of the Association at Portland, Bangor and Houlton. Two mammoth signs 8 x 18 feet have been erected, one on the Boston road just outside of Portland, the other on the Lewiston-Auburn road just west of Auburn, advising the traveling public to obtain these detours.

During the past two years there have been wonderful improvements in the roads in Maine, due, in great measure, to the active and intelligent work of the Maine Automobile Association. The state has taken hold of the proposition in a business-like manner and the different cities and towns have made a great improvement in their methods. The 55 miles of road between Portsmouth, N. H. and Portland, which formerly was in a wretched condition, has been almost entirely rebuilt, with tar-macadam, cement and gravel, and is in excellent shape, some of it being as smooth as a house floor. By these new routes touring in Maine is made easy.

ALL AROUND THE STATE

The Summit Spring hotel at Poland, owned by the Saco Savings bank, is prospering well. A. C. Brooks, who has had charge of the hotel for the three previous seasons, is in charge again this season. The hotel has done well each year under Mr. Brooks. During August in the past three years he has been obliged to refuse guests, as the hotel was full to overflowing. July is not so good a month but this year there is a good crowd at the hotel and the bookings for August are large. The prospect is for an excellent season this year.

When Curator James has the "Loon" case complete and in position it will be sure to attract much attention. It consists of a pair of loons, fine specimens, the female standing over the nest in which are two eggs, with two little "baby loons" on the shore picking around, and old Pa Loon on the right standing guard over his family. The case has a painted background representing a lake scene with high lands about and the entire exhibit is extremely natural in appearance.

Among the automobile parties which visited Augusta recently was one whose car bore the New York registry tag 44474 and was decorated with banners of places through which the party had journeyed on the way to Maine. In addition to these there were three banners hung over the back of the car which were something of a novelty. In the center was a big black banner bearing in yellow letters the words "New York," while at the left was a red banner on which in white letters was the inscription, "Excuse My Dust." At the right of the center banner was one of orange, the words, "Thank You" being done in black.

A bear has been prowling around the cottages at Phillips Lake and frightening the cottagers although no one has been injured. A Bangor woman met him face to face the other day. She realized that if she ran, Bruin might chase her, so stared him in the eyes, until with a snarl he made his way off through the bushes. A hunting party failed to locate the animal.

session 25 weapons acquired in this way. Formerly it was the custom to sell such goods at private auction but it is now found more profitable to the state to dispose of them by private sale.

Game Warden E. K. Peck of Smyrna Mills reported to the Fish and Game Commission the prosecution on July 16 before the municipal court at Houlton of one Jerrie Camelton on the charge of having killed and illegally having in his possession one deer in close time. The man pleaded guilty and was fined $40 and costs. In default of payment he was committed for 30 days.

The Department of State Lands and Forestry has a crew of men engaged in constructing lookout towers and camps on the various mountains of the state. This crew is in charge of Edward Small and is at present engaged in building a tower on Spencer Mountain near Chesooncook lake. Most of the towers being built are steel with a wooden house on top, but in cases where the transportation charges are too heavy to permit of the use of steel wooden towers are built.

The type of tower being erected has already been described in the Maine Woods. It is considered the most approved pattern for mountain lookout purposes.

The State at present has fifty-five stations in operation and it is planned to build several more the present season.

The office of the commissioners of inland fisheries and game at Augusta had something the appearance of an arsenal, the department having received a consignment of firearms seized by Warden Gross in his recent roundup of six Canadian poachers near the state boundary. Besides the payment of fines the law requires that the firearms be seized. The department now has in its pos-

Mooselookmeguntic Team Beaten, but Courage Good for Third

(Special Correspondence)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, Aug. 2.—"I am much surprised to find such a crowd at this hotel, for I have just come from the seashore where the hotels are almost deserted," remarked a Bostonian on his arrival today, but it is a fact that more guests are now enjoying the hospitality of this comfortable and attractive hotel and camps than ever before, the first week in August, and it is a question of where to put all who have written for accommodations for the next month.

The social and friendly way in which the guests gather around the office fire the chilly mornings and evenings, or on the piazza the warm days, make all feel at home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kimberly of New Haven, Conn., who have been coming to the Rangeleys for many years are this season for the first time pleasantly located here and are much pleased with the place.

Maj. and Mrs. Charles Wylie of New York, who are spending the season at their beautiful camp on the lake shore, with their guests enjoyed a Dutch supper at the Little Brown House on the Trail Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spotts at Camp Doraljo are entertaining Mrs. Daniel H. MacMahon of New York, who passed a number of summers with her son in this region.

Dr. E. S. Bennett of Waltham, Mass., was welcomed by his many friends on his arrival Monday to spend the August days at this hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Howe of Chestnut Hill, Mass., while touring Maine, were here for the first time this week and so much pleased with the place they engaged a camp for their family next year.

In order to accommodate all who wanted a camp for this month, Mrs. Burns has leased one of the private camps near the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Willets of Flushing, N. Y., who with their son Chester are occupying the same camp they have had for years, fear their daughter, Miss Eliza, who is spending several months in Germany, will be delayed there and not be able to join them this month as expected on account of the war preventing the sailing of the ship she was coming on.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Warnock of Jamaica, N. Y., on Wednesday were joined by their daughter, Mrs. A. M. Morrell and son William A. Morrell of Plainfield, N. J., who will remain until the end of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkby of Englewood, N. Y., who for a month have been in one of the log camps, have also been joined by their son, D. Kirkby for the remainder of their stay.

Miss Dora Reich of New York, who for the past two months has greatly enjoyed her stay here and made many friends, today left for a month at the seashore, planning to return for the September days.

This evening the guests are all very enthusiastic over the wonderful moonlight and the cloud effects "such as we never see in the city," declared one gentleman, and as all were quietly admiring the scene no artist can copy, a lady asked, "Do you know why the old man in the moon never married?" And a young lady who now wears a diamond asked "Oh, why, we don't know," and was answered, "How could he support a wife when he only has a quarter a week and gets full every month?"

The Mooselookmeguntic ball team played the second game with the Rangeley Lake House boys, Saturday afternoon on Mingo Springs Diamond, but as they got "walloped" as one of the boys expressed it there is not much to tell, except they intend to win the third game without having to import any players from the leagues.

"Every day somebody goes fishing and every day somebody catches something," is the way one of the fishermen reports his catch, and surely plenty of small ones are brought in each day and several records this week.

S. R. Browne of Paterson, N. J., caught a 3¼-pound salmon and Chester A. Howe of Chestnut Hill, Mass., was very proud of the pair of salmon he caught, one 5 pounds, the other 4¼ pounds. Frank Fall, guide. Henry Rich of Brookline, Mass., a 3¼-pound salmon.

Really Beyond Help.

Confucius, the Chinese philosopher, though he lived nearly 2,500 years ago, said many things that are true today, among them this: "When a man has been helped around one corner of a square and cannot manage the other three, he is unworthy of future assistance."

