NATURE STORIES.

Mr. Pooler, proprietor of the Fal-mouth Hotel, Portland, had an experience with a Sebago lake salmon that has probably not been equalled by any of our readers. He received from a party of his friends a present of a steel rod, reel and line. While at his cottage at Sebago lake, he hooked a fish that carried away the whole rigging, including the rod. He tried dragging the bottom of the lake, but failed to get results. A few days later he was out fishing again and hooked a 6-lb. salmon that he landed. And hooked in that salmon's mouth was a trolling outfit, and this was attached his whole rigging, including the line, reel and rod.

Dr. A. K. P. Harvey of Washington ton was out rowing alone on Long pond, Rangeley Lakes, this summer, trolling with a rod in a holder. He had a "strike" that carried the whole rigging overboard, including the rod. Dr. Harvey has heard the Sebago lake story, but he does not expect to be so fortunate as Mr. Pooler was. The doctor valued the line very highly for the reason that it was sent to him last year by President Taft in recognition of a service that he rendered one of the president's guests in the diagnosis of a case.

A motor car driven by Edward L. Hopkins of New York collided with a large black bear in the highway in the town of La Grange, a recent morning, causing slight damage to the car, but giving both the motor-ing party and the bear a bad fright.

The party, composed of Mr. Hop-kins and his wife and their guests, John P. Fassett of New York and Miss Marian Gordon of Philadelphia, were returning from a tour of northern Maine, and at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning were running through La Grange at the rate of 35 miles an hour, when the bear rose up on its haunches directly in the middle of the road.

Mr. Hopkins, who was driving, had his choice of ditching the car or running over the bear and decided to take the latter course.

Instead of being brushed aside, however, the bear fell sprawling up-on the hood of the car, and in that position was carried some distance, growling and clawing, while the wom-en of the party shrieked in terror.

Finally the car struck a bad place in the road and bounced the bear off. The animal fell under one wheel, thus ditching the car. The occupants of the car were not hurt and soon had the machine righted. The bear was somewhat dazed, but quickly made off into the woods. The mo-tor party reached Bangor just before noon and after a short stop contin-ued on to New York.

An unusual and interesting sight was afforded passengers on the Win-trop car arriving in Augusta about 6 o'clock, one evening recently, when near Granite Hill, a cow moose calmly viewed the car and its occupants and then leisurely walked into the woods. It was a very tame animal and seemed to realize that it pre-sented a novel sight to the passen-gers.

A tomato can tied to a dog's tail will cause the animal a good deal of worryment, but when a skunk gets its head into one and cannot remove it its desperation knows no bounds, as was shown by an incident at Mere Pt the other night. For some time one of the disagreeable creatures has been hanging around the cottages, and on the west shore late in the evening some people were aroused by a great racket on the porch. They thought at first that someone was trying to enter the house, but when they looked out they discovered the skunk darting back and forth with a can attached to its head. Leaving the animal to its fate the people retired. The next morning the skunk with the can still on its head was found dead on the beach, having been drowned, and it is the unanimous opinion hereabouts that it was a case of suicide.

Wants Fishing License.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

I cannot understand why a person should be permitted to go into your state and fish all summer without paying a license when it costs the state of Maine many thousands of dollars to hatch and stock its waters with fish, while with the game they stock them-selves, no cost to the state except the protection. A person who goes from another state, you soak him $15 for animals on the leg, get him if you can. If a fellow is skunked, no redress. Go home hungry, but Maine has $15. The only thing for Maine to do is to equalize this, hunter and fish-erman alike.

O. G. Brian.

The canoe which will be given away by Maine Woods to the guide receiving the largest number of votes is worth working for.

WINCHESTER

BLACK POWDER SHELLS

Good shells in your gun mean a good bag in the field. Winchester "Nublack" and "New Rival" Black Powder Shells are good shells. Always sure-fire, always giving an even spread of shot and good penetration, their great superiority is testified to by sportsmen who use Winchester Factory Loaded Shells in preference to any other make.

This successful angler is Mr. E. Napier of East Orange, N. J., who in the early morning meets his old guide, Ed Hoar, at the wharf, and often with some friends trolls over the lake and at noontime lands for shore dinner. He is so happy to share his catch recorded the past week as two salmon, weighing 8 3/4 and 8 1/2 lbs. Mrs. Napier captured one of 4 1/2 lbs., and two friends, who accepted Mr. Napier's invitation for a day's fishing, have had great sport with the gamy salmon. Mr. W. J. Jeandrop of East Orange, N. Albany, N. Y., May 21, 1910.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

I noticed in one of your editions of Maine Woods last spring, two items which struck me as particularly interesting. The first is that the issue of Maine Woods is 6,000. I am surprised at this. Anybody who enjoys the woods and likes to get a whiff of the good Maine air once a week, should be a subscriber to your good paper, and instead of 6,000 the number of subscribers should be 60,000. Right under this item I notice that you publish a circular letter issued by a Boston house in which they agree to buy all deer, moose and other game meat that parties going into Maine would care to dispose of at a fair and reasonable price. I have for several years received this circular and have figured out that I ought pay all the expenses of any trip by selling surplus meat that I would ship to them that I could not use, but I live in hopes. I have been going to Maine every year since, but up to the present time have had no opportunity to ship any surplus meat to those parties. Unless the ordinary hunter has better luck than I have for the circular letter sent out by the Boston concern will not deplete the Maine forest of many of its deer and moose.

