

PHILLIPS BAND RE-ORGANIZED

The first meeting of the year of the Phillips Cornet band was held in Wilbur hall Wednesday evening and much interest shown in reorganizing the same. This band will furnish music for Memorial day.

Frank Worthley has been leader of the band for sometime, but his removal to Montreal necessitates the choosing of a new leader and it is very much hoped by the members that the services of Hon. N. P. Noble can be secured. Following are those who make up the membership and the instruments played by them: John Russell, Joe Steward, Malcolm Barker, Dan Steward, Harold Beedy, cornets; Hollis Holt, Lynwood Carlton, trombone; Frank Davis, Howard Ross, alto horn; M. I. Keyes, Frank Stewart, baritone; Howard Leavitt, bass horn; Dana Walker, snare drum; Clifford Cushman, bass drum; Harry Chandler, Herman Beal, clarinet; Chas. Hammons, saxophone.

ONE FINGER AMPUTATED

Brakeman on Railroad Received Injuries Last Saturday.

Last Saturday Daniel French, a brakeman on the Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes railroad, had the misfortune to lose a finger, while braking in the yard at Farmington. It was the index finger and was so badly crushed that it had to be taken off. Two or three of the other fingers were crushed quite badly.

Dr. Pratt of Farmington was the surgeon. Mr. French returned to his home on the night train and the hand is getting along well.

The cars which French was coupling had the link and pin arrangement. Most of the cars now in use have the automatic coupling, which does away with any danger of accidents of this sort.

PASTOR OF M. E. CHURCH

Rev. W. W. Laite to Commence His Labor as Pastor of the Methodist Church of Phillips

Rev. William W. Laite, who has been the pastor at Salem for the last three years, has moved to Phillips this week and will reside in the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Mr. Laite has been looking after the work of the church since Mr. Millett left, but his actual pastorate did not begin until this week.

The services of Mr. Laite were secured by the District Supt. Rev. J. M. Frost, while Mr. Laite was holding an Evangelistic service at one of the churches in the Augusta district. Mr. Laite has always in connection with his regular pastoral work, done considerable Evangelistic work.

It has been a good winter for Mr. Laite's work as he has been obliged to drive from Salem to Phillips for the afternoon service on Sunday, and the Thursday evening prayer meetings. He did not miss a single service and the work of the church went on with a swing.

Mr. Laite had no intention of taking the pastorate of the church when he first agreed to take the work, but the people soon felt that he was the man for the place, if it were possible to secure his services. When Mr. Laite was informed of the sentiment of the people he said, "he was willing to do anything to advance the kingdom of Christ"—that money was not the thing that pulled him into the ministry, but he was a minister in answer to a divine call, and that if the people of the church would pull off their coats and go to work he would accept the appointment.

Mr. Laite was born and brought up in the Episcopal church and was thoroughly indoctrinated in its principles. He was an altar boy at the age of 16, when he made up his mind to attend revival meetings held by the Methodists, at which time he was converted and entered enthusiastically into that work.

He was licensed to preach at Malden, Mass., when he was a lad of 17 and at 19 entered the active ministry. He labored as an Evangelist in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont and New York, preaching every night in the week and three times on Sundays, at the same time pursuing his studies. Mr. Laite is the youngest ordained minister of this conference.

Mr. Laite has done exceptionally the Methodist Episcopal church of West Rutland, Vermont; from there he went to the People's church at the Vermont state capital, from Montpelier he went to New Bedford, Mass., as pastor of the First Evangelical church, where the failing

BURGLARY AT HALEY & RUSSELL'S

Thieves Enter by Window and Carry off about $100 Worth of Goods.

Wednesday morning when the store of Haley & Russell was opened, it was found that a burglar or burglars had been at work. They entered by breaking the glass in the window in the meat room and reaching in and lifting the window. Things in the store had been pretty badly mixed up and overturned.

As nearly as can be ascertained they took in the neighborhood of $100 worth of goods. Among the articles missed are two expensive dress suit cases, three suits of clothes, underwear, boots, neckties, etc. A been found. The only suspicious circumstance is that Dr. E. B. Currier, who was coming from Mrs. Fannie Record's at about 2 o'clock that morning, saw a man with two dress suit cases. When the Doctor got into the road the man was about 10 feet from him and going towards the lower village.

No clue to the burglars has yet very little cash was also taken.

A burglary was committed at the store of Daggett & Will. Strong, last Saturday night, and it is thought possible it may have been done by the same party.

FOOD SALE HELD AT CHURCH PARLORS.

The weather was very favorable on Wednesday for a good attendance of the ladies at the sale at the church parlors by the Social union. The food sale was made the principal feature, although there was a good display of neckwear and aprons. Ice cream and homemade candies were also on sale.

From 5 until 6 o'clock lunches were served consisting of salad, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake.

The tables were in charge of Mrs. H. W. True, Mrs. F. A. Lawton, Mrs.

THE FEDERATED CHURCH PARISH

Much interest has been shown in the organization of the Federated Church Parish. There was a well-attended meeting held in the church parlors Monday evening, at which the organization was perfected, the by-laws were discussed and adopted and a business committee was elected. This committee will have the threefold duties of pulpit committee, financial committee and the committee having general oversight of the business affairs of the church and parish. Its members are D. F. Field, Miss Georgine Wilbur and Mrs. Mary Field. They have power to appoint others to assist them in their work.

C. E. Parker at the food table; Mrs. F. N. Beal, fancy work; Mrs. C. F. Chandler, Mrs. Fred Morton, apron; Miss Shirley Holt, candy; Miss Georgine Wilbur, Mrs. E. V. Holt and Mrs. N. P. Noble, ice cream. The net receipts will be about $36.

CLEVER BIT OF THEATRICAL WORK

The audience at Lambert hall last Tuesday was happily surprised at the clever work done by those taking part in the farce, "Pa's New Housekeeper." They are all students in the High school with exception of Miss Bates, but the play was presented in a commendable manner and they all proved themselves to be possessed of rare ability.

The part taken by Hollis Holt was the most difficult and he brought down the house in his impersonation of Mrs. Pounce, and proved himself to be an artist in this line. Miss Bates played her part very naturally and with the required vivacity and she was considered by all to be a star.

Trap shooting brings out the shooting qualities of a gun. Winchester Repeating Shotguns last year won both the Professional and Amateur Season's Averages. This shows they are reliable in action, and close, hard shooters. These qualities make them excellent for bird shooting, especially for the quick, fast flyers. The Winchester is built and finished to give years of service.

