How Do You Spend Wash Day?

For you, does wash day mean hours of back-breaking rubbing and scrubbing; lifting tubs, boiler and clothes baskets; toiling in a hot, steamy room? And then, maybe at night, dead tired, a nervous splitting headache.

Or are you one of the many women, NOT "penny wise and pound foolish," who never have to worry about wash day because the entire family wash is being cared for by their present laundry through FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE. Women who take advantage of FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE know no wash day work or worries. In fact, they HAVE NO WASH DAY. That day is spent in pleasure or in doing other housework.

When FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE is caring for the entire family wash the clothes are called for and delivered on certain days. There are no disappointments. The clothes are WASHED SPICK AND SPAN AND HANDLED CAREFULLY. They are returned to you as follows:

All flat pieces including bed linen, table linen and towels, washed, smoothly ironed, evenly folded and ready for use for $1.25 and $1.50 for family.

Wearing apparel; all underclothing, dresses, children's garments, etc., carefully washed and dried in our NEW VENTO DRYER, ready to be dampened and ironed.

Many undergarments may be worn without ironing, due to the method of drying. This will save a great deal of your work in finishing that portion of your wash.

Figured out in dollars and cents—when you consider your time, labor, patience and the cost of fuel and soap—FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE costs no more than having the clothes washed at home.

HOOVER NOT A DEMOCRAT

Man Mentioned For Presidency Is a Progressive Republican, His Closest Friend Declares.

Herbert Hoover was declared Wednesday by Julius Barnes his close associate and friend, to be a "progressive Republican" who "will never allow himself to be a candidate for high office, nor allow his friends to make an effort in his behalf, unless there shall come such indisputable evidence of such spontaneous and universal popular demand that it will overwhelm his present resolution not to enter politics." Mr. Barnes, who is director of the United States Wheat Corporation, was the principal speaker at the annual dinner at the National Wholesale Drygoods Association.

Referring to reports that Mr. Hoover might be a Democratic presidential candidate, Mr. Barnes said:

"As a lifelong Republican I am reassured to believe that only one conceivable development could place him on the Democratic ticket, in spite of all that has appeared in the recent press. I believe that would come about only if over-conspicuity in their own political prospects blinds the Republican party to adopt a non-progressive platform, and to nominate candidates of reaction."

"With his intense earnestness of purpose and his sincere desire to further the social progress of our people by the preservation of equal opportunity, it is conceivable that the liberal-minded voters of all parts may then insistently demand such leadership as his for the expression of rightful social and political ideas."

"The partisanship of Herbert Hoover extends only to the insistence on the maintenance of equality of opportunity in this country and to the support of that part exemplifying that ideal. That floor of opportunity must be made to swing early on the hinge of efficiency. It must not be slammed in the face of worthy aspiration by the gusts of reaction nor wrenched from its hinges by reckless of impatient hands."

HARD CIDER IS BANNED

Must Be Tossed Into Discard, Along With Other Fruit Juices, If It Contains More Than One-Half of One Per Cent Alcohol.

In one of the broadest construction yet placed on provisions of the act for enforcement of constitutional prohibition, Commissioner Kramer has ruled that fruit juices and ciders come within the dry ban if they contain more than one-half of one per cent alcohol. The commissioner's interpretation of the law was set forth Wednesday in a memorandum charging prohibition directors and inspectors with the added duty of examining the alcoholic contents of such beverages.

The drastic regulation went into effect with constitutional prohibition yesterday. Violation of it carries the same penalty as for the manufacture or sale of stronger liquors. Officials in discussing the ruling asserted that such a step could not be taken under war time prohibition nor was it enforceable under the prohibition laws of former states. Hitherto the bureau of internal revenue has held fast to the policy of assessing taxes against fermented liquors containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol but actually, the regulations could not be applied to ciders and fruit juices because of the technical language of the law, it was said.

Strict enforcement of the regulation will hold liable dealers in fruit juices and ciders in which the alcohol content increases even while in storage. The department does not intend, however, to gauge all beverages thus produced, but "a watchful eye" would be kept on these manufacturers and dealers. Natural fermentation will offer no excuse for evasion of the regulation, it was declared.

Miss Rena Joyce has entered the office employ of the East Coast Fisheries.

UNIFORM LOBSTER LAW

Urgent Need of Federal Control Will Be Emphasized at Congressional Hearing.

A hearing before the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries will be held in Washington, Jan. 22, and Harry C. Wilbur, chairman of the Maine Sea and Shore Fisheries Commission, will attend. He will advocate passage of the bill for Federal regulation of the lobster business which is substantially the same as he drafted more than three years ago and submitted to William C. Redfield, secretary of the Department of Commerce, and others at a Boston dinner and conference.

It provides for a 10½ inch minimum to constitute a legal lobster. It embodies all the essential features of the Maine law and is designed to equalize conditions under which lobsterers may be caught. Bought and sold in this country, the New England coast being the source of supply, Nova Scotia lobsterers are obtainable in large quantities during the open season and form the only competition.

Gov. Milliken is instrumental in having instituted Federal inquiry into the lobster industry and his endorsement of some law that will prove protective in nature avoid discrimination either in favor of or against any section of the coast where the industry thrives, is taken for granted in advance. The governor is familiar with conditions prevailing along this coast and has supported such legislation in the Maine Legislature the past year as seemed best designed to help the situation.

He and all others interested have realized for some time urgent need of Federal control. State laws are full of discrepancies, and Massachusetts producing but 5 per cent of its lobster consumption, has been a keen competitor in the market with a shorter lobster legal in that state than in Maine.

Maine is by all odds the leading lobster producing State and it will be gratifying to learn that at last Congress has opened the door.—Portland Express.

MUNSEY'S LATEST PURCHASE

Famous Publisher Is Now Owner of the New York Herald and Evening Telegram.

Frank A. Munsey, magazine and newspaper publisher, has bought the New York Herald, the New York Evening Telegram and the Paris edition of the Herald. He declined to disclose the price paid.

The Herald, commenting editorially on the sale, recalls the friendship between Mr. Munsey and the late James Gordon Bennett and adds: "The sale of the newspaper to Mr. Munsey is in accord with the spirit of Mr. Bennett's will, his chief desire as therein expressed, being that the Herald be continued and developed, to be an enduring monument to its great founder."

The Herald was founded by James Gordon Bennett, Sr., and made its first appearance on May 6, 1855. It passed into the hands of James Gordon Bennett, Jr., upon the elder Bennett's death in 1872. The younger Bennett was in active control of the paper until his death in Paris in 1918.

The Herald was perhaps the first newspaper to send reporters great distances to cover news stories, and during the Civil War had 63 correspondents in the field with the Union armies. Its greatest exploit was under the direction of the younger Bennett, when it sent Henry M. Stanley to Africa to find the explorer, David Livingstone. Banking with this was the outfitting of the Jeannette Arctic expedition. The first enterprise was successful, but the Jeannette was crushed in the ice and her commander perished.

SUGAR CAUSES TROUBLE

For This Wiscasset Merchant Who Says He "Took Advantage of the Market"

Howard H. Trussell of Wiscasset was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner's Court in Portland Wednesday on a charge of violation of the Federal act of Oct. 22, 1919, by obtaining unreasonable profits from the sale of sugar, waived a hearing and furnished $500 bail for his appearance at the May term of the U. S. District Court.

