KING'S DAUGHTERS SUPPER.

Delightful Harvest Feast Enjoyed by Large Number.

The suppers and entertainments of the King's Daughters are always delightful social functions, but the annual harvest supper is always held in delightful anticipation and the large number in attendance at the harvest supper last Friday evening at Wilbur's hall found their anticipations realized.

The hall was artistically decorated with vegetables, the crowning feature of which was an immense pumpkin which, illuminated, presented a counterpart of the harvest moon. Of the supper it is sufficient to say that Phillips has the best cooks in Franklin county, the home of culinary experts.

A short program was presented, consisting of a duet by Mrs. J. M. Wheeler and Miss Cora Wheeler, and a recitation by Miss Dallas Voter. An advertisement guessing contest was a feature in which Miss Algie Pratt received first prize, a package of cream of wheat, and Reno Atwood got a pair of spectacles as consolation prize.

The waitresses were; Mdms. Cony Allen, Nathaniel Harnden, Emery Bubier; Misses Celia Whitney, Annie Bean, Miriam Brackett, Edna True.

The following served on committees; Mrs. Edward Greenwood, Mrs. Arthur Beedy, Mrs. C. H. McKenzie, Mrs. J. W. Carleton, supper; Mrs. Frank Haley, Mrs. Will True, Mrs. C. F. Chandler, Mrs. L. G. Voter, table; Mrs. C. E. Parker, Mrs. Cony Allen, decorating; Mrs. Emery Bubier, Miss Miriam Brackett, entertainment.

Farmington's Municipal Court Will Change Its Quarters.

Town Will Be Asked to Provide Room Outside County Court House. Room Will Be Used as Law Library and Will Relieve Congestion In Court's Room. Jail Addition One of the Most Pressing Needs.

The article in last week's MAINE WOODSMAN in the necessity of providing additional room in the county court house and jail was read with much interest throughout Franklin county and was favorably commented on by a number of prominent citizens with whom a representative of this paper talked.

As a result of the agitation for more room in the court house an article will be inserted in the next warrant of the town of Farmington, to provide quarters other than in the county court building for the municipal court.

At present the municipal court occupies a good sized room in the county court building and by moving the court to another building this room can be used as the law library. This will it is thought relieve the congestion in the county court building at least temporarily and this change is favored by prominent Farmington lawyers.

J. C. Holman, Esq., is much interested in plan and said that the town itself should provide other quarters for its court room than in the county court house where it does not properly belong.

"This would give us good law library accommodations," remarked Mr. Holman, "and would relieve the pressure upon the judge's room and library. It is handy, right at the foot of the private stairway leading to the judge's room, and I think would solve the question of more room for quite a while.

"There should be quarters provided by the town for its municipal court room and there will be an article put into the warrant for the next town meeting looking towards that end. By giving us this additional room we will be pretty well fixed upstairs for room. We need all the room we can get in the county court building because our court business has grown rapidly within recent years.

"By all means," continued Mr. Holman, "Franklin county should provide better jail and sheriff's quarters. They are entirely inadequate for present or future needs.

"We could expend judiciously a few thousand dollars on the jail and give our sheriff better living quarters and provide more room for our prisoners. This should be done at once and I am pleased to see the matter agitated through the columns of the MAINE WOODSMAN. It is a proper subject for action by the county commissioners and I trust that they will properly consider the matter and give us better accommodations at the jail.

ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY.

Hon. B. M. Fernald Defines His Political Position.

The most important political news in in Maine this month was the letter from Hon. B. M. Fernald of Poland to the public announcing his candidacy for governor, and defining his position on important public questions. The keynote of the platform of Mr. Fernald is the "square deal". Mr. Fernald reiterates his opposition to resubmission; reasserts his belief in the retention of the prohibitory laws; opposes any substitute which suggests license; favors the referendum as a means to separate the resubmission question from party politics; re-affirms his belief in economical administration of state affairs advocated by him in 1904, and calls attention to the fact that for 34 years Androscoggin county has not had a candidate for governor.

Roy Atkinson Makes a Change.

Phillips people will be interested in the following from the Bangor News, Lincoln correspondence: Roy Atkinson, local editor of the Lincoln Chronicle during the past year, in fact practically since the first issue of the paper, leaves Monday for Augusta, where he has accepted a position on the Kennebec Journal staff.

Mr. Atkinson's departure is a source of regret to his many friends in Lincoln, where he is deservedly popular, and everyone will miss his cheerful presence. As a newspaper man Roy could always "deliver the goods," and as a writer of both facts and fiction he is a winner every time.

