

Wassill Feodor, with his little troop, had crushed the first assailants who had presented themselves at the Bolshaya gate with the expectation of finding it open.

At the same time that the Tartars were driven back the besieged had rendered themselves masters of the fire. Before daybreak the troops of Feofar Khan had returned to their encampment and were a number of dead

Among the dead was the gypsy Sangaerre, who had tried in vain to rejoin Ivan Ogareff.

For two days the besiegers attempted no new assault. They were discouraged by the death of Ivan Ogareff. That man was the soul of the invasion.

and he alone, by his long continued plots, had sufficient influence over the khans and their hordes to be able to lead them to the conquest of Asiatic Russia.

Meanwhile the defenders of Irkutsk had held themselves on their guard, and the investment continued, but on Journey to Europe. That road of rows was only one of happiness their return. They traveled very rapidly with one of those trains which like an express over the frozen step of Siberia.

Meanwhile, arrived at the banks the Dinka, just opposite Briskoe, to the 7th of October on the first streaks of day the boom of cannon resounded on the heights around Ikrutsk. It was the relieving army which had arrived under the orders of General Kissely, who thus signalled his presence to the grand duke.

The Tartars did not stay any longer. They did not wish to risk a battle under the walls of Irkutsk. The camp of the Angara was immediately raised. Irkutsk was at last delivered.

With the first Russian soldiers two friends of Michael Strogoff had entered the town. They were the inseparable Blount and Jolivet. By gaining the right bank of the Angara along the barrier of ice they and the other fugitives had been able to escape before the flames of the Angara had reached the raft. This had been put down by Alcide Jolivet in his notebooks and in this manner, "Was near ending like a lemon in a bowl of punch?"

Their joy was great to once more find Nadia and Michael Strogoff safe and sound, especially when they learned that their brave companion was not blind, a statement which led Harry Bond to jot down this observation: "A redhot iron is perhaps insufficient to destroy the sensibility of the optic nerve. To be modified."

Afterward the two correspondents, Bond and Lebedev, communicated their findings to the Russian

Well installed in darkness, set out themselves in putting in order the impressions of their journey. From thence two interesting chronicles of the Tartar invasion were sent to London and Paris, which, strange to say, only contradicted each other on points of less moment.

For the rest the campaign was bad for the emir and his allies. That invasion, useless, as are all those that attack colossal Russia, was most fatal to them. They soon found themselves cut off by the troops of the czar, who retook successively all the conquered towns. Besides, the winter was terrible, and of those horrors, decimated by the snows and the cold.

The cold, only a slight discomfort to them as they went to the steppes of Tartary. The route from Irkutsk to the Ural mountains was free.

The grand duke was in haste to return to Moscow, but he delayed his journey in order to assist at a touching ceremony which took place some days after the entry of the Russian troops.

Michael Strogoff had sought out Nadia and in the presence of her father had said to her, "Nadia, my sister still, when you left Kiga to come to Irkutsk had you no other regret but that of leaving behind you your mother?"

"No," replied Nadia; "none whatever."

"But, what part of your heart has man, and such a nice old gentleman, and a governor of a great state kisses one so quick that one has time to see and no time to object, what can one do?"

The following dialogue on the subject between Mme. Gerster and a porter who had interviewed her afterward published:

"Ah," said Nadia as she fell into the arms of Michael Strogoff, and, turning toward Wassili Feodor, "My father," she said, blushing deeply.

"Nadia," said Wassili Feodor, "my joy will be to call you both my children."

The marriage ceremony took place in the cathedral of Irkutsk. It was very mediæval, but very fuss.

Modest Reporter (Interrogative). You don't?

Mme. Gerster—Certainly not. There is nothing wrong in a man kissing woman old enough to be his mother.

Argonaut.

A Mediæval Psychologist.

simple in its preparations, but very beautiful in the concourse of the military and civil population, which thus wished to show its gratitude to the young couple, whose strange journey had now become legendary.

Aleide Jolivet and Harry Blount of course assisted at the marriage, of

Stop the Blight

It is a sad thing to see the fruit trees spoiled by the blight. You can always tell them from the rest. They never do well afterwards but stay small and sickly.

