DEATH OF RESPECTED MAN

Elbridge Dill Passes Away at His Home in Phillips.

The news that Mr. Elbridge Dill had passed away at his home in the upper village Tuesday evening, came as a great shock to his family and friends, for he was on the street that afternoon and apparently in as good health as he had been in for several, or since his severe illness in the winter.

He was stricken with a shock just as he had finished supper. Mrs. Dill was Knights of Pythias, where he has held offices from time to time. He has been much interested in the Grange and always labored for its interests. He has also been president of the North Franklin Agricultural Society, and has served several times on the board of trustees.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dill, all of whom are living and a family to be proud of. They are Mrs. Myra B. Smith of Livermore Falls; George D. Dill and Edward E. Dill of Reading, Mass.; Mrs. Lizzie Dill Hammond of South Strong; Robert O. Dill of Dixfield and William A., and Joseph H., who live on the home farm and operate it under the name of Dill Brothers.

The cut used in this issue was in the adjoining room when she heard him exclaim, "oh, my head, my head," and motioned to be placed on the couch. Those were the last words he spoke, but he seemed to know what was said to him but could not speak. Mr. S. A. Blodgett who was passing, was called, and Dr. E. C. Higgins summoned, and his sons Will and Joseph were soon by his side. Mr. Dill has had frequent attacks, but it was apparent that this would be his last, and he passed peacefully away without suffering at 10.50 that evening.

The passing of Mr. Dill removes one of Phillips' most influential and respected citizens. Mr. Dill has always followed farming and he has made a most decided success of his vocation.

On March 10, 1859 he was married to Miss Octavia Henrietta Bangs, in whom he has ever found an ever ready helpmeet at all times. After their marriage they lived on the Orrison Dill farm one year, then moved to the farm now owned by A. D. Graffam where they lived four years, then moving to the Wilbur farm where they resided for 44 years, and which they sold to the two youngest sons, Will and Joseph, and bought a home in the village eight years ago this month.

Mr. Dill made an especial study of stock raising and his excellent herds of cattle and fine horses were noted throughout the state. He was a large exhibitor at the county and state fairs and always returned with a liberal number of blue ribbons.

Mr. Dill belonged to various orders, Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, Grange and taken on the occasion of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dill, which was celebrated in Odd Fellows' hall on the evening of March 10, 1909 when a large number of friends attended to do honor to this respected couple. The years have sat lightly on Mr. Dill and there has not been a great change apparently, since this photograph was taken.

V. Larrabee, Mrs. Bonney Webber; bread, rolls, etc., Mrs. Charles Dunham; ice cream, Mrs. C. B. Sweetser, Mrs. D. T. Harnden; 10-cent table, Miss Etta Taylor; aprons, Mrs. George True, Mrs. F. B. Phillips; candy, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Miss Rosie Kelley.

Funeral services will be held at the Union church Friday at 10 o'clock. Odd Fellows rites will be observed by Mt. Saddleback Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which the deceased was a valued member of long standing. The members are requested to assemble at their hall at 9.30.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICES HELD

Those who attended the special Easter services at the Union church last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday found them interesting and helpful. The gentlemen expected to help in the services, Rev. J. S. Pendleton of Farmington and Rev. Chas. Harbutt of Portland were unable to be present and on short notice Rev. W. H. Palmer of Wilton kindly came to assist in whatever way he could, and he gave very interesting addresses both Thursday and Friday evenings. Wednesday evening Rev. M. S. Hutchins was the speaker.

Messrs. N. P. Noble and W. S. Kelley had charge of the singing and the Choral Club kindly sung each evening and there were duets by Misses Shirley Holt and Louise Davenport and Mr. Noble and Miss Marjorie Cutler and a solo by Mr. Kelley.

MAY POLE WILL BE WOUND SATURDAY

Everyone Is Invited to Join in the Merry-making.

The beautiful old English custom of observing May Day will be revived in a simple, informal way next Saturday afternoon in the square near the Union church.

An orchestra of three pieces will furnish music for the program which will include ring and singing games, marching, etc. At 3 o'clock the Camp Fire Girls will wind the May Pole. There will be ice cream on sale in the Parish House. Everyone is invited to come and join in the merry-making. Let's all be young together.

The church bell will be rung at 1 o'clock unless the weather is unsuitable, in which case the festival will be postponed until Monday at 4 o'clock.

EASTER CHURCH OBSERVANCES

Easter was appropriately observed at each of the churches with special sermons, decorations, etc. The King's Daughters, as is their custom, furnished some beautiful lilies for each church. Rev. M. S. Hutchins, pastor of the Federated church gave a most excellent sermon, and there were duets by Hon. N. P. Noble and Miss Marjorie Cutler. After the close of the morning service the Lords' Supper was observed. At the Sunday school hour some recitations were given by the following children in the classes of Mrs. F. B. Pillsbury and Miss Kathleen Noble: Elizabeth McKenzie, Laura Belle Hutchins, Lucille Webber, Phyllis Harnden, Donald Field, Olive Toothaker, Helen Leavitt, Maxine Hoyt, Louise Leavitt, Florence Steward, and Mr. Noble and Miss Cutler favored the school with a selection which was rendered in the morning service. At the close of the evening service Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Noyes were baptized and united with the Congregational church.

MISS G. V. WILBUR THE HOSTESS

At a Spring Breakfast for the Camp Fire Girls.

Miss Georgine Wilbur was the charming hostess at a spring breakfast last Saturday morning when she entertained the Camp Fire Girls.

The girls with their guardian, Miss Miriam Brackett took a morning hike of a few miles and returned to Miss Wilbur's where breakfast was served at 8 o'clock.

The table was very attractive with its Easter decorations, the color scheme being lavender, and carried out in the place cards which were daintily decorated with colored eggs made to hold a sprig of pussy willow and greens.

The delicious menu consisted of oranges, macaroni and meat croquettes, baked eggs, rolls, griddle cakes and maple syrup and coffee.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Wilbur, were the Misses Miriam Brackett, Nina Haines, Louise Davenport, Bertha McKenzie, Sarah McKenzie, Gertrude Stillman, Ruth Morton.

BREEZES

Advice on the Kind of a Gun to Buy.

Lu Verne, Iowa, April 15, 1916.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Spring is at last with us. Green grass in the pastures and ice all gone. Glorious days! I set out some everbearing strawberries a few days ago. A nice shower came soon after and they are poking up their new green leaves in fine shape. Everbearing strawberries! That sounds good to yours truly. Spring has been rather slow about arriving this year—she came gradually as it were. No sudden outbursts of warm weather, but rather winter withdrew so slowly we did not realize it was gone until the green grass and garden-making operations brought it to our notice. Sixty degrees in the shade could hardly be called winter so we say Mistress Spring is here—and she is welcome!

Someone wants to know what kind of a gun to get for home protection. Well, brother, get one that looks dangerous! That's the first point. Some revolvers are much more powerful for looks than for real shooting. For instance I have an old .36 caliber powder and ball revolver—6 shooter—made by "Col. Samuel Colt, New York." It is just the gun to strike terror to the heart of a would-be amateur burglar. I also have a Stevens .22 short caliber tip-up pistol. The Colt is a dangerous gun in looks but the little Stevens will shoot with almost twice the penetration of the big gun! If you are an amateur you cannot tell how far a gun will shoot by its looks. The little Stevens is some gun, but I would not recommend it to scare burglars with. In fact, do not get any kind of .22 caliber gun if you expect to protect your life with it.

I wouldn't recommend a powder and ball style for shooting in a hurry either. Personally, I would not pick an automatic revolver. The finest and smoothest gun the writer ever had in hand was a Smith & Wesson .38 caliber hammerless. Such a gun loaded and properly taken care of is ready for business immediately when wanted and will shoot as fast as anyone need to shoot. An automatic might be in the hands of one not well versed in firearms lore or in an excited frame of mind as I have often seen a hammerless shot-gun behave in the hands of one not accustomed to its use—positively refuse to shoot at the flying bird—it couldn't shoot with the safety on! For two reasons I would prefer a revolver of the Colts new army style—.38 caliber or larger. It looks like it means business and will stand the wear and tear of use. If you must shoot at somebody shoot hard enough so they won't care to shoot back at you. A person shot with a .45 caliber gun is often more apt to recover from his wounds in time than if shot with a .22 caliber—but he is not so apt to get you after you shoot. One more suggestion: Keep your gun at night where you can find it, but where the burglar cannot. If he steals your gun, you cannot shoot back. This having a gun for home protection is mostly bluff business anyway, so get a gun that not only is dangerous but looks the part. Most folks are safer without a gun, but it is well to have one in order to win the respect of a certain class of people who infest many neighborhoods. We often hear of folks around here having chickens stolen. Ours have not been disturbed for years. It is well-known throughout the neighborhood that we keep plenty of guns and know how to shoot them—even on short notice. Our arsenal is quite well-known and quite famous.

Our little city on the prairie is now lighted by electricity and the city star glistens at night from the watch tower with a great light that guides the weary traveler or belated autoist this way sure. If you see a new star in the west you will know it's ours!

LIZARD GIVEN CARNEGIE MUSEUM HAS THREE EYES.

Survival of Era of 15,000,000 Years Comes from New Zealand—Attracts Crowds.

