EMPIRE THEATRE

The William A. Brady production, "Life" is offered for tomorrow. Billy Reid a young private secretary to a wealthy New York broker, secretly marries his employer's daughter, Ralph Stuyvesant, son of the broker, is enamored of Muriel Barrisford, an adventuress, and to gratify her whims, he forges his father's name to a check. Tom Burnett, jealous of Billy, with the aid of Ralph, shifts the blame on Billy. At a ball given at the Stuyvesant home, Burnett shoots and kills the broker and circumstances pointing at him, Billy is arrested and convicted of the crime. He is saved from the chair by a ruse through the efforts of his wife and Burnett is brought to justice. "Life's Twist," which comes for Saturday, with Bessie Barrisford as star, has to do with the love of Muriel Chester a beautiful young society girl, for her husband, Stephen De Koven. She finds happiness with him for a time but eventually learns that the marriage was not one of love, as she supposed, but had been engineered by a designing mother.—adv.

VIOLATED PAROLE

George Lawrence, alias George Loring, alias George Lorraine, is being sought by the State Prison authorities on account of having violated his parole. He was sentenced from Cumberland county in September, 1909, for larceny, and was working in Gardiner at the time of breaking his parole. Lawrence is 24 years old, 5 feet 11 3/8 inches tall, weighs 112 pounds, has light complexion, and the letters G. L. are tattooed on his left arm. He has a scar on the left side of his neck. A reward of $50 is offered by Warden Lester D. Eaton.

LONG MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wallace of Miami, Fla., who have been visiting in Wisconsin where Mr. Wallace was once employed in the Sheepscot Echo, are returning in their Chandler car. They have covered about 2000 miles since leaving Miami in June, carrying a complete outfit with them and camping along the way. They went into Canada and stopped at Montreal and Quebec and went to New York city before coming to Maine. They will visit in Boston on their return. Mr. Wallace is a native of Waldoboro. Their only troubles since beginning the long tour has been two blowouts.—Bath Times.

HOW CUSHING VOTED

Only 14 persons voted in Cushing Monday, the result being as follows: Amendment 1, absent voting, yes 6, no 7; Amendment 2, highway bonds, yes 5, no 3; Amendment 3, Spanish War bonus, yes 4, no 7.

Thomas T. McKinney of Knott street has bought from Mrs. Susanna Smith the lot adjoining his residence. The deal was made through R. U. Collins' real estate agency.

VETERANS WERE HERE

But With Sadly Depleted Ranks—Only 25 Registered At Yesterday's Reunion.

The rapidly dwindling ranks of the veteran associations to which the Civil War gave rise were strikingly emphasized in this city yesterday, when only 25 members signed the register at the annual reunion of the Fourth Maine Regiment, Second Maine Battery and the Naval Veterans. On a similarly fine day a score of years ago it would have been no uncommon thing to see 250 gallant survivors of the war of the Rebellion present on such an occasion.

Illness prevented George F. Thomas, president of the Association, coming from Massachusetts to take charge of the meeting and for the same reason R. Norman Marsh, vice president, was unable to be there. So Col. W. P. Hurley, who was never known to miss one of the reunions, acted as presiding officer, and John H. Thomas, now a resident of Waltham, Mass., acted as secretary and treasurer. These officers were chosen:

President—T. W. Turner of Waldoboro, 4th Maine Regiment.
Vice Presidents—W. N. Benner of Rockland, 2d Maine Battery; and Frank E. Aylward of Rockland, Naval Veterans.
Secretary and Treasurer—John W. Thomas of Waltham, Mass., 4th Maine Regiment.

It was voted to meet at the same place next year, on the second Wednesday in September.

The necrology report showed the death of six members—Harlow M. Hall, Co. I, 4th Maine Regiment; James Tuttle, Co. C, 4th Maine Regiment; William O. Steele, 2d Berdan's Sharpshooters; James Hull, 2d Maine Battery; Lieut. Albert H. Rose of Brooks, Co. F, 4th Maine Regiment; and James E. Rhodes, 6th Maine Battery, an honorary member.

The death of Lieut. Rose leaves but one survivor of the 4th Maine Regiment who was a commissioned officer.—Charles B. Greenhalgh, captain of Co. C, John H. Thomas is the sole surviving color sergeant.

Those who signed the register yesterday were: W. P. Cook, Togus, (honorary member); Thomas H. Benner, Rockland; E. A. Butler, Rockland; J. J. Roberts, Rockland; S. B. Wade, Camden; T. P. Turner, Waldoboro; C. N. Chitto, Rockland; Oliver B. Spear, North Bristol; Eugene Ryder, Rockland; John Simpson, Rockland; Alfred Blackington, Warren; H. W. Ladd, Searsmont; Charles A. Jameson, Rockland; W. H. Maxcy, Rockland; Andrews Mitchell, Rockland; Oscar Blunt, Thomaston; W. S. Vinal, Vinalhaven; W. N. Benner, Rockland; M. R. Towne, Newport; G. E. Barnes, Camden; M. J. Keller, Atlantic, Mass.; F. E. Aylward, Rockland; James T. Lane, Rockport; Col. W. P. Hurley, Togus; John H. Thomas, Waltham, Mass.

Dinner was served by the Relief Corps, and after that repast the "vets" did not need to be told to look pleasant when they faced the camera aimed at them by G. L. Marshall of the Pillsbury Studio, Thomaston.

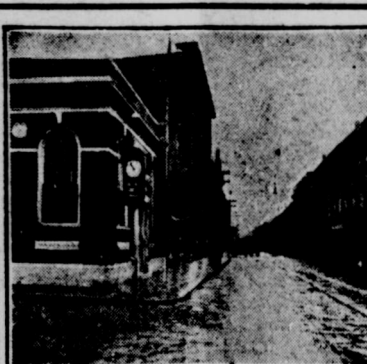

Mr. Marshall got excellent results.

MAINE FESTIVAL JUBILEE

Director Chapman Enthuses Over Great October Array of Artists—Rockland Chorus Takes Part.

"If I were to tell you that this year's Maine Festival is to be the greatest of all its twenty-five," said Director William R. Chapman to The Courier-Gazette, "what would you say?"

"On the ground," was the reply, "that you have never in this quarter of a century failed in your predictions and promises, your statement would be given full credence."

The noted impresario laughed his jolly laugh.

"Let me give you and your readers my reasons for this belief," he said, "that this year will be the most wonderful of all in producing the new sensational singers of the day—and I do hope the people will appreciate my efforts in bringing three young Maine singers who have made their names famous in the musical world. Earl Charles Marshall of Auburn, tenor; Helen Yorke of Bethel, coloratura soprano; Phoebe Crosby of Islesboro, dramatic soprano, have achieved recognition and praise from press and public."

"Charles Marshall is the greatest Otello in the world. He made the sensation of the season in opera in Chicago, and repeated it in New York, is mentioned as the logical successor of Caruso, and has received flattering overtures from the Metropolitan Opera company. He is under contract to Chicago Opera, but will no doubt sing some appearances with the Metropolitan. As a boy commencing his career, he sang a baritone solo at one of the Festivals."

Afterwards he went abroad, and returned a fulfilled tenor, whose success has been phenomenal. He stands today on the top round of the ladder of fame, and I hope all Maine music lovers will hear him and give him the reception he deserves, as he returns to his own state. I hear one club is to go en masse and honor him."

"Helen Yorke, fascinating, pretty, with a bird-like voice, the trills while you thrill, will surely sing her way to every heart. She has received most favorable notices wherever she appeared, and will undoubtedly be a member of one of the big opera companies this season."

"Phoebe Crosby is destined to be a second Nordica, her beauty of voice, and enunciation make her a delight. So much for Maine. We have besides the greatest dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, the one who sang with Caruso in all his roles last winter, the best young artist in the world today, Rosa Ponselle. It is a joy to hear the glorious tones of her voice."

"When to complete our opera list, and get artists familiar with Aida, we have Genia Fonarova the celebrated Russian mezzo-soprano, Bocca Fusco the great Italian tenor, and Fernando Guarneri the baritone of the San Carlo Opera Company, who has been in some places in Maine in concert last spring, and is rated as one of the great baritones of the day, also Raymond Otis Hunter, the young bass-baritone, and our own Ernest Hill as Messenger. A superb cast for this great opera, whose chorus numbers will be magnificently rendered by our great Festival Chorus. There is no opera chorus of its size and excellence."

"Those who recall the other years will name with me, Blavet, Gluck, Bouton, Perre, Miles, Williams, Werrenrath, Johnston, Graue and other young singers, who made their first appearance at Maine Festivals. Even Schumann-Heink says, 'Mr. Chapman gave me my first big Festival appearance,' and Galli-Curci sang in Maine before she sang in New York, after her Chicago triumph. Oh, we have had all the great ones too, 'down in Maine,' and this year I prophesy will be a record breaker. That you don't know these singers makes no difference. You will when they have finished, and I am anxious to see Maine wake up as other great musical centres have done and appreciate these fine artists."

"One of the greatest surprises of this year will be the playing of the orchestra who are all musicians from the world-renowned New York Philharmonic society. While we have had excellent orchestras in the past, this will be the greatest that has ever been heard at the Festival, and well worth the price of the whole course ticket. The expense of producing the orchestra at both ends of the State, will be between six and seven thousand dollars this year, owing to the increased expense of hotels and railroad fares from New York City to Maine and return."

"The New York Trio is a new and most interesting feature this year. It is composed of excellent solo artists whose ensemble work is considered perfection—Clarence Adler, pianist; Scipione Guidi, violinist; and Cornelius Van Vleet, cellist."

"The Chorus is entitled to a great share of praise in keeping up their work, and it will be better than ever this year. No words can tell you how proud I am of them, and the record of their work with me during the past 25 years. The local conductors and pianists have placed us all under a debt of gratitude for their splendid work that can never be repaid. As a special celebration for this Silver Jubilee occasion a luncheon will be arranged at the Falmouth Hotel, by a special committee, on Monday the opening day at twelve-thirty. Distinguished speakers will be present, and a good time is assured. The closing night there will be a ball in the Auditorium from 11 to 1. All holders of tickets may remain and participate."

"And don't let me get away without repeating, as I have so often and honestly had occasion to do, my appreciation of your own chorus, the Wight Philharmonic Society," said Director Chapman, earnestly. "It has always been one of my most faithful supporters, from the days of its original conductor and pianist, dear, faithful Uncle Jimmy and Aunt Emma Wight. Under its present conductor, Mrs. Faith Berry, the traditions of the society are splendidly preserved. I cannot too earnestly express my appreciation of her faithful work, as well as that of the accomplished pianist, Mrs. Averill, and the members who have always loyally stood by me, as they are doing again this year. The Festival would never have succeeded except for such co-operation on the part of the choruses."