As editor of the Chronicle Mr. Atkinson was largely responsible for the paper's success, and in the new and larger field where greater opportunities await him we predict a brilliant and successful career.

North Franklin Pomona.

GRANGERS GO TO OQUOSSOC BY SPECIAL TRAIN.

Fifty In Party and Had Royal Good Time —Address of Welcome by Myra Hinkley—County Grange Notes.

North Franklin Pomona Grange held a pleasant meeting with Oquossoc Grange, Rangeley, Oct. 17. A special train was run leaving Strong at 8 a. m. Members kept getting aboard until there were nearly fifty that got off at Rangeley. It was an ideal day and the scenery is not surpassed, one brother especially being more than taken with it. We were met at Rangeley by smiling faces of the patrons there and escorted to their homes.

The meeting was called to order by the Worthy Master Fred Morton, the usual business carried out and nine candidates were instructed in the fifth degree, after which a bountiful dinner was served in the dining room below. At 1.30 order was again restored and the following program made public.

In her Address of Welcome Sister Myra Hinkley said in part:
"It gives me pleasure in behalf of Oquossoc Grange to bid you each a hearty welcome.

We want you to feel that we are all united by the strong bond of fraternity and meet as brothers and sisters. We believe that the conferences and discussions that attend these meetings cannot fail to benefit us all.

The Grange principles are broad, its ritual elevating and it is gratifying to feel that we belong with those, a part of whose business it is to add joy and pleasure in living among those whose presence anywhere makes advancing civilization. The Grange not only uplifts and helps the farmer but the wives and daughters as well. It has brought sunshine and happiness into the homes of our land by its social and educational features.

Should we seek for a time when its influence and power will cease we shall seek in vain as long as there is a husbandman to till the soil or a harvest to be garnered in. We ought to be constantly making observations for the "good of the order" and communicating them to our fellow workers and above all let us aim to make the world better and wiser.

Make a Better World.

Do you wish the world was better?
Let me tell you what to do;
Set a watch upon your actions,
Keep them always straight and true,
Rid your mind of selfish motives,
Let your thoughts be clean and high;
You can make a little Eden
Of the home you occupy.

Do you wish the world was wiser?
Well, suppose you make a start
By accumulating wisdom
In the scrapbook of your heart,
Do not waste one page on folly,
Live to learn and learn to live;
If you want to give men knowledge,
You must get it ere you give.

Do you wish the world was happy?
Then remember, day by day,
Just to scatter seeds of kindness
As you pass along the way,
For the pleasures of the many
May be oftentimes traced to one,
And the hand that plants the acorn
Shelters armies from the sun.

We are taught in our order to receive instruction from the humblest object that offers us its lesson, therefore

RAISED 1,600 BUSHEL.

W. E. LITTLEFIELD OF MADRID AS POTATO GROWER.

Believes That Franklin Co., Is a Second Aroostook. Suggests That Farmers Go Into Potato Business. Got 300 Bushels to the Acre.

W. E. Littlefield, who last year purchased an intervalle farm in Madrid shipped two car loads of fine potatoes to Boston this week, the first of a crop of 1,600 bushels raised on about five acres.

Mr. Littlefield believes that Franklin county offers as good if not better conditions for the potato grower than Aroostook and points to his success with this his first season's crop planted here.

Mr. Littlefield was formerly employed in potato growing in Aroostook county in the vicinity of Presque Isle and is confident that Franklin county is as good if not a better potato growing section than Aroostook.

"I took this farm rather late" remarked Mr. Littlefield, "and practically did no work on it other than to plant my crop. No spraying was necessary and I believe that we can raise finer crops of potatoes in Franklin than in Aroostook county.

I got 70 cents a bushel for my crop and I never saw better potatoes. Then too we get a better railroad rate than Aroostook and have every facility for shipping our crop handily.

"I believe that it is worthy of trial for our farmers to plant more potatoes. There is fine intervalle land unused for any purpose of agriculture other than to raise a hay crop. My experiment this year I am sure was entirely successful and satisfactory from a financial standpoint and I shall plant many times as many potatoes next summer.

The crop can be planted later and materializes earlier than in Aroostook. The climate is much like that of Aroostook but not so cold in winter.

"Why there are farms I've seen here," said Mr. Littlefield "which can be bought for $2,000 and would bring $10,000 in Aroostook. There is no reason why Franklin county's farms cannot be used for potato agriculture. I predict a great future for the county if her farmers will only awaken to the fact that they can grow fine crops of potatoes right here in Franklin county.

