Stiff? Sore?
A lame back, a sore muscle or a stiff joint is a miserable lot to be in. It is a nuisance. It should be remembered that backache, rheumatic pain, stiffness, soreness, aching and puffiness under the eyes are symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble—and these certainly should not be neglected.

Help the kidneys eliminate from the system the poisonous waste and acids that cause these aches and pains. They act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to healthy, normal condition.

FOOTING UP MATTERS

There are three big things to be considered in every pair of shoes—Style, Quality and Service. "Crossett Shoes" have always been made for discriminating men. The STYLES are always in good taste, the QUALITY you know from experience, and the name "Crossett" branded on the soles insures durability.

We are not selling price to-day—neither are you buying price. It is value that counts—and every penny you put in a pair of "Crossett" Shoes comes out in wear, with interest.

Come in, look over the styles we are showing, but do it now while we have your size. Crossett Shoes will save you money.

German Wallace Lester, an officer in the United States Army, residing in Boston, has petitioned the Suffolk probate court to leave to change his name to Graham Wallace Lester. His reasons for desiring the change are three: "The name 'German' always has been distasteful because of its quaintness, it being the name of a race and not the common name of a male person; my family avoids the use of the name; I should have a male heir, I should want him to bear my own name, and I ask this change in order that it may be possible to give it to him without perpetuating a name so distasteful."

John Judits, taken before Judge Avery in Quincy, Mass., on a charge of being a tramp, explained in answer to questions that he had served in machine gun battalion 338 and was gassed and shell shocked during battle in the Argonne forest. Admonishes Against Socialized State.

In an eloquent address on "Constitutional Government," delivered in the National House in observance of the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution, September 17, 1787, Representative Arthur H. Hays, of Maine, defended the Constitution and called for its preservation against unwholesome and unwelcome and malvolent attacks.

A warning to the nation to go slow in abandoning or modifying the great principles upon which the Constitution is founded was sounded by Judge Tower. His address and the sentiments he uttered unquestionably awoke a responsive chord in the breasts of those who heard him. He was applauded with the utmost enthusiasm from both sides of the Chamber.

The address was to have been delivered September 17th, but was deferred until September 18th, because of the fact that the reception to General Pershing and the returning soldiers was arranged for that day.

Judge Tower, among other things, gave an admonition against turning away from the Constitution into the paths of socialism and especially the forms of radical socialism which would abolish private property and cause its confiscation by the Government, with the establishment of a socialized state in which the Government shall own all the property and control and regulate the lives of all the people.

He called for the repeal of those laws and orders based upon the war powers which, however necessary in the midst of a great war, he deemed to be unnecessary or justifiable in time of peace.

"Upon the entrance of this nation as a participant in the great European war," said Judge Tower, "the Government has been urged by the Government of the war powers granted by the Constitution in such emergencies. Almost every act of the citizen was put under the thumb of the Government. His food, his fuel, his business, even his personal habits and accustomed diversions were placed under government control. Every act passed by Congress, which was only justified in the exercise of the war powers, should be immediately repealed when peace is declared."

Every administrative act of the Government, whether military or civil, which depended for its validity upon the exercise of the war powers, should be at once revoked."

Gen. Wood Opposes Large Army.
Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the Central Department, appeared before the Senate Committee on Military Affairs to give his views concerning the reorganization of the army.

He disagreed entirely with the recommendation of the Secretary of War that the standing army should consist of 570,000 men, which Senator Wadsworth has indicated would prove to be a skeleton for the army of 1,250,000. Such an army, General said, would be an unnecessary waste and extravagance in time of peace. He said he thought 250,000 or 300,000 men would be sufficient to meet all the needs of the government.

Asked by Senator Chamberlain if he had been consulted in the slightest degree by the General Staff or the Secretary of War in regard to the reorganization plans, he said he had not been asked a single question during the past two years.

He proposed a separate aviation department and called attention to the fact that England turned out 7,000,000 planes, that France furnished 800 of them and that the United States completed a grand total of fourteen.

