CORPORATION MEETING.

VOTERS OUT IN FORCE TO TALK OVER WATER QUESTION.

Held Friday Evening In Lambert Hall. Was Voted Not to Purchase Waterworks, as Per Article 10. Officers Elected For Ensuing Year and Other Business Transacted.

The annual meeting of the Phillips Village corporation was held in Lambert hall, Friday evening, March 23. It was a largely attended meeting, many more of the voters in the corporation being present than usually attend these meetings. It was known that the much talked of subject of the purchase of the waterworks would come up at this meeting and this, doubtless, accounted for the large attendance.

The following officers were elected: Moderator, H. B. Austin; clerk, J. M. Wheeler; assessors, Geo. B. Sedgely, H. H. Harnden and J. B. Morrison; treasurer, D. F. Hoyt; collector, to be appointed by the assessors; three engineers: The clerk was instructed to cast at once made a motion to ascertain the price, as per the article.

Judge James Morrison was on his feet in a moment, saying that he wished for more definite information in regard to how the corporation would proceed as set forth in the contract. He asked for a report from the committee appointed at a previous meeting in regard to the matter.

The chairman asked for a report and W. A. D. Cragin, one of the members of this committee, said Mr. Haley, another member, had been sent to Boston to confer with Messrs. Moore and Gowing. As soon as Moore and Gowing found that the committee had no power to purchase they refused to put a price on the plant. The committee, therefore, had made no progress in the matter to report. However, Messrs. Moore and Gowing were present and might state price.

On motion of D. F. Field, seconded by F. N. Beal, the report of the committee was accepted.

Mr. Morrison understood that Moore and Gowing did not make price as Mr. Haley gave them no chance to do so. Said Mr. Haley called one Saturday and that Messrs. Moore and Gowing could would bring about an enormous law suit, with expensive lawyers and experts on both sides. This would be very costly.

At this point in his remarks the speaker compared the costs of different water plant's, mentioning Rangeley and Farmington and giving figures on the same. Said the entire cost of the Rangeley plant will be about $60,000 when completed and that the Farmington plant will cost with Varnum pond addition, $92,000. The total cost of the Phillips plant in detail was $62,000. The idea that he had heard advanced of buying the plant for $35,000 was preposterous. Mr. Morrison went further and said that the plan of mortgaging the plant and issuing bonds, meant a mortgage on our own property. He then read extracts from the laws covering these matters.

Mr. D. F. Field was the next speaker. He stated that our contract was the same in substance as that of the Farmington Water company's and that this contract had been submitted to Harvey D. Eaton, Esq. of Waterville a recognized expert on these matters, who stated that the corporation had the right to have an apprizement and ing the state of their respective engines and seeing that the same are in good order and fit for service."

Article 14, in regard to having the rules of the fire company printed, was declared a vote.

Article 15, for six helmets and rubber coats for the fire department $25 were raised.

Article 16, relating to the purchase of a fire alarm bell was passed over.

Acting on Article 17, $25 were raised for repairs on the fire department ladder truck.

Article 18 caused some little discussion. It was in regard to extending the water main to the residence of W. S. Skofield, so as to have a hydrant near the junction of the two roads. This seemed to be a hard question for the corporation to decide; however, it was finally so voted.

Under article 19, the last on the warrant, it was voted to instruct the assessors to take means to collect the tax deeds.

The meeting then adjourned.

Following is a summary of some of the corporation finances, etc., as reported at this meeting:

ATKINS VS. SLICK.

INTERESTING MOCK TRIAL GIVEN BY GRANGERS, SATURDAY.

Jury Report Verdict of One Cent for Plaintiff. Two Well Known Lawyers Appear For Parties Interested.

A mock trial with all the "fixins'" was given by the members of North Franklin grange in their hall Saturday afternoon. The court was a complete organization from judge to jury, and to say that the court room was thronged would be putting it mildly. As a matter of fact standing room was at a premium.

The case was that of Maria N. Atkins vs. Samuel Sampson Slick. The plaintiff sued the defendant for the sum of $10,000, plus the sum of $174.64, which she claimed was due her for actual wood, kerosene oil and victuals consumed by the defendant while paying her court. The plaintiff told a pathetic story of blasted love, when put on the stand, but the defendant claimed and supported his assertions by several witnesses, that he had not had a fair deal and was therefore justified in doing as he did.

The plaintiff was represented by Judge James Morrison, the defendant by De Berna Ross, esq., and Judge G. L. Lakin presided on the bench. Harry E. Bell acted as crier, Arthur S. Beedy was sheriff and Clara French performed the duties of clerk of courts and stenographer. The jury was composed of five men and seven women, all drawn after many quibbles between the attorneys.

The case occupied the entire afternoon, and when, after able and also laughable pleas by the attorneys and a charge by the judge the jury brought in a verdict of one cent for the plaintiff the applause was almost deafening. All the parts were well taken and a very pleasant afternoon was the result.

Mr. Soule Favors Municipal Ownership.

Mr. W. A. D. Cragin, who is very much in earnest in his belief that the Phillips Village corporation should buy the Phillips waterworks recently wrote a letter to Ruel W. Soule of Augusta a former resident of Phillips and asked his opinion in regard to the matter. Mr. Soule's reply follows:

AUGUSTA, March 22, 1906.

