Democratic State Officers Elected.

DEADLOCK IS BROKEN, AND BUSINESS CAN NOW PROCEED.

The deadlock in the legislative joint convention was broken on Tuesday.

though not with the thorough break which had been expected by some.

The seven Democratic candidates for the executive committee were duly elected.

and the required vote, this being accomplished by the absence of one of the Progressive members.

The council members thus elected are:

Dr. Charles M. Sawyer, South Berwick.
John Clark Scates, Westbrook.
Dr. O. W. Simmons, Bangor.
S. A. Lawrence, Fairfield.
John A. Cunningham, Bangor.
Michael Hudson, Guilford.
Frank W. Burnham, Milford.

Immediately after the election of councilors, another ballot was taken for secretary of state, and John E. Bunker of Bar Harbor, the Democratic candidate, was elected, two of the Progressive members being absent from their seats.

A vote was then taken for state treasurer, and the deadlock again appeared, the Progressives being all present and voting.

The mysterious Democratic again began his variations, sometimes voting for the Republican candidate and sometimes for the Progressive candidate, and several ballots were taken without election before the convention adjourned to Wednesday.

No further progress in the election of state officers was made on Wednesday, but on that day the house decided the two election contests which were before it.

In the Van Buren district, Lewis Thibodeau, Republican, was unseated, and Fortunat Michaud, Democrat, was seated.

Paul D. Thibodeau of Fort Kent, brother of Lewis Thibodeau, was seated, voted against the unseating, otherwise it was a strict party vote.

In the other case the house on the unanimous report of the committee refused to unseat James J. Clement of Montville, Republican, and seat Peter Harmon of Thorsville, Democrat.

The change in the Van Buren district gave the Democrats their majority of one in the joint convention, and on Thursday the rest of the Democratic candidates for state officers were elected.

Elihu E. Newbert of Augusta State Treasurer, William R. Pattangall of Waterville Attorney General, and W. T. Gungill of Brunswick Commissioner of Agriculture.

With the immediate political business of the session disposed of, the legislature now gets down to business, and the flood of bills has begun, one of the first measures to appear being a bill to change the date of the state election to November.

Here and There.

Six legislators are now in session in New England, and some of them will return within four months unless the law or the constitution imposes a time limit.

May be true, but here in Maine we certainly hope the members will be able to earn their three hundred dollars in three months at the outside.

In Massachusetts one person in every 271 is insane, and there has been an increase during the past year in the number cared for in the state institutions for the insane, which are full nearly to their limit.

The increase of insanity in Maine has frequently been pointed out by our license friends as one of the horrible results of prohibition. But Massachusetts has a "model" license system.

Somehow these protests against the use of "colored" troops from India and Africa by the allies in Europe have a peculiar sound. It was such an amiable diversion that it is a pity to see it so easily "colored" by the "colored" nations.

The old dueling code, of course, allowed duels to be fought only on equal social equals. Well, war is after all only a kind of dueling between nations instead of individuals, and it is mostly as foolish as dueling. Some time a be- sighted world, which was so nearly out- grown dueling, may outgrow war.

Even some people who are quite familiar with Maine affairs will be surprised to learn that there is a strike of engineers and firemen on the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. It is the same strike which began two years ago, and for which strike benefits have been paid ever since by the union. It is still officially "on," and will continue so, though it is a long time since the public has heard of any difficulty in connection with the road on account of it, and doubtless most people supposed that it was "off" long ago.

It is announced that the Tarratine, the toniest club in Bangor, has discontinued the "locker system," in accordance with the decision of the court in the famous Cumberland Club case in Portland. This is rather surprising, but nevertheless rather pleasant news, because it indicates that Bangor has somehow heard that there are liquor laws in this state.

Lord Kitchener is reported as saying that he doesn't know when the war will end, but he does know that it will begin in the month of May. If that is the real date of the beginning, it must be admitted that these diplomatic preliminaries which have been going on for the past four months have been pretty strenuous.

All these announcements given in the newspaper regarding the coming Zepplin raid on England, the number which will constitute the fleet, the time it will start, etc., must of course be taken at their face value. It is a pity that such a habit of publishing her military secrets!

A "Legislative Bout" in Augusta City Hall last week was advertised in the papers accompanying a picture of a man in a state house, and was fought not with fists, but with ballots and tongues.

Rev. E. C. Brown, pastor of the Forest Avenue Congregational Church at Bangor, is spending a short recess from his work at South Paris, and visiting his daughter, Miss Frances W. Brown, superintendent of music in the Paris schools.

The buildings are appropriate and harmonious in architecture and the surroundings make a good setting.