STRUCK BY

LIGHTNING

Buildings Were Burned but Stock was Saved.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

East Wilton, August 3—During the heavy thunder shower of Sunday evening, August 2 John Melcher's abn a mile and a half from here on the Bean's Corner road was struck by lightning and his set of buildings burned.

The stock was rescued from the barn with the exception of a hog and two pigs. About half of his new crop of hay had been put in the barn. The house was a new one just recently finished and furnished.

The furniture was saved and the windows from the lower story.

Mr. Melcher, we are told was insured for $1600. We are also informed that the house could have been saved had there been an adequate supply of available water. Much sympathy is felt for the family.

IN AND ABOUT PHILLIPS

The array of canned fruit and vegetables at the store of George Bean is certainly a tempting one. Mrs. Bean has already put up about 400 cans and she is planning to reach the thousand mark by the end of the season. Raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, syrup, peaches, pears, rhubarb, cherries, beans, peas, brake, dandelion, and beet greens are included in the present list.

Miss Edith Keith was a recent guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Currier with whom she lived for a time and attended the High school here. Miss Keith has been training for a nurse for the past year at St. Marie's hospital in Lewiston and has one year and a half more before she graduates. We are pleased to learn that she is progressing finely and shows much ability.

ker. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parker plan

Hon. H. B. Austin went to Augusta Monday on business connected with his office as chairman of the Fish and Game commission. Commissioner and Mrs.
Austin have opened their cottage at Weld and will be there much of the time the rest of the season, Mr. Austin coming to and from his business in his auto.

Masters Carl and Hartley Berry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Berry of West Farmington, are visiting relatives in Madrid and Phillips, Harrison Moores

RACE OF 13-FOOT SAILING SKIFFS

Joujou Won the Challenge Cup of the Crescent Beach Boat Club.

Saturday the 25th, took place the first race of the series of 13-foot sailing skiffs between Mr. Buker's Joujou, and Mr. Ryder's Joujou III. The start was at 3.53.

	1st.	2nd.	Finish
Joujou,	3.53	4.34	4.44
Joujou III,	3.53	4.32	4.41

Mr. Ryder's Joujou III wins by three minutes.

The Joujou was built and raced at Mattapoisett, Mass., in the season of 1913, where she won the challenge cup of the Crescent Beach Boat club with eight boats competing. During June 1914 she also won a handsome cup from the New Bedford Boat club challenging boat. Its builder, Mr. Phillips Ryder, has in his new boat developed new lines and by the race Saturday proved the superiority of the new model.

We hope by the interest shown Saturday that by another season there will be more boats of this class which are inexpensive and easy to handle.

Mr. Ryder is a teacher of manual training in the New Bedford Public schools, and took up boat building as a pastime, under Hawd, the famous designer.

Mr. Ryder is at all times willing to demonstrate the superiority of this model of boat. There are seven of this model of boats in Buzzard's Bay this season.

EAST WILTON.

August 4.

Mrs. Knowlen of Norridgewock, who has been visiting her daughter and family at North Jay, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Savage at East Wilton.
Mrs. Knowlen was accompanied to North Jay by several members of her family who wished to be present at the graduation of her granddaughter who was the valedictorian of her class and acquitted herself in a very creditable manner we are told. The young lady will enter the Normal school at Farmington at the opening of the fall term.
Mrs. Knowlen's husband, Roswell Knowlen, died a year or two ago. The Knowlens were pioneer residents of Presque Isle, Aroostook county, Mr.
Knowlen's mother having been chosen to drive the first spike in the Bangor & Aroostook railroad, on account of her long residence there. We remember hearing Mr. Knowlen say that just as good potatoes could be raised here as in Aroostook county if farmers here were willing to work as hard.

Frank Spinney is visiting his sister and family at Stratton and incidentally picking blueberries. Frank reports them very thick. Berries seem very plenty everywhere and it may be well to lay in a good stock of them as well as other things edible for if the war is really on, high cost of living will soar higher and higher. We have paid $12 for a barrel of flour and $14 for a ton of coal back in the Franco Prussian war;
but we hope for peace.

J. P. Savage spent several days last week at West Freeman doing some needed work about his buildings there.
During the time he boarded with Mr.
and Mrs. Ehland Webster.

ROAD BUILDING

HEAVY, SHORT ROAD ROLLER

Useful Improvement May Be Constructed by Using Worn-Out Mowing Machine and Concrete.

Perhaps you have a grader of some sort and road drags, but you need a heavy short roller. They cost too much to buy, so make one this way. Procure an old worn-out mowing machine, any make, writes W. A. Dillon in Farmers' Mail and Breeze. Take off or break off all the parts that stick out past the wheels. Smooth off a bit of hard ground; now dig a small sole just large enough for the hub. Set the machine up on one end, put a jacket of galvanized sheet iron around the wheels, secure it at short intervals with small stove bolts and make it fit neat and straight. Now fill the jacket with the best fine concrete. Tamp it well and allow it to stand until the concrete is well set. Remove the jacket; keep the roller shaded and spray it for eight or ten days.

Have the blacksmith put an iron frame on this roller. Heavy tire iron will do, using the hubs for spindles. When a strong tongue is added you will have as good a roller as anybody; one that will last a life time and will cost but little. Save the jacket to make more rollers with.

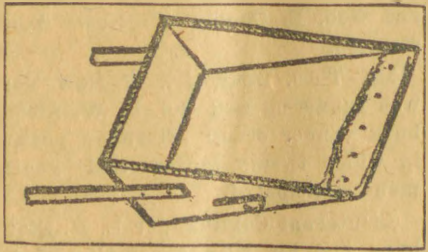

When your road is graded run the roller down the center, instead of on the sides, as now. Take two disk harrows the same number of disks and if possible the same kind. Turn the disk on the harrows so they will throw the dirt toward each other when placed side by side. Now set them close together side by side in the middle of the road to be worked. Take a light log chain and fasten the harrows together. Put a team on each harrow and drive down the road to be worked. Turn around; let out the chain a couple of feet; go back. Repeat the operation a number of times. You would be surprised how much dirt the disk harrow will cut up, and how much it will move toward the center. Finish with drag or grader. Then roll the center and you will have a good road at small cost.

We have organized a country club here and given each member a piece of road to drag, near his home. We elected a drag boss so when it is just right to drag the boss calls all the members and in about two hours we have all the roads in the district dragged. We have had very bad weather ever since organizing, but the plan appears to work well.

ROAD SCRAPER EASILY MADE

Two-Inch Planking, Securely Bolted Together, Will Furnish Most Useful Farm Implement.

There are many jobs upon the high ways and farms that require a few hours' use of a scraper, yet are not important enough to require the purchase of one. The scraper shown in illustration may be constructed of two-inch thick planking, securely bolted together, and also re-enforced with angle irons, to make the joints more secure against the strain. The blade or cutting surface is made of an old saw blade, bolted to the box as shown in illustration. The horses are attached by a chain fastened to two iron hooks, one upon each side of the scraper. With two handles it is complete and ready to save many times its cost in small filling jobs.

EVERY FARMER SHOULD HELP

Every Day's Work Makes Roads Better if Done Intelligently—Merchants Aid in Work.

