LOCAL NEWS

Former Postmaster E. A. Fairfield is in town this week.

With Mrs. J. H. Bennett as Chaperon, fourteen members of the I. C. O. F. Club enjoyed a delightful outing at the Al Smith cottage Kennebunk Beach from last Wednesday afternoon to Monday of this week.

State Insurance Commissioner G. W. Smith issued a statement last week, urging that all kinds of fireworks be eliminated on the Fourth of July. Every community is strongly urged by the commissioner to cooperate with the insurance department in a campaign of prevention of fire losses and this need, waste of material. We have no doubt but that Kennebunk will do all possible to eliminate fireworks on that day.

The registration of German alien enemy women is to commence Monday, June 17, at 6 A. M., and continue each day thereafter, except Sunday, June 23, between 6 A. M. and 8 P. M., up to and including Wednesday, June 26, under instructions from Atty. Gen. Gregory. All subjects of the German Empire, females of 14 years and over, now within the United States and not naturalized as American citizens, are required to register as German aliens.

MORE COAL FOR MAINE

The fuel administration has given positive assurances to the Maine administrator that Maine will receive at least 18 per cent more anthracite coal this year than it got last year. This means a total of about 666,000 tons, which should be ample supply for a moderately cold winter, but will not be enough if the coming winter should be as severe as the last one.

RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Grasian Biron, a six year old daughter of Phineas Biron of Biddeford was struck by an automobile driven by Archie Littlefield of this village, Tuesday afternoon. It is said that the little girl ran into the street in pursuit of a kitten and that Mr. Littlefield was unable to bring his car to a stop without striking her. The child was removed to the Trull hospital where an examination was made and treatment given by Dr. Hussey. After the accident Mr. Littlefield drove to the police station and reported the facts as he understood them to Chief Stone. A chauffeur, who was driving along Elm street when the Littlefield car struck the little girl, corroborated Mr. Littlefield's statement that he was driving well within the speed limit. One of the worst places in the city for automobilists is the spot where this accident occurred. Despite every precaution that the most careful drivers can take they are in danger of running down some child, for many dart into the street and give no heed to a warning horn.

MRS. IDA V. ANDREWS

Mrs. Ida V. Andrews, wife of Fred P. Andrews, died Tuesday morning at West Kennebunk at the age of 58 years and seven months. She was born in Lyman, the daughter of Charles H. and Lydia Grant Smith, and was highly esteemed by a large acquaintance. She is survived by her husband, five daughters, Mrs. Vera Townsend of Biddeford, Mrs. Mabel Huff of Lyman, Mrs. Joshua Smith and Mrs. Harry L. Smith of Saco, and Mrs. Alva Downs of Kennebunkport, and one son, Peter S. Boston, of Lyman.

In the will of Albert S. Fuller, who died in Portland, May 4, Emma Day of this village is one of a number to receive a bequest.

GRAND CHANCELLOR HONORED

The Pythian Sisters scored another success when on Tuesday evening of this week they gave a reception to Grand Chancellor of Maine, Clarence Webber.

The Sisters, realizing what a distinction had been conferred upon one of their number by this honorary appointment, determined that it should be fittingly observed and made plans to that effect. The attractive lodge room was made even more beautiful by draperies, potted plants, cut flowers, rugs, easy and rocking chairs. A table decorated in green and white and from which punch was served during the evening added to the general effect. The program was as follows:

Piano Solo—Miss Iva Grant Duet, Misses Ruth Cousins and Louise Whitten. Remarks, by George N. Stevens, Kennebunkport. Reading, Miss Maecora Welch Selection, Piano, Miss Iva Grant Remarks and Address to the Flag, Mr. Arthur Hayes. Duet, Misses Ruth Cousins and Louise Whitten.

Mrs. Bessie Shepherd, as Mistress of Ceremonies, then introduced Grand Chancellor Webber feeling that it was time he spoke for himself which he did in a most able manner. No one who heard Mr. Webber could doubt in the least his deep appreciation of what it meant to him to be recognized by the local lodge in bringing this honor to them. He appreciated the honor for his local lodge even more than for himself and he assured his listeners that it would be his desire to do all possible to fill acceptably the office of Grand Chancellor of Maine.

After this most excellent program had been carried through with repeated encores the company adjourned to the lower hall where the Red, White and Blue welcome sign produced a charming effect; on the tables whose handsome bouquets and red, white and blue center pieces corresponded with the flag decorations which were used in profusion about the room. Ice cream and cake was served and a thoroughly social time enjoyed until a late hour.

The committees to whom the success of the events was largely due were as follows:

Entertainment:—Miss Stella Mitchell, Miss Rena Smith. Punch:—Mrs. Ella Whidden, Mrs. Fannie Jackson.

Refreshments:—Mrs. Ida Nason, Mrs. Sylvia Boston, Mrs. Harriet Knight, Mrs. Bessie Shepard. Reception:—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Knight, and Mr. and Mrs. William Warren.

