NIVALIS!

What is Nivalis? I will tell you. Nivalis is the Greatest Discovery and Wonder of the age.

A skin preserver and tonic; and at the same time an emollient of skin troubles.
If you have a rough, pimply complexion,
USE NIVALIS.

If you have, by the use of cosmetics, powders, pastes and pigments caused your naturally soft, smooth skin to become coarse, and thus most unpleasantly "black headed," to appear,
USE NIVALIS.

If you have a thin, delicate skin, easily affected by the weather,
USE NIVALIS.

If God has given you that greatest boon to womankind—a beautiful complexion, and you wish to preserve it,
USE NIVALIS.

American women have to endure all degrees of temperature, from the blazing sun of summer to the biting blizzards of our Winters; added to these the peculiar dryness of our atmosphere has a tendency to dry and harden the epidermis, to develop sunburns, freckles, moths-patches, tan and pimples.
This wonderful NIVALIS, by its "tonic action" on the skin, overcomes these evil effects of our climate.
It also removes the greater and graver troubles caused by the use of the many injurious face powders and cosmetics now upon the market, which clog the pores, coarsen the cells of the skin, and in fact, are not even cleanly. Throw them all aside!
USE ONLY NIVALIS.

It is recommended by our best physicians and chemists, and is beneficial instead of injurious; a skin beautifier and preserver; a skin cure instead of an evil.

It will cure eczema, salt rheum, erysipelas and all other skin eruptions, and is also an excellent remedy for scalds and burns.
It acts as a magic balm to the skin, and men find it a perfect luxury for the face after shaving. In fact the "knowing ones" always keep a bottle of NIVALIS standing by the shaving trough, for it always lays the disagreeable soreness left by the dull razor. All women (and men, too, for that matter), desire a beautiful complexion, and ALL can have it by using this most wonderful discovery, NIVALIS, which will be found on sale at all principal druggists and dealers, or can be had direct from the proprietors, ST. JOHN & CO., No. 317 6th Ave., N. Y.

CRISPLETS.

Facts Gleaned While on a trip to Lewiston, Fair Week.

That the fine display of bakery made one fairly hungry.

That the down town depot is appreciated by the Rockland people.

That the art gallery was well-filled and displayed some fine work.

That the excursion rates are a blessing to people of limited means.

That Auburn is lovely enough to remind one of Goldsmith's work.

That Bath resembles Rockland only that one misses the shore frontage of lime kilns.

That when webs linger on the grass in the morning the traveller need not fear rain.

That the lime used in building the new block in Auburn is supplied by R. W. Messer of this city.

That had taste or false economy created the Soldiers Monument too near the Auburn jail.

That the store windows of Lewiston are arranged with an eye to beauty and artistic taste.

That we wish for Rockland electric lights, paved streets and a Main street car in the near future.

That the fancy work display spoke eloquently of the taste and perseverance of the western Maine ladies.

That the new Catholic church being erected in Lewiston promises to be one of the best appointed in the state.

That the shaker lady with her cap, placid countenance and counter of quaint articles attracted much attention.

That the custom of closing the mills one day during the fair week is a happy one and appreciated by the tired workers.

That the Lewiston depot is spacious and airy but in point of convenience and beauty is not superior to the Rockland depot.

That the City Hall is spacious and handsome and during the fair was well filled with goods most of which were manufactured in Maine.

That Auburn has among its citizens some prohibitionists, as a handsome flag floats in the breeze bearing the name of Volney Cushing.

That one of the most prosperous and respected farmers of Knox county rode from Bath to Lewiston Thursday, seated upon the car stove.

That some of the silken draperies displayed were beautiful enough to ravish any woman's heart. One in shrimp pink and goblin blue was superb.

That being the home of Congressman Dingley and Senator Frye Lewiston will always have a peculiar interest to the sons and daughters of Maine.

That fully three-fourths of the flags (flung to the breeze over the route of the Knox & Lincoln and Maine Central railroads bear the names of Harrison & Morton.

That the farmers of Lewiston builded better than they knew when they planted rows of trees on either side of Canal street on which is situated the mills and corporation bearing houses.

That the display of rubber goods showed many novelties, the ladies gossamers being especially pleasing and presenting a great improvement on the ill-fitting garment recently worn.

That the display contributed by Hearn of Portland showed to what extent the art of photography has been carried in Maine and gave a hint of the possibilities it is capable of reaching.

That one woman stood expectantly before a Golding printing press wishing that the man in attendance would start that "knitting machine," and improved the time searching for the yarn which she declared must "be somewhere."

That the two large pictures representing the scenes of the carnage at Gettysburg, painted from memory by a Maine artist, although open to criticism in some respects, certainly possessed the merit of conveying to the mind of the looker-on something of the horror of the reality.

That a beautiful picture near the entrance of the gallery, of a sweet looking girl attracted much attention, and the writer was told that it was the likeness of an Indian girl and was promised a look at the original whose face was not less attractive but was more vivacious and spirited than the picture.

IN HIS MIND.

Mr. Editor.—We took a ride in our mind recently over your boulevard to Owl's Head of which we venture to send you an account.
Starting from Mechanic street, near the residence of the late Rev. Joseph Kallouch, we crossed the fields and valleys, the old brickyards, the Robbins and Ingraham fields, passed the cottages by the sea around the eastern base of Job Perry's (ancient name) hill and followed the shore line, crossing more shipyards, fields and valleys, thence across the Spaulding farm to the main road and across the bridge whence we turn to the eastward across the Chapman and Sherman farms to Cooper's Beach, where we found some neat little summer cottages filled with those who are wont to spend the summer here.

We have a little chat with the cottagers, take a drink of Oyster River Pond, which is eight or ten miles away, and drive on, following the rocky shore past the old lime kilns to Halfway Point, where we stop to take a view of our surroundings. Leaving this point we follow the shore to the head of Estes Cove (not Ester's) and again enter the Owl's Head road, cross over (as dancing master Crosby used to say) the corduroy bridge and then taking again to the woods we soon find ourselves at the Simpson House.

OUTLOOK.

Two thousand speeches a night are made in Indiana, and the election is six weeks in the future.

Mason is one of the few Maine towns that voted for annual sessions.
Twenty-six votes were thrown in Mason for governor and 19 for annual sessions. This is one of the curiosities of the election.

People don't realize the great number of tramps in the country until they read the accounts of railroad accidents, and notice how many tramps are killed who are stealing rides. There hasn't been a railroad accident this year but what there has been a loss of a tramp or two.

Arkansas seems to have almost, if not quite experienced a political revolution.
The latest news from Little Rock is that Dr. C. M. Norwood, the fusion candidate for governor, claims 1,000 majority, and will contest the election of Governor Eagle. It is further reported that the Republicans and Union Labor party have decided to unite on the Presidential tickets.

The close season on deer, moose and caribou will be on Oct. 1, and the woods are full of them. Only this summer a large bear was seen from the piazza of the Forks Hotel but a few hundred feet distant, which was afterward trapped by the hunters, and last season a gentleman caught a fawn near the house, which he kept as a pet. Indeed, it is no unusual thing to see deer grazing on the hills about the hotel.

The rescue of the crews of the five whalers recently lost in the Arctic by the United States steamer Bear was an exhibition of resolution and courage which deserves the highest respect. One of the captains of the lost vessels writes a long and circumstantial account of the disaster which is printed in the Alta California. The storm that caused this wide spread desolation is described as a terrible one; and it was only the promptness and efficiency of the assistance given by the commander of the Bear, Captain Healy, which prevented a terrible loss of life. Capt. Healy is a near relative of Bishop Healy of Portland.

The bravery of the doctors and nurses who have taken their lives in their hands and manfully stood at their posts of duty in plague-stricken Jacksonville shows that the martyrs to duty are not obsolete.
There can be no bravery greater than that which calmly faces the horrors of a dread disease for the sake of suffering humanity. All honor to them! Where is the pessimist who thought that all things good and gallant were of the misty past?

The latest information from Utah shows that the work of prosecuting those Mormons who violate the marriage laws and anti-polygamic legislation of Congress is not lost sight of. Over five hundred of them have been convicted after trial upon charges of various forms of illegal con-sorting, and there is abundant proof that the warning thus given to Mormonism has had a powerful influence in preventing the growth of the abominable customs which flourished under Brigham Young. The polygamic and adulterous practices of the Mormon religion are disappearing, and there is a prospect of the prophets getting a revelation in accordance with the laws on the subject.

R. K. Sewall, in the Lewiston Journal, claims that the earliest Maine liquor law was that in force at Pemaquid in 1677. He says: "Among the ordinances for trade at Pemaquid in Sept. 1677, we find the following:—Trade was ordered to be done at Pemaquid and nowhere else. No rum to be drunk on the fort site. Trading houses (stores) were to be built under command of the fort, at convenient distances landward on the street of good width, running directly to the point of land on the fort site and towards New Harbor. All houses were ordered to be set broadway on said street, if endways thereto they interfered with the water view from the fort. All doors were required to open on the street and all trade to be done between sun and sun, for which a drum must be beat or a bell rung morning and evening.
Neither Indian nor Christian were permitted to drink strong drink on the Neck, and anyone coming there drunk was to be apprehended and punished.
At this date there were streets, stores municipal statutes against drunkenness and restrictions in the use of intoxicating drink at Pemaquid and I think this the earliest of the liquor laws in Maine."

Said, indeed, is the condition of things in Jacksonville. Tuesday last was an exceptionally terrible day. The number of new cases reported was 150, and the hot sun was favorable for the further development of the fever. The total number of deaths up to Thursday night was 153.

The reports of the past week indicate a good deal of injury to the wheat crop of the Western States in many quarters, but it is most probable that this country will be able to hold its own on the wheat question as compared with other nations.

The most trustworthy estimates now available show a considerably less falling off in the American crop than that of half the other wheat countries. The wheat crops of Great Britain, France and Germany are estimated at 97,000,000 bushels less than last year, the greatest decrease, 59,000,000 bushels, being credited to France, with Great Britain 28,000,000 and Germany 10,000,000 bushels behind last season. India is reported to have an increase of 22,000,000 and Russia 15,000,000 bushels, which still leaves the crop of India and the most important countries of Europe, as now estimated, about 60,000,000 bushels under yield of 1887. The crop of the United States is lighter than last year, the decrease being estimated at 40,000, 000 bushels, but there is no doubt that we shall have a good surplus for export at advanced prices. There is no big wheat "deal," or corner on foot so far as reported, and it will be just as well if none is attempted. Too sanguine an indication of prices would be likely to defect itself so far as the foreign market is concerned.

