FIELD DAY HELD TODAY

Teams and Autos Congregate at Park Early.

The Grange Field Day opened this (Thursday) morning at Toothaker Park with about 75 in attendance. The meeting was opened with congregational singing led by Frank Worthley of Strong.

State Master Stetson was the first speaker, and he gave a very interesting description of the way business is done in the west or in the Great Inland Empire, the name which the citizens of Oregon, Washington and California have given to their country.

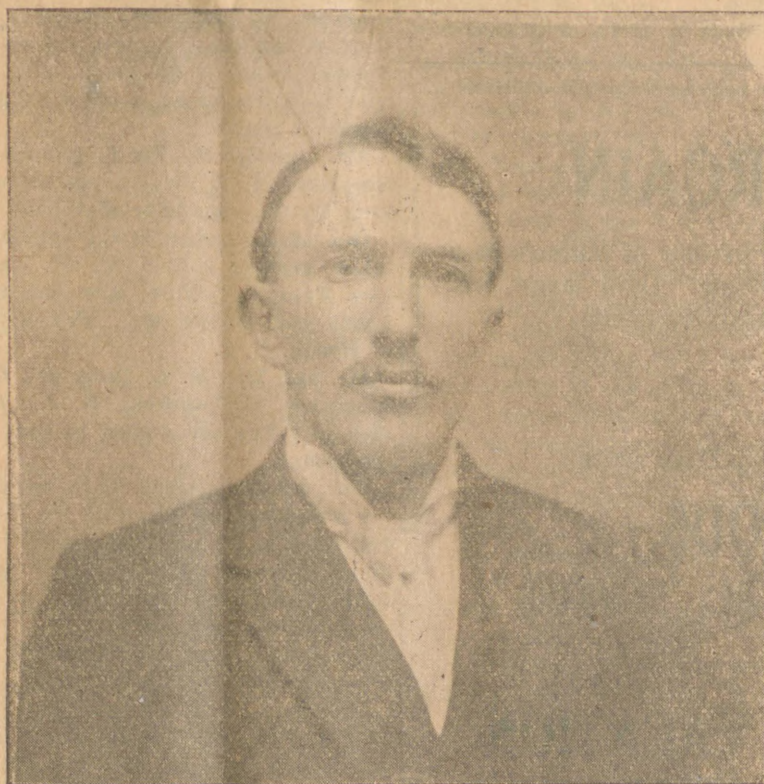

His theme was loyalty. Loyalty to the state, to the particular section in which you live, and loyalty to the Grange. He is a firm believer in the State of Maine and in its industrial and agricultural superiority over any other State of the Union where he has been.

In a trip to the National Grange meeting with his wife held in the State of Washington three years ago, he became convinced that the conditions in Maine compare favorably with those of that section, but their greater enthusiasm has carried them further on the road to success. They put in their time, money and energy advertising their home. It must be admitted that they can raise beautiful fruit, but even after it is raised they are thousand miles from the big markets as most of their produce is shipped East and very little west to the foreign markets. If we should put in the same amount of time and energy, we would have them beaten for we can raise fruit of a better quality and our best

A large number of Republican voters believing that one, at least of Kennebec's three senators should come from the southern or western part of the county have urged Mr. Chick to seek the nomination.

Mr. Chick was an influential and popular member of the 76th Legislature, representing the class towns Winthrop, Litchfield and Monmouth. He was chairman on the part of the House of the committee on Library and an effective worker in the committee on education.

Mr. Chick is chairman of the Republican town committee of Monmouth and a valued member of the county committee. For 14 years he has been principal of Monmouth Academy and has been eminently successful in managing its affairs. He was born and reared on a farm and operates the large farm on which he now resides. Mr. Chick has always been a Republican and has been an active and energetic worker in all matters affecting the public welfare. His friends are confident he will be a strong candidate.—Kenne-

NEW JERSEY LAD JUSTLY PROUD

Excellent Music Enjoyed at This Hotel This Season

(Special Correspondence.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, August 14.—The past ten days have been busy ones, for night after night when the automobile parties would come, they would take the last room, and in the morning away they would go, some to take the trip through to Quebec via Jackman, while others would go around the lakes via Rumford to Bethel or through the Dixville Notch and the White Mountains.

It has rained so much everyone takes it for granted rain it will, but all were most happy to have the two days of sunshine this week, "real old-fashioned Rangeley weather, such as we used to have," was what the old timers remarked.

There is always something going on at Haines Landing. When night comes often more than 20 motor boats are anchored near the wharf, and a new float has been built for the row boats. Garret A. Hobart has private wharf where the "Chore Boy" and his other boats stop.

One afternoon recently there was a crowd on the veranda when they noticed Jim O'Brien, one of the guides, as he pulled a boat to the wharf, and a ten-years-old lad, Maste William Hendrickson of Ridgewood, N. J., came up the walk carrying the largest salmon taken from Mooselookmeguntic lake this year, 8½ pounds. The modest little fisherman was soon the center of attraction and the questions, "Where did you get him?" "What did you use for bait?" "How long did it take you to land him?" and the like, were smilingly answered as the silver beauty was weighed. Young Hendrickson took his trophy to H. L. Welch to mount, and no doubt it will be a pleasing reminder of the summer of 1915 spent at Haines Landing. The next day the 5-pound salmon he caught looked small by the side of the big fellow.

Messrs. E. L. Rankin and F. R. Chapman of Boston, with Tom Canadian guide, have brought in a number of 3-pound trout and salmon this week.

The fly fishermen who go up the streams come back well pleased with the small trout they catch.

The benefit dance given at Furbish hall for the Mooselookmeguntic hall team was largely attended. The music was excellent, all had a good time and the boys added a few dollars to their purse to purchase needed supplies. When the weather will allow they are all ready to take more honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Bradford and son and Dr. A. O. Shaw of Portland had a most enjoyable stay of ten days at this hotel, returning home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Holmes of Philadelphia, who come for their first season are delighted with the place.

Chas. J. Manning of Worcester, Mass., who came in May for a fishing trip, liked log cabin life so much he has returned, accompanied by Mrs. Manning and their two daughters, Miss Elsie and Miss Marjorie, who have one of the cabins, to remain until September and no doubt will be among the annual comers after this.

Dr. Henry A. Callahan of Boston is passing vacation days at this hotel and greatly delighted with the Rangeley country which he has never visited before.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breed and maid of Cleveland, Ohio, and friend, Dr. H. A. King of Mantel, Ohio, who are touring New England by automobile were so much pleased with log cabin life here on the lake shore they spent ten days, going home via the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Howe, Allen G. Howe and Miss Mary Wells of Chestnut Hill, Mass., go home today after a delightful stay of two weeks, hoping to return again another season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Chalfont, Miss Elizabeth Chalfont and Mr. I. Hance were a New York party, touring Maine in their car, who tarried here this week.

This hotel is greatly favored this summer in having a very fine orchestra. Miss Cecil Brown of Lynn is violinist, Miss Marian E. McCormack of Boston cellist, who is a cousin of John McCormack the great singer, and herself is a well-known and beautiful singer. Miss Katherine Singer of Lynn, Mass., is the pianist, and a musician of note, being the organist of one of the largest churches in her city, and the concert given every evening have not been excelled in this region.

Miss Susan Hall Nugent of Roxbury, Mass., and friend, Miss Francis McGinnis of New York spent vacation days most pleasantly at this hotel.

Camp Wellsmere is this season taken by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Warnock of Jamaica, N. Y., who as usual are here for the season, and the first of August were joined by their daughter, Mrs. George C. Gibbs and son, William Warnock Gibbs of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Harriet Elizabeth Richards of Hempstead, N. Y.

Mrs. D. G. Stoughton and daughter, Miss Amanda L. and son, Dwight H. Stoughton of Hartford, Conn., have come to enjoy their first season at Haines Landing. Mr. Stoughton is fine tenor singer, whose songs in the evening concerts all enjoy.

A host of friends welcomed Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Burgess, Miss Burgess, Miss Elizabeth and C. E. Burgess, Jr., of Montclair, N. J., on their return for another summer. Russell Ayres of the same city is with them and there is not a happier family in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Rapelje of Brooklyn, N. Y., have taken rooms here for the remainder of August.

One of the camps in the circle is taken another season by Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Stewart, Miss Margaret Smith and Master Wm. Alex Smith of Nyack, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Terry and two daughters of Plainfield, N. J., are glad to return for August in one of the camps.

The following party while touring the Rangeleys are spending the week end here: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Smith, Paul and Earle Smith of Newtown, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gates of Stratford, Conn.

Dr. F. C. Hayden of Portland arrived Tuesday to enjoy a month.

Mrs. H. L. Welch, who is in a hospital in Portland is gaining fast and her friends will be glad to know she is expected home in a few days. Mr. Welch has just completed a new garage on his land in front of the store.

Mrs. F. H. Briggs, after a week in Auburn has returned to Camp Frye.

The flags are flying from all of the private camps on the lake shore and it is said there was never such a large number of city people on the shores of Mooselookmeguntic as at the present time.

All that is needed to keep the crowd in this region until after Labor Day is good weather.

FLEE BEFORE UNSEEN ENEMY

Guests Celebrate Birthday--Other
Notes from Pleasant Island

(Special Correspondence.)

Pleasant Island Camps, Cupsuptic, Me., August 14.—The heavy rains have made a great change in the looks of the lake shores, for the water is now up to nearly high water mark, and the trees and vegetation along the banks look more like the first of June, it is so green and beautiful.

Geo. H. Garrison of Portland came up to spend the week end with his son, Geo. H. Jr., who is here for the summer.

H. B. Powell, a well-known Philadelphia lawyer, who since 1900 has been an annual comer to Pleasant Island, with his wife, two sons, Jerkins, H. B. Jr., and daughter, Ethel and maid came in July and the family are again at home for the season in Sunset Camp. Mr. Powell has a fine motor boat and they spend much time on the water.

Al Denzer of New York greatly enjoyed his stay of six weeks and with Pete Lufkin to take him where the fish were hiding made a number of good catches.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Walker of Orange, N. J., spent a delightful month in Lone Pine Camp and their many friends were greatly pleased to have Mr. Walker return home in good health after a winter of severe illness. "Maine air and life out of doors is better than all the New York doctors," was the verdict.

Everyone who comes to the Island speaks of the flowers that are blossomed in great profusion and whose brilliant color adds to the pretty picture that this place presents from the lake.

Walter S. Powell, a New York gentleman, after making a trip through the Rangeleys, decided to locate his family in one of the new camps on the main land. Mrs. Powell's sister, Mrs. H. V. Fisher and two daughters accompanied them, coming as far as Haines Landing in their touring car. The party expresses themselves as greatly pleased with this, their first visit to the Rangeleys and will remain for several weeks.