One of the complaints against the respondent acted as one of the sureties on the bail. It is obtained during November and December the respondent disposed of approximately 12,000 pounds of sugar at a price varying from 14 to 19 and 20 cents a pound.

The respondent told of purchasing 50 barrels of sugar last November. He claimed to have sold the greater part at a profit of but one cent a pound. When the commodity became scarce and he was unable to secure any more, he took advantage of the raise in prices.

He told of dealing out the sugar to all corners and while it lasted was kept busy even until late into the night. He stated that even as early as one o'clock in the morning he was routed from his bed by customers after sugar.

The complaints against the respondent were investigated by Agents McKee and Dunn of the Department of Justice, the arrest was made on evidence secured by them.

OLD VETS APPRECIATE

Action of Congress in Increasing Compensation of Injured and Disabled Soldiers.

Deep appreciation of the recent action of congress in passing the Sweed bill to increase compensation for injured and disabled soldiers is expressed in large numbers of letters from soldiers which are reaching the Capitol.

Many of these letters are being received by Representative Sweed, who is author of the bill. They indicate that the legislation will not only do much good to men who need it but that the soldiers are much pleased over it. Some of the letters from soldiers express warm thanks to Mr. Sweed and those who helped along the bill.

One of the most important things about the bill is that it has a retroactive feature. The increased compensation applies not only to the future but to the already adjudicated cases, numbering no less than 241,822. The sum of $14,500,000 will be paid out to meet the back amounts due in these cases. In all, the bill carries about $80,000,000 more a year than the old law for the benefit of the soldiers.

LOWEST PAID TEACHERS

Are Found In Knox County, With Lincoln and Waldo Next In Order.

The Freshman classes of colleges and universities are overflowing, whereas the enrollment of Teacher Training Institutions is little if any better than during the war. An investigation made by the National Education Association shows that the decrease of attendance at normal schools has been over twenty per cent.

More than 100,000 teaching positions in the public schools of the United States are either vacant or filled by teachers below standard. 32,798 teachers dropped out during the past year, a loss of over 22 per cent. These facts make a great demand for experienced teachers.—The poorest paying localities suffer most. Of the 16 counties in Maine, the lowest wages for teachers are paid in Knox, the next in Lincoln, the next in Waldo.

My native land—Good Night!

A few short hours, and he will rise

To give the morning breeze

And I shall hail the main and skies,

But not my mother earth.

Deserted is my own good hall,

Its hearth is desolate;

Wild weeds are gathering on the wall;

My dog howls at the gate.

ON EX-KAISER'S TRAIL

Supreme Council Determined That Former German Emperor Shall Be Tried.

The Supreme Council has drafted a note to the Dutch government, asking for the extradition of the former German Emperor. The note refers to article 227 of the treaty of Versailles and invites Holland to join the Allies in the accomplishment of this act.

Article 227 of the treaty of peace with Germany declares:

"The Allied and associated powers publicly arraign William II of Hohenzollern, formerly German Emperor, for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties. A special tribunal will be constituted to try the accused, thereby assuring him the guarantees essential to the right of defense. It will be composed of five judges, one appointed by each of the following powers, namely: The United States of America, Great Britain, Italy, France and Japan."

The article also declares that it will be the duty of the tribunal to fix the punishment which it considers should be imposed.

MILLIKEN IS UNDECIDED

But Will Soon Say Whether He Intends To Run For Governorship Again

Gov. Milliken is still uncertain as to whether he will seek a third term. "I have not decided," he said Thursday to an Augusta correspondent, "but I realize that I must make a decision before long."

The governor did not say that he had been urged to be a candidate, although it is known that a number of people in various parts of the State have asked him to again seek the governorship. The governor would not say when he proposed to make a formal announcement. He did not feel at this time that he could fix such a date.

HUI! GIVE US A BRIDGE

The members of the Maine Highway Commission, accompanied by Chief Engineer Sargent and Bridge Engineer Jones, have been in Bath looking over the Bath-Woolwich ferry conditions, in preparation for changes necessary before putting the new ferryboat into commission. It is understood that the landings on each side of the river will be enlarged and straightened out so that many more teams and automobiles may be accommodated. It is also said that the new boat, the Nathan Hale, purchased of New London, Ct., will be renamed the Governor King-Kennebec Journal.

A TRIP TO THE MOON

Even This May Be Possible With Scientific Device Which Is Now Announced

A method of sending apparatus to the hitherto unreach higher layers of the air, to the regions beyond the earth's atmosphere and even as far as the moon itself is described by Prof. Robert H. Goddard of Clark College, in a recent publication for the Smithsonian Institution.

The new apparatus is a multiple charge, high efficiency rocket of entirely new design.

"The great scientific value of Prof. Goddard's experiments," says the announcement, "lies in the possibility of sending recording apparatus to moderate and extreme altitudes within the earth's atmosphere. The nature of the higher levels of the air for a long time has been a subject of much speculation, as to their chemical composition, temperature, electrical nature, density, ozone and content. The highest level that has ever been reached up to the present time with recording instruments is about nineteen miles, accomplished with a free balloon. As the earth's atmosphere extends over two hundred miles out, the great unknown region, knowledge of which should greatly benefit the science of meteorology."

The balloon with its recording apparatus requires several hours to ascend to its highest altitude, drifts horizontally or a considerable period of time and may come down at a great distance from its starting point. Its recovery by the sender depends on the chance of its descent being noticed and on the willingness of the finder to return it. Thus it may be days or weeks before the record taken is made available. On the other hand the new rocket apparatus would go straight up and come straight down, the whole operation probably consuming less than half an hour. Thus daily observations at any desired altitude for use in weather predictions could easily be taken.

"The time of ascent of the rocket will be very short, only six and one-half minutes being required to carry the apparatus up two hundred and thirty miles, somewhere near the outer limit of the earth's atmosphere. The rapid descent of the recording instruments could easily be checked by the use of a small parachute."

"Professor Goddard is at present under a grant from the Smithsonian Institution perfecting the recording mechanism whereby successive charges are inserted in the explosion chamber during its upward flight and it is hoped shortly to be able to demonstrate the practicability and value of this new type of rocket."

G. K. Merrill of this city and George W. Gushoe of Appleton were among the 200 men who attended the third annual State convention of the local assessors of Maine held in Augusta Wednesday.

In Social Circles

In addition to personal notes recording departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be gladly received.

There will be a series of social events at the homes of some of the ladies of the Congregational church, the first to be held with Mrs. A. H. Jones, 5 Middle street—a sewing party—Thursday, Jan. 22, from 2:30 to 5:30. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. W. H. Thomas of Masonic street has been called to Allston, Mass., by the death of her aunt, Martha McKenney of Melrose.

Miss Carrie Fields, stenographer in E. B. MacAllister's law office, has gone to Boston for a fortnight's vacation.

A cablegram from Arthur B. Richardson announces the family arrived in London Tuesday.