"Will you please say to your readers that orders for tickets can be given to members of the Wight Philharmonic Society, and in particular to Miss Lillian Baker, who has so efficiently year after year looked out for this department."

Miss Baker informs The Courier-Gazette that there is already a very good demand for the course tickets, the prices of which are as usual. There will be reduced rates on the railroads. Miss Baker will be glad to supply full information. The Philharmonic Society will send to Portland a chorus of usual size. The members are very enthusiastic.

The Bangor dates are October 6 to 8; the Portland dates Oct. 10 to 12.

VISITED AROOSTOOK

South Warren Grangers Make Automobile Trip To Potatoland.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 6, two automobiles containing Good Will Grangers started for the potato lands of Aroostook county. Those in this party were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fernald, Mrs. Laura Copeland, Esther Newbert, Letitia Montgomery and Misses Olive Copeland and Jeannette Libby. At West Rockport they were joined by grangers from Cushing, North Waldoboro and Warren. The first night was passed at Grand, sleeping in the college dormitory. In the morning the party was courteously shown over the buildings and campus, seeing many things, one of especial interest being a locomotive, the second one used in Maine and run by wood, without cover for the fireman and engineer. The excursionists passed through Lincoln, where the State Grange was holding a special session to confer the 6th degree, then through nine miles of woodland with only now and then a deserted lumber camp to be seen.

Wednesday night was passed in Golden Sheaf Grange hall at Sherman Mills and supper and breakfast was served by the local grangers—beans baked in the ground, salads, cake, tea and coffee. All visited the movies that evening. Here Worthy Master Fernald became disgusted with store clothes and purchased a pair of overalls, which he refused to be separated from the remainder of the trip. The first potato ranch encountered contained 45 acres and to unaccustomed eyes this seemed enormous, but at Easton was seen one of 135 acres with rows one-half mile long. Thursday night was spent in a potato barn in peaceful sleep. From here a visit was made to a potato house where 20,000 barrels of potatoes were stored for shipping.

In Houlton is the largest grange in the country, 11,042 members, with an average attendance of 200. A grange store conducted a business last year of $506,447 cash sales. The taxes are high, 49 mills. A fair was in progress here, with 20,000 people in attendance and 1500 autos. In Presque Isle the tourists saw fields of potatoes with tobacco growing close beside them.

A night was passed in a potato barn, which was especially wired to furnish the visitors electric lights. At Caribou they were joined by Senator and Mrs. Tuttle who accompanied them the remainder of the trip. The last town to be reached this side of the Canadian border was Limestone, called the Garden of Aroostook on account of the fertility of its soil.

Crossing the border, all signs read "Keep to the Left," and if any of the party forgot and kept to the right, the natives, after glancing at the number plate, forgave their ignorance and good-naturedly yielded the right of way.

Of the 23,000,000 bushels of potatoes grown in Maine 18 to 19 millions are raised in Aroostook county. The Knox county tourists were treated with the utmost kindness by every one and all seemed glad to see them. There were fine looking buildings in all the towns, and special attention given to the barns. The finest horses are found in this section. The ground is level, few rocks and the roads are good.

On the return trip the party camped one night in the open; the only drawback to this being mosquitoes, which the Worthy Master earnestly declared were large enough to stand on the ground and bite one's face. Many things of interest must necessarily be omitted from this narrative, but it certainly was a trip never to be forgotten and one of profit. The travelers arrived home Sunday at 7.30 p. m. a dusty and tired but happy crowd, with no mishaps but a few blow-outs.

SWAN'S ISLAND CABLE

Island Town Putting Its Shoulder To Proposition of Wide-spread Importance.

Public interest in and around Swan's Island has been stirred to an extraordinary extent by the proposal to lay a cable between that island and the mainland. The importance of such a proposition scarcely needs emphasis when it is taken into consideration that the cable would serve directly or indirectly a population in excess of 20,000, in a territory where 6000 fishing boats, manned by 9000 men, are operated.

The agitation will assume an even more concrete form next Tuesday night with the mass meeting which is to be held at Swan's Island, but in which other communities of Penobscot Bay and along the coast, have a common interest. Here is a copy of the call, and its stentorian voice should meet with a prompt response from every person interested in the development of a modern means of communication:

Grand Mass Meeting
At Odd Fellows' Hall, Swan's Island, Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 p. m.

To hear report of committee who presented to representatives of Senator Frederick Hale, the urgent necessity of having the United States Government reconnect the mainland and Swan's Island by cable before the coming winter; to hear speakers present the various features of the cable situation for your consideration.

Correspondents of Portland, Rockland, Bangor and Ellsworth papers will be present to report the action of the meeting, and to see how much the people of Swan's Island are interested in the cable question. To secure success every citizen and voter of Swan's Island, Minutun and Atlantic must be present at this mass meeting. Everybody come.

By the committee—Ernest T. Van Zandt (chairman) G. F. Newman, Stinson Hooper, S. G. Stockbridge, Orrin Milan.

The principal speaker will be Mr. Van Zandt, whose home is in New York City, and who as a captain in the U. S. Army, had charge of the government's mammoth nitrate plant. He is a very forceful speaker, and is injecting an enthusiasm into the cable project which cannot fail to make for its success. There will be other speakers, likewise music and other features which will help entertain the crowd.

SAW SEA SERPENT

Head As Big As A Cask and Had Glassy Eyes—Weighed Perhaps a Ton.

The Boston papers last week had a deal to say about the sea serpent sighted by Capt. Holmes of the steamship Calvin Austin. Here is the Herald's version:

"The annual sea serpent yarn has been spun a little late, but Capt. W. G. Holmes of the steamship Calvin Austin, whose veracity in 43 years of seafaring has never been questioned, uncorks a gem about what he saw off Scituate the other morning. He was bound here from New York when through the fog a ship's length ahead he observed a creature with a head as big as a cask and glassy eyes. The barnacled body, that tapered to a tail with a knob, was propelled by two flippers. The body was about 20 feet long and may have weighed a ton. If its wrinkled, warty mass could be appraised in years it may have antedated Methuselah. Capt. Holmes speaks about the creature reluctantly and refers to the pilot, lookout and quartermaster, who were equally amazed that Boston bay should be invaded by so repulsive a monster."

The man who reports a sea serpent generally gets elected to membership in the Ananias Club, but Rockland folks are inclined to place a great deal of credence in whatever Capt. Willis T. Holmes says, for he is a former resident of this city, and everybody admires the manner in which he has worked up from the bottom round to his present responsible position.

LIMEROCK POMONA

Limerock Valley Pomona Grange will meet with North Haven Grange, North Haven, Saturday. This program will be presented:

Address of Welcome, V. F. Beveridge; response, Zenas Burgess; singing, Grange; reading, H. H. Nash; monologue, Constance Carver; vocal solo, Brother Helstad; reading, Mary Nash; reading, Sister Baker; duet, Mrs. Lucy Quinn and Mrs. Willard Ladd; reading, Alice Samson; vocal solo, Robert McIntosh; recitation, Mrs. Willard Ladd; reading, Scott Rackliffe; vocal solo, Brother Crockett; reading, Sister Guilford; monologue, Carrie Lermond; duet, Isa Beverage and Floyd Duncan; reading, J. H. Gould.

A speaker is expected. Arrangements are being made for a large steamer to leave from Camden.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Whatever your occupation may be and how ever crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life, with a bit of poetry.

MACAULAY

The dreamy rhymer's measured more Falls heavy on our ears no more; And by long strides are left behind The dear delights of womankind. Who wage their battles like their loves, In satin waistcoats and kid gloves, And have achieved the crowning work When they have trussed and skewered a Turk. Another comes with slouter tread, And stalks among the staller dead. He rushes on, and hails by turns High-crested Scott, broad-breasted Burns And shows the British youth, who never Will lag behind, what Romans were. When all the Titans blind their lars Shouted, and shook the towers of Mars. —Walter Savage Landor.

RED CROSS MONDAY

A one-day local campaign for the raising of $7500 is set for Sept. 19. Every citizen will be asked to contribute, for the money is to be used in extending and carrying forward for another year in Rockland the work of those two great and kindred organizations, the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army. It cannot fail to stir the hearts of our people, the announcement by the local chapter that it has sent in its call for a resident Red Cross Nurse, whose business here it will be to attend upon the bedside of those unfortunate of our city who find themselves without means to provide that essential form of relief. Hundreds of progressive communities of the country are eagerly availing themselves of this form of extension work which the Red Cross has added to its program since the war ended.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Associated in next Monday's campaign is the local branch of the Salvation Army, out of whose small beginnings in our city has grown a work among the poor and suffering that no other agency can possibly carry on. Day and night in all weathers the self-sacrificing officers and members are going about on their errands of mercy, rescuing the down-and-out and bringing them succor in the name of the Man of Galilee. The business affairs of the Army's local branch are now administered by a board of business men, headed by George B. Wood, president of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation, and it is at their recommendation that the raising of this year's budget is placed in the hands of the committee organized in behalf of the Red Cross.

Patriotic business men help in the essential work of publicity by using today our advertising columns, emphasizing the strength of the appeal of next Monday's allied canvass for the local branches of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army. It is an added indication of what is an established fact, namely that these two organizations enjoy the confidence of the business men of Rockland, a confidence in which everyone should share—we believe does share. By their works ye shall know them—the Red Cross and the Salvation Army.

SWAN'S ISLAND CABLE

Certainly the business men of Rockland are interested in the earnest efforts being made by the enterprising citizens of Swan's Island to secure cable connections with the mainland. The territory served by such cable would include Rockland, Thomaston, Vinalhaven, North Haven, Stonington, and Deer Isle, Camden, Belfast, Bucksport, Ellsworth, Brooklin, Sedgewick, Bluehill, Tremont, and all the shore towns of eastern Penobscot Bay and of Hancock county, and also interests lying more remote both east and west. This immediate territory contains a population in excess of 20,000 who operate a fishing fleet comprising 6,000 fishing boats which are manned and operated by 9,000 fishermen. Rockland is the natural business center of it all. We may well enter into the spirit of the public meeting to be held in the connection at Swan's Island next Tuesday evening.

