Rangeleys is now giving dancing lessons each morning at the casino, and those under her instruction are greatly enjoying the classes.

Everyone to-day is talking about and busy getting ready for a masquerade dance this evening, which promises to be one of the social events of the season.

Those who brought their furs and warm clothes thought they were fortunate when they found the thermometer had taken a drop to 44 above zero this morning.

August 25.

"This is the end of the 40 days of rain, and now there will be 40 days of sunshine," declared one of the wise ones this morning.

There is still a house full of guests, and each night rooms are taken in the village homes by the tourists, and a number of parties who wish to come for an extended stay are waiting for rooms in the hotel to be vacated. There is not a happier company of over two hundred guests being entertained at any New England hotel than are now enjoying life at the Rangeley Lake House.

Thomas Earle White and son of Philadelphia came to-day for a stay of several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. L. Brown Belfield of the same city are also among the late comers who plan to remain several weeks.

Mrs. Wm. Schickel and daughters, Miss Schickel and Miss Gertrude, well-known New York people, who were greeted by many old friends on their arrival two weeks ago, have been joined by Miss B. Schickel and the ladies will enjoy the September days at this beautiful place.

J. C. Westewelt and son are New Yorkers that came Monday for an extended stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Lockward of New Canaan, Conn., while on an automobile trip to this part of Maine made a short stay this week en route for the White Mountains.

Last Wednesday was the fifth birthday of sweet little Miss Dorothy daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Marble. The occasion will long be remembered by the little lady and the following children: Douglass Jones, Nancy Wilson, Morris Burrows, Ralph Kendall, Jr., and Margaret Kendall, who were invited. The young chaperones were Ruth Marble and Elizabeth Mencke. In the dining room the table was beautifully decorated with pink, a birthday cake in the center, with lighted candles, the favors pink baskets filled with candy and the place cards ginger bread men with the verse, "run, run as fast as you can you can't catch me, I am the ginger bread man." No dinner party has received more compliments than these prettily dressed, happy little ones, who were more beautiful than the flowers and gifts they brought, with the good wishes that life's pathway for little Dorothy may be filled with sunshine.

Last night was the annual straw ride to Sunset Hill. About 6 o'clock two four-horse racks partly filled with straw were waiting at the door and as jolly, happy a company of 30 young folks as there is in Maine were soon calling good-bye to the more than 100 guests on the veranda. On Sunset Hill they cooked supper, then with mandolin and guitar gathered around the fire, sung songs and told stories until a late hour, when they drove back to the hotel by the light of August's full moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Service and son, Chas. A. J., of Philadelphia were week-end guests of the hotel.

Mrs. Charles A. Zinderstein and daughter, Miss Marion H. of West Newton, Mass., returned Tuesday for another season at this hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nickerson and party of Providence, R. I., were one of the automobile parties to tarry while en route for the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Harvey of Philadelphia were here several days the first of the week.

Many of the city people greatly enjoy a ride over the hills after one of the handsome span of horses from Ira Hoar's stable, while their big touring cars are left in the garage.

Helen L. Ball, Norton and Cotter Conway of Bronxville, N. Y., are new comers who will remain several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Eagleton of Newark, N. J., were here for over Sunday.

Many old friends were delighted to welcome Mrs. R. M. Speers of Brooklyn on her arrival this week to join her daughter, Miss Marion Speers.

Every morning the popular dancing classes of Miss Gilman in the casino are happy events and largely attended by the young people.

Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Thomas H. Bauchle, who has been here since early in the season and was this week called home to New York on account of the sudden death of her brother.

Mrs. P. F. Nieukirk and daughter of Camden, N. J., returned this week for their second season.

Mrs. Harpendier and Miss O'Connor are New York ladies who are much pleased with this, their first visit to the Rangeleys.

Edward G. Vaile of Portland is here for the remainder of August.

Dr. and Mrs. S. Holman and son, Dr. Anna Boudin of Brooklyn, N. Y., were week-end guests, also Mrs. George B. Cluett and daughter of Troy, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pratt Jordan of Chicago, while touring this part of New England spent a few days at this hotel the last of the week.

One of the social events of the season was the masquerade ball given by Miss Addie Wood and Miss Ruth Eisenhower on Wednesday evening at the casino, who sent out 75 invitations. At 8 o'clock the music called the masqueraders and the grand march was led by Leonard Sneckner dressed as the devil, with Kenneth Wood as a fairy. Among the others whose costumes were both pretty and amusing were Luther Wood, James Daily as artists, Morton Goodspeed as plain clothes man, Miss Wood and Miss Eisenhower sun-bonnet girls, Miss Schaefer as a gypsy, Miss Helen Sylvester as Liberty. There were Chinamen, monks, shepherds, dominos, etc. Miss Estella Mulqueen made a great hit when, as a shepherdess she came in leading a corset lamb that behaved like "Mary's little lamb." The dancers were showered with confetti. The contest was a lucky number one, and led by Luther Wood. Miss Helen Sylvester won the ladies' prize, a beautiful enameled powder box and Mr. Richards had six golf balls for his prize. Ice cream, punch and sandwiches were served and the merry dance went on until midnight.

Judge M. J. Mulqueen came from New York to spend Sunday with his family.

D. C. Mancke of Philadelphia joined his family on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lebkecher, Miss Ruth and Messrs. Carl and Robt. Lebkecher of Newark, N. J., are a delightful family all are glad to welcome for another season at the Rangeley Lake House.

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Merchant of New York, who enjoyed their stay last season have returned for a few weeks.

GUESTS KEEN IN OUTDOOR SPORTS

Cooler Weather Makes the Fishermen Active and Fine Catches Recorded.

(Special Correspondence.)

Kineo, Moosehead Lake, August 21.—This season is here and August reaches its second half with the biggest crowd and the greatest variety of summer activities this place has ever known. A big charity cabaret, the annual golf and tennis tournaments and two keen motor boat races over the ten mile course have made every day seem a holiday here.

The big charity cabaret at the Mt. Kineo, in charge of Miss Madeline Francis Gale of Boston, and for the benefit of local school children was easily the season's social success. The program was furnished by the younger summer people, and consisted of songs, exhibition dances, choruses in the handsomely decorated ballroom. The large ball room of the hotel had been filled with tables prettily decorated and converted into a cabaret restaurant. With spot light effects, fine music, and all the young and old entering heartily into the affair it was as successful as anything ever given at Kineo. The exhibition dancing by Albert M. Bartlett of Philadelphia, the polka glide by Miss Clarice Paterson of New York and Howard Rowland of Philadelphia, the exhibition one step by Miss Marjorie Sillocks of New York and Beach Barrett of Bloomfield, N. J., the candle-light chorus by the entire amateur company of thirty and the oriental dance by Miss Gale were all splendid features of a wonderfully fine program. While the program was being rendered refreshments were being served by tastefully dressed waitresses, so that one was lead to remark that it was almost like Broadway only different. All participated in the dancing, the "diners" among the rest, which lasted until a late hour. Miss Gale deserves great credit for conducting successfully so unique an entertainment.

It has been a busy week with the golfers. A cup for gravestone golf offered by C. P. Freeman of Philadelphia was won by Mr. A. M. Robinson of Louisville, K. Y., his allotted number of strokes taking by the eighteenth and within four feet of the twentieth hole, where he placed his epitaph. John Bancroft of Wilmington, Del., and J. Nelson Manning of Brookline, Mass., reached the nineteenth. The weekly medal play handicap cup went to Henry Feuchtwanger of Madison, N. J., who played almost perfect golf, his first round being 37 and his second 39. His son, Paul Feuchtwanger had second low net 78, with a handicap of 16. The children putted for a cup offered by Gwendolen Shaw of London, which little Eleanor, the daughter of Col. Judkins, won. An adults' putting match was won by Chas. Kuhn of Cincinnati, his daughter capturing the prize for the women remaining in longest. The past few days have been devoted to the annual tournament for the Mt. Kineo house cups, with the largest entry list ever known here, over forty starting in the qualifying round.