It has made Aroostook famous and her people wealthy and prosperous. Our county fair shows what Franklin county's agriculture is and the Sandy River railroad, has made us farmers a remarkable low rate this fall and is encouraging. We beat Aroostook in railroad tariff rates and there is no reason why with encouragement our farmers don't get a move on and try potato raising.

"1,600 bushels on about five acres without much work or fertilizer isn't a bad record," remarked Mr. Littlefield "and I believe there is money in it for farmers to grow tubers instead of hay and other crops.

"I have had experience in raising potatoes in Aroostook and Franklin counties and I believe that Franklin county offers better advantages than Aroostook, has equally as good a soil is nearer the Boston market and that her farmers can make more money raising potatoes than any other crop. At least I am satisfied with my first experience at Madrid. All over the county are farms which are capable of producing excellent results. I sincerely trust if my experience counts for anything it should tend to prove that what I claim for Franklin county is substantiated by the results on my farm in Madrid.

"Dill Brothers raised about 300 bushels off from one acre this year also in Phillips. There is little, if any rot here and potatoes ripen earlier here than there. I consider that my success with 1600 bushels raised on about five acres is guarantee enough for others to try their hands at potato growing in the near future."

MOTHERHOOD

MRS. DANIEL SULLIVAN

Unquestionably preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism and renders it perfectly normal.

A woman in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sullivan, 589 E. 7th Street, Flatbush, N. Y.

"What a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is to motherhood. I send you a picture of my three months' old baby and myself, and the photo shows the splendid condition of our health. That I am so well and the baby so healthy and happy is entirely due to your excellent remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it for five months before baby came and it brought me an easy confinement and kept me strong, whereas I was weak and in perfectly miserable health all the time when my first three children were born."

Mrs. Geo. Walters of Woodlawn, Ill., also writes:

"I feel it my duty to tell of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me and to recommend it to all expect-tant mothers to insure a healthy child and easy birth. I had lost three children and was discouraged when a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and it not only kept me well and strong but I have a healthy child as you will find anywhere. I hope other discouraged women may read this letter and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be benefited by it as I have been."

Women should remember that for more than thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been without a rival in sustaining woman's health and curing all those painful ailments peculiar to her sex. Its record shows that it has cured almost every form of female complaint, organic troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the periods of child-birth and change of life. It cures backache and all those bearing down sensations.

If there is anything about your case you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is absolutely free. Thousands of women have done so and have received help.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

A large congregation at the Union church on Sunday morning listened to a sermon preached by Rev. Mr. Woodward the text for which was taken from II Cor. vi, 17. "Come out from among them and be ye separate."

In the early history of the Christian church the disciples of Christ were separated from other classes of society in a way that is not known among us. In the country which saw the beginning of the Christian religion Judaism fought strongly against its acceptance by the people. To become a follower of Christ was to cause one's self to be shut out from the synagogue to be shunned by his fellow men to be ostracised by society, even to be cast out from his home.

In other lands there was hostility to the new faith. The Roman Empire did not look with favor upon it and made hard the way of those who worshipped the name of Christ. Persecution was directed against them. To acknowledge one's self a Christian was to endanger life. Believers gathered in obscure places, even in huts and caves, lest they be discovered in their worship and suffer imprisonment or death. In those years Christians were, in a very apparent way, separated from the rest of the world. Afterwards when Christianity had become the state religion of Rome, embraced by her emperors, made the popular form of religion by their approval and attitude toward it, when its adherents were no longer, ostracised, hunted or persecuted, was the command obsolete? Has it become obsolete today when the Christian faith is the recognised religion of the majority of civilized people? Christians walk among their fellows with no distinguishing sign of garb or of speech. To be sure a few small sects may hold to outward marks of separation but the large body of Christians go about their several avocations garbed as are other men and women in similar walks of life. Their speech is the same, save that it lacks the profanity and coarseness too often heard from others. Only a few adopt a distinctive speech like the "Thee" and "Thou" of the Quakers.

The words of Jesus spoken to the woman of Samaria, "The hour cometh when neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem shall ye worship the Father" "God is a spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" are the key note to the separation from the world which Jesus wished for his disciples. It was not in place of worship, it was not in fashion of clothing, it was not in form of speech, it was in the deeper things of spirit and purpose.