It has three eyes, skin like an alligator and a row of teeth down the middle of its back. What is it?

No, you're wrong. It is a Tautera spenodon punctatah Gray, and it is the newest addition to the Carnegie Museum of Pittsburgh.

It is alive—the only live exhibit in the institution. There are two specimens in a wire cage in one corner of the room in which the great fossil remains of some of the largest animals that ever inhabited the earth are erected.

The two specimens were presented to the Carnegie Museum by the Government of New Zealand, their native habitat.

These reptiles represent the very oldest species known to have existed. They belong to the order of Phynchocephalia, which were numerous in Jurassic times, the sole survivors of which are the present species.

These specimens retain characteristics now lost, among which is the third or pineal eye under the skin at the top of the skull.

The two specimens in the Carnegie Museum have attracted crowds ever since their advent as members of the museum's family of curiosities. They are very slow-moving creatures and look almost like animated fossils when they do move.

Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the museum, said concerning the specimens: "These reptiles flourished in the Jurassic period, 15,000,000 years ago. The tuatera has come down all the way from that distant past with practically no anatomical change.

Famous Trout Is Missed.

Sunbeam, the famous trout of Estes park, Colorado, who was trained so that when a glass tube was lowered into the water he would swim through it, and who had been admired by more than 500,000 tourists, has disappeared, leaving guides and other interested persons plunged into gloom in inverse ratio to his illumination.

Salmon Fishing Has Been Poor Thus Far--May Get Humpback.

Fishermen will welcome the news that the ice left Green lake last week Friday, says the Bangor Commercial, for this means that fishing trips to this big and popular body of water will shortly be in order. Also the fact that Green lake is open is a very strong indication that other lakes in this vicinity will also be free of ice in the near future and available for fishing.

Local anglers hope that fish will bite better in the lakes than they have in the Penobscot river thus far. To be frank, the first 21 days of the salmon season in the Penobscot have not been successful by any means, although there have been a lot of boats out nearly every day.

Up to the present time, not a single fish weighing over ten pounds has been captured at the pool, and very few salmon have been captured at all. This is quite a contrast with last year, when nine big fish were captured the first day, including a 16-pounder captured by John L. Thomas of Rockland, which was sent to the President. Then, on May 29, M. J. Daley of Burlington, Vt., who had never seen a live salmon before, succeeded in capturing a monster fish weighing 24½ pounds, after a struggle of an hour or so. And almost every day that the fishermen were out, they captured one or two. There have been many days this month when nothing was taken.

However, conditions may change for the better soon and the big fish may bite before the season closes on July 15. The water has been unusually high and roily this year on account of the heavy snows of March and possibly when they subside, more and bigger fish will be taken.

Some fishermen have advanced the theory that the planting of humpback salmon in the Penobscot has been a hurt to regular salmon, tending to drive them out, but the United States authorities laugh at this and say there's nothing in it.

Bangor fishermen are looking forward this year to a sport that they have never enjoyed before to any extent—that of getting humpback salmon. These fish have been planted around the coast for several years and first made an appearance in the Penobscot last summer. A few of the early arrivals were captured by Fish Warden Thomas Sullivan, but the anglers couldn't seem to strike a fly that would entice them from the depths. This year they will try it again and perhaps will have better luck.

THE CABIN BOAT PRIMER

THIS is a very interesting and instructive book on making cabin boats, canoes, row boats, etc. It tells of the various streams one can trip on with a cabin boat, how to equip for such a trip, what to wear and eat, cost of a two month's trip. It gives descriptions and diagrams, photographs and chapters on construction when to float, when and where to land and other useful hints. Book is compiled of facts and observations made by the author. It contains 267 pages, over 40 illustrations and diagrams, 32 chapters as follows: Down the Mississippi River in a Cabin Boat, Trip Down the Yukon, The Cabin Boat, How to Build a Cabin Boat, The Cabin Boat's Equipment, Furnishings and Furniture, Odds and Ends, Equipment, The Skiff or Tender, The Gasoline Launch, What to Wear, Things to Eat, Cabin Boat Expenses, Cabin Boating Waters, Maps and Landing Lists, Floating, Floating at Night and Fog, Going Up Stream, Weather, Making Poles and Some Rope Hints, Land nuts, Trouble, Care of the Boat, Ways of Making Money, On Making Notes, Land Hints, Photographing, Game and Hunting, Traps and Trapping, Fish and Fishing, Amusements, Boats, Trapper's Canoe, A Cabin Boat Con Hunt.

GAME WARDEN HAS HARDSHIPS

Plunged Through Ice Far from Any Habitation.

Just an ordinary fall through the ice covering a lake, under most circumstances, is an event that may cause more laughter than tears. But to go crashing through ice in a lake miles from any habitation, with nobody even in hailing distance, and then be forced to walk and walk until some little settlement is reached is far from funny. One of the government officers stationed in Portland had that kind of an experience when he was a game warden for the State.

Of course there are game wardens and game wardens. Not all of them are conscientious, but the work done by this particular man won the commendation of his superiors, for it proved more thorough than that of any other warden in years. That fall through the ice as well as other kinds of adventures that befell him was but natural.

On one occasion, while a warden, this officer made a tramp through the thick woods of Washington county that totalled 30 miles before it was ended. Thirty miles isn't a long distance, even in the woods, but when a man does it in one day, over country where trails have been obliterated and even roads have become grown over, it is just a little bit of a stunt. Washington county, too, is famous for its swamps which are always a source of trouble if not of danger.

When this 30-mile walk was taken, it was late in the fall, during November when the hunting season is in full swing, and the warden made the cruise to see if there were any violators of the game laws hanging around.

F. N. BEAL, Gen'l Manager,

Starting at the St. Croix river, he first had nine miles of tramping right through the solid woods. The greater part of this was over country without any kind of a trail. The warden knew the territory and he carried a compass, an invaluable aid to anyone in the woods. But even at that, he didn't come out of the forest just where he expected.

Soon he found himself on the banks of Tumah stream, but the stream didn't look familiar. Since he had last been in the region, a dam had been constructed and this had flowed the country for a good part back from both banks of the river. The warden knew that a dam had been built, and so thought nothing of it. When, however, he found that the dam had been carried out and that it was up to him to ford the stream somehow, he realized that primitive methods had to be employed. The flowing of the land near the stream added to the difficulties.

With no tools to aid him, he began gathering dead logs from the nearby woods, and soon had a crude raft built, but it was not held together by anything more substantial than the logs themselves. The start across the swollen stream was begun and by poling good progress was made. When, however, the warden had reached a point about midway between the banks the raft began to disintegrate and soon fell to pieces altogether. The warden dropped into the water and was forced to swim for it.

Ordinarily a good swimmer, the was frozen over and across the surface could be seen a snowshoe path where some hunter or lumberman had crossed several days before. The snowshoe depressions had hardened the snow and provided a rather solid footing on the ice. Walking in the marks, the warden started to cross the lake. He soon found this was not the best of walking and decided to walk beside the path.

He had not much more than started this way, than the ice gave way beneath him and he went in all under. His cap came off and his head was almost caught under the edge of the ice. Heavily clothed as he was, he started to crawl out, but faced a new trouble. The ice broke under his weight as fast as he plunged along. He found it impossible to climb out, and for 150 yards, the distance to the shore, he was forced to break his way, swimming much of the distance and always having the ice go back on him each time he tried to crawl out.

Shore was finally reached. The warden turned around to look over the channel he had broken through the ice. He saw his cap floating in the water and determined to get it. He secured a long pole from a deserted shack near the shore, walked back over the ice, this time sticking to the snowshoe tracks, and secured his cap. It was plenty cold enough even for a warden. He made off through the woods and finally after several miles of tramping reached his stopping place. By that time, his outside garments were frozen solid, but he was steaming inside. He did not take cold.—Telegram.

The above account of the warden's experience was clipped from the Portland Sunday Telegram, and we think it would be mighty interesting to know who the man was that took the 30-mile walk, but undoubtedly he is a modest man and prefers to have his name withheld.

chilliness of the water wasn't conducive to an enjoyment of the aquatic sport. With his clothes on, he plunged along and soon gained the opposite bank of the stream, 50 yards away.

He had still many miles to travel, so he set off through the woods. It was 5 o'clock in the morning when he began the tramp, but it was 3 o'clock in the afternoon when he finally reached a hunting camp. A deer had just been killed and the cook of the shack provided the warden with a good meal. His clothing by this time had dried from the involuntary bath which had occurred in the morning.

After his lunch, the warden continued along through the woods, now in what road might be afforded and now through the thick growth and finally he reached the railroad station for which he was headed. Then he learned that there would be no train through that night, so he was forced to walk four miles more to another station. It was 7 o'clock or after, when he arrived, after covering 30 miles of the hardest kind of traveling.

On this 30-mile tramp the warden was alone. Had he not been a good swimmer, he probably would never have lived to tell of the wrecked raft. But thrilling as was this adventure, it was hardly equal to another that befell him in March.