Not only are the buildings attractive in appearance, but they are well adapted for the purpose they serve, and represent full worth for the money which has been invested in them.

The vote of the county which authorized the erection of these buildings was taken in March, 1895, after a contest between the two organizations and others in the history of the county.

An equity suit contesting the vote declayed matters so that the actual building was not begun until 1905. In the year the court house, jail and jailer's house were built, and the buildings were first occupied by the county officers in January, 1906.

Two or three other small pieces of land have been added to the original lot at different times. The stable was built in 1900, and the library and jail kitchen extension, of fireproof construction, in 1909.

An issue of $30,000 in bonds, authorized by the county, was made in 1905. The other cost of construction has been met by cash on hand, or such temporary loans as were necessary, and the regular revenue of the county. The bonds were all met before maturity, the last $5,000 of them having been retired May 1st, 1914, and the buildings are now fully paid for.

An expert from the census bureau of the United States government, engaged in estimating the valuation of public buildings, has recently set the valuation of these at $100,000, and stated that they could not now be built for less.

From the books of the county, Mr.
Atwood, who has been the County
Treasurer during the period covered, has compiled with considerable care a detailed statement of the construction cost of the buildings, given below. This does not include any items which can be classified as maintenance or repairs, but does include actual construction work
and permanent equipment:

William Tell Flour

Makes Cakes Like This!

Light, tender, mouth-melting cake, the kind that you are proud to serve, whether it is just a cake you stirred up for the family or a splendid big rich one for the birthday party.

Wonderful for pastry, too, and just as good for biscuits, hot rolls and bread.

Goes farther—a help in household economy—because it is milled by a special process from Ohio Red Winter Wheat.

Your grocer will have it. Good grocers like to sell William Tell Flour

The Miracle of Digestion.

Have you considered how like a miracle is the process of digestion? We put a dead looking brown bulb into the ground and when it rises a sturdy white stalk. "Behold a miracle!" We give a man a bit of toast and bacon for breakfast and when it appears on his plate, the food has been changed into something, moving, heating power.

Ground up by the teeth, changed by the chemical action of the gastric juices, it is sent on its way into the blood stream that is the veritable river of life. Other cells to grind, other chemicals along the way, extend their influence on the bit of food, and slowly, but surely, it becomes the man himself, feeling, reasoning, feeling, thinking, doing. Whether we will it or not, the processes go on and our food is changed into muscle and bone, nerves and brain. In and out up and down, it is tossed by merry red corpuscles, until at last it is fit to become a part of the personality and has its influence on our work.

Without our willing, without our planning it, without the aid of our hands, this process goes on, and we can't wonder that the food is the kind that nourishes and sustains and strengthens, and does its work at last. It is a miracle of bringing the dead to life. What was yesterday merely food, is today a part of our personality. We can plan the kind and the amount of food that is to make up brain and muscle and make our work produce the energies and achievement of a useful man.

Swimming.

Before beginning to swim, cover any articles that are easily soiled on the beach. If a broom is used, dampen it slightly with clean water or cover it with a cotton flannel bag. If sweeping a bare floor, sweep with short bristles. Stand erect when you swim and close the mouth firmly. Take up the dust and dirt as you sweep. If it is together, be most careful about the cracks and corners. These are the hiding places for disease germs and should be kept especially clean. If a carpet is being swept, be sure to run the edge of the broom into the crack left between the carpet and the baseboards.

A carpet sweeper sometimes finds it is good for the middle of the room, but not good for the cracks or corners. The vacuum cleaner is being used in many homes and it is the ideal way of removing the dust, as it can be more thoroughly done than with either the broom or a carpet sweeper. It sucks the dust up into a box or bag and keeps the air free from contamination. The dust should then be burned.

There never was a time in the history of housekeeping when the housekeeper had so many cleaning devices, and there never was a time when the broom was so nearly crowded out of use by these better devices. In many homes the broom is never used.

Do not dust immediately after sweeping. Allow the dust to settle thoroughly. Wipe the dust from the woodwork and furniture with a cloth that is slightly dampened with oil. Gather the dust into the cloth, folding as you work. If dusting, wash the dust-cloth and hang them in the sun to dry.

Do your dusting with your brain and your conscience as well as with your hands.

Some Uses for Old Papers.

Do our housekeepers appreciate a pile of old papers put in some gettable place, for instant use? Perhaps your housewife thinks a layer of two papers inside the sole will keep your feet dry, or if folded and placed inside the dress, it will protect the lunge on a cold drive.

A soft newspaper will polish windows and lamp chimneys better than cloth. Layers of newspapers folded evenly and placed under the stair carpet at each tread, may cheaply be made to take the place of felt.

