

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity and strength and whiteness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and can be sold in competition with the quality of low test, short weight kind of cheap powder. Sold only in the Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall Street, New York.

Professional Cards, &c.

H. H. ELDER,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Boston, Mass.

JAMES S. WRIGHT,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Paris, Maine.

THOMAS A. HENNEY,
Counsellors at Law,
Buckfield, Maine.

JOHN H. THANN,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Dixfield, Maine.

ADAMSON E. HERRICK,
Attorney at Law,
Bethel, Maine.

S. B. HUTCHINS,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Humboldt, Maine.

H. C. DAVIS,
Attorney at Law,
Paris, Maine.

E. S. HARDY,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Andover, Maine.

FRANK E. GIBBS,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Canton, Maine.

PEARCE & STEARNS,
Attorneys & Counsellors at Law,
Norway, Maine.

H. M. BRADSHAW,
Attorney & Counsellor at Law,
Maine, N. L.

J. H. HOLDEN & JONES,
Physicians and Surgeons,
South Paris, Me.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

DR. J. W. DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon,
Paris, Maine.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

VOLUME LIII.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Our Country Home.
Every farmer ought to have a garden, and a good one. But it is a fact that not all farmers do. Why? Well, because the most of them have got the idea into their heads that "it doesn't pay."

Now, I know it does pay. If you have a good garden and that is the only kind you ought to have, there is no part of the farm that pays better. You may not raise much to sell from it, but you can raise a large share of the family living from it. And so far as the family should go without the luxuries of fresh vegetables in winter, farming that brings in the most money is not always the kind that pays best. The health and enjoyment of the family is, or should be, the first consideration, always. But, I am sorry to say that a great many ignore this in practice, if not in theory.

We are naturally fond of a variety of food. Our health demands this. A well-stocked garden enables us to gratify our appetites, and our natural appetites for good things we ought never to be ashamed of. These things were created for us.

Too often the farmer's table is so lacking in variety that there is little relief for the food provided. Day after day the same things are cooked and eaten until they become tiresome. Now, if a good variety of vegetables in the garden, there may be such a change in the bill of fare as to make it always attractive. The women of the house will see to it if you place the means at their disposal.

Most men say they "don't like to putter" in a garden. There is no need of "puttering," you go to work right. With a hand cultivator and a seed-sower, the work is greatly reduced. Give the land a thorough plowing to begin with. Sow your vegetables in rows, and facilitate the work of the cultivator between them. There will be very little hand-weeding to be done, as is necessary when the old system of planting in "beds" is adhered to. An hour's work, three times a week, will keep you apace in good condition if labor-saving appliances are used.

On a small piece of ground vegetables enough can be grown to supply a family all through the season, and last through the winter. Have you thought what a variety of food such a garden will afford? Beans, peas, tomatoes, cucumbers, eggplants, pumpkins, cabbages, saffron, onions, asparagus, squashes, sweet corn, why, list it all over once, and ask yourself if you can afford to go without them. The means may be had for so little expense and labor.

The farmer and his family ought to live better than any other class of people, except those who have money to gratify every want. He has the means to do so at hand if he will make use of them. Try it.

MAINE EXPERIMENT STATION.
BULLETIN NO. 7.

There is presented in this bulletin the results of the analyses of a single sample of nearly every kind of fertilizer sold in this State this year. Two more samples of each brand will be analyzed and reported as soon as possible.

Those who desire to understand the significance of the "estimated values" should give Bulletin No. 6 (published in this department two or three weeks since) a careful reading.

The first table gives a description of the samples, and the second table gives a statement of the results of the analyses of the samples. Sample No. 112, for instance, refers to the same fertilizer in both tables, and so of 113 and 114, etc., etc.

Health, pleasure, comfort and economy, are against the planting of trees so near the dwelling as to bury it, or any considerable part of it in shade. True, for a brief period of possible sunshine and drought comfort may be gained from the dwelling being closely shrouded in shadow, but it should not be forgotten that there is far more of the latter months than there is of the former coming from the sunshine and that with this pleasure there is added the health and strength of the inmates of the dwelling. Plant trees so that they give them room for a full development.

