WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna can hope to get its beneficial effects, and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy, the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package, and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere; one size only. Regular price 50 cents per bottle. Get a bottle today to have in the house when needed.

"Self forgetfulness is something everybody needs in the business of living."

It is never too late in life to learn.

Cato acquired a knowledge of Greek at eighty and Caleb Cushing of French at nearly as advanced an age. Elihu Burritt kept on learning new languages all his life by employing those "precious fragments of time known as odd moments." A street car conductor in Lawrence, Kas., has been following his example. At the age of fifty-four he is enrolled as a junior at the University of Kansas, though following his occupation for a considerable part of each day. His daughter has entered the freshman class of the same institution, and is probably the only girl in the country that has a father among the upper classes.

Frank Fleischmann contributes to Harper's Weekly an interesting article upon the pedigree of the Bible. "Where does it come from?" he asks, in light of the fact that it is now selling at the rate of ten million copies a year. "The Old and New Testaments," this writer continues, come to us bearing marks of authenticity immeasurably stronger than the works of Homer or Horace—almost all the classics of the old world." The Old Testament has come down to us through the Hebrew, almost unchanged. And, "we have more than three thousand manuscripts, to which number must be added those being constantly discovered, which bear a cumulative evidence to the historical truth of the New Testament narratives."

State-wide prohibition is now the law of nine states, having an aggregate population of over twelve millions. "Local option" applied to communities in other states brings the total number of people living in theoretically "dry" territories to about forty millions. Temperance lectures under official auspices are being delivered in many countries abroad. The latest investigations, conducted independently in Europe and in America, show a remarkable falling off in the average use of alcohol in medical hospital practice on both sides of the water. These and many other interesting facts will enter into an article called "The Advance of the Water Wagon" in the November Century. In which Henry Smith Williams, M. D., author of "Alcohol," discusses the notable change of sentiment in regard to liquor drinking, and the significance of this lessening use of alcohol.

The Teamster

Ah, who'd go teaming wood on such a morning,
Go swing on the bol-sleighs, through the frost,
Take any trail, before God's day is dawning,
With twenty miles of prairie to be crossed!
The colds are laidled sadly round the building,
The bitter wind creeps wailing down the plain,
No streak of dawn the starless east is gilding,
And I must rise and take the trail again.

O bride of mine, rest calm—the miles are lonely;
O bride of mine, sleep sweet—the day is long,
The plains are wide and empty, and I, only,
Go forth at night to travel with a song,
Go forth alone to journey in the darkness,
God spread, long since—a russet, tideless sea,
All shrouded now beneath the stars' solitudes,
The battleground of life for you and me.

Yet hark! the runners down the trail are ringing,
And see, the team is getting into stride,
And slow, and far, the mighty dawn comes sighing,
Comes singing to the conquest of his bride;
Comes singing to the prairie's shy unfolding,
Trade softly, spreading roses on the snow,
Stays never, brooks no secret or withholding,
Till I, too, pay him homage as I go.

And I, too, sing the song of all creation,
A brave sky and a glad wind blowing by,
A clear trail and an hour for meditation,
A long day and the joy to make it fly,
A hard task and the muscle to achieve it,
A fierce noon and a well contented gleam,
A good strife and no great regret to leave it,
A still night and the far red lights of home.

The general election of next Tuesday will doubtless contain some surprises. The confident claims of the Democrats that everything is coming their way are likely to encounter disappointment. In later weeks the drift in congressional districts appears to be toward the Republicans. Chief interest centers upon New York, where Col. Roosevelt is making the fight of his life and where many of the Republicans are doing all in their power to put him in the down and out club.

Travelers between this city and Boston believe that the pullman car which now leaves Boston on the 9 a. m. train would be a greater convenience if it could be attached to the 1.15 p. m. train instead—that is, if only one pullman a day is to be allowed us during the schedule that is in force eight months of the year. As a general thing we believe our travelers would prefer to make their departure from Boston in the afternoon rather than in the morning.

For an Indian Summer this is all that could be expected.

Rockland is getting impatient for those new census figures.

Marshal Hix and Patrolman Hebert raided Ellison Fullerton's house near the corner of Park and Highland streets Tuesday. A man made a hasty exit to another room as they entered and going in pursuit, they found a bottle full of whiskey covered up on the couch. In police court next day the man who had caused the hasty disappearance of the liquor claimed the whiskey as his own and that he had gone into Fullerton's house with it only a short time before the officers arrived. Had his story halted there an acquittal might have been the result, but when the man claimed that he found the bottle of whiskey in a pile of junk he had bought the previous day, it failed to pass muster on Judge Campbell's powers of credulity. Fullerton was fined $100 and costs, appealed and furnished bail.

STOMACH AT FAULT

Indications of Disturbed Digestion Are Often Mistaken for Other Disorders and Cause Unnecessary Alarm.

Palpitation of the heart does not imply that the vital organ is diseased. Pain in the back does not necessarily mean kidney disease.

