

FOR CONSTIPATION.

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which are odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. W. A. D. Cragin, Beal Block, Main St.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Union Church, Phillips.

Melvin Sherburne Hutchins, pastor. Calendar for week ending Feb. 4. Sunday, Jan. 29: 10.45, morning worship, sermon "Forgetting God;" 11.45, Sabbath school; 7.30 people's service, music by Choral club, address "A Christian's Choice."

Thursday, Feb. 2: 7.30 p. m., mid-week prayer meeting.

All are invited to attend these services.

The subject of the sermon preached at the Union church last Sunday morning by Rev. M. S. Hutchins was "The Higher Optimism." The text was from John 16: 33, "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

These sentences are found among the closing words of Jesus to his little band of followers. After he had told them "that he was soon to go away from them, had told them of the preparation that he was to make for their coming, had told them of the spirit which should come as their guide and comforter, had told them of the hatred of the world toward himself, and that should be shown toward them also, had told them of the great persecutions that should befall them, he said "In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

Nearly all of us have seen again and again hope vanquished by disappointment. We have been tempted to say that effort and strivings were of no use; we have had temptations to doubt and despair. It has seemed that everything was going to the bad; there was no use in striving against defeat, no use in working for "the good of society, no hope for better conditions.

There have always been metaphysicians or philosophers who have opposed this pessimistic view, and who have said that in the sum total of all earthly experiences the good has outweighed the bad, happiness has been more than sorrow. In all ages this question has been discussed and argued. Arguments generally have this weakness. Those who use them see but one side of the question considered. This is the weakness that belongs to philosophic optimism. Our human natures crave a ground, a reason for hopefulness, and if there be a reason for true optimism it must be found in life and its experiences. There are several classes of optimism with which we meet. There is the optimism of ignorance. This is that of the child who looks forward to a future rose-colored and happy, who expects to see dreams fulfilled and hopes realized, to whose vision all things to be desired are possible in the coming years. As we grow older we find that disappointment and defeat, also, are true. The success we expected is not always ours. We find sorrows mingled with our joys. The optimism of ignorance is not enough.

There is, also, the optimism of temperament. Some naturally look upon the bright side. They see whatever of joy or happiness or mirth may be found in each experience. You and I have been helped again and again by those who could smile when skies were dark. But this optimism of temperament does not include all conditions in its reckoning, and it is not enough.

We find, furthermore, what may be called the optimism of sentiment. Usually those persons who possess it belong to the class who are wont to exaggerate some feature or phase of the conditions which they find. They remind one of the suicide found in the room whose walls were covered with such mottoes as "Smile," "Keep on smiling," "Don't Worry." Outside things were not sufficient for happiness. Peace must come from within. Those who look for it otherwise are like the ostrich who covers his head that trouble may not find him. The gospel of smiles has many special pleaders, and is a splendid gospel, but it is not enough. Happiness must come from within. It is not enough unless recognizing the existence of evil, defeat, disappointment and heartache, it still endures.

The text points to a higher optimism than that of ignorance, or temperament, or sentiment. "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." This takes into account both sides of the shield. It admits sorrow, sin, defeat. But it sees in all history the nearness of God. History is an unrolling, an unfolding of purpose a driving away of darkness by light, which is from God. It tells us that God is, that the world is his, that history itself is the record of his plan which he has had from the first, and which is always tending toward ".....One far-off divine event To which the whole creation moves."

This higher optimism believes in the presence and the fatherhood of God as made known by Christ, and it shows us the saving power which may come into our lives through the example, through the life and death of Christ.

If Jesus, knowing the sin and sorrow of the world knowing the hatred that was sending him to this death, still had this sublime faith, this glorious optimism, what was his secret?

He had a constant perception of God, his Father, present with him. Over and over again he spoke of God as his Father. This was always his thought. He was obedient unto God. His work was always to do the will of his Father. And he followed the beacon light of love. The world which Jesus overcame, the world as opposed to the spiritual, is selfishness. It was of others Jesus thought it was for them he worked; he overcame the world of selfishness.