No man who farms should begrudge the time he spends in grading, dragging and ditching the highways. He must use them twelve months in the year. Every day's work makes them a little better if the work is done intelligently. In many localities the merchants have aided in the work of road betterment, and it seems ridiculous that their efforts should be distrusted by the farmers. Good roads associations in every county will eventually increase the value of all farming land.

CANVASSING FOR CHURCH

Receives Injuries While Riding Horseback.

(Special Correspondence.)

Rangeley, August 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Osman Wright returned the first of the week from a visit with relatives and friends in Phillips. Mrs. Wright has been in Phillips for some time.

Miss Dorothy Trefethen of Wilton arrived Tuesday for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Proctor.

Miss P. M. Richardson returned home Monday night after a brief visit in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Furbish left Saturday for Farmington. They were accompanied by Miss Mina Paterson and Master Glenn Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Furbish and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Butler enjoyed a trip to Skowhegan and Madison.

Word has been received from H. O. Huntoon, who is at Dr. Cousin's private hospital for treatment, of his splendid progress, which, if it still continues, will allow of his return home in a week or ten days.

Mrs. C. C. Williams and son Raymond of Bath are guests of Mrs. Williams's sister, Mrs. Sylvader Hinkley.

The firm of Hinkley & Brown will hereafter be conducted by Riley F. Hinkley, he having purchased Harrison Brown's interest in the business.

Little Ina Toothaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla V. Toothaker met with quite a serious accident recently. While riding horseback on a horse that was used to operate the hay fork, the animal started suddenly to run. The little miss held on bravely for some distance but was finally thrown, which resulted in several bruises and cuts upon the head. The only explanation that can account for the creature's sudden start is that he must have been stung by some insect. No bones were broken, however, and it is thought no permanent injuries will result.

Mrs. Ella J. Blanchard and party of Stratton were in town Tuesday.

Mr. Simpson and helpers have begun to plaster on the Furbish residence, work on which has been going on rapidly the past month.

The annual financial canvass of the Rangeley church began Tuesday. Some time ago letters were sent out explaining the object of the Finance Committee which have as their goal to reach the $1,000 mark. The work has been divided into four squads under the efficient leadership of four representative men of the community, F. B. Colby, E. I. Herrick, Wm. Tomlinson and H. B. McCard. Each squad captain in turn appoints collectors who call on their assigned territory. Our summer friends have been more than generous. Let us each do our part of the lifting as the attractive bulletin suggests. If everyone does his part the burden does not fall heavily on a few.

Very heavy thunder and the most spectacular lightning of the season were in evidence Sunday. No serious damage from the same has been reported in this section.

A vesper service was held Sunday afternoon at the Rangeley church. Rev. Edwin Blake of West Falmouth, a former pastor, was present and gave a very interesting talk. The music was especially fine, the quartette singing several selections and the Rangeley Lake House orchestra also playing at this occasion. Rev. L. H. Hallock will preach next Sunday morning at the service.

Mrs. Geo. Snowman received a bad scare last Friday morning which she is not anxious to repeat immediately. She placed a kettle containing a small amount of fat on the stove to heat. Being called to the door to speak with a friend a few moments later she returned to the kitchen to find the fat ablaze and the flames ceiling high. She gave the call for fire and then removed the flaming kettle to an outer room. No fire damage was done to the house but several rooms were badly smoked. Mrs. Snowman fortunately escaped with only slight burns on the hands and a slight singeing of her hair. The services of the fire department were not needed.

Loss of Appetite is commonly gradual; one dish after another is set aside. It is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.

SPOKANE LEADS ALL COUNTIES

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1914, Spokane county led all counties in the United States in number of fish propagated and distributed in lakes and streams, according to figures announced by County Fish Commissioner A. J. Buzard, based on the report of the United States department of commerce.

Over 300,000 trout and 100,000 bass fry were placed in the waters of this county in that period, in addition to large numbers of perch, crappies and sunfish. Commissioner Buzard is authority for the statement that the record will be shattered by a wide margin during the present year, as 2,500,000 trout fry alone will be planted in Spokane river before June 30, 1915.

"By making a plant of this size this year and continuing the practice for several years, the Spokane river will be the best trout fishing river in the world," declares Mr. Buzard. He has made a study of conditions in this river and says the food supply is abundant.

The task of stocking the streams and lakes with fish and the fields and woods with game birds will be started in August under the direction of the fish and game commission, which includes Mr. Buzard, A. F. Wiseman and A. G. Gray.

While the bulk of the trout will be planted in the Spokane river, it is to be made to stock some more of the many lakes surrounding Spokane.

Game Commissioner Wiseman will start next month to liberate 350 pairs of Hungarian partridges and several hundred pairs of quail in Spokane county. The partridges liberated in Spokane county this spring have done surprisingly well and big coveys are found in all sections of the district. Mr. Wiseman hopes to bring about an open season on partridges next year.

From 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 trout fry, about equally divided between eastern brook, rainbow and cutthroat, have been liberated in the streams of northern Idaho the last month, according to D. L. Oliver of Sandpoint, deputy state game warden. The Sandpoint hatchery furnished a little more than half the amount, and the remainder came from the Coeur d'Alene hatchery.

"We were particularly anxious to get the young trout out of the hatcheries to make way for the 5,000,000 whitefish eggs we desire, to hatch this fall," stated Mr. Oliver in Spokane recently. "The supply of white fish is being depleted rapidly. They have proven so popular that we want to replenish the lakes with them."

An automobile trip of 3,500 miles through the wilds of northwestern Canada and into Alaska, many miles of the way over roads and dimly marked trails that have never been traversed by an automobile, is being undertaken by Frank Fourniea, formerly of Spokane, now a placer miner in the Juneau district of Alaska.

Mr. Fourniea left Spokane this week to make the drive back to his Alaskan home. Just what his route will be Mr. Fourniea did not give out, but stated that he would pass through Phoenix and New Hazelton, B. C., on his way through Canada.

At Phoenix he expects to take on an extra supply of 50 gallons of gasoline, a large amount of oil and other necessities. As he is fairly familiar with a large part of the trail he anticipates little trouble in making the trip. He carried a supply of extra casings, tubes, a small vulcanizer and other devices for making repairs.

CANOEING IN SPRINGFIELD

What is the oldest recreation activity in Springfield? Baseball would be the answer of nine people out of ten. Yet there are at least three pastimes now actively engaged in by many local people that antedate baseball by several hundred years. They are hunting, fishing and canoeing. The Indians, who many hundred years ago decided that the Connecticut valley was a good place in which to live, engaged in all three of these activities that now afford recreation to thousands of the descendants of the palefaces who dispossessed the red men.

To be sure, the status of these activities as recreations in the Indian times is somewhat uncertain. It is probable, though, that the Indians derived much pleasure from the chase, even if the procuring thereby of food was a vital necessity. The question as to whether the Indians fished for pleasure is harder to answer. Some ethnologist can study that to his heart's content. He could also, if he wished to inject a little human interest into his studies, set himself to the answering of another question, namely: Did never a young Indian brave take some Minnehaha of his tribe for a moonlight paddle along the still waters of the Connecticut or the smooth back waters of the Agawam, then untroubled by the impending doom of commercial "development"?