Headache does not often indicate that there is anything wrong with your head. All of these symptoms are caused by stomach trouble and when this is righted the alarming symptoms disappear. If you have them look to the condition of your stomach for the cause before you start to treat the symptoms rather than the disease.

If the sufferer from any form of stomach trouble is pale and the blood thin, the first step toward restoring the activity of the stomach is to improve the condition of the blood. A supply of rich, well-oxygenated blood is necessary to the processes of digestion and with it, if errors in diet are avoided, nature will work a cure. This is known as the tonic treatment for indigestion and is illustrated by the experience of Mrs. C. R. Ritchey, of No. 1401 23rd street, Rock Island, Ill., who owes her recovery from stomach trouble to a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"For several months with stomach trouble and nervousness, I had no appetite and what I ate pained me and formed gas. Later I had palpitation of the heart. It was almost impossible for me to get any sleep, I became run down, weak, dependent and discouraged and could not bear to have any noise around me."

"At first I thought the doctor was helping me but I really became no better. When I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I made up my mind to give them a trial. It was only a short time before I began to feel better, had a good appetite, could rest well and I was cured after taking only a few boxes. I always depend upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommend them heartily."

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood so that it can nourish and strengthen the weakened digestive system has made hundreds of cures in the most severe stomach disorders. A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

POLITICAL SHORT NOTES

Clarence E. Paul, chairman of the Democratic county committee, takes exception to the item in our Tuesday issue which credits the county committee with endorsing Obadiah Gardner and other candidates. He says that it was a meeting of "leading Democrats" and not the county committee. It was farthest from our intention to misstate the situation. The Opinion's announcement that it was to be a county committee meeting had never been contradicted, and the Democrat from whom the news was obtained conveyed no different impression. Aside from members of the county committee there are said to have been about a dozen Democrats present. Either the list of "leading Democrats" has easily shrunk or else they were somewhat timid about being drawn into a conference of that kind. It would be interesting to know just who the Democrats were who were invited under that heading. Not that we care a fig. We have had our troubles and are enjoying a needed rest.

Governor-elect Frederick W. Plaisted has appointed as his private secretary J. Clement Murphy of Augusta, a well known newspaper correspondent and the dean of the legislative reporters. Mr. Murphy is splendidly equipped for his new duties, and the appointment is one that commends itself to voters of all parties. The next Governor has picked out a good lieutenant.

General debility—failure of the strength to do and the power to endure—is cured by the great tonic—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Geo. T. Holt, eye specialist, is now occupying his new rooms, No. 7 Lime-rock street, and will be pleased to receive his old customers and friends. Telephone 159-11.

STORY OF "IOLANTHE"

Here Is a Comic Opera Which Has a Real Plot, and Its a Fascinating One.

The Comic Opera "Iolanthe" which is to be presented at Rockland Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, is to be the event of the musical season. Rehearsals are being held daily, and the Opera is bound to make a marked impression on those who are fortunate enough to see it.

"Iolanthe" is world famous, and has been presented all over the world. The music is in Sir Arthur Sullivan's best style, and this means that it is beautiful, full of life and snap, while the tender passages bring tears to the eyes, and charm the senses in ways that no other composer of comic opera has ever been able to do.

The scene of the first act is laid in a wood and opens with the fairies dancing around their fairy ring, and thinking of "Iolanthe" who was the life and soul of Fairyland, but who was banished because she married a mortal. Finally the Queen is prevailed upon to summon "Iolanthe" and pardon her, which she does, amid general rejoicing. The story is intensely interesting, which is an uncommon thing in comic opera, as usually there is no plot worth mentioning.

After the pardon, the fairies discover that "Iolanthe" has a son, who is only half a fairy, and immediately interest centres in him, whose name is Strephon, an Arcadian shepherd. The plot runs along, interesting scenes succeeding one another in great variety, in fact there is not a dull moment in the opera, from start to finish.

The principals are wonderfully suited to their parts, being selected especially for them, with due regard to voice and appearance, and some really wonderful singing is promised, not only by the principals, but by the chorus, which numbers about 25, equally divided between the fairies and the Peers. You will be missing a musical treat if you are not fortunate enough to get seats for "Iolanthe."

Already there has been a large advance sale, and it will be well to get your seats as early as possible. The prices are as low as could be wished, for an affair of this kind. They are placed at 35 and 50 cents, with a few choice seats at 75 cents. The costumes are gorgeous.

The regular theatre orchestra will be assisted by two of Camden's best musicians, T. Jenness French, cello, and Ralph Bucklin, first violin. Miss Alice Fiske will be at the piano, and the music will be directed by Miss Margaret Ruggles, teacher of music in the public schools. The opera is being staged by Clarence A. Pendleton, who has seen some of the finest productions of the opera given in the large cities, and who has played in it on several occasions. Don't forget the dates, Nov. 8 and 9, and make your plans now to go.

Exchange Tickets—Opera "Iolanthe"—The committee announces that exchange tickets are for sale by the members of the University Society and also at the Maine Music Co., where a duplicate plan of the Rockland Theatre may be seen.

