"I never knew a graceless person; close inquiry will always show some redeeming trait."

Edison has completed an invention whereby the men and women shown in moving pictures will be made to talk as well as act. He claims that within a year he will have perfected a complete drama in which the moving pictures will speak and sing, thus giving a perfect representation in every way of a real performance by living people.

The world will carry over from last crop year an unusually large supply of wheat—the September 1 visible supply being 159,339,000 bushels, against only 93,783,000 a year ago. This is the largest carrying-over reported in many years, with the exception of 1907, when it reached 161,000,000 bushels. As the world's wheat harvest this year is below normal, the large old stocks will prove very welcome.

During the past 35 years property to the value of nearly $5,000,000,000 has been destroyed by fire in this country, exclusive of the losses caused by forest, mine and marine fires. In 1907, a year considered normal, the national fire losses were $215,000,000 and the nation spent more than that amount on fire defense of $241,000,000. The total of nearly $500,000,000 is what fires or protection against them costs the people of the United States annually, an amount about equal to what it costs to maintain the national government.

Well-cooked vegetables, rice and meat, as opposed to New England mince pie and Boston baked beans, has made the "graceful, self-controlled Turk" the superior of the nervous, lank New Englander. This was the contention laid down before the Mississippi Valley Medical association last week by Dr. Fenton Turk of Chicago. "Compare the armor-plate mince pie diet indulged in by all America with the two same meals a day that are enabling Turkey to produce the finest specimens of physical manhood in the world. Mince pie and beans are bringing about race deterioration, not alone in Connecticut and Maine."

Too many Irish are leaving Ireland this year, in the opinion of the home government. A clipping from an Irish journal, forwarded here by Deputy Consul J. S. Armstrong, Jr., of Cork, says: "The Irish emigration statistics prove unsatisfactory; 1,861 persons left this country during July, as compared with 1,602 for July of last year, an increase of 259. Of the emigrants, 1,097 were males and 764 females. In all 20,816 persons have left Ireland during the first seven months of 1910—an increase of 2,407 over the same period in 1907. If the same rate of increase is kept up for the remainder of this year, emigration will reach nearly 32,000 for the year."

Several news items indicative of activity in the railway equipment field have just become public. The Richmond (Va.) plant of the American Locomotive Company, partly closed down recently, is again operating at full capacity, and is busy on several orders, most important of which are the locomotives for the United States Steel Corporation, to be used by the Union Railway, Birmingham Southern and by the Chesapeake & Potomac. An order has been placed with the American Locomotive works for 10 consolidation locomotives by the Pere Marquette Road. Last week the Lehigh Valley placed an order in Pittsburgh for a thousand all steel cars. The Baltimore and Ohio is in the market for 65 all steel passenger coaches.

An entire reorganization of the permanent plans for the defense of the United States will be presented at the forthcoming session of Congress, according to the scheme under consideration by the General Staff at the direction of Major General Leonard Wood. The report of Inspector General Garlington, accentuating the alarming lack of officers, presented only one phase of the situation with regard to the weakness of the military defense of the United States. Startling disclosures, especially with reference to the vulnerability of the Pacific Coast to foreign attack, will be made to Congress in response to the resolution of Congressman McLaughlin. The situation from many points of view is so serious that immediate action will be asked of Congress.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old fashioned poetry, but choicely good.

—Isaac Walton.

To the Night

Swiftly walk over the western wave,

Out of the misty eastern cave

Where, all the long and lone daylight,

Thou worst dreariness of joy and fear

Which make thee terrible and dear—

Swift be thy flight!

Wrap thy form in a mantle gray

Star-wrought;

Blind with thine hair the eyes of Day,

Keep her until she be wearied out;

Then wander o'er city and sea and land,

Touching all with thine opiate wand—

Come, long sought!

I sigh'd for thee;

When light rode high, and the dew was gone,

And noon lay heavy on flower and tree,

And the weary Day turn'd to his rest

Languishing like an unloved guest,

I sigh'd for thee.

Thy brother Death came, and cried

Wouldst thou me?

Thy sweet child sleep, the dim-eyed,

Murmured like a noon-tide bee

Shall I lead thee near thy side?

Wouldst thou me?—And I replied

No, not thee!

Death will come when thou art dead,

Soon, too soon!

Sleep will come when thou art dead;

Of neither would I ask thee soon

I ask of thee, beloved Night—

Swift be thine approaching flight,

Come soon, soon!

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, September 23, 1910.
I, the undersigned, being the publisher of the above-named newspaper, do hereby certify that the circulation of the same for the week ending September 20, 1910, was as follows:

Before me:
J. W. CROCKER,
Notary Public.

