

Fuller - Cobb - Company

This Week's Offerings to Those Looking for Values

3-Piece Dresses at Discounts 6 Ladies 3-Piece Dresses, shades in rose, blue, tan, $25.00 value $17.00

12 3-Piece Junior Suits
For School Girls and Little Women, all shades. Very unusual values
$12.50

10 Child's Odd Coats
$1.00 $1.50
Sizes 2 3 4 5 6

25 Dozen Muslin Waists
59 Cents

20 Rubberized and Silk
Mohair Rain Coats at $7.50
Value not to be duplicated anywhere

Long Coats
in Blue Serge and Mixtures
$10.50 $12.50 $17.50
Some very pretty garments at these prices

Children's Colored Dresses
A most complete assortment of Children's and Misses' Dresses.
Children's 1 to 6 years
98c to $5.00
6 to 14 years
$1.98 to $5.00

These dresses are made just as well as you could possibly make them.
They fit and are made from fine gingham, chambray and percale. Also a line of Children's White Dresses that are right $2.25 up.

Misses' Lingerie Dresses
$5 $7.50 $9 $12
White, very neat and pretty and inexpensive. We can fit little women from these dresses

50 LACE WAISTS
$1.98
Hard to duplicate elsewhere at twice the price

SPECIAL
20 Silk Princess Dresses
As have had, in all shades of Taffeta, lace yoke and sleeves, waist embrodered, skirt bottom trimmed
Price $10.50 Value $15
16 to 20 years. 32 to 44 sizes

All Linen Dusters
$3.98
For Motoring, $7.50 value
Nothing like it ever offered before in this section. All sizes 34 to 46

Linen Rep Suits at $4.98
New and up to date

Housekeepers freshen your Woodwork and Furniture WITH EVAPERO
FURNITURE ENAMEL

It removes dust and stains and conceals scratches and marks from all painted surfaces, either flat or bright finish
One bottle will demonstrate it to you
You are a good housekeeper now, you will be a better one with less work when you use Evapero Furniture Enamel Try it on your old furniture and see the transformation
It will keep your new furniture from looking like old

PRICE 25 CENTS
For 6 OUNCE BOTTLE
...Manufactured by...

Evapero Incorporated
E.C. Davis, Pres., Rockland, Me.

Special Show of Pongee
Coats, Pongee 3-Piece Suits
Pongee Dresses
In Green Room 3d Floor

SPECIAL Tailor Made Suits

We just made a big purchase of Tailor Made Suits from material bought to make up for $35 and $50 garments. Two different styles. We offer these

Next Saturday at $21.00 Each

Shown in Green Room on 2d Floor

Fuller - Cobb - Company

Talk of the Town

Coming Neighborhood Events.

May 18—Peace Day.
May 20—23—Laymen's Christian Convention at Portland.
May 26—Annual Concert of First Baptist Choral Association.
May 26—Memorial Day.
June 9—Quarterly Meeting of Lincoln Baptist Association at Waldboro.
June 13—Total eclipse of the moon, beginning at 8:10 p. m.
June 14—Flag Day.
June 14—Monthly meeting of the Knox County Ministerial Association at Y. M. C. A. rooms.
June 15—Union meeting of Warren Granges with Good Will Grange.
June 17—Rockland High School graduation.
June 17—Samuel Hotel opens.
June 17—Partial eclipse of the sun beginning
at 7:11 p. m.
June 18—Maine Bankers' Association at Banquet.
June 22—Rockland High School graduation ball in Arcade.
June 23—Camden Community entertainment at Camden.
August 4—Annual Congregational fair.

Allen Bowler's residence at Ingraham Hill is being painted.

Fresh alewives are in the market yesterday, retailing at 3 cents each.

Mrs. Edna Raye, chiroprapist and manicurist, has opened parlors over the Norcross corner drug store.

Rev. C. Tolman of North Haven and Maud E. Webber of Rockland have filed marriage intentions at the city clerk's office.

Railroad Commissioner Kelzer was present at an important session of the board in Augusta, Tuesday. The Bangor & Aroostook Railroad was given permission to build three extensions, aggregating 102 miles.

Rev. J. A. Weed, pastor of the Methodist church of Thomaston, will address the meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Subject,
"Elements in a Young Man's Success." Miss Ruth Flint will sing, "Behold the Master Passeth By," by Hammond.

The Junior girls' baseball team will give a supper and musical entertainment at the Y. M. C. A., Saturday evening. The supper, for which an attractive menu has been planned, will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. The entertainment will include local talent of great ability and will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

H. De Rochemont, who has been in the employ of the Rockland Hardware Co. the past two years, is fitting up a building on the Fogg premises, Pleasant street, where he will have an independent plumbing establishment, including the customary line of business connected with that vocation. Mr. De Rochemont is an expert plumber.

The employees of the Rockland Produce Co. are gradually recovering from the effects of the shock they received when they read in The Courier-Gazette that they were to be challenged at baseball by a team from F. Cobb & Co.
Manager Bachelder says that it is all news to him, but in time of peace he is preparing for war, and has already signed Jim Curtis, with a view to using the latter's main proportions as a catcher's fence. "Mitch" will do all the coaching and furnish all the applause for both teams. We are authorized to state that St. Clair & Allen's employees are whipping a team into shape that will challenge the winner.

Mrs. Montoro R. Pillsbury has bought a Cadillac motor car.

The Sleeper house on Spring street is being enlarged by the construction of a new roof.

The Rockland Military Band has been engaged to furnish music at Crescent Beach next Sunday.

A Finn employed in the Ulmer quarry sustained a broken arm Tuesday, the injury being inflicted by a rock which fell from the bluff. The quarryman was taken to his home on Lisle street.

Last call for the subscription dance at Pillsbury hall this Friday evening.
Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. E.
K. Leighton, Miss Mary Hitchcock,
Miss Beth Farwell and John L. Donohue.

A new plate glass window was placed in the front of Hewett's dry goods store Wednesday, replacing the one which was cracked some weeks ago presumably by some heavy person falling asleep against it.

Railroad Commissioner Kelzer and his associates, with rubber stamps and officials and press correspondents made an automobile trip Wednesday over the line of the proposed Portland, Gray and Lewiston electric railroad.

Union services are to be held at the First Baptist church Sunday evening.
In connection with the Laymen's Conference that takes place in Portland next week. All the churches of the city will join in the service, which will be directed by laymen. L. E. Moulton, president of the Universalist Laymen's League, will be chairman. A men's chorus of 30 voices, under charge of Dr.
Blickford, will lead in the singing. The speaker will be Rev. Frank L. Wilkins, D. D. of Portland, one of the most brilliant platform men in Maine.

The annual meeting of the incorporators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

At the annual meeting of the incor-
porators of the Rockland Savings Bank,
May 12th, the following board of trustees was elected: E. H. Lawry, E. D.
Spear, Geo. M. Brainerd, E. A. Burpee,
John Lovejoy, Nathan F. Cobb, Richard K. Snow. At the meeting of the trustees same day E. H. Lawry was elected president, E. D. Spear treasurer and secretary, and Miss Annie B.
Blackington assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. The deposits in this
bank on May 12 amounted to $2,973,
305.29, an increase in deposits since
May 12, 1908, of $134,529.95. The total
dividends paid since organization
amount to $1,346,952.27.

John H. Wilson's injuries, received at the McMullen plant last Saturday, by being caught in the shafting, are more serious than first inventoried.
Two of the ribs were started.

The date of the high school graduation ball has been postponed for June 25, which is the Tuesday evening following graduation. Brigham's orchestra will be engaged if the committee is able to secure a sufficient number of pledges prior to next Tuesday.

The buildings connected with the Samsonet hotel are being painted by the W. H. Glover Co.'s men, under the direction of Fred W. Babbidge. The interior of the hotel has also been in the hands of painters, who were called off the first of the week on a strike.

The tulip beds at James Clark's house on Broadway are beginning to attract great attention. Mr. Clark is somewhat of an expert in this particular branch of horticulture. He has about 100 varieties of tulips including some sent to him from Holland, and in all has nearly 50,000 bulbs on his premises.

Miss Georgiana McLaughlin graduated from the "College of Spoken Word," Boston, Tuesday evening. She gave at graduation "Soul of Violin" with a violin obligato. This week Miss McLaughlin is on at the Orpheum Theatre in a sketch. She will return home next week.

The New York to start rehearsals under Charles Frohman.

The Knights of Columbus held their annual convention in Bangor Tuesday.
Limerock Council being represented by Maurice Costello and P. J. Burns. The old board of officers was re-elected, with Richard J. McGarrigue as state deputy. The convention closed with a banquet at the Penobscot Exchange which promised a most successful
one. Our delegates tell of a fine gathering and a jolly visit. The 1910 convention will be held in Biddeford.

The Tiantita Midgents opened a three days' engagement at Farwell opera house Thursday afternoon. These midgents, man and woman, are the smallest people on the American vaudeville stage and they do a singing and musical act that is certainly worth while.
The packed houses should be a rule during the engagement. This Saturday there will be a special matinee for ladies and school children. If you don't do anything else go see the Midgents.

The house at 25 Lime street, owned by the Riley heirs, and occupied by William Nichols, was quite badly damaged by fire and water Wednesday afternoon. A spark from a locomotive is said to have been the cause. The fire was largely in the upper part of the house, and burned through the roof, but the damage to the house was not great.
The total damage to house and furniture will not exceed $200. The house was insured with M. S. Bell & Co. and the furniture with A. S. Black.

The Grammar school baseball team (David Buffum captain and Bigelow Healey manager) defeated the Socialist team 4 to 2 in an exciting 6-inning game on the Clark field, Thursday afternoon. The batteries were Buffum, Rokes and Sullivan for the Grammarians and Rogers and Gamage for the Socialists. Buffum caught two men at second very neatly.
Sullivan's fly catch in the last inning and Rokes' throw to first base blasted all hopes of the Socialists. Fullerton and Clark umpired the first of the game, but a revolution arose and Ros-sington and Rokes' threw the game over to the Socialists. The game was interrupted by a fire in the grandstand which succeeded the deposed of the Baptist.

The May meeting of the Baptist Men's League, which was held Wednesday evening, will be the closing meeting of the season and of special interest.
The speaker is to be the brilliant Rev. Mr.
J. Twomey of Portland, who will speak upon "Ireland and the Irish." To particularly mark the occasion and the close of its second successful season, the league is to invite ladies to attend the lecture, and will also extend invitations to the members of the Methodist Brotherhood and the Universalist Laymen's League. In order to accommodate these guests the lecture will be held in the main auditorium of the church. The visiting laymen will be invited to attend accompanied by ladies.