Fresh Tobacco Never Bites; Dry, Cut-up Tobacco Does

Only when the natural moisture dries out of tobacco can a "bite" get into it. In the Sickle plug, all the moisture, flavor and fragrance are pressed in and kept in by the natural leaf wrapper. Every pipeful you whistle off the plug is fresh—so you always get a slow-burning, cool, sweet, satisfying smoke.

If you want your tobacco already cut up for you, in packages, you have to be content with dry tobacco, that burns fast and hot, and bites your tongue.

That's why experienced smokers cut up their own tobacco, from the Sickle plug. They get more tobacco, because they don't pay for a package—and better tobacco, because it's always fresh.

THE PASSING OF TWO WELL KNOWN HORSEMEN.

The past winter has removed from us two horsemen who perhaps had a wider acquaintance in Maine than almost any two who could be named—Isaiah Pompilly of Auburn and John S. Heald of Portland, the death of the former occurring early in the winter and that of the latter but a few days since.

Mr. Heald was 80 years of age and Mr. Pompilly but a few years younger. Both were "big" men physically, both had occupied the starter's box and officiated in the judges' stand at many Maine meetings; both were men of strict integrity. We were privileged to call each our friend and have on several occasions acted as judge with them at races. Isaiah Pompilly with his brothers Sam and Mel constituted the firm of Pompilly Bros., who bought, fitted and sold many fine horses to New York parties for years. Isaiah formerly raced horses considerably and the kindness of his heart was evidenced in after years when he found one of his old favorites reduced to hard work and showing the effects of hard usage and poor care, by buying her and providing her with a good home. He was for several years president of the Maine State fair and started races throughout Maine at Rigby Park and at Old Mystic.

The judicial element seemed predominant and we always felt had he received early education and training he had the qualities to fit him for the judicial ermine—the supreme court of Maine. His decisions were never reversed. While starting at Mystic on one occasion the late James Golden, a man, by the way, who seldom indeed gave starter or judges any trouble, was in the lead about every time. Mr. Pompilly admonished him to be careful and finally administered a trifling fine. Meeting Mr. Pompilly that night Mr. Golden remarked "Judge that is the first time I was ever fined." "Well," said Mr. Pompilly, in his quiet low voiced manner of utterance, "You don't question the justice of it, do you?" and Mr. Golden had nothing to say.

John Heald was for years a claim agent of the Maine Central railroad, hence his business took him over all Maine. He was one of the most finely formed men the writer ever saw and one of the best preserved. Tall, of erect carriage, with long flowing side whiskers carefully trained and well attired, he was a noticeable figure wherever seen. For years he was a leading starting judge, opening the Oakland track at Gardiner and after his retirement from active business officiating as judge on many occasions.

He owned some good trotters and was a good judge of horses; while he did not handle many horses, his barn was seldom without one and the profit was usually quite a substantial one. Size, action, soundness and some speed he always had in a horse and they were well mannered after he had them awhile.

Mr. Heald was at one time a director of the Maine State Fair.

We shall not soon forget these two.

Among the few who own and drive their own horses in the Grand Circuit we find C. W. Lasell of Whitinsville, Mass., who owns a summer home at Rangeley and who has in the past bought several good Maine horses, notably Gene D., 2:12 1-2, by Johnny Wilkes; Edwin C., (p) 2:19 1-4, by Bronze Boone Duster, 2:21 1-4, by Cunard, Jr., 2:28 1-4, etc.

Drives His Own Horses.

Mr. Lasell, it is said, was about to give up the horse business as he found little pleasure in "sitting on the bench." He began driving and soon developed into one of the cleverest amateur drivers. From here it was an easy step to driving in professional races, but as he always drives his own horses he is strictly an amateur. He belongs in the game, first, because he likes it and secondly, because he has the means. He raced old Terrill S. (p) 2:08 1-4; for years developed Mac Dougall, 2:10 1-4, now in the stud in Kentucky and gave the world's record for two-years-old filly over a half mile track to Nowaday Girl, (2) 1:14 3-4, one of his own breeding.

One of Mr. Lasell's recent purchases is a fast son of Simmons, 2:17 1-4, one of the stallions in service at Tappan farm, Monmouth, Me., of which C. H. Tappan, the well known jewelry manufacturer of Attleboro, Mass., is the proprietor. It is understood, or at least rumored, that Simon Kenton, 2:10 1-4, one Tappan farm stallions, winner of the $15,000 purse at Readville, will make a season in Fort Fairfield.

Speaking of futurities, a Maine bred man, George W. Leavitt, now of Readville, Mass., but formerly of Pembroke, Me., has nominated 31 mares in foal to his stallion. The Northern Man, 2:06 1-2 in the American Horse Breeder Futurity.

The Northern Man is by Todd, 2:14 3-4, and her fastest son is America, while her dam is Gypsy Dark, dam by Susan N., (3). 2:09 1-4, by Wiltwood, grand utm Toulon by Electro Benton! That these mares are of the richest breeding, goes without saying for the Northern Man is in Kentucky and Mr. Leavitt was there a good portion of the time.

Getting a Reputation.

Nowadays when an owner wants a reputation for a stallion he sends him to Kentucky and Mr. Leavitt was a pioneer of this line, in fact, the inventor of the system.

We note an acquaintance of ours, John Coffey, of Shediac, N. B., has nominated George Baron in foal to Rudy Kip (p) 204.3-4, in the American Horse Breeder Futurity. George Baron is by Baron Duncan, son of Baron Wilkes and a daughter of Axtell. Mr. Coffey is one of the conductors on the Inter-Colonial and we used to meet him frequently during his waiting hours while in Monton.

We note recently in a turf journal the utterance of our friend, Geo. F. Leonard of Boston, who says, "there are too few young men interested in the breeding and racing of the trotting horse and he doubts if there are 100 young men in New England who can bring up a horse in proper shape to drive through the streets, though there are thousands who can rig a boat and sail it or fix an auto and run it but the horse is to them an unknown quantity."

Can you wonder at it, Mr. Leonard?

THE PETERS CARTRIDGE COMPANY, CINCINNATI, OHIO
NEW YORK: 98 Chambers St., T. H. Keller, Manager

The man who starts in the breeding or racing of trotters seldom knows where he will get off. Rigging and sailing a boat or fixing and running an auto sink into utter insignificance beside the master mind needed to breed and race trotters and make a success of it financially.

Personally we would like to see more young men who have sufficient wealth, evince more of a love for horses, more of them like C. W. Lasell. It is getting to be more of a gentleman's game but we don't wonder that more of them hesitate.

Few Like Cox et als.

