

THE COURIER-GAZETTE.

TWICE-A-WEEK . . . TUESDAY AND SATURDAY

TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

ROCKLAND, MAINE, SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1909.

VOL. 64. NO. 63

Men's Summer Suits

At $15.00

This is an Unusual Opportunity

Take advantage of it without delay, if you want as good a suit as any ever sold at $20, at the popular price of $15.

The lot consists of Sack Suits (with vest) and coat and trousers suits of most advanced fashion in the most popular fabrics. The quantity at this special price is limited however, so act quickly, if you want to "get in" on the deal.

As all sizes are in the assortment, you can be sure of a perfect fit—but come early for best picking.

The coats are two and three-button single breasted, of correct vogue; trousers of newest cut, with or without turned-up bottoms. Rare value indeed for the shrewd buyer.

Thin Underwear, Coat Cut Shirts—all makes, 50 cents up-ward.

O. E. BLACKINGTON & SON
Clothing and Shoe Dealers

SHIRTS AT COST

In order to make room for fall stock I am going to sell the balance of my

CLUETT AND MONARCH SHIRTS

At cost for the next two weeks beginning,

Saturday July 31 until Saturday Aug. 14

CLUETT $1.50 Shirts at $1.19

MONARCH $1.00 Shirts at 79c

ALL NEW SUMMER STYLES AND PATTERNS

Also one lot of 25c Wash Ties to go for
17c each, 3 for 50c

E. ROY SMITH

391 MAIN STREET

DINNER WARE

In looking through our stock we found some patterns of Dinner Ware that seemed to be slow sellers, not because of quality but on account of the patterns.

We are going to have a clearance sale of this ware, and those who are not over particular and fussy can get some exceptionally good ware at nearly half price.

112 piece Dinner Set, in brown, blue and green, regular price $8.50. This sale $4.98

112 piece Dinner Set, two colors, worth $8.00. This sale $3.98

Bassetts' Semi Porcelain Dinner Sets, pink decorations, worth $16.00. This sale $11.50

Bassetts' China Dinner Sets, pink and green, regular price $23.00. This sale $14.65

Dinner Sets, broken sizes, enough for breakfast and supper sets, at half price.

Haviland Tea Plates, worth $5.00 a dozen. This sale $2.98 a doz.

Haviland Tea Cups and Saucers, worth $4.50 a dozen. This sale $2.98 a doz.

Sweet Pea Vases, worth 43 cents each. This sale 25c each

THESE ARE HOT WEATHER PRICES

CARPET DEPARTMENT--PHONE 400-II

FULLER-COBB CO.

The Courier-Gazette.

TWICE-A-WEEK

ALL THE HOME NEWS

Published every Tuesday and Saturday morning from 400 Main Street, Rockland, Maine.

BY THE ROCKLAND PUBLISHING CO.

Subscription $2 per year in advance; $2.50 if paid at the end of the year; single copies three cents.

Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

Communications upon topics of general interest are solicited.

Entered at the postoffice at Rockland for circulation at second-class postal rates.

NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846; in 1874 the Courier was established, and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1885, and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

The greatest thing in the world is a good man, and all good flows out of a spring called a great heart.—N. McGee Waters.

The spectroscope has revealed the presence of water on Mars, says an exchange. Anything stronger?

The Republican party is ranged on the side of local option in the Virginia campaign. The liquor question is the chief issue, as it is in about all the other states at the present time.

At least a million cigarettes were sold in Minneapolis last Sunday. The reason for this rush on the market is found in the fact that the new state law prohibited the sale of that brand of smoking material after that date.

Twenty-four years is a long time for a ship to be away from its home port, but that is the record of a whaling bark that recently docked in New Bedford. The vessel left New Bedford in 1884, for a voyage around Cape Horn, and since has been engaged most of the time in whaling in northern latitudes.

"What this town ought to have," said the man just back from London, "is a water-cress market. Greatest cure for all kinds of stomach troubles you ever saw. Over there they sell water-cress early in the morning. I've seen all kinds of people with portions of water-cress and eat it with a bit of bread right on the spot. They say it is an infallible cure for any stomach ailment."—New York Sun.

The expedition which will carry relief supplies to Peary, in the far north, left St. Johns, Tuesday. The 88 tons schooner Jeanie, will take 50 tons of coal and the same amount of stores, which she will land at Etah, Greenland, to supplement the supplies on Peary's steamer Roosevelt. The schooner will not remain long at Etah. If Commander Peary is not at Etah, the Jeanie will leave as soon as she has discharged her cargo, bringing any despatches Peary may have left.

Two new Taft stories were put in circulation Saturday. One involves Senator Borah of Idaho, and the other Senator Bourne of Oregon. Senator Borah was summoned to the White House a few days ago. He was ushered in to the President, who told him that certain members of Congress were pestering him to agree to the exorbitant Littauer rates on women's gloves.

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

The secret of the friendship of Senator Bourne and the President is out. Senator Bourne was the most rabid of Roosevelt shouters, and he made a serious effort to defeat Mr. Taft at the Chicago convention. Nowadays the two men are chums on the golf links.

"How does it come that you and Bourne are so thick?" asked one of the President's visitors. "He certainly was against you for the Presidency and tried to upset your ambitions with his second elective term theory." "You can't expect me to quarrel with Bourne because he believes in a second elective term, can you?" asked the President. "I am somewhat of a believer in that doctrine myself."

"What would you tell 'em, Senator?" asked the President.

"Tell them to go to the devil," answered Senator Borah.

"I did," answered Mr. Taft.

ATTENTION!

CONSUMERS OF COAL
TAKE NOTICE!
COAL WILL BE HIGHER

The price of Coal is low and may advance at any time. Why not buy your winter's supply now and take advantage of the present prices? If you do not, don't blame your Coal man should you pay more later on. I have a complete stock of all sizes of the Veri-Best Coal and can fill all orders promptly.

FRED R. SPEAR

5 Park Street

NO HIGH SCHOOLS.

What Pupils May Do in Towns Not Thus Supplied.

State Superintendent of Schools Payson Smith is sending out the following circulars with enclosed application forms to superintendents in the smaller towns, which do not support a free high school:

Your attention is hereby called to Chapter 116 of the Public Laws of 1909, amending Section 63 of Chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes, which states that a youth residing with a parent or guardian in a town not supporting or maintaining a free high school may attend an approved high school or academy of standard grade, provided that he shall have satisfactorily passed an examination conducted by the superintendent of schools of the town in which he resides, papers for said examination having been procured from the state superintendent of public schools.

Agreeable to this law, questions will be set in the following subjects: Reading, spelling, English grammar, geography, history, (including civil government), arithmetic, and physiology. (with special reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics.) These examination papers will be ready for distribution on Aug. 15. Local superintendents should appoint some day between Aug. 25 and Sept. 1 for conducting the examination. Students certified on local examinations given prior to July 3, 1909, will not be required to take an additional examination for entrance in September, 1909.

We Are Doing Business

Even if this is the vacation season and the time of the people is taken up in having a good time.

The wise ones, however, have been coming to our store to take advantage of the tremendous slaughter in prices we have made on reasonable clothing and furnishings.

If you want reasonable goods of a high quality marked at prices lower than ever before quoted in this city, come now.

Money back if goods are not as represented. Come in, look around—you will find our proposition the coolest ever presented.

Boston Clothing Store

SEE THE BIG SIGNS

SUNDAY OUTING TRIPS

UNTIL SEPTEMBER 5TH, (INCLUSIVE)

New Turbine Steel Steamers, Belfast or Camden

To BANGOR and Return		From ROCKLAND
Special Round Trip Sunday Rates		To	From
From	Par	Bar Harbor, $2.00	5:15 a. m.
Rockland, $1.00	5:15 a. m.	Bluehill, 1.50	5:15 a. m.
Camden, 1.00	6:00 a. m.	Sedgwick, 1.00	5:15 a. m.

Returning, steamer leaves Bangor at 2:00 p. m.

Between all points on the Mount Desert and Bluehill Division

ONE FARE FOR THE ROUND TRIP

Returning, steamers leave Bar Harbor 1:30 p. m., Bluehill 4:00 p. m., Sedgwick 3:00 p. m.

SPLENDID DINING ROOM SERVICE

Eastern Steamship Company

601

335

Paper Boxes

Clothing, Florist,

Cake and Lunch Boxes,

Folding Candy Boxes,

Butter Cartons,

Shelf Boxes,

Shoe Cartons and

Druggist Boxes

BANGOR BOX CO.

BANGOR, ME. 174

Pure

Refined

Paraffine

The BEST WAY to seal

Jelly Glasses and Fruit

Jars.

Sold in blocks weighing about one pound.

15 Cents At

HILLS' DRUG STORE

390 MAIN STREET

The Courier-Gazette

Twice-A-Week.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, August 6, 1909.
Personally appeared Harold G. Cole, who on oath declares that he is pressman in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of the Courier-Gazette of August 3, 1909, there was printed a total of 4,297 copies before me:
J. W. CROCKER
Notary Public.

On another page we publish by request a copy of the charge in the Samuel D. Haynes murder case delivered by Judge Danforth at the time of that famous trial; also some extracts from the stenographic report of the prisoner's own testimony. The purpose of the remonstrance in having these matters given publicity on the heels of a fifth denial of pardon is twofold. Mr. Haynes has already served notice that he will make still another attempt to secure a pardon. While the matter is still fresh in the public mind those who oppose his liberty desire to have it known under just what circumstances he was convicted, and they believe that a careful reading of the judge's charge will disabuse in many minds the feeling that a life sentence is perhaps not a just one. In justice to the prisoner it should be said that the portions of his testimony quoted in connection with the charge are only those which were used by the state in opposing the granting of a pardon.

Robert J. Burdette, the humorist, is compelled by serious illness to resign his pastorate of the Temple Baptist church in Los Angeles. There is no state in the Union where this announcement will not cause a feeling of sorrow and regret. The world cannot spare a man who has made it laugh and think as Mr. Burdette has.

A Methodist pastor in Indiana has just been presented with 60 acres of land worth about $700, the gift of a parishioner who is grateful because of the brevity of the pastor's sermons. Mere brevity, however, did not win the prize. Pointedness was another consideration.

The 119th anniversary of the establishment of the U. S. revenue cutter service was formally observed Wednesday. All honor to Uncle Sam's faithful men! No fuss, no frills and no feathers, but the revenue cutter crews are Johnny on the spot when they are needed.

Because he has bought a farm in Texas it does not follow that William Jennings Bryan is going to reside there. On the contrary he says: "I am a fixture in Nebraska." And at the head of the Democratic Presidential ticket, he might well have added.

The announcement that Charles W. Morse is to resume personal control of the Hudson Navigation Co., which owns several important lines, is a reminder that the Maine man still possesses plenty of pluck and "get there."

A MIDSUMMER FAIR

Ladies of the Congregational Church Added a Goodly Sum to the Treasury

The ladies of the Congregational church scored another triumph Wednesday with their midsummer fair, which netted between $300 and $400. The attendance was very large during the afternoon and supper hour found several of the departments practically sold out.

The church parlors were very prettily decorated with the products of the woodlands in the form of flowers, ferns, pine, etc. Mrs. H. A. Buffum was chairman of the committee which had this work in charge, and was assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Rose. Four pine trees formed the corners of the central booth, which was festooned with woodbine and other green vines. Japanese lanterns added a dash of color. Nothing but firm pillows was sold at this booth in charge of which were Mrs. John I. Snow, Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Mrs. Alfred Keyes, Mrs. Robert Snow, Mrs. Carleton F. Snow, Mrs. Thomas P. Hayden, Mrs. Philip Howard and Mrs. R. J. Wasegatt.

Something new in the grab-bag line was the rustic wicker of birch bark and trimmed with woodbine. All who went to the well found something refreshing in turn for the toll they paid. Mrs. Charles Rose was chairman of this committee and was assisted by Katherine Spear and Geneva Rose.

Another popular department was the table room, which was under the charge of Mrs. Emily C. Hitchcock. Mrs. Austin Philbrick served tea and Mrs. S. H. Webb had charge of the tables, assisted by Marion Healey, Frances Paladino, Bessie Healey and Esther Prescott.

Other departments were under the charge of the following ladies: Cake table, Mrs. G. W. Foster, chairman; Mrs. Mayo P. Simonton, Mrs. W. M. Purinton and Miss Alena Young; ice cream, Mrs. J. F. Cooper, chairman; Mrs. H. B. Fales and Mrs. A. T. Newhall; fancy work, Mrs. A. W. Butler, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Hill, Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Mrs. N. T. Farwell and Mrs. J. E. Clark; apron table, Mrs. D. N. Mortland, chairman; and Miss Emma C. Litchfield; candy, Mrs. E. K. Leighton, chairman; Miss Elizabeth Barrett, Miss Jeanette Healey, Miss Martha Simmons and Miss Alice Webb; dollar table, Mrs. E. D. Spear, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Davis, Mrs. C. I. Burrows and Mrs. P. C. Norton. A special table contained fancy work made by Mrs. E. A. Sellers both in this country and abroad. Mrs. A. T. Blackington was guardian of the door.

The evening entertainment drew a large and appreciative audience, which found an exceptional treat in the piano selections by Mrs. Edward Hartness, but which had a greeting of no less warmth for the vocal soloist, Miss Abbie Bird and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong. Miss Marion Cobb was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Read This!

Seamen wanted every day for vessels bound to the Cape Cod Canal. Apply to

JOHN S. RANLETT

95 SEA STREET, ROCKLAND

AT HIS FINGER TIPS.

Major Lord Probably Knows More About Tariff Bill Than Any Other Man.

Major Herbert M. Lord, U. S. A., comes out of the tariff deliberations with a unique experience. He is probably the only man who ever held confidential positions under both the House and who, in that confidential capacity, has followed a tariff bill through the ways and means committee and also through the finance committee. The moment Chairman Payne of ways and means was through with Maj. Lord, Chairman Aldrich of the finance committee wanted him.

But the army paymaster from Rockland has actually been identified with the making of the tariff bill before it was taken up by the ways and means committee. He was detailed to Auburn, N. Y., last summer and there was set to work to aid Chairman Payne in the preparation of information that would guide the ways and means committee in making up the bill. It was two months ago that the finance committee completed its report but Chairman Aldrich has kept Maj. Lord in Washington to help him about a thousand and one things. He has had a room over in the Senate office building, where he has had charge of a lot of statistical work, but nearly every afternoon has been on the floor of the Senate to follow the statements of different senators about tariff and to supply information, suggested by such statements to the committee.

Hence it is that probably Maj. Lord knows more about the history of the Aldrich-Payne bill than any other man. Chairman Payne's information about the history of the bill is confined, for instance, largely to what was done with it at the south end of the Capitol. The Republicans of both tariff committees have been especially complimentary about Maj. Lord's work as a tariff expert. Sen. Aldrich testified to it publicly during a discussion in the Senate. Sen. Hale has been especially appreciative of Maj. Lord's efforts. His big work was "Tariff Notes," a bulky volume showing the history of divers items in the bill, all arranged for ready reference. It is conceded that never before in the making of tariffs has there been so complete a presentation of information in accessible form for all concerned. This holds true of the House as well as the Senate and it is due in the main to Maj. Lord's foresight in anticipating what would be wanted and his accuracy in getting what was asked for.

He obtained his training for the work 12 years ago when he was clerk of the Maine coast. He has been granted three months' leave by the War department and will spend a considerable portion of it in his native state. Late in the autumn he expects to return to Omaha, which is his official station. He has had an excellent record as a paymaster, having been stationed in the Philippines, in Cuba, at Boston and St. Paul during his service since the beginning of the Spanish war. Some of his friends believe that before many years he will be made paymaster general of the army. There are many influential men in public life who will help him to the assignment, when he has reached a sufficiently high rank to rate the command of the pay corps.

