THE GREAT BLACKSTONE

Wonderful Magician Coming To Park Theatre For Two Days.

There are mysteries which the universe stands against before. Only a few in past ages have unraveled their secrets. It matters not what position in life you may occupy. Whether you are as rich as Golconda, or as poor as a cab driver in Venice; whether you are an intellectual prodigy or a half-wit, unless you have felt the thrills of amazement, have been held spell-bound by Hindu magic, and the weird supernatural demonstrations of the Great Blackstone, you have missed an experience of the rarest of mental sensation.

No one, whether old or young, can come under his spell and not take home something that will cling to the memory like ivy to an oak. What was called charlatanism in past time, is now proclaimed as truth by scientific men of all countries.

Thanks to the courage of Sir Conan Doyle and Sir Oliver Lodge and other famous men, these truths are generally acknowledged. Blackstone will produce physical manifestations and the materialization of spirits as presented by him before various societies of psychic research and innumerable investigations of scientific phenomena. Even before going to India, Blackstone was acknowledged as a Master Magician. In the land of the Yogi, he was initiated into strange and unaccountable happenings so that he combines in one evening the best of his own discoveries in modern magic with the wonders of the mystical East. The great Blackstone will be at Park Theatre April 15 and 16.—adv.

A NEW TRIAL GRANTED

In Important Case of Mary A. Dyer vs. Maine Central—Two Already Held.

A new trial has been granted by Law Court in the case of Mrs. Mary A. Dyer of Cambridge, Mass., who sues the Maine Central Railroad Co. for injuries received through the alleged negligence of that corporation at the Pleasant street railroad crossing in this city Aug. 29, 1916.

The case was first heard by a Knox county jury in September 1917 and resulted in a disagreement. It was tried again last September and a verdict of $4048.33 was awarded to Mrs. Dyer. The case went to Law Court on motion for new trial. The verdict, drawn by Associate Justice L. B. Deasy, and received Tuesday by Clerk of Courts Griffin, declares that the verdict cannot be justified if the railroad was found guilty of negligence by reason of not having safety devices at this crossing other than those in use, and says that there is not sufficient evidence to justify a jury in finding that the train was traveling at excessive speed.

The cause of action was an automobile accident. Mrs. Dyer and her husband, George A. Dyer, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Estabrook in the latter's car, on their way back to Boston from Maine where they had been spending the summer. Mr. Estabrook was driving. Reaching the foot of Park street, Rockland, they found the street under repairs and were directed up Pleasant street as the most convenient detour. The New York train had just arrived, and as they passed along up Pleasant street the party was aware of the shifting bells and whistles going on in the railroad yard a block away.

They were not aware that a spur track ran from these yards to the wharf, crossing Pleasant street further up, at grade. Coming upon this crossing without becoming aware of it, Mr. Estabrook was unable to avoid collision with an engine and two cars of the New York train which were being run down to the wharf. The automobile was caught on the front of the engine and carried about 150 feet before the train was stopped.

The car was not overturned, but Mrs. Dyer was thrown out, and sustained a broken collar bone and numerous minor injuries. The speed of the automobile, according to Mr. Dyer's testimony, was about 15 miles an hour.

Plaintiff contended that the crossing as a whole was "blind," the sign merging into the landscape behind and the tracks themselves being hidden by the gravel of the roadway and by surrounding objects. The defense contended that the sign was a sufficiently conspicuous warning and that there was contributory negligence on the part of the automobile party.

The receipt of the corporation has, in 1916 had a branch track crossing Pleasant street, Rockland at grade. On Aug. 29, 1916, an automobile in which the plaintiff was riding as a passenger, was, upon its crossing, struck by the defendant's locomotive. The injuries were thus caused on account of which this suit was brought.

The plaintiff has recovered a verdict. The defendant brings the case, to this court on motion and exceptions to the refusal of the presiding justice to order a verdict for the defendant. No gate or automatic signal was maintained, and no flagman stationed at this crossing. It does not appear that such safety devices had been ordered by the Public Utilities Commission or company to the public.

The mere fact, however, that such precautionary measures had not been ordered or provided for does not necessarily exonerate the defendant. The requirements of the statute do not measure the full duty of a railroad company to the public.

There are situations wherein, by reason of congested travel or other conditions, it would be manifestly negligent to run railroad trains across unguarded streets, although safety appliances had been officially ordered.

But it is plain that the Pleasant street crossing was not such a situation. The street was not a crowded thoroughfare. At the date of the accident it was used as a detour owing to the temporary closing of another street. There is nothing to show that it was other than a residential street, carrying a moderate amount of traffic.

A signboard as required by R. S. Chapter 56, Section 72, was at the time of the accident maintained by the defendant. If the jury found the defendant corporation guilty of negligence by reason of the absence of other safety devices at the crossing the verdict cannot be justified. No whistle was sounded as the train approached the Pleasant street crossing. A bell was rung, however. This appears from the testimony of one of the plaintiff's witnesses. Being within the city limits no whistle was necessary.

The plaintiff contends that the defendant's train crossed Pleasant street at an excessive and negligent rate of speed. The statute provides that "no engine or train shall be run across a highway, near the compact part of a town at a speed greater than six miles an hour," (unless gates, flagmen, or automatic signals are provided). The evidence fairly shows that the Pleasant street crossing is "near the compact part of the town."

Violation of this section renders the corporation liable to a penalty, and is evidence of negligence, though not conclusive as a matter of law.

But there was not in the case sufficient evidence to justify a jury in finding that at the time of the accident the defendant's train was crossing Pleasant street at an excessive and negligent rate of speed. No other acts of the defendant's claimed to be negligent having been shown the mandate must be: Motion sustained; new trial granted.

