"Do not be so unreasonable as to expect more from life in the world than life in the world is capable of giving."

The fact that this is an exceptionally good year for building operations throughout the country and especially here in New England, is indicated by the returns of the F. W. Dodge Co. which show that for the first nine months of 1907 contracts were awarded in New England to the amount of $106,140,000. This was more than for the corresponding period in any year for the past half dozen, with the single exception of 1902 when the contracts for the first nine months were $112,827,000.

When Sonoma Girl, the famous trotting mare, won the Transylvania she closed her campaign for the season and goes into winter quarters looking better than any time since Detroit. McHenry brought her to her last start fit to race for her life, and it would have taken a wonderful trotter to have beaten her. That fifth heat in 2:05 1/4, trotted in a cold brisk wind, was a great performance and stamps the Puritan whirlingwind a 2:03 trotter. The folks who were so free with their talk about Sonoma Girl being a gold brick are silent now. She has proved to be worth every cent of the $25,000 she cost Miss Lotta.

"It's this way," explained the client. "The fence runs between Brown's place and mine. He claims that I am encroaching on his land, and I insist that he is trespassing on mine. Now, what would you do if you were in my place?" "If I were in your place," replied the solicitor, "I'd go over and give Brown a cigar, take a drink with him, and settle the controversy in ten minutes. But, as things stand, I advise you to sue him by all means. Let no arrogant, domineering, insolent pirate like Brown trample your sacred rights. Assert your manhood and courage. Never mind the costs; I need the money."—London Opinion.

William Olsson and Goesta Kyhberger of Stockholm, Sweden, who are at the head of the movement to build a challenger for the America's cup, say that a large portion of the money required to construct and sail a 90-footer, estimated at about $180,000, has already been subscribed. Many large manufacturers have offered to furnish material gratis, the captain and the three mates of the yacht will sail her without pay, the designer will accept no compensation for his work, and the builders only will charge the net cost of the construction. Messrs. Olsson and Kyhberger think they will now be able to guarantee funds even for a 95-footer, if required.

At a meeting of the Western Maine Music Festival Monday evening, Prof. W. R. Chapman, the conductor who several days ago tendered his resignation as such, read a letter in which he reiterated his intention to withdraw from the conductorship unless the festival could be placed on a paying basis. He suggested the raising of a guarantee fund to take care of the expenses and thus relieve him of the drudgery connected therewith.

It was voted not to accept his resignation and suggestions were made to raise a guarantee fund ranging anywhere from $2,500 to $10,000, the same to be by popular subscription. It was voted to raise a fund of $2,500, and a committee of three was appointed to raise the same. The Portland board of trade in a letter signified its willingness to assist in raising funds for the permanency of the festival. Another meeting will be held in a week for the election of officers. Before the close of the meeting Professor Chapman announced his intention to continue with the festival next year.

It is not necessary at this time to enter upon an extended review of the past years of the festival, or the work that has been accomplished. It speaks for itself. Those who have followed it know. We come today to make plans for a future, a future which shall show improvement and attainment along the lines of musical education and advancement already marked out. If it could divide itself into small bits and possess in each bit all the ability of the whole, I might perhaps be able to carry on the work which is dear to my heart and whose possibilities as well as needs I know so well, but the time has come when the public should, and I think does, recognize the value and the growth of this festival, and whether it is carried on with or without me, I desire to see it continued and succeed. No one man can be musical director, plan programs, engage artists, drill choruses, visit towns, engage agents to distribute advertising, be press agent, advance agent, distributing agent, promoter and conductor in one minute.

An organized systematic handling of the State is necessary to insure success to any great enterprise, and co-operative effort brings the best results. Everybody goes away from the festival full of enthusiasm and praise, but in a short time that has worn off; other pleasures and duties crowd in, and when the time for the next festival comes, everything and everybody must be agitated and enthused again. Now how can this work be kept alive and grow? It seems to me that in addition to the choruses which can be greatly improved and stimulated in their various towns, we should have special committees in Portland to attend to the ways and means.

First, there should be a board of guarantors, composed of wealthy men, who for the pride and public spirited interest which they feel in this annual event of their city, are willing to stand for a guarantee fund for three years for $2500 a year to be used only in case of deficit of receipts caused by storm or lack of patronage, expenses of festival not to exceed $8000.

Then there should be a co-operative committee selected from the Board of Trade members, merchants and business men, hotel and railroad men, who have opportunities to advertise and help their own business at the same as they advertise and promote the festival. These are the men who annually reap a direct benefit from this festival, and who naturally feel a desire to support and continue it. This committee should control and regulate the number of course tickets to be subscribed for by the various merchants and should be held responsible for the sale of at least 500 or 600 course tickets. They should see that the festival is promoted and feel a responsibility for the sale of tickets out of town. The railroads have been very kind in their provision for festival visitors and it is due to this fact that out of town patrons have so generously responded. Portland alone could not support the festival, but with the enthusiasm the patronage from all over the western division, the festival can be liberally carried on.

How best to do this advertising and establish these agencies is a question for discussion. It has been handled on a ten per cent basis, but I have personally written, visited, begged and finally persuaded these agencies to work. I desire to be free. It seems to me that the general committee or a real board of patrons that meant something should be organized. Our present board, as printed in our souvenir program presents good names of prominent persons, who were interested in the starting of the festival, but who are in no way responsible for any returns. A board of patrons and patronesses should be appointed, composed of influential people from each town or city, who will pledge themselves to be responsible for from $25 to $300 to be sent from their town either in course or single tickets.

Some criticism has been made about my salary. It has always been secondary to the expenses. If receipts warranted it I have been paid the $1500 appropriated. If we ran behind I was left out. Last year when we had to call on the guarantors, I gave $250 besides assuming all the extra bills for personal expenditures. Right here I may say that these bills for traveling, hotels, typewriter, express, etc., are no small item when I make the trip from New York to visit the choruses. These expenses for the entire year make such a hole in the salary that is paid me at the festival time that there is not a big margin of profit left. Whether the public will believe it or not the work of the festival has been largely a labor of love, a source of pride, and ambitious endeavor to have and give Maine the best that the musical world could offer. I have spared neither time, strength nor expense to do this, even when all these came from me personally. I think the time has now come when others should assume part of the responsibility.