To avoid any possible misunderstanding, every seat will be checked. About 200 of the best seats in the center of the orchestra will sell at 75 cents each. The back and the side rows in the balcony are 35 cents. The balance of the house 50 cents.

Note—The box office at Rockland Theatre, Park street, will open at 9 a. m., sharp, Monday, Nov. 7th, where exchange tickets can be rechecked for both nights, Nov. 8 and Nov. 9.

She was a woman of many sterling qualities, greatly respected in the community and dearly beloved by her neighbors and friends. She was a consistent, beloved and useful member of the Baptist church for many years. Although never very strong she was rarely ever absent from its services. ## Talk of the Town

Coming Neighborhood Events.
Nov. 4—Methuen Club meets with Mrs. Lucia Purpoe.
Nov. 5—Roller skating at the Arcade.
Nov. 8—Comic Opera Iolanthe at Rockland Theatre.
Nov. 8—Monthly meeting of Woman's Missionary Society with Mrs. H. I. Hix.
Nov. 14—Masonic Lodge institution at Friendship.
Nov. 16—Universalist Fair.
Nov. 24—Thanksgiving Day.

The Tuesday night dance at Pen-b-sci-Ville Grange hall continues to be one of the pleasing social events of the week.

The Geo. W. Gray farm situated near Oakland Park has been sold to Augustus T. Clifford through Floyd L. Shaw's agency.

Inclement weather and the infrequency of patronage have caused the local bootblacks to raise the price of shines to 10 cents.

Nature students have noted the presence of chickadees—one of the several signs said to betoken of an open winter. Well let them know.

The affairs are rushing at the Woodworth store in Masonic Temple. It will be open for inspection next Friday and for business the following day.

There will be a football game on the Broadway ground next Wednesday between Rockland High and Camden High. Camden High recently defeated Thomaston, and is said to have a strong team.

The announcement that the Arcade is to open Saturday night for roller skating is very pleasing to followers of that ever popular sport. A well balanced brass orchestra had been engaged for the season, and the skaters can glide over the smooth surface to their heart's content.

S. B. Kallouch, who is home from Concord, N. H., on a vacation, predicts a Democratic victory in New Hampshire. He says that the voters are suspicious that railroad interests are behind the Republican nominee, and in New Hampshire there is more antipathy to the railroads than there is against the Sturgis commission in Maine.

Don't forget the meeting for women in the Universalist church Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6th, at 3.30 p. m. The speakers are to be Mrs. Tillinghast of Rockland, and Miss Agnes Hathaway, former missionary to Japan. Miss Pugsley, mezzo-soprano, will sing. There will also be a ladies chorus—Silver offering for Christmas work among women and children of Japan.

A special communication of the Grand Lodge of Maine will be held in Friendship, Monday, Nov. 14, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of constituting Meduncook Lodge, No. 211. The ceremony will be performed by the grand master, and he will be pleased to have the aid of the grand officers. Those intending to be present are requested to notify him, addressing him at Belfast.

Rockland division Naval Reserves received an unexpected visit Tuesday night from Lieut. Guy L. Weymouth of Portland and Major Elliott of Brunswick. The chief of the subjects discussed was a very successful one, and the visiting officers after putting the boys through an informal inspection did not hesitate to compliment them. The matter of gallery target practice was one of the subjects discussed. Five thousand rounds of ammunition are on the way. Springfield 30 calibre rifles will be used. Several tracts of land for outdoor practice were inspected, but it is likely that the old infantry range on the Thomaston road will be used.

In Wisconsin this week H. Price Webber's dramatic company is playing to its usual good business, in the well-known success "The Honeymoon."

"Rip Van Winkle," etc. This is Manager Webber's 26th consecutive season and his Rockland friends (he has many) will be glad to know that the actor-manager is playing to good houses and continues to prosper.

Talking with The Courier-Gazette over the telephone this morning Mr. Webber said that he is purposing to bring his company to Rockland in January. "I haven't the greatest company in the world, and I am not destroying Joseph Jefferson's reputation in the rendition of 'Rip Van Winkle,' he said modestly, 'but there are people who say they like the company and that the old man has got some virtue left in him and for these things I am grateful. I hope my Rockland friends will be glad to see me.' They will be and we think his company will play here to good business."

Poisons accumulate in the system when the kidneys are sluggish—blotches and bad complexion result—take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Great bankrupt sale at the Guarantee Clothing Co., begins Thursday, Nov. 10. Great opportunity to save money.

The box office at Rockland Theatre will open at 9 a. m. sharp Monday, Nov. 7, when the exchange tickets can be rechecked for both nights.

Word has been received from Portland that Alvah B. Clark, although unable to sit up is gaining and if all goes well will soon be able to leave the hospital.

The Y. M. C. A. service Sunday afternoon will be more than ordinarily interesting. The speaker will be Rev. I. H. Lidstone of Union and the soloist will be Miss Jessie Pugsley of England.

Deputy Grand Master Frank I. Cole of Bangor will inspect King Hiram Council this Friday evening. A class is waiting to receive the degrees. The Eastern Star will serve supper at 8 o'clock.