This was the occasion when he fell through the ice. On a cruise through the woods, he had occasion to cross Mud lake, which lies between Great and Frederick lakes. Mud lake is not large, but it has a current. It

We have been a most enthusiastic admirer of the Rangeley Lake region since our first visit thereto in 1898. Its charms so impressed us that we made annual visits to the locality for several years and now that the infirmities of age prevent our visits, we still delight in their pleasant memories, and while we cannot personally behold their many charms, we know that "they are there," as also are those excellent hosts, Barker, Burns, Bowley, Marble, Coburn, Chadwick, Pickford, Toothaker, Ellis and others,

"Kingfisher" Lines Used by Winners, 36
All other Makes Combined, - - - 39

Every Other Winner Used a "Kingfisher"

We believe this is the most wonderful showing ever made by any similar article. And this kind of a showing surely means something. The taking of record fish puts a line to a supreme test. Experienced fishermen know this. And if the "KINGFISHER" did not stand at the head of the list in popularity and favor, would all these experts choose it when so much was at stake? No, sir—not on your life! These men chose "KINGFISHER" because they wanted to be sure. They could not afford to take a chance when they went after record fish.

PROVED THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

In front of a small store in New York City a crowd was looking at a novel article exhibited in the window. The advertising man introduced himself to the proprietor of the store and said:

"You have something here that is worth a fortune if advertised. I want to advertise it."

"I don't believe much in advertising," said the man.

"I'll make you a proposition. If I triple the sale of the article in three months will you give me a half interest in the business?"

After an hour's talk the other consented. Inside of five days he called his new partner upon the phone and begged him to stop as he was sold out 10 times over the capacity of his plant. The advertising man took a half interest in the business, rented a five-story building, advertised for workers—and inside of a month had increased the output of the article forty-fold and extended his field to other cities.—American Magazine.

DEAD RIVER TIMBERLAND COMPANY GETS A VERDICT.

Recently a verdict for $10,000 in favor of Burton W. Potter of Worcester, Mass., against the Dead River Timberland Co., was returned by the jury in the Supreme Judicial court at Portland in the action in which the plaintiff sought to recover for 2,686,000 feet of lumber valued at $24,000 and claimed by the plaintiff to have been taken by the defendant company. The trial occupied five days. About 40 witnesses were examined by the plaintiff, the defense putting on only one witness. Atty. Gen'l. William R. Pattengall of Augusta and J. H. Haley of Hartland appeared for the plaintiff and Ryder & Simpson of Bangor for the defendant.

SKUNK KNOWS NO FEAR

Little Animal is Well Able to Protect Itself.

The skunk is not only one of the handsomest of American "varmints," he is also the boldest. He is the beau sabreur, the Cyrano, the insouciant, devil-may-care adventurer. Confident in his powers of offense and defense he goes carelessly about his way, asking only to be let alone. He is not looking for trouble, neither is he avoiding it.

Encounter him about sundown on a country road and he will let you alone, if you do not crowd him. Perhaps he will hop along in your pathway, keeping just far enough ahead for your common convenience. If you are acquainted with his little peculiarities you will permit him to set the pace. If you are not acquainted with them—if, perchance, you think he is a pretty, black-and-white, kittenish little thing, and if, so thinking, you rush up and try to make a capture, disillusionment will soon be your portion. For when you are at just the right distance he will give his white-tipped tail a quick flick in your general direction.

You will then pause. You will suddenly have lost all inclination to advance. Probably you will be nauseated, possibly half-choked and half-blinded. All the Arabic perfumes necessary to purify Lady Macbeth's little hand wouldn't purify your apparel in a year. You are likely to feel a longing to hide from your fellow men for some time to come. Your fellow man is likely to reciprocate the feeling with usury. You have committed a gross indiscretion, a great strategic blunder, and you will have to pay the price. But you have added to your stock of knowledge. Never again will you try to kick any little polecat around.

The oil he employs with such effectiveness is a yellow, clear liquid, slightly phosphorescent, so as to be faintly visible at night. It is acid and is virtually acrid when it falls upon any tender living tissue. It is extremely volatile, and a tiny drop is sufficient to fill all the surrounding atmosphere with the offensive odor. When inhaled in large quantities it is suffocating, sometimes producing unconsciousness and even death.

The liquid is distilled within the body and is carried through long tubes to two small capsules imbedded in the thick muscles at the root of the tail. The animal can discharge either or both capsules at will, and his aim is astonishingly accurate. One would never think it, but he is very miserly with this fluid. He will not waste it, and will even try all kinds of bluffs to avoid using it. With animals anywhere near his own size the skunk prefers to fight with tooth and claw. The conclusion, when one is in the neighborhood of a skunk's recent operations, that he has fired all the oil in the universe, is premature. It smells that way, however, and this is a pardonable error.

The printing plant of the Maine Woods is busy on work for the hotels and camps. Mr. Alfred Metcalf, an experienced pressman, has been engaged for a few weeks to assist on the work. At the present time we are at work on handsome booklets for J. Lewis York, Ed Grant & Son Co., and Julian K. Viles & Son.

AROUND THE LOCAL STORES

A full line of base ball supplies; also new tennis balls at Floyd Parker's.

The non-stop Maxwell, holder of the world's record of 22,000 miles without a stop of the motor, is now being shown in the principal cities of Arizona. Charles C. Miller, Jr., representative of the Maxwell Motor Co., is touring the state with the car and drove it from San Diego to Phoenix without the slightest trouble. On his arrival in Phoenix he sent the following telegram to the Lord Motor Car Co., Maxwell distributors in Los Angeles: "Arrived Phoenix today, eleven hours actual time driving from Yuma, over worst roads have ever experienced. Many cars stalled but came entire distance under own power. Usual time for trip is 18 hours." F. S. Haley is the agent for this car, and is doing business, too.

It's now time to plant sweet peas, nasturtiums and garden peas. Both package and bulk at Edgar R. Toothaker's cash store.

Fresh bontons at Whitney's that are delicious.

Children's summer hats for 50 cents at the Sedgely store.

Another nice fresh line of green goods at George Bean's, cucumbers, radishes, lettuce, etc.

Don't forget that James Ross has a restaurant near the station where you can get a quick lunch.

Phillips Hardware Company have a stock of the Goodyear automobile tires just in. Also boys' bicycles.

Things worth knowing are contained in the unusually attractive advertisements being inserted by W. W. Mitchell, the local selling agent for the well-known and very popular United States Cream Separator. All you who keep cows, whether you expect to buy a cream separator or not, will be greatly benefited by reading them. Mr. Mitchell will be glad to show you the unusual features that make the United States Cream Separator such a desirable machine.

You need a light weight Spring overcoat, why not buy a Knit-Tex at D. F. Hoyt's.

Don't forget that C. M. Hoyt has a good glass tumbler at 50 cents a dozen.

IN AND ABOUT PHILLIPS

Mrs. W. C. Beedy and son, Clarence of Fryeburg came Saturday for a visit with relatives. Mr. Beedy, who has been visiting here for a week, returned Tuesday noon, accompanied by Clarence Beedy. Mrs. Beedy will remain for a while.

John Tirrell came near meeting with a serious accident last week when the sleeve of his coat caught in the machinery. The machine was stopped by employees working near. He was pretty badly lamed from the accident but fortunately no serious injuries came from it.

C. E. Parker has had a cement walk laid from the sidewalk to the rear of his residence. Daniel Fraser had charge of the work.

On account of the death of Mr. Elbridge Dull, who was a member of Hope Rebekah Lodge, the masked sociable which was to have been held Wednesday evening has been postponed to Monday night of next week.

Mrs. Laura Voter pleasantly entertained the King's Daughters last week at her home. Mrs. Hazel Leavitt and Miss Emma Davenport were the committee for the evening's entertainment. The hostess served oranges and fancy crackers.

Carl Hennings moved his family to Rangeley last week. He will be employed at the Rangeley Lake House as for several years past, and is very popular with the guests.

Frank Hood and family moved to Rangeley last week, where Mr. Hood will be employed by the Kempton Lumber Co.

Misses Amanda and Phyllis Bourque were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Samuel Eastwood in Farmington the latter part of last week.

Miss C. T. Crosby arrived home Wednesday from a several weeks' stay in Boston.

C. E. Parker is having an addition built onto the house owned by him at the corner of Main and Depot street. It will make an added amount of room for George Bean in his grocery store and also for the tenants in the upstairs rent. Harold Libby and family will occupy the rent soon, after some repairs are made on the interior. Messrs. H. H. Vining and Samuel Farnham are doing the work.

Miss Harriet Weston of Gardiner visited her brother, Alfred Weston and family last week. She also went to Dallas to see her father and brother, who are working there.

Everett Beedy will move his family to Auburn Saturday of this week.

Mrs. Henry Badger and little daughter of Rangeley are the guests of relatives in town.

ence for American built automobiles by purchasing his second Willys-Knight touring car from the Willys-Overland Company of Toledo, Ohio. This latest order from His Majesty is significant in view of the fact that only a few days elapsed between the arrival of his first Willys-Knight and the issuing of instructions to duplicate the shipment at the earliest possible moment. S. G. Haley is the local agent for this car and will be glad to give a demonstration at any time.

Note the handsome stones in Cronkite's window, in the Maine tourmalines, amethysts, sapphires, golden white topaz, garnets, and aquamarines. They are beauties and any one would make a handsome setting.