Baseball between Camp Wildwood and Kineo attracted a large crowd to Glendale field. The resort boys took the lead and held it to the end, although Wildwood put over a ninth inning rally that furnished some thrills, scoring one run and leaving two on bases when the last man was out, the result being 3 to 1. Brown's wonderful catch of a long fly which was labeled a homer, and would have cleaned the bases, saved the day for Kineo. Two games against Milo furnished fun for the fans this week.

Strenuous tennis marked the finals of a men's singles which has been on the courts for the greater part of a week. E. G. Kaufmann of New York and E. S. Kinley of Philadelphia came through the field and fought almost bitterly for the mastery, the first set going 11-9 to young Kinley. Mr. Kaufmann showed the strain and weakened in the second set which Kinley captured 6-2. There were many onlookers and much applause. The annual tournament had some splendid players, including Prof. H. E. Burton of Dartmouth, formerly Connecticut valley champion, Holcomb York of Yale and Otis C. Stanton of Harvard.

The cooler weather is making the fishermen active and some fine catches are being recorded. The prize for the week again goes to H. C. Warren of New Haven, who hooked a 6½ pound salmon by one fin and landed it after a struggle of thirty-five minutes. Mr. and Mrs. Warren also got some smaller salmon, averaging three pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Friant of Grand Rapids have taken some splendid strings of salmon, lake trout and white fish, Mrs. Friant getting a 4¼ pound salmon. I one of the neighboring streams Mr. Friant got a string of 25 brook trout and his companion the same number. C. M. Williams of New York got a good string of trout in Spencer Bay, and also saw a moose and about a dozen deer.

Kineo's distinguished visitor, Admiral R. E. Peary, was guest of honor among a group of gentlemen who enjoyed the hospitality of former Commodore Arthur B. Waring of New York on board the Waring yacht, the Ioneta. Others in the party which sailed to the beauty spots about Moosehead Lake were Dr. J. C. Boyd, U. S. N., retired, Dr. A. C. Stanley, U. S. N., of Washington, Lieutenant Commander L. M. Josephthal of New York, Mr. E. Kirk Haskell, G. E. Cooley, C. M. Williams of New York, Col. C. A. Judkins, Kineo, H. A. Freeman and Mrs. N. H. Davis of Philadelphia. The Admiral's departure was marked by a common salute and dipping of the colors from the terrace of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club's grounds.

Two keen motor boat races have marked the M. L. Yacht Club's activities, the first, for prizes offered by Commodore A. B. Waring was won by Commodore C. A. Conklin of Atlanta, Ga., in the Tallulah, the Kinahbeh, belonging to C. M. Clark of New York being second. The second race was captured by Dr. J. L. Hasbrouck of New York in the Firenze, the Mink, belonging to Holcomb York of New Haven, being second. Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Yacht Club are Henry Sheaffer, Pottsville, Pa., Commodore; Thomas Friant, Grand Rapids, Mich., Vice Commodore; S. A. York, New Haven, rear Commodore; Trustees Henry Sheaffer, Lesley G. Sheaffer, Pottsville, James K. Clarke, Philadelphia, James A. Brodie, Brooklyn and E. H. Outerbridge of New York.

Mr. Charles Hillis, formerly secretary to Ex. Pres. Taft, a brother of Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, is at Kineo with his family for August.

At a most delightful dinner party at the Mt. Kineo Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Williams of New York entertained the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Waring, Mt. and Mrs. Charles Martin

Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. R. Carpenter, Mrs. Laura Boothe of New York, Col. and Mrs. C. A. Judkins, Brookline, Dr. Frank Martin, Baltimore and Commodore and Mrs. C. A. Conklin, Atlanta, Ga.

Dancing is receiving usual attention. Nearly thirty couples competed for a cup offered by Miss Madeline Francis Gale for fox-trotting. After long deliberation because of the uniform excellence, Miss Clarice Paterson, daughter of Mrs. M. D. Paterson, of New York and Howard L. Rowland of Philadelphia were declared winners. Four children, Miss Eleanor Judkins, Miss Dorothy Kaufmann, Masters Charlie Clark and Danny Conklin were so nearly even in a preliminary contest that all were awarded cups, C. M. Clark being the generous donor.

Recent arrivals at the new Mt. Kineo are A. Aertsen, J. C. Rogers, John Gribbel and family, Mrs. Herbert S. Darlington, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rowland, Lewis M. Schamberg, Dr. and Mrs. George Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Belfield, Chas. S. Walcott and family, T. B. Dallas and family, John M. Strong, Mrs. Roberts Stevenson, Jr., Miss Cecile F. ## Tobacco, Like Food, Must Be Fresh To Be Good

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

LARGE PARTY ATTEND THE RACES

Many Mingo Guests Will Remain Until Late in the Season.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mingo Springs, Rangeley Lake, August 20.—The only reason there are not more guests here at Mingo this beautiful spot on the lake shore, is because there is not room for them and during the last week several parties who wished to remain, could not be accommodated and journeyed on.

Among those who have come during the last few days, some to remain until the first of October, others who will tarry only a few days are Mrs. Richard Katz and daughter, Miss Margery H. and son, Richard, Jr. of New York, who have been at Mingo for six summers. The party have one of the log cabins and will remain until the middle of September.

Mrs. John F. McClain and son, Bruce of Montclair, N. J., came two weeks ago and last night were joined by Mr. McClain. Mrs. McClain is a great lover of the wild flowers, mosses and ferns which she finds in the woods all about here and arranges them in a most artistic manner, and they attract much admiration on the office table.

NEW JERSEY LADY LANDS A BEAUTY

(Special Correspondence.)

Bald Mountain Camps, Mooselookmeguntic Lake, August 21.—With the camps all taken and the weather cool and pleasant everybody is happy and as soon as a camp is vacant a party who is waiting walks in and unless something prevents September will find more people here than ever before, the last month in the season, and several camps are engaged for the October hunting. This is a central place for the hunter and if the deer that are seen daily, in this vicinity do not take to the woods, the man with the gun will not have to go very far for game.

One of the new camps was taken for the first two weeks of August by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Richardson of Somerville, Mass., who was accompanied by Mrs. Richardson's mother, Mrs. E. C. Ashton and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. McCutcheon of Brookline, Mass., who came for the first visit to Bald Mountain.

Camp Sunset is taken for another summer by Mrs. C. A. Bryant, her daughter, Miss Marion A. and son, Walter T. Bryant of Newton, Mass., who find it an attractive summer home until after Labor Day.

Edwin Foss of Boston, Mrs. Bryant's brother, has recently purchased a lot of land below Mr. Fitts' place, and is having the ground cleared this fall and plans to build a summer home there next year.

Mrs. H. M. Whiting of Brookline, Mass., and son, R. A. Whiting, Harvard 1916, who come for their first visit have Birch-Bower camp and are greatly taken with life here in the woods of Maine. A. S. Rutherford of the same city was with them for ten days, and Mrs. M. L. Dingley of Boston and Miss Winnetta Lee Davi of Forest Hill, N. J., are now their guests, and they are enjoying visiting the different places in the Rangeleys.

The man who wears the smile is James Richie of Orange, N. J., who with Mrs. Richie have since May been enjoying the life on the lake shore. Mrs. Richie caused the smile, for one day recently they were out fishing when "the handsomest trout in the Mooselookmeguntic Lake" took the tempting bait she offered him, and with skill the fair angler brought the trout to the side of the boat and her husband netted him. When they reached the camp the trout weighed just 5 1/4 pounds and the speckled beauty will be mounted by H. L. Welch. One of the city men who was greatly excited when he saw a big trout for the first time said, "Why, I watched you out on the lake, when Mrs. Richie was playing the fish, but she never shouted or even acted a bit excited, and if it had been my wife she would have shouted so they would have heard her all over the lake, and I should have had all I could have done to keep the boat right side up."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. R. Ruchert of Providence, R. I., and party, who came the middle of July and spent six weeks in Camp Manhattan, were joined by their daughter and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fox of New York the first of August.

