DOES ERNEST G. EVADE THE QUESTION?

The following was taken from the Waterboro Section of the York County Pioneer:

Replying to a recent communication to Margaret J. Thompson, of Kennebunk, of the Woman Suffrage Association, Ernest G. Knights, Democratic candidate for the Legislature from this town, says: East Waterboro, Me., Aug. 10, 1918. Margaret J. Thompson, Chairman York County Woman Suffrage Association, Kennebunk, Maine.

Dear Madam:— I am indebted to you for your favor of the 8th instant in which you inquire, in the event of my election to the Maine Legislature at the coming State election:

"First: If the Federal Suffrage Amendment passes the (U. S.) Senate, will you work and vote for its ratification in the next Maine Legislature?"

"Second: If the Federal Suffrage Amendment does not pass this year, will you support and vote for a Partial Suffrage bill for Maine women in the next Legislature?"

Replying to the first inquiry, I beg to say that if the Suffrage Amendment now pending in the United States Congress shall receive the approval of President Wilson, I shall be pleased to assist in every way to bring about sex equality at the ballot box.

With reference to the second inquiry, I am not at all conversant with the bill that aims at "partial" suffrage and, for that reason feel that I should not be required to pledge myself in advance to its support. "Partial" suffrage would be satisfactory to no one and the old question of full suffrage would be of the same importance as at the present moment. If the woman is to be given the right to vote in matters pertaining to the schools, she should be given the right, also, to pass judgment on the aspirations of many of those who comply with the "Work or Fight" propaganda only in running for office. If full suffrage is granted to the male, holding the balance of power, and which is purchasable, I am now willing to "take a chance" by giving the woman the ballot with the hopes that this evil may be overcome. The claim made by the anti-suffragists that the women does not and cannot comprehend the important matters decided at the ballot box is answered completely by the fact that seventy-five per cent of the present voting population is in exactly the same boat.

I trust you will excuse any further elucidation of my position on the great question. I have a fresh recollection of what happened to some of my best friends in the past that ran on my ticket in this class, and I am convinced that this is the time for nothing but "Action" and lots of it. Should you chance to see me lumbering about the corridors of the State House at Augusta this winter, you may rest assured that I was possessed of the "Faith that moved mountains" and that I used it in every possible way to overcome the three hundred, or more, Republican majority that this class has developed the unhappy practice of producing.

Sincerely yours,
ERNEST G. KNIGHTS

LEWISTON MAN HURT WHEN HIS TOURING CAR TURNED TURTLE

Henry Leclair and Party In Thrilling Auto Wreck At Exact Spot Where Four Lewiston People Were Killed a Few Months Ago

Henry Leclair of 7 Lafayette street, Lewiston, was seriously injured at 7.30 Sunday morning, when his touring car, driven by Mrs. Leclair, turned turtle and rolled over three times.

The accident occurred at "Dead Man's Curve" on the Portland-Boston road, about four miles west of Kennebunk. It was at this same point where, last summer, N. Hamel's machine was overturned and four persons lost their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leclair, accompanied by Miss Lapierre, Mrs. A. Marten, Messrs. Dejardin and Beau-doin, left Lewiston at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning to visit Camp Devens. They had an uneventful trip until the time of the accident. Until they reached the State highway, the traveling was not extra good. The heavy rain of Thursday night, Friday, and Friday night had left the earth roads in a rather poor condition. At 7 o'clock time was excessive speed maintained. This held true, even after the good macadam way was reached.

On the State road they took a bit more speed, but at no time, it is stated, were they traveling at more than a good safe road rate.

At Dead Man's Curve, which is a particularly bad place many accidents having occurred there, the road was wet, slightly muddy and, consequently decidedly slippery.

As Mrs. Leclair brought the car round, the rear wheels skidded on the mud and in a twinkling went over, and over, three times until it stopped against a pole.

All in the car were severely shaken up, but Mr. Leclair was the only one to suffer severe injuries. His neck, back, legs and hands were bruised and scraped, and it was at first thought some bones were broken. Medical examinations, however, showed that such was not the case. He will be confined to the house for some time.

The party were all taken into a near-by farm house, where Mr. Leclair was made as comfortable as possible and later they were brought to their homes in Lewiston, reaching here in the afternoon.