The influence of the festival work is far-reaching. We have made a national reputation by our programs. We have listened to the greatest artists of the world, and our young people have been inspired to artistic efforts. I am anxious to see this work grow. I want the children to have a share in it. I want a junior festival chorus so that our boys and girls as they leave the high school shall step into the musical work. It is educational, refining, elevating. The work of the school children in Bangor was beautiful. It was the most popular concert of the season, except the Calve night—the sight of the stage will never be forgotten, and the singing was intelligent and pleasing.

I want to see a free scholarship fund started for the young people, and feel that at least one Maine singer each year is being educated by reason of it. We have had a Nordic, and an Etna, who can say we have not another in our midst? Miss Rosa Eaton whose sweet voice delighted her audiences is a Vermont girl whose voice attracted attention in the school; who won the Littera diamond medal in Chicago, and whose training under a careful teacher proves that a new prima donna has been found; one who will make her way to fame and fortune. We have a beautiful voice in Bath, Miss May Low, who sang at the first concert, and another, Miss Ethelene Smith right here in Portland, all beautiful voices. Cannot some fund be created in connection with our festival work so that each year we may assist when necessary young singers to attain musical excellence? Within the last few years Portland has gained musical reputation which induces musicians and musicians to visit her as a musical center. The result has not always been satisfactory financially.

The audiences at the festival are what might be called "hand picked." Not only must the best be offered to them for the least money possible, but they must be personally visited and asked to buy tickets. Those who have not looked into this matter have no idea of the amount of work involved, and those whom I have interested to work for the festival have done all over the State the past few weeks. This work insured the large audience for Calve night. If the committee in the different towns will continue to be responsible for the attendance of the music lovers in their towns, much of this work can be lessened and good results will follow. The seed has been sown, a little care and stimulant will produce good results.

I am in receipt of many letters from all over the State which prove to me that the festival is appreciated and enjoyed, even more than I realized. All beg me to remain in the work, and assure me of more earnest support in the future. Now my dear ladies and gentlemen, I have placed the subject before you in all its different phases. It is now up to you to decide what you want to do, and to present to me some proposition which will make it possible to improve and continue the festival, and cause me to reconsider my resignation. Unless something tangible and practical is offered, it must stand.

WHO USES HYOMEI?

The Best People in Rockland, Say C. H. Pendleton, Druggist and Optician and W. H. Kittredge, Druggist. Guaranteed in Catarrhal Troubles.

No other remedy or treatment for catarrh has ever been as popular or made so many remarkable cures in Rockland as Hyomei.

The best people attest its curative virtues, say C. H. Pendleton, druggist and optician, and Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, who are the local agents. The fair way in which Hyomei was sold, to refund the money unless it gave satisfaction, was the best proof when it was introduced that it possessed unusual curative powers. C. H. Pendleton, druggist and optician, and Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, took all the risk of the treatment giving satisfaction, and left it to the purchasers to be the judge. Later, when Hyomei was used and recommended by our well-known physicians and business men and their wives as a treatment that absolutely cured catarrh, no matter how serious or long standing, the sales rapidly grew and today there is no other remedy in C. H. Pendleton, druggist and optician, and Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, stock that has such a large and staple sale.

The first breath of Hyomei's healing air kills all catarrhal poison. Try Hyomei to-day on C. H. Pendleton, druggist and optician, and W. H. Kittredge, druggist, offer to refund the money if the treatment does not give you satisfaction. 84-89

An Independent Candidate.

Supt. Owen Says Anti-Saloon League Will Nominate One If Republicans Select a Resubmissionist.

In an interview with Rev. C. E. Owen, central Maine superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, this week, The Courier-Gazette developed the important fact that the temperance forces both parties place resubmission candidates in the field. The Anti-Saloon League is uncompromisingly opposed to the resubmission of the Prohibition Amendment, and according to Supt. Owen, it will seek the defeat of any candidate who opposes it, whether that candidate be William T. Haines, Bert Fernald, Cyrus W. Davis or L. M. Staples.

Before proceeding with the Owen interview it will be better to give a little outline of the work, little known in Knox county, as yet, of the Anti-Saloon League of America. Maine is divided into four districts for the purposes of the League's campaign. Rev. Rollin O. Everhart of Portland is state superintendent and has personal charge of the western district. Mr. Owen, who was prominent as an official of the Maine Civic League is superintendent of the central district. The other two districts are without superintendents, and the organization is looking for two devoted men to assume charge of the territory. Successful applicants must be dyed in the wool temperance men, vigorous and incorruptible, fearless, and without compromise. Several have sought the position but they apparently failed to pass muster.

Each Sunday of the year the superintendents occupy a different church pulpit, spreading the doctrine and urging church workers to go to the primaries and polls that we may have purer politics and the better moral conditions that would result. On week days the superintendents visit cities and towns organizing anti-saloon committees and perfecting plans for practical work. Supt. Owen has thus spoken in a few of the Knox county towns and hopes to organize committees here in November. On those committees it is the intention to place active, energetic, and unpartisan men who are supposed to be active politically.

"We want to get the people to express themselves at the primaries, then at the polls," said Supt. Owen. "We are political, but not partisan, or omniscient, whichever way you wish to put it."

"Are you going to participate in the next campaign?" asked the reporter.

Mr. Owen smiled. "Well, I should rather guess."

"Are there any circumstances whereby your league would favor resubmission?"

"Yes," said Mr. Owen, "we will favor resubmission when it can be shown that the liquor traffic has been regenerated and reformed. The sale of intoxicating liquor was outlawed because it was a crime against society, and a nuisance, and we don't see why there should be a reversion to the old question simply because of new generations has come up since the amendment was last submitted."

