NECESSITIES OF LIFE.

The right medicine at the right time, is as much a necessity as food, shelter or clothes. Perhaps more so. In its 60 years of relieving stomach troubles, remediating constipation and biliousness, and restoring strength and appetite, "L. F." Atwood's Medicine has become practically a necessity of New England life.

Mrs. Whitcomb's letter simply confirms what thousands of other folks already know: "Have used your 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine for more than 20 years. We consider it nearly as necessary as our food." (Signed) Mrs. C. H. Whitcomb.

Woman's Problems.

The franchise for women in the United States is coming. That it has not been granted more speedily is a matter of course, for the men of this country are inclined to give their women whatever they ask for, we might say, everything they want. As a result, some states, what is called machine politics is largely at fault, for the continued refusal of petitions for woman suffrage; in other cases—notably Massachusetts—the spirit of conservatism, which has fastened itself on both men and women is cause of the backwardness in accepting or adopting this desired reform.

But with the possession of the ballot, not all of woman's problems will be solved; suffice for women will not be in a millennium of peace and leisure. Household and housekeeping must go on just the same, and yet time be found to aid in the conduct of affairs of town and state. Women of means, whose children have already been placed in life may find pleasure and profit to themselves and in a measure be useful to the state by entering upon these larger fields of activity. But how about the wife of the young man and the professional man with salaries less than two thousand dollars a year?

To get rid of the drudgery of housework is the cry of many women. It is not the teaching of children as monotonous as housework? Does not teaching keep both men and women engaged in it tied down and unable to take part in the things that are thought to give a broader view of life as does housekeeping or housemaking?

There is one thing that results from the kitchen that has not yet been fully presented; it is well known that bread, meat, delicatessen supplies, etc., provided outside of the home, cost about twice as much as the same items prepared in the home, and at the same time, the former are rarely equal to the latter in nutritive value and flavor. How is this discrepancy to be made good? More families are living on two thousand dollars per year or less than on income above that figure. Not every young woman can earn the difference in cost of food cooked at home and cooked food bought outside the home.

French women, it is said, take hold enthusiastically and become co-workers with their husbands in the conduct of their business, knowing full well that co-partnership is necessary to the success of the business. The time is rapidly approaching in this country, even if it is not already here, when women in some way must help either in keeping down the expenses of the household or in adding to the income of the family. Natural fitness should decide which procedure is best adapted to each individual case. And besides, the time has not come when all women are desirous of throwing overboard the responsibilities of individual home-making.

About Hard Wood Floors.

THE EASIEST WAY TO CLEAN AND CARE FOR THEM.

The following question has appeared so often in letters of inquiry that we have decided to publish the answer: "How may I keep hard wood floors clean and free from dust; also keep scratches and heel marks from showing and accumulating? Can you suggest an easy way?"

Perhaps the simplest and easiest way to keep wood floors clean, free from dust, and in good condition generally—whether painted, varnished, stained, shellacked or waxed—is to dust them with a long-handled, dusting brush. These mops are chemically treated so as to pick up the dust, retain it, and leave the floor cleaned and polished appearance. When scratches or heel marks appear, or an extra cleaning or polishing is needed, the oil mop is useful. Once in two or three weeks it is enough to use this mop. In this way the work is done quickly, stooping is avoided, and the hands are not soiled. When the mops become too dusty for further service, they may be washed in soap and water, making them as good as new.—The Ladies' World.

Recipes.

STRAWBERRIES AND RHUBARB

Even if strawberries should be scarce at high, one may still enjoy that popular preserve by combining an equal quantity of rhubarb with the berries. Pare the rhubarb and cut in one-inch pieces. Pick over, wash, and drain the berries. Put the rhubarb into a preserving kettle, bring to the boiling point, add an equal quantity of heated sugar, and mix carefully with a wooden spoon. Cook this slowly, stirring occasionally, until the mixture is thick and clear looking. This should take about forty minutes, the time depending, however, somewhat upon the quantity. When sugar is poured into sterilized glasses, cool and seal.

ORANGES AND RHUBARB

Follow directions in the preceding recipe, substituting oranges in place of the berries, allowing, however, only half the quantity of orange to a given quantity of rhubarb.