Perhaps the red man never thought of that use of his birch bark canoe. In that case his paleface successor, to whom he has handed down the priceless heritage of the canoe, has done him one better, for the modern adaptation of the Indian's birch bark is pre-eminently a social craft—for two.

It is probably this feature of the canoe that has made it so popular in Springfield that there are now on Springfield waters 500 of these graceful, noiseless boats, whose grace of design and ease of control surpass any type of boat that the white man has devised, with the possible exception of the old New Bedford whale boats. It gives one a shudder to think that if it were not for the red men Springfieldians and other Americans would be poling themselves around the snaggy waters of their native streams in scow-shaped punts, of the sort that make the background in photographs of English boat races. Imagine punting up the Agawam! A misplaced thrust of the pole might land its point in the heart of an old snag, that would grasp it to its decayed bosom. Then the eager punter would be pulled out of his boat and hang to his frail pole like a monkey on a stick, while the punt with its fair and probably frantic cargo would go drifting downstream.

In spite of its great antiquity as a sport or a means of transportation, and the vogue it had some 20 years ago, when the canoe meets were notable events, the general popularity of canoeing is the development of the last dozen or 20 years, and the last half-dozen years have seen the greatest advance in the interest in this city. For many years the guides of the Maine woods have used canoes on the rough, snaggy streams of the great woods region of the Pine Tree state. First they used birch canoes of the Indian type, but gradually they evolved a better material, canvas over cedar planking, while they retained carefully the lines of the birch bark models.

Thus the canvas and cedar, or, as it is popularly called, the "canvas" canoe, is a Maine product, and two-thirds of the canoes of this type used in the East are manufactured in Old Town, Me., that has come to be known as the canoe city. In recent years new manufactories have sprung up along the Great lakes, where canoeing has leaped in popularity. Detroit has almost as many canoes as automobiles—and that is saying a lot.

The first canoes appeared on local waters a good many years ago. The river was naturally enough the first canoeing ground, but more recently the center of interest seems to have been transferred to the Watershop pond, or Massasoit lake, as some of the lovers of that attractive body of water prefer to call it. Yet the river still floats a great many of the descendants of the birch bark, and it is likely that there may be a revival of interest in canoeing on the river if the development for industrial purposes of the Agawam meadows does not spoil the beauties of the Agawam within the next season or two.

The Springfield canoe association did much to make the sport popular, and while its club runs are not given so often as in former years, the effect of its encouragement will always be felt by local canoeists. Its more recent fellow-organization, the Massasoit canoe club, is popular and has a steadily increasing membership. A good many of the members of the Rockrimmon boat club are enthusiastic canoeists, too, and at several of the down-river clubs and camps canoes are used enthusiastically.

A good deal of the old fear of the canoe seems to be passing, as people become more accustomed to its use. They learn that it is really not the "death trap" that they imagined, if it is used with a fair degree of common sense and discretion. Rocking of the boat is as dangerous a pastime in a canoe as it is in any other craft smaller than a coal barge. As long as there are fools who find pleasure in this juvenile form of amusement there will be accidents, and as some of these fools will chance to be in canoes when they yield to their folly there will continue to be canoe accidents. But with careful handling the canoe is not a whit more dangerous than the average round-bottomed rowboat, and is far more steady than many of the lighter oar-propelled craft. This does not prove, however, that it is wise for anyone who cannot swim to ride in a canoe or any small boat in water that is above their depth. The canoe is winning its way, and as the number of its sensible users increases its undeserved evil reputation will vanish.—Springfield Republican.

MANY DEVOTEES SUMMER PASTIMES

Horseback Climb to Top of Mount Kineo---Keen Competition for Weekly Golf Handicap.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Kineo, Moosehead Lake, July 25—Splendid weather with invigorating air blowing off the big lake has been the lot of the summer people who are enjoying the delights of this wonderful Moosehead country.

All the mid summer pastimes are finding their devotees, with motor boating, golf and horseback riding the leading outdoor sports, and, modern dancing keeping the younger members of the colony busy evenings in the large ball room of the new Mt. Kineo House.

Japanese Denied Luxuries.

The most expensive single fruit in the Japanese fruit stores is the natsumikan, a species of grapefruit (Citrus decumana), which sells throughout the winter for 7½ cents each. These are not eaten in great quantities by the class of people who make the great fruit-buying population in the United States. The average income of the Japanese family of four is about $150 a year. This sum does not leave much margin for the purchase of luxuries.

HONORS FOR DR. THAYER

Won Three of Four Events In Casting Tournament.

Dame Nature, always capricious, played havoc with the tournament of the Rod and Reel club, held at Buttonwood creek recently, for out of the south she brought a wind which blew in the face of the contestants, and put many of their best efforts in casting to naught.

But in spite of her caprices the members had a joyous afternoon and some fine scores were made.

The honors of the afternoon were carried off by Dr. Thayer, who won three out of the four contests. In the bait casting contest he made a score of 101 2-5, in the long distance fly casting 99; and in the accuracy test 98 9-15. E. M. Slocum made the high score in the surf casting contest, 162 1-5.

AT THE RATE OF ONE A MINUTE

Count on Portsmouth-Portland Road Shows Enormous Traffic.

Automobile tourists come into Maine at the rate of over one every minute, according to a two hours' count made on the road between Portland and Portsmouth one Saturday afternoon recently.

The count was taken between 2.30 and 4.30 and was made by an automobile party bound to York Beach. During that time the party passed nearly 130 automobiles coming into Maine, bearing tags of states other than Maine a record of a little over one every minute. Practically all of these machines carried baggage and to every appearance were tourists bound into the state.

In addition 40 Maine automobiles were passed bound east and considerable over 100 automobiles of various states were counted going west.

The automobile tourist tide has now set in in earnest and it is expected that the next two or three weeks will see a constant stream of machines pouring in over the Portsmouth and Portland road. While this highway is handling the greater part of the traffic large numbers are also coming through the Fryeburg and Bethel gateways.

GOLDSMITH CAMP BURNED

Fair Young Angler Gets Three Record Fish—Little Miss Has a Happy Birthday

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Upper Dam, July 31.—The last day of July is a perfect one and it has been bright for little ones who are the sunshine of the place and come first. This is the eighth birthday of Suzanne, the sweet little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James W. Wister of Philadelphia and at 4 o'clock p. m. a party was given in her honor at their cottage. Nine children were present; Suzanne and her little brother Daniel Wister, Augusta and sister Julianne Miner, Malcolm Grant, George Miner, Dorothy, Lawrence and baby Mildred Cha-wick. The little hostess and her mother were dressed in yellow and white. First games were played on the lawn, then all were invited into the camp where there was for the children a long table beautifully decorated with yellow and white with a birthday cake, lighted candles and playroom favors, bouquets of butter-cups and daisies all about the camp. The little folks were seated and the ladies from the hotel were invited to share the ice cream, cake, candies and orangeade. As a party with fishing left out at Upper Dam would not be complete they all fished from the "pool" and pretty little toys caught on their hook. Sitting on the steps the children had their picture taken and at 5 o'clock all offering congratulations for Miss Suzanne who received many pretty gifts, the party ended and may these little ones for many years to come on July 31 gather here to meet and spend a happy birthday with this little Philadelphia girl whom everyone loves.