The non-Christian develops an independence that relies upon one's own strength in meeting the duties and emergencies of life. He looks for his own will, his own strength and power to enable him to live his life in the world. The Christian acknowledges need of a strength greater than his own, of a power higher than his own. He acknowledges his dependence upon something without himself. The non-Christian attitude is like that of a hunter who in unknown forests seeks no guide, consults no compass, trusts his own wisdom. The Christian, like him who secures directions, watches his compass, profits by the knowledge of others. There is as much difference between him who trusts solely in himself, and him who acknowledges his need and dependence, as is seen between the clay model of the sculptor and the finished statue of marble. The clay may be at first as beautiful in form, but it will soon dry and crumble and fall to dust, while the marble endures from generation to generation.

A cable of hemp and a cable of steel may be of equal size, but when put to the test of bearing the strain of great weights the hempen strands will soon be drawn apart, while the steel sustains the weight put upon it.

You may have a bed of beautiful pansies, of immense size and exquisite colorings. Yet if you renew the bed from its own plants year after year, you will find that your blossoms are of inferior size and beauty, perhaps becoming at last the little blue "Ladie's Delights."

We need to renew our strength receiving for our needs from God, else it will not be the strength that endures, and our lives will not have a lasting beauty.

The first separation of the Christian from the world then, is that of acknowledged dependence.

In the second place he is separated by his regard for the needs of others and his effort to help them.

To be sure there are some people not Christians who excel some poor Christians but I speak of the recognized purpose of true disciples of Jesus. You may have heard the story of the traveller who carrying a large sum of money was lost upon the mountains and compelled to take refuge in a cabin the occupants of which were rough and uncouth in appearance, and of whom he felt a fear that they might do him violence to secure his treasure. But when in the evening the man read from the old family Bible and commended his family and the stranger to the care of God his fears vanished.

A man of prayer will not wish to harm his neighbors. A man can not love God and not love his fellow men. In a Christian life there is more of altruism than in other lives, and to be Christians we will more unreservedly trust our interests when we come to hard places.

In the third place the Christian is separated from the world by his pleasures. A Christian needs pleasure as other men need pleasure. A hearty laugh is as good for him as for others. But while some may make the seeking of pleasure the chief business of life, to the Christian it is of secondary importance. A man in whom the altruistic impulses are strongly developed lives not for pleasure but for duty.

As individuals who live with the winning of pleasure as the object of their supreme efforts deteriorate in character, so also do nations who make the seeking of pleasure their chief pursuit. Greece at one time was the seat of the highest intellectual civilization of the world but when she devoted herself to the securing of pleasure she lost her power to bless the world. Of all modern nations France doubtless is the most diligent in seeking pleasure. And what has France given for the good of the world. A few great minds, a few illustrious names, we find, but as a nation she had done nothing to be compared to the Puritans who soberly lived their austere lives and influenced for good not only this continent but the whole civilized world.

If then the Christian is separated from the world by his sense of dependence upon God, by his altruistic living, and by his subordination of pleasure to duty, how shall he show that separation?

He should lean on divine help. He should be a man of prayer. He should show a perfect rectitude and integrity of purpose in all business transactions. No temptations of high finance should lead him away from honesty. He should look upon himself as a steward of every faculty and power, every opportunity for service to humanity given him. Christ calls for sacrifice from those who would follow him. The true Christian must be ready to sacrifice and suffer for others.

Let us not show our separation from the world by holding ourselves aloof as though too holy to come near its people, but by acknowledging dependence upon God, by earnest trying to help others, and by worthy aims in life.

Why Was He an Idiot?

There is a story told of a very talkative lady who met with a well deserved rebuke at a social gathering not long ago. Her husband is a man of high standing in the world of science, but the lady regards him as a dreamer of impossible dreams. "Do you know," she remarked, "that genius and imbecility are twin brothers? The world regards John as a genius. Now, there are times when I believe him to be an idiot."

A painful silence followed, broken by a blunt old doctor who had overheard the remark.

"Are we to understand, madam," he said, "that Professor Y., though your husband, is so lightly esteemed by you?"

"I say what I think," she retorted. "At times John is unmistakably an idiot."

"Merely because he is your husband?"

"Sir!"

"Oh, very well," was the grim rejoinder. "We will put it another way: He is your husband because he is an idiot. Will that do?" — Pearson's Weekly.

The Folklore of Puss.

Puss has earned the reputation of being weatherwise. Good weather may be expected when "tabby" washes herself, but bad when she licks herself against the grain or sits with her tail to the fire.