Mr. W. A. D. Cragin,
Phillips, Maine.
Dear Sir—Replying to your letter of March 21, in which you ask me to express my opinion in regard to the purchase of your water plant, by the Phillips Village corporation, will say I am a firm believer in municipal ownership. Your corporation can issue and sell bonds at as low a rate of interest as any company of men who put in water or electric plants. As a rule, owners of these plants do not care to sell, which certainly is an indication that they are good paying property. If the plant in question is a good paying one then why not let your corporation own it and derive the benefit of good dividends coming therefrom. Briefly these are my sentiments.

Yours truly,
R. W. SOULE.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MEET

Elect Officers, Take In New Members and Transact Other Business.

The Phillips Fire department held their annual meeting Saturday night, when the following officers were elected: Foreman, N. H. Harnden; first assistant, H. E. Harnden; second assistant, W. B. Hoyt; clerk and treasurer, C. E. Parker.

The following men were taken into membership: W. R. Leavitt, Frank Wilbur, Dr. L. J. Holt, Chas. Sweetser, Jos. Sweetser, Chas. Gould, Eugene Grover, Howard Sanborn, Frank Rollins, Bert Pratt, De Berna Ross, Norman Butler.

Next week the WOODSMAN will be able to give further particulars concerning matters of interest to the department.

a ballot for last year's board of engineers, which he did, therefore Messrs. N. P. Noble, H. B. Austin and W. B. Hoyt were reelected. Acting under the same instructions the clerk cast a ballot for the same gentlemen to serve as fire wardens and they were reelected.

The different reports of the corporation officers serving last year were read and accepted.

The following sums were raised to defray corporation expenses: For hydrant rental, $800; for electric light service, $420; for current expenses and any other expenses, $250.

Article 8, to see if the corporation would vote to purchase the plant and franchise of the Phillips Water company, etc., was passed over without opposition.

Article 9, which had a direct bearing on the previous article, was also passed.

Article 10 was then read and a hornets' nest was immediately stirred up. The article in substance was to see if the corporation would vote to ascertain the price at which the water plant could be purchased according to the terms of the contract between the Water company and the corporation. S. G. Haley not make price on the spur of the moment but that an appointment was made for the next day. Mr. Haley did not show up so no price was given.

Mr. Haley replied that Mr. Morrison was way off as far as the appointment with Moore and Gowing went. He made no such appointment.

Mr. Morrison said he had looked at the contract for the first time today and was not aware that it read as it did. Thought the corporation might regret their action if they did anything with this article. According to this article appraisers would have to be appointed and we should be bound by the action of these men. When we enter this reference we are bound by the action of the appraisers. We can't back out. We are bound to take the plant at the price they name.

Mr. Morrison said he knew the price the Water company had on its property and emphatically denied being the attorney for the Water company. He said, as a matter of fact, that his talk was as free as the water that welled up from Mt. Blue. (Laughter.)

"The price of the Water company for their plant and franchise," said Mr. Morrison, "is $75,000." He thought that appointing a reference commission exercise the option of buying or not buying afterwards. Besides Mr. Eaton, E. E. Richards, Esq., of Farmington was quoted as having expressed this opinion. He agreed with Mr. Eaton in regard to the matter of the option. "A case identical to this has been tried in Farmington," said Mr. Field.

Mr. Field was in favor of having the apprizement made.

After more discussion along these lines by Messrs. Morrison, Field and Cragin it was voted that all in favor of passing the motion before the house should take the east side and those opposed the west side. The resulting count showed 51 against the idea and 41 for, therefore the motion did not prevail.

Article 11, in regard to installing an electric light between the residence of Mrs. F. H. Toothaker and W. S. Skofield's new house was passed over.

Article 12, relating to the extension of hydrant service, was passed over.

Article 13, relating to the striking out of the first part of rule 14 of the fire department was declared a vote.

The rule now reads as follows: "Whenever the board of engineers shall consider it necessary, the companies shall meet for the purpose of examin-

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester-town, Md.

Another Woman's Case

"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared.

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

At the Union church the preacher was Rev. Mr. Woodward. The text was John 15:24, "If I had not done among them the works which none other did, they had not had sin; but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father."

The Pharisees as you know, were exceedingly strict and careful in their outward keeping of many points of the law; but the inner, deeper meaning was ignored. They loved to stand upon the street corners and utter prayers that would declare their own righteousness.

Jesus quoted the prayer of such an one who has told unto God a list of his virtues, and gave thanks that he was not like the publican who had come to the temple at the same time to pray. But the vaunting prayer was not accepted.

They had heard the teaching of Jesus. They had seen his life. He had shown them how a man might keep the law in all its essential requirements and yet above this put love and kindness, and helpfulness, and thought for others.

Because he had shown them their own lack, they hated both him and God who would not receive their self righteousness.