STRAWBERRIES AND PINEAPPLE

Pick over, wash and hull the berries. Put them into a kettle, bring to the boiling point, add an equal quantity of heated sugar, and cook slowly until clear and thick, being careful to keep the berries as whole as possible. Peel the pineapple, then shred it—this is done by pulling it from the core with a silver fork, put into a saucepan, heat, add an equal quantity of sugar and cook until clear. Now combine the berries and the pineapple, and cook together for about one hour longer. Pour into glasses or jars and seal.

Raspberries may be used in place of the strawberries with equally good results.

Notes.

Environment has its influence, but when all is said more depends on the harmony of spirit than on the harmony of circumstance in the making of a home.

System is the solid rock on which to build our manifold duties "house," and sometimes it is more necessary to make a call or take a drive than to keep the schedule running perfectly; sometimes more important to rest the baby than to wash the dinner dishes right on the dot.

Brown stains may be prevented from appearing on peeled apples by throwing the pieces in cold water as soon as cut.

Sometimes there is a lot more solace and rest in preparing a wholesome, appetizing meal in an emergency or from left-overs than in any number of pretty sounding talks on the subject.

Cheese may be kept fresh and free from mold for a long time if it is wrapped in a cloth wrung out of vinegar, placed in a paper sack and put in a cool place.

Oh, we believe in the correct mental attitude all right, but it is hard to keep when the stove pipe falls down just when you're swept and dusted, the wash boiler or springs leak, the baby spills a cup of milk over the last clean tablecloth, and company unexpectedly drops in to dinner just as the family is through. In other words, there are times when we'd rather have sympathy than theory.

And yet—we've got to learn not to cry over spilled milk. Verily, I believe that our greatest sin is wasting time and nerve force in worrying over mistakes and the fact that cannot be helped, or have to be left undone.

Many of us like to use chemicals akin to clean windows, silverware, etc., but all we do not know how to restore them when soiled. Soak the silver in a weak solution of washing soda, then in soap suds for two hours. Rub thoroughly in water, then a combined solution of soap and soda and dry without rinsing. We don't mind being talked with but we hate oversteering to be preached at.

Helped the Glass Man.

She entered the hardware store and said to the clerk: "I want a pane of window glass ten inches by twelve and I want a man to come right over to my house and set it."

"Very well, ma'am," said the clerk, and calling the proprietor to tend the front of the store, he accompanied the woman around the corner to her house, and around the house to the back porch, where she took the mop, smashed it in a perfectly good pane of glass with it, reached through the hole, unlatched the window and said: "Now go in through the window and unlock the door for me; after that you can put in the new pane and my husband will pay you tomorrow. I left my keys at home when I went calling this afternoon."—Newark News.

Adhesive Eggs of Fishes.

Among the fishes which produce adhesive eggs are the little black head minnow (Pimephales promelas) and the goldfish. The male blackhead deposits the fecundated eggs singly upon the under side of leaves of water plants and watches them until they are hatched. The eggs of the goldfish are deposited singly upon the weeds and mosses in a similar manner by the male fish. The eggs of the yellow perch are held together in narrow strips or ribbons of a glutinous character. Adhesive eggs of other species, as the black bass, sunfish, catfish, etc., are deposited in masses in shallow nests or depressions on the bottom, and still other species deposit their spawn in variously shaped adhesive masses upon water plants, roots and submerged objects.

Beats the Carpenter's Record.

The discovery of a carpenter whose father practiced the same craft has been commented upon in several newspapers and at Lamberhurst, in Kent, there is a family who have been lumberkeepers for four centuries. In countries where the caste system prevails such a record would be thought utterly impossible. Grant Duff notes in his diary the answer made by a punkah puller in Madras to an English lady who suggested that he might improve his position. "Memash, my grandfather pulled a punkah, all my ancestors for 4,000,000 years pulled punkahs, and before that the god who founded our caste pulled a punkah for Vishnu."—London Chronicle.

The Wearying Chase.

Tommy could not understand why his teacher thought that the following paragraph from his composition on "A Hunting Adventure" lacked animation and effectiveness: "Pursued by the relentless hunter, the panting snail sprang from cliff to cliff. At last she could go no farther. Before her yawned the chasm and behind her the hunter."—Youth's Companion.