The Industrial Journal has the following to say about the new lime industry at Warren:

McLoom & Stover, who are now opening some of the lime quarries in Warren, are building a kiln for burning their limerock near the village. A branch railway line will run to their kiln, and all of their lime will go over the Knox & Lincoln Railroad. The limerock region in Warren is about two miles north of the station and a railway to bring the rock down could be very cheaply constructed.
McLoom & Stover have recently purchased the Dr. Buxton farm, through which the limerock veins run, and have now 22 hands employed in opening a large quarry. They have burnt a quantity of this rock in Rockland and find the lime to be very white and strong and such as will be in quick demand in the market. The kiln which they are now building will have a capacity to turn out from 900 to 1000 barrels of lime per week. They have recently purchased a two-thirds interest in the limerock on the farm of Isaac E. Starrett, which lies on the opposite side of the river from the Buxton farm. The Starrett farm consists of 125 acres and is underlaid by veins of limerock. This is a noted fruit farm. A hundred and ten bushels of strawberries were raised here this season, and on the farm is a young and very thrifty orchard. In due time they will open another lime quarry on this farm. Their kiln at the station will be running Nov. 1.

The home farm of John W. Cutting, west of the Buxton farm, is also in the limerock zone.
Mr. Cutting's grandfather, William Kirkpatrick, built a kiln on this farm and burned lime nearly one hundred years ago. A part of this kiln is yet standing, and Mr. Cutting informs us that within a radius of one mile are the remains of eight old kilns, which were used in burning limerock in old times. Mr. McLeon has 25 years experience in the lime business, and considering the facilities and advantages for conducting the business here, an extensive industry will without doubt soon be developed that will be of great benefit to the town and the business of the Knox & Lincoln Railroad. Mr. Cutting has another farm which borders the western side of North Pond, and the Journal representative had the pleasure of looking it over. On this farm is a large and very productive orchard and the hay crop is from 60 to 75 tons yearly. At the boat wharf two boats are kept to land on the borders of the pond are fine picnic-grounds, and cozy little arbors with seats which are very suggestive. On this art and scenery, Mr. Mc-Leone has a few rods of the Warren Railway station, at West Warren.

THE TURF.

Until within a few weeks Ira Woodbury of Portland has had the handling of Jack Spratt, but recently the owner, William Snell, took him away from Woodbury and turned him over to John F. Haines. Haines is at present debarred from trotting under the rules of the National Association, and could not therefore drive in Saturday's race at the Maine State Fair. The management of the fair did not wish to disappoint the patrons by keeping the horse out of the race, and they tried to get Woodbury to drive. Woodbury, who is not feeling friendly toward Snell, at first refused, but the society offered him $100 to drive the race, win or lose, and he took his seat in the sulky and landed Spratt a winner of three straight heats, making the fastest mile in the second ever trotted in Maine, 2:23. It is reported that Mr. Snell, owner of Jack Spratt, will permit his horse to be matched against
Mr. Nelson's Aubine for $1,000 a side. Jack Spratt beat Glenarm's record twice at the State Fair, and now Glenarm will have to race him.
Spratt's time was 2:23.

The next state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Maine will be held with the Bowdoin College Association, Oct. 25-28. A special attraction will be the singing by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stebbins.

EDITORIAL ETCHINGS.

If you receive a letter with a hole punched through the envelope you will know that said letter came from Florida and has been famigated.

The Lewiston Journal has returned from all the towns in Maine as follows: Barlegh 79,- 603, Putnam 61,103, Cushing 2,971, Simmons 979, Republican plurality 18,495.

In response to a call for a national convention of the greenback party, to meet in Cincinnati, but seven delegates appeared. They met Thursday and issued an address to the American people.

The St. John Telegraph advises the United States not to pick a fuss with Great Britain and China at the same time, and suggests that two or three Chinese ironclads might help contributions on our coast cities if so disposed.

Congressman Dingley's re-election by a substantial increase over his previous big majorities must be a flattering, though deserved, bit of testimony to that hard-working, painstaking and able representative of the Second District.

R. O. Robbins, formerly of the Dexter Eastern State, has taken full editorial charge of the Piscataquis Observer. We don't know where the Observer could find so able a man for the position, and all of the fraternity in the state give him a cordial welcome.

At last an adequate measure for seacoast defences is in sight. The conference on the fortification appropriation bill have split differences and will report a bill providing for an expenditure of four millions. This includes $700,000 for the Waterville arsenal and $1,500,000 for steel forgings for cannon.

Levi Turner, Jr., who is studying with C.
E. Littlefield, esq., of this city, was elected representative to the legislature from his class, Alma, Newcastle, Nobleborn and Somerville, the vote standing: Turner 348, opposition 309. Mr. Turner is a fine fellow and will serve his constituents ably on the floor of the Maine House.

It is a matter of no little satisfaction to the best men in all parties that the campaign just closed, although a hard fought and not one, distinguished by a lack of all bitterness cheap electorizing methods, which perhaps is due largely to the fact that the character of the hands of the tickets was such that methods of that sort would not be tolerated. May contests hereafter be the rule and not the exception.

Alarm has been excited in France by the revelations of the government commission, presided over by M. Leon Say, as to the effect of the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants on the people. The commission find that, owing to the disease which affects the vines, manufacturers have resorted to the use of impure substances for the manufacture of alcohol, and the commission recommends that all alcohol containing more than two-thousandths of impurities be rejected. High license is recommended as a means of reducing the number of saloons.

A burning question in Massachusetts today is the parochial school controversy, and the Republican state platform pledges support of the public school system and resistance to public aid of sectarian schools, and repeats last year's resolution in favor of submitting to the popular vote a prohibitory constitutional amendment. The recent closing of public schools in Waltham on account of the establishment of parochial schools makes the resolution in regard to education of special significance at this time.

OUR CIRCULATION.

The regular weekly circulation of the COURIER-GAZETTE is 2531. This is the largest circulation attained by any paper in Knox County, and nearly all of it is in that county and in the neighboring ones of Lincoln, Waldo and Hancock. We have the most complete investigation of our claim, and will show our circulation to anybody who may wish to see it.

Resolutions of respect and cards of thanks will be forwarded to the parties ordering them at the rate of five cents per line, and no charge less than fifty cents.

Candle is to have electric lights. How about Rockland?

It was rumored last week that the clerk of the weather had a corner in rubber goods.

Rockland is to have another industry. "That's the stuff," as the slum boys say. These little industries make up the most satisfactory sum total. The more the merrier!

It doesn't seem much of an undertaking now a-days to build a house. The announcement that a certain person is to build is quickly supplemented by the fact that he is moving into his new home. "The world do move."

With any kind of a decent chance the exhibition of Knox Society last week would have been a memorable one in the history of the society. The management worked hard and systematically, and nothing but just the weather they experienced could have prevented them from having a very big exhibit, but it rained Tuesday, and did the same Wednesday, and more so Thursday and worse Friday. No one could get into the city, and but few in the city could get to the hall. That so fine an exhibit was made shows how well the officers managed the affair. But planning avails nothing where weather comes into play. 'Twas very unfortunate.

The editorial in THE C-G, last week with reference to a fuel society or some other organization for the purpose of carrying on a systematic work of charity called forth a very general response, and it was decided to call a meeting for Thursday afternoon of this week in the chapel of the First Baptist church to talk the matter over and perfect an organization, but it has since been learned that quite a number of those interested are to be absent this week and so THE C-G takes the liberty to call the meeting in the same place Thursday afternoon of next week at three o'clock. There will be no call for funds, and all, rich and poor, young and old, are invited to be present. There has been no plan yet formulated for organization, the object of the Thursday meeting being to talk the matter over and see what is best to do under the circumstances. Let all talk it over and pass the word along.

OUR MORTGAGE LIFTER.

The Rockland Loan & Building Association received its first quarterly examination by the Bank Examiner last week, and its first quarterly statement appears in our columns today. The showing is indeed satisfactory and the examiner was pleased with the state of affairs.

The next monthly payment is due Thursday, and Secretary Gurdy will be at the office of City Treasurer Weeks all day. Those also who wish to come in on the new series should call on the secretary on that day.

THAT CREAMERY.

A portion of the committee appointed to advise for cows for a creamery met in the Court House Friday. Of this committee the following were present: W. J. Robbins, J. W. Tolman, O. Gardner and E. Spear. His portion of the committee reported 240 cows pledged. It was decided to send out circulars requesting those interested to meet in the Court House Oct. 4th and bring the matter to a head. G. W. Kimball read a letter from a Massachusetts man who is conversant with the workings of butter factories and he spoke very enthusiastically in their favor.

Our farmers are getting down to hard pan on the creamery question and are going to bring things to a focus at once. All are invited.

WHO IS IT?

A Stranger Who is Making Life Miserable for North-end Ladies.

There is a certain party at the North-end who is piling up a peck of trouble for himself. For several weeks he has been about the bushes around the Wooster place, corner of North Main and Rockland streets, his object seeming to be that of scaring passing ladies as several ladies living in that neighborhood report his jumping out at them. Wednesday night the program was changed. As Chas. W. Perry was passing by there he was knocked down, his assailant beating a hasty retreat down North Main street.

A petition is being circulated asking to have the bushes, which furnish so good a hiding place, cut down.

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A Young Man Is Roughly Used by Strangers.

Addison Kaler, a young man aged about twenty, had a somewhat startling experience Thursday night as he was going to his home on Jameson's Point. When near Gay's gulch he was suddenly beset by two strangers who searched his coat pockets, taking some cigars therefrom. While they were endeavoring to perform the same kind of office for his other pockets he knocked one of the highwaymen down and put in his best licks for home. The strangers chased him as far as John Jameson's, and then disappeared. Kaler reached home in an excited frame of mind, with torn shirt and collar.

THE CHURCHES.

Ralph S. Baker of Bath and Josie S. H., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. T. Young of this city, were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. D. P. Hatch performed the ceremony. After the usual congratulations the wedding party took the morning train for a trip to Montreal. They will return to Bath in October and will occupy Mr. Baker's house on Oak street. Mrs. Baker was one of Rockland's very latest young ladies and takes with her to her new home the good wishes of scores of friends in this city. Mr. Baker is connected with the Bath Times and is a fine fellow. He has made many friends in this city and all unite with THE C-G in congratulating him on his good fortune.

Capt. Alfred Sleeper died at his home, corner of Union and Spring streets, Friday, after a long illness from ossification of the arteries. Capt. Sleeper bore his sufferings, which were very great, with fortitude and patience. He was one of our most respected and honored citizens and the announcement of his death was a blow to a very large circle of friends. Capt. Alfred Sleeper was born at Owl's Head seventy years ago. He followed the sea from boyhood until nine years ago when he made his last voyage in ship Henry Sanford. He was very successful and acquired a handsome property. January 31st, 1844, he married Lydia J. Pendleton, sister of the late E. W. Pendleton, who with their only child, Mrs.

Belle Hunt, survives him. He leaves one brother, Capt. William Sleeper of Marlboro, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Amshury Orne of this city and Mrs. Daniel Emery of Owl's Head. Capt. Sleeper was very sick one year ago, but partially recovered from it. He took to his bed the 15th of April last and did not leave it again. The funeral occurs today at two o'clock from the family residence, Rev. D. P. Hatch officiating.