MONDAY'S ELECTION

The constitutional amendment to permit voting by mail when absent from voting district was adopted and the proposed amendments to provide for the use of State highway bonds for State aid highways and for a bonus for veterans of the Spanish war were rejected at the special election Monday, according to returns. Returns tabulated yesterday from more than half the State. The totals of 314 of the 520 cities and towns were as follows:

	Yes	No
Absent Voting	12518	9895
Highway Bonds	8493	13651
Bonus	16746	12768

Department Commander E. A. Butler who will attend the National Encampment of the G. A. R. in Indianapolis, will be a member of the headquarters party which leaves Portland Sept. 24, going by way of the Grand Trunk Railway to Montreal, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland to Indianapolis arriving at their destination Monday morning, Sept. 26. The return trip will be from Indianapolis to Cleveland, thence via the Great Lakes steamer service to Lake Erie to Buffalo and to Niagara Falls where a few hours' stop will be made; then on to Toronto where sufficient time will be had for seeing this beautiful city, then to Montreal where another stop will be made, taking in the sights of that interesting place. A fare of one cent a mile has been granted.

Harold Philbrook of Ows Head, whose mail is now littered with communications addressed the "chief of police," had the distinction of carrying the first set of ballots used at an election in the new town. The used ballots were promptly forwarded to the Secretary of State's office Tuesday morning, and that official must have been pleased with the promptness shown.

The steamer will leave Camden Saturday morning at 8 o'clock standard, conveying grangers to the meeting at North Haven, the program of which is printed on another page.

SUPREME COURT DOINGS

Friendship Slander Case Outgrowth of Baseball War—Grand Jury, Very Busy, Will Report Today.

There are approximately 30 civil cases on the trial list at the September term of Knox County Court which opened Tuesday, but in spite of this fact there is every probability that the term will be a light one. Already a number of cases which were supposed to be in line for jury trials have fallen by the wayside by reason of settlements, and it is fairly certain that a larger number will be either settled, defaulted, nonsuited or continued.

Among those which are known to be off the jury list are: Albee Sidelinger vs. Richard E. Dunn and the cross action in the same matter, Thomaston Garage vs. Sidelinger, a settlement having been reported; and the personal trespass cases of Daniel and Blanche Andrews vs. Blanche H. Ellsworth, settlement having been made.

The only case which has thus far been taken up before a jury is that of Ralph L. Starrett vs. Estelle F. Simmons, the subject-matter of which is briefly set forth below. This case occupied all the Wednesday afternoon session and will hardly reach the jury before noon today. The case is being tried before the first traverse jury, with superintendency Charles F. Young sitting for Fred I. Geyer, who was challenged. About seven or eight witnesses have been on the stand for the plaintiff, testifying to the use of defamatory statements by the defendant.

Friendship Again

The first jury trial came on yesterday afternoon, that of Ralph L. Starrett vs. Estelle F. Simmons. This is another development of the Friendship baseball ground controversy, which has been so much before the public of Knox county that any resume of the matter at this time would be an imposition on the patience of the reader. In the present suit, Mrs. Starrett seeks to recover damages for defamatory statements which it is alleged that Mrs. Simmons made during the course of a dispute at the famous ball game of July 19 of last year. Testimony was introduced to the effect that defendant had called plaintiff "half-witted," implied that his war record was not as he represented, called him "the Old Kaiser" and accused him of entering her house and stealing money. All of the above statements were alleged to have been made during the course of the ball game. The defense is a general denial of the alleged slander.

Clean-up Kid Busy

Walter T. Stern, esq., of New York, whose activities in relation to the Rockland fire ruins have been so much discussed, is a regular and busy attendant at the court house this session, and has been accompanied by his local counsel, C. T. Smalley, esq. Tuesday he was engaged in a long conference with Judge Deasy, City Solicitor, and several other judges. If there were any results of this gathering, they are not yet made public, the parties all preserving a conspicuous silence as to what took place behind the closed door. Intimations that a mandamus was requested and refused, while rather widely circulated, are absolutely without confirmation from any trustworthy source. It is pretty generally understood, however, that the efforts have been transferred to the Grand Jury room, but the secrets of that tribunal will not be divulged until later today, at least, it being thought that the jury will continue in session beyond the noon hour. Whatever Mr. Stern's plan of campaign may be, public interest is centered upon his movements to the exclusion of the comparatively drab details of the regular court docket.

Court organized Tuesday morning with the following personnel:
Judge: Associate Justice Luere B. Deasy of Eden.
Chaplain: Rev. John M. Ratcliff, Universalist, of Rockland.
Clerk of Courts: Milton M. Griffin, County Attorney: Z. M. Dwinall, Sheriff: R. E. Thurston.
Deputy: C. E. Heckbert, in charge of the Grand Jury: I. Newton Morgan, clerk; Sidney Humes, in charge of First Traverse Jury: O. H. Woodcock, in charge of Second Traverse Jury: Stenographer: Arthur H. Whitman. Messenger: Luke S. Davis.
Grand Jury: John P. Scott of Rockland, foreman; William B. Arrington of Appleton, Albert H. Brackett of Rockland, Elbert Barton of South Thomaston, Ralph Carver of North Haven, Albert E. Heal of Hope, Ansel M. Hill of Warren, William S. Johnson of Washington, Hiram B. Libby of Thomaston, William C. Norton of Vinalhaven, Nelson F. Spear of Cushing, Almonte J. Sterling of Friendship, Winfred Tabbutt of St. George, Herbert Thomas of Camden, Arthur K. Walker of Rockport, Sanford E. Weil of Rockland and Dana D. Wright of Rockland.

First Traverse Jury: Charles A. Wilson of Camden, foreman; Maynard Crockett of Rockland, Charles M. Lucas of Union, Fred I. Geyer of Cushing, Chas. Jones of Warren, Leroy F. Chase of Rockland, James W. Campbell of Rockland, Frank W. Cunningham of Washington, George Snow of South Thomaston, Walter Martin of South Thomaston, Charles F. Taylor of St. George, Albie S. Green of Vinalhaven.

Second Traverse Jury: Malcolm W. Upton of Appleton, foreman; Roland S. Rackliff of Rockland, Frank L. Harris of Camden, Oliver G. Lermond of Thomaston, Charles Baum of St. George, William G. Richards, Albert L. Rich of Isle au Haut, Orris C. Cook of Friendship, Edward Merriam of Rockport, Albert R. Burpee of Rockland, Wooster S. Vinal of Vinalhaven, Ulysses G. Pease of Hope.

Superintendency Jurors: Charles H. Young of Warren and Elizabeth Gregory of Rockport.

Forrest Calderwood of North Haven, James H. Fryer of Thomaston and Ellis W. Pettie of Rockland were excused.

Knox Bar Meeting

A meeting of the Knox Bar Association was held in the library Tuesday noon. A committee consisting of President Montgomery, E. W. Pike, G. B. Butler and M. A. Johnson was appointed to prepare resolutions and arrange for suitable observances in memory of the late Hon. L. M. Staples of Washington.

A discussion as to the problem of lost books resulted in the appointment of a special committee, Messrs. Smalley, Payson and Bird, to investigate and report at the next meeting. Secretary Trippe was authorized to employ the necessary clerical assistance for the annotation of the statutes for court and library use. It was also voted that Mr. Trippe be recompensed for his own labor in this matter.

It is probable that a banquet in honor of Judge Deasy will be arranged sometime during the term, but no committee was appointed at this meeting. The matter is at the discretion of the president of the Association.

Naturalizations

Wednesday forenoon was devoted to naturalizations, and seven new American citizens were turned out of the mill. A most interesting feature of the list is that no two of the seven are of the same nationality: Russian, Austrian, Portuguese, Albanian, English, Swedish and Irish, one apiece. Judge Deasy's comment on the effectiveness of the American "melting pot" in molding these diverse elements into one homogeneous race was especially applicable to the present group. The list follows:

John Smalley, 19 Willow street, Rockland, blacksmith, native of Rosan, Russia, age 44 years.
Sam Frank Cernosia, 109 Elm street, Camden, mill worker, native of Ugaljan, Austria, age 28 years.
Barney Manuel Tarvis, Bog Road, Rockland, cook, native of Lisbon, Portugal, age 40 years.
Nicholas Sulides, 9 Prescott Land, Rockland, business for self, native of Tipolin, Albania, age 34 years.
Joseph Greenwood Gath, South Hope, caretaker, native of Batley, England, age 43 years.
Axel Ludwig Seaberg, Tenant's Harbor, paving cutter, native of Malmon, Sweden, age 30 years.
Charles Cromwell, St. George, paving cutter, native of Moneydammore, Ireland, age 50 years.

1721 and 1921

TWO hundred years ago the more fussed-up a man's clothes were the better he was dressed.

NOW, an easy simplicity, a certain careless air marks the well dressed man.

His clothes must fit, oh yes, and he wears them with an air of assurance, but no longer does he look "pressed into his clothes."

All this calls for art in the construction of the clothes; it looks easy, but it isn't. We have made a study of it—let us show you.

We are busy outfitting the boys for school. We please both the boys and the parents. Again we say Come In.

Edward S. Healey of St. Louis, who came East on business in New York and Washington is the guest until tomorrow of his brother on Broadway.

The World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Ralph Chaples, 49 Brewster street, tonight.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Young and two children of Boston are spending a fortnight at Mrs. A. S. Hurd's at Ash Point.

Miss Doris Black returned to Wheaton College yesterday. Jack Black left Wednesday night for Chester, N. H., where he will be in the Choate training camp for football for two weeks, when he will return to the Choate School at Wallingford, Conn.

Vernon Hart leaves on tonight's steamer to resume his studies at Boston University.

The Tuesday Auction Club was entertained this week by Mrs. W. H. Spear and Mrs. Lester Sherman at the Hilltop Inn in Warren.

Mrs. W. O. Fuller arrives home today from a fortnight's visit in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Miss Dorothy Crockett is the guest of Lieut. and Mrs. E. Nicholas, Bath Road, Newport, R. I. Before returning home she will visit friends in Haverhill, Mass., and Mt. Vernon, N. H.

B. B. Reed, Jr., and Charles B. Carver returned today from Annagansett, Long Island, N. Y., where they have been employed for the past six months by a large oil company, the former in the capacity of shore electrician and the latter as pilot on the steamer Arizona.

Dr. and Mrs. William Ellingwood have returned home from a week's automobile trip. They were accompanied home by Miss Barbara Foley of Winterport, who has been their guest for several days.

Mrs. Fred A. Simonton and children, who have spent the past month at Holiday Beach, guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Duncan, have returned to their home in Brighton, Mass.

Mrs. A. J. Shaw, who has been spending the summer at her Rockland home and Cooper's Beach, leaves tomorrow for New York, where she will spend the winter with her son, Harry J. Shaw. She goes first to Great Neck, Long Island, where she will pass the coming week with the Shaws.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Simmons, Miss Martha Hall and Miss Alta McCoy motored to Lewiston yesterday to attend the State Fair.

Mildred Smalley and Minnie Daucett have gone to Vinalhaven to spend a few days with Supt. and Mrs. E. A. Smalley.

Mrs. C. Churchill Wahle and little son returned to New York yesterday.