There is not a merrier or happier company in a Maine camp than the party of eight who have taken one of the large new camps for several weeks and named it "The Zoo." They are Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Flint of North Attleboro, Mass., who have been annual-guests for years. The Doctor said, "I think there is not another place that equals this, and best of all the charm is, that we can put on our flannel shirts, wear our camping suits, and no one ever looks at us as if we were crazy to dress as sensible men should dress when in camp for comfort." Their daughter, Miss Kathryn Flint, a charming young lady and a great favorite at Bald Mountain Camps is with them. Miss Flint in June graduated from Wheaton College.

Their son, E. G. Flint, Jr., of Harvard 1912 and a base ball player, has four college friends with him, Minot Crowell of Melrose, Mass., also a Brown University 1915 boy and a baseball pitcher that can throw the ball in a wonderful manner, Harry Street of Pawtucket, R. I., Yale 1915, Edward Freeman of Center Falls, R. I., Williams College and Chester Foster of the same city, who is a Princeton student. "Play ball! Well they all play the national game and are good at bat or ball, and can make a quick run," was the way one of their friends told it.

Camp Earl has been taken for two weeks by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Agney of Hartford, Conn., who were more than fascinated with camp life and hope to be annual guests after this. Mr. Agney for thirty years has been one of Uncle Sam's mail clerks and has now retired.

Clarence D. Bryant of Newton, Mass., this week joined his mother and sister in Camp Sunset for the remainder of the month.

Joseph Fox of Providence, R. I., and friend, S. Elias of Worcester, Mass., who came for their first visit plan to remain three weeks and with Fred Showler guide, are having a great outing.

Camp Ellis is taken by another party of new comers, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Colquhoun and little son of Andover, Mass., who find this just the place to keep cool and enjoy a restful outing.

Down at Allerton Lodge the flag is flying for three weeks, Dr. H. H. Haskell of Boston and brother, Albert Haskell of New York who have with them Prof. Eugene Clark of Dartmouth College and wife and son, Aiden. They have for guide, Charles Gibbs of Bates College 1916.

Berne Ellis with their new Reo car makes trips to the station for mail and passengers, takes people to Rangeley and is kept busy going in all directions.

There will be no dull days from now until the end of the season here at Bald Mountain Camps.

NEWS FROM PACKARD'S CAMPS

(Special Correspondence.)

Bangor, August 18.—For the past six weeks Packard's Camps have had more the appearance of a summer resort than a sportsman's retreat, for during this time the fisherman has brought his wife and family along with him to enjoy life in the real Maine woods. Each family has a cabin with an open fire, bath room and piazza overlooking the lake, and take their meals at the main camp dining room. The fishing has been remarkably good for landlocked salmon, small mouthed black bass, and the nearby ponds have produced some fine strings of brook trout. Chas. S. Duke, eleven days fishing, caught 39 salmon, smallest weighing two pounds, largest 4 pounds, 12 ounces. Mr. F. E. Mathewson, Jersey City, N. J., in one day trip to Grindstone Pond, caught 19 trout, smallest weighing one-half pound, largest one pound, 4 ounces. Miss Catherine Mills, New Britain, Conn., landed the largest salmon caught this week, weight, 5 pounds, 14 ounces, and it took Miss Mills 32 minutes to bring fish to net. Dr. George T. Chase, New York City, caught a number of nice salmon this week. His largest fish weighed 4 pounds, 8 ounces. Mr. Thomas Kimball, Belmont, Mass., caught a salmon August 13th that weighed 5 pounds, 5 ounces. Mr. E. E. Rideout, Boston, on August 10th caught a salmon that weighed 4 pounds, 10 ounces. Mr. R. E. Digney of White Plains, New York, has caught a number of fine salmon the past week, his largest fish weighed 5 pounds, 3 ounces. Mr. A. M. Mather, New York City, has been making one day trips to a little pond in back of the hills and has been getting some wonderful bass fishing. This is really a discovery of Mr. Mather's, as not even one of the guides knew that there were bass in this pond. The bass fishermen and fisherwomen are having exceptionally good luck on Sebago Lake. Bait casting is now the favorite sport. At the present time there is every indication that the September fishing, which has always been good at Sebago Lake, will this year be phenomenal, as the water in the inlets or feeders is at a good height, and the salmon will run to the pools at the foot of the falls earlier in September than in years past. A fair number of fly fishermen have already booked at Packard's Camps for the September fishing.

DIRECTORY IN CONVENIENT FORM

The Enforcement of Game Laws in 45 States Left to State Officials.

The sixteenth annual directory of officials and organizations concerned with the protection of birds and game in the United States and Canada, revised to July 15, 1915, has been arranged on the same plan as the directories issued each year since 1900. Its object is to present in convenient form the addresses of persons from whom information may be obtained concerning the game laws. It also shows the date of establishment of each State commission or wardenship, the changes which occur in such offices, and the publications issued by game officials.

The most important changes in 1915 are the establishment of a game and fish commission in Arkansas, the abolition of the office of State Game and Fish Commissioner in Florida, the provisions for the appointment of

PUZZLE WHERE TO FIND QUARTERS

Great Fishing at the Stream--Ex- Governor Having "Time of His Life."

Grant's Camps, Kennebec, August
25.—Midseason finds Landlord Grant puzzling where to quarter the people who "simply will" come to see the glories of beautiful Kennebec. Never before has August furnished excitement in the way of big fish at the stream. Every morning a score of lunches are packed for a day's sport at the pools or at Little Kennebec Lake.

The Kennebec pool will excel the big pool at Upper Dam said several enthusiasts during the summer.

Mr. Geo. Tracy and John Cook of Johnston, Pa., are here for their sixth annual trip to camp.
There were several days when over 25 fish, all weighing over two pounds were caught by these skillful fly casters. Not a small number of them just under the four-pound mark, and the best part of these gentlemen's record is that not more than two or three fish were killed, the rest being returned to the pools for someone else to catch.

Messrs. Tracy and Cook were joined by Dr. D. L. Yingling of Johnstown, Pa., and F. L. Stevens, Washington, D. C. Each of these gentlemen had fine fishing and said, "we will surely be back next year."

The largest fish yet was brought in on the 22nd by Mr. W. C. Ferguson of Garden City, N. Y. This one tipped the scales at 5 pounds, 9 oz., after being kept sometime out of water. To say that Mr. Ferguson was delighted would hardly express the facts, for he is on his first trip to this country and the big salmon netted will remind him of his trip.
He is accompanied by his son, Eric.
They plan to make an extended visit and are occupying Max and Murry Camps. Frank Philbrick is his guide.

August 1st brought Judge Wm. C.
McAdoo and wife, accompanied by Miss Eva and maid. They will be here for the month and already the genial Judge has ferreted out the birds' nest in his daily walks. Both he and Mrs. McAdoo are especially interested in bird and flower life, while Miss Eva is the high line of the family having brought in a 3-pound trout recently.

Ex-Governor Frank B. Weeks of Middletown, Conn., arrived August 7 for their annual month's visit in Harmony Lodge. The Governor was greatly pleased recently, catching a 3½ pound trout which he had mounted. On speeding a parting guest recently the genial Governor called,
"Tell my friends I am wearing my old clothes and flannel shirts and incidentally having the time of my life."

Judge Loranus E. Hitchcock and wife of Cambridge, Mass., are making their annual trip to camp. They plan to stay six weeks this year.
The Judge caught two trout recently, weighing about 3 pounds each while on a picnic trip. The Hitchcocks are entertaining Miss Kate Dauks of Springfield, Mass., and as usual have Jack McKinnon as guide.

Capt. and Mrs. T. M. Potts of Washington, D. C., are spending the summer in camp, and are very enthusiastic over the restful beauties of the Kennebec country.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Jones of Philadelphia, with Chas. Cushman guide, are enjoying the simple life in a tent on the stream beyond Little Kennebec. Though having had inclement weather, Mr. and Mrs. Jones are showing their good sporting blood by braving the elements and having a good rest as well as a fine time.

Waldo Pettengill of Rumford was a recent visitor in camp.

Dr. C. McNaughton of Jersey City with daughter, Miss Mae McNaughton are enjoying their first visit in camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Renwick of New York are back in the same camp as last season for their usual long stay. Mrs. Renwick derives great benefit from her visit in the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston Edgerly of Ottawa, Canada, arrived August 17, accompanied by their children, Ruth, Jean, son Master Johnston and nurse. Mr. and Mrs. Edgerly may be congratulated on their family of sturdy youngsters. The little misses are as much at home in the water as on land.