The annual meeting of the Universalist Mission Circle was held Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. It was one of the most largely attended meetings the circle ever held. After the usual routine of business, election of officers, etc., Mrs. Chapin, the retiring president, gave a very interesting and comprehensive review of the times nine years ago when she took the office up to the present. It has advanced under her careful guidance until it ranks first in the state and second in the national convention for efficiency and members. Near the close Mrs. Tillinghast, the new president, was called to the chair and responded in a fitting manner to her induction into office. The outlook is for a very prosperous year in the Mission Circle.

Mrs. Fred H. White, state president of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs, has announced that the subject for her address in Rockland will be "The Police and Development of the Club Movement." Mrs. White's home is in Lewiston, but she is coming here soon for the purpose of speaking to the ladies of Knox county, all of whom are urged to be present.

The date of the next meeting will be announced later. It is hoped that all neighboring rural districts, every town and island will send representatives to listen to what this leader of women has to say. Mrs. A. T. Blackington of the Methuen Club, Mrs. F. B. Adams of the Shakespeare Society and Mrs. L. N.
Littell of the Methuen Club compose the local committee to prepare the musical program for that afternoon.

A rummage sale is announced by the Universalist young people to be held in the vestry of the church Friday and Saturday May 21 and 22, all day. They will have a large assortment of useful and attractive articles and wish to have the news spread.

BORN
KELLENBACH—Cushing, April 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Kellenbach, a daughter, Lillian—Liberty, May 7, to Mr. and Mrs. E.
Kellenbach, a son.
FITZGERALD—Camden, May 9, to Mr. and Mrs.
William Fitzgerald, a son.
BREM—Rockport, May 11, to Mr. and Mrs.
Alton Brem, a daughter—Edna, to Mr. and Mrs. David I. Nixon, formerly of Rockland, a son.

MARRIED
CARNES—DYER—Rockland, May 10, by A. L.
Orde, N. P. Frank E. Carnes and Frances Dyer, both of Vinland.
MAURICE—RICHARDS—Lynn, Mass., May 6,
by Rev. David H. Gerry, Rev. H. H. May, by Rev.
B. P. Judd, Capt. Roscoe Dobbins of Jonesport, and Rita Farris, of Rockland.
DOUGHERTY—WILKINS—New York, Jan. 2, Cornelius F. Dougherty, formerly of Rockland, and Hess B. Wilkins, of Ohio.
KEENE—RICE—Fremont, Neb., Charles Albert
Keene and Hazel Rice.

DIED
DILLANT—East Warren, April 25, Thomas H.
Dillant, aged 11 years, 3 months, 5 days.
CRAWFORD—Vinland, May 12, Samuel Crawford.
MERCANT—Vinland, May 8, Barbara, widow of the late John Mercant, aged 61 years.
CURTIS—Rockland, Va., May 8, George L.
Curtis, aged 42 years.
GANNON—Camden, N. H., May 8, John Harold eldest son of Catherine (McKee) and the late Thomas G. Gannon, aged 5 years, 6 months.

Mrs. A. W. Foss is visiting her mother in Boston.

The advance guard of students at Garthgannon Lodge is expected next Monday.

The annual convention of the Knox county W. C. T. U. will be held in Friendship, June 8.

Fred Cornau, formerly of this city has a position as waiter on the steamer City of Rockland.

The Rockland-Rockport Lime Co.
loaded another barge load of limerock chips for a southern port this week.

The laymen's meeting at the First Baptist church Sunday evening, to be addressed by Rev. Dr. Wilkins of Portland, will be a great occasion. Every business man in the city should arrange to attend.

Arthur S. Littlefield, past exalted ruler of the Rockland Elks, received a very pleasant surprise a few nights ago when he returned home and found a beautiful electrolier, which had been sent him by fellow Elks in honor of his years of his services as their ruler the past year. Mr. Littlefield has sent a graceful letter of acknowledgment to the lodge.

The Y. M. C. A. ball players played the first game of the season Mr. Shio Oakland grounds Wednesday. Twenty-two young men took part in the sport, including several new recruits. Mr.
Brunberg's slide to first, closely conveyed Mr. Ames, and Fred Young's method of getting to third were the features. There will be another game next Tuesday; if stormy, the Friday following. The Street Railway has put the most interesting and novel method of boys averaging 11 or 12 years.
Frank Bridges is manager and Horace Chadsey is captain. The team is made up as follows: Avard Richan, Walter Robinson, Frank Hatch, Elton Luce, Ralph Moulton, Donald Gregory, Maurice McAllister, Frank Bridges, etc. The subs are Price Young and Lloyd Daniels. The team plays its first game Saturday against the Rockland Trimmers, and the latter must be a husky bunch if it is going to win.

Thomas M. McLaughlin is now installed in the house on Grace street recently vacated by W. J. Robertson. The house which Mr. McLaughlin leaves vacant is being put in readiness for occupancy by Mrs. J. H. Haines and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Haines, whose house on Middle street, was recently bought by George Simpson. Mr. McLaughlin's move into his new possession the house which he vacates will be taken by Sidney Bird, and the Tolman house on Broad street, vacated by Mr.
Bird, will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs.
McLaughlin, now resident of the Lovejoy house, corner of Limerock and Union streets. Can you remember all of that?

Every seaboard state in the country, with one exception, was represented by the hundreds of more delegates who attended the shellfish convention in the New York aquarium last week. Commissioner Donohue and his deputy, Charles S. Coughlin, listened with much interest to the expert methods of shell fish cultivation. While in New York Commissioner Donohue made a pleasant call at the home of Hon.
Charles E. Littlefield, whom he finds to be already one of the ones of the most most criminal lawyers in that metropolis. He also attended a performance at the Hippodrome which has lately added to the list of attractions.

The dancing pavilion at Crescent Beach is being enlarged, an addition of 15 feet being built onto the western end. Cars will run to the beach all day Saturday and Sunday, the last leaving Rockland at 9:15 p. m. The foundation for the new car barn at Martin's Corner is well underway.

There are no cars for the Rockland, South Thomaston & St. George Railway are expected to arrive within the coming fortnight. The extension of the Crescent Beach line to the hotel is much appreciated. Patrons can now go and come dry-shod in the stormiest day imaginable. And a stormy day has unusual attractions at Crescent Beach.

The dance Monday night drew another good-sized crowd. The Monday evening will see another jolly party there.

There was a midnight prank of a laughable character in and around a certain lunch room Monday night. The proprietor in a facetious moment doused one of his good-natured customers with a glass of water. The good-natured patron bided his time until the proprietor was taking a nap, when he applied a goodly covering of red-hot mustard to the latter's face. The act did not pause to consider that he was arrayed in regulation street dress. Out of the house he dashed, in close pursuit of the proprietor. There were belated pedestrians in sight, and they stared in amazement at the strange procession flitted past. On they went, but striking a Marathon clip, and his pursuer always being close enough for a good look. The race did not end until both young men had sped through one of the city's principal streets, and the proprietor had fully awakened to the fact that his costume was somewhat more airy than that of a ballet girl. With his mustered-bestrewn face he was certainly an object of fear and awe.

By an annoying error this paper announced the Food Sale at Mrs. Miller's, 32 School street, for Thursday. The proper date is this Saturday, May 15, at 2 p. m. Cooked food in many varieties, by the ladies of the Baptist Union.

GREAT SACRIFICE
IN... STORE FIXTURES
One Sale, one furnace, desks, show cases, umbrellas cases, mirrors, etc.
MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE

AT THE Boston Clothing Store
ROCKLAND 394

SOCIAL DANCE
Given by Penobscot View Grange
AT GRANGE HALL
GLENCOVE
Tuesday, May 18, '09

THE LASS AND THE BOWL

PICTURES BY A. WEIL

LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Mad Dan Maitland, on reaching his New York bachelor apartment, met an attractive young woman at the door. Janitor O'Hagan assured him no one had been within that day. Dan discovered a woman's finger print in dust on his desk, along with a letter from his attorney.

CHAPTER II.—Maitland dined with Bannerman, his attorney. Dan set out for Greenfield to get his family jewels. During his walk to the country seat, he met the young woman in gray, whom he had seen leaving his bachelor club. Her auto had broken down. He fixed it and by a ruse she "lost" him.

CHAPTER III.—Maitland, on reaching home, surprised lady in gray, cracking the safe containing his gems. She, apparently, took flight by a well-known crook, Daniel Anstey.

CHAPTER IV.—Half-hypnotized, Maitland opened his safe, took therefrom the jewels, and gave them to her, first forming a partnership in crime. The real Dan Anstey, sought by police of the world, appeared on the same mission. Maitland overcame him. He met the girl outside his house and they sped on to New York in her auto. He had the jewels and she promised to meet him that day.

CHAPTER V.—Maitland received a "Mr. Smith," introducing himself as a detective. He told Maitland about the jewels, supposedly lost, was told by a show from "Mr. Smith." The latter proved to be Anstey himself and he secured the gems.

CHAPTER VI.—Anstey, who was Maitland's double, masqueraded as the latter.

CHAPTER VII.—The criminal kept Maitland's engagement with the girl in gray. He gave her the gems, after failing in love at first sight. They were to meet and divide the loot.

CHAPTER VIII.—Maitland revived and regretted missing his engagement. Anstey, masquerading as Maitland, wisely avoided capture through mysterious means. The girl in gray visited Maitland's apartment during his absence and returned gems, being discovered on return.

CHAPTER IX.—Maitland, without cash, called up his home and heard a woman's voice expostulating.

CHAPTER X.—Anstey, disguised as Maitland, told her real identity and realizing himself tricked tried to wring from her the location of the gems. Then he proposed marriage. A crash was heard at the front door.

CHAPTER XI.—Maitland started for home. He found Anstey and the girl in his room. He overcame the crook, allowing him to escape to shield the young woman. Dan himself narrowly avoids arrest.

CHAPTER XII.—Janitor O'Hagan, who had been the crook, was discovered. He had been the crook, was discovered. He had been the crook, was discovered.

CHAPTER XIII.—The girl in gray made her escape. Jumping into a cab. An instant later, by working a ruse, Anstey was at her.

CHAPTER XIV.—He took her to Attorney Bannerman's office. There by torture, he tried to win from her the location of the gems. He left her a moment and she phoned O'Hagan, only getting in the words "bowl," the hiding place in the latter's rooms, when Anstey heard her words. Bannerman also was revealed as a crook. He and Anstey set out to secure the gems and leave town. The girl was still imprisoned.

CHAPTER XV.—Maitland finding the girl gone, searched his rooms and unearthed the jewels under the brass bowl. He struck Anstey's trail in a big office building. After a terrific battle Anstey killed himself to avoid capture alive. Maitland found the girl safe.