Second crop raspberry blossoms were brought to this office yesterday by Miss Annie Williams of South Thomaston, who doesn't propose to be outdone by either "C. B. P." of Vinalhaven or "Boze" of Boston. Next!

The Belfast Musical Society has voted to run an excursion to Rockland on one of the nights on which the opera "Iolanthe" is to be given. The excursion will probably go on the second night.

The staging on the Main street side of Masonic Temple has been removed and much admiration is expressed for the beautiful front thereby exposed. It is doubtful if there is a handsomer building of its size in the state.

Representative-elect C. E. Roman of Vinalhaven was in the city yesterday. He has not yet selected his quarters at state capital, but has no doubt that he will be able to find suitable shelter during the Legislature session. He looks for re-election to the Legislature amendment and a new law stronger than the present one.

Two new motor cars, a Chalmers 30 and Chalmers 40, are being demonstrated in this city by the state agent G. A. Wagg of Portland and his assistant L. A. Richards of Portland. William A. McLain, Jr., is the local agent and is putting state agent Wagg in touch with the "fans." The Chalmers cars eat up the hills with an insatiable appetite, and are about the easiest running proposition on wheels. Quite a number of them will probably be owned in Knox county another season.

Rockland Jones of Rockland Highlands hasn't the only thoroughbred Rhode Island Red in the city judging from comment which reaches this office. R. M. Packard has 19 thoroughbreds which were obtained from George Holmes of Boston. They had scarcely reached maturity when exhibited at the Pleasant Valley Grange fair, but were much admired. When fully developed it is believed they will point up in comparison with anything in the poultry line the city can boast. Mrs. G. W. Ingraham has 50 rose combs of the blue ribbon type and neighbors say that they have nothing anything that roosts in that part of the city.

Charles W. Bradley, Jr., has received his commission as scout master of the local Boy Scouts of America and has issued General Orders, No. 1. These announce the appointment of the following: Scoutmaster, Nelson H. Cardwell, Adjutant General, Charles Merritt (in direct command of all patrols formed in connection with the Methodist Sunday school); Arthur Richardson (in direct command of all patrols formed in connection with the Universalist Sunday school); Willis I. Ayer (in direct command of all patrols formed in connection with the Congregational Sunday school); Ensign Otis (at large). The authorities are prepared to accept applications for enlistment and to instruct and prepare such applicants for examinations to be given by enlisting officers. All boys who have applied for membership in the "Boy Scouts of America" and who are prepared to take their examination for enlistment as "tenderfeet" will report at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this Friday evening at 7.15 o'clock when examinations will be given and recruits sworn in.

Edward M. Benner, who has been carrier with the establishment six years ago of the rural free delivery route running from Rockland, has tendered his resignation, to take effect as soon as a successor can be appointed. This has been done through the Civil Service Commission, Rural Carrier Division, Washington, D. C., about ten days prior to the date of the examination. If the applications are not received by the time specified it may be impracticable to admit the applicants to the pending examination. The blanks, etc., have been received by K. Rankin, secretary of the local board of examiners, and all persons desiring to take part in the examination should apply to him at once at the post-office, for the necessary papers. The position pays a salary of $75 a month, the carrier furnishing his own team and outfit.

Thomas Foley, who has been the guest of Mrs. C. S. Coakley, has returned to his home in Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feyer expect to leave this week for Worcester, where they will spend the winter.

John Keizer has closed his house and will make his home with his mother, Mrs. Mary Keizer.

W. L. Oliver of Damariscotta Mills was in town Wednesday.

Rev. R. A. Farnham gave his lecture in Galilee Temple Wednesday night, on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," to a good audience. It was of an hour and a half in length and held the undivided attention of all present. The speaker was "six feet two" in height, and said he is still growing. With keen wit, drollery and stern truths he made his hearers sit up and take notice as he put before them in eloquence and humor an array of facts bearing upon his topic. # "THE SPORT WAS FINE"

Harry B. Farwell Entertains Secretary of the Navy at His Camp Near Lake Hermitage, La.

Hon. George Von L. Meyer, Secretary of the Navy, was recently the guest of Harry Farwell of New Orleans. His experiences at the Farwell sportsman's camp are described by New Orleans newspapers as follows:

"The sport was fine and I certainly enjoyed the absolute rest from official business. Had conditions been different and my time not so limited, I would have spent another day with my genial host, Mr. Farwell."

"This is the way Secretary of the Navy Meyer expressed himself about the hunting trip he enjoyed near Lake Hermitage, as the guest of Harry Farwell, who has a trophy animal camp."

"Did I kill anything? Well I should say I did. Look at these teal ducks," and the secretary held up a number of five specimens as a proof of his word.

"Mostly ducks didn't bother me at all, thanks to the thoughtfulness of the host, who provided a lotion which kept the pests away effectively. The camp is well screened and I enjoyed the rest and recuperation."

"We arose this morning at 3 o'clock, and, after enjoying a delicious cup of coffee and several fried eggs, we were ready for the day's sport. I wasn't a bit tired and I didn't have to be called more than once, because I was eager for the outing. I like hunting a great deal, but my duties at Washington keep me so tied down that I can't enjoy the one great hobby of my life."