Mrs. John Halverson has returned from a visit with relatives in New York. Ladies night at the Elks Home, Thursday, was the largest gathering of its kind which has taken place there this season. Mrs. Ray Eaton was in charge and the guests sat down to a delicious supper which lacked nothing of perfection. The popularity of Rockland Lodge has risen proportionately with the success of these affairs, 18 applications for membership having accumulated in the past few weeks. Three candidates will be initiated, and a large number of applications will be acted upon at the next meeting.

The Good Cheer Sewing Circle will meet with Mrs. A. F. Wisner, Broadway, next Tuesday afternoon.

James A. Shepherd, a well known ship carpenter, is confined to his home by illness.

A. E. Johnston of Kennebec was a guest at Warren Gardner's recently.

Mrs. Emma Lufkin has closed her house for the winter and is living with her son William.

Mr. and Mrs. David Talbot leave next Monday for Florida, their departure having been delayed on account of Mr. Talbot's health.

The Congregationalist ladies held an unusually successful circle Wednesday evening with Mrs. Henry B. Bird as chairman.

Yesterday's Boston Globe published the following item, which has much local interest:

"Alleged desertion on the part of his wife, Mrs. Irene McGill Gourlay Adams, with whom he eloped in 1916, Porter H. Adams of Brookline, millionaire flyer, automobile racer and inventor, filed a bill for divorce yesterday in the Norfolk County Superior Court at Dedham. According to Adams, his wife, who was a Toronto girl, left him in December, 1916 two months after his elopement with her to Springfield, Vt., where they were married. In 1917 he joined the Naval Aviation Service, from which he was recently discharged. Since his wife left him, Adams claims that he has never heard from her. It is said that after leaving him, the young woman went on the road with a theatrical company and that she is still a member of that profession. Adams is the only son of the late Charles A. Adams, a direct descendant of President John Quincy Adams."

G. P. Benner of Monmouth is the guest of H. B. Bowes, Claremont street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Bird are on a week's visit in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kent have returned from Portland, where they have been visiting their son, Adelbert Kent.

Mrs. Joseph Walker Whitney entertains from 4 to 6 at her home in Portland next Thursday, in honor of Mrs. M. R. Pillsbury and Miss Martha B. Cobb.

George O. B. Crockett, who retired from the employ of the American Railway Express Co. the latter part of September, has been granted a pension by that corporation equivalent to half pay, as his salary has averaged for the past 10 years. Mr. Crockett has been with the express company 32 years.

EAST COAST FISHERIES

Hector B. Tyler has entered upon his duties as traveling salesman for the East Coast Fisheries Company, his territory being Northern New York.

The steam trawler Fish Hawk landed over 100,000 pounds at Boston Wednesday, making nearly half a million pounds landed there in three days by the East Coast trawlers. The steam trawler Widgown was also reported at Boston the first of the week with 475,000 pounds said to be a record for one catch by a trawler.

Large as is the fleet of trawlers now being operated by the East Coast Fisheries Company it will receive a substantial addition in the course of a few weeks, when several of the steamers purchased at Savannah, and which have been undergoing changes in northern yards, go into commission. The new steel steam trawler, Penguin, built at Cleveland, Ohio, and which has been lying at the Portland Company's wharf for several weeks undergoing the finishing touches has about completed repairs, and is expected to go to sea today or Monday, when her berth will be taken by one of the Savannah built trawlers, now at Boston, which will undergo the changes necessary to convert her into a full fledged fisherman. Wednesday the trawlers Anster, 112, Isly and Valmy, which were at P wharf, shifted to the Fore River works of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company for minor alterations which must be made before they are put into active operations. Another notable addition to the fleet will also be made very soon, as the Medrie, building in the yard of the Portland Shipbuilding Co., South Portland, is completed and ready for launching, but the date for putting her overboard has not been settled. As soon as she is launched she will be taken to the Portland Company's wharf, where her engines and machinery will be installed.

The real estate boom in Belfast and surrounding towns has caused the record entry of 2,004 deeds at the Waldo County Registry of Deeds for the year ending January 4th. The boom has not reached its height according to the present indications and there will necessarily be a building boom in the near future to accommodate the city's actual needs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Carleton of Westbrook, on Tuesday quietly observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage. They have made their home in Westbrook ever since their wedding. Mr. Carleton is a native of Portland and Mrs. Carleton, who was Ellen Sargent of Boothbay, Mr. Carleton has been employed by S. D. Warren Company and for many years was in charge of its steam plant.

Schooner Lavina M. Snow, before reported ashore in Bahamas Islands, and pulled off by a Coast Guard cutter, arrived at St. Andrews Jan. 13.

THE NEWS OF MAINE

The honor system has been adopted by the girls of the University of Maine, who have organized the Student Government Association and made rules and regulations for their own government as students, as rigid as any ever adopted by men students.

A courtship which began at the Kineo House last summer, where Miss Sara Catherine Orr of Bath was employed as a waitress culminated in marriage Thursday when she became the wife of Theodore F. Goldmark, a wealthy New Yorker.

Houlton experienced a loss by fire Wednesday through a blaze in the yards of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad Co., that destroyed one of the passenger coaches of the company and badly damaged another with a damage of approximately $20,000.

The Grand Jury of the Cumberland County Superior Court reported an indictment Wednesday against Howard B. Taylor of Gorham charging him with attempt to kill, without assault, Charles E. Moulton of the same town. Taylor is accused of placing dynamite in fire wood belonging to Moulton.

EMPIRE THEATRE

There is something about a gypsy romance which has the strongest kind of an appeal to the majority of persons, see today the story of Rhona, the gypsy girl, who was a victim of the wiles of a jealous admirer. The star is Gladys Brockwell and the picture title is "The Sneak."

For Monday and Tuesday comes William S. Hart in a strong Western drama, "Wagon Tracks." The star appears as a guide for wagon trains and pilots them through the perils of the desert over the old Santa Fe trail. His horse and burro are the only company he has on the trip east to the Mississippi river where he expects to meet his younger brother, who has just graduated from an eastern college as an M. D. During a quarrel over cards on a Mississippi river steamboat the youth is killed and when Buckskin Hamilton arrives he finds his brother a corpse. Jane Washburn, who was in the saleroom when her renegade brother and his card-sharp partner were playing cards with the youth, confesses that she shot him, but that it was an accident. The heartbroken frontiersman declares that he believes her when she said it was an accident, if she killed him. But he was not convinced that the girl's hand had performed the deed. And on the blazing Santa Fe trail when he was guiding the wagon train west, he manages to fix the crime on the girl's brother—adv.

The public installation of King Solomon Temple Chapter Thursday evening drew a very large attendance, and Masons and guests alike were much impressed with the fine manner in which the exercises were conducted by J. A. Richan, who is a past grand high priest of the Grand Chapter of Maine.

Dr. Richan was most ably assisted by Frank A. Peterson, a grand marshal and Rev. Pliny A. Allen, grand chaplain. Selections by Lucie's orchestra and solos by Mrs. A. F. Wisner and Alard D. Snow, interspersed the program very enjoyably. Light refreshments were served and after the installation there was dancing. The new officers of the chapter are: Dana D. Wright, high priest; Frank A. Maxey, king; Arthur F. Wisner, scribe; Ex. Pliny A. Allen, Jr., chaplain; Homer E. Robinson, treasurer; Charles L. Robinson, secretary; George L. The announcement of Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., that he is to be a candidate for the county attorney nomination on the Democratic ticket, occasions no surprise. It has been understood in political circles for some time that County Attorney Wilbur does not seek a re-nomination, and Mr. Tirrell is looked upon as his logical successor. The latter now holds the office of recorder of the municipal court, but will soon give way to a Republican successor, if rumor hath it correctly.