I am enclosing herewith check for $2 for subscriptions, one to be sent to Fred W. Joy, 342 Broadway, New York, and the other to Dr. J. H. Woodward, 53 West 40th street, New York, for one year.

COLE AND DUTTON AT PHILLIPS.

Address Large Republican Meeting at Grange Hall.

Tuesday evening the republican campaign was opened at Phillips by a well attended meeting at the Grange hall, which was addressed by Congressman Ralph D. Cole of Ohio and Frank L. Dutton, Esq. of Augusta. D. F. Field, chairman of the town committee, presided, and in introducing the speaker, Mr. Field said that the committee had been most fortunate in securing the services of these two gentlemen. Mr. Dutton came as a stranger to a Phillips audience, but that Congressman Cole spoke here two years ago, and that it had been the best speech that it had ever been his privilege to listen to. Chairman Field urged the voters to come out and vote on September 12; that the republican committee would be thoroughly satisfied if every voter in town would vote and vote as he saw fit; that they were perfectly willing to trust the judgment of all the voters, if they would all come out and vote.

Mr. Dutton devoted his attention to state issues. He said that the democrats charged the republican party with gross extravagance in state expenditures. His answer to that was that at the close of the last democratic administration the state debt was six million dollars, that now it was about six hundred thousand. He enumerated some of the increases in expenses borne by the state, such as the support of schools to which the state contributes ever increasing amounts, support of highways throughout the state, an expense which has grown up entirely within the past decade, and called attention to the fact that instead of adding to the burden of the towns, this school money and road money paid by the state was lifting the burden from the towns. How many taxpayers in Phillips are aware of the fact that the state returns to this town much more money in this way than our entire state tax?

He said that the democratic party criticizes the running expenses of the state only in the aggregate, that they did not dare to go before the people and announce that if elected they would cut down the school appropriation, the highway appropriation, the hospital appropriation or any other specific appropriation.

But in spite of these additional burdens assumed by the state to relieve the towns, the state tax on these towns has decreased. The additional revenue to meet these expenses has come from the large corporations, the railroad tax, for instance, has been multiplied by six in the past decade. Franchise taxes which paid nothing a few years ago, in 1910 amounted to $278,000.

On being introduced Mr. Cole said he was pleased to come to Phillips again. That on his visit two years ago he spoke at Phillips and Stratton and that he was much indebted to his good friend, H. B. Austin, for his delightful automobile trip to Stratton, and home via Rangeley. He said that he didn't hear the returns from Phillips two years ago, but that Austin wrote him Stratton had increased its democratic vote.

He hoped he would not make any such depredations this year in Phillips. He paid a deserved tribute when he said if the voters of Phillips send H. B. Austin to the legislature, they will send a man who will have the interests of his town and community at heart. A man who is honest, and fearless, and one who would make a record at Augusta that his constituents would be proud of.

Mr. Cole then launched into the subject of the tariff, and as dry and technical as that subject is in the hands of the ordinary speaker, for an hour he held the closest attention of his audience. He showed that the republican party had lived up to their anti-election promise to revise the tariff downward. A tariff bill must produce revenue enough to meet the running expenses of the government, and when this last legislature met it faced not only the demand of the people for a downward revision of the tariff, but on the other hand, they faced an enormous deficit in the U. S. treasury. The new tariff produced revenue enough to pay the running expenses of the government, an further than that, enough to wipe out the deficit in a single year, and in spite of that the tariff on the necessities of life was greatly reduced.

Mr. Cole showed further that the republican party had made a record in the last administration of pledges redeemed, unique in the history of the nation. Most of the platform pledges have already been redeemed, and he prophesied that before the term of office of the present legislators closed, that the last pledge made in our platform would be redeemed.

"Mystery" of Drowning.

When the body of Oscar Schultz, who lost his life in Rangeley Lake, Maine, while under indictment for larceny, arrives this morning in Boston, the police will be confronted with a perplexing death mystery.

"He was murdered; that's all there could have been to it," insisted his mother last night at 44 Lexington street, Everett.

"He was drowned," comes the report from Rangeley Lakes, though the police of that district claim to know nothing definite about the case.

"Perhaps he committed suicide, or has arranged a fake suicide," it was said yesterday at the district attorney's office, "in order not to face trial and not to oblige his bondsmen to settle."

Whether it was murder, an accidental drowning or a suicide, or the body is that of someone else, Inspectors Rooney and McCauley of the local police hope to determine with the aid of a medical examiner as soon as the body arrives at the North Station at 6.30 this morning.