"It was unique to go through the canals and lagoons and lakes with which that section of the country abounds. The camps were unusually cozy, and the hospitality was immense. I suppose I could have been in a profession, if I cared to, for Mr. Farwell knows all of the people and they knew I was his guest, and that seemed to settle the question."

"We shot from blinds and used decoys, and I had a good weapon, and I suppose I might say, in the common vernacular, I made good. There was not much difference between the shooting and other hunts I have enjoyed, but the surroundings were out of the ordinary and the hospitality never excelled."

"Following the kill, we went in the handsomely appointed gasoline launch owned by Mr. Farwell to a place where shrimp are seen in profusion. They call it Manila Village, and the buildings and natives, representing many nationalities, were decidedly interesting. The Fisher Brothers have a fine place, and we stopped at the store for a while, and were most cordially received. We went to Grand Lake and other points of interest, and, voicing the sentiments of Captain Andrews and myself, I might say the whole outing was one of the best we have ever had. I do hope that at no distant date, if I can ever come back here again, that I will be able to go on another outing with Mr. Farwell."

As Mr. Meyer was about to walk down the pontoon the whistle on the ferry blew the warning to leave the Algiers side. With leaps and bounds he ran down the incline and made the shore. He told the driver to row the launch to the vessel, and he caught it with ease. Then, grasping the hands of Mr. Farwell, Captain Andrews and Arthur Batistella, he landed all three of them while the boat was moving further away from the landing. He enjoyed the vigorous exercise, and enthusiastically remarked, "I never missed anything in my life; ten minutes lost are as important as an hour."

It happened that Mayor Behrman was crossing the river at the time, and he exchanged warm greetings with Mr. Meyer and Captain Andrews. They discussed the hunt and everything else except the Naval Station, the secretary seeming to desire to evade the subject, having expressed himself already, outlining his stand in the matter.

Mr. Meyer and Captain Andrews will leave this morning on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. They will enjoy several of the ducks while en route to Pensacola, the next stop.

Mr. Farwell said Mr. Meyer was a fine sportsman and he regretted that he could not enjoy more of the shooting. All of the party were guests of Theodore Wilkinson yesterday afternoon at luncheon at his palatial plantation residence at Myrtle Grove.

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. E. M. L. L. 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice, as she has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it, and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It clears, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with W. H. Kittredge, Rockland, C. C. McDonald & Co., Thomaston.

Seven Minute Sermon On the Golden Text

By Our Own Preacher
(Copyright, 1910, by E. S. Davidson.)
Nov. 6th, 1910.

This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. — Luke xxiv.

The Lord's Supper is a Commemorative Love Feast. On the night of his betrayal, knowing what was going to happen, Jesus ate the Passover with his disciples for the last time, and inaugurated a new memorial service. He was now in sight of Calvary and the shadow of the Cross was upon him. He knew the significance of His coming passion; that through the sign of the Cross He was to conquer death, and hell, and win heaven for the world. He therefore desired to establish a perpetual memorial of the tragic event, through which the victory was to come, lest any should forget. He chose a simple supper of bread and wine, to which He called His disciples after the regular Passover feast. He broke the bread and gave to each a piece, saying, "Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you; this do in remembrance of me." Then after He drank Himself, He gave each the cup, with the words, "This cup is the new testament in my blood; this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me." This commemorative service has been kept by Christians, from that time until now. It serves the threefold purpose of reminding us of Calvary, of the ever-abiding presence of Jesus, and a realizing sense of our love one for another.

II. It is the Universal Verdict of All Spiritual People That Jesus Manifests Himself in This Sacrament. Facts are always better than theories, and experience than doctrines. That the bread becomes the real body of Jesus, and the wine His actual blood, is clear nonsense; but that partaking of the simple pieces of bread and the sip of wine is a realistic reminder of the death of Christ and of the assurance of His perpetual presence, is an indisputable experience. The heart, or the inner consciousness, then feels the fact that Jesus died for our sins, and that there is virtue in His blood. The at-one-ment with God brought about in some mysterious way, by that death is then transferred from the speculations of theology to actual heartfelt realization. In one moment the thrill of the presence of Him who was dead but is now alive again, reveals to us more than tomes of theology. It will be remembered that, on the evening of the resurrection day, the two disciples whom Jesus overtook on the road to Emmaus, did not recognize Him; but at the end of the journey when "he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them, their eyes were opened, and they knew him." It is ever thus! We see Jesus in breaking the bread, and feel the thrill of His presence in the taste of the wine.

III. This Sacrament Was Instituted For the Lord's Disciples. The record states that He desired to "eat the Passover with his disciples" and only the twelve sat down with Him. It was in their company that He established and partook of this sacrament; evidently He intended it for none other, as no person outside was invited. One must have love, and devotion to Jesus, in order to enter into such a solemn service with spiritual profit. For the worldly, or wicked, to engage in this solemn sacrament is both farcical and sacrilegious. To eat the flesh and drink the blood of Jesus, means at least to desire to take Him into our lives, to have His mind, to think His thoughts, and be animated by love. To engage in this supper with enmity in our hearts, with the expectation of living in sin, is as Paul puts it, "to the guilty of the body and blood of the Lord," and to "eat and drink judgment to himself." But any sincere soul, saint or sinner, who craves the Christ life, and determines to be a disciple of Jesus, and may partake with profit of the holy sacrament and in the service see in His Lord's death and passion his reconciliation to God.

