The railways of the United States during the months of January, February and March, 1910, killed 1,100; 21-of 465 killed and 6,110 injured as compared with the corresponding period last year. There were 19 killed on electric railways and 669 injured.

The opening of the second annual meeting at North Randall track and the third week of Grand Circuit racing at Cleveland Monday, was signaled by the breaking of a world's record.

Chilun, driven by his owner, C. K. G.

Billings, trotted a mile to a wagon in 2:01 flat, thereby setting a new record mark for trotting geldings.

“Baseball in heaven” was the subject of a sermon preached by the Rev.

C. Julian Tutill, pastor of the Congregational church in Mattapoisett, Mass.

In his sermon the Rev. Mr. Tutill declared that there was no reason why the great national game should not be found in some form or another in the world to come. He said in part:

“Heaven is but an evolution of this world. A Christian may love a ball game, and, loving it, remain a Christian. Why, then, is it not safe to prophecy that the national game of baseball will have its place in some spiritual form, in heaven?”

Australia, where Jack Johnson won the championship will probably be the scene of his next encounter with anyone who seeks heavyweight honors.

The champion has announced that in all probability he would head for the Antipodes next summer following his theatrical engagements in Europe.

Jack said that he had a number of flattering offers from Hugh McIntosh, the promoter. McIntosh is on his way to the British Metropolis where he will unfold his plans for a fight in England or Australia. He said that he would be glad to fight in any of the places that he had mentioned, and that he was sure to win.

The sixth international Esperanto congress, to be held in Washington beginning the 14th, and perhaps not bring together so remarkable a polyglot reunion as has been seen at some of the European gatherings, but it will be efficiently remarkable for Esperantists will be present from 20 foreign countries, six of which send official representatives. Sermons in the “language of hope” will be given, and the star literary feature will be a production of “As You Like It” in an Esperanto version, and on the 18th the guests will see the Washingtons play the Cleveland—in American, but with a spelling guide in Esperanto. The journalists present can amuse themselves in testing the resources of that language for a report of a ball game.

Sardine Factory Is Open

Rockland's New Industry Begins Career in World's Finest Factory.—Eighty-Five on Payroll Already.

Another important epoch in Rockland's history was marked Tuesday by the opening of the sardine plant on Sea street, owned and operated by the North Lubec Manufacturing and Canning Co. Three long blasts of the factory whistle was the signal used in calling the female help, while two long blasts summoned the male help. On the payroll at the present time are about 85 persons. The female operatives work by the piece, while the men and boys receive stated wages.

The first fare of fish received at the factory consisted of 250 bushels of herring, taken from the weirs in Muskeget Channel and brought here in the company's steamer, Princess. The factory has a capacity for handling 1200 bushels per day, and when running full blast will give employment to 200 hands. The activity of a sardine factory depends wholly upon the supply of fish, and at the present time there is a scarcity of the little edible herrings all along the coast.

The price paid for the first lot of fish was 35 cents per bushel. They are sometimes bought as low as 10 cents a bushel. The fish are obtained at various points between Millbridge and Portland.

The North Lubec Manufacturing and Canning Co. also has four factories at Lubec. Their average output for some years past has been 150,000 cases, which contained approximately 12,000,000 cans. The new Rockland factory is called the finest in the world. The main building is 61x201 feet in size and two stories high, the wing being 20x41 feet. Both buildings are constructed of reinforced concrete and brick, being the first structures of that kind erected in this part of the state. A description of the factory and method of its construction appeared in The Courier-Gazette some weeks ago. It is more modern and sanitary than any other sardine factory yet constructed, and represents with its machinery and equipment a total cost of about $40,000.

The Rockland factory will operate under the direction of E. M. Lawrence, a prominent resident of Lubec, who has just been nominated by the Republican party as one of its candidates for state senator. Dennis McMahon is foreman, and Edward Doon is his assistant. Messrs. McMahon and Doon are experts in the sardine business, and were brought here from the Lubec factories.

Of the 85 persons now on the payroll about 25 are men and boys. Most of the girls belong in Rockland and Mr. Lawrence expresses himself as much pleased with the rapid manner in which they are learning their work. "I am well pleased with Rockland all around," said Mr. Lawrence to The Courier-Gazette reporter. "If the people use everybody as well as they have me I don't wonder that strangers like to come here. In return for this compliment it may be said that Mr. Lawrence has made the most favorable impression upon all with whom he has come in contact. He is a thorough business man, modern and practical in his methods, and quiet but courteous in his demeanor. Visitors to his factory can rest assured of a cordial greeting."

The sardine season lasts from April 1st to Dec. 1st. Its importance to Rockland will be speedily felt. The operatives make good money and spend it in their home town. One merchant who is in the way of getting considerable trade from this source told The Courier-Gazette reporter yesterday that he found nearly a spoonful of fish scales in his cash drawer. And he didn't have reference to silver-dimes, either. Success to the new industry.

Rhode Island Firemen

How Rockland's "Hooks" Plan to Entertain Them Next Week.—Parade Scheduled for Friday.

The Hydraulion Engine Co. of Bristol, R. I., arrives here Sunday morning for a week's stay, during which it will be royally entertained by American Hook & Ladder Co.