A dampened newspaper torn in bits and scattered over a dusty carpet, will take up the dust and dirt better than any other means.

In the kitchen they are invaluable. Papers are preferable to cloths in removing the black from the outside of pans and pans, and paper and smut may be burned. After the fat is poured from frying pans, they should be wiped out clean with a piece of paper. Paper is also useful in the laundry. It keeps the hands, keeps the water cleaner, and the dishcloth in better order.

A newspaper under the feet will keep much of the floor while cleaning. Much cleaning of the kitchen table may be saved by using paper under the pans and bottles.

Before beginning a meal, spread papers over the kitchen cabinet table, then they may be gathered up and burned and no muss or stain left on the cabinet. The range may be kept bright and clean by rubbing with soft newspapers after each meal.

Recipes.

CHEESE SQUARES.

Cover the top of salted crackers with grated cheese and in the center of each put a bit of tomato catsup, dust with salt and cayenne. Bake in quick oven until cheese is melted and crackers crisp. Serve hot.

GIBLET GRAVY.

Stew the liver, gizzard and heart of the fowl in a little water. Strain and mix hot with the gravy that has dripped from the fowl. Thicken with a little brown flour, season with salt and pepper. Chop the liver, gizzard and heart into fine bits before adding to gravy.

CHICKEN CROTONS.

Cook the onions in salted water until tender and drain. In a saucepan put two tablespoons butter. Allow this to become hot, then stir in two tablespoons flour until well mixed. Add a cup of chicken stock, one-half cup of milk, season with salt and pepper. Boil until smooth and creamy, then pour over onions and serve.

MOKK MINE PIE.

Two cups water, one cup sugar, one cup raisins, one-half cup chopped lard, one cup vinegar, one cup molasses, eight ground crackers, one-half teaspoon each ground cloves, cinnamon and grated nutmeg. Boil together twenty minutes, and bake with upper and lower crusts.

STUFFED PEPPERS.

Select large green peppers. Cut open and remove seeds. Fill with finely minced cold meat, seasoned with a little onion, salt and pepper to taste, a bit of butter and bread crumbs. Put in a pan with half a cup of water and bake in oven.

NUT CAKE.

Cream together one cup of butter and two cups granulated sugar, add one-third cup sweet milk, two cups flour, one-half cup grated chocolate or cocoa, one cup mashed potatoes, one cup nut meats, four eggs, well beaten, one teaspoon vanilla extract, one teaspoon cinnamon, one cup of raisins. Mix ingredients together well and bake in loaf or layers. Let with boiling liquid.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

Backache? Feet tired? Not so sorry as you think. Get a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It will cure you of backache, foot pain, headache, dizziness, and all the other troubles that come from a weak blood.

A Story of the Pan-European War.

By F. A. MITCHELL

It was during the furious attacks on Ypres. Hundreds of thousands of German met hundreds of thousands of French, English and Belgians; tens of thousands of men in both armies were killed or maimed, and there was nothing gained or lost. Whatever the result there was death and destruction. The leader, instead of waving his sword and calling on his men to follow him, either marched doggedly against the machinery of death that had been perfected under the influence of a developed civilization or stood waiting to be cut down by the same marvelous contrivances.

Curious, is it not, that the same ingenuity which produced the printing press brought forth the rapid fire gun? Long before the French Revolution a young Englishman who had left home to enter the great contest as a soldier, faced death, not in a battle, but in a succession of battles, the one following the other in rapid succession. It had become simply an active waiting for death. Why, then, did he not already taken him to his doom?

Climate and Consumption.

In a treatise on the relationship of air to tuberculosis, issued by the Smithsonian Institution, Dr. Guy H. N. Smith says that the climate of a place is one of the most important things to be considered. A climate in which the humidity varies greatly is to be avoided. The best combination is one of low humidity and moderately cool temperature.

Not Like the Plane.

Coal Dealer—Why don't you wheel the barrow along more quickly, Pat? It's a very hard job, but keep the barrow inclined plane to relieve you. Pat—Aye, master, the plane may be inclined but I am a coal-dealer, not a coal-miner.

The Worm Turned.

Coal Merchant—I say, Premium, I want to insure my coal yard against fire. What's the cost of a policy for $10,000? The insurance Agent—What coal is it? Same kind you sent me last? Merchant—Yes, it is. Agent—Oh, I won't insure it if it were you. It won't burn.—London Express.

A More or Less Dry Remark.

"I've invented a boat made entirely of cork."

"Who will man it?"

"Oh, I am the cork's crew."—Philadelphia Ledger.