The above was taken from the Lewiston Evening Journal of Tuesday August 13. If ever there was a place that should be investigated and the proper parties compelled to straighten and make the road safe for public travel it is at "Dead Man's Curve." Already far too many lives have been sacrificed, and its high time that a long suffering public and especially autoists demand that the proper authorities take notice and make the road at least passably safe for travel.

THREE BROTHERS IN ARMY FOR THE "GREAT WHITE FATHER"

Interesting letter from a California Indian girl to a Kennebunk Camp Fire Girl.
Riverside, California
July 23, 1918.

Dear Friend:

I am not a Camp Fire Girl, but I saw your name in the April number of "Wohelo" with many others who wished to correspond with other girls.

"Wohelo" is a very interesting paper to me, because I am an Indian girl. Camp Fire appeals to me very much, for I have lived around Camp fires all my life in my home state, New Mexico. My father was a white man, but my mother, an Indian of the Navajo tribe. I do not look very much like an Indian, but an Indian at heart. I have four brothers, three of which are older than myself, and three sisters, making eight in all.

My three older brothers are in the army for the "Great White Father." I love my family very much. My brothers are pure, splendid fellows. They still have the health and bravery known to my people long before the white man came.

My people, the Navajoes are still in the back stages of civilization. Their fate has been a sad one. I and my three sisters are here in California, working our way thru school. We are under the protection of the government school for Indians, "Sherman Institute."

When the Indian Children come to be educated in these schools, they have to give up all their out-of-door life. Certain rules have to be lived up to, in order that those not able to care for themselves may be protected.

We cannot go out at night unless we are chaperoned, which is right. Thursdays we have the afternoon off. On Sundays we can go to the park, but we must leave it at half past five. We cannot walk to or from the park with the boys, but if we meet them there we may talk and go boat riding, but half past five comes mighty soon when you cannot get there until four. You can realize what this means to me. I want an education, and am willing to sacrifice all this. I miss the long walks the evening here are so beautiful.

At the school we have much fun. They have parties for us. Every other Saturday night they have a dance. Sometimes there are special parties, when the boys can take their girl friends. They can also bring them to picture shows, but always with a chaperon.

The boys sit on one side of the dance hall, and the girls on the other. This is when the party is not a special one. When it is a special party they are allowed to sit together.

We march to school, to the dining room, to church. We are lined up according to sizes, and then march by fours. On Sunday morning before church we have line inspection. We must have everything about us in first class condition. If not your name will be taken, and you will have to "stand post." There is room inspection when your room, bed, and everything must also be spotless.

We stand at attention to the raising and lowering of our flag every day in the week. We have a splendid band that plays the marches for us on all these occasions.

We have church Sundays and Thursdays. The choir and the music are always fine.

We are detailed in two divisions. One division works while the other goes to school, taking turns. If you are put in the first division you go to school in the morning and that afternoon you work; while the other division goes to school. You are also detailed to the different departments where you work. They put you in the laundry, or as dining room girls, the hospital, or the sewing room. The boys are also detailed as the girls. They have printing and farm work. If you are never late to line or to your department of work, and do your part, it is great fun. Everything is made by the children, and there are many teachers. The Indian children are always asked to march for the Red Cross, or for any such occasions. Led by the band, we are beautiful marchers. We all are dressed in uniform.

Each girl is given two work dresses, one school dress and two uniforms, all made by the sewing classes.

They have good play grounds, big lawns and basket and volley ball. We have much fun, and if you are good you are always happy.

The next time I will tell you about my home and people if you are interested in the Indians. I thought you would like to hear from one who is a Camp Fire Girl by birth.

Write me about your home for it is very lonely here for one from the free, open life.

Respectfully yours
Inez Wyhe.

DROWNING ACCIDENT

YOUNG DINSMORE OF PORTLAND LOSES HIS LIFE AT THE SWIMMING HOLE

Frank Dinsmore of Portland who was substituting as pianist at the Acme Theatre in this village during the illness of Miss Lone Lackee was drowned at what is known as the Dubois swimming hole on the Mousam river this Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock. Kenneth Joy, Willie Ingham and the deceased started off for a swim and the boys say that the young man swam across the first time with the aid of the cable stretched across the river. He was not an expert swimmer but seemed to be getting along fairly well. The boys were not near him when he went under the water twice, but the third time he came up and called loudly for help the boys immediately going for assistance.

