REPUBLICAN CONGRESS

Publicity Bureau Shows How It Has Been the Country's Good and Faithful Servant.

Washington, April 30.—Declaring that the Republican Congress has not only saved two billion dollars to the taxpayers of the country but has saved that sum to American industry, the Republican Publicity Association calls upon the people of the country to uphold their representatives while under attack of the Democratic administration and a Democratic press. A statement given out by the Association today, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., says:

"The accomplishment of the Republican Congress in cutting a billion dollars from the demands of the executive departments for appropriations for the current year, and their determination to cut another billion dollars out of the demands for the coming year, means much more to the American people than the saving of two billion dollars to the Treasury. It means a saving of two billion dollars to American industry."

If a billion dollars be set aside for the maintenance of the Government, that billion dollars is temporarily diverted from the ordinary channels of trade. If a billion dollars be expended in employing persons, equipment and materials in conducting the business of the Government, there is that much less money, that much less individual labor, and that much less equipment available for the prosecution of the industrial enterprise of the nation. This is so manifestly true that it needs no demonstration.

The Republican Congress deserves the highest commendation therefore for the courage and diligence it has displayed in cutting down the excessive demands of the Democratic executive administration for appropriations. It has not only thus relieved the taxpayers of a billion dollars burden of taxation, but it has aided American industry and American commerce by releasing a billion dollars in the course of a twelve months' period for use in productive industry and the development of trade.

Because of its uncompromising insistence upon the establishment of economy in the Government, Congress has met the displeasure of the President, the Members of his Cabinet, and of the Democratic press. While all these agencies are doing everything in their power to destroy confidence in Congress because of its faithfulness to the people, it behooves the public to uphold its loyal public servants and manifest their approval at every opportunity and by every possible means.

If the people will not uphold their public servants in this faithful performance of their duties, what hope is there that in the future similar courage and similar efficiency will be displayed?

It is well and proper that Congress should be criticized when it fails in performance of its duty. It is no less important that when it has performed well the task that has fallen to it, it should receive the unstinted praise of the public and of the press.

DEERING IS COMING

Governorship Candidate Will Visit This City Next Week—His Lewiston Following.

Hon. John P. Deering, Republican candidate for the governorship nomination, expects to visit Rockland the coming week for a conference with those who have been actively supporting his canvass, and meeting as many of the other voters as his time will permit. He will be here Tuesday or Wednesday, according to present plans.

If his strength in other sections of the State is to be gauged by recent developments in Lewiston Mr. Deering has cause for feeling satisfied with the situation three weeks in advance of the primary election.

Under the caption, "Deering Forms Powerful Campaign Committee Here," Enrollment of Lewiston-Auburn Names Something of a Revelation of the Western Maine Candidate's Strength," the Lewiston Journal says:

"The John P. Deering for Governor Campaign Committee of Lewiston was organized with Dr. R. N. Randall as chairman and G. Carl Huskins as secretary. The list of names given out for publication today includes many of the active political workers in the city and is claimed by the Deering forces, to be the strongest political committee organized in Lewiston in recent political history."

"The list contains the names of the majority of the Republicans who have been prominent in recent city elections. Senator Parent, Joseph Mitchell, former alderman from Ward 1; C. J. Russell, P. J. Gagne, George S. McCarty, who was president of the Common Council; Dr. I. E. Pendleton, who was the Republican candidate for mayor in March; Major Roger A. Greene, former city solicitor and candidate for county attorney; George Hilton, former city treasurer; Samuel Stewart, agent of the Bates mill; T. F. Callahan, whose record in State politics is well known, and Alderman James M. Palmer are among those enrolled."

"The organization for which the executive committee was announced includes, in Ward 3, a great number of Republican workers. The list is headed by Alderman John T. Lynch. In other wards appear the names of Walter S. Keene, deputy sheriff Adelard Janelle, William E. Maher, Arsene Cailler, Charles Morneau, Jr., Patrick E. Tremblay, former collector of taxes and a candidate for register of probate; E. B. Whittier, former chairman of the Republican city committee and for years associated with Republican activities in Lewiston; former Aldermen Thomas B. Breen and Edward R. Joyce; Patrick F. Griffin and J. H. Reny, whose name is familiar in the middle wards. Deputy Sheriff Kernan is also on the roster."

"Judge Deering stated that he is confident of the result and that he feels he will be nominated. 'I hear nothing but the best reports,' he said, 'and I don't believe that condition have changed except for the better since the State convention, when I was assured by those who were in sympathy with my candidacy that the majority of the delegates were favorable to me.'"

A NURSE'S HEROISM

Striking Overseas Incident Which Sandy Chapman Told.

The heroism of women during the war came in for especial mention from "Sandy" Chapman, the Knights of Columbus Overseas secretary who spoke in this city Monday night. He graphically recited an incident of a Roxbury, Mass., boy, a wounded soldier, and how his life was saved by a Red Cross nurse, who by so doing, was permanently crippled. This boy was brought into the hospital with his hand shot away, and he required an immediate operation. While the surgeon was performing this, with the Yonkers, N. Y., nurse stopping the flow of blood, the hospital was bombed by the Germans, and all lights were extinguished.

Eight minutes later, when the lights again came on, the nurse was still holding to the boy's arm, keeping back the blood, and as she was relieved, fainted. On examination, those present found she was wounded, her spine pushed aside 3/4 of an inch by a fragment of shell that struck outside. But the boy's life was saved. "No man could have withstood that pain for seven minutes," declared Mr. Chapman, "only a woman."

He told of the scene in Paris as he arrived, the despair of the Allied forces, the fear of the French populace in that city, for the victorious German forces were but 18 miles away. He described the 26th Division, New England's own, withstanding the shock of the German assault, and stated that this division was the only barrier to Paris, London, and later, New York. Then he sarcastically told of a history of the war, printed in England, that said the American Army did not go over until the Allies had the Germans licked.

Mr. Chapman continued at length upon the heroism displayed by K. of C. secretaries and Catholic priests during the last great drives, how the wounded were carried from the battlefields to the hospital, then had their clothing cut away, were washed, and their wounds cared for, by the secretaries and priests when no one else was available.

"The Knights of Columbus came through the war with a spotless white record," asserted the secretary, "and is now continuing its good work."

THE GOODWIN SLOOP

Sheriff's Sale of Craft Seized After Tremont Bank Robbery, Takes Place May 6.

The 40-foot auxiliary sloop, formerly owned by Charles M. Goodwin of this city, which was seized by the authorities after his disappearance last summer, will be sold at the Farrand & Spear wharf Thursday, May 6, at 2 p. m. by Deputy Sheriff Kalloch.

The case is one of unusual interest, and entirely unique so far as this section of the State is concerned. The Tremont Savings Bank was burglarized during the summer of 1919, and the authorities gained information which satisfied them that Charles M. Goodwin of Rockland had a hand in the break. Be that as it may, Goodwin did not return to this city, or if he did it was for a very brief stay, and a widespread search has failed to locate him. A few days ago there was a rumor that Goodwin was in the city, but the officers found that somebody had seen a man who resembled Goodwin.

The Tremont Savings Bank, through its attorney, Charles T. Smalley brought suit against Goodwin in the sum of $3000, and placed an attachment on his sloop which had been left here shortly after the burglary. The bank obtained judgment for the full amount, and the boat is now to be sold toward satisfying that claim.

The craft is fully equipped with gear and a marine motor, and will doubtless find a ready sale, as it is of a type much in demand on the Maine coast.

WILL BOOM MAINE

Agricultural interests of Maine will take an active part in the program of the newly organized State Chamber of Commerce and Agricultural League. Bertrand G. McIntire of Norway, chairman, has named one director from each of the 16 counties in Maine to serve on the agricultural directorate of the big statewide organization. These directors will meet for the first time at Augusta, Tuesday, May 11, when a general meeting of all directors will precede a big mass meeting to formulate a program for the industrial, agricultural and commercial development of Maine. The directors named by Chairman McIntire include: Hancock county, Julian Emery, Bar Harbor; Knox, Arthur B. Packard, Rockport; Lincoln, Leslie Boynton, Jefferson.

Mary D. Harriman of this city, graduated from the Rockland Commercial College Friday. Miss Harriman has a position with Maynard S. Bird & Co.

An exceptional program has been prepared for the High School concert at the Baptist church, Friday evening, May 7. Those appearing as soloists or in duet or trios include Miss Grace Armstrong violin, Hiram Crie 'cello, Paul Wilbur and Ernest Crie cornets, Misses Alice Emery, Evelyn Leach, Lois Patterson and Adelaide Kimball sopranos; Miss Vera Spencer contralto, Misses Celia Rosenblom, Barbara Keyes, Edna Gross and Gertrude Saville pianists. The bright, attractive music will be sure to please and those giving special numbers have been largely drawn from the present Senior class.