CHAPTER XVI.—Maitland and girl in gray confessed their love for each other. He told her Dan had killed himself. Mrs. Maitland, Bannerman, died a self-confessed thief.

CHAPTER XVII.—Upon investigating the girl's husband, at her request, Dan found her to be Miss Sylvia Graeme, daughter of a wealthy New York Maitland had long been pushing a suit against her father, the result of which was to break down his health, although he was innocent. Sylvia had been engaged in an effort to save her father's life. Dan, on learning this, burned the papers. They then planned to meet that day at "The Little Church Around the Corner."

CHAPTER XVIII.—Continued.

In the clattering hansom, steadying herself with a hand against the window frame, to keep from being thrown against the speechless man beside her, the girl waited. And since Maitland in confusion at the moment found no words, from this eloquent silence she drew an inference unjustified, such as lovers are prone to draw, the world over, one that lent a pathetic color to her thoughts, and chilled a little her mood. She had been too sure.

But better to have it over with at once, rather than permit it to remain forever a wall of constraint between them. He must not be permitted to think that she would dream of taking him upon his generous word.

"It was very kind of you," she said in a steady small voice, "to pretend that we—that you did pretend, in order to save me from being held as a witness. At least, I presume that is why you did it"—with a note of uncertainty.

"It is unnecessary that you should be drawn into the affair," he replied, with some resumption of his self-possession. "It isn't as if you were—"

"A thief," she supplied, as he hesitated.

"A thief," he assented, gravely. "But I am," with a break in her voice.

"But you are not," he asserted almost fiercely. And, "Dear," he said, boldly, "don't you suppose I know?"

"—what do you know?"

"That you brought back the jewels, for one minor thing. I found them almost as soon as you had left. And then I knew—knew that you cared enough to get them from this fellow Anstey and bring them back to me, knew that I cared enough to search the world from end to end until I found you, that you might wear them—if you would."

But she had drawn away, had averted her face; and he might not see it; she shivered slightly, starting out of the window at the passing lights. He saw, and perforce paused.

"You—don't understand," she told him in a rush. "You give me credit beyond my due. I didn't break into your flat again, tonight, in order to return the jewels—at least, not for that alone."

"But you did bring back the jewels?" She nodded.

"Then doesn't that prove what I claim, prove that you've cleared yourself—"

"No," she told him, firmly, with the firmness of despair; "it does not. Because I did not come for that only. I came with another purpose—to steal, as well as to make restitution. And I—stole."

There was a moment's silence, on his part incredulous. "I don't know what you mean. What did you steal? Where is it?"

"I have lost it—"

"Was it in your hand-bag?"

"You found that?"

"You dropped it in the trunk-closet. I found it there. There is something of mine in it?"

"I had no right," he said, shortly. "Other men would have thought they had the right. I think you had, the circumstances considered. At all events," steadying her voice, "I say you have, now. I give you that right. Please go and investigate that hand-bag, Mr. Maitland. I wish you to."

He turned and stared at her curiously. "I don't know what to think," he said. "I can not believe—"

"You must believe. I have no right to profit by your disbelief. Dear Mr. Maitland, you have been kind to me, very kind to me; do me this last kindness, if you will."

The young face turned to him was gravely and perilously sweet; very nearly he forgot all else. But that she would not have.

"Do this for me. What you will find will explain everything. You will understand. Perhaps—timidly—"perhaps you may even find it in your heart to forgive when you understand. If you should, my card-case is in the bag, and—"

She faltered, biting her lip cruelly to steady a voice quivering with restrained sobs. "Please, please go at once, and—see for yourself!" she implored him passionately.

Of a sudden he found himself resolved. Indeed, he fancied that it were dangerous to oppose her; she was overwrought, on the verge of losing her command of self. She wished this thing, and though with all his soul he hated it, he would do as she desired.

"Very well," he assented quietly. "Shall I stop the cab now?"

"Please."

He tapped on the roof of the hansom and told the cabby to draw in at the next corner. Thus he was put down not far from his home—below the Thirty-third street grade.

Neither spoke as he alighted, and she believed that he was leaving her in displeasure and abhorrence; but he had only stepped behind the cab for a moment to speak to the driver. In a moment he was back, standing by the step with one hand on the apron and staring in very earnestly and soberly at the shadowed sweetness of her pallid face, that gleamed in the gloom there like some pale, shy, sad flower.

Could there be evil combined with such sheer loveliness, with features that in every line bodied forth the purity of the spirit that abode within?

In the soul of him he could not believe that a thief's nature defied candor-like at the heart of a woman so divinely, naively dear and desirable. And—he would not.

"Won't you let me go?"

"Just a minute. I—I should like to—if I find that you have done nothing so very dreadful," he laughed unsteadily, "do you wish to know?"

"You know I do." She could not help saying that, letting him see that far into her heart.

"You spoke of my calling, I believe. That means to-morrow afternoon, at the earliest. May I not call you up on the telephone?"

"The number is in the book," she said in a tremulous voice.

"And your name in the card-case?"

"Yes."

"And if I should call in half an hour—"

"O, I shall not sleep until I know! Good night!"

"Good night! Drive on, cabby."

He stood, smiling queerly, until the hansom, climbing the Park Avenue hill, vanished over its shoulder. Then, coming about and with an eager step retraced his way to his rooms, very confident that God was in his heaven and all well with the world.

III.

The cab stopped. The girl rose and descended to the walk. The driver touched his hat and reined the horse away. "Good night, ma'am," he bade her, cheerfully. And she told him "Good night" in her turn.

For a moment she seemed a bit hesitant and fearful, left thus alone. The house in front of which she stood, like its neighbors, reared a high facade to the tender, starlit sky, its windows, with drawn shades and no lights, wearing a singular look of blind patience. It had a high stoop and a sunken area. There was a dull glow in one of the basement windows.

It was very late—or extremely early. The moon was down, though its place was in some way filled by the golden disk of the clock in the Grand Central station's tower. The air was impregnated with the sweet and fragrant breath of the new-born day. In the tunnel beneath the street a trolley car rumbled and whined and clanked lonesomely. A stray cat wandered out of a cross street with the air of a seasoned debauchee; stopped, scratched itself with immitable abandon, and suddenly, mysteriously alarmed at nothing, turned itself into a streak of shadow that fled across the street and vanished. And, as if affected by its terror, the gray girl slipped silently into the area and tapped at the lighted window.

Almost immediately the gate was cautiously opened. A woman's head

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and a severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I would not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and—native Wash—and was entirely cured after three months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism.

Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., writes all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

looked out, with suspicion. "Oh, thank Heavens!" it said, with abrupt fervor. "I was afraid it might be you, Miss Sylvia. I'm so glad you're back. There ain't—hasn't been a minute these past two nights that I haven't been in a fidget."

The girl laughed quietly and passed through the gateway (which was closed behind her) into the basement hall, where she lingered a brief moment.

"My father, Annie?" she inquired.

"He ain't—hasn't stirred since you went out, Miss Sylvia. He's sleeping peaceful as a lamb."

"Everything is all right, then?"

"Now that you're home, it is, praise be!" The servant secured the inner door and turned up the gas. "Not if I was to be given notice to-morrow mornin'," she announced, firmly, "will I ever consent to be a party to such goin'-on another night."

"There will be no occasion, Annie," said the girl. "Thank you, and—good night."

A resigned sigh—"Good night, Miss Sylvia"—followed her up the stairs.

She went very cautiously, careful to brush against no article of movable furniture in the halls, at pains to make no noise on the stairs. At the door of her father's room on the second floor she stopped and listened for a full moment; but he was sleeping as quietly, as soundly, as the servant had declared. Then, on more hurriedly, up another flight, to her own room, where she turned on the electric bulb in panic haste. For it had just occurred to her that the telephone bell might ring before she could change her clothing and get downstairs and shut herself into the library, whose closed door would prevent the bell from being audible through the house.

In less than ten minutes she was stealing silently down to the drawing room floor again, quiet as a spirit of the night. The library door shut with-out a sound; for the first time she breathed freely. Then, pressing the button on the wall, she switched on the light in the drop-lamp on the center table. The telephone stood beside it.

She drew up a chair and sat down near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so

near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

For she dared hope—at times; and at times could not but fear. So greatly had she dared, who greatly loved, so near the instrument, ready to lift the receiver off its hook the instant the bell began to sound; and waited, the soft light burning in the loosened tresses of her hair, enhancing the soft color that pulsed in her cheeks, fading before the joy that lived in her eyes when she hoped.

flamed scarlet, as hastily she lifted the receiver to her ear. The armature buzzed sharply. Then central's voice cut the stillness.

"Hello! Nine-o-five-one?"

"Yes."

"Wait a minute."

She waited, breathless, in a quiver. The silence sang upon the wire, the silence of the night through which he was groping toward her.

"Hello! Is this nine-o—"

"Yes, yes!"

"Is this the residence of Alexander C. Graeme?"

"Yes." The syllable almost choked her.

"Is this Miss Graeme at the 'phone?"

"It is."

"Miss Sylvia Graeme?"

"Yes."

"This is Daniel Maitland—Sylvia!"

"As if I did not know your voice!" she cried, involuntarily.

There followed a little pause; and in her throat the pulses tightened and drummed.

"I have opened the bag, Sylvia."

"Please go on."

"And I've sounded the depths of your hideous infamy!"

"Oh!" He was laughing.

"I've done more. I've made a burnt offering within the last five minutes. Can you guess what it is?"

"I—I don't want to guess! I want to be told."

"A burnt offering on the altar of your happiness, dear. The papers in the case of the Dougherty Investment Company no longer exist."

"Dan."

"Sylvia—Does it please you?"

"Don't you know? How can it do anything but please me? If you knew how I have suffered because my father suffered, fearing the—No, but you must listen! Dan, it was wearing him down to his grave, and I thought—"

"You thought that if you could get the papers and give them to him—"

"I could see no harm, because he was as innocent as you—"

"Of course. But why didn't you ask me?"

"He did, and you refused."

"But how could I tell, Sylvia, that you were his daughter, and that I should—"

"Hush! Central will hear!"

"Central's got to early things to do, besides listening to other morning confabulations. I love you."

"Dan."

"I love—to hear you say so, dear."

"Please say that last word over again. I didn't get it."

"Dear."

"And that means that you'll marry me!"

A pause.

"I say, that means—"

"I heard you, Dan."

"But it doesn't, doesn't it?"

"Yes."

"Whenever you please."

"I'll come up to you."

"Don't be a silly."

"Well, when then? To-day?"

"Yes—no!"

"But when?"

"To-morrow—I mean next week—I mean next month."

"No; to-day at four. I'll call for you."

"But, Dan."

"Sweetheart!"

