LITTLE LOCALS.

The dog of a North-end man has a litter of 15 pups.

F. W. Covel, the silver plater, has added two men to his force.

G. F. Ayers & Co. received a cargo of 100 M of lumber from St. John, N. B., Friday.

The C. G. tarantula is dead, the cold, rainy weather proving too austere for his heated southern blood.

Anderson Camp, S. of V., made a small sum from their supper last week. They get up nice suppers.

The winter arrangements of the Knox & Lincoln trains went into effect yesterday. Trains leave here at 8.15 a. m., and 1.15 p. m., arriving here at 11.10 a. m., and 5.10 p. m.

We have been favored with a set of hand-ome little memorandum books by W. S. Con- dell, 306 Washington street, Boston, the New England passenger agent of the Burlington route, the principal line to San Francisco. The books, like everything connected with the road, are gotten up in fine shape.

Elmer S. Bird, the enterprising trader a Bird's Corner, has issued to his customers a handsomely gotten up order book, containing lists of merchandise to be found at his store. It is a very handy thing and a great advertising scheme. It is from the C. G. office.

The three small wooden stores, numbered 293, 295 and 297, Main street, which belonged to the heirs of the late Lucy H. Sanborn, were sold some time since to the Farnsworth heirs who own an interest in the land, for $175. This is a good investment for the purchasers as the stores rent for more than $300 per year, or did at one time.

A little son of a Main street business man toddled into a store the other day and ordered five cents worth of nugatines. The order was filled, and the youngster was stepping off with the candy, when the proprietor asked for the five cents. "Oh, you don't want no money" was the cool answer. 'Twas the best piece of bluff on record.

PERSONAL POINTS

Concerning People Who Are Known in This Vicinity.

E. H. Bartlett is in Boston.

Isaac Hahn is visiting in South Waldoboro.

George Allen has been in town for a few days.

F. B. Wilson of this city is in Hallowell for a few days.

Mrs. G. L. Benner left Friday, en route for St. Helena, Cal.

Joseph Bisbee of West Camden has been granted a release and increase of pension.

Mrs. Calway of Bucksport has moved to this city and occupies G. L. Farrand's new house on Willow street.

O. P. Watts of Thomaston has been selected one of the college jurors at Bowdoin—a position of honor and importance.

Capt. F. F. Norton, at one time in command of schooner Brigadier of this port, captains brig Jennie Hurlburt of Richmond, Me.

Mrs. O. C. Welt and daughter Rosie have returned from Waldoboro, and occupy the house on Middle street, vacated by W. O. Fuller, Jr.

One of the first jobs by Dr. Rafter, Thomaston's new dentist, was the filling of teeth for ex-Cashier Wm. E. Gould, in Thomaston prison.

The popular operetta of "Gyp, Junior" will be presented in Waldoboro, Thursday and Friday of this week, under the direction of Mrs. H. N. Melcher of Thomaston.

Senator Hale, under date of Oct. 3, has written from Germany to a gentleman in Ellsworth, that as soon as he can get his family settled in southern Germany for the winter, he shall leave for home. He expects to sail from Paris about the 23d inst., and reach New York about Nov. 1st.

Miss Fannie Berry of Camden was organ soloist at a musical entertainment in Searsport, Thursday evening. Miss Berry is a very talented organist. Mr. Jordan of Portland, the pleasing baritone, who recently delighted a party of Thomaston people by his singing, also participated.

The Hudson, Mass., Enterprise of Oct. 15th, contains the following account of a surprise party in which a former Rockland man figured as the surprise:

Between thirty and forty friends and relatives of Capt. Freeman H. Jameson surprised him at his residence on Summer street, Wednesday evening, the occasion being his fiftieth birthday. A portion of the evening was devoted to social enjoyment, followed by a beautiful collation, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Directly after the supper Mr. Frank Emery of Waverly, formerly of this town, presented Mr. Jameson with a very fine easy chair in behalf of his son, Walter L. Jameson; a gold pin, emblematic of the Royal Arcanum, of which the recipient is a member, from Mr. Warren White and family; a dining chair from his wife, Mrs. Jameson; two fine meerschaum pipes, one from Mr. Emery and wife, and the other from the gentleman present; a smoking set from his sister-in-law, Mrs. Oliver Jameson; also other smoking paraphernalia and silk handkerchiefs from others present. Mr. Jameson was too much overcome to make any extended remarks, but kindly thanked all for their tokens of friendship, and hoped they might enjoy many similar occasions themselves in the future. Guests from Waverly, Worcester, Natick, Millbury and Marlboro were present. The party broke up at a seasonable hour with many good wishes to the host.

ARAL AGAIN.

Some very exciting races were held at Saugus, Mass., Wednesday. In the 2.27 race for pacers and trotters, F. G. Hastings' Aral met some of the fastest of Massachusetts flyers, and took first money. Aral was 3d in the first heat, 5th in the second, 1st in the third and 2nd in the fourth. The third heat was made in 2.25 1-2. Seven horses came to the wire for the world.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

It requires 750 persons to conduct the business of the Boston, Mass., postoffice.

There will be exhibited at the Mechanics Fair, San Francisco, a stick of timber 151 feet long and 20 inches square.

THAT'S SO.

Gardiner Journal: "The time has gone by for a community to sit quietly down in its easy arm chair, stick its toes up to the fire, light its cigar and wait for some one to come along with capital and enterprise, and beg permission to come in."

STRANGE VISITOR.

While Mrs. J. W. Trussell and family were dining Wednesday a great crashing of glass was heard, and a big and plump hen partridge came through the window, knocking aside the curtain and terribly startling the members of family. The bird was captured being but slightly hurt.

ANOTHER INMATE.

D. J. Starrett, instructor of the State Prison, came on the boat Thursday bringing with him Ida May Hutchins, who is under a sentence of eight years in the State Prison for burning the buildings on the town farm in Atkinson. The girl is but seventeen years of age and is rather simple minded. She has a child three years of age.

EXPENSIVE HORSE.

While Dennis Hare, who occupied and owned the old David Gay house, on the old Thomaston road, was harnessing his horse early Wednesday morning, the animal kicked the lantern, breaking it and setting the hay on fire. The house, barn and contents were burned, a small portion of the furniture being removed. Mr. Hare had an insurance of $900 on the house, $300 on furniture, $250 on the barn and $200 on his hay, the insurance being all with Cochran & Sewall of this city.

BEEN HERE.

Joseph H. Peters, a former resident of this county, and well known to the officers of the law hereabouts, was tried before the Superior Court, at Lawrence, Mass., last week, and was found guilty and sentenced to ten years in the state prison for burglaries committed in Methuen. Peters, under the name of Bert Brandon, has served five years in Charlestown prison, and several sentences in the prison at Thomaston. He has twice broken jail in this state.

NEW LIFE BOATS.

Life boats of a new model which Secretary Whitney has adopted will soon be sent to the life-saving stations on the Maine coast. The boat is twenty-six feet long, seven feet wide and three feet, six inches deep. The frame is of oak and the planking is of white cedar; white mahogany has been exclusively used for the inside casing. There are twenty-six air tight compartments and the protected buoyancy of the boat is equal to 115 cubic feet, more than double that of any boat of the same displacement hitherto built. Not a single nail has been used in the boat's construction. The screws are of brass and the rivets of copper. The boat will be launched next week.

SHARK STORY.

They Gave Him a Hot Lunch—It Cured His Dyspepsia.

A Rockland lime coaster, on a recent trip to New York, was followed by a big shark. Old catch of various kinds was thrown over, which was greedily swallowed by the voracious fish. Finally one of the crew evolved a brilliant idea, and opening one of the casks of lime threw a big lump to the fish, who gulped it down instantly. The lime once swallowed began to slake, and the antics that unfortunate and too confiding shark cut up were wonderful in the extreme. He thrashed about terribly, apparently in great agony, the lime finally causing his death.