C. F. Chandler & Son are having a big sale in wall paper this spring and the reason is, that you can find a good stock to select from. The largest ever in town.

Milinery of all descriptions at Mrs. Bertha M. Perkins'. The opening was held last Saturday, but there are many good looking hats left.

A good piece of Silver, Gold or a jewel is a thing of sentiment, a memento which will outlive the giver or the owner.

CRONKHITE'S, The Jeweler

Phillips, Maine.

Don't forget to attend the May Day festivities in the square near the Union church next Saturday afternoon.

Miss Dallas Voter, who is teaching in Newark, N. J., passed the Easter vacation with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Heath in Brookton, Mass., and her cousin, Miss Mona Young.

F. S. Haley, agent for the Maxwell delivered a touring car to A. S. Beedy last week.

C. W. Skillings of South Strong informed us last week that there was a large flock of geese, we believe over 30. Geese and ducks have both been seen frequently this spring.

Last Sunday evening Mr. Walter E. Chase and Miss Bertha L. Guild were united in marriage at the Free Baptist parsonage, Rev. M. S. Hutchins performing the single ring ceremony. Mr. Chase is employed in the mill of the International Mfg. Co., and Mrs. Chase has been employed at the Hilton House for a few weeks past. They are boarding there at present. They received a generous sprinkling of rice as well as congratulations from their friends.

Miss Edith Hunter, who has been employed at The Kirkwood, Camden, S. C., arrived home this week, Monday. She visited friends in Boston and Portland en route. Miss Hunter reports a most delightful winter. She will soon go to Atwood's Camps at Kennebago, where she will be employed this summer.

OBITUARY.

MRS. RUTH EDWARDS

Mrs. Earle Edwards, who has been ill with tuberculosis for some time, passed away last Thursday, April 20 at 1 p. m. She had been failing rapidly for some weeks past and confined to her bed. Although suffering from the dread disease her friends found her always cheerful and without complaint, thus endearing herself to those with whom she came in contact.

Her death is especially sad as she leaves two little daughters, between the ages of one and two and two and three, and the sympathy of many goes out to these little ones.

The funeral services were held at the home at the upper village Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. M. S. Hutchins officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery. There were many floral offerings.

Besides her husband and children Mrs. Edwards leaves a mother, two sisters and two brothers to mourn her early death. The children are being cared for at present by their grandmother, Mrs. Frank Edwards.

GLYCERINE AND BARK PREVENT APPENDICITIS.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ika, astonishes Phillips people. Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing. Reliability

OUR absolute faith in the Maxwell car is due to two reasons:

First, we have known that the Maxwell Company uses nothing in the entire car but the very best that money can buy. We have known that the steel is scientifically heat treated, that the car is built under the supervision of able engineers, that every car is rigidly tested many times before it leaves the factory.

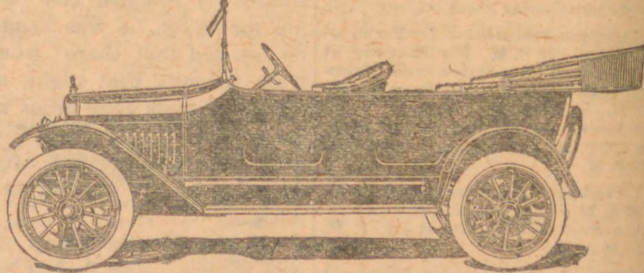

Second, we have known that the big and well established company behind the car is building for the future, that they value a satisfied owner above everything else.

Now that the Maxwell has set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record, by travelling continuously for 44 days and nights—averaging 500 miles per day—you will understand the benefits you personally may derive from the Maxwell policy. Did you ever hear of any car going 22,000 miles without once stopping the engine, without any repairs or readjustments, with only one gallon of gasoline to every 22 miles?

There is no reason why you shouldn't have a reliable, serviceable and economical Maxwell car. The first cost is low, the operating cost is low and our pay-as-you-ride plan makes the purchase easy for everyone.

Let us see you about this now, before our allotment is exhausted.

OBITUARY.

CAPT. C. W. HOWARD

Many Phillips friends will regret the death of Capt. C. W. Howard which occurred at his home at Peaks Island on April 17.

Mr. Howard was for many years one of the most prominent steamboat men in Maine and established the first steamboat line on Rangeley Lake. He went to Portland about 20 years ago and has made his home there, being proprietor of the Peaks Island House a portion of the time and running steamers there. For some years past he has spent his winters in Florida and had a line of steamers there. He has recently been in command of the steamer Comet which has made daily trips to the Gurnet Bridge with tourists.

Captain Howard was born in Readfield 69 years ago. He was stricken with a shock while working in a machine shop and was taken to a local hospital where he died from chronic Bright's disease.

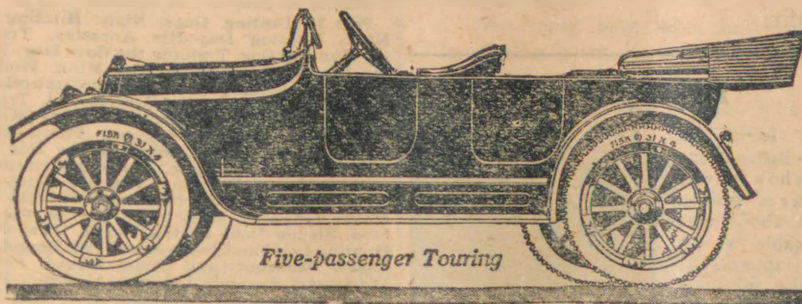

Mr. Howard married a sister of Mrs. Cora Cushman of this town.

BOSTON PRESS
CLUB ENTERTAINS

Postmaster Murray Will Be a Guest of the Club and Talk About the Postal System.

It may interest the Phillips friends of Roy Atkinson to know that, since he has become president of the Boston Press Club, several distinguished men have been guests of the club. One recent Saturday Governor Samuel S. McCall and several of the state officials lunched at the club, the governor afterwards speaking on the subject of the constitutional convention, which is a matter near his heart. Last Saturday—and this is written April 17th—Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Eastern division of the United States Army, addressed the club on the subject of preparedness. At both luncheons President Atkinson presided. Next Saturday it is expected that Postmaster William Murray will be the guest of the club, when he will tell the people present facts about the Boston postal system. Postmaster Murray is well-known in Phillips, as he is the law partner of Elias Field, brother of the Messrs. Field of this town.

"UNCLE JOE" STILL SHOOTING

Number of Old Timers Who Can Show the Youngsters a Trick or Two.

[By Peter P. Carney.]

The story published recently about "Uncle Joe" Hineman, of Wausau, Wis., and other venerable gentlemen who have passed the four score years' mark and who keep young and healthy by going to the traps and mingling with the boys, has been the means of uncovering a few more veterans who though well along in years can yet pulverize the clay targets in such a manner as to win the respect of the younger generation.

"Uncle Joe" has just turned his ninety-first birthday and he knocks over the "clay birds" twice a week at the Wausau club. He is the oldest living trapshooter and is proud of the honor. He is more interested in the sport now than he was 20 years ago.

John Meunier, of Milwaukee, Wis., is 82 years of age, and he asserts he is the best shot with either rifle or shotgun of any man his age in the United States. How this is going to be proven is beyond us but some of the Wisconsin folk might suggest a match between "Uncle Joe" and "Uncle John" to take place at one of the Wisconsin tournaments this summer. Such a meeting would at-much his junior to demonstrate his ability with the gun.

Norwalk, Ohio, boasts of a 73 year old "boy shooter," in the person of Leroy Burton. Leroy is the best shot in Norwalk. Any time any one disputes his title he takes them to the traps and convinces them of his right to the honor. Burton conducts a shooting gallery but he likes "clay pigeon bustin'" better than anything else.

On November 25, 1913, "young" Burton celebrated his 70th birthday. In honor of the occasion he closed the gallery and linked to the traps of the Norwalk Gun club. He fired at 100 targets and broke 95 of them. He won all the prizes that were offered. Ninety-five breaks in 100 thrown is a nifty score at any time and all the more remarkable when made by a man in the 70's. For thirty years Burton has been firing at the "clay boys." He broke in at Sandusky, O., with a borrowed gun. After paying his bills he had $26 in cash, a gold watch, a case of wine and a rug. This haul convinced Burton that he could shoot—and he has been shooting ever since—and he hopes to continue shooting for many more years. He thinks pretty well of his ability to break the blue rocks and is always willing to "take a chance."

Toronto, Can., boasts of three veterans who are wonderful shots for their years. Williams Bowls, 88 years, recently bagged three deer in one afternoon's hunting. This proves that Mr. Bowls can shoot. John Maughan and James Douglass tract no end of attention.

Meunier was born in Wornshofen, Germany, and when he was 12 years of age, he was regarded as the best sharpshooter in Germany. Meunier's father and grandfather before him were schutzenfest kings and the medals they received, and the one he won 69 years ago, are still in his possession. Meunier came to America 60 years ago and opened a gun shop in Milwaukee. He continued his practice and taught many who have since become famous as experts.

