The graduation ball in Grange Hall Wednesday evening was one of the pleasant events of a busy week, though the patronage was not quite so much as the senior class, by whom it was given, might have desired. Effective decorations in the class colors of emerald and gold added to the effect, and the music by Shaw's Orchestra was one of the best programs that orchestra has ever given.

Two hundred spectators' seats, besides those used for the children, were provided at Grange Hall for the occasion at the musical festival of the school. The evening, it was supposed, that that number would be enough, but it was not much more than a beginning. Before the hour for the opening the building was full to the state, and many stood throughout the evening. The program was carried out precisely as given in the Democrat last week, and was participated in by some two hundred pupils of the school, from the first grade to the seniors in the high school. Miss Helen M. Barnes, the supervisor, was the director of the program, and was assisted by Miss Ruth Brown, who played part of the accompaniments, and by Alfred Cota with violin. The teachers of the grades also had charge, each of her own school, and they were very busy. The whole entertainment was varied and interesting, and was a valuable exposition of the work in music that is being done in our schools. The Gypsy song, the Indian song and some of the flower songs were done in costume. Frequent and deserved applause was given the young folk. Receipts of the evening were over forty dollars.

The officers are investigating breaks which have recently been made at George Twitchell's on High Street north of the village, and at other places in that vicinity. There are indications that some one has been camping in that section during the past ten days, and getting their supplies and whatever else is needed from the houses which were accessible. It is thought that berry parties have been seen and talked with the marauders, but the last tracks of him discovered ended at the railroad track.

The Optimistic Class of the Universalist church are contemplating an organ recital by Prof. Carl Jean Tolman, assisted by other talent at the church about the middle of July. It is expected that this will be one of the grandest recitals ever given in the church. It was through Mr. Tolman's advice that the organ was installed in the church, and this is the first time the general public have had an opportunity to hear him play it, and it is hoped that enough will avail themselves of this chance to fill the church to the doors. The other talent will be announced later.

A pleasant children's Sunday concert was given by the Universalist Sunday School Sunday evening in the auditorium of the church. Mrs. J. D. Haynes was in charge, with Mrs. Agnes L. Morton at the organ and the choir assisting. While the whole program was interesting, it was the fact that the most attention was given to the youngest member of the school, Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swamy, who, though only two years old last December, with a little prompting from her sister led the procession and the chorus each time that it took its place on the platform.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Corkum of Seattle, Wash., are spending a day with his sister, Mrs. M. C. Weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Corkum came across the country in a Ford which has driven thirty-nine thousand miles. On this trip they traveled four thousand miles in twenty-one days by the way of the Blue Desert of Idaho, where they were caught in a sand storm. Their shortest day's run was 29 miles, and the longest 253, an average of 190. Mr. Corkum changed one tire, but made no other repairs, not even to clean a spark plug. He freely states, however, that he would not repeat the trip for pleasure. From here they go to Portland, and thence to Halifax to visit his mother.

The Catholic church does not participate—is not permitted to—in union services with the Protestant churches, either under the auspices of the Chautauque or other agencies.

Twenty Graduates Receive Diplomas.

"OUT OF SCHOOL LIFE INTO LIFE'S SCHOOL" FROM PARIS HIGH.

Again Thursday evening was demonstrated our lack of a building large enough to accommodate the people who wish to attend the graduating exercises of the high school, and even other functions during the year. To complete the work on the occasion, the doors of Deering Memorial Church, where the exercises of this year were held, were kept closed until a few minutes before the hour for the exercises. Before the doors were opened, crowds extending some distance on the sidewalk were packed about both of the entrances, and every available seat was taken as fast as the people could get in when the opportunity was afforded. All the standing room that could be used was also occupied throughout the evening, and many were unable to gain admission.

Decorations of the platform were of homely, rustic, and other things, and the decorations of the season on a background of green, with bunches of yellow lilies in the green showing the class colors of emerald and gold. Overhead was suspended the class motto, "Out of school life into life's school," in red on a green ground.