Fraternel relations between these two gallant fire-fighting organizations were inaugurated five years ago (although it does not seem nearly as long) when American in a most creditable manner performed the duties of host. The following year the Rockland "Hooks" went to Bristol and were entertained in a manner that they have never ceased to exploit. Bristol is neither the capital nor metropolis of Rhode Island, but when you mention that state to a Rockland fireman he forgets that its borders contain any other city. Last spring American Hook & Ladder again visited Bristol on the occasion of the Hydraulion Co.'s annual fair and it was abundantly demonstrated to the visitors that four years' separation have not cooled the friendship that was established in 1905.

The visitors will be about 25 in number. They arrive early Sunday morning on the Boston boat, and will be escorted to their quarters at the St. Nicholas hotel, although they will dine when in town at Mrs. Small's restaurant on Elm street.

Sunday's program includes an automobile ride starting from the St. Nicholas hotel at 9:30 a. m., and a trolley ride in the afternoon. Monday will be spent at Crescent Beach, with dinner at the hotel. Tuesday will be spent in beautiful Camden when the visitors will have a chance to view the rest of the world from the peaks of two of the highest and most picturesque mountains on the Atlantic coast. In the evening there will be a dance in Armory hall, Rockland.

Wednesday the sailing qualities of the Rhode Island firemen will be tested. Mosquito Island will be the destination, and a shore dinner the object. Dreamland theatre in the evening.

Thursday the visitors will be taken to a place which they all want to see, but where none will want to stay—the Thomaston state prison. In the afternoon there will be a ball game between the two companies. The survivors will dance at Armory hall in the evening. Friday there will be a sail among the islands in the forenoon, a street parade in the afternoon and dancing in the evening.

On Saturday, the last day of the visit, the Rhode Islanders will be entertained in American Hook & Ladder Co.'s hall.

The general committee in charge of entertaining the Hydraulion company comprises W. H. Fowle, captain of American company; George A. Flint, former chief engineer; Simon Hart, S. K. Hatch, Charles E. Hockbert and John T. Berry. Citizens have subscribed generously to the entertainment fund.

Give the boys a good time.

FROST—HOOPER.

One of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in St. George, took place Wednesday evening, Aug. 3, in the Second Baptist church, Martinsville, when Miss Ida Mae Hooper of that place was united in marriage to Albert Sherman Frost of Rockland. The pastor, Rev. Harlan L. Skillins, performed the ceremony, using the impressive ring service.

The decorations were in the hands of the girl friends of the bride, who did not aim at elaboration, but succeeded in producing a very beautiful effect. Festoons of green hung from the corners of the church, and were artistically entwined about the chandelier while at regular intervals were suspended dainty white bells. Bright bunches of golden-rod interwoven with green prettily trimmed the aisles and added much to the beauty of the decorations. The distinguishing feature was an arch of evergreen, from the center of which was suspended a large white floral bell beneath which the couple stood.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, rendered by Mrs. Willis Hooper, the bride party entered from the rear of the church, proceeding to the altar, the flower girl, little Miss Muriel Hooper, leading, followed by the ring-bearer, Miss Ella Mason, the maid of honor, Mary Clay Henderson, and lastly the bride on the arm of her father, Edwin S. Hooper. The groom and best man, Fred E. Hooper, awaited the party at the chancel. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride, carrying in her hand a bouquet of white bride roses, the same flowers which entwined her veil, presented a most attractive picture in her beautiful costume of white silk. The maid of honor wore a gown of embroidered white silk muslin, and carried pink roses. The ring-bearer was daintily attired in pink silk muslin with lace trimmings, and carried the ring in the heart of a rose. The flower girl was prettily dressed in white muslin, with trimmings of lace and pink ribbons, and carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas. The ushers were Messrs. Fred Seavey of Attleboro, Mass., Ralph Rivers of Tenants Harbor, Albert W. Hooper of Glenmere and Willis N. Hooper of this place.

A reception attended only by the family and a few intimate friends, followed at the home of the bride's parents, where the young couple received congratulations, and all partook of a delicious wedding lunch served by the Misses Harriet Gould and Hazel Hooper. The popularity of the bride and groom was attested by the beautiful gifts of china, silver, linen, cut glass, etc. The bride is a young lady with a wide circle of friends, by whom she will be greatly missed. The groom, although a stranger, has made many friends in this vicinity. The best wishes of all follow them to their new home in Rockland.

A little son of Stephen Kavanagh fell overboard from Spear's wharf while at play Thursday evening and would have drowned but for the timely efforts of an Indian who jumped overboard and secured the youngster as he was going down for the last time. E. F. Gould of Auburn, who represented the brokerage firm of Joseph Elwell & Co. in this city, was in town Wednesday and stated that all of the Mackinaw and Champion stock which had been sold here will be delivered. The mining property is located in Idaho, and there has already been expended in its development the sum of $85,000. Machinery costing $20,000 is to be erected. It is a lead, silver and copper proposition.

The fire department was called to Rockland Highlands Tuesday afternoon to contest a blaze which was threatening the set of buildings owned by Frank Haraden, known as the George Smith place. A smudge fire had been used in the hen house during the day, and was thought to have been extinguished. During the afternoon the shed was found to be afire. Women in the neighborhood promptly telephoned to the central fire station and an alarm was sounded. The Harpess, Sears and Hooks responded, but ahead of them sped an automobile containing Mayor McLean and City Clerk Orne, who did gallant service in the bucket brigade before the fire apparatus arrived. The shed was destroyed and the barn was damaged. The loss of $200 is covered by insurance in Arthur L. Orne's agency.

