ECHOES FROM THE ELECTION

Including Scattered Sparks From Various Noisy Celebrations.

First McKinley Flag in the Country— Illuminations in This City That Were Not Mentioned—Candidates for Various Offices—Probable Special Session of Congress.

When the celebration was over in this city Monday night of last week the McKinley and Hobart and Dingley flag that has been floating in front of the home of J. W. Crocker and H. M. Lord, was furled for the first time since it was flung out the day following the presidential nomination.

This was without doubt the first McKinley flag unfurled in this country. The flag was procured and everything made ready, and when the nominations were announced, the flag was promptly flung out.

Owing to lack of time and space in our last issue we failed to mention the following elaborate illuminations and decorations: White & Case, S. T. Mugridge, D. E. Carleton, Miss Carrie Barnard, Mrs. C. F. Wood and in all probability others.

One of the candidates for office in this city made an original and characteristic proposal to his fellow candidates, that they draw lots to decide which one should remain in the field, the losers to withdraw and support the winner, but some of the other candidates would not accept the proposal.

The janitorship of the Custom House and Postoffice has developed many candidates. Following is the list up to date: George E. McLaughlin, H. B. Simmons, J. Graves, John W. Titus, John Ham and C. P. Wood. Allison Shuman now occupies that position, and has some two years to serve.

A well known young Democrat residing at the South-end has a Republican wife. On the occasion of last week's celebration the young man went up town to see the procession start, and arrived back home just as the parade turned his corner. It was a nice bright corner, for during the absence of the husband the wife had illuminated in fine style. Again, we say, it's always best to let a woman have her own way.

It has been rumored that George Bliss of Waldoboro would be a candidate for the position of Collector of the Waldoboro District. A Rockland man discussed the situation with Mr. Bliss one day last week. Mr. Bliss stated that he had not fully decided whether he would be a candidate or not. The inference was that he would not. J. H. H. Hewett, esq., of Thomaston, who has also been suggested as a possible candidate, does not intend to compete for the prize.

In accordance with the law, the presidential electors, who were chosen last Tuesday, will meet at the capitol, in Augusta, on the Saturday preceding the second Monday in January for the purpose of qualifying. On the following Monday, the electors will vote for president and vice-president. Three copies of their vote will be made up, one of which will be by special messenger to the president of the United States at Washington, another will be mailed to the president of the senate, and the third to the judge of the United States district court of Portland.

The messenger to Washington is generally one of the electors. Hon. Rodney C. Penney, of Monson performing that duty four years ago. The electors are as follows: John F. Hill, Augusta; Joel Wilbur, Avon; Edwin Pearson, Kennebunk; A. R. Nickerson, Boothbay Harbor; Fred Atwood, Winterport; Albert H. Sawyer, Calais.

STEAMBOAT SPARKS.

Matters Pertaining to Navigation in Penobscot Bay and Along the Coast.

The Bangor Commercial says that the Boston & Bangor Steamship Co. has decided to put the steamer Rockland on the route between this city and Rockland for the winter season, running to this port until the river freezes and then coming to Bucksport and Winterport. She will probably begin running about the 23rd instant. The Penobscot will remain on the route during the remainder of the season, making two trips per week.

One-half of the steamer Henry Morrison has been sold by F. D. Galloway to George F. Knight of Boston. Terms private.—Steamer City of Bangor made 170 passages between the time she came on the route last year, at the time of her being taken off. This is but half a trip less than what her schedule called for, and more than ever made in the same time by any boat on that route. Patrons of the B. & B. S. Co. succumbed to the winter weather, and the steamer was not towed into Tillson's wharf, and time has not seemed to lessen their admiration.

If all reports are true Bucksport will have excellent steamboat service from here to Rockland this winter. The latest boat reported to go on the route and this 'us' said for, is the Rockland. This makes a total of four. Well we can stand it.—Bucksport Eagle.

COMING EVENTS.

The Conroy & Fox company of comedians will be seen here at the Opera house, Monday, Nov. 23, in their ludicrous success "O'Flarity's Vacation," the comedy in which they scored such a big hit last season. The play was written for laugh purposes only, and in the hands of such excellent Irish comedians as we know Conroy & Fox to be, it is easy to anticipate that another good laugh is in waiting for us. The price is not only possessed of a funny story and side-splitting F. E. Holman and J. J. Richardson.

Tickets are now selling for the People's Lecture Course, conducted by the Young People's Union of the First Baptist church. The success achieved by this organization in former seasons of lecture courses would in itself be a guarantee for another season; but the prospectus indicates that the course this winter will far exceed in interest those of former seasons. The announcements are as follows: Dec. 2, Rev. Dr. MacArthur, of New York, subject, "The Hawaiian Islands, the Paradise of the Pacific;" Dec. 16, John De Witt Miller of Boston, subject, "The Stranger at Our Gate;" Jan. 22, Rev. J. H. Parsley, subject, "The Genius of Civilization;" Feb. 17, Rev. P. S. Henson, D. D., of Chicago, subject, "The Future of the Race;" March 10, concert by the First Baptist Choral Association. This superb list of entertainments is to be given under a course ticket costing only one dollar. The lecturers are men of the very foremost rank. We predict that the sale of tickets will be large. The boldness of the entertainment committee, of which Eben W. Porter is chairman, in essaying a course of so great merit and expense, will be rewarded with the hearty appreciation and support of the public.

With the next issue of this paper, the great attraction, which has been so long in preparation by the Epworth League of the Pratt Memorial Church, will be in full operation. The doors of Elwood Hall will be thrown open next Wednesday afternoon upon a scene in which business activity and holiday pleasure will be mingled together as never before in Rockland. It will indeed be a "Business Men's Carnival," a combination of business enterprise and merry making that must prove wonderful, enticing and beneficial. First, there will be the large and attractive business exhibit, in which is promised many interesting studies, and beautiful effects; then there is the department of curiosities and antiquities, in itself well worth the price of admission; a loom flax and spinning wheels will be in operation and on Friday evening a large company will be dressed in costume of an ancient time. This will be "Colonial evening" and the special entertainment will be an Old Folks Concert, by a chorus of 50 voices. The evening preceding, there will be a first class athletic exhibition on Wednesday evening, a unique drill by a company of 40 young ladies. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the baby show occurs in which 50 little ones under 2 years of age will make their first bow to the public. The Rockland orchestra will accompany each evening. Dinners will be served each day from 11:30 to 1:30 and suppers from 5:30 to 7. Either meal including admission 25 cents. Fancy articles, flowers, fruit, candies, ice-cream etc., constantly on sale. Afternoon admission 15 cents. Evening admission 25 cents. Season ticket 75 cents, which will admit for the four afternoons and evenings of Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18, 19, 20 and 21.

FOR FARMERS.

Some Of Our Agriculturists Have Not Dug Their Potatoes Yet.

The continued wet weather has prevented some among the farmers in this neighborhood from digging their potatoes, and it looks as though unless they procured digging suits they would not be able to dig them.

Bulletin No. 8 of the Maine State Board of Agriculture contains the following relating to farming in Knox and Lincoln Counties:

KNOX COUNTY.—Six replies. Amount of apples, 125 per cent; quality, 119 per cent; 66 per cent of winter varieties. None of the apple crop will be shipped at once. Yield of potatoes, 150 bushels. The potato rot reported last month still continues to some extent. One correspondent reports the use of Bordeaux mixture, with good results. Yield of yellow corn, 50 bushels. Eighty-nine per cent of young stock will be wintered. Condition of grass fields, 106 per cent.

LINCOLN COUNTY.—Four replies. Amount of apples, 122 per cent; quality, 105 per cent; 68 per cent of winter varieties. 16 per cent of the apple crop will be shipped at once. Yield of potatoes, 133 bushels. The potato rot still continues to be quite general; no Bordeaux mixture used. Yield of yellow corn, 40 bushels; sweet, 2,800 pounds. Sixty-two per cent of young stock will be wintered. Condition of grass fields, 109 per cent.

T. R. Simonton of Camden is a candidate for the position of Special Agent of the Treasury, which he held for three years under the Harrison administration.

THE UNIVERSALIST FAIR

Was Successful Notwithstanding Severity of Weather.

National Colors Most Conspicuous of the Decorations—Booths Presented Attractive Appearance and Wares Found a Ready Sale—Something About the Church Circle.

"This is our annual luck," remarked a lady at the Universalist fair which was held in the vestry Wednesday afternoon and evening. But notwithstanding the clouded heavens and the steady downpour of rain the countenance of every lady was wreathed in welcome smiles and not a tear was shed for as usual the ladies were successful both financially and socially.

There was a good attendance both afternoon and evening, the sales were heavy and all felt well repaid for braving the inclement weather. The decorations were simply stunning and even the entrance was forgotten for it was guarded by two beautiful fir trees of a deep shade of green.

The vestry presented a magnificent picture and it was a cold hearted, unpatriotic person indeed who could look upon the artistic decorations without feelings of pride and pleasure. Flags gently waved from the chandeliers and from the folds of streamers in the national colors while on the walls were a profusion of the red, white and blue. Indeed the colors which every American citizen loves so well were to be seen everywhere about the room.

The attractiveness of the vestry was further enhanced by several artistically arranged booths, in which many tempting articles were offered for sale, and a number of fir trees, outside the national colors the prevailing colors were white and green producing a most charming effect.

On the entrance from the left was a beautiful French dress presented by Mrs. Sewall. It was draped in orange and white silk and with trimmings of orange ribbons and white lace. Mrs. James Fernald became the fortunate possessor of this useful as well as ornamental article.

Then in the corner was the booth from which was dispensed delicious tea and chocolate provided over by Mrs. M. E. Wotton and Mrs. A. S. Black. There was a very cozy nook, robes covered the floor and the indulgence of the delightful beverages had charming pieces of furniture at their disposal. The booth was decorated in white the monotony of which was broken by the words "New Years" in letters of red and white and a parlor lamp filled the booth with its light of radiant softness.

The cake table was trimmed in white and beautiful shades of pink. The many and delicious kinds of cake were enough to tempt the most epicurean disposed person. This was in charge of Mrs. J. M. Blackington and Mrs. J. S. W. Barne.

The pastry booth was also very attractive in its arrangements. The front of the booth was surmounted by an arch trimmed in white with decorations of red berries. Mrs. E. E. Tibbets and Mrs. C. M. Tibbets were in charge of the booth and the fair closed they had but little of their wares left. The tea and coffee booth was designated as the Fourth of July booth and was well deserving of the name. It was gaily decorated in red, white and blue with a background of the same material. On an arch was the name of the booth in letters from fire-crackers. Here Mrs. W. H. Kittredge and Mrs. Charles T. Spear found plenty to do in supplying the beverages to the thirsty. Mrs. Spear had her hair dressed with fire-crackers which produced a most striking effect.

draws, Miss Lothrop and Miss Davis. These ladies were gaily and patriotically attired in costumes of red, white and blue.

Mrs. Charles H. Berry and Mrs. William H. Glover had a general superintendency over the whole.

Although the weather was unfavorable the ladies have the satisfaction of knowing that they realized $212.

It may be interesting to know the officers of the circle for they have been recently elected and were instrumental in a large degree in making the fair a success. They are: President, Mrs. Fred F. Burpee; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Henry Pearson, Mrs. Oliver P. Hix and Mrs. Charles T. Spear; Treasurer, Mrs. H. N. Keene, who has served in this capacity for the past 35 years; Secretary, Mrs. Emma P. Frohock.

The circle is of great benefit to the church. Last year it spent almost $500 in music for the church, paying all expenses of the choir besides the insurance and other expenses.

The ladies also congratulate themselves on the fact that they are no longer compelled to work in a kitchen in which they were cramped for room for recently the partition which separated the kitchen and cloak-room was removed and the one room is now the kitchen and the ladies have all the elbow room they want.

Bless the ladies, what would a church do without them?

Said a Rockland business man, when he heard that the fair netted more than $200: "It's lucky it rains when the ladies of the Church of Immanuel have their fairs. If they had pleasant weather they'd make themselves independently rich and bankrupt the rest of the city."

For six consecutive years the sun has refused to smile on the annual fairs of the Universalist Society, but that doesn't seem to make much difference.

MUSICAL CIRCLES.