The Lindsey High school Shapleigh, closed Thursday, May 30. The graduates this year are Leon E. Crediford, Blanche E. Goodwin and Merton P. Thompson. It was a private presentation of diplomas by Supt. George T. Crediford with P. S. Andrews, principal.

Leon Crediford is a cousin of Miss Bertha Whitten and R. V. Crediford of this village.

WATCH FOR IT

If the skies are clear Saturday we shall get a little sideshow from the eclipse of the sun which will be so important an event on that day. This eclipse is total along a path across the continent from Washington to Florida, and two large observatories along this track hope to secure valuable photographs. Here it will be visible as a partial eclipse, the magnitude of it being a trifle more than half the diameter of the sun, which means that less than half the sun's disc will be covered by the moon. It will cause no perceptible reduction of the light, and unless you look at the sun through a smoked glass you would probably not know that anything unusual was going on. The eclipse here begins about 6.50 in the afternoon by the clock as they are now run, reaches the middle about 7.41, and ends about 8.29.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the York County Guardian's Association meeting, held during the Camp Fire Girls' Conference at Saco, the following officers were elected for the coming year.

President—Miss Edna Wells, Kennebunkport. Vice President—Miss Meribah Keefe, Saco. Sec. and Treas.—Miss Gilman, Biddeford.

Mrs. John Otis is in town this week.

Mr. Kenneth Mitchell has taken the place of Mr. Smith, as picture operator at the Acme.

DON'T WORRY

BLOW YOUR HORNS AS LOUD AS YOU CAN

Through the courtesy of Mr. L. R. Williams of the Colonial Inn, Ogunquit, we are permitted to print the following letter which will be of great interest to every hotel man in this section, as well as those who intend taking a vacation. This letter is written by Mr. Farnsworth of the Boston Globe, a man whose opinion it would seem is worth while:

Boston, June 5, 1918.

Dear Mr. Williams:— I learned yesterday that many resort hotel proprietors in your section are greatly disturbed over the new submarine scare which has been made prominent during the past 48 hours, and we most thoroughly appreciate the situation from your personal viewpoint, but we would like to have you take into consideration that the opening date for receiving your early guests of the season is many days distant at this hour, and as you know any great event nowadays is only termed "a nine days' wonder" and then largely forgotten. We have every reason to believe, and with full confidence, that the enemy submarines will be well taken care of before many days, and we do not entertain any thought that there will be very much repetition after they have been silenced, and we are in a position to know that the Government is taking very extended means to handle the situation without serious difficulty.

In studying the situation among the general public there is no cause whatever for any serious thought toward having a poor season, as the people have become accustomed to these various "surprises" in warfare and do not intend to allow them to interfere with their much needed recreation or vacation plans; in fact, it is generally known that the Southern resorts of France are very liberally patronized throughout the entire season and have been ever since the war started, and if that country being the real seat of the war, can enjoy a fairly good resort business, there is no reason why the New England resorts should not receive their share under so trifling a circumstance as reported to date.

We are of the opinion that the Government will handle the case successfully, but doubt very much whether they will even allow any notice or publicity given after they have cleaned the matter up and done away with the nuisance,—so go ahead, blow your horns as loud as you can, put on a broad smile and go ahead to do business. With personal regards, believe me to be

C. E. FARNSWORTH.

HOME-WEDDING

A very attractive home wedding was that of Miss Annie Florence Lord and Walter Beckett Elwell of Portland which was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Helen A. Lord on Brown St., Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of relatives and invited guests. The home was most attractively decorated with spirea houtei and palms. The Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. C. Frederic Eberle, a niece of the bride and announced the bridal procession. The bride always a sweet, attractive young woman was charming in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine beautifully embroidered, with a bouquet of lilies of the valley and also used as hair ornaments. James B. Lord, of Winchester Mass., gave his sister in marriage and Rev. Royal A. Rich of the M. E. Church was the officiating clergyman using the solemn double ring service. The Maid of honor was Miss Mary Augusta Lord of Malden, sister of the bride, who was gown in pink georgette crepe, carrying a bouquet of beautiful Maryland roses. A Portland caterer was in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Elwell left for their honeymoon which will include a trip to Niagara Falls and Colorado Springs. The bride's traveling gown was of blue, with hat to match. The many beautiful and expensive presents with several checks of no small amount showed the popularity of both parties who are well known locally, having lived here many years. Out of town guests included. James B. Lord and family of Winchester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederic Eberle of Winchester, Harry A. Hall, Miss M. Augusta Lord of Malden, F. B. Waldron, Mrs. R. C. Hayward, Mrs. L. M. Townsend, Mrs. Mina Staples, Mrs. G. F. Pollock, Miss Jane A. Voter, Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Wells of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark of North Berwick.