Formerly in Scotland when a family removed from one house to another the family cat was always taken as a protection against disease. It is curious to find the opposite practice obtaining in Ireland, where it is considered highly unlucky for a family to take with them a cat when they are "fitting," especially so if they have to cross a river. There is a popular belief that a cat born in the month of May is of no use whatever for catching rats and mice, but exerts an injurious influence on the house through bringing into it disagreeable reptiles of various kinds, says Woman's Life.

In Scotland black cats are supposed to bring not only good luck, but also lovers, in illustration of which may be quoted the well known rhyme:

Whenever the cat o' the house is black,
The lasses o' lovers will have no lack.

The Burglar.

A burglar was one night engaged in the pleasing occupation of stowing a good haul of swag in his bag when he was startled by a touch upon his shoulder, and, turning his head, he beheld a venerable, mild eyed clergyman gazing sadly at him.

"Oh, my brother," groaned the reverend gentleman, "wouldst thou rob me? Turn, I beseech you—turn from thy evil ways. Return those stolen goods and depart in peace, for I am merciful and forgive. Begone!"

And the burglar, only too thankful at not being given into custody of the police, obeyed and slunk swiftly off.

Then the good old man carefully and quietly packed the swag into another bag and walked softly (so as not to disturb the slumber of the inmates) out of the house and away into the silent night. For he, too, was a burglar.

INSURANCE

IS IMPORTANT

It is doubly important to insure with the best and strongest companies. I give the promptest attention to the adjustment of laws and represent such companies as the following:

The Aetna Assurance Co. of Hartford, Conn.
The Phoenix Assurance Co. of Hartford, Conn.
The Home Assurance Co. of New York.
The Niagara Fire Assurance Co. of New York.
The New York Underwriters Assurance Co. of New York.
The Fire Association Assurance Co. of Philadelphia.

Those who realize what a vast difference there is in Companies, in their standing in the business world and in their methods of doing business know that the companies named above stand for the very best that there is in insurance.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth a ter a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, grovelling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever; and that Mr. Bok's malicious statement were wholly and absolutely false. In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs. These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble grovelling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.

ton visited in the family of W. H. H. Small and other relatives in town last week.

VOTING CONTEST

for A MODEL HUB RANGE.

The MAINE WOODSMAN has purchased a handsome $72.50 Model Hub Range and will give it away absolutely free to the lady receiving the largest number of votes.

The Model Hub Range is unexcelled as a sure and easy baker and cooker, and an economical consumer of either coal, coke or wood. The Model Hub Range is world-famous, and is well-known to the good cooks of New England, who have always lead and will lead the world. This Range is made by the Smith & Anthony Co., of Boston, which, in itself is a guarantee of good faith, and is sold by leading dealers everywhere.

This range will be given to the lady in Kingfield or New Portland who receives the most votes.

Conditions of the Contest.

The Model Hub Range will be given to the lady receiving the highest number of votes. There must be two or more contestants.

Vote coupons can be obtained only by payment of yearly subscriptions, old or new, at the office of the MAINE WOODSMAN or sent in by mail. To prevent trading among contestants, those receiving coupons should fill them out at once, preferably with pen and ink. No coupon will be counted upon which two names have been written, even if one of these has been erased.

Any contestant, or any friend of contestants, is at liberty to canvass for subscriptions, no matter where they may reside.

Collections may be made on old subscriptions by contestants or their friends and a certificate will be issued for every dollar so collected or turned in.

Subscription blanks, receipt blanks and other printed matter will be furnished the contestants for use in making a canvass or for making a collection, as well as lists of old subscribers, free of charge upon application.

The Range to be given away is a full size Model Hub Range, of the latest pattern, and will be delivered at the freight depot nearest the residence of the winner. The value of this range, at retail, is $72.50.

Don't wait for somebody else, but send in your votes at once and hustle for a range that is well worth your effort. Begin today.

One of the principal objects being the securing of new subscribers, we will give double value or forty coupons on every dollar paid on all new subscriptions. No coupons will be printed in the MAINE WOODSMAN. The only way to get votes will be by payment of subscriptions. If you pay at the MAINE WOODSMAN office ask for your coupons. If you send by mail request that the coupon be sent you.

The date of the close of the contest will be announced later. Address all inquiries to Contest Department, MAINE WOODSMAN, Phillips, Maine.