It is worse to see a blight strike children. Good health is the natural right of children. But some of them don't get that right. While the rest grow big and strong one stays small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion can stop that blight. There is no reason why such a child should stay small. Scott's Emulsion is a medicine with lots of strength in it—the kind of strength that makes things grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes children grow, makes them eat, makes them sleep, makes them play. Give the weak child a chance. Scott's Emulsion will make it catch up.

SCOTT & BOWNE,
NEW YORK

409 Pearl St., New York.
50c and $1. all druggists.

The Oxford Democrat.

SOUTH PARIS.

Office Hours: 9:30 to 1:30 A. M.; 2:30 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Commencing November 1, 1901, trains 12:00 to 1:30 P. M. (daily, Sunday included), 2:30 A. M., 4:44 P. M. (daily, Sunday included), 5:30 A. M., 8:00 P. M. (daily, Sunday included). Sunday only, 9:30 A. M.

CHURCHES.

First Congregational Church, Rev. W. E. Brooks, D. D., pastor. Preaching services, 10:30 A. M., 7:30 P. M. Sunday School, 12:15 to 1:15 P. M. Church prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All, not otherwise mentioned, are cordially invited.

Methodist Church, Rev. A. W. F. Pottle, pastor. Preaching services, 10:30 A. M., 7:30 P. M. Sunday School, 12:15 to 1:15 P. M. Church prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All, not otherwise mentioned, are cordially invited.

Miss Glover, who has been holding special gospel services in the Biscoe neighborhood, will preach at the Methodist church this Monday evening.

The boys played a second game of ice polo with the Norway team Saturday afternoon, with better results than before. Score 2 to 0 in favor of South Paris, "in spite of Collier."

The Good Cheer Society have decided not to hold any supper in February but in February 25 the Magnolia Minstrel will appear in New Hall and give a first class entertainment.

All those who are to take part or have anything to do with the Magnolia Minstrel are requested to meet at the high school room, Tuesday evening of this week for rehearsal.

The pupils of Miss Eva Walker's school on Pleasant Street observed McKinley Day last Wednesday by recitation, song and drama. The school was in full attendance.

A. W. Walker & Son have finished filling their own ice houses and the one at the creamery during the past week. The ice, which is a second crop from the cove by the Park Street bridge, is perfect in quality.

Advertised letters in South Paris post office Feb. 3:

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Pottle went to Bowdoinham last Monday, returning Tuesday afternoon.

Douglas Farrar and wife have gone to Dover, N. H., where he has employment in a shoe factory for a while.

When Knighthood was in flower in a new house in the public library, presented by Mrs. Geo. K. Morton.

All the members of the festival chorus are requested to be present at the rehearsal to-night to make full arrangements for the concert.

J. P. Richardson and wife, with Mr. Murray and Miss Staples of Portland, spent a few days last week at Camp Owsley, on Anonymous Pond in Harrison.

Mrs. L. B. Andrews and Miss Catherine Briggs expect to leave Tuesday morning on a two weeks' trip to New York and Boston. Here's hoping they'll have a nice time.

The fourth lecture in the People's Course at the Methodist church, Wednesday evening will be given by the Rev. Smith Baker, D. D., of Portland. Subject: "Use of Art."

J. Mellen Cummings makes the January statement of his business, showing a net profit of $28.27. He figures that $4.50 or more of this was profit.

Hon. John P. Sweeney of Canton is on a trip to Lexington, Mass., that is to be held at the March term of Supreme Judicial Court at South Paris.

It is understood that Superintendent of Schools Walter L. Gray will not be a re-election this year, and that he will be at the March term of Supreme Judicial Court at South Paris.

Ever so curious examination of the work being done fitting up for the new creamery shows that it is thoroughly done, and that the construction of the building is in accordance with the best of efficiency and permanency, but with an eye to looks as well. Everything used is of the best material, and put together in the best shape.

Senior Juan Escarra, who has been at Albert D. Park's for some more than a year, left Wednesday for New York. He may return to his home in Cuba later.

For the present will remain in New York. Coming here without any knowledge of English, he has acquired himself diligently, and has handled a good command of the language.

The members of the Junior League at the Methodist church served the supper given at the vestry Thursday evening, under the care of the superintendent, Mrs. Pottle. The young folks did credit to themselves, not only in serving the supper but in the interesting entertainment which followed; and in spite of a number of other attractions in town that evening, some more than ten dollars was realized.