RED CROSS THANKS NEWS-PAPERS

Publisher, Enterprise,
Kennebunk, Maine.
Dear Madam:—I wish to acknowledge, in behalf of the Red Cross Second War Fund Committee, the service rendered us by the newspapers of New England.
While the raising of our share of the hundred million dollar war fund was the main objective, it was also our desire, as a matter of patriotic education, to bring the deep significance of this war home to all our people, and to enlist their support of it in whatever direction their help might be needed. The success of the campaign, along both of these lines, was extraordinary, and for a very large share of this success we feel that the Red Cross is indebted to the newspapers for their splendid cooperation.
May I offer this acknowledgment to you personally, and also to the profession you represent.
Yours truly,
B. W. TRAFFORD,
New England Campaign Chairman
June 1, 1918.

TIME OF DAY CALLS CUT OUT.

"We are on the trail of every kind of interference, with efficient telephone service at the present time, as well as seeking for all forms of waste in the telephone business," said Manager Goodwin, when asked about the discontinuance of the giving of time by operators to subscribers on Monday, June 3. "As in all big businesses in these war times, we must make every part of the organization as efficient as possible, and any usage of the telephone which in any way impedes the service for the government or for subscribers must be eliminated.

"While the giving of the time of day to anyone who has called has been of service to some of the public, the practice has grown to such an extent that many telephone companies in other parts of the country, as well as ourselves, have felt it necessary to discontinue to give such service. In the New England Company's territory there have been 100,000 calls per day, the bulk of such calls coming at times when our operating forces find it most difficult to handle them.

"As such a burden is obviously an avoidable waste, and as so large a portion of those inquiries have become a habit with many people, as happens in homes where clocks differ, and particularly through the desire of children to learn the time easily, we are confident that our desire to direct all of our energies toward the furnishing of effective telephone service will be understood by our subscribers.
Relieved of that burden, the operators will be better able to serve all users of the telephone.

"Should any subscriber, through long habit, thoughtlessly ask the operator for the time after this Monday, the operator will make this response: 'I am sorry but it has become necessary to discontinue giving the time of day.' Our subscribers, therefore, will know that this is the standardized statement which will be used by all operators throughout New England territory, and an operator's refusal should not in any way be considered as a personal discourtesy."

MEMORIAL DAY
SERVICES

The boys in blue were busy Memorial day carrying out a program as scheduled. The Veterans were assisted by the W. R. C., Boy Scouts and School Children. Chandler's band of Portland furnished excellent music for the exercises during the day.

The early part of the day was threatening but the afternoon was all that could be wished for.

The morning was taken up by members of the post in autos visiting Pine Grove cemetery at West Kennebunk, the Emery and Landing Cemeteries at Lower Village, and a visit to Kennebunkport for exercises. Dinner was served in the K. of P. hall upon their return by members of the W. R. C. and a fine report had been provided.

Services were held at the Baptist Church from 10 to 11 A. M. where about 100 gathered at President Wilson's request to carry out a patriotic program of songs, prayer and reading each of the ministers taking part.

The audience realized the solemnity of the occasion and the service made a deep impression.

At 2 P. M. the line of march was formed, Wm. F. Bowen, acting as Chief Marshal, Chandler's Band was next in order Milton Hall, mounted on his pony carrying the flag and attired in his boy scout uniform. Ivory Hall, another boy scout was also mounted and carried the banner of Troop 1. Eight boy scouts rode bicycles. J. T. Cole, Scout Master commanding. The firemen next in line presented a fine appearance. Member of the Post numbering nineteen commanded by George A. Jennison, Melville Johnson carrying the colors. The members of the W. R. C. and school children completed the procession.

Exercises were held at Mousam River bridge where flowers were strewn upon the water in memory of those who lost their lives at sea.

Exercises were held at the Soldiers Monument consisting of prayer by Comrade Jennison, reading of the "Stars and Stripes" by Miss Merle Langley in a most creditable manner. During the playing of "Just Before the Battle Mother" wreaths and flowers were placed at the four corners.

The procession then proceeded to Hope Cemetery for the final open air exercises.

At the exercises at the Mousam Opera House, George E. Cousens presided. Reporting for the Grand Army Post he mentioned that the graves in the various cemeteries had been decorated as usual, fifty miles being covered. Three members of the Post have died in the past year, John R. Bell, Wm. C.
Goodwin, and Chas. S. Grant.
The Portland Band provided music and the audience joined in singing patriotic songs. Prayer was offered by Rev. Robert P. Doramus.
The assembly was honored by the presence of Captain Merriman who was called by the chairman to a place on the platform. His little daughter, Catherine Merriman, unfurled the service flag with the figures 111 upon it, in honor of Kennebunk men in the national service. George E. Cousens made a brief speech committing the flag to the custodianship of the town Historian Judge H. H. Bourne accepted the flag promising that he will keep the number of the men in service corrected to the best of his ability, and pledging for the citizens of the community that they will cherish the flag as an emblem of added devotion to the cause.