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Tenant's Harbor Young Man Shipwrecked in Southern Waters.

Capt. George F. Brown of Tenant's Harbor, commanding schooner D. H. Rival, loaded with iron and iron, has arrived at Stockton Springs just before 10 o'clock. Capt. Brown and wife arrived at the Harbor last Monday, accompanied by their son Chas. E. Brown. The schooner had passed through a thrilling experience, one that would keep the most of us from venturing on a sea voyage. He shipped on the schooner Benjamin C. Frith, Capt. Fred Hart of Rival, who was sailing from Port Royal, S. C., loaded with 628 feet of Southern pine. This is said to be one of the largest cargoes carried by coast sailing vessels. She was bound for New York.

When the steam tug, with pilot aboard, was piloting the schooner out to sea, just as she reached Bell buoy, near Martin's Industrial Shoals, her bow parted. Capt. Hart ordered the fore sail main sail to be lowered, and with much difficulty attached his hawsens again to the tug, which very soon parted the second time. The anchor Rival, however, on dropping, immediately the anchor chain parted. Sails were at once ordered up, and the captain put forth his best endeavors to get his vessel out of the trough of the sea, and away from the Shoals. But his efforts were fruitless.

The schooner pounded so badly on the shoal that soon her bottom was broken in, and she began to fill, and the sea broke over her.

The captain at once saw that their only safety lay in fleeing to the yawl boat. Hurriedly it was lowered, and the captain, crew, and one passenger, ten in all, landed on it. It was now about 9:30 in the morning and the yawl boat was held under the lee of the schooner till 1:30 next morning, when the Captain thought it better to attempt the dangerous experiment of reaching the Harbor. After a perilous voyage of twelve miles, they entered the Harbor to find their tug just coming out. They all boarded the tug and proceeded back to the schooner. But finding themselves unable to secure any of their belongings, for they had lost everything except what they had on, they made their way back on the tug to Port Royal.

It was estimated that Capt. Hart's schooner will be almost an entire wreck, will be almost an entire wreck. Wreckers have saved her sails, and are trying to rescue part at least, of her valuable cargo of iron and iron.

Capt. Chas. Holbrook of the Harbor, has arrived at New York, and his wife and daughter Grace have gone on to meet him.

THE TARIFF BILL

The Senate Thursday afternoon adopted the conference report on the tariff bill, which effects the final passage of that bill through Congress. The vote was 47 ayes, 31 noes. The bill received all the Republican votes except those of Bristow, Clapp, Cummins, Dooliver, LaFollette, Beveridge and Nelson.

BRING your orders for printing of all kinds to THE COURIER-GAZETTE office. Everything up-to-date in paper, stock and type.

423 Main Street, Rockland

That's Where Your Friends Get The BEST STANDARD 60c Teas 24c

BEST STANDARD 35c Coffees 18c

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. NOW WHY DON'T YOU?

DIRECT IMPORTING CO.

OVER MAYO'S CLOTHING STORE—Up One Flight—OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

FRUIT JARS

A DEMONSTRATION

.....OF THE.....

ECONOMY FRUIT JAR

Will take place at the STORE OF A. ROSS WEEKS, commencing Monday, August 2, and continuing until Saturday Evening, August 7, when fruit, meats, berries and vegetables will be canned and practical information cheerfully rendered to all interested in the art. Very particular attention will be given to the canning of vegetables which is now becoming so popular.

A. ROSS WEEKS

405 Main Street

ANNUAL CLOSING PARTY

Young Folks Scored a Hit In Prof. Rankin's Exhibition Dance Tuesday Evening.

The annual closing party of Prof. R. C. Rankin's dancing class took place in the Pilsbury hall Tuesday evening, furnishing a most interesting entertainment not only for the participants, but for the parents and friends, who appeared in the capacity of spectators until the dance became general.

The program as presented by the dancing pupils included the following numbers: Varsouviana, lancers, German polka, Ontario and three-step, with specialties in the form of a skirt dance, gracefully performed by Isabel Smith and a sailors' dance by 16 of the smaller pupils, in which Edward Norton did a star act as "soloist."

Prof. Rankin's class this year was made up of the following young folks: Lawrence MacAllister, Edna MacAllister, Edward Norton, Marion Norton, Jerome Burrows, Doris Black, Jack Black, Conrad Howard, Gladys French, Marion McLean, Isabel Smith, Marion Henley, Mollie Robbins, Catherine McIntire, Harlan Bird, Therese White, Standish Perry, Lucile Perry, Donald Gregory, Mary Coughlin, Albert K. Glover, Charlie Berry, Charlie Wotton and Edith Perry.

The Ontario and three-step held an unusual amount of interest for the spectators for the reason that they were presented in this city for the first time on a public occasion. The Ontario is a combination of the two-step and four glides, while the three-step consists of three gliding steps and three waltz steps. Prof. Rankin, who is probably one of the best authorities in the country on dancing, is enthusiastic over the three-step, which he pronounced a beautiful dance when properly executed.

At the close of the children's party the dancing became general, lasting until midnight. Cecil Copping's Trio furnished music.

It was Prof. Rankin's 27th season in this city, although it is nearer 30 years since he began to initiate willing students into the mysteries of the terpsichorean art. He left Thursday night for Boston, where after a week's visit, he will pursue his journey across the continent, back to San Francisco, where his duties as dancing master furnish employment 40 weeks of the year.

DANCING PARTY

Given by Penobscot View Grange

AT GRANGE HALL, GLENCOVE

Tuesday, Aug. 10

Music by Singleton's Orchestra

Tickets—Gentlemen 35c

Ladies 15c

Care to Rockland and Camden after the dance.

61-62

Public Auction

64 MECHANIC STREET

ROCKLAND

Tuesday, August 10

AT 9.00 A. M.

Will be sold 6 horses, weighing from 1100 to 1225 lbs., sound, young and kind, 4 coaches, 3 grocery wagons, 4 sleds, 3 sleighs and a pump, harnesses, 10 robes, 10 blankets, household goods, paving cutters' and stone cutters' tools, boots and shoes, hats, caps and rubber goods, and everything usually found in a general store.

If Tuesday is stormy the sale will begin the first fair day at 9 o'clock.

TERMS CASH

W. H. SIMMONS, Auctioneer

62-63

INVADED CRESCENT BEACH

Eastern Star Field Day Association Had A Fine Outing There Wednesday

The 7th annual meeting of the Knox County Field Day Association, held at Crescent Beach, Wednesday, brought together nearly 250 members of the Order of Eastern Star, and was by all odds, the most successful meeting that organization has yet held.

The weather was especially ordered for the occasion by Mrs. Sarah L. Pascal, the president of the Association. Plochy clouds tempered the sun's heat, and a grateful breeze fanned the flushed cheeks of the happy merry-makers. It was the kind of a day that made one year for an outing—and membership in the Eastern Star. The good things they enjoyed the shore dinner as served at the Crescent Beach house.

Harry S. Washington, wife and little daughter Harriet of Huntington, W. Va., have returned to the Crescent Beach House for their usual summer stay. The Methuen Club picnicked with Mrs. L. H. Hart last Thursday. Tables were spread under the trees, well laden with good things. Miss Harriet Abbott entertained the ladies in the afternoon with her most original story, composed of book titles.

Ms. Elwood Tolman of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Kelley of Fairfield and James Giofay of Messina, Italy, are here on a summer sojourn. Isn't it about time that somebody agitated the matter of a croquet tournament? A few spadefuls of earth deposited in the right places would put the ground in proper condition.

Peter Gray's cottage as usual is the scene of a jolly house party. The present guests are Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle of New York, Mrs. Sharpe and Mrs. Harwood and daughter of Philadelphia.

A bug which looks like he might be a real cousin to the cockroach has lately made his appearance in town, showing a marked preference for fruit stores. He is a real sociable critter, and is made welcome for the reason that ants do not tarry in the same neighborhood. One dealer, who has had no end of trouble with ants, and whose store is now quite free of them, is thinking of having the next Legislature pass a law giving protection to the strange bug.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Pascal, the acting president. Reports were presented by the secretary pro tem, Mrs. Julia Libby of Rockport and the treasurer, Mrs. George Chapin of Rockland. The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Hester Chase, Golden Rod Chapter, Rockland.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Mida Packard, Golden Rod; Miss Teresa Arau, Seaside, Camden; Mrs. Elizabeth Spear, Harbor Light, Rockport; Mrs. Dana Wright, Naomi, Tenant's Harbor; Mrs. Agnes Bartlett, Fort-tren-street, South Thomaston; Mrs. Susie Robbins, Orient, Union; Mrs. Lilla Ames, Ivy, Warren; Miss Nettie Sampson, Grace, Thomaston; Mrs. Pauline Pierpont, Fond du Lac, Washington; Mrs. Maggie Kousuth, Marguerite, Vinahaven.

Secretary—Mrs. Anna Davis, Golden Rod.

Treasurer—Mrs. Agnes Coombs, Seaside.

With the affairs of state disposed of the members listened with much appreciation to the rendering of the following program: Piano solo, Miss Helen Spear, Rockport; vocal solos, Miss Grace Walker, Warren, and Mrs. I. E. Lucie, Rockland; vocal duet, the Misses Packard, Camden; orchestra selection, the Collins trio, Watertown, Mass. Miss Walker and Mrs. Lucie responded to encores.

The selection by the Collins trio was an interesting treat. The father of these musicians was formerly leader of the First Regiment Heavy Artillery Band of Massachusetts and his talent has descended to the children.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to dancing, with music by Singleton's orchestra, which also furnished music for the evening's dancing. A picnic supper was served, and quite a number of the members improved the opportunity to have a nice fish supper at the Crescent Beach house.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held at Knox hospital Monday afternoon. After giving attention to the conditions of the hospital the ladies found the following articles were very much needed: Table linen, knives, forks, spoons, salt and pepper, cream pitchers, sugar bowls, platters, cups and saucers, butter chip, and small chairs for the bed rooms. Would the housekeeper please consult their store room and see what they can find for the good of the hospital.

Obituary.

MRS. B. S. FIFELED.

The news of the death of Mrs. Ethel Linnie Fifeled, wife of Rev. B. S. Fifeled, of this city, Sunday morning, Aug. 1, came with a great shock to relatives and friends. Mrs. Fifeled was born in Islesboro, June 2, 1859, and was the daughter of Walter S. and Constantia A. Cookson. She was one of five children, only one of whom—a daughter—survives. At the age of 23 Mrs. Fifeled experienced conversion, uniting with the Baptist church in Medford, Mass., where she was then residing. On March 14, 1884, she was married to Rev. B. S. Fifeled at the Baptist parsonage, Rockland, by Rev. J. H. Parshley, and united that same year with the Free Baptist church at Stonington, where Mr. Fifeled held a pastorate. After four years' ministry here, the family moved to Boothbay, where they resided for the next four years; when her husband became pastor of the presbyterian Memorial church, Rockland, in which city they have since made their home. July 17, 1906, Mrs. Fifeled, by her husband, united with the First Baptist church by letter. Mr. Fifeled having resigned his pastorate here after two years' service, Mrs. Fifeled was the second wife of B. S. Fifeled and bore him ten children, eight of whom are living, two babes dying when the mother passed away. The union so suddenly terminated by her unexpected death, was close, tender and happy. Mrs. Fifeled was a woman of sweet and gentle spirit, of sound judgment and a mother most devoted to her children and possessing rare gifts for home administration and tact in training her offspring. As a stepmother she was all that could be desired. Her life was loved and respected by the children of the first wife to the last. She was a genuine Christian woman, but the evidences, of necessity, were to be seen and felt more in the home than in the official ministry, although she cooperated with her husband in all his work so far as possible. Her loss to husband and home is beyond words to express. The deepest sympathy of all go out to this so sorely afflicted family.

CRESCENT BEACH CHAT

Breezy Items From One of Maine's Most Popular Summer Resorts.

Allen E. French, wife and daughter Gwendolyn of Rio Janeiro, Brazil, accompanied by Mr. French's sister, Miss Erminie French of Waltham, Mass., took dinner at the Crescent Beach House. They are spending the summer at Northport. Mr. French is an engineer. He is located in a very unagitated manner in a croquet tournament. They enjoyed the shore dinner as served at the Crescent Beach house.

Harry S. Washington, wife and little daughter Harriet of Huntington, W. Va., have returned to the Crescent Beach House for their usual summer stay. The Methuen Club picnicked with Mrs. L. H. Hart last Thursday. Tables were spread under the trees, well laden with good things. Miss Harriet Abbott entertained the ladies in the afternoon with her most original story, composed of book titles.

Ms. Elwood Tolman of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Kelley of Fairfield and James Giofay of Messina, Italy, are here on a summer sojourn. Isn't it about time that somebody agitated the matter of a croquet tournament? A few spadefuls of earth deposited in the right places would put the ground in proper condition.

Peter Gray's cottage as usual is the scene of a jolly house party. The present guests are Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle of New York, Mrs. Sharpe and Mrs. Harwood and daughter of Philadelphia.

A bug which looks like he might be a real cousin to the cockroach has lately made his appearance in town, showing a marked preference for fruit stores. He is a real sociable critter, and is made welcome for the reason that ants do not tarry in the same neighborhood. One dealer, who has had no end of trouble with ants, and whose store is now quite free of them, is thinking of having the next Legislature pass a law giving protection to the strange bug.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Pascal, the acting president. Reports were presented by the secretary pro tem, Mrs. Julia Libby of Rockport and the treasurer, Mrs. George Chapin of Rockland. The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Hester Chase, Golden Rod Chapter, Rockland.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Mida Packard, Golden Rod; Miss Teresa Arau, Seaside, Camden; Mrs. Elizabeth Spear, Harbor Light, Rockport; Mrs. Dana Wright, Naomi, Tenant's Harbor; Mrs. Agnes Bartlett, Fort-tren-street, South Thomaston; Mrs. Susie Robbins, Orient, Union; Mrs. Lilla Ames, Ivy, Warren; Miss Nettie Sampson, Grace, Thomaston; Mrs. Pauline Pierpont, Fond du Lac, Washington; Mrs. Maggie Kousuth, Marguerite, Vinahaven.

Secretary—Mrs. Anna Davis, Golden Rod.

Treasurer—Mrs. Agnes Coombs, Seaside.

With the affairs of state disposed of the members listened with much appreciation to the rendering of the following program: Piano solo, Miss Helen Spear, Rockport; vocal solos, Miss Grace Walker, Warren, and Mrs. I. E. Lucie, Rockland; vocal duet, the Misses Packard, Camden; orchestra selection, the Collins trio, Watertown, Mass. Miss Walker and Mrs. Lucie responded to encores.

The selection by the Collins trio was an interesting treat. The father of these musicians was formerly leader of the First Regiment Heavy Artillery Band of Massachusetts and his talent has descended to the children.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to dancing, with music by Singleton's orchestra, which also furnished music for the evening's dancing. A picnic supper was served, and quite a number of the members improved the opportunity to have a nice fish supper at the Crescent Beach house.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held at Knox hospital Monday afternoon. After giving attention to the conditions of the hospital the ladies found the following articles were very much needed: Table linen, knives, forks, spoons, salt and pepper, cream pitchers, sugar bowls, platters, cups and saucers, butter chip, and small chairs for the bed rooms. Would the housekeeper please consult their store room and see what they can find for the good of the hospital.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST

CLAIRVOYANT PALMIST

— AND —

MENTAL SCIENTIST

ELMER

At a glance, this famous master of unseen influences gives you proof of his power to know and reveal to you secrets of life which concern you and your success.