Our Democratic friends would prefer to have it denied that their campaign fund and much other help came from the liquor dealers outside the State, but the liquor dealers themselves are only too anxious to press their claims for recognition early and we may look to see them hereafter more and more a feature in the politics of Maine. The story of Fred J. Taber's connection with the recent election throws graphic light upon the actual situation. Mr. Taber, who is at the head of a Massachusetts distillery, doesn't suppose that his light shall be hid under a demijohn, and he has promptly had sent to every Maine newspaper a paid advertisement, setting forth his claim as the chief instrument in bringing about Democratic victory. Only a few of the newspapers printed the advertisement on a cash basis, but the others are willing to give publicity to it because of the deliciously cool manner in which it presents the liquor interests' claim for recognition in the recent political overturn. The people of Maine will see more of this business before they see less. The Democratic party, always the opponent of prohibition and the friend of the rum power, has our State solidly in its grasp. Its first grand movement is to be against the prohibitory law. The rum power of the country wants the open saloon to dominate the political and business life of Maine and the Democratic party is happy to be its agent in bringing the thing to pass. "The People's Association for More Just and Liberal Laws in Maine," of which Mr. Taber is secretary, means to have rum sold here openly over the counter.

The people of Maine will welcome the day when there is published in Boston a daily paper Republican in politics and devoid of yellowness in its news features. There used to be such papers years ago, papers of the Advertiser and the Journal type, which had large circulation here and were dependable friends in the family circle. The modern style of newspaper, overflowing from New York, has invaded Boston and destroyed its sound old journals. The Herald for some years stemmed the tide, but it too has finally become submerged. Boston is our metropolis and our people naturally look to its newspapers to supply their need, but at this time there is a certain want in this direction that is not being supplied. The Christian Science Monitor is about the best morning paper that Boston now produces, but of course no paper with that name could ever attain to general circulation. Perhaps somebody will yet take over the moribund Herald and make a great New England paper of it.

In casting about for reasons why its friends were defeated in the Maine election, the Lewiston Journal took great pleasure in ascribing Gov. Fernald's overthrow to the "reactionaries," by whom the Androscoegin organ means all Republican leaders who happen at the moment to be under the editor's ban. It will be interesting to observe the squirming of the Journal as it contemplates the fact that in the Third District Mr. Burleigh (one of the Journal's "reactionaries") received 1311 more votes than Gov. Fernald. The "reactionaries" contributed to Fernald's defeat not a tithe of what the Lewiston Journal contributed.

The story of Bradley and Cook starting to Elah to get the Cook records and bring them back was a joke, of course. It originated with Harry Whitney, who knows there are no such records. Everybody can enjoy the joke more than it will be enjoyed by Peary.

The reports that have gained circulation as to the ill treatment of Charles W. Morse in the Atlanta prison will do no harm to the efforts that are making for his pardon. The opinion is steadily increasing that Mr. Morse has been punished enough.

The Panama Canal will be fortified and if Great Britain has ever indulged a dream that it would not be, her statesmen must attribute to Uncle Sam angelic virtues which would long ago have resulted in the sprouting of wings.

The office of U. S. Senator isn't going begging. There will be no lack of candidates and they will all have a good run for their money before they shall succeed in cheating the Rockland man out of his honest due.

Mr. Bryan bolting the Democratic ticket in Nebraska furnishes an interesting spectacle. The former leader of Democracy refuses to come under the thumb of the rum power, hence this action.

The drownings of the past summer in Maine number 61, mostly canoe and bathing accidents. This is a sad toll that the vacation season takes of us annually.

We suppose among other glorious things that Col. Plaisted in his frequent interviews is promising to go that he will reduce the cost of living.

Col. Plaisted says it was purely a Maine fight and so it was, but outside of Maine the result is heralded as a national Democratic victory.

President Taft is gaining friends every day.

What Fred Taber Did

Head of Distilling Concern Claims to Have Been the Leader in Gov. Fernald's Defeat.—Temperance People Waking Up.

Fred J. Taber, president of a Boston distilling company, who still retains a voting residence in Ward 2, this city, is just now very much in the public eye, because of the prominent part which he took in the defeat of Gov. Fernald and the Republican party was in power. And thus you see why: "His organization work extended all over the state—into every nook and corner of counties, cities and towns."

He worked night and day to defeat the outrageous Millikin law. "Now they brag of the success of this head of one great distilling company—the maker of a celebrated brand of whiskey."

We fear many readers who did not understand and would not believe, voted for the iniquitous scheme of this man who claims Maine as his home. Some of them pool-pooled at us when we declared that a vote for Democracy was a vote with the liquor trust.

Those who wish to read the advertising of these liquor interests which was offered to and refused by the Kennebec Journal, may find it in the Boston Sunday Globe of Sept. 18.

It appears that other leading papers of Maine have received proposals to publish the advertising of these distilling companies. The Lewiston Journal of Tuesday evening has the following:

"A Lewiston Journal reporter who visited Knox county Saturday, learned that Mr. Taber had a voting residence in that city, but that he spends most of his time in Massachusetts, where, as stated, he is connected in official capacity with the company that puts a certain whiskey on the market. He has been in Maine during the campaign trying to defeat Gov. Fernald. It is said in Knox county that Mr. Taber has represented himself there as having had also much influence in securing legislation in Massachusetts in favor of the liquor interests."