Under the leadership of Mr. Bon-ser, three rousing cheers were given for the one hundred and eleven. After the band had played by special request, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," Mr. Cousens introduced Hon. J. O. Bradbury of Saco, of whom he spoke fittingly as "one of the ablest jurists in the state." Judge Bradbury, addressing himself to the members of the Grand Army and affiliated organizations, and to the others present, said, in part:

"To my mind the gigantic necessity has brought the communities together, and we meet as children of one great community, to express gratitude to the dead and respect to the living. We will simply talk together, I doing the talking and you the sympathetic listening, of some of the things that throb nearest to our hearts to-day. There are times in the history of our lives when sentiments of the heart, when the memories surging into our hearts are of such intimate character that they bring us more into social contact than any formal intercourse. In such times of peril as those you saw come to you and the South, and those to-day, men cling together. We forget little differences.
We cling together to protect our lives, our homes, our country, and our beautiful flag.

I have appreciated your exercises to-day, your devotion as you marched to the river, and held your observances at the monument, and as you have continued them here, in memory of those who offered their lives that we might be here in peace. You have done your duty in placing the American Republic among the foremost nations of the world. We have won the respect of the entire civilized and Christian world. I use these adjectives ad-visedly. They eliminate the entire group of the Central Powers, who have gone mad after crime.
I have watched your old soldiers marching. The town of Kennebunk can be proud of its little squad of old soldiers who can make the march that they made to-day. God grant that they may repeat it many times more. I witnessed with pleasure the Boy Scouts acting as escorts. Every man and woman who saw the boys march are proud of those boys. They are to be the men of the morrow. On the courage and dignity of those boys lies the responsibility of maintaining this Republic, of keeping the nation at its apex. We should appreciate the boys marching as escorts for you men. Yesterday I saw forty-five men of this county en-trained. There were many wet eyes. The air of the spectators was subdued. Every one felt that the hour was consecrated to American liberty and a holy hour. The boys looked brave. There was a look of fixed determination on every face that showed that that young man knew that he was going not for a play day or frolic, but going to meet the foe of all civilization and to stand between America and the Hun. When we see men like these with their shoulders up there is no need to be ashamed of them. It is only the moping fellow who is a pacifist to-day who the nation needs to be ashamed of.
Do you wonder when we witness these things that it brings a different spirit brooding over every one of us?

We feel that this is a holy day consecrated to the memory of the soldiers of '61, hallowed by memories of the Spanish war, by the memory of the boys of the present time who have offered their lives not merely to save France, but to stand as the first line of defence of civilization. You men of '61 have a proud feeling in your hearts today. Why? The people of a despotic turn of mind said there is no patriotism in this country.
What happened? Go down to your railroad station when the boys go away. Read of the numbers that are in France. The same patriotic spirit beats in the boys' hearts today that beat in Revolutionary time, that beat in your day when you went south. You built well and lifted the monumental pile well for the observation of the world.

I am glad that young Scout today instead of reading the address of Lincoln spoke it. It is one of the most commonsense patriotic utterances ever spoken. In that day when the country sang the praises of its dead, what happened?
Massachusetts sent its most distinguished orator, Everett. He delivered an oration that was among the choicest bits of literature, ornate, patriotic. After the oration was finished Abraham Lincoln lifted his length and delivered the ten minute address that the boy has delivered for you. Why is it repeated every year? It was a plain heart to heart talk with the people, spoken in plain words such as appeal to the American people. In that speech Abraham Lincoln, with the eye of the prophet, seemed to foretell something bigger and better. If you substitute "nation" for "nation" it fits to-day's aims.
Have those men died in vain? No!
Had it not been for them we should have had our nation split by confederacy after confederacy, and should have become less worthy of respect than a South American republic. Will those men in France have died in vain? No! They sacrificed their life and limbs to preserve the independence of the American people,—to do more than that. Two lines of thought and conduct are opposed abroad, on the one hand the right of every individual to think and act for himself, confined only by his neighbor's right and by the principle that the majority shall rule; and, on the other hand, the line that one man should think and act, and the others repeat, parrot-like, his thought and acts. Do you know this, that when years ago the people of Great Britain wrested a bill of rights from their sovereign, the principle of democracy was only beginning to surge up. But that was only the demand for rights of a certain class. Then men came to this country to have the right to think and act for self. We speak of the spirit of '76. The first shot was fired in a compact body. Then the spirit of each one acting took shape. Later when you men went to the front, although you suffered, the central proposition that you were fighting for was this that the will of the majority must rule, and secondly, whether a man was white or black he was a man and not a chattel. Later on our boys went to Cuba because of the appeal to humanity. Dewey's guns thundered in Manila Bay, and Sampson's and Selkey's guns thundered in Santiago, and down with the Spanish flag went the idea of the dominance of one man here in American.

We are fighting for exactly the same thing plus the protection of our homes here. When you realize that our boys who were playing ball here a short time ago are marching for such a cause under that beautiful banner of ours, I ask you don't those boys look good to you.