No matter what failures, disappointments, sorrows or misfortunes have come into your life, or appear to be coming, by knowing the secret ways of nature, the secret thoughts, actions, power, habits, and intentions of those in your life, or those coming into your life, you may save all trouble, losses and disappointment in Business, Love, Marriage, Divorce, Changes, Courtship, Health, Lawsuits, Travel, Property, Family Difficulties, etc.

ELMER KNOWS ALL

Almost at a glance, a single touch of your hand Elmer knows you, your hopes, fears, desires, troubles, opportunities, possibilities, mistakes and errors.

Elmer guides you out of your present difficulties and sees into your future by means of this mighty and mysterious power.

YOUR DESIRE SECURED

Any earnest wish or desire you may have concerning yourself or any other anything will be quickly and permanently secured for you through a perfectly natural system of nature's law, understood and operated by Elmer only.

This name of Elmer is well known to all those who are interested in Clairvoyance. He is the absolute leader of his profession. He is consulted daily by men of affairs and women of society who ordinarily would secure the ideas of going to the average Palmist or Clairvoyant.

He develops Mediumship, Psychic Powers and Personal Magnetism which triumphs over all obstacles.

NARRAGANSETT HOTEL, Ladies' Parlor

ROCKLAND, Park Street.

50c and $1.00 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

NEW LINE

NECKWEAR

FOR THE LADIES—

Laundered and Soft Collars, Lawn

Ties, Bows in Irish Lace and Lawn,

Jabots, etc., just received.

FOR THE CHILDREN—

P. K. Carriage Robes, $1.25 to $3.00

Rompers, 50c. All colors and sizes

1 lot Lawn Hats, that were $1.50 to $2.50, for 75c.

Sun Bonnets and Wash Hats, 25c

and 50c.

P. K. Reefers, 75c to $2.00.

THE LADIES' STORE

MRS. E. F. CROCKETT

OPP. FULLER-COBB CO.

Subscribers at United States "Lloyds"

Marine Ins. Underwriters of New York, N. Y.

Assets Dec. 31, 1908.

Stocks and bonds, $45,200.00

Extra Bargains

....AT THE....

Boston Clothing Store

All of our 35c Men's Summer Underwear to close at 16c

About 25 doz. Men's White Handkerchiefs worth 10c while they last 2c

Best 50c Men's Working Shirts 37c

About 10 doz. Khaki Shirts 39c

Best $1.75 Khaki Pants $1.19

Men's latest style $12 Suits to close at $5.98

Spring and Fall Top Goods, price $18.50, $4.98

$1.00 Overalls 69c

50c and 75c Overalls 37c

The Greatest Bargains in Men's Pants Ever Offered in This Section

Over 1000 pairs of various kinds of $1.50 Wool Pants 59c

Best $4.50 and $5.00 Worsted Pants $2.48

SHOES

$2.00 Calfskin Shoes $1.29

$2.50 Shoes $1.48

All of our $4.00 Shoes in patent leather, gun metal, russets and various other styles $2.89

25c Boston Whittemore Blacking 15c

And Thousands of Other Bargains too numerous to mention

NOTICE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

BOSTON CLOTHING STORE

365 Main St., Rockland

THE STORE FOR THE MONEY-SAVING PEOPLE

Talk of the Town

Coming Neighborhood Events.

Aug. 7—Nashua—Camp Darrell vs. Warren at Warren.

Aug. 8—Northport Campmeeting.

Aug. 11—State Grange Field Meeting at Oakland Park.

Aug. 11—Knox Pomona Field Day at Oakland Park.

Aug. 11—Annual White Duck Ball at Watte Hall, Thomaston.

Aug. 11—Miss Marion Wilson at Universalist church.

Aug. 12—Union Sunday school picnic at Oakland Park.

Aug. 13—Marion Wilson, impersonator, at Watte Hall, Thomaston.

Aug. 14—Rockport Y. M. C. A. Field Day at Rockport.

Aug. 14—22—Spiritualist Camp meeting at Temple Heights.

Aug. 14—22—Washington Campmeeting.

Aug. 16—21—Klar-Urban Co. at Farwell opera house.

Sept. 7—Lincoln Baptist Association meets with Baptist church, Warren.

Family Reunions.

Aug. 11—Bills family at Charles Gleason's, Union.

Aug. 11—Butler family at Oakland.

Aug. 11—Fourth annual reunion of descendents of Ebenezer Hall at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove.

Aug. 11—Macy family at Oakland Park.

Aug. 17—Simmons family in the grove near the home of E. G. Simmons, Appleton.

Aug. 18—Caldwell family at Memorial hall, Vinalhaven.

Aug. 19—Newbert family in Grove of Lorenzo Newbert, North Waldoboro.

Aug. 19—Martin family at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove.

Aug. 19—Oxton family at Oakland.

Aug. 19—Brewster family at Oakland Park.

Aug. 19—Ingraham family at Oakland Park.

Aug. 19—Lassell and Sweetland families at James C. Fuller's, Appleton.

Aug. 19—Starrett-Spear families at Reunion Grove, Warren.

Aug. 19—Shibles family at Grange hall, Glen Cove.

Aug. 25—Kathoe family at Crescent Beach.

Aug. 25—Fogler family at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove.

Aug. 25—The Wyllie family at Chas. Wyllie's cottage, Crescent Beach.

Aug. 25—Post and Ames family at home of Jas. A. Philbrook, Ash Point.

Aug. 25—Burton and Robinson families in Cushing at home of C. Fred Hill.

Aug. 31—Wilson and Teel families at Glen Cove.

Aug. 31—Hill's family at Silas Cary's Union.

Sept. 15—Annual reunion of the Me. Regt., 2d Me. Battery, Berdan Sharpshooters and Naval Veteran Association at Vinalhaven.

Sept. 1—Payson family at Oakland Park.

Don't fail to see Miss Wilson at the Universalist church, Aug. 11.

Grasshoppers are said to be causing considerable damage in the country towns.

Claremont Commandery conferred the order of the Red Cross upon H. I. Hix and A. C. Moore Monday night.

J. W. Walker, the piano tuner, has finished duties in this vicinity, and left Wednesday night for Wiscasset, leaving Daddy Glyod the undisputed "champion."

William Baker, who is yachting this summer, writes from Toronto, Canada, that he saw Providence win from Toronto in an exciting game of the Eastern League. Bill sends regards to the boys.

Twenty-nine young men have just passed the examination held by the Maine board of registration in the practice of medicine and surgery. The only Knox county man in the list is Clarence R. Simmons of Appleton, who will wear the title of "Dr." very becomingly.

From now until Aug. 12 there will be meteoric display in the sky. The earth at this period entering a belt of meteors, known as Perseids, or the August meteors. The center of the belt will be reached about Aug. 8, and then about four days more will be consumed in passing out of the belt.

The life saving crew at Whitehead has resumed duty after a two months' vacation and until another June will be engaged in the monotonous routine, which is, however, so necessary to the protection of the valuable shipping property which passes that important post so often in the run of a season.

Stephen Kavanaugh, who was arraigned the first of the week on a search and seizure process, was discharged on the strength of testimony offered by nearly a score of witnesses to the effect that Steph was having an "at home" and the wet goods were being served in a wholly complimentary manner.

Close time on lobsters began at Cribb and Matineus this week and will continue until the first of October. It is no vacation period for the fishermen, however, for they must get their gear into condition, and who can do a profitable business in halibut fishing just at present. Capt. W. G. Butman says he cannot remember a season when there has been such good halibut fishing in Penobscot Bay.

One of the leading milk dealers informed The Courier-Gazette reporter yesterday that the winter price of eight cents a quart will probably be inaugurated this year, the dealers being forced to this extremity by the practical failure of this year's hay crop and the high prices of feed-stuff. Pastures have been drying up and there are very few dairymen who have not been under the necessity of feeding their cattle in the barn all the season.

DR. SALIE THE OLD RELIABLE Eye Specialist of Portland will be at the Thorndike Hotel August 9 and 10. Office hours 8 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m. 6017

SUIT OF CLOTHES AND EXTRA PAIR OF TROUSERS

MADE TO ORDER FOR $15.00

DURING MONTH OF AUGUST ONLY

Our determination to make this usually quiet month a busy one to your opportunity. Be wise and a winner by taking advantage of it.

P. MORAN CO.,

ROCKLAND

Francis Ward of the American Express Co.'s staff is spending his vacation at his former home in Gardiner.

Arthur Peters, driver for Charles E. Hicknell, was struck in the face by a piece of timber while unloading a car on Thursday. His upper lip was badly lacerated.

Mrs. Charles Porter of School street is confined to the house with a broken arm, the result of a fall down stairs. Her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Joseph of Fitchburg is expected here this week.

Many of our people are planning to attend the sacred concert at the Baptist church in Thomaston next Sunday evening, under the direction of Harris S. Shaw, assisted by the Baptist Choral Association, Mrs. Grace Strout, directress.

A survey advertised in this paper by C. E. Rising is about to make a long voyage. It was purchased by the captain of an Italian bark which was recently in Rockland harbor and will be taken to the new owner's home in Italy.

The annual white duck ball takes place in Watts hall, Thomaston, next Tuesday evening, an event to which the dancing fraternity and Rockland and Thomaston always looks forward with keen interest. Good music will be furnished.

A natural born swimmer is little Phyllis Moran, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moran. Her aquatic achievements are the talk of the day at the beach near Ingraham Hill, where the Moran family is spending the summer.

A. A. Clough & Co., grocers and marketmen, have filed through their attorneys, Charles T. Smalley, a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. The liabilities are about $3000; the assets are not easy to estimate as they depend upon the value of certain equities.

Knox hospital, which has lately undergone such extensive repairs and improvements, was open for public inspection Thursday, and was besieged with visitors all day. All exclaimed with pleasure at the Rockland hospital, and a new interest in this worthy institution was created.

Few electric railways get quite so close to nature as the Crescent Beach line where it passes through the long stretch of woods beyond the corner, going down Rabbits, partridges and other denizens of the woodland cross the track quite as unconcerned as though the locomotives were part and parcel of the forest primeval.

"Monk" Thomas, who made a sensational escape from Waldo county jail June 28, returned to custody this week, saying that it was so hot in Boston he preferred jail life. Thomas came to Rockland by boat and accompanied by trolley, after which he hoisted it over the dusty roads in order to get back to the hospitality of Sheriff Carleton.

"I feel as if I could not keep house without my old home paper," keeps me in touch with my old Rockland, Me. friends. Long live The Courier-Gazette." This writes Mrs. Fannie Merrow Smallidge from Avon, Mass. Words like these reward us for working overtime these delightful August days when others are fleeing away to the seashore or mountains.

Open time on plover and snipe began the first of August. As but few of the birds have been reported, however, in this vicinity it is not likely that the slaughter will be very heavy. Plover migrate early in the season and it is said that they are already beginning to flock in preparation for their long journey southward. This early migration makes the shooting season a short one and by the first of September there will be only a few stray birds left. Plovers breed in the open fields, and according to sportsmen who have hunted them never alight in trees and keep clear of the woods. Snipe frequent the marshes along the streams and lakes, and while they do not furnish the sport to the hunter that the plover does they are sought for in their season.

That the Klar-Urban Company is to come to the Farwell opera house for the week of Aug. 16-21 will be hailed about with delight by local playgoers, as it is now very nearly a year since there has been a popular-priced attraction in the city, and with such well known favorites as the Klar-Urban Company it is already a sure sign of a new season of entertainment. Heading the company again this year is S. J. most popular of all singing and dancing soubrettes, Miss Marie Cecil, who, without doubt, has made more friends than any other player who has ever come here. Monday night will be given over as ladies' night and we would advise all to be on hand early or stand up. The seat sale opens one week from today.

H. De F. Smith, who with his family has been spending the past fortnight at Monhegan, tells of the capture there of a mammoth shark, weighing about 1000 pounds, a few days ago by Woodman Clifford and M. P. Hodgdon. The two men were off for the fishing grounds when the shark got snared in their net and before they realized it was hopeless entangled there was nothing for the fishermen to do but either let him go and lose their net or tow him to the harbor and carefully take him out. They had a tough proposition with the fellow for he was a fighter but with their motor boat they headed towards Boothbay Harbor and within a few miles of there the big fellow finally gave up life and gave them no further trouble. His mate is said to be within the vicinity of Monhegan and is said to be even a bigger fellow than the one captured and it is probable that some other fishermen will start in pursuing him. The loss of his mate is likely to make the other shark, especially ugly and fishermen are warned that they will have a lively struggle if they attempt to secure him.

No house is thoroughly cleaned unless the walls have been newly papered. It costs but little for the paper if you buy it at the Art & Wall Paper Co.'s, John D. May, Prop. Up one flight, over Hall's drug store. Picture framing a specialty.

Miss Wilson is one of the foremost artists in America.

BORN

Frost—Plymouth, Mass., July 29, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Frost, Jr., a son—Julian Sanderson.

MARRIED

Whites—Walden—Rockland, Aug. 3, by Rev. B. P. Judd, George I. Whites and Miss Lizzie Walsh, both of Rockland.

DIED

Merriman—South Thomaston, August 3, Ellen C. (Aunt), widow of William W. Merriman, aged 66 years, 10 months, 13 days.

DIED

Hunt—South Thomaston, Aug. 1, Lolita Hunt, aged 25 years, 2 months, 25 days.

DIED

Staples—Augusta, Aug. 1, George A. Staples, aged 76 years, 11 months 8 days. Burial at Rockland.

FINE RASPBERRIES

AT—MURRAY'S

TEL. 176-3

FULLER-COBB COMP'Y

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Better than your money in the bank at 20% interest is the saving you can make by investing a small portion of your money in the exceptional values here offered.

Linen Suits

20 Linen and Repp Suits at $5.00 for your choice. This lot of Suits include nearly every Suit in our stock—some that sold as high as $15.00. Shades, white, tan, blue and natural linen.

There are a few 3-piece suits in this lot that are made from fine French Linen, both in white and colored.

ONLY $5.00 FOR YOUR CHOICE

Children's Muslin Dresses

Small lot of Children's Muslin Dresses, value $1.25 to $1.50. Your choice from this lot at 50 CENTS EACH

Lingerie Dresses—$2.98

10 White Lingerie Dresses, all sizes, at $2.98.

The balance of our Fine Dresses we include in this August sale at 1-3 to 1-2 the original price. About 10 dresses left to select from—some as high as $25.00.

This is one of the opportunities you should not miss.

Waists

LACE NET WAISTS

Earn Lace Waists which would be good value at $3.98

Your Choice $1.49

50 LACE AND SILK WAISTS

The end of the season garment—$5.00 to $12.50.

Your Choice at $3.98

Beautiful Waists in this lot.

New Price List On WHITE LINGERIE WAISTS

$1.25 to $1.50 Waists at $1.00

$1.75 to $2.00 Waists at $1.25

$2.25 to $2.50 Waists at $1.75

$2.75 to $3.25 Waists at $2.25

$3.50 to $3.75 Waists at $2.75

$4.00 to $4.25 Waists at $3.25

$4.50 to $5.00 Waists at $3.75

Kimonas

1 lot Long Muslin Kimonas, 59c

1 lot Short Muslin Kimonas, 25c

White Serge Suits

1 White Serge Suit, $10.00

1 White Serge Suit, 12.50

SUITS AT $5.00

To see them is to appreciate that you are getting more for your money than we ever before offered. Think of it—$5.00 FOR A SUIT—Not a Suit bought for $5.00, but One of the Greatest Suit Values We Have Ever Offered.

A few Misses and Children's Suits, suitable for early Fall wear, included in this lot.

SEE DISPLAY ON RACK IN CLOAK ROOM.