The sugar maple is a beautiful tree when young, but it should be remembered that it is, comparatively, a short-lived tree. For graceful beauty, long life and great size combined, there is nothing to be compared to our American elm. The lines of aged elm trees, of enormous size, to be seen in some of our New England towns and cities are a living testimony in favor of this tree. If trees are to be planted for quick returns of beauty and shade, the sugar maple is to be compared to the elm, but it is hoped that the demand for good trees will be met by manufacturers located in the apple districts. It sometimes pays farmers to do what others neglect to do, rather than rush into speculation, but everybody else is rushing into, yet at other times there is something to be gained by associated effort. Apple buyers will often pass by the small orchards and seek to the cities where they can buy by the carload. New, clean barrels of uniform size, are far more desirable and satisfactory to all parties than the second-hand packages used in districts not specially devoted to apple growing. The manufacture of apple barrels should be added to the industries of New England.

Could Mr. T. S. Gold have procured good barrels near at home he would have avoided a considerable portion of the loss from his late experiment in shipping apples to England.—N. E. Farmer.

Nine to eleven eggs are enough to put under a hen, but later in the season thirty may be set. It is always best to set several eggs at a time and after they have been sitting eight or ten days the eggs should be tested and infertile (clear) ones removed. If there should be many, what are left can be doubled up and fresh eggs put under part of the brood.

The eggs should be examined every day, and if any have been broken so as to smear the others they should be thrown away. If water is about the same temperature of the eggs and put back under the hen.

It is best, if you are raising both light and dark colored chickens to set some of both kinds at the same time; then when they hatch give to each hen part dark and part light ones—then they cannot tell which ones are theirs, as sometimes if you throw away the partridge. Put them in the kitchen with the other chickens fed, and let them cook; they are of value to the poultry, and help make the variety.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am so weary of life's changeful duties! The tasks recurring day by day the same; Oh, to escape the thrall of these, the service of work neglected. Conscience cannot blame.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMP.
Scout's camp on Pleasant Island stands. Nowhere may be truer rest. In Nature's arms, as in this vale. On Fair Cup's mountain's breast. The sunlight warms the hillside hills. And glides the clouds, whose shadows kiss the barren falls, its discords cease.

From the forest, where the water's shade, A tree from care as true, light poised Beneath the water's shade, I would not care to roam; For in this island I find The rest and peace of home.

AMONG THE "MOONSHINERS."
A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF A CROOKED DISTILLERY.

During the winter of 1882 I was detailed on special duty in one of the backwoods counties of North Carolina, where the "Moonshiners" plied his vocation, to the "whereabouts" and exact locality, if possible, or two or three illicit distilleries in that section.

The country was mountainous and rough. The people were uncouth, uneducated, and cared little for law or order. One of their cardinal principles was to "beat" the government out of every cent they could, and this they considered no harm.

I had been out a week and had met with very poor success. I had not definitely spotted any still, but had encountered one of two parties whom I thought would bear watching. I decided, however, to go on further down the river, where I supposed to be located, and leave the others for some future time.

Near the close of a raw, cold day in December, after a hard day's ride, I drew rein at the gate of a house more pretentious than was usual in that neighborhood. It was a large two-story building, neatly painted, and with well-kept yards. A general air of prosperity prevailed.

I halted at the gate, and a tall, rather handsome gentleman, of pleasing address, about 50 years of age came out. I introduced myself, and asked him if I could stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," he replied; "we will be glad of your company. We seldom meet with strangers here, but they are the more welcome."

A boy was called and instructed to take my horse and put him up, while I and my host went into the house. I found that my host's name was Wetherly of whom I had heard as one of the leading men in the county in all matters of public interest. His neighbors all held him in high repute and his opinion was sought upon all vexed questions.

In the house we entered a neatly furnished room, where a bright fire sent a cheerful glow into every nook and corner. "Which way are you traveling, and what business brings you into this out-of-the-way place?" asked Mr. Wetherly.

"I have been out on a prospecting tour for a party of Philadelphians, who contemplate purchasing some mining property in this neighborhood," I replied.

He did not tell me my real errand, for it was a dangerous business for a revenue man to go into that part of the country. The people hated them worse than the did the rattlesnakes which playfully abounded among the hills and caverns of that wild region, and would hesitate not much less to kill him.

Mr. Wetherly was about to question me further when his wife entered the room. She was a comely woman, apparently about ten years the junior of her husband, very intelligent. She announced that supper was ready, and we repaired to the dinner-room.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am so weary of life's changeful duties! The tasks recurring day by day the same; Oh, to escape the thrall of these, the service of work neglected. Conscience cannot blame.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMP.
Scout's camp on Pleasant Island stands. Nowhere may be truer rest. In Nature's arms, as in this vale. On Fair Cup's mountain's breast. The sunlight warms the hillside hills. And glides the clouds, whose shadows kiss the barren falls, its discords cease.