"But you mustn't! How can I—"

"Easily enough. There's the Little Church-Around-the-Corner—"

"But I've nothing to wear!"

"Oh!"

Another pause.

"Dan. You don't wish it—truly?"

"I do wish it, truly. To-day, at four. The church of the Transfiguration. Yes, I'll score up a bit man if you'll find bridesmaids. Now you will, won't you?"

"I—if you wish it, dear."

"I'll have to ask you to repeat that."

"I shan't. There!"

"Very well," meekly. "But will you tell me one thing, please?"

"What is it?"

"Where on earth did you get hold of that suit?"

Sylvia laughed softly. "My big brother caught a burglar once, and kept the kit for a remembrance. I borrowed them."

"Give me your big brother's address and I'll send 'em back with my thanks—No, by George! I won't, either. I've as much right to keep 'em as he has on that principle."

And again she laughed, very gently and happily. "Dear God, that such happiness could come to one!"

"Sylvia."

"Yes, dear?"

"Do you love me?"

"I think you may believe it, when I sit here at four o'clock in the morning, listening to a silly boy talk nonsense over a telephone wire."

"I want to hear you say so!"

"But central—"

"I tell you central has other things to do!"

At this juncture the voice of central, jaded and acidulated, broke in curtly: "Are you through?"

APPLETON

John McIver of Fitchburg, Mass., is at home and will assist his father in his spring work upon the farm.

Miss Maud Fuller was at home Saturday and Sunday. She is a member of the graduating class of the Camden high school.

Miss Minnie Brown was called to South Montville Wednesday on account of the illness and death of her father, Edwin Brown. Mr. Brown was formerly a resident of Appleton.

Our school is being taught by Miss Bessie A. Sprout. There is an average attendance of 14 scholars. Older students recall a winter term when the attendance was 105 scholars.

Palmer Martin left for Vinahaven, Monday, taking with him six work horses. This is the third season he has been employed as teamster on the road machine.

Danford Martin lost a nice cow last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Newbert were the guests of her brother, Thomas Gushue, of Lincolnville Saturday.

Mrs. A. Harding is quite ill, also the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moody.

It was discovered Sunday that some one had forced an entrance into the summer residence of Frank Barker by opening a blind and breaking in a window. Some one evidently needed a night's lodging as the bed had been disturbed and crackers and a whiskey bottle with glasses strewn the table.

The caretaker, Fred Grant, thinks that nothing was stolen from the house.

Miss Hazel Collins is home from Augusta, where she has had employment in the insane asylum.

Chas. Newbert is building another pleasure boat.

EAST WARREN

On account of the wet weather but very little planting has been done in this vicinity.

Rev. H. S. Kilborn, pastor of the Baptist church, Warren, preached in the hall in this place last Sunday. A chorus choir was present and furnished excellent music.

Sylvester Barrows and George Tolman of Rockport were in this place recently working for Orland Barrows.

Frank Berry and son and Mr. Berry's mother, Mrs. Emily Berry, of Searsport, were the guests, this week of Mrs. Berry's mother, Mrs. N. E. Clark.

A. E. Crockett has placed a cream separator in his dairy room.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wyllie and Mrs. Lizzie Blackington of Warren were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crockett.

Mrs. Mary E. Robinson, who has been confined to her home the past few weeks with a severe attack of the asthma, is now improving.

Charles McKellar has had a cream separator installed in his dairy room.

CHILDREN WHO ARE SICKLY

Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, for use throughout the season. They break up Colds, Cure Feverishness, Dizziness, Teething Disorders, Headache and Stomach Troubles. THESE POWDERS NEVER FAIL. Sold by all Drug Stores. Don't accept any substitute. A trial package will be sent FREE to any mother who will address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM

A Cure at Kennebunkport Which Proves the Claims Made for the Tonic Treatment.

Nothing better demonstrates that rheumatism is a disease of the blood than the fact that it is hereditary in certain families. It may not develop until conditions of cold and dampness favor it because nature is always fighting to keep the body in health. When disease does get the upper hand and rheumatism is seated in the blood, a remedy that will revitalize and renew the blood is the simplest and best means of relief.

Mr. D. Warren Hadlock, of R. F. D. No. 1, Kennebunkport, Me., was cured of a severe case of muscular rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you are suffering with rheumatism, you cannot do better than take the remedy which cured him. Mr. Hadlock is now the letter carrier on R. F. D. No. 1, and is widely known at Kennebunkport. He says:

"I became afflicted with muscular rheumatism through exposure while working in a saw mill and suffered for four years. The rheumatism was in my hands, arms and shoulders. My hands would swell to an abnormal size and the pain in my fingers and wrists was so intense that I would have to cry. I was unable to use my hands even to comb my hair. I was practically helpless. The pains were sharp and knife-like. During the latter part of my sickness my heart was affected."

"I was treated by several doctors and given treatment with electricity. They all thought they could cure me but although I was under the care of a doctor for the greater part of the four years I received but little help. A neighbor urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as he had cured her of rheumatism. I finally did so and was cured after a thorough treatment with them. The pills were the first thing that had ever done me any good and my cure is permanent."

The fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure rheumatism is so well established that it is difficult to understand how any sufferer can afford to neglect the remedy. These pills are absolutely safe and harmless.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, 10¢ per box, on receipt of price, 50¢ per box, or by express for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

The New York court of appeals has decided that a person does not reserve a seat in a railway coach by placing his baggage in it.

VIOLA POWDERS are made from a prescription used by the late Dr. Wilegin in his practice for years. Same medicine you took when a child. Cures worms.

C. B. EMERY
Fresco and Sign Painter
ROCKLAND, MAINE

FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., May 8.—The tariff bill seems to keep pace with the thermometer. Just at present the weather in Washington is most delightful, and Senators are in no haste to get away, especially the new members, who wish to deliver their first great speech in favor of what they have been preaching in magazines and elsewhere before coming to Congress. A considerable portion, therefore, of the present month will be given up to the so-called set speeches, but as soon as the thermometer gets up to eighty or ninety degrees then the real progress on the bill will commence. Various predictions are made as to the date of adjournment—running from June 1st to August 1st, but it is still hoped that the bill will be in the President's hands before the end of the fiscal year. Although at the close of the debate it may be passed speedily in the Senate, there is yet the Conference Committee to consider, and it is feared that many days if not weeks will be consumed here. This Committee will probably consist of either fourteen or sixteen members—seven or eight of the Committee of Finance of the Senate and of the Ways and Means Committee of the House.

While much attention is being given to the income tax, it is not likely that such a feature will be put in the bill at the present session. The maximum and minimum features will also be assailed, but it is thought that this phase of tariff making will find a place in the so-called Payne bill.

Formal notice of the intention of the American Government to terminate the commercial agreements with a number of other countries made in conformity with section 2 of the Dingley tariff act, has been given by the State Department. This action is based upon the mere intent and wish of Congress as shown by the pending legislation. Formal commercial agreements under the Dingley act exist with Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal and the Netherlands, while informal understandings, the bases of which are presidential proclamations, have been entered into with Switzerland and Bulgaria.

The importations from abroad continue to increase—large amounts of manufactured materials coming in the March value being sixty-eight million dollars. As there has been a considerable decline in the prices of such articles, the amount imported during March, 1909, represents nearly or quite twice as great a quantity as the forty million dollars worth imported in March, 1908. This, of course, means increased activity in manufacturing circles, and there is still the most optimistic feeling in all business centers that a pronounced improvement will be seen as soon as the tariff bill becomes a law. This feeling is further accentuated by the aggregate vote of building permits delivered by the municipal authorities during the month of March, 1909, in ninety-five cities in the United States, which shows a total of over $80,000,000, representing nearly or quite an increase over the February total and an 82 per cent increase over the March figures of a year ago.

The President is gradually making changes in various offices, both at home and abroad, and his appointments still meet with the utmost satisfaction. While taking the advice of Senators and Representatives Mr. Taft at the same time retains the right to make appointments which seem to him to be the best man in every case. While the President shows in every appointment and every act that he proposes to be the President of the whole people with regard to party and without regard to section, still he is a Republican and proposes to build up the Republican party in every legitimate way possible. This is indicated by the interest he has taken in the coming gubernatorial election in Virginia and the election in other States, where he proposes to have members of his Cabinet go and preach sound Republicanism—not so much in the hope of overturning the present Democratic majorities, as for the purpose of building up a strong Republican party and making the best showing possible.

While there is a considerable difference of opinion among the leaders of the party in both Senate and House as to the tariff bill, it is not likely that the bill will be passed before the end of the fiscal year.

It amuses me to hear some people talk about the "czar." We had a pretty little example of other men's virtue at the beginning of this session. We have a Republican majority of 46 in this House, and some 20 men coming from States where they are a good deal outnumbered by the Democrats, wanted to join with the Bryan Populists—for you know there is no longer any more a Democratic party—to tear up the rules and not to vote for me for Speaker. These 20 men wanted to throw down 200 Republicans. That is, they were perfectly content to substitute for one big "czar" twenty little "czars." A simple proposition, isn't it—the old story of whose ox is gone?

Now, let's look into this matter of committees a little bit. We must have committees, and the question is, shall they be appointed by the Speaker or by the House directly acting through a committee on committees? Well, for my part, speaking now not as the Speaker of the House, but as one of its members, who has the same rights, privileges, and duties as any other member, I believe the present system is preferable. Suppose we had a committee on committees, what would be the result? Twelve or fifteen men would be subject to the intrigues, the influences, the importunities of the nearly 400 members of the House, who would have more chance to work combinations and bring pressure to bear on members of the committee than they have simply to deal with one man, the Speaker, who, by the nature of circumstances and his position, can maintain a more independent attitude.

"But suppose an unworthy man elected Speaker, who, to satisfy his ambitions or to reward his friends or to punish his enemies or to gratify his narrow prejudices, makes up his committees without regard to the public interest or the ability of the men to do the work required of them, then, I repeat, the House would undo his work; it would be compelled to do so for its own protection."

"In the last Congress there were some 30,000 bills introduced, a great many of which were never intended to become law, and never could become law under any circumstances, but were simply for show; consumption; a mass of material so great that there was enough to keep Congress steadily at work for five years. Obviously, there must be a sifting out process, and preference must be given to the measures of vital importance."

Appropriation bills are given the right of way, after which come bills of general public interest, such as the currency law, the militia law, the employers' liability law, and other similar measures passed by the last Congress. Then there are bills of more restricted public importance and of purely local interest. These latter bills may be called up under certain circumstances by what is known as "unanimous consent," that is, if no member objects, it has become a mere formality for members to agree to a bill of this character being presented to the House for its action, but, again, it is only a half-truth. The Speaker of the House acts in the first instance as a member, just before he is the Speaker. As a member he has the same rights as any other member to object to the consideration of a bill, and thereby prevent unanimous consent.