Littlefield for Mrs. Dyer; White & Carter and Kimball for the Railroad.

COUNTY TAX IS ASSESSED

Rockland's Increase Nearly $1100—Total Tax $31,959—Hurricane Now Listed Among "Wild Lands."

The most important matter to come before the county commissioners last Tuesday was the assessment of the county tax for the present year. The total amount is $31,959.42, based on valuation $17,928,207. The tax increase over last year is $2,018.28, more than half of which falls upon the city of Rockland. Other towns which have a considerable increase are Camden, Hope, North Haven, Rockport and St. George. A few towns will pay a slightly reduced tax, among them Union and Warren.

Wild lands in Knox county are valued at $22,750 and taxed at $40.58. Into this comes now the island of Hurricane, once a prosperous granite community, with a population of 600 in 1878, when incorporated. Its estates, which were once valued at $46,941, are now listed at $10,000. Other wild land assessments include: Andrews Island, $2700; Dix Island, $1200; Hewett's Island, High Island, Pleasant Island and Sheep Island, $1000 each; Lassell's Island, $1489.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Humor and pathos are strikingly combined in today's feature picture, "A Perfect Crime." Monte Blue, one of the most able actors of the screen, has the role of Wally Griggs, an awkward, bashful fellow of unromantic mien. He quite suddenly decides to rob the bank where he is employed as messenger. From this week's decision to "finish" the picture is rich in humor and human interest. The most amusing scene is where the scraggly messenger suddenly blossoms into a dashing fellow who invents the most pleasing lies. It's all part of the plan to rob the bank, but it turns out differently than he expected. He becomes a social lion, the author of a book on "amazing faked travels" and the champion of a girl who is pursued by an unscrupulous district attorney. The surprise climax must be seen to be appreciated. The week will end with another story bill headed by the feature "Folly's Trail," in which there is a very compelling plot.—adv.

MRS. CLARA J. OTIS

The following clipping from the Clinton (Mass.) Courant tells of the death of a former St. George woman who was well known in that vicinity: "Friends here received word Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Clara J. Otis, of Saranac Lake, New York, where she has resided for the past four or five years. Previous to that time she lived in Berlin for a number of years. She was the sister of J. W. Barter, and has another brother, Thomas, living in Maine. One daughter also survives her, Miss M. Etta, who has been obliged to reside in Saranac for the benefit of her health. Mrs. Otis was a native of St. George, Me., and was about 70 years of age. The funeral took place at the home of Mrs. Guy Sawyer, Interment was in Mr. Barter's lot in the Pleasant street cemetery, where both their parents and Mrs. Otis' younger daughter are buried. Rev. D. M. Welch officiated. Mrs. George H. Sawyer sang two selections.

DIVIDING SOUTH THOMASTON

Advocates of New Town of Owl's Head Appear To Have Won Decisive Victory In State Legislature.

The Maine House of Representatives yesterday concurred with the Senate by adopting the minority report which favored the division of the town of South Thomaston. The vote in the House was 76 to 23 and there was great joy among the advocates of the new town when it was learned through The Courier-Gazette bulletin that the division forces had turned their recent defeat into such a victory. The fight in their behalf was led in the Senate by Rodney I. Thompson of Rockland, and in the House by L. True Spear of Rockport, who was a member of the committee on Towns. Both made strong pleas in behalf of division.

The original committee report was 6 to 4 in favor of division. Parliamentarians opposed to division succeeded in having the matter recommitted, and recently there was another report, 6 to 4, against division. Both branches of Legislature, by large majorities, passed the "ought not to pass" report and the fight for division was supposed to be dead.

Tuesday morning, as reported in Tuesday issue the Senate reconsidered the matter. The minority report, favoring division, was substituted for the majority report, and the bill passed. The concurrent action of the House yesterday was followed by the passage of the bill to be engrossed and while there are still some formalities before the act becomes a law there seems no reasonable doubt that the matter is settled and Knox county is to have another town.

Here is printed the full text of the act that divides the town of South Thomaston:

Be it enacted by the People of Maine, as follows:

All that part of the town of South Thomaston lying easterly of the following line, namely: Beginning on the shore of Rockland Harbor, on the South line of the City of Rockland, thence southeasterly on line of said City of Rockland about one and an eighth mile to corner of Thomaston and Rockland line; thence southeasterly about two and four-tenths miles to western end of Ballyhae Bridge, at head of Ballyhae cove; thence southeasterly by thread of said Cove and Keag River to the bay, together with the inhabitants thereof, is incorporated into a separate town by the name of Owl's Head, and said town of Owl's Head is hereby invested with all the powers and privileges and subject to all the duties and obligations incident to other towns of the State.

Sec. 2. The several inhabitants of the town of Owl's Head shall be held to pay all taxes which have been legally assessed upon them by the town of South Thomaston, and the collectors of taxes for said town of South Thomaston are hereby authorized and required to collect and pay all taxes to them already committed according to their respective warrants. All moneys now in the treasury of said town of South Thomaston, and all sums which shall hereafter be received from taxes heretofore assessed shall be applied to the several purposes for which they were raised, and in case of any excess, said excess shall be applied by the treasurer of South Thomaston in payment of the indebtedness of the original town of South Thomaston.

Sec. 3. The existing liabilities and obligations of the town of South Thomaston shall be divided as follows: The town debt shall be borne by said towns in proportion to the valuation of their respective territories, as taken by the assessors in April, 1920. The obligations of the town of South Thomaston shall be borne by each town in the foregoing proportion. All paupers, now supported by the aid of the town of South Thomaston, shall after division, be maintained and supported by the town in whose territory they resided when they became paupers. Each town shall hereafter bear all expenses for the care and maintenance of all roads and bridges within its respective limits.