Schultz's wife is accompanying the body to Boston. She went to Maine to identify it. The body will be taken to Everett for burial.

"Today would have been his twenty-fifth birthday. He had been awaiting his trial with interest and told me how he would show up some of the scoundrels who had accused him for nothing more than blackmail," said his mother yesterday.

"Perhaps someone knew what he would tell and killed him to keep him quiet."

—Boston Post.

The Maine Woods reporter has taken great pains to find out that the above is not correct. Mingo Springs the guests saw Schultz and party start out, and was slain east of accidental drowning. Every effort was made to find the body, but Philadelphia physicians said that the body would not float for ten days at the least, and perhaps twenty.

There have been boats watching for the body most of the time. As the early steamboat, Aug. 24, crossed the lake they saw an object at a distance and hurried to the station with passengers and mail, returning as Opinions of Attorney General on Fish and Game Laws.

Augusta, Me., July 14, 1910.
Hon. Warren C. Philbrook,
Attorney General,
Augusta, Me.

Dear Sir:
I would like an opinion from you as to whether or not a non-resident has a right to make a collection of unprotected birds' nests, eggs, etc., without taking out a non-resident hunting license.

Yours very truly,
J. W. Brackett,
Chairman.
Waterville, Me., Aug. 2, 1910.
Subject:—Eggs of Wild Birds.
J. W. Brackett, Chairman,
Office of Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game,
Augusta, Me.

My Dear Mr. Brackett:
I have your favor of recent date inquiring whether a person who is not a resident of this state has a right to make a collection of eggs of loons, hawks and owls and take them out of the state.

The provision of statute governing this situation is found in R. S. Chapter 32, Section 8 as amended by Sec. 12 of Chap. 132 of the Public Laws of 1905, and further amended by Sec. 5 of Chap. 90 of the Public Laws of 1909. The early part of the section forbids any person within the State to kill or catch, or have in possession, living or dead, any wild bird other than a game bird and forbids the purchasing, offering or exposing for sale of any such wild bird after it has been killed or caught. The statute then goes on to say:

"Nor shall any person take or needlessly destroy the nest or the eggs of any wild bird, nor have such nest or eggs in possession. The English or European House Sparrow, the common crow, loons, and the hawks and owls, mudhens, so called, kingfishers, and blue herons, so called, are not included among the birds herein protected."

The statute does not say in express terms that the eggs of these last named birds shall not be taken or needlessly destroyed, but inasmuch as the birds are exempt, I think it a fair inference that the legislature meant to exempt also the eggs of such birds, and it is therefore my opinion that it is no violation of the statutes of this State for a person to take the eggs of English or European house sparrow, the common crow, loons, hawks, owls, mudhens, kingfishers or blue herons. The fact that a person is a resident or non-resident has no bearing upon the proposition, so far as I can see.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Warren C. Philbrook,
Attorney General.

Waterville, Me., July 15, 1910.
Subject: R. S. Chap. 32, Sec. 40—Screening Outlets of Ponds or Lakes—Payment of Expense—From What Source.

Mr. J. W. Brackett, Chairman,
Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game,
Augusta, Me.

Dear Mr. Brackett:

In your letter of July 6th you call attention to the provisions found in the last two sentences of Sec. 40, Chap. 32 of the Revised Statutes relating to the power of the Commissioners to screen outlets of lakes or ponds, and you inquire if the Commissioners, under that section, have a right to build screens and pay for the same out of the appropriation for fish hatcheries, feeding stations and for the protection of fish.

It is of my opinion that the present condition of our statutes and appropriation resolves do not authorize commissioners to screen the outlets of lakes and ponds and pay for such expense out of the appropriation for purposes of operating fish hatcheries and feeding stations for fish and for the protection of fish. The last named appropriation is found in Chapter 145 of the Resolves of 1909. The reasons which lead me to this view are as follows: R. S. Chap. 2, Sec. 20 clearly provides that all appropriations of money for expenditure in the public service shall be applied solely to the object for which the appropriation is made. A reasonably, strict construction of this rule should be applied. Chapter 145 of the Resolves of 1909, just referred to makes an appropriation of $47,500 for the year 1909, and a similar appropriation for 1910, and designates that this appropriation is "for the purpose of operating the fish hatcheries and feeding stations for fish in the State and for the protection of fish." Nothing is herein said about using any of the money for erecting screens at the outlet of lakes or ponds.

I am constrained to believe that the legislature never intended that any part of this large appropriation should be used for the erection of screens, except where the power had been specially given so to do. You will observe that the Legislature of 1909, Chap. 215 of the Resolves, authorizes the expenditure of $300 out of the appropriation of which we have been speaking, for the purpose of screening Taylor Lake, so-called, in the City of Auburn, but the authority to do this was conditioned upon the raising of a certain sum of money by the citizens of Androscoggin County, and also required a vote of the City of Auburn that it would assume all liability for keeping said screen at all times, free from sticks, leaves, etc., so that the same would not become clogged and prevent the free running of water through the same. Eight other instances are to be found with similar provisions; namely, screening of Biscay Pond, of China Lake, of Estes Lake, of Messalonskee Lake, of Spring River Lake, of Squa Pan Lake, of Toddy Pond and Worthley Pond. If the Legislature had understood that any part of the appropriation of $47,500 which we have been speaking of could be used for screening outlets of lakes and ponds at the discretion of the Commissioners, why did they take the trouble to give special authority in these nine cases?