THE BARGAIN STORE OF ROCKLAND
345 Main Street, Foot of Elm Street

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows has work on the third degree next Monday night, and an oyster or scallop stew to top off with.

Highly favorable reports came from Camden, where the Rockland Park Band gave its concert last Saturday. This organization includes some of the finest musicians in this part of the State, and is holding regular rehearsals through the winter to keep in trim for next season's engagements at Oakland Park and elsewhere. Vocal solos by Harold W. Greene and John Taylor furnished a departure from the instrumental program, and were so well rendered as to fully merit the insistent encores. The melophone and cornet duet by Director Fish and Kenneth White was an especially pleasing feature of the program.

A howling nor'easter, suggestive of the good, old fashioned winters, was in progress when this paper went to press. Woof!

Joseph G. Piper, one of Rockland's oldest residents, died at 3 o'clock this morning, at his home 40 Bankin street. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the Odd Fellow ritual service will be conducted.

"Wild's Daily," an independent paper, published in the interest of the motion picture industry, quotes Hiram Abrams as stating that he has "no intention whatever of building a moving picture theatre in both Maine." The report that he was to build there, followed the recent visit of M. J. Garity to Bath and Rockland. It was also said at the time that the Abrams interests were to build in Rockland, but there is no record of property having been acquired, and nothing further has developed.

Absurd rumors have been in circulation this week concerning an alleged serious accident which befell Mrs. Ashley Crockett at the skating rink Wednesday night. Early reports stated she fell and broke her back, and was in a critical condition at the hospital. This story was quickly followed by rumors of her death, some of them even telling the exact time of death. The facts of the case are that Mrs. Crockett is not dead; that she was not taken to any hospital, and that she was able to be out yesterday. She fell while skating, as many others do, and was shaken up, but not more seriously than the average person is by falling on a slippery sidewalk, as happens countless times in the run of a winter. "I like fair play," remarked a Rockland citizen yesterday, "and the reports of Mrs. Crockett's accident sound very much like malice. In my opinion it would be as senseless to condemn roller skating on account of an occasional accident, as it would be to stop ice skating when there are drownings, such as we have seen at Chikawaikie Lake. Among the many hundreds who have indulged in roller skating here in my time I have never known anybody to receive permanent injuries and certainly nobody to be fatally injured. Yet such things happen in every hunting and football season throughout the country and are accepted calmly. Let's be fair."

ROCKLAND BEGINS RIGHT

A large number of basketball enthusiasts saw the opening game of the season in Kimball hall last night and saw Rockland High defeat Belfast High by the decisive score of 21 to 13. Simmons started for Rockland, making one more point than Belfast's total. The summary:

Brackett, Jr.	1	0	2

Wilbur, Jr.	1	0	2
Curry, Jr.	0	1	0
Greedy, Jr.	0	1	0
Rising, Jr.	0	0	0
Totals	10	1	21

Belfast High	Goals	Fouls	Pts.
Buzzard, Jr.	1	0	2
Matthews, Jr.	0	0	0
Smalley, Jr.	0	0	0
Bradlock, Jr.	1	0	2
Lothrop, Jr.	0	1	0
Vaughn, Jr.	0	1	0

The officials were Referee, L. Rogers, Scorer, W. Fildes, Timer, Black. Time of three periods, 15, 10 and 15 minutes. There was a lively girls' game, the First Team swamping the Second Team 17 to 0. The two teams lined up thus: First Team—Winslow, Snow, Green, Flanagan, McLean and Brewster. Second Team—Fuller, Thomas, Moran, Kaler, Doherty, F. Snow, Blaisdell and Allen.

Rockland High plays Lincoln Academy in Newcastle next Friday night, and has an attractive schedule for the balance of the season.

Natural Pillows. The pillow tree provides the natives of British Honduras with splendid material for pillows and mattresses. It is common soft wood growth, with a large pear-shaped fruit, which has a hard shell, changing to almost black when ripe, and containing a short staple brown fluff or silk fiber.

INVESTIGATING TROLLEY ACCIDENT

An Explanation of Why Car Body Was Not Chained To Trucks—Latest News Concerning Rockport Tragedy.

The Rockport trolley accident, which resulted Wednesday night in the death of motorman Ernest Leroy Perry and Mrs. William Stanford, and the injuring of nine other persons, led to investigations, independent of each other, by F. A. Dolloff and T. M. Phillips. The former is an inspector in the employ of the Public Utilities Commission, and the latter is State auditor for an insurance company, which protects the Knox County Electric Co. and its employees under the workmen's compensation act. Inspector Dolloff reports the result of his findings to the Public Utilities Commission, which in due season will make public its official verdict in the matter.

The lamentable affair has led to widespread public discussion, and various theories have been advanced to account for the very unusual accident. That the car body and holsters could have been flung free of the trucks, without the center pins being broken, seemed almost incredible, yet that is what happened. The pins are slightly bent, as they naturally would have been, after an accident of that sort.

General Manager Bird informs The Courier-Gazette that the ill fated car had the standard electric equipment, absolutely, with what is known as the Taylor electric truck and body. The center pins were about a foot long, one to each truck. The equipment did not include the so-called "safety chains," and Supt. V. Chisholm says that in his 30 years' experience with electric railroads he has never known them to be used on light passenger trolley cars.

A prominent official whose duties have brought him into contact with trolley service and equipment for many years, said to The Courier-Gazette reporter:

"On account of the short radius of curves, chains if used at all on the truck frames, would have to be long, in order to give the truck frame a chance to swing under the car body in going around the curve. In other words, the chains would be so long that on straight track they would have such a length that they would not prevent the car from tipping over."

The funeral services of Ernest Leroy Perry, the motorman who died at his post of duty were held yesterday afternoon at the Burpee undertaking rooms. Rev. W. L. Pratt of the First Baptist church officiated. Love and sympathy for the deceased found expression in the handsome floral emblems. The remains will be taken to South Portland, where the family at one time resided, and will be interred beside a sister of the deceased.

The funeral of Mrs. William Stanford will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lawrence, 42 Ulmer street, this city. Rev. Pliny A. Allen, Jr., will officiate. The remains will be placed in the receiving tomb until spring when they will be interred in Acorn cemetery.

The Courier-Gazette has learned since the tragedy that it had been Mrs. Stanford's custom to ride home on the car of which her husband is conductor. On that fateful night the moving picture performance at Comique Theatre, Camden, where she officiated as pianist, lasted longer than usual, and Conductor Stanford after delaying his car's departure a few minutes was forced to leave without her. Returning from Warren he learned that there had been a serious accident to the 10:30 car out of Camden. "My God!" he exclaimed, "my wife was on that car." And no body had the courage to tell him the awful truth, until he had nearly reached the scene of the tragedy. He is prostrated by the shock.