"I am not in any way criticizing any of my predecessors when I say that it used to be the fashion for Speakers to recognize members for unanimous consent and then to have an understanding with a floor lieutenant to object. Well, I prefer to be more direct. When to certain schedules and features of the new tariff bill, there is a feeling that there will be no serious breaks in the party, as has been the case in the Democratic party, and those Democrats who are predicting a victory next year in the congressional election are simply making empty guesses and electricity their majority as they usually do a year before the election, while the election itself will show a very different result. Republicans on the inside, who know what they are talking about do not hesitate to predict that the Republican majority in the next House of Representatives will be much larger than in the present House of course it is conceded that the state of business and industry during the next year will have a large bearing upon the result, but it is believed that the new tariff law will be most generally accepted as satisfactory and that a most emphatic revival of business will follow its enactment. There is no fear that the Republicans will lose ground, but on the contrary will increase their party membership in all sections of the country."

SPEAKER CANNON'S VIEWS.

In view of the controversy over the rules of the House of Representatives the following statement by Speaker Cannon will be found interesting:

"The criticism of the rules comes from two sources—the ignorant and the demagogue; the man who is honest and doesn't know, and the man who is dishonest and doesn't care."

"Now, what are our rules? In the first place, they are based on the organic law, the Constitution, which prescribes certain things we may do and certain things we may not do. There's the source, the spring of all authority, the Constitution, and we can't get away from that, even if we wanted to. Then, based on the Constitution, and knowing the rules are framed or the construction given to statutes and the necessities of the public service, so that we may, in the best manner, perform our functions, and that is to legislate."

"This government of minorities, and the majority must prevail. You can't run the House by a self-constituted governing body or by a mob, any more than you could manage a railroad that way or a manufacturing business or a newspaper. There must be some one man in the House to preside and enforce order, but the power of the Speaker comes only from the fact that he is the government of minorities, and he should act contrary to the wishes of the majority, if he should attempt to enact legislation to which the majority is opposed, or oppose legislation which the majority favors, he would quickly lose his place. The same majority that makes him can quickly unmake him, and it would."

"Congress has never been able to stand on its own feet, the country really wants or does what the country at large disapproves of. You can search our history from the beginning and you will see that my statement is correct."

Mr. Reed and his rules, and he was the first "czar." Tom Reed led, but he would have stood naked before the minority if he hadn't been clothed with a majority. That is what makes a "czar" in this House—a majority, and it makes no difference whether it is on the Republican or Democratic side.

"It amuses me to hear some people talk about the 'czar.' We had a pretty little example of other men's virtue at the beginning of this session. We have a Republican majority of 46 in this House, and some 20 men coming from States where they are a good deal outnumbered by the Democrats, wanted to join with the Bryan Populists—for you know there is no longer any more a Democratic party—to tear up the rules and not to vote for me for Speaker. These 20 men wanted to throw down 200 Republicans. That is, they were perfectly content to substitute for one big 'czar' twenty little 'czars.' A simple proposition, isn't it—the old story of whose ox is gone?"

Now, let's look into this matter of committees a little bit. We must have committees, and the question is, shall they be appointed by the Speaker or by the House directly acting through a committee on committees? Well, for my part, speaking now not as the Speaker of the House, but as one of its members, who has the same rights, privileges, and duties as any other member, I believe the present system is preferable. Suppose we had a committee on committees, what would be the result? Twelve or fifteen men would be subject to the intrigues, the influences, the importunities of the nearly 400 members of the House, who would have more chance to work combinations and bring pressure to bear on members of the committee than they have simply to deal with one man, the Speaker, who, by the nature of circumstances and his position, can maintain a more independent attitude.

"But suppose an unworthy man elected Speaker, who, to satisfy his ambitions or to reward his friends or to punish his enemies or to gratify his narrow prejudices, makes up his committees without regard to the public interest or the ability of the men to do the work required of them, then, I repeat, the House would undo his work; it would be compelled to do so for its own protection."

"In the last Congress there were some 30,000 bills introduced, a great many of which were never intended to become law, and never could become law under any circumstances, but were simply for show; consumption; a mass of material so great that there was enough to keep Congress steadily at work for five years. Obviously, there must be a sifting out process, and preference must be given to the measures of vital importance."

Appropriation bills are given the right of way, after which come bills of general public interest, such as the currency law, the militia law, the employers' liability law, and other similar measures passed by the last Congress. Then there are bills of more restricted public importance and of purely local interest. These latter bills may be called up under certain circumstances by what is known as "unanimous consent," that is, if no member objects, it has become a mere formality for members to agree to a bill of this character being presented to the House for its action, but, again, it is only a half-truth. The Speaker of the House acts in the first instance as a member, just before he is the Speaker. As a member he has the same rights as any other member to object to the consideration of a bill, and thereby prevent unanimous consent.

"I am not in any way criticizing any of my predecessors when I say that it used to be the fashion for Speakers to recognize members for unanimous consent and then to have an understanding with a floor lieutenant to object. Well, I prefer to be more direct. When

to certain schedules and features of the new tariff bill, there is a feeling that there will be no serious breaks in the party, as has been the case in the Democratic party, and those Democrats who are predicting a victory next year in the congressional election are simply making empty guesses and electricity their majority as they usually do a year before the election, while the election itself will show a very different result. Republicans on the inside, who know what they are talking about do not hesitate to predict that the Republican majority in the next House of Representatives will be much larger than in the present House of course it is conceded that the state of business and industry during the next year will have a large bearing upon the result, but it is believed that the new tariff law will be most generally accepted as satisfactory and that a most emphatic revival of business will follow its enactment. There is no fear that the Republicans will lose ground, but on the contrary will increase their party membership in all sections of the country."

SPEAKER CANNON'S VIEWS.

In view of the controversy over the rules of the House of Representatives the following statement by Speaker Cannon will be found interesting:

"The criticism of the rules comes from two sources—the ignorant and the demagogue; the man who is honest and doesn't know, and the man who is dishonest and doesn't care."

"Now, what are our rules? In the first place, they are based on the organic law, the Constitution, which prescribes certain things we may do and certain things we may not do. There's the source, the spring of all authority, the Constitution, and we can't get away from that, even if we wanted to. Then, based on the Constitution, and knowing the rules are framed or the construction given to statutes and the necessities of the public service, so that we may, in the best manner, perform our functions, and that is to legislate."

"This government of minorities, and the majority must prevail. You can't run the House by a self-constituted governing body or by a mob, any more than you could manage a railroad that way or a manufacturing business or a newspaper. There must be some one man in the House to preside and enforce order, but the power of the Speaker comes only from the fact that he is the government of minorities, and he should act contrary to the wishes of the majority, if he should attempt to enact legislation to which the majority is opposed, or oppose legislation which the majority favors, he would quickly lose his place. The same majority that makes him can quickly unmake him, and it would."

"Congress has never been able to stand on its own feet, the country really wants or does what the country at large disapproves of. You can search our history from the beginning and you will see that my statement is correct."

Mr. Reed and his rules, and he was the first "czar." Tom Reed led, but he would have stood naked before the minority if he hadn't been clothed with a majority. That is what makes a "czar" in this House—a majority, and it makes no difference whether it is on the Republican or Democratic side.

"It amuses me to hear some people talk about the 'czar.' We had a pretty little example of other men's virtue at the beginning of this session. We have a Republican majority of 46 in this House, and some 20 men coming from States where they are a good deal outnumbered by the Democrats, wanted to join with the Bryan Populists—for you know there is no longer any more a Democratic party—to tear up the rules and not to vote for me for Speaker. These 20 men wanted to throw down 200 Republicans. That is, they were perfectly content to substitute for one big 'czar' twenty little 'czars.' A simple proposition, isn't it—the old story of whose ox is gone?"

Now, let's look into this matter of committees a little bit. We must have committees, and the question is, shall they be appointed by the Speaker or by the House directly acting through a committee on committees? Well, for my part, speaking now not as the Speaker of the House, but as one of its members, who has the same rights, privileges, and duties as any other member, I believe the present system is preferable. Suppose we had a committee on committees, what would be the result? Twelve or fifteen men would be subject to the intrigues, the influences, the importunities of the nearly 400 members of the House, who would have more chance to work combinations and bring pressure to bear on members of the committee than they have simply to deal with one man, the Speaker, who, by the nature of circumstances and his position, can maintain a more independent attitude.

"But suppose an unworthy man elected Speaker, who, to satisfy his ambitions or to reward his friends or to punish his enemies or to gratify his narrow prejudices, makes up his committees without regard to the public interest or the ability of the men to do the work required of them, then, I repeat, the House would undo his work; it would be compelled to do so for its own protection."

"In the last Congress there were some 30,000 bills introduced, a great many of which were never intended to become law, and never could become law under any circumstances, but were simply for show; consumption; a mass of material so great that there was enough to keep Congress steadily at work for five years. Obviously, there must be a sifting out process, and preference must be given to the measures of vital importance."

Appropriation bills are given the right of way, after which come bills of general public interest, such as the currency law, the militia law, the employers' liability law, and other similar measures passed by the last Congress. Then there are bills of more restricted public importance and of purely local interest. These latter bills may be called up under certain circumstances by what is known as "unanimous consent," that is, if no member objects, it has become a mere formality for members to agree to a bill of this character being presented to the House for its action, but, again, it is only a half-truth. The Speaker of the House acts in the first instance as a member, just before he is the Speaker. As a member he has the same rights as any other member to object to the consideration of a bill, and thereby prevent unanimous consent.

"I am not in any way criticizing any of my predecessors when I say that it used to be the fashion for Speakers to recognize members for unanimous consent and then to have an understanding with a floor lieutenant to object. Well, I prefer to be more direct. When

to certain schedules and features of the new tariff bill, there is a feeling that there will be no serious breaks in the party, as has been the case in the Democratic party, and those Democrats who are predicting a victory next year in the congressional election are simply making empty guesses and electricity their majority as they usually do a year before the election, while the election itself will show a very different result. Republicans on the inside, who know what they are talking about do not hesitate to predict that the Republican majority in the next House of Representatives will be much larger than in the present House of course it is conceded that the state of business and industry during the next year will have a large bearing upon the result, but it is believed that the new tariff law will be most generally accepted as satisfactory and that a most emphatic revival of business will follow its enactment. There is no fear that the Republicans will lose ground, but on the contrary will increase their party membership in all sections of the country."

SPEAKER CANNON'S VIEWS.