The theme that we draw from the text is, How the presence of Jesus reveals human need. Peary in telling of the Eskimos of Greenland and of their primitive customs has illustrated this. Women of America when they wish to sew take the bit of steel that they call a needle and which is purchased at the cost of a fraction of a cent, and think little of the helpfulness that it represents. Among the Eskimos Peary found the women sewing with a piece of bone around which was fastened a narrow thong of skin twisted to form a thread. Sewing was a slow, laborious process. Before the stitches were taken holes must be punched in the skins to be sewed that the head of the bone needle might be drawn through. When they had seen the steel needles of the visitors, straightway every woman in Greenland wished for one. The spears of the Eskimos were made of driftwood. Such pieces as were found upon the shore were spliced until the weapon was of sufficient length. The head was then made of a piece of bone sharpened by the native as best he could. Any or you who have noticed the thickness and toughness of the hide of the animals for which they hunt know that at its best such a spear fitted with only a bone head must be an unsatisfactory weapon. When they saw the spears carried upon the ship, made of wood, strong, hard and of great length, the heads of steel, sharp-pointed as a razor their astonishment and admiration were very great. They recognized then the inefficiency of their own equipment. They had come in contact with the product of a higher civilization than their own, and brought face to face with their own lack. With the advance of civilization new needs arise, and progress means that we can be no longer satisfied with what had before this time seemed sufficient.

Of all the songs written of home no other is so widely sung or has been translated into so many languages as "Home, Sweet Home." It was written by one who was far from the joys of home—an American in Italy. Walking one day in loneliness he saw through the windows of a humble Italian house a beautiful picture of love and happiness as father, mother and children were gathered together around the board. The content and joy of that Italian peasant and his family so stirred the heart of the lonely stranger that he wrote the sweet song with its yearning call for home.

When we look upon Chris's purity, the nobility of mind with which he met injustice and hatred, his goodness to all, his steadfastness to truth, his devotion to the work given him there is revealed to us as in no other way the possibilities of goodness and holiness that rise before us, and the lack of these things existing in ourselves.

When we look upon Jesus we shall lose sight of any goodness of our own, and recognize his surpassing loveliness of character.

This knowledge of lack will come upon us with one of two effects. Either we shall harden our hearts against the truth that is unwelcome, and refuse to exert ourselves to secure a better condition of things, or we shall look about us for help and put forth our energies to obtain the good which is not yet ours.

If we seek the good we may find help nearer than we think. You have perhaps heard of the man who searching day after day for gold, learned that the rock which he had all the time used as a door weight in his cabin was a nugget of almost pure gold.

In the days when many were turning their feet westward in the search for golden treasure, there came men from Brazil seeking their fortune in the gold of California. In their pockets were little pebbles which they used for counters in games till one day they learned that the seemingly valueless pebbles were diamonds in the rough, and represented great wealth. There had been no need to leave home in the search of fortune for the Brazilian diamond fields offered its riches to them.

Do you want help to enable you to realize your awakened aspirations for goodness? Up and down the land are churches, and there is not one, no matter how poor the preaching, where you may not hear something about God, something to lead toward him, and show how man may come near him.

Let us not deny our souls that which they need but come unto God who is near unto us.

NOTABLE GEM COLLECTION

Fine Maine Tourmalines and Beryls Become Property of Massachusetts Lady.

By the death recently of Dr. Augustus Choate Hamlin, Miss Elinor Cutting Hamlin, of Brookline, Mass., who is his only direct descendant, will come into possession of a notable collection of Maine gems, in addition to a famous necklace which she has, and which, it is said, cannot be duplicated in any museum in Europe.

This necklace, says a Bangor (Me.) report to the New York Sun, is of Maine tourmalines, and includes some of the finest of those gems which have been taken from Mount Mica, Me., since the discovery in 1820 of this mine of precious stones by E. L. Hamlin and his brother, Hannibal Hamlin, at one time vice president of the United States. In the necklace is the first gem found by them 84 years ago.

The necklace is composed of 17 large tourmalines, ranging from three to 30 carats, each attached to a chain of gold, and arranged so that they can be detached at will, and their places taken by others of different sizes.

In the set are 30 additional stones, many being mounted with white tourmalines and beryls. There are also a cross and two eardrops, the former composed of six of the finest tourmalines yet found. The stones being about three carats each and of various colors. The eardrops are of green and pink tourmalines, set with white beryls.

Many of these stones were exhibited by Gen. William B. Franklin, commissioner at the Paris exposition in 1889, and they were also shown in the display of American gems at the world's fair in Chicago.

There are several fine collections in Maine outside the Hamlin family, and within the last few years local pride in the resources of the state, particularly in regard to its gems, has become so great that in many villages and towns the women will not wear any other ornament.

POLICEMAN AND DIRECTORY

Officer Monopolizes Public Book to the Disgust of Anxious Citizens.

What a convenience is a public city directory—except when it becomes an amazing source of prolonged vexation. Take, for instance the one at Dearborn station, says the Chicago Record-Herald. A day or so ago a passer-by hurried in to consult it, only to find a policeman standing over the book, while two people were in line impatiently awaiting their turn. The officer, perhaps made indifferent to the wants of the public by his "profession," heeded them not. It was evidently his lunch hour, and he was putting in spare time in the improvement of his mind.

Another man joined the line. He was waiting for a train and wanted to kill time. Still the policeman continued to pore over the volume with all the intensity of a newsboy studying a "dope" sheet.