There are few like Walter Cox, William Russell Allen, C. W. Lasell or George Leavitt in New England. You might chain Walter Cox to a rock and he would make money. William Russell Allen had the means to compel success and perseverance. He began with a right foundation and when he got the right cast of heaven, put together a loaf which the public now inquires for. Mr. Lasell had the means and determination. Few, we imagine get the satisfaction that Mr. Lasell does in driving his own horses. It is a recreation for him and the expense does not necessarily count.

George Leavitt early in life found out that the horse was intended to perform man's labor and never lost sight of the fact from the time when down in Pembroke, he used to give the boys a sleigh ride who had sawed and split for him the wood he was supposed to get ready for the family fires.

Now about hitching a horse so he looks right "tasty" we imagine Mr. Leonard can do it, for his equipage looks that but just tell us where are the ninety and nine others, even old men included, in New England. Some class to the man who can hitch 'em just right.

WARDEN BACK FROM CANADA

Summer Activities Begin at Mountain View---New Proprietors of Mingo Arrive

(Special to Maine Woods).

Mountain View, April 21, 1913.

It is reported that Edward Lowell, the well-known warden for several years on the Mooselookmeguntic and Cupsuptic lakes is to clerk for Mrs. Mabel Burns at the Mooselookmeguntic House. Mrs. Burns has moved back to the landing and is getting things in readiness for the summer season.

Everything looks favorable for a good season and good booking is reported, from the several houses in this region.

Mr. Templeton, the new warden, has just returned from a trip through to Canada. He was accompanied by George W. Fanjoy as guide. Mr. Templeton is making many trips about the region visiting the many streams, lakes and ponds and learning the trails preparatory to his summer's work.

Messrs. Brennan and Green arrived Friday night, by way of Oquosoc, spending the night at Mountain View House and going to Mingo by team Saturday to get the house in readiness for the going out of the ice.

Help has begun to arrive for Mountain View House and house cleaning will begin right away. Mr. and Mrs. Bowley have moved into their summer quarters at the cottage. The 60 cords of wood piled in the groves for stoves and fireplaces was sawed last week and the crew are now at work splitting it. A record worth recording was made one day when the saw was moved up to a pile of 2 3-4 cords, and every stick was sawed in 1 minutes.

John Nutting is assisting George Church in the stable at Mountain View. Billy Cleaveland is also assisting with the spring work while waiting for the guiding season to open.

All last week was warm and sunny and the ice again started near the shores-but was frozen again Saturday night to the depth of nearly two inches again making it look formidable for an early season.

The McCormick Brothers, who logged in Parker Town the past winter, have been "springing out" their horses at camp and will take them out by way of Kennebago Bridge and Quimby pond when the swamps have dried enough to make them passable.

Reverend Father McLaughlin of Farmington was in town the first of last week.

Nick Oglebye has rented Eben Harnden's camp on the Turtle lot, occupied by L. C. Fairbanks and logging crew the past winter.

Eben Harnden is making extensive repairs on the old Oberton house and will move his family there for the summer.

Fred Fowler has finished painting and repairs on Birch Bower.

Gardiner Hinkley has moved h family back to Greenwood cottage at the landing from Rangeley, where they have spent the winter with Mr. Hinkley's sister, Clara Rector.

HASKELL LEASES HOTEL IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Mr. W. F. Adams and Mr. H. A. Haskell announce that they have leased The Moosilauke Inn at Breezy Point, New Hampshire, and will open it for the season of 1913 on Tuesday, July the first.

Mr. Adams is not known to Maine Woods, but we think we can guarantee a first-class hotel proprietor in Mr. Haskell as he has had much experience in summer hotels and has always been capable and popular.

VARIOUS IDEAS ON ICE CONDITION.

Maine Woods telephoned to Weld this morning to ascertain the condition of the ice in Lake Webb. Mr. J. S. Houghton said: "It is still there. Some are of the opinion that it will go out next week, but it all depends on the weather."

Bernie Houghton, who was talking with D. F. Field a few days ago, thought it might go out next week, but possibly not till week after.

Hon. H. B. Austin, who has kept a diary for the past 25 years, says that it has averaged the 30th of April for that length of time, and that this year can certainly be considered as forward as past years. He has rather been planning to be able to take a trip to Weld Saturday of this week and to see the lake clear.

D. F. Field, who owns a cottage on the lake and is familiar with past conditions, sets next Monday, April 28, as the date when the lake will be clear.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Nervousness Caused by Female Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta- ble Compound.

Auburn, N. Y. — "I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health." — Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, 15 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

"Doctor's Daughter Took It."

St. Cloud, Minn. — "I was so run down by overwork and worry that I could not stand it to have my children talk aloud or walk heavy on the floor. One of my friends said, 'Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I know a doctor's daughter here in town who takes it and she would not take it if it were not good.'"

"I sent for the Compound at once and kept on taking it until I was all right." — Mrs. BERTHA M. QUICKSTADT, 727 5th Avenue, S., St. Cloud, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon as the most efficient remedy for female ills. Why don't you try it?

churches have been repaired, painted and the general church properties have been improved. At Montpelier, Vt., the membership was doubled and at Salem it was greatly increased. At the close of each pastorate an unanimous sentiment was expressed for him to remain longer.

Mr. Laite has been exceptionally good work for the few months he has been at Phillips. He has remarkable ability as a preacher and gives interesting and helpful sermons on the gospel of Jesus Christ. The church feels confident that he will do much good for this town.

Mrs. Laite is a fine violinist and will assist in the services.

Below is a brief outline of Mr. Laite's sermon, April 20, 1913: Mr. Laite took for his subject "Our Lord's Temptation." In part, he said, "It is the good in man that makes him capable of being tempted. The man who has become a monster of iniquity and swine-like wallows in the polluting mire of his own appetites and passions, has put himself below the reach of temptation. He has touched the bottom already and there are no greater depths which he can go.

"Adam's goodness was the fulcrum on which the devil placed his lever and threw him out of Eden. It is the latent goodness in the heart of humanity that makes this world the theatre of temptation and the birthplace of crime."

The sermon was spicy with vivid illustrations and was listened to by an appreciative audience.

HIGHWAY LAWS
REVOLUTIONIZED

A Digest of Some of the Handling of Maine Highway Problems in the Future

To anyone who has examined the acts of the Legislature which has just adjourned, it will at once be apparent that the highway laws of the state have been revolutionized.

Probably no man is better able to intelligently discuss these various acts than Rep. John Clark Scates of Westbrook, the secretary of the Maine Automobile association and the man who introduced the majority of them and who was the dominating factor in the passage of them all. Few people have any idea of the great number of highway acts which were passed by the last Legislature, or know what they mean after reading them. At the request of the Maine Woods Mr. Scates has explained these various measures so that they may be understood by all.