Rockland lime is the best in the world when put to its proper uses, but is not recommended for consumption.

STEAMBOAT SPARKS.

The Boston & Bangor Steamship Company is to place a steamer on the line between this city and Bangor, the coming season. She will be a fast boat, finely fitted up and every effort will be made to accommodate the business of the route. The company thinks that the boat will pay and means to try the experiment and see....The boiler has been taken out of the old Morrison....The Bluehill made 14 knots an hour on her trip last Tuesday,—rather good for a "slow" boat, as some have called her....Chas. T. Mason, the accommodating, popular and level-headed clerk of the Mt. Desert, is now called "Grizzly Adams" by the boys over the line. Last week down Sullivan way he shot and killed a bear, and sent the carcass up to Boston to be cut up....The Katahdin hauled off Saturday, and is now in Boston, being put in readiness for the winter business....The M. & M., which runs between this city and Bangor, now makes a Saturday trip. Heretofore the boat has not been running Saturdays....The Boston & Bangor Steamship Company is making arrangements to have the steamer Bluehill touch at Castine after the City of Richmond goes off the Portland and Machias route. The Castine people are much pleased with the scheme.

OUR EDUCATORS.

[All communications for this column should be addressed to Miss L. L. Walker, Box 1335, Rockland.]

QUERIES AND REQUESTS.

For the benefit of a young teacher will Mr. McLean please state in what ways "Holbrook's method of analysis," which he uses, is superior to Patterson's, given in his "Elements of Grammar and Composition."

"Will the editor please tell me how to keep my school quiet?"

"Napoleon said to his officers: 'Give your men plenty to eat and plenty to do, and you will have little trouble in governing them.'" One of our best educators says: 'Keep your pupils interested and busy,' which is the best rule we know for the management of schools."

No portion of school work is more frequently discussed than "Order in the school room," and about none is there a greater variety of opinions. School government is thus defined: "School government is the power of control which trains pupils to habits of self government." Mayo says: "There are two styles of order in the school house, the military and the natural. It is possible to drill a class of children up to a more than clock-work precision of uniform behavior; but, valuable as some of these lessons of military obedience, promptness and precision are, I am confident we should aim at a style deeper and more vital. Your school will not be well or beautifully governed till the majority of your pupils are so enthusiastically engaged in the work at hand that they form a public opinion which compels respectful and orderly behavior in their little community. Your high vocation is to teach these children how to live with each other in American society, each attending faithfully to their own business, and all working together to build up the world's republic—the model country of mankind."

AN OPPORTUNITY

Which We Hope to See Improved by Our Young People.

We have here in our city a most excellent school where our young people can get a perfect fit for business—we refer to our Commercial College. It is a school with an enviable reputation, is a fixture in our city, and whether people realize it or not Rockland is very fortunate in having such an institution. Now besides this our public schools are of the best in New England, with an efficient and carefully selected corps of teachers, giving to the student a symmetrical education from the Primary through the High School.

But this is an age of business and money making and there is a large class of young men and young women who begin work for themselves, leaving our public schools, with only the rudiments of an education. Many of these, by force of circumstances, are driven to take this step, perhaps, but the result is the same—a goodly army of enterprising and energetic young people handicapped by lack of thorough preparation for life. In this class may be found clerks, office boys, young mechanics, etc. Well what can they do? They must work in the day time. Now our Commercial College supplies this need, and in a series of evening schools gives all our young people a chance to get a good, practical knowledge of book-keeping, English studies and acquire a good business hand-writing, while those who wish can study short-hand, which is a sure road to a good position. The instructors of the school are experienced and faithful, and the price of tuition is placed so low that few need plead lack of funds as an excuse. What will it cost? you ask. Consulting one of the announcements we find that a course in book-keeping and English studies, two evenings a week, for twelve weeks, will cost $5; penmanship alone for six weeks, two evenings a week, $3; penmanship, book-keeping and English studies combined, twelve weeks, four evenings a week, $8.

Here is an opportunity for our young people to make an investment that will pay big interest. Save the $3, $5 or $8 that you can easily fritter away in twelve weeks, and get something that will stay with you.

We have said these things because we are interested in the welfare of our younger people. This is not a paid advertisement, the proprietors of the school not even being consulted concerning it. We print it for the good of our city, the school, and particularly for the good of the coming citizens of Rockland.

STILL UNIDENTIFIED.

Police Officer Keller of Camden received a photograph Wednesday night of Earl J. Douglass, the missing man of Clinton, Mass., so that he might see if it corresponded to the body found on the top of Meganticook mountain. It did not, and no other information has been received. The body has been embalmed.

CHECKERS RESUMED.

Next week Editor Brown of our Checker Department will resume business. The column will be made more interesting, if possible, than ever before.

OUR CIRCULATION.

The regular weekly circulation of the COURIER-GAZETTE is 204. This is the largest circulation attained by any paper in Knox County, and nearly all of it is in that county and in the neighboring ones of Lincoln, Waldo and Hancock. We invite the most complete investigation of our claim, and will show our circulation to anybody who may wish to see.

C. M. Blake was the man who bought the old desk and found the bank stock therein. He is offering premiums for old desks now.

Some of Rockland's "fine pups" have again returned from a prize winning trip to other states. Rockland is bound to lead the procession.

A correspondent in today's paper picks out a site for a shoe-factory. Now will some one pick us out a factory, and the right men to set it a-humming.

Let all our musical people read the article headed "This Winter," which appears in another column. We want another convention, and now is the time to take the necessary steps.

The Barron case takes quite a grip upon our people. All day Sunday the matter was discussed, and many were the regrets that wide-awake William Kimball was not on deck to give us our Sunday Herald with a full report of the Saturday hearing.

In the departure of Samuel Tyler, esq., for Mound City, Kansas, Rockland loses another of its rising young professional men. Why do they go? you ask. If all of our people would take hold with a will on this matter of new business, that question wouldn't be asked, for the young men would stay.

Friday, July 26th, 1872, the Gazette contained an article from the pen of H. H. Monroe of this city, who was in Kansas City at the time, on the prospects of that city compared with Rockland's prospects. His words have proved to be prophetic, and the letter is so significant in view of recent developments that we will republish it next week.

Rockland's marine has suffered severely the past week, two fine vessels being a total loss. If only their places were to be filled by vessels built in Rockland yards our regret would be tempered with the thought that there would be more work for Rockland. But this will not probably be the case, and the losses will take so much money out of our city. Would that our shipyards could revive.

L. E. Marsh's big ice house is coming along rapidly, and will be ready to receive 5000 tons of ice this winter. Mr. Marsh is making arrangements to run in the ice, as it is cut, by means of a water motor, operated by Oyster River water. Mr. Marsh has as fine an ice privilege as there is in the country. He will put in a big stock and Rockland people can count on big lumps of nice ice at bottom prices next summer.

Our people watch with great interest the progress of the linerock railroad, and it is the general opinion that in it we find the solution of the question of better streets. With such an object in view we trust our people will see the importance of helping the promoters of the road in every way in their power. We all have a selfish interest in the success of this road, and it doesn't require much public spirit to make a little sacrifice for the road's interest, for we are all to be benefited by it.

NOON PAPERS SAY

That Defaulter McNealey of Saco has been seen in the Provinces.

That Robert Garrett is losing his mind.

That Fisk and Powderly will be the presidential ticket of the consolidated labor and prohibition parties.

That there will be a spirited fight at Augusta this week over the appointment of a liquor constable for Sagadahoc county.

THIS WINTER.

Something to Relieve Its Long and Wearisome Monotony

The musical convention is over and those of our people who attended have come home surcharged with musical enthusiasm, and the universal inquiry is: "Why can't we have a musical convention of some kind here this winter?" It has been settled once and for all that a musical convention, as now conducted, will not pay its bills. How can a musical convention be made to pay? Here are two inquiries. Now for an answer.