Clarence R. Young of New York, who was here for a spring fishing trip, accompanied by Mrs. Young, came Saturday for a short stay.

Joseph Naughton of Richmond Hill, L. I., N. Y., and wife and son, Joseph, Jr., who have been spending a few days here are now at Vive Val Camp on the Narrows with Joe Morris, guide.

Last Sunday morning just before sunrise a smoke was discovered in the boat house at Moses Goldsmith's camp and several from the nearby places arrived too late to save the 10,000 dollar steamboat and the contents of the boat house. Mr. Goldsmith, who was in New York at the time arrived this week, and we understand there was no insurance, but it is very fortunate that the camp which is beautifully furnished, was not burned. The family is expected in a few days for a stay of several weeks.

The true angler is glad that this famous old pool is closed to fly fishing only, for although all know there are many big trout and salmon hiding in the pool. It takes much skill and time to catch one, and day after day there will be from two or three to eight or ten sending their fly over the water, but fish as many as may, and as long as they will, there is no fear of the fish all being caught, and only now and then is one killed, for all know a fish if caught on the fly can be returned, unharmed to the water.

During the last ten days but eight record fish have been caught and three of these by a fair young angler, Miss Beatrice E. Fair of East Orange, N. J., who with Ernest Grant their guide, greatly enjoys sitting in the row boat there in the pool and gracefully sending her fly over the water. Miss Fair uses a light rod and small fly and all are congratulating her on bringing to net a trio of salmon which weighed 4 pounds, 3 pounds 7 ounces and 4 pounds 4 ounces.

Tom W. Miner who has returned to New York for a business trip and will return for his family the first of September, was successful in catching a nice pair of salmon, one 3 pounds, the other 4 pounds 9 ounces.

S. H. Palmer of Milford, Penn., records another salmon 3 pounds 1 ounce. John S. Doane of Boston one the same size.

E. I. Atlee of Germantown, Penn., today landed his first salmon, 3 pounds 4 ounces.

Saturday on the noon boat a party of five from Germantown, Penn., who for several summers have been very popular guests arrived. They were Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Gremmey, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Atlee and daughter, Miss Margaret Atlee. When they reached the dock judge their surprise to find in waiting the "jigger", which was decorated with wild flowers, flags, etc., and old Kit, the horse, with a large, fancy blanket. The coachman, Orin Dyke, and the reception committee, Dr. Wister, E. F. Van Dusen, Tom Miner and Geo. Miner in fantastic costume, were better than any circus and made a lasting impression as they escorted the party, and when they reached the end of the gate house some 40 of the guests were waiting and joined the procession, amid cheers of welcome and proceeded to the hotel, stopping at the "only store in town," then calling on Chef Hendle and giving cheers, they then disbanded for dinner. The party much appreciated the hearty welcome and attention received and will for weeks to come be of this "big and happy Dam family."

Later all welcomed Mrs. Geo. F. Brown and her friend, Mrs. F. W. Reeder also of Germantown, Penn. Mrs. Reeder comes for the first season and is greatly charmed with the place and fascinated with fly fishing which is a new art to her. Dr. Gremmey invited Mrs. Reeder to go out in the pool and for the first time she cast the fly and hooked a salmon that decided to make a run up to the dam and a few leaps out of the water, but the lady kept a watch of the silver beauty which was netted after a good fight, and if he had weighed but two ounces more the name of another lady would now be on the record book.

Judge Geo. S. Tennant and family of Jersey City are spending two months in Boston Club camp. Otis Mason is their guide.

The flag is again flying at Camp Bellevue as Dr. Norton Downs and party of Philadelphia have arrived for an extended stay. The Doctor is accompanied by three children. Mrs. Downs, who is in Europe will join the family in September. The Doctor's brother and family, Dr. Robert Downs and their father, Dr. R. N. Roberts, make up the party and may the days bring to them health and happiness while at their beautiful summer camp here in Maine.

One afternoon this week as George Thomas, the guide, with a picnic party were returning from Sandy Cove, they noticed inside the wire fence put up to keep the deer from eating the "garden sass", a little fawn. It was a handsome creature, covered with white spots and George caught him and brought him in his arms down to the hotel for all to see, and the children all gathered around and had a picture taken. Then they put the little deer on the lawn and watched it for some time before it went back of the camps and no doubt was met by its anxious mother.

Easily Gauged.

Johnny was sent to the cellar to draw a pitcher of cider. When he got back the guest commended him. "You must have good judgment to have filled the pitcher so accurately in the dark without running it over." "Aw, that ain't hard," replied Johnny. "Yer see, when the cider got up to the first joint of my thumb I stopped."

Somewhat Risque.

"Twobble prides himself on calling a spade a spade." "Quite so, but what makes his conversation offensive is the fact that he doesn't confine himself to spades."

OLD TRAP-SHOOTERS MET AT BRUNSWICK

A large number of local trap-shooters attended a reunion of the "old-guard" of Maine trap-shooters at Brunswick, July 29. About 40 were present and took part in a team shoot consisting of two fifteen-bird matches, regular fire, and a special twenty-bird match under the old rule that the shooter must have his gun under his arm when the bird was released.

The shoot was held at the Brunswick Country Club. One team, the "Tramps" was captained by J. D. Libby of Gardiner, the other team, the "Terrors" was captained by George Thompson of Bath. The Tramps won the shoot by a score of 739 to 678.

A feature of the meet was the shooting of E. G. Peterson of Portland who is over 80 years old. The high guns were E. J. Hodgsdon of Lewiston who had perfect scores in both 15-bird matches and a fifteen score in the 20-bird match for a total of 45, and Parker Read of Portland who had two 13 scores and made 19 in the 20-bird match for the same total. Following the shoot the Tramps had dinner at New Meadows Inn at the expense of the Terrors.

The local men at the shoot and the scores which they made follow: Tramps, George Cobb, Auburn, 41; Horace Day, Auburn, 33; G. M. Collins, Auburn, 33; Ernest Clason, Lisbon Falls, 26; Terrors—G. R. Hunnewell, Auburn, 37; W. Day, Auburn, 42; C. E. Conner, Auburn, 23; John McMurray, Auburn, 16.

There were many shooters present from Augusta, Gardiner, Richmond and Bath.

FISH AND GAME MATTERS.

"Maine sportsmen are indignant over the new federal law respecting the shooting of woodcock. The old law allowed shooting to begin the 15th of September; the new federal law says that shooting shall not begin before the 1st of October. Our native woodcock start to migrate the 25th of September, practically every native bird that is that has been protected and raised in Oxford county is off and away for the South by the 1st of October. The season begins in Massachusetts a few days after this. This means none of the birds raised here can be shot here but can be shot in Massachusetts on their migration flight."