Sec. 4. All the real property of the town of South Thomaston shall be held and owned by the said town of Owl's Head and South Thomaston respectively, by the town where said property is located. All the personal property of the town of South Thomaston shall be held and owned by the town in possession thereof. The books and papers and records of the town of South Thomaston shall be retained by said town of South Thomaston, and each town shall have access to the same. No compensation for this apportionment of the real and personal property of the town of South Thomaston is to be made by either town.

Sec. 5. The several school districts divided by this act shall be subject to all the provisions of law applicable to school districts composed of parts of towns.

Sec. 6. Any justice of the peace in the county of Knox may issue his warrant to any legal voter in the town of Owl's Head directing him to notify the inhabitants thereof to meet at a time and place specified in said warrant, giving at least seven days notice thereof, for the choice of town officers, and to transact such business as towns are authorized to do.

Sec. 7. This act shall take effect when approved.

TO ENLARGE PLANT

Rockland Wholesale Grocery Buys Building It Occupies and Will Erect a Duplicate.

The Rockland Wholesale Grocery Co., which two years ago acquired the Thorndike & Hix business on Park street, has just passed another milestone in its prosperous career by purchasing the property which it has been occupying by lease, together with the adjoining lot and building thereon, at present occupied by the Rockland Tallow Co.

The two parcels of real estate were owned by L. N. Littlehale and are situated in the heart of what has come to be one of the city's most important business districts. The combined lots have a frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 60 feet.

The corporation inherited an established business when it bought the Thorndike & Hix property, and it reflects to the credit of the new concern's energetic methods and popular personnel that it has so increased the business in two years that additional quarters are necessary. To obtain the added space the property occupied by the Rockland Tallow Co. was bought. The building now standing there will be torn down, and in its place will arise a two story frame structure 50x60 feet, which will be an exact duplicate of the building in which the Rockland Wholesale Grocery Co. is now transacting its business. The new building will be erected just as soon as feasible.

The Rockland Wholesale Grocery Co. is now quite a formidable institution, having 13 persons on its payroll, and with four traveling salesmen constantly covering Knox, Lincoln and Hancock counties and part of Waldo and Washington counties. It is especially equipped for handling its business speedily, as the plant is located alongside the Maine Central Railroad at track and a spur track runs directly to its back door. Two cars may be unloaded there at the same time, and the company saves extra hauling and the expense which would be attached thereto.

The officers of the corporation are: Fred A. Carter, president, Percy E. Demmons vice president and R. E. Eaton treasurer. The proprietors are extremely grateful to the retail trade and other customers for the patronage which they have received, realizing that it is to these people and to the cooperation of their employees that they owe their success.

THE CLASSICS

An Appeal For Their Wider Study In the High Schools of Knox County.

Why spend long, laborious hours over a few pages of Latin or Greek when there is at hand a much more fluent translation of the same in English?

The student of literature answers, that while these translations are well worth reading, they do not give to the reader that sympathetic understanding of the life and ideas of the ancients that comes from contact with the originals. The educator furthermore says, that the continued, concentrated study of these languages produces vigorous and discriminating thinkers.

E. W. Webber, chaplain of the Maine State Prison, includes these two values in his following outline:

Benefits of Latin

The benefits to be derived from the study of Latin are:

A better understanding of the English language, the greater part of which is derived from the Latin;

A better insight into early literature as expressed by writers of that day;

A development of brain power.

APRIL

In the dim woods hear the loosened brooks, All little whispered laughter as they spy The first shy buds in unsuspected nooks Where just at noontide trails of sunshine lie.

And now and then the twitter of a thrush, The drowsy song of warm south winds a-blow, In tender pleading breaks upon the hush, As if to beg the dear green things to grow.

Oh, strange, sweet time of longing and delay! 'Tis yours to hold the promise of the spring, A joy more subtle than the perfect May, Of dappled skies and fragrant boughs can bring.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, April 7, 1921.
Personally appeared Frank F. Lydine, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette, of April 5, 1921, there was printed a total of 8,000 copies.
Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

The daylight saving regulations adopted for our city seem to be established on reasonable lines. There are a few citizens who would like the schedule carried to the end of October, and some who would prefer to have no change whatever made, summer or winter—but the overwhelming part desire the readjusted hours. It will be of interest to note that the city of Portland has adopted a schedule similar to Rockland's, her people evidently regarding the conflict of train hours as of small moment compared with the pleasure and benefit arising out of that extra hour of sunlight at the tail-end of the day.

The overseers of the poor organized Tuesday with Ralph W. Richards as chairman and Miss Joannette Simmons as secretary. Mr. Richards is entering upon his eighth year with the department and is now very familiar with its peculiar demands. Miss Simmons is the new member of the board, and as secretary will be called upon to look after some of the labors which Miss Helen Corbin, the city matron, has been performing. She will have office hours at the city store from 5 to 6 p. m., daily. Charles A. Weymouth and wife were re-elected master and matron of the almshouse, in which respective positions they have given much satisfaction the past few years. Mr. Weymouth has already planted four bushels of potatoes, and has planted seed for other hardy crops. J. T. Pinkham was re-elected keeper of the city store.

IN SUPREME COURT

Adelyn Bushnell Boyden Divorce Case Heard in Chambers—Five New Citizens—A Hay Case.

The impelling of the two juries did not prove such an easy matter. Seventeen men were called before the necessary 12 could be secured and this left but 12 men to choose the second jury from. Two did not respond to the roll call and the impelling of the second jury went over to the afternoon session, by which time the missing men had been rounded up. The juries were finally drawn in the following order:

First jury—Charles A. Benner, Thomaston; foreman; J. LeRoy Allen, South Thomaston; Richard D. Austin, Washington; Frank G. Creighton, Union; Theobert H. Day, Appleton; Willis N. Hooper, St. George; Arthur Kallach, Thomaston; Charles L. Robinson, Rockland; Herbert L. Shadle, Rockland; Foster B. Snow, Vinalhaven; Benjamin E. Watts, Warren and Weston H. Wiley, St. George.