We can have a musical union here this winter, and must have one; but let that musical union have for its ultimate result a public festival to be held some time in June. Let a musical society be organized in this city, one in Thomaston, Warren, Waldoboro, Damariscotta, Camden, Rockport, Union and other places that wish to come into the scheme. Let each chorus select one of its number for a conductor and let these conductors meet and select the music for the various choruses, so that all will be at work on the same compositions. Thus organized let the choruses go to work and learn their music. During the winter let there be three or four mass rehearsals. Arrangements can be made over the Knox & Lincoln for cheap fares so that the expense would be inconsiderable. In June let all these rehearsals culminate in a grand musical festival. The conductor would have a trained chorus to handle, the interest awakened by the rehearsals would guarantee a full chorus and good house, and the results would be satisfactory in every way. If there was any fear about the financial success of the affair we think it would be a comparatively easy matter to get 100 men to guarantee $5 each towards the expenses of the association, if needed. We think, however, that the association could be made to pay for itself by public rehearsals, occasional musical soirees, etc.

The importance of having some sort of a musical organization in our city and other places of the size of Thomaston, Camden, Damariscotta, Warren, Waldoboro, etc., cannot be over-estimated. There are few people but what can be taught to sing. If a musical union holding weekly sessions was located in these places many of the younger people would be drawn within the influence of good music, a correct taste would be cultivated, and no one can deny the elevating influence of good music. The fathers and mothers should take hold of this thing for the benefit of the children.

Now talk is good, intention is better, but action is best. Let the Rockland musical people take the initiative in this matter, and set the wind a-blowing. Talk it up among yourselves, try and interest others and call a meeting at an early day for organization. But when you talk don't ask who will be conductor, or what nights they'll meet for what music they'll sing. The questions under discussion are: Shall we have another convention? and shall we have a musical union here this winter. By answering the second question in the affirmative you take the first step towards answering the first question. Now don't dally! Talk all your spare time this week, and organize your union next week.

Letters received from New Orleans report the improved health of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Wight, which will be a gratifying bit of news to their many Rockland friends.

Mrs. Mary Orcutt of Brookline, Mass., is visiting her brother, Capt. E. R. Nash and M. H. Nash, in this city. Mrs. Orcutt went from this city in 1849 and has been here but once since then, this being her second visit.

J. Fred Hall, one of our best known and respected business men and Miss M. C. Smith, a most estimable lady, were married Thursday, and are now away on a short wedding tour. Their C-G. offers its best wishes.

Edward L. Collins of Oakland, Cal., who visited here two years ago and is still pleasantly remembered by Rockland people, has been appointed attorney of the Forestry Commission by Attorney General Johnston of Oakland. The position is an important one and very remunerative.

Cards have been received announcing the wedding of Fred Burns, formerly of this city, and Miss Jessie B. Adams of Marlboro, Mass., the ceremony being performed in that city where they will reside, Wednesday last. Mr. Burns is a well-known and very popular Rockland boy. For some time he was employed in the Gazette office in this city. The bride is a most estimable young lady. Their C-G. tenders its congratulations.

Arthur Shea of this city and Miss Mabel F. Wyllie of Warren were married in Thomaston Wednesday, Rev. W. A. Newcombe of Thomaston performing the ceremony. Mr. Shea is a popular young Rockland business man, with many firm friends. Mrs. Shea is a young lady with many pleasing personal and social characteristics. The C-G. tenders its kindest approval and warmest benediction, and wishes to be numbered among the family friends.

THE GRANGE.

The next session of Union Pomona Grange will be with White Oak Grange, No. 1, on Oct. 20th, at 10 a. m. If stormy on Saturday, the 20th, the meeting will be one week later. The following program is announced: Music by the choir, address of welcome by Bro. Geo. S. Peniston of Warren, response by Wm. H. Stahlhof No. Waldoboro, reports of subordinate granges, song by Sister Emily Bowden of Washington, paper by Sister Juliette Sprowl of Appleton, poem by Bro. T. S. Bowden of Washington, question: "Resolved, That the sisters in our order are doing more to uplift and advance the Grange than the brothers," disputants, Mr. Townsend of Union, nee, P. W. Smith of Rockland and Alden Robbins of Appleton. A Question, "Resolved that the school district system should be abolished," disputants, Mr. Wm. H. Stahl of No. Waldoboro and D. P. Andrews of West Camden, nee, Lysander Norwood of Union and G. Y. Martin of Warren.

Pleasant Valley Grange, Rockland, initiated seven candidates Thursday, in the first and second degrees. The third and fourth degrees will be conferred two weeks from that date, Nov. 2nd,.... Bro. Rufus Stone and wife of Union visited Pleasant Valley Grange at its last meeting. The storm of Friday prevented them from visiting White Oak, Friday evening. They stopped over with Bro. Smith.

THE MEADOWS.

Jonathan Spear, Charles Gardner and Elkanah Boynton are in Boston and vicinity this week.... Mrs. Edward Lamson is stopping for awhile with her daughter, Mrs. Wooster Smith, and is gradually gaining in health.... Mrs. H. P. Fairfield is with her parents during her husband's visit to Haverhill, Mass., in which place he lectured Sunday.... Several members of Pleasant Valley Grange will attend Pomona at No. Waldoboro on Saturday.... John I. Thomas, Frank A. Farrand, L. C. Blackington, Jr., Walter B. Spear, Annie Lovejoy, Lucy Rhoades and Lottie Smith joined the Grange last week.... Dexter Morse who was injured by a premature blast in the Williams quarry last week, is improving, although it is still feared he will lose the sight of one eye. Deck is a pleasant fellow and we are sorry for his misfortune.... Hugh Brady has entered the employ of W. E. Kirk where he will learn the blacksmith trade.

A collision of trains on the Richmond & Danville Railway resulted in the killing of two persons and the injuring of 10 others.

The C. L. S. Circle will meet next Saturday evening with Mrs. W. R. Prescott, Broadway.

A handsome marine painting by Arthur Gray is on exhibition in C. F. Sawtelle's music store.

People who write letters should notice that the westward mail at the postoffice closes at 7.45 and 12.50 o'clock.

We were shown a beautiful West India sea shell, artistically painted by Mrs. A. I. Mather. It is the property of Capt. A. F. Pillsbury.

A Rockland dentist, who has been away on a professional trip, is minus his instruments, which have gone Bostonward by mistake.

Some very handsome beef has been offered in our markets the past week, from a pair of twin calves raised by Ezekiel Ames of Matinicus.

Joseph Barille has secured the services of Fortunato Amanti, of Providence, as assistant in his barber shop. Mr. Amanti is an experienced and skillful barber.

The Iopas Male Quartet of this city has been engaged to lead the evening meetings of the State Y. M. C. A., which meets here next week—Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Perrigo's lecture in Jones hall Wednesday evening, was listened to by an audience of about 100. It was a thoughtful, logical presentation of bible truths, and was well received.

Capt. S. A. Thompson, who has been at work upon the new building of Charles Henderson at the Head-of-the-Bay, fell from the staging the other day, receiving quite severe injuries.

The gunning party of seven, who have been among the islands for a week in schooner Medora, returned Sunday morning with 125 birds. "Deep-water" hash was an interesting feature of the trip.

A Rockland man bought an old writing desk with a lot of old furniture. In clearing out the desk he found hidden away certificates of bank stock amounting to something more than $100 Good speculation!

H. M. Lord is to occupy the eastern half of the A. K. Spear house, corner of Park and Union streets, just vacated by Samuel Tyler, esq. John Howard will occupy the tenement vacated by Mr. Lord.

It has been reported in various papers that a new boat was to be built to take the place of the Pioneer. As the directors of the line know nothing of any such move we must, perforce, pronounce it a canard.