The festival chorus, assisted by the Norway chorus, will give a concert at New Hall Friday evening, Feb. 10, at 8 o'clock. The first concert that the chorus has given, and it is hoped that the public will show their interest in this musical organization by giving them a crowded house. They have a fine program. Let announcement be given later. Let everyone attend. Admission 25 cents. Doors open at 7:30. Mrs. Geo. A. Briggs accompanist.

Principal Eaton of the high school was again confined to his room by illness Wednesday morning, and his physician pronounced him nearly in bed. He is unable to teach at present. Accordingly Superintendent Gray on Thursday engaged Harry M. Bates to finish out this week at the high school.

Rev. E. O. Thayer, D. D., of Portland, gave his lecture in the People's course at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Subject: "The Rules of Government." Dr. Thayer is an easy speaker, with a vivid style of description, and while he has no funny stories to tell, there is a certain humor running through his remarks which brightens them and increases their interest. He talked of London to the audience an hour and three-quarters, and probably few thought he had occupied more than an hour, so entertaining was he.

For the benefit of new subscribers, and to refresh the memory of all, the following are some of the rules governing the South Paris Public Library:

Unless the charge is renewed, no book may be kept under a penalty of one cent a day for each book each day it is kept.

No book shall be renewed, except to the same person, more than once, and the book returned to the library, and shall have been renewed for four weeks.

No book shall be transferred from one family to another, and no book shall be taken out of the library, except by the person to whom it was loaned, and shall be returned to the library, and shall have been renewed for four weeks.

The school committee of Paris held their final session for the municipal year on Tuesday, to prepare their annual report. It was decided to recommend—and the recommendation will be embodied in their report—that the brick school house at Bates College, and a new house of increased capacity built in its stead. It is a fact well known that increased accommodations for the schools near the high school, are badly needed. The attendance has been steadily increasing, and the limit of capacity, as far as desks and benches are concerned, was reached some time ago. The reasons given for tearing down instead of building on and remodeling, are that the house is only a brick veneer, more or less out of shape all the time, with a roof which frequently needs repair and now leaks, and that it is a difficult and expensive building to heat.

Mrs. Lucinda Tufts is quite ill.

Penley's Record has moved into C. F. Penley's house.

The Modern Woodmen have a meeting Tuesday evening of this week.

Mrs. Grace Robinson of Yarmouth has been at A. D. Park's for a few days, coming to attend her uncle's wedding.

What was the matter with Sunday for Candemans day? Believers in signs may rest assured that it is almost over.

Advertised letters in Paris post office Feb. 1st:

Mrs. M. L. Hammond.
Mrs. N. Bouisa (postal).

Paris Grange will give a sociable at Grange Hall on Wednesday evening of this week. Ice cream and cake will be on sale.

Mrs. S. C. Heald of East Summer has been here for a few days to visit her sister, Mrs. A. D. Park, and to attend her uncle's wedding.

Miss Glover, who has been holding special gospel services in the Biscoe neighborhood, will preach at the Methodist church this Monday evening.

The boys played a second game of ice polo with the Norway team Saturday afternoon, with better results than before. Score 2 to 0 in favor of South Paris, "in spite of Collier."

The Good Cheer Society have decided not to hold any supper in February but in February 25 the Magnolia Minstrel will appear in New Hall and give a first class entertainment.

All those who are to take part or have anything to do with the Magnolia Minstrel are requested to meet at the high school room, Tuesday evening of this week for rehearsal.

The pupils of Miss Eva Walker's school on Pleasant Street observed McKinley Day last Wednesday by recitation, song and drama. The school was in full attendance.

A. W. Walker & Son have finished filling their own ice houses and the one at the creamery during the past week. The ice, which is a second crop from the cove by the Park Street bridge, is perfect in quality.

Advertised letters in South Paris post office Feb. 3:

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Pottle went to Bowdoinham last Monday, returning Tuesday afternoon.

Douglas Farrar and wife have gone to Dover, N. H., where he has employment in a shoe factory for a while.

When Knighthood was in flower in a new house in the public library, presented by Mrs. Geo. K. Morton.

All the members of the festival chorus are requested to be present at the rehearsal to-night to make full arrangements for the concert.

J. P. Richardson and wife, with Mr. Murray and Miss Staples of Portland, spent a few days last week at Camp Owsley, on Anonymous Pond in Harrison.