No. 1 in the line looked out the door and, seeing a car about to start up Dearborn street, hurried away. No. 2 now moved up toward the directory, making a noisy show of impatience to distract the mind of the reader. The policeman looked up, but it was with a far-away expression as though he were calculating who would be the next boss of the ward.

As the officer turned back to the book No. 3 consulted his watch and was gone. No. 4 seemed to be a very patient individual, so he may have succeeded in getting the information he desired from the directory.

No time should be lost in cleansing the blood and regulating the stomach with a good spring medicine. For children's ailments nothing equals Dr. Trues' Worm Expeller. A few doses will expel worms if any and tone up the whole system. A better spring medicine cannot be found. Twenty thousand bottles were sold in March alone. Price 50c at all druggists.

DRIVER SENSELESS; TRAIN RUNS WILD

HUNDREDS OF LIVES IMPERILED IN NEW YORK.

CREW IS OVERCOME BY GAS

Engine Speeds Through City, Finally Crashing Into Another and Averting a Probably Worse Disaster.

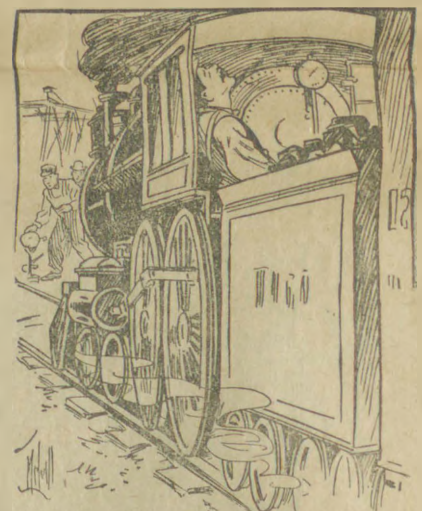

New York. — With the engineer lying senseless in the cab from the effects of coal gas in the New York Central tunnel, a heavy locomotive drawing a long freight train raced out of the underground bore the other day, sped along the elevated structure, passed over miles of switches, crossed a bridge and, after imperiling hundreds of lives, finally crashed into a switch engine and was wrecked.

Every man on the train was overcome by the fumes of the gas. The conductor, fireman and two brakemen tumbled from the cars and lay unconscious until found by track walkers. The engineer sank down in his place beside the firebox, without being able to shut the throttle, and the engine was masterless.

Out of the tunnel it rumbled, and onto the elevated structure. There was no one to watch for the signals to see if the tracks were clear. On all sides were trains crowded with passengers. At any moment it seemed that a switch might be so set that one of these would be struck, or the speeding freight train, moving at a rate of 25 miles an hour, would be hurled off the structure, and sent crashing through apartment buildings to the ground below.

The engineer, Elven Deyo, as he fell unconscious, dropped upon the fire box, and was so badly burned on the neck, legs and hands that it will be many days before he can leave the hospital. But the pain failed to rouse him from the stupor which held him fast while his train sped on.

For three miles to the Harlem river it met with no mishap and no tower man or other employe seemed to notice that Deyo was not at his post. All switches were set and the track was clear as the train neared the network of switches approaching the drawbridge. The draw was closed and the train took its proper track into the long Mott Haven yards and whirled onward still unharmed. For two miles farther it continued its course.

In front of the Young Men's Christian Association building, beside the tracks at One Hundred and Fiftieth street and Sheridan avenue a light switching engine was standing. One of its crew was aboard, and by chance happened to look up in time to see the giant locomotive whirling down upon him. He jumped just in time, for as he raced for safety, the switching engine was crumpled up, while the big locomotive, almost turning a somersault, pitched the unconscious Deyo through his cab door and clear of the wreck, which immediately strewn the track for yards. Both engines were reduced to scrap iron and kindling wood by the terrible impact and it was hours before the tracks were cleared.

Deyo was picked up and hurried into the association's building, where an ambulance surgeon soon revived him and discovered that his burns while severe, were not fatal.

American Paid High Price for Painting Upon Singular Condition.

One of the pictures disposed of at the Jaluzot sale was an immense military canvas shown at the salon in 1877 by M. Jean Paul Laurens, says a Paris letter to the London Telegraph, "The Austrian Staff Marching Past the Body of Marceau" (£520). Perhaps the chief interest in the picture is a curious but true story told about it. When shown at the salon it was much admired, but no one felt inclined to buy till at last M. Turquet, then director of fine arts, to encourage the painter purchased it out of his own pocket. Soon after a man called upon him, saying that he knew he would like to get rid of it and offered a handsome sum. M. Turquet accepted at once, but his visitor added that there was one essential condition to the bargain, "Make me a knight of the Legion of Honor." The official was shocked, but the visitor went on: "You need not mind I am not a Frenchman, but an American citizen. Give me the red ribbon and say it is a reward for services rendered to French art." The official was persuaded, the picture changed hands and the buyer became and is still a knight of the Legion of Honor. He eventually parted with the picture to M. Jaluzot

Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing food; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makesure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical and mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are free. The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, boom sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the system in solution. This alcohol shrinks up red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One feels exhilarated and better for the time, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of its several ingredients. For the drug to offer you something he claims is "as good" is to insult your intelligence. Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through drug stores for like purposes has any such endorsement. The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects obtained from the use of Gold Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as indigestion, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its composition is greatly enhanced in its curative power by other ingredients such as sassa root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, and drake root and chemically pure refined glycerine.