IV. Partaking of the Bread and the Wine is a Suggestion of Feeding Upon Christ. Food is essential to sustain physical life; through digestion it is assimilated by the blood and furnishes nutriment for our bodies. In like manner Jesus is the bread of life to the soul. He calls Himself, the "living bread which came down from heaven," and states "that a man may eat thereof and not die"; and again "he that eateth me, even he shall live by me." These statements are not literal, but are so highly suggestive of the literal truth, that they neither need explanation, nor qualification. The Christ is to spiritual life what food is to the body. The Lord's Supper is not only a memorial, a sacrament showing forth the Lord's death till He come again, a covenant service, a love feast; it is also a natural physical suggestion of feeding upon Christ in our hearts by faith. Partaking of the morsel of bread and the sip of wine, gives pleasurable sensations to the palate, and this is a suggestion to the spiritual imagination. Our "spiritual body" appears to have what answers to our physical senses, and in eating and drinking the bread and wine, we inwardly feed upon the Divine Christ.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

ESTABLISHED 1851.

Makes a sturdy boy of a healthy baby; helps the boy onward into athletic youth; builds strong, virile manhood on youthful vigor and crowns a long life with happy old age.

Why? Because it keeps bodily functions healthy and active. Take it for that foe of health—constipation. It relieves biliousness; restores lost appetite; strengthens a weak stomach; steadies tired nerves; gives a clear head and an optimistic outlook to anyone, and everyone, who takes it. It's been in use three generations and more people use it to-day than ever before—do you wonder?

Every ingredient in True's Elixir is selected for great medicinal value and absolute freedom from deleterious properties or impurities. The compounding is done with the strictest care.

"Keeps you and your children well!"

Sold by all druggists—35c.—50c.—$1.00.

is it not because your system is out of condition and unable to do its share of the work? Does your physical condition need toning up? If you have imperfect digestion, your food will not nourish the body and this will account for the fact that your eye is not as clear as it should be—your brain is easily fagged and you have no appetite. If you miss the springy step you used to have and your complexion is not clear, you should

GERONIMO IN ACTION.

The Indian Chief's Story of How He Whipped the Mexicans.

About noon we began to hear them speaking my name with curses. In the afternoon the general came on the field, and the fighting became more furious. I gave orders to my warriors to try to kill all the Mexican officers. About 3 o'clock the general called all the officers together at the right side of the field. The place where they assembled was not very far from the main stream, and a little ditch ran out close to where the officers stood. Cautiously I crawled out this ditch, very close to where the council was being held.

The general was an old warrior. The wind was blowing in my direction, so that I could hear all he said, and I understood most of it. This is about what he told them: "Officers, you are in those ditches are the red devil Geronimo and his hated band. This must be their last day. Ride on from both sides of the ditches. Kill men, women and children. Take no prisoners; dead Indians are what we want. Do not spare your own men; exterminate his band at any cost. I will post the wounded to shoot all deserters. Go back to your companies and advance."

Just as the command to go forward was given I took deliberate aim at the general, and he fell. In an instant the ground around me was riddled with bullets, but I was untouched. The Apaches had seen. From all along the ditch arose the fierce war cry of my people. The columns wavered an instant and then swept on. They did not retreat until our fire had destroyed the front ranks. After this fighting was not so fierce, yet they continued to rally and advance until dark. They also continued to speak my name with threats and curses. That night before the firing had ceased a dozen Indians had crawled out of the ditches and set fire to the long prairie grass behind the Mexican troops. During the confusion that followed we escaped to the mountains. From "Geronimo's Story of His Life," by S. M. Barrett.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions of men would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. King and Commons. King James I. of England, although recently alive to his own divine right, yet recognized the power of the house of commons. Sir Robert Cotton was one of the twelve members to carry the famous declaration against monarchy to the king of Newmarket. When the king caught sight of them he called out, "Oh, chairs, chairs, here be twal kynges comin'." His majesty mounted his horse on one occasion to find his usually quiet steed in a restive mood. "The devil's my soul, sirrah," said the king to the prancing brute, "and you be no quiet horse to send you to the 500 kings in the house of commons. They'll quickly tame you."

Crossroads Burials.

Formerly it was a general custom to erect crosses at the junction of four roads on a place self consecrated as a resting place for the dead. The crosses and the graves were frequently buried near to these, and with the notion of indignity, but a spirit of charity, that, being exalted from holy rites, they by being buried at crossroads might be in some way sanctified to ground actually consecrated. Westminster Gazette.

Like a Woman.

"If you'll notice," said Flinnick, "the poets invariably say 'she' when referring to the earth. Why should the earth be considered feminine?" "Why not? Nobody knows just how she feels."