Watch for the coming notice as to exact date of the next meeting of the proposed Educational Society for girls and women, to be held in the Methodist parlors. The meeting will probably be held Thursday or Friday evening.

Chief Electrician Andrew Lux is in charge of the Naval recruiting office at Room 2, Post Office Building. Yesterday he signed up two new recruits: Edward L. Philbrook, 27 Chestnut street, Rockland, and Walter C. Boardman, 7 Broad street, Rockland. Men who think of enlisting are offered a very attractive cruise, leaving Philadelphia, and visiting such ports as Colon, Panama City, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle, Honolulu and back through the Panama Canal for a voyage to the West Indies and Cuba. Cuba has special attraction for many people these days, but the Navy boys always find it a popular place to visit. Anyhow, so up and see the recruiting officer and talk it over.

Anderson Auxiliary is to have a rummage sale and dandelion green supper in connection with its regular meeting next Wednesday.

As the season advances each department of the East Coast Fisheries Company is likely to put a baseball team in the field, and it is more than likely that a league will be formed. Meantime the Twine Loft team hurled a deft to the Benefit Association with a view to seeing if the latter has spunk enough to accept a challenge. George Tripp is captain of the Twine Lofts, and Arthur Dunne is manager. During the Benefit Association knock the chips off their shoulders?

Rockland Lodge, F. and A. M., will have work on the M. M. degree Tuesday night, with refreshments.

The High School concert in the First Baptist church next Friday evening, offers not only an enjoyable program but will show parents and friends just what the school is accomplishing in the line of music. The glee club, the mandolin club and the school orchestra are sure to be appreciated. A duet by Lois Patterson and Addie Kimball will be among the vocal attractions.

A lecture entitled "The Preaching of the Pews" will be given Sunday night at the Methodist church by Rev. J. S. Crossland.

The relay race at the Skating Rink Thursday night resulted in a victory for Leo Doherty of Portland and Fred Mealey of Rockland, who at the end of a hard fought, five-mile race had a lead of less than one lap over Frank Allen and Neil Kenney of Rockland. It was by all odds the most exciting race of the season, as the teams alternated in the lead, and all four contestants were skating like the wind. The crowd was in a constant uproar over the fast work, and the contest remained in doubt until the last minute.

N. B. Allen has sold his greenhouse property on Broad street to Mrs. Ada F. Lufkin.

F. M. Simmons, who has been employed at Richards Market, leaves Monday for Lewiston where he will open a training stable, handling George W. Bachelier's horses and a number of Lewiston horses. Mr. Simmons is one of the most enthusiastic turfmen in the State, and has met with marked success as a trainer. He is also thoroughly at home in the sulky or in the Judge's stand.

Rockland High School, twice blanked by the weather in its attempts to play Cony High in Augusta, went to Belfast this morning and will have its initial try-out against Belfast High. The lineup, as announced by Coach Biggers yesterday will be: Flanagan, Mayo, Brackett, lb, Ludwig, 2b, Mealey, 3b, Clark, ss, Simmons, lf, Rising, cf, Koster, rf. The pitching staff this season also includes Rising and Cohen, Wilbur and Houghlin are substitutes. The first home game will be played one week from today, when Cony High is due to play here.

TWO PICTURES

An old farm-house with meadows wide,
A man who round the world has been,
A bright eyed boy, who looks from out
The door with woodland wealth about,
And wishes his one thought all day:
"Oh, if I could but fly away
From this dull spot, the world to see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

Amid the city's constant din,
A man who round the world has been,
Who, amid the tumult and the throng,
Is thinking, thinking all day long:
"Oh, could I only tread once more
The field-path to the farm-house door,
The old, green meadow could I see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, May 1, 1920.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares that he is pressman in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of April 29, 1920, there was printed a total of 5,987 copies. Before me, J. W. CROCKER, Notary Public.

Is it not worth the investment of a part of your income, this program of upbuilding offered by the Interchurch World Movement? He is a dull student of current history who does not see that something has got to be done or the whole world will land in hades. With all the criticism visited upon the church, much of it unwarranted, what other agency is there that is purposing to put over any form of rescue work whatever? That is a good thing said by Edward A. Filene, Boston's great business man, at the Federal Council in Baltimore.

"Though I am a Jew," said Mr. Filene, "I am forced to the conviction that the church must play an important part in solving the present world tangle, with all the suffering which it is bringing in its train. If the Christian teaching of love thy neighbor had been more generally accepted, the Conference at Paris could have finished its work successfully in a week. The teaching of the churches is the power that is needed now if the peace of the world is to be kept and Europe be brought back to the fine amenities of life for which the church stands."

Every business corporation, every business man, may profitably contribute to the canvass for funds that is now going on for this piece of world work.

A pro-administration writer says President Wilson is getting ready to launch an attack on Congress for not enacting certain legislation he has recommended. The writer says that the President to administer the new railroad law save after many precious weeks of delay and in view of the inertia of the administration as to a tremendous amount of important public business, any such attack will get about as far as the President's putting members of Congress who didn't agree with him on the "gibbet." The truth is the administration has more authority now than it knows how handle.

While the Democratic political chieftains continue to put out propaganda to the effect Congress isn't doing anything, Congress keeps right on slashing down the fearful extravagance of the administration and doing it against the opposition of powerful Democratic forces in the House and Senate as well as in officialdom. It is an amazing thing that there should be partisan objection and antagonism to economy in times such as these but the fact is, there is such objection and antagonism.

One immediate and desirable result of the passage and signing of the Congressional Peace Resolution, will be the withdrawal of the American troops from the left bank of the Rhine. The only authority for such American occupancy is the Treaty-Covenant which the Senate has rejected. At present there is no executive authority for keeping American soldiers in Europe save the constitutional authority lodged in the President as Commander of the Army and Navy.

Anyone in doubt as to what the great body of Democrats of the country really think of this administration and of Attorney General Palmer can settle the question by examining the Georgia primary returns. It seems only about a third of the counties in the state, right in the heart of the Solid South, are lined up with the administration on the league of nations and other questions, in spite of the most fervid appeals of the Attorney General.

The May meeting of City Government takes place next Monday night. The appropriation resolve will probably be presented. The tentative list, carrying a total budget of $184,295 was recently published in this paper. The item in it which has been subjected to most criticism is the appropriation of $5000 for reduction of the city debt. Objection is raised to undertaking a reduction of the debt in a year when the expenditures are likely to be more than $50,000 over normal.

Japan's recent financial experience is a warning to the United States. Inflation and wild speculation in Japan have brought on a panic. Many banks have failed, and the Government has been compelled to intervene and stop speculation which inflates credit and the currency. Wise heads and steady hands must be in control of the policy of the United States during the next four or five years.

The House will soon pass the pension, and retirement measure for government employees, a measure which has already passed the Senate. This will be a step not only in the direction of justice to government employees but in the direction of business-like efficiency in the government department.

The repeated failures of the administration to grapple in earnest with profiteering and the repeated forecasts that it is going to do something would read like jokes if they were not so serious for the rest of us.

Everybody who has already got at the job is that much ahead of his duty for Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week. We hear a lot of Rockland people are going to observe the week. It begins tomorrow.

WITHOUT BIRDS

A land without birds would be a place unfit for human habitation. A birdless paradise would be inconceivable. Hawaii, only a few years ago was rich in bird life. Fauna and flora combined to give her the title of "Paradise of the Pacific." That was before the feather pirates ravaged the island; when roses bloomed in every yard and the air resounded with the melody of many song birds whose cries the natives used to believe were divine messages to men. Today—gone are most of the fair and brilliant singers, protectors of the roses and the blossoms, and an uncontrollable horde of beetles rules the land and takes much of the joy out of life. Hawaii was plundered of one of her greatest attractions. There can be no earthly "paradise" without the song-birds and the roses.

THE INTERCHURCH

Rockland Makes Handsome Showing In Great World Canvass For Funds.

Today is the announced time for completing the great money-raising campaign of the Interchurch World Movement. Starting somewhat slowly, the barometer of the campaign took a sudden bound Thursday, when reports, some of them delayed since Sunday, the opening day of the campaign, were received at State headquarters in Waterville. At noon Thursday the total for Maine had reached $380,000 and late in the afternoon $400,000 was passed.