From the forest, where the water's shade, A tree from care as true, light poised Beneath the water's shade, I would not care to roam; For in this island I find The rest and peace of home.

AMONG THE "MOONSHINERS."
A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF A CROOKED DISTILLERY.

During the winter of 1882 I was detailed on special duty in one of the backwoods counties of North Carolina, where the "Moonshiners" plied his vocation, to the "whereabouts" and exact locality, if possible, or two or three illicit distilleries in that section.

The country was mountainous and rough. The people were uncouth, uneducated, and cared little for law or order. One of their cardinal principles was to "beat" the government out of every cent they could, and this they considered no harm.

I had been out a week and had met with very poor success. I had not definitely spotted any still, but had encountered one of two parties whom I thought would bear watching. I decided, however, to go on further down the river, where I supposed to be located, and leave the others for some future time.

Near the close of a raw, cold day in December, after a hard day's ride, I drew rein at the gate of a house more pretentious than was usual in that neighborhood. It was a large two-story building, neatly painted, and with well-kept yards. A general air of prosperity prevailed.

I halted at the gate, and a tall, rather handsome gentleman, of pleasing address, about 50 years of age came out. I introduced myself, and asked him if I could stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," he replied; "we will be glad of your company. We seldom meet with strangers here, but they are the more welcome."

A boy was called and instructed to take my horse and put him up, while I and my host went into the house. I found that my host's name was Wetherly of whom I had heard as one of the leading men in the county in all matters of public interest. His neighbors all held him in high repute and his opinion was sought upon all vexed questions.

In the house we entered a neatly furnished room, where a bright fire sent a cheerful glow into every nook and corner. "Which way are you traveling, and what business brings you into this out-of-the-way place?" asked Mr. Wetherly.

"I have been out on a prospecting tour for a party of Philadelphians, who contemplate purchasing some mining property in this neighborhood," I replied.

He did not tell me my real errand, for it was a dangerous business for a revenue man to go into that part of the country. The people hated them worse than the did the rattlesnakes which playfully abounded among the hills and caverns of that wild region, and would hesitate not much less to kill him.

Mr. Wetherly was about to question me further when his wife entered the room. She was a comely woman, apparently about ten years the junior of her husband, very intelligent. She announced that supper was ready, and we repaired to the dinner-room.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am so weary of life's changeful duties! The tasks recurring day by day the same; Oh, to escape the thrall of these, the service of work neglected. Conscience cannot blame.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMP.
Scout's camp on Pleasant Island stands. Nowhere may be truer rest. In Nature's arms, as in this vale. On Fair Cup's mountain's breast. The sunlight warms the hillside hills. And glides the clouds, whose shadows kiss the barren falls, its discords cease.

From the forest, where the water's shade, A tree from care as true, light poised Beneath the water's shade, I would not care to roam; For in this island I find The rest and peace of home.

AMONG THE "MOONSHINERS."
A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF A CROOKED DISTILLERY.

During the winter of 1882 I was detailed on special duty in one of the backwoods counties of North Carolina, where the "Moonshiners" plied his vocation, to the "whereabouts" and exact locality, if possible, or two or three illicit distilleries in that section.

The country was mountainous and rough. The people were uncouth, uneducated, and cared little for law or order. One of their cardinal principles was to "beat" the government out of every cent they could, and this they considered no harm.

I had been out a week and had met with very poor success. I had not definitely spotted any still, but had encountered one of two parties whom I thought would bear watching. I decided, however, to go on further down the river, where I supposed to be located, and leave the others for some future time.

Near the close of a raw, cold day in December, after a hard day's ride, I drew rein at the gate of a house more pretentious than was usual in that neighborhood. It was a large two-story building, neatly painted, and with well-kept yards. A general air of prosperity prevailed.

I halted at the gate, and a tall, rather handsome gentleman, of pleasing address, about 50 years of age came out. I introduced myself, and asked him if I could stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," he replied; "we will be glad of your company. We seldom meet with strangers here, but they are the more welcome."

A boy was called and instructed to take my horse and put him up, while I and my host went into the house. I found that my host's name was Wetherly of whom I had heard as one of the leading men in the county in all matters of public interest. His neighbors all held him in high repute and his opinion was sought upon all vexed questions.

In the house we entered a neatly furnished room, where a bright fire sent a cheerful glow into every nook and corner. "Which way are you traveling, and what business brings you into this out-of-the-way place?" asked Mr. Wetherly.