Miss Lucie La Coste Maddocks of New York City was a recent visitor in camp, having walked from The Birches, accompanied by her guide, Charles Record. Miss Maddocks is a very versatile young lady, being a writer for the Smart Set Cosmopolitan and other magazines, as well as having been a favorite among the movie stars for the Pathe Co., doing the out-door work for them, also swimming and diving in their high-class pictures. It is Miss Maddocks intention now to enter the field of play, writing, and she will be part author in a play which will come out soon and expects to return to the woods in September to study the life of the woods, that she may work their beauties into future work.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Adams, Miss
A. L. Crosby of Brookline, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, Miss Grace Johnson and Miss Margaret Taylor of Brookline are enjoying a few days in camp. They motored from Boston and will return through the mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Adams used to be visitors at the Beaver Pond Camps years ago.

Carpenter Leon Wright and crew of workmen of Rangeley were in recently to add more bath rooms and make other improvements about camp. In the fall several more camps will be put up, that some of the people who are anxious to come
may be accommodated.

Mr. Theo. DeWitt is making his second trip this season.

Bishop Putnam and Ulysses D.
Eddy, New York, are in camp for a two weeks' stay. This is Mr.
Eddy's second trip this season.

G. A. Harvey of Philadelphia spent a few days in camp recently, enroute for an exploring trip through northern Maine and Canada. He will return for a longer stay another year, being much pleased with the country and the fishing. Frank Philbrick was his guide.

Miss Maisie Butterfield of Farn-ington has taken Miss Sadie Pickens's place as stenographer. Miss Pickens was unable to finish the season on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sawyer, Elizabeth Sawyer, Auburn; Mrs. C. V.
Pohlson and Mary Pohlson, Pawtucket, R. I.; Mr. Marble and E. J.
Sterne of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. E.
W. Marshall of Rangeley were weekend visitors in camp.

H. R. Mackenzie, S. A. Miller, E.
C. Bonaventure of New York and guides, Geo. Huntoon and Herbert Moore were recent visitors at camp from Rangeley camps.

C. B. Hinds, Portland, accompanied by H. H. Wadsworth, Eastport, visited camp recently and fished for one day. They spent the day at one of the pools on the river and each secured a big fish to take home.

C. Z. Southard is again at camp for his annual August fishing, occupying alternately his tents at Little Kennebec and No. 4 on the big lake.
Guides, John L. Philbrick and Frank Huntoon. At present Mr. Van Thorn is visiting him.

Owing to the congestion in camp,
Mr. and Mrs. Will Grant and family gave up their camp and are now occupying No. 1, belonging to the Kennebec Hotel Co.

guests, who commenced by saying,
"Ernest Goodwin was the guide and he is famous as a cook. The fish chowder was a dream and had ten pounds of salmon in it." "Ten lbs.?"
I asked. "Oh yes, I forgot to say
Mr. Morse caught a 4-pound salmon and Mrs. Ingalls of Hartford, Conn., one 5½ pounds, and the smaller ones
did not count." "Then Ernest broiland said did you ever eat any of his fried potatoes and drink a cup of his coffee?"

Robins and Sparrows Lead.

The commonest bird in the northeastern part of the United States is the robin. The English sparrow comes a close second.

In the World of Finance.

When a poor man has too much money, he lends it to the bank; when a rich man hasn't enough money, he borrows from the bank.

OXBOW SCRIBE SAYS FAREWELL

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Oxbow August 23.—The perfume of the deep wet grass has faded away and the odor of the brown fresh-furrowed earth replaces it. The hay
's in the barn. Leastwise that's how it lies just in front of our home
camp at the Bow.

McLane's great field, a favorite place for deer to feed and disport themselves in much and often to our delight, has been turned over by a two-horse plow. What is to go in we do not know, probably "taters."
Will Libby has also turned over a large slice of his vacant land just east of the postoffice, between Will Currier's store and the little church on the hill. Good soil for oats. He is also plowing up a large section of his flat's land. If potato rust gets the upper hand in Aroostook (and there is much of it we hear) good spuds ought to bring a remunerative price next fall.

Oxbow society has been in a comatose if not decadent condition for a long time. All at once sportsmen began to come in so that now Billy has a nice large family in his log cabins at Lake Millmagassett and Will Libby has 26 sports in his several camps at Millinocket, Munsungan and elsewhere with as many more as guides and helpers. After a few days' bird shooting and the game hunting will take the lead of outdoor life in the woods.

From what we have seen and hear of this whole region, fish and game are plentiful. There is usually very little doubt as to success in either line of sport.

Recent arrivals at the Bow (Libby's) are Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Evans, Augusta, Me.; Howard I. James, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pelz, Yonkers, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Huntington
Lee, New Haven, Conn.; Mr. C. H.
Bugbee and daughter, Franc of Tampa, Fla.; and Mrs. James Doreman, Ashland, Me. The last three named are old-time friends of the Libby's. The Jerhume-Plympton-Thayer party of six have just returned to New York and New Jersey, after a very satisfactory tour of the Libby camps up river. They reported plenty of fish and deer seem to be numerous.

Before this letter reaches you your scribe will have been in the Bow four and one-half months and for the third summer. We hope to leave the Bow better than we found it. It is certain that we ourselves have been greatly benefited by our stay.
We have greatly enjoyed the genial comradeship of young and old; the fine forest and mountain scenery;
the pure bracing air and the wholesome food. There is only one principal addition we would make if we could, to its daily charms, that is a nearby lake, well stocked with trout, or, failing that a well made or fairly well made road to the several lakes west of the Bow. We miss the water greatly.

We have sent you now a weekly letter from the Bow for twenty weeks, containing some sense, more nonsense and a little news. We have tried to put the Bow on the map as plainly as we were able and we wish to thank you (in bringing our visit here to a close) for your willing and generous co-operation to that end.
We shall be pleased to know that next year you intend to give some space in your valuable paper to this end of the state. We wish to assure you again, and more emphatically if possible, that this whole region is practically untouched for both fish and game. Go to it!

To travel the beaten paths is one thing; but to leave civilization behind and all the frills and frumpiness of "society," so-called, follow the hidden trail or blaze a new one, get right down to brass tacks and shingle nails; camp on the dry ground and struggle through the jungle, and battle with the flies, is quite another and far different experience.

"Through these green tents, by oldest Nature drest,
He roamed, content alike with man
and beast.

Where darkness found him he lay glad by night;
There the red morning touched him
with its light."

Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Our hardy voyageurs, the guides, of whom there are many, paddle their canoes through the dead waters, and pole them through boiling rapids, with incredible perseverance and success, never complaining, nor showing the least fatigue. They are a fine, husky lot, and fairly earn their pay, whether it be $2.50 or $3.00 a day.

Mr. Kepple Hall of the Eastern
Mfg. Co., Bangor, Me., and Mrs. Hall arrived at Libby's home camp, Oxbow, last Saturday. They plan to take an extended tour of several lakes and streams, coming out at Norecross on the Penobscot, and so along down home.

Jack Vance, Manager of the New Britain Conn. Herald is making a fine trip to the Ripogenus dam country, with Clarence Reed for guide.
Dr. H. J. Baldwin and family now at Libby's camps at Lake Millmagassett, will come down river September 3,
and leave for their home at Chestnut Hill, Mass., the next day.

"Die and be buried who will,
I mean to live here still,
My Nature grows ever more young
The primitive pines among."

A SUNDAY FEAST

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Rumford, August 19.—Mr. Elroy Horton, machinist at a local paper mill, is spending his vacation at his cottage on the shores of that magnificent lake, Worthley. Sunday the 15th Mr. Foley in response to invitation over the wire from Mr. Horton motored in haste to his picturesque camping ground where all lined up to a swell shore dinner, consisting of salmon and baked clams. The salmon were rare specimens taken from Worthley in plain view of the camp. As to the clams Mr. Foley did not say natives or otherwise. The least he says is Mr. Horton is a chef. His fellow sportsmen should feel proud of him. He is taking on good color out there, as he gazes at the lofty mountains all around. As a cook his equal cannot be found and in his boat takes many a fleetly ride. Yet Roy drinks only from the boiling spring by the mountain side.