Earthquakes.

Earthquakes are subterranean disturbances propagated through the earth in a series of elastic waves. How they originate is not clearly shown. Many are associated with volcanic action, while just as many occur without any evidence of such association.

Melancholy.

Melancholy may be defined as a state of mind in which a man is so out of touch with his environment that life has lost its sweetness.—Sir William Osler.

He who has time, let him not wait for time.—Italian Proverb.

GET RID OF THE TORMENT OF RHEUMATISM.

Remember how spry and active you were before you had rheumatism, backache, swelling, aching joints, and stiff painful muscles? Want to feel that way again? You can—just take Foley Kidney Pills. For they quickly clear the blood of the poisons that cause your pain, misery and torturing rheumatism. S. E. Newell & Co., Paris, A. E. Shurtleff & Co., So. Paris.

Bennie was a plumber's son visiting in the country. When his glass of milk was given him at supper he announced, "I saw how they get the milk. They go to the cows and pinch the facets."

DON'T LOSE SLEEP COUGHING AT NIGHT.

Take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It glides down your throat and spreads a healing, soothing coating over the inflamed, tickling surface. That's immediate relief. It loosens up the tightness in your chest, stops stuffy, wheezy breathing, eases distressing, choking, tearing coughs. Children love it. Refuse any substitutes. Contains no opiates. S. E. Newell & Co., Paris, A. E. Shurtleff & Co., So. Paris.

A little three-year-old boy who was looking out the window happened to see an old man passing and said, "That old man is sure and ears old."

"Well, how old are you Murphy?" "Mumps I deem," came the reply.

Bladder irritations, kidney troubles, dull headaches, weariness, pain in back and sides, all show the kidneys need to be toned, strengthened, the regular action restored. Foley Kidney Pills will do it surely and quickly. They give good health, freedom from pain, a return of appetite and sound sleep. Try them. S. E. Newell & Co., Paris, A. E. Shurtleff & Co., So. Paris.

"Sir, you have called me a crook and a fool," said the man who talked politics. "You have broken my spectacles, you have punched me twice. I hope you will not resume the sleeping lion in my breast, for if you should I cannot tell what may be the consequences."

COMFORTING TO STOUT PEOPLE.

Foley Cathartic Tablets are a specially good little regulator that keeps your system in perfect working order. No biliousness, no constipation, no distress after eating, no greasy, gray taste. A stout person who uses them constantly will really feel thinner out and more comfortable as a result of their use. S. E. Newell & Co., Paris, A. E. Shurtleff & Co., So. Paris.

"Isn't it disgusting the way she brags about her beauty?" "Why, I did not hear her say a word about it."

"Didn't she say she entered a crowded car last evening and every man jumped up and offered her his seat?"

At Bremen, Ga., W. M. Golden, of the Equitable Life Insurance Society, says he found Foley Kidney Pills to be of great benefit in his case. He has kidney troubles, also for rheumatism. He says, "Any person having kidney trouble, backache, or rheumatism should be very glad to find such a wonderful remedy. S. E. Newell & Co., Paris, A. E. Shurtleff & Co., So. Paris."

Johnny—It's funny, ain't it that everybody in our family's some kind of an animal? Father—What do you mean? Johnny—Why, mother's a deer, and baby is a little lamb, and I'm the kid, and you're the goat.

Citrolax! CITROLAX! CITROLAX!

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Thrift is a Natural Inborn Characteristic With Some People; it is an Acquired Habit With Others.

If the majority of people realized that 97 per cent of the business men meet reverses at the age of forty and are obliged to again rebuild their fortunes from the very foundation, the habit of thrift would gradually become more general. It would soon be regarded by the majority as a requisite of vital importance for a man early in life to establish a sinking fund and systematically lay aside for this purpose.

Why not provide against this by opening an account with this bank? You can then deposit all money received and pay each bill by check. In this manner you will have a record of all receipts and expenditures and can establish a sinking fund to provide against reverses and old age.

We invite you to deposit your money, whether it be cash or checks, in this strong National Bank and start systematic saving. There is no expense to you in opening an account.