"I have been out on a prospecting tour for a party of Philadelphians, who contemplate purchasing some mining property in this neighborhood," I replied.

He did not tell me my real errand, for it was a dangerous business for a revenue man to go into that part of the country. The people hated them worse than the did the rattlesnakes which playfully abounded among the hills and caverns of that wild region, and would hesitate not much less to kill him.

Mr. Wetherly was about to question me further when his wife entered the room. She was a comely woman, apparently about ten years the junior of her husband, very intelligent. She announced that supper was ready, and we repaired to the dinner-room.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am so weary of life's changeful duties! The tasks recurring day by day the same; Oh, to escape the thrall of these, the service of work neglected. Conscience cannot blame.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMP.
Scout's camp on Pleasant Island stands. Nowhere may be truer rest. In Nature's arms, as in this vale. On Fair Cup's mountain's breast. The sunlight warms the hillside hills. And glides the clouds, whose shadows kiss the barren falls, its discords cease.

From the forest, where the water's shade, A tree from care as true, light poised Beneath the water's shade, I would not care to roam; For in this island I find The rest and peace of home.

AMONG THE "MOONSHINERS."
A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF A CROOKED DISTILLERY.

During the winter of 1882 I was detailed on special duty in one of the backwoods counties of North Carolina, where the "Moonshiners" plied his vocation, to the "whereabouts" and exact locality, if possible, or two or three illicit distilleries in that section.

The country was mountainous and rough. The people were uncouth, uneducated, and cared little for law or order. One of their cardinal principles was to "beat" the government out of every cent they could, and this they considered no harm.

I had been out a week and had met with very poor success. I had not definitely spotted any still, but had encountered one of two parties whom I thought would bear watching. I decided, however, to go on further down the river, where I supposed to be located, and leave the others for some future time.

Near the close of a raw, cold day in December, after a hard day's ride, I drew rein at the gate of a house more pretentious than was usual in that neighborhood. It was a large two-story building, neatly painted, and with well-kept yards. A general air of prosperity prevailed.

I halted at the gate, and a tall, rather handsome gentleman, of pleasing address, about 50 years of age came out. I introduced myself, and asked him if I could stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," he replied; "we will be glad of your company. We seldom meet with strangers here, but they are the more welcome."

A boy was called and instructed to take my horse and put him up, while I and my host went into the house. I found that my host's name was Wetherly of whom I had heard as one of the leading men in the county in all matters of public interest. His neighbors all held him in high repute and his opinion was sought upon all vexed questions.

In the house we entered a neatly furnished room, where a bright fire sent a cheerful glow into every nook and corner. "Which way are you traveling, and what business brings you into this out-of-the-way place?" asked Mr. Wetherly.

"I have been out on a prospecting tour for a party of Philadelphians, who contemplate purchasing some mining property in this neighborhood," I replied.

He did not tell me my real errand, for it was a dangerous business for a revenue man to go into that part of the country. The people hated them worse than the did the rattlesnakes which playfully abounded among the hills and caverns of that wild region, and would hesitate not much less to kill him.

Mr. Wetherly was about to question me further when his wife entered the room. She was a comely woman, apparently about ten years the junior of her husband, very intelligent. She announced that supper was ready, and we repaired to the dinner-room.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am so weary of life's changeful duties! The tasks recurring day by day the same; Oh, to escape the thrall of these, the service of work neglected. Conscience cannot blame.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMP.
Scout's camp on Pleasant Island stands. Nowhere may be truer rest. In Nature's arms, as in this vale. On Fair Cup's mountain's breast. The sunlight warms the hillside hills. And glides the clouds, whose shadows kiss the barren falls, its discords cease.

From the forest, where the water's shade, A tree from care as true, light poised Beneath the water's shade, I would not care to roam; For in this island I find The rest and peace of home.

AMONG THE "MOONSHINERS."
A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF A CROOKED DISTILLERY.

During the winter of 1882 I was detailed on special duty in one of the backwoods counties of North Carolina, where the "Moonshiners" plied his vocation, to the "whereabouts" and exact locality, if possible, or two or three illicit distilleries in that section.

The country was mountainous and rough. The people were uncouth, uneducated, and cared little for law or order. One of their cardinal principles was to "beat" the government out of every cent they could, and this they considered no harm.

I had been out a week and had met with very poor success. I had not definitely spotted any still, but had encountered one of two parties whom I thought would bear watching. I decided, however, to go on further down the river, where I supposed to be located, and leave the others for some future time.