A Good Suggestion.
THE story of the success experienced by Mr. W. E. Littlefield in raising potatoes in Madrid and his suggestion that in his opinion Franklin county farms can be profitably utilized in raising potatoes at a profit both, worthy of careful thought by people of Franklin county. Mr. Littlefield raised about 1600 bushels of fine potatoes on five acres of land without much care or effort in the way of fertilizing for which he got on an average seventy cents a bushel. The rate of shipment over the Sandy River road also is low and as Mr. Littlefield points out he believes that Franklin county is equally as good a place as Aroostook for potato raising and urges farmers to turn their attention more in this direction. Certainly the experiment is worthy of trial for according to the returns from five acres, Mr. Littlefield's first season's experience proves that what he contends is true—that Franklin county farms can be utilized profitably for potato raising. Franklin county has the benefit of a low tariff rate on shipments over the Sandy River railroad and our nearness to the Boston market should count for much. Mr. Littlefield has had experience both in Aroostook and Franklin counties and says he got better results here than in Aroostook. Three hundred bushels to the acre is a pretty good average for the first year. At any rate Mr. Littlefield says that he is satisfied and suggests that potato raising for Franklin county would result profitably.

Result of Neglect
In most cases consumption results from a neglected or improperly treated cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and prevents serious results. It costs you no more than the unknown preparations and you should insist upon having the genuine in the yellow package. W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

Eldridge Rackliffe, aged 80 years, died Sunday. This is the third Civil war veteran to die here since Thursday. The flag has been floating since then at half mast. He lived at Allen's mills for a long time and leaves several sons.

Mrs. Theo Presson Thompson died at Livermore, Monday, aged 20 years as the result of blood poisoning. She leaves a husband and child two weeks old. The remains were brought here for burial.

Elmer Weymouth, a brakeman on the early morning freight, crushed his shoulder by falling between the cars at East Wilton. He also broke a rib. He is a young man of about 28 years and belongs here where he was brought after the accident.

Thompson & Smith purchased a mill and water privileges at New Sharon about a year ago and the town boasts electric lights for streets and in houses. The current was turned on first Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carghill of New Sharon lost their buildings and everything in them in a fire Friday. An aged woman in the house narrowly escaped death, being taken out of the house on a bed.

Friends have been most kind to the Vincent family who were burned out Saturday. Mr. John Sweet provided them with clothes and his sons gave them hot dinners.

The annual convention of the Maine Woman's Equal Suffrage association, was opened here Monday. A private business session was held in the afternoon and a public meeting was held in the most trifling duty, if it contains the germ of a new thought should not be overlooked for "He who seeks to pluck the stars may lose the jewels at his feet."

Once again I bid you welcome hoping that the memories of the place may be enriched by the treasures of wit and wisdom that shall here be uttered. May we each strive to live up to the teachings of our order and at last reap the reward of true harvesters.

A vote of thanks was extended Oquossoc Grange for their hospitality after which the meeting closed in form, all having spent a pleasant day and wishing Oquossoc Grange success in the future. At 4 o'clock we took the train for Phillips. One brother seemed to be in very good spirits and on inquiring your correspondent learned that his "better half" had stopped over and he said he was having the time of his life. Another feeling good-natured and wanting to keep on the good side of the sisters treated us generously on candy. The November meeting of the Pomona will be held with Aurora Grange, Strong.

North Franklin Grange will hold their next meeting Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2. The program will be as follows:

Quotations. Reading, Harry Bell Paper, S. C. Graffam Question—What are we to understand by "For the good of the Order?" Opened by F. J. Toothaker Declaration, Fred Morton Dialogue, In charge of Geo. West Freeman.

Cold as "Greenland" is the favorite expression about here. But to those of us who live on the hilltop and rise before the sun these clear bright mornings there is wondrous beauty in the tone and coloring of sky and atmosphere. No artist can put on canvass such clear crystalline tints as delight the eye of the early riser. The high winds last week swept the leaves from the trees in showers of flame and gold. Nature delights in the soft, cool, green shades for her summer robes but when the cold, frosty days of autumn comes she dons her brightest colors of red and gold.

Albert Sedgely butchered a fine pig one day last week. He also bought a shoat to fatten and three young pigs to winter.

Partridges are reported very shy in this vicinity and we hear of no new deer slayers.

Pretty cold days and colder nights for the ungathered apples. Canning factories are overstocked and those who have apples to haul must "bide a wee."

We are very glad to learn that young Mr. Pinkham, near Starbird's Corner, who awhile ago shot both hands injuring them severely by the accidental discharge of his gun is getting along much better than his friends feared. He has a great deal of sympathy from all friends but when will our young hunters learn that with the hands over the muzzle is not the way to carry a loaded gun. That fact was impressed upon our mind very many years ago when a young brother injured a fore finger severely and we remember that the physician's remarks although not especially sympathetic were very plain and pointed. A loaded weapon as well as one supposed not to be loaded is dangerous although familiarity is apt to breed contempt.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, To find relief and cure? No reason why any reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Early Fall.