BACTERIA EMIT LIGHT.

Phosphorescent Gleams Produced by Certain Very Minute Organisms.

"We already know fully 30 microbes and about half as many mushrooms which give light," says Prof. H. Molisch in a recent number of the Revue Scientifique of Paris. "The cause of the phenomenon in all cases is the same, a very brilliant bacterium, the bacterium phosphoreum. Both the luminosity and the development of the bacteria depend on the presence of certain salts and organic bodies." Prof. Molisch says he has succeeded with the bacterium phosphoreum in making a practical and useful lamp. "For this purpose I took a glass Erlangen meyer balloon containing from two to four quarts, into which I placed from 200 to 400 cubic centimeters of gelatine with salt and peptone. The mouth of the vessel was closed with a cotton plug and then the whole was sterilized. After cooling and before the gelatine had become solid I planted a culture of bacterium phosphoreum. Then, holding the balloon nearly horizontal, I turned it slowly under a spigot of cold water; in a few minutes the gelatine had covered the entire inner surface. The balloon was then left in a cool room, and at the end of a day or two the entire inner surface was covered with numerous colonies of bacteria. The vessel now emitted a beautiful bluish-green light and I have recently found that the intensity of the lamp may be greatly increased if the bacteria be sown in points about the centimeter apart, and if there be added to the gelatine from one to two per cent. of peptone and one-half per cent. of glycerine. Such a lamp keeps its brilliancy for about 15 days in a cool room, and by its light one may tell the time, read the degrees on a thermometer and read ordinary print. The light is very economical and almost lacking in heat rays, and I think it would be of great value in powder mills, in mines and other places."

He advertises the fact in his own paper and gives some excellent reasons why it would be a good thing for the town to choose him. We hope the people of Norway will be wise enough to accept Mr. Sanborn's proposition. He is a good business man and ought to be able to build good roads.

Governor Cobb and His Ways.

The fact that several Maine cities have gone Democratic this year has caused a great deal of discussion as to what effect that fact may have upon the state election next fall. Governor Cobb has been criticised in connection with his policy of enforcement of the Prohibitory law through the Sturgis commission, so called. When Governor Cobb was a candidate for the nomination for governor, some of his mis-informed opponents undertook to make people believe that he was not personally a temperance man and that he did not believe in the enforcement of the prohibitory law and that he would not encourage "enforcement."

Governor Cobb went upon the stump and in a brief but easily understood speech, told the people of the state, that if nominated and elected he would do all in his power to enforce all of the laws. In his inaugural address he reiterated his former statements in support of the Bangor platform.

Governor Cobb was elected upon a platform adopted at the Bangor convention, which contained a plank in favor of the prohibitory law. There was no quibbling with reference to this matter; it was square and straight and the temperance people of Maine, the people who are responsible for whatever enforcement the state has ever had, had reason to expect after the adoption of this plank, that Governor Cobb would do everything in his power to enforce the prohibitory law. It is understood that the Governor favored the passage of the law providing for the creation of the "Sturgis commission." We presume a reason was that he was practically powerless to be of much use in the enforcement of the prohibitory law without additional authority.

At no time has the prohibitory law been enforced as it is being enforced today. The "Sturgis law" provides that enforcement shall be taken up by the commission under the direction of the Governor, in counties where the sheriffs fail to do their duty. There is a vast difference between the different counties as to what the sheriffs have to contend with in this line. For instance, Franklin county does not need the assistance of the Sturgis commission for the reason that our sheriff is doing his duty, and being backed by public sentiment, he can enforce the law effectually. There are other counties in the state where the conditions are different. In the cities, many of the people believe in open rum shops and the sheriffs, no matter how hard they work to enforce the law, are deprived of the support of the general public, as the enforcement commission would be in the same localities.

We believe that before the time for the next September election comes around, the Republican party will awaken from the lethargy which it is experiencing at the present time and advertise to the people of the state the facts in connection with this matter. The advertising just now is done by others. We believe that the result of the elections in several of the Maine cities this spring was due to the fact that Governor Cobb has been doing precisely what he said he would do, i. e., everything in his power for "enforcement." We believe, further, that a majority of the people in Maine cities want open saloons and that a big majority of the people who are located in counties where there are no cities, favor strict enforcement. The temperance people and those who expect honesty from their Governor in all his acts, will stand by Governor Cobb, and we believe they will stand by him to the end that he will be reelected by a good big vote next fall.

FARMINGTON NEWS.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODSMAN.) FARMINGTON, Mar. 27, 1906.

Miss Josie Roderick returned Saturday from Skowhegan, after spending several weeks with her brother.

Mrs. Fred A. Robinson is visiting her daughter, Grace, in Portland for a few days.

Lewis York, proprietor of York's Camps at Loon lake, was in town Friday.

Misses Mildred Burbank and Bertha Wade are spending a few days with friends in Livermore.

Mrs. W. H. Foss and daughter, Edith, left Friday for Portland. Mrs. Foss returned Monday but Edith will spend her vacation with friends.