INTO THE WATER.

A Successful Thomaston Master Takes Command of a New Craft.

Some time ago THE C-G stated that Capt. Alton H. Vesper of Thomaston, who has been in command of the New Haven schooner, Nathan Estabrook, Jr., was having a fine new vessel built for him at Henry Sutton's yard, West Haven, Conn. The vessel was launched last Tuesday and launched very successfully in the presence of a large concourse of people, being saluted as she left the ways by the whistles of the neighboring boats who had come to witness the spectacle. The schooner, a large $60,000 four-master, was gaily bedecked with bunting. As the vessel left the ways a young lady broke a bottle over the bow and christened the vessel W. Wallace Ward in honor of one of the principal owners.

The Ward is thoroughly built and equipped in every point and is a fine craft. The men who own this new $60,000 beauty are Henry Sutton, who has one quarter; W. W. Ward, J. D. Dwyer, H. M. Welch, S. E. Merwin, W. H. Van Name, Richard Law, Lyman M. Low and Gessner & Marr. She will enter the foreign trade after a trial trip to Baltimore for coal. Capt. Vesper is one of the ablest and most successful captains that hails from Thomaston—a place where they turn out skillful master mariners by the wholesale. His many friends in this section congratulate him on his new and splendid command.

OLD LADIES' HOME.

The projected Old Ladies' Home is rapidly materializing. J. G. Piper has generously given the society a building lot on the corner of Central and Traverse streets, off Middle, in the old Rankin field—a very advantageous location, with the privilege of another at $100.

The recent concert of the society netted $108, the expense being $100.

ENTERTAINMENT COURSE.

The canvass for tickets has met with success and the proposed Y. M. C. A. entertainment course will be given. The public can secure certificates good for a reserved seat course ticket for $1.50 at the Bicknell Tea C's and Robinson & Price's. These certificates are to be exchanged for tickets at the opening sale of seats. The single reserved seats will be 50 cents.

The October and January entertainments have not been arranged as yet. Nov. 22nd, Leland T. Powers, the renowned dramatic impersonator, will appear; and Dec. 21st the celebrated Boston Star Co. Two other concerts will be arranged as soon as possible. Three hundred course tickets have been engaged. People desiring to attend should attend to the securing of certificates at once.

FOLKS AND THINGS.

2650—REGULAR WEEKLY CIRCULATION—2650

Peck's Bad Boy is coming again.

The iron top is being put onto Perry Bros. new kiln.

Simon Hall has bought a barber business at Warren and will live there.

F. W. Covel is very busy putting the finishing touches on sleigh trimmings.

The Rockland Loan & Building Association reports a brisk demand for loans.

Mrs. Robert Ross has commenced work on her new house off North Main street.

Wellesley College has 675 girls. Miss Grace Cilley of this city is one of the number.

The South-end Knitting Bee will meet with Mrs. H. A. Pitcher tomorrow, Wednesday evening.

If the mud doesn't let up soon we'll begin to talk paving again. It's been just horrid the past week.

The amount of premiums awarded at the Fair last week was $281.50, exclusive of the baby show.

Gale's Orchestra of this city gives a hall at Round Pond this evening, and at Penaquid Thursday evening.

Well, G. Singh has been doing some neat gridding and sodding work about his cosy new cottages, Broadway.

Pomona Grange which was to have met at Hope Corner Saturday was postponed one week on account of bad weather.

The Bench House, Lincolnville, is to be sold at auction today by the proprietor, Leander Staples, formerly of this city.

The Ladies Circle connected with the First Baptist church will hold a circle in the church parlors next Thursday evening.

C. W. Gale has about 500 celer plants, and if they are all as good as the sample he left at T. C. G. office he is to be envied.

Will H. Kennedy of this city drew $200 in the Louisiana Lottery last week, having a tenth interest in a ticket that drew $2000.

The statement of the Rockland Savings Bank, which appears in another column, shows that institution to be in a very satisfactory condition.

J. W. Anderson is very busy at his cigar manufactory, Crockett Block. He has recently increased his force and now has eight men employed.

The North-end people during this mud visitation have deeply appreciated the nice crossing in front of C. A. Keene's stable. They waded in mud there for a long time.

The whole country is being visited with floods. It looked last week as though Rockland might be troubled the same way as it rained steadily for a week.

There is great need of a decent crossing over North Main street at the foot of Chestnut street. The mud is very deep on the slightest provocation and there is a great deal of passing there.

Charles D. Jones of this city, at the recent Grand Army Encampment, National Department, at Columbus, O., was appointed on the National Board of Administration—a very important office.

Campbell, the cooper, shipped two more 600-gallon tanks to Thomaston last week for the new Washburn schooner, and is now at work on a set of tanks for Dunn & Elliot of the same place.

Prof. George A. Andrews of West Camden was admitted to Anchor Council, Royal Arcanum, this city, Wednesday evening. Prof. Andrews leaves today for Atlanta, Ga., where he is connected with the Atlanta Seminary.

Owing to the approach of cold weather Breck has retired his cold water tank. It has done good service and the C. G. tenders Mr. B. a vote of thanks in behalf of the thirsty multitude who have assuaged their thirst through its cooling assistance.

Road Commissioner Carver is doing a good job in having a substantial railing erected along the eastern side of Main street where the embankment falls off so abruptly, north of Middle street. It hasn't been the city's fault that there hasn't been a suit or two for damages.

Mrs. F. F. Burpee Thursday plucked a pansy from her flower bed that measured 2 1/2 inches one way and 3 inches another. It is a very large and beautiful variety and came from seedlings furnished by C. M. Tibbets. Mrs. H. M. Lord has some of the same variety from the same source.

Some weeks ago we published an item concerning a big yield of potatoes on the farm of Reuben Sherer, and the somewhat serious error was made in stating that the yield was from one acre instead of from one-eighth of an acre as was the case. The potatoes were of an extra good quality.

Alderman F. W. Wight has bought for the city a fine safe of the Hall Safe & Lock Co., and F. S. Sweetland and crew toiled it two nights of stairs and put it into the assessors' room, Thursday. It weighs 1120 pounds and is a wise investment as some such a repository for the city's valuables has long been needed.

Eugene Harrington has been engaged to clerk for J. Donahue & Co., to meet the demands of their increasing trade. This firm commenced business four years ago in their present location and have built up a trade amounting to $40,000 per year. They are young men and workers and we are pleased to record their success.

"Police Plug" has been a familiar legend about our streets the past week. It is a new brand of tobacco which John Bird & Co. are handling, and it is being pushed for all it is worth. Like most modern advertising there is a gift annex connected therewith. For 100 tags a fine jack-knife is given away and so on up the scale until a certain number entitles the holder to a fine watch. 'Tis a good brand of tobacco.

From Sept. 23th to Oct. 9th will be merchant's week in Boston, similar to that of last year, and all retail merchants of New England are particularly invited to visit Boston during that time. Greatly reduced fares on the railroads and at the hotels will be given, and the Boston merchants will doubtless leave nothing undone that will conduce to the comfort and pleasure of their rural brethren. Remember that the popular B. & N. Co. has put its rates down to hard-pan.

A big crowd went to Boston last evening on the Penobscot.

The North Knox Fair opens at Union today, closing Thursday.

The new school street sewer has nearly reached Union street.

The Central Knitting Bee will meet Monday evening with Mrs. Jenkins, Masonic street.

F. A. Thorndike has moved into the Hunt house, School street, vacated by Henry Smith.

A new and handsome flag has been procured to replace the Harrison flag, torn by the storm.

Wm. Haskell is building a house for Hiram Rivers, corner of Broadway and Holmes streets.

The old Crockett house, on Limerock street above Broadway, has been repaired and improved.

Bicycling has been at a low ebb in this city the past season, and tennis has had hardly a breath.

A street lamp is needed the worst kind in front of Farwell Hall. 'Tis a gruesome place on a dark night.

Main street has smelled bad for a week. If we only had paving—Please don't strike. We will say no more.

The North-end Knitting Bee will meet this evening with Mrs. Leander Thomas, Chestnut street. All are invited.

The sum of $51.25 has been added to the Old Ladies Home Fund, this being the amount realized from the sale of food at the Agricultural Fair.

Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F., voted last night to let the Grand Council of United Friends have their hall for their sessions which are to be on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd.

D. D. G. M. A. I. Mather made his official visit to St. Georges Lodge, F. and A. M., Warren, last evening. There was work on the 3d degree. This evening he installs the officers of Moses Webster Lodge, Vinalhaven.

City Marshal Crockett and Officers G. A. and J. C. Spear and Officer Mank searched the place of George Merrifield on the Point, Saturday, and found 17 gallons of liquors stored away in the unused Mallet blacksmith shop.

The new house of E. M. Stubbs is up and ready for plastering. It is well planned and will make a very pretty residence. The basement is of rubble stone, giving a very pleasing effect. The new house of Rev. D. P. Hatch will have a similar basement. Work has commenced on the foundation of Mr. Hatch's residence. Over on Limerock street the new house of Frank Lamb is rapidly hurrying along. 'Twill be a fine residence. Capt. E. A. Butler's residence down Beech street is also on the rapid road to completion. Building is brisk up in this section of our city.

AMUSEMENTS.

Jennie Calef to-night at Farwell Hall. Camille Townsend tonight, Farwell Hall. Little Barefoot at the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

Prof. Waller gave his pleasing entertainment before the Bangor Y. M. C. A., Thursday evening.

Arrangements are being made to bring Mr. Vicary before our public in the interest of the Old Ladies' Home. Those who have heard him since his return from Saratoga say that his voice has become wonderfully resonant and flexible, and that his work has gained in power and finish. His program here will include "Israel" a song by Oliver King, "My Love is like a Red Red Rose," the "Melodie and Variation" of Prume for violin, whistled, selections from Trovatore whistled, and several new readings, among them "Castles in Spain" and the "Dance aux Camellias" by Meridith.

The Christian League connected with the M. E. church gave a pleasing entertainment Thursday evening to a large audience. A quartet made up of Miss Margie Ingraham, piano, Roscoe Ingraham and daughter, cornet and violin, and W. E. Ingraham, selections by the Iopas Quartet with vocal solos by W. E. Heath, piano solo Ferdinand Singh, and an entertaining miscellaneous program by members of the league made up the evening's treat. The audience was very appreciative. Rev. C. S. Cummings presided. After the entertainment chocolate and cake were served.

Another large audience greeted Miss Jennie Calef last night, when she appeared as "Little Maudie." The play is a strong one, and with Calef in the title role, it is more than usual interest. Miss Calef is an actress worthy of writing her name alongside of Margaret Mitchell and Annie Pixley, for while pleasing all as much, some think her vastly superior. Those who have seen Margie Mitchell in her great play "Little Barefoot" will not be disappointed in Miss Jennie Calef's rendition of that character.