"We are unable to learn exactly the status of the People's Association for More Just and Liberal Laws in Maine, of which Mr. Taber announces himself as secretary, but it is to be noticed that the laws it seeks are to be liberal. It is significant also that this society has the President of a Distilling Company for its energetic secretary—one WHOSE ORGANIZATION WORK EXTENDED ALL OVER THE STATE INTO EVERY NOOK AND CORNER OF COUNTIES, CITIES AND TOWNS."

"This advertisement has already excited great attention. Many letters have been received at this office from temperance men in Maine, or different portions, calling attention to it. One of them says: 'We now know that there was a woodchuck in the pile and we know where he was.' Another says: 'I voted against Gov. Fernald, but I didn't know I was to be made the subject of an advertisement for whiskey.'"

"Now, from time to time, the Lewiston Journal and other Maine newspapers have been claiming that the distillers were putting time and money into defeating Gov. Fernald in Maine. It was suggested that perhaps Maine people might object to out-of-State Distilling Interests coming into Maine to sway her elections. The exploit evidence was lacking."

"The above seems however, to be as conclusive as is necessary."

On Monday of this week the Advertising Department of this newspaper received a proposal to publish the advertising of a distilling company, the president of which is Fred J. Taber, who claims residence in Rockland, Maine. The advertising offered was two columns wide and six inches deep, bore the likeness of Fred J. Taber and the following:

"The one man who probably did as much if not more to bring about the results in the Maine election than any other else, Mr. Taber is a resident of Rockland, also secretary of the People's Association for More Just and Liberal Laws in Maine. His organization work extended all over the state—into every nook and corner of counties, cities and towns. He worked night and day to defeat the outrageous Millikin law and to convince the people that a governor who would approve such a drastic, unjust and uncalled for bill ought to be re-elected. The result is a tribute to Mr. Taber's energy and spirit of fairness."

Repeatedly in the campaign he pointed out to the voters the source of revenue to finance the fight Democracy was making to oust the Republican party, and to eventually turn the State over to the clutches of the liquor trust."

It seems that the liquor interests no longer deny that they did the fighting for the Democrats—they come out boldly and boast of what they accomplished. It is not long to wait to hear their exultant whoops over the entering wedge that promises open saloons in every corner of the Pine Tree State."

A serious condition confronts the temperance people of Maine. It seemed to us that they were apathetic during the campaign and we so remarked to some of their leaders who are close friends of the Journal.

picture in several Maine dailies after election, and claiming virtually that the overturn was accomplished by a distillery. The publication of Mr. Taber's picture and the reading matter which accompanied it was done in the form of advertising to be sure, but is none the less annoying to the respectable voters of this state who have a notion that they don't have to be told how to vote by distillers. The following is from Thursday's Kennebec Journal:

"On Monday of this week the Advertising Department of this newspaper received a proposal to publish the advertising of a distilling company, the president of which is Fred J. Taber, who claims residence in Rockland, Maine. The advertising offered was two columns wide and six inches deep, bore the likeness of Fred J. Taber and the following:

POLITICAL SHORT NOTES

A formal announcement of his candidacy for the United States senatorship was made Wednesday by George F. Haley of Biddeford. It took the form of a letter to Democratic members-elect of the next Legislature.

James C. Hamlen of Portland who since the recent election has received strong assurances of support for U. S. Senator in succession to Senator Haley, withdrew today in favor of Hon. Charles F. Johnson of Waterville.

Mr. Hamlen wrote to Mr. Johnson that he should not be a candidate if he decided to enter the field. Mr. Johnson replied that he had decided to do so, and Mr. Hamlen assured him that he should do his best personally for him and should ask all his friends to do the same.

Hon. Charles F. Johnson's formal announcement that he is a candidate for U. S. Senator was made Monday, and is concluded in the following words:

"Dear Sirs: At the solicitations of many Democratic friends in every section of Maine, I have decided to become a candidate for the nomination for United States Senator to be elected by the next Legislature, and I would be pleased to receive your support. Will you kindly write me whether I can rely upon the same?"

Several Democrats would like to be inspector of lime in this city. Capt. F. G. French, Fred Sherer and Henry Lothrop are mentioned as candidates. Herbert L. Churchill is a candidate for the chairmanship of the registration board.

Ex-Sheriff Pennell, who opposed Aaher C. Hinds in the First District, is a candidate for the wardenship of the state prison.

For pimples, blotches, bad complexion, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take—it has established this fact.

William Savage is firing on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

Henry DeRochemont is installing a new heating apparatus in the Burpee Furniture Co. block.

At the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday, David Upham of Rockport will speak and Mrs. E. H. Hatch will sing.

W. H. Kittredge, the druggist is sharing space with Fred R. Spear in the conspicuous Emery-painted sign on the southern end of Spear block.

Guy Douglas partly amputated the forefinger of his left hand Wednesday night, while preparing a ham sandwich and dreaming about the once famous Red Sox at the same time.