Edward W. Merrill left Monday for Lisbon Falls, where he has secured a position in A. W. Keirstead's drug store.

Miss Blanche Huart left Tuesday for Lewiston, where she will spend her vacation with her cousin, Mrs. J. A. Poulin.

Rehearsals began last Wednesday for the society minstrels which will be one evening's entertainment at the May fair.

The last coffee party of the season was held in Drummond hall Friday evening, where a large number enjoyed whist and dancing.

Miss Lora Jennings is visiting friends in Wilton.

Miss Genevieve Harnden, who has been working for the Eastern Telephone at this office the past winter, has been transferred to Livermore.

Mrs. J. C. Tarbox entertained a number of her friends, Monday evening at bridge whist.

Miss Millett of Lewiston visited her friend, Miss Marion Vance, Friday, both returning Saturday.

During last week Deputy Lester D. Eaton has captured no less than five tramps at odd times, who are now serving sentences of thirty days each in the county jail. But this town will cease to be a Mecca for specimens of the genus "Hobo" as soon as the new plan, which has been suggested by the chairman of the board of prison inspectors, has been adopted. The plan is this: That the county commissioners authorize the building of a yard or outbuilding for the prisoners to work in. As a matter of fact the inspector referred to says that the building or yard will eventually have to be built and therefore the quicker it is done the better. This scheme will doubtless meet with the approval of a large majority of our citizens and may prove a set back for the usual influx of tramps.

Farmington High School Notes.

Friday evening, March 16, the last league game of the Farmington High school was played between the Wiltons and the High school in Music hall. Good work was manifest on both sides. The Farmingtons have picked up considerably on guarding and passing but are deficient in goal throwing. The score was 4 to 28 in favor of the Wiltons.

The Wilton academy girls played against the Farmington High School girls. Both teams were broken up considerably. The Farmingtons having lost one of their forwards and the centre was obliged to stop playing for the last of the first half but nevertheless both teams did great work. The score was 5 to 2 in favor of the Wiltons.

Although the Farmingtons have lost more games than they have won they are not discouraged but feel all the more anxious to do better next year. Their only coach has been Miss Vance, second assistant, and although much credit is due to her faithful work a man is what the team needs to straighten out matters. They have also been unfortunate in securing a hall to practice in and during the last week have been obliged to practice evenings.

The final league game will be between the Livermore Falls High School boys and the Wilton Academy boys some time in the near future in Farmington.

Preparations are being planned for the Senior sociable to be given in High School hall March 21. This will be the last sociable given by the class of '06 to invited members of the lower classes.

The Real Danger.

"Does your father ever say anything about my staying so late, darling?" "Whenever he mentions you, he refers to you as the 'gas bill.'" "Does that mean anything serious?" "Not unless he slips down some night and foots the bill."—Kansas City Times.

Familiar Plea.

It was at the church fair. "Chances are $10 each," said the pretty girl. The man was equal to the emergency. "All I want is half a chance," murmured he.—Pittsburg Post.

GIRL OF TEN YEARS BOSS OF BUSINESS

Remarkable Child Makes Contracts for Transfer of Railroad Freights and Baggage.

Denver.—The transfer of scores of trunks daily to every quarter of the city are personally directed by Marie Caldwell, not yet ten years old, from her office in the Cooper building. She also enters into contracts with theatrical men for moving wagonloads of stage settings, and makes satisfactory arrangements with business men and merchants for the handling of their freight consignments.

There is a sign on the office which reads:

"J. A. Caldwell, Expressing and Transferring Co."

There should be added to it: "Marie Caldwell, general manager." But while the name is not there, at any hour during the day you will find a wee bit of a girl with all the business acumen of a Hetty Green ready to figure with you on any proposition from delivering your trunk at the depot to handling tons of freight.

This great little child has acquired all the details of an extensive and trying business within a year, and for the past six months has had the entire responsibility of its conduct.

There is a sweet, childish modesty when you attempt to get her to talk about herself, for she will tell you that she enjoys the responsibility placed on her little shoulders. She just mentions business and like a flash she will figure out her contract price on any proposition submitted.

It was this wonderful display of business ability which prompted her father J. A. Caldwell, when he was offered a position with one of the railroads, to turn the entire management of his extensive transfer business over to this little mite of a girl. After an unusually heavy day this week he admitted that its conduct had been more satisfactory than when he personally managed it.

If you want to know more about this youngest business "woman" in the world just ask one of the husky drivers who are in and out of the office obeying her orders. One said:

"What, our manager? She is the best ever. I have never known her to make a mistake and I'll bet a month's pay she knows Denver better than any man, woman or child in it. Why, I've been driving here for years, yet sometimes I can't locate a street. I just ask the boss and she can draw me a map of it with her eyes shut."

"No, we drivers never figure on anything. She does it all. In fact, she runs the whole works."

Though her days are days of strenuous business life, the education of little Miss Caldwell is not being neglected. Under the tutelage of her mother she is far advanced in her studies and is a skillful violinist.

Even Women Grow Old.

She—Papa doesn't want us to be married for ten years yet. But don't look so worried, George; you will still be young ten years from now.

He—Yes, darling, but I wasn't thinking of myself.—Le Rire.

Letter to A. L. Pratt & Co., Phillips, Maine.