Miss Calef is supported by a fine company among which we recognize Camille Townsend, a favorite with Rockland audiences. With the exception of Rockland and Belfast the company play week stands in large places. They will give two performances here Tuesday (to night) and Wednesday, Sept. 25 and 26. A full orchestra will be in attendance.

"Peck's Bad Boy" will be presented by the Atkinson Comedy Company at Farwell Hall Friday evening of this week, Sept. 28. The famous "Bad Boy" is not quite as bad as he was and is now stated to be a great moral example, without losing any of his riotous fun. The "Groceryman," perhaps the most farcical character in the play, is in the hands of Mr. Harry Crandall, who evolves all the humor possible out of the past. A variety performance is given in the third act—a picnic scene—and the inevitable topical song is introduced. Tickets 25 and 50 cents and will be on sale Friday at Spear May & Stover's.

A FLOATING BODY.

Har Harbor Record: "Capt. E. S. Fernald of the schooner Lily B. Fernald, which called at Esford, lately, reported that about ten days after the drowning accident here, while hove to off Matineus, the body of a man drifted past the vessel during the night, striking the same boat which was towing stern. It was observed by the seaman on watch, but he being superstitious and afraid that the body if touched would bring them bad luck on their mackerel cruise, let it drift astern without calling anyone. The captain was not informed of the occurrence till the next morning, when it was too late to secure the body. The sailor said that it seemed to have been a long time in the water and that the head was gone."

SPRUNG ALEAK.

Schwoner Corlova of Isle, from home port for Boston with paving, sprang aleak off White Head Thursday, and was beached at Seal Harbor for repairs.

LETTER CARRIERS.

Questions are frequently asked concerning our letter carrier system, when it will be introduced? etc. Nothing has been heard from it for weeks and nothing will be heard until we get it. In the mean time the process of numbering the streets goes rapidly on.

ADDITIONAL PREMIUMS.

The premiums offered by W. N. Ulmer for the best colts of the get of his stallion, Rufus Rand, have been awarded by the committee as follows: Reuben Sherer, best yearling colt, $2, Ralph Hewett 2nd best, $2; suckers, Reuben Sherer, best colt, E. L. Gregory, 2nd.

Y. M. C. A.

A members' reunion is being arranged for Thursday evening, Oct. 11....The Sunday morning meeting will be held at 9:30 at the Y. M. C. building....F. J. Bicknell will conduct the meeting at 4:30 p. m....A business mens class in gymnastics will be started in October, for Tuesdays and Fridays at 5 p. m.

NORTH KNOX.

The 20th annual exhibit of the North Knox Agricultural Society opens at Union today and closes Thursday. This society always makes a big exhibit and this year will be no exception. The exhibition is all within one enclosure. The management have spared neither pains nor expense to make the exhibit a fine one and people who attend can be assured of a successful showing.

GREAT SCHEME.

One of the most gigantic business schemes of the day is that of the Bay State Fruit Co., organized by Boston capitalists, with a capital of $150,000. The company is preparing to go into the fruit business in San Domingo, on a big scale. W. M. Snow of the firm of Snow & Co., of Boston, is president of the company and the promoter of the enterprise. Capt. E. S. Farwell of this city is to be resident manager. Next week we shall give our readers an interesting account of the work of the company.

NEW BUSINESS.

Just the Kind of Industries We Desire to See Springing up in Rockland.

Waller & Co., composed of Charles Waller of Sheffield, Eng., and Arthur Holmes of this city, have leased part of the shop of O. S. Trussell, Park Place, and are putting in machinery and stones for the razor and edge-tool business. Mr. Waller will be the working member of the firm. He is an expert at the edge-tool business, and is conversant with his trade, root and branch. We wish for the new firm the success it deserves.

W. C. T. U.

"For God, Home and Native Land," White Ribbons Gather.

The 11th annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Maine will be held with the Winter Street church in Bath this week, commencing today and closing Thursday. Mrs. Mary B. Livermore will address the convention Wednesday evening and Mrs. Woodbridge will speak on Thursday evening. Mrs. Rice of Boston will speak to the school children at 5 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Elizabeth Yates will also address the convention. The music each evening will be in charge of the White Ribbons Quartet of Cornetists, Mr. and Mrs. Bent, Miss Pearson and Mr. Hanson of Portland.

The Rockland delegation went this morning.

HORSE HAIRS.

Joseph Cotton has bought a driving horse of Peter Kaler....That horse stock is rapidly improving in this section of our state will readily be admitted by those who saw the finely built and blooded youngsters at the Fair last week. In five years Knox County can show prize winners in all the best equine breeds....James Simmons of this city has one of the dandiest colts in this vicinity. It is a two-year-old filly, of good size and fine appearing. It is in the care of Aaron Wiley of Union. The filly is off the last pacing mare Maggie, she by old Peanraught out of a thoroughbred mare. The colt was sired by Anderson's Knox, he by Gen. Knox. Mr. Simmons was offered $100 for the colt when it was nine days old, and $200 when it was four months old. The filly is fine galloped with a handsome set of limbs and head....A. B. Crockett has a colt, three weeks old, out of the same mare, Maggie, sired by the noted Gilden. It is an extra fine youngster, and shows very fine action for a colt. It is of good size....W. J. Cross has sold his horses and rolling stock to B. F. French....Bery Bros. hold an auction sale of horses this week.

A SERIES OF LOSSES.

Four fine ships and four schooners have been lost from the Capt. Samuel Watts fleet, within three years, the Sidney Hopper, lost within a few weeks, making the fourth schooner.

MORE BOUNTY AND PENSION

No Mercury,
No Potash,
Or any other Mineral Poison.

It is Nature's Remedy, made exclusively from Roots and Herbs.
It is perfectly Harmless.
It is the only remedy known to the world that has ever cured Contagious Blood Poison in all its stages.

It cures Mercurial Rheumatism, Cancer, Scrofula, and other blood diseases heretofore considered incurable. It cures all diseases caused from impure blood. It is now prescribed by thousands of the best physicians in the United States, as a tonic. We append the statement of a few:

"I have used S. S. S. on patients convalescing from fever and from measles with the best results." N. CHERRY, M.D., Elizaville, Ga.

Barnes, Cal. Willie White was afflicted with scrofula seven years. I prescribed S. S. S., and to-day he is a fat and robust boy.
C. W. PARKER, M.D.,
Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 13, 1883. I have taken three bottles of Swift's Specific for scrofula blood poison. It has done better than any other remedy I have ever used.
J. S. WATKINS, M.D.,
Formerly of Shreveport, La.

Dr. E. J. Hale, the well-known druggist and physician, of Nashville, Tenn., writes:
"I have used S. S. S. on patients with scrofula, and it has done better than any other remedy I have ever used. I can safely recommend it to the public for all skin diseases. It matters not what the name may be."
We have a book giving a history of this wonderful remedy, from its origin to the present time. It is a book that will tell you all you need to know about scrofula, and how to cure it. It is a book that is worth its weight in gold.
We have another book on Contagious Blood Poison, and on same name.
Write us a history of your case, and our physician will advise you with you to letter, in your own language. We will not deceive you knowingly.

For sale by all druggists.

MARKET MATTERS.

Everything in the fruit and produce line is now low, excepting plums and they are high on account of scarcity. Peaches are about done for this season. Bartlett pears are very nice and the best are to be had for from 30 cents to $2 per bushel.

Concord grapes 5 and 6 cents; Martha grapes 7; Delaware grapes 9 and 10 cents.
All the grapes are of excellent quality this year.

Bananas are low, $1.50 to $2.00 for good yellow fruit. Jamaica oranges have come and are sold for $2 a hundred.

Apples are very low $1.50 to $2 per box;
citrus $1.50 to $2 per box; tomatoes 75 and $1 per bushel; peppers $1 per bushel.

Sweet potatoes are having a very large sale and prices the past week have ranged from $2.75 to $3.25 per barrel.

Onions $2.75 and $3 per barrel; dates. Persian, 5 cents; cranberries, Cape Cod, $2.75 a bushel.

NORTH APPLETON.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Conant and daughter Annie, of Rockland, are visiting at John Conant's.

Miss Nellie Wellman of Lawrence, Mass., is in town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Laura Perry.

Miss Winnie Boynton, who has been visiting at A. A. Waterman's, returned to her home at Marr's Hill on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Waterman and daughter Bessie and Lottie have been visiting relatives in Hallowell and Liberty the past week.

APPLETON.

A novel wager on the election of a certain candidate in this county was made by two ladies of this place. The conditions of the wager were that if the candidate was elected, one of the ladies should wheel the other from Mrs. Sprawl's store on the west side of the bridge to the postoffice on the east side, and if the candidate was defeated the other should do the wheeling, and the first named lady should ride. The candidate was defeated, and the lady who lost the wager and who was supposed to have Republican proclivities did this time came off, proceeded to pay the forfeit.
Mark Ames held up the handles of the wheel-barrow and the lady by means of a rope attached to the harness wheeled her friend over the route specified, the wheelbarrow being surmounted by a tall white hat. Only about 100 spectators were present, as but few got wind that the performance was to come off, but there would have been a crowd had it been generally known.

On account of rain Wednesday the 12th, the Wentworth Reunion did not come off till Thursday, and this being the day of the Robbins Reunion at Union prevented many from attending. There was, however, a goodly number present from this town, Hope, Sears-mont, Montville, Knox, Brooks, Belfast, Burnham, Rockland, Cushing, etc. The exercises consisted of friendly greetings till after dinner.
President Charles Smith called the meeting to order, and singing by the choir was followed by an impressive prayer by the Chaplain, Rev.
B. C. Wentworth of Belfast. Miss Hunt of Cushing presided at the organ and a number of popular pieces were played and sung. The Chaplain made some timely and well chosen remarks, and Mr. Turner of Montville sang a song under spiritual influence. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Philander Pitman of Knox, President with four Vice Presidents; Marcellus Wentworth Treasurer and Mrs. Myron Wentworth of Hope, Secretary; Gershon Hamlin of Brooks was chosen Chaplain. The following committees were chosen: Finance, Entertainment, Location, Executive Care of Grounds and Committee to confer with Mr. Stumens in regard to leasing the grounds for a term of years.

A DRUMMER'S MISTAKE.

"I wonder if that pretty girl over there is not a flirt?" said one drummer to another on an incoming Illinois Central train the other day.

"She looks like it," said his companion, "and what is more, she and I have passed a good many happy hours together. I've staid many a night at her father's house, but I don't do that any more, and if you can make a mash on her, go ahead."

The other drummer went over to where she sat and said:—

"Permit me madam?"

"Certainly," she replied.

"My friend over there says he has known you for some time," he continued as he sat down. She blushed and smiled sweetly as she acknowledged the old acquaintance.