The wind blew a small hurricane yesterday morning. A Rankin street family's front door was blown open, and a big piece of cyclone went up the front stairs and lifted a skylight out into a neighboring yard.

We'll give our business men a pointer. According to an old postual law, now being enforced, all wrappers, tags, wrappings, etc., which bear any announcements beyond the usual "return" notice will be charged letter postage.

At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bay View Sunday School Society, held Saturday evening, it was voted to approve the contract made by Rev. W. O. Holman for the completion of the interior of the chapel. The work will be done at once.

The house of Joseph E. Clinton, off Grace street, took fire near the chimney last evening, while the family was out. The fire department extinguished the flames. The house below and the furniture were badly damaged. There was an insurance of $500 on the house and the same amount on the furniture, with Cochran & Sewall of this city. The amount of damage has not yet been appraised.

The wind blew with great velocity yesterday and no one appreciated this fact more than J. W. Anderson. His big covered wagon was standing unsuspiciously and innocently in front of his place of business and the playful wind blew the whole turnout completely over, inflicting slight damage. The horse was so tangled up in the harness that he was caught and calmed down before he could get on his feet and do anything naughtily.

The State Convention of the Y. M. C. A. meets in this city next week. The sessions promise to be of unusual interest prominent New England clergymen and business men being expected. Accommodations have not yet been provided for more than half the expected number. People who are willing to help in the good cause should state their willingness to take one or two of the delegates to some member of the Y. M. C. A.

A Young Men's Congress is being talked up by our young men in this city and vicinity. It is proposed to organize this society on a basis similar to that of a like organization in Boston, called "The Boston Young Men's Congress," which was organized in Boston about 10 years ago, and has ever since been in successful operation. Two years ago it was incorporated by a charter obtained from the legislature of Massachusetts. Its present speaker is a correspondent of the Boston Herald. The Boston Young Men's Congress has been an invaluable school to young men in the profession, to those intending to enter the various professions, and to many others having a desire to acquire some degree of proficiency in debate and a knowledge of parliamentary law. A copy of the constitution, by-laws, rules and orders, of the Boston Young Men's Congress, has been kindly furnished by the speaker. The proposed congress to be organized in this city will probably have two sessions of twelve weeks each in each year and will hold one session in each week in the evening. Those who feel an interest in this matter or desire to join the proposed society may address The COURIER-GAZETTE OFFICE, Rockland, Maine.

O. E. Hahn has moved into the Hewett house, Granite street.

The Pioneer had a very big freight this morning—a two days freight, the boat not coming off yesterday.

One of George W. Case's teamsters was kicked in the head by a vicious horse, at the quarry, this noon, a severe contusion being caused thereby.

Beginning next Monday the Pioneer will leave Vinalhaven for this city at seven o'clock, a. m., leaving Tillson's wharf, this city, for the return trip, at two o'clock, p. m., touching at Hurricane each way.

C. H. Healey of Vinalhaven has increased our curio collection by the gift of a piece of the cap-stone of the Washington monument. Mr. Healey was employed at Washington, on the monument, and secured several fragments of the stone for mementos. The C. G.'s specimen has painted on one side a faithful likeness of Washington's tomb. Next!

AMUSEMENTS.

The fair at the Universalist church on Thursday afternoon and evening should call out a goodly attendance. In the afternoon ice cream and cake and about 6 p. m. an oyster supper will be served, on the European plan. Our people know where to go to get nice candies.

The Curtis-Wilcox Comedy Co., supporting Camille Townsend, played "Lady Audley's Secret" in Farwell Hall last evening to a large house. The stage settings were neat and effective. Miss Townsend proved herself a capital actress, with a very powerful trained voice which she knows well how to use. The support was excellent and the interest in the play well sustained throughout. The company will play here through the week. "Fanchon, the Cricketer" is announced for tonight. This company plays at popular prices, admission to gallery 15 cents, limited to 250 tickets. The rest of the house is 25 cents.

LATE LACONICS.

Beriben, a brave Cuban revolutionist, has been killed in battle.

The Lincoln statue in Chicago was formally unveiled on Sunday.

A town in Central Asia has been burned, and half the inhabitants perished.

Three persons were burned to death at Clearwater, N. B., on Friday night.

The Supreme Court will give a hearing to counsel for and against the Anarchists.

Nearly the whole business portion of Murrayville, Ill., was burned Friday night.

In Preston, Conn., on Saturday, Eugene Carroll brained Mrs. Daniel Carroll with an axe.

Hon. Elihu B. Washburne, formerly United States Minister to France, died at Chicago on Saturday.

There was a serious fire in St. Louis, Saturday night, involving a loss of about half a million dollars.

Montreal students became so riotous on Saturday night that the police were compelled to fire upon them.

Newfoundland people are very indignant at the way in which they have been ignored by the Imperial Government in the new Fishery Commission.

Disgruntled delegates to the Knights of Labor Convention at Minneapolis stopped at Chicago and have taken the preliminary steps toward forming a rival organization.

It is proposed to form at St. Louis next December a National Labor party, to be known, perhaps, as the National Free Soil Party, with Henry George as the moving spirit.

Conventions regarding the New Hebrides and the Suez Canal have been agreed upon by the great Powers. The Suez Canal is to be kept open and neutral in the event of war.

An explosion in a japaanizing factory at Hartford, Conn., on Saturday, killed three men, injured two boys seriously and destroyed the building, involving a loss of about $20,000.

A snow storm and gale prevailed Sunday over Lake Huron and loss of shipping is feared.

A snow storm prevailed in Upper Canada Sunday. At Ottawa two inches of snow lay on the ground Sunday.

About twelve hundred of the Trafalgar Square mob in London invaded Westminster Abbey Sunday, driving deuced people out by disgusting conduct. They interrupted the preacher by insolent remarks, and finally marched out to join the mob in the square.

MAINE MATTERS.

There is not a ton of coal for sale in Eastport, vessels expected not having arrived.

In the past month there have been entered at the custom house in Eastport 15,380 bushels of potatoes brought in from the Provinces.

Elbridge G. Mosley of Trenton committed suicide Saturday afternoon by hanging himself in his barn. No cause is known. He was upwards of 50 years of age.

It is announced that in case Mr. Sweet does not build a cutter to contest for the America's cup next year, a counterpart of the American centerboards will be built by George Clark & Co., Newark.

The Bootbay Register says Hiram Spofford has sold Indian Point Island, to G. B. Kenniston, for $2,000. A syndicate of Bar Harbor capitalists will soon proceed to improve the natural advantages.

The sardine factories in Eastport are running steadily now and are buying fish at a lower price than at any time before in the season. The factories have no idea of closing until December when the law compels them to, as the close time for herring commences then.

E. T. Welch of Brunswick, who has been employed on the Maine Central forty years, and as flagman at the Main street crossing for the past fifteen years, was struck by an engine yesterday and had his right foot crushed so that it had to be amputated six inches above the ankle. His left hip was fractured. Welch is over 70 years of age.

OUR BOATS.

The Mt. Desert has made her last trip for the season, and the Rockland is now on deck.

The Richmond will run till Dec. 25th. She has had a nice business this summer, her freight business being unprecedented. Capt. Demmon and his officers have been wide awake and courteous as has been the boat's agent in this city, E. H. Clark.

The Lucy P. Miller had a big freight downward and larger back last week. Part of her cargo down was a lot of fire bricks for A. F. Crockett & Co., agent Lathrop of the Lucy P. Miller has introduced a new system of heating into his office. It works like a charm.

BARRON'S MURDERERS.

The toils seem to be closing about Stain and Cromwell, the accused murderers of Cashier Barron of Dexter. At the hearing yesterday, four reliable citizens of Dexter positively identified Stain and Cromwell as two strangers seen in Dexter the day of the murder. Harvey, a reformed member of the Stain gang, testified that Cromwell confessed to him that the Dexter crime was the work of Stain and himself. Young Stain's story was about as printed. Judge Waldron found probable cause, bound them over and they will be tried in February.