Near the close of a raw, cold day in December, after a hard day's ride, I drew rein at the gate of a house more pretentious than was usual in that neighborhood. It was a large two-story building, neatly painted, and with well-kept yards. A general air of prosperity prevailed.

I halted at the gate, and a tall, rather handsome gentleman, of pleasing address, about 50 years of age came out. I introduced myself, and asked him if I could stay all night.

"Certainly, sir," he replied; "we will be glad of your company. We seldom meet with strangers here, but they are the more welcome."

A boy was called and instructed to take my horse and put him up, while I and my host went into the house. I found that my host's name was Wetherly of whom I had heard as one of the leading men in the county in all matters of public interest. His neighbors all held him in high repute and his opinion was sought upon all vexed questions.

In the house we entered a neatly furnished room, where a bright fire sent a cheerful glow into every nook and corner. "Which way are you traveling, and what business brings you into this out-of-the-way place?" asked Mr. Wetherly.

"I have been out on a prospecting tour for a party of Philadelphians, who contemplate purchasing some mining property in this neighborhood," I replied.

He did not tell me my real errand, for it was a dangerous business for a revenue man to go into that part of the country. The people hated them worse than the did the rattlesnakes which playfully abounded among the hills and caverns of that wild region, and would hesitate not much less to kill him.

Mr. Wetherly was about to question me further when his wife entered the room. She was a comely woman, apparently about ten years the junior of her husband, very intelligent. She announced that supper was ready, and we repaired to the dinner-room.

PARIS, MAINE, TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1886.

For the OXFORD DEMOCRAT. A BLESSING.

BY F. A. G.
Just here to lie among the cool, green grasses, With Care loosed from the neck of Thought; A sweet, sweet balm in every breeze that caught.

With glimpses of an azure dome above me, And gray petal clouds that blending idly float in Nature's breeze, as in this vale. They are my friends, to cheer, to please and love me. Shading in their own little way my dream.

I am

A Republican State Convention

will be held at City Hall, Lewiston, Wednesday, June 9,
at 10 o'clock, A. M.

For the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor to be supported at the September election, and transacting any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for each seventy-five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1934 an additional delegate, and for a fraction of forty votes in excess of seventy-five votes, an additional delegate.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

All delegates of Maine who are favor of maintaining a Protective Tariff, who will join in the signing of the Declaration of Intent, and who are in favor of the maintenance of the tariff on wool, will be entitled to vote on the question of the tariff.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the day of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

MAY TERM, 1936.

Hon. Wm. Wirt Virgin, Justice Presiding.

Albert S. Austin, Clerk.

JAMES S. WRIGHT, County Attorney.

JORDAN STACY, Sheriff.

WOODBURY PETERSEN, Stenographer.

WILLIAM A. BARROWS, Messenger.

At ten o'clock last Tuesday morning, the 4th inst., Judge Virgin opened the May term of Court at Paris.

Rev. A. G. Fitz, of South Paris, offered prayer, after which the remainder of the forenoon was consumed by calling the docket and assignment of cases for trial.

There was a good attendance of lawyers, including Hon. David Hammond, Hon. Richard A. Fry, Samuel F. Gibson and Addison E. Herrick, of Bethel; Hon. John P. Sweeney and Frank E. Gibbs, of Canton; Hon. Edward S. Hardy, of Andover; Hon. George D. Buebe, of East Newham; and Thomas S. Brigham, of Buckfield; Hiram A. Randall and John R. Traak, of Dixfield; Hon. David R. Hastings and Edward E. Hastings, of Fryeburg; Edward C. Walker, of Lovell; Hon. Alfred S. Kimball, Charles E. Holt, Henry Upton, Seward S. Stearns and Charles F. Whitman, of Norway; F. R. Andrews, Benjamin G. Hall and George Hazen, of Oxford; James S. Austin, Herrick C. Davis, Col. Albert S. Wright and Samuel R. Carter, of Paris; Hon. George A. Wilson, of South Paris; Sullivan R. Hutchins, of Ramoth; C. A. Chaplin, of Harrison; Hon. David Dunn, of Poland; and Hon. Sebastian S. Marble, of Waldoboro.

The Court was in session from Tuesday morning until the following Thursday afternoon. Although the session was a short one, no jury being present, a large amount of business was dispatched and about eighty new entries were made on the docket.