Miss Annie Frye leaves today for Knoxville, Ill., where she is a member of the faculty of St. Mary's school, a private Episcopal institution for girls.

Kennebec Journal: Miss Marian Brown, executive secretary of the Republican State committee, returned Saturday from a week's visit in Knox county. At North Haven she organized a Republican club, and at Camden she was a speaker at a meeting of the Republican Club. She made a few days' visit at North Haven with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brown.

There will be a baked bean supper and dance at Ows Head Inn Friday night. A good time, plenty to eat and good music.

Warden Eaton of the Maine State Prison, who was in the city yesterday, reports that excellent progress is being made on the new wing, and that conditions in general are very satisfactory at the State's penal institution. Mr. Eaton now has charge of 176 convicts, and about 50 are out on parole.

Mrs. Genevieve Hewens of Falmouth, Mass., who has been visiting Miss Martha Hall, is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Wiggin at Crescent Beach.

Among home people seen at the Central Maine Fair in Lewiston yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Knowlton, A. T. Blackington, C. A. Mitchell, Peter O'Neill, Mrs. Joseph Emery and Miss George of Thomaston, Mrs. Florence Philbrook and Mrs. J. E. Ripley.

Mrs. Dorothy Littinger Thompson, an artist of New York, who spent some time painting in Rockland last summer, is at present in the Adirondack Mountains, the guest of the Countess Pecorini of New York.

The Summer Outing Club held a farewell picnic today at Mrs. C. H. Berry's home, 81 Middle street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Bird have come down from their Mirror Lake camp and are at home on Broadway for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aspinwall of New York have closed their summer camp at Medomak.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Knowlton and Mrs. A. U. Bird were guests of Henry Edward Bedford in Wiscasset last evening.

Lieut. Victor Shields who has been serving in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army the past four years, arrived in this city yesterday on his way to Vinalhaven, where he will spend his leave of absence with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shields. Friends of the Vinalhaven boy are very proud of the fine record which he has made Overseas, and will be interested to learn that his stay in the service, an indefinite one, lasting until he shall take the initiative toward discharge. He has penetrated the remote corners of Europe visiting regions not often trod by Americans. His last service was on the U. S. S. Scorpion, flagship of the American fleet in Turkish waters, and he was stationed in Constantinople. He will now probably be assigned to shore duties at one of the principal naval ports on the Atlantic seaboard. It was something of a coincidence that the first Vinalhaven friend, Lieut. Shields should meet when he arrived in Rockland was Percy White, whom he served in the capacity of grocer-man on the eve of his departure for Overseas.

G. H. Harriman of New York was the guest for a few days recently of W. T. White.

Mrs. E. M. Heller and Mrs. Elsie Otis will entertain a few guests at luncheon Friday at Cooper's Beach.

Walter T. Stern and family else their cottage at Rockland Breakwater Saturday and return to New York next day.

Mrs. Edna Waldron Norris of New York entertained informally at a coffee party at her mother's home in Camden, Tuesday. Mrs. Randolph Kelly of Lexington, Mass., and Mrs. Louis Wardwell of Camden were among the guests.

Miss Elva Bunker of Southwest Harbor, who has been employed at the Western Union office for the summer, left Friday for Laconia, N. H. Miss Bunker has made a great many friends during her summer's stay here, and they are hoping for her early return to Rockland.

The Tippecanoe Club gave a surprise party for Mrs. Lewis Small Wednesday afternoon. A utility shower was given Mrs. Small and sewing was the feature of the afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clarence Haraden, 234 Limerock street.

Tuesday the Wawenack Club spent a happy afternoon and evening at "Beachmont," the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy F. Chase. The Tarantines came to supper and devoured most of former Hester's sweet corn.

Prof. C. W. Snow, who has been spending a month at Spruce Head, leaves today to take up his new duties at Wesleyan College, Middletown, Conn.

Knox county persons recently registered at the Congress Square Hotel in Portland include Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Condon and Charles S. Hall of Rockland and Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Johnson and R. O. Elliot of Thomaston.

Miss Therese White, who has been spending the summer at W. T. White's, Main street, left for New York Wednesday.

Mrs. C. W. S. Cobb and daughter, Miss Helen Cobb, who have been spending the past month at the Copper Kettle leave for St. Louis Friday.

Mrs. Ogarita Rose Rugg, who has been dividing her summer's visit between Rockland and Crescent Beach, leaves for her home in New York Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. E. H. Rose expects to join her later for the winter.

Frederick A. Keniston has resumed his course at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y. after a successful year at teaching in Rockland High School.

Capt. Charles R. Magee, inspector at the Custom House is having a week's vacation from his duties. Accompanied by his daughter, Miss Blanche Magee, he is on a trip to Providence, Boston and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snowman of Broad street observed the first anniversary of their wedding Monday night, when they entertained a small company of friends at their home. Plans were made, immediately, for a corn roast which the same party held last night. Refreshments were served.

William A. Anderson has returned to Pittsburg, Penn., after a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. C. S. Thomas. He motored as far as Portland with Parker F. Norcross.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe W. Hall went this morning to Orono, where they will be guests for two weeks of Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Corbett.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Lyon and children and Miss Hazel Day, who are spending the summer at Atlantic City, N. J., have been on an automobile tour through some of the New England States. Five days were spent in New York and other stops were made in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Boston. The destination was Poland Spring, where Miss Day spent the day with her mother, Mrs. Charles Creamer of Winslow's Mills. The roads were excellent, the shore route being followed most of the way. The trip was made in a Pierce Arrow. The party returned to Washington this week.

Members of the Progressive Literary Club were guests of the Governor and Mrs. H. H. H. in a picnic party at the National Soldiers' Home, Togus, Tuesday. The rain of Monday had laid the dust and enlivened the foliage, so the lovely ride was a feast of color from the start to the moment when Old Glory waved its welcome from its tall staff at the Home. A company of 16 enjoyed the delicious dinner prepared by a committee, and supplemented by the generosity of the hosts. The Governor's mansion was artistically decorated by the gardener with rare and lavish floral treasures produced on the place. The beautifully kept grounds—seemingly still in their summer glow of loveliness—were a joy to contemplate. The end of a perfect day, which had included among its many attractions, a fine concert by the Togus Band, came all too soon, and the larger part of the company stayed over for the evening performance at the theatre, enjoying a ride home by the light of the Hunter's moon. The club members count it among their blessings that they hold in their membership one who has it in her gift to entertain friends so royally. A standing vote of thanks was passed to Governor and Mrs. H. H. H. The very efficient committee—Mrs. Annie F. Simmons, Mrs. Jennie W. Bird and Miss Katherine S. Coburn, and to those who furnished transportation in their private cars—Mrs. Corinna E. Gardner, Mrs. Annie E. Slisby and Mrs. Calista T. Cole.

FENCING THE FIRE ZONE

Latest Development In Main Street Controversy—Grand Jury May Act—Stern and McCarty.

When The Courier-Gazette went to press this forenoon carpenters were making ready to erect a four-foot rail fence in front of the property of Mrs. Charles H. Berry in the burned district, and it was understood that other property owners in that zone would follow suit. Some dismay was caused by the report that the fence would be erected on the line of the survey, which was made by Civil Engineer E. R. Keene Tuesday. This would have brought the barricade nearly into the middle of the sidewalk—for the abutters' rights extend that far—but the developments this morning show that the owners do not intend to take advantage of the property line.

Indications were not lacking yesterday that the matter of remedying the alleged nuisance was being approached from another angle. It is common knowledge that Walter T. Stern, the New York attorney who began the controversy, was in the presence of the grand jury yesterday afternoon, and that coincident with his appearance there several prominent physicians were summoned, for some purpose. Among them were Dr. A. K. P. Harvey, Dr. G. L. Crockett, Dr. A. W. Foss and Dr. C. D. North. What transpired behind the closed doors of the grand jury room, is, of course, no matter to be divulged until the jury reports later today, but speculation is rife.

The following communication from Mr. Stern will be read with much interest:

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—I again write you with reference to the now famous Main street "fire zone" situation, in spite of the fact that I hoped my letter of the 12th inst. would be my last statement in public print. I now beg to inform you that I have at last found a point of agreement with David L. McCarty.

When Mr. McCarty wrote me on Sept. 6 that the matters of which I complained were not within his jurisdiction, as Local Health Officer, to take any action on my complaint, he was right—not because, as he stated, the subject of the complaint did not call for action on the part of the Local Health Officer, but because Mr. McCarty is not, and never has been, the legally constituted Local Health Officer of Rockland. At least, in my opinion, this is so, and it is sustained by counsel's views.

I have this day examined your statutes and laws which cover the situation. I am not attempting to enunciate a legal opinion as a person versed or skilled in the Laws of Maine, nevertheless I am a lawyer and I think I am not presumptuous in saying that I can read and understand the English laws contained in your printed laws. Section 42 of Chapter 19 of the Maine Revised Statutes, which is known under the general heading of "Public Health and the Prevention of Contagious Diseases," provides as follows:—

"Health Officer, Appointment, Qualifications, Duties and Salary. The Municipal Officers may appoint a Health Officer, who shall be a well-educated physician, who shall be the sanitary advisor and executive officer of the Board and who shall hold office during the pleasure of the Board. The municipal officers shall establish his salary or other compensation and shall regulate and audit all fees and charges of persons employed by each Board of Health in the execution of the health laws or of their regulations."

I am told on reliable authority that Mr. McCarty is not a "well-educated physician" and I believe that his real vocation is that of druggist.

I have a certificate and also oral statements of your City Clerk, stating that your City Government heretofore designated or appointed Mr. McCarty your Local Health Officer or attempted to make such designation or appointment. Apparently not only was such act on the part of your City Government illegal and in violation of the law, but also every act performed or attempted to be performed by Mr. McCarty, acting as Local Health Officer, was improper and illegal and not sustained by legal authority. The foregoing is, of course, the expression of my opinion and represents the result of my examination of your statutes.

It appears that the qualifications of Local Health Officer have never been changed or amended to date of this writing, and therefore if Mr. McCarty does not qualify he should forthwith resign or be removed, or his designation revoked.

Leaving out for a moment all question of the Main street situation, it would seem that at least your City Government ought to be legally constituted in all respects, even if poorly administered and its offices filled by people who neglect or refuse or are incapable of functioning properly.

Referring to the article in your Tuesday issue, I do not find any requirement which justifies Mr. McCarty, even if he had power to deal with the situation, to call in two doctors, one from Damariscotta and one from Wadoboro. Although they may be skilled and able gentlemen, I do not think they would attempt to question the ability or integrity of Dr. Whittier, as it is apparent Mr. McCarty has seen fit to do in whole or in part. It seems to me that there are enough able and skilled physicians and sanitarians in this city, so that Rockland does not have to go to any other city, village or town in Maine for any assistance in matters of this kind.

