A clause in the warrant for school meeting which relates to the repairing of the school house is worthy the consideration of our voters. Give the children the advantage of a pleasant and comfortable school house even if you did not enter the same thought. Civilization has advanced in fifty years and "times do change."

Every one who builds a house should read for two of the eight different cases of the school house. One is entitled, "Suggestions to Those About to Build," and is a very elaborate volume, for which charge of $1 is made. The actual cost of the book is about $2 each, and a charge is necessitated to insure their reaching the right hands. The other is a book of 100 pages, and contains a large number of full page illustrations of ornamental wood panels, overmantels, colonial mantelpieces, etc.