MASQUERADE BALL A SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Smith, Wm. B. Palmer of Bath and Mrs. Edith A. Smith of Cambridge, Mass., are recent comers.

Now and then someone goes fishing in these days, and when E. Ledelley of Brooklyn, who does not play golf wants a little exercise he rows around the lake, and to prove he knows where the salmon hide brought in a 5-pounder yesterday and a 6-pounder and one 5¼ pounds a few days ago.

F. C. Mencke of Philadelphia, with Loring Haley guide, on Monday caught a 6½ pound salmon.

S. F. Jacobs of New York caught a good pair of salmon, 3½ and 3¾ pounds. C. D. Barry of Montclair, N. J., one 4½ pounds.

Tuesday evening Miss Ruth Marble gave a dinner for her friend, Miss Elizabeth Mancke of Philadelphia. The table was prettily decorated.

Life here at the Rangeley Lake House is very gay. There is a dinner dance for to-night, several picnics planned if the weather will allow, a large number are always on the golf links, afternoon teas, bridge parties, automobiling and horseback riding, while long walks over the hills or following the trails through the forest, for those who love life in the open.

One of the busy places in the Rangeleys is the Western Union telegraph office at Marble's wharf, where at the stone station, Miss Rowe, the accommodating and competent operator has for days on an average had over 100 a day to correctly send and receive.

Tuesday the Mooslookmeguntic boys came up for a close game, the Rangeley Lake House winning 5 to 4.

DEATH OF POPULAR LADY

(Special Correspondence.)

The Barker, August 20.—Here in this beautiful region of ours sorrow often casts shadows and many are those who will be deeply grieved to hear of the recent death of Clara Brown, wife of Captain Nathan Barrett.

It was twenty years ago that Miss Clara Brown of Mayfield came to work for Capt. Fred C. Barker and fifteen years ago was married to Captain Barrett, and they have always been great favorites with the many guests entertained at Bemis, Birches and The Barker.

"Clara," as she was lovingly called was faithful in all her duties, of a sunny and happy disposition, making and keeping a large circle of true friends.

For several winters Mr. and Mrs. Barrett have had a cozy pretty home on High street in Lewiston, where they have enjoyed a rest between the seasons and entertained friends.

For several weeks Mrs. Barrett was not well, but no one thought it anything serious, and only a few days before she went to Lewiston was a Doctor called and she decided to give up her work and go to the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Scannell in Auburn, where everything that medical skill and loving care could do was done, but Bright's disease quickly developed and she lived only a week.

It was a great shock to learn of her unexpected death. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent from friends here at the lakes.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scannell, Rev. Mr. Cummings officiating and the burial was at Oak Hill cemetery, Auburn. Besides her husband, Mrs. Barrett leaves one brother and a sister and a large circle of friends who extend heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted family. "Clara" was dearly loved and will long be remembered by those who knew her here at the Rangeleys.

Romance in the Moonlight at Mooslookmeguntic.

(Special Correspondence.)

The Barker, Mooslookmeguntic Lake, August 23.—"It's all one can do to tell who comes and goes, this successful and pleasant summer. One of the best seasons in its history is the story in a nutshell."

It doesn't make a particle of difference whether it showers, blows, or even rains, happiness is rampant, and continuous. The men fish just the same, and the ladies walk, and they both join at the casino in the evenings to hear splendid music, and trip the light fantastic.

In the interval since the writer visited here, several entertainments have been held, including a mock trial, masquerade ball, and an old-fashioned party. Its a toss up whether the mock trial or the old-fashioned party aided digestion most. For a down-right excuse to laugh either was genuine; the beauty of the whole thing is that it is everybody to the front making fun, and hard to single individuals for mention.

Louis M. Cohen and Miss Irene Younker of New York defeated Fred Sonn and Miss Jeanne Jacoby of New York in the finals of the tennis tournament, 5-7, 8-6, 6-2.

Late arrivals at the hotel are Mrs. B. Binswanger and Miss Julia Binswanger of Phila., Pa.; H. C. Desauter, H. L. Bair, R. N. Buxbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Percy S. Sykes, Herbert Strauss and Fred Sonn, New York City; Dr. Bernard Cohen, Providence, R. I.; Robert J. Gibson and John A. Congratulations are in order.

BANKER GOOD TRAPSHOOTER

Some Observations About Business at the Traps.

It would be interesting to know just how many bankers in the United States are shooters.

A man who handles a great bulk of correspondence from trap enthusiasts says that a considerable percentage of his correspondents are connected with financial institutions in some way or other.

No, it isn't necessary that a man should be a banker to enable him to shoot at the traps; the overwhelming majority of trapshooters are undoubtedly men who get their daily bread in less remunerative operations. It is easily possible for a man to enjoy a lively afternoon's sport at the traps for the price of a seat at the theatre or baseball game. It is a sport within the reach of every man's pocketbook.

Here is the point: Bankers have to keep brain, nerves and eyes keen and muscles active. They must be in prime condition at all times—with all faculties alert—to consider his propositions. They must be able to readily size up men, values, plans and policies and to make sound decisions quickly. So they naturally favor a sport that is a builder of the aforesaid qualities and conditions.

From the ranks of the bankers came the winner of the Western Handicap, Mr. Wm. J. Raup, assistant cashier of the City Bank of Portage, Portage, Wis. Mr. Raup is a fine type of the clean, progressive American business man who is becoming more and more prominent in trap-shooting circles.

"Billy" Raup's win was one of the most popular that I have known about in the recent history of the sport," says a well-known sporting editor, who saw the banker trapshooter triumph over a field of 230 shooters at the big St. Louis Meet, June 17. "There never has been any better shooting than Raup did in that gruelling race for the Western Handicap event," continues the sport writer. "He banged through to a tie with two other, splendid shooters, breaking 97 of the 100 birds, shooting a Remington pump gun and the spee shells. Then came the severest test that can come to any shooter—the shoot-off before a big 'gallery' of spectators. In this event forty targets were thrown. Raup stood up like the dependable veteran that he is and broke 37 out of the 40. His competitors broke but 36, which gave the verdict to the man from Wisconsin on two counts."

The Western Handicap, one of the Interstate Association's largest tournaments, was only one of a long line of winnings registered by Mr. Raup during his career at the traps. In 1910 he won the preliminary handicap of the Grand American Handicap at Chicago, breaking 99 out of 100, and coming out of a shoot-off with flying colors, breaking 20 straight against his competitor's 17.

In 1913 Mr. Raup won the championship of his home state, breaking 95 out of 100 for the honor. Another one of his winnings this year was accomplished as a member of the Badger Gun Club of Milwaukee, which won the Inter-State Team Shoot at Chicago, May 9.

Consistent shooting has probably been the most conspicuous feature of Mr. Raup's trap record. He keeps on making good scores year after year, and in the process continues an important part of his training for the activities of business.

A VETERAN CAMPER RENDERS VALUABLE SERVICE TO THOSE IN QUEST OF OUTDOOR RECREATION

By A. Hunter.

A man once returned from a certain angling resort, saying that while he had found the fishing good the catching had proved rotten. This is a pretty common experience of those who go first and inquire afterwards. The "where-withal" is mighty important, of course, but the "where" men, and make sure that each one is referred to a satisfactory place." It is so easy that many people wonder that Summerson ever manages to find the time to get his hair cut.

"SHOOT A SHOTGUN IF YOU ARE NERVOUS," SAYS 95-LB GIRL TRAPSHOOTER.

Mrs. Ada Schilling, of San Jose, crack shotgun shot, recently broke more than 90 birds out of a possible 100 at the three days' trapshoot tournament held at Venice.

This is conceded a remarkable average, says the San Francisco Daily News. Mrs. Schilling will soon go to the mountains to bag some game—big and small. Some of her best shooting has been done on hunting trips; target shooting only keeps her in practice. Mrs. Schilling began her career as a marksman with a rifle at inanimate targets; shotgun shooting was taken up later and she now declares it to be the better sport. "Using a shotgun gives a woman self-confidence," declares Mrs. Schilling; "it comes as a close second.