Second jury—Benjamin Hall, Rockport; foreman; Fred Collier, Rockport; Christian Grasso, Hope; George Higgins, Camden; Albert R. Marsh, Rockland; Ansel W. Orne, Cushing; Arthur C. Peabody, Warren; William A. Seavey, Rockland; Merle E. Tolman, Vinalhaven; Walter S. Tripp, Rockland; John J. Wardwell, Rockland and Charles S. Watts, South Thomaston.

Excused—Wilmer L. Ames, Matineus; Charles A. Cleveland, Camden; Benjamin Hall Rockport; Melvin Pratt, Rockland; William Sampson, North Haven.

Thirteen cases were placed on the assigned list and four on the unassigned list. The list of new entries is the smallest for many terms, including six which were made in vacation and 34 which were made at the present term. Clerk of Courts Griffin received compliments from the attorneys for the handy and thorough manner in which the April docket was compiled. The character of each case is indicated in a printed line beneath the title.

Yesterday afternoon was given over to the civil case of Raymond J. Bowley vs. John B. Fuller, parties of Union, and concerning the storage of 40 tons of hay on the Cameron place, which had been leased by the plaintiff. Mr. Bowley was compelled to haul hay for his own use a distance of eight miles and desired to have Fuller vacate the premises. To this end he served notice March 15, 1919, that beginning that date the charge for storing Fuller's hay would be $1 a day. The defendant made no attempt to remove the hay and 15 days later Bowley served notice that the price would be $2 a day commencing April 1. The hay was removed April 26. Fuller defended the suit on the ground that there was an arrangement whereby he should sell Bowley 13 tons of hay at $17 a ton, and have the privilege of storing the remainder of the crop until the next haying season. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $83.60. Payson for plaintiff; Pike and Withee for defendant.

The case of Bessie E. Dawson of Washington vs. Norman L. Hopkins of Somerville, assigned for today, has been settled.

The Grand Jury is expected to make its report today.

Excused—Wilmer L. Ames, Matineus; Charles A. Cleveland, Camden; Benjamin Hall Rockport; Melvin Pratt, Rockland; William Sampson, North Haven.

Thirteen cases were placed on the assigned list and four on the unassigned list. The list of new entries is the smallest for many terms, including six which were made in vacation and 34 which were made at the present term. Clerk of Courts Griffin

Yesterday was naturalization day, and five new citizens were created. The list follows:

Fred Carini, 34, native of Italy, clerk resides at 84 Park street, Rockland.

Garfield O. Dolliver, 38, native of Canada, chauffeur, resides at Cushing. Martin Rosenkist, 39, native of Sweden, paving cutter, resides at St. George.

Colin Wood, 52, native of Scotland, bismith, resides at Vinalhaven. Alexander Muir Smith, 41, native of Scotland, paving cutter, resides at Vinalhaven.

Adelyn Bushnell Boyden, who has just closed an engagement in a Maiden, Mass. theatre told the story of her domestic troubles Tuesday as applicant for a divorce from William E. Boyden of Somerville, Mass.

An eleventh hour agreement between the parties resulted in the averting of a contest, and instead of hearing details publicly aired in open court the disappointed audience saw the principals and witnesses file into the private office of Associate Justice Albert M. Spear, where the testimony was given behind closed doors.

Mrs. Boyden told of her marriage in New York in April, 1918. Mr. Boyden had represented to her, she said, that he was a prosperous automobile agent, but before marriage she learned that he was a chauffeur. After the marriage she resumed her theatrical work and her husband went into training for aviation. The trouble had its beginning when she visited Mr. Boyden in his home and found that his mother and sister were unreasonably jealous of her, she said.

Evidence covering quite an extended period was presented by three Boston detectives, Herbert A. Phelan, George H. Ellis and Richard W. Black. Another important witness was Dr. Carroll C. Burpee, a physician in Maiden, Mass.

The divorce libel alleges three complaints: Cruel and abusive treatment, failure to support and a statutory cause. The master of alimony is said not to have been discussed. No defense was submitted. Judge Spear withheld his decision.

COURTING IN DEAD EARNEST

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Says Young People of Today Don't Know Real Meaning of the Word.

Courting? Why, bless your heart, the young fellows of today do not know the meaning of that word! When a young man would walk five or even ten miles through the snow or rain or mud, freeze his ears and fingers and face the danger of wildcats, to see his girl, and that, too, in the general living room, with the family, he was entitled to admit that he was courting.

And that was the rule, not the exception. The young fellows would start out Sunday afternoon to see their sweethearts, and no weather was too bad to keep them at home. It might be too cold or too muddy to take out a horse, but in that case he would go on foot, and he would go through as much hardship to see his girl as did the knights of old to rescue fair maidens in castles bold.

But it was his devotion, his courting, and when he won that girl he stuck to her through thick and through thin, through good report and evil report, obeying the Scriptural injunction that what God has joined together no man shall put asunder.

There were no marriages of convenience and few hasty marriages then. The courting was long and there were no divorces to follow. The young people might meet often at the singing school or the dance or the husking bee, but these did not take the place of regular "courting."

The courting was on Sunday night and the young man went religiously to see his girl and remained until midnight with the object of his affection, even though the father and mother and younger children were present to share in the visit. When he went home, either through the storm or under the bright starlight, he walked the earth as a conqueror—for he had been in the presence of that to him represented the real poem of life.