In view of the controversy over the rules of the House of Representatives the following statement by Speaker Cannon will be found interesting:

"The criticism of the rules comes from two sources—the ignorant and the demagogue; the man who is honest and doesn't know, and the man who is dishonest and doesn't care."

"Now, what are our rules? In the first place, they are based on the organic law, the Constitution, which prescribes certain things we may do and certain things we may not do. There's the source, the spring of all authority, the Constitution, and we can't get away from that, even if we wanted to. Then, based on the Constitution, and knowing the rules are framed or the construction given to statutes and the necessities of the public service, so that we may, in the best manner, perform our functions, and that is to legislate."

"This government of minorities, and the majority must prevail. You can't run the House by a self-constituted governing body or by a mob, any more than you could manage a railroad that way or a manufacturing business or a newspaper. There must be some one man in the House to preside and enforce order, but the power of the Speaker comes only from the fact that he is the government of minorities, and he should act contrary to the wishes of the majority, if he should attempt to enact legislation to which the majority is opposed, or oppose legislation which the majority favors, he would quickly lose his place. The same majority that makes him can quickly unmake him, and it would."

"Congress has never been able to stand on its own feet, the country really wants or does what the country at large disapproves of. You can search our history from the beginning and you will see that my statement is correct."

Mr. Reed and his rules, and he was the first "czar." Tom Reed led, but he would have stood naked before the minority if he hadn't been clothed with a majority. That is what makes a "czar" in this House—a majority, and it makes no difference whether it is on the Republican or Democratic side.

"It amuses me to hear some people talk about the 'czar.' We had a pretty little example of other men's virtue at the beginning of this session. We have a Republican majority of 46 in this House, and some 20 men coming from States where they are a good deal outnumbered by the Democrats, wanted to join with the Bryan Populists—for you know there is no longer any more a Democratic party—to tear up the rules and not to vote for me for Speaker. These 20 men wanted to throw down 200 Republicans. That is, they were perfectly content to substitute for one big 'czar' twenty little 'czars.' A simple proposition, isn't it—the old story of whose ox is gone?"

Now, let's look into this matter of committees a little bit. We must have committees, and the question is, shall they be appointed by the Speaker or by the House directly acting through a committee on committees? Well, for my part, speaking now not as the Speaker of the House, but as one of its members, who has the same rights, privileges, and duties as any other member, I believe the present system is preferable. Suppose we had a committee on committees, what would be the result? Twelve or fifteen men would be subject to the intrigues, the influences, the importunities of the nearly 400 members of the House, who would have more chance to work combinations and bring pressure to bear on members of the committee than they have simply to deal with one man, the Speaker, who, by the nature of circumstances and his position, can maintain a more independent attitude.

"But suppose an unworthy man elected Speaker, who, to satisfy his ambitions or to reward his friends or to punish his enemies or to gratify his narrow prejudices, makes up his committees without regard to the public interest or the ability of the men to do the work required of them, then, I repeat, the House would undo his work; it would be compelled to do so for its own protection."

"In the last Congress there were some 30,000 bills introduced, a great many of which were never intended to become law, and never could become law under any circumstances, but were simply for show; consumption; a mass of material so great that there was enough to keep Congress steadily at work for five years. Obviously, there must be a sifting out process, and preference must be given to the measures of vital importance."

Appropriation bills are given the right of way, after which come bills of general public interest, such as the currency law, the militia law, the employers' liability law, and other similar measures passed by the last Congress. Then there are bills of more restricted public importance and of purely local interest. These latter bills may be called up under certain circumstances by what is known as "unanimous consent," that is, if no member objects, it has become a mere formality for members to agree to a bill of this character being presented to the House for its action, but, again, it is only a half-truth. The Speaker of the House acts in the first instance as a member, just before he is the Speaker. As a member he has the same rights as any other member to object to the consideration of a bill, and thereby prevent unanimous consent.

I Just Love the Cakes Mama Bakes

in our new Glenwood
"Makes Cooking Easy"

S. M. Veazie, Rockland

A member comes to me and asks to be recognized for unanimous consent for a bill which I believe is bad or mischievous or foolish I object then and there by declining to accord recognition. In other words, the member has asked for unanimous consent, and a fellow member has refused it, which any member has a perfect right to do."

"A great many people believe that the committee on rules controls the business of the House, whereas, in fact, it simply provides the machinery by which the House can do its business. The majority is responsible for the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials."

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Fan Pills for constipation. S

NOTE
The Committee on Accounts and Claims hereby give notice that it will be in session at the office of the City Clerk on Spring Street, on Friday evenings at 7 o'clock, immediately preceding the regular meeting of the City Council for the purpose of auditing claims against the city. No bills will be approved that are not fully itemized.

The Committee request that all bills be made out on the regular billheads of the city to facilitate their work. All bills to be made out on the regular billheads of the city. Bills can be obtained at the office of the City Clerk.

ALBERT WINSLOW,
W. W. SMITH.

ANNIVERSARY POEM

The following poem was composed by Rev. W. J. Day, of Rockland, Maine, and read by him at the celebration of Deacon T. P. Daniels' twenty-fifth anniversary at the Winter Hill Baptist church, Somerville, Mass.—From the Somerville Journal.

Twenty-eight years ago, as some of you know,
An incident happened—the records will show—
Which has been for this city an excellent thing;
It took place on Broadway some time after the spring.

The month it was June, with the roses in bloom,
The sweetest of months for the bride's honeymoon;
And just as good too for the matter in hand—
The starting a church by a brave little band.

"Broadway Baptist church," the few members decreed, Should be the name given to the "Temple" here;
So this Baptist church started. L. H. Abrams was pastor;
In six months they resigned; did it seem a disaster?

The next man to be pastor was named Samuel Hills;
Under his ministrations the church paid all its bills;
A year only he stayed, and then "Ward" took his place;
Ten months was his limit, yet things prospered apace.

Joseph F. Bartlett next took up the reins,
A man of some parts, and not a few brains;
When three years were over he gave up his charge,
But the church had now made a move to enlarge.

It is just here, my friends, that there comes into view
A man whose name needs introduction to you;
Not a minister, pastor, or preacher is he,
Yet, I'll give you a tip, he could be all three.

Just a layman, I say, and yet that's hardly true,
He is a versatile deacon, unique and true;
That his features are fashioned in fairly good grace,
You can instantly see by a look at his face.

Nature does much to mould a man's features,
Clear does much more for God's human creatures;
There's "a light that was never on sea or on land,"
It is given by the spirit's transfiguring hand.

Our good Deacon Daniels, for that is his name,
In the "Winter Hill church" soon began to have fame;
For the name had been changed during Bartlett's career,
Still on Broadway they worshipped, so the records appear.

On the building committee as chairman sat he,
A pulpit's son, and of what was to be;
He has held down more chairs in this church, I do vow,
Than any two men I can think of just now.

He has been chairman of this, and chairman of that,
He has been chairman so much that he could not get fat;
For a chairman like he is, you know, does not shrink,
But rolls up his sleeves and gets into the work.

He has graced all these chairs, as an actual fact,
With wisdom and patience, and wonderful tact;
His foresight was marvelous, his insight so true,
That he seemed spirit-guided in just what to do.

He has been chairman, and layman, and leader, and teacher,
Superintendent and deacon, and sometimes the preacher;
Put him in any place, a will, he can sure fill the bill,
And he does all you ask with the utmost good will.

For twenty-five years he has stood in his place,
His work has been done with a Christian's full grace;
In sunshine and shadow, in storm and in calm,
He has done the church good, and worked it no harm.

Like the wise men of old, we present him some gold—
A hundred and twenty-five dollars, all told;
Like the metal of Ophir, this coin is good stuff,
And it symbolizes the man; don't think that a mere puff.

THOMASTON

There will be no service at the Congregational church next Sunday, the pastor being absent on a vacation.

Mrs. A. N. Linscott has been chosen as delegate to the Congregational State Conference and George H. Gardner to the Maine Missionary Society, the meetings being held with the Warren church, Westbrook, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. These meetings will be followed by the Laymen's Christian Convention of Maine, meeting in Portland and lasting over Sunday.

Rev. E. M. Cousins has accepted an invitation from P. Henry Tillson Post, G. A. R. to preach the annual Memorial service before that and the affiliated bodies on Sunday evening May 30.

Miss Gladys S. Jones of Rockland will be the soloist at the Baptist church next Sunday morning. The choir will rehearse on Saturday evening.

Honoree Leonard, who has acted as cook at the Knott Hotel during the winter, left Wednesday for Bangor Lakes where he will work at a hotel for the summer.

Capt. W. F. Russell, who has been at home for several days, has returned to Stockton Springs where his schooner, the Annie Lou, is loading.

Charles Copeland, who has been receiving treatment at the New England Baptist Hospital in Boston, arrived home Tuesday night.

For cooked food, candy, plants, aprons, etc., go to the Congregational vestry, Tuesday, June 1, where the ladies of that society will hold their semi-annual fair. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

Supt. of Schools Packard has divided his time as follows: Mondays and Wednesdays in town, Tuesdays and Thursdays in Camden and every other Friday in each town.

There will be no service at the St. John's Baptist church Sunday. Rev. Russell Woodman is in town attending the Episcopal Congress.

This Friday evening at Watts hall the drama "The Gold Mine" will be given for the benefit of T. H. S. class 1909. Dancing after the play, music by the Juvenile Quintette.

Mrs. George W. Shibles has returned from Dorchester, Mass., where she has been guest of her sister for several weeks.

John A. Elliot, a former Thomaston boy who has been in business with C. W. Chadwick of New York under the firm name of C. W. Chadwick & Co., ship brokers and commission merchants, has left the firm and established a similar business at 30 South street under the firm name of J. A. Elliot & Co.

Letitia Fowler has moved into a part of the F. W. Stackpole house on Dunn street.

Arthur Pillsbury left Tuesday for Northeast Harbor, where he will remain during the summer.

W. E. Vinal is in Boston this week on a business trip.

J. A. Creighton & Co. have purchased several work horses of Auburn parties.

Mrs. R. C. Whitney has opened an ice cream business to George Moore. Mr. Moore will open his ice cream parlors the last of this month.

There will be no service at the Church of St. John Baptist Sunday.

Dyspeptic sufferers of Thomaston, Mi-na-o tablets will give you immediate relief. In most cases they will cure any stomach disease in two weeks. G. I. Robinson Drug Co. guarantee them, 50 cents a large box.

CAMDEN

Mrs. Georgia Hobbs and Miss Fannie Porter leave today for New York where they will be joined by Miss Lillian Porter, who has just been on a trip to Washington. The three will leave for Lake Champlain and come home by the way of the Berkshires.

Sumner T. Conant is the recipient of Monday evening's dinner of the members of New Jersey of which he was a member.