I went to Dr. Whittier simply because he is the recognized authority in the State. I wanted to give your citizens and community the benefit of the very best counsel and advice they could have under the circumstances. I hoped Dr. Whittier's views would be adopted and not be questioned, particularly not by Mr. McCarty. I have no doubt Mr. McCarty is an excellent druggist but I did not think he would attempt to place his judgment or opinion above that of Dr. Whittier.

Today I received at my home a letter from Dr. A. K. P. Harvey of your city, in which he says in part, referring to the Main street "fire zone," and a similar or worse condition on Elm street opposite his house: "I would be very glad indeed to co-operate with you in any endeavor to clean up this place, which I doubt would be tolerated by any other community in New England."

In view of all that has transpired, it seems fair to make a general appeal to your public-minded citizens for their support, if they feel that I am right in what I am seeking to accomplish. I believe it is apparent that strong and concerted action is the only thing which will eradicate the present evident evils in your city administration, or at least in some departments thereof, and to ameliorate your general condition of sanitation and to wipe out the existing menace to the public health and safety of your community.

Walter T. Stern.

Smith Cottage, Rockland Breakwater, Sept. 13.

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette carries the home news of Knox county to every State in the Union and to many foreign lands.

HOW

DREADED "SLEEPING SICKNESS" MAY BE AVOIDED.—The British ministry of health has issued a bulletin on encephalitis lethargica (commonly but erroneously called "sleeping sickness") to which it appends the following advice as to precautions to be taken against it:

"The other occupants of a house in which a case of encephalitis has occurred or is being created may be assured that the disease is one of low infectivity, and that very little risk is run by association with the patient. At the same time it is desirable that such association should be limited to what is necessary for proper care and nursing, and the patient should be well isolated in a separate room. "School children in the affected household may be kept from school, as a precautionary measure, for three weeks after the isolation of the patient. Those in contact with the case should be advised to use antiseptic nasal sprays or douches and to gargle the throat with solutions such as those advised for influenza.

"For example, any of the following may be used: (1) 1 per cent solution of peroxide of hydrogen; (2) a solution of permanganate of potash, 1 in 5,000 in .08 per cent solution of chloride of sodium (common salt); (3) liquor sodae chlorinatae, 0.5 per cent. These solutions can be used as ordinary gargles or snuffed up the nostrils or applied by an efficient spray.

"It is desirable that any persons in the infected household who suffer from sore throat or other symptoms suggesting an abortive attack should be treated from this point of view and isolated as far as possible until they have recovered. The sick room should be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected at the end of the illness."—Buffalo Express.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR

Supreme Court was in session, Associate Justice John A. Merrill presiding. Clarence H. Merrill of Rockland and J. H. Hodgman of Camden were foremen of the traverse jury.
Rex Peacock, Bowdoin star, was engaged to coach the High School football team.
Junk dealers were salvaging the ruins of the big fire.
Jesse A. Tolman retired from the railway service, after 27 years.

This is the night of the Gen. Berry House Co.'s annual levee and ball in the Arcade. The boys always have a good crowd.

A convention of the 9th Masonic District will be held in this city Oct. 12. D. D. G. M. F. A. Grindle will have charge. St. George Lodge, Moses Webster Lodge and Aurora Lodge will work the three degrees, in the order named.

John Lanigan cheerfully accepts the challenge extended by Arthur Kid Sullivan and sniffs scornfully at the Kid's threat to stop him inside of a double-six. "I will meet him anywhere," he says, winner take all, and he will be glad to walk back to Lewiston," is the way John puts it. Now that both pugilists have thrown down the defi there seems to be no excuse for not seeing action.

The Deep Sea Fisheries, Inc., has not only started up its sardine factory, with a large number of operatives at work, but is already buying fresh fish from small boats. The industry will gain momentum rapidly from this time on.

Theodore Sweetland has bought through I. Berliawsky's real estate agency the four tenements which Mr. Berliawsky owned on State street, and all of which are occupied at the present time. Mr. Sweetland will continue to rent the properties.

A correspondent writes: "Prof. O. B. Wilbur, poultry specialist of the U. of M. Extension Service held a very successful culling demonstration at the farm of W. A. Ripley at the Highlands Monday. Out of a set of coops containing 200 hens, Prof. Wilbur culled 38 non-producers. Since then the rest of the flock have produced the same number of eggs that the whole flock was producing, while the culled, in a separate coop, have not produced an egg. They were mere boarders and wasting Mr. Ripley's substance in riotous living. He is going to turn the tables on them with his little hatchet. Who says that scientific fellers can't tell nothing about it? Pretty soft, we will say, when a man can be saved an expense of from $1.50 to $2.00 a week by one of them."

Miss Mabel F. Lamb, Teacher of Piano, will begin her season's work the week of Sept. 12th and will be glad to have former pupils register as soon as possible as well as any new pupils who may wish to do so. 107Th109

H. R. Mullen and I. Berliawsky have sold for Mrs. Charles A. Haskell her house on Suffolk street, to Dennis Staples, who will occupy it.
Before the frost comes, it is worth any person's time to walk down Union street and take a look at the flower-embowered stone wall that marks the street end of Capt. Edward A. Butler's premises.

A number of Knox county's World War veterans attended the recent reunion of the 303d Field Artillery in Gardiner, and are still talking about the nice time they had. The artillery boys were guests of Maj. Robert Halliwell Gardiner, Jr., of Boston and Gardiner and were billeted in the great barns of the estate, the same as they were in France during the great war, the cooking being done in regular field kitchens, and the men were given a spread at the mansion Monday. It was a free and easy party. There were games of all sorts, which included water sports and baseball. The 303d band furnished music and on Monday the band from Togus Home was present to enliven the occasion. A permanent organization was formed to be known as the 303d Artillery Association.

In every county in Maine except Aroostook, in which the event has already taken place, preparation is being made by the boys' and girls' agricultural and home-making clubs for their annual county contest, when exhibits of their products will be shown and prizes awarded, based on the excellence of the season's work. The contest for Knox and Lincoln counties will be held in Rockland Nov. 11 and 12.

Hillman H. Smith, who has just been appointed deputy collector of internal revenue for Washington county, is a grandson of the late Hillman Smith, a former warden of the State Prison; and is a son of the late Dr. Addison H. Smith, who formerly resided in Rockland.

Patrolman A. S. Niles, who is one of the most enthusiastic boosters for the hand-tut Albert R. Havener, has received a letter from Capt. John J. Mullen of the East Providence Fire Department, congratulating him on the Rockland tul's success at Randolph on Labor Day. The Albert R. Havener was formerly owned in East Providence. "We are very much interested in her success," writes Capt. Kennedy, "and think we were very foolish to let her go away from here, but we are glad to know she is in such good hands."

J. H. Morrison, one of "The Three Veterans," who arrived at this port Monday in the rowboat "Vet," which is ostensibly on a trip from Halifax, N. S. to Vancouver, B. C., returned to Rockland Tuesday night saying that he had been "frozen out" of the party some 12 miles down the coast. Although he was penniless, he claims that his companions refused to give him any money. He walked back to Rockland, and received temporary assistance from the Red Cross, preparatory to somehow getting back to his home in St. John, N. B. His idea of the plan of roving from Halifax to Vancouver is now expressed as "no good," and he says that he didn't really want to start in the first place.

Eureka, Calif., newspapers published the following report of the funeral of Capt. Joseph K. Tibbetts of that city who was fatally injured in an automobile accident while his father, Capt. Albert C. Tibbetts, was on a visit in Rockland: "The funeral of Capt. Joseph K. Tibbetts of the P. M. S. S. Co. was held under the auspices of the Elks. There was a large attendance at the hall where the ritualistic ceremonies of the Elks were carried out and religious services conducted by the Rev. C. E. Farrar of the Episcopal church. There were many floral tributes in evidence, from Masonic and other organizations and from friends. Noticeable amongst the tributes was one from the officers and crew of the Admiral Line steamer Curacao, commanded by Capt. Fred Tibbetts, brother of the deceased. The Curacao arrived in port yesterday morning on her way to San Francisco, and out of respect for the well-known mariner, all work on that vessel was suspended from noon until after the funeral. The body was taken to Myrtle Grove cemetery where after the Elks had performed their committal service it was deposited in the Kimball vault where lie the bodies of the family of the mother of the deceased."

There will be a service at the Rockville church Sunday afternoon at 2:30, daylight.

Albert Mills will be the leader at the meeting held in the West Meadow chapel Sunday afternoon at 2:45.

The roller skating season at the Arcade will begin on or about Oct. 3, and until the season is more advanced the rink will be open three or four nights a week. The Arcade has no equal in the State as a roller skating surface and it is the intention of Proprietor Black to have everything in keeping—music, skates and attention. Mr. Black is hoping to see several polo teams organized, along the lines of the Twilight League, and in anticipation thereof netting has already been arranged. There is a very lively demand for roller polo, either professional or amateur, and Mr. Black and Manager Packard will have the earnest support of the fans in their endeavors. The Arcade plans will also include one basketball game a week if teams are organized upon a favorable basis.

Albert G. Barker, radio operator on the steamship Belfast, yesterday on the charge of non-support. His wife, a Camden woman, claims to have been left in necessitous circumstances: to wit, with 69 cents, although on the verge of motherhood. A satisfactory settlement was made after a conference of the attorneys, Tirrell for the complainant, and Pike for the respondent.

Everything is "all set" for the Twilight League baseball banquet at Oakland Park Friday night, except the tables and those will be in readiness at 7:30 that night, piled high with tempting viands. Due allowance has been made for baseball appetites, and Manager Trim offers the assurance that there will be more than enough of everything which the menu carries. Those eligible to the "big feed" are all players who took part in two games of the Twilight League, the managers, umpires, scorers, arbitration board, and representatives of the press. Covers will be laid for 110. A special guest will be George S. Williams of Augusta, general superintendent of the Central Maine Power Co., and himself a former baseball star. The player piano will furnish a continuous concert and each guest will follow the advice of the Snows' popular backstop to be "on yo' toe." A special car will take the party to Oakland, leaving the Main street waiting station at 6:40.

If the boys and girls in your family are in need of School Shoes, or if any of the family need anything in Footwear, go to C. H. Morey's at 286 Main street for a supply.—adv.

HOPE

Mrs. Addie Heath spent last week with her sons Albert and Leslie Heath and will visit other relatives before returning to her home in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Emerson Montgomery of South Hope visited her daughter Mrs. Albert Heath a few days this week.

AUTO THAT ACTUALLY JUMPS

Car's Peculiar Feature Based on the Principle That Actuates the Knee of the Athlete.