The following were some of the returns received by Baptist headquarters from various counties: Lincoln, $8,553; Washington, $22,707.34; S. Arundel, $24,000; Cumberland, $58,657.85; South York, $28,787.05; North York, $10,933; Oxford, $16,400; Sagadahoc, $9,654.16; Piscataquis, $5,700; Franklin, $10,401.66; Androscoggin, $26,885.39; Hancock, $1,000; Kennebec, $40,569; Knox, $16,850; Penobscot, $50,317.16; Somerset, $10,173.81; Waldo, $8,553. Other denominations are working but not having a fully organized service, the reports were meager.

State Director Randall received a number of encouraging reports of the work of various citizens' committees working outside the denominational groups. From New York came interesting figures in regard to the campaign throughout the country. National total late Thursday was $1,245,000, tabulated from incomplete returns from only sixteen of the thirty denominations which are co-operating, fourteen not having reported yet.

Some of the State totals follow: Pennsylvania leads with $5,467,000; Ohio, $2,718,000; Illinois, $1,679,000; Indiana, with only four denominations reporting, $1,310,000; New Jersey, $1,011,000; Minnesota, $787,000; Iowa, $772,000; Rhode Island, $485,000; Kansas, $485,000; Missouri, $400,000; Vermont, $451,000; Massachusetts, $328,000; Maine, $400,000.

The local situation is highly gratifying. The First Baptist church, aiming at $7000 (which included its own budget for 1920) reports this morning $7270 raised and more coming. The Littlefield Memorial church has $400 of its total $500 subscribed and will easily care for the balance (this church is to raise its 1920 budget of $2000 two weeks later). The Congregationalists have their amount of $600 well in hand and will soon clear it up. The Methodist church raised its full amount of $2000 two weeks ago. A most commendable result on the part of the Rockland churches.

That part of the canvass addressed to the business interests, what is listed as the "Friendly Citizens" group, is not yet ready to report, but some progress has been made. This department has extended its time to next Tuesday, when concert of effort will be made all over the country to swell the totals to the desired figures.

Arnold Rogers and Miss Sarah Hull, who have been attached to the purchasing department of the East Coast Fisheries Company, finished their duties there yesterday. The former enters the office of the Standard Oil Co. and the latter becomes bookkeeper and stenographer for the Rockland Motor Mart. William Glendenning has joined the purchasing department at the East Coast.

PACKARD DEPOSED

Democrats Elect New Chairman of County Committee—"Czar Nick" Holds the Funds, However.

The Democratic county committee met in this city Thursday and organized for the approaching campaign. Arthur B. Packard of Rockport who is seeking another term as county commissioner, and who is said to be treading upon the toes of the Sheriff Hobbs faction, found that it doesn't pay to monkey with the buzz saw, for he was deposed from the chairmanship. The vote is said to have been quite close. The new chairman is Judge Oscar H. Emory of Camden, from which it would appear that the Camden faction is in the saddle—for a while longer, anyhow.

Ralph R. Rowell of South Thomaston was elected secretary, and Nicholas T. Murray of Rockland was chosen treasurer. Nicholas is anti-Hobbs, and doesn't care who knows it. The above officers, together with Dana Knowlton of Rockland and Charles Simmons of Warren comprise the executive committee.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Returns in the New Jersey preferential presidential primary with but 17 districts missing, gave Major General Leonard Wood a majority of 1,150 votes over Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California.

Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, Senator Warren G. Harding's national campaign manager was defeated in Tuesday's primary for delegate at large to the Republican National convention, according to complete unofficial returns. He was defeated, according to the returns, by William H. Boyd of Cleveland, a Wood candidate by 307 votes. There is a possibility that the result may be changed in the official count, to take place here early next week. The returns give Harding a plurality of 16,303 over Wood for the Republican Presidential preference. Harding apparently will have 39 of the 48 Ohio delegates to the Chicago convention pledged to him. Wood, apparently, has won two delegates in each of three districts, one delegate in each of two districts and one delegate at large.

William Jennings Bryan, in a statement Thursday night declared that the recent primaries were a warning that Democratic senators should lose no time in voting for the ratification of the peace treaty.

"Delay in ratification may deluge the world in blood and flood our own country with war," said Mr. Bryan. "The recent primaries should be a warning. In Georgia, less than one-third of the Democrats stood for the Treaty without reservations. Two-thirds were divided about equally between ratification with reservations and total rejection of the treaty. In Nebraska Senator Hitchcock's vote would not have been worth counting had he been compelled to rely on those who endorsed his attitude on the Treaty. My fight was made on a platform declaring for ratification with reservations already agreed upon by a large majority of the senate. Senator Johnson's vote is largely a protest against the Treaty and against the blundering of Senators who talk for the treaty but quarrel over reservations."

State Senator Guy F. Gannett of Augusta was nominated Thursday as member of the Republican National committee from Maine at a meeting of the delegates to the national convention. Col. Frank M. Hume of Houlton was chosen honorary vice president and Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick was selected as the chairman of the delegation. The other places in the delegation were filled thus: Committee on resolutions, George G. Weeks, Fairfield; committee on credentials, Charles B. Carter, Auburn; secretary, Albert J. Stearns, Norway; treasurer, Harry W. Davis, Guilford; member of the committee to notify the candidate for president of his nomination, Percival P. Baxter, Portland; member of the committee to notify the candidate for vice president of his nomination, Bert W. Howe, Patten; committee of badges, Robert J. Hodgdon, Lewiston; committee on transportation, Blaine S. Viles, Augusta; sergeant-at-arms, Sullivan E. Woodman, Machias; committee on organization, Ernest L. Morrill, Saco. The party will leave Boston at 2 p. m., Sunday, June 6, reaching Chicago at about the same time on the following day before the convention. Ex-Governor Cobb will be among those accompanying the delegates.

MISS ROSE SULLIVAN

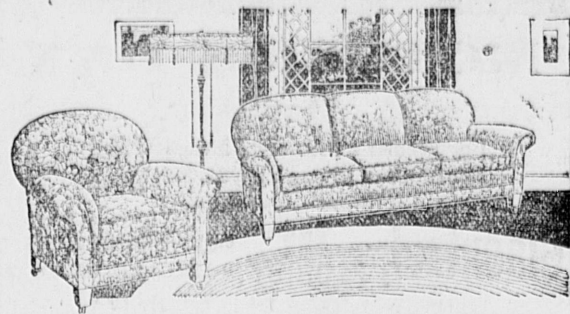

Funeral services of Miss Rose Sullivan, whose sudden death from pneumonia was announced in our Tuesday issue, were held Thursday forenoon at St. Bernard's church, Rev. Fr. Flynn officiating. There was a very large attendance at the late home of the deceased at 22 T street there had been many lovely floral offerings. The interment was at Thomaston. The bearers were V. Chisholm, T. E. Mcnamara, M. H. Burns, William P. Walsh, John M. Flanagan and Nicholas T. Murray. The Simonton Dry Goods Store, where Miss Sullivan was long employed, was closed during the funeral.

Miss Sullivan was born in Camden, April 17, 1885, a daughter of Thomas and Marie (Hopkins) Sullivan. Practically all of her life was spent in this city, where she was long employed at E. H. Rose's tailor shop and at the Simonton store. She was greatly beloved by her associates, who had seen numerous evidences of her promptness to aid those in need of assistance or sympathy and who gathered inspiration from her gentle spirit and cheerful disposition. Miss Sullivan is survived by one sister, Miss Evelyn Sullivan of Boston and one brother, Willis, of Brockton.

J. E. Watson, foreign sales representative of the East Coast Fisheries Company has returned from a month's stay in Havana, where he established a sales office. Mr. Watson reports a wonderful boom in the Cuban metropolis, that city being just now overflowing with sugar speculators and American tourists who are dissatisfied with the "percentages" which now predominates in this country. The hotels are charging exorbitant rates.

The famous old frigate Richmond arrived last night and was a very picturesque object at its anchorage opposite the Breakwater this morning. The craft has been bought by a junk concern, which will launch it at Eastport and burn it for the sake of redeeming the copper which it contains. The details had not been made known this morning.

The most conspicuous vehicle on the street this week is the new 5-ton Mack truck, which has just been put in commission by the East Coast Fisheries Company. The truck is equipped with hydraulic dumping gear. The company now has five trucks—three Macks, a G. M. C. and a Ford.

The winter's snows melted so gradually that the expected freshets did not materialize, but the effect was very striking at Mirror Lake, where the water over the intake increased from its minimum of 5 feet, 11 inches on March 12 to 15 feet, 2 inches April 16. Since that time the water has been running over the dam.

An aeroplane passed over the spot, a machine gun was turned upon him, and one of his legs was riddled. He administered first aid to himself by means of a tourniquet but it was 27 hours before he was taken to a hospital, where the leg was amputated. FORTY-FIVE YEARS

Thurston Bros. of Union observed Another Anniversary Yesterday.