The answer to the question seems irresistibly to suggest to my mind the conclusions which I have indicated above. It might be argued that here is a plain provision of the statute in Chap. 32, Sec. 40, giving the Commissioners certain powers, but those who have been close students of statute law, have oftentimes discovered that authority is given to do a thing and no money provided with which to do it.

It seems to me, therefore, quite plain, in view of the special resolves for screening, that the Legislature never intended that there should be such a liberal construction of Chapter 145 of the Resolves of 1909 as to authorize the Commissioners to use any part of that appropriation for screening ponds or lakes.

of the Commissioners must obtain in the first instance. You will notice that in case of a disagreement between the Commissioners and the owner or occupant of any dam as to the propriety and safety of the plan submitted, that there is an appeal, but the appeal is only as to the propriety and safety of the plan, not as to the necessity of constructing a fishway, and later in the act, you will find that the decision upon the appeal "shall be final as to the plan and location appealed from," again emphasizing the fact that the decision of the Commissioners from which the appeal is taken is as to the plan and location and not upon the prior question as to whether any fish way must be located and constructed.

Summarizing, therefore, the situation appears to me to be this: If a river or stream is habitually frequented by salmon, shad, alewives, or landlocked salmon, the owner or occupant of any dam or other artificial construction upon that river or stream must provide a durable and efficient fish way; as to the form, capacity and location of the fish way, the question is to be passed upon by the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game, but they cannot ex-

BROOK FISHING IN MAINE.

Yours truly,

Attorney General.

Waterville, Me., Aug. 3, 1910.
Subject: Fish Ways, R. S. Chap. 32, Sec. 41.

J. W. Brackett, Chairman,
Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game,
Augusta, Me.

Dear Mr. Brackett:

I am in receipt of your recent favor in which you desire my views as to whether the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game are obliged to order fish ways to be built when requested so to do, or whether this requirement is wholly in the discretion of the Commissioners.

In reply I beg leave to say that it does not appear to me to be a question of discretion for the Commissioners so far as that question relates to ordering the construction of fish ways. The statute in plain and positive terms requires the owner or occupant of every dam or every artificial obstruction in any river or stream frequented by salmon, shad, alewives, or land locked salmon to provide said dam or artificial construction with a durable and efficient fishway. This is a positive requirement of law, and as I have said, there does not seem to me to be any element of discretion on the part of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game whereby the owner or occupant just referred to may be relieved from the duty required by law. On the other hand, the judgment of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game, in the first instance, is to be taken as to the form, capacity and location of the fishway. Of course, it must be observed in passing, that the river or stream in question must be frequented by the fish above named, otherwise there is no obligation resting upon any one to build a fish way. It may be, therefore, that the judgment of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game may be an important element in determining whether the river or stream is frequented by the above named fish. It is my view that those Commissioners must be well satisfied that the river or stream is, as a matter of fact, frequented by these fish before any movement is taken to require the building of a fish way, and in this connection, it is my view that the word "frequented" would be construed to mean habitually frequenting; an isolated case or even a few rare cases where a salmon, shad, alewife or landlocked salmon might be found in a river or stream, would hardly seem to be sufficient cause for invoking the machinery of the act under consideration.

If, however, the Commissioners are satisfied that the river or stream is frequented in the way I have just described and by the fish referred to, then there would seem to be no excuse for the owner or occupant of any dam or artificial construction whereby he might be relieved from building the fish way required by the act.

The next step then would be as to the location, form and capacity of the fishway, and here the judgment of the owner or occupant of the dam or other artificial construction from complying with the law as to the provision of the fish way.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) Warren C. Philbrook,
Attorney General.

Fish Poisoned in Washington County.

The Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game recently received a complaint from a well known citizen that the fish were all dead in a certain brook in the town of Perry, some substance evidently having been placed in the brook for this purpose—as the bed of the stream seemed to be covered with a yellow deposit.

Warden H. O. Templeton was immediately dispatched to the place and following is his report of conditions as he found them:

"I went to Perry and Sipps bay, as directed, and I found one of the worst things I ever saw in a brook. The brook was nearly covered with lime, which had been put in by some poacher of the worst kind. This little stream is fed by springs, therefore is very small and the trout cannot get out now, as the water is very low. There is, however, plenty of water in the pools for them to live in, and these pools are the places where someone had put the lime in and it had killed everything in the form of a fish.