Cotton Dresses

1 lot Colored Madras Dresses reduced to $3.50

1 lot Gingham 1 piece Dress reduced to $2.98

All of our Children's Percalé Dresses

Reduced to 1-2 original price

1 lot Linen Suits and Coats $2.50 for choice

Children's Jackets

25 Children's Jackets $2.00

10 Children's Jackets $3.00

5 Children's Jackets $5.00

Less than 1-2 price

Just the thing for early Fall wear

Pongee Suits and Coats

1 Pongee Suits, $12.50

1 Pongee 3 piece Dress, 15.00

1 Pongee Coat, 10.00

Linen Auto Dust Coats

15 Women's Coats, Grass Linen, $1.98

20 Linen Coats, 3.98

Black Silk Coats

10 Black Silk Coats, 48 in. long, at a discount, $7.50

4 Black Silk Coats, 10.00

Lawn Jumper Dresses

50 Lawn Jumper Dresses, to close out at 79c.

ONE EQUALLY AS GOOD AS THE OTHER

FULLER-COBB CO.

3x5 at 59c each

5x8 at $1.49 each

THE EVAPERO TRIO

Evapero 25c

Evapero Furniture Enamel 25c

Evapero Liquid Soap 25c

ONE EQUALLY AS GOOD AS THE OTHER

FULLER-COBB CO.

3x5 at 59c each

5x8 at $1.49 each

WITH THE CHURCHES

If the weather is fair, there will be services at the Benner Hill chapel next Sunday afternoon at 2.30. Rev. W. J. Day will be the preacher.

Rev. Oscar S. Smith of Vinalhaven will preach at the Methodist church in exchange with the pastor, Sunday. Otho Hitch will lead the song service in the evening.

At the Adventist church Sunday, Rev. O. A. S. Mayberry, of Waterville, will preach both morning and evening. The Royal Workers meeting Tuesday evening meeting at 7.30.

At St. Peter's church Sunday Matins and sermon on "Duty of Joyousness" at 10.30. Evensong and short address at 7.30. The Offertory will be sung by Mrs. Irving Smith of New York.

At the First Baptist church, Sunday there will be preaching at 10.30 and 7.15 by the pastor, William J. Day, Bible school at 12. Subject of evening discourse, "John Bunyan, the Puritan Thinker."

First Church of Christ Scientist, Cedar and Brewster streets. Service Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject of the lesson sermon, "Spirit." Sunday school at 12.15. Wednesday evening meeting at 7.30.

Rev. John H. Wilkins of Farmington, N. H., will preach Sunday morning and evening at the Littlefield Memorial church. Sunday school at noon. Meetings throughout the week as usual. This Friday evening the C. E. will be led by Mrs. Ida Petter. Mr. Wilkins will supply this church through the month of August.

Sunday service at the Congregational church with preaching by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Quint, at 10.30 a. m. The music will include Buck's Festival Te Deum in E flat by the choir, and Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer" by Mrs. Armstrong. Annual offering for the work of the American Missionary Association. Free seats. All welcome.

The police had a busy night Thursday. Two Scotchmen arrested for drunkenness, spent a happy evening in their cell, singing "Auld Lang Syne" with more fervor than harmony. A Finn, who undertook to break up housekeeping in some other person's house on Park street, cut one of his hands badly while juggling with the crockery. An artery was severed and during the evening the officers found his cell fairly afloat with gore. Dr. Armstrong was summoned and the hand was bandaged.

The members of the committee on city dump made an inspection of the Lincoln street premises Wednesday, and though equipped with tolerably good snifflers were unable to detect any odor at a distance greater than 25 feet. A man is now stationed there throughout the day, who promptly covers the perishable refuse, and keeps the kids from playing among it.

The date of Fuller-Cobb Co.'s annual price saving sale of furs is August 9.

Those who take advantage of this sale will get the best choice of furs that will absolutely be in correct style when first worn.

The turbine steamer Belfast is doing only a 14-knot clip at present owing to an accident to one of her turbines, which, while not of a serious character, is a handicap to speed and a fussy one to repair. As all her staterooms are sold long in advance the management does not see its way to withdrawing her at the present time.

The outfit of James Fisk, late stage-driver on the Clark Island route, will be sold at auction at his home, 64 Mechanic street, next Tuesday by W. H. Simmons; also a quantity of goods such as are usually found in a general store. The sale will be given on the first fair day if Tuesday should prove stormy.

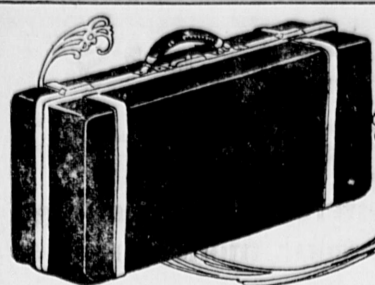

Not only will you get the advantage of price and workmanship, but you get the benefit of the EASY TERMS on which we sell our Furs in August—One-half payment and the balance at the time of delivery.

Estimates given for Repairing and Making Over Furs We Buy Raw Furs and Pay the Highest Market Price

$15,000.00 WORTH OF FINE FURS

ON SALE IN OUR FUR DEPARTMENT

AUGUST NINE TO TWENTY-FIRST

The BLACK BAG

By Louis Joseph Vance

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

CHAPTER VII—Continued.

He seemed to take Kirkwood's company for granted, and the young man was not inclined to argue the point. Meekly enough he fell in with Calendar on the sidewalk. Mrs. Hallam followed them out. "You won't forget?" she called tentatively.

"Till phone you if we find out anything," Calendar jerked the words unceremoniously over his shoulder as, linking arms with Kirkwood, he drew him swiftly along. They heard her shut the door. Instantly Calendar stopped. "Look here, did Dorothy have a small parcel with her?"

"She had a glistering bag."

"Oh, the devil, the devil!" Calendar started on again, uttering distractedly. As they reached the corner he disengaged his arm. "We've a minute and a half to reach Charing Cross pier, and I think it's the last boat. You set the pace, will you? But remember I'm an oldish man and—"

They began to run, the one easily the other lumbering after like an old-fashioned square rigged ship paced by a liner.

The Thames appeared before them, a river of ink on whose burnished surface lights swam in long winding streaks and oily blots. By the floating pier a country council stoutly strained its havers, snoring huskily. Boats were jingling in her engine room as the two gained the head of the sloping gangway.

Kirkwood slapped a shilling down on the ticket window ledge. "Where to?" he cried back to Calendar.

"Cherry Gardens pier," rasped the window man. He stumbled after Kirkwood, groaning with exhaustion. Only the tolerance of the pier employees gained them their end. The steamer was held some seconds for them. As Calendar staggered to its deck the gangway was jerked in, the last tawny cast off. The boat shored wide out on the river, then shot in, arrow-like, to the pier beneath Waterloo bridge.

The deck was crowded, and additional passengers embarked at every stop. In the circumstances conversation, save on the most impersonal topics, was impossible.

As the boat stopped beneath London bridge Calendar's impatience drove him from his seat back to the gangway. "Next stop," he told Kirkwood curtly and rested his heavy bulk against the paddle box, brooding morosely, until, after an uninterrupted run of more than a mile, the steamer swept in, side wheels locking water furiously against the ebbing tide, to Cherry Gardens landing.

Sweet name for a locality unsavory beyond credence!

Kirkwood shuddered, sticking close to Calendar's side as they landed. Life's naked brutalities had therefor been largely out of his ken. He had heard of slums, had even ventured to mouth politely moral platitudes on the subject of overcrowding in great centers of population, but in the darkest nights of imagination had never pictured to himself anything so unspeakably foul and hopeless as this. And they were come hither seeking Dorothy Calendar!

After some ten minutes' steady walking Calendar turned aside with a muttered word and dived down a covered dark and evil smelling passageway that seemed to lead toward the river.

Mastering his involuntary qualms, Kirkwood followed.

Some ten or twelve paces from its entrance the passageway widened at a right angle, continuing three yards or so to end in a blank wall, wherefrom a flickering, inadequate gas lamp jutted. At this point a stone platform perhaps four feet square was discovered, from the edge of which a flight of worn and slimy stone steps led down to a permanent boat landing, where another gaslight flared lustily despite the protection of its frame of begrimed glass.

"Good Lord!" exclaimed the young man. "What in heaven's name, Calendar?"

"Bermudsey Old Stairs. Come on."

They descended to the landing stage. Beneath them the pool slept, a sheet of polished ebony, whispering to itself, lapping with small, stealthy gurgles angles of masonry and ancient piers. On the farther bank tall warehouses reared square old time heads, their uncompromising, rugged profile relieved here and there by tapering mastsheads.

A few scattering, feeble lights were visible. Nothing moved save the river and the wind.

The landing itself they found quite deserted, something which the adventurer comprehended with a nod which, like its accompanying inarticulate ejaculation, might have been taken to indicate either satisfaction or disgust.

He ignored Kirkwood altogether for the time being and presently produced a small, bright object which, applied to his lips, proved to be a boatswain's whistle. He sounded two blasts, one long, one brief.

There fell a hush, Kirkwood watching the other and wondering what next would happen. Calendar paced restlessly to and fro upon the narrow landing, now stooping to incline an ear to catch some anticipated sound, now searching with sweeping glances the black reaches of the pool.

Finally, consulting his watch, "Almost 10," he announced.

"We're in time?"

"Can't say. If that infernal boat would only show up!"

He was lifting the whistle to sound a second summons when a rowboat rounded a projecting angle formed by the next warehouse downstream and with clanking oarlocks swung in toward the landing. On her thwart two figures, dipping and rising, labored with the sweeps. As they drew in the man forward shipped his blades and, rising, scrambled to the bows in order to grasp an iron mooring ring set in the wall.

Calendar waddled to the brink of the stage, grunting with relief.

"The other man," he asked brusquely—"has he come aboard, or is this the first trip tonight?"

"One of the watermen nodded assent to the latter question, adding gruffly, "Seen naughtin' of 'im, sir."

"Very good," said Calendar, as if he doubted whether it were very good or bad. "We'll wait a bit."

"Right-o!" agreed the waterman civilly.

After some ten minutes' steady walking Calendar turned aside with a muttered word and dived down a covered dark and evil smelling passageway that seemed to lead toward the river.

Mastering his involuntary qualms, Kirkwood followed.

Calendar turned back, his small eyes glimmering with satisfaction. "I suppose," he said to Kirkwood abruptly, "you haven't changed your mind?"

"Changed my mind?"

"About coming in with me?"

"My dear sir, I can have no mind to change until a plain proposition is laid before me."

"H-m!" Calendar puffed vigorously until it occurred to him to change the subject. "You won't mind telling me what happened to you and Dorothy?"

"Certainly not."

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

Calendar turned back, his small eyes glimmering with satisfaction. "I suppose," he said to Kirkwood abruptly, "you haven't changed your mind?"

"Changed my mind?"

"About coming in with me?"

"My dear sir, I can have no mind to change until a plain proposition is laid before me."

"H-m!" Calendar puffed vigorously until it occurred to him to change the subject. "You won't mind telling me what happened to you and Dorothy?"

"Certainly not."

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

"Youngster, you say? Blam' if I can lay my mind to him! Now, if that Mulready—"

"It would have been impossible for Mulready, who is in no way recovered, and to go to Craven street before we did," Kirkwood pointed out.

"Well, go on." But when the tale was told "It's that scoundrel Mulready!" the man affirmed with heat. "It's his hand. I know him. I might have had sense enough to see he'd take"

Calendar drew nearer, and Kirkwood, lowering his voice, narrated briefly the events since he had left the Pless in Dorothy's company.

Her father followed him intently, interrupting now and again with an exclamation or pertinent question—as, had Kirkwood been able to see the face of the man in No. 9 Freczall street? The negative answer seemed to disconcert him.

SEASON 1909-10.

At Farwell Opera House Opens Monday, August 16 With Klark-Urban Co.

The theatrical season of 1909-10 at Farwell opera house will commence Monday, Aug. 16 with the popular Klark-Urban Company, who have changed of plays every night. This will be one of the most pleasing announcements made to the theatre-goers for some time. This attraction will be followed by some of the best plays to be had and include practically an entire new line never before seen here. There will also be several of the better class plays during the season such as "The Third Degree," "Traveling Salesman," "Paid in Full," "The Thief," "The White Squaw," "Uncle Dave Homcomb," with Wm. Lawrence as the star attraction, several more which will be announced as the season advances. Taken altogether the season should prove to be a banner one with such excellent plays. For list of plays to be presented by Klark-Urban Company see next issue of this paper. As usual, Monday night will be ladies' night, with ladies' tickets limited to 200. Seats go on sale one week from today and you should be on hand early if you wish good seats. Box office open at 9 o'clock.

KEITH'S BOSTON THEATRE.

There was a time when such an organization as the Keith's Boston Theatre was a whole show in itself at high prices, but B. F. Keith evidently believes in double shows, judging by the program he is announcing for the season. Besides the Hebrews, there is a list of vaudeville attractions such as one would expect to find only at the height of the season, for every act is without exception a star attraction. The Keith's Boston Theatre is now conceded to be one of the foremost in this class of work, and he is on the bill. There is Fred St. Onge, the old time champion bicyclist, who with the company of experts, give one of the most difficult and amusing wheel acts that has ever been put forth. Kelley, the Flying Monkey, who has long held the headline place, and Miss Kent's impersonation of a bowery girl has never been duplicated. Then there is Sadie Jansell, the musical comedienne, the Flying Monkey, who has long held the headline place, and Miss Kent's impersonation of a bowery girl has never been duplicated. Then there is Sadie Jansell, the musical comedienne, the Flying Monkey, who has long held the headline place, and Miss Kent's impersonation of a bowery girl has never been duplicated.

SOUTH WARREN.

Maynard Post of South Thomaston is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Partridge of the village called on Mrs. Clifford Mank, Monday.

D. W. Merry has brought from parties of Union and Appleton 50 bushels of strawberries this season.

Mr. Borneman and Mr. Spear are cutting the Spear meadow in this place.

The show in the Grange hall Friday evening was well attended.

David Post, who has been sick, is improving slowly.

Charles and Wilson Merriam have gone to Moosehead Lake.

Asa Harriman of Rockland passed Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Harriman.

Mrs. George O'Brien and daughter Mildred of Thomaston called on relatives here Monday afternoon.

Miss Grace V. Spear returned home from Rockland Saturday night after a week's stay with her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Over.

Irvin Spear and wife spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Isaac Hoffes, at South Waldoboro.

Miss Elmer Hurst has employment at Thomaston with her team this week.

Isaac Spear and grandson Alvah enjoyed the sail to Pemaquid on the excursion last Sunday.

The Elmer Hurst and Mrs. Maria Achorn of Rockland visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Tibbets of Rockland called at this place on business recently.

Charles Auspaul of Union was at L. E. Spear's, last Thursday.

Berries are reported very scarce in South Thomaston this season.

HOPE

Mrs. Lizzie Spear of Rockport recently had a few days with her brother and sister at their summer home here.

Miss Ruth Payson is here for a few days' visit with relatives. She is the daughter of Rev. Fred Payson, a former Hope boy.

Mrs. Adelaide Fish has one of the most artistic flower gardens in this place. She has a large variety which are now blossoming, making a very attractive garden.

E. W. Hewett went to Rockland Saturday for a few days' stay, the guest of Ralph Conant.

Camp Hill, L. M. Conant's cottage, is occupied by a party of nine from Massachusetts. Everett Hobbs supplies their wants in the line of farm products.

Addie Marriner entertained her cousin, Anna Gilchrist and little daughter of Rumford, from Wednesday last week until the first of this week.

Nearly all farmers finished haying last week.

Frank Garret of Hurricane Lake spent a few days with his niece, Mrs. William Rowland, recently.