Before he closed the shop Meunier had won 70 medals in local and national tournaments and any number of silver trophies. In the national schutzenfest tournament in Chicago in 1866 he won first prize—a sterling silver trophy, $600 in cash and a solid gold watch. While he pays no attention to business these days Meunier still goes to the traps and he is always willing to meet men are the other two. They will always go better than 80 per cent at the traps. J. B. Williams, of Louisville, Ky., is 80 years of age, but he seldom misses a shot of the Louisville Gun Club. A. N. Thornburg, of Mason City, Ia., is another who has turned the 80 year mark and who can still "bust" the targets or bring down the game. Dr. O. R. Briton, of Indianapolis, Ind., never misses a trapshoot of any importance in his home city, and can generally be found among the winners despite his 74 years.

Age doesn't seem to dim the eyesight of any of these men and they keep young, healthy and active by mixing with younger men and women at the traps. It is a wholesome sport—trapshooting.

ICE WEAKENING IN LAKE WASSOOKEAG

Dexter, April 22.—There is more or less speculation among the many would-be fishermen as to when the ice will leave Lake Wassookeag. It has been rapidly weakening during the past week and the recent high winds and bright sun have caused it to rot faster than usual. Several wagers were made the first of the week that it would be cut by Sunday night but from the appearance of the ice field Saturday morning, it appeared as if those more optimistic prophets would lose. In the meantime the expectant anglers are getting their tackle ready and are also speculating as to how the fishing will be this spring.

FISH AND GAME WARDENS FOR KENNEBEC COUNTY.

The commission on inland fisheries and game, Thursday, appointed Adelbert Mitchell of Haynesville as deputy warden for the lower part of Aroostock county, Bertrand L. Smith of Augusta as the chief warden for Kennebec county, Lawrence J. Colgan of Augusta as deputy warden for Kennebec county, and Fred E. Webber of Orono as deputy warden for Penobscot county.

The commissioners removed Chas. P. Gray of Fryeburg as the chief game warden for Oxford county and appointed John L. Howard of Mexico in his place.

FOX TRAPPING

instructions tells how to trap, snare, poison and shoot. A valuable book for trappers. If all the methods, as given in this had been studied out by one man and he had begun trapping when Columbus discovered America, more than four hundred years ago he would not be half completed. This book is edited by A. R. Harding and contains about 50 illustrations, and about 200 pages, is divided into 22 chapters, as follows:

General Information; Baits and Scents; Foxes and Odor; Chaff Method Set; Traps and Hints; All Round Land Set; Snow Set; Trapping Red Fox; Red and Grey; Wire and Twine Snare; Snare, Shooting, Poison; My First Fox; Tennessee Trapper's Methods; Many Good Methods; Fred and the Old Trapper; Experienced Trapper Tricks; Reynard Outwitted; Fox Shooting; A Shrewd Fox; Still Hunting the Fox; Fox Ranches; Steel Traps.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

SCIENCE OF TRAPPING

DESCRIBES the fur-bearing animals, their nature, habits and distribution, with practical methods for their capture. Contains 245 pages, size 5 x 7 inches, with 40 illustrations. The chapter on

"Tracks and Signs" is worth dollars to young and inexperienced hunters and trappers, as the author shows drawings of the footprints of the various animals. The author is personally acquainted with some of the most expert trappers in North America, and has also followed the Indians over their trap lines, and in this way learned many things which to the white man are not generally known.

The book contains twenty-four chapters as follows: The Trapper's Art; The Skunk; The Mink; The Weasel; The Martin; The Fisher; The Otter; The Beaver; The Muskrat; The Fox; The Wolf; The Bear; The Raccoon; The Badger; The Opossum; The Lynx; Bay Lynx or Wild Cat; The Cougar; The Wolverine; The Pocket Gopher; The Rabbit; Tracks and Signs; Handling Furs; Steel Traps.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

DEADFALLS AND SNARES

instructions for trappers about these and other home made traps by A. R. Harding. This book contains 232 pages, sizes 5 x 7 inches, and 84 drawings and illustrations, printed on good heavy paper. The most complete book on how to make "home-made" traps ever published. Building deadfalls and constructing snares, as explained in this book is of value to trappers where material, saplings, poles, boards, rocks, etc., are to be had for constructing. The book contains 28 chapters as follows:

Building Deadfalls; Bear and Coon Deadfalls; Otter Deadfall; Martin Deadfall; Stone Deadfall; The Bear Pen; Portable Traps; Some Triggers; Trip Triggers; How to Set; When to Build; Where to Build; The Proper Bait; Traps Knocked Off; String Pole Snare; Trail Set Snare; Bait Set Snare; The Box Trap; The Coop Trap; The Pit Trap; Number of Traps; When to Trap; Season's Catch; General Information; Skinning and Stretching; Handling and Grading; From Animal to Market; Steel Traps.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

MINK TRAPPING

instruction, giving many methods of trapping. A valuable book for trappers as it tells in a plain way what you want to know, that is if you want to catch mink. This book is edited by A. R. Harding, contains about 50 illustrations and nearly 200 pages, and is divided into 20 chapters as follows:

General Information; Mink and Their Habits; Size and Care of Skins; Good and Lasting Baits; Bait and Scent; Places to Set; Indian Methods; Mink Trapping on the Prairies; Southern Methods; Northern Methods; Unusual Ways; Illinois Trapper's Method; Experienced Trappers' Methods; Many Good Methods; Salt Set; Log and Other Sets; Points for the Young Trapper; Proper Size Traps; Deadfalls; Steel Traps.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

CANADIAN WILDS

TELLS about the Hudson Bay Company, Northern Indians and their Modes of Hunting, Trapping, etc. Provisions for the Wilderness, Things to Avoid, etc., etc. The author (Martin Hunter) was with the Hudson Bay Company for about 40 years—from 1863 to 1903 and the information is given from almost a half century's experience. This book contains 277 pages, thirty-seven chapters as follows:

The Hudson's Bay Company; The "Free Trade" Outfitting Indians, Trappers of the North, Provisions for the Wilderness, Furs and Posts, About Indians, Wholesome Foods, Officer's Allowance, Indian Packs, Indian Mode of Hunting Beaver, Indian Mode of Hunting Lynx and Marten, Indian Mode of Hunting Foxes, Indian Mode of Hunting Otter and Musquash, Remarkable Success, Things to Avoid, Anticosti and its Furs, Chiseling and Shooting Beaver, The Indian Devil, A Tame Seal, The Care of Blistered Feet, Deer Sickness, A Case of Nerve, Amphibious Combats, Art of Pulling Hearts, Dark Furs, Indians are Poor Shots, A Bear in the Water, Voracious Pike, The Brave Eyed Duck, Good Wages Trapping, A Pard Necessary, A Heroic Adventure, Wild Oxen, Long Lake Indians, Den Bears, The Mishap of Raison.

STEEL TRAPS

DESCRIBES the various makes and tells how to use them. Also chapters on care of pelts, etc. This book contains 333 pages, 5 x 7 in., and 130 illustrations, printed on good quality heavy paper. Just the book that trappers have long needed. Gives the history of steel traps, how made, sizes for various animals with detailed instructions on where and how to set. This book contains 32 chapters as follows:

Sewell Newhouse; Well Made Traps; A Few Failures; Some European Traps; Proper Sizes; Newhouse Traps; Double and Web Jaws; Victor, Hawley & Norton; Jump Traps; Tree Traps; Stop Thief Traps; Wide Spreading Jaws; Caring for Traps; Marking Traps; How to Fasten; How to Set; Where to Set; Looking at Traps; Mysteriously Sprung Traps; Good Dens; The Proper Bait; Scent and Decoy; Human Scent and Signs; Hints on Fall Trapping; Land Trapping; Water Trapping; When to Trap Some Deep Water Sets; Skinning and Stretching; Handling and Grading; From Animal to Market; Miscellaneous Information.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound 60 cents.

Land Cruising and Prospecting

IS A valuable book for home-steaders, hunters, prospectors, guides, etc. The writer, Mr. A. F. Wallace, an experienced land surveyor, land cruiser and prospector, in his introduction says: "To the men who follow the compass, the trap and the trail, this work is inscribed. It is not intended for the 'Professor' who can tell you all about things after they are done (by someone else)." Contains about 200 pages, 5 x 7 inches, good quality paper, with nearly 40 illustrations and contains 20 chapters as follows:

Maps; The Compass; Examining and Locating; Early Surveys; Corner Marks; Miscellaneous Information; Points for Home-steaders; Prospecting for Gold; Sampling Ore; How to Locate a Claim; Poor Man's Ore Mill; Prospecting for Fur; Prospecting for Pearls; Prospecting for Bees; Rations and Camp Cookery; Camp Kits; Guns, Axes and Packstraps; Building Cabins; Tanning, Etc.; Getting Lost; The Red River Trapper.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

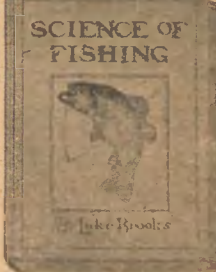

CAMP AND TRAIL METHODS

THIS is one of the most practical books on woodcraft ever written containing valuable information for all lovers of the great outdoors. The author of this book has spent years in the woods, so knows what is wanted by the woodsmen, mountain men, prospectors, trappers and the hardy outdoor people in general. It contains 274 pages and 68 illustrations. There are 19 chapters as follows:

Pleasures and Profits of Camping; Selecting a Camp Outfit; Clothing for the Woods; Pack Straps; Pack Sacks and Pack Baskets; Cooking Utensils, Beds and Bedding, Firearms, Hunting Knives and Axes, Tents and Shelters, Permanent Camps, Canoes and Hunting boats, Snowshoes and Their Use, Snowshoe Making, Skis, Toboggans and Trail Sleds, Provisions and Camp Cookery, Bush Travel, Traveling Light, Tanning Furs and Buckskins, Preserving Game, Fish and Hides, Miscellaneous Suggestions.