Shaw's Orchestra played several selections during the evening, and Mrs. Burnham acted as organ for the program. A solo was also sung by Miss Emma West of the graduating class during the program.

The members of the class, twenty in number, in caps and gowns, marched up the aisle, Maynard C. Curtis of the class acting as marshal, and took seats in the choir. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. F. Faulkner, and the program was carried out as follows:

The Man Behind the Account!

Our experience as bankers has taught us that it's the MAN who opens the account to be considered more than the AMOUNT that opens the account.

If he is well posted yet seeks advice from those best able to give it;

If he watches his corners yet always gives the other fellow a square deal;

If he isn't afraid of work yet doesn't waste his time on details others should be doing,

We see in him a valuable customer—and treat him accordingly.

Coffee as a Flavor.

How delicious is the aroma of the breakfast coffee-pot at the morning meal! And squaring the pot with many desserts with coffee as the flavor. Coffee Layer Pie suggests crisp, flaky layers of pastry with a delicious coffee cream filling and topped with a golden meringue. Add three tablespoons of ground coffee to two cups of milk. Place in the top of a double-boiler and scald for ten minutes. Then strain through fine cheese-cloth. Meanwhile cream four tablespoons of butter, add six tablespoons of flour, three-fourths cup of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and the yolks of two eggs. Pour the milk over this mixture, stirring constantly all the while. Return to the double-boiler and cook for fifteen minutes. Remove and allow the filling to cool. Meanwhile make plain pastry, using one and one-half cups of pastry flour as a basis. Roll the dough out to one-eighth of an inch thickness and cut into three large rounds about the size of a pieplate. Prick the surface of each round with a fork, and bake at 300° F. until golden brown and flaky. When cool, spread the coffee filling between the three layers and on top. Beat the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth, adding six tablespoons of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Garnish the top of the pie with this meringue and sprinkle shredded coconut nut over the surface. Bake at 300° F. for fifteen minutes, or until the meringue is a delicate brown. Remove from the oven and serve the pie hot or cold. The layers of pastry will cut beautifully, and you will be well repaid for your labor.

Coffee Sponge Baskets make a delightful dessert not only to feast upon but to look upon. Select your favorite cake recipe and bake in gem pans at a temperature of 320° F. Meanwhile make the following coffee cream filling: Add three tablespoons of ground coffee to one and one-half cups of milk, place in the top of a double-boiler, and scald for ten minutes. Strain through fine cheese-cloth. Thoroughly mix one-half cup of sugar, four tablespoons of flour, the yolks of two eggs, and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Pour the scalded milk over this gradually, stirring constantly. Return to the double-boiler and cook for fifteen minutes. Then remove and allow the filling to cool. Next add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff, one-half cup of chopped walnut meats, and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Place the sponge cakes right side up on serving dishes; hollow out the center of each gem to form a basket. Make narrow handles from either angelica or orange peel and insert in each basket. Fill the baskets with coffee filling and top with stiffly beaten whipped cream.

Steamed Coffee Pudding is tempting and fragrant. Cream together one-fourth cup of butter or margarine and one cup of sugar, and add one egg slightly beaten. Meanwhile add four tablespoons of ground coffee to one cup of milk and scald ten minutes. Then strain through fine cheese-cloth. Sift together two and one-fourth cups of pastry flour, four and one-half cups of sugar, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add this alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Turn into one large buttered mold or individual molds, and steam, allowing two hours for the large mold and one-half hour for the individual molds. Serve with the following coffee sauce: Melt one-half cup of butter and add one cup of powdered sugar and one egg slightly beaten. Then add one cup of milk which has been scalded with three tablespoons of ground coffee and then strained. Flavor with one-quarter teaspoonful of vanilla and serve over the steamed pudding. The pudding sauce recipe may be doubled if desired.