Miss Elizabeth A. Reese and Miss Mary G. Wells of South Orange, N. J., who came in June are finding the days far too short, for the "simple life in the Maine wilderness." Pete Lufkin is their guide and they have a motor boat and canoe. Miss Reese is an expert with the fly rod and daily brings back to camp all the trout and salmon they want for the table. The two southerners, who have a most home-like camp on the main land, yesterday with their boat loaded with a week's supplies, started for a camping trip up to "Tumble Inn," on Cupsuptic stream. They were back here in time for breakfast for the screams of the owls, and the attacks from the big army of "no-see-ems," they made a quick retreat.

After a pleasant stay of two weeks Mrs. E. A. Strong, her brother, Walter L. Schacht of Brooklyn, N. Y., and friend, W. F. Batcheller of Philadelphia returned home Monday, planning to come another season.

Mrs. David R. Craig and her party of seven from Wellesley, Mass., have for the past month been having a happy time in the bungalow. James W. Craig went home with their touring car and with David R. Craig, Jr., has returned. Miss E. B. Cummings of New York City was their guest for ten days, and Miss Barbara Campbell of Ipswich, Mass., is now visiting them. The young folks are having the time of their lives, as they have a motor boat and canoe. Will Lufkin is their guide. Yesterday in company with Mrs. LeBoutillier and party they went up to Camp Pious with five canoes and had lunch out of doors.

Camp Ideal is taken for another season by Mrs. Robert LeBoutillier of Wayne, Penn., whose son, Charles LeBoutillier, a student at Abbott school in Farmington is with her, also Miss Mary E. Green of the ad Pleasant Island Camps . . . .

same city, and Miss Ethel P. Woods of West Newton, Mass., is now their guest. Charles has a handsome motor boat "Panhurst" with which they make excursions in all directions.

"Watching the garden grow" is great amusement for some of the city people, who have never had their vegetables grow while they wait, and it is said there is not another garden in this part of the state that equals Prop. Toothaker's and the table is well supplied with plenty of fresh vegetables.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tucker of Boston are here for their annual vacation and "never had a better time in all the years we have been coming to Pleasant Island," they were telling friends this morning. To-day they are entertaining a party of friends from Rangeley Tavern.

Dr. R. H. Breed and friend, R. F. Bogle of Wappinger Falls, N. Y., are among the new comers who are very enthusiastic over life in the Maine wilderness and with George Robertson guide, will have a good idea of this region before they return.

F. H. Bust of West Lynn, Mass., and friend, M. Carter find this a great place for canoeing and paddle for miles over the water.

The new central telephone booth for long distance calls, is often used by those who want to talk with Boston and friends in other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Plumb of Terryville, Conn., are here for several weeks. They reported seeing two deer feeding on the shore of Cupsuptic stream when they came from fishing last evening.

Miss Elva C. Rheinfrank of Brooklyn, N. Y., a relative of Mrs. H. W. Hanan of New York, who is for the summer at House-in-the-wood, came this week to spend some time on the island.

The tennis court is in excellent shape and "I don't think there is a better court in Maine," was what one of the city players of some distinction said. The lovers of the game are having lively sport with the ball and racket.

The day Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Walker went home, in the early morning they went up stream to cast the fly for an hour, and came back with a string of trout anyone would be proud of. These they packed in moss and wrapped in birch bark and took home to Orange, N. J., and the next evening gave a trout dinner to a few friends.

On Wednesday it was the birthday of Mrs. C. A. Washburn of Newtonville, Mass., and of Miss E. A. Reese of South Orange, N. J., two popular guests, and they celebrated the occasion by an out-door feast up Cupsuptic stream.

Miss Helen Watson and friend of Boston came Wednesday for a month's stay and are delighted with this, their first experience of camp life in Maine.

Why Pay Extra for Dried-Up Tobacco?

That's what you do when you buy chopped-up tobacco in tins, bags or foil. Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

Landlord Bowley has a Birthday Other Notes from Mt. View

(Special Correspondence.)

Mountain View House, Rangeley Lake, August 12.—"Sorry, but every room is taken and all our cots are set up, we may have an extra room to-morrow, and there will be plenty of them the first of September," is the greeting all comers have received this week, and who is not glad that the Rangeleys lakes have packed hotels and camps?

Wednesday evening a large bouquet of American beauty roses in the big parlor were a pleasant reminder that Landlord Bowley had reached his 62nd birthday, and congratulations were in order, and we trust long after the perfume of the roses is gone the many good wishes will be kept in memory to cheer and bless the kind, generous heart of Mr. Bowley whose friends are legions.

The big camp is again taken by a party of well-known Philadelphia people, who after an absence of five years during which time they have been in Europe are welcomed back to Mountain View, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin, their sons, W. J. Jr.,

The Gordon Trio furnish most excellent music and their afternoon and evening concerts are much enjoyed and appreciated.

Mrs. S. P. Howland and daughter, Mrs. A. McDruey of Boston, have joined their friend, Mrs. E. P. Thayer for a stay of several weeks and like all new comers, are charmed with the place.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Frank Bugbee and Miss M. H. Johnson of Willmantic, Conn., are also new comers.

Coming by auto Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Merrill, Miss Ruth Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Blake of Portland tarried here part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker of Hartford, Conn., have been joined by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Howe and Mrs. Daniel R. Howe of the same city and Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hazen of Boston and the party are greatly enjoying the August days at Mt. View.

Rev. and Mrs. Sylvester M. Paulson of Philadelphia are among the happy company who are spending vacation days here. Rev. Mr. Paulson is pastor of St. Michaels' Lutheran church of Germantown, Penn.

The last night Pullman of the week-end brought Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Green, Mr. Newell, W. N. and Miss A. Loring of Hartford, Conn., F. Darmerth of South Manchester, Conn., who were met here by automobile and after breakfast made a quick run to Eustis and from there they went to Round Mountain Lake for a stay of several weeks.

For over Sunday, the following party were here: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bingham, Herbert Randall of Hartford, Conn., and W. M. Davis of Boston.

A. M. Hazen of Middletown, Conn., has joined his son.

E. Edgar Sutphen and daughter, Miss Anne J. Sutphen and friend, Miss J. E. Larter of Newark, N. J., who came in their touring car will remain for two weeks before going to Poland Springs. Mr. Sutphen, after an absence of two seasons found old acquaintances glad to see him back to Mountain View.

Mrs. L. E. Dickerson, Miss E. H. Prentice and Miss Sylvia Bolles of Hartford, Conn., have joined friends for the remainder of August.

Geo. S. Dunham of Brockton, Mass. is one of the old timers heartily greeted on his arrival this week.

Miss M. W. Alcorn and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Herz of Philadelphia are pleasantly located here until September.

E. A. Pearce of Hackensack, N. J., who has been an annual guest for over 20 years arrived this week. Mrs. Pearce will, on her return from California join her husband the first of September.

W. Roger Fronefield of Moylan, Penn., came this week to spend a few days with his family, who are in camp at Dodge Pond.

Now and then someone who loves to angle for the trout and salmon, or to cast the fly at Quimby Pond comes in with a good mess of fish for themselves and friends.

The event of the week in which everyone has been greatly interested was the making of a part of a wonderful moving picture, Clyde Fitch's story, "Her Great Match," with Gail Kane the "Queen of the Movies" as the star. James Johnson, one of the directors for the Solax Blache Company of Fort Lee, N. J., after going all through the Adirondacks and other parts of the country looking for the right scenery for this play was here two weeks ago and on Kennebec stream found just the spot wanted. Then it required much work to complete the picture story. More than 50 trees were purchased and cut for the logs and other important arrangements completed and on Monday night Mr. Johnson, accompanied by a company of actors, including Gail Kane and her maid and the moving picture photographers came. On Tuesday everybody was ready to go up Kennebec stream and watch the wonderful real acting, when down came the logs and Miss Kane in the canoe was carried along with them over the rapids and surely was a heroine, as the canoe was smashed and the rescue made. The crowd watching got almost as wet as those taking part, for the rain fell in torrents part of the time, but did not dampen the enthusiasm of those who took part or those who looked on, and everyone in this part of the land will be sure to go to the movies when in the city this winter to see, "Her Great Match." The remainder of the story, "The Log Mill," was acted at Rumford Falls. While here at Mt. View the party were greatly taken with the place and the beautiful country which was to them a wonderful picture in Nature that the movies can not improve upon.

THE CUSTOM FIT GUN

What It Means and how This Expert Fits It to the Trap Star

The chances that a shooter has of picking from stock a gun that is ideally—perfectly—suited to him are about two in a hundred—certainly not more than five. This does not mean that you cannot go into almost any gun store and select a gun that will enable you to give a fair account of yourself at the traps or in the field, for you can, because of the studied efforts of gunmakers to strike averages of fit. Indeed, this is one of the wonders of the art of gunmaking.

But to attain the ideal of perfection, the trapshooting gun should fit the shooter's shoulder, arms, hands, fingers, eyes, cheek; in fact, it should fit him from head to foot and within small fractions of an inch, for every part of a man's body has a bearing on his skill at the traps. Other essentials of the perfect gun are proper weight, balance and trigger pull.

With so many exacting conditions to be met, it would seem that the fitting of a gun to a shooter was one of considerable difficulty. A mechanical genius has simplified the operation by inventing the try-gun. He has worked out a system of applying set screws and lock nuts to an ordinary gunstock, thereby making possible any combination of stock, drop of heel or comb, angle of pitch, cast-off, cast-in, etc.

When fitting a gun to a shooter, the expert sizes up the candidate in a general way, then hands over the try-gun to be thrown to the shoulder without any adjustments having been made. A critical examination will show, for instance, that the stock is too short, the drop is too great and that the cast-off is insufficient. These faults are discovered by the expert standing back of the shooter, in front of him and by having the shooter rest the gun in the hollow of his arm and reach for the trigger with his first finger.

The set screws are adjusted to compensate for these faults and locked in place to permit the shooter to try firing at a few targets. If the gun fits naturally and goes back to the same position every time the shooter throws it, to his shoulder, and a fair number of broken targets result, it is safe to assume that the fitting has been a success, while if the gun does not handle easily and but a few or no targets are hit, the adjusting process is continued. When it is decided that a good fit has been secured, measurements of the adjusted stock are made on a card designed for the purpose and it is sent to the gunmaker to guide him in fashioning a stock.