When the hour hand pointed to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Thurston Bros. of South Union had been in the casket making business exactly 45 years. The brothers embarked on their enterprise in the face of many prophecies that it would prove a failure.

They carried on their industry the first year in a room 24x40, and when the books were balanced found that they had netted but $125 a day. Perseverance has been one of their motives however, and the plant has been enlarged at frequent intervals until today it gives steady employment to 20 persons, and turns out a large number of caskets annually. Thurston Bros. are also dealers and jobbers in undertakers' goods and finds a ready market for the product in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. Square dealing, excellence of workmanship, and prompt attention to business are some of the reasons which have brought deserved prosperity to this firm.

With gasoline at the present price, and even more formidable as a prospect, automobile owners will doubtless hail any invention which enables them to economize in the use of it. Ed. patent rights on an invention which Dr. O. P. Taylor has just been granted, is calculated to save gasoline and which has other advantages to strongly recommend it. In brief it is a vaporizer which provides for the hot vapor in the air chamber of a radiator being drawn into the intake manifold of the engine, saving thereby, it is claimed, 15 to 25 percent of gasoline. There is an automatic controlling valve in the radiator which allows nothing but vapor to reach the engine. The resulting advantages, as Dr. Taylor's experiments have thus far shown them are: Gives more mileage, more power, more speed, more flexibility, keeps radiator cooler in hot weather, eliminates carbon deposits and keeps engine cooler. Experiments conducted by Dr. Taylor showed that his car would run 20.8 miles on one gallon without the invention in use, and 26.8 miles with it. Dr. Taylor was formerly devoted considerable time since then to the automobile business and has to the subject of auto improvements. He was arranging yesterday to begin the manufacture of vaporizers in this city.

CLASS EIGHT ATE

And Members Saw Themselves As Prophet Saw Them, 20 Years Hence.

Thursday night found 19 members of Class Eight and their guests seated before a sumptuously laden table in the Methodist vestry with all the "eats" so attractive that they were quickly disposed of. After dinner speeches followed.

The members of the class present were Mrs. Austin Smith, Doris Pettigill, Maude Stevens, Blanche Seavey, Bernice Young, Dorothy Ripley, Freda Barnes, Agnes Barnes, Florence Barnes, Pearl Borgerson, Doris Ulmer, Burdelle Strout, Ivy Chatto, Louise Bickford, Carrie Fullerton, Winnie Williams, Minnie Dennison and Myrtle Clark with Austin Smith, Leroy Chatto and Mrs. Crossland as guests.

The following brilliant prophecy was written by the "jewel" of the class: "Crystal Gazing, ah, that word has always held a charm for me. One day I was afforded this pleasure of gazing into the crystal. My first desire was to see Class Eight 20 years hence. I passed down a long narrow street and stood for a moment admiring a very neat looking little home. In the yard were a number of little children. One was a young girl with black hair and very black eyes and greatly resembled someone I had met. She was a very vampish looking maiden and this also reminded me of someone. She said her mother's name was "Blanche" and her father's "Lawrence".

Walking up the wealthier part of the town, I saw a very rich haughty looking person stepping into her airplane, evidently out for her before breakfast flight. I hastened to speak to her as I recognized an old time friend, Maud Stevens. She very condescendingly held out her finger tips and murmured "So sorry, I am just going out".

I wandered out to the suburbs—and a very quaint tea room caught my eye. I entered and was pleased to see three Barnes. They informed me that Bernice was selling tickets at Park Theatre, and was doomed to be an old maid. I started back for town and was overtaken by a jitney and behold! Minnie Dennison was driver. I asked to be taken to town but on arriving there she informed me that she would only charge me $1 as I was an old friend. The regular fare was $1.10.

"That afternoon I strolled into a skating rink. The manager proved to be our friend Carrie Fullerton, who was married to a man named "Mike." I remembered she had always admired men of that distinguished name. I was informed that our teacher was matron of the Old Ladies Home. Carrie also told me that Beulah had a commercial school in Boston and was very successful in making ideas sprout. "I next visited a hospital for poor children. Ivy Chatto seemed to be the whole show and was so bossy that I was glad to get out. Saw Doris Pettigill was conducting a hand laundry. Her family was so large she felt called upon to help out in the family budget. Dot Ripley had gone across to learn the latest dancing lessons. The name of Pierson is a famous one in this city. Winnie leads a high life now. Ah, well, she always had lofty views. Burdelle had realized a desire. She married a very poor but very fine looking man.

To say that I was sorry not to see the rest of my classmates need not be said, but I had to hasten back to meet "Hank" at our new bungalow and was anxious to tell him of the ending of a perfect day."

Class Eight is an active class of the "live" Methodists with a membership of 22 young women. Mrs. Austin Smith is teacher. The members are Mrs. Austin Smith, Doris Pettigill, Maude Stevens, Blanche Seavey, Dorothy Ripley, Agnes Barnes, Florence Barnes, Agnes Barnes, Doris Ulmer, Burdelle Strout, Ivy Chatto, Bernice Young, Louise Bickford, Carrie Fullerton, Winnie Williams, Myrtle Clark, Zula Staples, Esther Harrington, Frances Dennison, Pauline Patterson, Beulah Simmons, Jennima McCoutie, Pearl Borgerson.

LEWISTON HUMOR

Two Bombs Exploded In Principal Moulton's School.

Faculty and students of Edward Little High are assured that the bombs that exploded in the corridors of the schools Tuesday morning were nothing more or less than a joke perpetrated by some of the students who dabble in chemistry.

It is unsettled whether one or two bombs exploded. Principal Moulton says one, while students say two. They were lead pipe affairs, but without sufficient strength to do harm.

At noon, Tuesday, Mrs. Jane Sweet, in charge of sophomore hall noticed smoke issuing through the door, and sent one of the pupils to investigate. As he reached the door, however, the bomb exploded filling the corridors and halls with smoke.

Students say that a bomb exploded on the back steps before this, but because the windows and doors of the building were closed, few heard it. —Lewiston Sun.

THE SUNDAY SERMON

English Churchmen Who Believe Its Day Has Passed.

Are sermons indispensable? This is one of the questions on which a decision may be taken by the bishops of the Anglican church at their meeting in Lambeth in July, says a London despatch.

A section of churchmen are declared to be of the opinion that the day of the sermon has passed. They hold that if a man has not the gift of preaching it would be better for everyone that he should not preach.

The "two sermons each Sunday" custom, they say, imposes a great strain equally if not more heavily felt by the laity who are required to listen to these effusions. The unpopularity of published volumes of sermons, once in great demand, is cited by this faction as evidence of the sermon's waning effectiveness.

Eggs will be $1.50 per dozen and poultry $1.00 a pound next winter. Better set a hen.

Swift & Company
Does Not Control Its
Raw Material

Other industries can buy their raw materials according to need or judgment, and set a selling price. They need manufacture only what they can sell at their price.

Cotton, wool, wheat, lumber, iron, steel, and other non-perishables, can be held either by their producers or their users until needed.

But live stock comes to market every day in fluctuating quantities from scattered sources, wholly uncontrolled and at times without regard to market needs.

An immediate outlet must be found for the perishable products, at whatever price, as only a very small proportion can be stored.

No one can foresee or stipulate what they shall bring; prices must fluctuate from day to day to insure keeping the market clear.

Only the most exacting care of every detail of distribution enables Swift & Company to make the small profit from all sources of a fraction of a cent per pound, necessary for it to continue to obtain capital and maintain operations.

Last Winter Prices

There is a sentiment amongst farmers to cut down on their production this season so it behooves every family who has a back yard to plant a garden and raise some poultry. The outlook is for continued high prices for foodstuffs—even higher than when the government urged war gardens in the summer of 1918. There are three or four million more men to feed this Summer than in 1918 on non-exportable stuff such as fresh vegetables and eggs and, sad to relate, very few of these men are to be employed raising foodstuffs—even fewer than were so employed before the war.

Eggs have sold at $1.10 per dozen the past two Winters and poultry meat at around 50c per pound.

Indications for the coming winter are: Eggs, $1.50 per dozen; Poultry, $1.00 per pound; Sugar 25c to 35c per pound.

Vegetables will be higher. Why not raise something?

FRED S. MARCH MONUMENTAL ARCHITECT
The New Monumental Warehouses
Park St., Cor. Brick. Rockland, Me.

Yes, we'd pick this paint for your house!

Indeed, we would! If you come to us and say, "What paint is the best for my house?" you'll get just one answer, "Du Pont Paints!"

Reason is simply that we know that Du Pont Paints are the best of the 400 makes of paint that are sold in this country. We have sold a lot of them here to people who were painting everything from entire houses to Kiddie Kars, and they carry the name of a great industrial concern that has always been associated with the biggest and best enterprises in the country, a concern that couldn't afford to have its name on any but a superior product.