The jumping stunts of automobiles in the movies are the result of trick photography. There has been produced in France a light car that does many of these spectacular performances, not only pictorially, but actually, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is a small, light car with a speed of 25 miles an hour. The particular feature that enables the car to negotiate all obstacles with impunity is the manner of connecting the car to the rear wheels. It has been compared with the action of the human knee. A jumper bends his legs at the knees, straightens them out rapidly to get the effect of a spring. The rear wheels do the same thing. On striking an obstacle the wheels rise independently of the rest of the car, which remains horizontal. Under test, when driven against an obstacle 40 inches high, with an approach sloping at 45 degrees, the car was lifted to a height of 57 inches and landed at a distance of 20 feet, all four wheels striking the ground simultaneously. On landing, the spring in the wheel connection cushions the concussion of the wheel with the ground, again resembling the action of a jumper's knee, which bends under him as he alights.

A Japanese Garden.

The typically Japanese garden of Mr. Inabata, a Kyoto millionaire, near Nanzeiji temple is described by a correspondent. It is a good example of the Japanese talent for concealing art; it contains a twin waterfall not only artificial but even said to be exact miniature of some famous Japanese fall; but which looks as if it had like Topsy, "just grown;" also a large artificial cave with walls of rough concrete which would hardly "give it away," but for the electric lights in the roof and the switches for turning on the "dripping well." The water is derived from the Biwa canal, which flows just outside. A minor curiosity is a stone lantern with a high peaked top formed by a tiger standing on its head; these now meaningless Ishidoro are seen everywhere, but hardly ever is any such liberty taken with the conventional form.

MARTINSVILLE

The following wedding account will be of interest as the bridegroom is a former Martinsville boy, the son of Mrs. Rebecca Alley, Medfield, Mass., Sept. 4—Willis Alley and Miss Dorothy Mitchell were united in marriage at 3:30 p. m. The church wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell. The rooms were very prettily decorated; the dining room being pink and white. The bride's gown was of white canton crepe with veil and orange blossoms. She carried white roses and the bridesmaid, Miss Alice Rundstrom, of Everett, Mass., was gowned in aluminum canton crepe with trimming of pink beads and hat to match and carried pink columbian roses. William E. Mitchell, the bride's brother, was best man. After the reception the bridal party left for Whitinsville, Mass., where they will reside. The brides' traveling gown was of brown suede velour with hat of georgette crepe to match. There were a goodly number of presents, including silver, china, linen, liberty bonds and money.

Rev. M. E. Barter, a returned missionary, gave a very interesting talk last Sunday at the Baptist church, on his work in Africa.

If you were to find a supposed burglar in your house at night, reading a book, would you agree to give him $1,500 to educate him and bind yourself to become his wife at the end of five years? That was the situation in which Lois Wilson, as the girl heroine of "What Every Woman Knows," found herself. This is a delightful picture of Sir James M. Barrie's famous stage success. The scenes of the picture are laid in Scotland and England and in the development of the story many dramatic situations ensue. The picture will be shown today and Friday.

Stunts, humor and thrills are on the program for tomorrow, when Tom Mix, appears in his latest picture, "A Ridin' Romeo." Mix, as a cowboy, invents many home comforts in this photoplay, some of which may be a help to those who hate to get up early on cold mornings. But he can't think of anything that will keep him out of trouble. He loves excitement, but he fails to see the humor in excitement pursuing him. His big heart opens wife when he finds a baby on a rock. He thinks it has been abandoned. He takes it home to his cabin. The next thing he knows the sheriff is after him for kidnapping.—adv.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Returning home after a day's shooting, Dyck Calhoun, gifted young Irish gentleman of the time of the French and American revolution, meets Sheila Lynn, seventeen-year-old girl visiting in the neighborhood. They are mutually attracted. Sheila never knew her dissipated father, Ernie Boyne, her mother having divorced him and resumed her maiden name.

CHAPTER II.—Reaching home, Dyck finds Leonard Mallow, son of Lord Mallow, with a message from the attorney general summoning Miles Calhoun, Dyck's father, to Dublin.

CHAPTER III.—They go to Dublin and there Mallow quarrels with Dyck and a duel is arranged. They fight with swords and Dyck is victor.

CHAPTER IV.—Ernie Boyne, secretly in French employ, gets Dyck drunk and tries to persuade him to join in revolt against England. They quarrel and Dyck is overheard to threaten Boyne. While the former is overcome with drugged wine, Boyne's second wife enters the room and slaps her faithless husband to the heart.

CHAPTER V.—Hours later the room is entered and Dyck arrested on a charge of murder. He does not know if he killed Boyne or not, he was so muddled with the drugged wine.

CHAPTER VI.—Sheila begs her mother to go to Dublin with her to help Dyck. Mrs. Lynn opposes the idea. A letter from Mrs. Lynn's wealthy brother in America invites them to come and live with him, and they decide to go.

CHAPTER VII.—Dyck refuses to enter any plea to the charge of murder except "No Defense." He might have escaped by revealing Boyne's treachery but refuses to do so, on Sheila's account. He is sent to prison for eight years. Sheila writes Dyck, assuring him of her belief in his innocence and urging him to come to America after his prison term.

CHAPTER VIII.—Released after serving four years, Dyck is welcomed to freedom by his servant, Michael Clones, and a humble friend, Christopher Dugan. These two are all who care to remember him. He is practically destitute, his father dead and his estate swallowed by creditors.

CHAPTER IX.—In London, almost penniless, Dyck receives a letter from Sheila inviting him to come to America and sending money for the voyage. He feels he cannot in honor go to her.

CHAPTER X.—With Michael Clones, Dyck joins the British navy as an enlisted man. There seems nothing else to do. Bad conditions in the fleet result in mutiny.

CHAPTER XI.—Dyck, joining the mutineers, is chosen by them to command the ship, the Ariadne. Dissatisfied with the conduct of the other ships' crews, Dyck breaks with them and sails the Ariadne toward the West Indies. He arrives in time to turn the tide of victory in a battle between the French and English.

CHAPTER XII.—Calhoun is arrested for his part in the mutiny but thanked by the admiral for his work in the battle.

CHAPTER XIII.—The British government gives Dyck the freedom of the island of Jamaica, of which his old enemy, Lord Mallow, is governor. With a companion, Dyck secures treasure worth $40,000 from a sunken Spanish ship, and becomes a wealthy and respected planter.

CHAPTER XIV.—Sheila, with her mother, comes to Jamaica to look after a plantation she owns, but more than all else she goes to see Dyck. He begs Mrs. Lynn to tell Sheila that Boyne was her father, which she has never known. Mrs. Lynn demurs.

CHAPTER XV.—Lord Mallow, who had known the Lynns in Ireland, attracted by Sheila's beauty and vast wealth, determines to win her for his wife. Fearing she has an affection for Dyck, he decides to tell her about her father, but Calhoun anticipates him and tells Sheila the whole story himself. Loving Dyck as she does, the girl is heartbroken over the situation.

CHAPTER XVI.—Lord Mallow informs Sheila he has word from London to keep Dyck confined to his own estate. He asks Sheila to marry him and she is tempted, seeing in the alliance a way out of the difficulty, now she knows she can never marry Dyck, but she evades giving him a definite answer.

"You would not expect me to do police work, would you? Is that what your President does? What your great George Washington does? Does he make the state arrests with his own hand?"

"I have no doubt he would if the circumstances were such as to warrant it. He has no small vices and no false feelings. He has proved himself," she answered boldly.

"Well, in that case," responded Lord Mallow irritably, "the event will be as due. The man is condemned by my masters, and he must submit to my authority. He is twice a criminal, and—"

"And yet a hero and a good swordsman, and as honest as men are made in a dishonest world. Your admiralty and your government first pardoned

"He is Twice a Criminal, and—" the man, and then gave him freedom on the island—which you tried to prevent; and now they turn round and confine him to his acres. Is that pardon in a real sense? Did you write to the government and say he ought not to be free to roam, lest he should discover more treasure-chests and buy another estate? Was it you?"

The governor shook his head. "No, not I. I told the government in careful and unrhymed language the incident of his coming here, and what I did, and my reason for doing it—that was all."

"And you being governor they took your advice. See, my lord, if this thing is done to him it will be to your own discomfiture. It will hurt you in the public service."

"Why, to hear you speak, mistress, it would almost seem you had a fondness for the man who killed your father, who went to jail for it, and—"

"And became a mutineer," intervened the girl, flushing. "Why not say all? Why not catalogue his offenses? Fondness for the man who killed my father, you say! Yes, I had a deep and sincere fondness for him ever since I met him at Playmore over seven years ago. Yes, a fondness which only his crime makes impossible. But in all that really matters I am still his friend. He did not know he was killing my father, who had no claims upon me, none at all, except that through him I have life and being; but it is enough to separate us forever in the eyes of the world, and in my eyes. Not morally, of course, but legally and actually. He and I are as far apart as winter and summer; we are parted forever and ever."

Lord Mallow saw his opportunity, and did not hesitate. "No, you are wrong, wholly wrong," he said. "I did not bias what I said in my report—a report I was bound to make—by any covert prejudice against Mr. Calhoun. I guarded myself especially—there he lied, but he was an incomparable liar—lest it should be used against him. It would appear, however, that the new admiral's report with mine were laid together, and the government came to its conclusion accordingly. So I am bound to do my duty."

"If you—oh, if you did your duty, you would not obey the command of the government. Are there not times when to obey is a crime, and is not this one of them? Lord Mallow, you would be doing as great a crime as Mr. Dyck Calhoun ever committed, or could commit, if you put this order into actual fact. You are governor here, and your judgment would be accepted—remember it is an eight weeks' journey to London at the least, and what might not happen in that time! Are you not given discretion?"

The governor nodded. "Yes, I am given discretion, but this is an order."

"An order!" she commented. "Then if it should not be fulfilled, break it and take the consequences. The principle should be—Do what is right and have no fear."

"I will think it over," answered the governor. "What you say has immense weight with me—more even than I have words to say. Yes, I will think it over—I promise you. You are a genius—yes, prevail."

Her face softened, a new something came into her manner. "You do truly mean it?" she asked with lips that almost trembled.

"Yes, I mean it," answered Lord Mallow. "I mean it exactly as I say it."

She smiled. "Well, that should be your recommendation for promotion," she said happily. "I am sure you will decide not to enforce the order, if you think about it. You shall be promoted, your honor, to a better place," she repeated, half satirically.

