CITY CHAT.

Here and There About Our Rapidly Growing Rockland.

ROCKLAND needs a food and milk inspector, whose duty it shall be to see that decayed fruits and the like are not offered for sale, who shall see that the milk furnished our people is in proper condition for use. Yes, Mr. Economist, it will cost something! But typhoid fever and other pestilences cost something. The question of food is a vital one, and where the people at large are concerned economy is sometimes the wildest extravagance.

Our Vermont correspondent of last week was very glad to get back to Rockland and enjoy the sea breeze. We thought it was hot last week, but people from other states who are rustiating hereabouts consider the weather cool. Those of our people who have been perspiring and fanning the past week should try some of the big cities or some of the inland towns, where there is no sea breeze, and one can't see breeze of any kind.

The thermometer registered 116 degrees in the sun at Eldridge & Oxtone's market, Wednesday noon. It would have done better than that had there been room. It was somewhat torrid Wednesday noon, but don't you remember that delightfully cool breeze that got in its work after dinner?

Our city should have an ordinance limiting the speed of bicycle riders in the city streets to eight miles an hour, a la Springfield, Mass., and other progressive cities. We might as well have "horse" on our tombstone as "bicycle."

A fire-alarm box is to be erected at or near the junction of Lisle with Pleasant streets. This is in Ward 5, the largest ward in the city and the only one which is without an alarm box some where near the ward center. At the present time the people of that ward, which reaches from Park street to the Old Thomaston Road, have been obliged to go either to the foot of Florence, foot of Park or over Broad street in Ward 4 to ring in an alarm.

Some considerable complaint has been made to the municipal officers that in various localities where the electric railroad has been laid the thoroughfares have not been put in as good condition as they were before the railroad was built. Accordingly at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen the mayor was instructed to notify the electric railroad to put the thoroughfares into as good condition as they were before the railroad track was laid, where the track lines have been raised above grade to grade the road up thereto, and to gravel its track so that it may be used by teams for turning out and the like. We understand that the railroad management will readily and cheerfully comply with the order and are willing to do everything just and proper in restoring the thoroughfares to good condition.

The rebuilding of the Gen. Berry and N. A. Burpee base houses, ordered at the last meeting of the City Council, is quite an important matter. The cost is considerable, some $1500, and for that reason was opposed by some of the City Council, but the buildings are in shabby condition, and could not much longer be occupied by the firemen. The rebuilding will be done by contract, bids have been secured by the Committee on City Property. L. W. Bunker chairman. The rebuilding includes the laying of a secure foundation.

The Board of Health says that we need a dumping ground but is unable to find a suitable place. The plan of burning the city filth and rubbish in a kiln was looked into and abandoned as too expensive. We certainly need some dumping place for the city garbage and filth.

That brick or concrete walk which is to be built on the western side of Water street from Main to Ocean, will be built now too soon. Water street is one of the continuations of Main street and a large number of people use it as a thoroughfare. The people down that way have put up with a very shabby walk for some years, but we're glad they are going to get something decent.

We wish the Road Commission would make a trial of the "complaint book"

Newsy Notes and Brief Mention of Home Happenings.

THE class of '93, R. H. S., was pleasantly entertained by Miss Annie M. Frost at her cottage, "Sunset", Wednesday evening, Aug. 9. During the first part of the evening nearly all of the class took possession of the row-boats on the shore for a quiet row. On returning the grounds presented a fine appearance, illuminated with Chinese lanterns, while a large brush fire in front of the cottage lent enchantment to the scene. For the remainder of the evening the guests assembled on the cottage piazza, telling stories and singing songs until a late hour, when the company left for home. The class was chaperoned by Geo. Hadley and Miss Alice Morse, who performed their duties in a thorough, efficient and competent manner.

Following are some of the matters of business transacted by the City Council at its August meeting, last week: The Joint Standing Committee on Highways and Sidewalks was instructed to confer with the proprietors of Cedar street tannery regarding the proper drainage of the establishment. George Oll, who claimed damages for alleged injuries through alleged defect in the sidewalk, was offered $35. The South-end sewer order, which was referred to the Joint Special Sewer Committee, called for the extension of the Ocean street sewer to the middle of Main street, and the extension of the Main street sewer to Crescent street. There is no doubt that the Crescent street neighborhood sadly needs drainage.

An order was passed instructing the Joint Standing Committee on Finance to ascertain the condition of the funds of the various departments and report at the next meeting of the City Council.

C. H. Pendleton, the druggist, occupies his new store in Rankin Block. It will be remembered that on the removal of A. C. Gay & Co. to Crockett's Point that Mr. Pendleton had the store they vacated fitted up for his occupancy. He now has a most beautiful store, attractive and convenient. E. A. Collamore now occupies Mr. Pendleton's old store with a fine grocery stock, which he opened to the public, Thursday evening. Rankin Block is coming to the front!

A. C. Page, the landscape gardener, is at work with his crew grading around J. D. May's new double house, on Grove street, and is laying concrete walks and renovating the lawn at H. N. Pierce's residence, Middle street. It was so hot Thursday afternoon that Mr. Page knocked off his crew during the hot hours after dinner, commencing work again the latter part of the afternoon and continuing until dark.

Col. G. L. Black takes exception to our statement last week that John Rankin had the only roof garden in town. The Colonel informs us with a trace of pride in his voice that he has a nice roof garden on Safford Block, and from this year will raise two bushels of cucumbers. The Colonel says his garden isn't to be made light of, unless 'tis skylight.