After reading the above, Chairman Wilson of the Fish and Game Commission said that there was a good deal of truth in the paragraph on the side of the sportsman and it is probable that the commission will take up the matter with our delegation in Congress with a view to having the necessary changes made in the laws. "Sportsmen think an additional man should be employed through August close time on black ducks to prevent the poachers breaking up the flocks and killing the birds during that month."

The above clipping also brought the statement that the commission would undoubtedly be willing to provide such a man if requested, just as they have heretofore and propose to do at certain times of the year, where needed.

Not a Pleasant Occupation.

A citizen who believes that a certain thing should be done called at the Globe office and said, "You can scold the people into doing it." But we do not wish to become a common scold. People are becoming tired of hearing others tell them what they should do.—Atchison Globe.

To Get Rid of Ants.

Sprinkle the place infested with red pepper or powdered borax or paint with a pure solution of carbolic acid. Follow the trail of the ants to the place of entrance and use the preventive freely.

JORGENSEN WINS HANDSOME PRIZE

A back copy of the Ashland Gazette has the following: F. E. Jorgensen of Haywood, chief warden for northern Aroostook is the proud possessor of a handsome trophy which he secured at the annual meet of the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association held at Mountain View House, Rangeley Lakes, July 2, 3 and 4.

The prize is a beautiful solid silver cup bearing the following engraved words:
Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association Mountain View, Me.
1914

Open-to-all-Match
Presented by William Tell Club won by

This cup was won by Mr. Jorgensen for the best score in the rapid fire rifle match open to all. A Mexican silhouette target at a distance of 150 yards was used, rising from the ground, remaining in sight 20 seconds, and then disappearing. Any rifle, ammunition, and sight except glass, was permissible. Mr. Jorgensen used a new Remington 30 slide action rifle and U M C Remington cartridges, and says that it is the best rifle he ever used. In the regular contest he tied another contestant on a score of 26 out of a possible 30 making the record in 16 seconds, and later in shooting off the tie Mr. Jorgensen scored five straight bull's eyes, making a perfect score against the other's 27.

There were other evidences of excellent skill in shooting at this meet. One in which our Haywood friend and 19 other wardens and guides took part, was the shooting at the silhouette of a running deer. Each one of the twenty gunners hit the deer with all five shots, one man hitting the heart five times.

A WEDDING IN THE MAINE WOODS

Smyrna Mills, July 20—There is a vast difference between Vera Cruz and the Maine woods in scenery, climate and customs, yet none would cavil at the choice of wedding surroundings made by Edward T. Murray, Mechanic's mate on the battleship Nebraska, just returned from Mexico and Miss Harriet Elizabeth Bemis of Madbury, N. H. This young couple consummated a childhood friendship and a ripening affection and courtship by being married in a log house in the midst of the Maine forest at noon, Saturday. The place was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton R. Palmer, caretakers of the camps of the Dean Lumber Co. at Hillman.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. J. Clifford of Smyrna Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Marsh, life-long friends of the bride and groom, were the attendants. The bride was very attractively gowned in white and the conventional wedding garb seemed strange, yet beautiful, against the background of log walls, covered by all the usual wall ornament—rifles, deer heads, wood trophies of a Maine lumber camp.

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served—in camp style—with the usual tin plates and mugs, all the woodsy flavor of the occasion preserved. During the afternoon there was a rifle match between the Maine woods as represented by the best man—the navy—and the clergy, as should be upon such an occasion the clergy won. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon in the Maine woods, returning after a few weeks' stay to their home in Madbury, N. H.—A special in Bangor Daily News.

LARGE GROUP OF PHILADELPHIANS

Social Life Unusually Brilliant at this Popular Resort.

(Special to Maine Woods.)
Kineo, Moosehead Lake, Me., Aug. 1.—With interest in the outdoor life at its height and unusual activity in social functions, especially modern dancing, the midsummer period has arrived at this beautiful Northern resort.

Unparalleled interest has been manifested in golf. The amateur record for 18 holes on the Kineo links was broken by Mr. George E. Marcus of New York who won low medal cup for best gross score in a competition, twenty-five participating. Mr. A. S. Elliott of Wilmington captured low net prizes. The final in a match play handicap, thirty contesting, furnished the most thrilling struggle ever witnessed on the course, Roert Nye of Springfield, Mass., and Col. L. W. Stotesbury of New York being tied at the end of 18 holes. For two more rounds they came in all even, 72 holes being required to complete the match, Mr. Nye eventually winning.

Among 30 in sharp competition in the season's continuous score contest on the Hillside range, Mrs. John Reilly, Jr., of New York has taken high position among the ladies. Mrs. Harvey J. Genung of Madison, N. J., leads all the sharpshooters with Dr. Ellice McDonald of New York a close second.

The Tallulah, belonging to vice Commodore C. A. Conklin of Atlanta won the weekly motor boat race, Commodore Arthur B. Waring's lone-eta just nosing out Charles Martin Clark's Kin-nah-beh for second honor.

Social life is unusually brilliant at Kineo this summer. Afternoon dancing is a feature at the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club, and the large ball room of the Mt. Kineo presents a gay spectacle each evening. Among the younger set dancing are Miss Clarice Patterson, Miss Elizabeth Osborn, Miss Katherine Clark. Mrs. Myra D. Patterson, Miss Schulte, Miss Antionette Schulte, Miss Lucille Schulte, Miss E. S. Corby of New York, Mrs. H. J. Lamar Washington, of Summit, N. J.; Messrs. Paul Feuchtwanger, Madison, N. J., John C. A merry group of young girls were dinner guests at the Mt. Kineo of Miss Helen, daughter of Col. L. W. Stotesbury, Miss Keyo Tetsuka, Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Helen Halsey, making the party. A pool of live fish was among the unique table decorations.

Mr. C. H. Pfeiffer of New York is starting on a 250 mile canoe trip through the woods, the journey to occupy a month.

Mr. J. L. Murphy, well known actor, who has played Kerry Gow, for thirty-three years, and Mrs. Murphy are enjoying Kineo delights. Mrs. Murphy gave pleasure to the sojourners here with a program of readings Friday evening.

FLY ROD'S NOTE BOOK

By Fly Rod

I took a day off this week and wish I could find words to tell how much it brought to me, which like all pleasant memories, will last.

It was Wednesday, and I was coming out from dinner at the Rangeley Lake House, when my friend of many years, Mrs. Daniel P. Hays of New York and daughter greeted me and asked, "When are you to keep the promise made last year to spend a day with us at Camp Ray?" (As there is no time like the present I quickly answered, "I'll come tomorrow if you wish." And the hearty "We shall be delighted and will meet you with our boat at Oakes' wharf."

I left Rangeley on the 8 o'clock steamer the next morning and Chas. Hamlin, the obliging captain, kindly left me for my waiting friends in the boat, two charming New York girls, Miss Bessie Hays, who has just come from her class reunion at Wellesley College and sister, Miss Mabel, who gave classical readings with Miss Ida Benfy Judd last winter when not busy with her Settlement work in New York.