Mrs. Minnie Piper and daughters, Helen and Mary, of Rockport, spent last week weeks of Mrs. Piper's mother, Mrs. Ellen Barnes, and sister, Mrs. Katie True.

Edna Alder spent a most enjoyable afternoon last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. P. Dunton.

Mrs. Gretchen Kriegsmann and Miss Frances Keane of Providence, R. I., are guests of the Towles at the Barrett cottage.

Miss Mary Payson is in Malden, Mass., guest of her friend, Miss Libby.

Mrs. George Fish spent last Saturday in West Rockport with friends.

Mrs. Emma Banks and son of Marlboro, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Samuel Simmons.

Mrs. John Leonard died July 27, after a long sickness, having been a great sufferer for a few days before her death. She leaves a husband and several children. Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Webb of Warren officiating. The floral offerings were in abundance, showing the high respect in which the deceased was held by her family.

Mrs. Henry Farris went to Rockland Friday for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. Helen Lawrence of South Waldoboro is in town calling on her old friends.

The haying season is nearly over with and some claim they have more hay this year than last and other not as much.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Russell wish them many years of happy and prosperous life and advise them to be ready to receive company at any time, for although they have settled in Ellsworth the Warren people will be on hand to hunt them up and have a good time with them.

WANT A FARM?

The Government Will Present You With a Fine One Out in Nevada.

The great agricultural development now going on in the West is attracting widespread attention, and every "land opening" calls thousands of letters of inquiry concerning the opportunity for settlers. Just now unusual interest centers in the Truckee-Carson irrigation project in Nevada, where a thousand farms offered to homeseekers by the Government open alluring possibilities.

These lands are free to every bona fide homeseeker, the only expense, with the exception of the nominal filing fee, being the pro rata share of the cost of building the irrigation system. This charge amounts to $30 per acre, payable in ten annual installments, with no interest. There is no drawing or any element of chance in applying for one of these farms. It is only necessary to make a homestead entry at the land office at Carson City or at the office of the Land Commissioner at Fallon, Nevada.

Nature has endowed few regions more liberally with all the elements necessary to build up a great commonwealth than are found in this section. The fertile fields grow alfalfa, cereals, fruits, vegetables, in fact practically all the products of the temperate zone; the climate is dry and delightful, and the valley is singularly free from severe storms. The sun shines almost every day in the year. The great mining region, furnish a home market and good prices for everything that can be raised, and splendid transportation facilities connect the project with the commercial centers of the country. The Government irrigation system assures the farmers an abundant supply of water. The rivers offer unlimited possibilities for the development of power.

If you wish to obtain one of these farms you should act at once to the Statistician of the U. S. Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., for detailed information.

MAINE OPTOMETRIC BOARD.

Eligible Applicants Desiring to Practice in This State Will Be Examined Sept. 2 in Portland.

The Maine Optometry Board, consisting of Dr. Blal F. Bradbury, Norway; Dr. Jarvis B. Wood, Bangor; George McEl, Presque Isle; Farmington; John R. Boche, Eastport; and Albert M. Wentworth, Portland, organized last week by the election of Mr. Presson as president, Mr. Wentworth as secretary and Mr. Boche as treasurer. Sept. 2, a meeting of the board will be held at the Congress Square hotel, Portland, for the purpose of taking action upon applications for exemption certificates. On a later date (to be decided by the board) the board will meet for the purpose of examining all eligible applicants desiring to commence the practice of optometry in the State of Maine, under the restrictions of the law, which took effect July 2nd, 1909. It is especially requested by the board that all applications for exemption certificates be sent to the secretary before Aug. 24.

It has been decided by the board to allow residents of the state, not exempt by law and who have made application for exemption, to continue to practice the optometry of the first examination held by the board, which will probably be within 60 days. Application blanks for examination or examination can be obtained from A. M. Wentworth, secretary, Portland.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

There's rejoicing in Federal, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town. "I feel like a new man, and can do good work again," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection, it stands unrivaled. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial Bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

W.B. Reduse CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduse No. 770. For large tall women. Made of white cout. Hose supports front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 771. Is the same as No. 770, but is made of light weight white batiste. Hose supports front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 772. For large short women. The same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white cout. Hose supports front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 773. Is the same as No. 772, but made of light weight white batiste. Hose supports front and sides. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the W. B. "hip-subsiding" model, which will produce the correct figure for prevailing modes, or any of our numerous styles which are made in such a variety as to guarantee perfect fit for every type of figure.

From $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

GARTEN BROS., Mrs.. 377-379 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

SPRUCE HEAD

Miss Winnie Grant returned Monday from a visit with relatives in Prospect and Bucksport.

Mrs. Everett Bean left this week for a visit to relatives in Belfast and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Maker arrived home Friday from a brief visit with their son Almond at Popham Beach.

Masters Rodney and Kenneth Graves, who have been spending several weeks with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs

THOMASTON

Mrs. M. C. Orbeton of Boston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Singer.

Mrs. Ethel York of Boston is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Gillchrist.

Messrs. George V. Hanley and William R. Hodgkins, who have been working at their trade of sailmaking at City Island, New York, are at home. They report a very busy season.

Mrs. Lillian Grace of New York City is a guest of Miss Mary J. Watts, Knox street.

A company of 105 Thomastonians and their friends from the cities had an enjoyable moonlight excursion to Friendship, on the steamer May Archer, Monday evening. The Thomaston Juvenile Band furnished music for the trip and likewise for a dance at Friendship. The moon was radiant and the western sky when the party arrived home.

Dr. O. F. Cushing has returned to Boston after a few weeks stay in town. Hon. D. W. Munn and wife of Chicago, Miss Katharine L. Harvey of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Mrs. L. W. Harlett of Bangor are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Linscott. Mrs. Harlett is in town to attend the anniversary of the Congregational church, of which her father, the Rev. Woodhull, was an esteemed pastor.

The Ladies Relief Corps held a picnic at the home of Mrs. Charles Webster, Thursday afternoon. A fine time was had. The members of the corps were out in strong force and the hours were happily spent.

Mrs. John Berry has returned to Hardwick, Vt.

Misses Lillian and Edith Smalley, recent guests of Mrs. Clarence Robinson, have returned to their home in Worcester, Mass.

Washburn Brothers took a large number of young people to Monhegan Thursday, in the yacht Seagoe. Mrs. Cordelia Willey and guests with a few friends picnicked at Oakland Thursday.

A large party were guests of Charles Payson at his cottage at Pleasant Point Thursday.

Forty-two attended the Elliot-Dunn-Washburn family gathering at the Elliot cottage, Cushing, Wednesday.

The Selectmen have received an offer from the publishers of the Boston Post to present to the oldest citizen of Thomaston a gold headed cane made by the well known manufacturers, J. F. Frodly & Son, of New York. The cane is to be transmitted to each successive oldest citizen. The selectmen are looking for that individual that they may return his name to the Boston Post. Come forward please.

Miss Adelaide Catland returned Thursday from Peru, South America. Miss Catland has been visiting her sister Mrs. Levi B. Gilchrist, for the past eighteen months.

William L. Catland returned from Boston, Thursday, where he went to meet his daughter on her return from South America.

The annual white duck ball takes place in Watts hall, Thomaston, next Tuesday evening. To which the dancing fraternity and Rockland and Thomaston always look forward with keen interest. Good music will be furnished.

At the church of St. John Baptist Holy Communion at 8.15. Evensong and sermon by Rev. J. P. m.

The Sunday school class of Mrs. E. L. Montgomery will have a sale of ice cream and home-made candy on the lawn at Mrs. E. L. Montgomery's home on Main street, this Friday evening. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Baptist Sunday school.

Friday evening, Aug. 12, at Watts hall the greatest attraction of Old Home week will be the renowned impersonator, Marion Wilson, for the benefit of the Senior class, T. H. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Montgomery, who have been guests of Mrs. O. J. Watts for the past two weeks, have returned to their home in Bristol, Conn.

A sacred concert will be given at the Baptist church next Sunday evening, Aug. 8, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Harris S. Shaw. The following high class program will be rendered:

Organ and Piano Duo. Mr. Jones and Mr. Shaw.
Soprano solo. Katherine C. Andrews.
Tenor solo. Lionel C. Wilson.
Baritone solo. Mr. Shaw.
Baritone solo. Mr. Clarence Pendleton.
Tenor solo. Mr. Hubert Perry of Boston.
Baritone solo. Mr. Kenneth Lord.
Tenor solo. Lionel C. Wilson.
Chorus from Gounod's Giselle.

The chorus will be assisted by Miss Gladys S. Jones, Miss Georgia Brewer, Mr. E. F. Barry, Dr. T. E. Tibbatts of Rockland, Prof. G. B. Matthews, Mr. George S. Newcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Copeland. A silver collection will be taken, the proceeds to go towards purchasing new hymnals.

In addition to the artists already mentioned who take part in the sacred concert at the Baptist church Sunday evening, Miss Edith Jeanne of Rockland will sing a soprano solo.

THE THOMASTON CENTENNIAL

In addition to the program already announced for speakers, arrangements for music have been made as follows: The regular chorus will be assisted by Prof. G. B. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. S. Robinson and others, while solos will be given at the morning service by Miss Edith Sampson and R. K. Greene, at the afternoon service by Kenneth Lord and the evening service by Lionel C. Wilson, also a duet by Mrs. Lillian Sprague Copping, formerly musical director for eight years and R. K. Greene. Miss Mary Jordan is expected to assist with the violin, and Fred B. Whitcomb of Portsmouth, N. H., will assist at the organ.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mrs. Harriet M. Rawley after a strenuous year of teaching in our High school, has been taking an outing in Portland. She found much pleasure and recreation in visiting her friend, Miss Annie L. Westcott. She returned to the Harbor by steamer, Tuesday afternoon.

The Harbor has assumed quite a spirit of new life and gaiety by the large influx of summer visitors. Miss M. Carey Barrows daughter of Rev. Mr. Barrows, has assisted her father greatly in presiding at the piano at the mid-week gatherings, and has added very much interest to the Sabbath services by rendering several beautiful solos, which have elicited many flattering compliments from the summer visitors. The choir at the Baptist church have been producing exceptionally good music this summer.

EAST UNION

There will be a ball game at East Union, Saturday, Aug. 7, between East Union and Union. There will be a dance in the evening.

LOW PRICES
For High Quality Goods

Bridal Veil $7.50, Flour per bbl. Bird's Best $7.50

Per Bag 95c

Raisins, Splendid and Blue Ribbon Brand 3 lbs. for 25c

DRIVE in LIGHTNING FRUIT JARS at LOW PRICE

Pints, per dozen.....$1.00
One and one-half Pints.....$1.05

New Fig Bars per lb.....10c

Sweet Pickles 25c for.....15c

Good Coffee per lb.....25c

Good Tea per lb.....25c

No. 1 Salt Mackerel per lb.....7c

Cream Beans per qt.....12c

Red Kidney Beans per qt.....10c

New Cabbage per lb.....4c

Pure Lard per lb.....14c

Soap, Swift's Pride, Lennox, and Star 8 bars.....25c

19 lbs Sugar (to purchasers of other goods) for.....$1.00

We sell Brilliantine—the Best Oil—no smell or smoky chimneys—per gal.....15c

PRICES FOR SATURDAY ONLY

S. H. Hall, 109 Park Street

Telephone 503-3

CAMDEN

Benjamin Bachelier of Springfield, Mass., is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. P. Mero, for the week-end.

E. Lewis returned Wednesday from a week's trip to Boston and New Haven, Conn.

Paul Hamilton of Westfield, Mass., is guest at the Mountain View House for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Soule and two children of Portland are guests at Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wadsworth's for a few weeks.

Wallace Wadsworth and Sumner T. Conant are visiting relatives and friends in Portland for a few weeks.

Carol Beedy of Portland is visiting his parents for a few weeks.

Miss Gertrude Jewett returned on Monday to Narragansett Pier, having spent the past few weeks in town, guest of Miss Ruth Parker.

George Stanchfield has returned to Boston, having visited Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chandler for a few weeks.

M. M. Parker returned on Thursday from a two weeks fishing trip in New Brunswick and will spend the remainder of the summer with his family at their beautiful summer home on Chestnut Hill.

Miss Pullen left on Saturday for Boston. Her brother Will accompanied her, having spent the past three weeks in town.

Miss Viola Widows and Miss Mildred Widows returned on Wednesday from Boston, Thursday, where they have spent the past month. They were accompanied by Miss Jessie Clark, who will spend a few weeks as their guest.

The sun never shone on a fairer company than those present at the Episcopal fair held on Tuesday at "Red Cottage." Many pretty and useful articles were on sale and it proved a very interesting occasion both socially as well as financially.

Mrs. Emma Knight and daughter Mildred spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight in Rockport.

Don't forget the Klaxon Co. in high class plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Get your seats checked early.

Mrs. Grace Drinkwater is visiting relatives in North Haven for a few weeks.

Messrs. Dr. George Shorley and John Bird of Camden are attending State Board at Portland and are in camp for ten days.

Charles Augustus Eells left Monday for Bath, where he has employment.

Claude Heal left Tuesday for Toledo, Ohio, for a few weeks.

Mrs. R. J. Alexander in company with Mrs. A. M. Judson and Mrs. Jones enjoyed an auto ride and dinner at the Samoset on Wednesday.

Miss Mabel Ludwig and Dr. E. M. Minard of East Orange, N. J., were united in marriage Tuesday Aug. 3 at 4 p. m. by Rev. S. E. Frohock, at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. George Prescott, Chestnut street. The bride's gown was embroidered net over white satin. The matron of honor, Mrs. Geo.

Prescott, was gowned in white embroidered muslin over pink. The best man was Duane Minard, brother of the groom. The room where the ceremony took place was decorated with ferns and sweet peas. A lunch of ice cream, cake and punch was served. The out of town guests were Mrs. Wm. Oxtown, Hyde Park, Mass., Mrs. Whitney, Weston and Miss Trask, Newburyport, Mass. Many pretty and useful presents were received such as linen, silver, cut glass, etc. The bride is a graduate of Camden High school and Bates college, a very talented soloist and of a charming personality.

ROCKPORT

Misses Florence and Bernice Hill of Fitchburg, Mass., are guests of Miss Mattie Russell for a few days.

Mrs. Arthur Price has been confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Walter Higgins of Kennebunk is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Nettie Metcalf.

Mrs. Eleanor Beyer of Danville, Ill., and Mrs. John W. Thomas and daughter Dorothy of Rockland were guests of Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Tuesday.

Many are planning to attend the union Sunday school picnic at Oakland Park, Thursday, Aug. 12. There will be ball games and other amusements. A short meeting of Sunday school workers will be held. Rockport people will leave on the 9.15 car. If stormy, postponed until the next fair day.

Mrs. Walter Perry of Medford, Mass., is a guest at the home of her parents.

Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carleton, for a few weeks.

Mrs. F. A. Flanders entertained the members of her Sunday school class at the Lily Pond Monday afternoon. Refreshments were served and the outing was much enjoyed by the young folks.

Rev. Fred A. Snow and family of Oldtown are occupying their cottage at Ballard Park.

John Lull, Jr. of Chicago, who has been spending several weeks with his parents at Ballard Park, celebrated his 9th birthday Wednesday at Oakland. Among the invited guests were Misses Carrie and Theresa Paul and Miss Nellie Fennecor.

Miss Mildred Johnson of Beverly, Mass., is a guest at Enos E. Ingraham's.

Mrs. Edgar Smith, daughter Evelyn and son Alwood of Rockland, Miss Martha Halverson and Ernest Johnson of New York were at Mrs. Susan F. Smith's Wednesday.

Mrs. Emma Eager and John Lull, who have been spending several weeks at the Talbot cottage, Ballard Park, left today for Chicago.