He had been courting—and that is all we need to bring back safe and sane ideas in marriage—courting—courting in the true sense of the word: The man seeking, if not serving, like Jacob, seven years for the object of his affection. Then he will stick to her and she to him through life.

There are some old fashions that have not been improved upon and one of them is the old way of courting.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, in the Washington Star.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

The representative apportionment for Knox county, as reported to Legislature Tuesday by the committee, has already been published in this paper. The apportionment for the contiguous counties follows:

The county of Lincoln shall choose three representatives to be apportioned as follows: Alna, Waldoboro, Whitefield, Jefferson, Somerville and Newcastle, one; Southport, Boothbay Harbor, Bristol Harbor, South Bristol; Boothbay and Monhegan, one; Bremen, Damariscotta, Nobleboro, Edgecomb, Dresden, Westport and Wiscasset, one.

The county of Waldo shall choose four representatives to be apportioned as follows: Belfast, 1; Belmont, Liberty, Lincolnville, Searsport, Morrill, Palermo, Northport, Montville, Freedom and Knox, 1; Thorndike, Unity, Burnham, Troy, Brooks, Jackson, Waldo, Monroe and Swanville, 1; Searsport, Islesboro, Stockton, Prospect, Westport and Frankfort, 1.

The county of Hancock shall choose six representatives to be apportioned as follows: Deer Isle, Stonington, Sedgwick, Brooklin and Brooksville, one; Bucksport, Dedham, Orland, Verona, Penobscot and Castine, one; Ellsworth, Surry and Elsie, one; Bar Harbor, Trenton and Hancock, one; Mt. Desert, Southwest Harbor, Cranberry Isles, Swan's Island, Long Island, Tremont and Lamolne, one; Gouldsboro, Plantation No. 33, Aurora, Amherst, Mariaville, Otis, Plantation No. 21, Waltham, Eastbrook, Fox Sullivan, Sorrento and Winter Harbor, one.

The act relating to the protection of wild birds (Senate No. 197) which the Senate had passed to be engrossed, came back from the House indirectly postponed. Thompson of Knox moved to non-concur and insist on the former action. He said that the sea gulls, which this act permitted to be killed when found actually destroying property, did great damage to the blueberries and fishermen's boats, and all the bill asks is the payment of that property. Sprague of Piscataquis said objection was strong to killing sea gulls in the interior, for they were an attraction for the summer visitors, but that at the inland fisheries and game committee hearing it was shown that great damage was done to the coast by the gulls to the blueberries and bait and the committee had reported the bill.

It was voted to insist on the Senate action.

Gov. Baxter vetoed the act to establish a Maine medical school Tuesday and in the House the veto was sustained 67 to 63. Gov. Baxter sent a veto message to the Senate on the resolve to help Bates College and the Senate sustained the veto 25 to 3. Gov. Baxter sent another veto message to the Senate on a resolve for the expenditure of $15,000 for each of two years for a Maine building at the New England States Exposition at Springfield, Mass. Action was tabled until Wednesday.

WHEN SLEEP COMES BACK

When sleep deserts you, then strength departs. It is a great day when sleep comes back.

Loss of sleep is due to pressure on spinal nerves affecting the brain. Seemingly the victim of this ailment cannot stop the train of thought. Lack of ability to rest brings on extreme nervousness, oftentimes the victim fears that he is going to pieces and may even fear for his sanity.

When the chiropractor by his skillful adjustments restores the joints of the spine to alignment and removes the pressure on spinal nerves which is causing this trouble, the patient experiences a relaxation that is all the more profound because of the need of the exhausted body. Strength is rapidly regained once the ability to sleep is regained.

UNABLE TO RELAX OR SLEEP BUT CAN NOW

"I had not slept more than three hours out of every twenty-four. After my husband died I could not discuss my business affairs with my attorneys without 'going to pieces'." When I tried chiropractic I was desperate. After the first adjustment I slept fourteen hours. In forty more, I was a new woman, able to sleep all night, and eating what I wanted. Chiropractic should be welcomed as the greatest panacea of human ills."—Mary Miles Baker, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 12565.

The Rockland High School girls' basketball team, which is contending for the championship of the State, will be temporarily without the services of Miss Alice Snow, one of its efficient guards, who is confined to her home by tonsillitis. Miss Corice Thomas will substitute for her in tomorrow night's game with Castine Normal School.

Last call. This refers to the final Friday night game of the whirlwind closing series of the R. H. S. girls' basketball team. The opposing team is the famous Castine Normal School, the place is Kimball hall, the time is 8 o'clock. The Portland game comes Saturday, April 16, in the afternoon. This remarkable series of games has made the whole State of Maine sit up and take notice, it has brought more prestige and favorable comment to Rockland High School than any previous attainment, and finally it has put this school in close touch with the premier schools of the State and schools which never before deigned to notice a team from the Limerock City. Let's take a glance at this series, all home games, by the way. South Portland, winner of a long series of games, defeated by Rockland; Prospect, prime contender for the crown, beaten by Rockland; Westbrook, another of the Big Five, beaten by Rockland; Castine Normal unbeaten and champions of the North (winner from Hampden Academy which defeated Bangor High) coming tomorrow night, and finally Portland High, chief contender, outside of Rockland, for the State championship laurels now claimed by Deering High. This is the series being run off by the champions of Knox and Lincoln counties and it is a foregone conclusion that after the dust has settled and the cheering ceased, on April 16, this story can be closed as it was begun—"Eaten by Rockland."

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

Once more Rockland's famous cut price store will turn over to the public values which have been hitherto unknown. The buying public today appreciates the value of money as never before. Pre-war prices were much above the prices which "The Home of Good Values" will offer during its great "Red Tag Sale." All war goods have been cleaned out and starting with a new stock they are offering wonderful values, beginning Friday, April 8. The prices at Berman's are always low, but never so low as now during the "Red Tag Sale," when immense quantities of the season's finest merchandise will be sold to the public at tremendously big reductions. Make it a point to attend and supply your needs.—adv.

