

sulphur mixture for summer sprays, foliage sprays. It has been found in various experiments that the regular stock solution of lime-sulphur spray diluted to the proportion of about one part to forty gives just as good if not better results than the so-called self-boiled lime-sulphur mixture. The reason for this substitution is the cheapness of the strongly diluted mixture as compared with the self-boiled. Much less sulphur is wasted and the lime is much more economical than the self-boiled

"For a simple silly reason. I was afraid. I had taken up a task too big for me by far—taken it up bravely when I was out in the sunlight of Reuton. But when I saw Upper Assquewan Falls and the dark carnage and that dingy station swallowed me up something gave way inside me, and I felt I was going to fall. So—I cried."

"No, so I'm not taking up any space. I'm just hanging out here, passing the time. You know me and Lou. I run a little business here, and then it's money along. We'll clear out at 9 o'clock,"

"No," protested Marge. "So soon?"

"We must make it pleasant for you to stay. I always have hosts to talk about their servants. I have friends who bore me to death because I don't have servants."

In the letter was a photograph of the former inmate referred to, in his prison clothes, which the warden of the New Hampshire State Prison had taken in jail here.

There is local interest in the sentencing to the prison at Atlanta by the federal court in New York last Tuesday of seven former officers and agents of the Sevin Debenture Corporation for failing to file the required reports.

One of the men, Benjamin C. Mudge, who got a sentence of four years, was for a time in jail at South Paris, was taken to the State Prison at Bangor, where he was held for some time. Inquiries regarding him were received by the officers a few days since from the warden of the New Hampshire State Prison, Bangor, who stated that he knew where he had been taken and also wished to know if he could be identified as a former inmate of the New Hampshire State Prison.
