

SOUTH PARIS.

Mrs. Wm. P. Morton was in Boston several days last week.

Mrs. C. P. Dennison of West Bethel has been a guest at H. W. Dennison's for a few days.

Dec. 1st was the first day of skating on the cove, which is considerably later than the average.

Mrs. A. W. Bryant of Mechanic Falls has been spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Murphy.

A number of guests were present at the meeting of the Seneca Club with Mrs. Alton C. Wheeler last Monday evening. The literary programme was carried out as prepared, and refreshments were served.

Hamlin Lodge, K. of P., will work the second rank Friday evening of this week, and after the work there will be a rehearsal for the third rank. A full attendance is desired. Members of the rank teams are especially requested to be present.

D. E. Dresser is still deer hunting at Pond, though J. A. Crook, who was with him, came out empty-handed several days ago. There is plenty of snow there, but it has been so crusted that, though deer seem to be taken, they are unable to get near them.

Mrs. Carl Mason was taken suddenly ill about ten days since, and last Thursday was taken to the Lanes hospital at Augusta.

It was necessary to strap her into the cot on which she was taken to Augusta. It is a very serious case, and Mrs. Mason and others of her family have universal sympathy.

The lecture by Rev. A. T. McWhorter, "From the Pine Tree State to the Land of the Shamrock," which was to have been repeated a week or two since but postponed because Mr. McWhorter was called away, will be given next Thursday evening. It is at the Congregational church, 5 o'clock, and the admission is 15 cents.

Knowing that Thanksgiving was the appropriate day to show up poultry, a pullet belonging to Ernest P. Crockett, which had stolen a nest in the bushes, brought forth three chicks that day.

For the season were a little too much for two of them, and they succumbed, but the third one is as lively as the proverbial chick.

Rebecca H. Powell, after being apparently on the road to recovery, was again attacked by illness, and Monday morning went to the Central Maine general hospital at Lewiston, where it is hoped that a week or two of care will restore her to health.

Her pulpit at the Universalist church, supported by Miss B. M. Phillips of Oxford, Sunday by Miss B. M. Phillips of Oxford.

The harvest supper at the Methodist vestry Tuesday evening and the entertainment following were both largely attended. An excellent supper was served.

For the entertainment Mrs. Marble of Gorham, N. H., was the reader. Mrs. Marble has read here a number of times, and was well received at this time as at her previous appearances.

Her selections gave much pleasure. For the rest of the programme vocal selections were given by the Schubert Quartette, Mr. Sessions, Miss Leach, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Smiley.

Mrs. Isa Gertrude Whitman and daughter, Miss Gertrude Whitman, who have been in the West for the past two years, returned to this place last week. Miss Whitman took a course in photography at the Illinois College of Photography at Elmhurst, Ill., and after a year and a half at Carroll, Iowa, for about a year. Although they like the country in general, there is so much malaria there that they cannot expect to return to Maine. Miss Whitman expects to open a studio somewhere in Maine, probably in Portland.

The premium list for the first show of the Western Maine Poultry Association, which will be held at New Han, Jan. 4th and 5th, is just out. The officers of the association are going to make this first show a good success if work can do it.

Besides the regular cash premiums given by the association, a large number of special prizes in cash and merchandise will be offered to the exhibitors.

By the way, the secretary of the association is going to be a copy of the premium list may obtain it by applying to the secretary, E. P. Crockett, South Paris.

Paris Grange at its annual meeting Saturday elected the following officers, most of them being re-elections. They will be installed at the first meeting in January.

Mrs. J. S. Brown, President.
E. P. Crockett, Vice-President.
J. S. Brown, Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Treasurer.
J. S. Brown, Corresponding Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Reading Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Entertainment Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Social Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Publicity Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Finance Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Membership Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Education Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Literature Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Music Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Sports Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Games Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Amusement Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Refreshment Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Transportation Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Reception Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Discharge Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Adjutant Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Chaplain Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Organ Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Bell Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Gongs Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Whistles Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Bells Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Horns Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Trumpets Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Drums Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Cannons Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Mortars Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Bombs Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Rockets Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Fireworks Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Pyrotechnics Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Illuminations Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Displays Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Exhibitions Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Performances Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Lectures Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Conferences Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Assemblies Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Meetings Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Gatherings Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Assemblies Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Meetings Secretary.
J. S. Brown, Gatherings Secretary.

The only accident of any consequence that has occurred in connection with the new water system happened last Tuesday morning. The crew were in the trench at the lower end of Park Street this side of the bridge, when one of the men, who was working on the Italians who had been on the work but a short time, Francisco Pacioni by name, he was buried to the neck.