Fortunately for the man who already owns a gun that does not fit, a new stock can be made according to the fitter's specifications, or, in many cases, the old stock can be altered. It frequently happens that but a single detail needs to be changed to make a gun fit to perfection, but that little change in the gunstock may make a big change in the shooter's average. Therefore, the importance of having the gun fitted to you rather than trying to fit yourself to the gun.

Only recently a man who had tried trapshooting with indifferent success—about 12 to 18 out of 50—went to a club and had a try-gun fitted to him. He immediately proceeded to smash targets like an expert. The beginner broke 22 out of 25 clay pigeons when his gun fitted him, and that is a performance not to be sneered at. Many men have been shooting for years and are satisfied when they get a score of 20 out of 25. Of course, luck was a factor in the smashing of the man who was using the try-gun, but, on the other hand, his showing proved that he was better able to judge the course and the speed of the "flying birds" when his shooting iron was made to his measure.—Springfield Republican.

No Doubt About It.

If you know what a man likes to talk about you can get in a half hour with him any time, no matter how busy he thinks he is.—Laporte Herald.

Bacteria in the Home.

The average house, where the rooms are only fairly ventilated, and the housekeeper is indifferent, may have from 10,000 to 15,000 bacteria to the cubic foot.

The new Maine Register for the coming year has just been received at our office. This book, starting as a small manual of 370 pages in 1870, has grown in size and merit with each succeeding year, until the present edition gives a book of 1070 pages, every page filled with information concerning the State of Maine. Mr. Grenville M. Donham, of Portland has compiled the book annually for over forty years and the edition of to-day shows the result of his careful work in every page. It is a book which no man doing business in Maine can afford to be without.

WEST PHILLIPS REUNION

The attendance at the West Phillips Reunion was somewhat lighter than it has been for a number of years past owing no doubt to the weather. A near accident marred somewhat the pleasure of the meeting. A branch of a maple, about four inches thick was blown down in the high wind and fell between two ladies who were seated at a table, Mrs. Allenston Rich and Mrs. Hannibal Smith. It just grazed Mrs. Rich's cheek but she suffered only slight injuries.

It was voted to postpone the meetings at West Phillips for five years and to hold them during that time jointly with the Wing Reunion. Following is the program:

Music
Prayer
Address of Welcome,

Mildred Kempton
Response, Daniel Orr
Music—Mandolin, Miss Leathers
Original Poem, Bion Wing
Business
Music
Recitation, Nancy Doyen
Address, F. M. Hammond
Original Poem—Hills of Maine,
Hazel Webber

Music—Mandolin, Miss Leathers
Remarks, Asa Prescott, G. L.
Lakin, Miss Leathers, Morrill

Wing, Silas Wing, Bion Wing
At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Pres., A. J. Toothaker, Vice Pres., Chas. E. Dill; Sec. and Treas., Mrs. Levi Field. Officers to elect all necessary committees.

Some of those in attendance from out of town were: Daniel Orr and family, Bangor; Nathaniel Nile, Rangeley; Jennie Kempton Luce and daughter, Constance, Springfield, Mass.; Esther Badger, Industry; Asa Prescott, Jamaica Plain, Mass.; Florence True and daughter, May, Mrs. Chas. Connish, Mrs. Frank Reed, Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Allenston Rich and two sons of Canton.

Really a Serious Matter.

Two neighbors had a long litigation about a small spring, which they both claimed. The judge, wearied out with the case, at last said: "What is the use of making so much fuss about a little water?" "Your honor will see the serious nature of the case," replied one of the lawyers, "when I inform you that the parties are both milkmen."

Ever Upward.

IN AND ABOUT PHILLIPS

A new piazza light with artistic lettering has been installed at the Elmwood.

Hon. Joel Wilbur and his family, who have been at their camp on Rangeley lake for a few weeks came home Friday.

We were pleased to see Mrs. Charles Stewart able to be on the street Wednesday. Mrs. Stewart has been confined to her home by illness for several weeks.

Mrs. J. Watson Smith left for Harpswell to visit friends Thursday noon. Miss Nathalie has been there for the past few days. They will return to Phillips again before leaving for their home in St. Paul, Minn.

Miss Lizzie Greenwood, a teacher in Haverhill, Mass., and Miss Emilie Greenwood, a student of osteopathy in Kirksville, Mo., were recent guests of their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenwood. Mrs. Mina Taylor of Pittsfield, Me., was also a guest.

In the petition of Mrs. E. H. Whitney for separate maintenance and custody of the children held before Judge Thompson of the Probate court Tuesday, August 17 the following witnesses were called. The Petitioner, Doctors Higgins and Currier of Phillips and Howard of Farmington. After the evidence was heard the parties got together with the judge and decided on $40 a month. E. E. Richards was attorney for the respondent and O. H. Hersey and J. Blaine Morrison attorneys for the petitioner.

Mrs. Albert Worthley of Arkansas City, Kansas, joined her husband in Phillips Wednesday noon. Mrs. Worthley has been in New York with her daughter, Mrs. Edna Worthley Underwood for several weeks. They will remain in Phillips for some weeks yet.

Merle Loring, son of Will Loring, formerly of this town and friend of Providence, R. I., who are on a few weeks' camping trip in Maine on their motorcycles, are visiting relatives here for a time. They take their tent along with them and cook their own food. On their way home they will make a tour of the White Mountains.

Mr. Joseph Eaton of Auburn, Mass., is a guest at C. F. Chandler's. Mr. Eaton was a brother comrade of the late H. R. Butterfield of Co. A. 25th regiment of Massachusetts, and they camped under the same rubber blanket through the war.

The 1913 Club will be entertained by Mrs. O. H. Hersey Friday afternoon of this week.

The teachers for the rural schools are as follows: Reed, Marion Sargent; Blythen, Pathia Moores; Prescott, Zoe Day of Bath; Winship, Lulu Hatch of Farmington; Cushman, Fern Gould; Cadden, Lillian Durrell of Kingfield. All district schools will begin August 23, with the exception of the Winship which will begin August 30.

The assistant in the Grammar school and the music teacher will be Miss Marjorie Cutler of West Brookfield, Mass.

A fine selection was rendered at the Methodist church last Sunday by the Misses Agnes Ross, Olive Ross, Pearl Frazer, accompanied by Howard Ross, alto horn, which was appreciated by the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Blaisdell and Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Austin motored to Lewiston Sunday. Mrs. Blaisdell will spend a few days visiting Mr. Blaisdell's parents and Mrs. Austin will visit her aunt, Mrs. B. F. Gould.

W. T. Hinds and Son recently lost their valuable brood mare Adaze and a young colt. The colt received injuries in the pasture but the veterinary called thinks that the mare was poisoned. They have sent the stomach to Portland for analysis.

TRAINING FOR REAL WARFARE

National Guard Preparing for Conflict as it Would Be on the Actual Battlefield.

A photograph in the New York Times shows members of the Seventy-first regiment of the New York National guard "perfecting themselves in the operation of firing field mines." The men are in their armory. Yet they are digging down into the earth and heaping up earthen breastworks. "This," says the Times, "is in accordance with the recent policy by which the floors of the National guard armories were all removed in order that the militia might benefit by practice drills held on the ground under conditions more nearly approaching those of actual camp life. In plain words, the toy-soldier stuff is disappearing, with some reflection of the rapidity of its disappearance on the fields of the great war. Those polished wooden floors were a part of the toy-soldier tradition. They were there not only for drill use, but also for dance use. Many regiments had to rent their armories for dances or meetings in order to get revenue enough to live. With the earth floor, all this must go."

War is not fought on hardwood floors. It is fought in the dirt. It is more important that men be trained under real conditions than that their armories have all the social advantages.—Chicago Post.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

A most happy occasion was the celebrating of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sampson Sunday afternoon, August 15. About 70 of their friends gathered at their home, bringing many gifts, including $20 in gold. Most beautiful flowers were also sent in and many letters and greetings from absent friends.

A poem written for the occasion by Mrs. Sylvader Hinkley was read by Mrs. Larrabee, also a selected poem which was very appropriate, and both were much enjoyed. Mrs. Minnie Davenport Craig sang three selections in the most pleasing manner.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served liberally. The wedding cakes made and presented by Mrs. E. W. Mallett and Mrs. W. V. Larrabee were much admired. These were also cut and served. Miss Beth Pease celebrated her sixth birthday and had a beautiful cake bearing six candles.

The event was doubly interesting as it was the eighth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Pease, who were present. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mallett of Topsham were among the out-of-town guests.

Could we turn back the wheels of time

To eighteen sixty-five,
We'd find the subjects of my rhyme
Were very much alive.

For August fifteenth Harve and May
Began life's walk together,
And faithfully they've kept the way
Through every kind of weather.

'Twas Lawyer Phillips tied the knot
Which made this couple one;
He surely tied it good and taut
For its never come undone.

Now, although fifty years have passed

Since that eventful day,
The cords of love have held them fast
Through each step of the way.

To the old home farm Harve brought his wife

That day, on life's fair morn
And here they've spent their married life

Together they have worked and planned

Ne'en idle, he or she,
And by the labor of their hands
They've gained prosperity.

Three children cheer their hearts to-day,

Alice and Frank and Belle.
Their first-born, little Allie May,
God took with Him to dwell.

The daughters married and they both
In distant towns reside,
Belle's little ones, Harvey and Beth
Are their grandparents' pride.

A very faithful helper, they
Have had in Frank, the son,
He's been content with them to stay,
Their interests are one.

In spite of work that Harve has had
With spade and axe and hoe;
He's still as straight as when a lad
In those days so long ago.

May's fame has spread for miles around,

She is a noted cook,
And better butter can't be found,
No matter where we look.

Of many changes we might speak
Some pleasant, others sad;
But cheerful topics now we seek
To make us, each one, glad.

We're glad for all the blessings great
Showered upon Harve and May
Glad that they've lived to celebrate
Their golden wedding day.

Glad that together we can meet,
Glad that the weather's fair,
Glad that so many friends can greet
To-day, this honored pair.

Glad that the children all are here,
And grandchildren as well;
Their presence helps so much to cheer,
Much more than we can tell.

We're glad to see the happy look

Upon this gathering,
Like "Pollyanna" in the book,
We're glad for everything.

We hope to-day will make one more
Bright link in memory's chain,
And when our work on earth is o'er
In heaven we'll meet again.

Not Sure of Herself.

Even members of the family had to look twice to be sure as to "who was who" of the twins. But they didn't put different colored hair ribbons on them until the day when grandma, coming into the living-room, said to the small person looking out of the window, "Is it Josie or Rosie?" And the twin replied, "I think it's Josie."