The Philharmonics To Have a Public Recital—Other Noteworthy Notes.

The Wight Philharmonic Society will have a public recital in Philharmonic Hall, Monday evening, Nov. 30. The chorus work will include selections from Ballard's 91st Psalm, with selected solos and duets by members of the Society. The rehearsal Thursday evening last was very enjoyable. The Ballard Psalm was sung, with solos, duets and quartets by members of the chorus, the bass and tenor solos of Dr. Samuel Tibbets of Galesburg, and W. F. Tibbets of this city being especially pleasing. Miss Mary Knight of Rockport sang a selected solo, Strelezki's "Happy Days," and delighted all with the rich, melodic tones of her voice. In response to an enthusiastic and persistent encore, she sang "In My Swift Boat," by Concone. Miss Knight has a fine mezzo soprano voice which has been cultivated under skillful teachers. She studied at one time with Mrs. Hernandez of Walham, Mass. The Philharmonics hope to hear her again in solos.

Frank H. Thomas of Camden, the vocal teacher, has a fine class in this city and another large class is being organized in Thomaston.

The Providence Sunday Journal contained the following notice which will be read with interest: Miss Fannie Berry, the new organist of the Central Congregational church, who has recently settled in Providence, came here from Boston, where for several years she served as organist of the Shawmut church. She was a pupil of Leschetzky, the famous Viennese teacher, and subsequently made the organ a special subject of study. She is a most accomplished organist. The choir of the church is said to be exceptionally fine, and having recently been reorganized, and is under the direction of Dr. Jordan, an eminent director.

Boston Record: I do not know of an audience more representative of "Boston as a whole" than that which regally attended the lectures of L. C. Elson on "The Symphony." Last night as I looked about me I think I saw more of the class of art, literature, science and religion than I ever saw before in one room.

FISH AND FISHING.

Some Few Facts About Mackerel—Sardine Factory Still In Operation.

E. T. Russell & Co., of Boston, are keeping a crew busily at work at their Tillson wharf sardine factory. Fish are running a little large to be entirely satisfactory. The firm succeeds in getting enough of the right kind of stock to make business quite brisk. They will operate the plant until the advent of winter shuts off the supply.

Charles E. Weeks received 20,000 pounds of mixed fish Thursday. A few mackerels are still being caught off Block Island. The last catch of any importance was a haul of 200 barrels by steamer Hathaway, about a week ago.—The Gloucester Breeze states that the mackerel catch of the season is about 100,000 barrels gross.

ON THE TRAIL.

Rockland Young Men Who Are Enjoying Wood Life Own East.

Walter E. Weeks, A. C. McLean, Fred Glover and Will Glover left on the Frank Jones Saturday for their annual gunning trip down east.

Two big deer carcasses from Washington County, destined for Boston, arrived here by boat Tuesday evening. A young man was in charge of the train of deer.

Arthur Haines, Clyde Thomas and Herbert Emmons have been in camp a week at the Bog.

THAT CARNIVAL.

The Business Men's Carnival, under the auspices of the Epworth League of this city, opens tomorrow afternoon in Elwood Hall, continuing each afternoon and evening for the remainder of the week.

ADMISSION.—Afternoon 15 cents; evening, 25 cents; season tickets 75 cents. Dinner and supper 25 cents.

ENTERTAINMENTS.—Wednesday evening, (8 o'clock) young ladies' drill; Thursday evening, Athletic Exhibition; Friday evening, Old Fols Concert; (8 o'clock) Baby Show.

TALES FROM TOWN TOPICS

Weighty Matters Which are Being Discussed By Our People.

Hard Work to Fool the Ladies—His Wife Was a Republican—A Case Where It Was as Necessary to Watch as to Pray—Sad Tale of the Man With a House to Sell—Short Stories.

A Main street grocer was growling the other day. He said:

"I'd like to have an interview of about an hour with that dealer in groceries who first proposed to deliver goods and to call at houses to get orders. People in the smaller cities are so accustomed to that style of doing business that it would be impossible to try and any other plan, but in the big cities people are obliged to go to the markets themselves in most cases take their purchases home. People don't appreciate the convenience of the present system.

"If we all sold our teams, and refused to call for orders or to deliver goods, you'd hear a great deal of complaint, and you'd see a long procession of basket-bearing individuals wending their way to the markets. I would save a great deal of trouble and expense, and would prove very much more satisfactory to buyers, for then they could see the quality of goods they were buying."

A well known Rockland Republican has a sad story to tell. His wife and mother-in-law are Democrats of a most pronounced type. On the occasion of the recent Republican celebration our Republican friend enticed his wife and her mother away to the house of a friend for the evening and then when he supposed they were fully occupied, quietly returned to his home and proceeded to illuminate. He lighted the lamps in the lower part of the house, and then, well pleased with his work, went up stairs to complete his patriotic task. When he got back down stairs he found all the lamps extinguished, and while he was puzzling over the solution of the mystery, his wife and her mother returned from up stairs, where they had been quietly but determinedly extinguishing such lights as the Republican so-called head of the family had put in the upper windows. It seems that the Democratic members of the family noticed the absence of the Republican portion of the house, suspected his designs, followed hot on his trail, quietly entered the house and extinguished the lamps on the lower floor and stealthily climbed the back stairs while the illuminator came down the front way.

It's hard work to fool a woman.

"There's so many good candidates for the various offices in this city that it's embarrassing," said a citizen yesterday. "They are all men we'd be glad to support, and it's a difficult matter to decide between 'em. Why can't the matter be settled by ballot, the Australian system, as we have several times decided who should be the Republican candidate for mayor? Such a method would give every one a vote in the matter and settle the question on its merits."

GEORGIA Cayvan, that talented actress, is exhibiting great interest in New York City with her new play, "Squire Kate." Miss Cayvan, as is well known, is a Bath, Maine, girl, and Maine has a deep interest in her successful and brilliant career.

With Nordica and Emma Eames on the operatic stage and Cayvan on the lyric stage Maine need not fear for her laurels in the amusement world. Just now, too, Nordica, has stirred up Melba and Jean De Reske in a way that has attracted great attention to the Maine songstress. Nordica evidently isn't afraid to say what she thinks.

The Salvation Army Band, the so-called "Yankee Band," which recently visited our city, contained one especially bright and entertaining member, with whom a reporter of THE C. G. had a most interesting talk.

"They call us the Yankee Band," said he, "but that's more or less of a fake. There's only four of the band are Yankees. I'm one of the band, myself, and my name is Egan dead give-away. My name's Jerry Grogan and I was born in Dublin. I've seen some hard times in my life. I was working on a big steamboat when I was converted, and it wasn't an easy thing in a place like that to live as you wanted to, that is, to live up to what you believed and preached. Well, I went down to breakfast one morning, and before I ate, I shut my eyes and asked a blessing. When I got thro' I found that some one had wiped my breakfast. I didn't say nothin', but the next time I asked a blessing I put my arms out round my plate, and I asked the blessing with my eyes open. One of the crew said:

"How kin he ask er blessing, with his eyes open?"

"An I said: 'The bible says 'Watch an pray,' and so when I pray at my meals, I'm a-goin' to watch so that you fellers can't swipe me'r grub.'"

Speaking of grocers and groceries, a man remarked the other day that the time coming when some enterprising grocer dealer in other classes of goods would have his store connected with the homes of patrons by a system of telephones, so that patrons could order goods at any time or trouble. And this reminds us of Rockland man, formerly in the grocery business, contemplated doing that, but could not get satisfactory teleph. When telephonic communication was ended as it necessarily will be, then the prophetess that the homes of the all be provided with telephone calls.

A Rockland man who has a house to sell tells a sad story. He received a call from an elderly lady, who wanted to look the place over. Our friend saw a prospective purchaser at hand, and immediately became as urbane and polite as a hotel host. He showed the lady the cellar, he described the workings of the furnace he showed the visitor through the kitchen, dining-room, sitting room and parlor, he expatiated on the roominess of the chambers and the convenience of the closets, he bumped his head against the rafters in the attic, he worked for an hour and a half—worked with an energy and vim that was exhaustive—and then the old lady said:

"I'm much obliged to you. I like the looks of the house very much. You see, my son-in-law is talking of building and I thought I might get some valuable suggestions by looking over other houses."

A great many new candidates have developed for the Thomaston post-office, since our last issue. We then stated that Edward Brown and Joseph Feyer were in the field. Since then T. S. Singer, who filled the office satisfactorily under the Harrison administration, has announced his candidacy and the following additional names are also mentioned: J. E. Mears, C. W. Stimpson, Charles Pierce, W. H. Hatch, Nelson Fales and C. P. Redman. Postmaster Gilchrist's term will not expire until one year from next April.

The Republicans of Tenants Harbor celebrated the great national victory with illuminations, cannon firing and the like, Thursday evening. As one of the prominent Republicans of the town said Friday:

"It was a Republican victory in St. George, and yet again, it was not. The Sound Money Democrats helped us nobly, and we appreciate their aid. St. George voted for sound money and against repudiation, and so it was right that we should celebrate."

The commercial traveller is an important factor in the business life of this country, and Rockland has an especial interest in the welfare of the class, for the representatives of that bustling brotherhood who visit this city are very popular with the people at large, so that the announcement that the commercial travellers of the country are to hold a big fair in New York city will be a matter of interest. This fair will be held December 15-28, 1896, at Madison Square Garden, New York, with the aim of raising $150,000 to complete the national home for indigent commercial travellers and their dependent wives or widows and children, at Binghamton, N. Y., which is to be benefited by the commercial travellers' day.

A feature of commercial travellers' day that is growing in popularity among the "strangers'" fraternity, is the proposed marking of the day by a remittance of a donation, however small, to Director-General de Frece on December 1, by every commercial traveller, to swell the home building fund.

What's your husband's work?

Does he have to do anything as hard as your washing and scrubbing? It can't be. What can a man do that's as hard, for most men, as this constant household drudgery is, for most women? If he has any sympathy for you, tell him to get you some Pearlina. Sympathy is all very well, but it's Pearlina. Not sympathy, that you want for washing and cleaning. Nothing else that's safe to use will save you so much downright hard work at the washtub or about the house. It saves money, too—saves the ruinous wear on clothes and baint from needless rubbing.

Millions NOW USE Pearlina

POOR BEATON!

Maybe This is Nothing but an Election Joke—But Such Jokes Don't Go in Cold Weather.

The habits of the Central Club were confronted the other morning by the following unique "lost" notice posted conspicuously in the main door-way.

"Somebody made a mistake.

"And took Beaton's ulcer instead of his own.

"Beaton is sorry but will forgive him if he returns it before cold weather sets in, and to seal his forgiveness will entertain his erring brother at billiards, or whist. Call on the janitor and receive your ulcer and at the same time leave Beaton's.

"Poor Beaton, who has no ulcer in cold weather."

UNDER THE FALLS.

Nathaniel Peters, a laborer in the employ of Captain Gleason Young, was drowned just below the falls at Warren, Tuesday afternoon, in sight of several people. Peters had been in the habit of filling a large boat with fresh water from the dam, to be used on the steamer Rambler, and was working his boat along the side of the dam when the boat suddenly filled and capsized. Peters was on the dam holding to a cleat with one hand, the other grasping the boat's painter. As the boat swung off he let go of the cleat instead of the boat. The water was wild and seething and the unfortunate man was drawn under and whirled over and over and sucked out of sight. His body was recovered next morning.

THE COMPANION CALENDAR.

It is said that the expense of making the Companion Art Calendar for 1897 was so great that had it been published in the usual quantity it could not be sold for less than one dollar. Four beautiful female figures are reproduced on four folding pages. Each figure is lithographed in twelve colors, being a true reproduction of the original water-color painting which was selected because of its excellence of design and charm of color and tone. The size of each of the four folding pages is 10 1/2 by 6 inches.

It is by far the best piece of color work the Companion has ever offered. Both as a calendar and as a gem of the lithographic art, it is so attractive that it becomes a valuable addition to the mantle or enterable of any room. It is given free to all subscribers sending $1.75 to the Companion for the year 1897, who receive also the paper free from the time the subscription is received till January 1, 1897.