The first reminder of cold and freezing weather has appeared. A few snapping cold days will sell more goods than a dozen expert salesmen can in 30 days. Why? Because the customers want stuff and want it right bad, so much so that they do not even listen to what the salesman has to say about the good qualities of the articles to be sold, but they call for just what they want and often times if the customers have confidence in the Merchant they will take the first thing in sight that will keep out the chilling cold and have it wrapped up with dispatch, without asking any questions—simply depending on their own judgment, which in nine cases out of ten is the best there is. At such times as these it is only a matter of getting the goods before the familiar cry "all out" is heard.

and hostess cannot be found than "Uncle Hanley and Aunt Louise."

Remember the night, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Saturday afternoon Harry Smith's horse became frightened at an automobile, dashed through E. L. Johnson's yard, smashed through a gate, went down over steep banks, breaking the carriage and ran the length of the interval. She jumped into the river with the forward wheels still hitched to her, while in the water she cleared herself from the rigging and after much plunging finally reached the opposite shore. She turned and swam the river again which brought her to her own field when she became quiet and was soon caught. Harry says when he goes to town again he will take the wheelbarrow.

Quite a number of our young people availed themselves of the excursion to Rangeley last week, among whom were Charles Skillings, Edwin, Burton and Lillian Moore.

A preaching service was held at the home of E. L. Johnson Wednesday evening by our Maine State missionary. He spoke particularly to the children, but it was enjoyed by all.

Taylor Hill.

Rather cold for apples on the trees.

There is a scarcity of apple barrels in this section.

George Richards has gone into the woods on his lot in Freeman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Welch of Farmington visited their daughter, Mrs. O. S. Voter, one day last week.

Miss Georgie Wilbur of Avon was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Guy Kershner, Sunday.

Fred Nutting is again moving his portable mill.

F. H. McLain of Stratton was a recent guest at W. K. Howes.

Alfred Newell is working for W. K. Howes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams have returned from their trip to Portland.

His Dear Old Mother

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged; the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children, too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell of Kingfield; Chas. E. Dyer of Strong; E. H. Whitney of Rangeley.

District No. 2 Phillips.

Miss Esma Harnden is working for Mrs. William Gilman.

Miss Vena Hinkley was the guest of Mrs. D. J. Shepard a few days the last of the week.

Mr. L. D. Shepard went to Augusta last Friday to see his children and visit other relatives for a few days.

The Wing Company finished picking their cranberries last Saturday, Oct. 19, they had about 425 bushels. The most of them were of fine quality, but owing to the cold rainy weather has taken much longer than usual to harvest them.

Speaking of families with four generations, Miss Violet Hinkley, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hinkley, has four generations in her family and four different ways, and which traced one way are all females, where is another little lady who can boast of the same?

Mrs. Voter who has been at the home of G. H. True for the past year, is now stopping with her daughter, Mrs. John Shepard.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. True returned last Friday after spending several weeks in Massachusetts with relatives and friends, they also spent a few days in Portland, Richmond and other places on their return.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

TO CURE PAIN.

Necessary to Treat the Nerves Both Internally and Externally.

Nervous headaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, and other nerve troubles need internal treatment as well as external. Get right at the nerve centre with a small dose of Neuralgic Anodyne, which will soothe and quiet the whole nervous system. At the same time, rub a little Anodyne on the affected part, and it will find its way through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues and throbbing nerves.

Neuralgic Anodyne is so uniformly successful in curing all aches and pains that it is sold by dealers everywhere with the understanding that the money will be refunded if it does not do all that is claimed for it. A large-sized bottle costs but 25 cts.

Neuralgic Anodyne is also invaluable in quickly curing colds, croup, sore throat, etc., and in taking the soreness out of bruises, sprains, cuts and chilblains. Made by The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

Phillips and Vicinity.

Mrs. Lionel I. Allen returned from Portland Thursday night. She was accompanied by Mr. Charles N. Shaw of Cumberland, who is a double second cousin of hers. Mr. Shaw has visited in Phillips for several years, his previous trip being in 1905. He is now in his 79th year and though feeble in health is a very interesting man to engage in conversation. His occupation, until failing health deprived him of the privilege, has been following the sea, making about 30 trips to the West Indies and one trip around the world. He has visited England and Europe several times in years past but firmly believes that "Maine is the place in which to live" and feels satisfied with a home in the state, residing with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Greeley, in Cumberland. Mr. Shaw is also a double cousin of F. B. Sweetser of this place and his relatives here hope that he may be able to visit Phillips for several years to come.