Do not think that this state of madness has come upon the Prussian people all of a sudden. They have been growing into this state of rapine for centuries, just as the United States and England and France and Italy have been cultivating the spirit of individual independence. What is the culmination of their spirit? You've heard of their crimes, their crimes against women, against babies, against the world. They are utterly bankrupt of honor. A treaty to them is a scrap of paper. What is the worst thing a man can lose in our communities? When a man loses his property we pity him.
When a man loses his word, when he is bankrupt of honor, he had better die. Such men are worthless to themselves and everyone about them. This Hun nation is utterly profligate. That is the culmination that this idea of one man thinking for all has brought.

We are bending our energy and means to stamp it out, that high community bankrupt in morals, in honor, and loaded with crime.
What is our duty? It is our duty to form the second line of defence for humanity, for our country, by word and act cheerfully and loyally to stand by the nation. America is not after possessions. Americans fight simply for humanity and for the protection of our kith and kin.

Some days are bright and some are dark. But at all times we should remember that the great sun of civilization is shining above the clouds. You men of '61 can tell us that for a long time your enemies succeeded, but you triumphed finally, because you were fighting for the right. Wrong may prevail now and then, but in the long run right will prevail.
We hear coming down through all the vista of the years this advice to you and to me,
"Fight for your altars and your fires!"
Fight for the green graves of your sires, God and your own good land!" After the singing of America and a patriotic flag song composed by Mr. Rich the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Royal Rich.

Annoucement

The practice of calling upon telephone operators for information as to the time of day has grown to the point of interfering with the efficiency of telephone service.

For such information 100,000 calls are made daily in New England, the bulk of such calls coming naturally at times when it is most difficult to handle them.

Service efficiency now demands that the work of the operating force should be relieved of unnecessary burdens, and that all energies be directed toward the furnishing of effective telephone service, and to that alone.

Prompted by these considerations, the practice of giving information as to the time of day will be discontinued beginning June 3, 1918.

"We are not only witnesses of a supreme conflict of bodily strength and moral endurance, scientific productiveness, and military power. We stand in the presence of a stupendous spiritual drama which is being worked out in the souls of millions of our fellow-men. As the war has proceeded through these four tumultuous years the moral significance of the issues at stake has steadily become more apparent. At first but loosely grasped by the majority of our heedless and prosperous people, the transcendent importance of the principles we are fighting for have now become manifest to all reasonable men. We know that we are fighting to secure the honor and peace of humanity, to save freedom from extinction, to sustain the hopes and loves and faiths without which life can know no true happiness."

Pres. Samuel A. Eliot, "Annual Address".

METHODIST CHURCH

One week ago, ten of the girls, members of the Queen Esther Society, under the chaperonage of Miss Meserve, went to Wells Beach for an outing, and the report is that it was a most delightful time.

Sunday was a most enjoyable day, clear sky, pure air, and a real summer day. Audiences were good, the Sunday school was enlivening, and the evening service was particularly helpful.

The Firemen's service at the West Kennebunk church brought out a good representation. At one o'clock, the procession started from the hall and proceeded to the graves and decorated the same.

Returning from the yard, they occupied seats together in the front of the church, and listened very attentively to the sermon by the pastor, the subject being, "Answering the Call" from words found in Isaiah 6:8, "Here am I."

He said in part, "In many mechanical devices, the one thing necessary to success is promptness. Without it there is failure. Adjustments must be made to a nicety. Then he spoke of the watch with its regulator, the cam adjustments in the auto, the eccentric in a steam engine, and the printing-press by way of illustration.

Human life is the same, promptness with a regulator is a necessity. Where is it better exemplified than in the life of a fireman.

Let us notice some things in connection with the "Here am I." 1—It means readiness, standing at attention, waiting orders. 2—It does not mean neglect but promptness. 3—Here am I, does not think of the cost. 4—Here am I, does not think of the danger. 5—Here am I, does not think of the sacrifice of pleasure, or of life. 6—Here am I, says, this is duty, here is something worth while. 7—Here am I, is constantly asking the question, Did I do my best?

Monday evening was the regular monthly business meeting, and social of the Epworth League, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Porter, on Fletcher St., and it was well attended and a most enjoyable time. It was the election of officers and the following received an expression of the League's favor. For President, May Young; First Vice President, Merle Langley; Second Vice President, Eva Waterhouse; Third Vice President, Gladys Blumenstock; Fourth Vice President, Florence Hawkins; Secretary, Ralph Curtis; Treasurer, Robert Kilgore; Organist, Merle Langley.

The Mother's Department of the S. S. had its social at the parsonage on Tuesday evening, and it was a delightful gathering.

Wednesday evening was the regular week night prayer meeting, with an increase in attendance. It was a time of refreshing. Was you there?

By invitation of Mrs. Herbert Day, the J. R. Loyal Worker's S. S. Class, went to her cottage at Cape Porpoise on Thursday afternoon for a picnic party, the husbands going down for the evening. It is always a treat, and a pleasure, to genuine Ford parts, made and guaranteed by the Ford Motor Co., and Pirate Ford parts made by somebody and guaranteed by nobody.