Celebrating its twenty first birthday the Companion offers its readers many exceptionally brilliant features. Fully two hundred of the most famous men and women of the world have contributed to the next year's volume of the paper. For free illustrated prospectus address, THE COMPANION, 205 Columbus Ave., Boston, MASS.

WEEK'S DOINGS IN CAMDEN

Several Happenings of a Decided Social Character.

Graduating Class of '98 Gives Successful Social on a Stormy Night—Anchor Large Enough to Hold Fast Largest Vessel—Things Picked Up and Written About.

CAMDEN, Nov. 14, 1896.

The Baptist Ladies Circle with Mrs. Sarah E. Wood, Wednesday afternoon—The annual meeting of the St. Thomas Guild will be held Wednesday afternoon of this week with Mrs. Jonathan Hise—Rev. N. R. Pearson of Rockport preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning in exchange with Rev. T. S. Ross—The meeting of the Congregational Circle was very enjoyable, made so by Mrs. F. M. Richards and Mrs. W. F. Glover, housekeepers.

The members of the Monday Club at the last meeting enjoyed a paper on Andrew Jackson by Mrs. B. C. Adams—The B. Y. P. U. gave a very enjoyable entertainment Friday evening in the church vestry. There was a good attendance and the young people gathered in quite a pile of shakels.

There will be one more installment of books for the public library before the formal opening Dec. 1. Miss Harding, the librarian, is preparing a type written catalogue, a work in keeping with this young lady's characteristic excellent work. As more books will be purchased during the winter no printed catalogue will be issued for a year, at least but the list will be printed in the local paper so every patron of the library is advised to cut out the list and paste in a scrap book. The table for the reading room was placed in position last week.

Gorton's Minstrels will entertain our people in the Opera House, Tuesday evening of this week.

The Christian Science Association has engaged the front room over the bank where regular meetings will be held. The first meeting, and it was one of much interest, was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mayor Hanson of Belfast was in town Thursday on business—J. A. Brewster was in Boston last week on business—Mrs. Andrew Scott and daughter Annie have returned from a several months visit in Hartland.

The ladies of the Congregational Church gave a missionary concert Sunday evening to a crowded and appreciative audience. This concert was postponed from the Sunday before on account of the storm.

The new Rebekah lodge is experiencing a healthy growth. At the meeting, Wednesday evening several new members were initiated into the lodge.

Another attempt at a meeting, for one is called for Wednesday evening at Lane's studio. It is hoped that the members will turn out in goodly numbers.

Mrs. C. E. Adams, the skillful telegraph operator, entertained a party of friends at what at her rooms Wednesday evening.

Rev. Henry Jones, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, left Wednesday for a few weeks visit in Montreal. Mr. Jones has not enjoyed the best of health lately and his rest will undoubtedly be beneficial.

The W. C. T. U. met Saturday evening with Mrs. F. D. Aldus—Miss Lulu Fish entertained friends at her home on Pearl street Tuesday evening. The company thoroughly enjoyed the refreshments, games and social and musical music. Miss Fish proved a charming hostess and the hour of departure came too soon for her guests.

The Epworth League entertained as guests Monday evening the Rockport League. A delightful supper was served and the occasion was one of profit and enjoyment.

There are new crossings on Main street, an act the town fathers much appreciated by the travelling public.

A 7000-pound anchor was shipped from the anchor works last week for New York parties. This immense anchor attracted much attention as it was carted to the railroad in Rockland and the manufacturers have made many of these and several large anchors in the past.

Business is dull at the works. Every ship yard east of Camden is silent and every yard west until Bath is reached where one vessel is in course of construction. Never was there so little ship work in the country as at the present time and this condition of business will continue to a greater or less extent until the shipping laws are changed.

There are many pretty costumes being made for the grand mask ball to be given in the Opera House, Thanksgiving night by the Camden Baseball Association. The prizes where they are attractively arranged. Camden Orchestra will furnish music which is a guarantee that the dancing will be spirited and there will be no time between whisks for naps. An efficient corps of aids will see that all who attend have a good time.

Mrs. H. J. Kittredge and daughter, Miss Annie M. J. Kittredge, for a week's visit in Boston—Mrs. C. E. Crockett has returned to her home in Cambridgeport—Mrs. F. A. Packard has returned from a visit in Orono.

Miss Gertrude Cane is home from a visit in Boston and vicinity—Miss Annie Slater is home from a visit in Boston and vicinity—Mrs. Butler—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harwell have gone to Newton, Mass., for a visit of several months—Miss Mina Gilbert of Charlestown visited here this week.

Mrs. W. Hall is home from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Mordock, at Hotel Bristol, Boston—Mrs. E. N. Duffie arrived home Wednesday night after a two weeks visit in Boston—Mrs. and Mrs. H. C. Adams have returned from a visit in Boston.

The ladies of the Baptist Society will give a public supper in their vestry Friday evening of this week. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock and will consist of baked beans, brown bread, cold meats, pies, cakes, etc. If very stormy the supper will be served the next evening.

The initial entertainment of the class of '98, Camden High School, was given in the Congregational vestry Wednesday evening, and notwithstanding the inclement weather there was a large and appreciative audience. The opening number on the program was a piano duet, "Shepherd's Evening Song," by Misses Mae Kinslow and Louise Hosmer. The young ladies gave evidence of possessing much skill in a careful study. Miss Leila M. Backlin who is always willing to lend a helping hand for any worthy object, rendered a vocal selection, "The Pains of Peace," most satisfactorily, her sweet voice, supra-voce being displayed to good advantage. A recitation entitled "My-ing Jim's last leap" was delivered with spirit and force by Miss Edith Miller. Selections on the mandolin, zither, banjo and guitar were given by Messrs. Saunders, Badger and Lauferjung and Holigman, which were greatly enjoyed. One of the best and most enjoyable features of the entertainment was the whistling solo of the Tobacco March" and "Flemish Dance," by Miss Grace A. Parker. The young lady knows how to pucker her lips and her whistling is characterized by its sweet, bird like tones. A charming piano solo was rendered by Miss Louise Rollins. The program finished with appropriate remarks by Eli Edgcomb, principal of the school. After the entertainment refreshments of ice cream and candy were served and found ready sale. The young people are to be congratulated on the successful execution of their first undertaking, and when they have another one it will be just as liberally patronized.

MADE COMFORTERS.

The King's Daughters Have a Very Knotty Time—School Has Brilliant Close.

GLENN COVE, Nov. 14, 1896.

Capt. John Merrill was recently at home. During his stay Sch. S. M. Bird, bound for Philadelphia with plaster, was at Rockland—Miss Lona E. Ross is again at home after teaching school in Seabrook—Miss Christine Erickson and Reuben Young, of Matineux, were lately at Z. Lafkin's—Bert E. Maxey, of West Rockport, a conductor on the K. I. & C. St. Railway, has moved his household goods into the upper tenement of Chas. J. Gregory's building on Warren street, which he and his family will soon occupy—Glenn Cove was represented at the McKelvey and Hobart election celebration at Rockport and Camden, Saturday night.

Too bad G. H. Cleveland's roosters didn't crow at Camden. Look as though they were Free Silverites at heart—The King's Daughters with invited friends to the number of two dozen ladies and one small representative of the sterner sex met at the M. B. S. Hall Thursday. There they knotted five and seven comforters and partook of a bountiful dinner. Even the downpour of the afternoon could not drown the sound of the feminine voices and when the time came for going home many found the electric cars a very convenient means of transportation.

Edwin J. Kallack returned to this place from Warren Tuesday—Capt. Albert Hall sailed for Cribhaven in sloop Florence Friday.

Glenn Cove school closed Friday after a ten weeks term under the direction of Miss Stella M. Drew of West Rockport, and great progress has been made in the studies under her efficient supervision. About a dozen visitors were present and the following program was presented by the scholars, preceded by reviews of the term's work, and at the close of which Chas. J. Gregory, member of the school committee from this place, in interesting remarks complimented the teacher and pupils on the good showing made: "Getting Ready for School," Emmie V. Hall; "Things I do not like to see," Everett W. Humphrey; "Nothing to do," Mamie E. Lane; "The Sunbeam," Jennie M. Brown; "The Schoolmaster," Nellie P. Grant; "Over There," Mary P. Gregory; "Grandma's Magic Bow," Harry H. Brown, Lucy K. Grant; "September Reverie," Eva D. Gregory; "Only Now and Then," Bertie S. Gregory, Minnie P. Lane; "A Little Song," Nellie O. Gregory; "Flo's Letter," Laura F. Young; "Our Rose," Philip Lane; "The Road to School," Lena M. Sylvester; "Our Nation's Flag," Bennie H. Hall; "Elder Lamb's Donation," Charlie A. Sylvester; "Grand Scholars not absent Fall term of school," Emmie V. Hall, Bennie H. Hall, Charlie A. Sylvester, Bertie S. Gregory, Everett W. Humphrey.

Mrs. Robert H. House is again quite ill—The condition of Commercial street in the woods near Glen Cove has been much improved by dumping limber chips there. This has always been a very muddy place—Chas. F. Richards of Rockport left the meeting Sunday—Cyrus H. Shaw is visiting in China.

FARMERS DISCUSS DAIRYING.

CENTER LINCOLNVILLE, Nov. 12, 1896.

E. M. Heal of Boston is in town on a visit to his parents and friends—Colonel Shepherd has returned from Boston where he has recently been on a business trip—There was a very interesting farmers' institute at the Center, Wednesday, Oct. 4, under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture. The speakers were: B. Walker, McKean, Secretary, Mr. Hutton member of the Board for Kennebec Co., and Prof. Gowell of State College and Mr. Moody member of the Board for Waldo Co. The chief topic of discussion was "Dairying"—Misses Edna Lamb, Minnie Fernald and Gussie Mathews returned this week from Castine where they have been attending the Normal School.

"DR. MILES, Through His Nerveine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A Widely Known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1895, as follows:

"Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothing and strengthening. Dr. Miles, through his Nerveine is a benefactor to thousands."

A. C. LEIMAN, Editor and proprietor of THE LANDMAN. Dr. Miles' Nerveine is sold on guaranteed first bottle will benefit or money refunded.

MAINE MATTERS.

Lewiston has 127 electric street lights. The torchlight has quite eclipsed the moon all over the county this week.

It is estimated in Augusta that over 4,000 cigars were required to settle election bets. A Bath belle is reported to be wearing two engagement rings, both diamonds. Where did she get them?

A beet weighing nearly 18 pounds is one of the products of David Nichols' farm at Searsport, this summer.

People like to know their weight. Eight of the penny machines stationed at Bath Bouthay and Popham weighed 5,000 persons in the three months ending Oct. 31.

The town of Monmouth raised 35,000 bushels of apples this season, saving a million feet of lumber, and had petitions flying in all directions 12 hours after the election.

And the fools continue in existence. Over in Lewiston a man said he would let his hair go uncut for three years should McKinley be elected. The bet was made with a woman who would have had to have her head shaved had Bryan been elected.

An exchange says that the good ladies of Phillips have lots of fun talking by telephone from house to house. We should think, that's the case, that the operator at Central would have her hands full informing subscribers that "the line is busy."

This from the Bethel, Me., News: "Have you seen the minister's wife? We all hope he has made a good choice, but this, like all other cases, must be proved. Time will tell the story."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE ELECTION.

There have been some slight alterations in the electoral vote tabulation since our last issue. South Dakota comes out of the McKinley column and is temporarily doubtful. The Democrats have an apparent plurality there of about 45 although the returns are not exactly complete or official. The state may go back in the columns where we placed it when the exact state of affairs is ascertained. Wyoming is also doubtful. McKinley gets one electoral vote without much of a question and the other two are apparently Bryan's.

Down in Tennessee they are just beginning to get the returns, it would seem, for the last despatch tells us that only 12 counties have been heard from officially. The Democrats continue to cling to the hope that they may get Kentucky, but beyond the hope that one electoral vote may go to Bryan there is but little doubt that McKinley will get the other 12. All the papers unite in placing the plurality for McKinley at 276.

Based upon these figures the electoral vote stands as follows:

ROCKPORT NOTES.

ROCKPORT, Nov. 14, 1896.
Mrs. E. C. Donbar has gone to Lowell to spend the winter.

C. E. McIntire, W. A. Merriam and C. S. Jones left Thursday in the yacht Surf for a gunning trip.

Mrs. A. J. Morton has been visiting in Rockland this week.