BRUSH AND HAMMER.

J. F. Fogler and T. W. Hix, Jr., have bought Merrill's Hall for a carriage repository, and are having it put into shape. Jones & Bicknell began work yesterday on the shed for A. F. Crockett & Co.'s mill kiln on the Point. Lester Rokes is busy in the yard of Jones & Bicknell getting out oak timbers for the Doherty quarry. Silas McLoom has put his quarry gear into shape for the winter season. A house has been erected on the bank for his water tanks.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR LEWIS.

The following concerning Deputy Collector Lewis of North Haven, whose appointment to supersede Collector Mullen was reported last week, we cheerfully endorse. It is from the Belfast Journal.

"George P. Lewis, of North Haven, has been appointed Deputy Collector of Customs for that town in place of Mr. Nelson Mullen, who has resigned and will vacate the office November first. Mr. Lewis was in Belfast Saturday, but did not see Collector Cushing as the latter was in Camden. Mr. Lewis is one of the selectest of the town, and two years ago represented his district in the Maine Legislature. He is an active young man, has the confidence of his town's people, and the Collector is fortunate in his selection."

"Mr. Mullen, the retiring deputy, has made an excellent official and is one of the leading Republicans of the town. All the subordinates of the Belfast Custom House are now Democrats except the deputy at Vinalhaven, Mr. Mullen, and it is said he will be allowed to remain."

CHINA PAINTING.

Miss Elizabeth Loring of New York, a well-known artist, has had specimens of her china paintings on exhibition in the store window of W. J. Conkley. She has been urged to form a class in this branch of art in this city, and will meet such of our ladies as are interested in the Thorndike parlors, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

MILLINERY OPENING.

We wish to call attention to Miss Crocker's Millinery Opening at the Thorndike House today. It is without exception the finest display of the kind ever held in Rockland. For true artistic style and harmony of color Miss Crocker's hats and bonnets are unequalled, besides her prices are lower than the same goods could possibly be bought for in any store in Boston. We sincerely hope our ladies will profit by this opportunity.

NEW FIRM.

As will be seen by our advertising columns a new firm has been organized in this city—Hanly & Lord, real estate brokers and agents, 276 Main street. The firm is prepared to buy and sell all kinds of property and real estate, act as agents with relation thereto, renting, leasing, finding tenants, and tenants for offices and houses, insuring, managing, and having general supervision of real estate of all kinds. Special attention given to investigating titles, and to making permanent and safe investments; also to the negotiation of mortgages. Address Hanly & Lord, 276 Main street.

The Quakers Have Arrived

And are stopping at the St. Nicholas Building. It will pay any lady to go and see them; they are there on exhibition, and the finest lot ever seen. Handsome called, lady, and take a look at them, and many made purchases of their 8-18, which takes the lead. One lady made the remark that the largest size Quaker was the handsomest one she ever saw. They have no equal at the St. Nicholas Building, by the Atkinson House Furnishing Company.

the pancake in a spirit of fun, but the testimony was against her and the Court thought the fun worth $50.

NEWSPAPER NOTES.

The Norristown Herald has appeared in a new and very handsome dress. The Herald is one of the best of our exchanges. It is bright-

the best of any of our exchanges, with a possi-tiser.

The Castine correspondent of the Bucksport Clipper has placed a letter box in a prominent position at a street corner to receive com-

much good the box may do, but the correspondent certainly furnishes the Clipper with plenty of readable Castine news.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The Gardiner Reporter is working hard in the interest of new business and talks quite sharply to the Gardiner Board of Trade. We shouldn't dare to talk so to our Board of Trade, but think, perhaps, the Reporter's remarks may hit somewhere, and so publish them:

Our Board of Trade was organized for something besides ornament, and high sounding titles. It has a mission and the most important part of their work should be to set forth the advantages of the place they represent.
If they are going to wait for applications from abroad for a chance to do business, they might as well disband as far as their usefulness is concerned. Active, persistent, united push should be the watchword, and we should not then be open to the taunt that we "stand but a poor show" when a business enterprise is suggested.

SOMETHING BRIGHT.

ceived by return post: "I do, but he won't wear 'em."—Otago Witness.

A three-year-old little girl was taught to close her evening prayer, during the added, "and you better keep an eye on mamma, too."

A WOMAN'S CLAIMS

soon leave her, when she becomes a victim to any one of the various disorders and peculiar "weaknesses" that are peculiar to the fair sex.
The condition of tens of thousands of women today is pitiable in the extreme; they are weak, bloodless creatures, a prey to mental anguish and bodily pain; in a word, "broken-down." From an ancient and honored source, To this unhappy multitude we strongly urge the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an infallible, world-famed remedy, for all
"female" irregularities and "weaknesses," and which restores the worst suffering to rosi-eous health, and reinvests her with all the charms of figure, face and complexion, that receive such willing homage from man.

IT IS NOT UNLAWFUL.

Congress has enacted no law to restrain a person from going about in a badly constipated condition, or with a distressing sick headache, rush of blood to the head, bad taste in the mouth, bilious complaint, or any kindred difficulty; but the laws of health and comfort will suggest to any one so afflicted, the wisdom of hastening to the nearest druggist for a 25-cent vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pill—the most potent of remedies for all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels.
Purely vegetable, pleasant to take, and perfectly harmless.

prepared, there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold than all other medicines, and it has given the best of satisfaction since its introduction ten years ago. This could not be if the medicine did not possess merit. If you suffer from impure blood, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and realize its peculiar curative power.

SKIMP OF FIGS.

Manufactured only by the California Fig
Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own Fruit Laxative. This pleasant California fruit fruit remedy may be had of first-class druggists. Send for a bottle. It costs only at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels gently yet thoroughly, to dispel Headaches, Colic, and Fevers; to cure Consumption, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

HOW I FELT.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief as I did until I used Sulphur Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert

A KNIGHT OF LABOR.

struggling for breath, is usually spent by a person afflicted with Asthma. The reason: The air tubes are well supplied with muscles which contract and expand like other muscles; when the nerves of these muscles become irritated
by impure or an insufficient supply of blood, they tend to contraction, thus closing the air tubes. Brown's Sarsaparilla, a new combination of vegetable matter, makes the blood pure.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

An Agricultural Reaction.

Boston Advertiser.

A Vermont town clerk has just received a letter from an Iowa farmer inquiring if farms may be bought in the official's town. The western man intends to sell out and settle in Vermont, believing that he there can have a larger and surer income. This purpose to change the scene of farming work, moreover, is formed in a state which by the census of 1880 had over 25,000,000 acres of land used for farms, valued, in round numbers, at $568,000,000,
while the new home would be in a state whose farm area in the year mentioned was 4,882,588 acres, valued at $109,- 346,010.

This authentic instance of looking to New England for good agricultural results may fairly be taken as a token that the rush for the west is one day to be succeeded by a reaction. Deserted New England will begin to blossom in the mind's eye of the small farmer, crowded out by rich and large agricultural operations in the far west. The small capital, it will be seen, stands a better chance in a rural Eastern community, not to speak of the social and educational advantages that the old home may offer. The middle-aged man who forsook his ancestral acres in New England, fairly dazzled by the prospect of an easy way to wealth in the beckoning west, will come back, glad to cultivate the fields he despised, for the glamour is gone.

Recent observations in certain hill towns in western Massachusetts showed that the tide had turned. An appreciable degree of reoccupation where there had been deserted homesteads was noted.
The general depressed feeling has given way to some hopefulness. The worst it was evident had been faced.
Land given over as scarcely worth cultivating was receiving more generous treatment.

