CITY CHAT.

Here and There About our Rapidly Growing City.

OR some years now Thomas Shea and company have visited Rockland regularly and have invariably done a big business here. One reason has been that they always give a satisfactory performance, and a second reason is that the members of the company always conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen. As a natural result of these two causes the patronage of this company has steadily grown, and the recent engagement here yielded the biggest business in the history of the company's frequent visits to our city. We are very glad this is so, and hope to see Mr. Shea's success duplicated year after year. Thomas is no one-horse Shea.

We heard a citizen the other day speak slightly of our city and in a way that would give a stranger an entirely erroneous impression of the smartest place of its size in New England. When we heard him we were reminded of the advice Rev. J. H. Parshley gave his congregation Sunday of last week regarding the church's new volunteer choir. Said he: "I hope if you like the work of the choir you'll be kind enough to tell them of it, and if you don't like it I hope you'll keep quiet. I can see that any good purpose is subserved by criticizing those who are doing their best, and doing that best without recompense."

This is an excellent bit of advice to apply to those who, happily few in numbers, never have a good word to say for Rockland, but instead have always a criticism to make. Rockland is the best city in the state of Maine, has the brightest future and the surest foundation, and the man who can't see anything but something to criticize must have a severe attack of stigmatisms.

An unusually large number of people in our city will feel the pangs of hunger and the pinch of the cold this coming winter, for work has been scarce. Rockland has only one organization that reaches these cases systematically, and that is the Rockland Charitable Association. This organization depends upon the citizens for its funds. The usual canvass will be made, and we hope those who are accustomed to give will be prepared to do their part this year as usual, and those who have not lent a helping hand may put their shoulders to the wheel and help push the load along.

Lend a hand! Lend a hand!

The times are not hard, but the people buying the comforts of life. They have, however, been pinched by the necessities of the situation. They are pinched by the necessities of the situation. They are pinched by the necessities of the situation.

H. L. Churchill, Rockland, Messenger.
Rev. C. W. Bradley, pastor Pratt Memorial M. E. Church, Rockland, Chaplain.
Charles Walton Small, Deering, Stenographer.

GRAND JURY.

Henry Parsons, Rockland, Foreman; William A. Rivers, Cushing, Clerk; Cole H. Annie, Rockport; Henry Burns, Union; Henry Curran, Thomaston; Ralph W. Davis, Friendship; Oscar S. Frost, Rockland; Lindley M. Gushue, Appleton; Leonard Handerson, St. George; L. A. Law, Washington; Sidney F. Maker, North Haven; Silas W. Masters, Thomaston; Ephraim Pendleton Camden; Frank H. Smith, South Thomaston; Warren F. Smith, Vinahaven; Elisha C. Walker, Rockland; Henry E. Woster, Hope; Gorham H. Young, Warren.
Mr. Curran was excused from attendance at this term.

TRAVESER JURORS.

First Jury.—Samuel Bryant, Rockland, Foreman; William L. Allen, St. George; Fuller C. Blackington, Rockland; Clarence M. Blake, Rockland; Enoch Bradford, Friendship; George A. Brown, South Thomaston; George H. Brown, Hope; Harry P. Buchanan, Camden; J. S. W. Burpee, Rockland; Winfield S. Carver, Vinahaven; Samuel H. Creighton, Warren; Addison R. Davis, Appleton.
Second Jury.—William L. Jordan, Foreman, Thomaston; J. W. R. Gould, Camden; Fred Hinckley, Thomaston; Elmer E. Jameson, Warren; Charles H. Kempton, Rock-

Friday afternoon was opened to a drawn jury. William L. Jordan of Thomaston being appointed Foreman.

The plaintiff is a resident of Rockland and on January 19, 1891, as he was riding down Main street in a pump, accompanied by his wife, when in front of the Lindsey House, the runner struck a pile of snow, ice and earth, causing the pump, and Rich and his wife were thrown out onto the pavement. The plaintiff claimed that he was severely injured and for these alleged injuries he brought this suit. His wife was not injured. The jury under the control of the sheriff together with the counsel took a view of the premises where the accident occurred. The plaintiff introduced testimony to prove twenty-four hours actual notice to the city previous to the accident. By this it was shown that Dexter Simmons, who has charge of the streets, was instrumental in placing more or less of the obstruction in the street and that in consequence he had actual knowledge of the existence of the alleged defect. The question then arose as to the sufficiency of the notice. By agreement of counsel the case was withdrawn from the jury and reported to the Law Court to determine whether notice to an employee or foreman was actual notice to the city within the meaning of the statute. The case was then marked "Law on report."
Littlefield for plaintiff; City Solicitor Prescott for defendant.