The torpedo boat destroyer Drayton is having her preliminary runs at Bath, and next week will go to the Charles-town navy yard for cleaning and painting. This ought to bring her here for trial about the first week of October.

Seven blooded horses owned by millionaire G. W. C. Drexel were shipped in an American Express car to Bryn Mawr, Penn., this week. They came from the Drexel summer home in Dark Harbor and represented a value which could not be expressed short of five figures.

The Rockland, Thomaston & Camden Street Railway went into farming on a moderate scale this summer and is about to harvest an acre and a half of potatoes, which have been carefully tended by Laforest Smith. The proceeds from the sale of these tubers will go into the treasury of the Motormen and Conductors Relief Association.

J. A. Davis of Vinahaven, who served as deputy sheriff, under Sheriff Ulmer and Caddy, has been in the city this week on duty with the new grand jury. He cites it as something of a coincidence that his name was the first to be drawn out of the Vinahaven jury box 20 years ago, after it had been revised, and it was the first to come out this year after the new revision.

The new trunk-line road between Rockland and Rockport has now progressed as far as Oakland siding, and will be continued as far toward the Rockport iron bridge this season as the weather will permit. The road from Maverick square to the Rockport line will have to be built next season. When Coleman Bros. began work in summer the sewerage system had not been completed.

Charles E. Bicknell is harvesting 4000 bushels of potatoes on his farm in Thomaston this fall, the work being greatly expedited by modern digging apparatus which will unearth more potatoes in one day than 20 men can pick up. The potatoes are "Irish Cobblers," the seed for which cost Mr. Bicknell $1 a bushel while he could have bought Green Mountain seed for a very much smaller figure. He believes that the crop he is now harvesting fully justifies his choice.

M. G. Rosenberg, who has been managing Rockland Theatre since it was opened, leaves next Tuesday for his home in Burlington, Vt., where he will resume his furniture business. The family has made many friends during its summer residence here. Mr. Rosenberg is succeeded in the management of Rockland Theatre by his brother, Albert V. Rosenberg of Rutland, Vt., the fourth of five brothers who have had to do with our moving picture theatres. The new manager has made more or less of a study of theatrical affairs during the past summer, and enters upon his new duties with a very fair knowledge of them.

THE SUNDAY DINNERS at The Lindsey House are a feature of the new management. Housekeepers will find it cheaper to dine here than to get a Sunday dinner at home. Special rates for families. Telephone 8298-2.

Persons wishing to consult G. T. Holt, eyesight specialist, now at No. 22 School street, Post Office Square, should do so at once, as his stay is limited. Appointments preferred. Telephone 519-12.

The next meeting of the order of Owls will be held in Knights of Columbus hall, Monday evening, Sept. 26, at 7.30.

There will be another dance under the auspices of the Circle at Pleasant Valley Grange hall on Saturday night. Music by Singleton's orchestra. Car after the dance.

Mrs. Carrie House will entertain the Milam Rebekah Lodge at Oakland next Tuesday afternoon. Picnic supper will be served and the guests will remain for a social evening.

A freak ear of white sweet corn was handed us yesterday by Austin W. Smith's son Arthur. The ear is of good size and well-formed, but attached to it are four auxiliary ears, more or less developed.

Fire destroyed the engine house at the Gilbert Ulmer quarry late Wednesday night, and the contents were practically ruined. Loss about $1500, covered by insurance. The property was owned by the Rockland-Rockport Lime Co.

On another page is printed a list of book and magazine articles on Greece, that can be found at the Rockland Public Library. The members of the Methodist Church and others who are making a study of this subject will find the list a very comprehensive and helpful one.

Mrs. Villa Phelan Dunbar will sing "Sublime Eve," by Gounod, at the Methodist church Sunday morning. The Elks have their regular meeting Monday night. The house committee will serve a roast beef supper, with the fixings. There will also be some talk about House rule No. 10.

Many Rockland people are taking advantage of this fine weather to visit New Meadows Inn, near Bath, for another of the famous shore dinners served by Landlord Cahill, as it is announced that this hostelry will be closed for the season within a few weeks. Ex-Gov. Cobb was among the local visitors there this week.

CRESCENT BEACH PICNIC.

Sept. 20 dawned bright and warm, and two ladies might be seen boarding the car for Crescent Beach shortly after breakfast. Why thus early? The answer—Mrs. Grafton of Winona, Minn., and Mrs. Richard Burpee were to entertain friends at their cottage. The ladies who took the early car believed in the old saying, "It's the early bird that catches the worm," and the hour for lunch had not been stated. The other birds did not fly (7) down until 12.5. This was an "Aviation meet," but, all at last came as quietly down to earth as Grahame-White could possibly have done, and were cordially received by the hostess, and also the two "ladies."

About this time the hour set for lunch had arrived, and all were ready to partake of the generous spread provided. The menu consisted of cold chicken, mashed potatoes, corn, cranberry sauce, egg and fruit salads, hot biscuit, apple puffs, cream pie, coffee and fruit.