Dear Sirs: It costs two or three times as much to put paint on as to buy it. A gallon of poor paint costs as much as a gallon of good, for the work; and a gallon of poor don't go half as far.

Poor paint lasts half or a third or a quarter as long as good; and protects wood and iron a half or a third or a quarter as well as good.

Do you buy good paint or poor? You don't know any poor? Why, the market is full of it!

SAVING THE GOLD DUST.

Precautions That Are Taken in the Manufacturing Jeweler's Establishment.

Washing machines seem all right enough in a laundry, but they would scarcely be looked for in the establishment of a manufacturing jeweler. Yet they play an important part in such a plant.

In a washing machine are washed daily all the aprons and all the blouses worn by the workers employed in the manufacture of articles of gold. Then the water in which these things have been washed is piped to a room where the gold contained in it is extracted and saved.

Particles of gold adhere to the hands and faces of the workers in the precious metal, and even get into their hair. Twice a day all the operatives wash their hands and faces; and the water is, like that from the washing machine, piped to the extracting room.

Here there is installed a big filter, with its filtering section made of canvas, and resembling outwardly the plaited section of a giant square concertina, as it would look partly drawn out. All the water from the washing machine and from the wash bowls in the factory is forced through this filter; and at regular intervals the filtering section is taken out and the gold removed from it.

All the floors in the factory are covered with tar paper, which catches and holds all the gold particles that fall upon it. From time to time a new paper covering is laid on the floors, the old being burned for the gold contained in it.

By these means there are saved in a factory thousands of dollars' worth of gold that without such precautions would inevitably be lost.

ACHED IN EVERY BONE.

Chicago Society Woman Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

When a woman's kidneys go wrong, her back gives out and every little task becomes a burden. She is tired, nervous, sleepless, run down—suffers daily from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, and bearing-down pains.

Don't worry over imagined "female troubles." Cure the kidneys and you will be well. Read how to find the cure.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., member of the Chicago Federation of Musicians and a well-known club woman, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely eat enough to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Miss Knight will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

MAINE WOODSMAN has received a copy of the Joliet Illinois Herald which contains a fine account of the Illinois Match Company's new match plant, which is due to begin operations April 1. Four months ago this plant burned to the ground but has since been rebuilt in the above length of time. New machines have been installed and a carload of matches a day is the result. B. G. Vaughn, the superintendent of the factory, is the inventor of the new match machine that is turning out matches at such a tremendous rate of speed.

MAINE WOODSMAN has received from the Foster Manufacturing Co of Dixfield, manufacturers of wood toothpicks, a fine photograph of their new mill. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Haley of Rangeley were in Phillips last Friday going home from St. Petersburg, Fla., where they spent the winter with Mrs. Haley's sister, Mrs. J. Lewis Houle, nee Annie Hescok, formerly of Wilton. Mr. Houle has a nice business as a paving contractor. Mr. Haley found the country very strange and interesting. He saw a negro shot to death by a mob for stabbing a white man. After entering the jail and shooting the negro they cut his head off with an axe. He called on Vet Thompson at Jacksonville.

Mr. Thompson is now superintendent of a draw bridge across the St. John's river. Mr. Haley missed his usual baked beans but he got plenty of pork from "razor backs," the appropriate name by which the southern hogs are known. He says there is plenty of their pork in that county known as "white bacon." The grape fruit and oranges trees were in bloom when he left and the weather was very warm.

One pair of twins weighed 231-4 and one pair 241-4 pounds.

CULTURATIONS IN GERMAN

Fruits Are Contaminated and Acids Abound in Many Articles of Diet.

According to a report made to the state department, Dr. H. Matthes, director of the bureau office for examining foods of the University of Jena, has published a statement relating to the articles most frequently adulterated. According to this statement, 520 samples were examined in 1903 and 1,369 in 1904. This number did not include 116 samples of milk, which were found to contain a very high percentage of dirt.

It was found that apricots contained sulphurous acid; effervescent lemonades did not contain a trace of pure fruit juices; butter contained too little fat and too much water; so-called baking powder consisted of oleomargarine; egg noodles contained no yolk of eggs, or at least very small quantities; huckleberry juice was spoiled completely; raspberry juice was greatly diluted, and some samples contained glucose and coal-tar dyestuffs; mince-meat contained sulphurous acid; ground mace contained flour, ground toasted bread, Bontay mace and nutmeg; marmalades were mixed glucose and colored with coal-tar dyes; milk was watered, skimmed and often very dirty; pepper contained lime, sand and a good deal of the shell; sausages contained flour, boracic acid and coloring matter; preserving salts contained sulphurous, boracic, flouric and benzoic acids, etc.

The report complains of the indifference shown by the masses regarding purity and reliability of articles of food, and the custom which prevails in large cities of having the examinations of such articles made by persons not experts.

NO MAN STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * *". He continues, "so we may be said to live by (and he might well have said through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. He says "the function of digestion in its several stages is to prepare the food in forms which are suitable to be added to the structure," meaning the structure of our bodies. He continues, "every physical action from simple breathing, thinking and circulating of the blood to the most active bodily exertion wears out portions of the structure (of our bodies) and they become dead and so require to be taken away speedily. Much of the food which we take, and especially when unwholesome or in excess, adds to the waste material, and when it has undergone chemical changes it is still more mischievous." Then he goes on to the effect that the nervous system prompts every part of the circulating system. He says "it gives its message every moment to the infinite number of glands and follicles to unload themselves of waste material so that the current of blood may carry it away."