"Shall I then?" he asked with a warm smile and drawing close to her. "Shall I? Then it can only be by your recommendation. Ah, my dear, my beautiful dear one," he hastened to add, "my life is possible henceforward only through you. You have taught me by your life and person, by your beauty and truth, by your nobility of mind and character how life should be lived. I have not always deserved your good opinion nor that of others. I have fought duels and killed men; I have aspired to place; I have been convicted at a court-martial; I have been vain, overbearing and insistent on my rights or privileges; I have played the dictator here in Jamaica; I have not been satisfied save to get my own way; but you have altered all that. Your coming here has given me a new outlook. Sheila, you have changed me, and you can change me infinitely more. I who have been a master wish to become your slave. I want you—beloved, I want you for my wife."

He reached out as though to take her hand, but she drew back from him.

KEPT A BOTTLE FOR SICK FRIEND

How Down East Store Keeper Did People Good and Increased Sales.

Chas. A. Rolfe, the well known store keeper at Princeton, Me., writes the Priest Drug Co., Bangor, Me.:—

I have not only sold your Priest's Indigestion Powder, but have used much of it myself as I am frequently troubled with gas in my stomach. After using the powder I always find relief inside a half hour.

Some time ago you sent me a few samples of your powder. I kept the bottle open in my office until it was all gone. In any case when a customer came in suffering from indigestion, pain in the bowels or other trouble, I mixed and gave a dose of it. It always gave relief and in many cases the party bought a bottle to take home. Priest's Indigestion Powder is a sure and safe remedy for the ailments for which it is recommended.

For sale by all druggists. If your dealer does not carry Priest's Indigestion Powder, insist on him ordering it from the wholesaler or Priest Drug Co., Bangor, Me. Samples sent free. Mention paper in which you read this advertisement.—adv.

WATERMAN'S BEACH

I had a call from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sweetland of Charlestown, Mass., Saturday. They drove into the yard in the family car, from a trip down east. Walter figures it has been 17 years since we met. We had a short chat and he told me I would be surprised if I knew how many Maine people in Greater Boston read my items. One time Walter had the room that is Mrs. Simmons' parlor in the Peter Ager-son house. He had a dry goods box for a barber chair and nearly all the granite cutters that worked on the Head at the time came to the Main to get a clean shave and have a chat with the barber. He has a better job now working for Uncle Sam in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The Beach will soon be connected with the outside world by telephone. Mr. Waterman has the poles all up between the Elmer Rackliff house and his house.

I am writing this letter Sunday forenoon. The sea birds are flying in over the land and the women folks have their wash tubs out under the conductor. Sure signs of rain. It is very much needed here just now.

I had a chat with Mother Rackliff the other day. She will be 80 in December. She says she has letters from her son Howard nearly every week. He is still in Alaska. Maggie is with him. It is a mighty thoughtful son that writes to the old folks every week. Mrs. Rackliff has done out-door work all her life, besides taking care of her family. She expects the twin babies home from Rockland this week and she is as pleased with them as most mothers with their first born babe.

The Smart Set went to Rockland Sept 9 and showered the newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. Alvah Harris, with rice and confetti, as they started in their private car for their cottage at Back Cove, Waldoboro, where they were to enjoy a week's honeymoon. Some members of the set and the bride's mother motored to Back Cove Sunday and took dinner with the happy couple. How Elwell, Mrs. Henry York and baby York and Mrs. W. W. Godfrey and son Joseph went in the Elwell car as guests.

Friday evening the Smart Set had a picnic supper at the Wilson cottage, Elwell's Point, with Winifred Grant as hostess. Our postmaster is always very obliging and is never left out when a good time is to be pulled off.

Some of our boys are working on the new station at White Head, a government job for $3.20 per day of 8 hours. Another crew from our town is loading paving at Clark Island. They are paid $4.40 for 8 hours. Both jobs, as I understand it, are non-union jobs. That doesn't look as though there were many unemployed men down this way.

UNION

Miss Dorothy Mank returned Saturday night from a three week's visit with relatives and friends in Somerville, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Messer took a pleasure trip up around Moosehead the past week. Mr. Messer is now in Somerville, Mass.

Mrs. Alice Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Childs took a vacation trip to the White Mountains last week.

Mrs. W. E. Haskell has returned from a visit in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Price of Bath and Mrs. Elsie Ingraham of West Rockport called on their cousins Mrs. Ufford and Bertha Simmons Sunday.

Bert Warren of Rochester, N. Y., is buying apples.

Dura B. Ames aged 77, died Aug. 30 after a long illness. In his passing our town loses one of its best and noblest men. Mr. Ames was born at North Haven March 23, 1844 and spent his childhood there, and later moved to the main land. He spent about 40 years in West Rockport and the past 12 years he has lived in Union, where he was universally loved and respected. Mr. Ames was a true Christian gentleman, an Advent in faith and his home has ever been a haven of rest and true hospitality to the friend, neighbor and stranger.

Words fail to express the many good qualities of this dear good man who has gone to his reward. Mr. Ames leaves to mourn his loss a widow Hester R. (Blackington) a son Henry G. Ames, a granddaughter Mrs. Ariel Leonard and a sister, Mrs. Elsie Howard of Bath and a nephew D. Howard. Funeral services were held at the late residence conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith assisted by Rev. E. S. Ufford. Burial at West Rockport.

CLARRY HILL

Edward Works of St. George is spending a few weeks at the home of C. F. Ross.

Miss Minnie Drinkwater of Rockland spent last week here the guest of Mrs. A. K. Jackson.

Mrs. Josephine Creamer of Washington visited at the home of her brother E. H. Clarry recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clarry and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Smith attended moving pictures at Warren last Saturday evening.

Henry Cunningham of Jefferson was a business caller here last Saturday.

Frank Jameson visited Herman Calderwood in North Waldoboro last Sunday.

Mrs. Augusta Mank visited relatives here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wade and Mrs. Sweetland of Rockland called on Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Jackson last Sunday.

W. J. Smith and his two grandsons Everett Lamont and Walter Feyler called on Mrs. A. C. Lamont in Waldoboro last Saturday.

A. K. Jackson harvested 11 bushels of potatoes from one pecks planting. They were of the early Rose variety.

Florence Miller attended the dance at North Waldoboro last Saturday evening with her cousin Leroy A. R. Miller of Union.

NORTH WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Evans were at Augusta on business last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham and Mrs. Alice Leant were at Rockland on business one day last week.

Donald Cunningham is attending High School at the village.

Mrs. Carrie Lenfest, who has been engaged at nursing at Branch Hills, Palermo, is home again.

F. W. Cunningham is at Rockland serving as jurymen at this September term of court.

School began here last Tuesday with Miss Jessie Ward of Warren as teacher.

The marriage of H. Alvah Harris and Marguerite A. Elwell occurred Sept. 7 at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. B. P. Browne, who impressively used the double ring ceremony. They were attended by the groom's sister Miss Doris Harris of Glenmere and the bride's brother, Cecil Elwell. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of navy blue silver tone and buff georgette blouse with chenille trimming and black and yellow hat with blue veil. The bride is the daughter of the late Albert F. and Mary T. Elwell. She graduated from Rockland Commercial College and has been employed by W. O. Hewett Co. and in New Hampshire several seasons, and is highly esteemed by all. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Glenmere. He graduated from the Maine Auto School in Portland and is an auto mechanic and has been employed in Allston, Mass., for several years. They left directly after the ceremony for a cottage near Friendship which friends had decorated. They will be at home after Sept. 18 at Aster St., Boston. Congratulations from all their friends is extended to the newly weds.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE

Gorham Normal School has an entering class of 131 students this fall. Those who will attend from this section are Mildred E. Counce of Thomaston, Ruth M. Billings of Vinalhaven, Eva M. Childs of South Union and Clara Glidden of Jefferson.

The Courier-Gazette has been shown a handsome brochure advertising the Roosevelt Military Academy, which is located in West Englewood, N. J. The institution bears the name of the late ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, and attached to its faculty are some of the most distinguished men in the country. The lecturer on geology is C. Vey Holman of Rockland, who is president of the Knox Academy of Arts and Sciences, and whose knowledge of geology and mineralogy has been gained through widespread operations in this country and Canada.

Registration of new students at Farmington Normal School has exceeded all records. Applicants are being turned away because there is no room for them. The entering class will probably number 150 which is more than the entire school numbered in the year immediately following the war. The school opened its 57th year Tuesday.

The Freshman class at Bowdoin college will be one of the largest in the history of the institution. It was announced Tuesday that 136 prospective students have been actually admitted which is about 30 more than had been admitted at this time last year. As this does not include any special who in years past have entered the Freshman class to take the medical preparatory course it would appear that the number of regular students will be exceptionally large.

ALVAH C. HAMILTON

The funeral services of the late Alvah C. Hamilton, whose death was announced in this paper Tuesday will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Walter S. Rounds officiating.

The deceased was born in Rockland 72 years ago, and for a long term of years was connected with the police department in the capacity of deputy marshal. He began his services under the late City Marshal A. J. Crockett and was very efficient in the discharge of his duties. Prior to joining the police department he was in the hardware business at the Northend for a while, and after severing his connection with the department entered the employ of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation as watchman at the plant. He resigned last March, on account of ill health, and had failed steadily since that date.

Mr. Hamilton was much interested in Good Templary during his younger days and one of the lodges bore his name. He was also much interested in Odd Fellowship. He joined Knox Lodge by initiation Dec. 21, 1881, and served as noble grand in 1884. He was district deputy in 1903. Mr. Hamilton was much admired for the efficient services which he gave in whatever capacity he was called, and his dealings with friend or stranger were marked by extreme courtesy. He is survived by his wife, formerly Clara Low; one son, Clifford A. Hamilton; and one daughter, Mrs. Elonia Tuttle.

ELLIS BAUM

Ellis Baum of Clark Island, who was injured in an automobile accident, between Thomaston and Rockland, May 22, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning in Silsby Hospital, whither he was taken after the affair. The deceased was nearly 27 years of age, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baum of Clark Island. The sad and parents were devoted to each other to an exceptional degree, and regardless of weather or traveling conditions the father and mother have spent a portion of each day since the accident in company with the patient. Specialists have been called into the case, but medical skill did not avail and the best that loving hands could do was to brighten his final days on earth.

The young man learned the stone-cutter's trade, and at the time of the accident was assistant superintendent at John Meehan & Son's new quarry at Clark Island. During the war he was chief commissary at the Naval Training Station in this city. He was a member of Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges, and was a young man universally liked and admired. He is survived by his parents, one sister, Mrs. William Imbach of Long Cove; and three brothers, George, Everett and Baylus.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, standard.

Those small ads in The Courier-Gazette are read by every body. That is why they are so popular and bring immediate returns.

STATE OF MAINE

BOARD OF EXAMINATION AND REGISTRATION OF NURSES

How to keep 'em sparking!

THIS isn't a talk on the favorite Sunday sport for the parlor sofa habitués.