MOVING PICTURE MIRACLES

Some Tricks of the Trade Which Cause Countless Patrons to Wonder—A Film That Cost $90,000.

The tremendous popularity of moving pictures may be judged from the fact that there are now in this country 15,000 theatres devoted to that form of entertainment, and that the aggregate weekly attendance goes far into the millions.

To meet the demands of this trade the manufacture of moving pictures has become an industry which gives employment to thousands of people and has called for an investment of millions of dollars.

The moving picture idea was first conceived by Thomas A. Edison in 1887. It occurred to him to invent something that would do for the eye what his phonograph was then doing for the ear and from that idea developed the present world-wide amusement and educational entertainment.

The first moving picture machine was as crude as the first automobile or steam engine compared with those used today. Consisting of a box in which there was only a peephole it was possible for only one person to see the show at once, as it was possible for only a few persons to listen to the first phonograph. Then came the invention of reproducing the films on celluloid and throwing the picture on a screen so that hundreds could see it. From Mr. Edison's inventions have come the present high development of the picture.

The principal of the moving picture has been worked out scientifically. It has been established that the eye is capable of seeing only eight distinct changes per second. So the moving picture machine has been timed to have the transition from light to darkness one-eighth of a second. Hence out of every second that a picture is being thrown on the screen there is one-eighth darkness and 73-80ths light, which explains why a picture is always before the eye.

The Edison Co.'s moving picture business is located in its own headquarters occupying two immense buildings, in one of which is the executive office and in the other the immense stage on which the pictures are enacted together with the great quantity of machinery and machines necessary for putting on the acts.

The stage is 150 long and 60 feet deep. Four different scenes can be taking place at the same time, each being reproduced by a camera. The cameras are expert in moving picture work as any of the great comedians, dramatists or opera singers are in their line. The excellence of their work is imperative. At the presentation of play on stage, a mis-step or a false motion will be observed by only a few critics, but where the error is recorded on a film it is open to continual criticism. For the same reason is the Edison band used for phonograph work. If the cornet strikes a note too high in a concert it may not be observed, but on the record it can be pointed out every time the selection is reproduced. In moving picture work as well as the making of phonograph records, the artists are schooled in their profession.

Many of the pictures which appear so realistic in their dashing ocean waves, forest and other scenes never have been seen by the human eye. New films are required that the makers cannot wait for fair weather and ideal light conditions. Immense tanks of water are kept to make the ocean scenes so perfect that they can never be told from the real thing, while light and other natural effects are as easily secured. The immense towers, cliffs, fire scenes and many other features are all worked out on the stage.

Of course all of the pictures can not be worked out under a roof. Parties are travelling over the world the year round making pictures. When the managers of the industry are making a picture, they send the camera man and necessary assistant to Alaska; when they want the natives of Africa hunting in the jungles, the outfit is sent to that country and so on.

When the managers of the industry are making a picture, they send the camera man and necessary assistant to Alaska; when they want the natives of Africa hunting in the jungles, the outfit is sent to that country and so on.

CINGALA CEYLON TEA

There is a world of difference in tea. The superiority of Cingala is due to our care in its selection. Only the tender leaves of young plants are taken. "No other Ceylon Tea has that smooth, delightful fragrance or that delicious, distinctive is valuable inasmuch as by its use you can trace the development of germs which it is impossible to do with the eye and the microscope. The microscope will magnify the germs 3,000 diameters. When this picture is thrown on a screen it is again magnified many thousand times. The size of the picture on the film is three-quarters of an inch and one inch wide. This is magnified 38,564 diameters when thrown on an ordinary sized curtain.

ORANGE PEKOE FLAVOR

It is this rare, subtle flavor and its rich, tempting taste that raise Cingala so far above ordinary teas.

"What does the average film cost?" was asked.

"Money is no object to the manufacturers," replied Mr. Stewart. "Some of them cost $100 to $200, but more of them cost only a few dollars. I have seen one French firm burn down their plant purposely to secure one picture which cost them $90,000. Here is an example of the extremes to which the makers go. Mr. Edison bought a White steam engine for $200,000, used it a while and laid it aside. One day he suggested to the manager of his moving picture department that he might use it in a film.

"Do you care what becomes of it?" asked the manager.

"You may do with it what you please," replied Mr. Edison.

"A picture was arranged which provided for the destruction of the car. It was run over a precipice with a dummy in it, and the car was smashed into scrap on the rocks below. A beautiful feature of the picture was the explosion of the boiler in midair.

THE BANGOR FAIR

And Some of the Attractions to be Seen There.—Entries Are Pouring In.

Officials say that the Eastern Maine State fair Aug. 23-26 will be the best the Bangor has ever had.

Saturday the race entries close and many horses are being entered every day. The cattle entries have been coming in considerably better than last year and in the exhibition horse department some fine stock has been booked.

The Nadeau musicians of Waterville, a troupe consisting of six pieces, has been engaged for the Auditorium and the platform in front of the grand stand and they are bound to win popular favor. The troupe consists of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nadeau and four children and the instruments are violin, cornet and bass. Wherever they have played, they have given excellent satisfaction and will be a fine addition to the already long list of entertainments.

St. Joseph's band, an organization of 20 pieces, highly recommended, has been engaged and will dispense its best in front of the grand stand afternoons and evenings.