It is safe to call these typical cases and to predict that the retreat from the Eastern States, as from a center of agricultural adversity, will be seen to have been unnecessary, at least to the recorded extent. One reason for this reaction has already been suggested, namely, the survival of the richest at the expense of the small farmers. Another reason may be traced to the volume of summer travel from the west to New England.
Sentiment doubtless plays its best part in the reconstruction of decaying homesteads but few Americans lose sight of the main chance. The acute Westerner sees money as well as a repute for family affection coming from dealing liberally with the old home acres. He begins to wonder what his youthful estimate of sterile land had for its basis. In due time a model farm yields its increase.
Profitable farming, he finds, can be done in the East.

It is a short-sighted policy which assigns
New England farming invariably to the losing occupations. Every returning
New Englander certifies to this fact.
The individual reaction points at least to the tendency to agricultural consideration. It is even possible that Western young men may yet hear the injunction to "Go East."

DEATH OF A NOTED HORSE.

Some weeks ago the famous old stallion Gen. Knox succumbed to the weight of years and was buried at Fashion Farm beside Goldsmith Maid, 2:14, and Lady Thern, 2:18 1-4. Gen. Knox was the most famous stallion bred in New England, and was once perhaps the most noted horse of his time.

As a trotter Gen. Knox was puregaited, and he was quite a positive sire of speed. Eleven of his get have records in or better than 2:30, among them Lady Maud, 2:18 1-4. Camors, 2:19 3-4, and Independence, 2:21 1-4. Thirteen of his sons have sired trotters, and four or five of his daughters have produced trotters. The best part of his life was spent in Maine, and it has been justly said of him that he filled his part of the State with trotters and excellent roadsters.

At a special town meeting held in Orland to see what the town would raise to aid in the construction of the Bangor and Castine Railroad the vote was against doing anything—138 to 50. Notwithstanding they would not aid in the construction, as a town, they are now subscribing quite liberally as citizens.

GOOD READING.

Dr. Henry M. Field will describe in Scribner's Magazine for November a recent visit which he made to the tribe in Northern Algeria, known as the "Kabyles," a warlike race inhabiting a very mountainous region, and preserving peculiar traits and institutions.

"Jack Hall or the School Days of an American Boy," by Robert Grant, author of "Face to Face," "The Confessions of a Frivolous Girl," etc., has just been received from the well known firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co., Boston. The book is handsomely bound, nicely printed and like all of Robert Grant's productions is well written and interesting. It will make a nice Christmas present for some younger member of the family.

The November Number of Harper's Magazine is a brilliant conclusion to the seventy-fifth volume. Both of the serials—"Narka," by Kathleen O'Meara, and "April Hopes," by W.
D. Howells—come to a close, with the artistic triumph of Narka and the wedding of the Boston lovers. The last of Mrs. Davis' graphic sketches of Southern life and scenery finds a charming subject in the Bayou region, where Joe Jefferson lives. By thus ending the continued series of novels and articles, the Magazine prepares for a magnificent Holiday Number for December, in which every article and story will be complete.

"Peterson" for November is before us; it is evidently determined to go out this year, with flying colors. The steel-plate is the finest of year; it is a copy of one of Millais' most charming pictures of children—the portrait of pretty little Miss Muffet, of nursery fame. The wood-engraving "Three Home-Lovers" is, in its way, equally noticeable; it is the loveliest production of Kate Greenaway's facile pencil.
The fashion-plates display their usual excellence, and among the numerous interesting stories a very noticeable one is "Alec Benton," by the popular Southern authoress, Miss M. G.
McClelland. The prospectus for 1888 offers the promise of even greater attractions for the coming twelvemonth. "Peterson" has earned the right to style itself a magazine of literature, art, and fashion, and in every a central unites the distinctive features of three separate magazines, either of which one would acknowledge to be of superior merit. Address Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, OF BATH, MAINE.

TO THE HONORABLE RAILROAD COM-MISSIONERS OF THE STATE OF MAINE:

The Maine Rock Railroad Company, a corporation created under the laws of the State, respectfully represents that said company has located its railroad from a point on the line of the Knox & Lincoln Railroad, near the round house, west of the location of the old depot in Rockland; thence running westerly to the Limerock Quarries, then running northeasterly by said quarries, together with track running westerly from the main line to the western end of said quarries; thence northeasterly to near the sea shore and line of the H. O. Gundy & Co.;
thence running near the shore southerly and on line
of time kilns, there situated, to the kilns of Joseph Abbott. Also another line of railroad beginning at the head of the Knox & Lincoln Railroad Wharf in Rockland on the line of said railroad; thence running northerly and westerly near the line of the shore and by the line kilns around Crockett's Point, so called, to the kilns of A. F. Crockett & Co., there situated.

That said railroad and branch road, as located,
crosses the following highways and streets in said
city of Rockland viz: 1st, Park street near Fred Ulm's dwelling house; 2nd, Pleasant street near the old cemetery; 3rd, Limerock street near Gilman Ulm's dwelling house; 4th, Middle street near the school house; 5th, Rankin street south of Silas Farrington's house; 6th, North Main street south of house of Mrs. Butler; 7th, Myer street north of house of Wm. J. Thurston; 8th, Camden street, east of house of Albert N. Fales; 9th Atlantic street, near old shipyard; 10th, Water street; 11th, Water street; 12th, Pearl street north of street owned by James R. Farnsworth; 13th Sea street near the head of Tilson's wharf. Wherefore said Limerock Railroad Company prays that your honor will fix a time and place for a hearing and cause notice of the same to be given, and at such time and place determine the manner and conditions in and on which which said railroad may cross said several highways and streets, and do and determine all other matters required by law in relation thereto.

E. L. Lovejoy is book-keeping for Jones & Bicknell.

Chas. T. Spar has hauled up his pulling boats for the winter.

The Saturday night boat took up to Boston big bags of fir from Snry for the Maine Balsam Fir Co.

Dr. H. P. Fairfield lectured in Haverhill Sunday. He delivers a second lecture there next Sunday.

Cobb, Wight & Co. have made changes and improvements about their store which increases their storage capacity.

Capt. Warner of the Woodbury has been laid off with sickness, the first lieutenant being in command of the cutter.

H. C. Day is finishing up a big derrick for Wm. Kittredge, Vinthaven. The castings are from Knowlton Bros., Camden.

The series of Commercial College evening schools opened last night. Every young man and young lady in town should attend.

An advertising agent was about town Saturday, giving away 4-ounce plugs of smoking tobacco, to the great satisfaction of the crowd.

Martin Sweetland fell from the wharf Saturday morning, down between the steamboat and the slip. He was pulled out. Narrow 'scape.

A Rockland sea-captain bought a quantity of spruce gum last week for a former Rockland resident, now a prominent New York business man.

Small seems to be as good with a rifle as with a ball. At the target shooting at Orono, Monday of last week, he headed the list with 42 to his credit, at 100 yards.

Capt. Cyrus Sturdivant, of Portland, and formerly agent of the Portland, Machias and Mount Desert Steamboat Co., died recently, while on a lecturing tour in the Provinces.

Work has commenced on the cellar of a new house to be built this fall for R. Anson Crie, on the handsome lot on Broadway, nearly at the head of Summer street. W. H. Glover & Co. are the builders.

Bryant & Cobb are very busy at their shop. Among the smaller jobs we saw a very handsome tablet for the grave of Jerome Burroughs of Union. The face of the tablet is ornamented by the figure of a horse, a nice piece of carving by Charles Gale.

We never saw better looking cranberries than our grocers have now on hand. They come from Cape Cod. There is hardly a country in the world, however barren, but what has some specialty on which it can beat all the rest of mankind, and Cape Cod's is cranberries. The Cape Cod berries retail at 12 cents a quart, and natives eight cents.

A. J. Small is laying out roads and trimming the underbrush on the Blanchard place, Owl's Head, which he owns, and where he will erect a summer hotel next season. It is a beautiful place, near the shore, and will be made still more beautiful. There is an excellent opportunity for wharf building. A 50-foot wharf would give 19 feet of water.