Not long ago the Bangor Commercial and other papers hostile to the cause of prohibition manifested an interest in a story in which Supt. Owen was quoted as saying that the law could not be successfully enforced. Asked upon this point by The Courier-Gazette, Mr. Owen said: "I have never taken pains to deny this statement, partly because I did not think it necessary, and partly because I give out very few interviews. What I did say was that the law was difficult of enforcement because of the proximity of Maine to states where the liquor traffic is violated. The securing of prohibitory legislation has become a national task. Let me read you two clippings. One is from the Michigan liquor organ Truth, and is as follows:

"During the past winter about two hundred and fifty bills on the temperance question were considered by about thirty legislatures, with the Anti-Saloon League leading the fight on behalf of the temperance forces in each state. It is a significant fact that not a single favorable liquor bill was passed anywhere in the country."

And here is another, which will give Maine readers some idea of the extremity in which the saloon interests now find themselves:

"The result in Georgia presents no pleasant outlook for any section of the business. That state in its judgment has treated all alike, and no false notion as to the temperance forces in that state should be entertained. The temperance forces and should be allowed to hold on has been entertained or brought forward."

"We dislike to acknowledge it, but we really believe the entire business all over its overplayed its opportunity to protect itself against the onward march of prohibition, which in some sections of the country is advancing like a prairie fire with not a hand raised to stop its progress."

"Five years ago a united industry might have kept back the situation that now confronts it, but today it is too late."

"Might as well try to keep out the Hudson river with a whisk broom."

The above quotations are from Beverages, the official organ of the National Liquor League of America. Next month the Anti-Saloon League will have an organ in this state, known as "The American Issue."

At this point the reporter brought the interview back to a discussion of state issues, with especial reference to Hon. William T. Haines, whom Mr. Owen is quoted as bitterly opposing.

"I am very sorry that Mr. Haines has taken the position he has," said Mr. Owen, "because it makes it impossible for us to do anything for him. He is a townsman of mine, a fine man and a very able man, but the position he has taken in favor of resubmission is something that I cannot endorse."

The approaching campaign will be a supreme test as to whether the Republican party can nominate a resubmission candidate, or not. We are waiting to see a man who stands for the other thing and we believe there is such a man coming."

"Republican or Democrat?"

"I don't know which, but judging the future by the past I should most naturally look for him to come from the Republican party."

"What about candidate Fernald's attitude on the temperance question?"

"We don't know what his attitude is, but personally I have hopes that he will stand for the right."

"Where are your views as to how the law should be enforced?"

"We haven't any definite recommendations as to the methods to be used, but we do expect the law to be enforced. It is precisely what Gov. Polk is doing in Missouri and the Attorney General in Kansas. Our state is certainly in far better condition, as far as enforcement is concerned, than as if we had never had a Sturgis law."

"What about the cost of such a law?"

"I don't care about the cost. The law should be applied to every section that needs it, regardless. Communities which haven't enough self-interest to see that the law is enforced should have it enforced for them."

"Personally I should prefer a law giving the governor authority to remove delinquent officials, but such a law cannot be enacted without constitutional amendment."

"What would be the attitude of the Anti-Saloon League if both parties nominated a resubmission candidate?"

"We would seek an independent candidate. 'Wouldn't that be giving comfort to the resubmission forces?' you ask. 'It doubtless would, but if we have to go to have resubmission let it come from the party which has always advocated it—let us take it from the old doctors. If the Republican party nominates a resubmission candidate it forfeits respect from a temperance standpoint.'"

"Can the Republican party win on a prohibition platform?"

"Yes, it can win at all. It doesn't deserve to win if it doesn't stand on principle. From the result of my observations I should say that fully 80 per cent of the Republican voters are for prohibition. The cities stand for resubmission to be sure, but they contain only one-third of the voters."

The Fiske House Burned

South Hope Had Exciting Fire Early This Friday Morning—Partial Insurance.

Fire which broke out shortly after midnight destroyed the Fiske house and buildings connected with it at South Hope early this Friday morning.

The fire caught in the woodshed, and the cracking of the flames awakened Mrs. Cyrus Packard, wife of the landlord. An alarm was given and the work of saving the contents hastily began. With no department to rely upon, and a prospect that the fire might develop into a conflagration, an appeal was sent to West Rockport and Rockland for aid.

West Rockport responded with its hand-tub and some 20 volunteers, but the hotel was flat before the firemen could arrive. Mayor Jones decided that it was impracticable to send our heavy apparatus over 10 miles of rough road, where in all probability it would arrive too late to be of the slightest service. And such proved to be the exact case.

The fire spreading both ways made short work of the hotel and the stable,

ST. GEORGE GRANGE FAIR.

The Third Annual a Success—List of Those Who Won Premiums.

A perfect day and a clear sky greeted the patrons of St. George Grange on the occasion of their third annual fair, which came off last Tuesday. Although this Grange had not planned to have these fairs on a very large scale, as is the case with other Granges, but to have as fine an exhibition of fruit and garden vegetables, old relics, fancy articles, etc., as possible. The fair was well handled and there was a large crowd present throughout the day and evening.

Mrs. Carrie Thomas' baby won first prize in the baby show. The net proceeds netted the Grange about $70, which goes towards the new hall.

The fire caught in the woodshed, and the cracking of the flames awakened Mrs. Cyrus Packard, wife of the landlord. An alarm was given and the work of saving the contents hastily began. With no department to rely upon, and a prospect that the fire might develop into a conflagration, an appeal was sent to West Rockport and Rockland for aid.

West Rockport responded with its hand-tub and some 20 volunteers, but the hotel was flat before the firemen could arrive. Mayor Jones decided that it was impracticable to send our heavy apparatus over 10 miles of rough road, where in all probability it would arrive too late to be of the slightest service. And such proved to be the exact case.

The fire spreading both ways made short work of the hotel and the stable,

WAS IN REBEL PRISON.

Death of Marcellus M. Parker a Well Known Grand Army Veteran.

Marcellus M. Parker, a well known citizen and Grand Army veteran, died at his home on Warren street Tuesday night, aged 76 years. Seven years ago he sustained a paralytic shock. He partially recovered his health, but for four years had been confined to the house, an invalid and sufferer.