A DAY WITH THE TROUT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Many times during the long, cold winter I had looked forward with great anticipation toward my annual fishing trip, which takes place on the first day of May. The month of April was a warm month and as each day passed it looked as though the weather would be excellent for trout fishing on the first of May. But no, about a week before the end of April the weather suddenly turned very cold with a cold wind to keep the weather company, and it stayed cold, and the wind blew up till the 29th, and then it commenced to rain, and it rained more or less for the next two days, so, much as I hated to, I was obliged to give up my fishing trip for the time being.

After a few days of cold, rainy weather in May it turned warm again so my father and I then planned to make our trip on May 15, and this time the weather was favorable.

All preparations having been made the night before we rose at the call of the alarm clock, which, by the way, was set at four o'clock. After partaking of a hearty breakfast of eggs, bacon, coffee and doughnuts, we slung our duffle on our backs and hit the old Indian trail, which led us through the forest to our destination.

It was a beautiful morning, the sun peeped over the edge of the horizon about five o'clock, for which we were very glad, as it was quite chilly so early in the morning. The shafts of sunlight here and there, the newly budding trees, and the clear, invigorating air that one can get only in the woods, made us both feel glad that we were able to get "back to Nature." With the early spring flowers to attract our attention, and now and then a gray or red squirrel or a rabbit jumping across the trail in front of us made it seem but a very short time before we had covered the five miles to our fishing grounds.

When we reached the brook, which is called the Big Fox, we found that, early as we were, someone was there ahead of us. We inquired what luck he was having and received this answer, "I haven't had a bite yet, and I don't believe there is a trout in this brook. I'm disgusted with it and think I shall go and try another brook I know of." This was certainly encouraging news. But Dad and I were going to have a try anyway, so we rigged up our rods and started fishing.

We commenced to fish on what is known as Burnside Meadow, and the brook here is nothing more or less than a series of large deep holes and long stretches of swift water, ideal places for the "big fellows" to lie. We started with lopes high, and fished, and fished, and fished, with never a nibble, and with each hole came further disappointment. I had about decided that the fisherman we met was right in saying that there were no fish in the brook, or if there were they were not inclined to bite, when I caught one about six inches long. Of course this gave me added hope and I fished each new hole very carefully, but it was of no use, they would not bite. After a little more of this discouraging fishing we decided to walk up above Burnside Meadow and try them in the pasture.

When we came into the pasture I saw a large deep hole with the water boiling into it and a long stretch of swift water just below. The sun was rather bright, and as I knew if the trout I felt sure were in that hole saw me, it would be of no use to fish there, I got down on my hands and knees and crept with infinite caution as near the pool as was possible without being seen, then I cast right at the edge of the boiling water with the intention of letting it float down through the swift water below, but the bait had hardly touched the water when bang! the line straightened out and the reel sung; at last I had hooked a decent one. He started back into the foam, but I checked him and so had him lying on the bank beside me, a nice ten-inch brook trout. I cast again into the pool just at the edge of the foam, and in two minutes I had another as near like the first one as two trout could be. I now began to feel highly elated, but was destined to be more pleased than ever before I left that pool. After landing the second one I cast a few more times with no result. I then noticed a large rock about midway down in the swift water; it split the current and left a little space of deep, almost still, water behind it. I crawled nearer the bank and made a cast so that the bait landed in the still water just behind the rock. It had hardly struck when I saw a commotion and the next minute I felt a violent tug on the line. I snapped my wrist, slightly hooking the fish; almost at the same instant he came out of water with a shake, then back he went and started under the rock. I thought if he should get under the rock he would foul the line and I would lose him, so at the risk of breaking the rod I brought him up short. At this he broke water again and then flashed down stream, then back up again then across, then another dash for the big rock, then up into the foam at the head of the pool; he did this over several times before he gave up, and then as I had him near the bank and reached for him he made one final dash for the rock, but he was entirely under my control now and in another second he lay panting on the bank, a brook trout twelve inches long and weighing a little over a pound. Of course I was pleased; who wouldn't be after fishing all the morning without any luck, and then getting three trout like that out of the same hole?

I then started up the brook and caught up with Dad just in time to see him catch a ten-inch trout out of a very difficult place. The pool was full of sunken logs and the underbrush was very thick around it, but he played the trout in and out among those logs successfully and soon had him with some more nice ones he had caught while I was at the large pool below.

We fished a little while longer, but the farther up stream we went the smaller the fish grew, so finally we stopped for dinner. We had a frying-pan with us and in a few minutes we had a couple of panfuls of nice crisp trout, and weren't they good? Well, I'll leave that to you, Brother Sportsmen; almost any old thing tastes good in the woods, but freshly caught trout cooked by the side of the brook are about as good a meal as I ask for. After dinner we crossed the fields and fished two other smaller brooks.

At four o'clock in the afternoon we stopped fishing and counted up. Between us we had seventy-five, one of the prettiest and largest messes of brook trout we ever caught on the Big and Little Fox brooks. After dressing them we started for home, reaching there about seven-thirty, tired and hungry, but supremely happy with our day's catch.—National Sportsman.

Genius.

Genius appears to be nothing more than associative faculty of high order. High order of associative faculty belongs to the group of phenomena by individuals whose cell protoplasm has been sensitized beyond the mean degree. This sensitization is due to microbe influence, no matter whether from direct toxic impression made by bacterial products, from liberated endotoxins or from proteolytic end-result poisons.

SUMMER DISEASE OF CATTLE

Infectious Sore Eyes Cause Many Animals to Go Blind—Spread Through Medium of Flies.

(By GEORGE H. GLOVER, Colorado Experiment Station.)

There is a disease among cattle, seen mostly in the summer, affecting the eyes and causing many of them to go blind. This is an infectious sore eyes, and by cattlemen on the range is spoken of as "pink eye" of cattle.

This disease is undoubtedly infectious and spreads from one animal to another, probably through the medium of flies. The disease runs its course in an animal in from one to two weeks and may result in total blindness, though usually the sight is not impaired. Only one eye may be affected. The first symptoms is a profuse flow of tears. Soon the eye becomes very sensitive to light and is kept constantly closed. The eyeball becomes clouded and gives the appearance of a film over the eye.

Animals affected with this disease should be confined in a comfortable stall with the light excluded and given laxative, nourishing food.

A simple treatment consists of bathing the eyes with a strong solution of boric acid, or perhaps what will be still better, a few drops of the following mixture may be placed in the eyes with a dropper several times a day: Add half a grain of zinc sulphate and ten grains of boric acid to an ounce of distilled water.

The animal should be protected from the flies, as they greatly increase the irritation to the eyes and probably spread the infection to other animals.

SHROPSHIRE IS BEST SHEEP

New York Breeder Is Very Careful to See That Ewes and Lambs Get Plenty of Exercise.

I consider the Shropshire the best utility breed among sheep. As a producer of wool and mutton both of the best quality are secured. I became interested as early as 1880, having at that time some Shropshire grades, writes Arthur S. Davis of Orange county, New York, in Orange Judd Farmer. One of my ewes weighs 200 pounds, and in four years has sheared 60½ pounds wool. My yearling rams run from 170 to 200 pounds.

It is my rule to change the sire to prevent inbreeding once every two years. My method of breeding for show does not differ from that for any other purpose. I give them plenty to eat, like oats, clover hay and clover pasture, in season. I am very careful to see that the lambs and ewes take lots of exercise, and do not care for shelter except from winds and storms.

My chief difficulty has been with stomach worms. I am now using tobacco dust with a salt, which gives good results. It is advisable not to keep them on old pastures too long at a time.

PROPER FENCING FOR SHEEP

Always Looms Up as Serious Problem to Those Interested in Keeping a Few of the Animals.

To those interested in getting a few sheep on the farm the fencing problem always looms up as a most serious difficulty. It does not require a heavy fence to hold sheep. Barbed wire, however, is most unsatisfactory fencing for sheep.

The best kind of fence is one made of woven wire from 30 to 42 inches in height, having from five to nine horizontal wires and from 16 to 20 stays or vertical wires to the rod.

Any woven fence coming inside these limits if put on to good posts from 14 to 16 feet apart will make a satisfactory fence for turning sheep. With a 30-inch woven wire it is always desirable to place at least one barbed wire on top.

When building a fence to turn sheep it might just as well be so constructed as to turn all classes of farm animals.

Where it is desired to fence against hogs it will be necessary to have a barbed wire next to the ground as well and a somewhat closer mesh and heavier wire must be used.

Soy Beans Per Acre.

About one and a half peck of soy bean seed will sow an acre when planting with a corn drill one seed in a hill 24 inches apart in the same row as the corn. This makes a splendid hog food.

Southern Town With Vision.

A combination of foresight with the municipal ownership principle has given the United States one taxless town. This phenomenal community is Harrisville, W. Va., which 20 years ago bought a natural gas well and piped the town. Later the municipal gas plant was let to a private concern, which pays a rental sufficient to meet all the local expenses for government and public improvements.

Now Harrisville, not content with the success of its experiment in one phase of municipal ownership, is about opening a railroad of its own, which it has built to another town six miles away. It remains to be seen how soon Harrisville will get out of the taxless class. Railroadings is a more precarious business than selling natural gas.—Newark Star.

Cat's Franks Bring Police.

A cat whose paws caught in the chains by which the gas lamps were turned on and off brought six policemen to the pawnshop of Morris Rhodes, 106 Washington street, Patterson, N. J., at one o'clock in the morning and Rhodes in pajamas to the sidewalk shouting "Thief!"

A night watchman saw the lights, ran to the police station and the reserve squad hurried out.

The proprietor's cat was found dangling by its forepaws from rings on the lamp chains. Pussy was freed from its predicament caused by playing with the chains.

INTERESTING PUTTING CONTEST

Baseball Holds Interest—Other
News Notes From Kineo

Kineo, Moosehead Lake, Me., Aug. 14.—Many interesting events have occupied the summer crowd gathered here which is the largest Kineo has seen in years. Keen baseball, golf, rifle shooting have featured the summer pastimes, while there have been many social affairs.

The largest number that ever participated in a putting match here gathered on the small links in front of the hotel Friday afternoon. Thirty-two qualified, and after some nip and tuck battles the finals were played between Mr. J. Nelson Manning of Brookline and Dr. Jay F. Schamberg of Philadelphia, Mr. Manning winning out on an extra hole. The prize for the lady remaining in the longest went to Mrs. L. M. Josephthal of New York. Many watched the contest from the porch.

Clarence Freeman of Philadelphia won the weekly golf handicap in easy fashion bringing in a card of gross 95, handicap 16, net 69.