E. A. W. Field, superintendent of space and ground rent, said Tuesday that even at this early date practically all the space for the fair has been booked and the demand for space had been very active this year. There will be more large attractions on the Midway than last year and several new features.

made which so many people have wondered at; like how a beautiful girl can suddenly grow out of a flower, or a man be flattened out like a pancake by a steam roller and then come to life in a normal condition. When men are thrown over battlements into the sea or driven through with a sword, they are not flesh and blood, but dummies who have been substituted for the actor at the proper time, the change being made while the camera is shut off.

Those pictures in which the horses are running the men walking and everything in motion is moving backwards, are secured through taking the picture in the ordinary way and reproducing the other end to.

We endeavor to make pictures for all classes except those who gloat over the immoral, suggestive or abnormal," says a representative of the Edison Co. "Since the inception of the business the Edison people have held constantly in mind that the moving picture was a factor in the development of the condition of the people, and from the first they have not made a picture which they thought of as a picture which would be turned down by the censor.

"Moving pictures can be educational, or they can portray the comedy and tragedy as represented in the plays of Shakespeare or other great writers, or the human interest of everyday life. Much time and money are spent on all classes.

"All the Edison films, before they are sent out, are seen by a representative of the People's Institute of New York City. On the board of censorship are such men as Jacob A. Riss, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Andrew Carnegie, Felix Adler, Percy S. Grant, Rev. Dr. George William Knox, chairman, and John C. Miller, secretary.

"One illustration of the educational value of pictures is King Cotton which shows the cotton being planted, at different stages of growth, being picked, ginned, woven, sold and worked, besides the manufacture of the by-products. Another illustration was the Fly Pest. You cannot hammer into a person's head the great evil flies do, and make him drive them out of his home. But by showing him over and over again the fly lighting in cupboards used by consumptive, in sewerage polluted with typhoid and diphtheria and then flying onto meats or onto the baby's rubber nipple, you can bring to his attention, as you can in no other way, the danger of having this pest around.

"Again in science the moving picture is valuable inasmuch as by its use you can trace the development of germs which it is impossible to do with the eye and the microscope. The microscope will magnify the germs 3,000 diameters. When this picture is thrown on a screen it is again magnified many thousand times. The size of the picture on the film is three-quarters of an inch and one inch wide. This is magnified 38,564 diameters when thrown on an ordinary sized curtain.

"What does the average film cost?" was asked.

"Money is no object to the manufacturers," replied Mr. Stewart. "Some of them cost $100 to $200, but more of them cost only a few dollars. I have seen one French firm burn down their plant purposely to secure one picture which cost them $90,000. Here is an example of the extremes to which the makers go. Mr. Edison bought a White steam engine for $200,000, used it a while and laid it aside. One day he suggested to the manager of his moving picture department that he might use it in a film.

Seven Minute Sermon

On the Golden Text
By Our Own Preacher
(Copyright, 1910, by E. S. Davidson.)
August 14th, 1910.

Many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first. Matt. 19:30.

It is of vast importance to all of us to place First Things First. Essential things should have first place, and non-essential things second, but in matters of religion the opposite rule is generally followed. Many of the things given most attention in this life, will be matters of unimportance in the next life, and some will be worthless. Among the things which will be last in the future are pride, riches, and honor, and yet these are things which absorb most of the attention of this world. We are proud of our families, our education and our ability; we like to wear better clothes, live in better houses, and have better furniture, than our neighbors, and every person tries to outshine the rest. This is a foolish pride; it brings in this world disappointment, jealousy, and strife, and in the other world to perdition. There is a mad rush for riches; men are not content with enough to satisfy their needs; the more they have the more they want; the desire for riches increases by what it feeds upon, and there will be no use for money in the future life. Worldly honor, is also one of the things which people crave here, which will be no use there. When that great day comes we shall see how foolish we have been, giving first place to things which have no lasting value, and neglecting things which abide forever.

Many That Are Last in This World Will Be First in the Next. The poor beggar, his body covered with sores, begging for food as he sat at the gate of the rich man, is now wealthy, and Dives, who perhaps doled out to him a pittance, is the beggar. The poor widow, who cast two mites into the treasury, while others were casting in of their abundance, is now a rich woman. A young man occupying a lucrative position, with fine prospects for the future, riches and honor beckoning him on, hearing the heartrending cry of the lepers in India, renounced all his prospects for wealth, went to that country to take care of the lepers and is now engaged in that work. For the love of Jesus and the suffering ones he gave up his bright prospects and has devoted his life to this great work. This young man will shine as the Sun in the Kingdom of his Father, and while he may be considered last here, will be first there. The poor woman of the street, who repented at the sight of Jesus, having her heart and life purged from her sin, was afterward despised by the self-righteous, as she sat, with tears, at the feet of the Master, will shine in the glory, and be an example of virtue and purity. The majority of men have to earn their living by hard labor, living from hand to mouth, but, being followers of Jesus, will, in that day, occupy thrones in the City of the King.