SATURDAY'S TRIALS.

A. A. Beaton, Executor, vs. P. T. and S. P. Haskell. The case was entered in March, 1893. The plaintiff is executor of the estate of Isaac Haskell late of Rockland, deceased, and sues the defendants to recover on a note dated March 14, 1884, for $500 with interest. The defendants plead the statute of limitation and the plaintiff relies upon a new promise in writing made within six years from the date of the writ. The case was tried before the Court by agreement of counsel without the intervention of a jury. At the plaintiff had taken out his testimony upon the suggestion on the Court the case was marked "Law on report."
Beaton & Ulmer for plaintiff; Fogler for defendant.

Patrick Maloney in review vs. Herbert H. Griffin. The case was entered in March, 1893. At a former trial the defendant in this action obtained judgment against Mr. Maloney, who appears in this case as plaintiff, and Mr. Maloney petitioned the Court for a writ of review, which was granted at the March term 1893. The writ of review having been granted, this trial was upon the original writ. The defendant, Mr. Griffin, claimed that he worked for Mr. Maloney during December, 1890 and January and February, 1891, cutting stone and working in a quarry. Before an apprentice he was to have 75 cents per day while cutting stone, and work in the quarry.

SOCIAL SALAD.

A Very Pretty Wedding Solemnized in the Capital City—Other Chat.

Our local whist club are now re-organizing for the winter campaign.

The engagement of Miss Neila Kimball of this city to J. T. Green of the Thomas & Co. is announced.

Miss Anie Graves pleasantly entertained at her home, corner South Main and North streets, Thursday evening.

One of our young druggists is soon to be married, and will occupy the tenement corner of Union and Grove streets, vacated by Rev. J. H. Parsley.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Richard Miss Ellen Rice went to Concord, N. H., Monday to attend the wedding of Joseph Walker, a college friend of Mr. M. A. Rice, which occurred Tuesday.

A small party of invited friends were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis, Monday evening at last week at their home on Broadway. The grand feature of the entertainment was a most enjoyable corn roast, the fruit being harvested from Mr. Davis own garden. "I was a very jolly occasion."

A very pretty and happy home wedding was that of the marriage of Blanche Edith, only daughter of Mrs. M. S. Kimball of Augusta, to William Henry Fisher of this city, at the home of Mrs. Kimball, Wednesday evening. The ceremony was of the Episcopal form and performed by the Rev. J. W. Williamson, of the State Street Congregational Church.

The happy couple were under a true lover's knot of roses, suspended from the parlor ceiling, while ferns stood around in profusion. Both bride and groom were very tastefully attired, as was also the maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Fisher, of Caribou, sister of the groom. The parlor was a perfect mass of ferns and plants.

The presents were numerous, beautiful and costly, consisting of silver and choice bric a brac. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shaw and young son of Washington, D. C., uncle and aunt of the bride; I. B. Kimball, Chicago, bride's brother; Mrs. I. K. Kimball, Miss Neila Kimball of Rockland, aunt and cousin; Col. and Mrs. F. M. Drew of Lewiston; Mrs. Brown of Hallowell, bride's aunt, and Mrs. Frederick Owen of Bangor. Maj. McGinness of the Kennebec arsenal furnished many of the floral decorations, as did Mr. Shaw of Washington, with beautiful Egyptian lotus and pond lilies and other flowers.

FRATERNITY FACTS.

Interesting News Notes from Various Secret Society Circles.

R. H. Barnham and wife of this city attended the state gathering of the United friends in Bangor, Tuesday. Knox County has two Councils of United Friends—Rockland Council of this city and Georges River Council of Warren. The Rockland Council has 69 members, Warren's Council 11.