Mrs. L. B. Andrews and Miss Catherine Briggs expect to leave Tuesday morning on a two weeks' trip to New York and Boston. Here's hoping they'll have a nice time.

The fourth lecture in the People's Course at the Methodist church, Wednesday evening will be given by the Rev. Smith Baker, D. D., of Portland. Subject: "Use of Art."

J. Mellen Cummings makes the January statement of his business, showing a net profit of $28.27. He figures that $4.50 or more of this was profit.

Hon. John P. Sweeney of Canton is on a trip to Lexington, Mass., that is to be held at the March term of Supreme Judicial Court at South Paris.

It is understood that Superintendent of Schools Walter L. Gray will not be a re-election this year, and that he will be at the March term of Supreme Judicial Court at South Paris.

Ever so curious examination of the work being done fitting up for the new creamery shows that it is thoroughly done, and that the construction of the building is in accordance with the best of efficiency and permanency, but with an eye to looks as well. Everything used is of the best material, and put together in the best shape.

Senior Juan Escarra, who has been at Albert D. Park's for some more than a year, left Wednesday for New York. He may return to his home in Cuba later.

For the present will remain in New York. Coming here without any knowledge of English, he has acquired himself diligently, and has handled a good command of the language.

The members of the Junior League at the Methodist church served the supper given at the vestry Thursday evening, under the care of the superintendent, Mrs. Pottle. The young folks did credit to themselves, not only in serving the supper but in the interesting entertainment which followed; and in spite of a number of other attractions in town that evening, some more than ten dollars was realized.

The festival chorus, assisted by the Norway chorus, will give a concert at New Hall Friday evening, Feb. 10, at 8 o'clock. The first concert that the chorus has given, and it is hoped that the public will show their interest in this musical organization by giving them a crowded house. They have a fine program. Let announcement be given later. Let everyone attend. Admission 25 cents. Doors open at 7:30. Mrs. Geo. A. Briggs accompanist.

Principal Eaton of the high school was again confined to his room by illness Wednesday morning, and his physician pronounced him nearly in bed. He is unable to teach at present. Accordingly Superintendent Gray on Thursday engaged Harry M. Bates to finish out this week at the high school.

Rev. E. O. Thayer, D. D., of Portland, gave his lecture in the People's course at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Subject: "The Rules of Government." Dr. Thayer is an easy speaker, with a vivid style of description, and while he has no funny stories to tell, there is a certain humor running through his remarks which brightens them and increases their interest. He talked of London to the audience an hour and three-quarters, and probably few thought he had occupied more than an hour, so entertaining was he.

For the benefit of new subscribers, and to refresh the memory of all, the following are some of the rules governing the South Paris Public Library:

Unless the charge is renewed, no book may be kept under a penalty of one cent a day for each book each day it is kept.

No book shall be renewed, except to the same person, more than once, and the book returned to the library, and shall have been renewed for four weeks.

No book shall be transferred from one family to another, and no book shall be taken out of the library, except by the person to whom it was loaned, and shall be returned to the library, and shall have been renewed for four weeks.

The school committee of Paris held their final session for the municipal year on Tuesday, to prepare their annual report. It was decided to recommend—and the recommendation will be embodied in their report—that the brick school house at Bates College, and a new house of increased capacity built in its stead. It is a fact well known that increased accommodations for the schools near the high school, are badly needed. The attendance has been steadily increasing, and the limit of capacity, as far as desks and benches are concerned, was reached some time ago. The reasons given for tearing down instead of building on and remodeling, are that the house is only a brick veneer, more or less out of shape all the time, with a roof which frequently needs repair and now leaks, and that it is a difficult and expensive building to heat.

MR. EBERMAN'S ADDRESS.

Rev. Clarence E. Eberman of Pennsylvania, field secretary of the United States Christian Endeavor, opened his week's tour in Maine at South Paris, Tuesday.

He arrived on the afternoon train, and at 4 o'clock his first meeting was opened at the Congregational vestry.

His talk, which he had already stated, a man of engaging personality, and combines with a wholesome and cheerful manner a great deal of earnestness.

The afternoon meeting, and various questions relating to the work were asked by those present and answered by Mr. Eberman in an easy, conversational way.

The evening services at the church were of more than usual interest. The music was inspiring, furnished by a mixed quartet consisting of Messrs. Briggs and Dunn, Mrs. T. S. Barnes and Miss Grace Thayer, and a solo by Miss Sue Wheeler.