The only male bird present was Little "Junior," who when one of the number seemed a bit superstitious as to sitting at the table where 13 were to be served, kindly offered to be served alone, "on the side."

After lunch the ladies passed the afternoon "ad lib," some at bridge, others at "basket dipped." Meanwhile Mrs. Carleton dined the refreshing punch. And one "John Smith" appeared on the scene, overalls much in evidence, and served snap shots.

The ladies entertained were: Mrs. and Miss Noble of Philadelphia; Mrs. M. P. Jenkins, Mrs. Charles M. Tibbets, Mrs. W. P. Norcross, Mrs. Ralph L. Smith, Mrs. Fannie Carleton, Mrs. L. E. Cobb, Mrs. G. F. Hix, Rockland; and Miss C. J. Loring, Portland.

GRANGE FAIR INNOVATIONS

Cattle Exhibit and Drawing of Horses to be Unmited for the Benefit of New Attractions.

Answering the many queries—certainly Pleasant Valley Grange is to hold its annual fair this year, and every year; it is a set feature of our work. Oct. 4, 5 and 6 are the days. There has been some delay in announcing the program as the committees have been busy making numerous changes.

It has been decided to try one year without the drawing of horses and the cattle exhibit. The two attractions cost about $400 and a large amount of labor, as there are few breeders of pure bred cattle in this section, hence few exhibitors who are much interested. The committees have had much trouble in inducing our farmers to bring stock, having to make a canvass each year. The showing of herds of milk cows is an expense to the exhibitor.

This omission will give the members more time to enlarge other branches of the fair, and make several additions which will be announced in due season. With our increased hall room, three in number, and a large stage, several changes are to be made and new attractions will be added.

The Grange "personally" will this year make a specialty of the supper (dinner also served) and furnish the genuine old-fashioned "pumpkin pie" varieties, such as has made this Grange famous in past years. We are considering a special supper and evening ticket, entertainment included for busy parties unable to attend days.

Watch for complete announcement of the best fair yet held by Pleasant Valley Grange.

M. H. Thorndike, Secretary.

KNOX SUPREME COURT

Supreme court convened Tuesday with every promise of being the shortest September term on record in Knox county. Two civil cases have already been tried and there is work enough in sight to carry the term well into next week.

Only one case was tried on Wednesday, and that a small one. The plaintiff, Silas W. Wotton, of South Thomaston, brought suit on a claim for board of a horse, about $25, against Frank C. Cushing, now of Augusta. The defendant claimed that the account was subject to the statute of limitations, having been incurred over six years ago. Testimony offered referred to the time at which the bill was contracted. Verdict for defendant. Campbell for plaintiff, Gould for defendant.

The case of Harry F. Hix vs. Guy C. Libby, assigned for trial on Wednesday did not go to the jury. This was a suit resulting from a misunderstanding over the terms of a horse trade. Defaulted by agreement, defendant paying $30 and costs. Miller for plaintiff; Bird for defendant.

Two aliens were naturalized on Wednesday: Frank Mannistiro, of Rockland, a native of Finland, and Herman Lissok, of Rockland, a native of Germany.

Thursday was devoted to the trial of the suit of Fred J. Taber against R. C. Barton and 41 other members of the 1908 Club of Belfast, to obtain payment for liquors furnished the club by the George W. Torrey Co. of Boston. The claim was assigned to Mr. Taber as an officer and agent of the company. The defense was that the liquors were not bought by a copartnership, and that the 42 members sued had purchased their liquors from the steward in charge. The jury, after being out about two hours returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $360.00, the full amount sued for. Bird and Thompson for the plaintiff; Little for the defendants.

The case on trial today is an action of assumpsit on a promissory note—W. G. Alden vs. the Camden Anchorage Rockland Marine Co. The amount of the note was $5000. The defense will be a general denial of the indebtedness. White & Carter and Littlefield for the plaintiff; Montgomery for the defendant.

The grand jury rose Thursday noon reporting 11 indictments. The following were made: The amount of the note was $5000. The defense will be a general denial of the indebtedness. White & Carter and Littlefield for the plaintiff; Montgomery for the defendant.

Frank Thomas, of Rockland. Larceny, from vessel belonging to Arthur G. Bigelow.

James Dunham, of Rockland. Larceny of grain from storehouse of Thorndike and Hix.

John Ross, of Rockland. Assault and battery on Samuel Rimmer.

Morris Pollock, of Rockland. Receiving stolen goods from James Dunham.

Frederick F. Miller (two indictments). Breaking and entering home of Elizabeth Gregory; and larceny of a gun, from Fredland O. Hill.

Everett Pinkham and Irvin C. Powell, of Washington, Me. Larceny of property belonging to John Webber and taken from his cottage.

Winter prices for board go into effect at The Lindsey House, Monday, Sept. 26. The old rate of $5 for meal tickets will be in vogue. Board by the day or week at lowest living prices.

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. Lena Carmicino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others."