THE ROMANCE OF SHIPS

Their Glory Is Departed But Their Memory Will Never Die.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In a recent article in your columns about "Proud Ships" mention was made of the ship J. B. Walker, launched at the old O'Brien shipyard in Thomaston in 1879.

That awakens memories of my boyhood, for I launched on that ship and well do I remember it. Forty-two years ago. The ship is somewhat aged, but I am still young.

As I remember, the Walker was the last ship launched from the O'Brien yard. I have never seen the ship to my knowledge since that day in 1879; although my brother told me some years ago that she had been made over into a coal barge. Doesn't it seem a shame for a once proud ship to end her days in such a service? One might almost wish she had been lost in her palmy days when she sailed the seven seas carrying the Star Spangled Banner to every port in the known world.

Where is there a handsomer sight than a ship under full sail? One of the Tenant's Harbor captains who sailed the seas for nearly fifty years, told me that the most beautiful sight he ever saw at sea was the ship Frederick K. Billings under full sail on her maiden voyage. Searched ship, was she not? The glory has departed; the dirty old tramp steamer now serves to carry our cargo.

I like to go into the Old State House and look at the models of those old-time ships—Red Jacket, Flying Cloud, etc. One ship of the Harry Hastings fleet averaged on one voyage 192 miles a day for 215 days. Never again will we behold their like.

This is from one who never in his life sailed on a ship, but who delights to read of them and their doings.

IN THE MOVIE WORLD

Items Which Deal With the Public's Most Popular Recreation.

(By R. Wall Doe)

The "Four Horsemen" set a record recently when it opened on the West Coast at $5 per admission. It looks as if this was not the only record this spectacle was going to make.

Theda Bara, having left the screen to appear on the stage, is about to try matrimony. It is announced that she will be married in June to Charles Brabin, a well known stage director.

Douglas Fairbanks had the misfortune to break his hand in filming one of his scenes for his most recent production "The Nut" Wonder is that he hasn't broken his neck long ago.

"Lying Lips" a Thomas Ince production, starring House Peters and Florence Vidor, will be the next special motion picture attraction at Park Theatre. The playing dates are April 13 and 14.

Pearl White, Fox star, enjoyed a novel experience at the Audubon Theatre, New York City, last Saturday. The occasion was the distributing to poor children of the city 12,000 toys that had been used as samples in the American Toy Manufacturers' show at the Hotel Imperial.

Elinor Glynn, confessed that "The Mark of Zorro" in which Douglas Fairbanks starred was the most entertaining entertainment she has ever had the pleasure of witnessing. We shall be pleased to review this picture when it arrives here, and see how Mrs. Glynn's taste for motion picture entertainment tallies with our own.

Manager Hansen of the Comique Theatre, Camden, has been playing some admirable programs recently, and with a daily change Camden theatre-goers certainly ought to develop into regular "movie" fans. The current program for the Comique contains in a single week the following stars—Bert Lytell, Gladys Walton, Mildred Harris, Marguerite Clark, Douglas Fairbanks and Tom Mix, also Eddie Polo in a serial and one of the Holman Day stories of Northern Maine, "The Two Fisted Judge." The writer happened to be passing the Comique recently about show time and among those going in recognized

"Gets-It" Ends All Corns

Just As Good For Calluses. Money Back If It Fails.

Thirty seconds after you touch the corn with this liquid corn remover the itching, stinging pain of corns stops for all time.

Simple As A, B, C.
No corn, hard or soft, is too old or too deeply rooted to resist "Gets-It." Immediately it dries and shrivels, the edges loosen from the true flesh and soon you can peel it right off with your fingers as painlessly as you trim your nails.
Don't cauterize, don't cut, don't nurse and pump, don't trim. Don't cut and trim them. REMOVE them with "GETS-IT." Costs a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.
Sold in Rockland by Fendleton Pharmacy.

many patrons who were attending regularly this little theatre around the corner when he lived in Camden a number of years ago.

A Boston newspaper recently called attention on its financial page to the manner in which the stock of the motion picture and theatre companies has increased in value during the past few months. And as peculiar as it may seem they attribute the fact of this increase to unemployment—meaning that more people attend the theatres to occupy their minds when unemployed.

The current issue of the Ladies Home Journal contains a very pleasing little story "Love In Hollywood" the interest of which centers around the motion picture colony. In the same issue is a strong editorial on motion picture censorship and organization for better pictures, which takes a sound slap at state and city censorship and gives the producer the judgment of knowing how to make better pictures.

The "legitimate" stage, or spoken drama has used every effort to blacken the eye of the "movies" which is plainly fast winning the general public's favor. Trade papers are devoting pages and pages each issue telling how different agencies are working for the downfall of the motion picture. Nearly all admit that "sex stuff" has been overdone, but argue that censorship cannot correct the error. Sex plays draw the public probably better than any other kind of drama, and it is in catering to this demand that the producers have overdone this kind of pictures, but it is not for one individual nor one group of individuals to set a standard by which four motion pictures shall be produced. You can't blame a man for looking a production that will fill his house, and as it is estimated that a large majority of the picture patrons are women it is easy to see who takes a slap at his program. The producers see their mistake and can make it right and with the exhibitors organized to demand better pictures they will make it right.