WM. J. RAUP, PORTAGE, (WI S.) BANKER AND TRAPSHOOTER

From Alaska to Newfoundland, from California to the Gulf of Mexico there are numberless places where the "catching" is fine. Why not find them out?

This, for some years, has been the main purpose in life of the well-known big game hunter and fisherman, C. T. Summerson, who has established an Information Bureau and Guides' Registry at Abercombie's Camp, 311 Broadway, New York City. The name of the sportsmen is legion, and a strong advance guard has begun to march upon him. They know that he arranged the remarkable trip taken by Captain James A. Morrison, of the Grenadier Guards, now at the front in Belgium, and accompanied him to Alaska, where the World's Record Osborn caribou was obtained, and fifty-seven other specimens, including moose, caribou, sheep, grizzly, brown and black bear, deer, goat, elk, etc. Men of prominence, such as Mr. E. C. Converse, Mr. Albert Z. Gray, Mr. Chas. Oelrichs and many others, have sought his advice and gone on rejoicing.

"It is perfectly easy," declares Summerson. "All you need, to start with, is to have hunted for a score of years, and likewise fished, all over the country. Then you only have to read everything that is published in sportsmen's papers about successful trips and lay every bit of useful information aside. Then you just correspond with all the guides ever mentioned and ask them the names of all the people they ever led afield. After this you find out from the latter whether the guides gave perfect satisfaction. One goes around oneself, between breathing times to find out exactly the lay of the land. Then all you have to do is to sit down and answer a few hundred letters a day from eager sportsquicken the action of the eye and brings every muscle into play. It is a positive cure for nervousness."

PRIVATE LINE TO NEW YORK

Party Will Go on a Month's Trip to Wilds of Maine.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mountain View House, Rangeley Lake, August 20.—The fine weather makes everybody happy and daily brings a crowd.

Camp Don't Worry is taken for the remainder of the season by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Howe and son, Frank M. Jr., and Miss Margaret Tallock of New York, who came in their touring car. This is their first visit to Mountain View and they are much pleased with the place.

Mrs. Arthur Sylvester and children of Montclair, N. J., have been joined by Mr. Sylvester.

Mrs. H. F. Holloway and daughter, Miss Jeanette N. Holloway of Montclair, N. J., were heartily greeted by old friends on their arrival Saturday and will later be joined by Mr. Holloway.

"Fisherman Hawkins" of Providence, R. I., is again on duty after an illness of several days, but he did not forget the art of landing the big fish for he brought in a 6½ pound salmon one day recently.

A. C. Sayer of New York also records a 3½ pound salmon this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liebman of New York, who have enjoyed a number of seasons at Mountain View have returned for an extended stay.

Mrs. West Bissell of Philadelphia left this morning for Kineo, after a pleasant stay of six weeks and plans to be back early next year.

Dr. Arthur L. Beals and Dr. Edward S. Bryant of Brockton, Mass., who are on an auto trip to this part of Maine made a short stay here this week and regretted they could not get rooms to remain longer.

The following party came last Sunday planning to enjoy life at this popular summer place until the last of September: Mrs. I. N. Lewis, Robert Lewis, Edwin W. Lewis of Greenwich, Conn., E. W. Morse of New York, Miss J. Maire and Miss Lavery of South Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dunham have been joined by their friend, Howard P. Wise of Brookline, Mass.

The following party of well-known Pittsburg, Penn., people in their touring cars came across the country from Eustis for a short stay this week: Mrs. G. M. Laughlin, Jr., Miss Katharine S. and G. M. Laughlin, 3rd., Miss Marcella Callery, Miss Elizabeth Shaw, Miss Alice Scully, and Herbert De L. Havrighes of Morristown, N. J.; Pierrepont, D. Schreiber of Short Hills, N. J., and their guide, Richard Willson of Jackman, Me.

Mrs. J. R. Hawley, Miss A. M. and Miss E. J. R. Hawley of Hartford, Conn., came from Spring Lake in the Dead River country and plan to remain here for sometime.

It seems strange to hear the tick, tick, of the telegraph instrument as one steps into the office of this hotel, but it is ticking just the same, and over a private wire from here to New York which has just been put in for the use of a well-known broker, Benj. B. Bryan of New York City, who first came here two years ago with A. Montgomery, Jr., and was so much pleased with the place he wished to spend several weeks here this season, but in order to do so he must keep posted in the stock market, and as from New York to Chicago he has a private wire, decided to have one from New York to Mountain View and to send one of the 18 telegraph operators from his office to take charge, and the man was here and the wire is in order and the messages being taken, as this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bryan in their touring car, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan's sister, Mrs. Allen L. Reid of Chicago arrived. All hope the coming weeks will bring much pleasure to the party who hope to remain until October.

Mrs. T. S. Rowlett of Brookline, Mass., this week joined her son and Mr. Rowlett is expected in a few days.

A. E. Stevens of Boston is spending vacation days here.

Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Slight of Newark, N. J., came last week planning to remain for a month.

Two young gentlemen, who hiked it through the White Mountains, C.

A. and R. Frank W. Battenburg of Scranton, Penn., then crossed the lakes, were here for a few days' rest this week, then continued to strike the trail over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hazen of Boston, who have been here for several weeks left for home this morning, going via the chain of lakes, then to Umbagog lake and Dixville Notch, home by the White Mountains.

Rev. Fr. T. J. McLaughlin, who has charge of Our Lady of the Lakes church at Oquossoc has been spending the week at his old home in Lowe's Mass.

It is most pleasing to learn an effort is being made and an enthusiastic meeting was held in the big parlor of this hotel last night to arrange for the building of a beautiful new church at Oquossoc, and as there is only the little Catholic chapel at Oquossoc and a Baptist church and Catholic chapel at Rangeley village, no doubt thousands of dollars can be raised and a minister paid a good salary with but little effort, and it is hoped the church will be built and ready to dedicate early in the season of 1916!

Last week A. Montgomery, Jr., and sons, Kenneth and DeForest of New York and their friend, W. Roger Fronefield of Moylan, Penn., with four guides, Fred Fowler, Jim O'Brien, Carrol Hewey and Frank Fall started for a month's trip in the wilds of Maine, that will be one of adventure. From here they first go to Kineo. Then from Moosehead they go through unknown country, and will not be heard from again until they reach Fort Kent. They will take a trip down the St. John river and a host of friends will expect "Montie" will return to Mountain View by September 12, which is for his friends a day to celebrate, as they help him to pass a milestone along life's highway. All will be eager to hear of their experiences while "far from the haunts of men," and welcome them back again.

a single officer instead of a commission in Minnesota and New York, the consolidation of the office of game warden with that of several other offices under the Public Domain Commission in Michigan, and under a Board of Conservation in Wisconsin, and the reorganization of the commissions in North Dakota, Ohio, and Oregon.

In 45 States and Territories the enforcement of game laws is entrusted to game commissioners, wardens, or other State officers; in Florida, Mississippi, and Nevada to county wardens; in Virginia to city and magisterial district wardens; and in the District of Columbia to the Metropolitan police. The first special game officials were the local officers appointed in Massachusetts in 1739 for the preservation of deer, and called deer Reeves in 1764. Moose wardens were appointed in Maine in 1852, and ducking police in Maryland in 1872. The first State commissions whose jurisdiction was extended to include this work were the fish commissions of California and New Hampshire in 1878. Several national organizations are interested in the protection of birds and game, of which two are really international. In addition State associations and many local organizations cooperate in the work of protecting game in 31 States. One of these associations was organized in 1844, another in 1865, and a third in 1871. Similar organizations have been formed in 8 Provinces of Canada, of which 1 in Nova Scotia was established in 1853 and 1 in Quebec in 1859. Finally, 38 States have Audubon societies, organized especially for the study and protection of non-game birds.

A New Questions and Answers Department of Interest to Shooters

C. M., Rapid City, S. D.

1. How would you interpret the "Migratory Bird Law?"

Ans. As near as I can figure it out, the Federal Migratory Bird Law permits the shooting of ducks in South Dakota from September 7th to December 1st, that is, shooting may be done on September 7th and thereafter up until December 1st, but not on December 1st. According to the law of South Dakota, the season is from September 10th to December 1st. This includes September 10th and does not include December 1st.