When we sell paints to you, we have to be sure that you, our customer, are going to get the best there is. We want your trade next year, too. And we'll tell you frankly there isn't any better paint than Du Pont. We have a FULL line here.

She was enjoying a call from two of her neighbors and was telling them that the next day was her birthday and that the Washington Club was not going to surprise her because she should get ready and look them any time after four p. m., when lo and behold, in walked the aforementioned club. Surprised! Well she certainly was. Later in the evening the gentlemen joined them and cards were enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. A box was presented to the hostess which contained many presents, both useful and ornamental.

THE LABOR PROBLEM And How It Is Likely To Effect Road Building in Maine.

The State Highway Commission is up against the labor problem this year for fair, in fact, the labor situation is more acute than ever. The situation is so acute that it will undoubtedly have a bearing on the amount of highway construction work to be done this year. At this juncture, the commission feels that it should have the benefit of the best thought of the people of the State as to what policy to pursue. To this end, the following letter was sent out today to members of the Legislature, representative farmers, automobilists, manufacturers, merchants and public officials in all sections of the State to secure if possible their sentiments regarding road construction.

You are undoubtedly aware from statements made by the members of this commission at public meetings and from press reports of the same, that we had planned to construct 150 miles of State highway during the coming season. Surveys for more than that mileage have been made and every effort has been made to have plans completed for this whole mileage in time for letting contracts. A considerable percentage of the jobs are now ready to take bids on and several of them have already been advertised for bids.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the prices to be bid for highway work are to be high in comparison with anything we have ever known. In formulating our judgment as to what roads are worth to the taxpayers of this State, we would appreciate an expression of your opinion on this matter. To that end may we ask you to give careful consideration to the following questions and answer them so that they may be in our hands Monday, May 3.

Question 1—The prices for highway construction during 1919 were from 100 to 125 per cent higher than the prices for similar construction in 1914, 1915 and 1916. Are we warranted in paying more for improved roads this year than we did last year? If your answer is yes, what percentage of increase over 1919 prices do you think the State ought to pay?

Question 2—Wages for common labor on highways in 1919 ran from 25 cents to 50 cents per hour. What, in your judgment, should be the top price per hour for common labor this year?

Question 3—The wages for teams in 1919 were generally from $6 to $7.50 per day, usually $6.50 or $7 for nine hours. What, in your judgment, should be the top price for teams for nine hours' work during 1920?

ROCKVILLE

The mountains and hill tops were covered with snow Sunday morning. It is very cold nights and mornings; yet all nature is going through the process of resurrection. Green blades are pushing their way through the dead grass and some lawns and doorways are quite green. Buds are swelling on the lilac bushes; frogs are calling for rubber boots and birds are busy building their summer homes.

Smelt have come. The banks of the brook are lined each night with autos, and all kinds of conveyance, even to Whittier's "one horse chaise," bringing men with nets to dip for the little fish. The men and boys from the village (and sometimes the girls) and from over the hills and far away, come walking by twos and threes with dip nets, pails and bags. All get some whether provided with nets or not, and all enjoy the fun.

The strong wind of the 19th cracked the ice in the pond and drove it to the Southern shore, piling it on the beach. It was all gone in a day or two.

Mrs. Fannie Brewster has returned from Boston where she spent the winter. The barn belonging with the brick house at the head of Chickawaukie Lake, has been torn down. It is a great improvement in several ways. The neighbors can now see the house, and Mr. and Mrs. Hawley who are soon to occupy it will have a nice view unobstructed through the village. The barn was exactly in front of the house. Wednesday there was a heavy rain storm all day. Roads were badly washed and brooks overflowed worse than for many years.

Alfred Young from South Elliot called on friends here recently.

Mrs. Mary McDermott and children from Camden are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Robbins. Vernie Gray of Camden was in town last week. He had an attack of smelt brook fever.

Mrs. Faith Callahan and little daughter of Rockland is the guest of Mrs. Beulah Oxten.

Miss Mabel Oxten called on friends here recently. She goes to Waterbury to take charge of a cottage as matron, for a number of girl collegiates.

Mrs. Sarah Sylvester is having her household goods moved to Rockland. Sylvester Barrows has ten young lambs.

RAZORVILLE

One of the worst accidents ever known here occurred April 27 in the Creamer Mill, owned and operated by Sidney Humes of Stickney's Corner. Mr. Humes manufactures barrel shooks, staves, heads and shingles. Mordick Creamer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Creamer, was running a chamber machine which fits the ends of the staves ready for the heads. He had mischievously taken a jumper from Frank Sidelinger, who is a very large man while young Creamer is a small fellow, and put it on. The sleeves were much too large and too long, and one sleeve caught in the machinery. He found it was rapidly drawing him bodily into the machine and to save himself out with his right hand directly into the planer, which severed it to the wrist. The bones went into the machine and stopped the mill. The machine had to be taken apart to get the parts of the hand that had been severed. Dr. Pierpont was summoned but it was wisely decided to take him to the Sibley Hospital at Rockland. He pluckily walked to Charles Finn's about a half mile from the mill. Mr. Finn took the injured man and his father and Dr. Pierpont in his car and hurried them to Rockland. Through it all Mordick showed uncommon fortitude and did not faint until after he reached the hospital, although he lost a large amount of blood. It seemed doubly sad as this was his 15th birthday. No blame is attached to anyone as it was purely an accident.

Mrs. Ethel Danforth of North Union is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles E. Savage for a few days.

John S. Giddens visited his sister Mrs. Charles Phillips at Palermo Center this week.

W. E. Overlock was seen planting peas recently, but by the looks of the thermometer he will have to keep a good fire by them to keep them from freezing.

Mrs. Alonzo Grotton received the news Saturday of the death of her only brother, Wesley Turner, at Palermo Center.

PARK THEATRE

"The Island of Intrigue" today's feature is revealed as an exceptionally interesting crook drama which has received an ideal production. It holds the interest completely, is full of suspense, has a gripping climax and is pictorially lovely. It is an adaptation of Isabelle Ostrander's novel of the same name and has been transmitted to the screen without losing a single thrill or an atom of charm. The romance has to do with the abduction of a millionaire's daughter, who is being held for ransom. A sub-chapter plays a thrilling part in the rescue.

Many thousands have been entertained since Richard Harding Davis wrote "Soldiers of Fortune." It has remained for the movie camera to bring the story out in even more fascinating style. This will be the feature for Monday and Tuesday.

"Out on the blistering, relentless desert of Western America," to quote the author, Robert Clay heads a party of civil engineers having the trail for a transcontinental railroad. His men and stock are almost exhausted, and McWilliams, Clay's associate in many adventures, suggests that they take an easier route. "This route means the saving of millions of dollars to the Company, and if I do not go through with it she would think I'm a quitter," replies Clay, as he gazes at the picture of a girl in the cover of his watch. The girl is Alice Langham, the daughter of his employer. He had cut out the picture from the social edition of a popular magazine that he had found and looks upon the pretty girl as his mascot. Of course, they were destined to meet. After the engineers complete their work, Clay is introduced to Alice at a reception given by Mr. Langham in honor of President-elect Woodrow Wilson, of the little republic of Olanchio in South America. Hope, Mr. Langham's younger daughter, who has not as yet made her debut, and her brother Teddy, view the reception with disgust. The balustrade, Alice Langham proves a willing listener to Clay's story of the picture that he carries in his watch, but her interest is really centered in Reginald King. Clay is commissioned to go to Olanchio to open the great deposit of which the engineer had discovered. Many adventures befall him—adv.

SIX MONTHS I COULD NOT WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Me Strong and Able to Work—I Recommend It To All My Friends.

Bayonne, N. J. — "I had pains in back and legs so that I could not stand except by the aid of a cane. I felt so tired all the time, had bad headaches, and for six months I could not work. I was treated by a physician and took other remedies but got no relief. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me very much. I am well and strong and now able to do my work. I cannot thank you enough and I recommend your medicine to my friends who are sick." — Mrs. SUSIE SACATANSKY, 25 East 17th St., Bayonne, N. J.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for over forty years, and today hold a record for such wonderful success as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

To the Wives, Mothers, Daughters and Sisters of ex-service Men:—I am asking that you make an effort to be present at Pikes Circle hall, Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 2 o'clock. We desire to hold fitting ceremonies on Memorial Day, to pay due tribute to our heroes of the past, and in order to do this properly it needs co-operation, and we greatly desire the assistance of all the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters to carry on this work. When we stop to think that three thousand miles across the sea, plans have already been made to decorate the graves of all our soldiers, it seems that we at home should be more than glad to do what we can to pay due homage here. The people of this town at their last annual meeting, made a liberal contribution to the Legion; they had confidence that we could properly carry on the work for which we are organized, and we are determined shall not be adjudged unfaithful to the trust. If you feel that you can offer any assistance, or if you can give it your moral support only, do so by being present on Sunday afternoon. Respectfully,

Howard P. Moody, Post Commander, Williams-Brazier Post No. 37.