PARK THEATRE

If your baby sister were a victim of malnutrition, if she were ailing, too, for want of proper environment, fresh air and all other things most children are fortunate enough to possess, would you not sacrifice a great deal to provide her with them? This question Natalie Storm made affirmative answer. Natalie made woman's greatest sacrifice to protect her sister from the hardships that had caused the death of their mother. She threw to the four winds her chances of happiness with the man she loved to go with a man she detested that might get for the child who was all in all to her the comforts and sweets in life she herself would never enjoy. Would you say this was a brave thing to do? Or would you call it wickedness? See today's picture, "Love," featuring Louise Glaum.

Tom Mix is going to entertain the week-end crowds in a picture called "The Texan." It has a real star, a real story and some real actors in the support. It is all about a happy-go-lucky, rollicking cowpuncher, who has the instincts of a man, both cave and gentle. He shows one side of his nature when he overhears a beautiful Eastern girl tell the prosaic, persistent wooer who has followed her out to the West that she is sick and tired of practical business men and would enjoy meeting a nice wild gentleman. Which same was all the introduction Tex Benton needed. Well, that's only part of the story. Get the rest at the theatre—adv.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

What Present and Past Pupils Are Doing—Fire Escape Is Repaired—A Good Baseball Suggestion.

Miss Alice Emery who is attending Castine Normal called Monday afternoon.

Miss Cleveland's class in drawing is working from "Life." Miss Gertrude Smith is at present the model.

From a letter recently received at the school, it is learned that Alton Blackington '12 is "Pictorialist" for The Boston Herald.

In the list of the faculty of the summer session of Simmons College appears the name of Seth B. Carlin, a graduate of the Rockland High School, Class of 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Eliot R. Duncan called this week. They were both cordially greeted by faculty and students. Mr. Duncan is very much pleased with his work in the Bangor High School.

The thanks of the school are due to Mrs. Henry Bird for a Jack London story; to Mrs. A. T. Blackington for a collection of Perry Pictures; to Mrs. Louise H. Dunn for four volumes, all for our library.

Miss Evelyn McDougall visited her old classes and was present at the meeting of the Girls' Glee Club. She is at present taking music lessons in Boston and will undoubtedly forge ahead in her chosen field. She has about 10 days' vacation.

Ex-Chief Engineer Havenner gave a very interesting demonstration of the gas engine to the physics class recently by the aid of his big truck. Janitor Winslow gave an interesting hour to the same class while cleaning the boiler and blowing pipes.

Miss Antonia McInnis, formerly a member of the High School, now a senior in Notre Dame Academy, Roxbury, Mass., was another visitor. Miss McInnis plans to enter Trinity College, Washington, D. C. in the fall. She has the best wishes of all of her old schoolmates.

The fire escape has been repaired, and an entirely new floor built on the platform of the second story. A new window with three sashes instead of two, leads out of Room 1. The stairs in the latter room have been lowered, therefore the whole proposition is improved and the work is to be commended.

Miss Madeline Bird, U. of M. '21, called during her vacation. She has been prominent in the musical circles of the "Immater," staging in a very acceptable way the opera, "The Egyptian Princess." She is soon to repeat the performance in Bangor, and has been assured of such cooperation as will, undoubtedly, make another artistic and financial success.

The subject for discussion in the faculty meeting Thursday was "Drill," or "Causing a pupil to know that he knows." Members of the faculty recalled the name of Inez M. Hall, as a teacher whose work "went deep." Mention was also made of Miss Tyler, Miss Shields and Miss Katharine Shea as teachers who were strong in this particular phase of the work.

Supr. H. C. Hall was present and helped to illuminate the discussion by pertinent remarks.

The baseball has made its appearance on the very limited school grounds. When it is taken into consideration how small these are, and that there are in the neighborhood of 700 children, whose ages range from 5 to 18 years, playing there every day, one cannot help wondering at the small amount of trouble arising therefrom. If the brook could be covered, and the triangle of waste land, now used as a dump, reclaimed, the result would certainly be an improvement.

On the board in Room 1 is the report from college of Miss Barbara Keyes and Miss Leona Reed, both R. H. S. 1920. The report has the distinction of having written upon it by the registrar "A good record." Other high marks are from Wheaton College in the case of Miss Margaret Snow who has credits in nearly every subject, and "highest credit" in chemistry.

Still another from St. John's College, Brooklyn, where J. Donald Coughlin gets "honors" in French, and Latin and Algebra and "highest honors" in Greek. Harlan Bird in Syracuse University has obtained "honors" in both English and Spanish.

One of the Sophomore English divisions held a town meeting last Friday and elected judicial officers as follows: R. Cushman Burns Judge; Hilda Locke, clerk of courts; Willard Sewell, sheriff; Everett Searrell, prosecuting attorney; William Flanagan, defendant's attorney. One of the boys was chosen to take the part of John Doe, prisoner, charged with larceny of $15,000, from the Security Trust Co., on Jan. 13, 1921. Monday morning the first session of the court was held and the jury impaneled. On motion of the prosecuting attorney Court was then adjourned to 9:50 o'clock, Tuesday morning. This class is studying argumentation. The nature of evidence is at present under consideration. The witnesses in the trial of John Doe will illustrate the various kinds of evidence.

FATHER FOUND TWO-YEAR-OLD BOY VERY SICK

Was Thin. No Appetite, Had Swollen Lips, Stomach Pains, Itching Nose

A hardy woodsman and enthusiastic fisherman, Joseph K. Lane, of Lincoln, Maine, has a very interesting record to report. He writes: "As a boy, thirty-seven years ago, I began to take Dr. True's Elixir. Once after the woods and found my two-year-old boy very sick. He was thin, had no appetite, had swollen lips, pains in stomach, an itching nose, was suffering from constipation, for months. "I had not been in the house an hour when an elderly lady—a good neighbor—came in and told my wife to get a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir, saying she had seen numbers of similar cases which it had relieved. "My boy was given a half dozen doses of Elixir when he passed a lot of little worms and right away began to show improvement; he began soon to eat with a relish, play around and look healthy. He did not have to take a full bottle, and in later years, whenever he got off his feet, a few doses would straighten him out quick. "When I got constipated, a couple of teaspoons of Dr. True's Elixir fix me O. K. "My son is grown up now and has a family of six children, and he has practically raised his family on Dr. True's Elixir. This children go out to the farmers if you auto or team or can get one; if you are under 50 and can get a bond with personal surety. ## SUICIDE, OR FOUL PLAY?

