John's Letter.

Met our editor and his nearly grown son at the post office the other day.

There doesn't appear to be a great difference in their ages. If nothing happens to the young man, and he steers clear of the small pox, we know of no reason why he may not be as good looking as his father when he is as old.

What few editors we have ever seen looking like that might preach if they had a smattering of piety. Perhaps their good clothes gave them a clerical appearance. A "billed shirt" is mighty misleading, don't you know?

We hear that "Pink" Brown of East

Hebron had four cows killed by lightning in a late shower.

There is another old landmark at the east that no one is anxious to preserve.

We used to know it as the Eaton house.

If the board of health has such an article as a nuisance, and would even the old domestic, we fancy they would say that the lightning could do a more satisfactory piece of work than killing cows. The neighbor across the way claims that there are times and seasons when it doesn't smell like the balm of a thousand flowers in the least, but rather sort of like a new, and would even the old

domestic, we fancy they would say that