"Very nice fellow," said the drummer.

"I—I think he's ever so nice," said
the woman, modestly.

"Bully fellow but he ain't very popular with the girls. Don't seem to care much about 'em."

"Don't be?" she archely inquired.

"Not very much."

"I like him ever so much. I have thought the world of him for a long time."

"Happy old boy! Say, couldn't you love me a little as his proxy, couldn't you?"

"Goodness, no!"

"Well that's pretty tough on me; but if you think so much of him, I'll get up and let him come over and sit by you."

"Oh, I wish you would!"

The masquerade looked red and blue by turns, and got up and went over and told his companion what she had said, and added:—

"Say, old fellow, you've got her dead.
She's mashed on you the worst way, and wants you to come over and sit by her."

"Is that so?" queried the other, with a satisfied smile, arising and bowing to the lady, who beckoned him over to the seat with her. And then he went over and put his arm around her, and when the conductor came along he pointed them out to him and began to tell him what a mash the other fellow had made, when the conductor smiled blandly, and told him to go and seek his head; that was the drummer's wife and he had known her ever since she was a baby.

The masquerade got off the first time they came up with a freight train, and went the balance of the way as live beef.

"'Tis SOZODONT the whole world tries.
'Tis SOZODONT which purifies
The breath and mouth, and dirt defies.
'Tis SOZODONT for which we cry, Sweet SOZODONT for which we sigh,
'Tis only SOZODONT we buy."

THE PRAISE OF SOZODONT
like the famous article itself, is in almost everybody's mouth. The people know that it preserves as well as beautifies the teeth. Hence it is the standard Tooth Wash of the Period.
'Spalding's Glue,' useful in every house.

WORLD HAPPENINGS.

Governor Hill was renominated at Buffalo
Wednesday by acclamation.

The "Dark Secret" has been abandoned, and her lonely voyager returned, thereby showing the first symptoms of common sense.

The statement that a famine in Egypt is feared because of the failure of the crops is officially declared to be untrue to-day. The Nile is rising slowly and the crops will be equal to those of 1881.

The life of editors of political papers in Georgia is not particularly an enviable one.
Last Tuesday the editors of the Atlanta Avenue were badly worsted in a free fight by some of their political opponents.

The descendants of Anthony Perry, one of the Pilgrim Fathers, held a family reunion to celebrate their two hundred and fiftieth anniversary at the Hebron campgrounds in Atte-boro, Mass., Wednesday. Anthony Perry, the head of the now numerous family, was born in England in 1615, and in 1638 he landed in this country. In 1643 he settled in Rehoboth, and in a very few years became a man of considerable importance and prominence. In 1658 he served in the grand inquest. In 1658 he took the oath of fidelity, and in 1668 he was placed at the head of a committee to acre out the meadows of the north purchase into 78 1-2 equal parts. In 1673 he was sent as deputy to the General Court of Plymouth.

OUR SPEAKERS.

Of the Republican speakers who participated in the late contest in this county two have been signally honored by invitations to take part in the big New York demonstration when Blaine speaks there. These two are Gen.
Adam E. King and Hon. W. C. Plummer.

Belfast Journal: "Among the Democratic campaign speakers in Maine, recently, was Mr.
Ralph C. Johnson Pendleton, of Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Pendleton is a native of Camden, a brother of Dr. L. W. Pendleton, and was named after Mr. R. C. Johnson, late of Belfast.
Mr. Pendleton was in Belfast last week, but did not speak here. He is said to be an eloquent and effective speaker."

A SINGULAR MANIA.

An eccentric character was found dead at his gate this week in Brazil, Indiana. He had an uncontrollable mania for stealing women's shoes, and no less than 50 pairs were found in his hut. His peculiarity was not of recent development either. Several years ago he was arrested for the theft of shoes and a large number were recovered from a cave where he had hid them. He was sent to the penitentiary, and while confined there his wife obtained a divorce. Afterwards he lived alone.

OUR VICINITY.

Waldoboro News: "There are now one hundred mechanics employed in Storer's ship yard....The Waldoboro Packing Company expects to begin canning corn this week.
Those who wish employment should apply....

and interior repairs."

BEAUTIFUL VIEW.

A correspondent of the Camden Herald took a drive to Owl's Head Park the other day, and talks about it as follows:

Of all the fine views of the day this excelled them all, and to stand on this point, the blue waters in front, Rockland, Warrenton Park and Rockport in the foreground, and the long line of mountains stretching from the rear of Rockland on one hand to Lincolnville Beach on the other, with grand old Megallowick, the King of mountains, towering grandly in the midst, is worth a day's drive to see, if a desert had to be traversed to see it. It is a view which if once seen must be seen again and again, for nothing finer on this continent is possible. Bar Harbor is nothing compared with it. The impression it makes can never be effaced. For moments we stood on a point by the loveliness of the picture before us, then turned to retracing our steps through the winding road, newly cut through the woods to Owl's Head and thence came via the old road on the North side of Owl's Head, passing through Rockland and Rockport.

FORTUNE'S FOOL.

The latest number in Ticknor's admirable
Paper Series is "Fortune's Fool," by Julian Hawthorne, who is equally distinguished for fine preception, delicate analysis and masterly combination. A powerful novel, destined to be ranked as a classic. As St. James Gazette says: "There is a suggestion of depth and intensity about it which is rare in modern fiction, and an hereditary instinct for dealing with the lights and shadows of the moral nature." Another British critic remarks that "Mr. Hawthorne has a more powerful imagination than any contemporary writer of fiction."
In "Fortune's Fool" this imagination shows best in his landscapes, in his description of New-England forests, and in the picture he gives of the Sacramento Valley. There are many shared and concentrated sayings in this remarkable book. And there are many pieces of fresh and vivid descriptions in which Mr.
Hawthorne even surpasses anything he has done of the kind before. The book is equally worthy of the Hawthorne name, and of its place in this remarkable series of novels.

AN EXPLANATION.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—today it is as common as any word in the English language, and the word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it was with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and are all caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Biliousness, Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

A COBRA'S REVENGE.

The Homeward Mail reports the death of Mr. Andrew Fischer, an employee of the Pennar Bridge Works on the northwest line of the railway, under most dressing circumstances. He was employed as a driver of bridge engines at the Pennar Works. While he was seated in the verandah of his bungalow he observed two large cobras on the barren plain immediately in front of the house.
Arming himself with a stout stick he proceeded to the spot and encountered the snakes. He succeeded in killing one of them while the other, which had been slightly wounded, managed to escape.
Mr. Fischer hunted about for the runaway but could not find it. He then returned to his bungalow and rested for some time as he was off duty. Later in the day he prepared to go to his work, and with that object got out his clothes to dress. He sat on his cot and was about to put on his shirt when he felt something bite him on the back. He turned around, and to his horror found a snake on his cot behind, which he is said to have recognized as the cobra he had wounded in the morning. He immediately sought medical relief, and all kinds of remedies were applied, but to no effect, and he died in the evening, leaving a widow and an infant child, for whom much sympathy is felt. "Kellay-an" writes to a Bombay paper: "It is commonly believed among the Hindus that no animal is more revengeful than the cobra, and that if an attempt is made to kill it and it escapes, it never gives up its rest until it has wreaked vengeance upon its assailant."

HOME CULTURE CLUBS.

George W. Cable has an article in the August Century on the system of Home Culture Clubs recently started by him.
We quote as follows: "To start these clubs anywhere requires no outlay nor any wide co-operation. Wherever any man or woman of the most ordinary attainments can gather two, three, or four others, in any sort or degree less accomplished, a club may be formed, and if necessary can be complete in itself; or it may join itself by correspondence to some group of clubs elsewhere, and have the benefit of making weekly reports and getting weekly the aggregated record of the whole group of clubs. Where

"TO C. P. HARRIS—In my very son, two years of life was stricken with a severe cold and inflammation of the cords of the neck and throat. Dr. J. H. Peterbrook. He failed to help the boy and produce any cure. I then used of Link-Drug to the child until it grew worse. I then resorted to Harris' Anodyne Liniment. To my surprise it gave immediate relief, and in two days the expected cure was effected. I have since never been without it, and always find it a valuable medicine, superior to Johnson's or any other Liniment. It has a preference with every family, and I can only recommend it especially to the use of Harris' Anodyne Liniment to be all that is recommended.

Yours truly,
E. G. SINGRAHAM,
Justice of the Peace.

The day he had been out to the settlement, we think, and was returning when he saw a cub at which he fired and badly wounded. The cries of the cub brought the mother bear, a formidable animal, to the rescue. The intrepid guide fired at the bear two or three times badly wounding her, when she came on for Mr. Haynes, the blood from her wounds flying all over him. Mr. Haynes called his dog which attacked the bear in the rear, thus allowing the guide an opportunity to drop his gun and shin up the nearest tree, a straight fir with limbs far from the ground. Before Mr. Haynes got high enough to be entirely safe the bear returned, and with her huge claws ripped open the leg of the guide's stout leather boots. The dog again attacked the bear which left the tree to make war on the dog. Mr. Haynes then descended to the ground, and with gun in hand, stood back to the tree, awaiting the return of the infuriated animal. He had not long to wait, for soon brain returned to renew the attack. Mr. Haynes fired his fifth and last shot right into the animal's face, she going over and over, and at last picking herself up and beating a hasty retreat.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Beffville, Mo., affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. THE MEADOWS.

Warren Gardner and bride arrived home Wednesday from their wedding tour in Massachusetts. Mrs. Herbert Spear came home on Sunday from a two weeks visit in Boston. Mrs. Harriet Blackington of West Camden has been stopping with her son Leland the past week. Mrs. H. P. Fairfield is stopping with her parents a few days during her husband's absence in Massachusetts. George and John Thomas, A. W. Lowrey, Fred Sherer and others will take advantage of the fares and go to Boston this week. The big derrick at the Bog quarry is ready to be raised. A derrick house is nearly completed.

THE RED MEN'S FAIR.

Nahant Tribe and Affiliated Council, Dece of Poughkeepsie, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold its first grand fair and series of entertainments in Fairwell Hall, Oct. 17th, 18th and 19th. The object of this fair is to raise funds to carry out the organization's benevolent principles, which are the society's main features—to care for needy members, and support destitute widows and orphans of members through the coming winter. The first evening the bright and sparkling operetta "Penelope" will be presented by our city's best talent. The second evening the Tribe, by special dispensation from the Great Council, will work one of its thrilling degrees upon the stage upon an actual candidate, bringing into play the Tribe's experienced degree team and elegant paraphernalia. The third evening a grand ball will be given. Holiday articles will be offered for sale and many new novelties introduced on a large scale. The first evening there will be grand prizes of all the prizes with brass band, red fire, etc. It is expected that there will be 75000 visitors in full Indian costume on horseback, and it will be a sight worth traveling miles to see. The Red Men need a great deal of equipment for their winter work of charity and they hope to have it.