A. C. Moore was in Jefferson yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Wilder Pease of Worcester, Mass., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Spear, en route for Surry, where she will be the guest of her brother, F. W. Wilder, at his summer home.

Twenty-three members of Harbor Light Chapter, O. E. S., attended the meeting of the Knox County Field Day Association at Crescent Beach, Wednesday.

At the Baptist church this Friday evening at 8 o'clock a literary and musical entertainment will be given. Following is the program:

Piano duet, Trumpeter's March. Green Song, The Holy City.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

Violent Duet, Minuet. Mrs. A. Belle Skinner. Recitation, The Legend Beautiful. Longfellow.

A Novel Idea

It is free and deeply interests everybody who has aches or pains, or who is weak and sickly. Anyone can learn the surest and quickest means to get strong and well by accepting that splendid free offer of Dr. Greene of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

He has established a system of letter correspondence through which all sick and suffering people can learn exactly what aches, pains, and how to get well, without expense and without leaving their homes. All they have to do is write to the Doctor, stating each symptom from which they are suffering. He gives the greatest care and attention to every letter, and tells the cause of each symptom so plainly that patients understand instantly just what ails them. It is a splendid opportunity for those who cannot afford the time or expense to go to the city. Dr. Greene makes a specialty of curing patients through letter correspondence. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervine blood and nerve remedy.

Write today for a FREE bottle of Dr. Greene's Laxative for all stomach, liver and bowel trouble.

VINALHAVEN

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitney returned to Bath Wednesday, after a few weeks' stay in town.

Mrs. Medora Mullin, who has spent the winter with her son, Dr. Seth Mullin, returned home Wednesday.

Rev. O. S. Smith and family are spending a vacation at Northport.

Mrs. Mary Grant is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hussey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hussey and son of Chicago, who have been at Mrs. Allenwood's, returned to the city Wednesday.

Miss Marietta Bacon of California was a guest of Miss Pearl Kittredge, Wednesday.

J. S. Hall spent Wednesday in Rockland.

Mrs. William Kittredge and son of Bethel, Vt., are visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Wm. Bissett, Mrs. Robert Carney and Mrs. Wm. Birnie attended the Field Day celebration at Crescent Beach Wednesday.

Miss Zeldia Saunders visited Rockland Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Proctor and children of Lowell arrived Wednesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons.

Miss Bertha Mullin spent Wednesday in Rockland.

Miss Wright and Mrs. Jones of Ulica, who have been at Bridgeport, returned to the city Wednesday.

Miss Solange of Roxbury, who has been a guest at Mrs. E. W. Vinal's, leaves today for the White Mountains.

The annual picnic of Ocean Bound Beach lodge was divided, a portion of the members of the lodge will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Mabel Ludwig and her sister, Mrs. K. F. Wight and mother and daughter went to Union to renew old acquaintances on Wednesday.

Miss Marion Hanly went to Freeport Saturday, where she is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlehale, at Cornhill.

Mrs. Julia Thorndike, Doris Hopkins, Ethel Black, Velma Johnson, No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known and popular company bearing the name of Klaxon Co. who will appear at the Memorial Hall for three nights, commencing next Monday evening. The

In Social Circles

Mrs. Alonzo Hart of Watertown, Mass., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Duncan, Pine street.

Mrs. Frank Shaw entertained at bridge Friday at her home on Rockland street. The first prize was won by Mrs. Frank Weeks and the second prize by Mrs. G. K. Merrill. Refreshments of sandwiches, olives, pickles, fancy crackers, cake, punch and confectionery were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Barter have gone to Isle au Haut to spend the month of August.

Prof. P. O. Place of Syracuse University and Mrs. Place visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. G. Mann in this city recently.

Mrs. Frank S. Head and Mrs. S. B. Reed have returned from Woolwich, where they were guests at the home of Miss Clara Hathorne.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Burpee are on a trip to Montreal, Quebec.

Mrs. L. E. Archibald of Port Clyde is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hills. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reynolds of Lewiston were recent visitors there.

Miss cottage, owned by Edward Tola, man at Crescent Beach, is occupied for the month of August by a jolly party made up as follows: Mrs. Charles H. Dean and son Harry of Boston, Mrs. C. Dean of Everett, Mass., Miss Helen G. Lane, Thomas and Richard Lane and David Marshall of Roxbury. All are having a fine time in spite of the fact that Mrs. Agnes "Tom" Dick, and Harry to look after, Charles A. Dean will join the party in one week.

During the recent scorching days a company of young folks enjoyed the hospitality of William Perry at Lake View cottage, Nobleboro. The week was very well spent in fishing, swimming and other sports. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perry, Ethel Perry, Edna S. Koster, Fred P. Koster, Lucy S. McIntosh, Beatrice Emery, Mildred Ryan and Austin Romeo. Other guests were expected.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. White have gone to Granite Hill, Hallowell, for an indefinite stay.

Miss Marion Cobb, Miss Martha Hall, Miss Lena Thorndike, Miss Emma Cobb, Vere Havener, Harold Horton, F. Eaton Simmons and J. Adams, chaperoned by Mrs. L. E. Cobb, have been occupying the Smith cottage at North Haven the past week.

Miss Katie Emerson returned Wednesday morning to her home in Grand Rapids, Mich., after a fortnight's visit with her friend Miss Rose McNamara, in this city.

Miss Mary N. Allen of the American Geographical Society of New York City, is the guest of Miss G. Louise Ayers for the month of August, at her home 129 North Main street.

Mrs. C. C. Cross and daughter Helen, are spending the week with friends at Northport Campground.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rockwood of Temple, N. H., are visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. P. Judd, 41 Beech street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw of Cambridge, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Campbell.

Miss Margaret Haggle of North Adams, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. Lizzie Small.

Esten W. Porter left Wednesday for New York, stopping at the Hotel New York en route at August 1. The family remains here until the first of September.

Mrs. G. W. Smith and Mrs. Philip Howard have issued invitations for a bridge party to take place at Penikese Island View Grange hall, Glen Cove, next Tuesday afternoon.

Ernest H. Perry and friend of Lewiston were in the city Wednesday on their return from Lake Umbagog, where they have been spending part of their vacation, fishing. They are making their tour in Mr. Perry's motor car.

Invitations are out for a bridge party, Mrs. S. T. Kimball's, Maple street, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orel E. Davies go next Monday to their bungalow at Ashmore, where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

W. A. Drake of Taunton, Mass., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Drake at the Highlands.

F. C. Flint of New York is spending his summer vacation in this city.

A. W. Gregory and Arthur W. Cook, who have been on a trip to the Exposition in Seattle are due to arrive home this Friday. They were met in Boston by Mrs. Gregory and Miss Margaret Gregory.

Miss Rhoda Cook leaves Sunday for Machias, where she will spend the remainder of the school vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cleaves of Boston are guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. E. Gribbin, Claremont street.

Mrs. Charles L. Shand (Edie Boderie) and two children of Bar Harbor are visiting Mrs. Alice Keene for a few days.

Mrs. E. C. Dunbar of Lowell, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred M. French, Gay street.

Miss Alice F. O'Connell of Worcester, Mass., is the guest of Miss Bertha McIntosh, 237 Main street.

Mrs. John M. Richardson gave a party at her home on Union street Tuesday, after a four weeks' visit with Mrs. Richardson's mother, Mrs. F. G. French.

Mrs. Bertrand A. Bass and two sons of Springfield, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Bass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McLain for the remainder of the summer. Mr. Bass will come later.

Mrs. Irving T. Smith of New York will sing "Before Thy Throne," by Nieldinger, for the offertory, at St. Peter's church Sunday morning.

The Dorcas Club is at the Richardson cottage, Penikese Harbor on a 10 days' outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Moore are spending their vacation with their daughter in Boston.

Donald H. Fuller is home from Washington, D. C., for the summer vacation. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moroy will spend the next two weeks at Damariscotta, enjoying camp life. They will be joined there by Mrs. Moroy's mother, Mrs. Celeste B. Wood, who will return with them to Rockland, for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Charles Marston and Mrs. Josephine Baker of Cambridge, Mass., are the guests of their sister, Mrs. Ibra Ripley, Maverick street.

Mrs. Edna Cogswell Leach of Philadelphia and Atlantic City, N. J., is spending one week at Miss Kathleen Singh's, 30 Park street. Tuesday afternoon she leaves for New York to connect with the steamer Antilles for New Orleans, where she will spend the winter.

Miss Charlotte Buffum gave a military whist Tuesday afternoon in honor of her guests Miss Florence Ogden of Newton, Mass., and Miss Gertrude Hubbard of Woodstock, R. I. Fort Preble was victorious.

Mrs. L. E. Cobb, Miss Lena Thorndike, Misses Marion and Emma Cobb, Vere Havener, Harold Horton of Montclair, N. J., and Lester Adams of Bangor are spending ten days at the Smith farm, North Haven.

Ordering By Mail Give Second Choice Some Lots are Small

CLEARING THE DECKS

We Give Gold Bonds Ask For Them

Clearing the Decks of Ladies' Wearing Apparel

LADIES' MUSLIN WAISTS—3 different styles, long sleeves, button back and front—sold for $3.00

Clearing the Decks Price $2.33

100 Waists long and short sleeve button back and front, lace and ham-burg trimmed also with solid tucks sold for $2.50 to $5.98

Clearing the Decks Price $1.95

KIMONOS full length fancy and Persian effects trimmed with plain colors

Clearing the Decks Price 55c

25 LINEN SUITS—white, tans, blues and stripes, trimmed fancy jet buttons, fancy collars. Sold as high as $7.50.

Clearing the Decks Price $3.98

COATS A Rack full of Ladies' Suits, Tourist Coats, silk coats etc, sold as high as $25.00

Clearing the Decks Price $5.00

SKIRTS A Table of Ladies' Dress Skirts sold for $7.50—$8.75, Voiles, Panamas, Serges, B. Cloth, Cheviots

Clearing the Decks Price $4.95

PETTICOATS Black Mercerized and silk spun, deep flounced, trimmed ruffles, tucks, shirring

Clearing the Decks Price 66c

Clearing the Decks Notion Specials

LADIES' POCKET BOOKS In black and tan, 50c and 75c values,

Clearing the Decks Price 38c

BAGS A line of fine imported Bags in seals, alligators, etc., sold for $5, $6, $7, $9,

Clearing the Decks price, $3.95

COMBS 44 Back Combs, plain cut shell and fancy, sold for 25c, 35c, 50c,

Clearing the Decks price, 19c

SILK GLOVES 16-button length, all colors, double tipped fingers. Sold for $1.50—$1.75.

Clearing the Decks Price 95c

HAIR PINS Latest styles fancy hair pins to wear with puffs, amber and shell,

Clearing the Decks price per pair, 38c

Clearing the Decks of Soaps and Stationery

Sample Cakes Violet Glycerine Soap FREE ask for them

Ivory Soap, 6 bars for 25c

English Cold Cream, regular price 5c cake, 3 for 10c

Violet Soap, regular price 15c box, 3 cakes for 10c

Apple Blossom, Glycerine twin cakes, 10c value, 7c

Stationery—Scotch linen, unruled 15c value, 9c

Writing paper in lb. packages, 15c value, 9c

Envelopes to match—sell for 5c pound, 3 for 10c

Royal Belfast Linen Paper, regular value 25c per lb., 19c

Envelopes to match, 10c value, per package, 7 1/2c

Fancy Box Stationery, paper, envelopes and penholder, 19c

Fancy Box Stationery note size 25c value, 18c

Juvenile Fancy Boxes Stationery, 7c

Juvenile Fancy Boxes Stationery, 4c

Clearing the Decks of Remnants

Remnants Crash, 7 1/2c

Remnants Crash, 9 1/2c

Remnants Bleached Cotton, 8 1/2c

Remnants Bleached Cotton, 7 1/2c

Remnants Unbleached Cotton, 36 in., 6 1/2c

Remnants Cheese Cloth, white and colored 3 1/2c

Remnants Percale, 17c

Remnants Bates Gingham, 9 1/2c

Remnants 10c Gingham, 7 1/2c

25 Duck Hats, sold for 25c to close 10c

Children's Rompers, in Khaki, plain and stripe gingham and percales 44c

NEVER has there been a happier, brighter throng of satisfied bargain seekers than the ones that have crowded our store the past few days. The big sale is now finely started and gaining speed every minute. Countless Bargains in all departments.

Don't miss a day of this big event. Every day means more unusual money saving chances.

Three Specials for Friday and Saturday only

240 pair Ladies Corsets, long hip, all sizes, bought for $1.25, for this sale at big discount, all perfect. Fri. and Sat. only 35c.

10 doz Ladies Muslin Waists, dutch and high neck bought for this sale Fri. and Sat. only 77c.

36 Misses' Skirts in fine grade panama, blues, blacks, red and green, very latest styles. Fri. and Sat. only $2.33

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY

A Chance to Stock Up on All the Useful Articles of Home at

Clearing the Deck Prices

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE BARGAINS

11-4 Blankets full size, single, in grey tan and white fancy borders, same quality as retail for $1.25.

Clearing the Decks price each, 30c, per pair, 57c

144 Window Shades—four diff. colors, made heavy Manila paper—mounted on nice roller cord complete with fixtures and nickel pull

Clearing the Decks price, 9c

LINOLEUMS English and American make sold for 60 and 65c

Clearing the Decks price, 42c

JAPANESE MATTINGS 10 patterns to select from, none sold for less than 25c.

Clearing the Decks price, 17 1/2c

HUCK TOWELS 22x44 Blue Border, 25c value,

Clearing the Decks price, 17c

PILLOW SLIPS 120 in this lot size 42x36 good cotton, 3 inch hem,

Clearing the Decks price, 9 1/2c

FEATHER PILLOWS 28 x 20, nice quality fancy tick, sterilized feathers, weight 3 1/2 lbs., sold for $1.00,

Clearing the Decks price, 77c

AXMINSTER RUGS 27x54 best quality Oriental and Floral Designs,

Clearing the Decks price, $1.69

Simonton

DRY - GOODS - COMPANY

410 Main Street Rockland, Me.

Special for Monday and Tuesday 120 Ladies' Short Kimonos and Dressing Sacques—Only one to a customer 11 CENTS

Clearing the Decks of Small Wares

Children's Garters black 9c

Carters Ink all colors, Mucilage and paste 3 1/2c

Silkateen 4c

Angora Braid all colors 9c

Creme Paper all colors 5c

Safety Pins per doz. 3 1/2c

Toilet Paper 10c size 4 for 25c

Or 10 for 59c

Best spool silk 3 for 25c

Shoe Lacing all lengths 2c

Japanese Goods as Fans, Banners 9c

Emery Cushions 4c

Vaseline large bottles 8c

Imported Bay Rum 25c bottle 17c

Ammonia large bottle 4c

Bone Collar Buttons per doz. 8c

Tooth Brushes 9c

Brush Brooms 8c

Pocket Combs 4c

Hair Curlers 4c

Purses 7c

Clearing the Decks in our Curtain Dept.

50 pair Muslin Curtains, 5 rows tucks, nice ruffle, well worth 50c,

Clearing the Decks price, 33c

36 pair nice quality H. S. Ruffled Curtains, with tucks; we have been selling them for 69c,

White Corrugated Cotton Rods with fixtures 2 for 15c

Brass Extension Rods 2 for 15c

27 pairs Nottingham lace curtains extra size fine quality scroll design made to sell for $1.50.

Clearing the Decks price, 96c

PORTIERES Tapestry patterns in red and green nice finish heavy knotted fringe, per pair, $1.44, each, 75c

Couch Covers, $1.00 value, 77c

Clearing the Decks in our Underwear Dept.