He asked what would be the use of the creation of thirty-two new brigadier generals of the line, as recommended by General March and the Secretary of War, he replied:

"To draw pay."
They were entirely unnecessary, he said. The regular army of 250,000 men should be used to garrison the island possessions and also protect this country. He said it should form the nucleus for the training of a citizen soldiery through universal service of youths of nineteen years for a period of six months from April to October. The war, he said, had been the most demoralizing force in American history and in itself, so far as the American soldiers were concerned a refutation of the prediction that militarism would result here. He said the drafted and volunteer men were all glad to get out of the service and wanted no more of it; that the service did not make Prussians of them, but bettered them physically and gave them a higher appreciation of law and order. As an overseer of Harvard College, he said the universities would all recognize that the two months lost in schooling would be made up many times by the advantages of military training. He told of the agricultural and other instruction welcomed by the boys of his own camps.

Pickles and Relishes

THAT REQUIRE LITTLE OR NO COOKING.

(By Alice Bradley.)

When one has a garden with an abundance of cucumbers, green tomatoes, peppers, cabbage, and other fall vegetables, it is desirable to can some of them with vinegar and spices that they may be available to add flavor during the winter to otherwise simple meals. Cooking them together in quantity saves trouble in preparing a green vegetable for the table later on. While too much vinegar and spices may not be good for one's digestive apparatus, a small quantity served with baked beans, fish, hash or corn chowder adds freshness similar to that which one gets in the summer from lettuce and salad greens. Many of these relishes require little or no cooking, and fortunately will be those housekeepers who have a shelf stocked with jars of labeled goodies from their own gardens, or even from the market.

APPLE JAM

3 pounds brown sugar
2 cups water
2 pounds apples
2 lemons
3-4 ounces ginger root
Boil sugar and water five minutes. Add apples, pared, cored and chopped, the grated rind and juice of the lemons, and ginger root grated. There should be about six tablespoons grated ginger root. Boil mixture twenty minutes, or until clear and thick, stirring frequently. Pour into sterile glasses. When firm, cover with melted paraffin and with tin cover. This makes about eight glasses.

CABBAGE AND PEPPER RELISH

6 green peppers
1 large red pepper
3 onions
1 large head white cabbage
1-2 bunch celery
2 tablespoons mustard seeds
2-4 tablespoons salt
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 quart vinegar

Wash peppers and remove stems and seeds. Peel onions and cut in pieces; remove outside leaves and hard center of cabbage and cut in pieces. Wash celery, and remove coarse green leaves. Put vegetables through food chopper, using coarse knife, add mustard seed, salt, sugar and vinegar. Mix thoroughly, put in sterilized glass jars, adjust rubbers and tops, seal and label.

ONION AND PEPPER RELISH

6 red bell peppers
6 green bell peppers
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons salt
1-2 cups vinegar

Remove stem and seeds from peppers and skin from onions. Force vegetables through meat chopper, using coarse knife, put in saucepan with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain, discard water, return to saucepan, add sugar, salt and vinegar, stir thoroughly, bring to boiling point, and let boil twenty minutes. Put in sterilized jars, adjust rubbers and covers, seal, label and put away until needed.

SALAD PICKLES

Small fresh green cucumbers
1 cup salt
1 cup sugar
7-8 cup mustard
1 gallon vinegar

Wash, scrubbing if necessary, the small cucumbers, and place in stone or glass jars. Sift together salt, sugar and mustard, and add slowly, while stirring constantly, one cup of the vinegar. When smooth add remaining vinegar and pour over the cucumbers. If glass jars are used, adjust rubbers and covers and seal the jars. If stone jars are used, lay a heavy china plate directly over the cucumbers with a weight on top, to keep the pickles from contact with the air. Cover the jar and keep in a cool place. This amount of vinegar mixture is sufficient for two hundred small cucumbers. They may be added to the mixture when they are picked, a few at a time, if more convenient than to have them all prepared at once.

CELERY RELISH

Celery
4 teaspoons powdered sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon mustard
1-4 cup vinegar

Wash celery and chop sufficient, including the small tender leaves, to make one and one-half cups. Mix with remaining ingredients, cover and let stand in a cool place one and one-half hours, or until wanted. Drain off liquid before serving.