The rain Saturday caused the postponement of the children's putting contest for the Quackenbush prize until Monday forenoon, when Miss Gwendolen Shaw of London, won. The Yacht Club races for the especially handsome trophies offered by Ex. Commodore Arthur B. Waring was postponed to Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Henry Sheaffer's prize is being contested for to-day.

Baseball has furnished some excitement. Kineo met disaster in the opening game with Dover-Foxcroft, Brown, the reliable pitcher for the resort boys having to retire in the second inning in favor of Goldrich, and the home team losing 12 to 3. In the second day, however, they came back and shut out the visitors from "down river," 3 to 0. Brown got sweet revenge holding the opposing nine to two singles and having them completely at his mercy throughout the day. A big crowd looked on both days.

Horseback riding never had more devotees than this season. The following are seen daily on the Kineo bridle paths: Miss Gwendolen Shaw, Miss Senior, Mrs. H. P. Shedd, Miss Clarice Paterson, Miss Getskay, Mrs. L. M. Josephthal, Miss Audray Josephthal, Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Marjorie Sillocks, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Taylor, Lt. Commander, L. M. Josephthal, Paul Feuchtwanger, Master Kenneth Outerbridge, Irving Williams of New York; Miss Katherine Gibson, R. K. Gibson, Garden City; Dr. J. C. Boyd, Washington; Mrs. Jos. Knight, E. S. Kinley, Clarence Freeman, Philadelphia; B. Barrett, Bloomfield, N. J.; Mrs. Thomas U. Coe, Bangor; Miss Virginia and Master Gilbert Quackenbush, Greenwich, Ct., and Mrs. William Douglass, New Haven, Conn.

with interested spectators. The early part was given over to the children who made a pretty scene in the modern dances. Two little girls, Miss Helen Knight, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Knight of Philadelphia, and Miss Audray Josephthal, daughter of Lt. Commander L. M. Josephthal of New York were the fortunate ones. Among the older group dancing last, Mrs. Austin J. Feuchtwanger of Riverside, Conn., and Paul Feuchtwanger of Madison, N. J., were the couple to survive and were declared winners. The affair was in charge of Madeline Francis Gale of Boston, instructress at the Mt. Kineo.

A happy company were the guests of Edward S. Kinley of Philadelphia, at a dinner party Saturday evening at the Mt. Kineo. A general good time in which all took part prevailed throughout the evening, merriment and dancing being enjoyed by 20 young people in attendance. Clarence Freeman and Mr. Kinley acted as the principal toastmasters of the evening showing great literary talent in the four line verses they composed for the occasion. Hand-drawn and painted placecards, the artistic work of Miss Katherine Gibson, were greatly admired, and afterwards displayed in the hotel foyer gaining many complimentary remarks for their designer. Those enjoying this function were the Misses Katherine Clark, Marion Carpenter, Jeanette Woodward, Katherine Gibson, Marjorie Sillocks, Kathryn Potter of New York; Betty Smith and Dorothy Kinley of Permantown, Pa.; Keyo Tet-suka, Plainfield, N. J.; Messrs. Irving Williams, Robert Fiedler, Paul Feuchtwanger of New York; Clarence Freeman, Algernon Clapp, Henry Knight, Lewis Smith of Philadelphia, Pa.; J. V. Sloana, Baltimore, and Beach Barrett, Bloomfield, N. J.

John Reilly, Jr., of New York and

Clarence Freeman of Philadelphia, won special prizes offered by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Clark for the weekly rifle contest. The Clarks entertained the members of the Rifle Club at their cottage after the shoot.

Congressman Frederick W. Rowe of Brooklyn and his son, Julien F. Rowe are on the famous Allegash canoe and camping trip for three weeks. This will take them through some of the most noted lakes and streams of the great northern Maine woods. They left Mrs. Rowe at the Mt. Kineo which they made their starting point, she to remain until their return.

No one is enjoying the delights of Kineo more than Judge and Mrs. Samuel Maddox of Brooklyn. They have made trips to a number of the famous spots about Moosehead Lake, having recently, with guides, ascended the swift waters of Moose River by canoe.

Mr. James A. Brodie of Brooklyn, at the Mt. Kineo with Mrs. Brodie, is recovering in health, and was one of the enthusiastic "rooters" at a recent baseball game.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Shedd of Brooklyn, here with their son, August, have just returned from a trip to Marr's Camps on Indian Pond.

Adjutant General of New York state, Louis W. Stotesbury of Manhattan, with his wife and daughter have arrived at Kineo for the balance of the season. The general is a most enthusiastic member of the summer colony, and prominent in the affairs of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club.

Among Brooklynites enjoying Kineo for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Duane and Miss M. Mabon. J. O. Hammitt of Brooklyn has been welcomed back into the summer group here.

Commodore and Mrs. C. A. Conklin of Atlanta, Ga., had as guests at a very delightful dinner party at the Mt. Kineo Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Williams, Mrs. L. O. Boothe, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Waring of New York, and Col. and Mrs. C. A. Judkins.

Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. R. Carpenter of New York entertained a dancing party at the Yacht Club to a waltz rarebit supper.

John C. Lee and Clinton W. Sheafe of Pottsville, Pa., popular members of the younger Kineo crowd were welcomed at Kineo during the week. They were accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Sheaffer.

Recent arrivals from New York and vicinity at the Mt. Kineo include: R. A. C. Smith and family, E. L. Young and family, F. C. Walcott, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Emerson, E. Kirk Haskell, C. D. Hillis, F. W. Halsey, General and Mrs. Louis W. Stotesbury, Miss Helen Stotesbury, Geo. W. Van Slyck, Dr. Newton M. Shaffer, Miss Jeanette R. Woodward, Mrs. Thomas P. Fitzsimmons, Miss Agnes

A New Questions and Answers Department of Interest to Shooters

A. M., Albuquerque, N. M.

1. Is the .38 S. & W. Special as accurate as the 32-20?

Ans. The .38 S. & W. Special is more accurate.

2. Will the 32-20 hollow point make a larger wound than the .38 S. & W. Special solid bullet?

Ans. This depends upon conditions.

3. What one of these calibres would you recommend for hunting in the mountains in a Colt Army Special with a 6 inch barrel?

Ans. I would certainly recommend the .38 S. & W. or Colt Special cartridge. This is a subject on which there has been much discussion. I am sure, however, that the .38 S. & W. Special will give groups from a machine rest of but very little over 6 inches at 100 yds.

W. B., Lonsdale, L. I.

I would like to ask if it is allowable to use a strap for prone shooting in a .22 cal. rifle club, shooting 25 yards. This strap is attached to the barrel near the end and also to the stock and when shooting is wound around the elbow in such a way as to form a rigid position.

Ans. The National Rifle Association rules permit the use of a strap for prone shooting except that done by the school boy rifle clubs. As to why they prohibit it for school boys and allow everyone else to use it is beyond me.

A. H., Farmingdale, N. J.

1. Is the 30-30 powerful enough to moose?

Ans. While numbers of moose have been shot with this cartridge, I would recommend a more powerful cartridge.

2. What is the effective range of same?

Ans. The 30-30 will give good results up to about 300 yds.

3. Could a Colt Automatic pistol be operated by a left-handed person without inconvenience?

Ans. Yes.

3. Are automatic rifles considered as efficient as the common rifle?

Ans. Yes.

B. H. L., Harding, Mo.

I wish to buy a gun for outdoor target practice. It should be accurate up to two hundred and twenty-five yards, or better still, two hundred and seventy yards, as that is about the distance at which most of the big game is killed. Of course, the cartridges should cost not more than from one and one-fourth cents to two cents each. Also, I would like for it to be a large calibre so that it would teach me to shoot with accuracy such heavy rifles as the .32 Special and .35. Also give the best combinations of sights for the rifles you recommend. How are these combinations? Marbles Flexible Rear sight, Marbles adjustable leaf as the middle sight, and Marbles improved or reversible or Sheards gold bead as front sight. Or, Marbles flexible rear globe, Sheards adjustable three leaf as middle sight and Sheards gold front sight. Or, Lyman Combination rear sight, Lyman leaf as middle sight and Lyman ivory bead front sight?

Ans. I think you are looking for a rifle, according to your specifications, which does not exist. You are evidently working under the wrong supposition, as over 90% of all big game in this country is shot at under 100 yards. I would recommend the .22 calibre rifle to handle the .22 long rifle cartridge, then use .22 long rifle cartridges loaded with Lesmok or semi-smokeless powder, at 50 to 100 yards, and I am quite sure you will get all the benefit which can be gotten from rifle practice in so far as being an aid to game shooting. It is also a mighty good idea to do at least half of your shooting rapid fire, i. e., with a time limit for each string of ten shots for instance. If you are shooting a repeating rifle, this time limit should be thirty seconds for ten shots. If using a single shot rifle the time limit should be two minutes. The matter of sights is a matter of personal preference. Any one of the combinations you suggest would give satisfactory results. There is very little choice, and the sights you have picked out are certainly O. K. Before buying a .22 calibre rifle I would suggest that you investigate at a reliable makes on the market. One of the reasons I am suggesting a .22 calibre rifle is that you can do so much more shooting for the same money with a .22 cal. rifle than you can with a higher power rifle that the actual number of shots fired will more than out-balance any possible advantage which could result from using a more powerful rifle.

G. T. D., Bainville, Mont.

1. Which is the quickest powder, the Ballistite, Infalible or Walsrode, and is the Ballistite affected by dampness? Which is the fastest and hardest?

Ans. Ballistite and Infalible are practically the same, being dense powders. Walsrode is also a dense powder, but is not quite so dense as the other two. Ballistically there is very little difference between these three powders, in fact the difference is so slight that it can be entirely disregarded in choosing between them. You will get excellent results from any one of the three.

2. Will it hurt an autoloading shot gun to shoot 28 grains of Ballistite or Infalible in it?

Ans. 26 grains is the heaviest load recommended by the manufacturers, but 28 grains may be used if care is taken to see that practically all the oil is removed from the magazine tube so that the friction will be as great as possible. The extra steel friction ring should also be in place.

O. Z., Deerfield, Wis.

How old must one be to take out a hunting license for rabbit, duck, squirrel, etc., in the State of Wisconsin?

Ans. You must be 15 years old before you can take out a hunting license in the State of Wisconsin.

R. N. O., Fairmont, West Virginia.

I would like to have some information on different cartridges used in Colt's New Service Revolver as to accurate range, velocity and penetration, of the 38-40, 44-40, .44 Smith & Wesson Special, .44 Russian and .45 Colt. Which do you consider the best for power and all around usin a large belt gun of this type?