Mrs. Stanford, from the age of 5 until her first marriage, made her home in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leavitt, the latter being her aunt, and by them was given the musical education which supplemented her high school career. This important fact was overlooked in the haste of preparing Thursday morning's article.

Wilbur F. Alley, a traveling salesman, with headquarters at 1030 Marbridge Building, New York was among the injured, and believes that he would have lost one of his arms, but for the fact that he wore an English melton coat weighing 18 pounds. He was sitting directly in front of Mrs. Stanford when the accident occurred.

"I was reading," said Mr. Alley to The Courier-Gazette reporter, "and suddenly had a feeling as if the car were moving at faster than ordinary speed. Almost before I could raise my eyes to look out the car opened, and tipped over. I should say that it must have bounced 10 or 12 feet and then skidded or slid about 2 feet more. I had thrown my right arm tightly around the end of the car seat, but the shock broke my hold and my left arm went through the window. I was the last person out of the car and they told me afterward that I lost consciousness for a few moments. Anyhow there's quite a lot about the whole affair that I don't remember anything about."

Mr. Alley was a guest at the Thorndike Hotel, and was brought there after resting for a few moments in the Parsons residence at Rockport where he had gone, with others, after the accident. A bandaged hand and a badly swollen arm, decorated liberally with iodine are the souvenirs of the accident, which he took away with him yesterday, when he left for Portland. "Some one undertook to sympathize with him after the accident. 'Don't sympathize with me; congratulate me,'" said the New York man.

Harold S. Corbitt of Rockport, who is also a traveling salesman, was sitting on the right side of the car, four seats from the front, with Miss Marie Blackington of Glen Cove. His spine and hip were bruised, and one side seemed numb, but he immediately devoted himself to the assistance of other passengers, breaking the window at the rear of the car to furnish an exit. There was nobody in the street when he reached it, and he ran to the lavatory and rang the fire bell. In a few minutes Mrs. Irving Ott came across the street and volunteered to rig the bell. The lime company's whistle at the kilns was also blown for a long time.

Miss Marie Blackington reported in Thursday's issue as uninjured, was bruised about the head so that she was still in a somewhat dazed condition yesterday. She also has a bruise on each leg and one on the elbow.

Charles A. Kavanaugh of Rockport who was taken to Knox Hospital after the accident has suffered so much pain that the surgeons have been unable to make a thorough examination. He has several broken ribs and one of the lungs is punctured. He passed a fairly comfortable night last night, but it is too early yet to make any prediction as to the outcome of his injuries. He is the only one of the injured persons whose condition is considered serious.

CAMDEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Perry leave Monday for Florida where they will spend the rest of the winter.

The members of St. Thomas Episcopal church will hold a parish supper at the Grange hall Tuesday evening at 6:30. Fred Holbrook has entered the employ of the Carleton-Pascall Company.

John Mathews and J. Herbert Gould have been drawn as Supernumerary Jurors for this term of court at Rockland.

The Camden High School and Morse High School of Bath meet in a basketball game at the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

The annual banquet of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association is set for Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at the Knights of Pythias hall. The ladies of the members of both organizations are invited this year and tickets at $1.50 a plate can be obtained at Frank Morrow's, E. B. Clark's and L. M. Gland.

Camden members of King Hiram Council, R. & S. Masters will be pleased to learn that a big meeting has been called for Friday evening, Feb. 20.

The Ladies Circle of the Congregational church are to serve a public supper at the chapel Tuesday evening at 6:30. Quarters will be served in all styles as well as cake, doughnuts and coffee. Tables for parties may be reserved in advance by telephoning Mrs. E. E. Boynton, President of the Circle.

The officers elect of Mt. Battie Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Megunticook Encampment will be installed at the Opera House Tuesday evening. A social dance will follow the installation. All Odd Fellows and their ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Selectman W. S. Richards has been confined to the house the past week by bad bruises received from a fall while at his cottage last week.

At the annual meeting of Keystone Chapter Royal Arch Masons Wednesday evening the following officers were elected: High Priest, Frank P. Alexander; King, Dr. Willard B. Long; Scribe, Charles Cavanaugh; Treasurer, George T. Hodgman; Secretary, Leslie D. Allen; Capt. of Host, Zelma M. Dwyer; Principal Soujourner, Alfred F. Sherman; Finance Committee, Past High Priests, Wilson D. Baum, Wilfred C. Rodgers, John L. Tewksbury. The chapter has had the most successful year in its fifty two years of existence and over $1000 has been turned into the treasury through the year's work of High Priest Rodgers and his associates.

The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign is now on and will run one week. The following efficient committee will be in charge of the canvass: Men's committee, Dr. W. F. Hart, Dr. L. W. Hart, George E. Allen, Leon Crockett, G. C. Hopkins, Eugene Braey, John Taylor, Finlay Calder.

Boys' committee, Merl Hunt, Earle Dyer.

Women's committee, Mrs. L. M. Chandler, Mrs. W. F. Bisbee, Mrs. D. J. Dickens.

Girls' committee, Misses Corinne Sawyer, Martha Knight, Bertha Wilson.

This is the first time the Y. M. C. A. has made a general appeal for over two years, but the need now is urgent and we feel people will be glad to respond. Local institutions have been neglected while outside demands have been calling; now we must unite for a most deserving local institution. The goal set is a total of 300 members and renewals of former members. Surely this is not unobtainable. Camden quickly and freely offered over 500 memberships for the Red Cross in time of peace. We did this because we wanted our dollar to do good even if it was far away. How much more than the obligation to help now when our dollar will be spent in our own town for the benefit of our boys and girls and our community in general.

The Y. M. C. A. has proved its influence and all it asks is appreciation and loyal support. Let us reach the goal and pass it.

Don't forget that besides the membership those who are able are asked to make their contributions as large as their means permit and their generous spirits suggest.

FASCINATING HOME WORK

Brading Rugs as it is done by Pinkham Associate Rug Makers is very pleasant and fascinating Home Work and profitable, too, whether a woman can give all her time to it or only that part of her time which can be spared from household duties.

The work is pleasant because new clean, fresh-from-the-mill cloths are furnished Associate Rug Makers with which to braid. It is fascinating because the instructions telling how to combine the various colors furnished to Associate Rug Makers are carefully prepared by Pinkham Associate Designers and as the different combinations are braided and sewed together the rugs grow and assume form just as a picture puzzle of many small parts becomes a complete picture when all the small pieces are correctly fitted together.

That the making of Braided Rugs as a Pinkham Associate pays well, whether a woman devotes all or only part of her time to it, is evident from the fact that there are many Associates on the pay roll today who look up the work when the business was first started in 1912, seven years ago.

Any woman who is interested and wants to know more about how to become a Pinkham Associate Rug Maker will receive a letter giving full particulars if she will send her name and address to Pinkham Associates, Inc., 217 Washington Ave., Portland, Maine.—adv.

SUSTAINS FRAUD CHARGE

Chief Justice Cornish Renders Decision in Case of Eliza J. Stanley vs. Hollis M. Shaw.

Chief Justice Cornish rendered a decision Wednesday in the sensational Winthrop equity case of Eliza J. Stanley vs. Hollis M. Shaw, sustaining the contention of fraud and asking for the restoration of property illegally taken from the aged Stanley sisters.