The Sons of Veterans have received Gen. Joseph B. Macavoe's first general order, which announces the fall business of the late meeting of the Sons of Veterans at Cincinnati. One of the clauses of the order, which doubles the representation of the annual national meeting, will give Maine four delegates in the future. Frank Bais, of Auburn, who was a delegate to the annual meeting this year, has already placed himself in line as a candidate for the '04 meeting, to be held at Davenport. Another important item in the order is the clause which provides that the eligible age for membership in the future shall be 21 instead of 18.

The grand council, Order of United Friends, met in Bangor, Tuesday. Over thirty delegates were present, the judges at Portland, Augusta, Newport, Rockland and Brewer being represented. The reports made were very encouraging. The grand treasurer's report showed that there was a balance of $850.04 in the treasury.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Past grand councilor, M. J. Martin, Augusta; grand councilor, F. M. Shaw, Newport; grand order, M. G. Prentiss, Brewer; grand vice councilor, Mrs. E. E. Burnham, Rockland; grand treasurer, W. A. Frye, Newport; grand medical examiner, George W. Martin, Augusta; grand prelate, Mrs. Ellen A. CURRENT NEWS FROM ROCKPORT

Seasonable Happenings Served Up in Readable Form for Home Use

Industrial News hat Shows Business Activity—Local Notes Regarding Things of Interest—The Week's Record of Personals.

We all have colds. J. S. Foster has adopted concrete for a walk at his residence.

S. B. Shepherd is recovering from his recent severe injuries.

The Advents have postponed their Quarterly Meeting from Sept. 28 to Oct. 5.

The Rockport Ice Co. has 7000 tons left in its house of the 30,000 tons harvested.

The large attendance at the Grammar School has made a demand for more seats.

The Rockport Collar Co. sent two invoices of their goods to Rockland last week.

Capt. Thomas Perry has bought the C. B. Vessie meat market and will open it this week.

No shows are booked for the Opera House until October when the Billy Baras Co. has a date.

Our schools are unusually full. Nearly every seat in the new school-house is occupied.

A party of ladies from Commercial street had an excursion to Vinhaven, Tuesday, the 19th.

A large party from South Hope and vicinity enjoyed a clam-bake at McIntyre's Grove, Wednesday.

Capt. L. K. Morse was obliged to have his old horse killed. The animal was more than 20 years old.

We are glad to see the close cars again on the coast. They are more comfortable than the waddy days.

The Water Co. has been laying the supply pipe from the main to Wm. Corbitt's stable deeper to avoid the coming frost.

Our schools have been supplied with five Combination Chautauque charts and blackboards. They are a fine thing.

Fred Norwood Post and Relief Corps had a corn-roast Saturday, the 23d, on the Mount Pleasant farm of Capt Dennis Andrews.

Carlton, Norwood & Co. discharged a cargo of stove coal last week, a large portion being distributed to their customers direct from the vessel.

The new concrete walk is the neatest thing in town in the way of walks. The material is the same as the old one, but it is said to be better.

Someone came in and announced that Mrs. Stephen Sellers would move into her new house this week. On inquiring we found the house was just over the hill near Charles Marsh's, and had been built so suddenly that we had never noticed it was being built. That's the way they do things in this place!

Winfield Thurlow moved his barn across the street between the new house and the old one.

There has been a great improvement in the place. Mr. Thurlow should give the thanks of the people for this; as it really is of no benefit to him. C. W. Perry and E. Ladd do the work.

If the season were a little longer we would have given an account of all the church socials which have been and are going to be given. There seems to be one each night. The reason is that the Methodists are doing the greatest bustling that ever was done to get that church of theirs started, and the other day E. K. Glover, like the war horse that scented the battle from afar, put in an appearance, which usually means that somebody or something has got to get up and get, so we shall expect to hear the bell ringing in said building soon.

Word from Boston reports Lincoln Waldo improved in health.

Mrs. W. H. Symonds of Bedford, Mass., returned to her home, Friday.

Mrs. R. J. Lement of Southwest Harbor is visiting her daughter who is attending the High School.

Mrs. W. F. Thorne of Somerville, who has been visiting friends here, returned Wednesday to her home.

Rev. T. E. Brastow attended the Field Day exercises at Maine State College, Orono, last week. His son William was present.

Mrs. Hiram Brown was present at the day-laborer's meeting to be held at the Rockport Colliery on August 25th.

Eliza Brown has bought a grocery wagon of C. S. Staples.

Hollie Leadbetter is making extensive repairs on his house and building a large stable.