"I am sending you a bottle which had been used as an explosive; lime was placed in it and a small opening left in the stopper for the water to get in to the lime. When the pressure caused by the combination of the lime and water exploded the bottle, it killed all fish anywhere near it. Lime when used in this way is worse than dynamite, as it poisons the water longer. This is one of the worst cases of this kind I ever had."

(The cracked bottle, half filled with lime, is on exhibition at office of Commissioners.)

Non-Resident Hunter Who Had No License Had Rather Pay Fine Than Miss Shooting Two Bears.

The following report from a Somerset County Warden is of more than passing interest:

".....August 8, 1910.
"J. W. Brackett, Chairman of F. and G. Com. Augusta, Me.

Dear Sir:
".....of.....a registered guide, called on me a few minutes ago and made the following report: "He said he was guiding a young boy, not more than 14 or 15 years old, a non-resident, and the boy carried a .22 calibre rifle for target practice.

"Well, last Saturday or Sunday, they were tramping from one pond to another, when an old bear with two cubs appeared before them. The two cubs went up a tree and the boy wanted to shoot them; the guide told him he has no right to do so, for he had no non-resident hunting license as yet, but the boy said he had rather pay a fine for hunting without a license than to lose the chance of shooting two bears, and he shot them both. The guide came right to me and told me the whole story, and said the boy was willing to pay the fine, if the Commissioners wanted him to do so."

The warden further stated that the boy was a regular visitor to the State, together with his parents, who have not arrived as yet this season, and that he has held a license every year he has hunted before this.

Of course the warden was promptly instructed to do his duty—which is to see that all violators of the inland fish and game laws are prosecuted, whenever the necessary evidence can be obtained.

New Tags for Taxidermists.

The Commissioners have adopted a new style of tag to be used for tagging specimens which are being sent to licensed Taxidermists for mounting.

Formerly the tags were in duplicate—the original to be attached to the specimen and the duplicate to be forwarded to the Commissioners at Augusta.

The new tag does not provide for a duplicate to be sent to Commissioners.

The tags will be of the same size and color as those formerly used, and the shipper will be relieved of the necessity of making out two tags when he wishes to ship a deer head or other trophy to his taxidermist for mounting.

Following is a copy of the new tag:

"Forward without delay to Licensed Taxidermist Maine.

"This was killed on the day of by of at Guide of Shipper. When mounted ship to J. W. Brackett, Chairman, Blaine S. Viles, Edgar E. Ring, Com. of I. F. & Game. Taxidermists who have the old style of tags on hand may use them as long as their supply lasts.

Bears in Carthage.

(Special to Maine Woods.)
Carthage, Me., Aug. 22, 1910.

Much excitement has prevailed in the vicinity of Berry Mills and Carthage for a few weeks past, due to an old bear and three cubs, which have been seen several times. A few days ago a sheep and lamb were killed belonging to E. S. Holt, which set the Carthage nimrods on their mettle. They discovered the path where they crossed the main road near the Weld line, and the hunters have guarded that place for some time.

Sunday evening about ten o'clock in a full moon, as Frank and Lee Hutchinson and E. E. Holt were at their posts, their vigilance was rewarded by the approach of the four bears, when they at once opened fire on the old bear, which surrendered at the first volley, while the cubs took up the nearby trees. The other hunters, hearing the cannonading, were soon on the scene to lend a willing hand in the slaughter. They climbed up the trees and dislodged the little fellows, who were soon despatched, making a clean score of the whole bear family, four in number. We consider this a very good job for moonlight. It reminds us of the bloody encounter of Buckskin Sam a few years ago in the wilds of Byron, but if we recollect right, a part of his bears got away. Not so here, for when Frank gets regulated for bears they have to surrender unconditionally.

Interest in the canoe contest is growing among both sportsmen and guides. There is still plenty of time to enter, and some guide will win a fine canoe, well worth owning.

This trap catches animals by the neck instead of the feet killing them instantly without injury to the pelt. A humane feature that is certainly commendable; besides it saves every fur to the Trapper. It is made in three sizes and has the best trigger action ever put on a trap. This trap has made a great record for itself the past season One Trapper caught 18 Mink and 10 Muskrats with three traps. 5c brings you our illustrated Trappers Guide. It explains everything.

Does Anybody?

Does anybody except a rainbow chasing democrat imagine that the republican farmers who rallied to the support of Obadiah Gardner both on account of their pride in the organization of which Mr. Gardner has been Master, as well as their respect for the man, are going to give their votes to Mr. Plaisted, a democratic politician who by political manipulation pushed Mr. Gardner aside and placed himself at the head of the democratic ticket?—Bangor News.

Eustis Politics and Taxes.

It has been said that Eustis is naturally a democratic town, and the recent election figures have shown a plurality for that party.

But Eustis has benefited remarkably from the republican politics.

In 1882, the democratic days to which the democratic orators point with pride, the state tax assessed against Eustis was $292.83.

The state returned the own $159.34.

Now look at the figures for 1910. The entire state tax after the town had doubled and quadrupled in valuation several times was $1,414.64. Return to the town, $1,918.06.

