Mr. F. A. Lawton, superintendent of the Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes railroad, reports that construction on the Madrid branch, through Madrid village to Gray (Small) place is progressing well. They expect to begin taking freight from the village this week. It is understood that there is something like forty cars of birch squares and spruce lumber ready now. The station at Madrid village is on the east side of the old highway bridge, on the old Beech hill road.

The local item in Maine Woods last week in regard to a possible scrap between the Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes railroad and the C. H. McKenzie Trading company, created more than passing interest, on account of the prominence of the parties and the fact that the question involved affects, or is supposed to affect the traveling public. This week we publish in another column an official announcement of a hearing by the railroad commissioners, relative to this matter, together with a full description of the piece of land in question.

Mr. H. K. Swasey and Mr. B. C. Craig, inspectors for the Interstate Commerce commission, were in Phillips this week, looking over the equipment of the Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes railroad.

Although Saturday evening was not extra pleasant, the Oberton league had their lawn party as advertised. About seventy-five gathered to enjoy the festivities of the evening. The grove was very prettily decorated, and much credit is due Mr. King and the boys for having everything in apple-pie order. The Boys' orchestra of Phillips was in attendance, and treated the company to many fine selections. A short program was carried out, and the local hits, read by Miss Charlotte Shepard, caused much merriment. The gypsy fortune teller was in evidence, impersonated by Mrs. B. C. Moulton. At ten o'clock the orchestra and company adjourned to the schoolhouse, where one and all enjoyed the music and games. Much credit is due the president, Mrs. F. H. Thorpe, and the marshal of the evening, Mr. Russell King, for the great success of the lawn party.

There will be a special choir, which will sing the popular Alexander Gospel songs, with special music on violin and cornet.

Ministers from all the surrounding country are expected to be present and assist in these services.

Remember that the meetings open Friday evening, August 12, at 7.30 o'clock, and close Sunday evening, August 21, lasting over two Sundays.

REV. WESTON P. HOLMAN, CONDUCTOR.

to 21, has every indication of being a decided success this year. It will be conducted more after the style of the early campmeetings, that is, it will partake more of a strong evangelistic character.

The association is very fortunate in having for its leader Rev. Weston P. Holman, pastor of the Methodist church at Strong, who is himself a young man of ability and enthusiasm for such an undertaking. Mention should also be made of the most efficient secretary the association has in the personage of Mr. Nelson

Make your plans now to attend as many days as you possibly can. Come and bring your friends.

Farm Notes.

Haying is not quite closed up at this date (August 4.) The weather was splendid the first of July, but later and with the advent of dog days it became catchy. The dry conditions through the most of July caused much grass to "go back," and this causes some falling off in the hay crop on some pieces. Weeds in fields have been unusually abundant, and the same statement is true of potato beetles.

W. S. Hodges bought and cut the grass around the Berlin Mill Co.'s office and landing, in No. 6. Later, he, with horses and machine, helped Beedy cut their hay on their farm, nearby, then cut his hay at home and now is helping Judge Morrison get his hay on Mr. Morrison's Walker farm in No. 6. At home he had an acre of barley, also, which is cut and in the barn in good condition.

As a rule the potato fields in the west part of the town are looking first rate. The largest field of potatoes in town is owned by Messrs. Meham and Brown. It consists of twenty acres and is situated on the Ornan Wilbur farm, so-called.

In regard to wild berries as well as cultivated, the facts are peculiar and interesting. In the wild varieties in some places there were many last season there are none this year. We are told by good authority that Mr. W. C. Beal of the Mile Square, Avon, has raised over eighty-seven bushels of cultivated strawberries. This is truly an enormous crop for this vicinity, at least so far as the present writer's information goes.

Mrs. Clifton B. Hunter at this time has picked and sold between four and five bushels of blueberries on the home farm, has half a bushel on hand and many more to pick. No doubt the facts recorded above arise as the result of local conditions; while several heavy showers have passed to the east and north of where this is written, we were suffering for rain. Does the cutting of large quantities of spruce, poplar and hardwood southerly and westerly have anything to do with these circumstances?

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Union Church, Phillips.

Melvin Sherburne Hutchins, pastor. Calendar. There will be no preaching service during through the month of August. The Sabbath school and Thursday evening meeting for prayer and praise will be held as usual.

Methodist Church, Phillips.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning, Rev. W. A. Millett preached from the text found in Matt. 22: 42, "What think ye of Christ?"

Our thoughts are of great importance in our lives. Indeed, our lives are molded by them. We speak sometimes of stopping our thoughts, of ceasing from thinking, yet our minds are always busy. If we make no effort to induce thought, it is still going on.

Thought is the door through which action enters our lives. Every act first has being in our thought. We think before we act. Thought goes before every invention. Some mind studies upon the problem of applying forces and principles in such a way as to find some new way of helping man.

Because we have in a great degree the power to control and direct our thoughts, we have responsibility regarding them. "Let me think" we hear said many times. A person is asked some question, and in trying to recall something that may affect the answer, or under the necessity of decision he consciously directs his thought.

Thought is almost incredibly swift. A friend related to me an incident showing this. He was one Sunday hunting for crows' nests. He had climbed a tree in his search, and a limb about eighteen feet from the ground broke under his weight, allowing him to fall. He told me that while falling that short distance he thought of every wrong thing he had done. He remembered the Sunday ball games, the Sunday hunts, and all the ways in which he had broken the Sabbath. I wish no one harm, but I think it would do many others good to take such a tumble if it would result in such reformation of habits and life, as was seen in the life of this man.