"Besides the enactment of the general highway bill providing for a State Highway Commission and the issuance of $2,000,000 of bonds," says Mr. Scates, "many other important laws have been enacted. Among them is the authorization of the county commissioners to employ prisoners on the highways. This act provides that the county commissioners may, and shall be compelled to do so, when three per cent of the voters of any county as determined by the number of votes cast for the Governor at the last election, request them to do so. The county commissioners are authorized to provide all tools and implements, material and equipment, and such other help as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act. The State Highway Department or the municipal officers of any town may make application for the services of the prisoners to work on the highway. The prisoners are to wear the ordinary clothing of workmen.

Another act provides that the State Highway Department shall remove all trees around dangerous turns and at railroad crossings and have the authority to cut the same on private property when necessary. This act also provides that any municipality, its employees or contractors who shall leave any turf in the road, as has ordinarily been done in many sections of the state shall be debarred from receiving any correct some of the worst abuses of state aid for roads until such turf has been removed. This ought to be the ordinary road commissioner.

"This act also provides that no advertising sign shall be erected within 500 feet of crossings of highways, or where one road intersects with another, and the State Highway Commission shall cause all signs so erected to be removed at the expense of the persons erecting them. The State Highway department shall also cause all towns to erect proper signboards of a uniform appearance and height on all State or State aid roads. The act states that the highway department shall and not may see that such signs are erected.

"Another act prohibits abutters from using the land within the limits of the streets and filling up the ditches and drains. This is not as common in the western part of the state, but in Aroostook county the farmers often plough clear out to the traveled road and completely obliterate every sign of a ditch. Every municipal officer, when complaint is made, is obliged to prosecute every offender.

"Another law was enacted limiting the weight of motor trucks or other vehicles and the speed at which they shall travel. No vehicle of nine tons, including its own weight, is allowed on a highway, without special permit of the highway department or the municipal officers of the town. Motor trucks of between four and six tons are limited to 15 miles an hour and motor trucks of between six and nine tons are limited to six miles an hour. The size of tires shall be regulated according to the weight of the vehicle.

"Another act provides for a neutral zone with adjacent states. This is reciprocal. Anyone living within 15 miles of another state line can go into the adjoining state within the same distance, providing that state grants the same right. This makes a neutral zone of 15 miles on either side of the line. A special number plate, oval in shape, is to be displayed on the car which has such permission granted it. This right, however, is not granted to motor cycles. The applicant for such registration must make oath before a justice of the peace or notary public that he is within the 15 mile zone.

"Still another act gives garage keepers a special line on cars for supplies, work and material furnished.

"An act which is of some importance to people living in cities and the thickly settled portions of towns provides that when a majority of the abutters in number and value, upon any street shall petition the municipal officers to improve such street, two-thirds of the cost may be assessed on all of the abutting property, whether they petition or not.

"An act of great importance is the one that provides that all road commissioners shall be chosen by the selectmen and not elected by the people. Selectmen may appoint from one to three road commissioners and they may engage a road commissioner for a term of three years. In this act selectmen are not debarred from being commissioners.

"The Legislature, however, passed another act which apparently is antagonistic to this one, but as the act authorizing the selectmen to appoint road commissioners was the last act enacted and approved by the Governor, it undoubtedly will stand, as a general practice of the court has been that when two acts that were antagonistic were passed, the last approved shall be the one to be considered the law.

"The Legislature authorized a commission of three to confer with New Jersey, New York and other eastern states, in regard to a unification of all laws relating to the use of automobiles on the highways and report to the next Legislature, the idea being to have uniform laws in all of the eastern states."

Speaking of the rural delivery road appropriation offered by the National Government and accepted by Maine at the recent session of the Legislature, Mr. Scates said:

"The Legislature appropriated $20,000 to obtain $10,000 offered by the National Government for the improvement of 50 miles of rural delivery roads used by the rural delivery. It also designated that this money should be expended upon the main road beginning at the Westbrook and Portland line at Riverton and running to Fryeburg over the highway extending through the city of Westbrook and the towns of Windham, Raymond, Naples, Casco, Bridgton and Fryeburg. This $30,000, with the regular town and state aid money, ought to place this road in fair condition. The State Highway Commissioner has taken the matter up with the National Government and nothing can be fully determined until he hears from Washington.

"The opening up of every street in Bar Harbor to automobiles was one of the pieces of legislation which attracted much attention in the Legislature. In addition to this opening up of the town of Eden, which means the whole of Mt. Desert Island, several other restricted roads in various parts of the state were placed on the open list. A road in Readfield, which has been closed to automobiles, was opened up and the road in Waterford which has caused so much trouble the past year, will, on July 1, be open to automobile traffic.

"It must be borne in mind that, owing to the referendum, all of these laws except that pertaining to Bar Harbor, will not become operative until July 12, so that the Highway Commission cannot be organized until that time. It is therefore apparent that not much work can be done on state roads this year unless some tacit agreement is made with the present Highway Commissioner, the incoming Highway Commissioner and the Governor and council. It is to be devoutly hoped that some arrangement may be made especially in regard to the construction of the Portland Kittery line and some other sections in this state.

"And now to come to the principal law of all, the one providing for a Highway Commission of three members and the authorizing of the highway bonds. This act, to my mind, is not as perfect as it should have been, owing to the personal ambition of some people and the personal pique of others, together with considerable politics. Thus it was impossible to enact a perfect general highway law. Nevertheless, the one adopted by the state Legislature has very many redeeming features. It gives the State Highway Commission almost unlimited power. This is right. One of the first duties of the Highway Commission is to select a chief engineer who shall be the operating head. The commission is not limited to a resident of this state or to the price it shall pay such engineer. Another one of its important duties and it will be among its first, is to lay out a system of state roads throughout the state. These roads must be interlocking and the systems running east and west must be connected at different points with others running north and south. This will be one of the most difficult problems for the commission to deal with but its members have absolute power to lay out such a system unhampered by anyone. These state roads, or such part of them as $2,000,000 will construct, are to be built wholly at the expense of the state. The municipalities, however, are obliged to pay to the state $60 per mile annually for their upkeep. The construction and maintenance of state roads is to be wholly within the jurisdiction of the State Highway department. None of the bond money can be used in the thickly settled portions of towns of 2500 population or more. The State Highway commission, however, is to lay out state roads through the cities and towns and the municipalities are to construct and maintain them and if they are not maintained to the satisfaction of the State Highway commission, they can make the necessary repairs and charge the expense against the municipality.