County Authorities Investigating Warren Tragedy Which Has Peculiar Features.

Joseph Koskinen, a farmer and milkman, who had been missing since last Monday morning, was found dead near his home at Patterson's Mills in East Warren yesterday forenoon, apparently having committed suicide by hanging.

Medical Examiner Crockett and other county officials who investigated the case very thoroughly yesterday afternoon found circumstances which did not wholly reconcile them to the theory of self-destruction, however, and Dr. Crockett withheld his verdict until he could make a more complete examination of the body by daylight. That examination was in progress when The Courier-Gazette went to press this forenoon.

The examination, which will determine whether it is a case of suicide or foul play hinges upon two points. Could Koskinen, a cripple walking with crutches, and so bent with rheumatism that he could scarcely light his pipe, have tied the rope in a hard knot to the limb of a tree which was seven feet clear of the ground? Were the bloody bruises on his face the result of a clubbing, or did he fall face downward in his haste to reach the spot where he intended to terminate an unhappy life?

The farmer was 70 years of age, and one of the pioneer Finnish residents in that section of Warren. His family consisted of his wife, one son, John; and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Leino of Warren and Mrs. Rosie Rindell of Rockland. The son and Mrs. Leino reside at the homestead.

Reports of family quarrels are current in the neighborhood and it is said that one took place Monday morning after John Koskinen had returned home from an all night smelting expedition. This is denied by the son, but the county officials say they have evidences of it from other sources.

According to Mrs. Koskinen and John, the farmer was last seen alive at 8 o'clock Monday morning. When he did not return at meal

Blackington, to which the other literary clubs of the city will be invited, the silver collected to be used for the drama society of the Public Library. Mrs. R. J. Wasgatt was chosen as alternate to the Fall Federation meeting at Castine. The committee for the evenings entertainment was Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Ellingwood, Mrs. Orne, Mrs. Rounds and Mrs. Bird. A half pound of chocolates was awarded to each of the winners. Ices and cakes were served.

Mrs. Richan, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Wisner, Mrs. Crockett, Mrs. Flint, Mrs. Crossland and Miss Trask are due for brief reports on Maine committees at next Educational Club. The celebrities are Paderewski and Edward Roche Hardy Junior. The new President's Cabinet is to be named. The Quarter Hour Club is to report results of solid reading. Brief current events. ## THE LIME WORKERS

A Batch of Items Serious and Otherwise; All Good.

(From Bulletin 57)

Point—Steel hoops for Rockport were being riveted last week. Charlie Seavey and Tom Lothrop of the Five-Kilns crew are doing the trimming this week. The boys were all glad to see Bob Thomas back again on the job Monday, much improved in health and weighing 10 pounds more than when he went out three weeks ago. John Carveson has a flock of hens from which he got 298 eggs during the month of March. This record beats the one made by Tony Delmonico's flock of 30 hens, for the same period. Tony getting 200 eggs from his.

Look in the kiln production column and read the figures 1232 1-2 barrels for No. 2 Point kiln. You can't beat it—it's a record and the red sign is on the arch. Foreman Larrabee says the boys worked like the devil to get it, and Fred is right this time for sure. The crew was Louie Peterson, C. E. Phillips, and Joe Pisano. And then look at what No. 3 did at the hands of John Carveson, William McKenzie and Mike Salerno. They had the big production record of 1179 of the week before to overcome, but they did it, the tally sheet showing 1186 barrels. Two three-men kilns producing a total of 2418 barrels in one week doesn't happen very often.

Gregory—New shifts came on Nos. 6, 7 and 9 Monday. A new stairway has replaced the old one at kiln No. 1. Twenty-eight cars of bulk and barrel were loaded in this shed last week. Loading nine cars with 1703 barrels of lime made one of the busy days last week. Fred Keating is on No. 2, taking the shift formerly held by Ross Weymouth. This shift was drawn by lot. The Berwick arrived last Friday from Rockport with 1451 barrels Jacobs and No. 1. All but 233 barrels were shipped out by rail same day. Ross Weymouth has gone to Great-bush, Mass., having a position in a store in that place belonging to his brother. All the boys around the shed are sorry to have Ross go. Ralph Gross has returned from his trip to Portland.

New Kilns—Work on sixth kiln began last Friday. Construction work on skip-hoist was completed Wednesday. John Kent, of Mr. Sawyer's crew, has quit. He intends to fit up for fishing out of Rockland this summer. Excavation for foundation for coal crusher is being made, and gas flues to operate steam boiler are being put up.

L. R. R. R.—George Hassen claims to be the champion checker player of the L. R. R. R. H. Tibbetts slipped from a moving hand-car last Wednesday and skinned his face quite badly. Galen Dow has purchased a new five-passenger Ford car, which he will keep in the new garage recently built by him and his brother.

Barrel Factory No. 1—Production for the week: 4,367 small barrels. A carload of 80,000 steel hoops came in last week. Indications are that the factory will continue on full time schedule.

By-Products—The South-end trestle is being repaired by Mr. Fullerton's crew. Colby Moore, who has been out with an injured foot, resumed his duties at the blacksmith shop Monday. B. Collamore has been circulating a story that one of his hens has been laying flat eggs, about the size and shape of a five-cent candy sucker.