Deceased was born in Dixmont, being the son of Dr. James Parker and Mary (Tay) Parker. At the breaking out of the Civil War he early responded to the call for volunteers being mustered as private Aug. 4, 1862, and joining Co. B of the First Maine Cavalry, Sept. 6, 1862. He was promoted to corporal March 7, 1863. His thrilling experiences as a prisoner of war, subsequent to his capture at Louisiana court house in May, 1863, were graphically told in an article which he contributed to Vol. 3 of the First Maine Bugle. With other cavalrymen he was confined in Libby prison, where they were served two meals a day. The morning meal consisted of one-fourth of a loaf of baker's bread and a piece of boiled meat no larger than two fingers of a man's hand. For supper there was a soup made of beans and sides of bacon boiled together. The bacon was bad and the beans only parboiled. The mixture made most of the men very sick.

Finally Corporal Parker and some of his fellow prisoners were paroled. After a long and wearisome march, in the course of which many men gave out and were carried back, the survivors reached City Point and boarded a steamer bound for Annapolis. After a short stay there, Parker was ordered to "Parole Camp" near Fort Ellsworth, opposite Washington. It was a long time before his feet were entirely well and one of his comrades died soon after arrival at "Parole Camp" from the effects of his imprisonment. The men were exchanged in time to meet Gen. Lee and his determined advance on Washington that summer. While resisting capture at Louisiana, as above told, he was slightly injured by a sabre thrust which would have proved fatal but for the fact that his watch deflected the sharp point of the weapon. He rejoined his company Sept. 8, 1863, and was transferred to the Signal Corps, Feb. 1, 1864, where he continued to be a valuable man for the Union cause.

After the war Mr. Parker was superintendent of cottonseed oil mills in Brooklyn, N. Y. and Greenville, Miss. Afterward he was a superintendent in charge of bridge construction on the Union Pacific Railroad. One of his notable engineering feats concerned the construction of a tunnel in Colorado. In the delirium of his fatal illness Mr. Parker's mind wandered often to that trying experience and he was constantly urging the men to make the props safer. After he came to Rockland to reside Mr. Parker worked at joinery for a number of years. He was a most estimable citizen and at one time served his ward in the Common Council. When Davis Tillson Command, Union Veterans Union, was formed in this city he was one of its first colonels. He belonged also to Edwin Lynde Post, G. A. R. and Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows. He was largely instrumental in securing the soldiers' monument in Gay park.

Mr. Parker was a man of strict integrity and his record of citizenship contains no blot. The organization of civil war veterans which he represented have lost a valued member, and the community an honored member.

His decease is survived by a widow, one son, Marcellus E. Parker of Haverhill, Mass.; and one daughter, Miss Imogene M. Parker. There are also surviving one brother and three sisters.

The funeral services will be held from the residence, 33 Warren street, this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A Criminal Attack

On an inoffensive citizen is frequently made that apparently useless little tube called the "appendix." It is generally the result of protracted constipation, following liver torpor. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, prevent appendicitis, and establish regular habits of the bowels. 25c. at Wm. H. Kittredge's drug store, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston.

Ex-Champion Joe Wolcott and Dr. Crockett Figured In the Spectacular Exhibition.

Joe Wolcott, one time champion of the world, in the welterweight class, faced Philadelphia Billy Payne at the arcade, Thursday night, in what proved to be quite a sensational bout before a large audience.

Wolcott is the older brother of Eddie Wolcott, who has fought here twice, and is of the same general type of beauty, minus the cauliflower ears.

In the early rounds of the game he rigan failed to show up as Fred Siddens gave a clever three-round exhibition with Billy Hoop, Fred Siddens appeared to have lost none of his popularity here.

Dr. Crockett was the referee, and he did it in the picturesque style that he does everything. In the fifth round the men didn't break quickly enough to suit him, and seizing Wolcott in his powerful arms threw the colored man down through the ropes onto the occupants of the "box seats." The unhappy Wolcott was led back into the ring, where he gave a what-is-it? look at the doctor and went on fighting. He was shortly after this that Payne went down for the first time.

The preliminaries just escaped the eggs. Young Rogers of Lynn and Eddie Curley of Boston gave a moving picture show of 1-2 rounds and were then dismissed. "Fighting Eddie" Harigan failed to show up as Fred Siddens gave a clever three-round exhibition with Billy Hoop, Fred Siddens appeared to have lost none of his popularity here.

gong sounded, but Wolcott seemed unable to land the telling blow. In the 5th round Payne was down twice for the count of nine.

The members of Golden Rod Chapter will have a picnic at Crescent Beach Monday afternoon and evening. Picnic supper will be served.

The room in Kimball block, formerly occupied by the Christian Science Church, has been leased by J. F. Gregory & Son, and connected by a stairway with the main store. It will be devoted wholly to the boys' and children's department.

The Little Minister will be the largest repertoire attraction ever offered here.

The Ash Point Sewing Circle will give a harvest supper at Crescent Beach next Tuesday evening.

H. A. Merrill, former city editor of the Star, has a position with the Kennebec Journal, in charge of the Gardiner field. He enters upon his new work next Monday.

The Italian bark Geronimo Branchi is about three-quarters discharged. Seven small schooners are engaged in transferring the salt from the bark's hold to the bins of the Vinhaven Fish Co.

Knox county patrons of the Topham fair will be interested to learn that the receipts this year were the largest in the history of the society, $7080. The receipts of the big day (the second day) were $3,763.

The Methodist campground at Nobleboro is offered for sale, together with the building which are located upon it. The Rockland District Association has found the Nobleboro campmeetings unprofitable from a financial standpoint, and have concluded to abandon the proposition.

A Rockland barber who has only three letters in his last name, owns two good rabbit hounds, a first class gun, and is a sure shot, but he didn't cut a bit of the other day when he snatched the trigger of an unloaded gun. The rabbit which had been marked for pot pie, is still laughing at him.

The dining room of the Narragansett hotel which has been closed for a week past, will be reopened Saturday on the American plan and the old, popular prices. The kitchen has been equipped with a new dish warmer and the laundry has been enlarged. Proprietor Donohue reports a first-class business this fall.

Boys with air-guns, having destroyed birds by the shore, have lately turned their attention to the electric light globes, and about $20 worth of the latter have been sacrificed this fall. This form of malicious mischief will receive a decided shock the moment any offender is apprehended. Strenuous times are ahead for the kids.

