Poetry.

Are You a Mason?

Rev. Mr. Magill, rector of St. Paul's Church, Peru, Illinois, being asked the above question by a lady, responded as follows:

I am one of a band
Who wear a square stone;
I have knocked at the door,
Once watched and poor,
And there for adulation I stood.

It is a secret of a friend,
What I have done did tell;
I succeeded an entrance to gain;
Was received in the West,
By command from the East.

But now I am a traitor,
With a moral quite traitor;
With sentiments holy and true;
Then onward I travelled;
To have it made to do to me.

What I have done I stand,
To a submarine and ancient doges.

Then onward I marched;
Then I might be Archibald;

And I sought those treasures long lost;

What I have done I stand;

From the midst of which came

A voice which my ears did acoast.

Through the walls I then went,
And succeeded at length;

The way was smooth to me;

What I have done I stand;

And I sought the sun-shine to find;

What I have done I stand;

Employment which suited my mind.

I am one of a band
Who wear a square stone;

For the sake of a friend,
What I have done did tell;

What I have done I stand;

Editorial Correspondence.

BANGOR Oct. 2d 1836.

DEAR AMERICAN:—

The second exhibition of the Bangor Horticultural Society opened to day. It is intended to be a display of all the products of domestic industry, the Garden and the Farm &c. The display is in the highest degree creditable. So also of the stock on exhibition. Each new year brings in new additions to the number of blood, and of ex-true good native and grade stock. A native cow with her calf 3 weeks old, part Durham brought at auction, sold on the ground about ninety dollars.

The somewhat celebrated bull belonging to Joseph Grindle of Penobscot, was on the grounds. This animal was 3 years old last April, and weighs 2011 lbs and measures in girth, 7 feet and 7 inches.

Mr. Francis A. Buck of Orland had a full blood Ayrshire bull calf six months old, a pure blood Jersey cow, and a grade Ayrshire cow. Mr. Benj. Smith of Surry had a large exhibition of stock from his farm, which was in the highest degree creditable. Mr. Beal of Ellsworth had a splendid blood bull, and some swine. The Messrs J. T. & G. H. Grant had a town team that cannot well be matched anywhere. There was some splendid drawing of oxen which the Committee will no doubt do justice to in their Report.

A. J. Kenniston had a buggy wagon and a sleigh in the Hall which does his carriage manufacture much credit. These attracted great attention.

Mr. Macomber of Castine had a miniature steam engine complete, and ready for use, made by himself, which is highly creditable to his skill and perseverance.—It was one of the striking features of the exhibition. There was an unusual large display of domestic cloths, which we were pleased to see. We noticed a suit of clothes domestic manufacture, by Mrs. Butler of Eastbrook which speaks well for her industry and skill. There were among this ample wardrobe of her husband, an over-coat, inside coat, woollen shirt, under shirt, drawers, stockings, mittens, gloves and scarf. There was a large display of rugs, and a moderate one of quilts &c.

The fruit was not so full as for some years. Nor was there so much butter.—The vegetable department never was so amply supplied. We cannot enumerate, but must leave this duty to the committees. We saw four dressed dry codfish that weighed over 100 lbs. exhibited by Mr. Trevett of Trenton.

There was much other stock besides that which we have enumerated, that deserve notice, but we had not the time to examine all that was worthy of notice and must therefore leave all this to the appropriate committee.

Some of the trotting was very good indeed, but the track was so heavy that the time was not so good as these horses can make.

The Fair, taking all the drawbacks into consideration was a success. The receipts from all sources was over nine hundred dollars; but the most hopeful sign we see about the matter, is the continued evidence of an increased and increasing interest in this County enterprise by all of our people.

The Musical Convention.

The Tenth Annual Session of the Hancock Musical Association was held in Lyceum Hall, Bucksport, commencing on Tuesday, Sept. 18th, and continuing four days—under the direction of Mr. H. E. Hartt of Boston.

The people of Bucksport welcomed the occasion. The sessions were well attended and faithfully devoted to the main business—an able conductor. The closing concert had the house filled. The final record is better by considerable than that of any preceding year.

Here follows a list of the officers chosen for the ensuing year:

President—N. H. Powers of Orland.

Vice President—Dr. F. R. Swazey of Bucks, ort.

Secretary and Treasurer—V. P. Wardwell of Bucksport.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

P. W. Perry of Ellsworth; Charles Jarvis of Surry; N. W. Johnson of Bluehill; Ebenezer Parker of Brooksville; John W. Dresser of Castine; Theo. H. Emerson of Damariscotta; Newell Powers of Brooklyn; G. P. Hartman of Bucksport and E. P. Cole of Sedgwick.

It was at the recommendation of Prof. Emerson that the Association employed Mr. Holt as teacher. He proved to be one of the best we ever had. His kind and gentlemanly deportment at once gained the respect and confidence of the class, and he proved himself not only a proficient in the science of music but an able, energetic and skillful leader, whom we can most cheerfully recommend to all similar Associations, as a gentleman, eminently qualified to lead them with pleasure and profit.

The Convention adopted the following resolutions which were read at the final Concert:—

Whereas, the object of this Association is the study and practice of the art of music and especially with reference to the service of song in religious worship, therefore,

Resolved, That we most heartily approve of the end sought to be accomplished by this association, and believe it to be a very important aid in the great work of instilling a pure and correct taste in sacred and in secular music.

2d. That this Anniversary notwithstanding the week of storm in which it has been held, has been highly successful and gratifying.