IN THE PHILIPPINES

Frances Wyman Ramee Writes Entertainingly of Life in the Far East.

Lieut. Frank Wyman, U. S. A. of Northfield, Minn., a former Waldoboro man, and cousin of Sheriff Tolman, is serving in the Philippines. The following letter was written to the Northfield (Minn.) News from Antimanan, Tayabas, P. I., by his daughter, Frances Wyman Ramee, will be read with interest:

I promised you a letter and this is my first opportunity to make it good. We have had more interesting and exciting things happen to us in the last two weeks than most people have in many years. The other day we started by a four-mule U. S. wagon to go over the mountains down to the sea on the opposite coast to our home in Antimanan. It was a fine ride, and we saw some of the most beautiful scenery I have ever seen. The tropical foliage was especially luxuriant, with the flowers and ferns four and five feet high. It made a pretty setting for the natives trudging to the nearest towns with their burdens. We heard monkeys chattering at one time we were sure, though the driver could not give us the English word.

An avenue of coconut palms and then a deep cut through the rock brought us to the entrance of the city. The houses are built on posts or bamboo poles from five to ten feet high because of rain, bugs, etc. Most of the houses are thatched with nipa leaves, which make an excellent rain roof. They are enlarging our house just now, and it will be a pretty place when the natives work as they run along the bamboo rafters. Our house is lined; if not there would be pet lizards about playing hide and seek among the rafters. I am just as well pleased not to have them as I think they would be "creepy." Our servant boy killed one two and a half feet long. No especial bravery displayed, as they are harmless.

There is a beautiful bathing beach here, and I swam forty feet the first day, which shows that my lessons in the Cannon river had not been in vain.

Speaking of the servant problem here, the lieutenant has already found a boy who speaks and understands English (when you use small words and if in small doses), and he is really willing to work, a peculiar thing among Filipinos. He is also a good cook and an excellent bread-baker. He says "breakfast, lunch and dinner" in a very satisfactory way. The cooks as a rule do not take kindly to American methods. They roll the crust with macaroni and cheese, pickles, chili bread and butter, fruit salad made of pineapples, oranges and bananas, crackers, sponge cake, ice cream, coffee and candy. Government supplies us with ice and we make very good ice cream from condensed milk.

Today I was really amused when I asked our boy how long something was and he said, "Yes, madam, two minutes." I looked puzzled, and he thought hard and then said with inspiration in his eyes, "Two minches." As I have only picked up a little Spanish and cannot yet speak the native dialect (tagalog) the boy, Felipe, interprets for me. He wanted some clothespins the other day, but I could not understand, so he got a piece of rope, laid a handkerchief over it and then bent a piece of bamboo over the handkerchief to show me. I thought it rather clever.

As I am one of the three white women in town, we had the pleasure of entertaining the secretary of war, Mr. Dickinson, and his party, including his wife. The couple were very kind, with their wives, (the other two white women) making up the party of whites to entertain. To celebrate the event the natives gathered all trees from the woods and planted them in their yards, and made white and blue calico flags. At the entrance to the town the official party in autos passed under an arch of palm leaves in which the children were hidden and on the sides of the rock cuts to throw flowers into the road as they passed.

While the party was in town the natives gave a parade, representing their various industries—agriculture, fishing, coconut and hemp-raising. We had but one band, and during the parade they disappeared in the brush back of the reviewing stand three times after passing it and reappeared in different uniforms, not taking long to change only two pieces, and back in the line so as to pass the reviewing stand, and in passing four times the uninitiated thought that we had four bands. In the town hall twelve native girls of the domestic science department of the public schools served "chow" (as they call food). After resting the guests departed and we settled down to think it over. There is much more to tell about, but this is too much for this time. Everyone is good to me, and I am "Tanyante Ramee's Matrimonia," to write it as it sounds.

About the middle of September we expect to go to Samar, where we, understand, they have waterworks and an ice plant, which will be very pleasant.

Give my regards to my friends and tell them my permanent address is care Lieut. Per Ramee, 26 Co. 9th Bat. Phil. Scouts, Manila, P. I.

Not Sorry for Blunder. "If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Saunders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, laryngitis, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Wm. H. Kittredge, Rockland, G. I. Robinson Drug Co., Thomaston, R. W. Wiley, Vinalhaven.

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. "This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by Norcross Drug Stores and W. H. Kittredge, Druggists.

A DARING ACT.

Long Cove, Oct. 31.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—I was making a visit at James Smith's home yesterday and I saw the most daring act done that I ever saw in my life and I should like to have you recognize it in your paper.

Fred Smith was lying on the couch without his shoes on, in a light slumber, when his mother exclaimed: "Here comes a runaway horse!" and before I could hardly think he was off the couch and out of doors. He dashed in front of the horse, grabbed him by the bridle, brought him to a halt, and held him until the owner came and got him. The horse was a vicious animal. Only a short time ago he ran away and threw a lady and little child out and seriously injured them. Knowing the horse and that fact Mr. Smith risked life and limb. You can't say too much in his praise. I grasped him by the hand after the act and told him I was proud of him, but like all heroes he made light of the matter.