Keep your eye out for the "Roob Bolls" next week also the window cards made to order by Dr. J. A. Ritchie. These cards will attract attention as they are well gotten up and are very laudable. Look for them in the windows of business houses. Tickets are selling well and everything points to the biggest time the band has ever attempted. The prizes of $10 are sure to bring out some great farmers' costumes and the boys say they are going to give the public "their money's worth" as usual. Don't forget Nov. 7, its big date.

The Alaska Packers Association, who can the Argo Red Salmon, has the largest fleet in number of any shipping firm sailing under the American flag. It owns 55 steamers and 15 sailing vessels and charters many more.

The funeral of the late Col. L. D. Carver was held Thursday afternoon from the residence, Rev. E. H. Chapin officiating. There was a large attendance of Grand Army men, Relief Corps women, Masons and other friends, and many floral offerings. The funeral procession was escorted as far as Union street by about 40 members of Edwin Libby Post. The pall-bearers were Capt. W. P. Hurley, M. H. Nash, J. E. Rhodes, Andrews Mitchell, K. K. Rankin and W. O. Steele. The interment was in Sea View cemetery.

Edward Gonia, a prominent official of the Grand Lodge of Maine, O. G. T., states that the semi-annual session will probably be omitted this year. The time for holding the session is the second Wednesday and Thursday in October, but as there is but very little in the way of business to be considered, and in view of the fact that no invitations from a central point had been sent in, no attempt was made to appoint a time and place for this meeting. It is barely possible that a date may be selected in November but if this is not done then, it is expected that no attempt will be made to hold a session until the annual meeting which is to be held in Bangor in April. The Grand Lodge of Good Templars is about the only organization in the state which undertakes to hold semi-annual sessions.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church organized its mile-of-pennies contest Wednesday night at the home of W. Cook as captain of the Reds and A. W. Gregory as captain of the Blues. Each side has 40 members at the outset and both sides will be reinforced as the contest progresses. J. S. Robinson, George O'Connell and Elmer Bradford have been selected as judges and Edward Gonia is treasurer. The aim of each team is to collect more pennies between now and Dec. 31 than the other collects. Each worker is provided with a cardboard collector having a capacity of 16 pennies, which measure just one foot placed side by side. The contents of the cardboard are turned into the treasury as fast as filled and the collector starts out anew. Every second Wednesday night the teams will have a social entertainment in the church parlors. The first in the series took place Wednesday evening of this week, when about 100 persons were in attendance. The program was as follows: Piano solo, Beatrice House; vocal solos, Evie Day and Mrs. Beatrice Stone; violin solos, Ralph Clark and Guy Douglas. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Sutcliffe and Mrs. A. W. Cook. The mile-of-pennies idea originated in the West and is having a great run there.

The district convention of Pythian Sisters, meets with Ipswich Temple, Wednesday evening, Oct. 23. This district is comprised of the Warren, Thomaston, Port Clyde, Camden, Vinhaven and Rockland temples, under the supervision of Past Grand Chief Mrs. Zetta P. Hall of Dumfriescott. The degree will be worked on several candidates. Circle supper will be served at 6 o'clock. Members are requested to furnish food.

Sheriff Tolman, ably advised and aided by some of his deputies, laid the foundation for his new cottage at Crescent Beach Thursday. He has bought a section of the bowling alley to use in the construction of the cottage. It is Mr. Smith's plan to build a basement under the Crescent Beach house and have two of the alleys there. The third alley will be installed in the fish house at Holiday Beach, together with a pool table, in the near future.

The funeral of the late Col. L. D. Carver was held Thursday afternoon from the residence, Rev. E. H. Chapin officiating. There was a large attendance of Grand Army men, Relief Corps women, Masons and other friends, and many floral offerings. The funeral procession was escorted as far as Union street by about 40 members of Edwin Libby Post. The pall-bearers were Capt. W. P. Hurley, M. H. Nash, J. E. Rhodes, Andrews Mitchell, K. K. Rankin and W. O. Steele. The interment was in Sea View cemetery.

Edward Gonia, a prominent official of the Grand Lodge of Maine, O. G. T., states that the semi-annual session will probably be omitted this year. The time for holding the session is the second Wednesday and Thursday in October, but as there is but very little in the way of business to be considered, and in view of the fact that no invitations from a central point had been sent in, no attempt was made to appoint a time and place for this meeting. It is barely possible that a date may be selected in November but if this is not done then, it is expected that no attempt will be made to hold a session until the annual meeting which is to be held in Bangor in April. The Grand Lodge of Good Templars is about the only organization in the state which undertakes to hold semi-annual sessions.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church organized its mile-of-pennies contest Wednesday night at the home of W. Cook as captain of the Reds and A. W. Gregory as captain of the Blues. Each side has 40 members at the outset and both sides will be reinforced as the contest progresses. J. S. Robinson, George O'Connell and Elmer Bradford have been selected as judges and Edward Gonia is treasurer. The aim of each team is to collect more pennies between now and Dec. 31 than the other collects. Each worker is provided with a cardboard collector having a capacity of 16 pennies, which measure just one foot placed side by side. The contents of the cardboard are turned into the treasury as fast as filled and the collector starts out anew. Every second Wednesday night the teams will have a social entertainment in the church parlors. The first in the series took place Wednesday evening of this week, when about 100 persons were in attendance. The program was as follows: Piano solo, Beatrice House; vocal solos, Evie Day and Mrs. Beatrice Stone; violin solos, Ralph Clark and Guy Douglas. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Sutcliffe and Mrs. A. W. Cook. The mile-of-pennies idea originated in the West and is having a great run there.

CHURCH NOTES

At the Congregational church Sunday there will be morning worship with sermon by the pastor at 10:30. Sunday school at noon. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

First Baptist Church: Preaching by the pastor, William J. Day, at 10:30. Subject, "The Necessity of Love." Bible school at 12. Junior Christian Endeavor at 4. Evening service at 7. Subject, "The Church That Nourishes God."