"One good section is that when the Highway Commission commences in any county to build a state road, it must be a continuous section of at least seven miles, provided there is that distance that can be constructed in the county before it reaches the county line, or a piece of improved road. All state roads, after construction, must be maintained under the patrol system.

"Another class of roads known as state aid roads, or roads of local importance, are to be laid out by municipal officers of the several cities and towns with the approval of the Highway department. These state aid roads shall receive assistance from the state in exactly the same proportion as provided by the old law, but their maintenance, after once constructed, is to be under the direction of the State Highway commission, and the different towns are to be assessed by the state $30 per mile annually for their maintenance. The balance, if any is necessary to keep them in perfect repair, is to be provided by the state.

"The Maine Automobile association and its officers and members are responsible for nearly all of the highway legislation enacted this winter, as well as for the improvement that has taken place during the past year."

HUGH PENDEXTER,
MAINE'S AUTHOR

A Pittsfield boy, Hugh Pendexter, who makes his home here—is rapidly forging to the front in the literary world, and, together with Holman Day, he is responsible for much of the advertising which Maine has received among readers of fiction during the past few years. Mr. Pendexter was a newspaper writer before he became an author and his first newspaper work was when, as a youngster, he carried Commercials from the railroad station upon their arrival in Pittsfield, to the various news dealers in that town.

Two years ago Hugh Pendexter threw down his pencil at the close of a celebrated murder trial in Rochester, N. Y., and decided there was no place like the Pine Tree state to live and work in. At that time he had completed a decade of newswriting and his seventh year as a short story writer. He forthwith threw up his job and returned to his native state, stopping off in Boston long enough to sign a five years' contract, by which he bound himself to turn out two 90,000 word boys' books a year in return for whole-some royalties. For good measure, he further bound himself to write two boys' serials a year.

"After having lived and worked in various parts of the country, I came to the conclusion that the state of Maine was the best place in the world to live and work in," said Mr. Pendexter. "I accordingly decided to locate the scene of my books here."

Mr. Pendexter had no sooner unpacked his typewriter upon arriving at Norway, than he commenced to work on a series of 6 volumes which deal interestingly with the romance of logging in the big north woods—from the time the location of the operations is first decided upon, until the drives reach a safe haven in the booms in July or August. And through each book runs a stirring story of adventure. The Moosehead lake and Rangeley regions have both been brought into the volumes which are full of woods lore and admirable character delineation.

But the lumber industry was not the only thing in Maine which appealed to Mr. Pendexter's literary sense and last autumn he published the first in a series which deals with the virile life lead by the fishermen along the Maine coast. The books have already been adopted in various Maine schools as supplementary readers. They have held the interest of grown ups, as well as that of the youngsters.

A Prolific Writer.

But as 300,000 or 400,000 words of juvenile fiction is hardly sufficient to keep Mr. Pendexter busy, he has maintained his reputation of being one of the biggest and most versatile short story writers in the country. Since his first story appeared in Red Book in 1910, he has sold many to Everybody's, Munsey's, Saturday Evening Post, Delineator, Ladies' World, Cosmopolitan, Harper's Weekly and other of the larger publications. His continued success results largely from his versatility; for he writes with equal readiness mystery, detective, legal, love, rural and Civil war stories.

His Tiberius Smith, the eccentric old showman, appeared in the best known magazines for some 40 odd stories till the name was a household word in America. In 1907 this character was preserved in book form and proved extremely popular. His Bureau of Abnormal Litigation stories, starting in the Saturday evening Post, have figured prominently in many magazines with a second series just finishing the April number of Adventure. These will appear in book form later.

Mr. Pendexter writes rapidly and usually completes a story the day he begins it, composing entirely on the typewriter. Mark Twain selected Billy Campbell's Jungle Story and The Town That Lost Itself, for reprinting in his Library of American Wit and Humor. Collier's selected a New England story—The Probationer and the Pennant and When Knighthood Wore Skates, for inclusion in its representative collection of the best short stories by American writers.

Taught in High Schools.

Before entering newspaper work Mr. Pendexter taught Latin and Greek in various Maine high schools. He was born in Pittsfield 38 years ago and was educated in the public schools at Lewiston. He left Bates college in his freshman year to teach Greek and Latin in the Norway High school, where he met and married his wife. He spends his winters in Norway and his summers at the Isle of Springs. His 13-years-old son, Hugh Faunce Pendexter, to whom the Camp and Trail series is dedicated, is an expert snowshoer and has accompanied his father on long trips over much of the country covered by the book heroes. His second series is dedicated to his wife, as it was Mrs. Pendexter's love for the Maine coast that was largely instrumental in deciding Mr. Pendexter to utilize the endless variety of perfections and beauties of Maine's waters as the background of stories.

A VERY PROMISING COLT

The most royally bred youngster of the horse family that ever first saw daylight in Franklin county, Maine, arrived at the stable of Warren T. Hinds and son, on Thursday evening, the 10th inst. He is a good sized, well shaped, active, upheaded, bay colt with black points, a small white spot in his forehead and measured at birth 39 3-8 inches in height. He was bred by Wm. Russell Allen, proprietor of Allen Farm, Pittsfield, Mass., and foaled the property of W. T. Hinds and son. His sire is Bingara 34707, that at 11 years of age was credited with Baden 2.05 1-4, Belvasja 2.06 1-4, Bergen 2.06 3-4, Binvollo 2.07 3-4, Bisa 2.10 1-4; records all made in races, also 38 others with records in standard time, all trotters.

The second dam of Advertiser 2.15 1-4 was the noted old-time trotter, Lula 2.15, one of the fastest trotters of her day, by Alexander's Norman 25, and Advertiser's 2.15 1-4 third dam was Kate Crockett, by the thoroughbred, imported Hooton.

The second dam of this grandly bred young trotter is Suffrage (dam of Suffrance 2.17 1-2, Arbitrage 2.25 1-4, etc.) by Electioneer 125; third dam the famous Miss Russell, (dam of the old time trotting champion, Maud S, 2.08 3-4; also of the world's champion trotting brood mare sire, Nutwood 2.18 3-4 and five other standard record performers) by Pilot Jr. 12, and third dam Sally Russell, a thoroughbred daughter of the renowned race horse Boston, the most successful long distance race-winner in America in his day. This youngster is as good every way as his breeding would indicate and his fortunate owners have reason to feel proud of him.