If the people of Eustis are grateful for good government and pleased with the financial management of the state as affecting their town, they will vote for a continuance of the republican party in power.

Madrid Politics and Taxes.

In 1910 taxes paid to the state by the town of Madrid amounted to $470.63. The state paid back into the town treasury of Madrid $1,334.08. This is a wonderful showing. It seems to us altogether probable that the people like this kind of administration so far as they are concerned as a town, and that they will show their appreciation, both republicans and former democrats, by voting the republican ticket, and thus encouraging the political party that gives them that kind of an administration.

In the good old democratic times (1882) when Gov. H. M. Plaisted, father of the present democratic candidate for governor was in the chair the town of Madrid paid into the state treasury for taxes, $315.84, and received back, $217.58. With some of our readers kindly compare these figures and let us know what they think of the probability, so far as the vote in Madrid is concerned, on September 12, next.

Salem Taxes and Politics.

The town of Salem in 1910 paid in state taxes $337.65, and they received back from the state treasury for town purposes, $802.06.

In the good old democratic times, 1882, Salem paid into the state treasury, for state taxes, $270.08, and they received back that year, $154.75.

What has Salem got to say about this?

Political Points.

Phillips and Politics.

Democratic orators have been telling the people about higher taxes in the state of Maine nowadays than prevailed in the good old democratic times. Many voters in Franklin county among the older men will remember a good many things about the good old democratic times that they do not like to speak about.

That nobody may get a wrong impression of the situation at the present time compared with the good old times, it may be well to quote a few figures. The 1910 state tax paid into the state treasury by the town of Phillips, was $3,159.84. They have received back from the state for the school fund, $2,828.74, for high school $500 for roads, $400, soldiers' pensions, $138; railroads and telegraph tax, $28.00. Total received back from the state in 1910, $3,894.74. The town of Phillips received back from the state treasurer this year $735.90 more than we paid in state taxes.

Now suppose we look at the figures for 1882, when Gov. H. M. Plaisted, the last democratic governor who was ever elected in Maine, was in the chair. The state taxes of Phillips were that year $2,019.36, and we received back from the state for local purposes, $723.22. In other words, in the good old democratic times referred to, we paid into the state treasury $1296.14 more than we received back, while this year, 1910, we paid into the state treasury $735.90 less than the amount received back. If the people of Phillips are grateful for good government and pleased with the financial management of the state, as affecting their own town, they will vote for a continuance of the republican party in power, and be sure to turn out in goodly numbers at the polls on Sept. 12 and show to the rest of the state that there is no apathy in this town.

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children.

When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood.

Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

a pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventive of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

Sold by all Druggists. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00.

Mr. Butterfield has been troubled with hiccoughs for a few days past and is unable to retain much in his stomach, thus weakening his condition greatly.

The buildings on the "David Hoar" farm, which is owned by Mrs. Anna Ridgett, and occupied by Ara Ross and family, were entirely consumed by fire Friday afternoon. The family had just eaten dinner when smoke was discovered coming from the shed and in a short time the buildings were ablaze. As the wind was blowing a gale and the buildings were all connected it was impossible to save them. Help was telephoned for and in an incredibly short time a crowd had gathered but the fire gained headway so fast not much could be saved. Mr. Ross had about 25 tons of hay and part of his grain in the barn and had just finished putting in his year's supply of wood. He had no insurance. Mrs. Ross was formerly Miss Lucretia Staples of Phillips.

BALD MOUNTAIN CAMPS.

(Special to Maine Woods.)
Bald Mountain, Aug. 22, 1910.

This cannot be called the "hot month" this year, for there has not been a morning but what fires have been kindled in the camps, and the evenings have been delightfully comfortable.

The oldtime fishermen and "Amos" have great times talking over the experiences of past days, and the stories they tell are most interesting.

Mr. C. Fisher of North Attleboro, Mass., brought in a 4½-lb. salmon today that was served for supper. Mr. Fisher has fished these lakes for many years, and few people have as good a record, and few have killed as few fish.

Dr. E. G. Flint and son, E. G. Flint, Jr., of North Attleboro, returned home today after a pleasant outing of two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Veo and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Master Kenneth Veo and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Young of Newtonville, Mass., who are here for their first trip, are delighted with camp life. They had great luck fishing. The doctor on Sunday caught a 5-lb. salmon, and daily they caught all they wanted to eat.

Camp Daisy is again taken for a month by Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Fitts, Miss Doris and Master Lincoln Fitts of Newton, Mass., who are here for their usual outing. Their friend, Miss Carolyn Hawkins, of Cambridge, accompanied them.

The noonday hour seems to be the time for bathing, and the fine beach in front of the camps is where the company gather in their bathing costumes and take a dip, while many of them can swim a mile with ease.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Hunt and son, Master Everett, of Boston, are for their third season spending vacation days here.