1-2 Case Ladies Silk Lisle Vest low neck and sleeveless trimmed lace insertion 50c value

Clearing the Decks Price 27c

Ladies' Colored Hose in light blue, pink, oxford, champagne, violet, tan, white always sold for 25c

Clearing the Decks Price 3 for 50c, each 19c

Ladies' Muslin Skirts 3 different styles $1.00 value

Clearing the Decks Price 77c

Gents' Fancy Embroidered Hose 19c

Ladies' Print and Gingham Aprons 19c

Clearing the Decks in Domestic

100 Pieces 18 in. Cotton Diaper 10 yds. in piece

Clearing the Decks Price 44c

20 doz. Sheets, 81x90, nice finish, 59c value.

Clearing the Decks Price 43c

20 dozen Napkins 5-8 pretty designs have been selling for $1.30

Clearing the Decks Price 95c

Small lot of Bed Spreads, full size Marseilles patterns reg. price $1.25

Clearing the Decks Price 97c

Union Huck Towels, Red Borders and H. S. size 18 x 44 extra large good value at 35c per pair

Clearing the Decks Price each 14c

2 Pieces Satin Damask Table Linen sold for $1.25 full width and extra good quality

Clearing the Decks Price 95c

All Linen Napkins, 18x18 asst. patterns worth $1.75 per doz.

Clearing the Decks Price per doz. $1.29

Figured Lawns and Dress Muslins, value 12 1/2, 15, 19c

Clearing the Decks Price 9 1/2

Batistes, Muslins, and Gingham, 25, 35c value for 18c

Special for Monday and Tuesday 120 Ladies' Short Kimonos and Dressing Sacques—Only one to a customer 11 CENTS

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY

The 34th annual reunion of Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F., was celebrated Thursday with an outing at Oakland Park.

In spite of unpleasant weather there was an attendance of about 200 including the Daughters of Rebekah and Odd Fellows' families. A ball game between Rockport Y. M. C. A. and a team selected from the ranks of Knox Lodge resulted disastrously for the rusty fraternity players, some of whom, however, gave evidence that they have not altogether forgotten the skill which made them heroes of the local diamond in former years. The two teams lined up as follows:

Rockport Y. M. C. A.—Hillson C. Chapman, Foster, Talbot, 2b, Cronin, 3b, Pierce, ss, Coombs, lf, Annis, cf, Ors-beton, rf.

Knox Lodge—Staples, c, Karl, p, Smith, 1b, Seavey, 2b, Weeks, 3b, W. Winslow, ss, Tarr, lf, Spear, cf, Pratt, rf.

Rain stopped the game in the 9th inning. The final score was 13 to 5 in favor of Rockport. Robert Stevenson of Rockland was umpire, and John H. Karl kept the tallies.

While the men folks were engaged in baseball stunts, or as spectators thereof, the women were seated on the comfortable veranda of the hotel playing bridge. Picnic supper was served in many nooks and corners, after which the members of the party enjoyed the fine moving picture performance.

The committee in charge of the field day comprised John Colson, Leland Pratt and Chas. A. Sylvester.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

East Union Sees Two Splendid Extra-Inning Games of "Real Baseball"—Other Sporting Notes.

East Union witnessed two of the finest baseball games Saturday that were ever seen in the northern part of the county—or any part of it for that matter. The first game was between East Union and Appleton and went 12 innings before victory finally perched on the visitors' banner. Cogan's pitching and triple and Robins' base-running and batting were the features. East Union hit the ball harder and more frequently, and the score shows a better fielding record, but Appleton's hits were as timely as East Union's errors were inopportune. The second game was between the Medomak Camp and Union. This required one extra inning, the Medomaks winning by a score of 8 to 7. Following is the score of the East Union-Appleton game:

APPLETON. ab r b h po a e
Ames, c ..... 5 0 1 1 8 1 2
Simmons, p ..... 5 0 1 1 1 8 0
H. Pierce, 3b ..... 5 0 1 0 2 1
Fish, ss ..... 5 0 1 1 2 4 0
N. Pierce, cf ..... 5 0 1 1 0 0 0
Gushee, rf ..... 5 1 1 1 0 0 0
Watson, 1b ..... 5 0 1 1 2 0 0
Keller, 2b ..... 5 1 1 1 5 1 1
Pitman, lf ..... 5 1 1 1 0 0 0

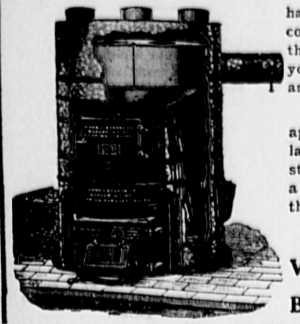

45 3 9 36 16 6

EAST UNION. ab r b h po a e
Davis, c ..... 6 1 3 3 15 4 0
Mills, lf ..... 6 0 0 0 3 0 1
Etter, 2b ..... 6 1 2 2 3 3 1
Robins, cf ..... 6 0 3 4 4 1 0
Cogan, p ..... 5 0 2 4 0 2 0
R. Payson, 1b ..... 5 0 0 0 11 0 1
Bowley, ss ..... 5 0 1 1 0 1 0
Burkett, 3b ..... 5 0 1 1 1 6 0
G. Payson, rf ..... 5 0 2 0 0 0 0

49 2 14 17 36 17 3

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
Appleton 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—3
E. Union 1 0 0 0 1 0

CLARION AND FURNACES CLARION OAK

have the fundamental merit of thorough construction. If you have known only the light weight, carefully fitted kind you need to learn what CLARIONS are doing.

A good furnace is the best heating apparatus in the world because it ventilates as well as heats and is under instant control—but to be sure you have a good furnace, study quality and record: then you will buy a CLARION.

ESTABLISHED 1830.

WOOD & BISHOP CO.,
BANGOR, - MAINE.

SOLD BY C. E. SMITH, Rockland

MARRIED IN THOMASTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Ames Celebrate Gold Wedding Anniversary.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Ames of Jefferson was recently the scene of the 50th anniversary of their wedding. They were joined in marriage at Thomaston, in July, 1859.

Mr. Ames spent three years prior to his marriage, in California in the mining business and can now show his friends a nugget worth $150, which was unearthed by himself. His labors in the gold fields were very successful. After returning to his old home in Maine he worked many years in the shipyard, but has always made his home in Jefferson where he first saw the light of day. Mr. Ames was the son of Paul Ames of Jefferson and is a brother of the Hon. Albert J. Ames, who is also one of the best known men in Lincoln county.

Uncle Henry and Aunt Sarah have but one child, the wife of George Halliwell of Jefferson. Mr. Ames was in the old days a whig in politics, but has since been identified with the Democratic party. He was made a Mason in King Solomon Lodge in 1865 and in 1866 became a charter member of Riverside Lodge, No. 135 of which he has been treasurer nearly all of the time since.

Mr. Ames is 77 years of age and Mrs. Ames is three years younger. At the anniversary gathering an original poem was read by Mrs. Myra Nash of Jefferson and Dr. F. W. Jackson added much to the entertainment of the evening. Some useful and pretty presents were given Mr. and Mrs. Ames being presented in a well-worked speech by W. A. Jackson.

The Crime of Idleness.

Idleness means trouble for any one. It causes constipation, headache, jaundice, sallow complexion, pimples and blotches, loss of appetite, nausea, but Dr. King's New Life Pills soon banish liver troubles and build up your health. See at Wm. H. Kittredge's drug store, Rockland; G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston; R. W. Wiley's drug store, Vinalhaven.

THE PERLIN SHORTHAND

DID YOU EVER HEAR OF IT?

Students learn it more quickly, write it more rapidly and read it more readily than any other method.

Young people intending to study Shorthand can save time and money by coming to the School. INVESTIGATE THIS CLAIM.

We have a complete Business College of the highest grade—our shorthand students are always in demand and are filling some of the best positions in Boston.

Boston requires more young men and women for business positions than all the rest of New England. If you want a Boston position be sure to obtain a Boston training.

This school is located in the heart of the business district of the business street in new quarters recently built for us.

Before you decide what Business School to attend, investigate us.

The . . . Pernin School of Business Inc.

665 WASHINGTON STREET
BOSTON, MASS. 461

1804 HEBRON ACADEMY 1909

Located in the country but having the conveniences of the city in way of water, electric light, steam heating, three courses, College, English, Scientific. Admits to New England colleges on certificate. Splendid girls dormitory, provides rooms for 80 girls under care of six lady teachers. Home cooking and supervision. New boys' dormitory in process of erection will be ready for use November 1, 1909. Scholarships.

Fall term opens Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1909. For catalogue and information address the Principal.

W. E. SARGENT, Hebron, Me.

60-69

IT WILL BE TO YOUR INTEREST to consult us before papering your rooms. We paper a room and furnish the wall paper for $2.00 per room.

Painting, Kalsomining and Whitewashing at lowest rates.

We also have a full stock of Wall Papers and Room Mouldings.

BLOOM BROS., 212 Main St., Rockland, Me. 2317

ASK your Grocer for

PENOBSHOT BRAND MAINE BONELESS COD

We recommend this brand to the trade wishing a superior quality as it is made from strictly new fish. Receipts with same.

Penobscot Fish Co.

ROCKLAND, MAINE

Haynes Will Try Again

For This Reason Those Who Oppose Pardon Want Public To Know Certain Facts In the Case—The Judge's Charge.

In view of the announcement that Samuel D. Haynes would make still another attempt to secure a pardon the opponents of that move feel that it is time to make public some points connected with the case of which some who signed his petition are in apparent ignorance.

For instance they call attention to certain portions of the respondent's own testimony. Haynes testified in his own behalf and in part as follows: (As shown by official stenographic report on file in clerk of Courts office.)

Question: State slowly and distinctly the details of the striking.

Answer: He (Robbins) was sitting there in a chair, thinking the chair was leaning against the partition, and he was leaning forward, had a small stick in his hand that had been used for a cane and it was a cane. He was whittling the bark off, trimming it down, and I was walking back and forth between the cupboard and the door. The door was right beside him that went down stairs. I picked up a piece of iron there and put it in my pocket, went walking back and forth, had a cane in one hand; found the iron in a cupboard on a shelf there. I picked it up intending to use it as soon as I got to him, but I did not hardly feel capable of doing it. I walked back and forth and after a while I struck him, as I got to the door; when I got to the door I had it in my hand and I struck. * * * It may have been ten minutes, might have been fifteen, after I took the iron before I struck him. I could not tell the exact length of time, should not say it was more than 10 minutes. I walked back maybe six or seven times between him and the cupboard. I did not strike him at once.

* * * I had that weapon in my possession perhaps ten minutes before I struck him; got it from the cupboard; I had seen it there, saw it the first day I was in. * * * I went to that cupboard with the intentions of striking Robbins. I struck him a swinging blow. His head was bent over.

Q: You did not think it might kill him?

A: I did not have any thoughts on the subject.

Q: What were your intentions when you struck the blow?

A: I intended to get away. I had a pretty serious charge, a term of imprisonment to look forward to. * * * I had not told about the burglar's hole, for this affair in the lockup. I supposed at the time I struck Robbins that Shimmers had told on me. The motive for striking Robbins was to get away. I was upon good terms with Robbins; he was very friendly indeed to me, granted me what privileges he could consistently. * * * I cannot tell how much force I used. I was not particular to strike him hard. I struck him a natural blow, did not exert myself in any way. I knew he was a large man and I expected it would take quite a blow to stun him. * * *

I intended in the forehead holding it by the small end, then I was afraid I could not knock him down with it. * * *

Q: Did you not expect when you struck him with that iron in that way a swinging blow upon the side of the head that it might kill him?

A: I did not think of it at the time. Q: Do you deny making the statement to Mr. Mortland that the reason why you struck him with the smaller end instead of the larger end was that you intended to fix him.

A: I might have used that language.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

Following is the judge's charge in the case:

STATE VS. SAMUEL D. HAYNES. Danforth J. charged the jury as follows: Gentlemen of the jury—I need not call your attention to the fact of the importance of this case. That has already been done sufficiently. I simply wish to add that however important it may be to the respondent, and I do not want to diminish that in the slightest.

mate results of that act; that is, it presumes conclusively that he intends the natural and necessary consequences of that act.

Now, apply that to this case; I think you will find no great conflict of testimony here; I do not understand that the testimony on the part of the government materially differs from that which he himself has given on the stand; apply that to this case and see how you find it. Did he intend to strike the man who was killed. He says he did. Was that a deliberate act? Did he make up his mind beforehand to do it? Upon this point you have testimony as to whether he got the instrument with which he did it. You have it from himself, the time he spent in considering whether he had courage enough to do it, get his courage up to the striking point, as it is said, as well as the other testimony in the case, and from that you will judge whether it was a deliberate act; whether he had made up his mind beforehand to commit the crime upon the man who was killed. If he did, that would be malice, express malice. Then, the next question would be whether that instrument and the manner in which he used it, the place where he struck with that instrument, taking all these circumstances, whether it was a blow with an instrument that would be likely to inflict serious bodily harm upon the man, or result in death. If it was within common knowledge that such would be the effect of such a blow, in such a place, with such an instrument, then, he must be held responsible for the result which followed; and if you find that the testimony sustains this view of it, then, your verdict would be guilty of murder in the first degree.

If it does not sustain this, then the next question would be whether the testimony sustains a verdict of murder in the second degree. That would be where a man deliberately, but suddenly, upon the moment, should intentionally strike a man a blow likely to result in death. There must be sufficient premeditation to intend to strike, and strike with the instrument which he does use, and the place where he does strike; but, if it comes suddenly, without any forethought, then, it would reduce the crime from express malice, or from order in the first degree to murder in the second degree.

If, further, the blow was struck with an instrument and under circumstances and at a place which were not calculated to produce death, from which death might not be expected fairly, within common knowledge; on the other hand one from which we might suppose that the man would live, or where he would not expect death to result, then, it would be reduced to manslaughter. But in this matter the law does not allow a person to be trying experiments to see how hard he can hit a man, and still be held responsible for the result which followed; he must hold him to the natural and legitimate results of an act deliberately done.

You will take this case, apply the testimony to those principles of law about which I have told you, there is no doubt whatever, because they have been set over and over again, hold the respondent to the necessary results of his acts, whether they are deliberately done or not deliberately done, or whether the death was not a result of the act.

When a man takes the life of another, with malice aforethought either express or implied, it is murder, a crime which the law punishes with death; but the charge in this indictment also includes manslaughter. When a person without malice aforethought, upon a sudden provocation takes the life of another, a sufficient provocation, then, out of the great tenderness which the law has to human frailty and human passion, it reduces that to manslaughter. But there is no claim of any provocation in this case, and, therefore, unless it can be reduced to manslaughter by some other way, of course, there is no manslaughter about it. But, there is another claim, another ground on which it may be manslaughter, and which I understand to be the claim here. When a party, without malice, without any intention of killing, inflicts a blow which is not intended to produce death, but which, by reason of the force of the blow, or the instrument used, or the place where it is struck, or the manner in which it is struck, or the result, and death did ensue, that would be manslaughter, if the blow was unlawful; and that, as I understand the counsel, is the ground upon which he puts this case. The defense here is that the blow was struck not only without any intention of inflicting death, but under such circumstances that it was not such a blow as would ordinarily cause death to ensue.