Miss Vida Schwartz was married to F. S. Beale, proprietor of the five and ten cent store, by Rev. S. E. Frothingham on Wednesday morning at the Baptist parsonage. They will spend their honeymoon in New York City. Only the immediate families were present.

Contractor W. E. Schwartz has received the contract to erect a large cottage on the McKee estate, which will be started at once.

Walter Clark left Thursday for Oldtown where he will visit friends for a few days.

Rush orders are being hurried along at the Camden-Rockland Machine Co., and very satisfactory to the people. It is made on the endurance and speed of the engines made there.

The Megunticook Grange conferred first and second degree on two candidates Wednesday evening. The first degree Wednesday, State Master Station of Portland will make an official visit and the third and fourth degrees will be worked on five candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fitzgerald are being congratulated on the birth of a son, born Sunday May 9.

Miss Sadie Norwood entertained nine of her Sunday School class of girls on Tuesday evening and the young folks had a merry time. Refreshments were served and all kinds of games were in order.

Miss Maude Rokes leaves on Monday for a few weeks visit with friends in Boston and vicinity.

Our roads are going through extensive repairs this spring much to the gratification of the people. The steam roller is also doing effective work and as one gentleman remarked, "Our roads when completed will compare with any in the state according to size of town."

Steamer Gardner, owned by the Pen-ditions of Islesboro, is here for repairs before being sent to Connecticut. She was bought for the Islesboro-Belfast route last season.

Mrs. Susan N. Montgomery, who died in Bath Tuesday at the age of 72 years, was a native of this town—a daughter of Joshua Philbrook. The family moved to Bath when she was three years of age.

SOUTH WARREN.

Union services will be held at the Congregational church Sunday night. L. F. Starrett of Rockland will make the address of the evening. There will be special music. This meeting is at the suggestion of the Laymen's Convention Committee which is promoting a great men's convention at Portland. Every man in Warren is invited to this service.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all our neighbors and friends for their kindness during our late bereavement; also the Patrons of Husbandry for beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Harriet Dilliant, F. E. Dilliant, B. L. Rider and Family.

MARTINSVILLE

M. H. Francis of Round Pond, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. Haskell on Mosquito Island for the past four months, left Rockland Monday evening for the South, accompanied by E. K. Day.

ROCKPORT

Mrs. Arthur Shaw returned to Freeport Wednesday after spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Frances Linnell.

Dr. and Mrs. S. Y. Weldman, daughter Marian, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cole, were in Rockland Thursday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Talbot.

Mrs. Hanson Crockett and son Lloyd have returned to North Haven, after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Crockett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Upham.

A. C. Moore was in Newcastle Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Keller of Rockland were guests Wednesday of Mr. Keller's uncle, George Barlow, and family.

Mrs. Anna Howes and Miss Maria Andrews of Belfast are guests of Mrs. Horace Tibbets.

The cottage prayer meeting led by Rev. G. Howard Newton will be held this Friday evening at the home of H. H. Robbins, corner West street and Camden road.

Monday evening, May 17, at 8 o'clock there will be a mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to see what steps may be taken along the lines of village improvements. It is earnestly desired that every man and woman having the welfare of the town at heart will be present with suggestions. An effort will be made to form some sort of a permanent organization to effect the ends desired.

A Lynn daily paper we clip the following: "One of the most brilliant weddings of the spring season was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Richards, 50 Harbor street, when their charming daughter, Miss Mildred Avilla Richards, was united in matrimony to Dr. Frank Le Roy Maguire, a well known practitioner of Worcester. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the home at 7 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives and intimate friends. Rev. Donald H. Gerrish, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, was the officiating clergyman, and the impressive double ring service was used, the bride being given in marriage by her father. The couple were attended by Miss Katherine Burgess Richards, a sister of the bride, and Dr. George Benson Penick of Chelsea as best man. The bridesmaids were Miss F. Elizabeth Richards, a sister of the bride, Miss Bessie Bradford Lemont of Lynn, and Miss Marion Louise Foss of Swampscott. The ribbon girls were Misses Eleanor Gerrish, Marjorie Shephard, Bernice Lawrence and Josephine Law, while the flower girls were Helen Mahan and Mary Bennett. The ushers were Dr. Alfred Willard Southgate and Dr. Edward Willard Southgate. Reception and Philip Fred Sherman and Thomas Edward Perry of Lynn. Lohengrin's wedding chorus was rendered as a processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. The bride carried a bouquet of white flowers, and the bridesmaids carried clusters of daybreak carnations. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding reception was held from 8 o'clock until 10:30, during which time the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by the maid of honor and the groomsmen. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the parlor, library and dining room being festooned in green, white, yellow, pink and calla lilies, while the hall was made a bower of beauty, ferns, palms and tropical plants being in abundance. During the reception a buffet of lunch was served in the dining room by a local caterer, while Miss Maude Ellen Perry and Miss Nellie Belle Pease presided at the punch bowl. The Ladies' Orchestra of Boston added much to the evening's delights. Mrs. Claire Le Mont Raymond was in charge of the guest book, while the gift room was under the supervision of Miss Caro H. Leland of Lynn and Miss Marion G. Smith of Swampscott. A profusion of wedding remembrances was displayed, consisting of silver, cut glass, hand-painted china and pictures, and a great variety may be mentioned as a handsome Spanish hand-made waist from the bride's brother, Perry Richards, who is employed by the government in Porto Rico. The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a pearl and amethyst necklace, while her attendants were presented with pearl pins. The groom's gift to the bride was a pendant, and the ushers were remembered with pearl wrist pins. Dances were given from Salem, Swampscott, Boston, Cliffondale, Chelsea, Rosin-dale, Lawrence, Medford, Clinton, Worcester and Rockland, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Maguire left for an extended honeymoon trip to New York and the South and on their return will make their home in Worcester." Dr. and Mrs. Maguire were former residents of this town and are remembered as a host of friends who extend congratulations.

Mrs. Frances Linnell returned Monday from Arlington, Mass., where she has been spending several months with her daughters, Mrs. Alton Pratt, Mrs. Linnell is receiving a hearty welcome from her many friends.

Harbor Light Chapter, O. E. S., will entertain Seaside Chapter, Camden, next Tuesday evening, May 18. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the banquet hall. Degrees will be conferred.

Miss Mattie Russell gave a musical at her home on Central street Saturday afternoon. The program was as follows: Piano solo, "First Crouse," Miss Lucy Herrick; piano solo, Echo Waltz, Miss George Huntley; piano solo, Fading Flowers, Miss E. E. Leland; vocal solo, selected, Miss Isabel Dougherty; piano solo, Off to Camp March, Miss Marian Weldman; piano solo, Purple Rain, Misses Mildred Kinney and Elizabeth Emily vocal solo, Cuckoo Song, Miss Amelia Calderwood; piano solo, Red Geranium, Miss Maude Fuller; piano solo, Blush Roses, Misses Isabel Dougherty and Lena Dunbar; piano solo, Heather Rose, Mr. Howard Barbour; piano solo, Melody of Love, Miss Mildred Kinney; piano solo, Dance of the Forest's Sprites, Miss Sadie Norwood; vocal solo, The Apple Blossoms, Miss Amelia Calderwood. Light refreshments were served.

At the special town meeting Monday it was voted to raise by loan $6000 for the purpose of building a dam and a series of reservoirs. There was a large attendance at the meeting. Among the speakers were Fred W. Andrews, Frank Crandon, J. A. Havenner, G. H. Barrett, Dr. Theodor Goddard, and others. The meeting was held at the town hall, and the project of raising the road through Rockville and West Rockport to Hope was expressed and a vote of thanks was tendered Rockland citizens who are aiding the project. Chas. J. Gregory was moderator.

Next Sunday will be a Men's Sunday. All the services in town on that day will be in the interest of men's movements. In the morning at 10:30 a union service will be held at the Methodist church. It will be the anniversary service of the local Young Men's Christian Association. The address will be given by S. J. Robbins of Bar Harbor, general secretary of the Bar Harbor Association. There will be special music. Dr. Saml Tibbets will render a vocal solo. At 3:30 there will be a men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, which promises to be very interesting. Mr. Robbins of Bar Harbor will be the speaker. The Y. M. C. A. will be held in the Baptist church. This service will be in the interest of the Laymen's conference and preparatory to the laymen's conference to be held in Portland next week. The speakers will be Mr. Robbins of Bar Harbor and Rev. Geo. O. Richardson. Dr. Tibbets will also sing at this service.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago. He has been settled at Marblehead since. Pastor Barrows, while in Somerville, attended the Winter Hill Baptist church and listened to a fine sermon by Rev. W. J. Day of Rockland. It was a surprise as well as a great pleasure to Mr. Barrows to watch, it was very evident that Pastor Barrows' return to the Harbor was much appreciated by his church and many friends.

Rev. W. C. Barrows, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home, with his wife, last Friday night, after a vacation of nearly three weeks, which was of great benefit to the health of both of them. They visited their children in Somerville, Mass., and Mr. Barrows also a brother, pastor in Marblehead, Mass. This brother, Rev. J. H. Barrows, was pastor at Tenant's Harbor, 16 years ago

Many People Say They Eat Better, Sleep Better, and Feel Better
when they drink

MOXIE
TRADE MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

It's a wholesome, healthy beverage for the whole family.

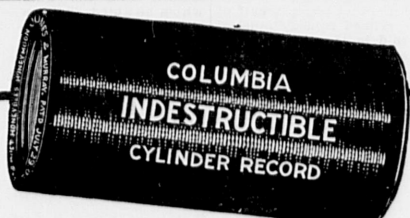

ROCKLAND PRODUCE CO., } Distributors
JOHN BIRD CO., }

HUB RANGES

Hub Range ovens are heated on five sides—this heats the oven evenly and quickly, saves fuel and makes them bake perfectly at all times.

SOLD BY
ROCKLAND HARDWARE CO.
ROCKLAND, MAINE
F. L. CURTIS
CAMDEN, MAINE

If you own a cylinder machine, of any make, you can get twice the pleasure out of it! Play Columbia Indestructible Records on it! Their tone is purer, clearer, fuller and more brilliant than that of any other record—and they won't break! They won't wear out! Use them, abuse them, neglect them—good as new!

35 cents! Call for a catalog! A splendid repertoire to choose from—and we are adding to it right along.

FOR SALE BY—
J. F. CARVER 297 MAIN STREET
ROCKLAND

IF YOU DO PAINT and most everybody does, try some of our INSIDE GLOSS

The white is a dandy, stands hot water and still retains the gloss.

EVERYTHING IN PAINTS AND BRUSHES

Rockland Hardware Co.
ROCKLAND

FAMOUS INDIAN PUDDING

And Delicious Roast Turkey Prepared By Mary A. Morse, Cook for 48 Years In Thomaston Family.