2. Will it be lawful to shoot ducks in the fall? If so, at what time?

Ans. I can see no reason why you should not begin planning a duck hunt sometime during the above mentioned season.

A. E. W., Temple, Texas.

I have just purchased a 20-gauge repeater, 28-inches full choke. Will thank you to advise me by return mail if shell loaded with 22 grains of Ballistite and 7/8 ounces 7 1/2 chilled shot will be too stiff a load for this little gun. Also, advise me as to 20 grains same powder and 7/8 oz. same shot. These to be loaded in 3-inch shells. I have just been out and tried the gun for shooting, but did not have the ammunition I wanted. The shells I had were loaded with 18 grains Infalible and 3/4 oz. No. 6 shot, 170 pellets to the load. Shooting at 15 yards at an old catalog (about 20 pound paper) 11x17 in. 127 of the 170 pellets struck the book, eight of them penetrating 200 pages (100 sheets) and the balance lodging within ten pages of back. Shooting at 35 yards, 100 pellets struck within the 30-inch circle, but seemed to be a little low. Upon cleaning the gun, I noticed the sight protruded about 1-32 or 1-16 inch inside the barrel. Would this tend to affect the accuracy or pattern of the gun, the wad catching on the end of sight and causing the load to go a little low, or make an uneven pattern? I have removed the sight and filed same down so the end comes flush with inside of barrel, but have not shot any more since I did this.

Ans. The heaviest load supplied in the 20 gauge shell is 20 grains of dense smokeless powder such as Ballistite or Infalible and 7/8 oz. of shot. This load costs extra from the different manufacturers. It would seem to me it would be a wiser thing to secure a gun of larger gauge such as 16 or 12 gauge if you wish to do heavier work. You cannot expect a 20 gauge gun to do the work of 12 as it is mechanically impossible for it to do so. A gun made with a slight protruding into the barrel is an evidence of very sloppy workmanship and would be likely to have an effect on the pattern. If you have filed this projection down level with the inside of the bore on the barrel, there should be no further trouble.

L. N. E., Youngstown, O.

I am writing you to ask a few questions regarding a recently purchased .22 S. & W. Bekeart Model Target Revolver purchased several weeks ago, and I am having the following trouble with it: Holding the gun the way it naturally fits into my hand, when I lower it onto the target, I find the sights always out of line, with the front sight always away off to the left. Then to get the sights lined up, I have to twist the gun around so that the muzzle is twisted to the right and then the sights are in line. I have to hold them there by keeping my mind on it, as if I forget it, they slip back—that is the front sight slips over to the left. Have tried many different ways of holding the gun, but always have this trouble. Holding the gun strained away, it naturally does not make good shooting. Sights are set correctly for twenty yards. Can you advise me if you have ever heard of any such trouble with this gun? I have a rather large hand with long heavy fingers. Am inclined to think it is the grip, but would like to have the benefit of your experience. I would certainly be very much obliged for any information or advice you may be able to give me.

Ans. I have never had the trouble you experience, although I hold a revolver in such a way that my wrist is naturally twisted around somewhat in the way you say. I would suggest that you try building up the back of the grip and then use the second instead of the first joint to pull the trigger. It is of course very difficult to tell you just what to do without actually seeing you hold the gun. Try this any way, and if it does not produce results, write again.

A. C. M., Boston, Mass.

I have a Hopkins & Allen revolver Safety Police, 5-inch barrel, .38 S. & W. calibre.

1. What makes it break open when it is fired?

Ans. I would take this up with the manufacturers. Probably the spring which holds the locks is weak, or the locks do not sit properly.

2. What has the most power, Smokeless or Black powder?

Ans. In revolver ammunition smokeless powder cartridges are loaded to produce the same results as black powder.

3. What is the range of the S. & W. .38 calibre?

Ans. If you mean accurate range, that is, distance at which good target work can be done—about 50 yds.

4. Can a H. A. shoot as good as a Colt?

Ans. It would not be fair to draw direct comparisons between makes.

W. J. W., New Hambrugh, N. Y.

1. Will a .32 S. & W. New Departure revolver shoot .32 Long S. & W. as well at .32 shorts?

Ans. No.

2. Can a revolver or rifle be re-buffed after the blue finish has once worn off?

Ans. Yes, the factory who made the revolver or rifle will do this.

3. How much do you think this revolver is worth second hand, .32 S. & W. New Departure 3 1/2 inch barrel, perfect inside, but the finish is worn off. Is a revolver like that worth $9.00?

Ans. It is rather hard to say without seeing the revolver. This model usually sells for about $14.50 new.

H. S. R., Wallace, Idaho.

I wish you would advise me of the accurate shooting range of .25-

35 Winchester carbine and also the extreme range of same. Is the .25-35 large enough for deer, bear and elk?

Ans. The accurate shooting range of the .25-35 cartridge is about 500-700 yds. The ultimate range would be in the neighborhood of 10,000 ft. A number of these rifles are used for deer and bear, and also for elk, but if you are going after this game particularly, it is best to use a heavier cartridge.

E. H., Punxsutawney, Pa.

A few months ago I came in possession of a gun the calibre of which I have been unable to find so I am sending you a few of the markings to see if you can help me out any. It is a bolt action; model 1876, has a 24-inch round barrel, a box magazine for four or five cartridges. This name is on the breech of the barrel, "P. Stevens, Maastrecht" and below it is 202, and I do not know whether this is the calibre or not.

Ans. I do not identify it from the markings. I would suggest that you make a cast of the chamber. This can be done either with paraffine wax or better with a mixture of sulphur and graphite, sulphur three parts, graphite one. Send the cast to one of the ammunition manufacturers and see if they cannot identify the cartridge.

H. W., South Marlboro Village.

1. Will a .32 S. & W. cartridge fill the place where a .32 Colt is supposed to be used?

Ans. No.

2. What kind of game are there in the mountains near Hazard, Ky.?

3. I have an 1894 32-40. What kind of game is it good for?

Ans. It should be good for game up to and including deer.

4. Do you have to have a license to hunt in Kentucky? If so, what is the cost?

Ans. Kentucky hunting license, non-resident or alien, $15, resident $1. They expire December 31st.

5. Can a person go into the mountains near Hazard, Ky., and build a shack and trap; if so, what kind and how many firearms are needed?

6. About how much would it cost to go from Weehawken, N. J., to Hazard, Ky., by train?

7. When does the hunting and trapping season commence in Kentucky?

Ans. I cannot answer this as you do not say what game you are interested in. The season is different for each kind of game.

SHORE DINNER UP THE CUPSUPIC

Yale and Harvard Boys Will Have to Practice.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, August 22.—"What if there was only one day in July at Newport that the sun shone, we have had a pleasant week here on the lake shore," said a New York lady, when the rain began to patter as if singing a merry song to-night.

The week has been crowded with pleasures, while the hotel and camps have been crowded with people, for the house count of 102 was the largest of any time.

The concert in the parlor this evening was highly complimented by the large company who much appreciated the orchestra and the songs by Miss McCormick, Miss Mary Rogers and H. L. Welch. Not often to a country hotel is there so much musical talent as this season at the Mooselookmeguntic House.

Rev. Fr. T. J. McLaughlin of Farmington and Rev. Fr. W. B. Collins of Brooklyn, N. Y., who preached a most interesting sermon at Our Lady of the Lakes church this morning, were guests of the hotel for dinner.

Hon. George D. Bisbee of Rumford and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Josselyn of Portland, who are spending a week at Oxford Bear Camp, were greeted by friends. Mr. Bisbee, who first came here for a fishing trip in 1865 can tell in an interesting manner the great changes and improvements that have come to this wilderness country during that time.

E. L. Rankin and friend, Dr. F. R. Chapman of Boston after a two weeks' fishing trip, regretfully reeled in and started for home with a good catch of fish to take to their friends, as a proof of their skill angling.