MORAL: SWAT THE FLY

The only good fly is a dead fly, and the best fly is the fly that never was born. This opinion was expressed at the third annual conference of the local health officers and boards with the Maine State Department of Health, by A. G. M. Soule, chief of the Bureau of Inspection of the State Department of Agriculture. Speaking of the danger caused by flies as carriers of disease, he said they are not only dangerous for transmitting tubercular germs, but may carry germs of typhoid fever and cholera.

WHY ADJUST?

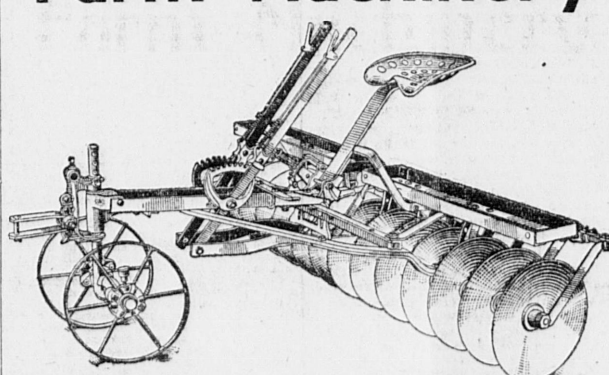

The science of Chiropractic hinges upon the fact that the brain regulates and controls every organ and tissue in the human body. This control is made possible by means of the spinal cord and nerves, which are in reality extensions of the brain. If we compare the brain to an electric power house, the nerves to electric wires, and the various organs (stomach, heart, kidney, liver, etc.), to the electric lamps, we can form a crude idea in comparison, as to the workings of the human body. So long as the electric wires are properly connected the electric lamps will perform their function—that is, give light. In the same way, so long as the nerves are properly connecting the various organs of the body with the brain, these organs will perform their function; they receive 100 per cent of nerve force, and we have health.

There is no question that spinal adjustments will accomplish what no other can offer, and restore health where vitality is sufficient. Is not the house you live in all of the time of more importance than the house you live in part of the time? Chiropractic is the renovator, repairer, furnisher of the house you live in all of the time. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.

AN APPRECIATION

[For The Courier-Gazette] "Zion's Advocate" was founded Nov. 11, 1828, and discontinued March 10, 1920. She sat in the vine-covered doorway, With her "Advocate" in her hand, Reading the news of the Kingdom.

Reading the "Children's Own Corner," "The Family," "The Woman's Page," "Study and Prayer" and "Worship." And thought from the editor's page.

How many times have I seen her, My Mother, thus in the door, Cushing the news of the Kingdom, Gleaning much from its store.

In her low rocking chair, with her glasses, And her apron of white, for the day was Sunday; and resting from labors Which came all the week without pay.

And her Mother before her, subsiding With the news of the Kingdom in the press, Read it and pondered its teachings, And never valued them less.

So on through the years in our family Of the circle it formed a part, And its coming each week was looked for, And hailed with a happy heart.

No more in her low chair looking for, In the open vine-covered door, Will I see her holding that paper— For "see" and "hear" no more.

Ah, off as through life we journey We fail to appreciate, The lessons she showed upon us, Until it is all too late.

Appleton, April 18. Bernard Aubrey Pitman.

As the season for parasols advances, many novelties are making their appearance in the stocks of up-to-the-minute stores. Among the newest shape are what is known as the "aeroplane" and the "single" shapes. The "aeroplane" is a parasol of the shape of the wings of an airplane, and seems particularly adapted to the use of two persons walking together, as the spread is at the sides with very little overlap front and back. The "single" shape is a parasol designed for but one person and has the advantage of not interfering with the comfort of the escort of that person. The handle is attached to one side of the parasol, the shape is more deep than spreading and bears a resemblance to the carriage parasol of long ago.—Dry Goods Economist.

"Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," which was given at the Methodist church last night under the management of Mrs. Davies was a howling success. All the characters were unusually good, and well adapted to the parts they played. The church was filled to its capacity, and judging from the continuous uproar of laughter, the play and the players must have been thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Dubois, who is at the head of the Dubois Type-writer and Stationery Supply Co., happened to be in the city last night, and the League was very fortunate in securing him to entertain during the act. He is a very clever whistler, bird imitator and impersonator and charmed the audience with his acting. The Epworth League netted $80 from the play. Monday evening, May 3, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard" will be given at Pleasant Valley Grange hall, Rockland Highlands; and Friday evening, May 7, at Good Will Grange hall, South Warren.

Rev. Phily A. Allen returned Thursday night from a two weeks' lecturing and preaching tour in Illinois, during which he made his headquarters principally in Galesburg. His lectures were mainly before Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and the fame of Rockland's great time and fish industries formed his chief subject. His audiences were astonished to learn of the scale on which our fisheries are being conducted, and Mr. Allen's description of the modern trawlers was the first information to some of his hearers that fish were not being caught by hand. "I was somewhat embarrassed, at one of the dinners," said Mr. Allen, when the guests suddenly broke out into a roars of honor to the tune of "Good Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip." In place of the familiar words, however, they substituted "Good Evening, Mr. Phily Allen, with your tummy just as full as mine." Mr. Allen thoroughly enjoyed his western visit, and his countless friends are hoping it will not result in his following Horace Greeley's advice.

FISKE—FERRIS

San Diego newspapers published extended accounts of the recent wedding of Lieut. Leon S. Fiske, grandson of Mrs. Amos Fiske of the Head of the Bay, and Miss Marjorie Ferris. The San Diego Times thus reported the event.

A wedding charming in its color effects, and strikingly picturesque in the general arrangement of the service, was that of Miss Marjorie Ferris, daughter of Mrs. Carl Ferris, and Lieut. Leon Sangster Fiske, U. S. N., which was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. F. Hallenbeck. The church decorations were carried out in a lavish display of lavender and pink blossoms, in all the variety of the spring time flowering. The same beautiful color blending was carried out in the gowns of the bride's attendants. The bride was crowned in a creation of white satin and silver cloth, with a tulle veil fastened by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds, sweet peas and orange blossoms. Her maid of honor, Miss Hilda Kraemer, wore a costume of pink georgette trimmed with lavender orchid tinted ribbons, and wore a lavender hat. She carried a bouquet of lavender and pink sweet peas. The bride was also attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Theima Hyde and Miss Margaret McVey. Miss Hyde wore a lavender georgette gown, with large tulle hat of the same shade, and carried pink sweet peas. Miss McVey in a pretty variation of the color scheme wore a pink georgette gown, with tulle picture hat of pink, and carried lavender sweet peas. Mrs. Ferris, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of black satin.

The bridegroom was attended by Lieut. H. H. S. S. N. of the U. S. S. Palmer, as best man. Four ushers attended the bride party. Lieut. Charles Rend, U. S. N., Lieut. Robert B. Twining, U. S. Miss Ethel Widener gave a program of organ music, playing "The Bride Song" (Jensen), before the ceremony, and Cadman's "Love Song" during the reading of the marriage service.

About 200 guests witnessed the church ceremony, and afterward a small party of intimate friends and relatives attended a reception and supper given by the bride's mother at her home, 240 Quince street.

"Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," which was given at the Methodist church last night under the management of Mrs. Davies was a howling success. All the characters were unusually good, and well adapted to the parts they played. The church was filled to its capacity, and judging from the continuous uproar of laughter, the play and the players must have been thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Dubois, who is at the head of the Dubois Type-writer and Stationery Supply Co., happened to be in the city last night, and the League was very fortunate in securing him to entertain during the act. He is a very clever whistler, bird imitator and impersonator and charmed the audience with his acting. The Epworth League netted $80 from the play. Monday evening, May 3, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard" will be given at Pleasant Valley Grange hall, Rockland Highlands; and Friday evening, May 7, at Good Will Grange hall, South Warren.

Rev. Phily A. Allen returned Thursday night from a two weeks' lecturing and preaching tour in Illinois, during which he made his headquarters principally in Galesburg. His lectures were mainly before Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and the fame of Rockland's great time and fish industries formed his chief subject. His audiences were astonished to learn of the scale on which our fisheries are being conducted, and Mr. Allen's description of the modern trawlers was the first information to some of his hearers that fish were not being caught by hand. "I was somewhat embarrassed, at one of the dinners," said Mr. Allen, when the guests suddenly broke out into a roars of honor to the tune of "Good Morning Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip." In place of the familiar words, however, they substituted "Good Evening, Mr. Phily Allen, with your tummy just as full as mine." Mr. Allen thoroughly enjoyed his western visit, and his countless friends are hoping it will not result in his following Horace Greeley's advice.