Many Who Are First Here Will Be Last There. It is not essentially wrong to be a king, a scholar, or a rich man, but many who lay claim to these titles will be poor and forsaken on yonder. There are kings who have the heart of Nautis; proud, cruel, full of vain glory, nourishing the spirit of war, and inspire their people to envy and rivalry of other nations; such kings will be beggars in the coming kingdom. There are scholars in this world, proud of their learning, not using their scholarship to help their fellows, who will be ignoramus in the world to come. There are leaders in society who shine here with brilliance, but in the other world will take their places among the castaways. There are rich men who regard the poor, who will dwell forever with that other rich man, who is pictured as crying for Lazarus, "that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame." What fools men and women are, to barter their souls' eternal destiny for things which perish with the using, and which do not even bring any temporary good!

The Only Unreversible Ambition in the Other World is When We Put Christ First in This World. Most of us are like Martha, "careful and troubled about many things," but some have chosen, like Mary, that good part, which shall not be taken away. All unnecessary things will be useless to us in the other world; but the one thing needful, if it has been chosen, will enable us to carry our wealth into that other country. Character constitutes the lasting riches, and the results of character, unselfishness, doing good, teaching the people about Jesus, inspiring them with noble ideals, will be taken with us, or will meet us, when we go up yonder. Those who are rich, toward God, "have laid up for themselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal." Such riches will be lasting possessions as long as the eternal ages roll. To have formed the acquaintance of Jesus, to have absorbed His nature, means that we shall not only enjoy life here to the fullest, but that we shall revel in the luxury, exuberance and plenitude of the abundant life of the other country.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Only a Mask

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfect digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

OUR FASHION TALKS

BY MAY MANTON.

A FASHIONABLE SUIT OF LINEN

SERGE.

Linen woven to give a serge effect is one of the new materials of the summer. This suit shows it in blue with bands of white and it is pretty and attractive as well as novel. The blouse is distinctly Russian in style, finished with the big sailor collar that is sure to be becoming to little boys and the knickerbockers are of the regulation sort. All materials that are used for boys' suits are appropriate, linen of all kinds is greatly liked, galatea is much in use, khaki is liked for hard usage and the same model is equally well adapted to the materials of afternoon wear, madras, white linen and the like and also to the light weight serge that is desirable on cool days even in midsummer.

For very dressy occasions little boys wear such suits made of silk but at this season of the year nothing is more fashionable, nothing more serviceable than linen. The material allows a choice of the serge wave illustrated and the various plain sorts and is shown in an infinite variety of color.

For the four year size will be required 3 1/2 yards of material 24 or 27, 3 yards 32 or 34, yards 44 inches wide with 1/2 yard 37 for trimming. A May Manton pattern, No. 4703, sizes 2, 4 and 6 years, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

STATE CHAT

The Indian Spring Woven mill in Madison was shut down for the past 10 days has started up again.

Moore are numerous and deer plenty in Northern Maine in spite of the killing of many young moose and deer by head and foxes. One season on deer begins Oct. 1. On moose Oct. 15.

According to a story which comes from Eastport, a cow moose swam across Passamaquoddy bay one morning not long ago and entered the precincts of the arduine city. Being much exhausted, the animal lay down on the shore, where many photographs were taken by the amateur artists, after which the animal was lassoed, taken to a stable, blanketed, rubbed down and fed with hay, being later released.

Statistics compiled relative to the amount of white news paper manufactured show a total output for Maine mills, to be 1,037 tons daily. Figuring at the rate of one cord of wood required for each ton of the finished paper the daily consumption of raw material would amount to 1,037 cords of wood or on the basis of two cords to a thousand feet of lumber, the daily consumption for this product would amount to a little over 2,000 feet.

C. A. Hill of The Belgrade hotel says pickers will not often attack black bass unless they are in trouble, but they will often go for them save after they are hooked. He notes one instance when a picker landed a hooked two bass at one cast and a picker, noting the trouble that the bass were in, attempted to swallow one of the bass. The swallowing process was not an entire success, but the picker landed his two bass, the picker came into the boat also, hanging on behind.

J. T. Michaud, proprietor of the Allegash farm, is authority for the following: "During the last week of May, while my teams were coming from the upper camps to the main St. John River Depot camp, a good sized deer stopped in the tote road between two teams. It made a dash for a seat on the team and the snow banks on the side of the road. It stopped at the team's heels and scented one of the horses, coming close to his heels. The horse kicked and killed the deer instantly. Deer are very numerous in this region."

O. M. Moore of South Strong, Me., after having been an editor-printer in all parts of the United States for many years, has settled down on a South Strong farm to show the farmers how to raise things. One of the first innovations of "Farmer" Moore was to rig the heavy harness for his pair of work horses in such a manner that said harness could be placed on the horses by simply pulling a rope, a la fire department methods. The genial editor-event so far, in addition, that he soon had the horses trained to leave their stalls on the tug of a bell, rung by a push button from the house. By this means the horses were always in waiting for their master when he approached.

A Freeport lady whose garden lies just across the road from her house, says the Portland Press, while crossing the road to attend to her house, she heard the honk of an automobile and waited for it to pass, when she noticed that a man in the car held up his hand, showing three fingers. The person was a stranger to her and she was still wondering what it meant when a second auto whizzed past and an occupant held up two fingers. She was still puzzled when another machine glided out of the dust and a dust-covered man held up one finger. The next machine cleared the mystery as the air was clear of dust. The occupants waved a goodbye to the lady and then she got a chance to cross the road.