BUSY VINALHAVEN.

The Echo. "The B. G. Co. have secured the contract for the Brooklyn Post Office and as the job is a large one, it will necessarily require an increase in the workmen here, and Vinalhaven will be a lively town for some time to come. The business prospects of the place never looked brighter since government work began. The Crown Hill Granite Co. of Philadelphia, who have leased quarries here, will commence business here on an extensive scale in the spring of '89, as will also the Booth Brothers of New York at the Granite Island quarries and with these new developments in the granite industry, beside the contracts of the B. G. Co., this town will be the business center of Maine."

MORE LAW.

Three new lawyers were added to Knox County Bar last week: A. A. Beaton, W. B. Prescott and E. K. Gould, all of this city. Mr. Beaton, of course, will continue in his office at the Court House; Mr. Prescott will continue in the office of C. E. Littlefield; while Mr. Gould has opened an office in the new Spofford Block. We wish them success in their chosen calling.

LATER.—Since the above was written Reuel Robinson of Camden, our newly elected Judge of Probate, has passed his examination, and is added to the list.

TWO STOWAWAYS.

The Boston Post of Wednesday had the following:

Capt. A. J. Hall's brig Golconda arrived at Boston yesterday from Little Glance Bay, C. B. with two stowaways on board. The two stowaways, who are each about 23 years old, escaped from the vessel after Captain Hall had been ordered to detain them until the examination of the inspector of immigration. The penalty for allowing a stowaway to escape is $1000.

We stated last week that Patrick Welch, better known about here as "Tooksey" was in King's County Jail, N. Y., awaiting the action of the Grand Jury for assault in the second degree. Saturday a reporter of THE C. G. had an interview with Alexander Reector, steward of the schooner Stephen Bennett, Welsh being mate and Frank Martin, the injured man, one of the crew of the same vessel. Reector says that Welsh, Martin and one other sailor had been drinking hard for three days. On the third night the three went up town to get liquor. Welsh told his companions to wait outside and he would go in and get the stuff. Instead of rejoining them he went out by another way and left the men standing there. When they met again Martin struck Welsh several times. Welsh then went aboard and got a marlin-spike with which he hit Martin first on the cheek and then on the head laying the skull open. He also hit the other fellow and knocked him down.

Martin was laid up for three or four days, but was not seriously injured.

FISHING FACTS.

Most of the Friendship fishermen are engaged in the herring fishing this fall. One schooner caught three hundred barrels last week and the prospect is good for a large catch.

S. J. COURT.

It Commences Its September Session by Making Three New Lawyers.

On Wednesday the court made three new lawyers: A. A. Beaton, the Register of Probate, Washington R. Prescott and Edward K. Gould, all of Rockland. The examinations, oral and written, were conducted under the direction of the court by the examining committee: T. P. Pierce, C. E. Littlefield and J. O. Robinson, esq. Messrs. Littlefield and Robinson have been appointed recently to fill the vacancies on the committee occasioned by the death of Mr. Gould and the resignation of Mr. Rice. The candidates read their written answers to the questions submitted to them and were afterwards interrogated orally at considerable length. Their answers were promptly and intelligently given, and made a very favorable impression as to their abilities and to the thoroughness with which their studies had been prosecuted. The Judge complimented them for the manner in which they passed the examination and directed their admission to the bar, reminding them that they are now officers of the court.

Mr. Beaton read in the offices of Mr. Littlefield and C. E. Meservey, Mr. Prescott in the offices of Mr. Pierce and Mr. Littlefield and Mr. Gould in the office of Mr. Pierce. Reuel Robinson was examined on Saturday, passed an entirely satisfactory examination and was admitted to practice.

The pauper case, Union vs. Camden, commenced in 1883, and continued finally for defendant at last term, was pushed for trial on the part of Union. The motion was resisted on the part of Camden, on the ground that, by reason of the death of Mr. Gould, who was counsel for Camden, the case was not in condition to be tried. It was finally continued to next term for Camden. The judge imposing terms upon Camden—to wit, the payment of $27.50 toward costs. Bliss and Montgomery for Union; Simonton for Camden.

Ferdinand L. Mansfield vs. William G. Harkness. Action to recover balance alleged to be due on sale of some lambs. Plaintiff claimed to have sold defendant 34 lambs for $100, and to have received $15 on account. He only claimed, however, to have delivered 17 and to recover for that number. Defendant asserted that plaintiff warranted the lambs to weigh 30 pounds dressed, on the average, and claimed a breach of warranty. The jury rendered a verdict for $37.12, the amount claimed by the plaintiff's writ after he had amended it. Defendant filed a motion for a new trial. Walker for plaintiff; Foster for defendant.

The action, Ambrose V. Fossitt vs. the City of Rockland, was assigned for trial on Friday. The plaintiff is a resident of Bristol and the action was brought to recover damages sustained by an injury received on the sidewalk on Sea street on August 30th. The addendum in the writ is $2000. The plaintiff was not in court ready for trial when the case came up in order of assignment and he was notified on call. W. Gilbert of Bath for plaintiff; Pierce, city solicitor, for the city of Rockland.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Appropriate notice was taken in the supreme court, on Wednesday, of the death of Hon. A. P. Gould of Thomaston. Hon. D. N. Mortland, president of the bar, arose and said:

May it please your Honor, since the last session of this court an allwise Providence has removed, by death, one of the most prominent members of this bar, I refer to the Hon. Albert P. Gould, who died at his home on the 3d day of June last. It has been the practice of this bar, and I deem it fitting and proper that suitable notice should be taken of an event of this kind and that the members of the bar should express such sentiment as they deem proper at this time. At a former meeting of the bar a committee was chosen to present the sentiments of the bar at this time; and with the permission of the court I now request that committee to report and the members of the bar to make such remarks as they deem fitting and proper.

T. P. Pierce, esq., of Rockland, in behalf of the committee, presented the resolutions, and accompanied them with extended remarks in which he gave a sketch of the life and public career of Mr. Gould, and paid an eloquent tribute to his character and abilities. The resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That in the death of Hon. Albert P. Gould, the Bar of Maine loses one of its most prominent and able members. His vigor, zeal, fidelity to his clients, and his extensive and accurate knowledge of law enabled him to take and to hold a place in the front rank of the legal profession in this state.

Resolved, That by his devotion to his chosen work, and by methodical application, he exemplified in a large degree what a lawyer may achieve by his own exertions and what influence he may attain in the courts in which he practices.

Resolved, That the members of this bar, desiring to express in an enduring form their respect for his memory, his superior ability, social and hospitable qualities, and many excellent traits, present these resolutions for entry upon the records of this court.

Resolved, That as a further token of our respect we respectfully request His Honor, now holding this court, to adjourn this day's session. J. E. MOORE, T. P. PIERCE.

J. E. Moore, esq., of Thomaston, a former law partner of the deceased, spoke at considerable length and with much feeling. Mr. M. had a very close acquaintance with Mr. Gould for a long series of years, and the task of pronouncing this eulogy could not have been entrusted to better hands. The estimate of his character was recognized by all as notably just and faithful. L. M. Staples, esq., of Washington, made some brief but appropriate and well conceived remarks. Judge Emery then ordered that the court be adjourned in respect to the memory of the deceased in the following words:

Gentlemen of the Bar: The practitioners of a difficult art, or profession, naturally feel a peculiar interest in the work and character of one another. Especially is this so in our own noble and arduous profession, in which the work of each is done under the eyes of his associates. The lawyer must necessarily submit his result and often his processes, to his fellow lawyers, and challenge their criticism. He in turn scans their work, exposes its faults, and thus points the way to perfection.

This reciprocal action not only develops and perfects our jurisprudence, but it also, among strong natures, increases the lawyer's personal respect and regard for the good lawyer, even though he be his adversary. In the legal profession, among its own professors at least, mere pretense, however showy, wins no respect or praise, while good work receives full and generous meed of both.

When, therefore, a good lawyer, after years of labor in his chosen profession, is taken away by death, it is natural and fitting that his professional associates should recall and commemorate his good qualities, his professional labors and characteristics. It is also fitting that the court should join in such commemoration, so close and intimate are the relations between the bench and the bar, so true is it that the good lawyer is always the friend of the court.

The bar of Knox county, his immediate associates who knew Mr. Gould so long and well, have through their committee spoken in eloquent appreciation. My personal acquaintance with Mr. Gould was too limited for me to speak of his personal qualities, but it is easy to speak for the court upon his professional characteristics.

Mr. Gould was a good lawyer. He was a great lawyer. He understood much of the art and science of the law. He studied jurisprudence, not only in the books, but in the courts and in the customs of men. No legal problem discouraged him. No question was so abstruse as to make him hesitate to find a full answer. No collocation of facts was ever so extensive or intricate as to make him despair of a proper application of the law. This was not in him the audacity of conceit, but the courage of power.

He was a friend of the court. He exhausted his side of the case. He is always the friend of the court who does that. When Mr. Gould finished his argument the court knew all they needed to know on that side. There was no need to look further in that direction. He was again a friend of the court, in that he always mastered a legal principle before he essayed to state it. He always thought it out. This made his statement clear and cogent. While judges did not always agree with him, they could not misunderstand him.

He labored long. He contributed much to the exposition of the law. The law was his mistress. He loved her intensely. He served her faithfully. Her disciples cannot soon forget him. He will long be remembered by the lawyers of Maine. He was a leader among them, showing them at times the upper heights of our jurisprudence.

The resolutions of the bar may be entered upon the records as a memorial of your appreciation of his great qualities, and as a stimulus to those who come after you to deserve well of their associates.

It would not be consonant with our feelings to turn at once from these memories to the ordinary work of the court. We should go hence with our minds full of the great lawyer whom we commemorate.

Let the court be adjourned.

INDICTMENTS.

The grand jury reported on Saturday morning, bringing in the following list of indictments:

James Long, Rockland, breaking and larceny; John Martz, Appleton, larceny; Erwin Norton, Vinalhaven, forgery; Oscar M. Elms, Rockland, assault and battery; John Saunders, Rockland, malicious mischief; Annie M. Merchant, Rockland, keeping house of ill fame; Albion E. Ott, Camden, illegal voting and making false statement to elector at election; R. G. Stover, Camden, larceny; Emory Ketchin, alias David Conley, Philadelphia, larceny; Julius Peters, larceny; George McLaughlin, Rockland, assault and battery, common seller, drinking house and tipping shop, and single sale.