—Mrs. J. H. Breyer, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Seven Minute Sermon

On the Golden Text

By Our Own Preacher

(Copyright, 1910, by E. S. Davidson.)

Sept. 25th, 1910.

If we live in the Spirit we walk in the Spirit. Gal. v. 22.

I. Living in the Spirit is Man's Normal Condition. Whatever may be our view of the historicity of the story in Genesis concerning the origin of man, all Christian scholars agree that it correctly describes man's normal relationship to God. The picture drawn is that of a man living a happy life, in congenial surroundings, in the company of God. The Divine Spirit is represented as if he were a man, walking and talking with Adam and Eve, and treating them as companions. God made man "in His own image," intending to associate with him as father and son, man originally having faculties to see God with inward eyes and to hear Him with spiritual ears. Adam and Eve thus lived in the Spirit, but lost that condition through sin. The work of Jesus is to restore man's spiritual faculties, to bring him back to fellowship with God, to teach him to live in the Spirit, give him eyes to "see Him who is invisible," and inward ears attuned to the voice of the Infinite.

II. All Persons May, and All True Christians Do, Live in the Spirit. We are all God's workmanship, having His stamp upon us, and His will written within us. It is simply for us to acknowledge the one, and do the other, in order to "live in the Spirit." The will is supernaturally taken for the deed for then supernatural power is given us to realize the immanence of God, that "in Him we live and move and have our being"; that "our bodies are the temples of the Holy Spirit." Christians, live in the Spirit, they recognize God in all things; that from Him all blessings flow. They have experienced the change from darkness to light; they realize their oneness with God. The Divine Spirit is no longer to them a mere matter of logic, or creed, or an absent superintendant of the universe, but a real personal Presence. His voice is heard and obeyed. His commandments are no longer grievous burdens, and in the keeping of them there is great reward. Like our Master, they have the constant companionship of the "eternal Father strong to save" and say to Him, as Jesus did, "Father... thou hearest me always."

III. Walking in the Spirit Demonstrates Living in the Spirit. Jesus gave a never failing test of the claim of walking in the Spirit, when He said, "by their fruits ye shall know them," and Paul in the 22nd verse states that "the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith." Walking, in the text, stands for a man's life and conduct, his thinking, doing, progress, his moral and spiritual attainments—the fruit of his life. A man whose life bears such rich fruitage, demonstrates that he is living in the Spirit. No mere man can live such a life or bear the fruit which grows only in the heavenly Canaan, by the spiritual brook Eschol—the hearts of God men, nourished by "the river of the water of life." Men with a religious exterior, who claim to live in the Spirit, but are inwardly selfish, proud, and worldly, are those whom Jesus christened as "whited sepulchres which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness."

IV. Living in the Spirit Stands For Life and Character. A man without God is spiritually dead. He may be a noble animal, may even excel in intellect, and be quite orthodox, but if God is not a personal experience, if he does not see Him in history, or recognize the Infinite in nature, if he cannot hear God in the wind, or the thunder, or in the songs of birds, or in the "still small voice." One who is dead while he lives. One who is conscious of God in his being, his thinking, his life and work; who sees Him in the passions of his body, the energies of his mind, and the aspirations of his soul, has life, and is constantly having it more abundantly. Such a man has the essence of all goodness in his entire being, body, spirit, soul; being born of God he has the nature of his Father.

V. Walking in the Spirit Implies Moral and Spiritual Culture. Living in the spirit stands for life; walking in the spirit, for progress in the path of life or development in character. Eternal progress is God's plan for man. "The path of the just is as a shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." Spiritual life does not necessarily imply perfect culture or manners, or that we may not do many things which never would be done if we knew their results in advance. A diamond in the rough is the genuine article, but it gives forth its beauty and brilliance only when cut and polished. Therefore, "if we live in the Spirit let us walk in the Spirit," make progress, grow, acquire skill in saying things, cultivate the art, or outward grace, of being and doing, so that others may take knowledge of us that we are living the Spirit filled life. We should manifest outwardly what we are inwardly and adorn the gospel of Christ by our words and actions. As our religion is judged by the way we appear, we should therefore take pains to develop the outward as well as our inward grace.

Capt. Edward C. Colley one of the last surviving captains of the main square rigged ships for which this town was once famous, died at his home on Main street, Monday, Sept. 19th, aged 58 years.

He commanded a number of the old time deep water merchant sailing ships, among them the following clipper ships: Ship Aleda, Isaac Reed, Alice H. Minot, Alexander Gibson, Belle O'Brien, William H. Smith and Gov. Robie.

Capt. Colley was the son of Wm. and Mary Colley and was born in Thomaston in 1852. He was educated in the public schools of the town and for a time attended the Seminary at Kent's Hill. Leaving school he took to the sea and always followed it for a vocation.

He was a man who enjoyed the utmost confidence of the owners for whom he sailed, and in one instance his owners gave him the papers of the ship in his own name as sole owner and commander.