In human life Jesus saw sadness and sorrows. He himself was a "Man of Sorrows." Yet he went his way with the beauty of peace that drew the little children unto him always in his face. He gave his time to making life easier for others, trying in some way to life their burdens because of his love and sympathy. Having weighed all things, and counted the cost, he yet believed that the good would conquer, and he said "Be of good cheer."

He teaches us to see God, he teaches us to obey God, he teaches us to conquer selfishness and walk in love through the power given by our Savior. Then must we be optimists knowing that God's plan reches through the ages. "All is of God that is, and is to be, And God is good. Let that suffice for us."

HANDIEST FOR PERFECT BROILING.

"A Poor Stove is not Cheap at Any Price"

Our Lift Top Plate not only saves time and fuel, because it permits an even fire feeding, but you can here see how admirable it becomes for broiling. It does not swing out into space, but is lifted by one hand and held by an automatic catch, while the other hand holds the broiler. This is only one of twenty exclusive features incorporated in the which makes it impossible for any other range to equal it. Any broiler can be used, but our New Patented Broiler, which is sold by our dealer separately, holds your steak level, and opens in front, not backwards. We repeat, the unsurpassed cooking qualities of the STERLING come from numerous patented features which cannot be used in any other range, and it is also to your interest to know that solid cast iron radiates more heat than steel or sheet iron ever can. We have the detailed scientific investigation of Cornell University on this vital subject to hand you, as well as our booklet telling why it is only possible for the STERLING to "bake a barrel of flour with a hod of coal." Accept our dealer's invitation to inspect the range itself, and you'll become positively convinced of its vast superiority.

Weak Kidneys Make Weak Bodies

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains of Phillips people.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten a final breaking-down.
Overwork, strain, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.
Aches and pains, languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal right disease. There is no real hope for the sufferer except kidney pills.
Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and on every kidney ill. Phillips cures the proof.
Henry W. True, of St. Phillips, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills at different times during the past five years and pleased to say that they have never failed to give relief. I do not know another preparation that gives such results as Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I have the slightest recurrence of my old trouble I take this remedy and receive relief in a short time. I am willing to give my name as one who endorses Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all drs. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbr Co., Buffalo, New York, sole age for the United States. ## Sedgeley, Hoyt & Co. SUCCESS

The degree to which a man sees and purses the true ends of life and helps others to see and to pursue them is the unerring measure of his success—of his actual worth of himself, to his neighbors. Only a very thoughtful and earnest man can become genuinely successful. The frivolous and the pleasure seeking never catch more than a glimpse of a precious goal. While he who lives with his mind's eye ever intent upon it and his whole being absorbed in the one purpose of gaining it and of helping others to gain it, is a great and rare soul, of whom we do well to take note.

The only possible way of attaining success in its fullest measure is by hard labor and good thinking.

Mrs. Eliza Smith has been very sick, threatened with pneumonia. Isaac Smith is also sick.

Good weather!

James Bursiel's horse fell and broke a leg while hauling a load of birch, which made it necessary to shoot him.

Jack, the faithful horse of Mrs. Ida Webber, dropped dead recently.

We learn by telephone that Ed. Tyler of Phillips found a dead horse in his barn when he went out to feed up last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Cora Stinchfield has returned to Phillips, after a few weeks' stay with her daughter, Mrs. Bonney Webber.

From West Phillips and Madrid it may be said that the winter has been peculiar—much steady cold weather. The land is dry and the streams low. In many homes grip has prevailed.

A. J. Toothaker's family have had one of its members, at least, sick every day since Christmas. At Madrid, Isaac Smith and wife have had a hard time with grip. Mrs. Smith is at this time able to be out of bed a part of the time. Mr. Smith is still confined to his bed. Their son, Isaac, was called in Auburn at one time on account of the serious outlook for his mother. Dr. Currier has been in attendance.