The way business is conducted now-a-days is something wonderful, the most minute transactions of a well regulated firm being carefully recorded, the use of manifolds, copying books, letter files and systematizers making such a labor comparatively easy. One of our smart business men, connected with a big company, showed a reporter of THE COURIER-GAZETTE the manner in which the firm's accounts were kept. The most insignificant transactions for years were recorded, and could be consulted at a moments notice.

At Dead River, Monday, Harry Lane and J. G. Harlow left their camp to look at some timber. They sat down behind a treetop to wait till the chopper and swamper came up. When the latter came they brought their gun. They saw a partridge and fired; one shot hit Harlow about half an inch from the jugular vein and seven hit in the tree he was leaning against.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.

Not So Very Large But Exceedingly Pleasant—Some Participants.

The sessions of the Knox & Lincoln Musical Association at Damariscotta last week were very pleasant, and the people from this section who were present report a royal good time. The attendance was not large and the convention was not a financial success, unforeseen circumstances conspiring to detract from the receipts and swell the expenses. The management did all in their power to make the affair a success in every way, and the re-election of the old board of officers showed that the members appreciated this fact.

The chorus numbered some 75 voices and did excellent work. Mr. Osgood, the conductor, was as popular as ever, and his rendering of the two songs Friday evening was a great musical treat. He is a perfect conductor, a beautiful singer, and a good deal of a man. Miss Cassandra Nason, the soprano, is a wonderful vocalist, her voice being powerful, musical and having an excellent range. She showed the best of taste in her selections, and her interpretations were very pleasing. Miss Nason is assuredly an artist, and made many friends while at Damariscotta, all of whom hope to hear her again. Miss Josie Clark of Waldoboro assisted at the matinees and concerts with solos, and what was very pleasing to the management was always found at her post in the choir. She is a cultured soprano, and by her beautiful singing helped materially the success of the gathering. Mrs. Ada Mills sang Thursday afternoon and sang finely. Friday afternoon she gave a solo with violin obligato, beautifully rendered by W. M. Purrrington. This was considered one of the best numbers of the convention, and Mrs. Mills and Mr. Purrrington were requested to repeat it Friday evening, which they did not do, to the disappointment of all. Misses Lillian and Grace Sprague sang at the matinees, and sang very artistically. They are finished, pleasing vocalists and were heartily applauded. Among the other participants were George E. Torrey of this city, who always does himself honor, Misses Hall, Call and Cate of Damariscotta, who sang a trio very pleasingly, Misses Dodge and Dunbar of Damariscotta and Miss Castner of Waldoboro, who skillfully rendered piano solos. Mrs. James Wight of this city, accompanist, and one of the best in New England in the estimation of leaders of musical conventions and other people who know, and last and far from being least, the Orpheus Club who received what they deserved—an ovation—completed the list of talent.

The chorus was strengthened by some of Rockland's best vocalists who did not appear in solo parts.

WHITE'S WHISTLES.

An Excellent Idea for Which Our K. & L. Superintendent is Responsible.

The Bath Independent has the following concerning an innovation of Supt. White's:

"Supt. White of the K. & L. R. R. on taking charge of the road instituted a system of signal whistles to be blown on either side of the river for the information of the employes on the other. By the whistles extra cars are made ready without loss of time, the ferry boat is called, alarm of the given, etc. Among the signals is one for a doctor and this was blown last week Friday soon after the arrival of the west bound train. It seems that Engineer Chas. Tabor had been severely wounded on the hip by the giving away of hoisting gear and the fall of a coal-laden tub while the men were filling the tender with coal.

"When the whistle was blown on the Woolwich side Dr. E. M. Fuller was summoned and crossing the river reached the wounded man's residence by the time the men had conveyed the man himself to his home."

Y. M. C. A.

A rear entrance to the gymnasium, connecting with the ground, for use in case of fire or other emergency, will soon be constructed. The stairway is to be five feet wide, and fitted in the landing at the top with a trap door to be used in moving a piano or articles of furniture into the gymnasium. These improvements are intended to make the gymnasium available as a hall in which to hold entertainments and lectures....The management have in view a series of first-class entertainments, to be given once a fortnight, through the winter....The game room has been wainscotted overhead, to prevent the plastering from coming off. The flooring between the game room and the gymnasium above has also been strengthened....Prof. Carl Braun's lecture in the Y. M. C. A. rooms Wednesday evening was enjoyed by an audience of about 100. It was a most excellent and instructive discourse, and interesting in the extreme.

RIFLE REPORTS.

Woodcock still persist in being scarce..... D. O. Smith, Dr. A. C. Hefflinger and W. J. Perry bagged six birds Thursday—four geese and two woodcock.....The Sheep Pasture is ruined.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Charles Barbour of Deer Isle missed her two-year-old son, and after diligent search found him in the well, floating on the surface of the water. She was able to reach the child with her hand, and although he was quickly taken from the well, life was found to be extinct.

HOOK AND TRAWL.

Sch. Esperanza, of Matineus, arrived here Friday with 20,000 pounds of hake, haddock, cod and cusk. S. Chase & Co. took 'em..... Gloucester schooner Lucy Ann arrived Saturday with 12,000 pounds of cod and haddock.....S. Chase & Co. are receiving regularly invoices of the celebrated Rockaway oysters from New York.

SMART COUPLE.

Parker Messer and wife of Union are at the home of their son, R. W. Messer, in this city, and a smarter couple for aged people one seldom sees. Mr. Messer is 86 years old, and walks off as strong and smart as a man in the prime of life. Mrs. Messer is 82 years of age and besides doing portions of the house work the other day knit two pairs of double mittens. This fall she has knit 80 pairs of these double mittens.

HORSE SHOES.

Walker & Littlefield's handsome stallion trotted at Unity, Oct. 17th, winning the first two heats and the race. The time for the second heat was 2:57....G. A. Ames of this city has a new horse, Gen. Garfield, purchased of H. J. Tibbets of Rockport....C. H. Nelson of Waterville has returned from his trip to Kentucky. Mr. Nelson purchased some very fine breeding stock while in Kentucky from some of the best blood in that state famous for its thoroughbreds.

OLD HENRY.

The old Morrison is being transformed into a new boat, by Capt. S. H. Barbour at Bangor. Only the wooden work above the hull is to be wholly torn away. New timbers will be placed in the ceiling of the hull, and the hull itself will be lengthened about twenty feet in the center. The model is an excellent one. The old boiler has been taken out and a new double tubular boiler will be put in its place. A large saloon with a dome roof will be constructed on the main deck and the pilot house will be over the saloon. The steamer will have a large freight capacity and will probably go on the route between Bangor and Bar Harbor, making a daily line.

A BEE HIVE.

J. W. Anderson has made a very busy place of Crockett Block. He occupies all of the southern end right up through the three floors, and branches out into the big hall at the top of the building. The ground floor is occupied as a sales-room, the second floor and the big hall for the manufacturing of candles, and the third floor is used for a cigar manufactory. The old hall is the corn cake room, and big batches of that pleasant composition are being manufactured there. It is an interesting operation. Mr. Anderson furnishes employment for quite a number of people.

It is such industries as these that make the prosperity of a city.

KNEW IT ALL.

A well-known and popular drummer was in this city not many months ago accompanied by his wife, whom he took to one of the neighboring lakes on a fishing excursion. After fishing for some time without the excitement of a nibble, the lady in a somewhat discouraged way questioned the fact whether there were any fish in the pond.

"Oh, yes there are," said the husband. "Tide is going out. But as soon as tide comes in we'll yarn 'em."

He's succeeded in keeping the story pretty quiet, but it's got out at last.

SUCCESSFUL SESSION.

Washington Entertains the Rockland District Ministerial Association.