The girls can handle the oars most skilfully and we were soon at the wharf in front of Camp Ray on the lake shore a short distance above Oakes'. Mrs. Hays made me most welcome for is there not "heart room where there is hearth room?"

Last year Mr. Hays, who is a lawyer and for twenty years has been a guest at Mountain View, purchased this lot of land and built a most attractive but unconventional camp, where the family come to spend the summer in the open.

Mrs. Hays who is a real lover of home life, has taught her daughters the art of cooking a good dinner, of which, they gave me proof.

Perhaps there is no one around these lakes who better loves and has a closer friendship with nature in all moods than this family.

I regretted that Mr. Hays was not at home, but a letter from him written at Kennebago the day before told of the good fishing and that he had seen sixteen deer in their forest home.

Mrs. J. J. Corn and children have come from New York to spend the summer near her parents, and letters from part of the family in Europe tell of their coming later.

A large flag that was unfurled July 4, in honor of the son's birthday, Edward D. Hays, can be plainly seen floating in the breeze above the trees.

In August Camp Ray will be a merry place, as a house party of young folks from New York have been invited.

The hours passed far too quickly when the whistle of the afternoon boat called me, and I had to say good bye. Many happy days to all my cheerful friends at Camp Ray.

Spirit of Independence.

"The spirit of American Independence is growing stronger every year." "Mebbe 'tis," assented Uncle Flosole. "Mebbe 'tis. When I was a young feller they had a man to call the figgers at a dance. An' you bet we tried to mind him. Now everybody gets out on the floor an' lets his feet do jes' about as they please."

Almost Too Much.
"Yes," sighed the opera manager, "we had a pretty rough season every way. But what took the sand out of me was the row between De Recker, the leading tenor, and De Squalchi, the prima donna. You know what an awkward stage presence De Recker has? Well, he stepped on Squalchi's train 13 times during one performance, and the next night she came on as Marguerite in bloomers. That came mighty near breaking us."—Puck.

Old-Fashioned Ideas.
Of course, there were, and still are in isolated localities, persons who cling to the bad roads of their grandfathers, and resist any attempt to make improvements. These are those who also regret the passing of the spinning wheel, and the domestic weaving loom, with which the women used to make the cloth for clothing the family.

It is wilful waste of money to spend it upon roads that are not given proper drainage.

Don't endure the needless pain and torment of rheumatism, aggravated as it is by the hot weather. W. T. Hutchens, Nicholson, Ga., says:—"I suffered the aches and pains of rheumatism, swollen feet, irregular painful bladder action, but Foley Kidney Pills fixed me up quickly." Foley's are the best.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

FARMINGTON NORMAL SCHOOL.

The oldest Normal school in Maine will celebrate its semi-centennial Monday, August 24. Fifty years ago that exact date the first class of the new Normal school assembled in Beal's hall, Farmington, to begin its work, Amrose F. Kelsey, principal. The new Normal school building on the site of old Farmington Academy was not ready for occupancy, hence the use of Beal's hall. The first class graduated in 1865, thirteen in number, and so far as is known all its members are now living and many of them will be at the anniversary gathering.

The school has sent out almost two thousand graduates. It is hoped that hundreds of graduates, former pupils, teachers and friends of the school will return August 24 to renew old associations and assist in the observance of the day.

A feature of the occasion will be the presentation by the alumni of a bronze bas-relief of the late George C. Purington, for twenty-six years the efficient principal of the school.

It is expected, too, that the new dormitory which is the latest addition to the material equipment of the school plant will be dedicated at that time.

HEALY-WYMAN

John Healy and Miss Lelia Wyman were married Friday evening, July 4, in the Bethany Baptist church, by the pastor, Rev. George Merriam, the double ring service being used. It was a pleasant surprise to their relatives and friends. The bride is a native of Franklin county and is a graduate of Strong High school, graduating with highest honors. She is also a graduate of Gorham Normal school, graduating in 1911. Since then her home has been in Skowhegan where she has been principal of the Western Grammar school, she has made a successful and popular teacher, winning respect of both pupil and parent. She is the daughter of Mrs. Clara Wyman.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Lizzie Healy, the oldest woman teacher in Somerset county, and grandson of the late John Western. He is a graduate of Skowhegan High school, a very prominent member of the I. O. O. F. and is second Lieutenant of Co. E. N. G. S. M. at a recent examination received the highest rank awarded by the National Guard in years.

Desperate Wish.
"Militant suffragettes have been destroying pictures!" "I wish one would happen around our flat before I'm called to climb a stepladder and take charge of the mural decorations."

A SUSTAINING DIET

These are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained, and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic, say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to beat the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

WEAR ON THE TIRES

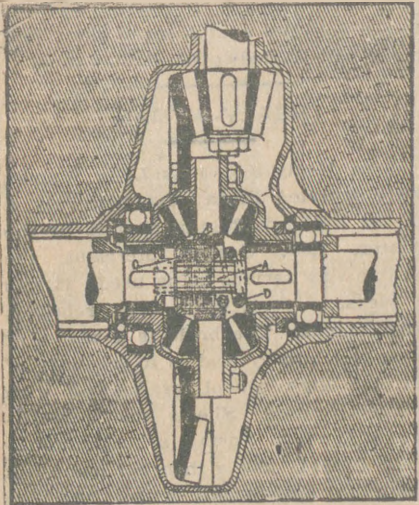

Just What the Differential Gear May Mean to the Owner of a Machine.

POINT TO BE REMEMBERED

Ingenious Arrangement Shown Here by Which Difficulties May Be Done Away With and Practical Application of the Device Made.

It is little realized what a sinner the differential gear really is. It is indirectly responsible for considerable wear of tires, and has probably been the cause of many accidents, the first on account of allowing one wheel to revolve freely when this is not required, and the second because it encourages skidding.

These faults of the differential gear are not as well understood as they should be, and it is well to point out that all the differential gear should do is to allow one wheel to travel slower than another when turning. At other times the wheels should always revolve at the same speed, even when one wheel gets a good grip of the road and the other is either on a greasy surface or has bounced clear of the road. Unfortunately, in consequence of the differential gear, directly the grip between the two back wheels on the road varies, the rate of revolution of the wheels changes and one wheel will slip, causing wear of the tire and loss of power, and if the spinning wheel be on a slippery road surface the car is encouraged to side-slip, either when power is applied to the wheels from the engine or when the brakes are brought into operation.

In the Autocar an ingenious arrangement is shown for limiting the freedom of the differential gear, and is illustrated here. The differential gear is just the same as usual, but the right-hand axle-shaft is provided with a splined extension A and the left-hand axle-shaft carries an internally splined shell or sleeve B. Between A and B lie plates C, backed up by a spring D, forming a plate clutch. This clutch tends to cause the two axle-shafts to rotate solid with one another, and it is only during turning of the car that this clutch is compelled to slip and allow the differential gear to operate in the usual way. The construction is practically that of a stiff differential gear. The arrangement has recently been patented by a Mr. W. Romeiser, and is interesting as showing that at last attention is being centered upon the defects of the differential.

Motorist to Patrol Streets.