"When these two processes of nutrition and excretion are thus carried on with equal assiduity we are in health, but when this equilibrium does not exist there comes disorder and disease. The common form of such derangement is indigestion or dyspepsia. The function of nutrition is interrupted and all the operations which depend upon it go wrong. Under these conditions it has a way of appearing in other types of disorder. Many of these often mislead physicians. Other parts of the organism are likely to be involved, and we may find consumption, kidney complaint, hepatic (liver) disorders, hysteria and even mental alienation (derangement)." He says "it may be observed that deranged persons have a woo-be-gone expression, offensive breath, irregular action of the bowels, hallucinations and other like conditions of dyspepsia."

The foregoing is no doubt a rational view of the sad havoc worked in the human system by indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver and kindred derangements, which are generally associated with or followed by many other diseases of diverse appearance, but all depending upon the weak and disordered stomach. Cure the stomach weakness and you cure all these diseases and derangements.

For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The Golden Seal root, Stone root, Mandrake root and Black Cherry-bark are all recommended by such eminent authorities as Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. John King, author of the "AMERICAN DISPENSATORY"; Prof. John M. Scudder, late of Cincinnati; Dr. William Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, Dr. Hobart A. Hare, of the University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Dept., University of N. Y.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica in the Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, and many others, as remedies for indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver as well as for bronchial, throat and lung affections, as will be seen from reading a little booklet recently compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will send the same on request, by postal card or letter, to any address, free. This little booklet tells of what Dr. Pierce's celebrated medicines are made, and gives the properties and uses of each and every ingredient entering into their composition. Write Doctor Pierce, as above and receive it by return post. Queen's root, or Stillingia, is an ingredient entering into the "Golden Medical Discovery" highly recommended by several of the above mentioned authorities for the cure of chronic or lingering bronchial, throat and lung affections, public speaker's sore throat attended with hoarseness, dry, rasping cough and kindred affections. Not only is Queen's root specific in its curative action in all these affections, but in "Golden Medical Discovery" it is greatly assisted by the combination with it of Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, with which it is blended in just the right proportion. Pure, triple refined glycerine also greatly enhances the effectiveness of all these agents in the cure of chronic and lingering coughs, being a valuable demulcent, also antiseptic, and a nutritive of great value, especially useful in all wasting diseases, as in incipient consumption and other serofulous affections. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy in all catarrhal affections, whether affecting the nasal passages, the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs and the reason why will be learned by reading the little booklet noted above. Send for it now.

In chronic catarrh of the nasal passages, it is important that while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as the most effective constitutional treatment for this terribly distressing and most obstinate affection that the nasal passages should be cleansed two or three times a day by the free use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, used according to the directions which accompany the same.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Persons subject to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. Put up in glass vials, tightly corked, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, the cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound ten stamps more, 31 in all. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

M. W. Harden has been located in his present barber shop 31 years and he has been in the business in Phillips for 36 years. For fifteen years he did not take an hour of vacation, working every day, every evening and every Sunday forenoon during that time. For the 36 years he has had just four weeks of vacation excepting for sickness. This we consider quite a remarkable record and one that very few have equaled.

News has been received of the recent death in Tacoma, Washington of H. J. G. Croswell a former resident of Farmington Falls. Mr. Croswell married Hannah Robbins formerly of Phillips a sister of the late D. M. Robbins of St. Paul, Minn. Mr. E. L. Mathews, has a nice Victor talking machine and fifty records which he will sell at a bargain.

Dr. Don Harden of Brownville, formerly of Phillips who is now employed by the Canadian and Pacific Railroad has some odd experiences. A short time ago he was wired to take the train with the result that he had to attend a woman and go through with her to Montreal where he left her at the Royal Victoria Hospital. At last accounts mother and child were doing well.

The lumbering operations at James Brown's camp on Sandy River plantation have been suspended for the winter. Monday four men and twelve horses stopped at the Phillips Hotel for dinner, while on their way to Rumford Falls, where some of the men have their head-quarters. The cut of spruce on the Brown lot has been 2000,000 feet this winter. One spruce tree was hauled in one day last week that scaled, 1550 feet and was thirty five inches on the stump. It was hauled to the landing in one piece.

At a recent meeting of the Phillips school committee, Hon. N. P. Noble was chosen superintendent of schools for the ensuing year.

The Augusta correspondent of the Bangor Commercial says: 'Officials at the State House were much interested in the announcement Friday that Prince Albert Sawyer, formerly of Phillips, had been nominated for mayor of Sioux City, Iowa, and the indications are that he will be elected. The issue in the campaign is gambling or no gambling and Mr. Sawyer is running on the latter platform. Before he went west he was a Democrat but in the Blaine campaign of 1884 he became a Republican. He was deputy secretary of state under E. H. Gove in 1879.—Waterville Sentinel.

Miss Louise Danico has returned to her home in Stratton.