The genuine are always carried in stock by authorized Ford agents.

The pirate are usually found in every garage.

The garage man man buys pirate Ford parts, 1st. because he cannot buy genuine Ford parts except from a Ford dealer and 2nd, because he can buy pirate parts cheaper than a Ford dealer can buy genuine parts.

No manufacturer of Ford parts can compete with the Ford Co., in price and quality too, therefore the pirate parts must be very inferior.

You cannot tell genuine from imitation by looks, but durability and strength will tell you very quickly.

There is only one way to be sure of getting the genuine Ford parts: Buy them direct from the Authorized Ford Agent.

MISS CLARK'S NEW PICTURE

Dainty Marguerite Clark, whose "Bab" pictures are well remembered, has a new vehicle, "Rich Man, Poor Man," which will be shown at the Acme Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday, June 12 and 13.
This is a splendid screen subject, filled with tense dramatic situations by the aid of which an absorbing dramatic story is developed. It is one of the best photoplays in which Miss Clark, the "sweetest girl in motion pictures" has been seen in this town, and it seems certain that her many admirers here will turn out in force.

EVANS-CHADBOURNE

Thomas L. Evans and Miss Helen Bonser Chadbourne, of Biddeford, were married last Saturday mornents on Elm street by Rev. Harry Trust, pastor of the Second Conwas a very quiet affair only the immediate families being present.

Mr. Evans is well known in this vicinity having run a beach store at Ogunquit two seasons and he also has a large trade from Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and surrounding towns. Mr. Evans is president of the Business Mens Association and a great worker in all public movements and enterprises and since the war began has been identified with all war relief work.
Mrs. Evans is a musician of more than usual ability and is a young woman of most pleasing personality. The best wishes of their many friends in this section of the county go out to both Mr. and Mrs.
Evans.

Our Potato
Column

Article No. 4.
KEEP EVERLASTINGLY AT IT.

This is the Only Way to Prevent Potato Blights and Rots.

There are three essentials in spraying potato crops.

The first is to start early, when the vines are about six inches high.

The second is to spray so as to cover the plant—above, below, on the right side, on the left side, in front and at the back.

The third is to keep at it so that the spray covering will keep up with the growth of the plant, and be renewed as often as washed off by beating rains.

It looks easy. It is easy. But first the would-be sprayer must have the right idea.

Potato bugs cause people to start spraying early—if they did not there

One Nozzle Per Row Is Sufficient When the Vines Are Young. would be no vines left to spray, and no crop worthy the name. The bug, however, can easily be seen, and one can wait until the bug appears before spraying.

With blight, especially the late blight, it is different. The fungus cannot be seen, but is always lying in ambush. It is in league with the weather, since the very weather which favors the blight makes spraying difficult.
Yet whenever the spores of this disease come in contact with the spray-covered leaf they are absolutely killed and the damage which they might do is saved to the farmer.

Let us make some rules about potato spraying:

1. Spray often enough to keep up with the growth of the vine.

If the spraying is started when the vines are six inches high, this means three or more sprayings during the course of the season.

2. Respray whenever the spray material is washed off by beating rains.

This may sound serious, since sometimes heavy rains come almost every day; but remember, spray materials are adhesive and last a long time.
Furthermore, it is in the season of beating rains that spraying is most needed and after all most profitable.

3. Cover the whole plant—not simply the top leaves of the top branches.

Thorough Spraying. Three Nozzles Needed After the Vines Pass the Blossoming Stage.—Courtesy Michigan Agricultural College.

This covering, however, should be with a mist, not with a sprinkle. It should be from beneath and from the sides as well as from the top.

A nozzle per row is sufficient to begin with. When the vines get larger, two nozzles are needed. When the vines cover the rows effective spraying cannot be done with less than three nozzles, one at the top and two at the sides. This means that plenty of power must be had so that every inch of the vines can be covered.

Sometimes would-be sprayers may mistake the quantity of spray. For the first spray, 50 gallons per acre is enough. Naturally, as the vines grow larger more spray is needed. Three times 50 may be needed when the vines are large enough to lodge between the rows.

WHY IT WAS SO EASY FOR BARNUM.

P. T. Barnum said the American people liked to be fooled. He might have said they like to fool themselves.
Germany produces 80 bushels of potatoes per capita and wastes none. America raises four bushels and can't give them away. Thousands of bushels of potatoes are going to waste for want of a market at a price less than the cost of production. And this in spite of the fact that cereals are hard to get at any price. Potatoes moved faster in 1917 at $3 a bushel than they have done in 1918 at $1.25. What is the answer?