The servant girl problem, which great cities have had to solve in spite of their remarkable progress in all other directions, have no terrors for the family of Judge A. N. Linscott at Thomaston, where Miss Mary A. Morse, now in her 48th year, has served as cook and housekeeper 48 years.

Eight years ago, when she celebrated her 40th anniversary in that capacity, a brief news item found its way into the local papers and was quoted from the Atlantic to the Pacific with such additional comment as the facetious editors saw fit to annex. It was the unanimous verdict of all the newspapers that she must be an efficient "girl" to be kept so long, and that it must be a fine family in which she would consent to remain so long.

Judge A. N. Linscott is Thomaston's trial justice, and a gentleman of the old school. He married the daughter of Robert Walsh, a wealthy shipbuilder, and it is in the fine old-fashioned homestead which Mrs. Walsh erected on Knox street that Miss Morse has performed nearly half a century of faithful service.

She was born in South Warren, July 24, 1835, a daughter of Josiah and Lydia (Copeland) Morse. She received her schooling in South Warren, and while still a young woman entered the employ of Mrs. Richard Elliott in Thomaston as a domestic.

She began her service with the Walsh-Linscott family in 1861. Mr. Walsh was known as a "cultural provider," and the family, numbering at times seven persons, called into play Miss Morse's best efforts as cook. How well she succeeded may be judged from the fact that her food concoctions are famous for length and breadth of the town. Judge Linscott avers that he has traveled the country over and never found another cook who knew so well how to brown a turkey to the required nicety or prepare such delicious puddings. The women's club of which Mrs. Linscott is a member undoubtedly shares that opinion, for whenever the club meets at her home there is always an odor of roast turkey, and the members are created in smiles.

There's another dish for which the veteran cook is famous, so much so that Gen. Knox Chapter, D. A. R., incorporated the recipe in a book which has found entrance into the most select home circles of the country. Indian pudding is its name, and it is by no means an uncommon dish, except as prepared by Aunt Mary.

Readers of this paper interested in household hints, may like to know the recipe, and here it is:

"Two-thirds cup of Indian meal and one-third cup of flour, mixed together; beat one egg with two thirds cup of molasses in a bowl; add one teaspoonful of cassa, one large teaspoonful of suet (or butter) and salt. Let one quart of milk come to a boiling point, leaving one pint to stir in with the egg. When the milk comes to a boiling point stir in the meal and flour gradually. Let it stand and cool before putting in the egg and molasses; then bake four hours."

When asked for the secret of her successful cooking, Miss Morse modestly said: "I try to cook as mother used to."

In her childhood days Miss Morse spent many happy hours in and around the famous Knox mansion. Montpelier, the destruction of which is a source of lasting regret to all Thomastonians. The site of this building is in plain view, scarcely more than a stone's throw from the Linscott residence.

Knitting, sewing and reading are Aunt Mary's favorite occupations, but nothing pleases her more than to be doing something for the Methodist church, of which she has been a member 50 years, and to which she probably contributes more in accordance with her means than any other person in Thomaston.

Never but once was she ill enough to have a doctor. Not only does she have her "right out" whenever she pleases, but she takes vacation, sometimes lasting into several months, whenever she expresses the desire.

"She is a woman of great faithfulness in her work," said Judge Linscott and we do not wonder at it, for leaving the household affairs in her hands if we wish to be away on an extended absence. More than that she knows where to find any article in the house at a moment's notice."

"It's like home to me," was Miss Morse's simple reply, when asked why she had remained at one post so long.

One feature of the home deserves more than passing attention and that is the old-fashioned parlor, an apartment some 40 feet in length running the entire width of the house on the western side. Its panels are hung with imported paper which rivals the work of an artist painter, and which gives no inkling of its 50 years' service. Each panel has a different design. The room was papered by an expert who came on from New York for that purpose.

The floor is covered with a rich carpet which was imported from Liverpool over half a century ago. When it was taken up for the first time in 40 years it was found not to have faded in the slightest detail, while such was its texture that not a stray speck of dust had found its way beneath it.

Several articles of furniture which were used in Gen. Henry Knox's mansion are to be found in this household.

notably a dresser which Madame Knox used many years. It was purchased at auction by Mrs. Linscott's father, Commodore Thatcher, son-in-law of the Secretary of War, learned of the transaction, and caused the amount paid to be returned. A gracious letter in which he begged Mrs. Walsh to accept the dresser as a return for many courtesies received at her hospitable home is still treasured in the Linscott family.

The old-fashioned parlor and its interesting contents form one of historic Thomaston's show-places.

LIBERTY

Geo. Grinnell of Appleton was in this place Monday.

Adelbert Turner is working in Turner & Jones' mill.

Rafe Sukeforth has bought the Jesse Overlock buildings and will go into trade.

The lumber is all sawed at the mill of Prescott & Leiger and the mill is shut down for the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Leiger have a new boarder—a fine baby born May 7.

Mrs. E. Light is working for E. Leiger.

Joseph Overlock is shaving hoops for A. Overlock.

Some few of the farmers have planted potatoes.

Spencer Turner and wife visited in Appleton Sunday.

LIST OF LETTERS

Remained in the Rockland Postoffice May 8, 1909.

Published by Authority.

Persons calling for letters in the following list will please say they are called, otherwise they may not receive them.

Free delivery of letters by carriers at the residence of owners may be secured by observing the following suggestions.

First—Direct letters plainly to the street and number of the house.

Second—Read letters with the writers full address in the left hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Third—Letters to strangers or transient visitors or to town or city, whose special address may be unknown, should be marked in the lower left hand corner with the word "Transit."

Fourth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Fifth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

SIXTH—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

SEVENTH—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

EIGHTH—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

NINTH—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

TENTH—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Eleventh—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twelfth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Thirteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Fourteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Fifteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Sixteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Seventeenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Eighteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Nineteenth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twentieth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twenty-first—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

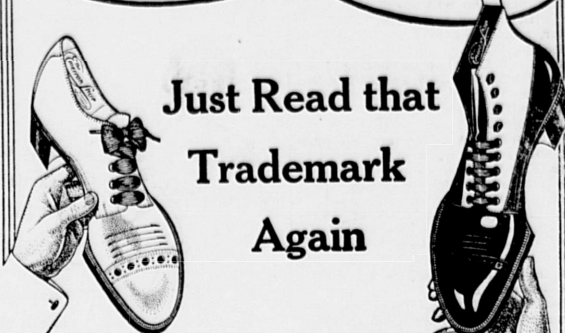

Twenty-second—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twenty-third—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twenty-fourth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

Twenty-fifth—Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and the address for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

The Emerson Shoe
HONEST ALL THROUGH

Just Read that Trademark
Again

It's a big statement to make, "Honest all through." But we would just like the chance to prove to you that it is true,—that every part of an Emerson is perfect,—that the workmanship leaves no neglected spots to weaken under the strain of service.

You can see the Snappy Style, you can see the exquisite finish. All we ask is that you drop in and feel the perfect fit while we prove the trademark to you.

Emerson Oxfords are built on lasts that prevent chafing at the heels and flaring edges at the ankles.

W. H. SPEAR

ROCKLAND, ME.

Magee RANGES

DO BEST WORK WITH LEAST TROUBLE

STANDARD OF NEW ENGLAND FOR OVER 50
YEARS

LARGEST LINE UNDER ONE NAME IN THE U S

ROCKLAND HARDWARE CO.

Security Trust Company

Money deposited in the SECURITY TRUST COMPANY earns 4 per cent interest for you, compounded every six months

Other forms of investment may offer a higher rate of interest, but are attended with some element of risk which never attaches to a deposit in the Security Trust Company. In addition, your money on deposit may be drawn upon at any time.

Deposits begin to draw interest from the first of each month. We solicit savings accounts from One Dollar up.

FIDELITY

The FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY of Portland, Maine, is increasing its business every month.

This Company not only pays FOUR PER CENT on Savings Deposits but it maintains a graduated scale of INTEREST on CHECKING ACCOUNTS, (fair, equal and liberal to all).

It may prove valuable to correspond with this institution regarding terms, etc., as accounts in either Savings or Checking departments are solicited and appreciated.

The convenience of our postal system, and the well regulated mail department of this Bank place you in a position to get interest on your deposits although you do not live in Portland.

Dr. Rowland J. Wasgatt
22 SUMMER ST., ROCKLAND, ME.

OFFICE HOURS—Until 9 a. m., 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 p. m. Telephone 294

A. W. FOSS, M. D.
Office and Residence

46 Summer Street, ROCKLAND

OFFICE HOURS—8-9 a. m., 1-3 and 7-8 p. m. TELEPHONE 343

H. KITTREDGE

APOTHECARY

Drugs, Medicines, Toilet Articles—Prescriptions a Specialty. MAIN STREET, ROCKLAND

OREL E. DAVIES OPTICIAN
ALL WORK IS WARRANTED
Main Street
OFF PARK

Tested every half hour at the mills, its uniform quality is guaranteed.

If you can find a single fault with it after a fair trial, your dealer will refund your money.

William Tell Flour

ANSTED & BURK COMPANY, Millers, Springfield, Ohio

For Sale at Your Grocer's

L. N. LITTLEHALE

WHITEHALL
CAMDEN, MAINE

Open for Season of 1909

Transients and Traveling Men served on American plan from a carefully prepared menu.

Special service at short notice to Family Dinner Parties, Clubs and Societies.

A few hours notice insures careful attention to every little detail of comfort and satisfaction. . . . Telephone 4-12.

LIKE A DROWNING MAN WILLING TO GRASP AT A STRAW

Andrew Trahey for many years a prominent citizen of Charlestown, Mass., sends us the following statement about the Kickapoo Remedies, and authorizes us to publish it.

Andrew Trahey, Charlestown, Mass.

"I was laid up with Dyspepsia, Pleurisy and Rheumatism for three years. I went to the best doctors within reach of five cent fare on street railway. None of them did me any good. I heard of the Kickapoo Remedies, and like a drowning man grasping at a straw I bought six bottles of Kickapoo Oil, and for three years have not been near a doctor or taken any medicine. The Kickapoo Remedies cured me of Dyspepsia, Pleurisy and Rheumatism and restored my health. No one in health can appreciate the statement I am making. I am sending it for publication for those who are suffering as I did, that they may receive the same benefit I did."

Kickapoo Sagwa cures disease of the stomach, liver, blood. Kickapoo Oil, the healing liniment, should be in every household. It stops all pains, carache, toothache, headache, rheumatic pain, weak back, and all acute pains, external or internal. The Kickapoo Remedies are sold by all druggists. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.