An occasional tin comes up to West Phillips for tin loads of white birch. W. S. Hoge and H. B. Plummer are hauling poplar for H. P. Dill and Hodge crossing. They have about 125 cuds out at this time. Curtis Lavence and Fred Cadden have been hauling poplar for S. G. Haley. The land it on the siding near the Blin Mills Co.'s old office. Both Cadden and Lavence have been put to bed by sickness in their families.

The Easy Way

There are two ways of doing everything—the right way and the wrong way; the easy and the hard way.

In olden times people judged their physic by its severity. Now, however, they have learned that nothing but harm follows the use of violent purgatives and that in the end the easy way—the coaxing, persuasive way—is by far the best.

Rexall Fruit Laxative is a remedy embodying all of the qualities of a true laxative; a gentle, mild and pleasant medicine, and a guaranteed cure for constipation. It is sure in its action and results, and is free from all evil effects.

Rexall Fruit Laxative

may be used with perfect safety by all—young and old. It never gripes but at the same time is most thorough in its action, gently stimulating the bowels and liver, toning up the intestines, and restoring the digestive organs to a healthy condition.

The one great trouble with remedies of this class has been that the relief afforded was but temporary, the stomach and intestines being so weakened that after the first effects had worn off, constipation more severe than ever would set in. Again and again the patient would be required to resort to physic while with each recurrence the dose would have to be increased. In the end Nature would lose all control and chronic constipation would result.

Rexall Fruit Laxative overcomes this trouble. Instead of forcing Nature it encourages her. It accomplishes the desired end by strengthening the stomach, intestines and liver—by enabling them to perform their proper functions. It is a positive and permanent cure for bowel troubles, promoting perfect regularity and keeping the system clean and healthy.

Effect of Constipation

Constipation results in biliousness, headache, backache, coated tongue, foul breath, languor and lassitude, dullness, mental torpidity, liver complaint, jaundice and dizziness. It poisons the blood, produces pimples and blackheads and weakens the whole system to a point where disease finds easy development. With the cleansing of the bodily organism, however, nature speedily regains strength to resist disease. For this reason everyone should keep a bottle of Fruit Laxative handy, and take it as circumstances render necessary.

Among women constipation is coincident with disorder of the generative organism, painful irregularities and the weaknesses commonly designated by half a dozen terms, all of which, however, are of a local catarrhal origin.

In the later cases we strongly urge the use of Rexall Mucu-Tone in connection with Rexall Fruit Laxative. Together, these remedies will quickly banish all pains, stop all weakening losses and promote a condition of robust health.

The Rexall Guarantee

Give our Fruit Laxative a trial. If it fails to do all we have said it would—if it fails to give perfect satisfaction in every way—bring back the empty bottle and we will promptly refund your money.

We carry all the famous Rexall Remedies—there is one for each human ailment—and each is covered by the same guarantee—money back if not satisfied.

Sold only at our store. Mail orders promptly filled.

REED'S MILL, MADRID.

Jan. 16.
Marion, the youngest daughter of Frank Davenport, who has been very sick with typhoid pneumonia, is more comfortable at this writing, with a prospect of complete recovery. She is cared for by Miss Anna Sargent, who is a very efficient nurse.

Herman Sargent's daughter, Edith, is very sick with grip.

There are many sick ones in the place. Some are on the gain, while others are just coming down with the dread distemper.

There were no services at the church Sunday, on account of so much sickness.

The schools in both the Stowers and Dunham districts are closed on account of sickness. The former on account of the sickness of the teacher, Miss Jennie Wheeler, while in the latter school but three scholars were able to attend.

It is very cold this morning, thirteen degrees below zero.

IT GROWS HAIR.

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. W. A. D. Cragin, 1 Beal Block, Main St.