SCENTS for trapping foxes are advertised by quite a number of people nowadays but they are not all by any means what is claimed for them. For the past 25 years I have trapped foxes successfully and have tried every known combination without perfect results. I finally made a combination of my own that has proved far superior to anything else on the market. I have made a limited amount of this scent, to sell at a dollar a bottle, postage prepaid. This combination will hold its scent without evaporating. Since advertising this scent in MAINE WOODS I have sold it by the bottle all over the county. A. W. Bean, Phillips.

SPORTING CAMPS—Well-known sporting camps. Great business opportunity. $3,000. A negotiable paper required. Address H. B. 142, MAINE WOODS Information Bureau.

Phillips and Vicinity.

Much interest was taken in Phillips in the trial of Wallace G. Everett for the murder of Edgar L. Radcliffe in South Paris. Wednesday the jury reported a disagreement.

The ladies are requested to bring a plate of homemade candy to the Rebekah meeting Friday evening, Oct. 25, as there will be a social hour after the meeting.

Many Phillips teachers will attend the convention of Franklin County teachers at the Farmington Normal school Nov. 1 and 2. Notable educators will address the meeting.

Mr. George S. Whitney of this town passed his 74th birthday Saturday, Oct. 19. In honor of this event a birthday dinner was served by his daughters, Mrs. Fred Masterman and Mrs. Lionel T. Allen, at the home of the latter on Sunday, Oct. 20. One guest was present, Mr. Chas. N. Shaw of Cumberland. A chicken dinner was served, it being one of Ms. Whitney's favorite dinners, and consisted of the following: Stuffed roast chicken and cranberry sauce, fricassee chicken and dumplings, boiled Irish and sweet potatoes, mashed turnip, onions, squash, hot biscuit, yeast bread, honey, canned pineapple, English pudding with transparent sauce, assorted cake, custard, apple, squash and blueberry pie, grapes. Mr. Whitney was the recipient of several gifts, among them a bouquet of assorted carnation pinks sent by his sister, Mrs. Annie Gilbert, of Lewiston, who expressed regrets in not being able to be present.

It was below freezing in Franklin county this week in the early mornings and there was snow at Rangeley last Sunday and ponds were skimmed over with ice. Snow fell in several parts of the state. It is now time to bank the houses and put on double windows.

Miss Mae A. Davenport, who has been ill at her uncle's, A. W. Davenport, for the past twenty weeks, remains very feeble. She wishes to thank all her friends who have so kindly remembered her in her long illness, and it is her wish that each ray of sunshine they have given her may be reflected into their own lives.

Engineer Reese of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, who has been here "hanging up" the new passenger engine for the Sandy River railroad left Tuesday for Bridgton. The engine has been given several trial spins and has proven thoroughly satisfactory.

Wm. T. Ballard, who died Thursday last, was buried in Riverside cemetery on Sunday. Mr. Ballard had been ill ten days of pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. Lufkin. Mr. Ballard formerly lived on a farm on Porter hill and after moving to Phillips went to Wisconsin where he remained some time.

Thousands of bushels of apples have been frozen in Franklin county and the people of Phillips have not been exempt. Miss Georgine V. Wilbur lost a hundred barrels or so and T. B. Hunter, Mr. Hutchins and others have come in for very severe losses. We would like to publish a list of the losses.

West New Vineyard.

Mrs. Joe Turner has been quite sick, but is some better at this writing.

As Mr. Eugene Weymouth of Free-man was driving to New Vineyard last Saturday, one thill iron broke letting the thill drop to the ground. The horse became frightened and threw Mr. Weymouth out, badly bruising and cutting his head and face. He hung to the reins and stopped his horse without her doing any further damage.

Edgar Savage and wife were callers in town Sunday.

Mr. E. H. Hackett, our school superintendent has resigned. We are sorry to lose one that has done such good work for the school as Mr. Hackett has. We understand that Howard Wright will fill the vacancy.

Mr. Willard Overlock of Razoville, Maine gave an interesting lecture at the Guild schoolhouse last Tuesday evening.

Old Jack frost is getting in his work on what apples that are out doors.

Advice to Housewives

No home is so pleasant, regardless of the comforts that money will buy, as when the entire family is in perfect health. A bottle of Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup costs 50 cents. It will cure every member of the family of constipation, sick headache or stomach trouble. W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.