Stover was indicted for larceny of rope and spikes from Carleton, Norwood & Co.; Ketchin for larceny of a boat, and Peters for the larceny of $120 from one of his shipmates on the sch. Octavia A. Dow. The two last named are the parties who broke jail and escaped. Erwin Norton, a New Brunswick, recently employed at Vinalhaven, was indicted for raising an order on the Bodwell Granite Co. for quarry work. He pleaded guilty and it appearing to have been a first offence, the money having been recovered and he having served five months in Wisconsin jail waiting sentence, on his plea of guilty the case was continued for sentence and he was allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear at next term. E. K. Gould, esq., was Norton's counsel. James Long, or Dunning as he is called, indicted for breaking into John Ranlett's place at the North-end and stealing watches pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year imprisonment in the state prison. James is a bright looking negro boy about 21 years old. Had he been older he would probably have fared harder. John Martz pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking into the store of Ellen Burket in North Appleton and stealing money and cigars, in all of about the value of $30. In extension of his offence he told the judge that he never did anything of the kind before and would not have done this if he had not been intoxicated. He was sentenced to state prison for a year, his youth mitigating the offence. William H. Kennedy of Rockland was sentenced on Saturday on three indictments found against him at the September term a year ago. He demurred to them and the wheels of justice have just got round to the point where they catch him in their cogs. On one indictment as common seller he was sentenced to pay $100 and to be imprisoned 30 days in Auburn jail, on drinking house and tipping shop to pay $100 and be imprisoned 60 days, and on one as a common nuisance the judge gave him his choice between a $200 fine and imprisonment for three months, and he took the latter. The three sentences practically amount to a six months term at Auburn jail.

NEW BUSINESS.

Friendship's Granite Quarries to Be Developed by New York Parties.

Lorenzo Watton of Friendship Long Island has sold all of the land and buildings deeded to him some time ago by David Thompson for his maintenance, to parties from New York. Said farm consists of house, barn, wharf and fifty acres of poor land for which the company are to pay the said Watton $2000 and Mr. W. tton to occupy the house, land and buildings as long as his father-in-law shall live.

This land lies on the northwest side of Friendship Long Island and is nearly all covered with granite, and extends to the shore where the water is deep enough for large vessels to lie at anchor at low water. If this company carries out its plans it will make a steady business for many of our seafaring men, who will work ashore in preference to following the sea for a living.

GRAND COUNCIL.

The Grand Council of the United Friends will meet in this city one week from today. In the evening a musical entertainment will be given in which the Ipsas Quartet, McNamara and others will participate.

REMNANTS

OUR FAIR.

Bad Weather Curtails the Size of the Exhibit

But the Extra Good Quality Makes up for Lack in Quantity.

The annual session of Knox County Agricultural & Horticultural Society opened in this city Wednesday. Although the disagreeable weather detracted considerably from the number of entries, the exhibit was a surprisingly fine one, when the unfavorable weather is taken into account.

THE CATTLE SHOW

was held at the Baseball grounds, Broadway, Thursday. The chief object of interest was W. N. Ulmer's dark chestnut Clydesdale stallion, Rufus Rand, surrounded by a numerous family of offspring. Rufus is in the pink of condition, weighing 1490 pounds, and with his magnificent limbs and shoulters makes a subject that Rosa Bonheur might well long to picture. Rufus Rand has won an enviable reputation as a getter of fine youngsters. Mr. Ulmer got Rufus in Canada when he was two years old, three years ago.

One of the best of his youngsters is a yearling belonging to Ralph Hewett of South Thomaston. He is all broken and can be driven anywhere, weighs 825 pounds, and is out of a Clydesdale mare. He is finely put up.

Another is the property of Fred Copeland of Warren—a yearling out of a handsome brood mare, weighing 825 pounds, not broken, but a little dandy; E. L. Gregory another after the magnificent Rufus—a sucking colt, weighing 410 pounds.

Reuben Sherer, sucking colt, also after Rufus, the best youngster we ever saw, with limbs that are models of symmetry, the colt weighing 330 pounds. The dam of this colt was sired by the Cough horse, Percheron stock, and weighs 1390 pounds. Mr. Sherer also has a very handsome yearling out of the same mare after Rufus, weighing 970 pounds.

Samuel Doe exhibited a yearling after Rufus out of a gray Percheron mare—a promising youngster. Mr. Doe has also a 3-year-old mare colt out of the same mare, a big, sturdy looking gray.

It certainly would be difficult anywhere in New England to find such a string of youngsters and all so finely put together as the sons of Rufus Rand, on exhibition in this city the past week. There wasn't a stunted one in the lot, and all were as gentle and docile as lambs and very teachable.

Mr. Ulmer also had on exhibition his rangy stallion Young Toronto, four-year-old. Young Toronto is an imported animal, a Cleveland bay, and he has some extra fine colts. G. D. St. Clair of West Camden exhibited one of Toronto's youngsters—a very promising suckingling.

James T. Tolman of this city showed two fine colts after Chas. T. Spear's speedy and stocky Robert S. The colts were three and two years old respectively, the former weighing 1250 pounds, and the latter 1100. They are handy to wagon, good drivers, fine colts, and show the good points of their blooded sire. They are both out of a Clydesdale mare. Mr. Tolman also showed a finely built pair of matched draft horses, blacks. One of the pair was brought from Montreal by W. N. Ulmer.

Franz Simmons exhibited a stylish blood bay family horse.

Clarence E. Hall's Hambletonian stallion Thomas Benton had a goodly family present, and a family to be proud of, as well. Thomas Benton is a 3-year-old chestnut with one white ankle and a star in his forehead, and a getter of promising little ones he ranks A 1 with a star. He was sired by Gen. Lyons out of a Hambletonian mare and is a stylish, handsome animal.

Capt. Stephen Foster of Ash Point has one of Benton's colts, a handsome little fellow out of a Knox mare. It is a fine galloped little beast.

Finn Rokes of South Hope has also a fine sucker after this stallion, out of a Kentucky thoroughbred mare, a very promising colt and of good size.

Parks Baker has a Benton colt, a sucker from a mare sired by Whalebone Knox, a speedy mare. The colt is big and rangy and promises well.

A. T. Hamilton has another of the stallion's colts, out of a dam by Black Pilot, nine weeks old and a beauty.

All of these colts were got when the stallion was two years old. 'Tis a promising family.

HORNEO CATTLE.

James T. Tolman exhibited two Grade Holstein cows, a 3-year-old and a yearling; Reuben Sherer a Grade Jersey after Gardner's bull and out of a grade cow from Benj. Bartlett's stock. Mr. Sherer also exhibited a Grade Holstein and a Grade Jersey, fine looking cattle.

Benj. Bartlett made a fine exhibit of thoroughbred Jerseys, there being eight cows in all, one of them being a grade. These cows are descendants of Gardner's stock. The grade cow Mr. Bartlett kept for years. Her record is two pounds of butter a day.

Thomas Clark, fine Durham cow, strangely marked with white blanket. She gives 10 quarts of milk to a milking.

Tolman Bros. exhibited 11 head of cattle from their herd of 28 dairy stock. They are mostly grades of Ayrshire and Jersey, with the Jersey predominating.

G. S. Hall, Thomaston, two yokes draft cattle, weighing 3500 and 3450, girting 7 1/2 feet, and 7 feet 4 inches. These cattle have been worked hauling rock for two years, but are in fine condition. W. G. Williams of this city exhibited a yoke of cattle, four years old, sleek and smooth and fat as butter. They girted 6 feet 8 inches, and 6 feet 10 inches, and weighed 2770 pounds.

Alvin Oxton had on exhibition a full-blooded Jersey bull, yearling, out of Gardner's stock, a fine looking youngster, and a handsome Grade Guernsey yearling, the property of Miss Annie Oxton. Mr. Oxton's twin boys, Elbert and Elden, had on exhibition a pair of trained twin steers, yearlings. They were trained by the boys and well trained, too, and can do their share of the work about Mr. Oxton's fine farm.

THE POULTRY EXHIBIT

Was held in the basement of the Shepherd building and was one of the most interesting departments of the fair. A. G. Thomas, Rockland, had coops of Rose Comb White Leghorns and Wyandotte chickens good fowl; A. C. Hamilton, coops of Partridge Cochins and Houdans chicks. The Houdans with their striking top-knots are pretty birds and rather rare about here. They were the only French variety in the exhibit. George Alexander, North Haven, one coop of fine Plymouth Rock chicks.

From the Crystal Poultry Yards, C. E. Rising proprietor, there was an interesting exhibit, comprising two coops of White Leghorn chicks, one coop of Partridge Cochins fowl, and a trio of Wyandotte fowl. They are all fine birds and mostly of the noted Lovell strain. The Cochins were exceptionally big birds and fine ones and probably have not their equal in the state, while Mr. Rising's Brown Leghorns took first prize at the State Fair and therefore claim the proud distinction of being the front-family coop of the state. Mr. Rising is a very successful and enthusiastic poultry fancier.

E. S. Bodwell of Vinalhaven is another enthusiastic and successful poultry man. He exhibited two tricos of White Wyandotte chicks and two tricos of White Leghorn chicks. Mr. Bodwell's White Wyandottes are beauties. They were taken from the run and without cleaning or washing were put on exhibition, and were as clean and white as snow. They are meaty birds and great egg producers. Mr. Bodwell has 25 birds, having only the two varieties mentioned above. He originally had many varieties but has simmered them all down to the two given, which he considers the most preferable, both for table and for eggs. His pullets are laying now, and most birds will not lay for two months. They are hardy birds.

George W. Burns of Vinalhaven exhibited a trio of Silver Gray Dorkins, chicks, imported English stock. The original stock cost big money. The birds are very handsome creatures. In England these birds occupy the place that Plymouth Rocks do in this country. Like the Houdans these birds have a fifth toe, probably for picking their teeth. They are very rare in this section of the country.

Dr. E. H. Lyford of Vinalhaven showed two tricos of Black Red Games, blooded birds, clean built and high-posted. They were bred from the first prize pen in Boston last year and are very aristocratic. They created great attention.

Joshua Tibbets, Rockport, two tricos Plymouth Rock chicks; C. A. Anderson, Rockland, trio Silver Spangled Hamburg chicks; J. McAlister, Vinalhaven, trio Black Leghorn chicks, all fine birds, the last being exceptionally handsome.

One of the best displays was made by Harry F. Hix of this city. His exhibit included one trio of Dark Brahma chicks, one pair Muscovy ducks, one pair Pekin ducks, one pair Wyandotte fowl, two coops Brown Leghorn chicks and fowls, one coop Partridge Cochins fowl, two coops chicks, and one trio of very handsome Buff Cochins fowl. Mr. Hix's Muscovy ducks are a rarity and very queerly marked and handsome. They are of large size, and tame. The stock came from Bangor. These ducks took the second prize at Bangor last year, while Mr. Hix's Pekins took second prize at the same place. He has 173 birds. His Brown Leghorn rooster, two years old, scored first prize at Bangor, Androscoggin and Oxford fairs last year. He is also of Bangor stock. Mr. Hix's henery is well worth a visit.

Alvin Oxton made the only showing of turkeys and geese, and made an exhibit of plump birds that will come mighty handy Thanksgiving time.