First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Cedar and Brewster streets: Services Sunday 11 a. m. Subject of the lesson sermon "Probation After Death." Children's Sunday school at 12:15. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30 o'clock.

While Rev. W. W. Carver has closed his services as pastor at the Littlefield Memorial church, and that people are locating another pastor, Mr. Carver has not lost interest for the churches and people of Rockland. He has lately presented the needs of his church to the Maine F. B. Association at Augusta, and to the general conference at Cleveland, Ohio, and will receive for them, help from both these bodies. At present Mr. Carver is supplying at Charleston, Me.

Universalist Church: Rally Day will be observed Sunday. The pastor, Rev. E. H. Chapin, will preach at 10:30 a. m. subject, "Going Forward" and at 7:15 p. m. subject, "Endurance." There will be special exercises in the Sunday school which meets at 12 m. The Junior Y. P. C. U. will begin its work for the year at 4 p. m. with Miss Alice Fuller as superintendent. The Senior Y. P. C. U. will also have a Rally Day program at 6 p. m. All friends of the church are urged to make special effort to be present.

Unabated interest continues to be manifested in the services at the Pratt Memorial Episcopal church. On Sunday morning at 10:30 Robert Sutcliffe gives his lecture, "St. John of England." Several friends will be baptized and taken into the church on probation at this time. Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Armored Sutcliffe conducts the Epworth League meeting at 6 p. m. Topic, "Hearing and Doing." In the main audience room at 7:15 the pastor takes for his subject "No Loaders Need Apply." Mrs. Copping sings "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." Splendid singing at both services by largely increased choir under the direction of Lillian Sprague Copping. A hearty welcome to all.

The well known concern of A. Beller & Co. of New York will be represented at Fuller-Cobb Co.'s store Tuesday, Oct. 22 with the latest creations from the cloak world. HERALD RANGES AND PARLOR HEATERS

For the past seven years we have sold the Herald line of Stoves and Ranges. That the Herald Range is now admitted to be the best baking and most durable range on the market, is a fact which only years of successful work could demonstrate. Last Spring at the Food Fair in the Big Rink we gave practical demonstrations of this range, baking biscuits in 8 and 10 minutes, and this before large crowds of people who actually timed the work. From this exhibit alone many ranges were sold to people who replaced a still good range with this perfect baker.

Every Range or Stove Has a "Money Back" Guarantee

We illustrate here a few of the many styles and on our floor display the complete line. You will notice these two Plain Finished Ranges. This is the latest idea in designing—a range easy to keep clean and handsome in appearance. To describe the beauty of these styles is impossible, yet could you hear the many exclamations of delight as the housewife examines them, it would not seem necessary that we interest you to the point of seeing them yourselves.

The fire box, with extension, is large enough for a stick of wood 2 feet in length. One set coal linings for all grates. Heat indicator registers exact temperature of oven. Grate draws out through front without removing linings and without disturbing bolt or screw. Oven door handle in most convenient place on top of door. Smooth castings, easily kept clean.

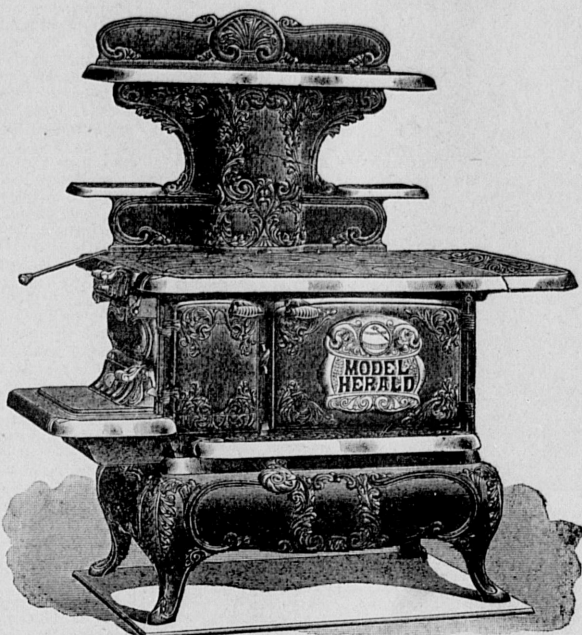

"A PERFECT OAK STOVE"

This is the expression used by purchasers of this wonderful Oak. We know that many do not like an Oak Stove, but do not fear to recommend the Herald Oak to the most skeptical. There are reasons why of course.

First, this Oak has a CLINKER-DOOR. You can reach through this door directly onto the grate and rake out the ashes and clinkers. With all other Oaks you must "poke" from the door above fire and thus your fire goes out.

Then there is the BALL-BEARING GRATE. Always shakes easily and raises no dust.

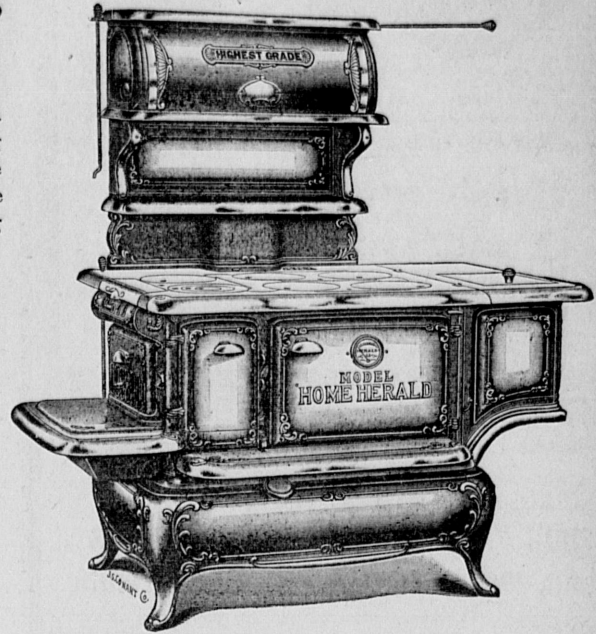

All drafts close tight and it is absolutely dustless. We guarantee these Herald Oaks to give satisfaction.

Some prefer a range with some scroll work and for this taste has been designed the Model Herald.