Ernest Jones, Perley Greenleaf and Dr. Barker were among the first to arrive on the scene but the young man did not again come to the surface.

The spot where Young Dinsmore lost his life is a most dangerous one and every precaution should be taken in preventing a repetition of a similar accident.

A crowd was quickly on the spot and Raymond Lunge did excellent diving and grappling irons were used but with out avail until about 3 o'clock this Wednesday evening when the body was located and brought to shore by Ernest Jones.

The body was taken in charge of by Undertaker Lucas and was placed in the tomb in Hope Cemetery and will be taken to Portland Thursday. The young man had just passed his 18th birthday and while here only for a brief period made many friends among the younger boys in the village. He was full of life and action and the parents and relatives of the deceased certainly have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

SERGEANT NORMAN KNIGHT.

A great many men are in the war. Very few can tell about it. Sergeant Knight, who was through the battle of the Somme, the Marne and Ypres, was a member of the first British expeditionary force to France in August of 1914. He is said to be the greatest war speaker in Canada. He at least has the record in recruiting service of securing more enlistments than any other individual. The fifth afternoon of the Redpath Chautauqua.

The annual business meeting of Drakes Island Improvement society was held on the evening of August 10 at Bellevue cottage. The president opened the meeting and the secretary read the reports of the previous meeting, after which the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Charles W. Kelly of this village, president; Benjamin M. Eaton of Winthrop, Mass., vice president; Fred A. Andrews of this town, treasurer; S. Abbie Spooner of Charlestown, N. H., secretary and collector; board of directors, Elmer E. Cole of Wells, Charles H. Woodman of Somerville, Mass., and Howard Small of Charlestown, Mass. Two new members joined the society.

Attentive and helpful audiences were in attendance at the services last Sunday. The rain did not hinder a goodly number of people from being present. There was special commendation of the Young People's Chorus.

The pastor and wife have been away for a few days this week, attending the East Poland Camp-meeting, and Mrs. Rich will remain over the Sabbath.

Mr. Rich will take as the subject of his sermon for next Sunday morning, "Judas, or the Tragedy of a Human Life." The subject, in the third of the Victory Sermons will be, "The Victory of Heroism."

As this is the only church open next Sunday, a most hearty welcome is extended to everyone, to come here for worship, at the morning preaching service, Sunday school, and the evening preaching service. Services as usual during the week.

SACO ROAD AND VICINITY

Mr. Harry Williams of Stoneham Mass., was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Mark Goodwin over the week end. His little son Nelson is spending the summer with his aunt here and his father found him well and happy. He did not return with his father but plans to stay until Labor Day.

Among our soldier boys who spent the week end at their homes here were Alton H. Benson of Camp Devens, and Frank Hamilton of Fort Preble, Portland. Both were very welcome guests and both are glad to meet them again. Both are K. P. H. S. graduates and both are among our very best boys and we are proud of them. Justly too, Kennebunkport has many fine boys in the service for Uncle Sam and our streets look lonely without them. But they are gone for a good cause and may God Bless and keep them and may they all return to us again, is the wish of all.

812 Munroe Street, Wilmington, Delaware
Dear Aunt Annie:—Just a line to let you know I am thinking of you as I do all the dear folks at home. I hear from you every week and am very glad to know that you are getting better. I am well and like my work very much. With love,

Laurence E. Ross
Mrs. Brooks thinks it wonderful that Laurence should give her a thought but he evidently remembers the nice hot dinners and kindnesses shown him by Aunt Annie who is a favorite with her many friends.

Lillian Ross is the guest of her grandparents for a few weeks; while visiting she is employing a part of her time to earning war stamps by selling flowers. Lillian is eight years old. She has already earned two War Stamps since they have been sold.

Frank Washburn is visiting at the home of Fred Walkers' North Waterboro.

Mrs. Theodore Goodwin is entertaining several summer boarders at her pleasant home near the Goose Rocks for a few weeks.

Our Mail Carrier is still remembered by parties on his route by apples, vegetables from the farms, which are much appreciated.

We are glad to report that Frank Littlefield at Camp Devens is gaining daily.