He was buried to the neck, and the only injury was to his leg, one of the bones of which was cracked between the knee and ankle. He was taken to the hospital, where he was examined by physicians, was taken to the train to the Central Maine general hospital at Lewiston, C. W. Bowker and one of his Italian going with him. He will probably have a pretty long recovery, as he will have to stay some weeks, and he can speak no language but Italian.

Mrs. William C. Greene died at her home in Sag Harbor, N. Y., Tuesday night, from cancer of the stomach, from which she had suffered for months. Mrs. Greene was Sarah Eliza, daughter of the late Cyrus Greene, and she was born in Paris and her early years were spent in this town. For a number of years she was a very successful and popular teacher in the Paris school. Her sister, Mrs. Montgomery of St. Paul, was with her during most of her illness. The remains were brought here, arriving Sunday morning, and were interred in the Ripley lot at Norway Pine Grove cemetery, with prayer service by Rev. T. F. Johnson.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. S. Montgomery of St. Paul, and Mrs. A. W. Hammond of Portland, and by two of his brothers, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond of Berlin were also here for the service.

The Enterprise Club holds its December meeting with Mrs. W. P. Morton this Monday afternoon. The subject for study is English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh and a programme has been prepared which will cover the subject, some of the music being obtained at considerable expense. The programme is as follows:

Roll call—current musical events.
English.
Vocal solo—
"The Lass with the Delicate Air," Dr. Arne.
"O Swallow, Swallow," Mrs. Barnes.
Piano solo—March of the Templars, Sullivan.

Mrs. Morton.
Vocal solo—
"My Sweetheart," Mrs. Frank Lynes.
"O Swallow, Swallow," Mrs. Frank Lynes.

Mrs. Sullivan.
Piano quartet—The Bluebirds of Scotland, Mrs. Sullivan.
Piano quartet—The Bluebirds of Scotland, Mrs. Sullivan.

Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Wheeler, Miss Toombs, Mrs. Briggs.
Piano solo—Irish folk song, Mrs. Briggs.
Piano solo—Irish folk song, Mrs. Briggs.

Mrs. Norton.
Vocal quartet—All Through the Night, Welsh air, Mrs. A. H. E.
Schubert Quartet, Mrs. A. H. E.
Piano duet—March of the Men of Harlech, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Sullivan.

Mrs. Alice P. Thayer is visiting in Portland for a few days.

Graydon Martin has gone to Cotoick, Que., on a farm with his uncle.

J. Arthur Colley of Hotel Andrews was in Portland over Sunday.

Miss Sarah Morse of Buckfield is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. R. Bennett.

Tracy Pierce left Thursday morning for Carleton, where he has employment.

The Married Ladies' Whist Club will meet with Mrs. H. G. Fletcher Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. E. N. Anderson went last week to spend a few weeks with the family of her son, H. C. Anderson, in Providence, R. I.

Services were conducted at the last Sunday afternoon by Rev. B. C. Wentworth of the Norway Methodist church, and the choir of the church sang.

There will be a meeting of the Western Maine Poultry Association Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Oxford County Creamery. All members are requested to be present.

Past Division Commander, Arthur S. L. Portland, will inspect Joshua L. Chamberlain Camp, Sons of Veterans No. 60, at Grand Army Hall, Dec. 11. Refreshments will be served.

On account of the dedication of the Norway Grange Hall coming on Thursday of this week, the fair of Paris Grange, which was to have come on that day, is postponed until Saturday, Dec. 11.

The Seneca Club have put the Red Cross stamps on sale at the store of Grace Thayer. The proceeds will be used for charity so be very lavish with the number you use on your Christmas bundles.

The Riverside Cemetery Association at its annual meeting Sunday re-elected at its board of officers—Wilbur L. Farrar, N. Dayton Bolster and James S. Wright secretary and treasurer.

C. W. Clarke has opened his harness store in the basement of Odd Fellows' Block, and seems to be doing a good business. Besides harness he keeps saddles, blankets, rubbers and furnishings of all kinds, and does repairing.

Advertised letters in South Paris post office Dec. 6:

Mrs. Esther Orlan.
Miss Lillian Harmon.
Isaac Fox.

Mrs. A. L. Holmes returned Friday night from New Britain, Ct., where she has been with the family of her son, K. Holmes, for the past three months. She reports Mrs. W. K. Holmes and the newly arrived daughter as now doing well.

The prisoners sentenced from this county to the Androscoggin County jail at Auburn have been removed to the Kennebec County jail at Augusta, by order of the court.

The members of the Athletic Association of Paris High School wish to extend a vote of thanks to all the signers of the note for the land recently purchased, and especially to Mr. Bolster, Mr. and Mr. Wheeler for their kind efforts in the movement.