In order that exact justice may be done to all parties and interests, says Judge Cornish, "I further order that a master be appointed to consider and report to the court all the financial transactions between the parties involved in each bill, as a basis for the final decree."

The decision of the chief justice follows:

The ground on which these bills were brought is actual or constructive fraud on the part of Hollis M. Shaw, the active participant in all these transactions.

The bills heard together on Nov. 18, 19 and 20, and were argued at three cases, but a separate interlocutory decree must be filed.

It is not claimed by the plaintiff that Mr. Shaw obtained possession of the Stanley property and rights by specific and direct fraud, either directly or indirectly, but rather by fraudulent representations. Were such a claim made the evidence is not sufficient to support it. But fraud needs no beaten path and the same inequitable and disastrous results may be reached by gentler and more seductive methods.

When a direct fraud is either directly or indirectly a court in equity will scrupulously inquire into the fairness, adequacy and justness of the transaction. If the facts show that an unfair advantage has been taken it will interfere to protect the confiding and injured party even from the residue of what might under ordinary circumstances as between parties dealing on an equality and sustaining no such confidential relations to each other, be deemed their own improvidence.

Equity throughout its broad domain performs no higher and finer service than this.

Such being the equitable principle involved in these cases it remains only to determine whether the evidence warrants its application.

I find that it does. When Mr. Shaw first met Allura M. and Eliza J. Stanley in 1907 or 1908, they were well advanced in years, being 73 and 71 years old respectively. Women of intelligence it is true, but without business experience or familiarity with financial affairs and apparently they were somewhat credulous. He was a man of matured strength, of ingratiating personality and varied business experience, unrelated to them by kinship or other ties.

I find that Mr. Shaw by a long continued and persistent course of conduct artfully and fraudulently gained the complete confidence of these two sisters and created such an overmastering influence that they were willing to take and did take any steps with reference to their property which he might suggest.

Having gained this implicit and entire confidence on their part, the evidence shows that he abused it by taking an unfair and inequitable advantage of them in transaction after transaction until at the close of their dealings, with the exception of the sum of the purchase price of a house for a friend and the purchase of an annuity for the Universalist State convention, he had secured for himself or had invested for them in the Dixie Power Company, an unsuccessful enterprise which he was the promoter and practically the sole owner, and which, therefore, was but to himself in corporate form, substantially all their property both real and personal, and in return they had received merely the unsecured reservation of a home.

Moreover, Mr. Shaw by the same insidious but more complicated methods secured for another corporation of which he was the promoter, the Inheritance Realization Company, an assignment of their prospective rights of inheritance in the estate of their cousin, Benjamin D. Stanley, amounting to $117,000 and they had received for this expectancy merely the personal and unsecured promise of Mr. Shaw of a grossly inadequate consideration.

At the beginning of their acquaintance these two aged sisters were living a life of retirement and quiet ease upon the homestead farm worth $1000, with several thousand dollars on deposit in various savings banks and trust companies in this State, the income from all of which was more than ample for their needs and desires. When the chapter is closed we find them practically stripped of all their possessions. The situation taken as a whole is most significant.

Such conduct offends good conscience and it is the plain duty of a court in equity under such circumstances to intervene for the protection of those who through the cunning devices of another and being at an inequality, have been unable to protect themselves. It will not leave Eliza J. Stanley, the survivor, Allura M. having died March 17, 1919 remediless.

The three bills in equity are therefore sustained with costs, the total will-nose fees of the plaintiff to be apportioned one-third to each case as the three were tried together.

In order, however, that exact justice may be done to all parties in interest, I further order that a master be appointed to consider and report to the court all the financial transactions between the parties involved in each bill as a basis for a final decree.

As all the necessary facts and figures fully appeared in the course of the testimony taken and the exhibits introduced at the hearings before me, the master will be directed to obtain a copy of the testimony from the stenographer and to make up his report in each case therefrom. If further hearings before the master are desired by either party they may be had.

Counsel for the plaintiff are directed to prepare and file forthwith an interlocutory decree, in accordance with this decision, and a hearing upon the form of the instructions to the master will be given if desired by counsel for the defendants.

In case the counsel cannot agree as to the person to be appointed master, the designation will be made by the court.

THREE YEARS WITHOUT HOPE

A Story of Sickness and Suffering with Final Return to Health
It will do you good to read it

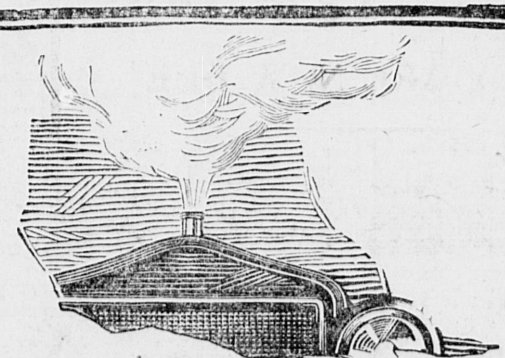

No matter how long nor how much you have suffered, do not give up hope. Do not decide there is no help for you. There is. Make up your mind to get well. You can. There is a remedy in which you may place full reliance as did Mrs. Rozalia Kania of 39 Silver Street, New Britain, Conn. This is what she says: "I had cramps for three years and thought I would never be any better. I could not eat without distress. Slept with my mouth open and could hardly breathe. No medicine helped me. I had catarrh of the stomach. Now I have no cramps and am feeling well and healthy. I wish every suffering person would take PE-RU-NA."

Catarrh effects the mucous membranes in any organ or part. PE-RU-NA, by regulating the digestion and aiding elimination, sends a rich, pure supply of blood and nourishment to the sick and inflamed membranes and health returns.

For coughs, colds, catarrh and catarrhal conditions generally, PE-RU-NA is recommended. If you are sick, do not wait and suffer. The sooner you begin using Dr. Hartman's well-known PE-RU-NA, the sooner you may expect to be well and strong and in full possession of your health. A bottle of PE-RU-NA is the finest emergency, ready-to-take remedy to have in the house. It is fourteen ounces of prevention and protection.

Sold everywhere in tablet or liquid form.

Poor Fuel is Partly to Blame

When your motor heats up, do you blame the lubricating system, tight piston rings, the spark too much retarded, poor water circulation in the cooling system? Poor fuel often has a lot to do with it. Low-grade gasoline burns slowly and incompletely, producing high heat—deposits carbon on the piston heads and in the combustion chamber which retains the heat and prevents quick radiation. The remedy? High quality, quick-burning gasoline that is uniform in its vaporizing and ignition characteristics, that burns up completely and delivers maximum power in all weathers—SOCONY Motor Gasoline. Standardize on SOCONY and you will avoid lots of engine trouble and secure big mileage per gallon of gasoline.

Bird of Marked Peculiarities.

The yellow-breasted chat is an eccentric bird both when it is singing and in flying. When these birds sing their musical effort seems to require a great deal of flirting of the tail and twisting of the head; and even when they are flying their tail jerks up and down, giving them a strange appearance. The song of this bird is scarcely worthy of the name, having been called a "series of grotesque syllables."