Tuesday noon while the family was at dinner some party or parties, up to the present time unknown, entered the office of Dr. T. L. Eastbrook, and surreptitiously removed therefrom a frock coat valued at $25. People who have sensible things in their halls had better keep two or three eyes open.

The estimate cost of the sewers ordered at the last meeting of the City Council is as follows: Trunk line from Park to Pleasant, $650; lateral sewer from Lisle street to Franklin street, $750; lateral sewer from Franklin street to near residence of Capt. Henry Pearson, $225.

R. H. Collamore, who is making his annual visit to his old home in this city, has the position in Somerville, Mass., as assistant foreman of the carpentry department of the North Packing & Provision Co. He is a very capable young man.

Col. Spear, Joseph Greenhalgh and J. H. Wiggin walked to the summit of Dodge's Mountain, Wednesday afternoon, in the hot sun. It was a sort of a wagger affair, and several gallons of good preparation were wasted.

COUNTY COMMENT.

Random References to Events in Neighboring Towns.

NOX County farmers are whistling for rain. Crops are drying up, pastures have dried up, cattle are being fed, and it's a dreadful long time between showers.

A Union farmer informs us that as a result of the dry spell his corn is small and uneven and the crop threatens to be short.

Throughout the county we hear complaints of mustard making its appearance in the grain fields, probably sowed with the seed.

Union people are wondering where the Georges Valley depot is to be located. It seems to THE C-G, that the proper location is opposite the residence of J. O. Cobb.

The people of Thomaston want the electric continued up into the town. That long bill and the hot sun of the past week are a combination that make the extension of the electric up into the town a most urgent need.

Notwithstanding the hard times Camden Corporation succeeds in selling some of its bonds. Safe and sure they certainly are.

The people up West Rockport way are not making much electric railroad talk, but they are quietly working just the same. THE C-G believes they will get there.

That Union Brass Band should get into playing order so as to welcome the arrival of the first locomotive in town, with toot of horn and rattle of drum.

South Union reports a building boom. The railroad is getting in its work.

In view of the fact that several of the towns in the county have new bands and others are talking of taking steps looking towards the organization of one, we wish to call the attention of the citizens of the various county towns to the fact that a good band is a mighty good advertisement for a place. Give the boys good support when they call on you! A band supporting word is something, but a dollar is better. Give the band boys a lift!

In dull times the employes of Georges River Mills, Warren, have a club room well supplied with reading matter, billiard tables, games and the like to fall back upon. We have referred to this before, but 'tis such an excellent thing that we cannot refrain from speaking of it again. The Georges River Mills Company, which furnishes the room and building matter, is not only liberal in its use, and the good feeling and good understanding existing between the management and the men is in no small degree due to the arrangement. $5 per month.

If we were proposed to re-arrange the service in these light houses, we would make a kick the action of the crew, 'good' into a smoking bop of 'LASH O'.

ROCKPORT FISHERIES.

Capt. Leland, the loss of whose nets we recorded some weeks ago, has a new boat, a 10-ton sloop and a good crew, and is engaged in fishing.

Some 400 small mackerel were caught in the nets and traps Thursday morning. The were worth about $3 a hundred.

Capt. Erastus Wallace reports the bay full of small mackerel, and there is good prospect that a good many fish will be caught along this shore before the season is over.

MARINE MATTERS.

The Polly Again—Battleship Maine and Her Machinery.

The ancient schooner Polly, built at Amesbury in 1804 and now lugging granite from a Maine port, has again furnished a lot of yarns for Boston reporters, who recount her alleged deeds of glory as a privateer in the war of 1812 in glowing colors. One paper had it that she carried 42 guns on that occasion, and similar details have been elaborated. The Polly certainly is a wonderful old craft, but I guess she was not much of a privateer. She might, with all the wind she could carry, possibly make six knots an hour, but 42 guns, if they were any larger than muskets, would sink her, as she is only about as big as a pollywog, comparatively—that is to say, about 48 tons gross, and sailed by one man and a boy.—Boston Marine Journal.

A wonderful mass of perfect working machinery is that of the battleship Maine, which has recently undergone a severe dock trial test at the Brooklyn Navy yard, and pronounced first class in every particular. It is some time since this magnificent machinery was on exhibition after completion in the shops of the Quinard Iron Works, where it was built. The contractors, Messrs. N. F. Palmer & Company, had to wait several months for the ship to be in condition to receive it. But the trial board's report that it is strong, well built and in accordance with the specifications, is some satisfaction for the long delay.

BALLARD PARK.

There is a nice spring at Ballard Park, from which three of the cottages are supplied by pipes—the Talbot, Miller and Rust cottages.

Thursday afternoon some party or parties kindled a fire in the woods near Ballard Park. Eben Crockett, who was berrying in the woods, discovered the fire and notified the people at the Park who carried water and put it out.

Rev. Mr. Ryder was called to Lawrence, Mass., Thursday to attend the funeral of one of his parishioners, returning here Saturday. He has three more weeks of vacation to pass here.

PENSION ALLOWED.

Hosea B. Perkins of South Thomaston, a veteran who saw service in the fighting 1st Maine Heavy Artillery, has been allowed a pension of $6 a month from Aug. 21, 1892. The pension was procured through Geo. J. P. Oiley's agency.