LUMBER
JACK LINGO

Or Peggy Perham's Rescue on the Two Sled Road--Second Winter in the Woods

My second winter in the woods was spent in the camps of Jim Horne, near Kennebago lake, ten miles from Rangeley village. The lake, while not exactly one of the Rangeley chain is connected by the Kennebago river, which is its outlet, flowing into Cupsupic lake at half a mile below Indian Rock camps (a set of sporting camps owned by a New York club.)

One Sunday we were sitting in the bar room telling stories, "swapping" adventures and incidents in our careers as "lumber jacks," when the door opened and three men entered, two of them were tall, well-built fellows, the third a man about five and one-half feet tall and having but one leg, the other being replaced by the accustomed peg that is so often seen on unfortunates in poor circumstances. But a jollier Irishman it would be hard to find. He stumped into thee barroom going to the deacon seat, sat down, unbuckled the straps that held the peg to the stub and tossing it into one of the upper bunks said, "Git up there and rest yer blame fool I knowed yer was tired."

"Hello by's. Anyone hear I knowed? Me name's Peggy Perham."

The voice of Larry Down, a big Canadian, was immediately heard from one of the upper bunks in the farther end o' the room, "Oh, yer Perham. I'd knowed thet horn er your'n in der dark. Come over 'er till I shake yer paw."

"You'se best shake yer eyes open, can't you'se see me leg's takin' a nap. Ef yer wanten shake wid me come where's I be, fer I'll not move fer the likes of yer nohow."

"All right, Peg, I'll be wid yer in a jiffy. Jest let me get some hin' on me feet, 'Cause dat lousy cookee aint swept de floor fer a week and yer can't walk widout pickin' up splinters 'nuff in yer toes ter kinde a fire wid--Well here I be at last. Peg now shake--and say, yer auld friend Ike Watson's here and so's that fellar thot was workin' on the two-sled road thot time yer lost yer lag. Yer mind him of course?"

"Yer mean Tommy Flynn?"

"Shure the same."

"Well Larry, why don't yer sit down here a side o' me. I aint seen yer sence der time yer shipped from Farmington half slewed, fer Jackson's on Spotted mountain, but say Larry, yer let thet conductor down sum thet day didn't yer whot?"

They both laughed and someone asked what it was. Peggy quickly replied, "Did yer never hear about it? Then I'll tell yer fer it's too good to kape."

"Well 'twas dis way, Larry and twelve or fourteen udders hired wid John Markey down der, a fellar wot runs de employment office ter work fer Jackson and or course thay war a kinder all "liquored up" and yer all knowed thet air railroad is one o' them toy, narrow gage things wid der little injun and keers. Well Larry he gits ter feelin' so good he can't keep still no longer; so up he gits an' starts a singin'. Putty soon along comes Mr. Conductor stridin' down the ile ez though he owned thet train, passengers en all en sez ter Larry, 'Ef yer don't kape still I'll put yer off.' Den Larry he pipe up at him wid, 'Ef yer don't go off and let me be I'll take dis yer car and run 'way wid et.' De passengers dey all laff an de conductor he goes off 'bout his biznes and Sam and der fellars gits Larry into der smok- er were he's 'lowed ter sing his piece widout any furdeer trouble."

At this point Tommy Flynn and a greeting similar to the former was exchanged, then Tommy asked Peg where he had been all winter. "Wildwood," says Peg, "an I've walked 21 miles today."

"Who's got de job dere dis winter?"

"Graham, same old brute's had it last winter."

"I hear dey cut a man down awful e' he don't stay through till spring." "Say yer talk 'bout cuttin' a man down. I'll tell yer whot I seen done down dere 'bout a month ago. There wuz ez smart a chap ez I ever seen put hands on a cantdog a worken' dere. But one day a stake bruk front a big yard he wuz workin' on an' it hauled on him an' kill- ed him. Dey, er course sent fer his folks who lives ter Rumford Falls ter cum an' take care of the body. So his fadder cums up an' er course while he's dere he goes to der office ter git what's cumin' tr de boy an' dey tried ter settle wid de old man fer twenty a munth and I knowned that he hired fer thirty-eight. The old man met me in the road an' I tells him I'm sorry fer him an he sez "wages is cheap up here aint dey," and I sez, 'nope, pritty good, why yer b'y gut thirty-eight a month, he telled me an' I heard him when he hired.' Well, back de old man goes an' dey tells him thet when a man quits work no matter fur what cause widout workin' a notice dey allus cuts him down. De old man sed he guessed he fin' out 'bout it when he gut hum, but I ain't heard whot wuz 'bout it sence."

"How did yer cum out wid yer own time Peggy?"

"Oh dey tried de same game wid me an' I left widout it. Yer see I went dar sometime in August so I gut in 'bout five months. I wuz doin' de feedin' gettin' fifty a month same's de two-sledders. I telled old man Graham I wuz goin' two week ago an' when I went ter git me time he tried ter let me down ter forty-two. But I writ a lawyer in Rumford an' he sez he can git de hull on it all right."

"Say, whot wuz yer fellars doin' when I cum in Larry?"

"Oh I wuz a tryin' ter git a little snooze but de rest ur dese yer jacks wuz er tellin' lies ser fast 'twas no use."

"Oh yer mean stories, hey? Well let's hear some I'm a right good hand ter boost thet kind er fun meself. Ef yer don't git ter talkin' too loud an' wake thet leg o' mine fer he's an awful bother when he gits ter movin' round. Sh Sh Sh, I hear a step outside dar's someone at der lach--Come in, yer out."

"Wall, wall hello Peg, makin' yer- self right ter hum I see."

"Yep, how be yer, Ike, how's der world a usin' yer?"

"Foine, how's yerself?"

"Great. Say by's dis is Ike Watson, der big Cannuck wid der He- brew handle. But sit down, Ike, we wuz a goin' ter tell stories when yer butted in. So ter pay yer fer der interrupt it's up ter yer ter set 'em agoin'."

"It's der same old Peg ha, ha, ha."

"Say, will yer stop dat laffin' an' give der rest uv us sumthin' ter laff at?"

"Say, Peg it's tu bad yer lag's gone so's yer can't take dere driv- ers eny more aint it?"

"Oh I may try it we'll see when spring comes. I'm gettin' so's I can handle meself pritty well on der stick an' if I had a good sharp brad in der end uv'er think I culd ride a log where it aint tu swift."

"Well say Peg, dat makes me tink. Yer know Danny O'Conner, de drivin' boss on Mooselookmegun- tic lake don't yer?"

"Don't I, well I've worked wid 'im all winter. He's landin' boss over ter Wildwood what about him?"