People of Thomaston should realize how fortunate the town has been this year in not being obliged to close any of the schools for lack of teachers, when there is such a shortage in the state, as well as elsewhere. For this loyalty on the part of the teachers here in staying by the schools and children, appreciation should be shown them not only financially but by getting acquainted, and standing with them in their work. How many realize what that work is, and what it means to the future of the town and children? Let us get together and form a Parent Teachers Association, to unite the school and the home, so working for the most important thing in any town—education. Watch out for the notice of a Mass Meeting to be held soon in Waltham Hall.

SIC ITUR AD ASTRA

[For The Courier-Gazette.]
Not in our careless ease are the higher levels gained.
Not without constant effort is the goal of desire attained.
The strenuous task of the upward climb is ours to the end.

It is over and over again the selfsame lessons are learned.
Remuneration spells too oft the things for which we yearned.
But upward and ever onward we set our feet to climb.
And we know this is the thing that counts: That a year in eternity but a moment of reward.

Naught but a faded chaplet can the world give or receive.
Naught but a faded chaplet can the world give or receive.
How transient the life we live as eternity draws us through a glass seen darkly, then with a vision clear.

But still to the soul is given, as we onward climb and up,
To know that something better as we drink to the dregs of life's cup.
Dishonored are we like the Pattern set for us
Which gradually given the value forevermore is lost.

Which gradually given the value forevermore is lost.
Which gradually given the value forevermore is lost.
Up the ladder by which the saintly have gained the heights sublime.

And not in our careless ease, letting the world drift by,
Not in the cowardly of golden crowns which we vainly often weave,
Which when we seek to grasp them, prove they are naught but leaves.

Poor fading leaves! and we thought them gold.
Which crumble under our lightest touch, when we thought they would bring us joy—
Not in the transitory life, but seeking the future.

Following, climbing, and striving—'tis then we have no regret.
And we seek our wine for others, and for others break our bread.
Till their thirst is alleviated, and the multitude is fed!

Bad colds are prevalent throughout the town and mumps have now broken out in the High School.

The wheeling is excellent, but there is no sleighing as yet. Business is almost at a standstill, waiting for snow. It would take but a small amount to make splendid going as the roads are as smooth as a house floor and the sleighs, streams and ponds frozen almost to the bottom. Automobiles are taking advantage of the good going and are as plenty as at any time last summer.

There hasn't been snow enough here, so far, for a sled, although we read about good sleighing only a few miles inland. There are signs of spring. The seals and children books are arriving daily and we know of one middle that is doing her best to hatch some 1200 chicks.

Fred Curtis led a fine looking cow past our house on his way to his Spruce Island home here. He said he had been with 22 piglets for her. He might have been joking but I had a catalogue from Michigan recently and it named $500 as the price of one rooster. That would barter for five good cows in Maine. We were pleased to learn by The Courier-Gazette that our town was to give the boys who fought our battles in the World War, a good time at the village Friday night. We shall always be pleased to take our hats off to the boys.

Mrs. John Foster has nearly recovered from her sick spell and has taken another boarder. She has had a lot of fun with the sea and is wintering in Rockland. She took her Rock of bodies with her.

The Courier-Gazette has now issued every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday forenoon.

BRIGHT JEFFERSON STUDENTS

The J. H. S. Ariel is a "new school paper," the publication of which was begun by Jefferson High School while Mary Perry Rich of Glenoville was its principal last term. We quote the following bright verses composed by one of the members of Mrs. Rich's Gleeo class, Miss Faye Matthews, of the Senior class.

CICERO
I've searched the Latin Grammars
And looked in the library too.
To try and find material
To write this rhyme for you.

Now, something hard which troubles me
Of facts and video I find.
All about constructions
And the way those verbs should go.

We know that Dico means "I lead,"
And Laudo means "I praise."
But I get mixed when teacher says,
"What modifies that phrase?"

Then she will say, "Miss So-and-so,
Please give me all the parts
Of facts and video I find."
And also mean."

And then we have to tell her
The case of "lex," and why.
And we decide it to ourselves,
And try, and try, and try.

And so we have decided,
And others too may find,
That if we "Study Latin,"
We must grind, and grind, and grind!

The following Jefferson High School students were the editors elected for the Ariel: Editor-in-chief, Beatrice Flagg; fashion editor, Helen Bond; local editor, Sadie Bryant; general news editor, Ruth Plummer; comic and poetic editor, Faye Matthews; domestic science, Clara Glidden; story editor, Phyllis Bond; sporting editor, George Ames; cartoonist, Charlie Boardman.

THE BOSTON AUTO SHOW
Every Inch of Space Already Allotted for Big Exposition Which Takes Place in March.

The greatest boom in the history of the automobile and motor truck is now on. No better barometer of this condition is to be obtained than the extraordinary demand for space for the Boston Automobile Show, which is to open in Mechanics Building, March 13 to 20.

A month before this, the first public announcement of the show dates, every inch of available floor space has been allotted and even a greater amount of space could be sold to more than a hundred other manufacturers who want to show their wares. Every year at this time Manager Chester I. Campbell is confronted with the job of finding space for the trade at the Boston show. This season however the demand is record breaking. It is not exaggeration to state that the applications that are now on file would fill a building twice as large as Mechanics Building with its 125,000 square feet of exhibition.

A greater number of new makes of cars, trucks and accessories will make their appearance on the market this spring than at any period in the history of the motor car. The industry is worked up to a high pitch of enthusiasm and expects the greatest selling season on record. To take care of this new crop of cars and trucks Manager Campbell is endeavoring to secure a large Armory within a few hundred feet of Mechanics Building and in this he will stage a show nearly as large as the one in Mechanics.

"I have never seen anything to compare with the boom that is now on," declares Mr. Campbell. "If we had a building large enough we could display more than 150 different makes of cars and fully a hundred makes of trucks. It is the most wonderful era in the history of the motor car industry."

CLARK'S ORCHESTRA
Any number of pieces up to ten furnished for dances, weddings, receptions, luncheons, and for all occasions where first-class music is required.
LUTHER A. CLARK, Manager

Thomaston, Maine, Tel. 19-13.

PARK THEATRE
A better attraction for the weekend could scarcely have been selected. William Farnum, vigorous and virile, is every inch a hero in "Wolves of the Night." It carries the spectator into the Southwest, into the Andes mountains of South America and into the heart of Wall Street. The discovery of a rich vein of copper in a man's property is viewed as a stroke of good fortune. But to Bruce Andrews (Mr. Farnum) it meant the worst sort of luck. How he lost his property and his wife, how he narrowly escaped death and became insane, how he recovered his memory and returned home only to find out that his wife had married another through the belief that her husband was dead are the events that make up the climax of this sensational tale.