Capt. Jordan, the Belgrade steamboat man, always has a story on tap. One of his best is about a man who was fishing on one of the Belgrade lakes and lost a fly by its getting untied from the line just as a big bass took it. The next day the same man was out again. In making cast, a hook was caught in the loop of the identical leader that he had lost the day before, and at that moment a bass took the fly that had hooked into the loop, and he pulled in both bass, which recalls to the Captain an experience with dogfish while catching tautog off Cape May. The Captain and the Gossiper were fishing over the stern rail of a Kennebec schooner in a calm. The Captain's hook was captured by a fish and immediately after the Gossiper hauled in "doggie" and discovered the Captain's lost hook in the fish's mouth.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT

Comes to Those Who Use Samose Says Druggist C. H. Pendleton.

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and vigor, you fall victim to vitality, Druggist C. H. Pendleton will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50c.

HELD CLASS REUNION

The class of 1905, Rockland high school, held its fifth annual reunion at Oakland Park, Wednesday afternoon and evening. Fourteen members sat down to a delicious lunch. A novel feature of the afternoon was the presence of Master Sydney M. Bird, 3rd, the class baby. After lunch, speeches were made by Walter Spaulding, Alice Williams, Frank Knight, Seth Carlin, and Jessie Keating. L. E. Moulton, former principal, was present and spoke to the class. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Vivien Billings, Jessie Keating and Walter Spaulding. Those present were Mary Harrington, Hazel Hix, Ethel Clifton, Della Aylward, Lucy Bird, Charles Philbrick, Vivien Billings and Florence Dunbar of Rockland; Genevieve Cussens and Frank Knight, Camden; Alice Williams, South Thomaston; Ralph Higgins, Seal Harbor; Jessie Keating, Woburn, Mass.; Seth Carlin of Winthrop, Mass., and Walter Spaulding, Boston.

The Bangor city government team came to Rockland Wednesday with the intention, according to the Commercial, of "digging up the soil with the Limerock City Councilors." It was entirely successful so far as the first part of the statement goes, but it remained under the soil after it was dug up. The industrial youth who undertook to keep the tabulated record of the proceedings, finds after considerable research and cogitation that the final tally was 18 to 11, and that it was Bangor which did not have the 18.

The game will glide into the annals of Rockland's baseball history as the only one of its kind ever enacted on the Broadway diamond. It would need the pen of a George Ade or a Mark Twain to do it full justice, yet on the other hand nothing that could be written by anybody would do it justice.

The game was the result of more or less diplomatic correspondence which has been raging for some weeks between Alderman Black, manager of the Rockland solons; and Councilman Fahey, manager of the Bangor legislators. That the thing was finally arranged without a committee of conference was due to the fact that Mr. Black yielded every disputed point.

The visitors came down the Penobscot in the excursion steamer Castine, which not only bore the delectable ball-tossers, but a delegation of intensely loyal rooters, which included prominent citizens and city officials. Mayor

First Blood For Rockland

Bangor City Government Team Outpointed by Rockland Lawmakers in Spectacular Game.—Other Sports.

Woodman journeyed thither in his automobile and showed himself a true sport by smiling even when his favorite team displayed an unwonted capacity for piling up errors. Other Bangor city officials in the party were City Treasurer H. O. Pierce, City Clerk Victor Brett, W. S. Mason, chief engineer of the fire department, Walter I. Brown, clerk of the water board; M. A. Sinclair, superintendent of the water department; Donald F. Snow, city solicitor; George W. Clough, school agent and building inspector and Charles O. Austin, city electrician. P. J. Peeney, chairman of the Republican city committee was also of the party, while the press was well cared for by O. L. Hall of the Commercial and Mr. Whittemore of the News. All told there were 165 in the excursion party.

The visitors were met at the wharf by Farnham's Boys Band and a reception committee from the Rockland team. Dinner and supper at the Thorsdike house were provided by the home team.

Without devoting more space than a semi-weekly newspaper can afford to this busy season of the year it would be impossible to give the detailed story of the game without discriminating.

The visitors presented a brave aspect as they marched onto the field in their immaculate white uniforms. The Rockland players were garbed in the uniform of the Rockland Elks team with the exception that they wore different shirts.

The Bangor team chose its "ins" and the first man who walked to the plate wore the familiar name of Kelley. If Director Farnham had not been watching a beautiful Bangor vision, whose features were perfectly hidden by a blue automobile veil, he would have mistaken his name for Kelley. Kelley was not a player, but being asleep at, or near, the switch, he allowed the opportunity to slip into the irredeemable past. Billy Smith, doing the pitching, struck Kelley, and Kelley, who was unaccustomed to facing such a concourse of people, had a bad attack of stage fright, and passed the aforesaid Kelley to first. He struck Hineckley out and his pulse was beginning to beat normally again when the Mail form of Oliver Hall loomed up at the plate.

While the ex-Rocklandite was selecting his favorite willow City Marshal Glen F. Hix walked to the plate and presented him a bouquet of rare orchids, an honor to which the alderman responded with considerable feeling. A ball player who has been given a present usually strikes out, but not so with this tall newspaper man. Instead he fell against one of Billy's swift ones, and lambasted it so hard that it went through left field fence. While Ben Gould was showing how gracefully one can climb between fence rails Kelley was scoring home, and Bangor had won first blood. Hits by Collins and Grady and errors by Rhodes and Flint gave Bangor two more scores, and three to the good that took the lead on the diamond, with looks that were the embodiment of self-complacency.