Surprise Coffee Jumbles are delicious and will please the youngsters. Cream together one-half cup of butter or margarine and one cup of sugar. Add one egg beaten slightly. Sift together three cups of flour, one-half teaspoonful of soda, and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Add to the first mixture alternately with one-half cup of sour milk. The mixture should be stiff enough to roll. Meanwhile make the following cream filling: Add one and one-half tablespoons of ground coffee to one cup of milk. Place in the top of the double-boiler and scald for ten minutes. Then strain through fine cheese-cloth. Meanwhile cream two tablespoons of butter, add three tablespoons of flour, six tablespoons of sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, and the yolk of one egg. Pour the milk over this mixture, stirring constantly all the while. Return to the double-boiler and cook for fifteen minutes. Remove and allow to cool. Roll the cookie dough to one-eighth-inch thickness. Cut with a round cutter. On the centers of one-half of the rounds put coffee filling. Press the edges slightly and bake at 450° F. for eleven minutes.

Coffee Cream Sponge Cake may suggest a new dish to you. Beat four egg yolks until creamy. Add three tablespoons of coffee infusion and continue beating. Add one cup of sugar gradually and beat all until thick. Sift together one cup of flour, one and one-half cups of sugar, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add this alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Turn into one large buttered mold or individual molds, and steam, allowing two hours for the large mold and one-half hour for the individual molds. Serve with the following coffee sauce: Melt one-half cup of butter and add one cup of powdered sugar and one egg slightly beaten. Then add one cup of milk which has been scalded with three tablespoons of ground coffee and then strained. Flavor with one-quarter teaspoonful of vanilla and serve over the steamed pudding. The pudding sauce recipe may be doubled if desired.

For a Garnish—While vacationing, I was served king salmon garnished in a most attractive manner. Very thin slices of lemon had one-half of the surface covered with finely minced parsley and the other half thickly powdered with paprika. The yellow rind contrasted prettily with the green and red of the other ingredients.—Mrs. E. T. N., Ill.

To Save Time and Trouble—In addition to using stone jars for packing eggs in water glass, I now use all the empty cans which once held fat or shortening. These I have stored in the basement, but keep one can of eggs in the pantry for immediate use, thus saving many trips to the basement.—Mrs. A. D. H., Cal.

To Drain Spinach—In removing spinach from the kettle in which it has been cooked, use a chimney instead of pouring off the water. In this way any sand that has not been removed in the "seven washings" will drop to the bottom of the kettle.—Mrs. W. S. S., Md.

Chautauque Plans Near Completion.

STREET LECTURES ON PROGRAM—NEW ATTRACTIONS EACH DAY.

The Community Chautauque looks bigger and better every day. Committees in charge of the advertising and sale of tickets are getting active and all indications point to a big success. The Chautauque begins July 14 and closes five days later. It will bring a notable array of musical artists, lecturers and entertainers here and the man who holds a season ticket is bound to get his money's worth—if he doesn't, then he is looking for something that is better than the best.

On the season ticket plan each program can be heard for a few cents a number. In fact, the price is so low that no one need be excluded. The season tickets admit to all seasons—there are no extras of any sort.

SUPPER PROGRAM

It is apparent that no expense has been spared in making the program a glorious triumph from a musical, artistic and inspirational standpoint. The coming of the well-known play of American life, "Polly of the Circus," is, in itself, an event of extraordinary interest, especially as 1920 has been a year during which people have been asked to encourage everything which is strictly American—be it in any walk of life. The "Polly" company appears at but one session, interpreting that great human-interest play—using special scenery, costumes and effects. This attraction has been a phenomenal success, due not only to the splendid players, but because of the manner in which it is staged. No expense was spared to make the play one of real worth and the result—a long series of successes—have more than justified the time and money spent.

