Dear Mrs. Sigel:

Your book, I FELL AMONG FARMERS, is on our order list, and we hope to have the pleasure of seeing our copy soon. We are also making a note of it for the forthcoming issue of the Bulletin of the Maine Library Association, so that all Maine librarians will know of it.

Do you know of the Maine Author Collection? It is a permanent exhibit of books written by Maine people, or about the state. It was started some years ago, and has increased steadily in size and importance, as well as fascination. The books are tremendously interesting in their variety, and in their original inscriptions, and constantly attract visitors and students.

We hope that you will want to inscribe and present for this collection a copy of I FELL AMONG FARMERS. We should be delighted to include it with the other Maine books; and we shall hope to have the pleasure of a visit from you one day when you may be in this vicinity. Meanwhile, you have our very good wishes for the success of the book.

Sincerely yours

hmj

Dear Mrs. Jacob:

Thank you for informing me about the Maine Author Collection. I shall be interested to visit it one of these days.

In the meantime I am sending "I Fell Among Farmers" by parcel post.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mrs. Sigel:

Thank you very much for inscribing and presenting a copy of your book, I FELL AMONG FARMERS, for the Maine Author Collection. We are delighted to be able to add it to the exhibit shelves, and appreciate your interest and friendly note.

We hope the book has been warmly welcomed by the reading public, so that you will be encouraged to write another, though it is hard to imagine how you would find the time!

Sincerely yours