The horrible things that happened in Rockland's half of the first and second innings must be skimmed over with a passing reference. They yielded 17 runs, and it mattered not that Rockland made only one more score in the whole game, for Bangor never came within hailing distance again.

Alderman Black figured in several spectacular encounters at second, but did not have quite such a rough experience as Harry Flint at third, who was ruthlessly cast aside or jumped upon as the Bangor baserunners happened to foot included Mayor McLean and Councilmen Smith and Weymouth were the terror of the opposing pitcher, making together nine hits with a total of 13. Carver proved a very efficient shortstop. With a little better whip he would not be fooling his time away with these minor teams. He is worth double the salary he is now getting.

Hall and Hineckley did the bulk of Bangor's batting, but first honors of the Queen City outfit are readily conceded to "O. U." Grady, the star left fielder who accepted all of his five chances and thrived for those which came to the other fielders. Upon the return of the Bangor team to the hotel Grady was presented with a watch, and was much elated until he learned that it was one of the other player's watches borrowed for the occasion.

Collins had 12 strikeouts. Only four hits were made off him after those first disastrous innings. It is very evident that the return game, which will probably be played in Bangor next Wednesday, will be anything but a cinch for Rockland. The score:

I haven't the time nor space to go into detail, but I wish to state that I now have the greatest, most wonderful method known to humanity for the Painless Extracting and Filling of Teeth.

It costs us much more to prepare this preparation than previously, but for a limited time will extract teeth without extra charge, 50c per tooth.

RECENT TESTIMONIALS

Aug. 3, 1910.
I went down to Dr. Damon's office to have teeth extracted. I expected to be hurt, but he extracted my teeth and it never hurt me one particle.
Miss Emma Williams,
Warren, Maine.

N. J. Williams, Contractor and Builder, Warren, Me., had out all his teeth. This is what he says:
"Dr. Damon, this is to certify that the teeth you extracted for me was a godsend. I expected to have my head pulled off, but found it a pleasure."

To my many friends and patients within a radius of 60 miles.

I thank you one and all for your liberal patronage in the past, and hope through attention to your needs to merit a continuance in the future. All patients having teeth extracted at this office in the future will be attended to personally by myself, or Dr. Harry L. Richards, who is associated with me.

We expect to be assisted in our laboratory work by competent mechanics in that line.

MR. FEELEY PROSPERING

Former Thomaston Man, Who Worked in Rockland, Went West—You Know the Rest.

The Red Bluff, Calif., Daily News devotes considerable portion of a recent issue to the big fruit packing establishment of James Feeley Co., which has just doubled the capacity of its main building and added a big storage room and box factory. The News says that it is now one of the best equipped plants in the country.

The proprietor is a former Thomaston man, who will be well remembered in this city owing to the fact that he was formerly in the employ of the late Walter J. Wood, hardware merchant. Mr. Feeley went to California 33 years ago, and has since achieved the success and prosperity that is so naturally to a Maine man on the Pacific coast. From the News story we quote the following:

Mr. Feeley, like the wide-awake business man that he is, has his fingers on the pulse of trade and realizes that the demands on his plant will be greater this season than ever before. It is the natural consequence of devotion to business and the development of the country, and is the result of twenty years experience in this valley in the fruit business. Mr. Feeley is a pioneer in the fruit business, as a business, in this city and has had his share of ups and downs. The trend of his business, however, has been upward, and this season he is increasing the capacity of his packing house that he may handle with ease and dispatch the magnificent trade he has developed. A big force of men has been at work on the plant for several days, and when the building opens for the fruit season it will be with a capacity twice as great as it has heretofore had.

In addition to re-arranging the interior of the main building and elevating the big grader to the second floor, two new additions have been added. A building for the manufacture of boxes has been added to the south side of the main structure while a store house 124x40 feet for receiving shipments of fruit has been built on the north. The old building has been made more substantial by concrete foundations throughout, and is now so arranged that fruit may be loaded and unloaded on cars at the same time. Forty car loads of fruit may easily be stored in the new building, thus enabling growers to make their deliveries and get their money whenever they care to. They are not to be handicapped by a short-crop plant. The box factory is being fitted up with the latest machinery and devices for manufacturing boxes, and every other department is receiving the attention required to make the entire plant a complete and up-to-date system.

The operations of the Feeley plant this season will be marked with fine system and dispatch as a concern its size can possibly be handled. In a few weeks the plant will be teeming with life and there will be an entire viewpoint from which to study the fruit industry of northern California.

ROCKPORT TEACHERS ELECTED

Town Must Also Select New Superintendent.—May Form Union With Another Town.

The Rockport schools will commence Sept. 12, the fall term being 14 weeks in length and the winter and spring terms 11 weeks each, the terms beginning Jan. 3 and April 3 respectively. There will be no Thanksgiving recess this year.

The grade and special teachers have been elected as follows: Grammar school—Alonzo Y. Stevens, principal; Miss Carrie Fuller, assistant; high school building—Grades 5 and 6, Mrs. Hattie M. Wiley; grades 3 and 4, Miss Etta M. Richards; grades 1 and 2, Miss Mary L. Potter; Hoboken school—Grades 5 and 6, Mrs. Nancy J. Tribou; primary school—Miss Mabel A. Potter, principal; Miss Mertie A. Dove, assistant; West Rockport—Grammar school, Miss Mattie L. Fogler; primary, Miss Elsie M. Andrews; Rockville—Miss Cassie M. Oxtom; Simonton—Miss Ora L. Heald; supervisor of music, Mrs. Virginia R. Tibbets; Camden; supervisor of drawing in village schools, Miss Lena Cleveland of Camden.