"Fair and Warner" the funniest farce ever written will be seen Monday and Tuesday, with May Allison starring. The story concerns the tribulations of two young married couples. In one case the young wife complains that her husband, Billy, is so perfect that he is dull; and in the other case the young husband, though he adores his wife, employs just the tactics. Billy should take advantage of—he goes out

Ratifications Exchanged

Ratifications of the Peace Treaty were finally exchanged at Paris Jan. 16.—the United States being the only one of the five chief Allied Powers that was not represented. The ceremony was a simple one, and was over in a few minutes. Baron von Lersner, the head of the German mission, being the first to affix his signature to the protocol, which provided for the repatriation of the German warships at Scapa Flow, and insured the carrying out of the armistice terms. The other signatories were Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Panama, Peru, Poland, Spain, Czechoslovakia and Uruguay. Technically, at least, this exchange of ratifications, so far as the nations of Europe are concerned, marks the conclusion of the great war, for, by the terms of the treaty, it was to go into force whenever Germany, and three of the leading allied Powers should ratify.

The Status of the United States

Technically, also, the United States and Germany are still at war; but only technically, for even if no compromise arrangement were reached for ratification of the Peace Treaty and Covenant of the League of Nations, some separate declaration of peace could be made. Already, trade relations are being resumed. The call for the first meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, to assemble at Paris on the 16th of January, was issued by President Wilson, because he had been personally designated to perform that function. Forty-two separate treaties, agreements and conventions await consideration of the Peace Council, covering every item of international concern; but the United States will not be represented on any of the commissions for carrying out the terms of the treaty, and many of the matters involved in the separate agreements referred to are matters which lie outside the scope of our national interests.

Burger Again Refused a Seat

The House of Representatives, on the 16th of January, again refused a seat to Victor L. Burger of Milwaukee, who had been re-elected as a Socialist candidate from the Fifth Wisconsin district. The vote this time was 238 to 6, as compared with the vote of 311 to 1, by which the House refused him a seat last November. This time, his cause was espoused by Representative Mann, former Republican leader of the House, but his appeal seems to have had little effect upon the vote. Burger was convicted under the Espionage Act for going aid and comfort to the enemy, and was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment, at present being out on heavy bail. He now defiantly repeats all the utterances for which he was originally sentenced and declares that he will run again and again, until Congress admits him. His constituents have already renominated him, but the Governor of Wisconsin announces that he will not call another election in the Fifth District.

Another Disappointment for the "Wets."

The Supreme Court of the United States, on the 12th of January, dismissed the motions which had been filed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of New York, asking the court to issue writs of habeas corpus for determining the constitutionality of the Prohibition Amendment. It based this decision on the ground that the motions disregarded two principles of jurisdiction which had been established from the beginning: one, that a citizen of a State could not bring suit against the State without its consent; the other, that the Federal Constitution does not create jurisdiction, but only apportions it, and that, under the Constitution, the Supreme Court has no jurisdiction in such a case as that from New Jersey.

TALES OF THE SEA

Capt. Edgar E. Drisko, a well known retired shipmaster, died at his home in Indian River, Monday, very suddenly. Capt. Drisko followed the sea for over 30 years, retiring some eight years ago.

A London despatch of Jan. 1, says that the schooner Addie P. McFadden, before reported at St. Michaels, is still there, will probably be condemned. Vessel and cargo have been labeled for $50,000 on salvage claims.

Capt. Charles A. Crockett, 78 years old, died at his home in Winterport Tuesday. He was a naval officer, and nearly all his active life. He is survived by two sons, Capt. Charles Crockett of the Eastern Steamship Company's Boston line and Wilbur G. Crockett.

The four-masted schooner building in the Penland yard in Belfast, is planked. Her masts of Oregon pine are being made and she is nearly calked. The ship joiners are at work on the houses, etc., and the machinery is being installed.

Senior Captain D. F. X. Bowen, division engineer of the Eastern division of the U. S. coast guard service, with headquarters at the Boston custom house, was retired on Monday after completion of 30 years' service with the government, with the rank of commander.

The Ferris type steamer that has been lying so long on the ways in the yard of the Cumberland Shipbuilding Co., at South Portland, and work on which was suspended a long time ago by order of the United States Shipping Board, she being about 40 per cent completed, is being taken to pieces, and the lumber will be used for other purposes.

Portland Argus: Boston parties have been here this week picking up skilled fishermen for the trawlers out of that port, the shortage of men being so acute that several of the craft have been obliged to haul up and a number of the schooners now on the grounds are short handed. It was stated by some of the visitors that 200 more men are needed at Boston at once, as the industry has not recovered from the effects of the strike last fall, when many of the fishermen entered other pursuits.

Tug Neptune arrived at Portland Wednesday, having in tow the disabled schooner Emily S. Baymore, bound from Alma, N. B., for New York with a cargo of fish. The schooner left the Nova Scotia port the latter part of November, and since then has been in all kinds of trouble. She first made harbor at Cutler, early in December, and after laying there for a week or two, started out and immediately ran into a violent gale, in which she lost head sails.

The Curbing of Sedition

The necessity of more stringent laws for the curbing of sedition has been under consideration in both branches of Congress. The Senate passed, without even a record vote, what is known as the Sterling bill, named for Senator Sterling of Minnesota, who framed it. It penalizes with a fine of $5,000 or five years' imprisonment, or both, the writing, uttering, mailing or distributing material advocating the overthrow of the United States Government, or of all government, by force, or violence, or through assassination and sabotage. In the House, the Graham bill, reported by the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, defines sedition comprehensively, and carries a death penalty where murder is the result of the use of force and violence in an attempt to overthrow the government.

The Coal Commission At Work

The coal commission, appointed by President Wilson to settle the issues raised by the recent strike of the bituminous coal miners, has begun its work. The miners have agreed in advance to accept the decisions of the commission; and the operators have made a similar agreement, subject to the reservation that the operators could not legally participate in a price-fixing agreement, unless it were provided that such an agreement would expire with the Lever food and fuel control act. At the beginning of the discussions, the miners presented their original demands for a 60-per cent increase in wages, a 30-hour working week and other concessions. President Wilson's letter creating the commission empowered it only to make an award which would "serve as a basis upon which a new wage agreement can be made."

Germany Under Martial Law

Berlin was the scene of so great disorder and rioting on the 13th of January as to lead to a proclamation of martial law throughout Germany. A mob instigated by Independents and Communists, as a protest against the industrial council's bill, which the Reichstag had under consideration, gathered about the Reichstag building, and made repeated attempts to force an entrance. It assailed savagely the police who were on guard, and the police fired with bombs and machine guns, until fifty or more persons were killed and many wounded. It is charged that the mob was signaled to the attack by Independent deputies from within the Reichstag. The rioting went on through the evening, after the main attack was repulsed, and numerous personal attacks were made upon officers and troops outside the fighting zone.

The Successes of the "Reds."

The continuing successes of the Russian Bolshevik troops, the collapse of the Siberian movement headed by Admiral Kolchak, and the retreat of General Denikin's forces from the Moscow front are regarded by Allied officials and diplomats as constituting the threat of a possible invasion of Europe, and a serious menace to the peace of the world. They are also so serious a menace to China and Japan that the Tokyo government is taking active steps to halt the advance, and to reach the very threshold of Manchuria and Japan. Recent developments indicate that the "Reds" intend to bring military pressure to bear upon the Baltic provinces, Poland, and the new nationalities which the Versailles Conference has been erecting in Central Europe, and that the Versailles diplomata claim that this will be the front chosen for invasion of Europe. It is for this that the Bolshevik agents at Brest have been trying to wring from Estonia an agreement which would give them access to a Baltic water base.