Price, postpaid, cloth bound, 60 cents.

SCIENCE OF FISHING

THE most practical book on fishing ever published. The author says: "For those who have caught them, as well as for those who never have." This book describes the fish, tells their habits and HOW, WHEN and WHERE to catch them; also tells the KIND of tackle used for each fish.

Book contains 255 pages, more than 100 illustrations, 22 chapters as follows:

MILITARY RIFLE SHOOTING

Part III.

Adjusting Sight and Rapid Fire Shooting.

Experience is of very great importance in military target shooting. Large numbers of men can hold and pull the trigger properly but they fall down when it comes to judging wind and light conditions, for, especially at the longer ranges, the wind has a very decided effect on the bullet. For instance a ten mile an hour wind which is hardly strong breeze, moves the bullet sideways so much that at a thousand yards it makes a difference of the full width of the target, which is 10 feet wide. You can see, therefore, that if a man were shooting and the wind were to die down suddenly, he would miss the target, or if the wind were to increase, the shot would also go wide of the mark. This is why it is foolish for men to go out with hunting rifles expecting to shoot deer at 100 yards. If they land a bullet anywhere on the animal at all, it is simply a question of pure luck.

On the Government Springfield rifle, changing the wind gauge one division moves the bullet on the target 4 inches for every 100 yards. Remembering this rule makes it easy to adjust the sights if the bullets are hitting to the right or left. The speed of the wind can be roughly judged from the appearance of flags or by its effect on trees, etc. In the old days of rifle shooting it was customary to have flag poles with flags placed at several points on the rifle range, and they also used an instrument called the anemometer which gave the velocity of the wind. Nowadays on all government ranges, especially during the big National matches, the shooter must depend entirely upon his own judgment, using the effect of wind on natural objects for his gauge. Flags and other artificial devices have been eliminated. You can see, therefore, how important it is to obtain practice in judging wind conditions.

In setting the sights, the rear sight should be moved up if the bullets are going low and moved down if they are going high. If the bullets are going to the right the sight should be moved to the left. In other words, move the sight the way you want the bullets to go on the target. In making corrections to adjust for the effect of the wind, always move the sight against the wind.

Long range military target shooting is really a science as well as a sport, because knowledge based on experience plays so great a part in it.

In rapid fire military rifle shooting, two positions are used—the kneeling and the prone. The kneeling position is the standard position for two hundred yards and the prone position is used at 300 yards.

Having a bolt action, the Springfield rifle is slower than the regular hunting rifles and it is well for a beginner to carefully practice the operation of the bolt so as to be able to do it smoothly and without fumbling. The best shots keep the butt at the shoulder during the entire string. You want to be careful, though, to move your head slightly to one side when pulling the bolt back, otherwise you are likely to present yourself with a black eye.

Competitors must always start a string from the standing position, that is, they must stand with the gun ready until targets appear, when the shooters are permitted to kneel or lie down according to the conditions of the match. It is a good idea to practice kneeling from standing and also practice to get into the prone position with the least possible waste of time and fumbling, as many valuable seconds may be lost which could otherwise be used to increase the care taken in aiming.

Always bear in mind that extreme speed in performing any manual operation is not as useful as ability to perform the operation with the least possible muscular exertion, and with the greatest possible smoothness and uniformity.

J. C. H., New York City.

1. Is the .22 Savage high power rifle more powerful than the .32 Remington High Power rifle?

Ans. The .22 High Power has a muzzle energy of 1132 foot pounds; the .32 Remington has a muzzle energy of 1682 pounds.

2. What rifle carries the greater distance—not the accurate range but the flight of the bullet till it reaches the ground?

Ans. The .32 Remington.

3. Which rifle has greater muzzle velocity in foot seconds?

Ans. The Savage High Power, 22 caliber has a muzzle velocity of 2700 foot seconds, the .32 Remington 2112 feet per second.

4. Will the Remington High Power rifle shoot 2 miles when held at an angle of 45 degrees?

Ans. When held at an angle of about 32 degrees, which gives the greatest possible range, it will throw a bullet about 10,000 feet.

5. Will the .22 cal. long rifle cartridge do good work at 50 yards?

Ans. Does excellent work at the target up to 200 yards. For small game shooting up to about 100 yards.

P. W. N., Kane, Pa.

1. I have a .22 caliber repeater chambered for the three lengths of 22's. Lately I have been using only .22 shorts, and again going back to .22 longs, have a lot of trouble ejecting the empty shells. Could you tell me how to remedy the trouble?

Ans. Using large numbers of .22 short cartridges in a rifle chambered for .22 long rifle cartridges, especially if the rifle is not very carefully cared for will result in gas cutting and trouble will be experienced when one again tries to use the .22 long or .22 long rifle cartridge. I would suggest that you take it up with the factory who made the rifle.

2. Where could I purchase a trigger spring for my .32 caliber H. & R. Premier hammerless revolver?

Ans. Harrington & Richardson Co., Worcester, Mass.

V. G. F., Corona, L. I.

1. I intend taking a trip out West this Summer and want to visit the States of Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and California. What game is to be found there, and in what State is it most abundant?

Ans. Most everything in the way of large game can be found in these States; Minnesota and California are particularly good.

2. I want to purchase a rifle, and would like you to tell me which rifle you prefer, the .351 or .401? Also if they are powerful enough for the game that is to be found in the aforesaid states. Which bullet is better, the soft point or metal patched?

Ans. The .401 is powerful enough for any of the game you will find in these States. The soft point bullet should be used.

3. Are there any laws in regard to big game in these States?

Ans. Game laws are enforced in all these States, and if you will let me know what kind of game you are going after, I can give you the law on the subject.

4. Does the .401 cartridge compare favorably with the .30 Army? Up to what distance are the .351 and .401 rifles accurate?

Ans. At all the longer ranges the .30 Army cartridge is more powerful Ans. Pump.

5. Where can I secure a Remington Lee catalog.

Ans. This rifle was discontinued years ago, and you cannot get a catalog now.

A. A., Johnsonville, N. Y.

Can you advise me if there is such a thing as a brass ring or anything made that crimps into a shell so that you can shoot hand-loaded shells in an automatic shotgun? If so, kindly state where they can be obtained?

Ans. I do not know of any.

E. C. D., Rochester, N. Y.

I am interested in revolver target shooting and possess a New York State hunting license. What must I do to own and use a revolver or pistol legally outside the city limits in New York State?

Ans. Take out a pistol permit. You can secure one from the police Department or from the Magistrate of any court of record.

J. C. L., Frostburg, Md.

Please let me know a way to so, would vaseline be good?

Ans. The best results are obtained by using lubricated wads. Do not lubricate the shot.

COLLIE HALTS A BULL.

Effort of a Dog Saves the Lives of Two Men.

St. Louis.—Fannie, a Scotch collie, saved the life of John C. Shafer, a farmer and the dog's owner, and John Shafer, father of the dog's owner, on two different occasions last week, when the men were attacked by an infuriated bull, according to a story told in Marine, Ill.

When the father went to the barn to feed, the bull attacked him. In trying to get away he fell several times and was bruised. His granddaughter, Nellie Shafer, arrived home from school at that time, and she sent the collie into the lot. The dog halted the bull and permitted the old man to escape.

The next morning, when the son went to the barn to feed, the bull attacked him. His cries attracted Mrs. Shafer, who went to the lot in her night clothes, taking the dog with her, for the second rescue.

than the .401 and is also more accurate at all ranges. The .351 and .401 cartridges are accurate at from 300 to 500 yards. The .30 Army cartridge is accurate up to 1,000 yds.

G. A., Alton, New York.

Why are the leading guns fitted with nitro barrels instead of Damascus? I think the Damascus inferior to the other makes. Please tell me the advantages, if any, over the nitro barrels.

Ans. The best shotguns are made with homogenous barrels instead of Damascus steel for the simple reason that they are better than Damascus. Damascus barrels are produced by taking strips of iron and steel and twisting them together and then rolling them round and forging them into a barrel. The result is a good strong barrel, but not by any means as durable or as easy to keep clean as the rolled steel barrels. Modern shotgun barrels will stand more hard usage than Damascus steel barrels and are considered better in every way.

R. F., Elizabethtown, Pa.

1. Which .22 caliber repeating rifle has the deepest rifling?

Ans. There is very little difference between the various makes of rifles.

2. Do you consider the deepest grooving the best?

Ans. Not by any means. Rifling which is too deep causes excessive fouling and if too shallow, it is not durable.

3. I have a .22 caliber repeating rifle. Which is best for the action, 3-in-1 or a heavier oil or grease?

Ans. I would recommend one of the nitro solvent oils.