The following cases were taken up:

106. Sewell Goff vs. Seth Braden, John N. Braden, Isaac Braden and John Mitchell.

In this case Judge Virgin gave a hearing upon the objections to the acceptance of the report of referee. Objections overruled. Report accepted. Exceptions allowed and filed. Case carried up to Law Court.

127. Sarah J. Chapman, libellant, vs. Sewell Chapman.

Upton and Sweeney for libellant. Frye for defendent. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of adultery.

141. Ebenezer T. Nutter, Daniel Hilton, Almon Young, Peter H. Young, Charles Haskins, David R. Hastings and David Hammond, vs. Stephen Taylor and Lewiston Steam Mill Company.

Hammons for plaintiff. Sweeney and Buebe & Hersey for defendent.

This is the famous Byron line case which was tried at Bethel before referee and reported in full in the DEMOCRAT a few weeks since. The report of the referee was filed and a motion for the acceptance of the report made. Objections overruled. Exceptions allowed and filed. The case goes to the Law Court.

142. Cybele E. Faurer, libellant, vs. Alpheus L. Faurer.

Dunn for libellant. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of adultery.

207. Albert D. White vs. Gilman L. Blake and others.

Buebe & Hersey for plaintiff; Frye for Blake.

This is a case founded on Sheriff's bond. The case was heard by Judge Virgin and goes to the Law Court on agreed statement.

241. William Gregg, petitioner for custody of child, vs. Jennie C. Young.

Brigham for petitioner; Buebe & Hersey for defendent.

Case heard and decreed made as per agreement on file, relieving petitioner from payments toward support of child and allowing him to visit child at proper times.

249. Alphon P. Hutchinson and George C. Russell vs. Alpheus Packard and Canton Driving Association.

Sweeney for plaintiff; Gibbs for principal defendent.

This was an action of assumpsit. Judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $106.68.

251. Henrietta L. Page, libellant, vs. John W. Page.

Sweeney for libellant. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of utter desertion for three years.

262. Llewellyn Haggood vs. Walter Buebe.

Chaplin for plaintiff; Buebe & Stearns for defendent.

Judgment for plaintiff $22.05 and lien on property attached.

262. Sarah A. Woodbury, libellant, vs. Alden Woodbury.

Buebe & Stearns for libellant. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of utter desertion for three years.

311. Thomas J. Andrews vs. John Noyes.

Buebe & Hersey for plaintiff; Dunn for defendent.

Action on promissory note. Judgment for plaintiff $201.60.

367. George A. French, libellant, vs. Arvilla French.

Kimball for libellant. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of utter desertion for five years.

391. George R. Hammond vs. Geo. W. Ryne and others.

Wright for plaintiff.

Action for lien for labor on Pulp Mill at Snow's Falls. Judgment for enforcement of lien.

292. Emery W. Mason vs. George R. Hammond and Mason.

Wright for plaintiff.

Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of enforcement of lien.

393. George N. Cutting vs. same.

Same judgment.

394. David A. Marston vs. same.

Same judgment.

395. Fred Bennett vs. same.

Same judgment.

447. Edwin D. Mitchell, libellant, vs. Abbie F. Mitchell.

J. J. Lynch for libellant. Hastings & Son for defendent.

Action dismissed without costs.

458. Julia A. Swan, libellant, vs. Leander S. Swan.

Buebe & Hersey for libellant. Divorce decreed nisi for the cause of enforcement of lien.

484. Alfred Cole vs. Wm. C. Hayes.

Buebe & Hersey for plaintiff. J. B. Fiske and Wright for defendent.

Action on account. Motion to dismiss filed. Motion overruled. Exceptions allowed and filed. Case goes to Law Court.

541. Nellie M. Conner, libellant, vs. DeForest Conner.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Castoria is well adapted to children that it is superior to any purgative known to us. It is a safe, reliable, and pleasant medicine. It is a safe, reliable, and pleasant medicine. It is a safe, reliable, and pleasant medicine.

W. A. J. CURTIS, 121 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEW FIRM! NEW GOODS.

WE ARE NOW RECEIVING A NEW STOCK

Spring and Summer Dress Goods, Fancy Goods, Trimmings, Hamburgs, etc.

to which we would call your attention before purchasing elsewhere. Having secured the services of Mr. A. J. Curtis, we shall continue the business as a new line of goods.

Grand Trunk Railway Winter Arrangement.