Superintendent Frank H. Ingraham, who has served in that capacity for four years but is soon to remove to Rockland, finishes his duties Sept. 1st. Mr. Ingraham has been a very painstaking, efficient superintendent, and the schools have thrived under his management. The town is regretful at losing his services. His successor has not yet been elected. Rockport will probably join with some other town or towns in a union for the employment of a superintendent, eventually, as the superintending school committee, Fred E. Sylvester, Ralph W. Carleton and Charles J. Gregory have been duly authorized so to do by vote of the town when in their judgment advisable, for several successive town meetings.

Elmer C. Vining has been re-elected principal of the high school.

GRAND ARMY EXCURSION.

Past Department Commander Jas. L. Merrick of Waterville, Maine, has completed arrangements for an excursion to Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army and conventions of the allied organizations, which will be held in Atlantic City, Sept. 19-24. Railroad and hotel rates for this trip and the side trips to Gettysburg and Washington are very reasonable and afford a good opportunity of visiting historic and interesting places at very small cost. The excursion is open to the public. If any wish to visit Washington instead of Gettysburg they can do so, leaving Atlantic City with the party and continue on to Washington, then join the original party at Baltimore on the return and all travel home together. Itinerary giving full information, will be mailed if request for same is sent to Jas. L. Merrick, Waterville, Maine.

THE NINETEENTH MAINE.

The 19th Maine Regiment will hold its annual reunion at Camden, Tuesday, Aug. 23. The M. C. R. R. will grant the usual reduction in fare for the round trip. Members can leave Waterville at 7:15 a. m. for Belfast, leaving Belfast at 10:15 a. m. by boat for Camden, arriving there at 12:15 p. m. ## Obituary.

MRS. HATTIE J. BIRD.

The funeral service of the late Mrs. Hattie J. Bird was held Thursday afternoon from the home in West Gardiner. All the members of the family were present except the oldest son, Arthur L., whose home is at Sidney, Mont.

Mrs. Bird's death was very sudden. On the previous day she had accompanied her husband on a trip to Tacoma Lake. Returning that night she said that she felt better than she had for some time. Next morning she was found dead in bed.

Mrs. Bird was born in Warren, April 5, 1857. She was the daughter of Henry and Catherine Crane Farrington. In 1879 she married Capt. Leslie M. Bird. After her marriage she followed the sea with her husband, who was managing owner and master of a vessel. She was a member of the First Baptist church of Gardiner, a member of the Gardiner Grange and an active worker in the chapel near her home. Wholly devoted to the interests of her home, she was always ready and willing to do what she could for all about her. Her happy, bright disposition brought peace and sunshine to all who came into association with her.

The husband and two sons survive, also a brother, A. N. Farrington of Boston and one sister, Mrs. H. V. Starrett of Warren.

CHARLES O. TUTTLE.

On the morning of July 21, Charlie Orlan, oldest child of Harry E. and Agnes Thompson Tuttle, passed from this life to a better and brighter home on high, where all is beautiful and bright. Charlie would have been 13 years old this coming October. He was sick but a very short time—was stricken down with typhoid pneumonia and all that medical aid and loving hands could do was done. When the death angel came to claim Charlie it was more than the fond parents could endure. God took him home and freed him from all earthly pain. They feel their great loss is his eternal gain. Charlie was a great favorite with all his relatives and they feel his death keenly; such a faithful boy, all loved him and miss him; the family circle is broken and Charlie is with them no more. No one can fill that vacant chair, his schoolmates will miss him and his mates that came to play with him miss him so; but Charlie is all right, he is resting sweetly with Jesus; no harm can ever come to him now. It greatly consoles the dear father and mother to know that their son was such a good boy but it was so very hard to give him up. Charlie leaves to mourn for him a devoted father and mother, one sister and two little brothers; a grandmother and grandfather, uncles, aunts and cousins, that all loved him. The funeral was July 23, at the house. Charlie was laid in a beautiful white casket, covered with beautiful flowers, and the casket was filled with the beautiful flowers he loved so well, and under the casket was filled with flowers. Rev. Everett Wing spoke beautiful words of comfort to the bereaved family. Mr. Wing had charge of the arrangements. The bearers were Kelsie Smiley, E. P. Bagley, F. G. Robinson, F. E. Hussey, all of Albion. He was laid to rest beside other dear ones that had gone before. A Friend.

RAZORVILLE

The web catarrpillar is doing a great deal of damage to fruit and ornamental trees in this section. A few have cut them off and burned them which is the only sure way to get rid of this very great pest.

The much needed rain came Thursday in a very liberal way doing lots of good. Ellsworth Clark has gone to live with his uncle, Oscar Carroll, at Stickney's Corner.

The skunks are raising havoc with many fields of potatoes digging up large pieces every night.

A good soap at a fair price.

No, madam, soaps are not "all alike."

They differ in size, shape, quality and price; also in what they do and the way they do it.

The ideal soap is a soap that is of convenient shape and good quality, and, at the same time, sells at a fair price.

Lenox Soap fulfills these requirements.