Mrs. Horace Butler of North Scarborough is the guest of her sister Mrs. Geo. Lane.

Rev. T. E. Brastow attended the S. S. Convention in Warren this week.

Mrs. Geo. Lane has returned from Boston. Mrs. A. A. Howes of Belfast who has been at Oliver Adams' has returned home.

Capt. Stanley Amshury arrived in town this week.

Mrs. Walter Perry left for Boston, Saturday night.

Chas. Prince has moved his family into Mrs. Martha Eaton's house.

Mrs. Isabella Carleton is visiting in Rockland this week.

Miss Alice Carleton is in Boston.

Mrs. G. M. Brainerd visited her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Burgess this week.

Mrs. L. C. Miller returned to her home in Worcester, Saturday.

A special meeting of the lookout committee of the Y. P. S. C. E. was held with Mrs. E. J. Southard Friday evening.

Capt. L. P. Heald arrived from New York, Wednesday night.

A. J. Morton is visiting in Lowell for a few days.

Miss Blanche Heald returned from Boston Wednesday.

Mrs. William Simmonds and daughter Margaret are visiting at Eben Thorndike's.

The Bath Independent tells this champion dog story: "A gentleman and his friend had left the former's office to go to lunch and when they had descended the stairs accompanied by the hound dog, a valuable sporting animal, the friend found that he had left his gloves in the office and must again climb up the stairs. The other said: 'Let the dog smell of your hand and he'll get the gloves for you.' So the visitor allowed the dog to take the scent from his hand and trotting up the stairs speedily returned bringing—not the gloves but the pink ribbon the pretty type writer had been wearing—about her waist!"

Under the heading "What Five Days of McKinley Have Done" Lewiston Journal prints several columns relative to industries that started up immediately after his election because known. Nothing like it was ever known before,—cotton mills, woolen mills, shoe factories, railway shops and industries without enumeration seem to have felt the pulse of prosperity and are throbbing in unison. At least 200,000 people have found employment, and over 1,000,000 jobs have been furnished. All this is not because of anything that McKinley has done since his election, but shows rather the confidence that the industrial world reposes in him and a Republican administration.

POLO BEGINS THIS WEEK

The Strong Bath Team Will Be Against Us Monday Night.

Every Enthusiast Intends to Be Present and Give Team a Good Send Off—
Donovan Has Two Fights on His Hands—General Sporting News For Local Reading—Read It.

Joe Donovan, of this city, and Albie Brown of Lewiston are matched to fight in Berlin Falls for the heavy weight championship of Maine on Monday night, November 23. Donovan is also booked to meet Tim Walsh of Lewiston, the week following his fight with Brown. Sporting men throughout the state are taking considerable interest in these two events and large crowds will doubtless be at the ring sides.

The league polo season will open in this city Monday night. The Rocklands will have the strong Bath team for opponents. The attendance at this, the opening game, will demonstrate whether polo has lost its attractiveness in this city. From what we hear we should say that the rink will be crowded with enthusiasts. All Knox county will shout for the Rockland team and if the pennant does not come to this city it will be the fault of the players and not of the patrons. The Rockland team has strong financial backing and is in the fight to stay. The other teams, however, are composed of well tried players and will make the Rockland team hustle to win. The Rocklands will play in Bath Saturday night.

Manager O'Connor will play center on the polo team and if Eugene J. is as good a polo player as he is a ball player there is no doubt about his being able to give a good account of himself.

If Rockland is to be represented on the base ball diamond next season, now is the time to commence to talk about it.

The Maine Sportsman shows enterprise this month issuing with the November number, a supplement giving the record of all large game shipped from the stations of the railroad which passes through the leading game section of the state. With its attractive illustrations and timely articles on hunting and fishing in Maine, the November issue is fully up to the standard set by his publication in the past. May be had of newsdealers, or of Herbert W. Rowe, Pub., Bangor, Me. 10 cents each; $1 a year.

Few lovers of sport in this state realize the pleasure that there is in the game of polo as now played. The game has greatly advanced in the past few years so that it is in winter what baseball is in summer, and is patronized by all classes in the cities now comprising the National League, the ladies especially being regular patrons of the sport. The game has been entirely eliminated while there is much more science in the game than in former years. It is only a matter of a few years when polo will be the popular winter sport all over the country.

Manager Leader of Lewiston has got together a rather fast team. George Wheeler of Lewiston will tend goal, M. F. Hickey of Springfield will play center, N. S. Broadbent and A. T. Wilson of New Bedford, two of the best known players in Massachusetts, are first and second rush. Deady will probably play half-back. This will give Lewiston a first class team and one that will make all the others hustle. The uniforms of the Lewiston team will consist of a green jersey with a white letter L, Yale gray trousers and green stockings.

NORTH WARREN.—Miss Myrtle Merry is home from Union where she has been attending High School.—Miss Bertha Calderwood is the guest of Miss Maud Russell.—William Hunt and family were in North Waldoboro recently.—North Warren sent delegates to the various McKinley celebrations in the neighborhood towns.—Mrs. Lizzie Cummins continues in ill health.

Our Kitchen

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, without trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere. Be sure and get the genuine.

Send your name and address, and mention this paper, and we will mail you free a book—"Mrs. Popkins' Thanksgiving"—by one of the most famous humorous authors of the day.

GREAT REDUCTION IN FARES.

Rockland to Boston $1.75.

Commencing Monday, October 19, 1896, the rate of fare for through tickets between Rockland and Boston will be reduced from $2.40 to $1.75. Between Camden and Boston the rate will be reduced from $2.60 to $1.85. Between Bangor and Boston the rate will be reduced from $3.00 to $2.25. A proportionate reduction will be made in the price of through tickets between Boston and all landings on the coast.

The price of Rooms accommodating two persons each will be reduced from $2.00 and $1.50 to $1.00 and $1.00. These rates will be continued through the season, and until the close of the season, when the rates will be increased. Each figure is lithographed in twelve colors, being a true reproduction of the original water-color painting which was selected by the committee of the fair. The size of each of the four folding pages is 10 1/2 by 6 inches.

It is by far the best piece of color work the Company has ever offered. Both as a calendar and as a gem of the lithographer's art, it is so attractive that it becomes a valuable addition to the home or a desirable gift of any room. It is given free to all subscribers sending $1.75 to the Company for the year 1897, who receive also the paper free from the time the subscription is received till January 1, 1897.

Celebrating in 1897 its seventy first birthday, the Company offers its readers many exceptionally brilliant features. Fully two hundred of the most famous men and women of both continents have contributed to the year's volume of the paper. What's your husband's work?

Does he have to do anything as hard as your washing and scrubbing? It can't be. What can a man do that's as hard, for most men, as this constant household drudgery is, for most women?

If he has any sympathy for you, tell him to get you some Pearline. Sympathy is all very well, but it's Pearline, not sympathy, that you want for washing and cleaning.

Nothing else that's safe to use will save you so much downright hard work at the washtub or about the house. It saves money, too—saves the ruinous wear on clothes and paint from needless rubbing.

Millions NOW USE Pearline

POOR BEATON!

Maybe This is Nothing but an Election Joke—But Such Jokes Don't Go in Cold Weather.

The habits of the Central Club were confronted the other morning by the following unique "lost" notice posted conspicuously in the main door-way.

"Somebody made a Mistake. 'And took Beaton's ulster instead of his own."

"Beaton is sorry but will forgive him if he returns it before cold weather sets in, and to seal his forgiveness will entertain his erring brother at billiards or whist. Call on the janitor and receive your ulster and at the same time leave Beaton's."

"Poor Beaton, who has no ulster in cold weather."

UNDER THE FALLS.

Nathaniel Peters, a laborer in the employ of Captain Gleason Young, was drowned just below the falls at Warren, Tuesday afternoon, in sight of several people. Peters had been in the habit of filling a large boat with fresh water from the dam, to be used on the steamer Rambler, and was working his boat along the side of the dam when the boat suddenly filled and capsized. Peters was on the flume holding to a cleat with one hand, the other grasping the boat's painter. As the boat swung off he let go of the cleat instead of the boat. The water was wild and seething and the unfortunate man was drawn under and whirled over and over and sucked out of sight. His body was recovered next morning.

THE COMPANION CALENDAR.

It is said that the expense of making the Companion Art Calendar for 1897 was so great that had it been published in the usual quantity it could not be sold for less than one dollar. Four beautiful female figures are reproduced on four folding pages. Each figure is lithographed in twelve colors, being a true reproduction of the original water-color painting which was selected by the committee of the fair. The size of each of the four folding pages is 10 1/2 by 6 inches.

FRATERNITY FACTS.

Disclosures of Importance from the Hidden Haunt of the Gay and Giddy Goat.

Claremont Commandery, K. T., had work last night on the Order of the Temple. The Commandery has already done considerable work this Fall and has more ahead.

Alan Bird of this city has been installed into the Beta Theta Pi Society at Maine State College, while Harvey Cushman another Rockland student there rode the goat in Alpha Tau Omega.

WHITE CREST WON.

Curtis, Davis & Co., the well known Boston soap manufacturers, recently offered a bicycle as a prize to the person who would submit the best name for their new white floating soap. The prize has just been awarded to J. S. Walter Burpee of this city who turned in the pretty and appropriate title of "White Crest." A singular thing in connection with the fact that the party from Framingham, Mass., sent in the same name as Mr. Burpee but Walter's arrived there several hours in advance and he of course received the award and will hereafter ride home to dinner in preference to walking. A number of other Rockland people took part in the contest and are pleased to learn that the prize comes to this city.

THE CINEMATOPHAGE.

The wonderful cinematophaque, that is at the present time being shown at Keith's Theatre in Boston, is the exposition of a distinct advance in science that every man owes to himself. The development of the age. It is one of the wonders of this period of wonders. Here you have all the elements of life on the screen before you. Animals and persons move about, railroad trains and steamers pass before your eyes, water splashes as you see men dive in waves break on rocky shores, and infantry and cavalry pass in grand review before your eyes, all the time filling you with astonishment. The old-time pictures with their lack of animation, dependent only upon the eloquence of the lecturer for life, are insignificant by the side of these new discoveries and the time is coming, it would seem, when the cinematophaque will be a feature of every illustrated lecture and the descriptions of scenes, foreign and domestic, will be made more real by the life that may be thrown upon the screen.

In the course of a week or two the exhibition of a series of views depicting scenes in well-known localities in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other American cities, will begin.

Babyhood completes its twelfth year with the November issue. The number is rich in practical hints to young mothers. Prof. J. Lewis Smith, one of the highest clinical authorities on the diseases of children, writes on some of the obstacles of successful rearing of children, and points out how many difficulties may be removed. Dr. C. G. Kerley describes how to bathe children in health and diseases and Dr. A. K. Bond treats of the education of healthy children. How to deal with unruly children is the subject of another suggestive paper. Babyhood makes a specialty of answers to young mothers concerning the many perplexing questions which arise in the nursery. There are replies on the questions of "Foil and Winter Underclothing," "Menus for a Child's Party," "The Hardening Theory in Practice," "How Long Do Diphtheria Germs Live," "The Departments of 'Nursery Helps and Novelties,' 'Nursery Pastimes' and 'The Mothers' Parliament' are all supplied with interesting and helpful topics. $1.00 a year. Sample copies free. Babyhood Publishing Co., New York.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. Health is the greatest beautifier in the world. When a woman sees the indications of ill-health in the face, she may with almost a certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman.

WEEK'S DOINGS IN CAMDEN

Several Happenings of a Decidedly Social Character.

Graduating Class of '98 Gives Successful Social on a Stormy Night—Anchor Large Enough to Hold Fast Largest Vessel—Things Picked Up and Written About.

CAMDEN, Nov. 14, 1896.
The Baptist Ladies Circle met with Mrs. Sarah E. Wood, Wednesday afternoon. The annual meeting of the St. Thomas Guild will be held Wednesday afternoon of this week with Mrs. Jonathan Hise. Rev. N. R. Pearson of Rockport preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning in exchange with Rev. T. S. Ross. The meeting of the Congregational Circle was very enjoyable, made so by Mrs. F. M. Richards and Mrs. W. F. Glover, housekeepers.