It is not as expensive as the plain range, but has every improvement, detachable rails, indicator, draw grate and all. This range will give excellent service.

RANGES—$25 TO $65
PARLOR STOVES—$15 TO $30

This is the peer of all ranges. It is the latest 1907 style, very large and we recommend it for all wanting a large range, easily kept clean and economical to run.

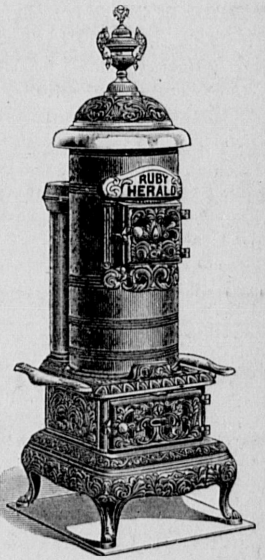

It has every modern improvement known to be practical.

The Ruby Herald Parlor is a gas burning brick lined stove.

With a stove of this style a continuous fire may be kept from fall 'till spring.

In gas burners we have five styles from the small Empire to the large, Our Herald.

The price of these gas burning stoves is low and for a stove that is easy to operate and economical to run we recommend this line.

Miss York will tell the story of the Field of the Cloth of Gold, and Miss Lawry will read a paper on Famous Contemporaries of King Henry. The meeting will be with Mrs. Fales, and Miss Ellen Cochran will act as leader.

Fred Herrick who has been in the employ of the street railway left Wednesday for Portland, Oregon.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Association of the Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon. The reports told of a most satisfactory year's work. The following officers were appointed:—President, Mrs. J. H. Quint; vice president, Mrs. A. W. Butler; treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Foster; clerk, Mrs. E. B. Silsby; hospitality committee, Mrs. H. A. Buffum; entertainment committee, Mrs. E. K. Leighton; fair, Mrs. W. S. White; home missions, Mrs. H. B. Fales; foreign missions, Miss Angie Moffitt, Mrs. E. D. Spear. A generous sum was pledged for missions, aside from an indefinite amount for incidental matters. The first supper was fully attended with Mrs. A. W. Butler, Mrs. F. C. Knight and Mrs. W. A. Hill as housekeepers. Thirty-six hard earned dollars were handed in after supper. Much merriment was caused by the poetry, prose and blank verses, telling the means by which said dollars were earned. The mirth was turned to sympathy, when a dear sister stated that she took the money from her dress allowance and that if her next gown was a trifle "skippy" they must remember that she was one dollar short. Miss Webb and Mr. Wilson pleased the assembly with music and the evening wound up with a jolly chorus.

Rev. E. H. Chapin has been at Orono this week attending the State Sunday School Convention.

Miss Carrie Young entertained the Agreeable Club at her home on Masonic street, Thursday evening. Sewing and games were the features of the evening, and light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Hattie Carr and daughter Grace Cameron, left Monday morning for Haverhill, Mass., where they will visit her daughter, Mrs. Rose Gordon.

Mrs. Martha Spear and Mrs. J. H. Holmes were housekeepers at the well patronized Universalist circle Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. D. Spear gave a game supper Wednesday evening in honor of her husband's birthday. Mrs. A. W. Lyon of Ligonier, Ind., was the guest of honor.

M. E. Parker, wife, son Sumner, and daughter Ruth are in town to attend the funeral of Mr. Parker's father, the late M. M. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cross are spending a couple of weeks at the Rangely lakes.

FROST—HENDERSON.

Walter O. Frost and Miss Linna M. Henderson of this city, were united in marriage at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, Friday noon, Oct. 11, by Rev.

AUSTIN—SHEPARD.

At noon on Sunday, Oct. 6, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shepard, in Phillips, occurred the wedding of Sumner Edward Austin of Farmington and their only daughter, Everdene Rosilla Shepard.

Rev. G. H. Woodward performing the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. Immediately after the ceremony a lunch was served in the dining room, after which the newly-wedded couple prepared for their drive to Long pond, where they will pass a portion of their honeymoon. They were the recipients of many gifts, among them being a check for $50 from the bride's grandmother. Mr. Austin is well known in Farmington, having been manager of the office of the Maine Telegraph and Telephone Company in this village for a number of years. Miss Shepard is one of Phillips' most popular daughters and is an accomplished young lady. Hosts of friends wish them every happiness and a long and prosperous future.—Farmington Chronicle.

The groom is a former resident of the Meadows, being a son of John M. Austin, and an especially fine young man. The bride is not unknown in this vicinity, having spent a portion of the summer at Crescent Beach, where she made many friends.

SCHOONER CARRIE MILES LOST.

Sch. Carrie C. Miles, owned and commanded by Capt. Frank A. Peterson of Rockland, went aground on Roper Shoal, Tuesday, and a telegram from the captain stated that she was on her beam ends, full of water. The crew were taken off by the Sandy Hook life savers, having barely time to escape with the clothes in which they stood. The schooner was bound from Port Reading, N. J. for Stonington with a cargo of soft coal. The weather was hazy when the schooner went on. Capt. Peterson had partial insurance on the craft.

Hard Times in Kansas

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codel, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, druggist, Rockland, and G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Ollie Kalloch of St. George and Kid Mercer of Boston were to have been the principals in the main bout before the Pastime Club, Portland, Monday night, but the attendance was so small the men would not go on.

The first Maine college game of the season comes next Saturday in Lewiston when Bates plays Colby. Other Saturday college games which will furnish a line are as follows: Harvard vs. Navy, Yale vs. West Point, Pennsylvania vs. Brown, Dartmouth vs. Maine, Bowdoin vs. New Hampshire State.

The sporting editor received a call Monday from Arthur H. Pillsbury, who is known to Knox county baseball fans everywhere as "Jack" Pillsbury, one of the men who helped Vinalhaven capture the pennant a few years ago. Jack has lately returned from a trip to Arizona and New Mexico, where he became so struck on the climate that he has half concluded to locate in the West. It is more than probable that he will winter in Knox county, however, as his wife is a Thomaston lady and he is very favorably impressed with his adopted home. To some extent he has kept track of his fellow players on the Vinalhaven championship team. Ames is keeping books for the Brockton Water Co., Breckenridge has been managing a successful baseball team in Connecticut, and Mahar, after playing part of the season in the New York state league is now studying law with his uncle.