Since his retirement from the sea he has made his home on the south side of Main street opposite the Mall. In the old homestead, where he was always pleased to meet his friends, and you may well say every person he knew was his friend, for few men have the faculty of making and keeping friends as he did. Kind hearted, charming and of a jovial disposition, he endeared himself to all who knew him.

He married early in life Emma B. Starna, a most estimable lady, who was his companion through the long years of his life as a master mariner, assisting him by her abilities as a navigator and by her wise counsel. She was as capable of handling a ship as her husband. She died a little over two years ago. Capt. Colley was a member of Orient Lodge, No. 15 of Masons and of Grace Chapter, No. 92 Order of the Eastern Star. His funeral occurred Thursday afternoon from his late residence with masonic honors. He is survived by one brother, William Colley of Chicago.

BIG CROWDS AT UNION FAIR

Total Attendance Was Nearly Ten Thousand—It Was a Model Show from Standpoint of Morality.

The 42d annual session of the North Knox fair was held at Union Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday under weather conditions that could not have been bettered. The line sale which worked more or less havoc on other parts of the North Atlantic coast mercifully passed us by, and in place of a storm-siege the North Knox folks had three cloudless days.

Wednesday, as usual, was the "big day" with an attendance that was estimated by Treasurer Hawes in an expert and critical manner to be about 5500. This has been exceeded but once in the history of the Association.

The fair was utterly devoid of games of chance or any form of wickedness. On the midway were no fakirs with dice cages, showing unsophisticated country folk how to get rich quick, and no dime museum managers pointing out the fascinations of short-skirted and powder-faced dames from South Boston. The wildest form of dissipation which could be found at the fair this week was a striking machine, a merry-go-round, salted peanuts and pink lemonade. There was nothing to shock the fussiest prude and nothing to raise the hair on a three-years-old child. The four secretaries of the Christian Civic League would have yawned in spite of themselves.

It was not always thus. The North Knox fair has taken a few chances, and given its patrons something to talk about in years past, but last fall it found itself threatened with the loss of its state stipend all because somebody with a grudge reported to the department of agriculture that there had been some naughty conduct. In consequence of this attack, which appears to have been wholly unwarranted, the management granted no concessions to fakirs this year and there was no chance for row sports to pass up their superfluous cash unless they risked it on the races or invited the whole female attendance to ride on the merry-go-round. Two Rockland policemen, Sheriff Tolman's special liquor deputies, a few deputy sheriffs and a score of constables were on hand, but their solitary duty consisted in preventing themselves from being over-admired. Summed up in a popular and threadbare phrase "there was nothing doing."

By way of comparison, and in justice to the management it should be said, however, that in the big crowd of Wednesday there was none of the drunken brawls that marred the big day last year. It was a well-mannered company of Knox county pleasure-seekers out for a holiday. Whether the fair can continue its success without a midway is something that the trustees will determine. Meanwhile President Bowes and his associates must be credited with strict adherence to the laws.

The exhibit in the fruit and vegetable department this year was unusually small and not for a moment to be compared with the display that will be seen at the Pleasant Valley Grange fair week after next.

The Courier-Gazette reporter had an interesting chat with F. H. Lenfest, one of Union's progressive farmers, whose apple exhibit was the largest at this year's fair. He showed 15 varieties and 40 varieties of plate fruit. Mr. Lenfest explains the apparent shortage of apples this season by the fact that it is lost in comparison with last year's bumper crop. For instance, he had a yield of 400 barrels last fall and this year the same trees have not produced more than 150 barrels. This will be offset in some measure by better prices. Winter fruit that was held last year at $2.25 per barrel will probably fetch $2.50 this year.

According to Mr. Lenfest the orchardists of northern Knox are setting out more Stark trees than ever before, and for the reason that they are crank producers every year and pay better than any other apple raised in Maine. It is of the Ben Davis variety, but a better apple. Mr. Lenfest showed some Russian russets that were especially tempting.

He has done considerable grafting (not the wicked city kind) the past year, putting 175 seedlings onto trees which bear Arctic. These have been grafted over to the Delicious variety, which was quoted in the Chicago market at $6 per bushel. Other successful apple growers in and around Union this season were George W. Bachelder, Charles Burgess, Miss Helen Glover and Harvey Moore. Among the orchardists who have tried spraying with good results are Fred Grayson and Ethel E. Thurston. The good effects were shown on the trees which only one side of the foliage had been sprayed. Estimating that one quarter of an apple tree's product is made up of worm eaten apples it is easy to see where spraying more than pays for itself.

Early potatoes are rather poor in Northern Knox this year but the late potatoes are running much better. Mr. Lenfest showed the reporter some Green Mountain stock which was about as smooth as velvet. The yield of factory corn is very satisfactory. Charles Lucas realized $88 out of an acre and a quarter. The average revenue will probably exceed $50 an acre. It has also been a good grain year. Mr. Lenfest runs a threshing machine and had just turned over to Roscoe Robbins 23 bushels of oats which had been knocked out of two 2-horse loads. There is a legend in Union that somebody delivered 63 bushels from one load a few years ago, but it is safe to put this down as an exception.