KENNEBUNKPORT

In accordance with the suggestion of President Wilson contained in his Declaration Day proclamation a union service was held in the Methodist church on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance. After Scripture reading and prayer, Rev. George E. Crouse spoke on "America's Moral and Spiritual Aims in the War." He was followed by Rev. Henry R. McCartney, who dwelt on "America's Spiritual Condition and Its Bearing on the War," the concluding remarks of the evening being by Rev. Thomas P. Baker, who took for his topic "Improving America's Spiritual Condition." The following "Declaration of Loyalty" was presented and adopted unanimously by a rising vote:

We, the churches of Kennebunkport, Maine, in union meeting assembled this Memorial Day evening, May 30, 1918, recognizing the high moral ideals involved and the splendid purpose animating America in its participation in the conflict, do hereby declare our undivided loyalty to our Government and pledge our complete devotion to our country and its allies in the prosecution of this war.

The pastors were instructed to sign this declaration on behalf of their respective churches and forward the same to headquarters. The meeting adjourned with the pronouncing of the Benediction by District Superintendent J. M. Frost of Portland, after the congregation had united in the singing of "America."

Ralph Leach and E. M. Martin spent the week end at Camp Devens, where they went to visit Frank Littlefield, who is still in the hospital, though recovering from pneumonia.

The Children's Day concert will be given by the Methodist school next Sunday evening, June 9th, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. A very interesting program is being prepared for the occasion.

There will be a special sermon on Sunday in harmony with Children's Day by the pastor of the Methodist church.

Several of the village young men have gone to Newington to work in the shipbuilding yards there.

James Smith, who has been for a long time connected with the Goodwin Bros. store, is now in the Miller drugstore.

The ladies of the Methodist church served a scallop supper in the vestry on Tuesday evening. The viands were delicious and there was an encouraging patronage. After supper a brief musical and literary program was presented, following which games were played by the young people.

Arthur Welch, who clerked for the Tobey grocery store last summer, is in the Edgcomb market for this season.

The registration of the twenty-ones called home a number of those within the scope of the order for registration.

A strawberry festival was held Tuesday afternoon at the Norton farm, the proceeds going to the local Red Cross Society. There was a large patronage.

Mrs. J. A. Crouse of Cambridge, Mass., is visiting her son, Rev. G. E. Crouse.

The exercises of Memorial Day were held in Dock square, commencing shortly after 10 o'clock. Lines of streamers extended from the flagpole in various directions. The flag was at halfmast, while just below it was the town honor flag. After music by Chandler's band of Portland, Rev. George E. Crouse offered prayer. Then, following another musical selection, Selectman Herbert L. Luques delivered the address of the occasion, which was pertinent, patriotic and powerful. He was followed by Major Henry S. Burrage, who read an order issued by General Grant at the close of the war. By request the band played as the final number "The Star Spangled Banner." From the village the members of the post went by auto to Kennebunk to continue the day's exercises. A large delegation from here was in attendance upon the afternoon services there. Abbott Graves was in charge of the arrangement for the day here and directed affairs in his usual excellent manner.

The usual services will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday, morning service at 10:30, followed by the Sunday school, and the evening service at 7:30.

The small vestry of the Methodist church has been repainted and decorated.

The Nonantum Hotel will be conducted this season by Captain and Mrs. Harry A. Heckman.

An asphalt sidewalk has been laid on North Main St., from Mill bridge to the residence of George W. Clough. This is a much appreciated improvement.

Frank Dooley of Bath was the week end guest of his aunt, Mrs. Capt. H. A. Heckman. He is time-keeper for the big Texas Company, which has there a very extensive shipbuilding plant.

The weather has been favorable for planting, but rain is much needed for growth of vegetables and for the production of hay.

Harvey Goodrich, one of the Ninth grade lads of the grammar school, left on Monday for a training camp for agriculture.

The June meeting of the Public Library Board will be held on Monday evening next, the 10th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the library. Among other important business will come up the election of a Librarian.

Last Saturday evening there occurred the marriage of Perley H. Rodick and Miss Olive Ruth Cluff of Cape Porpoise. The wedding was solemnized in the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Thomas P. Baker, the single-ring service being used. The young couple left immediately for a brief bridal trip. Mr. Rodick is a marine engineer and has a fine reputation, while the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Cluff and is highly esteemed by all who know her. The best wishes of their many friends are extended to the bride and groom.

Miss Sarah Welch of this village, a member of Pemidhaunch Camp Fire was awarded the Torch Bearer's degree at the York County Camp Fire Girls' Grand Council Fire at Saco June 1st. Eighteen Camp Fire Girls from this town attended the Council.

SACO ROAD AND VICINITY

Our sick people are all improving we are glad to learn. Mrs. Lemuel Brooks who has been critically ill the past three months is improving daily. R. P. Benson is also gaining. His son Ralph, of Portland, visited at the home of his parents over the week end and found his father much improved.

Leo Clark was among those called by the Draft to Camp Devens last week also Richard Mitchell. Both were born in Kennebunkport. We wish them with all the others God Speed.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Grace Benson Burnham, who has been so critically ill at a Brookline Hospital, is slightly improved. Mrs. Burnham has had the best medical skill to be had, ten specialists have been called on her case. Her Mother, Mrs. Henrietta Benson has returned to her home after being near her daughter for the past few weeks. The daughter, Mrs. Stanley Thirkle, and the mother have our heart felt sympathy and we sincerely hope this dear mother and daughter be spared to her loved ones.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Morrison, and Mr. and Mark Godwin took an auto trip and outing over the week end.