The members of the Munday Club at the last meeting enjoyed a paper on Andrew Jackson by Mrs. B. C. Adams. The B. Y. P. U. gave a very enjoyable entertainment Friday evening in the church vestry. There was a good attendance and the young people gathered in quite a pile of shreds.

There will be one more installment of books for the public library before the formal opening Dec. 1. Miss Harding, the librarian, is preparing a type written catalogue, a work in keeping with this young lady's characteristic excellent work. As more books will be purchased during the winter no printed catalogue is issued at least by the library. The list will be printed in the local paper so every patron of the library is advised to cut out the list and paste in a scrap book. The table for the reading room was placed in position last week.

Gorton's Minstrels will entertain our people in the Opera House, Tuesday evening of this week.

The Christian Science Association has engaged the front room over the bank where regular meetings will be held. The first meeting, and it was one of much interest, was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mayor Hanson of Belfast was in town Thursday on business. J. A. Brewster was in Boston last week on business. Mrs. Andrew Scott and daughter Annie have returned from a several months visit in Hartland.

The ladies of the Congregational Church gave a missionary concert Sunday evening to a crowded and appreciative audience. This concert was postponed from the Sunday before on account of the storm.

The new Rebekah lodge is experiencing a healthy growth. At the meeting, Wednesday evening several new members were initiated. The Soldiers Monument Association will make another attempt at a meeting, for one is called for Wednesday evening at Lane's studio. It is hoped that the members will turn out in goodly numbers.

Mrs. C. E. Adams, the skillful telegraph operator, recently entertained a party of friends at what at her rooms Wednesday evening.

Rev. Henry Jones, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, left Wednesday for a few weeks visit in Montreal. Mr. Jones has not enjoyed the best of health lately and his rest will undoubtedly be beneficial.

The W. C. T. U. met Saturday evening with Mrs. F. D. Alden. Miss Lula Fish entertained friends at her home on Pearl street Tuesday evening. The company thoroughly enjoyed delightful refreshments, games and vocal and instrumental music. Miss Fish proved a charming hostess and the hour of departure came too soon for her guests.

The Epworth League entertained as guests Monday evening the Rockport League. A delightful supper was served and the occasion was one of profit and enjoyment.

There are new crossings on Main street, an act of the town officials much appreciated by the traveling public.

A 7000-pound anchor was shipped from the anchor works last week for New York parties. This immense anchor attracted much attention here at her home on Pearl street. The anchor was built at the Rockport anchor works and the manufacturers have made many of this size and even larger in times past. Business is dull at the works. Every ship yard east of Camden is silent and every yard west until Bath is reached where one vessel is in course of construction. Never was there so little ship building in this country as at the present time and this condition of business will continue to a greater or less extent until the shipping laws are changed.

There are many pretty costumes being made for the grand mask ball to be given in the Opera House, Thanksgiving night by the Camden Baseball Association. The prizes are now on exhibition in Rose Brown window where they are attractively arranged. Camden Orchestra will furnish music which is a guarantee that the dancing will be spirited and there will be no time between whirls for naps. An efficient corps of aids will see that all who attend have a good time.

Mrs. H. J. Kittredge and daughter, Miss Annie M., left Thursday for a week's visit in Boston. Mrs. C. E. C. Crckett has returned to her home in Cambridgeport. Mrs. F. A. Packard has returned from a visit in Boston. Miss Gertrude Cane is home from a visit in Boston and vicinity. Miss Annie Slater of Washington was the guest last week of her aunt Mrs. Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harwell have gone to Newton, Mass., for a visit of several months. Miss Mina Gilbert of Charlestown visited here this week.

Mrs. William E. Carrier is home from a visit in Boston and New York. Miss Kate W. Hall is home from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Murdoch, at Hotel Bristol, Boston. Mrs. E. N. Duffie arrived home Wednesday from a two weeks visit in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams were the guests last week of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Adams, Bangor. Mrs. B. H. B. Adams is home from Boston.

The ladies of the Baptist Society will give a public supper in their vestry Friday evening of this week. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock and will consist of baked beans, brown bread, cold meats, pies, cakes, etc. If very stormy the supper will be served the next evening.

The initial entertainment of the class of '98, Camden High School, was given in the Congregational vestry, Wednesday evening, and notwithstanding the inclement weather there was a large and appreciative audience. The opening number on the program was a piano duet, "Shepherd's Evening Song," by Misses Mae Knowlton and Louise Hooper. The young ladies gave evidence of possessing much skill and careful study. Miss Lella M. Hunkin who is always willing to lend a helping hand for any worthy object, rendered a vocal selection, "The Plains of Peace," most satisfactorily, her sweet mezzo soprano voice being displayed to good advantage. A recitation entitled "Flying Jim's last leap" was delivered with spirit and force by Miss Edith Miller. Selections on the mandolin, zither, banjo and guitar were given by Messrs. Saunders, Badger and Lauterjung and Hodgman, which were greatly enjoyed. One of the best and most enjoyable features of the entertainment was the whistling solo of the "Tabasco March" and "Flemish Dance," by Miss Grace A. Parker. The young lady knows how to pucker her lips and her whistling is characterized by its sweet, bird like tones. A charming piano solo was rendered by Miss Louise Rollins. The program finished with appropriate remarks by Eli Edgcomb, principal of the school. After the entertainment refreshments of ice cream and candy were served and found ready sale. The young people are to be congratulated on the signal success of their first undertaking, and when they have another one it will be just as liberally patronized.

MADE COMFORTERS.

GLEN COVE, Nov. 14, 1896.
Capt. John Merrill was recently at home. During his stay, S. M. Bird, bound for Philadelphia with plaster, was at Rockland. Miss Lona E. Ross is again at home after teaching school in Searsport. Miss Christie Erickson and Reuben Young, of Matineus, were lately at Z. Lufkin's. Bert E. Macey, of West Rockport, a conductor on the F. & C. St. Railway, has moved his household goods into the upper tenement of Chas. J. Gregory's building on Warren street, which he and his family will soon occupy. Glen Cove was represented at the McKinley and Hobart election celebration at Rockport and Camden, Saturday night. Too bad G. H. Rockland's roosters didn't crow at Camden. Look at the close of which Free Silverites at heart. The King's Daughters with invited friends to the number of two dozen ladies and one small representative of the sterner sex met at the M. B. S. Hall Thursday. There they knotted five comforters and partook of a bountiful picnic dinner. Even the downpour of the afternoon could not drown the sound of the feminine voices and when the time came for going home many found the electric cars a very convenient means of transportation.

Edwin J. Kalkoff returned to this place from Warren Tuesday. Capt. Albert Hall sailed for Cribbehan in sloop Florence Friday.

Glen Cove school closed Friday after a ten weeks term under the direction of Miss Stella M. Drew of West Rockport, and great progress has been made in the studies under her efficient supervision. About a dozen visitors were present and the following program was presented by the scholars, preceded by reviews of the term's work, and at the close of which Chas. J. Gregory, member of the school committee from this place, in interesting remarks complimented the teacher and pupils on the good showing made. "Getting Ready for school," Emmie V. Hall; "Things I don't like to do," Emma E. Lane; "The Sunbeams," Jennie M. Brown; "The Schoolmaster," Nellie P. Grant; "Over There," Mary P. Gregory; "Grandma's Magic Bowl," Harry H. Brown, Lucy K. Grant; "September Revere," Eva D. Gregory; "Only Now and Then," Bernice E. Gregory, Minnie P. Lane; "A Little Song," Neddie O. Gregory; "Flo's Letter," Laura F. Mrs. Robert H. House is again quite ill. The condition of Commercial street in the woods near Oak Hill Grove has been much improved by dumping limrock chips there. This was a very much needed place. Chas. F. Richards of Rockport left the meeting Sunday—Cyrus H. Shaw is visiting in China.

FARMERS DISCUSS DAIRYING.

CENTER LINCOLNVILLE, Nov. 12, 1896.
E. M. Heal of Boston is in town on a visit to his parents and friends. Columbus Shepherd has returned from Boston where he has recently been on a business trip. There was a very interesting farmers' institute held at the Center, Wednesday, Oct. 4, under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture. The speakers were: B. Walker McKenney, Secretary, Mr. Hutton member of the Board for Kennebec Co., and Prof. Gowell of State College and Mr. Moody member of the Board for Waldo Co. The chief topic of discussion was "Dairying." Misses Edna Lamb, Minnie Fernald and Gussie Matthews return this week from Castine where they have been attending the Normal School.

"DR. MILES,"

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands.

A Widely Known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1895, as follows:

"Five years ago I became so nervous that most of my work was hindered. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness with like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it."

It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr. Miles, through his Nervine is a benefactor to thousands."

A. C. LEHMAN.
Editor and proprietor of DEER LANDSMA. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on guarantee. First bottle will benefit or money refunded.

MAINE MATTERS.

Lewiston has 127 electric street lights. The torchlight has quite eclipsed the moon all over the county this week.

It is estimated in Augusta that over 4,000 cigars were required to settle election bets. A Bath belle is reported to be wearing two engagement rings, both diamonds. Where did she get them?

A bet weighing nearly 18 pounds is one of the products of David Nichols' farm at Searsmont, this summer.

People like to know their weight. Eight of the penny machines stationed at Bath Boulevar and Poppleton weighed 5,000 persons in the three months ending Oct. 31.

The town of Monmouth raised 35,000 bushels of apples this season, saved a million feet of lumber, and had petitions flying in all directions 12 hours after the election.

And the fools continue in existence. Over in Lewiston a man said he would let his hair go uncut for three years should McKinley be elected. The bet was made with a woman who would have had to have her head shaved had Bryan been elected.

An exchange says that the good ladies of Phillips have lots of fun talking by telephone from house to house. We should think, that's the case, that the operator at Central would have her hands full informing subscribers that "the line is busy."

This from the Bethel, Me., News: "Have you seen the minister's wife? We all hope he has made a good choice, but this, like all other cases, must be proved. Time will tell the story."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

St. George, County of Knox, and State of Maine.

THE ELECTION.

There have been some slight alterations in the electoral vote tabulation since our last issue. South Dakota comes out of the McKinley column and is temporarily doubtful. The Democrats have an apparent plurality there of about 45 although the returns are not exactly complete or official. The state may go back in the columns where we placed it when the exact state of affairs is ascertained. Wyoming is also doubtful. McKinley gets one electoral vote without much of a question and the other two are apparently Bryan's.

Down in Tennessee they are just beginning to get the returns, it would seem, for the last despatch tells us that only 12 counties have been heard from officially. The Democrats continue to cling to the hope that they may get Kentucky, but beyond the hope that one electoral vote may go to Bryan there is but little doubt that McKinley will get the other 12. All the papers unite in placing the plurality for McKinley at 276.

Based upon these figures the electoral vote stands as follows:

Mrs. A. J. Morton has been visiting in Rockland this week.

Mrs. Horace Butler of North Scarborough is the guest of her sister Mrs. Geo. Lane.

Rev. T. E. Barstow attended the S. S. Convention in Warren this week.

Mrs. Geo. Lane has returned from Boston.

Mrs. A. A. Howes of Belfast who has been at Oliver Adams' has returned home.

Capt. Stanley Amsbury arrived in town this week.

Mrs. Walter Perry left for Boston, Saturday night.

Chas. Prince has moved his family into Mrs. Martha Eaton's house.

Mrs. Isabella Carleton is visiting in Rockland this week.

Miss Alice Carleton is in Boston.

Mrs. G. M. Brainerd visited her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Burgess this week.

A special meeting of the lookout committee of the Y. P. S. C. E., was held with Mrs. E. J. Southard Friday evening.

Capt. L. P. Heald arrived from New York, Wednesday night.

A. J. Morton is visiting in Lowell for a few days.

Miss Blanche Heald returned from Boston Wednesday.

Mrs. William Simmonds and daughter Margaret are visiting at Eben Thorndike's.

The Bath Independent tells this champion dog story: "A gentleman and his friend had left the former's office to go to lunch and when they had descended the stairs accompanied by the host's dog, a valuable sporting animal, the friend found that he had left his gloves in the office and must again climb up the stairs. The other said: 'Let the dog smell of your hand and he'll get the gloves for you.' So the visitor allowed the dog to take the scent from his hand and trotting up stairs speedily returned bringing—not the gloves but the pink ribbon the pretty visitor had been wearing—about her waist!"