Our Maine Colleges are to have Military training the coming year and of course will need some one to

KENNEBUNKPORT

The Public Library Board of Trustees held its August meeting on Monday evening. There was a large attendance of members. Several valuable and interesting donations were received, one from George P. Low, a former resident of this community, which included a cannonball used during the Revolutionary War and rescued later from Lake Erie, some old local accounts books and some old publications of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. From Geo. A. Emery of Saco was received a List of Students of Thornton Academy, 1813-1845, and a biography of Col. Thomas Critts of Saco. H. W. Rankin presented a bound volume of Kennebunkport Items, published in 1917. The work of cataloging the library is progressing under the labors of two summer visitors, Miss Blunt and Miss Hazeltine the latter being in charge of the Juvenile Department of the St. Louis library. She expressed the opinion that the library had an unusually fine collection of publications for children. It was decided to make further purchases for this department. Several other volumes were recommended for purchase and the matter of procuring the suggested books was referred to the Library Committee. New shelving is being installed in the upper room, but this addition will be immediately taxed to hold the books now on hand. For the month of July the Librarian reported that the circulation had been nearly 800 books and magazines.

Last Wednesday occurred the annual lawn party at the spacious grounds on Water street, this village, for the benefit of St. Marthas church. The decorations about grounds and booths included colored lights, which presented a very handsome appearance. The ladies of the parish were very busy from the opening to the close, selling fancy articles, ice cream and light refreshments. A goodly sum was realized.

He was a graduate of Kennebunkport High School, Class of 1914, and a graduate of the School of Agriculture, University of Maine, Class of 1917.

The Sunday morning sermon by the pastor, Rev. Norman W. Lindsay, was a most interesting and patriotic one. The story of Abraham being called upon to offer up his son Isaac was given as a parallel case with many of the sacrifices of to-day. At the evening service there was a spirited address by Rev. C. C. Garland of Dorchester, Mass., who is occupying one of the Packard cottages. His text was Gen. 28-16: "Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not."

Professor A. D. F. Hmlin of Columbia University gave a most interesting lecture in the church on Monday evening to an audience which filled the house.

Professor Hamlin spent many years of his earlier life in Constantinople, his father having been the first President of Robert College, on the Bosphorus, known now the world over as one of the most potent agencies in the East for education and enlightenment.

Space forbids further reference to the "Tales" than that they were thrillingly interesting and, in not a few points, touched upon Professor Hamlin's own experiences in Turkey. The frightful atrocities of the Turkish government, all too often at the instigation of Berlin, against the Armenians and Greeks were brought home to the mind of all with a new force and light. Millions of these poor, defenceless, Christian peoples have died from hunger and abuse or been murdered in cold blood in the Hun-Turk plans for their annihilation.

Admission to the lecture was free to all but being in the interests of the Society for the relief of Armenian and Greek sufferers, a collection for the funds of the Society was made, over thirty dollars was collected.

Professor and Mrs. Hamlin with their family are spending their summer at the Cape and are registered at the Langsford House.

True Turkish Tales was the stated subject for the evening and several of these were told very effectively, and, as was the well-thought-out intention of Prof. Hamlin, with the result of giving his audience an admirable insight into conditions and customs of life in Constantinople.

Tutoring by experienced teacher, formerly of the Winsor School, Boston. In English, including college preparatory work, Miss Brooks Langsford House Cape Porpoise, Maine.

Once more we live up to our Great reputation as the Store of Stores, in Peace or War by announcing that Thursday, August 15th, starts our Half-Yearly

A Very Remarkable Event at this time

WE SAY "remarkable because any kind of an actual reduction from our regular low selling prices (present high cost of goods considered) is truly remarkable in these strenuous war times. But we know you are looking for this Sale, and we made up our minds that if it was humanely possible we should not disappoint you.

HOWEVER, we want to be frank with you. Goods are costing a great deal more than they used to, and therefore it is manifestly impossible for us to make our price reductions for this Half-Yearly event quite so large as those we have named in the past, or offer as large a stock or as broad a selection as in previous sales.

YOU will undoubtedly see some stores quoting so-called "values" and naming price apparently larger than ours. But we prefer to tell the simple truth: quote our former low selling prices, and the actual bona fide reductions therefrom.