FISKE—FERRIS

San Diego newspapers published extended accounts of the recent wedding of Lieut. Leon S. Fiske, grandson of Mrs. Amos Fiske of the Head of the Bay, and Miss Marjorie Ferris. The San Diego Times thus reported the event.

A wedding charming in its color effects, and strikingly picturesque in the general arrangement of the service, was that of Miss Marjorie Ferris, daughter of Mrs. Carl Ferris, and Lieut. Leon Sangster Fiske, U. S. N., which was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. F. Hallenbeck. The church decorations were carried out in a lavish display of lavender and pink blossoms, in all the variety of the spring time flowering. The same beautiful color blending was carried out in the gowns of the bride's attendants. The bride was crowned in a creation of white satin and silver cloth, with a tulle veil fastened by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds, sweet peas and orange blossoms. Her maid of honor, Miss Hilda Kraemer, wore a costume of pink georgette trimmed with lavender orchid tinted ribbons, and wore a lavender hat. She carried a bouquet of lavender and pink sweet peas. The bride was also attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Theima Hyde and Miss Margaret McVey. Miss Hyde wore a lavender georgette gown, with large tulle hat of the same shade, and carried pink sweet peas. Miss McVey in a pretty variation of the color scheme wore a pink georgette gown, with tulle picture hat of pink, and carried lavender sweet peas. Mrs. Ferris, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of black satin.

Fickle as the fashions always are they have given us such a diversity of models that any to suit one's purse and one's idea can be found from $20.00 to $200.00 and more. They hang side by side in our Dress Department and with-out offense to each other. There is one particularly fetching frock of wonderful mauve crepe whose remarkably clinging disposition is expressed in an accordion plait skirt, the low round neck waist with short sleeves, entirely embroidered in the most gorgeous shade of Pigeon Blood Ruby silk. It takes one's breath. Then rows and rows of dresses for graduation, afternoon dresses of figured voile, chiffon, lace and silk. Dresses for the street, all in the most enticing combinations of fabric and color. A bewildering array of evening dresses from $25.00 to $200.00. Have you noticed that Jade Green Georgette with white flecks in little loops and that delectable tomato red one with the gold girdle? And then those of you who some times like to try on a dress that measures more than a yard and a half around the bottom? Have you seen those that measure to six yards? These skirts with their lovely tendencies are all very lovely for the sly, but those of us who feel we have a right to live and move and have a being and can't quite do it in a skirt whose circumference is 50 inches can find delightful models. Comfort is made into an oxymoron for it's coming into style. This season marks a wide beginning.

FASHION TOOK IT INTO HER FRIVOLOUS HEAD to develop a slip-on blouse of Trielotte, and adapted it specially to be worn with sport skirts. These are made in white, and spring colors run riot, $11.75 to $28.75.

Waist Section—Balceny.

MAKE AN INVESTMENT that will bring you good interest. Buy a blouse, one of those beaded or embroidered or lace, which will force your last season's suit to put on a 1920 smile. They are wonderful! $17.75, $25.00 to $48.00.

WORK WAS HAMPERED

Knights of Columbus Official History Sternly Rebukes Secretary Baker.

Frequent efforts on the part of the War Department, under Secretary Baker, to hamper the welfare work of the Knights of Columbus with the A. E. F. and the fact that the Knights were told to quit giving comforts to the soldiers or get out of France, are charged in the new official history of the Knights of Columbus, which has just been published by the organization at its headquarters in New Haven, Conn.

Amazing revelations are made by the authors, Maurice Francis Egan, formerly minister to Denmark, and John B. Kennedy, of the acute differences and heated debates on the subjects of welfare work. Under a chapter heading, "Hewing to the Line," the Knights give their official version of many disputes with the War Department and with other welfare agencies. According to the statements made in this chapter and elsewhere in the two volumes of the official history, many attempts were made to prohibit the Knights from distributing without charge, creature comforts popular with the men of the A. E. F.

At one time, the authors assert, the Knights were told orally to stop their "everything free" policy or remove their workers from France. They replied that they would obey the order and retire from France only if a written order was handed to them under the signature of Gen. Pershing. The written order was never given and the Knights ignored other mandates and went right along with their free service.

There were disputes as to how the various welfare organizations should be grouped in drives for money. The Knights insisted all should appeal together or not at all. There were disputes as to how athletic events should be managed. But in this matter the Knights declined to argue, the book asserts, and went ahead with whatever programs they had arranged. The authors charge frankly that official interference obstructed much of the good work that had been planned. There were differences, also, as to how money collected should be spent, and all in all as the book makes clear, the Knights had to waste a good deal of energy in disputes with officials.

They operated their relief work with the idea of avoiding a second general drive for funds, and this they succeeded in doing despite their policy of giving everything away. They ended the war with $11,000,000 on hand, and after apportioning sufficient funds to sustain 502 scholarships they still have $7,000,000 with which to carry on their free educational work for the former soldiers.

The book shows that the organization has grown from 11 men in 1882, when the order originated in New Haven, to 675,000 members, and that it raised and expended $2,500,000 for educational and relief work before the war.

Among the minor points of interest brought out by Egan and Kennedy is the claim of the world's record for doughnut baking. After adopting special methods the Knights turned out 5,000,000 doughnuts in ten weeks for the Army of Occupation centering around Coblenz.

FISHING LICENSES

And the Two Classes of Fishermen Who Are Required To Procure Them.

The Department of Inland Fisheries and Game is receiving many inquiries as to whom the Maine fishing license laws apply, the approach of the fishing season always bringing a flood of such questions.

It is explained by the department that there are but two classes of fishermen who are required to procure the $2.15 license: First, all non-residents of the State, 14 years of age and over; second, all unaturalized, foreign born residents who have not resided in Maine for at least two years continuously previous to the time they desire to fish and who are not tax payers upon real estate in this State. These licenses may be procured by application to the office of the commissioner at the State House or to any of his agents, the licenses being on sale by many town clerks and wardens in the fishing regions.

Resident citizens also unaturalized, foreign born residents who have resided in Maine for at least two years previous to the time they desire to fish and who are tax payers upon real estate in Maine, are not required to procure fishing licenses, although they come under the provisions of the hunter's registration certificate, fee 25 cents, of their town clerk before they can hunt any wild bird or wild animal or have same or firearms in their possession.

The same unaturalized, foreign born residents who are required to procure the $2.15 fishing license come under the provisions of the $15 alien resident hunting license law—must equip themselves with this hunting license before they can hunt any wild bird or animal or carry firearms.

STONECUTTERS' STRIKE

Stonington Quarry Only One in Maine Where Work Is Still in Progress.

The stone cutters' strike which began on the first of April is still unsettled. It affects the whole New England district, and is particularly damaging in Maine. Every quarry in the State, with the exception of the one in Stonington, has stopped operation. At North Jay, where much important work has been ordered, the strike is especially disastrous. Contracts for much big construction work are being held up, including one for the National bank in Cleveland, Ohio.

During the fall of 1919, the manufacturers and workmen came to an agreement whereby the workmen were to get $6.40 a day, beginning on April 1, 1920. In January, however, the workmen sent out notice that on April first they were to receive $1 an hour or $8 a day. On receiving this notice a committee from the manufacturers met a committee from the workmen, and these two bodies agreed to wages of $6.40 a day until September first, at which time the pay would be raised to $1 an hour. The men, however, on hearing the report of their committee, voted against such a settlement, and when on April first the manufacturers would pay no more than the agreed $6.40 a day, they left work and have not returned.

TOUGH AND TENDER

Prof. Freeman's Tips As To What Cuts of Meat To Select.

(Extracts from an address on "Cuts of Meat and Their Uses," by Prof. Francis R. Freeman.)

The cuts of meat may be roughly divided into two classes, tough and tender. The toughness may be due to the amount and kind of connective tissue or to the fact that slaughterhouse changes which follow slaughtering have not taken place. The connective tissue increases in amount and toughness with age and hard work. For this reason the porterhouse steak, cut from the back where the muscles are little used, is much tender than the round cut from the leg, where the muscles are in constant use.

The effect of heat upon protein is to coagulate it and if a high temperature is used it becomes hard and tough. Therefore a high temperature is used only at the beginning of the cooking process to form a coating over the outside, which will retain the juices and then the heat should be lowered so that the meat will not be toughened. The purposes of cooking meat are to develop flavor, improve appearance, kill any living organisms and soften the connective tissues if they are present in large amounts.