Ans. I do not have the figures for the 38-40 cartridge. Of the others the ballistics are: 44-40, muzzle velocity 1,028 ft. secs., muzzle energy 469 ft. lbs. .44 S. & W., muzzle velocity 737 ft. seconds, muzzle energy 296 ft. lbs. .44 Russian, muzzle velocity 706 ft. seconds, muzzle energy 272 ft. lbs. .45 Colt, muzzle velocity 820 ft. lbs. There is very difference in actual results obtained with these three cartridges, but personally, I think I should prefer the .45 Colt's.

W. D., Rockford, Ohio.

What do you think about the 20 gauge? Would it do for hunting ducks and squirrels?

Ans. Ducks can be killed with a 20 gauge, or for that matter ducks can be killed with a 28 or 32 gauge even, but if you wish to get satisfactory duck shooting, use at least a 12 gauge.

L. C. B.

I would like your expert opinion as to whether black powder, when used in a .22 calibre rifle will corrode the barrel less than the smokeless or semi-smokeless kinds. I have noticed that, although the black leaves the bore in a dirty condition, when cleaned after the day's shooting, there is less rust showing on the wiper than smokeless powders cause. Is black powder more conducive to long life of the gun where it is only possible to clean the gun once a day?

Ans. The .22 calibre cartridges are loaded at present with four kinds of powder, black powder, smokeless powder, Lesmok powder and semi-smokeless powder. Black powder is good because it does not hurt the barrel. Smokeless is no good as it has no advantage over the other powders except lack of smoke. It is hard on the barrel and I would not recommend its use. Lesmok or semi-smokeless powders are best of all as they give the best possible accuracy with no more wear on the barrel than black powder, and at the same time they do not cake up as black powder does after a series of shots.

CAMP GRIDDLE-CAKES, OR PANCAKES.

"Try-Um" Brand, and Not Impossible To Make.

Set your iron fry-pan back over the campfire so that it will be getting hot—slowly. Have a piece of fat salt pork on a long handled fork, or stick, whittled to a point, with a tiny notch in it to prevent pork slipping off. Have two big plates in readiness, and plenty of good syrup on hand.—Karo Corn syrup, or Maple syrup; maple sugar cakes, if you prefer, which can be melted up into syrup as needed; molasses, if necessary, or plain butter and brown or white sugar.

There are prepared pancake flours that are good and easily handled, to which a half cupful of corn meal, oatmeal, or graham flour may be added to give variety, from time to time; then, there is the good old-fashioned pancake made of flour and baking powder, eggs and milk. Take two eggs, one tablespoonful butter or lard, one tablespoonful of molasses or sugar, and a bit of salt, beat together; sift two cupful of flour with one heaping teaspoonful baking powder or one teaspoonful cream of tartar to one-half teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda; add to the egg mixture gradually, stirring in from time to time, fresh milk, if available, or condensed milk diluted with water, until the mixture is just about thick enough to turn out easily into the hot spider, part of it, only, but enough to make a full-sized spider pancake. Do not cover unless you are obliged to,—it is apt to make them heavy, I think. Cook until brown on both sides, and serve in a pile, cutting like a pie, for each serving.

WELD PLAYS WILTON

Weld, August 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Cullen of New York are at D. B. Swett's for a few weeks.

Mrs. Nelson and son, Addie Nelson of Brookline are boarding at Mrs. J. P. Maxwell's for a few weeks.

Robert Grayson of Medford, Mass., with a party of four are camping at Swett's camps on the West side.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomley, Miss Alice Thomley and Master Howard Thomley of Pawtucket and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thomley of Providence, who have spent several summers here, were at the Maples last week for two days. They motored from St. Johnsbury, Vt., and planned to spend Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. George Lomas, who were here last summer, but who are spending this summer at Lakeport, N. H.

Frank Adams of Winchester, Mass., who spent several seasons here with his family a few years ago and his friend, Mr. Robinson of Boston were at the Maples for a few days last week on their way to the White Mountains.

Hiram Drake of Albany, N. Y., is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Bragg at Camp Morocco for two weeks.

Mr. Hopper of New York is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bassett for a time.

Philip O'Keefe of Boston is the guest of Mrs. Parsons at Glen Cottage for a few days on his way to Bethlehem, N. H.

Recent visitors at Camp Recreation last week were, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Ham, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Hayden of Livermore Falls.

Olle Payne of Dixfield was the guest of his brother, Elmer E. Payne Sunday and Miss Marion Noyes of Dixfield spent a few days with her aunt, Miss Mary E. Payne at Camp Wooglin.

The ball game scheduled with Strong did not come off Saturday, but instead the Wilton team came in and won from Weld 8 to 7. The battery for Wilton was Thorne and Hingworth, with Sawyer going in in the 6th to pitch. Weld began with Millard Pratt and Louis Pratt, but Guy Pratt took his brother's place in the 8th and in the 9th struck out the first three men, Harris Latham umpired.

Sunday morning at the Congregational church Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whittemore assisted with the singing. Mrs. Whittemore sang a solo and at the close of the service Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore sang a duet which was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Next Thursday the Congregational Ladies' Aid will hold their second annual sale in the church vestry. There will be seven tables representing the seven ages of women and a food and refreshment tables besides. In the evening there will be an entertainment in the church, consisting of solos, readings and the famous Peak sisters.

At the Congregational church Sunday evening the heart to heart talks as given this season reached the climax when Dr. Dillion Bronson of Boston gave his entertaining and interesting lecture in "A Hop, Skip and a Jump through India, China and Japan," or a "Happy Holiday among the Heathen." Mrs. Winfred Staples Smith of Dixfield sang a beautiful solo, and Mr. Robert Grayson of Milford, Mass., sang two solos, with Mr. Wallace Conant of Milford, Mass., accompanist. The church was crowded and the delighted audience was a sure proof that the talks as arranged by Rev. C. L. Woodworth, for the summer season are very successful and instructive.

Recent arrivals at the Maples are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bingham, Herbert Randall, Hartford, Conn.; M. B. Davis, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Shelton, Miss Helen Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. ## DELIGHTS OF CAMPING OUT

The camper-out who is a real lover of nature will enjoy roughing it in woods or on a lake or seashore, but he should first make sure that his physical condition renders it safe for him to undertake the venture. When in camp, every care should be taken to avoid needless exposure and to observe the plain rules of health. Outfits should be selected and modes of living in camp should be planned under advice of some experienced person, and it would be well if such a one could be a member of the camp company. A camping party should not be large; a few congenial companions are better than a crowd of unassimilated people. Properly prepared for and wisely carried out, a brief sojourn in tent or cabin in the wilds should build up the average man or woman in bodily and mental health and vigor and supply a fund of pleasant recollections and good spirits for months succeeding. Not a few hard workers in various fields attribute their staying power and success to the invigorating effects of their annual look back to wild nature. To those requiring a complete change of surroundings this plan commends itself as a means beyond compare of restoring worn-out nerves and jaded minds.

The summer vacation season has arrived once more and everybody is again inquiring how and where the period of rest and recreation can be spent to best advantage. Railroads are offering moderate rates to popular resorts and are giving out circulars showing where board may be obtained in village or on a farm, at seaside or among the mountains and lakes, at modest prices.—Leslie's.

Investigation in Germany has shown that the partridge eats the seed of many noxious weeds and insects destructive to plant life, therefore deserves protection.

COMMON AILMENTS

How to Treat Them

A village doctor once said: "If my patients would take care of their little ailments, they would seldom need me for a serious illness." A headache, a disturbed stomach, a bilious attack, a little indigestion, or a cold in its first stages, are not serious in themselves; the danger is in what they may lead to. Many New England people have found a sure remedy for these common ailments in "L. F." Atwood's Medicine. They say it is like having a doctor in the home. Your family needs it. Just say "L. F." to your druggist. He will understand what you mean; he has calls for it nearly every day.

Buy a 35c bottle at your nearest store, or write today for a free sample.

FREE.—On receipt of a yellow outside wrapper with your opinion of the medicine, we will send one of our Needle Books with a good assortment of high grade needles, useful in every family.

ADVICE TO PEOPLE INTERESTED IN THE FOX INDUSTRY.

C. B. Lewis, sales manager of Four Rogers Fur Co., offers the following advice to investors who are interested in the fox industry.

Invest in a company controlled by experienced breeders. They know most about production.

Insist on a company having only thorough bred stock. Stock that has up to date produced on an average the most valuable pelts.

Insist on a company whose ranching is done by men of greatest experience and success—There is a bigger market and better price for their product.

Insist preferably on a company which has a number of foxes. Earnings will maintain a more even average. The company is usually stronger financially. All the foregoing provided you are buying fox stocks.

If you wish to buy foxes:—

Buy standard bred silver black stock—absolutely guaranteed not to produce mongrel foxes of inferior value. Genuine standard bred pups cannot be purchased under $10,000 a pair—nor known breeders of highest class at less than $30,000 a pair.

You will have foxes offered you "just as good" at lower prices. The only reason anything is sold at a lower price is because for some reason the low price is the most that can be secured for it.

To date the highest priced foxes have proved to be the best ones. Proof is found in the fact that they have paid the highest dividends. Quality is the great factor in the fox industry, just as in all enterprises, of merit.

Invest in nothing but the best.

FIELD DAY HELD TO-DAY

markets are only 24 hours away.

He gave two interesting illustrations of the way the westerners advertise their country. They held at the time of the meeting the Inland Empire Fruit Show. Conservatively speaking it could not all have been seen if a man travelled on foot steadily for twelve hours. Most of the exhibits were in car load lots, packed in bushel boxes. It was estimated that it cost the exhibitors $20,000 and the fruit was on exhibition for 30 days.

The second illustration proves what they are doing and the way they do it. One day during the meeting a man came to the hotel and invited 16 of those present to look at his orchards which were 16 miles away. He called them the Arcadia orchards and they were 10 miles square, just ready for bearing, cultivated, pruned and not a spear of grass in sight. One man said to the owner; "You are 16 miles from the railroad, and then 3,000 miles from the market; what are you going to do with your fruit?" Fruit?" he said with a twinkle in his eye, "Fruit? we are not trying to sell fruit, we are trying to sell orchards." And they were selling them in 10 acre lots to Eastern suckers. Mr. Stetson said that he tried to state conditions in Maine as he saw them and the possibilities of Maine from an industrial and agricultural standpoint, and that although climatic conditions were often against us that Maine is better than all of the 23 or more states that he has visited and better even than that well advertised Great Inland Empire.

Some of the early arrivals from out of town were: Jessie Hodgkins, Master of the Excelsior Pomona Grange, Temple; Thomas Williams of Weld; Geo. Tash, Master of the New Vineyard Grange, W. E. Littlefield of Madrid and Dana Sweet and J. A. Norton of Avon.