Leander Weeks exhibited a pair of handsome bronze turkeys and Pekin ducks, beauties. Although this is a bad season of the year as far as appearance is concerned, the poultry show was a fine one and reflected great credit upon those who had the management of it.

FARM PRODUCTS.

The vegetable exhibit in the hall was nearly up to the usual showing. Tolman Bros. of this city, as usual, made a big showing. In their list was five varieties of tomatoes, the favorite Acme at the head. This variety was well colored and ripe. The Mikado is a new variety, and did not succeed in ripening. It is very large and not as smooth as the Acme. It is highly recommended, but the season has been hard for it. Tolman Bros. set out 1200 tomato plants of all varieties, nearly an acre, but will not get more than 125 bushels, about 3-4 of a crop. They report their main crop to be cabages, the Early Summer being the best, all being sold weeks ago. They have four varieties, Fother's Brunswick, Wingstaid, All Seasons and the Early Summer. The All Seasons is a new variety, large with a solid head and very promising. This has been a good year for cabages and ducks. Tolman Brothers set out 5000 cabbage plants and they all headed up well. The largest in their exhibit was the Fother's Brunswick, some of the heads weighing 30 pounds. Messrs. Tolman exhibited some extra fine heads of cauliflower, Henderson's Early. Three varieties of peppers, two varieties of onions, etc., made up this part of the exhibit. Tolman Bros. also had a fine fruit exhibit, there being 30 varieties of apples 3 of grapes and 10 of pears. Of the apples the Alexandrias were probably the most striking. It is a large apple, excellent for cooking and handsomely colored. Messrs. Tolman's King Tompkins were also fine specimens. These gentlemen made the best exhibit of pears in the hall, Clapp's Favorite and Howells being the best. They think the latter is the most profitable pear to raise. It is very productive and good fruit. The season has been hard for grapes which had great difficulty in ripening. The Tolmans' Hartfords were more nearly ripened than the others. Tolman Bros. report a better apple crop this year than last and an average pear crop.

John N. Ingraham of this city always makes a fine exhibit. He showed some magnificent Early Rose and Red Rose potatoes, and handsome pumpkins, squashes, etc. Of his fine display of ten varieties of apples his Sweet Boughs, Pumpkin Sweets and Northern Spies were finely colored. Mr. Ingraham also exhibited juicy and tempting plums and 1 big ripe blackberries.

Benjamin Eastman, nice potatoes, strapping Mangel Wurzels, and handsome Rutabagas. D. Knowlton, Camden, 6-rowed barley, 35 bushels to the acre, White Russian oats, 51 bushels to the acre, and three good varieties of potatoes.

S. G. Everett, a big smooth checked squash raised in 1887; W. G. Williams, 1-2 bushel White Proof potatoes, and good ones; R. Y. Crie, big cukes; Alonzo Nash, big cabbage; Alvin Oxton, five extra fine varieties of cabbage, and five varieties of apples, and highly colored, his Martha Stripe and Fall Gencening being exceptionally fine. Mr. Oxton exhibited fine oats and beets.

C. L. Allen, handsome Golden Ball turnips, Eclipse beets, Lowe's Bay State, Hubbard and Butternut squashes, all fine specimens. Mr. Allen's display of squashes was certainly very creditable. He also made an exhibit of Jumbo peas, beans, corn, and three extra handsome varieties of celery.

W. H. Kallach, White Ball turnips, beauties, squashes and pumpkins.

E. Mont Perry, two varieties nice apples, and one plate of Clapp's Favorite pear. His apples were Duchess and Sweet Bough and were exceptionally good.

William Russell of Camden made a very fine exhibit of apples, 26 varieties and seven varieties of delicious looking plums. Of his apples the Williams, Twenty Ounce and Somerset were noticeable. Mr. Russell's favorite apple, however, is the Northern Spy, which has yielded him the most of any of his apples. His Somerset apple is a big and plump piece of fruit, large and highly colored. His plate of Williams was the best we ever saw, while his Bell's Early was larger than common. Mr. Russell does not count on an average crop, expecting to get but 200 bushels. He has raised 600 bushels, but the ice storm of two years ago made sad work with his orchard. Mr. Russell's plum exhibit was very tempting. One of his plums is a French variety called Gull. It resembles the favorite Lombard but is considerably larger. Mr. Russell will raise 15 bushels of plums, but they are rotting badly on the trees. He has about 35 plum trees. The black knot has never troubled him until this year, and he has succeeded in getting the upper hands of it. Plums are smaller this year than common and late about ripening, because of the cold, wet weather. This same cold, damp weather and lack of sun is responsible for the lack of color and development in other fruit.

M. H. Fisk, J. M. Farnham, O. J. Conant, fine specimens Clapp's Favorite pears; D. Knowlton, Camden, plate Michigan Early Harvest pears.

John Woster of Hope made his usual interesting and extensive exhibit. He had one variety of pear and several of plums, all well developed, and 19 varieties of apples. Of these latter his Newton Pippins, Black Oxford and Munson Sweets were above the average. Mr. Woster had 27 varieties of vegetables on exhibition, commencing with Red-eyed beans, fine potatoes, squashes, handsome citron, watermelons, etc. 'Twas a fine showing.

Peter Stubbs showed two handsome varieties of apples.

PRESERVES AND PICKLES.

The preserve and pickle exhibit was better than last year. The handiwork of Mrs. J. A. Ingraham, Mrs. Hattie Wentworth, G. Williams, Mrs. F. Tighe and Mrs. A. Howe was shown. Mrs. R. Y. Crie exhibited a jar of preserved currants 17 years old.

PRETTY POSIES.

The horticultural exhibit was better than usual, comprising plants in pots and in bouquets. Exhibits were made by A. G. Thomas, Mrs. John N. Ingraham, Mrs. R. A. Clark, Mrs. George Cables, Alabama Gross, Mrs. John Duncan, Mrs. Robert Crockett, Mrs. J. S. Ranlett, Mrs. O. J. Conant, Mrs. French and Mrs. H. L. Macomber. A. G. Thomas exhibited a new variety of helianthus or sun-flower. Mrs. John Bird had a large box of thrifty looking plants and J. Conkley a large collection of pot plants for sale. A. G. Thomas has proved himself quite a horticulturist. This season he raised eight varieties of dahlias from seeds, and they were very beautiful varieties, too.

BUSINESS EXHIBITS

Were made by H. H. Crie, rubber paint and carriage stock; samples of printing, Free Press and THE COURIER-GAZETTE; artist materials, pictures and organs, C. F. Sawtelle; piano covers, pianos, organs and other musical goods, Albert Smith; elegant chamber set, Atkinson House Furnishing Co.; cloakings, Simonon Bros.; gent's furnishing goods, O. F. Blackington; boots, shoes, etc., Herbert Lovejoy; case nice druggist goods, J. Conkley.

J. G. Torrey & Son had an interesting exhibit—a case of the elegant brass work manufactured by them—ship's bells, rowlocks, galls, etc., all highly polished and artistically made.

The exhibit of Messrs. Smith and Sawtelle, music dealers, added greatly to the appearance of the hall.

THE ART GALLERY

Was well filled with artistic work from the brushes of Mrs. O. R. Moore, Mrs. Eub. Gay Mrs. C. L. Pascal of Rockport, Mrs. A. B. Kirkpatrick, C. E. Rising, Mrs. C. A. Rose, Mrs. McWilliams, and Mrs. C. U. Keene; and skillful pen work by principal H. A. Howard of Rockland Commercial College.

The dairy showing was small but good.

OLD CURIOSITY SHOP.

The curio department was exceptionally large and interesting. The C. G. collection filled one corner of the hall, and was presided over during the fair by Henri Delano of Thomaston, who exhibited the various articles of curiosity to all who were interested. In this collection an old German bible, 222 years old, from J. W. Newbert, attracted great attention, as did also the commission of Thomas Vose of Thomaston, 1795, signed by George Washington. This is the property of Thomas S. Vose of Thomaston, and is very valuable.

Henri Delano exhibited a fine case of geological specimens and a handsome case of stuffed birds.

Among other exhibitions of interest was the Opillon's case of valuable specimens; prayer book 388 years old, John Jones models by Thomas Vose; pair stuffed doves, plover, case birds' eggs, fox rug, painted whalebone, medrick, sea gull, pine cone, queer growth; fine miniature cruet, Capt. M. M. Packard; bust of Lincoln, Miss Fannie Ulmer, made from macerated bank notes; stuffed eagle, H. L. Macomber; box of very valuable curios. Mrs. Jas. McWilliams; paper flowers, Jessie M. Clark, South, Thomaston, aged 11; beautiful shell work, Mrs. Eliza A. Philbrook; beautiful paper flowers, Jessie C. Burroughs; queer sponge, Capt. Wes. Gregory; fan made from barrel head and other interesting articles, Miss Nora Pitcher.

L. W. Karpenstein made an extensive exhibit of autographs of noted people. It attracted great attention. In the HOUSEHOLD MANUFACTURE Department there were fifty entries of exceptionally good work, in rugs, quilts, spreads, mittens, etc. Among the interesting articles in this department were the following: Quilt, Mrs. Willard Blackington aged 80; woven HEART FAILURE.

A Struggle for Life! Saved, and Health Restored!

Affections of the heart are growing more and more frequent as the human race plunges along, living ten years in one. Heart failure occurs when the system is worn down by exhausted vitality—the blood no longer giving the required strength to the heart and lungs. Heart troubles are frequently brought on by stomach difficulties. Indigestion—one of the most likely to produce it, inactivity of the stomach, Constipation and overloading of the stomach are almost sure to cause it.

Mr. W. H. Sawyer, a prominent citizen of Northern Maine, has been restored to health after a most dangerous illness from heart trouble by Bell's Sarsaparilla. Read his own statement: "I have been examined by five different physicians, all of whom pronounced my case heart disease, and were fearful I could not be helped. I became so poorly that from Feb. to Sept. 1887, I did not do a day's work. On the first day of Sept. I commenced taking Bell's Sarsaparilla, and the 20th I went to work and have not lost a day since. My feelings are that this medicine saved my life. Before taking it I suffered principally from pain in the stomach, extending to my left side, faintness and weakness."

To Save Time is to Lengthen Life.

Three important things in the Equipment of an Office are a Typewriter, a Cyclostyle, and a good supply of Rubber Stamps. The

Remington Standard Typewriter

is acknowledged to be the leading Typewriter, and its uses are too well known to enumerate here.

THE CYCLOSTYLE

is a machine by which any number of exact copies of any handwriting or type-writing can be quickly and cheaply made. It is far superior to any duplicating apparatus on the market.

OSBORN'S RUBBER STAMPS.

These Stamps are the best Rubber Stamps I ever saw, and can be furnished at a very low price. I should be pleased to show the above goods to anyone desiring to see them, also to send them samples of the work and prices. Typewriting and Duplicating by the Cyclostyle process done to order.