Under the heading "What Five Days of McKinley have Done" Lewiston Journal prints several columns relative to industries that started up immediately after his election became known. Nothing like it was ever known before—cotton mills, woolen mills, shoe factories, railway shops and industries without enumeration seem to have felt the pulse of prosperity and are throbbing in union. At least 200,000 people have found employment, and over 1,000,000 jobs have been furnished. All this is not because of anything that McKinley has done since his election, but shows rather the confidence that the industrial world reposes in him and a Republican administration.

POLO BEGINS THIS WEEK

The Strong Bath Team Will Be Against Us Monday Night.

Every Enthusiast Intends to Be Present and Give Team a Good Send Off—Donovan Has Two Fights on His Hands—General Sporting News For Local Reading—Read It.

Joe Donovan, of this city, and Allie Brown of Lewiston are matched to fight in Berlin Falls for the heavy weight championship of Maine on Monday night, November 23. Donovan is also booked to meet Tim Walsh of Lewiston, the week following his fight with Brown. Sporting men throughout the state are taking considerable interest in the event and large crowds will doubtless be at the ring sides.

The league polo season will open in this city Monday night. The Rocklands will have the strong Bath team for opponents. The attendance at this, the opening game, will demonstrate whether polo has lost its attractiveness in this city. From what we hear we should say that the rink will be crowded with enthusiasts. All Knox county will shout for the Rockland team and if the pennant does not come to this city it will be the fault of the players and not of the patrons. The Rockland team has strong financial backing and is in the fight to stay. The other teams, however, are composed of well-tried players and will make the Rockland team hustle to win. The Rocklands will play in Bath Saturday night.

Manager O'Connor will play center on the polo team and if Eugene J. is as good a polo player as he is a ball player there is no doubt about his being able to give a good account of himself.

If Rockland is to be represented on the base ball diamond next season, now is the time to commence to talk about it.

The Maine Sportsman shows enterprise this month issuing with the November number, a supplement giving the record of all large game shipped through the stations of the railroad which passes through the leading game section of the state. With its attractive illustrations and timely articles on hunting and fishing in Maine, the November issue is fully up to the standard set by its publication in the past. May be had of newsdealers, or of Herbert W. Rowe, Pub., Bangor, Me. 10 cents each; $1 a year.

Few lovers of sport in this state realize the pleasure that there is in the game of polo as now played. The game has greatly advanced in the past few years so that it is in Winter what baseball is in Summer, and is patronized by all classes in the cities now comprising the National League, the ladies especially being regular patrons of the sport. The game has been modified so that the former roughness has been entirely eliminated while there is much more science in the game than in former years. It is only a matter of a few years when polo will be the popular Winter sport all over the country.

Manager Leader of Lewiston has got together a rather fast team. George Wheeler of Lewiston will tend goal, M. F. Hickey of Springfield will play center, N. S. Broadbent and A. T. Wilson of New Bedford, two of the best known players in Massachusetts, are first and second rush. Deady will probably play half-back. This will give Lewiston a first class team and one that will make all the others hustle. The uniforms of the Lewiston team will consist of a green jersey with a white letter L, Yale gray trousers and green stockings.

NORTH WARREN.—Miss Myrtle Merry is home from Union where she has been attending High School—Miss Bertha Calderwood is the guest of Miss Maud Russell—William and family were in North Waldoboro recently—North Warren sent delegates to the various McKinley celebrations in the neighborhood—Mrs. Lizzie Cummings continues in ill health.

Our Kitchen

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, without trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere. Be sure and get the genuine.

Send your name and address, and mention this paper, and we will mail you free a book—"Mrs. Popkins' Thanksgiving"—by one of the most famous humorous authors of the day.

MANY PETITIONS

Reported From Warren—Our Highland Scribe Sends in a Newsy Letter.

WARREN, Nov. 14, 1896.

Petitions are being circulated in great numbers by various candidates for office and their friends. It doesn't look as though there were offices enough to go around.

HIGHLANDS.—Twenty-three of the many friends of Elder John Brown and wife gave them quite a pounding Saturday night—Our cooper shop village has another shop. It was added by Charles Richards. He and his son Alvin have gone into business on the corner house. They have been cooping for a number of years for B. J. Dow—A grand apple paring bee at Byron Ryder's Monday evening—Edw. Crawford is making repairs on his house. The work is done by Robert Cates—Avon Curtis has moved to Winterport—Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Dow were visiting their sons, Fred and Edw., in Rockland last week—Lyman Randall has gone to Culler to see his father, whom he has not visited for a number of years—Herbert Keep is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Keep—John Cates and Erastus Clark have been riding up Searsmont way.

THE SOCIAL SIDE.

Parties, Gatherings Here and There and Pleasant Socials Everywhere.

Miss Bessie Lawry entertained the Mystic Nine at her home on Fulton street last Tuesday evening. The Nine indulged in Vanity Fair—Ladies' night at the Central Club Friday night was the usual pleasant affair. Dancing, card and billiard playing—Mrs. Harvey Addison entertained the Farther Light Society Thursday evening. At the next meeting with Miss Ernestine Davies a comforter will be tackled.

LOBSTER FISHERMAN DROWNED.

Augustine Holbrook of Old Harbor, Deer Island, was drowned Monday while setting lobster traps. He and Edgar Smith were setting traps when the wind breezed up and it became very rough. Mr. Smith set his traps and went on board of his vessel. He saw Mr. Holbrook signal to be picked up. He was busy for a few minutes and when he looked for Mr. Holbrook he was missing. Every effort was made to find the missing man but without avail. He was 45 years old and leaves a widow and one child.

TOWN TEACHERS.

ALPLETON, Nov. 13, 1896.

ELMWOOD.—School at Elmwood is progressing finely under the instruction of Miss Fannie Gushee—J. E. Rokes has sold a nice pair of beef cattle to A. V. Henderson—Pace and Prescott are doing quite an extensive business this fall threshing—There was a cake and ice cream supper at Ed. Butler's last week for the benefit of Rev. P. Allen. A very pleasant evening was passed. There are four houses here within a short distance of each other and a school teacher goes from each house—Mrs. Stella Butler has a fine collection of house plants all in bloom.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at W. H. Kittredge's Drug Store.

NORTH UNION SCHOOLS CLOSED.

NORTH UNION, Nov. 12, 1896.

Lena Messer has closed her school after a term of 8 weeks—Miss Inez Ripley's school closed last week after a very profitable term of 8 weeks. The last day a nice treat was served and some pretty prizes were given away—A. J. Sukerforth has purchased another horse—Fred Miller and daughter Nannie of Union visited Mrs. J. F. Uplam recently—Ralph Bryant is visiting his parents.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Friends Help Popular Thomaston Couple Celebrate Anniversary.

A Surprise That Was Really a Surprise—Port Clyde Railway Company Elects Officers—Something About New Essex Order—A Limerock Quarry Abandoned.

THOMASTON, Nov. 16, 1896.

Judge Starrett and wife have returned from a visit to Kennebunk—Charles H. Lovejoy has returned from a ten days trip to Massachusetts.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis, remembering that Tuesday, the 10th inst., was the 25th anniversary of their wedding, gathered at their home at Oyster River on that evening. The surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Davis was complete, but they quickly recovered their equanimity and every guest was given a cordial welcome. The Sata was well represented by the prison official, who came to offer their congratulations to a brother officer, and to shed light upon their pathway from a beautiful banquet lamp, which their generosity had provided. Other friends brought presents of silver and other useful articles. A part of the guests came dressed in the costume of "Ye Olden Time," bringing into sharp contrast the fashions of earlier and modern days. Music of voice and instrument added pleasure to the occasion, while the floors were made to shake beneath the feet of merry dancers. A lunch of cake, cream, cheese, tea and coffee was served. At a late hour the company withdrew with wishes for multiplied years of happiness to Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Frank Hunter left upon the doorstep of a neighbor's house, Wednesday, and broke both bones of one of her limbs—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sanfey are happy in the possession of a little daughter who was born to them Tuesday morning—Henry Clark has removed to the Metcalf house, Green street—The yacht Comet has been hauled out for the winter.

The annual meeting of the Port Clyde Marine Railway Co. was held at the office of J. E. Moore, esq., Wednesday. The officers elected were: President, F. A. Washburn; Clerk and Treasurer, G. S. Washburn; Directors, F. A. Washburn, C. H. Washburn, E. P. Washburn, W. G. Washburn, G. S. Washburn, Frank Knowlton, John Bond.

Dr. Bartlett and James Wheeler of Tenants Harbor were in town Friday—Mrs. C. Willey returned from Tenants Harbor, Wednesday.

Through the efforts of W. B. Foster of the Herald the election of McKinley and Hobart was celebrated here Tuesday night. For two hours or more the firing of guns and the blare of trumpets was deafening. The display of fireworks was very creditable. Many of the stores and houses were brilliantly lighted. The windows of the Herald office attracted particular notice. A large crowd was in attendance.

Harry Walker of Paterson, N. J., is in town for a few days—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pease of Brooklyn came Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Pease's father, Amos Walker.

The members of the K. A. E. O. held a meeting at K. of H. Hall, Friday evening, and elected the following officers: Excellent Senator, W. J. Jameson; Senior Seneschal, E. Brown; Junior Seneschal, C. H. Cushing; Treasurer, Robert Walsh; Sacerdote, Rev. H. B. Phelps; Secretary, Richard Elliott; Senior Vigilante, Walter D. Andrews; Junior Vigilante, C. F. Russell; Surgeon, J. E. Walker; Warder, Alvin Lunkin; First Council, P. M. Stedley, E. R. Bumps, G. R. Fuller, Alvin Gilchrist, W. L. Caland, Frank McCallum; Second Council, James Watts, F. E. Gilchrist, Levi Seavey, C. Stimpson, C. A. Creighton, James Levee, et al. The Senate will be designated the "Girard Senate," and will be instituted at a future date. There is a room for more names before the charter list closes. Blank applications may be had of any of the members who may be easily recognized by the little red button. The K. A. E. O. is a purely fraternal organization and its members are among the best men in the communities where Senates have been instituted. A large number of the members of the Masonic fraternity are also in the order. After the charter is filled the cost of membership will be increased.

J. A. Creighton & Co. have suspended the manufacture of blue for a short time. They have removed the machinery from their quarry on the New County Road and will permanently abandon it.

Miss Leila Miller entertained the Knox Club, Friday—Henry J. Hyman, Past Chancellor Commander of Wendell Phillips Lodge, K. of P., of New York, was in town Friday.

The class of '97, Thomaston High School, will have a supper in the vestry of the Baptist church tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. The popular price of 10 and 15 cents per plate will be charged. The proceeds will be used for graduating expenses.

Capt. Wilbur Wilson left for Boston yesterday morning—E. L. Dillingham returned Saturday from a visit to Boston and vicinity. Mrs. Jonathan Strong, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Spear in Casselton, Kansas, came home Wednesday—Dr. Sanborn made an official visit to the Prison, Saturday—Charles Pierce is acting as Deputy Warden of the Prison, in place of L. D. THEY MUST HAVE A LIBRARY

Our Warren Friends Are Determined in a Good Cause.

Another Plea for Contributions for a Library Fund—Town Sunday School Association Organized Under Most Favorable Auspices—Movement on Foot for Lecture Course.

WARREN, Nov. 16, 1896.

There was a good number present at the meeting of the Town Sunday School Association, Tuesday, East Warren, Pleasantville and the two schools at the village were represented. H. E. Thayer was chosen chairman and E. R. Stearns secretary of the informal organization. Mrs. Thayer told how she would conduct a primary class in a school-house. Her address was illustrated by methods which she uses in her work. Rev. T. E. Brastow of Rockport, secretary of the Knox County S. S. Association, spoke on the advantages of a Township Association. A. A. Badger gave an address on keeping the boy of fifteen in the Sunday School. All these addresses were followed by discussions. The vote was taken to organize the town into a township association and the following officers were elected: President, Rev. E. R. Stearns; Secretary, Lena Gould; Corresponding Secretary, H. E. Thayer; Treasurer, Loren Packard, East Warren; Vice President, Anson Stetson, North Warren; Executive Committee, Wm. Russell of Pleasantville, Leroy Leonard of Highland, and Wm. Walls of West Warren. Rev. F. M. Preble of Camden spoke in the evening on "The Aim of the Christian Worker." The meetings were all well attended and a good prospect is in store for the future work of the association.