Dr. Henry A. Callahan of Boston invited a party of 20 for a sail up Cusnuptic stream and a shore dinner on Wednesday. "It was such a jolly picnic, there is nothing like the life out in the open and vacation days at Haines Landing" was the verdict of a little Boston lady.

Miss Bertha I. Poore of Andover and friend, Mrs. Lila Perham of Portland have pitched their tent among the trees near H. L. Welch's store and are taking their meals at the hotel, planning to spend several weeks in this delightful way.

The Mooselookmeguntic ball team went over to Stratton and "those country boys played a mighty good game," as they won 4 to 3, and the Yale and Harvard boys want to practice!

The many friends of Mrs. H. L. Welch are glad to see her home again much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Draper of Washington, D. C., came Tuesday for a stay of several weeks. Mr. Draper, after an absence of several years is greeted by old friends and glad to return to this delightful summer place.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Swallow of Quincy, Mass., who came six weeks ago are most cozy in the Crow's Nest where they remain until September.

Morris L. Willetts of Flushing, N. Y., came Saturday to spend the remainder of the season with his parents.

Miss Jane Fales of New York is one of the new comers who will pass several weeks at this hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowser of Providence, R. I., Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Meigs of Dexter and Mrs. L. B. Searing of New York, who were on an auto trip through the Rangeleys spent the week-end here.

Miss Jessie Thomas Dorman of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Bethell are in camp for a stay of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tucker and Miss Josephine Tucker of Wiscasset, while touring this part of the state made a short stay this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Darby and son of Atlanta, Ga., registered here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Adams, Miss A. L. Crosby and W. F. Porter of Brookline, Mass., after a few days' stay went to Kennebago Saturday.

One of the large camps in the woods is taken by the following happy party, Mrs. A. Hartuff of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. F. H. Bethall, her daughter Miss Janet and son, Master Franklin of Scasdale, N. Y., who plan to enjoy a month here at Haines Landing.

Mrs. Drumm of Montreal, Canada, and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Milderger of Bay Shore, N. Y., who came for the first time to the Rangeleys are greatly charmed with this place.

John B. Hendrickson of Ridgewood, N. J., has joined his mother and brother for the remainder of their stay in camp.

Mrs. A. S. Homer of Portland is here for a ten days' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Smith, Paul and Earle Smith of Newtown, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates of Stratford, Conn., spent part of the week in camp here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Rapelje of Brooklyn, N. Y., after a pleasant stay of two weeks returned home via the chain of lakes and White Mountains on Thursday.

No one seems to think rainy days at Mooselookmeguntic are dull ones, for everybody is happy and the house and camp are full of as jolly and contented a company of guests as can be found at any hotel in New England and the prospect is September will be a busy month at Haines Landing.

HOBART WINS THE CHICK CUP

Enjoyable Card Party at the Mansion House.

(Special Correspondence.)

Poland Spring, August 16.—The winning of the Chick Cup and Poland Spring golf championship on Saturday by Garret A. Hobart, Jr., of Pater-son, N. J., was an event of more than ordinary importance in the history of the game at this resort. It means that the Chick Cup, which was presented by I. W. Chick of Boston in 1910, no longer stands as the highest incentive to the ambitious golfer, but will take its place on the shelf that holds Mr. Hobart's long list of trophies. It will be replaced by a fitting successor, presented by the present champion. Moreover, this is the first championship tournament over the new 18-hole course at Poland Spring.

Mr. Hobart won the first two legs of the cup in the championship contests of 1912 and 1913. The previous champions whose names are inscribed on the trophy, are Messrs. Howard C. Holton of Philadelphia, 1910, and John M. Ward of New York, 1911. Last year Hugh Halsell of Dallas, Tex., captured the championship, and this season he proved to be Hobart's most serious opponent. These two golfers came through a field of forty-four competitors. Mr. Hobart's form was superior to his opponent's in the afternoon play, and the result of the 36-hole final match was 8 and 6.

The handsome cup for low score in the qualifying round went to O. F. Woodward of Rochester, N. Y., who made an 85 on the new course. The Beaten Eight trophy was secured by Leon Abbott, Jr., of New York, who defeated S. I. Munger of Dallas, Texas, in the final, by a score of 3 and 2. The Second Sixteen trophies went to S. S. Furman of New York, winner, and S. P. Holton of Philadelphia, runner-up.

The first sixteen who competed for the championship title, consisted of Messrs. O. F. Woodward, A. O. Beebe of New York, H. W. Albrow of New York, Royal Little of Brookline, S. I. Munger of Dallas, Tex., Geo. W. Watts of Durham, N. C., L. K. Passmore of Philadelphia, Hugh Halsell, G. A. Hobart, E. LeB. Gardner of Ridgewood, N. J., Leon Abbott, Jr., of New York, E. P. Ricker, Jr., of Poland Spring, L. R. Munger of Dallas, Irving Schmenzel of New York, H. C. Holton of Philadelphia, and R. A. Greene of Passaic, N. J.

One of the most enjoyable of recent affairs at the Mansion House was the card party of Mrs. Rogers Birnie of New York, who entertained five tables of friends at auction. Handsome prizes were received at the respective tables by Mrs. R. A. Greene of Passaic, N. J., Mrs. Geo. S. Coleman of Brooklyn, Mrs. Hugh Halsell of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. A. Battin of New York, and Miss Sarah Ricker of the Mansion House. Others present were Mrs. A. D. Little of Brookline, Mrs. A. B. Ricker of the Mansion House, Miss Ingram of New York, Mrs. Nathan Anthony of Brookline, Mrs. Lee Condit of Jersey City, Miss Carter of Newark, Mrs. Geo. W. Barnes of Brookline, Mrs. H. M. Dingley of Lewiston, Mrs. J. W. Hazen of Boston, Mrs. J. W. Gibson of New York, Mrs. C. H. Helfrich of Passaic, N. J., Mrs. A. D. Chambers of East Orange, Mrs. James M. Arri-son of Germantown, Pa., Mrs. S. W. Keene of Boston, and Mrs. E. W. Parry of Passaic. A dainty supper was served in the card rooms at the conclusion of the playing.

MANY PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENTS

Birthday of Mr. Clark Celebrated at Camp Haverhill.

(Special Correspondence.)

Bald Mountain Camps, August 24.—On Friday afternoon Mrs. Saml. Boothby delightfully entertained several tables at bridge, after which a delicious lunch was served at the Little Black Bear tea house.

Saturday night W. G. Clark of North Attleboro, Mass., came to Camp Haverhill, the handsome log cab in summer home of his son's family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Foster Clark and on Sunday was happily reminded it was his birthday by a dinner served in his honor. Mrs. Clark is also entertaining her sister, Mrs. K. E. Jewett and son, K. E. Jr., and two daughters, Miss Mary and Miss Adaline Jewett of Chicago.

On Thursday evening at Camp Orchardlin, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Fitts of Newton, Mass., over 40 friends from the nearby camps were invited in honor of Mr. Fitts' birthday to enjoy a delightful social dance and cards. Refreshments were served and it was a happy company who offered congratulations and hope for years to come Mr. Fitts with his family will celebrate the day at Camp Orchardlin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hinds of Portland at their elegant summer home on Mooselookmeguntic lake are entertaining a delightful house party: Mr. and Mrs. Winford Ager, P. W. James, Mr. and Mrs. LaMarr of Selma, Ala.; Mrs. James Ager of Mexico; Henry H. Wardsworth of Eastport; Mrs. Alice Pierce and Miss Emily Pierce of Portland, Mr. Hinds and Miss Ethel on Monday arranged a most delightful birthday surprise for Mrs. Hinds, inviting Mrs. E. Foster Clark and son to join them.

At Broadview Farm Mrs. Charles Quimby was engaged to serve one of the chicken dinners for which she is famous, and the farmhouse was handsomely decorated for the occasion. Several automobiles took the friends to the farm and their machines were nowhere to be seen, when Mrs. Hinds at the request of her husband, who said he wished to purchase fresh vegetables, drove up to the farm and when invited to come in for a call was completely taken by surprise to find the feast and friends waiting. It was a happy event and the many beautiful gifts will long be a pleasant reminder of the occasion and a host of friends extend best wishes for years of health and happiness.