The effect of heat on connective tissue depends on whether dry or moist heat is applied. Dry heat shrinks and hardens it to a remarkable degree illustrating what happens when a tough cut is broiled or roasted. If a similar piece was placed in water and simmered for a long time, the fibers would fall apart and when the broth was cooled it would set more or less solidly. Moist heat acts on the connective tissue, forming gelatine. The flavor is much more highly developed in meat cooked by dry heat. So we prefer the broiled steak or the roast if the meat is a tender cut; if it is a tough cut, the pot roast, meat loaf or stew.

The most tender and most expensive cuts lie just back of the middle of the backbone, decreasing in value as their extremity is approached. The best part of the forequarter is taken from the ribs and is usually cut into roasts, which may be cooked by dry heat. The fore-quarter includes the chuck, neck, etc., and belongs to the tough cuts so they must either be ground or cooked by moist heat as in pot roasts, stews, braising and soups. The cuts are fully as nutritious as the more expensive ones and if properly cooked at low temperatures and well seasoned, they offer an excellent means of reducing the cost of food.

The most expensive and tender cut in the hind quarter comes from the short ribs in front of the hips and is known as the porterhouse cut. This cut is made up partly of the tenderloin muscle and partly of the sirloin. Where the tenderloin muscle ends the loin cuts begin and extend back to the rump cut. These are suitable for broiling. The rump piece is ordinarily cut into steaks which usually need the application of some moist heat to make them tender, depending on location of cut.

Below the rump lies the round, that has little waste and good flavor, cooked best by moist heat or grilling. The price on meat is regulated by its tenderness rather than by its nutritive value. The tougher cuts require more skill in preparation, more time and more fuel, although usually the cost of extra fuel does not equal the extra cost of the tender meat.

LENS LIST REVISED

Autos Should Not Carry Electric Bulbs Over 24 C. P.

The list of lenses approved by the Public Utilities Commission for use on automobiles and other motor vehicles in Maine has been revised, several additions having been made since the first list was published several weeks ago. The list now includes the following:

Control: McBeth; Holophane; McKee; Clamert, Type A; Clamert, Clamert, Type B; Violet Ray; Osgood; National; Noglare; Patterson; Lenz; Legalle; Dillon; Conophore; yellow and clear; Liberty; Sunway; Lenz; Safelite; Sunlight; Rayless.

It has been erroneously understood by many that all lenses not on this list of approved lenses are barred from use in Maine. That is true only to the extent that they have not been presented for testing or not yet formally approved by the commission.

A lens frosted or sandblasted one inch below the center of the electric light bulb is also permissible, under ruling of the commission.

No bulb shall be used over 24 candle power or equivalent wattage. But two lenses have so far been rejected by the Public Utilities Commission for use in Maine, the Warner and Morelight.

ATTENTION, SHRINERS!

The annual field day of Kora Temple will be held this year at Poland Springs. The Rickers, in their characteristic generosity, have tendered the use of the grounds, and everything that goes with it, free of charge, and our Banquet Committee will serve a Dutch lunch during the noon hour to the Nobles, free of charge also. Sports and games of all sorts will fill up the day at Poland Springs until about 5 o'clock, when cars will be taken for the Temple at Lewiston, where at 6 o'clock one of the banquet committee's famous dinners will be served with the Ceremonial taking place in the evening.

At the next session of the Imperial Council, to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 23-24, an effort will be made to have the minimum fee for initiation into the Mystic Shrine raised to $100. If this goes through it will very seriously affect Kora Temple. Nobles will confer a favor on a novice, as well as Kora Temple, by urging him to send his application in at this meeting, while the price remains at $50.

The March Ceremonial, in Portland, was a splendid success. In Portland, were conducted over the hot sands of the desert. Let's make this June meeting even better.

"IT HAS NO EQUAL" DECLARES LATHAM

Both Himself and Wife Are Wonderfully Restored By Taking Tanlac.

"My wife and myself both feel very grateful for what Tanlac has done for us," said Fred Latham, 160 Grant street, Portland, Me., recently when telling of the benefits they had received from Tanlac.

"As for my own case," said Mr. Latham "I had suffered for ten years with the worst sort of stomach trouble, and my appetite was so poor I just had to force down every mouthful I ate. I would bloat terribly with gas after every meal and have such cramping pains in my stomach I could hardly stand them. I was extremely nervous, couldn't sleep at all well and always got up in the morning feeling so tired and bad I just hated to go to work. In fact, I felt tired and worn out all the time."

"I heard so many people praising Tanlac that I decided to try it, and I feel just like a new man since I started taking it. I have a splendid appetite and eat anything I want without having a sign of pain or indigestion afterwards. My nerves are in such fine shape now I sleep all night long without waking and I always get up in the morning feeling rested and ready for my day's work."

"My wife has as much cause to praise Tanlac as I have, for before she started taking it she had been in a very bad state of health for twelve years. She was intensely nervous and had such dreadful headaches that I thought at times she would go distracted. Why she was so nervous and racked with pain that some nights she never slept more than ten minutes and she had gotten so weak it was almost impossible for her to do her housework."

"Well, she started taking Tanlac along with me and began to improve almost at once. The headaches have completely left her, her nerves are in fine condition, she sleeps all night long as peacefully as a child and has regained her strength so she can do her housework without the least worry or trouble. In fact, she has not enjoyed such good health in years and feels just like I do, that there is no medicine equal to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Rockland by Corner Drug Store, F. M. White & Co., Vinalhaven, Whitney & Brackett, Thomaston, and by the leading druggist in every town.

EMPIRE THEATRE

An unusually realistic sea picture, "The Hell Ship," is today's feature with Madeline Travers as the heroine, Paula Humphrey, who takes command by force of a tramp schooner left by her father—who is killed in a mutiny—quells the crew and is herself quelled by love. Only to find that there is a greater prize than love.

"Walls of Flame" is the title of the Lightning Bryce episode. Next week will see a continuation of this theatre's strong picture programs, the opening feature being "The Law of Men," with Enid Bennett starring. "The law of men is known to Laura Dayne, an ambitious young sculptress courted by a young artist, Dennis Connors. Her limited contact with the social world causes her to be unsuspicious when a decadent architect, Pamison Keene, lures her to Tarrytown for one night, promising the consummation of her fondest ambition, the placing of her work in a municipal building next day, though she has glimpsed Keene's character. He has just had the artist paint a miniature of a foolish woman, the wife of a dear old friend, Benton Wade. Laura goes to the Tarrytown Inn and walks into a nice trap set for her. Keene uses all his disarming wiles in vain, for Laura puts up such a desperate struggle that he is forced by the manager to release her. Overwhelmed by a sense of her own folly, she goes directly to the artist and sets his pugnacity afire with her story. He breaks away from her in a fury and visits the hotel of Keene, and uses such threatening language that she is ejected by the house detectives. The artist returns to his own room, discomfited and urges a quick marriage as the only protection for Laura. She accepts, but Connors is arrested for murder just after the ceremony. Keene has been murdered. From this point the story works to a most interesting climax.—Adv.

You Can't Help Liking This Range

The GOLD MEDAL GLENWOOD is in reality a combination range consisting of two complete ranges using different fuels, with neither one interfering in any manner with the other.

Coal supplies the fuel for one, and gas for the other. So far as the use of these two fuels is concerned, it is exactly as though you had a coal range and a gas range. The difference is that they occupy the same floor space instead of being two separate ranges in two different parts of the kitchen.

You may use the coal and the gas at the same time, or either one without the other. You have gas in warm weather and coal in cold weather. But at any time you wish to do more baking or more cooking, you have the advantage of using both fuels and both ovens at the same time.

It responds to your cooking art so quickly and efficiently, you will find that cooking is one of the greatest pleasures in your home.

SMART BELFAST GIRL

Miss Abbie Doak Is Head Nurse In a Michigan Hospital.

Miss Abbie Doak, a Belfast girl, is head nurse in the hospital connected with University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, a position which she is filling with credit to her training at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, from which she was graduated a few years ago and where she served on the nursing staff for some time.

Like other nurses she was anxious when the war broke out, to go to France, and joined a unit at "Peter" and for months was busy with Red Cross work in Boston, assisting and instructing classes in the making of dressings for France. She waited orders to sail, but the signing of the armistice prevented.

Miss Doak was then sent to Cape May, and served for several months at the military hospital. Later she went to the famous Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where such wonderful work is being done for the wounded and almost helpless cases. There she learned the greatest of all lessons in life, cheerfulness in face of the most awful suffering and loss of limbs.

Miss Doak is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Doak of Belfast, and is a graduate of the Belfast High School.