About eight copies of the call for a meeting to consider the matter of a lecture course this winter. A. A. Badger was chosen chairman and H. E. Thayer secretary. The opinion was expressed unanimously that we ought to have a good course, and that a guarantee fund of at least $125 worth of course tickets must be sold. It was decided to charge $1.50 for reserved seat tickets and $1.25 for the remainder of the seats. A committee of seven, consisting of Thomas Walker, Moses R. Mathews, A. Anderson Badger, Edward R. Stearns, M. Wetherbee, Edwin H. Vaughan and Herbert E. Thayer will have the matter in charge. The co-operation of all the people is earnestly solicited. Canvassers will be appointed to solicit subscriptions to course tickets. It is planned to spend all the money received in the course. This plan will give the people the entire benefit of their money in the lectures themselves.

The opinion was expressed by some of our citizens, inasmuch as they were helping pay for libraries in other parts of the state, we would do well to drawing money ourselves. We very much need the gift of books, money to buy books, and a memorial library building. Who will give on condition of the co-operation of the town?

Mr. Keist has made a fine gift of minerals to the High School.

The King's Daughters and Sons of the Baptist church are invited to hold a sociable with Ella Doty in the new house.

ABOUT OFFICERS.

Some That Have Been Secured and Some That Are Desired—Who Gets the Wardenship.

The nomination for warden of the State Prison does not appear in the list given out for publication by Gov. Cleaves, and it only serves to indicate the interest felt in the contest. Recent developments seem to have narrowed the prominent candidates down to two: Ex-Minor Hillman Smith of Auburn and D. G. Beard of Wilton. Mr. Beard, who is an ex-prison inspector, was in the city and vicinity the latter part of last week, looking for support, and he believed he got much of that which had been tendered to Mr. Northey, who has since withdrawn from the race.

Local papers, The "C.G." among them, have spoken of the candidates for custodian of the post office and customs building. The positions of janitor will be of course meant. Our postmaster acts as custodian of the building, Parker T. Fuller being the present custodian.

The following are mentioned as candidates for the post office at Vinalhaven: Eugene M. Hall, W. S. Carver and F. V. Littlefield. O. P. Lyons is the present incumbent.

There are several candidates for the post office in Warren. E. H. Vaughn the present incumbent, is again a candidate and although a Democrat is receiving much support from both political parties. Miss Hattie Dolham and George Libby are also candidates and have generously signed petitions.

Miss Julia Sear has resumed her place in the Congregational Church choir after an absence of three months.

The First Baptist Choral Association will have a rehearsal next Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Hall, corner South Main and Holmes streets.

MARINE MATTERS.

The Movements of Vessels, Charters, Notes and the Like.

Sch. Sandholm, Halversen, brought coal Tuesday from New York for A. J. Bird & Co.

Sch. John Bracwell, Benson, sailed Friday for Long Cove to load for New York.

Sch. Helen Montague, Adams, is chartered to load stone at Vinalhaven for New York.

Sch. Fly Away is at the North Railway for new keel.

Sch. Northern Light arrived Friday from Boston to load from Joseph Abbott.

Sch. Lena White from Salem, and Silver Heels from Boston, arrived Saturday.

Sch. Ann C. Stuart, with wood from Sullivan, arrived Sunday and is chartered to bring 200 cords of wood from Vinalhaven for C. E. Littlefield.

Sch. Mary Brewer, Thomas, arrived Sunday from Boston.

Sch. Charles R. Washington arrived Monday from Boston with general cargo.

Sch. Veto arrived Monday from Thomaston to load from Boston to C. Doherty.

Sailed Friday—Schs. Hume and Edward Lameyer, from F. Cobb & Co.; J. S. Lampher and Commerce, from Perry Bros., for New York; Humboldt and Annie Sargent, from A. F. Crockett Co.; Regalia, from A. J. Bird & Co.; Red Jacket, from F. Cobb & Co., for Boston.

Sch. M. Luella Wood, Spaulding, sailed Friday for King's Ferry to load lumber for New York.

Schs. Ada Ames, Emery, from A. J. Bird & Co., and A. W. Ellis, Ryder, from A. C. Gay & Co., for New York, sailed Monday.

Sch. Lugano, Watts, sailed from Thomaston for New York, from J. O. Cushing & Co.

The following vessels were loading yesterday: Frances M. Loring, from Farrand, Spear & Co., for Boston; Carleton Bell, from Joseph Abbott, and Silverheels from F. Cobb & Co., for New York.

Sch. Lena White will load today from F. Cobb & Co., for New York.

The wrecked sch. Mary E. H. G. Dow is at Atlantic wharf discharging the balance of her cargo of coal.

Brig Caroline Grey, Locke, sailed Monday for Portland to load shooks for Barbadoes.

Tug Sommers N. Smith assisted a loaded tank steamer ashore on the eastern side of the channel off Ash Point Monday morning. The steamer pupped overboard a portion of her cargo, covering the whole of the channel, though to shipping one vessel was obtained at a slight concession. The market is regarded as somewhat easier in tone, due to more liberal offerings of distant tonnage.

Rates from the Gulf and Provinces are without quotable change, though tonnage is not readily obtainable at the views ships at present entertain. Brazil freights are dull. There has been no action of an important character in either the West India or Windward departments. Some few orders are present in the market, but as shippers' limits do not appreciate, owners are not prompt to accept the terms offered for tonnage. There is very little doing in logwood or sugar freights home. Deal freights from the Provinces to the U. K. remain quiet with rates easier. A small vessel from St. John to Newport, Cardiff or Swansea observed.

Reported from Brown & Company's Weekly Freight Circular.

There has been no improvement of a general character in this department during the week. Tonnage for case oil to the far East is required by shippers but the market is bare of suitable vessels, and few are offered firm for forward loading. Some business has been completed during the interval for December, January, February and March, and in most instances full previous rates have been secured, though to shipping one vessel was obtained at a slight concession. The market is regarded as somewhat easier in tone, due to more liberal offerings of distant tonnage.

POINTERS ABOUT PEOPLE

Glittering Personalities That Will Be Found of Interest.

Concerning the Movings About of Many Well Known Persons—Friends and Acquaintances Who Are Visiting in Town or Making a Sojourn Elsewhere—Our Personal Directory.

PERSONALS At this season of the year are a little scarce, and the C.G. will thank any and all of its friends for contributions hitherto. The C.G. personal department is quite an institution and performs an important office. Said well known citizen the other day:

"When I am called away from home I have a personal man in the C.G. when business patrons of mine out thro' the county know that I am not in town, and postpone their proposed visit to this city until they see by another C.G. personal that I have returned."

A. M. Miller of the Waldoboro News was in town for a day last week, looking up a few of his many friends—Mrs. S. G. Dennis has returned from a visit in Boston—Mrs. A. S. Littlefield spent last week in Wiscasset, Messrs Littlefield being engaged in an important case in court there—Senator elect Alonzo Nickerson of Boothbay was in town, Thursday—Mrs. Jeanette Ranker of Bar Harbor has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oliver L. Hall in this city—Mrs. L. L. Walker has moved from State street to Cedar street—Hon. H. L. Shepherd of Rockport was in Augusta last week.

L. P. Berry of Vinalhaven, who went to Washington, D. C., several weeks ago, a delicate bit of carving work on the new post-office, arrived on the evening train, Wednesday, and proceeded to Camden where Mrs. Berry has been visiting.

Frank Avery, a former well known and expert Vinalhaven granite cutter, is now in Lewiston, in this state.

Michael Ormond of Brooklyn, N. Y., is at the family of Garrett Coughlin, 100 State street—Hon. S. M. Bird, was in Bangor last week on business—Hon. A. E. Crockett and wife have returned from a trip to Boston—Miss Nellie Hix is in Boston, the guest of friends—Miss Annie Frye is visiting Boston friends—J. R. Flye made a business trip to Boston last week.

R. H. Burnham, Recorder of the Imperial Council, Order of United Friends, is now located at 2016 7th Avenue, New York City.

The Eastport correspondent of the Bangor News has the following regarding a former resident of this city: Allen J. Maker of East Saugus, Mass., a veteran of the late war, who served in Co. 4th Maine Volunteers, enlisting at Belfast, Me., in '61, has been in the city for several days and is a guest at the Parker House, where he will remain for another week. Mr. Maker is a most pleasant and jovial gentleman to meet and the stories of his life are filled with thrilling adventures that are interesting to hear. He was severely wounded in the strife and the official records in the medical and surgical history of the Rebellion show his case to be the most remarkable and the only one in which death did not result from the dangerous ball that passed through his body, leaving him on the field for dead. Mr. Maker was shot in the arm and side in the battle of Chantilly, near Centerville, Sept. 1, 1862, and today he bears the scars of these wounds. But to see him now one would scarcely realize that he underwent the painful operations and long sickness in Epiphany hospital, Wash., that are credited to him, yet it cannot be denied that such was the case, as the report to the House of Representatives from Mr. Flick, committee on invalid pensions, in January, 1890 says: "Mr. Maker's escape was miraculous and he has a large circle of veteran friends here, who have entertained him."

Frank Oschger, who has been employed by the cigar making firms here for some years past, has been called to his home in Lancaster, Pa., by the illness of his father—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson are visiting in Newport for a few days.

Eugene O'Neil, who until lately has been employed in the Thorndike Hotel, has gone to Boston, where he enters the School of Pharmacy.

George Stewart, who has been employed in Waldoboro the past year, is in the city for a few days. He has just returned from Portland where he had an operation performed at the Maine General Hospital.

Louis Bradley who is attending the East Maine Conference at Bangor is one of the officers in the military body at that school.

Maynard Hall, who has been off duty on account of injuries, has resumed his position in the American Express Co.'s office.

TENDER TIES.

Former Rockland Newspaper Man Weds Charming Wife—Thomson Engagement.

The engagement of Ellis W. Prince and Miss Alida Whitney of Thomaston is announced.

The C.G. is in receipt of cards announcing the marriage of Wallace R. Farrington, at one time in the newspaper business in this city, and Catherine McAlpine Crane, of San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Farrington has been in Honolulu the past two years as editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, and it was claimed that trading for support for various candidates was in a measure responsible for the failure of the measure. Whether that be true or not that Compulsory Pilotage inquiry should be wiped out, and another organized effort should be made against it. A powerful and able lobby will oppose any attempt to do away with this polite system of robbery, and with this admitted it should impress upon owners of shipping the importance of a strong organization to meet them.

A well known Rockland captain and vessel owner, and a man who is well versed in matters relating to the fisheries, shipping and the like, said to a reporter of THE C.G. the other day:

"A few years ago you could not sail out side of Owl's Head without seeing here and there, all about you, schools of mackerel, and inside the harbor were fleets of boats busily engaged jigging this favorite fish. Now a mackerel is seldom seen in the harbor, and very few are caught along this coast at all and our fishermen who want mackerel to eat are obliged to buy them. The cause of this great scarcity of this once plentiful fish is, I judge, scine, by means of which the mackerel is being rapidly exterminated. The United States and England should have a convention and formulate an international law, prohibiting the use of the purse seine. In this way only will the extermination of the mackerel be prevented."

The Boston Herald says editorially that the great demand for tonnage to carry from this country the grain that is needed to supply the wants of Europe has put a new demand upon that class of American shipping that has hitherto found employment in our coastwise trade. A number of charters have been made of four-masted schooners to take grain to the United Kingdom and to the continent of Europe. These vessels have found good business in accepting the offers thus made, particularly as the freight paid in the coastwise coal trade has been of late undesirably low. It is not often that merchant vessels of a schooner rig make voyages across the Atlantic, and yet it is probable that the risks taken in such a voyage are no greater than are frequently encountered in voyages made either to the West Indies or along the Atlantic seaboard. Merchant vessels having a fore and aft rig do not often carry many hands, and in the case of a sudden blow they may not be as quick brought into condition to meet it as square rigged craft with their larger crews. If it is established that transatlantic voyages can be undertaken as safely by schooners as by bark or ships, it is not impossible that the greater economy found in sailing the fast named class of vessels will have the tendency to, in time, bring about a more general employment of this type of craft.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. F. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, O. Important Lines of Legislation That Should Busy Congress.