4. Which kind of repeating rifle can be worked the fastest, lever, pump or bolt action?

1. Will the Marlin 1893 hi-power carbine take the auxiliary cartridge?

Ans. It depends on what cartridge it is chambered for.

2. What is the difference between the carbine and rifle?

Ans. The carbine has shorter barrel, different style buttplate, etc.

3. Will the 25-36 Marlin take the same cartridge as the 25-35 Winchester?

Ans. Yes, but the cartridges are not exactly alike and it is best to use each in the arm for which it is chambered.

4. Is this cartridge powerful enough for black bear?

Ans. Yes.

5. Which cartridge gives more recoil, the .32 Special or the 38-55 black powder of the same make?

Ans. The .32 Special gives more recoil.

6. In loading shotgun shells, is it all right to lubricate the shot? If

Town of Waterboro Votes $50 Towards Its Maintenance.

The State forestry department has been informed that the town of Waterboro at its annual town meeting voted the sum of $50 toward the erection and maintenance of an outlook station on Ossipee mountain with the understanding that other towns or parties raise a sufficient amount to make a total of $500. The department has not heard from the other towns interested, but has written to each, asking the town's action and intention. It is hoped that with the assistance of the other towns and the forestry service of the federal department of agriculture the station will be erected this summer.

FINE EASTER CONCERT HELD

Well-Known Guides Harnden and Mathieson Set It Right Around the Tenth.

(Special Correspondence.)

Rangeley, April 26.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. S. John Ross April 20. Mrs. Ross is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edwin Wilbur.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hood and family of Phillips are occupying the Frank Philbrick house on Allen street. Mr. Hood has employment in the mill.

C. B. Harris arrived Saturday night to work for the Kempton Lumber Co. Mrs. C. B. Harris is teaching school in Madrid for a time.

Velma, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tomlinson and Edwin R. Myshrahl were married April 3rd by Rev. H. A. Childs at the parsonage.

Mrs. C. C. Murphy has returned from Hampden where she was called by the serious illness of her uncle, Seavey Pickard. She also visited friends and relatives at Searsport, Bangor and Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. King and son, who have been at The Tavern the past winter and Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Sheldon of Brooklyn, N. Y., are to occupy the Mathieson house this summer, taking possession Tuesday.

A beautiful home wedding took place at the Anderson home in Dallas April 20, when Miss Florence E. Collins was united in marriage to Walter Anderson. The bride was very prettily gowned in blue silk, trimmed with white lace. They were married by Arthur L. Oakes, the single ring service being used. After the ceremony a banquet and reception followed. They had many beautiful and useful gifts, consisting of linen, silver, glass, etc.

Sale of cotton and worsted remnants at half price still going on at Mrs. Frances Berry's.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hennings and daughter, Augusta, who have spent the past winter in Phillips arrived in Rangeley Friday night. They will occupy the J. A. Russell cottage on the shore of the lake and Mr. Hennings will be at the Lake House as usual.

Thayer Ellis is enjoying a vacation trip which includes a visit to Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

It is prophesied that the ice will probably go out about the 10th of May. Chas. L. Harnden says it will be about the date, while Supt. Mathieson thinks it may be a little later at the lower end of the lake as the water has been very low. A warm rain will do much toward breaking up the ice in its present condition.

W. L. Allen of Boston was at The Tavern the latter part of the week and made a visit to Camp Spruce, making arrangements for the annual summer visit.

Mrs. James Mathieson went to Indian Rock for the summer Tuesday morning. Mr. Mathieson has been getting things in readiness the past few weeks.

School closed Wednesday night for a short recess to allow the teachers to go to Teachers' Convention at Farmington and will not open until Tuesday morning, May 2. The schools kept Patriots' Day and so have the added Monday.

The Jolly Twelve met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. P. L. Tracy, nine members and one guest being present. Refreshments of egg sandwiches, cheese and olive sandwiches, fancy cookies, date filled cake, pistachio pudding and tea were served. The afternoon was spent with the usual fancy work. Voted to have the next meeting with Mrs. George Bridgman.

Miss Geneva Ricker is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. A. Childs.

Mrs. A. M. Ross returned from Strong Saturday, where she was called by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Belle Knowlton.

In spite of the stormy Easter a large number were present at the Rangeley church and enjoyed a splendid Easter sermon. Entwistle Lodge I. O. O. F., and Summit Rebekah Lodge attended in a body. The church was prettily decorated with potted plants. In the evening an Easter concert was given which was largely attended. The program consisted of exercises and singing by the different classes, Junior, Intermediate and Primary.

"To name all the beauty spots in New England would be impossible," declares the Boston Globe, for they are scattered over each of the six Commonwealths and are to be met everywhere. For example, in New Hampshire the rugged beauty of the scenic aspect of the White Mountains is without a rival in Eastern America. It has well been said that this region should be visited by every American who is proud of his country. Then there are the wonderful Green Mountains of Vermont, the grand lakes in Maine, the beautiful scenery in the Berkshires and the invigorating resorts all along the coasts of our five seashore States."

WORDS OF CAUTION FROM AMICUS

Phillips, April 24.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Appropos of the attitude of the selectmen for clean-up week it may be well said that this is a very wise suggestion and should be followed by all citizens who are interested in the health, safety and well-being of this community or any other. No matter how many spells we have of cleaning and brushing up, the more the better, a little effort now and then will pay well for the extra exertion.

There is one thing, however, to be considered, namely, the danger of fire. People will let rubbish accumulate and then after a long time will have a neat spell come over them and gather it up and burn it, a stove full at a time, often setting the chimney on fire and sometimes burning the buildings. The writer well remembers two sets of buildings burned to the ground in just this way.

It is better to burn the waste material as we make it and not let it accumulate in large quantities. In this way we can keep cleaned up all the time and after one gets the habit it will be no hardship but a real pleasure. If, on the contrary, one has a large quantity of rubbish it is safer to carry it away from the buildings and burn it on some wet day or after the dew has fallen, and in either case watch it all the time until it is all consumed.

Fire is one of the most mysterious of nature's elements. It is a faithful servant but a hard master when it gets the advantage. Therefore, it pays to be on the qui vive, on the alert, all the time. Yes, fire is mysterious. No scientist can tell just what it is. No one can tell where it comes from or where it goes when it goes out. The scientific man will give this definition. "Fire is a combustion of light and heat; heat and light evolved by ignition and combustion; the result of combustion of bodies," and that is as far as they can go. Science don't pretend to tell what fire really is. It only tells us of the results of the combination of certain elements. Fire will smoulder for weeks and months unnoticed and then all at once, when least expected, burst out in a roaring conflagration. The writer has in years past cleared a great deal of land.

Sometimes, when the conditions seemed perfect for burning the cut-down, it would be almost impossible to coax the fire to burn. At other times when the conditions, apparently, were not so favorable, the fire would sweep everything before it. Probably, in the first instance, the atmosphere was not in condition for a fire, while in the second there was, what old early settlers called, a fire-day.

No, you never can tell what fire is going to do and you never can tell when one of the best servants of man is going to arouse himself and become your most ferocious enemy.

The only safe way is never to trust this apparently humble servant. Be on guard all the time; take all precautions; be ever on the alert, and even then sometimes this humble, faithful, mysterious servant will arise in his might and smite you.

Amicus.

Jack Clemens has recently been working at H. E. Vining's.

Sunday, the 16th, Charles Sanborn carried his daughter, Helen to her boarding place at Wilbur Brothers on the Middle Square in Avon, where she is teaching. Mr. Sanborn returned home Monday reporting the roads in bad condition, merely passable.

The district schools in town commenced last Monday, the 24th, with the following named teachers: Lena

AN IDEAL SPRING LAXATIVE

A good and time tried remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. The first dose will move the sluggish bowels, stimulate the liver and clear the system of waste and blood impurities. You owe it to yourself to clear the system of body poisons, accumulated during the winter. Dr. King's New Life Pills will do it. 25¢ at your Druggist.

Strength comes from well digested and thoroughly assimilated food. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the digestive organs, and thus builds up the strength. If you are getting "run down," begin taking Hood's at once. It gives nerve, mental and digestive strength.

PROTECT SCHOOL CHILDREN

Measels, scarlet fever and whooping cough are prevalent among school children in many cities. A common cold never should be neglected as it weakens the system so that it is not in condition to throw off more serious diseases. Foley's Honey and Tar is pleasant to take, acts quickly, contains no opiates. Floyd E. Parker.

PEPSIN AND IRON— AND SARSAPARILLA

Finest Course of Spring Medicine.

Physicians and pharmacists have long known the desirability of combining iron—a superlative tonic—in a blood-purifying, building-up medicine. The combination of the iron with Hood's Sarsaparilla has now been secured through the happy thought of prescribing Peptiron Pills to be taken in connection with the Sarsaparilla—one before eating, the other after.

In this way the two medicines work harmoniously and beneficially, each supplementing the other and giving a four-fold result in blood-cleansing and up-building.

Peptiron Pills also include pepsin besides iron,—note the name, Peptiron Pills,—and other tonics.

What better course of medicine can you imagine for Spring? You get blood-purifying, appetite-giving qualities in Hood's Sarsaparilla and great tonic properties in Peptiron Pills. Buy these medicines today.