CHILI SAUCE

18 ripe tomatoes
2 large onions
4 sweet green peppers
1 cup sugar
2-3 cups vinegar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon clove
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Scald and peel tomatoes. Peel onions, and remove stems and seeds from green peppers. Put onions and peppers through food chopper, add tomatoes, sugar, vinegar and spices. Bring to boiling point, stir frequently and cook until the mixture thickens. Put in sterilized bottles or jars, adjust rubbers and covers or seal and label.

CUCUMBER PICKLES WITH OIL DRESSING

2 dozen 6-inch cucumbers
1 cup salad oil
1-4 pound white mustard seed
1-4 pound black mustard seed
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon allspice berries
1-inch piece stick cinnamon
1 cup sugar
6 cups vinegar

Wash cucumbers and slice thinly without paring. Cover with brine made of one-half cup salt and two quarts water, and let stand overnight. Drain thoroughly and pack in jars. Mix oil, spices, sugar and vinegar, pour over the cucumbers, seal and store until required.

FICOLALILI

1 peak green tomatoes
6 medium sized onions
1-2 cups salt
1 red pepper
Vinegar
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Wipe tomatoes and peel onions. Put through food chopper, using coarse knife. Sprinkle with salt and let stand overnight. Drain in a bag, put chopped mixture into a preserving kettle, add red pepper put through food chopper, using coarse knife, cover with vinegar, and add sugar mixed with olive and cinnamon. Mix thoroughly, and cook gently until thick, stirring occasionally. Put in sterilized glass jars or bottles, adjust rubbers and covers, seal, label and store until required.

CHOPPED PICKLE

3 quarts green tomatoes
1 quart ripe tomatoes
3 bunches celery
3 large onions
3 red peppers
3 green peppers
1 cup salt
1 large ripe cucumber
1 quart small green cucumbers
4 quarts water
3 pink vinegar
2 pounds brown sugar
1 teaspoon mustard
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Wipe tomatoes and remove stems. Wash celery, peel onions, put all the vegetables through food chopper, cover with salt and water, let stand overnight and drain. Add vinegar, sugar, and spices, mix thoroughly, put in sterilized jars or bottles, seal, label and store until needed.

A Suet Hint.—If a teaspoon of sweet milk is added to about three pounds of suet (in proportion to the amount of suet) at the time it is being rendered, there will be no odor of melting fat, as is otherwise sure to be the case. The milk also serves to render the suet beautifully white and prevents it from crumbling.—A. M., New York.

OUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

"Some men does hate to give anybody credit for anything," said Uncle Eben. "Day can't throw a bouquet without tearin' off de roses and handin' out mostly stickers."

THEY GET ACTION AT ONCE

Foley Kidney Pills invigorate, strengthen and heal inactive, weak and ailing kidneys and bladder. First, O. J. Ellis, 505 8th Avenue, Sioux Falls, S. D. writes: "I have suffered with kidney trouble; used to have severe pains across the back and felt dizzy all the time, but after taking Foley Kidney Pills I am well." Sold Everywhere.

Is silence called "golden" because it costs so much to buy it?—Dearborn Independent.

WHEN A CHILD HAS CROUP

Thousands of mothers say Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is the best remedy they know for croup, coughs and colds. It cuts the thick, choking mucus clears away the phlegm, opens air passages and eases hoarseness. The gasping, strangling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. "I've agreed to marry him. That's all."

FORERUNNERS OF SICKNESS

Indigestion and constipation are the forerunners of half the ills of mankind. Sold Everywhere.

Allice—"And so I refused him on the ground that I am too young to marry."
Marie—"O, you clever girl! Who else would have thought of that excuse from you?"

EASIER NOW THAN LATER

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 65 Campbell Avenue, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieves one of bronchitis very quickly." Sold Everywhere.

A New York newspaper has received a number of letters on the best method of accomplishing a graceful "getaway" when making a call. One correspondent says he manages it by exclaiming suddenly: "Oh, can the piffle; I guess I gotta be goin'!"

A MESSAGE FOR THE MIDDLE-AGED