That Discriminating Duty Bill in Which Vessel Owners Are Interested—The Compulsory Pilotage Voucher—As To Catching Mackerel With Purse Seines.

When during the September campaign Congressman Serebo Payne of New York spoke in this city and Tenants Harbor, many of his hearers were especially interested in the statement which he made to the effect that he should make an attempt when Congress again convened to pass through the House a bill imposing an additional duty on all merchandise brought to this country in any but American vessels. This statement was a significant one, coming as it did from the chairman of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. The full text of the bill referred to is as follows:

"A duty of ten per centum ad valorem, in addition to the duties now imposed by law, shall be levied, collected and paid on all goods, wares and merchandise imported in ships or vessels not of the United States; there shall be levied, collected and paid a duty of ten per centum ad valorem on all such goods, wares or merchandise that shall be imported in ships or vessels not of the United States. And any and all clauses in existing treaties in contravention hereto, and all acts of Congress in conflict herewith, are abrogated and repealed."

This bill or rather the policy contained in it will have the endorsement of a plank in the Republican platform and the following endorsement of President elect McKinley in his letter accepting the Republican nomination:

"The declaration of the Republican platform in favor of the upbuilding of our merchant marine has my hearty approval. The policy of discriminating duties in favor of our shipping, which prevailed in the early years of our history, should be again promptly adopted by Congress and vigorously supported until our prestige and supremacy on the seas is fully attained. We should no longer concede directly or indirectly to the maintenance of the colonial market for foreign countries, but provide an efficient and complete marine of our own. Now that the American navy is assuming a position commensurate with our importance as a nation, a policy I am glad to observe the Republican platform strongly endorses, we must supplement it with a merchant marine that will give us the advantage in both our coastwise and foreign trade that we ought naturally and properly to enjoy. It should be at once a matter of public policy and national pride to repel such an immense and prosperous trade."

That such a measure would revive American shipping and put new life into the country's deserted shipyards is beyond the shadow of a doubt. With the Republicans in control of the national government and committed to the policy under discussion, the proper course for an organization can be perfected and a plan of campaign arranged, so that when opportunity does occur, full advantage can be taken of it.

At the first session of the present Congress a bill introduced in the House by Congressman Payne of New York, providing for the abolition of Compulsory Pilotage, was defeated. At that time the Republicans were in the midst of an exciting contest as to whether Reed, McKinley, Morton or Quay should be the Republican standard bearer, and it was claimed that trading for support for various candidates was in a measure responsible for the failure of the measure. Whether that be true or not that Compulsory Pilotage inquiry should be wiped out, and another organized effort should be made against it. A powerful and able lobby will oppose any attempt to do away with this polite system of robbery, and with this admitted it should impress upon owners of shipping the importance of a strong organization to meet them.

A well known Rockland captain and vessel owner, and a man who is well versed in matters relating to the fisheries, shipping and the like, said to a reporter of THE C.G. the other day:

"A few years ago you could not sail out side of Owl's Head without seeing here and there, all about you, schools of mackerel, and inside the harbor were fleets of boats busily engaged jigging this favorite fish. Now a mackerel is seldom seen in the harbor, and very few are caught along this coast at all and our fishermen who want mackerel to eat are obliged to buy them. The cause of this great scarcity of this once plentiful fish is, I judge, scine, by means of which the mackerel is being rapidly exterminated. The United States and England should have a convention and formulate an international law, prohibiting the use of the purse seine. In this way only will the extermination of the mackerel be prevented."

The Boston Herald says editorially that the great demand for tonnage to carry from this country the grain that is needed to supply the wants of Europe has put a new demand upon that class of American shipping that has hitherto found employment in our coastwise trade. A number of charters have been made of four-masted schooners to take grain to the United Kingdom and to the continent of Europe. These vessels have found good business in accepting the offers thus made, particularly as the freight paid in the coastwise coal trade has been of late undesirably low. It is not often that merchant vessels of a schooner rig make voyages across the Atlantic, and yet it is probable that the risks taken in such a voyage are no greater than are frequently encountered in voyages made either to the West Indies or along the Atlantic seaboard. Merchant vessels having a fore and aft rig do not often carry many hands, and in the case of a sudden blow they may not be as quick brought into condition to meet it as square rigged craft with their larger crews. If it is established that transatlantic voyages can be undertaken as safely by schooners as by bark or ships, it is not impossible that the greater economy found in sailing the fast named class of vessels will have the tendency to, in time, bring about a more general employment of this type of craft.

ELECTION WAGERS.

Some of the Foolish Things That Men Do in the Heat of Political Feeling.

This election has seen unusually prolific wagers of a singular character. A western man agreed if McKinley was elected that he'd leave this country and for the rest of his life be a pauper. A Missouri man wagered his farm on Bryan's election, and a man who couldn't discern the signs of the times any better than that doesn't deserve to own a farm. A Washington, D. C. young man agreed, if McKinley was elected, not to sit down until inauguration.

In this vicinity the usual number of amusing wagers were made. A Spruce Head man, in fulfillment of his wager, gave a Rockport man a ride in a wheelbarrow.

A Rockland woman agreed to ride a goat, astride, around Postoffice Square, if Bryan was elected. If McKinley was elected, the gentleman with whom she made the wager was to pay $10. Fortunately for the woman or the goat the gentleman had to pay the $10.

One Rockland young man who is an ardent Democrat and who lives in a household where Democratic ideas and theories are scattered broadcast, because a radical sympathizer of McKinleyism as the result of an election bet. It was provided in the wager that should McKinley win the young man in question must parade the street carrying a banner inscribed as the other fellow might see fit, and shout for the Republican candidates. Of course had Bryan won the other fellow would have had all this to do. Well, the parade came off according to agreement and for the space of an hour or so the young Democrat rambled up and down Union street yelling his lungs hoarse for McKinley and Hobart and bearing a banner inscribed with these devices: "This is my last bet" and "They told me so but I thought they were fooling." It was one of the nights before the final celebration and there was a large crowd out, composed mostly of youngsters blowing horns and everything else blowable. These fell in behind the young election-wagerer and a more spectacular procession was never seen on our Main street. The wager and its payment produced a good deal of amusement, but the young Democrat will be a little more cautious in the future.

Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at W. H. Kitteridge's Drug Store.

TRANSCRIPT OF RECORDS

Another Year's Doings in the Ancient History of Cushing.

Evidently Old Settlers Cared More for Their Spiritual Welfare than They Did For Matters Educational—Town Had No Use for Panpers—Had Liking for Town Meetings.

Two weeks ago we published the first installment of the transcript of records of the town of Cushing. The article attracted much attention and the second installment as given below will be equally as interesting.

1790—The second annual meeting of the town of Cushing was held at the house of Robert McIntyre, on Tuesday the 22nd day of March, 1790. At this meeting the following officers were chosen: Moderator, John McKellar; clerk, Robert McIntyre; selectmen, Robert McIntyre, Hance Robinson and John McKellar; constable and collector, John York; treasurer, Edward Kellerman; fence viewers, James McCarter, Archibald Robinson, James Sweetland, Jabez Henderson, Enoch Ripley and Samuel Gilchrist; road surveyors, James McCarter, John Lewis, Lawrence Parsons, sen., George Young, Daniel Howard, Thomas Henderson, Caleb Hall, John Kellogg; surveyors of lumber, James Sweetland, James Sweetland, Benjamin Barton, Samuel Watts, Seth Vose, Enoch Ripley, James Sweetland, John McKellar and Caleb Hall; "hogg greaves," Simeon Hiller (Hyer), William Wiley, Isaac Wiley, and Ephraim Hall, field drivers, Jonathan Nutting, an innholder, Moses Rivers, Moses Robinson, Jan. Dennis Fogarty, pound keepers, Archibald Robinson, and Samuel Watts; fish committee, Benjamin Barton, Hance Robinson and James Malcolm.

It was voted that each poll tax payer work three days on the town road, and every estate pay the equivalent of one day's labor for every 75 pounds of the valuation. The tax payers were more concerned, evidently, about the spiritual welfare of the people than their educational interests, as we find that at this meeting the town refused to appropriate any money for the support of schools, while they voted to raise 20 pounds for the support of the gospel. The practice of wearing possible paupers to depart from the town seemed to have been effective as the only person to receive support from the town this year was David Gordon, who was cared for by John Lewis for the sum of two shillings and 10 pence per week. Twelve pounds were raised for his support.

It was voted that the ministerial lot remain common. Capt. Edward Killerman was chosen to purchase books for the town. A second meeting was called on the 10th of April to meet at the house of Samuel Watts, Tuesday, April 24. John McKellar, was again chosen moderator, a post he continued to fill very acceptably for several years. At this meeting it was voted not to pay the Rev. Thurston Whiting eight pounds for preaching the preceding Winter out of the surplus of a certain tax, the nature of which, owing to the illegality of the record, could not be deciphered. Isaac Hall was a "petit jurymen" to a end of the Court of Quarter Sessions.

It was voted that all notices for town meetings should be posted at least ten days before the day of meeting, and that all such notices should be posted in the mills of John York, Samuel Gilchrist, Josiah Starling and Robert McIntyre, and the house of Andrew Malcolm. York and Gilchrist resided on the east side of the river, now St. George.

October 25, a warrant was issued to John York, constable, commanding him to warn Neal McKigney and his wife Joanna to depart from the town. The early settlers were decidedly against free and unrestricted immigration, a policy which their descendants might properly consider. As no record of a return to the town clerk of this warrant appears, it is presumed that the warrant or notice was either served, the warrant or notice was returned with the clerk, a breach of official duty which the town fathers seemed either to have overlooked or condoned.

Town meetings continued to be held with the modern frequency of picnics and family reunions. The third one for the year was held at the house of Samuel Sweetland, April 27, at which Samuel Watts, Eleazer Gay and John Robinson were chosen a committee to settle all accounts for and against the town. It was voted to hire a minister this year, the town at its annual meeting having appropriated 20 pounds for the support of the gospel. The clerk neglected to record the name of the moderator of this meeting.

The following intentions of marriage were entered with the town clerk for the year 1790:

May 12, Thomas Robinson of Cushing and Polite Collimore of Meduncook. June 12, Samuel Annes and Joanna Jerish, both of Cushing. July 20, Adam Wiley of Cushing and Hannah, Farnsworth of Waldoboro. October 12, Gideon Allen and Marthy Henderson both of Cushing. October 15, John Curtis and Joanna Hall, both of Cushing. November 26, Samuel Payson and Peggy Lewis, both of Cushing. November 27, James Midcal and Jane Young, both of Cushing.

IT IS WHISPERED

That the big Republican flag that was stolen has not yet been returned or discovered. That candidates are thick, that they are plenty—that the Universalists had the usual storm for their fair—that it has occurred just that way for eight successive years—that Ingraham's Hill had a very recherche celebration—that The Business Men's Carnival in Elmwood Hall this week will be a big time—that The Epworth League, which manages the affair, has a reputation for getting up first-class entertainments.

Bleeding To Death.

Time was when doctors resorted to bleeding and cupping as a cure for all diseases. They were correct in supposing that in disease the blood is impure but they were not correct in supposing that to let out the blood would remove the disease, that method would only cure the disease at the expense of life.

We now know that the best way is to purify the blood, and to enable the blood to do its work as intended by nature. The natural water, Ypsilanti Specific, is the greatest blood purifier known. It is nature's own true remedy and should be in every house. If your dealer does not supply you with this water, write to the Ypsilanti Specific Co., at 104 Broad St., Boston, and they will see that you are supplied. Ypsilanti Specific is sold by C. H. Moor & Co., 322 Main Street, Rockland, Maine.

OVERCOATS!

How many people know a really good thing when they see it? Do you? Have you seen our Overcoat? Provided they fit and look well, can you tell without testing that they will wear well? The moral of these conundrums is that, if you would be sure of what constitutes real quality you must deal with a house of reputation and responsibility. Our reputation is founded on our responsibility and upon the fact that we make good all our promises. We couldn't afford to do otherwise. Our prices range