The opening devotional service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Pottle; closing prayer by Rev. L. S. Ridenour of Norway, and the benediction by Mr. Mr. Newport of Oxford.

Mr. Eberman in his address said in part: There are two notes which I would sound clearly and strongly and if it were possible, I would have them so reinforced with every step and pipe of the organ that they should echo from valley to hill top, from mountain to plain till the whole earth should hear and rejoice. These notes are, Hopefulness and Courage.

From here an hour when there were so great reasons for hope as now, the ground for its existence so manifest.

The sense of personal responsibility was not meaning and force in the church to-day. It is urging to increased and unremitting effort, freighted with a hope that is fast being transformed into full assurance.

We are not engaged in a doubtful or dying cause, doomed to defeat. No, a thousand times, no! God stands behind it. It is God's work, and is pledged to its final and complete triumph. What more can we ask?

This should inspire courage, while the best work demands it. God has no use for discouraged people or cowards. He calls for men of courage, purpose, who hearts know no fear, whose supreme confidence is in God.

From no direction does there come a more significant stimulus to courage than from the organizations of the young people for Christian service.

The magnitude of this movement is stupendous, and still extending. In a trifle less than twenty years, it has grown from a few and expanded into millions, and has bettered the world.

Take the Christian Endeavor Society, organized in Portland of your own state, on February 2, 1881, now numbering over 3,500,000, to which, if there be added the membership of similar organizations, we have an aggregation of young men and women such as the world has never seen.

There are three things resulting from this movement that are worthy of special emphasis:

1. The church has come to realize the presence and the value of the young people as a force to be employed at home, and more than this, as an institution for them to love, work for and support in all their manifold efforts to reach and save the world.

2. The young people have come to realize the church as a home, and more than this, as an institution for them to love, work for and support in all their manifold efforts to reach and save the world.

3. Then there has arisen a clearer conviction that God prizes living workers and not simply breathing corpses.

This is the message bringing you, young people of South Paris. Be hopeful, full of hope. The reasons for this are over-helming to those who have eyes to see. Be courageous. Let loving and devoted service swallow up and vanish doubt. Consecrated service is a sure antidote for all the evils of the world.

Be in the fight to save man. You are called to great possibilities. Make them yours by seeking to be and become all that God wants you to be, more than the meanness to aid you in his becoming.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the residence of A. D. Park last Saturday evening, Feb. 1, at six o'clock, when Mrs. Park's brother, Lester E. Robinson, was united in marriage with Mrs. Estelle Robinson.

Rev. E. Pierce performed the ceremony, the ring service being used. The bride was attired in a light dove-colored dress with white lace and wore pink shoes.

The groom wore the regulation suit of black. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the wedding. The wedding was a quiet affair.

The wedding was held from seven until nine, which was attended by a number of Mrs. Park's and Mrs. Robinson's relatives and friends. Mrs. Robinson received the guests in the front parlor, and it was a very informal and social affair.

The street railway kept its regular schedule, and the snow was not melting. The roads are running on schedule. Some of the roads are passable, but it will be some days, even if we do not have a high wind, before it is anything like good sleighing.

A fire alarm Sunday evening called out the department, but fortunately, considering the snow and the gale, there was no fire. Between 5 and 6 o'clock J. P. Plummer looked in on the fire in one of his chimneys, and going into the attic found it full of smoke. He took a chemical extinguisher up, while Mrs. Plummer looked on in alarm.

Neighbors, and some went and rang an alarm. A line of hose was laid, but the water was not running in the house. There was no fire outside the chimney, though the bricks were hot for a number of hours.

E. P. Bontelle, special agent of the post office department establishing rural delivery routes, was here Monday to inspect the route petitioned for some time since. The route as marked out goes from South Paris via Hill Street to Paris Hill, then by The Beaches to King's Four Corners, across by the mineral spring road to the Whittemore road, by the S. P. Main farm, over Ripley Hill, past the Partridge school house to the school house beyond Archie Curtis' in Sumner, thence back by Horatio Curtis' to the school house, and then to E. Dean's and Frank Bennett's to Paris Hill and South Paris. This takes a little off the route No. 1, on which J. E. King Plummer is carrier, and is proposed to be made a new route, and he will return from Elm Hill by way of Alpine Street, instead of directly as now.