Rev. Isabella S. Macdowell of West Paris will supply for Miss Powell at the Universalist church at Lewiston, Dec. 7. Services will be at 2:30 p. m. as Miss Macdowell has a morning service at West Paris. The Sunday school will be held at 10 a. m.

The members of the Athletic Association of Paris High School wish to extend a vote of thanks to all the signers of the note for the land recently purchased, and especially to Mr. Bolster, Mr. and Mr. Wheeler for their kind efforts in the movement.

The December supper and entertainment of the Universalist Good Church Society will be held at Good Church Hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. Supper at 6:30 to be followed by a short farce and musical selections, the whole to be followed by a social hour, when music will be provided. Prices as usual, supper 15 cents, entertainment 10. A good time is assured.

Albert D. Park was at Lewiston Friday to see William Cushman, who is at the Central Maine General Hospital, and found him fairly comfortable. Mr. Cushman, who was 70 years old on Saturday, was formerly of Hartford, and is well known to many of the residents of this town through his occasional contributions to its columns. He has a trouble with his foot which made it necessary for him to go to the hospital for treatment.

E. F. Bassett and Frank E. Kimball returned Thursday from a week spent deer hunting near West Bethel, and brought in the best lot of game that has been secured in the area for some time. In the course of four days. In the same territory in some previous years they have spent considerable time and some money without game, but this time they took a new tack, and locating the night feeding grounds of the deer, shot them by moonlight.

"The Lord is certainly with us," says Contractor L. E. Scraton, who is putting in the water supply system for the town, and the aid of the very exceptional weather for the season, the advance guard of the diggers are now within about twenty feet of the place in Market Square where connection will be made with the pipes of the Norway system. The connection at the east bank of the river was a tough job, as it was impossible to keep the water out, and it was finally necessary to draw down the pond a few inches. By Tuesday the last of the ditch was without game, but the work of the pressure reservoir is now closed up, and the work of putting on the skin coat of cement began Monday morning.

George H. Stearns, who died at his home in Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 28th, was a son of the late Thomas Stearns, and that city, and a cousin of S. P. Stearns and Mrs. Lydia S. Hammond of South Paris, besides having numerous other relatives in this vicinity. He was 77 years of age. He was one of the "Forty-niners" who went to California in the gold excitement, although he was only 17 years of age. After a few years in California he returned, and was afterward in the West a few years, but spent most of his life in Cambridge. He was the oldest director of the Charles River National Bank, a director of the Reliance Co-operative Bank, and a member of the corporation of the Cambridge Savings Bank. He was also extensively interested in real estate, both in Cambridge and in the West. A widow, three sons and a daughter survive him. The Cambridge Tribune says of him: "He came of good New England stock and maintained in his life the fine old New England ideals and characteristics, of which there are none so many exponees nowadays. For young and old he was a good man to know, and his personality was such as not soon to be forgotten. His fine disposition, his kindness, his high sense of honor and his strong character in all that he did, and who came in contact with him."

There seems to be more or less mystery about two recent deaths in this town. On Nov. 15 Fremont Newton, who had been suffering with consumption and heart trouble, died suddenly and was buried in the cemetery. He had been under treatment by a neighbor, Dr. Fred James, for a number of weeks. A few days later the child of Dr. James, six days old, died, and a coroner's jury returned a verdict that death was due to "corrosive poison feloniously administered," but did not place blame on any one. At there are suspicions of poisoning in the Newton case, the body of Mr. Newton had been examined and the stomach and brain have been sent to Professor Robinson at Bowdoin College for analysis.

A poor farmer in Androscoggin Co. Turner, Nov. 20, 1900.

Notice.
I shall be compelled to enforce collection of all taxes which remain unpaid by the town of Paris on the 15th of December, 1900, by such legal measures as the statutes provide for the collection of overdue taxes.

ALFRED H. JACKSON, Collector.

Sheep For Sale.
I offer for sale sixty large, young sheep including one thoroughbred buck. As good a flock as you very often see.

48f H. L. SCRIBNER, Paris, Me.

Horses For Sale.
Two 1200 pound horses, one two-year old.

R. F. DeCOSTER, 479 F. D. No. 1, South Paris.

Wanted.
Barred Plymouth Rock Pullets.

Will pay top market prices. 47f R. O. PORTER, Norway.

The Congregational Fair.