"Well, he went over ter Rumford one day last spring, comes back at noon de next, gets off at Bemis, hires a mo' cr and lands at Student's Island todder side of Bark- er's camps called the Birches an' waits dere fur us. Der company's steamer dat day wuz laid up for repairs an' as dere wuz a fair wind we wuz a takin' a boom o' logs ter Upper Dam wid "head works." De wind takes us ashore right near where he wuz a standin' but he wuz tu drunk ter give us a growl, so when we gets near enuff ter hear 'im he's leanin' up against a tree sayin' 'I'm hic king uv de forest.' Den Larry, he runs ter de end uv de capstan raft, dives, comin' up a little ways from Danny yellin', 'I'm d demon ob de lake.' "Den de rest uv us nigh falls into der lake wid laffin' at 'im."

"Well I've gutter go see Horne an' see if he can blow me up a job. Dem udder fellars dat hit er up wid me has been out dere long enuff ter hire out fer six winters."

With this he replaces his wooden peg and starts for the office. As soon as he was out of hearing I said to Larry Downs "Pretty smart fellow that. How did he lose his leg? I heard you refer to the Cup- suptic two-sled road so guessed it was done in the woods."

"What, ez long as you've been around de lakes hevyer never heard how Peg snatched de boss' kid outen under de horses den couldn't get outen de way hisself?"

"No, I never did Larry, let's hear it."

"Well, yer see Peggy wuz a cookee at No. 5, on der Cupsuptic, t'ree year ago and he wuz out in der yard sawin' wood wid anudder fellar one day when Mr. Cole, der boss, came in from a drive wid his two and a half year old baby. When he driv in he goes inter der office on buznis jist fer a minit, der boss he takes scart, turns right round and starts off toward der two-sled road. Sum un tries ter stop 'im but he gets by 'em an' goes up de road like de wind. Well Peggy see 'im an' starts down on a run dern near fast az der hoss fer a cross road dat runs inter der two-sled road thinkin' he can head her off. He makes a jump fer de bridle and missed it but ketches der back of der pung and swings hisself in an' grabs der reins. But jest den a load of logs comes swingin' round der turn an' Peggy he sees he can't jump wid de kid so he t'rows ber hard as he can todder side of de road into 'bout four feet of snow. Den der hoss he turns right side- ways an' makes 'cross fer a 'go back road,' but in doin' he up sots der pung right in front ov dem four hosses and Peggy, he goes under 'em He tries ter crawl out but der for- 'ard runner ketches him by der lag jest 'bove der ankle an' yer see der result. I wuz a workin' on der landin' at der time an' as it wuz cold standin' 'round wid nuttin' ter do waitin' fer der teams, I starts up der road ter meet dem and ob course jumps aboard de first one comes along."

"I guess I landed side o' Peg soon's der runner hit 'im an' grabs 'im by der shoulder an' pulls him out afore der hind runner ketches him, that's why Peg an' me 's such friend but his leg war an awful sight."

"Did he save der kid? 'Course he did. Do yer tink a fall inter four feet er snow would hurt it any? Scart it sum. But her old man cum out an' gut her an' cried an' prayed an' tanked Peggy fer 'bout 15 minutes. But when he sees how bad Peggy's hurt he jumps 'round sum an' makes der rest ur us tu. He sends sum men after der hoss an' dey gets 'im an' he ain't hurt a bit an' stakes him and goes to der odder camp 'bout t'ree miles after a sleigh. When I gets back he takes Peggy ter Rangeley ter a doc- tor whot has a private hospital an' every Sunday he went out ter see him."

"What's dat--did he have money enuff? Well, we all hand wanted ter pay a week a piece but de boss ne wouldn't let us. He says, 'He's done tu much fer me ter let any- one pay a cent but myself."

"Yer'd tink he'd work fer Cole? Why yer can't ge' him near thet valley 'tall. Says he can't hear de word Kupsuptic but sum 'un gut a start a praisin' of him. He's dat modest he'd take his wooden leg off an' t'row it ter anyone who sed a word 'bout it an' yer ask him how he lost his leg an' he'll tell yer he stuck it under a load o' logs ter keep it from goin' down hill too fast. But shet up, here he comes."

"Did youse hire, Peg?"

"Shure did, Ike. I'm goin' feed- in' in der mornin'."

USEFUL

All Actual Participants Eligible to Go to Gettysburg at State
Expense

The work of listing the veterans, who wish to attend the 50th anni- versary of the battle of Gettysburg, next July, at Gettysburg, is nearing completion in the office of the adju- tant general. Through regimental as- sociations and circulars sent to G. A. R. posts and through press re- ports it is believed that the names of nearly all actual participants in the battle of Gettysburg have been secured.

Under a legislative resolve all ac- tual participants in the battle, resi- dents of Maine, are eligible to go at the state's expense and all hon- orably discharged veterans of the Civil war are eligible to receive the entertainment at Gettysburg, but must pay their own transportation.

It is necessary, however, that vet- erans, who were not in the battle, notify the adjutant general at once if they are going to attend the an- niversary exercises. If this noti- fication is not given, quarters can- not be reserved for them by the state commissioner.

The assignment in the camp at Gettysburg will be made to the state as a whole and in order that all Maine veterans may be accommodat- ed it is essential that the list be made as complete as possible at the present time.

A recent circular issued by the Pennsylvania Gettysburg Commission contains the following interesting in- formation regarding the camp ac- commodations, assignment to camps, etc.:

The camp, comprising some 280 continuous acres, starting about 200 yards from High Water Mark Monu- ment on the battlefield and lying to the southwest of the town and partly upon the scene of the first day's fight, consists of 5000, regular- ly holding 12 men each but now to hold 12 men each. Each veteran will be furnished with complete kit. Mail matter, to aid in prompt deliv- ery, must be plainly addressed to the individual veteran and contain the name of the delegation to which the veteran belongs.

The importance of notifying the State Adjutant, if one intends to go, next July, is set forth in the follow- ing, relative to camp conditions and assignments: Immediately upon a state, through its representative to our commission, advising us definite- ly how many veterans will be pres- ent from that state as our guests, the Pennsylvania Commission will assign to that state a section of the camp with sufficient tents, all sub- divisions of these tents in such section to be made only by that state's representative to our com- mission, Pennsylvania making no as- signments save to an entire state."

The camp will be opened and in readiness to receive veterans, on Sunday, June 29, and under no cir- cumstances whatsoever, will anyone be allowed in these camps before this date. Under the acts of the Assembly of Pennsylvania, and the laws of the United States, only vet- erans of the Civil war may be provid- ed with food and shelter.

It is positively necessary, says the circular, that veterans should have the proper credentials in order that he may receive admission into the camp.

