THE ARMY AND COAST DEFENCE.

Secretary Endicott Recommends Modern Coast Defences.

What Postmaster-General Dickinson Has to Say.

He Thinks our Postal Service is the Best in the World.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Secretary Endicott in his annual report, alludes feelingly to the death of Gen. Sheridan, and says, "He was the army of a chief prominently fitted for such a command, whose wide experience, ready resources and personal qualities made him a tower of strength in council and action. The Secretary again invites the attention of Congress to the defence condition of our sea coast and lake ports. It appears more important than ever that the immediate and liberal action in this direction should be taken by the coming session of Congress. A view of the fact of the last session's appropriation for the construction of heavy ordnance. An appropriation of $2,400,000 is asked for torpedoes and submarine mines. The Secretary says these are necessary for the defence of our harbors and seaports and the appropriation is recommended for their purchase and the Secretary also recommends for the year for experimenting to acquire the best of the many torpedo inventions.

THE BRAINTEASE MURDER.

Thompson Thought to Have Gone to Sea From Boston.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 1.—Detective Purnall of Quincy has given a considerable amount of patient investigation to the recent murder in Braintree. He has found that the suspected murderer, Thompson, and his zine trunk, left the South Braintree station for Boston on the 7 o'clock train on the evening of the murder (two weeks ago today), that on arriving at Boston, Thompson and his trunk were conveyed in a cab to the Boston & Maine station, where the trunk was checked for Portland, Me., and on Sunday, Thompson returned to Braintree. Thompson, four years ago, came with a companion, who looked like a sailor, and the trunk and the trunk were carried away between them. Detective Purnall is of the opinion that Thompson went to sea in the cab, and that he will be further developments result in the capture of the murderer.

The inquest before Judge Humphrey into the facts regarding the murder was concluded on Tuesday afternoon, and adjourned yesterday. A number of witnesses were called, and the jury returned a verdict of special importance was elicited. Judge Humphrey will render his verdict tomorrow.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 2.—Thompson, the Braintree murderer, was seen yesterday at the house of a friend in Halifax. He has been seen here since he arrived in Halifax, and he is now in the hands of the police.

A Struggle for Years Ending in Victory.

Thomas T. Boylan, of Falmouth, Maine, has been a remarkable sufferer for twenty-two years. His trouble commenced with rheumatic fever, leaving him with a badly swollen knee, and it is commonly known as the "Boylan knee." Mr. Boylan has suffered from this trouble ever since. He could never do an able-bodied man's work on account of this trouble, and it has from this fact kept him a poor man all his life. He has been treated by skilled physicians, and has had many times the operation performed, but the knee has always been swollen, and he has been unable to walk. He has been obliged to use crutches and cane. When Dr. Smith and McMillen were treating the knee at Congress Hall, Mr. Boylan received four magnetic treatments he did not use his crutch. After the fourth he was without the aid of any thing. He has ever since been well and strong, and it is now as well as any man and can do a full day's work. All of the swelling has disappeared and the full strength returned. Mr. Boylan had long ago given up every thing, and he would not have tried to Congress Hall if it was free. Many hundreds of others were cured in the same way, and many are constantly being cured every day by this gifted magnetic physician.

A Struggle for Years Ending in Victory.

Thomas T. Boylan, of Falmouth, Maine, has been a remarkable sufferer for twenty-two years. His trouble commenced with rheumatic fever, leaving him with a badly swollen knee, and it is commonly known as the "Boylan knee." Mr. Boylan has suffered from this trouble ever since. He could never do an able-bodied man's work on account of this trouble, and it has from this fact kept him a poor man all his life. He has been treated by skilled physicians, and has had many times the operation performed, but the knee has always been swollen, and he has been unable to walk. He has been obliged to use crutches and cane. When Dr. Smith and McMillen were treating the knee at Congress Hall, Mr. Boylan received four magnetic treatments he did not use his crutch. After the fourth he was without the aid of any thing. He has ever since been well and strong, and it is now as well as any man and can do a full day's work. All of the swelling has disappeared and the full strength returned. Mr. Boylan had long ago given up every thing, and he would not have tried to Congress Hall if it was free. Many hundreds of others were cured in the same way, and many are constantly being cured every day by this gifted magnetic physician.

Moulton company and Jay Hunt made a glorious hit in the different character of Hip Van Winkle, and despite the very inclement weather, the house was well filled. The admirable rendition of Washington Irving's great character. The audience was not slow to appreciate the comedian's superb acting, and the very creditable close of the performance was that the star and support achieved a most emphatic success. Hunt gave a good support throughout, and everyone who witnessed the performance enjoyed a feast."

PHOSPHATES IN BAKING POWDERS.

Prof. H. C. White, State Chemist of Georgia, gave this subject attention, and wrote: "I have been familiar for a number of years with the general character of Prof. Horsford's phosphate preparations. Recent examination of the baking powder of the day show it to be exactly what is claimed for it. When mixed with water a double phosphate is formed and remains in the bread without being eaten. In the case of the phosphate the substance left in the bread after raising is rochele salt—a double tartrate. The phosphates are useful substances and not, in my opinion, the phosphates of animal nature and growth, the tartrates are not, and the double phosphate is a powder is therefore, preferable to the others, so far as healthfulness is concerned."