The ice crop is nearly all in.

Bert Foster is teaming this winter.

Mrs. Ernest Penley is helping Mrs. Farrar.

We hear that Fred Jackson intends to build in Paris.

Mrs. Henry Kerr, who has been visiting in Gorham, N. H., has returned.

Mr. Fred Farrar broke an ankle bone while going home from meeting Sunday evening.

A series of meetings are being held here through the efforts of Dr. Advent faith.

Prentiss Crockett is getting out lumber for building in the spring. J. M. Schools of South Paris is working for him.

SILVER WEDDING.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mrs. Buchanan and Mr. Ripley was celebrated Monday evening, Jan. 27, when a lively party of relatives and friends assembled there. Refreshments were served, and the evening was very pleasantly spent. Frank Woodman had his photograph, and put on a number of good selections. L. L. Briggs favored the company with a number of vocal selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley were well remembered by their friends, among the gifts being a pair of silver napkin rings from Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Keene of Hebron, a pair of towels from Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell of South Paris, a silver dollar, two quilts and a rug from Mrs. Melvina Howe of South Paris, two silver dessert spoons from Mrs. W. W. Howe of Lewiston, a willow rug from the children, and a bed spread from friends.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Glidden, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse P. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kimball, Eugene Ripley, George Ripley, Jr., Mrs. L. L. Briggs, Lulu Spiller, Mrs. Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bean, Ethel Porter, Lottie M. Stevens, Mrs. C. W. Palmer, Frank C. Palmer and Chester Burch.

Mrs. Annie Buchanan of Lisbon Falls has used Lewis M. Haines, a druggist, for $500.00. Mrs. Buchanan claims that she was assaulted by her husband while intoxicated, and further claims that he obtained his liquor at Haines store. She is now in the hands of the law, and a recent decision that a person selling liquor to any one is liable for any injuries done by the latter while intoxicated.

Let us clean, press and repair your clothing. F. H. Noyes Co.

A FAMOUS LAWSUIT.

Out of the Shepard grant about fourteen thousand acres of land came into the possession of Dr. Craigie in 1794, and his heirs have since held it.

Jacob D. Brown of Oxford, the lots remaining unced, being about six thousand acres, including the Craigie farm, and the consideration being about $20,000.

Mr. Brown deposed that Col. Samuel H. King was a co-partner with him in the land, and that he had been for about two years, commencing in 1832, and that he made a conveyance to the said King of some portion of the Craigie property.

He deposed that he was a partner with William B. Abbott, who came to Oxford in January, 1835, to engage in the dry goods and grocery business, lumbering and farming.

The said Abbott was to attend to the store and he to the out-of-door business, and each to have one-half of the profits. At this time he deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

He deposed that he and Abbott owned a half of the Craigie lands, excepting certain lots which had been sold by him and Abbott to the said King.

NORWAY.

Second Congregational Church, Rev. B. F. Pickett, pastor. Preaching services, 10:30 A. M., 7:30 P. M. Sunday School, 12:15 to 1:15 P. M. Church prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All, not otherwise mentioned, are cordially invited.

Methodist Church, Rev. B. F. Pickett, pastor. Preaching services, 10:30 A. M., 7:30 P. M. Sunday School, 12:15 to 1:15 P. M. Church prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All, not otherwise mentioned, are cordially invited.

Miss Glover, who has been holding special gospel services in the Biscoe neighborhood, will preach at the Methodist church this Monday evening.

The boys played a second game of ice polo with the Norway team Saturday afternoon, with better results than before. Score 2 to 0 in favor of South Paris, "in spite of Collier."

The Good Cheer Society have decided not to hold any supper in February but in February 25 the Magnolia Minstrel will appear in New Hall and give a first class entertainment.

All those who are to take part or have anything to do with the Magnolia Minstrel are requested to meet at the high school room, Tuesday evening of this week for rehearsal.

The pupils of Miss Eva Walker's school on Pleasant Street observed McKinley Day last Wednesday by recitation, song and drama. The school was in full attendance.

A. W. Walker & Son have finished filling their own ice houses and the one at the creamery during the past week. The ice, which is a second crop from the cove by the Park Street bridge, is perfect in quality.

Advertised letters in South Paris post office Feb. 3:

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Pottle went to Bowdoinham last Monday,