On and after Nov. 1st, 1904, and until further notice, trains will run as follows:

Route	Train No.	Days	Time
NORFOLK TO PORTLAND	1	Mon., Wed., Fri.	8:00 A.M.
	2	Tue., Thu., Sat.	8:00 A.M.
	3	Mon., Wed., Fri.	1:00 P.M.
	4	Tue., Thu., Sat.	1:00 P.M.
PORTLAND TO NORFOLK	5	Mon., Wed., Fri.	8:00 A.M.
	6	Tue., Thu., Sat.	8:00 A.M.
	7	Mon., Wed., Fri.	1:00 P.M.
	8	Tue., Thu., Sat.	1:00 P.M.

LEWIS B. ANDREWS,

Successor to Andrews & Curtis.

Room Papers, Window Shades, Fixtures, Curtain Poles, Rings, Loops, CORD, TASSELS, FRINGES.

Largest Stock Ever displayed in Oxford County.

PRICES THE LOWEST.

Room Papers Trimmed and Delivered in Norway and No. Paris Free of Charge.

NOYES' DRUG & BOOK STORE, Norway, Maine.

Tobacco! Tobacco!

G. H. PORTER'S, South Paris, Me.

40 Different Kinds, From 30c. to $1.00 a Pound.

ELLIOTT'S Clothing Store,

IS THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR WEARING APPAREL!!

Big Stock! Low Prices!

REMEMBER THE PLACE AT F. Q. ELLIOTT'S Clothing Store, Norway, Me.

JOHNSON'S SADDLERY LINIMENT

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKES NEW, RICH BLOOD.

JOHNSON'S SADDLERY LINIMENT

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKES NEW, RICH BLOOD.

OUR PUZZLE CORNER.

Two naughty lads of Baltimore Resolved to go sea And sail the ocean over and o'er And be at total free.

They shipped on board a whaler, Bound first the foreign seas, They thought to be sailors Would be caught by the seas.

Alack! Alack! These foolish boys Were soon tired of their trip; They found no pleasure and no joy And resolved to leave the ship.

One night it was intensely dark, No stars shone overhead, Yet on ploughed the gallant bark, The captain was in bed.

By working noiselessly and fast A little boat was lowered And into it their clothes they passed, And some food they stored.

Also for two heroes rash, The wind began to blow, The thunder roared, the lightning flashed, And lighted up the sky.

The boat overturned, our heroes sank Beneath the cold dark sea, And this is all we know of them Of the lads who would be free.

GREEN MOUNTAIN BOY.

THE HOME MAKERS' COLUMN.

CHILD'S TABLE DUTY

A decided improvement on the old-fashioned table for children, is made of a wooden board, the desired length to cut two ribs; cut it in half and hollow out at the top. It is better to get the towel all white and make a fancy border in colored worsteds. Bind the peck with white tape and cat-stitch with color. Be careful not to get the towel too wide or the bib will always be over the hands.

A handsome decoration for a rattan rocker would be a cushion covered with plush or embroidered canvas. Put a puff of satin around the edge and cover the seat with small chenille cord. A pillow roll for the head-rest at the back should be made to match, and tied on with ribbons.

Next mats can be made by cutting a stiff piece of woolen goods into the desired shape and crocheting a border of fancy colored yarns.

The few warm days have served to draw the household pests (flies) from their winter quarters. They can be kept out of the house and without the use of fly traps, poisons or papers. Have the door and window screens put on early, and kill every fly as it makes its appearance. For this purpose, a better made of an old newspaper folded in several thicknesses will be found easy to use. Before summer is gone the most timid housewife will be surprised to find what good shots she can become, and will seldom miss a fly at the first hit. Of course, one must not cease to wage war for a single day. From May to October the fly slaughter must go on. But what housekeeper is not willing to work hard in order to keep the plague from the house? I have tried this way for a number of years and have always been satisfied with the result.

A FLY HATER.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of dyspepsia more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

SENDING FLOWERS BY MAIL—RECIPIES.

Before I received a tin box of cut flowers from Oakland, Cal. The flowers were stuck in a halved potato. In that way they were easily removed from the tin without disarrangement. Those who have tried this novel way of sending flowers by mail, would I think, be surprised at the efficiency of the potato. Coming from California to New York, they were in perfect condition. The following recipe is for those who follow simple dishes, and are not fond of elaborate cooking. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato.

USE OF ORANGES.

Oranges are so plentiful at this season, that I copy a few recipes for their use, which may be acceptable to many home-makers. For instance, Marcelline, first was a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato.

MAINE CHRONICLES.