Mrs. Henry M. Hall and daughter, Miss Mary Francis Hall, are another party of Bostonians here for an extended stay. Mr. Fred L. Johnson of Pawtucket, R. I., accompanies them.

This is the tenth season that Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Richardson of Somerville, Mass., have enjoyed life here at the foot of Bald Mountain. They are this year in Birch Bowler ledge.

Mrs. A. H. Eldridge and three children of Melrose, Mass., who have been in camp for a month, were on Saturday joined by Mr. Eldridge, and the family will remain until the middle of September.

Camp Pond is taken by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Peck of New York, who are for their first season at the Rangeleys.

Ex-Mayor David A. Eddy of Brooklyn, who with his wife have been here for a two weeks' stay, were so much pleased with the place that they have engaged a camp for the season of 1911.

This morning, the following New Haven, Conn., people, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beecher and daughter, in their Knox touring car and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wetmore in their Chalmers-Detroit touring car, after a pleasant stay of two weeks, started homeward via Poland Springs and the White Mountains.

There is a great demand for the teams, as the tourists drive over the country every pleasant day.

Bernard Ellis is now busy helping distribute the young fish from the hatchery. Tuesday he took 5,000 to Dead River Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven L. Bartlett of Boston have arrived at their new camp at Hrobsamcook, which they purchased of Chas. A. Robinson last fall, and have made extensive improvements. Mr. Bartlett and Hon. Chas. Sumner Cook of Portland have just returned from a trip through Holland. Mr. Cook is also at his new camp.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Haskell, who have for several weeks been at Arlington Lodge, started for Boston in their automobile Monday.

Mr. J. W. Ellis of Quincy, Mass., a brother of the proprietor, is assisting him in the office for a few weeks. Mrs. Ellis is here with her husband.

The prospect of a large number of guests to remain in camp during September does not seem as if the season was to close as early as usual this autumn.

Black Ducks Reported.

At the Augusta House Monday, Fred A. Willis, game warden of Sagadahoc, reported that a flock of fifteen black ducks have been summering on the Merrymeeting bay, but that he has not yet seen any ducklings. A few years ago a flock bred there and one morning Warden Willis saw 50 little ducklings swimming off the mouth of Muddy river, a pretty spectacle. When the mother duck is hatching out a brood, Mr. Willis explained, she will pluck feathers out of her breast and lay them carefully over the eggs whenever she leaves the nest to go out for a swim. Recently Warden Willis says the flight birds have commenced coming into the bay so that at present there are at least 50 old ducks on Merrymeeting waters.—Kennebec Journal.

NEW MAINE MAPS.

Androscoggin Basin Maps.

A series of important and valuable maps will be ready for distribution in a few days from the office of the state water storage commission at Augusta, Maine. These maps are the results of the surveys made by the state survey commission in co-operation with the U. S. Geological Survey.

The first set of maps, ten sheets in all covers the Androscoggin river from tide water at Brunswick to Errol Dam or lake level of Umbagog Lake. They are on a scale of one inch to 2,000 feet. They show the plan of the river and the nature of the topography along the banks, by contour lines. On each sheet is also shown the profile of that section of the river covered by the sheet in question. These maps show not only present water power developments along the river, but also any undeveloped falls or rips where water powers might be developed.

From these maps can be obtained a close estimate of the total horsepower that can be developed at the various points when studied in connection with the stream gaging records of the U. S. Geological Survey as published in the various water supply papers of that department.

The second series of maps, recently issued for this basin, will probably have a more popular interest as they are detailed maps of the lakes at the head of the Androscoggin river, on a scale of one inch to 4,000 feet, and cover Mooselookmeguntic lake, upper and lower Richardson lakes, Umbagog lake, and detailed drawings on a large scale of one inch to 400 feet, of the outlets of Mooselookmeguntic and the Richardson lakes.

These lake maps in general show the high water line, the low water line and the shore line that would result if the lake should be drawn down five or ten feet below present stages. There are also shown five, ten and twenty foot contours above the high water line. Furthermore, soundings are shown all over the lakes in question.

At the present season a surveying party is in the field mapping the remaining lake of this series, namely Rangeley lake proper, or Oquossoc lake. The same party will furthermore map Kennebeco lake and Kennebago river.

Similar maps have already been issued during the past few years of the Kennebec river and some of the more important lakes within its drainage basin and of the Penobscot river and a number of the larger lakes in that basin.

Maps of the Union River Basin.

The Maine state water storage commission announces that it will have shortly for distribution from its office at Augusta, certain special maps of the Union river and of a number of the lakes within its basin. The special river maps, in two sheets, cover from Ellsworth to Great pond. They show the plan of the river on a scale of one inch to 2,000 feet, as well as the profile. The lake maps, three in number, cover the following bodies of water:

Sheet 1. Abraham, Scammons and Molasses Ponds and Webbs Pond Outlet.
Sheet 2. Alligator, Rocky and Spectacle Ponds.
Sheet 3. Great Pond, Green Lake Outlet and Branch Lake Outlet.