Steward, Myrtle Wilbur; Assistant Steward, Pearl Smith; Chaplain, Ellie Heath; Treasurer, Elsie Moore; Secretary, Ellen Smith; Gatekeeper, Arlene Dunham; Ceres, Alice Douglass; Pomona, Sarah Clark; Flora, Lucy Perry; Lady Assistant Steward, Carrie Moore.

Willard Perry, who has been confined to the house nearly all winter, is out on crutches and walked to the store, and to his sister's, Mrs. Abbie Moores the first of the week.

Hannibal Smith went to Redington last Tuesday in the interest of Orris Vose by whom he is employed.

Sandy River Grange met last Saturday and a goodly number attended. Another member was added to the list and initiated in first and second degrees, Mrs. Lester Rowe. We noticed Will Jacobs of Phillips was a visitor. The next meeting May 6th will be Children's Day. All-day meeting. Come one and all and help entertain the children and be entertained.

Mrs. W. W. Douglass is confined to her bed with a bad attack of grip.

We are informed that Isaac Raymond and family are moving to Farmington this week where they will locate permanently.

NOTICE.

As my wife, Eunice G. Perry, has left my bed and board without a just cause I will pay no bills contracted by her after this date.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Phillips Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Phillips citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

John W. Kennedy, Phillips, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for years and at times was hardly able to get about. The action of my kidneys was irregular. Although I doctored and took different medicines, I wasn't helped. Finally, someone advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Preble's Drug Store. They helped me in every way. They seemed to clear my system of uric acid poison and they also relieved the pains."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Kennedy said: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally since giving my former endorsement and they have always given me prompt relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennedy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

To Chase the Chill— Burn Socony Kerosene

THERE'S nothing like a good oil heater for warming up chilly places and helping out the regular heating system in extra cold weather.

An efficient oil heater (we recommend the Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater) will give ten hours of clear, odorless heat on a gallon of kerosene. It will not smoke and it will not give off odor, so long as you are careful to fill it with reliable fuel.

The best way to make sure of always getting safe, clean, dependable fuel is to buy it by name. Say "Socony" (So-CO-ny) to the grocer's boy when he comes to take your oil can. Socony Kerosene Oil is the name of the Standard Oil Company of New York's best kerosene. It is a quality product—so much better than ordinary kerosene that it is decidedly worth asking for.

If your dealer sells genuine Socony Kerosene he will display the Socony sign in his window. Look for this sign. It is a quality sign and one of the easiest ways to recognize a reliable dealer.

We recommend the following oil burning devices as the best of their kind: New Perfection Oil Cookstoves and Water Heaters, Perfection Smokeless Oil Heaters, Rayo Lamps and Lanterns.

Worms Sap Children's Health
Mothers often wonder why their children are not rugged and hardy. In a vast number of cases the trouble is—Worms.

Signs of worms are: Indigestion, variable appetite, craving for sweets, nausea, vomiting, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Dr. True's Elixir, the 60 years time-tried Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, will expel the worms and restore the vim and vigor to your child. Good for adults also. He left Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., in 1913, was pastor in Troy Conference M. E. church for two years and three months, was stationed in Champlain Valley at the foot of the Adirondacks. He united with the New England Conference, Evangelical Association, at the last conference at New Bedford, Mass.

April 28th French hall the Juniors and Seniors will give a vaudeville entertainment consisting of several farces, Irish and Negro songs, clogging and musical numbers by the school orchestra.

Mrs. Eugene Simmons, who has recently returned from Lawrence, Mass., tells of an honor which her uncle, Clinton P. Vose has just received from his Lodge of Knights of Pythias, of which he has been a member for 45 years. In consideration of this long and faithful membership he was presented with a veteran's jewel of solid gold.

In two or three weeks work will begin on the new concrete bridge in earnest. The contractor states that this is to be the longest one-span bridge in America, there being one other in the same class only three feet shorter. This will be quite a distinction for the town which it may hold for many years. In the passing of the old chain bridge an era is marked. That, too, was unique and about the only one left anywhere as it was one of the first in the State.

The Wymot Tattling Club met Saturday with Mrs. A. J. Hunnewell. Fancy cookies, crackers and sherbert were served. Thirteen members were present.

Rev. Russell O. Norris, the new pastor of the Evangelical church, has arrived with his family.

The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday, April 27 with Mrs. Augusta Parker.

Hiram A. Walker of Brunswick, State Travel Agent of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals visited the farm of John Butterfield of Freeman, Saturday afternoon and took possession of three horses. One with a broken ankle was shot at once. The remaining two are at present in the custody of W. D. Page of the Kingfield House. The condition of one of these animals is extremely pitiful. He is covered with sores and has a badly diseased fore foot. The other has a foot equally bad and both are extremely poor. The agent found nothing but straw for feed in the Butterfield barn. Monday morning, Agent Walker also condemned two horses belonging to Gilbert Boyce of New Portland and shot same that night. These horses were old, poor and lame.

EAST MADRID

Benjamin Dodge of Strong was in the place last week on business.

Mrs. Ward Keef, who is doing housework for Mrs. George Barnjum, spent the week-end with her parents on Bray Hill.

Oh! I know the troubles you are having with your "disc" style cream separator. Do you want to rid yourself of those troubles? Then Read!!

Did you ever put your separator together and forget the rubber ring, or find you had in a leaky ring? What happened? Milk all over the separator and on the floor. No such trouble with my separator.

Do you like to sop up with a rag the oil and milk that collect on the "bib" (shelf) of your separator? The separator I am selling needs no "bib" for it never spills oil or milk on itself.

Do you realize what a nuisance it is to empty the bowl every time you use the separator? You surely would, had you ever experienced the wonderful convenience of my self-emptying bowl.

Have you noticed how the dirt sticks around the spacing clips and rusty spots on your discs? The separator I advise has no spacing clips or crevices, and cannot have rusty spots, because made of nickel silver.

I have described to you my Cream Separator and the name of it is the

UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

This wonderful Cream Separator has a score more advantages than I have yet told you, and back of it is not only my personal guarantee to you, but the maker's guarantee to both of us. I want to prove to you these advantages, and a good many others.

W. W. MITCHEL, Phillips, Me.

Have you added any new discs in your machine yet? Reduces the capacity, doesn't it? I will show you a separator that never needs such additional parts. It's right when you get it and it stays right.

Did the baby ever get caught in the wheels of your separator? Couldn't on the separator I recommend, for its all enclosed.

The agent told you that you could wash the skimmer by just "slushing" it around in the water. Now can you?

I cannot either, but in three minutes I can wash, sterilize and dry my device perfectly in a machine made for the purpose and furnished free.

Now did you ever try to set up your separator in a certain place and it wouldn't "fit"?

I can supply you with a separator that will "fit" anywhere for it's a right or left hand machine crank on either side and adaptable to any corner or side.

always ready to do in time of need, a loving wife and devoted mother, and a woman of most estimable qualities, one loved by all who knew her and one whose place will long be vacant in the community with those with whom she came in contact.

Besides her husband and daughters, she leaves two grandchildren, Miss Hilda Whitney and Miss Thelma Plaisted; two sisters, Mrs. Ira B. Davenport of Phillips and Mrs. George True of Avon; and three brothers, L. G. Voter of Phillips; Warren Voter of Ware, Mass.; Allen Voter of Reading, Mass., to mourn the loss of one dear to all and whose place with them can never be filled.

Funeral services were held at her late home Friday afternoon, April 14th, at 2 p. m., Rev. M. S. Hutchins, pastor of the Federated church officiating and Charles Chandler conducting the services. Miss Cora E. Wheeler and Mrs. Maggie Harris sang two duets, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling," and "Some Time We'll Understand," and the remains were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery beneath many and beautiful flowers, the final tribute of loving relatives and friends. The pall bearers were C. L. Boston, M. S. Hutchins, W. R. Leavitt and H. J. Hescok. The floral tributes were as follows: Piffow, John W. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Whitney and daughter; crescent of roses and pinks, Mrs. L. G. Voter, Mrs. Ira Davenport, Mrs. George True; spray daybreak and white carnations, Mrs. E. P. Cuntis, Mrs. George Hunter, Mrs. R. D. ASSIST NATURE. There are times when you should assist nature. It is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla the undertaking will be successful. This great medicine purifies and builds up as nothing else does.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

The blood is the life because it is the nutritive fluid. If the blood becomes very impure, the bones, the muscles and other parts of the body are impaired and finally become diseased. Slighter variations in the quality of the blood, such as are often brought about by breathing the bad air of unventilated rooms, have equally sure though less plain effects on the nervous system.

Persons that have any reason to believe that their blood is not pure should begin to take Hood's Sarsaparilla at once. This medicine has done more than any other in cleansing, enriching and revitalizing the blood and giving strength and tone to all the organs and functions.

If you want to be entirely satisfied, insist on having Hood's. Accept no substitute.

FIRST RULE OF GOOD HEALTH

All schools of medicine agree that it is necessary to keep the bowels open and regular if one wishes to enjoy good health. Indigestion poisons the system and invites disease. Foley Cathartic Tablets cleanse the bowels without griping or nausea, banish bloating, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. Floyd E. Parker.