About a year ago a Maine man by the name of Mr. Fitz, a constable in a village, was in the office of a Cincinnati violin manufacturer, looking at some old instruments. "What a beautiful violin!" he said. "This is a very fine instrument." He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale. He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale. He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale.

NOTICE.

The Firm of R. Richardson & Co., General Hardware Dealers, No. 101 So. Main St., Portland, Me., being about to be dissolved by mutual consent, owing to the death of R. Richardson, the said R. Richardson is hereby notified that all claims against the firm, or for the firm, should be presented to the undersigned, who is the surviving partner, at his office, No. 101 So. Main St., Portland, Me., on or before the 1st day of March, 1905.

JOHNSON'S SADDLERY LINIMENT

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKES NEW, RICH BLOOD.

Hundreds of $

I have spent for medicine to cure my Rheumatism without getting any relief until I used a bottle of ALEXANDER'S RHEUMATISM CURE. I have taken six bottles of this medicine, and I am now a well man. By Mr. R. N. PARKER, Worcester, Mass.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA?

Among the many symptoms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion the most prominent are: Variable appetite; faint, gnawing feeling at pit of the stomach, with unsatisfied craving for food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of dyspepsia more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

SENDING FLOWERS BY MAIL—RECIPIES.

Before I received a tin box of cut flowers from Oakland, Cal. The flowers were stuck in a halved potato. In that way they were easily removed from the tin without disarrangement. Those who have tried this novel way of sending flowers by mail, would I think, be surprised at the efficiency of the potato. Coming from California to New York, they were in perfect condition. The following recipe is for those who follow simple dishes, and are not fond of elaborate cooking. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato.

USE OF ORANGES.

Oranges are so plentiful at this season, that I copy a few recipes for their use, which may be acceptable to many home-makers. For instance, Marcelline, first was a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato. It is a simple recipe, and is a pleasant change from the usual potato.

MAINE CHRONICLES.

About a year ago a Maine man by the name of Mr. Fitz, a constable in a village, was in the office of a Cincinnati violin manufacturer, looking at some old instruments. "What a beautiful violin!" he said. "This is a very fine instrument." He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale. He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale. He was given the usual reply that it was a "lost" violin, and that it was not for sale.

NOTICE.

The Firm of R. Richardson & Co., General Hardware Dealers, No. 101 So. Main St., Portland, Me., being about to be dissolved by mutual consent, owing to the death of R. Richardson, the said R. Richardson is hereby notified that all claims against the firm, or for the firm, should be presented to the undersigned, who is the surviving partner, at his office, No. 101 So. Main St., Portland, Me., on or before the 1st day of March, 1905.

JOHNSON'S SADDLERY LINIMENT

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKES NEW, RICH BLOOD.

JOHNSON'S SADDLERY LINIMENT

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS

MAKES NEW, RICH BLOOD.

SULPHUR BITTERS

FOR THE CURE OF RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE BLOOD.

W. A. J. CURTIS, 121 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MONKEYS AT BREAKFAST.

An English gentleman who lived in India during his early life tells an amusing story of some pranks played by monkeys. They were almost as tame and playful as kittens about his home, and says there were a great number of them.

IS YOUR BACK - IS IT ACES - APPLY A HOP PLASTER

What is the use of your back? It is the support of your body, and it is the most important part of your anatomy. It is the support of your body, and it is the most important part of your anatomy. It is the support of your body, and it is the most important part of your anatomy.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM

FOR THE CURE OF DANDRUFF, ITCH, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE SCALP.

PARKER'S TONIC

FOR THE CURE OF ANEMIA, PALENESS, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE BLOOD.

IMPORTANT TO HORSE OWNERS!

SCOTCH OIL

FOR THE CURE OF RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE BLOOD.

SCOTCH OIL

FOR THE CURE OF RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE BLOOD.

FOR A SPRING MEDICINE.

Holden & Jones' TONIC ELIXIR

BEST TONIC AND APPETIZER IN THE MARKET.

HARRY LANE!

Fashionable Tailor!!

One door above Elm House, and opposite Brackett's Branch, Norway Me.

I offer this Fall the Most Complete Assortment of GENTLEMEN'S GARMENTS

Prices to Suit the Customer every time. Also a choice line of Gent's Furnishing Goods.

HARRY LANE.

SPRIT OF '76!

THIS HIGHLY BREWED Messinger and Hambletonian Stallion Will make the Season of 1905, at the stable of the Messinger and Hambletonian Stallion.