You may say that a man's thoughts are not always accurately shown by his life, but this is true. "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he."

We say that man has affections, sentiments and will. If his affections turn toward anything, his opinions and decisions follow the same line, and his will is in a great measure controlled by these. The heart, as the seat of the affections, is recognized as apart from the mind. "Keep your heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." Our thought life affects our hearts, our minds and our wills.

The thought life has to do with the Christian life. The natural mind will not think upon the eternal things, but the Holy Spirit is sent to guide our thoughts, and when the thoughts are transformed there will be a wonderful change in the life. I recall now the case of a very wicked young man, who, being led to see and think upon Jesus, became a man of great helpfulness in his town.

Jesus, talking with his disciples, asked them whom men said that he was. He was answered that people thought of him variously, some thinking him one prophet, and some another. The disciples knew him to be the Christ, the Son of God. The Holy Spirit is given to teach us who he is, to teach us that he is not only a friend, but a personal Savior, ever ready and ever wishing to help up all.

"What think ye of Christ?" Isaiah says, "He shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground; he hath no form or comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. And his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." Solomon called him the "Rose of Sharon, and The Lily of The Valley, The Chiefest Among Ten Thousand." These and other writers in the Old Testament spoke of his power and beauty.

There are many qualities that we wish to see in every character. We all desire to see courage. Can we find a higher type of courage than we see in the life of Jesus, calm and resolute before his enemies, keeping steadfast in his appointed way, even when he knew that that way meant suffering and death? The desire to see affection and humility, and all good qualities is satisfied in him.

The woman of Samaria saw in him who knew her life, a prophet. The blind man, healed by the roadside, knew, as he said, one thing, that whereas he had been blind, now he saw. From saved souls everywhere have come testimonies of the power of the salvation of Jesus. Do we love him? Take up the cross and follow him. Would we show ourselves to be his friends? "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." We must think of him today. If we think of him as our Savior and our Example, we shall grow into his likeness. It is our only hope. A young man in my town who, in common speech, was not thought to be bright, came into possession of quite an amount of property. People were much surprised at the wisdom with which he managed his affairs. The explanation was found in the fact that he closely watched the methods of a good business man of the town, taking him for a pattern. There is before us One who is a perfect Pattern for us. If we think thus of him and follow him day by day, at last we shall receive the welcome "Well done, good and faithful servant."

means. Ordinarily two griddles have to be removed and the coal spread by either shovel or poker. Our Lift Top Plate saves time and allows only the proper method of feeding a fire with either shovel or coal-hod. This feature, too, is most admirable for a perfect broiling. One of the lids in the top plate is of sectional rings for small utensils, and remains undisturbed even, for the rings are specially weighted to hold in place.

Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefitted by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Ross of Gardiner, Mass., who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hodges, returned home the last week of July.
They missed the early train from Boston and took a later one. It was very dark when they got to Gardiner, and Mrs. Ross, encumbered with girps, etc., walked the length of the car. Just before getting to the platform the cars started very slowly and she stepped off and fell, injuring one arm and shoulder badly. She was taken home in a carriage. She says: "I saw the wheels coming and dragged myself as far away as I could." By this time the conductor seemed to have found out what was going on and jumped from his car and picked her up. Probably he did not see her as she was coming through the car. This probably took place after the train was out of the station.

A prominent business man of Michigan explains why he advertises and why he uses newspapers for that purpose, as follows: "I advertise in the newspapers because I am not ashamed of my goods or my work, and to let the people know about myself, my store and my stock; because I cater to the intelligent class, and they read the papers, and I believe in increasing my business; because I can talk to more people through the newspapers at a greater distance in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way; because my newspaper advertising has brought me greater returns for the least expenditure of any advertising I have done; because when I write an ad I am not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible medium or to have it inserted so it is attractive; because I know my ad is seen and read by every one in the house where the paper goes."

National Bank Roll of Honor.

What is called the "National Bank Roll of Honor," prepared from official reports of the national banks of the country, to the controller of the treasury, has just been compiled by the Financier, a publication in Boston. This is the 20th year that such a compilation has been made and it shows that out of 6977 banks under operation with national charters, only 1163, or one bank in six, is entitled to go on this roll.

To secure a place on the honor roll a bank must show surplus and undivided profits equal to or in excess of its capital stock. That is, assuming the capital to be 100 per cent, the profits and surplus must exceed that percentage. This is a severe test, but not an unfair one.

The percentage of banks on the roll is not quite 17 per cent. Out of the 1163 banks on the roll, New England furnishes 98. Of this number Massachusetts supplies 50, Maine 11, New Hampshire 10, Vermont 5,
Connecticut 18 and Rhode Island 4.
The percentage of Massachusetts banks getting on the roll is a little more than 25 per cent, there being 197 national banks and 50 on the roll. The percentage in Connecticut is 122, but the rest of the New England states fall behind.

Pennsylvania leads the country in the number of national banks, having 801, while the next largest numbers are found in Texas with 523,
New York 438, Illinois 419, Ohio 375, Iowa 320, Minnesota 269, Indiana 256, Oklahoma 225 and Nebraska with 219.
Maine has 77, New Hampshire 57, Vermont 50, Connecticut 80, Rhode Island 22.

Of the 11 Maine banks that are ranked in the roll of honor, one of our regular advertisers, the Phillips national bank, appears, and we take pleasure in calling attention to the fact that this institution ranks 870 in this country, a truly remarkable showing.