HAHN-GILMORE.

A wedding took place in Boston Wednesday, in which Rockland people will be interested, when Mrs. Maxilla G. Hahn of this city was united in marriage to John C. Gilmore of Woolwich. The ceremony took place at 8 p. m., in the Union Congregational church, by the assistant pastor, Rev. Stephen C. Lang, an intimate friend of the couple, the single ring service being used. The bride was becomingly gowned in a brown travelling suit with brown turban. Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore will spend a few days in and about Boston before going to Woolwich, where they will be at home after Dec. 1st. Their friends both in this city and Woolwich extend congratulations and wish them much happiness.

ROCKLAND THEATRE.

The week's engagement of the Gladys Klark Co. is drawing to a close, much to the regret of the large crowds which have thronged the theatre at every performance. Miss Klark and her associates are certainly "in right" with the theatre-goers of Rockland and vicinity, who will have a warm welcome for them whenever they see fit to come this way. It is a well balanced cast—no stars of the first magnitude to be sure, but much better than the average talent for popular-priced productions. Miss Klark excels in roles like those assigned to her in "The Senator's Daughter," but has not failed to charm her audience in whatever role she has essayed. The production of "Camille" this Friday evening ought to bring out the best acting talent she possesses, and leaving that prediction we place her on trial.

The Gladys Klark Co. excels not only in high character plays and clean clever acting, but as a company which carries feature specialties, and among the latter the one that takes precedence is the "Man of Mystery." His real name is F. Richard Davis and he hails from the Granite State. Feats of magic appealed to him when he was a kid, and 10 years ago he had attained such a degree of perfection that he went into the game professionally. Rockland has seen him before and has seldom seen his superior. His great versatility permits him to give a practically new performance each night. The Chinese stage setting of Wednesday night lent an attractive background to clever stunts like the alarm clock trick, pigeon pie and shower of roses.

Kin-Kaid is still dodging the apples and courting death by throwing cannon balls high into the air and catching them at the base of his brain. Saturday's matinee bill is "My Dixie Girl," while the closing performance Saturday night will be "Roanoke."

Tickets for the Opera Iolanthe at the Rockland Theatre are for sale at the Maine Music Co's.

The Burpee Hose Co. is getting ready for its annual ball on Thanksgiving night.

MR. BOVA'S SUCCESS

Former Rockland Man Has Fashionable Cafe in Boston, With Orchestra and Bowling Alley Accompaniment.

It is always gratifying to write of the success of a Rockland man no matter what his business or profession.

Thirty years ago L. E. Bova left Rockland thinking he could do better for himself in some larger place where the field would be more to the size of his ambition. He located in Boston, going into the restaurant business. By hard work, close application to every detail of the business and a disposition that at once won him friends, he has now one of the highest class restaurants in Boston—the Cafe Bova at 96-98 Arch and 15-17 Otis streets, only three doors from Summer street and in the very heart of the business section.

He makes a specialty of a la carte lunch and Italian table d'hote dinners, with music until 10 p. m. He has just fitted up a new Italian room in the basement which has already become a popular eating place for select parties every day.

Mr. Bova has in his employ 65 persons, which gives some idea of the size of his establishment. The rooms are elegantly fitted up with massive furniture and the guest on entering is made to feel at home at once.

In addition to the cafe Mr. Bova has a bowling alley up stairs and at all times of the day and until closing time at night the roll of the balls and the falling of the pins is heard.

In all this Mr. Bova keeps in touch, and every detail of the business has his close supervision. Mr. Bova still has a warm place in his heart for Rockland and the writer spent a most delightful hour Monday in answering his many questions regarding Rockland and her people. When in Boston he is sure and visit Cafe Bova.

Amy L. Karl has the latest embroidery designs, and would like orders for all kinds of stamping, embroidering, and designing.

Catarth Sufferers

Good Thing to Know

If you now own a Hyomei hard rubber inhaler C. H. Pendleton and W. H. Kittredge want you to know that they will sell you a bottle of Hyomei for only 50 cents.

Remember this, all who suffer with catarth—a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounced Hight-o-mey) is put up in a separate package and sold for 50 cents, to accommodate the vast army of people who already own a Hyomei inhaler.

C. H. Pendleton and W. H. Kittredge will sell it to you at that price, and give you the opportunity to begin at once to rid yourself of vile catarth and the snuffling, hawking and spitting that go with it.

Many people through years of neglect have let catarth get a strong hold upon them. Some of these people unreasonably think that one bottle of HYOMEI ought to cure them.

No matter how chronic your catarth troubles, HYOMEI is guaranteed by C. H. Pendleton and W. H. Kittredge to cure them if you give it half a chance. Just breathe it, that's all, and its healing, soothing, antiseptic properties will make you feel better in a day.

If you own an inhaler get a 50 cent bottle of HYOMEI at C. H. Pendleton or W. H. Kittredge today. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a $1.00 outfit, which includes inhaler.