Black Fitzsimmons had the better of Jerry Gaines throughout the 12 rounds of their fight in Gloucester Wednesday night. Gaines was beaten badly, his face being a mark for Fitzsimmons' blows at all times.

Dave Sawyer expects to be back in the ring in about three weeks. There is some talk of his meeting Joe Wolcott in Bangor about a month hence.

The Saturday football game on the Broadway ground will be between Rockland High and Bucksport Seminary. Bucksport has one of the strongest teams in eastern Maine and has already won several fast games this season. It should be a first-class attraction.

There's no mystery about the police ball that takes place Halloween. Everybody knows it will be a dandy.

THE GIRL FROM BROADWAY.
It is announced by the management of the Farwell opera house that the theatre-goers of this city are to have the pleasure of seeing the latest musical production "The Girl From Broadway," next Monday, Oct. 21. The company is composed of many clever fun-makers, assisted by a handsomely gowned boy of prettiest show girls and pony dancers that will be seen here this season, and should prove to be an attraction that will break all records the seats ordered. Experience everywhere this season has proved the wisdom of mailing orders in advance, as the company is playing to all the people the theatres will hold and in most instances turning hundreds away. Seats go on sale Thursday morning, Oct. 24, at 9 o'clock.

MAORI SAVAGERY.

The Women Slaughtered the Victims For the Cannibal Feasts.

Mrs. E. M. Dunlop of Auckland, New Zealand, writes of the Maori women: "The Maori woman can keep at will. She has practiced the art, which has formed an important part of her training. She weeps so genuinely and so copiously as to melt the heart of a sympathizing witness. The Maoris hold 'tangi,' or weeping parties, to mourn their dead, and in these gatherings the women play a conspicuous part. While weeping they utter a low, mournful cry, which has a very weird effect when produced by a number of voices. The mourners sit in groups, with their heads partially covered, giving forth their monotonous wailing and shedding copious tears.

"The Maori woman of past ages almost excelled her lord in savagery. On the return of a triumphant war party they usually brought home a number of prisoners and slaves. It was the privilege of the women of the tribe to fall upon these, slaughtering them in preparation for the cannibal feast which followed. The women bore the painful ceremony of the tattoo without shrinking. Spiral marks were cut into the flesh of their chins, lips and faces; a soot made by a peculiar method was rubbed into the wounds, causing an indelible blue-black stain.

"The Maoris, even in their former state, treated their women with a certain amount of consideration, although the lot of the female slave was very hard and often ended in her being served up as a dainty dish to appease the appetite of her voracious lord, who would kick away the baskets of vegetable food presented to him by his wives as a signal that he required the tender flesh of a slave girl."

OCTOBER AMERICAN BOY.

Pau-puk-keewis, the Mischief-Maker, is the central figure of the two-color cover of the October American Boy, it being the third of a series of attractive illustrations for the popular publication. The October American Boy will delight the boys; it is full of matter of interest to grown-ups, as well. There appears the first installment of a new serial pronounced by the Editor to be the best sea story published in recent years, entitled Jimmy Jones—Pirate, by Dr. Orville Ward Owen. The first chapters of another new serial, A Boy of the Revolution, by Arthur J. Burdick, also appear. Further chapters of Off the Reservation, by Edward S. Ellis, and The Boy and the Beast, by J. T. Trowbridge, and short stories entitled The Slop Brigade Saves a Washing, A Narrow Escape, Two Schoolmasters, and Mrs. O'Shea Seeks a Job for Mickey, make a lot of good story matter.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

THERE are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon.

But by far the greater number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

No surgeon in the world has relieved so many women from the different phases of ailments peculiar to woman-kind as Dr. Hartman through the use of Peruna.

He receives many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to woman-kind.

Of the vast multitude of women Dr. Hartman cures annually, only a small per cent. of them consider it necessary to write to the Doctor at all.

Not one in a thousand of these fortunate women report their success. Of those who do write testimonials, only a very small per cent. are ever used in public print.

While it is not affirmed that Peruna will cure every case of this kind, it is certainly the part of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peruna a fair trial. Her chances of relief are so many that any woman would be doing herself an injustice to neglect such an opportunity of relief.

Mrs. Emma E. Gildner

Mrs. Emma E. Gildner, 729 Santafo Ave., Denver, Col., Financial Secretary Germania Order der Hilaravi, writes: "Peruna has been a great blessing to me. I suffered agonies with severe headaches and a weak back and could hardly drag myself around."

"A friend who was visiting me was taking Peruna for the same trouble and induced me to try it. I soon found that I was being helped and in less than three weeks I felt like a different woman and in four months I was well. I consider it an ideal woman's remedy."

Very Precarious Condition.

Mrs. Lutie Ward, 617 Tracy Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "A few years ago my health was in a very precarious condition, the result of womb trouble and general debility. I suffered a great deal and was glad to try Peruna when it was recommended to me so highly. I found it very beneficial. In a short time the pains greatly decreased and in two months I was completely restored. I am pleased to endorse Peruna."

USE Syrup of Cedron

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Catarrh and

ALL DISEASES OF THE THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS

"We offer no reward for a better article, but we are willing to let the people decide whether the rewards OFFERED BY OTHERS do not belong to us."

SYRUP OF CEDRON cures more cases of Croup than all other remedies.
SYRUP OF CEDRON Never tightens, but LOOSENS the Cough.

These are facts, and one trial will satisfy the most skeptical. We do not tell you that Syrup of Cedron will cure consumption, but we do tell you that it will prevent it if taken in time—also that it will afford greater relief to the poor consumptive than any other known remedy.

Willing to Compromise.
During a match at St. Andrew's, Scotland, a rustic was struck in the eye accidentally by a golf ball. Running up to his assailant, he yelled, "This'll cost ye 15—15!" "But I called out 'fore' as loudly as I could," explained the culprit. "Did ye, sir?" replied the trampled one, "such a precious 'Weel, I didn't hear 'till ye were away!"