There has some confusion arisen here, as is often the case, with regard to the nature of the crime itself, the foundation on which a criminal case rests; and it is said that no man can be a criminal without a wrong intention, that to a certain extent, no doubt, is true; but a crime rests upon a given state of mind or heart;—a depraved, corrupt mind; one that is expressed by many writers, and nobly expressed, as a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief—that is the condition in which a man commits a crime. Malice does not include necessity; it is a deliberate, malicious, individual; because a man may kill his best friend; he may do it unintentionally to accomplish a given purpose. He is no better man for killing his best friend than he is for killing his enemy; he would be if he killed his worst enemy; perhaps, you may think not so good; it would indicate possibly a more corrupt and depraved state of mind and heart than that which I have had taken his enemy rather than his friend. Malice is indicated by the deliberation with which a thing is done; premeditated, done deliberately for any motive whatever, or to accomplish any purpose; if it is done deliberately, that is malice, that is, if it is intentional, the act itself intentional; if a man makes up his mind beforehand, and secretly, deliberately, commits the act, intending to do it, that is malice.

Now, murder, itself is divided into two degrees; one express malice; one by implied malice; that is, murder committed under such circumstances as are not of so high and grave a nature as one committed under express malice. Can a man, then, commit murder without intending to do so? The intention here, I think, is to accomplish the act, deliberately, but the intention applies to the act rather than to the result. If he intends his act, that is, if he deliberately does an act, the law holds him responsible for all the natural, legitimate results of that act; that is, it presumes conclusively that he intends the natural and necessary consequences of that act.

Now, apply that to this case; I think you will find no great conflict of testimony here; I do not understand that the testimony on the part of the government materially differs from that which he himself has given on the stand; apply that to this case and see how you find it. Did he intend to strike the man who was killed. He says he did. Was that a deliberate act? Did he make up his mind beforehand to do it? Upon this point you have testimony as to whether he got the instrument with which he did it. You have it from himself, the time he spent in considering whether he had courage enough to do it, get his courage up to the striking point, as it is said, as well as the other testimony in the case, and from that you will judge whether it was a deliberate act; whether he had made up his mind beforehand to commit the crime upon the man who was killed. If he did, that would be malice, express malice. Then, the next question would be whether that instrument and the manner in which he used it, the place where he struck with that instrument, taking all these circumstances, whether it was a blow with an instrument that would be likely to inflict serious bodily harm upon the man, or result in death. If it was within common knowledge that such would be the effect of such a blow, in such a place, with such an instrument, then, he must be held responsible for the result which followed; and if you find that the testimony sustains this view of it, then, your verdict would be guilty of murder in the first degree.

If it does not sustain this, then the next question would be whether the testimony sustains a verdict of murder in the second degree. That would be where a man deliberately, but suddenly, upon the moment, should intentionally strike a man a blow likely to result in death. There must be sufficient premeditation to intend to strike, and strike with the instrument which he does use, and the place where he does strike; but, if it comes suddenly, without any forethought, then, it would reduce the crime from express malice, or from order in the first degree to murder in the second degree.

If, further, the blow was struck with an instrument and under circumstances and at a place which were not calculated to produce death, from which death might not be expected fairly, within common knowledge; on the other hand one from which we might suppose that the man would live, or where he would not expect death to result, then, it would be reduced to manslaughter. But in this matter the law does not allow a person to be trying experiments to see how hard he can hit a man, and still be held responsible for the result which followed; he must hold him to the natural and legitimate results of an act deliberately done.

You will take this case, apply the testimony to those principles of law about which I have told you, there is no doubt whatever, because they have been set over and over again, hold the respondent to the necessary results of his acts, whether they are deliberately done or not deliberately done, or whether the death was not a result of the act.

When a man takes the life of another, with malice aforethought either express or implied, it is murder, a crime which the law punishes with death; but the charge in this indictment also includes manslaughter. When a person without malice aforethought, upon a sudden provocation takes the life of another, a sufficient provocation, then, out of the great tenderness which the law has to human frailty and human passion, it reduces that to manslaughter. But there is no claim of any provocation in this case, and, therefore, unless it can be reduced to manslaughter by some other way, of course, there is no manslaughter about it. But, there is another claim, another ground on which it may be manslaughter, and which I understand to be the claim here. When a party, without malice, without any intention of killing, inflicts a blow which is not intended to produce death, but which, by reason of the force of the blow, or the instrument used, or the place where it is struck, or the manner in which it is struck, or the result, and death did ensue, that would be manslaughter, if the blow was unlawful; and that, as I understand the counsel, is the ground upon which he puts this case. The defense here is that the blow was struck not only without any intention of inflicting death, but under such circumstances that it was not such a blow as would ordinarily cause death to ensue.

There has some confusion arisen here, as is often the case, with regard to the nature of the crime itself, the foundation on which a criminal case rests; and it is said that no man can be a criminal without a wrong intention, that to a certain extent, no doubt, is true; but a crime rests upon a given state of mind or heart;—a depraved, corrupt mind; one that is expressed by many writers, and nobly expressed, as a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief—that is the condition in which a man commits a crime. Malice does not include necessity; it is a deliberate, malicious, individual; because a man may kill his best friend; he may do it unintentionally to accomplish a given purpose. He is no better man for killing his best friend than he is for killing his enemy; he would be if he killed his worst enemy; perhaps, you may think not so good; it would indicate possibly a more corrupt and depraved state of mind and heart than that which I have had taken his enemy rather than his friend. Malice is indicated by the deliberation with which a thing is done; premeditated, done deliberately for any motive whatever, or to accomplish any purpose; if it is done deliberately, that is malice, that is, if it is intentional, the act itself intentional; if a man makes up his mind beforehand, and secretly, deliberately, commits the act, intending to do it, that is malice.

Now, murder, itself is divided into two degrees; one express malice; one by implied malice; that is, murder committed under such circumstances as are not of so high and grave a nature as one committed under express malice. Can a man, then, commit murder without intending to do so? The intention here, I think, is to accomplish the act, deliberately, but the intention applies to the act rather than to the result. If he intends his act, that is, if he deliberately does an act, the law holds him responsible for all the natural, legitimate results of that act; that is, it presumes conclusively that he intends the natural and necessary consequences of that act.

Now, apply that to this case; I think you will find no great conflict of testimony here; I do not understand that the testimony on the part of the government materially differs from that which he himself has given on the stand; apply that to this case and see how you find it. Did he intend to strike the man who was killed. He says he did. Was that a deliberate act? Did he make up his mind beforehand to do it? Upon this point you have testimony as to whether he got the instrument with which he did it. You have it from himself, the time he spent in considering whether he had courage enough to do it, get his courage up to the striking point, as it is said, as well as the other testimony in the case, and from that you will judge whether it was a deliberate act; whether he had made up his mind beforehand to commit the crime upon the man who was killed. If he did, that would be malice, express malice. Then, the next question would be whether that instrument and the manner in which he used it, the place where he struck with that instrument, taking all these circumstances, whether it was a blow with an instrument that would be likely to inflict serious bodily harm upon the man, or result in death. If it was within common knowledge that such would be the effect of such a blow, in such a place, with such an instrument, then, he must be held responsible for the result which followed; and if you find that the testimony sustains this view of it, then, your verdict would be guilty of murder in the first degree.

If it does not sustain this, then the next question would be whether the testimony sustains a verdict of murder in the second degree. That would be where a man deliberately, but suddenly, upon the moment, should intentionally strike a man a blow likely to result in death. There must be sufficient premeditation to intend to strike, and strike with the instrument which he does use, and the place where he does strike; but, if it comes suddenly, without any forethought, then, it would reduce the crime from express malice, or from order in the first degree to murder in the second degree.

If, further, the blow was struck with an instrument and under circumstances and at a place which were not calculated to produce death, from which death might not be expected fairly, within common knowledge; on the other hand one from which we might suppose that the man would live, or where he would not expect death to result, then, it would be reduced to manslaughter. But in this matter the law does not allow a person to be trying experiments to see how hard he can hit a man, and still be held responsible for the result which followed; he must hold him to the natural and legitimate results of an act deliberately done.

You will take this case, apply the testimony to those principles of law about which I have told you, there is no doubt whatever, because they have been set over and over again, hold the respondent to the necessary results of his acts, whether they are deliberately done or not deliberately done, or whether the death was not a result of the act.

When a man takes the life of another, with malice aforethought either express or implied, it is murder, a crime which the law punishes with death; but the charge in this indictment also includes manslaughter. When a person without malice aforethought, upon a sudden provocation takes the life of another, a sufficient provocation, then, out of the great tenderness which the law has to human frailty and human passion, it reduces that to manslaughter. But there is no claim of any provocation in this case, and, therefore, unless it can be reduced to manslaughter by some other way, of course, there is no manslaughter about it. But, there is another claim, another ground on which it may be manslaughter, and which I understand to be the claim here. When a party, without malice, without any intention of killing, inflicts a blow which is not intended to produce death, but which, by reason of the force of the blow, or the instrument used, or the place where it is struck, or the manner in which it is struck, or the result, and death did ensue, that would be manslaughter, if the blow was unlawful; and that, as I understand the counsel, is the ground upon which he puts this case. The defense here is that the blow was struck not only without any intention of inflicting death, but under such circumstances that it was not such a blow as would ordinarily cause death to ensue.

There has some confusion arisen here, as is often the case, with regard to the nature of the crime itself, the foundation on which a criminal case rests; and it is said that no man can be a criminal without a wrong intention, that to a certain extent, no doubt, is true; but a crime rests upon a given state of mind or heart;—a depraved, corrupt mind; one that is expressed by many writers, and nobly expressed, as a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief—that is the condition in which a man commits a crime. Malice does not include necessity; it is a deliberate, malicious, individual; because a man may kill his best friend; he may do it unintentionally to accomplish a given purpose. He is no better man for killing his best friend than he is for killing his enemy; he would be if he killed his worst enemy; perhaps, you may think not so good; it would indicate possibly a more corrupt and depraved state of mind and heart than that which I have had taken his enemy rather than his friend. Malice is indicated by the deliberation with which a thing is done; premeditated, done deliberately for any motive whatever, or to accomplish any purpose; if it is done deliberately, that is malice, that is, if it is intentional, the act itself intentional; if a man makes up his mind beforehand, and secretly, deliberately, commits the act, intending to do it, that is malice.

Now, murder, itself is divided into two degrees; one express malice; one by implied malice; that is, murder committed under such circumstances as are not of so high and grave a nature as one committed under express malice. Can a man, then, commit murder without intending to do so? The intention here, I think, is to accomplish the act, deliberately, but the intention applies to the act rather than to the result. If he intends his act, that is, if he deliberately does an act, the law holds him responsible for all the natural, legitimate results of that act; that is, it presumes conclusively that he intends the natural and necessary consequences of that act.

Now, apply that to this case; I think you will find no great conflict of testimony here; I do not understand that the testimony on the part of the government materially differs from that which he himself has given on the stand; apply that to this case and see how you find it. Did he intend to strike the man who was killed. He says he did. Was that a deliberate act? Did he make up his mind beforehand to do it? Upon this point you have testimony as to whether he got the instrument with which he did it. You have it from himself, the time he spent in considering whether he had courage enough to do it, get his courage up to the striking point, as it is said, as well as the other testimony in the case, and from that you will judge whether it was a deliberate act; whether he had made up his mind beforehand to commit the crime upon the man who was killed. If he did, that would be malice, express malice. Then, the next question would be whether that instrument and the manner in which he used it, the place where he struck with that instrument, taking all these circumstances, whether it was a blow with an instrument that would be likely to inflict serious bodily harm upon the man, or result in death. If it was within common knowledge that such would be the effect of such a blow, in such a place, with such an instrument, then, he must be held responsible for the result which followed; and if you find that the testimony sustains this view of it, then, your verdict would be guilty of murder in the first degree.

If it does not sustain this, then the next question would be whether the testimony sustains a verdict of murder in the second degree. That would be where a man deliberately, but suddenly, upon the moment, should intentionally strike a man a blow likely to result in death. There must be sufficient premeditation to intend to strike, and strike with the instrument which he does use, and the place where he does strike; but, if it comes suddenly, without any forethought, then, it would reduce the crime from express malice, or from order in the first degree to murder in the second degree.

If, further, the blow was struck with an instrument and under circumstances and at a place which were not calculated to produce death, from which death might not be expected fairly, within common knowledge; on the other hand one from which we might suppose that the man would live, or where he would not expect death to result, then, it would be reduced to manslaughter. But in this matter the law does not allow a person to be trying experiments to see how hard he can hit a man, and still be held responsible for the result which followed; he must hold him to the natural and legitimate results of an act deliberately done.

You will take this case, apply the testimony to those principles of law about which I have told you, there is no doubt whatever, because they have been set over and over again, hold the respondent to the necessary results of his acts, whether they are deliberately done or not deliberately done, or whether the death was not a result of the act.

When a man takes the life of another, with malice aforethought either express or implied, it is murder, a crime which the law punishes with death; but the charge in this indictment also includes manslaughter. When a person without malice aforethought, upon a sudden provocation takes the life of another, a sufficient provocation, then, out of the great tenderness which the law has to human frailty and human passion, it reduces that to manslaughter. But there is no claim of any provocation in this case, and, therefore, unless it can be reduced to manslaughter by some other way, of course, there is no manslaughter about it. But, there is another claim, another ground on which it may be manslaughter, and which I understand to be the claim here. When a party, without malice, without any intention of killing, inflicts a blow which is not intended to produce death, but which, by reason of the force of the blow, or the instrument used, or the place where it is struck, or the manner in which it is struck, or the result, and death did ensue, that would be manslaughter, if the blow was unlawful; and that, as I understand the counsel, is the ground upon which he puts this case. The defense here is that the blow was struck not only without any intention of inflicting death, but under such circumstances that it was not such a blow as would ordinarily cause death to ensue.

There has some confusion arisen here, as is often the case, with regard to the nature of the crime itself, the foundation on which a criminal case rests; and it is said that no man can be a criminal without a wrong intention, that to a certain extent, no doubt, is true; but a crime rests upon a given state of mind or heart;—a depraved, corrupt mind; one that is expressed by many writers, and nobly expressed, as a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief—that is the condition in which a man commits a crime. Malice does not include necessity; it is a deliberate, malicious, individual; because a man may kill his best friend; he may do it unintentionally to accomplish a given purpose. He is no better man for killing his best friend than he is for killing his enemy; he would be if he killed his worst enemy; perhaps, you may think not so good; it would indicate possibly a more corrupt and depraved state of mind and heart than that which I have had taken his enemy rather than his friend. Malice is indicated by the deliberation with which a thing is done; premeditated, done deliberately for any motive whatever, or to accomplish any purpose; if it is done deliberately, that is malice, that is, if it is intentional, the act itself intentional; if a man makes up his mind beforehand, and secretly, deliberately, commits the act, intending to do it, that is malice.

Now, murder, itself is divided into two degrees; one express malice; one by implied malice; that is, murder committed under such circumstances as are not of so high and grave a nature as one committed under express malice. Can a man, then, commit murder without intending to do so? The intention here, I think, is to accomplish the act, deliberately, but the intention applies to the act rather than to the result. If he intends his act, that is, if he deliberately does an act, the law holds him responsible for all the natural, legitimate results of that act; that is, it presumes conclusively that he intends the natural and necessary consequences of that act.

Now, apply that to this case; I think you will find no great conflict of testimony here; I do not understand that the testimony on the part of the government materially differs from that which he himself has given on the stand; apply that to this case and see how you find it. Did he intend to strike the man who was killed. He says he did. Was that a deliberate act? Did he make up his mind beforehand to do it? Upon this point you have testimony as to whether he got the instrument with which he did it. You have it from himself, the time he spent in considering whether he had courage enough to do it, get his courage up to the striking point, as it is said, as well as the other testimony in the case, and from that you will judge whether it was a deliberate act; whether he had made up his mind beforehand to commit the crime upon the man who was killed. If he did, that would be malice, express malice. Then, the next question would be whether that instrument and the manner in which he used it, the place where he struck with that instrument, taking all these circumstances, whether it was a blow with an instrument that would be likely to inflict serious bodily harm upon the man, or result in death