AVON

Other Strong Items.

(Special Correspondence.)

Strong, August 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lynn and little Virginia of Medford, Mass., were in town the first of the week calling on friends.

Misses Lena and Emma Bunnell of Phillips spent a few days with Mrs. Walter Bradford and other relatives in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Starbird and family of Solon were in town Sunday, the guests of C. V. Starbird and family.

Mrs. Scott Kingsley has been quite ill the past week. Miss Mildred Brackley has been assisting her.

Rev. O. W. Peterson of New Castle spent the week-end with Mrs. Peterson and children, who are visiting relatives here. His many friends are glad to welcome him back.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Starbird, son Raymond, Mrs. Ellen Kilkenny and Mrs. Walter Bradford took an automobile trip to Lewiston Saturday.

Several from town attended the Brackley reunion which was held at Lewis Brackley's in Freeman last Thursday.

Miss A. G. Rogers of Greenville, Me., visited her sister, Mrs. F. H. Leathers a few days last week. From here Miss Rogers and Mrs. Leathers, accompanied by another sister, went to A. L. Rogers and celebrated her 87th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lisherness of Stratton are visiting her brother, Charles Richards and family for a few weeks.

Several from town attended the dance at New Portland last Friday night.

Miss Hattie Smith of Phillips is spending the week in town, the guest of relatives.

Mrs. Jennie Hitchcock Weed of Portland is spending a few weeks in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Libby and little daughter of Kingfield, spent a few days the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. Charles Richards and family.

Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Peterson and daughters, Alma and Hilda returned to their home in New Castle Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Look and son, Berchard are spending the week at Dickey's cottage, Porter's pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chandler took an automobile trip to Waterville Sunday and called on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wyemouth and son from San Francisco, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Newton of Solon were callers in town last week en route to Freeman to visit their brother, U. G. Weymouth. Mrs. Newton was formerly Miss Virginia Weymouth of Freeman.

Mrs. Ella Grover Dow of Phillips is in town visiting friends and attending campmeeting.

Walter Bradford and Harry Chandler were in Farmington Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Stubbs and children and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Howard took an automobile trip to New Sharon Sunday.

Miss Edith Haines of Lowell, Mass., is visiting her cousin, Menzor A. Will and wife.

Allen Campmeeting opened Friday evening with a very helpful sermon by the Rev. D. B. Holt, who gave a great exposition of the text, "There fore being justified by his grace we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Mr. Reuben Smith the evangelist closed the meeting and on Saturday led the afternoon and evening meetings. We were impressed that given fine weather his visit would prove of permanent value to the community. Sunday opened fine and by 10.30 a large gathering had assembled. Mr. Smith preached to us. Everybody was pleased to see in the audience a former minister of Strong, the Rev. O. W. Peterson and more pleased to hear his name announced for the afternoon service. While the children's meeting was proceeding in the chapel the clouds gathered and by 2.15 "the rain descended" and scattered the crowd, but as many as possible filled the little chapel, and others stood on the piazza to listen to Mr. Peterson's discourse on, "Oh, that I knew where I might find Him."

During the service the weather somewhat cleared, but not sufficient to guarantee an evening service, so the local pastor suggested a procession to the Methodist church. At 7 p. m. the residents of the north end of Main street were reminded of the Salvation Army, by seeing a goodly number marching to the church, headed by the local pastor. A large gathering assembled. Mr. Smith preached from the words, "The Master is come and calleth for thee." Monday opened well and the services were of a very high order. All were pleased to see and hear the Rev. J. R. Clifford of Wilton. His fine address on "The three Hebrew children" was very helpful. At the children's meeting to-day Miss Nindel showed great ability for this kind of work, her address on Christ as the sun lighting up the world was unique. If given fine weather the remaining days will be full of interesting meetings. The schedule as announced previously is likely to be carried out with the addition of a Methodist Lovefeast next Sunday at 9 a. m. The business end of the campmeeting is likely to suffer through weather of last Sunday. If those who were kept away because of this and would remember the needs of the association by communicating with the local pastor, the Rev. John Dunstan, it would be appreciated. A word to the wise and interested is sufficient.

Miss Florence Doughty of South Portland is visiting her friend, Mrs. M. A. Will.

Dr. C. W. Bell and D. E. Leighton took an automobile trip to Skowhegan Tuesday.

The many friends of Miss Myrtle Pushee will be sorry to know she is quite ill at Dr. Bell's hospital. She is cared for by a trained nurse.

Raymond Starbird, Ralph Starbird and Leslie Vining went to Jackman, next to the Canadian line, on a fishing trip Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter True are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a baby to their home. Although the little one weighed but 2½ pounds it is said to be doing nicely. They are cared for by Mrs. Etta True.

Mrs. Walter Jones has been quite ill the past few days.

Ralph Eustis has returned from Dixfield where he has been working.

The Burbank family reunion is to be held on Saturday, August 21, with Mrs. Emily H. Dyer at Camp Donald, near Knowlton's Corner, Farmington.

EUSTIS

August 16.

Mrs. Eva Arnold has gone to Round Mountain to work. Her sister, Inez Parker is keeping house for her.

Miss Ina Lovejoy has returned to The Sargent to cook after a vacation of two weeks.

Miss Mertie Small of Canton Point is visiting her father, Will Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vaughan have returned to the Kibby Camps.

Mrs. Cora Parnell has come out from the sporting camps at Chain of Ponds, where she has been cooking. Mrs. Blanche Raymond of Stratton is taking her place. Mrs. Parnell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carroll Leavitt.

Miss Ruth Spiller has returned to North Anson after visiting her cousin Mrs. Edison Sylvester.

Mrs. George Bryant's brother from Portland has returned home, after visiting her for two days. Her daughter, Helen went home with him.

Clinton Meader is working at Stratton.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lockyer were called here from New Hampshire recently. They came with the remains of their little son, Scott, Jr., who died very suddenly. The remains were interred in the Pine Grove cemetery. The funeral was held at Mr. Lockyer's house. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

TAYLOR HILL

August 17.

Will Rand of New Vineyard was a caller at Frank R. Greenleaf's one day last week.

Linwood Kneeland visited his sister, Mrs. Hazel Parlin at New Vineyard Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Partridge and son have been spending a few days at Porter lake.

The heaviest thunder shower of the season passed over here July 9, washing the roads out badly. No other damage has been reported.

Mrs. Addie Vaughan was a caller at Strong village one day last week.

Mrs. Josie Dickey and Mrs. Nettie Fuller were callers in Freeman one day recently.

David Richardson is cutting hay on the Kershner place.

EAST WELD

August 16.

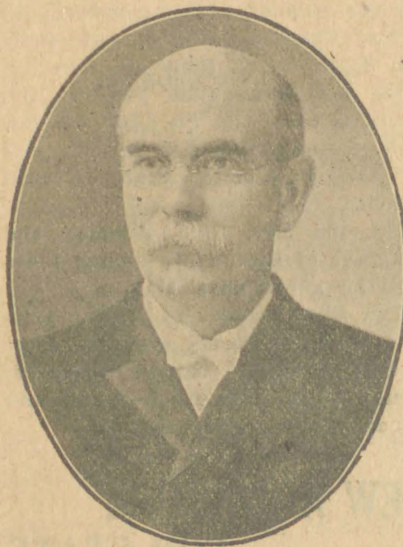

Dr. A. T. Wing started for Boston in his new Ford auto last Friday morning. His fiancée, Miss Deborah Warranow of Somerville, Mass., also his father, B. B. Wing of Antrim, N. H., formerly of Weld intend to return with him the last of the week and will stay in this vicinity till after the Wing reunion, August 26.

Mrs. Lettie Greene of Rutland, Vt., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Buker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bion Wing of Phillips, also his daughter, Mrs. Carroll True and her friend, Miss Marsden, both of Auburn were in Weld Sunday the 9th. Mr. Wing and his daughter called at I. H. Buker's. They came from Phillips in Mrs. True's auto and returned via Farmington and Strong on account of bad roads.

Your Brain Must Have Pure Blood.

No more important physiological discovery, has ever been made than that the brain requires a due supply of pure blood. It is estimated that this organ receives as much as one-tenth of all the blood that is sent from the heart—a great deal more than any other organ of the body. If the vitality of the blood is impaired, the blood then affords the brain an imperfect stimulus and there is mental and physical languor, sluggishness or inactivity.

Pure blood is blood that is free from humors, it is healthy blood, and the term pure blood as it is generally used means blood that is not only right in quality but also in quantity. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich, red blood. This is one of the great truths about this great medicine.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilds of Wilmington, Mrs. Florence Sawyer and J. Lord Howe, Kingfield.

A cordial welcome awaits the public. Good accommodations for all. Meals at the boarding house, 25¢.

REUNIONS

POMONA GRANGE MEETING

A special meeting of North Franklin Pomona Grange No. 22, P. of H., will be held with Lemmon Stream Grange of New Vineyard on Thursday, August 26th at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Picnic dinner.

"Herne's Oak."

There was a tradition, as old as Shakespeare's time, that one Herne, a keeper in Windsor park, hung himself upon a certain oak tree and that it was ever after haunted by his ghost. Some say the tree was inadvertently cut down in 1796, and others that it stood until blown down in 1863. The British Encyclopedia recognizes the legend without vouching for its truth, and says that Queen Victoria planted a young oak on the spot where the old "Herne oak" blew down in 1863.

Copper-Producing States.

Copper is produced in 19 states and Alaska, the ore in all except five states also containing gold, and in all except two silver.

HEARD OVER THE FARMERS' PHONE

BY LONG DISTANCE.

If There's Any Truth Here it's a Mistake.

Got any news to-day Clara?...No, that's right, there doesn't seem to be much going on....Doc. Higgins was summoned to court Tuesday....yes, he talks an awful lot, they said he got going and talked for about an hour before the judge could shut him off, couldn't anybody else get a word in edgewise....yes, he's an awful talker....I'm going down to the village Saturday and look around the stores, they still have some bargains and the fall goods are coming in....yes, they're selling some 'awful pretty things....No, I didn't go to the dance last week, the music is awful poor....wish they would have something different....I'll probably go this week though....one has to go somewhere once in a while....Well, good bye,....good bye. (To be continued.)

SON OF NOTED AUTHOR ILL

Other Notes from the Tavern

(Special Correspondence.)

The Tavern, Rangeley, August 10.—"The same here as everywhere, rain and more rain and rain," said one of the automobile parties who landed as the water seemed to be coming down in great big buckets full. The weather seems to be the general subject of conversation these days, yet the tourists keep coming and going in all directions.