The races Wednesday afternoon did not produce a large field of starters, and there were only two classes, but nevertheless the crowd saw some good sport. The 231 class was easy money for Tommy Rogers, when it came to the 230 class there was something doing. Sylvia Swift captured the first heat, but there was a strong feeling in the air that it was to be a split heat race—a feeling that was justified by the handy manner in which Meroy C. took the next heat and incidentally equalled the track record of 2:19 1/4, made by Henry Titte's some years ago. The fourth heat was a crackjack. Meroy closing up a long gap on the last quarter and beating out Sylvia Swift as they came down the stretch. The summary:

A new candlepin record for the Whitney alley was established Tuesday by Clyde Graves of Camden, who knocked down 161 pins in a string which contained five spares and two strikes. The figures in 19 successive boxes were as follows: 8, 15, 10, 8, 29, 20, 29, 29, 18 and 12. Graves has a record of 135 on the Camden alley, although that is not the alley record in that town. The Rockland record, prior to young Graves' performance was 155 and was held by John W. Thomas.

Don't think that eruption of yours can't be cured. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla—its virtue is its power to cure.

TENANT'S HARBOR DAYS

Of the Changes On the Trail Between Thomaston and the Harbor.

LXXIII.

My wife and I came over from Camden to Thomaston recently by trolley en route to Tenant's Harbor. We found that we could get accommodations on Gardiner's Lightning Express by sitting three on a seat. I merely remarked, "I pray thee excuse me; I'd rather walk!" So after seeing my wife safely ensconced in the vehicle I "beat it" over the river turnpike.

Dad and I walked over the same ground one winter evening twenty-five years ago, and I could not help noticing the change in the character of the people as I came along. Some of the original names are still to be seen on the mail boxes—Pierston, Smalley, Kenney, Kirkpatrick, etc., but for the most part it is names like Johnson, Erik, the Red and John Anderson, Rauta, Laurela, Kollmar and the like. I had a path near that winter from the schoolhouse next to Willie Smalley's to a house near the old church at Thomaston, and I knew the majority of the people on the road.

As I came by Willie Smalley's, eight children came out of the house. Whether they were all his or not I do not know, but as he had no children when I boarded with him in '85, if these were his there has been no race suicide in that family. The children that I met on their way to school were for the most part very light colored and looked to me to be of Finnish parentage. I understand that the majority of the scholars in that river road district in South Thomaston are of that race.

Charlie Oliver, an agent when I taught there, but now he is in Thomaston, The Beans, Kirkpatrick and a number of families whose children were pupils of mine have moved away and Louis now occupy their homes. How can just believe, the house is missing, I could picture the boys and girls of 1885 trooping along to school, with their fresh young faces—the most of them now nearly as old as myself—but then, I am only a youngster; can walk just as spry as I could twenty-five years ago.

When I got to Smalleytown the thought came to me to take the old road by Fogarty's Corner. As I hadn't been over that route since I was a boy, I had almost forgotten how it looked, although I remember distinctly driving over it one morning about 2 a. m., bound for Rockland, and I was a tickled kid when it came daylight, you can just believe. The house is missing at Fogarty's Corner, but the view of the flats as the tide was out was about the same. Passed Uncle Duke's place, where we used to bring the horse to be shod. Three Finnish women were digging potatoes at the old place, and they were doing a fine "yob." When I swung into the road through the woods it seemed like old times, so nice and cool and woody. I had been walking for two hours and a half in the open and to get out of the sun seemed like getting "neath" the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. No one stirring at Aunt Lizzie Pierston's, where we used to have such good times; no one in sight at Jack Pierston's; house silent and deserted at Capt. Joe Wallis'. These mark the changes of the quarter of a century. Not in the landscape, but in the people has the change come. The tide of travel from up Fogarty's Corner to Smalleytown has changed to the Long Cove mail route to the same place. Never mind, dad's chateau is at the junction of the two roads, so the traveller is obliged to go by our residence anyway. Boze.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Mobile and Atlanta broke the world's time record for a baseball game Saturday when they played a full nine inning game in 32 minutes. Mobile won, 2 to 1. This remarkable record was made possible by the two teams going on the field and coming to bat on the run. Invariably the first ball delivered to each batter was struck at and usually hit, without any effort to "place" it. Thirty-five assists in the field tells the story. Notwithstanding there were some sensational stops and throws as well as some clever catches by the outfielders. Only one base on balls was recorded and only one strike out. There were four sacrifice hits, one sacrifice hit and one wild pitch, three two-batters, one three-bagger, one triple and one double play. It was a lively game.

The Bowdoin football team loses two of its players during this year's "Leather" Farnham, who is ineligible owing to scholarship; and King who will not play owing to press of other work.

There is some talk of having another major league baseball circuit, including Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Columbus, Kansas City and Milwaukee.

WORMS
Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unfresh in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

a pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventive of coughs, colds, fevers and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

Sold by all Druggists. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00.

"Keeps you and your children well."