That to Mr. Holt as an able, efficient and gentlemanly conductor, we tender our grateful acknowledgments; also to Mr. Geo. A. Emerson and Miss C. Hill for their valuable services as pianists; and to Miss Faunce and others who by their excellent rendering of songs and solos have added so much to the profit and pleasure of the occasion.

4th. That the members of this Association hereby express their thanks to its President to whose interest and energy the success of this gathering is so largely due.

5th. That to their teacher Mr. Holt, for their valuable services as pianists; and to Miss Faunce and others who by their excellent rendering of songs and solos have added so much to the profit and pleasure of the occasion.

6th. That the good people of Bucksport for their kind and appreciative assistance and cordial hospitality merit our hearty thanks.

POULTRY.

There was but a meagre display of fruit, but the specimens exhibited were superb.

The principal contributions were, Thomas Faunce, John L. Moore and Carlton McTavish, Ellsworth, and Hon. W. G. Sargent, Sedgwick.

Several efforts were made to get a fair send off, and much time was expended.

The "Gray Stranger," acting badly, he was withdrawn. The other two finally gave the word "go." Before reaching the quarter post, "Mac" took the lead, trotting very prettily while "Skowhegan Boy" broke badly and could not be brought down to his work until "Mac" had increased the space between them to several rods. To make the matter short, "Mac" distanced the "Boy" and was accorded the heat and race. Time 2:40.

The next and last trot was between the stallions Harry and H. B. Billings, the former entered by S. D. Cushman and the latter by A. D. Harlow. Brown Harry won the heat by a few lengths in 2:55. Billings was withdrawn lame, when Brown Harry won the next heat and race—time 2:44.

Augusta, Oct. 3d 1836.

DEAR AMERICAN:—

The Convention of Editors and Publishers of the State is now in session in the Senate chamber. The attendance is not large, but additions are expected this evening and by to-morrow morning. Business of considerable importance to the fraternities has already been brought before the Convention for action. The Session will continue to day and to-morrow. Brother Merrill of the Home Journal is detained at home by increased domestic cares, it is reported. As yet but two representatives of the Portland Publishers and Printers have arrived.

The Fair

We refer our readers to the Report of the Secretary of the Society for an account of the entries made &c. The weather was stormy most of the time which operated badly for the success of the exhibition, and yet the display in the Hall of manufactured goods and of garden vegetables, and miscellaneous articles was in the highest degree creditable. So also of the stock on exhibition. Each new year brings in new additions to the number of blood, and of ex-true good native and grade stock. A native cow with her calf 3 weeks old, part Durham brought at auction, sold on the ground about ninety dollars.

The somewhat celebrated bull belonging to Joseph Grindle of Penobscot, was on the grounds. This animal was 3 years old last April, and weighs 2011 lbs and measures in girth, 7 feet and 7 inches.

Mr. Francis A. Buck of Orland had a full blood Ayrshire bull calf six months old, a pure blood Jersey cow, and a grade Ayrshire cow. Mr. Benj. Smith of Surry had a large exhibition of stock from his farm, which was in the highest degree creditable, to not only Bangorensis, but to the citizens of several of the surrounding towns, who have contributed to the Collection. There may have been display of fruit in excess of this, in the State, but we have never seen it exceeded. Some few of the large number of varieties of apples, were beauties. The Alexander, the "Wine" the "Blue Pearmain," the "Beauty of Kent" were just the handsomest displays of this fine fruit, that we have ever inspected. What particularly struck us was the large number of varieties exhibited and by each individual. One gentleman from Levant another from Orrington, and three or four well known citizens of Bangor contributed largely to the tables. Grapes that would do credit to any culture and climate; Pears that were ripe and large, were scattered profusely over the tables, not carelessly thrown around, but in profuse quantities as specimens, but tastefully arranged. The display of squashes, turnips, beets, &c was more than creditable, and Hubbard's are particularly fine. We saw none of the larger and coarser varieties that were so large as some raised in Ellsworth and exhibited at our County Fair, but the better varieties were clear up to the mark. The tables were handsomely decorated with elegant bouquets, which with the taste and skill displayed in arranging the articles, seemed to make the display in the evening a rich one. Let us ask just here the question, "Why cannot Ellsworth start something of the kind?" Let us try the experiment this fall.

Bangor has its full quota of "Horse Men" men who are especially interested in owning or raising fine horses—fast horses perhaps we should say, and this interest has culminated in the formation of a society for the exhibition of the trotting qualities of fast horse-flesh. This love of good horses comes naturally to some men, and boys too, but with this, there has grown up among all a more natural, generous, and human treatment of this noble animal. The horse is better treated every way to day, than even ten years since. The "brute" bipeds that starve and overwork him are growing scarce every day. The men who love fast horses are those who almost always take good care of them, and should recompense the slow-coach men to the two-fifths men.

But our pen is running a race and running wild too, and we therefore rein in and get on the old track once more.

This afternoon we visited the Fair Ground to witness the race between the four year old colts. Of those entered for this trial was the Bangor owned by O. M. Shaw, and the Young Sherman, owned by Abram Woodard. These horses are noble ones, but of the result of the race can make.

The trotting was very good indeed, but the track was so heavy that the time was not so good as these horses can make.

The Fair, taking all the drawbacks into consideration was a success. The receipts from all sources was over nine hundred dollars; but the most hopeful sign we see about the matter, is the continued evidence of an increased and increasing interest in this County enterprise by all of our people.

When the Society started in 1837, it is said that hardly a horse was owned in the County that could "make" his mile inside of three minutes, but now we have a score that can "go" almost as fast as their drivers want them to. With the same ratio of increase of speed during the next decade, may we not expect horses that can distance everything, and wait on the home stretch.