"About this time," as the almanac says, look out for church fairs, grange fairs, and other fairs. In Norway village there are six on the air, within a short time. In this village the number in sight is something less, still the supply is good here. Notwithstanding the multiplicity of the Congregational ladies, at their annual fair held last week, enjoyed a good patronage, as they always do, and the event was a successful one from all points of view.

There were no general decorations in the vestry where the sale was held, and in the charge of the several departments, the ladies were assisted by an attractive display of their wares, without elaborate arrangement or adornment of booths. The several tables and departments, and the chairman in charge of each were:

Miscellaneous, Mrs. Angie W. Bolster; Fancy, Mrs. Walter L. Gray; East cases, Mrs. W. K. Clifford; Food, Mrs. O. E. Barrows; Plant table, Mrs. Rounds; Aprons, Mrs. Dora B. Greene; Candy table, Miss Eva L. Walker; Remembrance table, Mrs. E. N. Hamlin; Grandmother's Garden (which was really the time-honored "grab"), Mrs. Eva Clifford; Mrs. C. M. Howard was chairman of the supper committee, and Mrs. A. C. Wheeler of the committee on the entertainment for Thursday evening.

There was a good sale Wednesday afternoon from all the well-stocked tables, and with their burden reduced to small proportions they were cleared away last Thursday afternoon, in preparation for the supper of that evening. This was served at 6:45, and the tables were well supplied with a variety of food.

Thursday evening's entertainment was given in New Hall, by the Vesper male quartette of Lewiston, James Dunn first tenor, Alfred T. H. second tenor, Horace E. Wade baritone, August Diehl basso, and Harrie L. Webber, reader. The programme was as follows:

1. "Owari," Quartette. Gettel.
2. Reading—Selected. May.
3. Solo—Selected. Dunn.
4. "Daunting Glee," Quartette. Gettel.
5. "Do Not," Quartette. Gettel.
6. Reading—Selected. May.
7. "My Home," Quartette. Bartlett.
8. "The Tar's Farewell," Quartette. Adams.
9. Reading—Selected. May.
10. "Persian Serenade," Quartette. Sherwin.
11. Duet—"Flow Gently, Dears," Quartette. May.
12. Reading—Selected. May.
13. "Good Night," Quartette. Bartlett.

Mr. Dunn, the first tenor of the quartette, is well known to the people of these towns, as he was for a number of years at Norway, and assisted in about all the principal musical events in both villages, and his many friends were glad to hear his voice once more. It is a well balanced quartette in which he sings, and the voices were very pleasing. Mr. Webber gave a variety of readings, including some from Mark Twain and some from Holmes Day, and all were well received. The evening was particularly good in the humorous ones. Both singers and reader were generous with encores, and some of the most delightful things were given on the recall. There was a good audience.

Birthday Party.
Tuesday evening, Nov. 30, twenty-seven of the neighbors and friends of Richard H. Gates assembled at his home on State Street to help him celebrate his birthday. It was a surprise party, and true to its name was a complete surprise to both Mr. and Mrs. Gates. Mrs. G. was busily engaged in knitting, while Mr. G. was industriously repairing his suspenders, when hearing what he supposed to be his nearest neighbor, Frank Dudley, drive into the yard on his way home, he went to the door, and to his surprise found eight teams awaiting his appearance.

Notwithstanding their astonishment, both Mr. and Mrs. Gates quickly entered into the spirit of the affair, and a delightful evening was enjoyed by all. The men brought cake, while the ladies brought doughnuts and cake, which with delicious coffee provided by Mrs. Gates, furnished excellent refreshments. Whist, Fitch and music on the piano by Miss Mary Stearns, together with the singing of familiar songs by the company with Mrs. Gates at the head of the list, were enjoyed during the evening. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the singing of songs by the company with Mrs. Gates at the head of the list, which was a very pleasant surprise to all.

This is a party, so they played, and the very best of our kind. And if your best, please don't mind it. The party broke up at a late hour after wishing Mr. Gates many happy returns of the day. Those present at the party were:

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stearns, Miss Mary W. C. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Emery, Master Keith and Mrs. and Mrs. E. F. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Boutelle, Master Guy Bou. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Riverson.

Does Farming Pay—Or What?
Editor Democrat:

I have just excused me for asking space in your paper, but my attention was called to a letter of one Chas. L. Case in your paper of Nov. 10, 1900.

And while no answer is required or expected, I can not let this opportunity pass without expressing my feelings as to the value of farming.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method as I have outlined above, and spends it in the country raising 345 bushels of potatoes per acre. A farmer is a man who gets his money by the sweat of his brow in the country, and spends it in the city.

Now Mr. Editor, an agriculturist is a man who gets his money in the city by some such method