The autumnal session of the Rockland District Ministerial Association was held in the Free church at Washington, commencing Monday evening, Oct. 17, and closing Wednesday evening, the 19th. Sermons were preached each afternoon and evening by the following ministers in order: Rev. C. B. Besse of Thomaston, Rev. V. E. Hills of Westport, Rev. L. L. Hanscom of Rockland, and Rev. W. F. Chase of Bristol. These sermons were earnest and able expositions of the truth and were highly appreciated by the congregations assembled. Fervent and zealous prayer meetings were held each evening at nine o'clock, continuing one hour.

The regular sessions of the association were devoted to the presentation and discussion of the following topics assigned by the committees: "Composition and Delivery of Sermons," Rev. R. S. Dixon of Montville; "Ministerial Vacations—Their Uses," Rev. L. H. W. Wharf of Wiscasset; "Their Abuses," Rev. G. B. Chadwick of Damariscotta; "Profitable as a motive in Preaching," Rev. J. D. Payson of Camden; "Amusements, Innocent and Harmful," Rev. C. B. Besse of Thomaston, and Rev. W. F. Chase of Bristol; "What Means may Ministers and Churches Lawfully Employ to Secure a Desired Appointment," Rev. L. L. Hanscom of Rockland and Rev. S. H. Beale of Camden; "Ought the Time Limit to be Removed?" Rev. J. R. Baker of Union and Rev. J. H. Beale of Washington.

The papers were well prepared and the decisions which they evoked were spirited and clear. The question of amusements was discussed to some length by ministers and others. The following general questions were ventilated and personal opinion and experience presented upon them: "How Long after the Adjournment of Conference ought we to wait for the Minutes?" "What Use Should be Made of the Catechism?" "Are Lecture Courses Profitable?" The sessions of the association were open to the public and all were invited to take part in the exercises. Rev. C. A. Plummer was present, Tuesday evening and Wednesday. Wednesday evening was devoted to a "Gospel Temperance Meeting." Rev. L. H. W. Wharf presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. W. Ogier; Mrs. N. R. Beale sang: "God in Mercy Hear my Prayer;" Rev. Mr. Wharf delivered an impressive address upon the position of the church to the question of temperance. Mrs. Beale sang: "Twas Rum that Spoiled my Darling;" Rev. Mr. Ogier spoke very clearly and ably upon the correct definition of the word "temperate;" Charles Johnston rendered a piece of music upon the cornet accompanied by Mrs. Beale on the organ; Rev. V. E. Hills of Westport followed with an earnest address, which was well received by the audience; remarks by Rev. S. H. Beale of Camden and the doxology closed the exercises.

The citizens of Washington have rarely had the privilege of attending with so little effort an association of Christian ministers of such eminent talent and piety. The spirituality and earnestness of the singing, praying and preaching, together with the manifestation of cordial fellowship, even when differing in opinion on some questions, ought to result in much good to all who attended.

GOOD PLACE.

A Correspondent Picks Out a Site for Our Far Away Shoe Factory.

MR. EDITOR.—Now that the march of improvement has fairly reached this city, I wish to call the attention of your readers to one of the best locations for a shoe factory, or other manufactory, to be found in the state. I refer to the field lying between Crescent and Mechanic streets, and Main street on the west, being part of the Henry Ingraham estate. This property is surrounded by two of the finest systems of water-works to be found in the country. The gas-pipe is also laid within twenty rods of the estate. The K. & L. R. R. runs through the field its whole length so there would be no expense for carting either way, and it is but a short distance to the Railroad wharf, where they could have their coal come by water at cheap rates. There is plenty of land on which to build cottages for the workmen, with excellent chance for drainage.

A portion of this property is to be sold at auction, Nov. 5th, and if some of our business men would take hold of this shoe-factory matter, what a lasting benefit it would be to the city.

The oldest man in Washington county is, without doubt, Francis Anthony, who lives in Milltown. He was born in March, 1787, and although more than 100 years old he prepares and takes into his house the most of his fuel and does other light work. He has a profuse head of black hair with no sprinkling of gray. He is a little hard of hearing, his eyesight is quite good, and he is as vigorous as some men at seventy-one.

CAMDEN.

Johnson Knight and wife are in Boston. James Curtis, Elm street, is at home for the winter.

Mrs. Granville Carleton has returned from Sebago.

Henry Wooster of Hope is assistant in the grist mill here.

The barbers of Camden and Rockport are to close Sundays.

Henry Sellman, esq., of New York, was in town last week.

Harry M. Haynes has invented a patent shaker for coal ashes that works to a charm.

Sheriff Currier has bought a house, corner of Washington and Cross streets, of A. A. Hall.

Parties have been here looking at the Bay View House, with the intention of purchasing.

Miss Carrie Russell of the "Boston Store" is studying art under a professional teacher in Boston.

W. W. Perry, esq., has bought the Knight house, which adjoins his lot and will improve it another year.

The summer boarders have left. Still we have remaining some of the most delightful weather of the year.

Rector Jones of St. Thomas Episcopal church preached a fine sermon Sunday. His congregation is increasing.

The Camden Band is a success. Prof. Smiley, the leader, returned from Boston Saturday, where he had been to buy instruments.

The woodcock shooting is fine in this vicinity.

D. H. Bisbee and Frank M. Young bagged 58 last week. Mr. Young has a score of 82 this year.

The local ninners are D. H. Bisbee, H. L. Alden, W. G. Alden and Frank M. Young.

Each of them have guns of the latest pattern and trained dogs.

The Megunticook mystery is still without any light on it. Several parties from this and other states have been here to see the body, but as yet no one recognizes it.

Civil Engineer Corliss and party commenced the 24th to lay out into house lots, parks, etc., the plant known as "Lake City," situated on Megunticook Lake, three miles and a half inland from Camden. The owners of the plant are Geo. H. Cleveland of Camden and Geo. H. Hill of Boston, and others.

HOPE.

Harrison Esaney will move into the John Hatch place.

J. C. Simons has sold his farm to Harris Lentest. Mr. Lentest has lately come here from out west.

A new guide board has recently been erected at this village. It has long been needed, as the old one had tumbled down.

Our community was shocked some two weeks ago to learn of the death of John Upham, who died quite suddenly, being sick only one week.

Mr. Upham was well known and liked by every one and his death is a heavy blow, not only to his family, but to a large circle of friends.

He was a kind and loving husband and father. He leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters.

MATINICUS.

There was a very brilliant comet seen here, the evening of the 12th.

Capt. Mark Young is making large sales in beef, "sarsengers," etc.

The herring catchers are getting to be quite "tony." They are towed to and from the herring-ground by the steamboat Hurricane and yacht Nereid.

Sch. Sarah Franklin, Capt. Stephen Webb, Vinalhaven, has been at Henry Young's wharf loading with fish, oil, etc., for J. Herbert Sanborn; cleared the 14th.

The reporter called at one of the box manufacturers last week and witnessed some very quick work at box making. A party were engaged in making herring boxes. Jack Stinson was high-line making four boxes in six minutes, Willis Young being a close second, making four boxes in 6 1-2 minutes.

We think that Chas. Howard will excel on pumpkins. He has six good ones raised on one vine. The largest is as large as a good sized tea-kettle and the smallest is as large as a man's hat. The whole six were on not more than four feet of vine. There were twenty or more formed on the vine, but the rest all withered.

Sch. Ida Grover got ashore on Wheaton's Island Point, Tuesday night. After hard work she was launched again. There is an old saying that when the rats leave a vessel she is in danger. We hear that the rats didn't leave this vessel until she got ashore, then a small one was seen to emigrate. His nest was removed and placed on Wheaton's Island where he can now sing "Meet me by moonlight alone."

Mrs. Ava Smith is visiting relatives in Rockland. Capt. John Grant returned to Matinicus Rock last Wednesday, after a short trip to the city. Mrs. Annette Ames is visiting relatives in Rockland and Vinalhaven. Mrs. M. F. Butts, who has been in the Tolman House for some time past, has now departed.