Under a plan evolved by the Milwaukee public safety commission, a voluntary organization of citizens to aid in the prevention of all kinds of accidents, street traffic and particularly motor car traffic will be much improved in Milwaukee this year. One hundred motorists who have been proved law-abiding and careful drivers will be selected to do patrol duty. Each member of the special committee will carry an insignia on his car in the form of a disk containing the letters "T. P.," which stand for "Traffic Protection." They will be expected to report violations of the law to the police department which will take such action as the circumstances warrant. The insignia will be placed on the radiator cap and another on the rear license plate of the cars driven by members of the patrol squad.

Best Place for Gasoline Tank.

Explaining the placing of gasoline tanks in the rear of cars, J. W. Moon gives as the principal reason the saving in wear on the rear tires. A series of experiments conducted in conjunction with one of the tire manufacturers, he says, has showed that the slippage of the rear wheels was decreased 65 per cent, by placing the gasoline tank in the rear.

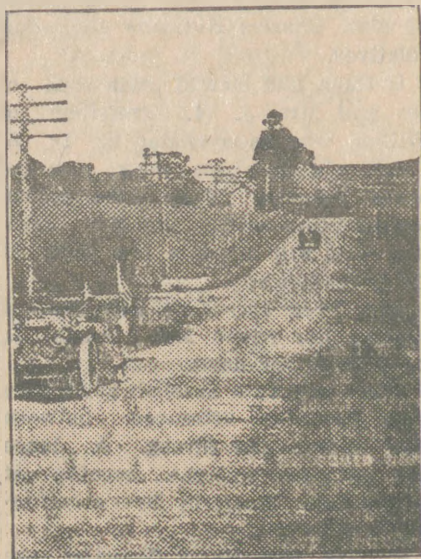

FOR BETTER ROADS

STUDY OF ROAD CONDITIONS

Department of Agriculture Endeavoring to Discover Points of Excellence in Road Maintenance.

Detailed studies of local road building systems in 100 counties are now being carried on by the agricultural department in co-operation with the state highway departments and local road authorities.

The purpose of this study is to discover the points of excellence and defects in existing local methods of building and maintaining roads which will aid the state authorities to put local road management on a systematized basis. The co-operating state authorities have been asked to designate counties that present typical and exceptional features as to topography, character of road materials, methods of construction and maintenance, administrative organization, methods of road financing, and traffic conditions. From these lists 100 counties will be selected, and in these counties the division of road economics will make intensive studies.

This investigation is prompted by the fact that there is at present very little knowledge as to the most effective and economical methods by which a county can develop its roads. At present the methods of financing local road improvements vary from calling on farmers for a certain number of days' labor in lieu of a road tax, or the use of county prisoners in road construction, to bond issues or maintenance of roads from dramshop license funds.

The department will study all of these systems with the view to determining what system or combination of systems works best in actual practice.

There is, moreover, at present no standard system of keeping accounts for road building and maintenance, and as a result, while some counties know to a penny the purpose for which money was spent, others have no definite check or reporting system. Among various counties with the same conditions cost for excavation or other labor is anything but uniform, and many counties, because of the absence of definite knowledge, fail to use local and cheap materials, and construct roads which are unnecessarily expensive for their purpose, or which will wear out before the bond issues are redeemed. The investigation will include a careful study of the use of convict labor in road construction.

In connection with the scientific study the department's highway engineers will advise freely with local officials as to improvements, and thus give each county visited the advantage of direct co-operation, engineering supervision, and assistance.

These investigations, it is believed, will yield important economic data bearing especially on the benefits and burdens of road improvement and showing the extent to which financial outlay under given typical conditions is justifiable.

The heads of state highway departments are manifesting great interest and are co-operating cordially in this work. These data when obtained will be published and thus made accessible to all county and state road officials.

Not Contagious.

Good road building in the country does not seem to be contagious, more's the pity.

WAYS OF A BAD ROAD THIEF

Forces Farmer to Haul Small Loads, Drive Slowly and Occasional Many Expensive Delays.

The bad road thief forces you to haul small loads, drive slowly, wrench and twist the life out of your horse, harness and vehicle, often breaking and damaging the latter until great and expensive delays are occasioned. It also steals your opportunity to dispose of your farm when you wish to sell, for no man will pay as much for a farm bordered by a poor road system as he will for one with a well-kept highway, and some will not buy a farm at all when the road system is poor. The loss of time and money where the above named conditions exist makes it imperative that you open all the drain ditches along the road, and drag this silent, notorious thief to death with the King road drag.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Piles Constipation Causes Sickness. Don't permit yourself to become constipated, as your system immediately begins to absorb poison from the backed up waste matter. To Cure a Cold.

Coughs and Colds—An ordinary cold can often be checked in the first stages by inducing a good perspiration. A glass of very hot milk drunk after you are in bed, or the juice of a lemon added to a tumbler of boiling water, will often accomplish this. A hot bath to which a little ammonia has been added is another method.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Skin Eruptions

FIRE PROTECTION FOR TEMPLE

The town of Temple desires water for fire protection and for domestic purposes, and the water department of the Farmington Village Corporation, whose new pipe line now is in process of construction, runs within 4300 feet of that village. The water department has offered to make a contract with the town of Temple for a term of years, to supply seven hydrants at a rental of $210 per year and there seems no question that the offer will be accepted and a contract closed at once.

METHODS OF LUBRICATION

MODERN AUTOMOBILE SPRING BOLT

DOUBLE SPRING SCHEME FOR MOTOR CARS

Nothing is more essential to the life and good running qualities of a motor car than good lubricating devices, and furthermore when a car is well lubricated there is much more comfort to the occupants and much less liability to trouble of one sort or another on the road.

Much has been said and written about the necessity of keeping some form of lubricant between the leaves of the springs in order to make the car ride nicely because of the further ability of the springs to have such movement as was designed for them. The spring bolts are frequently overlooked in the matter of proper lubrication; at best a little oil is squirted on, only to run to the floor or be smeared on the outside, to pick up and retain all the dust that comes along.

There is really no need for using ordinary oil on spring bolts, because it will seldom find its way to the proper spot and is pretty apt to drip away without doing much good. Heavy grease works better, lasts longer, and when forced in through a spring bolt tends to drive out the dirt rather than permit it to find its way to the wearing parts.

Not all cars have spring bolts that are made with a hole to carry the grease from a grease cup screwed into the end of the bolt, and where a plain bolt is used there is nothing to do but adhere to the old method of squirting oil in the spaces that show, and trust to luck that it will find its way to the wearing parts. The modern spring bolt has a hole drilled through the center and in the middle is another hole drilled to intersect the lengthwise hole. Then in the nut end of the bolt is a combination grease cup which when filled with grease and screwed down will force the lubricant into the passageways and directly between the bolt and the spring holes. This grease will work its way around so that every part is lubricated. There is necessity of using only a little grease now and then, for the heavy article will not run away as will oil.

The other end of the bolt is threaded for the nut, and a hole is drilled for a cotter pin. As a rule, these bolts are accurately ground for a particular size and are hardened.