We are sorry to report that the son of Harriet Becher Stowe, a retired Congregational clergyman, Rev. Charles Edward Stowe of New York, who came here several weeks ago, hoping to quickly recover his health, has not been as well of late and is in the care of a trained nurse. Miss Hilda Stowe came last week and spent several days with her father, who as soon as the weather is pleasant expects to be out of doors.

Mrs. J. N. Packard and sister, Miss A. D. Mower of Auburn, have returned home after a pleasant week's stay.

Coming from their home in their touring car, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Houghton and son, Walter E. Jr., and daughter, Miss Nancy A. of Stamford, Conn., spent part of the week at this hotel.

Miss Ann E. Armstrong of Jersey City, N. J., enjoyed a ten days' outing here while visiting the Rangeleys for the first time.

Touring from Kineo en route for the White Mountains, Mrs. G. A. Nash, Miss Nash, Miss Marie Nash, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Weed, Miss Dorothy Weed of Cambridge, Mass., were here for the past week waiting for the clouds to roll by.

Miss Marie G. Hopkind and I. D. F. Lansing of Albany, N. Y., spent ten days here while touring the lakes.

Samuel T. Wellman, a well-known gentleman of Cleveland Ohio, and a former Maine man, in company with his nephew, S. K. Wellman have greatly enjoyed the past week fishing on the old grounds, with the "same old guide," Vid Hinkley. Mr. Wellman had forgotten how to lure the game fish, although he caught none over 3 pounds and each afternoon would take a trip in his car over to Quimby Pond and cast the fly, catching "hundreds of them" to return to the water.

Prof. Joseph D. Vaughan, principal of the Rangeley High school of Norridgewock and his bride were here this week receiving congratulations and best wishes of friends. They came by auto, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Vaughan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McCarty of Bath were here for a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Nichols of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Atticks of Brookline, Mass., tarried here part of the week, while touring through Maine.

The friends of Miss Katherine Nice of Ogontz, Penn., who spent all last winter at the Tavern and is this summer at Kennebago Lake House was here on Wednesday to meet her mother, Mrs. Wm. J. Nice, Jr., who will spend several weeks at Kennebago.

The following party, who are at The Birches were here Friday on their way for a camping trip to Cam. Among the Clouds on Saddleback Mountain: Chas. W. Gardiner, Robert N. Gardiner of Boston, Mrs. T. Richardsen, Mrs. Wm. C. Watt, Miss E. B. Watt, W. K. Johnson of Philadelphia and Miss E. R. Seabury of West Orange, N. J.

From far away San Juan, Porto Rico, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Banigan, children and nurse have come to remain for August and perhaps until October. They express themselves as greatly pleased with this place and we hope will enjoy a delightful summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. F. Spike of Philadelphia are happily located here for the remainder of the month.

Mrs. Charles E. Grant and little son from Upper Dam are here en route for Farmington, where Mrs. Grant is to attend the 25th anniversary of the graduation of her class of the Farmington State Normal school.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Adams and daughter of Boston are among those here for a few days' stay.

The many friends of N. H. Ellis of Lake View Farm will be most pleased to learn that he has returned home from the hospital and is now fast regaining his health.

NEW AQUARIUM FOR STATE

The aquarium authorized by the 77th Legislature for the State museum in the Capitol is to be built soon. It was feared for several weeks succeeding the date upon which the law providing for the aquarium became effective that the Governor and Council would not approve the expenditure of money and as the money for the department of inland fisheries and game is expended under the direction of the Governor and Council the aquarium would not have been built without their consent. The commissioners have been instructed to go ahead with the work, however, and within a short time a beautiful exhibit of live sport fish will be seen in the State museum.

The exhibit will comprise, Curator James thinks, specimens of trout, salmon, bass, perch, pickerel and possibly other fresh water game fish. No sea fish will be exhibited. There are splendid mounted specimens of Maine game fish on the walls of the State museum, of a size so large it would be impracticable to keep their equals in an aquarium. These serve to show what prizes Maine waters will at times yield. There are also mounted fish of the size captured every day in Maine lakes and rivers. It has long been desired that these exhibits might be augmented by living specimens.

It is altogether seemly that the Maine game fish should be seen alive in the State museum; it is unfortunate that an aquarium has not been provided before. The State museum has excellent exhibits of deer and moose, as good as can be seen in America; the best exhibits of fish are living specimens and since Maine boasts the nation's greatest, sportiest, and most accessible supply of game fish as well as its greatest supply of big game animals the State can well afford to maintain the aquarium in which to show specimens of its far-famed tempters of summer visitors. The exhibit, it is thought, will be well worth the expenditure of just what it will add to the museum as a museum and will be worth many times its cost for its value as an advertisement of the wealth of game fish in the Pine Tree State.

EAST MADRID

August 16.

Mrs. Cora Wheeler and Miss Jennie Wheeler are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cross of Kingfield for a week.

the 4th side of the new cemetery fence Friday afternoon. A good number responded and worked with a will and a fine job was accomplished, after which the ladies gave them an oyster supper at the club rooms. A little more cementing is to be done and the remainder painted when all will be complete. This fence has cost the club $400 besides all the labor which has been given, but it certainly is handsome and an ornament to the town. The Now and Then club justly feel proud of it and great credit is due them.

For some time much annoyance has been caused by not being able to ring the bell on the Union church. Through the efforts of Mrs. Fountain one has been purchased and was put in place by Easter Robbins. Those that gave money for the Union church bell rope were: Mr. and Mrs. George Fountain, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whitney, Mrs. Minnie Harris, Mrs. Martha Heath, Bert French, Edgar Smith, Walter Lovejoy, Laforest Ellsworth, Mrs. Effie Jones, William Pease, Mrs. Mervie Tash, Frank Leary, Clara Baker.

Identifying Aeroplanes.

At the height of 2,000 feet all aeroplanes look very much alike, and troops would be liable to fire at their own machines when they passed overhead were they not all decorated with an emblem to proclaim their nationality.

OBITUARY.*BAYARD TAYLOR STANLEY

Bayard Taylor Stanley died at his home in Kingfield village Monday morning, July 12, of tuberculosis, having been in poor health for a number of years.

Mr. Stanley was born in Kingfield, April 24, 1861, the youngest son of Solomon and Apphia (French) Stanley, a descendent of the first settlers of Kingfield. His grandfather, Squire Solomon Stanley came here from Winthrop about the year 1809. Both his father and grandfather were prominent town officials for many years. Solomon Stanley built the first mill in town on the site of the present French mill.

Mr. Stanley's business was that of a farmer and until a few years ago

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

Many Phillips People Know the Importance of Healthy Kidneys.

The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. Well kidneys remove impurities. Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.

No kidney ill should be neglected. There is possible danger in delay.

he lived on the old Stanley homestead now occupied by J. M. Dolbier. In 1901 he laid out a part of his farm into Stanley Avenue and Roxbury street and built his present residence on Stanley Avenue, which street was soon built up by his brother, Isaac Stanley and other citizens.

About 30 years ago he was married to Miss Laura J. Landers, daughter of William and Jane (Knapp) Landers, also a resident of this town. Mr. Stanley was educated in the public schools of this place and has always lived here with the exception of four years in Newton, Mass., where he was employed in the Dry Plate factory with his brothers, F. E. and F. O. Stanley.

For near relatives Mr. Stanley leaves a wife, Mrs. Laura Stanley, two daughters, Agnes L., who is employed in H. S. Wing's law office; Apphia J., a student in the Kingfield High school; one son William S., who at present is running an auto at Belgrade Lake; one sister, Mrs. Chansonetta Emmons of Newton, Mass.; two brothers, F. E. and F. O. Stanley of Newton, Mass., all of whom were present at the funeral.

Mr. Stanley was a man of kindly disposition, who had no enemies and was highly esteemed by everybody. He will be missed by a large circle of friends.

The funeral services were held from the house Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Otis Alvord of Dover officiating.

Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Peterson of Newcastle were in town Monday calling on friends and were guests of Hon. and Mrs. N. P. Noble for tea. Mr. Peterson was formerly pastor of the Congregational Church in Phillips and his friends were pleased to see him. He reports that he has an ideal church and parish, Newcastle and Damariscotta being combined. Mr. Peterson and family have been visiting Mrs. Peterson's relatives in Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Harnden took an auto trip to Hebron, Sunday, being accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McMullen and Albert McMullen, who called on their brother, Ephraim McMullen, who is at the sanatorium for treatment. Mr. McMullen is able to be up some and is gaining slowly in strength and expects to be allowed to take short walks very soon.

Roy Leadbetter of Auburn joined his wife in Phillips, Saturday, who has been in Phillips for a week or two at the home of his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Austin. He was accompanied by their twin sons. Mr. Leadbetter is suffering quite severely with pinkeye.

Misses Luette Timberlake, Annie Timberlake and Emma Timberlake are at Marsquamcy cottage, Rangeley, for an outing.

Miss Mabel Perry of Boston has been the guest of her friend, Mrs. Chester Fuller, at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. S. G. Haley. Mr. Fuller has also been passing his vacation in town.

Mrs. Frank Davis and son, Paul returned home Saturday night from a visit with relatives in Dixfield.

The Sedgeley Store

Dr. Alexander C. Hagerty, for seven years mayor of Ellsworth, and Candidate for Republican Nomination for Governor of Maine in 1916, says among other things. "I favor some control of so-called mail-order shipments from outside the State, to protect the local dealers who pay taxes, rent and clerks, who help make up the business section of the various towns and supply credit to their neighbors when needed, and who are placed in competition with those mail-order houses who sell only for cash and carry none of the tax burdens of the home dealer."

Extracts from a speech in Congress by Mr. Kelley: "One of the most dangerous methods of unfair competition is the price cutting of standard, trade-marked goods, which have in them the reputation of the maker and his purpose to make them products which will secure and retain the confidence of the buying public. I contend that the maintenance of the retail price is a necessary and legitimate business principal, that it means benefit to all and works injury to none."

"Cutthroat competition never did and never will help the business of the average dealer. I will admit that this may not hold good as regards the mail-order houses, and some department stores, because their interest seems to lie in the direction of putting the little merchant out of business and taking his trade. I am not anxious to help them do that. I take my stand on the side of the little corner store against the great combinations that threaten to wipe it out of existence. I stand with Littlefellow & Co. against the soak-em-good mail-order houses. I consider the neighborhood store a necessity and I want it to have a fair chance."

"To remedy the injustices involved in the situation, an act of congress is necessary, and such a measure, known as the Stevens bill, is pending in this Congress. Congress should make every effort to end this unfair competition and assure a square deal to every party concerned in a meachandising transaction."