R. Laurence Ross, stationed at Camp Devens, spent a few hours with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Ross last week. He is in good health! As Laurence had to leave College a few weeks before graduating, he received his diploma, this leaving, so near reaching the goal, was of course a disappointment, as he had an honor part, but he did, as he always has, made the best of it. How this terrible war upsets our plans, and we cannot see clearly, but we hope in God's own good time all will be well, although the present outlook is dark.

A fire broke out in the pasture and woodland near the B. and M. R. R. of Ivory Ross Sunday. The Biddeford Fire Department was called and responded quickly doing good work but it was necessary to watch the fire as it kept breaking out. The damage was confined to small growth and fences. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hadlock of Kennebunkport were guests at the Ross home as was Mrs. Howard Emmons and Miss Lucy, Sunday.

Those who attended the Memorial services at Kennebunk were well paid. The program was a fine one. The unfurling of a beautiful Service Flag by Captain Meriman's little daughter who was present at the time was a feature. There were 111 names called of soldiers boys in what was the 13th. Company and we all felt proud of them and pleased with the honor shown them. The Old Veterans were there bright, and although failing in health and strength, are hopeful for the best, we always feel that they are the first. The singing and the music were enjoyed and the oration, one of the very best. All who have heard Bradbury know that every word he spoke was true and from the heart, and his part of the program was enjoyed. A Sabbath stillness prevailed throughout the service. The Master of ceremonies did his part in the best manner. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by the boy orator was fine too. We all felt that indeed it was a day to be remembered by all as being one such was never on earth before. With this terrible war, our dear brave boys across the ocean, at war with the terrible Huns and their cruelty, it did seem that this as the orator of the day said, "Be a Holy day," and in the hearts of many it was. Could the boys in service have heard the nice things said about them the honor shown them, and the love for them, it would in a measure pay for their sacrifices. Last Memorial Day many of these boys whose names were given were with us. May God Bless and Keep them.

KENNEBUNK LOWER VILLAGE

There was a pretty wedding Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hewey when their daughter Adelaide Weeks Hewey was united in marriage to George William Day of Kennebunkport. Promptly at eleven A. M. the young couple who were attended by Miss Ruth Pierce as bridesmaid and Mr. Robert Mitchell best man proceeded to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal March, played by Mr. Stanley Pierce, to the parlor where they were met by Rev. Harold E. Young who performed the ceremony. The double ring service was used. The bride looked charming in white georgette over silk, and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. The decorations were a bank of lilacs with a beautiful American flag draped in a very artistic manner. Roses and pinks also gave the rooms a festive appearance. A reception was held at which the relatives of each and very near friends tendered their congratulations. Refreshments of cake, fancy cookies and punch were served, the bride cutting the large handsome bride's cake. The young couple left on the noon train amid a shower of rice and confetti.

GRAND COUNCIL OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The grand council of Camp Fire Girls of York County held last Saturday and Sunday in Saco was a great success. There was a prize speaking contest, Miss Nellie Scott of Saco, who won for Thornton the privilege of entering the contest at the preliminary contest took first prize, a $5.00 gold piece. Miss Mildred Collins of South Berwick obtained the second prize a $2.50 gold piece and Miss Cordelia Titcomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Titcomb of this village, was given honorable mention.

After the speaking contest the Saco girls presented the play "The Girls Over There" in a most creditable manner. A banquet was served at 6:30 at the parish house of the First Congregational church. Following the banquet a short march was taken headed by a delegation of Boy Scouts. A fine evening program was carried out. Scotland being represented by Kennebunk and Kennebunkport, Miss Tucker was in charge of Camp Quindaro of this village and Miss Wells of Camp Pemidhaunch of Kennebunkport.

The making of the fire by Mrs. Gulick, founder of all the Camp Fire organizations was an especially fine feature of the program.

Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Gulick spoke before the Camp Fire Girls at the Cutts Avenue Baptist Church and was listened to with the keenest interest. Dr. Gulick has been in France and could give a realistic picture of the great work being done there. He also showed many remarkable French posters corresponding to the American Red Cross and Liberty Loan posters. This was the closing session of the Grand Council. The Girls are loud in their praise of the way they were entertained by Saco hostesses. The invitation of the Old Orchard Camps to hold the next Grand Council Fire in that town June 7 and 8 1919 was accepted.

Pemidhaunch Camp Fire Girls with their Guardian Miss Edna Wells attended the Grand Council Fire held at Thornton Academy Gymnasium, Saco, June 1st. They were entertained over night by the Saco Camp's and Sunday morning attended the Cutts Ave. Baptist Church. The addresses were given by Dr. Luther Gulick and Mrs. Gulick founder of the Camp Fire.