Other notable features are the Madrigal Trio; Alexander Delmore, the man with a story and a smile; Maude Willis, reader; the Venetian Serenaders, Italian musicians; and Percy Allen, noted historical lecturer. Besides these attractions, there is the Beacon Concert Company; Dr. E. E. Violette, silver-tongued orator; the Cremonas, eight brilliant vocalists, who sing and play, running the gamut of melody from grand-opera to rag-time; John Tobin, lecturer-musician; and Louise L. McIntyre, the Apostle of Health. These and other world-wide attractions form the De Luxe Program of America's Greatest Chautauque System. Each attraction will warrant the close attention of everyone. Special features will be added. Among these latter is the Junior Chautauque and the marvelous "Toyshop Pageant" for boys and girls which will be under the careful supervision of an expert play leader. The Community Chautauque will afford a fine worth-while vacation for you right here at home amid all your daily comforts. Season tickets for yourself and family will prove to be a profitable investment. They will enjoy all of the ten great seasons and you too will be simply royals for all the time you spend under the big brown tent.

About the State.

Presport is making preparations to celebrate a centennial Old Home week June 21-30 and is promising the time of their lives to former residents and those who spend their vacation there. Some of the good things which are promised are an old fashioned clam bake, base ball games, a big parade with many floats, a masked carnival in the squares, bands, a noted speaker, a lecture by Donald B. MacMillan, the Arctic explorer, dancing, movies and a picnic dinner in the grove.

Captain Timothy Elliott, appointed to the head of the immigration department with headquarters at the Portland Custom House, while Theodore Roosevelt was serving his first term and during the incumbency of Charles M. Morse as collector of the port, will retire from public service June 21, in accordance with provisions of the new retirement law, which applies to all officials in the customs department of the treasury. Captain Elliott will return to Biddeford, his first love, and make his home there, occupying a portion of a house on Mason street, which he owns.

The Oronest, the famous yacht that for some time has belonged to the Holy Ghost and U. S. Society, is now tied up at Brown's wharf at Portland and is the home of five of the members of that sect. Two men are employed in Portland and an elderly man acts as caretaker. A woman and two children are also of the party. The members say they have heard nothing of a plan to sell the craft for use again as a private yacht. They also decline to comment on the whereabouts of Paul L. Sullivan, the leader of the one-time flourishing colony or what he may be doing or planning.

Yarmouth has triumphantly organized a woman's Republican town committee, choosing for two of its premiere members Mrs. Daniel Mitchell, a pioneer suffragist 101 years old, and Mrs. Sumner Seabury, a woman in her 80's and a staunch Republican, who gave a convincing talk on Republicanism. Both women have as much interest in politics as if they were in their early youth instead of well on towards or past the century mark. Mrs. Mitchell is expected to do much in the line of propaganda work at her home, while Mrs. Seabury will work as an active member of the committee.

AN ACT OF KINDNESS

A South Paris Resident Speaks Publicly for the Benefit of South Paris People.

If you had suffered tortures from kidney trouble, had experimented with different remedies without relief, had been finally cured through a friend's suggestion—

Wouldn't you be grateful?

The following letter, which has been given under just such circumstances, Mr. Sullies had used Doan's Kidney Pills.

He publicly tells of the benefit he has received.

He is a simple act of kindness to other South Paris sufferers.

No need to experiment with such convincing evidence at hand.

Mr. Sullies speaks from experience. You can rely on what he tells you.

Elmer E. Sullies, Myrtle St., South Paris, says: "About the only trouble I had was pains through my back over my kidneys. It was very annoying and most of the time I felt lame. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very helpful, as they relieved me right away. I used only one box and have had no return of the complaint."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Sullies had. Foster-McLurg Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

It's Economy To Get Good Quality

Everybody knows clothing as well as everything else is high priced; the worst of it is, there doesn't seem to be any relief in sight. Workers in every industry are asking for increased wages; everything is costing more.

We've felt that our duty was to keep clothing costs down as low as we possibly could; we've been doing it by having nothing but fine all wool clothes; clothes that will save because they last longer; we priced them very close.

We're selling clothes on a closer margin of profit than ever before. We're doing our best to keep prices down and still "get by" and go on doing business.

Suits at $40 to $80

that will save you money.