The free transportation arrange- ments have led many to believe that if they pay their own transportation it will not be necessary for them to notify the adjutant general. It is this point, that the office wishes to impress particularly upon the minds of those who will pay their own fare, and not accept the free trans- portation provided by the law, or cannot, owing to not being veterans of the memorable battle. It is nec- essary too for these veterans to notify the adju'ant general that ar- rangements may be made for them, otherwise they may find themselves out in the cold.

FIVE WILD GEESSE CAPTURED.

Jay Wallace, of Bass Harbor, cap- tured five wild geese alive last week. Mr. Wallace had been up the bay in his powerboat, and when near Dix's point, saw a small flock of wild geese alight on the water. He sailed close to them from the windward side; caught two in the shallow water and three more on the shore, where they had taken refuge among bushes. It is an un- usual thing for one wild goose to be taken alive, and five is certainly a record for this section. Mr. Wal- lace still has the geese at his home.

FEW BROWN-TAIL
MOTHS FOUND

The selectmen with the assistance of some local fruit growers, have carefully examined the trees for brown-tail moths and report that very few were found. In accordance with instructions the selectmen tried to hatch out cocoons and were unable to do so. Selectman A. W. Davenport thinks that these would have been perfectly harmless if left alone. His opinion seems to be that they were killed by the severe cold. This sounds encouraging and we hope this section will not be troubled with the pest this year.

SPANISH MOSS.

By Edna Worthley Underwood.
Upon a night of May once long ago
The Brocken witcher met in discontent;
"A-weary are we of this barren home,
And of these ghostly uplands where we dwell;
Our ears are weary of the northern wind,
That sobs and sobs across the black pine lands.
Our hearts are weary of the northern seas,
Those sullen wastes of water pale and lone.
Tonight we'll go elsewhere. There lies a land
Within a country new, far, far to south
Where Louis Le Grand was king—and king likewise
Is folly and there fond frivolity."

Here came they on a midnight mild of May.
When thick the earth was flower-starred as the sky,
And rich with honey-suckle, rose, jasmine;
A purple velvet night bent overhead.
The wind was like a kiss one might not catch,
And only love was here—delight and love.

But they who knew but sorrow, sighs and tears
Were terror-stricken. They fled fast in fear.
(No place was this for them where joy is king.)
In fear they fled nor paused to look behind.
They fled and left their garments gray of grief,
Habiliments of woe and faded wigs,

HIGH PRESSURE DAYS.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand, to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the praiseworthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

Adv.

For Cleansing the Blood

I have never found anything equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In our home it is regarded our general family medicine. We use it whenever we are bilious or run down, or have impure blood or that tired feeling. I regard it only simple justice to speak well of this medicine, that has proved its worth so many times. Certainly we would not know what to do were we deprived of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. L. H. Nusbaum, Goshen, Indiana.

It is because it combines the great curative virtues of more than 20 valuable ingredients—just those prescribed by the best physicians—that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Possesses such remarkable curative power. It is the Spring Medicine for the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver. Get a bottle today.

The flouted feathers of their wickedness,
And still they hang upon the southern trees.

Wind-swept and tattered, veils of gray-grief—

The relics of a witchless revelry—
Sad Spanish moss that hides the gracious leaves.

The distinctive teachings of the Free Baptists of early days were Freedom of the Will, and the Unlimited Atonement. Today most other denominations believe this.

MORE SCARE
THAN FIRE

A little excitement was caused last Friday night about 6 o'clock by the toot of the fire whistle at the International Mfg. Co.'s mill. It was occasioned by fire catching around the blower in the spool department. The damage amounted to very little, as it was soon extinguished. Mr. Weston is watchman at the mill and he immediately gave the alarm, but there was a little mix up in the number of whistles and it was not quickly ascertained where the fire was.

Mothers Only Knew!

By Dr. True

Nineteen-twentieths of the sickness of children have two causes: constipation and worms!

The danger of constipation is understood, but there are 50 different kinds of worms that may exist in the stomach and bowels, and children are especially apt to have them. Usually stomach and pin worms.

Signs of worms are: Indigestion, with a variable appetite; abnormal craving for sweets; nausea and vomiting; swollen upper lip; sour tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; face at one time flushed, then pale and in a few cases the face takes on a dull leaden hue; eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids; itching of the nose; itching of the rectum; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; little red points sticking out on tongue; starting during sleep; slow fever; pulse quickened and irregular; body may be hot; and often, in children, convulsions.

Rid the child of worms and you will have a healthy, happy child.

NOTE—Dr. True's own prescription, sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir, is the best remedy in the world for worms. It destroys all worm life, expels worms from the body and makes the child healthy again. All dealers, 35c, 50c and $1.00.

Druggists Claim Hamilton's Old English Black Oil is the Best.

The above is a strong statement, but experience right here in Phillips proves it to be really true. The evidence is positive, there is no guess work about it. R. H. HOLD ALL DAYS
GRANGE MEETINGNorth Franklin Grange Making
Rapid Strides In Membership

North Franklin Grange had another busy day Saturday, April 19.

The meeting was called to order at 10.30 with a large attendance. Brother J. A. Norton and wife and Brothers Sweet and Cook were present from Aurora Grange. The first and second degrees were worked on a large class.

Saturday, May 3, there will be an all day's meeting as it is impossible to do the work and have the entertainment in an afternoon.

There is talk of having the degree team of Farmington Grange work the third and fourth degrees later.

After a bountiful dinner the literary program was given by Sister Shirley Holt's side. Following is the program:

Instrumental music

A farce by Sisters Berta Holt, Bertha Boston and Ada Staples was much enjoyed, as all the parts were finely taken. Sister Boston impersonating a gentleman's part was all right and brought down the house.

Reading, Grace Whorff
Reading, H. W. Worthley
Reading, Calista Shepard
Monologue, Louise Berry
Reading, Lucinda Butterfield
Reading, Sarah Graffam

Dialogue, Bro. C. E. Berry and wife

Brother James A. Norton made very good remarks as usual. He says that State Master Stetson is hoping to get a large class to take the sixth degree. He thinks the degree in this part of the county should be worked in Phillips as we are near the center and have the largest hall. The object of this is on account of the National Grange which meets in New Hampshire the latter part of the year. There is only one thing lacking at our meetings, and that is we would like to see more of the brothers present.

One sister remarked that she thought the patrons wanted to go somewhere to be out in such going. She knew she did, as she had driven nearly five miles. If some of the brothers had pluck equal to the sisters the hall would be full. Let everyone remember that there will be an all day's meeting Saturday, May 3. Work in the forenoon, program in the afternoon.