The U. S. Geological Survey has recently issued a new topographic map of a portion of this drainage basin. It is called the Ellsworth Quadrangle.

It will be noticed in the list of the special sheets above that only the outlets of Green lake, Branch lake and Webbs pond are noted. The map of these three lakes themselves is shown on the Ellsworth Quadrangle.

The following is a list of the special river and lake survey maps published to date:

E'en Fishes Come to Those Who Wait.

I once did know a fisherman
Who fished the livelong day,
And nary a bite from morn 'til night
Did cheer him as he lay

On mossy bank near crumbling mill,
Yet never a complaint
Did ooze from mouth of fisherman;
Methinks he was a saint!

New all ye men who howl at fate
Come sing the fisher's song,
A' things will come to those who wait,

E'en though the wait be long.

Next day this patient fisherman
Fished hours in and out,
And at its close about him lay
A score of speckled trout.

For the Marlin.

Perham, Me., Aug. 24, 1910.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:
I have used about all kinds of rifles from .22 to .30 caliber and now I am using a 38-40 Marlin, which gives the best satisfaction, all round. The 38-40 high pressure is strong enough for moose, and the low pressure I use on birds, which makes it less expensive.

I have used different Marlin rifles, all with good results. And the Marlin company will do just as they agree. I have proved this.

PIANO FACTS & FIGURES

Would people in Lewiston, Auburn and Portland continually buy pianos of me unless I could save them a substantial sum?

Would a certain well known lady of Farmington bought a piano of me after a Lewiston dealer had a piano in her home on trial unless I could have saved her money?

I sold this lady the same make and style of piano that the Lewiston dealer had in her house on trial, and saved her just $105.00.

If you want to save money see me before buying.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving and Some Phillips People Know How to Save It.

Many Phillips people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Phillips citizen's recommendation.

H. F. Phillips, Main St., Phillips, Me., says: "I was subject to spells of back-ache for four or five years, but not until recently did I pay any attention to the trouble. A few months ago I found that my kidneys were not acting in their normal manner. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from W. A. D. Cragin's drug store and since using them my back has been free from pain and the kidney secretions have been regular in passage. Doan's kidney Pills proved so beneficial to me that I give them my highest endorsement."

Summer skies and a soft summer

Thomas, Joshua and Anthony Brack-

the early 1600's, and settled down in the New England states, whence their descendants have spread out nearly every part of the United States. Their loyalty to the Pine Tree state is shown, however, by the fact that of the one hundred people who gathered at Grand Army hall at Long Island for the eighth annual reunion, more than half were citizens of the state of Maine. The first reunion of the family was held July 4, 1902, at Peaks Island, at the sug-

a loyal descendant of the Bracketts, and it was there voted to make this assembling of family representaing at Long Island.

Mr. Ranger States His Position.

"Rev. J. B. Ranger of Springvale was read out of the Prohibition party recently after he had presented a petition to the county convention, asking them to endorse the nomination of Chas. O. Emery, the democratic candidate for sheriff. He was bitterly assailed by one of the delegates and on his suggestion it was ruled that Mr. Ranger had no right to vote in the convention. There was an intense feeling that none but died in the wool prohibitionists should have anything to do with the nominating of candidates, although after a three hours' fight Mr. Emery was endorsed by a vote of 3 to 2."
The above item, taken from an exchange, appeared in Maine Woods of August 4, and we have received the following communication from Mr.
Ranger in regard to it:

Springvale, Aug. 6, 1910.
To the Editor of Maine Woods:
I would like to make a few explanations relative to the local item that I read in your paper of last week.
At the convention I stated that I had not always voted the straight prohibitionist ticket, having in mind the election of two years ago, when the question of re-submission was up.
I voted for Mr. Fernald for governor and Mr. Emery (now sheriff) for sheriff. Otherwise, so far as I can remember, I voted the prohibitionist ticket.
There was in that convention one man (and only one) who raised an objection, and because of that objection I refused to vote. The matter was not brought before the convention. There was no ruling by the moderator. Had I stated my purpose to vote the ticket he would not probably have mentioned it. The gentleman who questioned my right made no attack upon me whatever, and so far as I know there was no hard feeling. I afterward found that there were many others who voted a split ticket two years ago.
Now I am writing to you simply a statement of facts. There was a warm and extended discussion relative to endorsing the democratic nominee for sheriff, but only such a discussion as frequently occurs at other places. It was not with bitterness or anger.
The matter is of no great concern to me, although I don't think you or any one in Phillips ever knew me to be engaged in any questionable thing or in any questionable methods, and I feel the same as you would feel. I do not care to suffer for any untruth, but I leave the matter with you. There was no action on my part at that convention that I feel condemned for, and were you here to consult those present, you would find no trickery. It was simply a reporter's blunder, with no regard for the truth.
J. B. Ranger.

Don't Break Down.
Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't overtax stomach, livserious danger to yourself. If you are any kind, take Electric Bitters, the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E.

months, is due wholly to Electric Bit-