It's about spark plugs—and FAM-O!

Professor FAM-O-us called the class on motoring to order this morning and delivered a terse, snappy lecture on how to keep spark plugs actually sparking—day in and day out.

"It's all a matter of keeping carbon away," sez the Prof. "This enemy of good motoring (that's a favorite expression of his) accumulates around the inside of the spark plug, clogging up the plug and causing an intermittent spark with a resulting loss in power. The excessive heat due to the accumulated carbon causes the porcelain to crack—

ELISHA B. FALES

Elisha B. Fales, long a grocer in Charlestown, died Monday, after an illness of two years. He was born in Cushing, April 16, 1860, the son of Augustus S. and Lucretia P. Fales, and educated in the public schools of that town. In 1880 Mr. Fales became connected with the A. N. Swallow Company, one of the oldest Charlestown grocery concerns, first as bookkeeper, and since the firm's reorganization ten years ago under the name of Swallow & Fales, he had been both bookkeeper and director. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and of the Encampment. Surviving Mr. Fales is his wife, Mrs. Laura B. (Sweetland) Fales, formerly of South Thomaston; also two brothers, Augustus A. Fales of Charlestown and John J. Fales of Cushing; as well as a sister, Mrs. Alice V. Payson of Cushing.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States, a perfect Union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

CAMDEN

Miss Ruth Thomas left yesterday for Boston to take up her fourth year studies at the New England Conservatory of Music, from which school she graduates this year.

Mrs. James Perry and children Marjorie, Lois and James, Jr., left by boat Monday night to spend the winter in Wyoming at the home of Mrs. Mary Witter, widow of her father's brother. Mrs. Perry's father, Rev. Dr. W. E. Witter and her step-mother are missionaries in Ganhati, Assam. She and her children will be missed by her many friends in Camden and especially at the W. W. Perry, Marine avenue home where they have been since their return from Constantinople about a year and a half ago.

Rev. Stewart W. McClelland of Lancaster, Pa., occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning on account of the sudden illness of Rev. Mr. Griffiths from an attack of appendicitis. Mr. McClelland was in town on a brief visit. Mr. Griffiths is improving.

Fire destroyed the barn of the farm on Mechanic street which is hired by Albert Knowlton, Monday night. It had gained such a headway when discovered that it was impossible to get out a cow and horse; also several tons of hay which were burned. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Knowlton in his loss.

Miss Marion Folsom of Dexter is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Clara Crossland, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Griffin, who have been summering here, left Tuesday for their home in East Orange, N. J. Arthur Grinnell motored back with them.

Benjamin Lenfest of Danvers, Mass., is the guest of his brother, Leigh.

Mrs. Thomas L. French and son, who have been visiting her sister in Vinland, have returned home. Mr. French has been employed on a yacht in Rhode Island and returned home Monday night, called by the illness of his wife, who is better at this time.

R. F. Greene of Vinland was a guest of his brother, David R. Greene, this week enroute for Detroit where he will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Willington, Del., are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Evans.

Mrs. A. C. Starkey, who has been visiting Mrs. L. F. Strong, has returned to her home in Washington, D. C.

Miss Viva Herrick is the guest of Mrs. Winslow Moore in Auburn.

William Justis Lee and family, who have been at Melvin Heights for the summer, left Tuesday night for Florida.

The regular meeting of the Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet Friday evening. The National Guard, C. A. C., are to return from Fort Williams today.

Mrs. Oscar Derry is ill at her home on Atlantic avenue.

Do not forget the matinee whist for the benefit of the District Nursing Association to be held at the Camden Yacht Club Friday at 2.30. Prizes and refreshments. Tickets are 50c and on sale at M. E. Bartlett's store.

The community was saddened to learn of the death of Susan Margaret, wife of Lewis Blood, which occurred at her home on Mechanic street, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 8. The deceased had been afflicted with tuberculosis for some time but had rallied from previous attacks, the fatal one lasting two weeks. She is survived by her husband, two children, Oliver, aged 19 months, and Eleanor, aged five months; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carlson of Lincolnville; three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Roy Brown of Camden, Carl, Anna and Bertha of Lincolnville. She was born Sept. 26, 1897, at Owls Head, where she lived with her parents, who later moved to Lincolnville and where she lived until her marriage about three years ago.

The funeral services, which were private to relatives, were held Saturday at 2 p. m. with interment in Mountain View cemetery. The pallbearers were her uncles, M. A. McKusick of Rockland, George Hurd of Ash Point, John Rhodes of Worcester, Mass., and Charles Atkins of Camden. The floral tributes, which were remarkable in their profusion, showed the love and esteem in which she was held.

MONDAY, SEPT. NINETEEN

The Citizens of Rockland are to Unite in a Campaign for Self-protection through the ## AMERICAN RED CROSS and SALVATION ARMY.

In an organized house to house canvass everybody will have an opportunity to contribute to the work of the humanity and relief carried on in our city by these two great organizations.

$5000 is needed by the Red Cross, $2500 by the Salvation Army. This is all home money and to be spent at home

Rockland will have a Resident Red Cross Nurse

Who will visit the homes of the poor and do bedside nursing

The Salvation Army

That great agency for good, will be able with these funds to carry on with renewed efficiency its work of uplift among that part of the community who sorely need such service.

The canvass for Red Cross is under the direction of H. N. McDougall, chairman.

The canvass for the Salvation Army is under the direction of George B. Wood, chairman.

Not large sums from the few but small sums from the many will be the watchword.

Every citizen knows of the splendid service wrought in Rockland by the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. It is a high privilege that is offered each one of us to see that this work is extended in our midst.

Believing in these two great humanitarian organizations and the work they carry on in Rockland, this publicity is contributed by the following business houses:

ENFORCE THE LAW.

Short Lobster Traffic Is What Raises Mischief With the Business.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The more publicity that an unjust or obnoxious law receives, the better are the chances for the repeal of that law. Therefore—in all the letters you have published relating to Maine's lobster law, I have as yet failed to see one that reached the real meat of the matter. Most of the letters are from light keepers or their friends, or from lobstermen or their sympathizers. I am neither a lobsterman nor a lightkeeper, and personally it makes no difference to me who catches the lobsters. Perhaps a few words from a disinterested party will be of interest.

Most of the reasons and arguments advanced for or against the law have no real bearing on the matter and originate in the selfish desires of the disputants. The main argument of the proponents of the law seems to be that the keeper's salary is sufficient to maintain him and that it is unnecessary for him to obtain any additional income by lobstering. The opponents maintain that the opposite is true. The real truth is that the amount of his salary has nothing to do with the question. The real argument against the law is this: That part of the law which forbids all government and State employees from lobstering is unconstitutional. It is class legislation, pure and simple, discriminating against one class of people for the benefit of another class, both of whom have equal rights under the constitution. All the residents of the State of Maine are equal owners of the lobsters in the waters of the State, and as such have an equal right to catch them. It makes no difference what the color of his hair; it makes no difference what church he attends; it makes no difference what his occupation; it makes no difference whether his salary is one dollar or one million dollars, as an equal owner of the lobsters, he has an equal right to take them, and any law which deprives him of that right cannot stand the test of constitutionality.

The proponents of the law claim that the lightkeepers salary is sufficient to maintain him. That may or may not be so. If his family consists of self and wife, it might. If they had a dozen children, it might not. To some people his salary might seem princely, to others, a mere nothing. It all depends upon one's point of view. But for the sake of argument let us assume that it is sufficient.

Now, then—shall we prohibit any man from earning more money when his income reaches a point sufficient to maintain his family? I know plenty of lobstermen whose incomes are far in excess of their actual needs and who have saved and laid away thousands of dollars. To be consistent, why not forbid them to catch any more lobsters than is actually necessary to maintain their families? If the keeper is receiving a sufficient salary and therefore we forbid him to catch lobsters, why not forbid him to catch fish of any kind? Why not forbid him to take out sailing parties. In short, why not confine him to the one occupation of keeping his light?

Now, if we make it unlawful for the lightkeeper to catch lobsters, why not make it unlawful for a fisherman or a yachtman or in fact any man who is getting enough salary to maintain his family, to catch lobsters? Why not make it unlawful for a lobsterman to catch fish, or to take sailing parties, or to engage in farming on the side? Why not forbid the postmaster to keep a store? Why let a farmer engage in butchery or dealing in cattle or trading in horses? In fact, to follow the idea to its logical conclusion, why not make it unlawful for any person to engage in more than one occupation if he can make a living by that one occupation?

Why not? Because such a law would be unconstitutional. The present law prohibiting the keeper from lobstering is in the same class that one would be which would forbid the man who operates a grist mill to engage in farming. If a test case were made of it, I feel confident that the courts would confirm my contention. A man has the right to earn just as much money as he is able to earn regardless of the number of his occupations, and we have no right, and in no other case have we made any attempt to confine him to living expenses, comfortable or otherwise.

As to that part of the law regarding the non-resident and summer visitor—"that is another kettle of fish." It may be a wise law or it may be otherwise, but if the people of one state do not care to have the people of other states to take their property, they have a right to make laws forbidding them to do so.

Take it from me, an impartial observer who has lived for many years in a lobstering community, what we really need for the perpetuation of the lobster industry is not a law forbidding any certain class or classes of people to catch lobsters, but the enforcement of the present law pertaining to the disposition of "shorts."

Do I make myself clear?

Cael.

THE LOBSTER QUESTION

Another Lightkeeper Unfolds His Views On the Subject.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

As a reader of your valued paper will you kindly give me a little space to air my opinion on the lobster question? First, I am a lightkeeper and I would say to my brother keepers: "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone." If the lobster fishermen have put one over on us, we just grin.

This fabrication of protecting the lobster is a spider web. Don't get tangled up in it. It sounds a lot better to put it onto the lobster, but what does he care who catches him so long as he is caught? We all know there has been friction between the lightkeeper and the lobster fisherman for years, and why not? Turn it over and look at the other side. Some 20 years ago John said to me:

"Do you think you are playing fair? The Government pays you a salary and you are catching just as many lobsters as the native who depends on the lobster for his living."

And, by crookey, I could not quite get it down! You see, if I have any religious belief at all it is the Golden Rule. So I cut out the fishing. But don't be influenced by me. I hardly ever get anything right. However, I have learned this much: whenever a question comes up where there is argument, don't fail to turn the thing over. It may seem a lot different on the other side.

Now look at the lobster law. Honest—Mr. Crie, and others—is the law to protect the lobster or the lobster fisherman? Did the lobster petition for the law or did the fisherman? All right, thanks.

So now we have a law to protect the man who has taken his oath that said industry is his sole support. That seems all right, but what about the other industries? Would it be fair for the lobster catcher to intrude on any other industry? What do you think? You see, there are a lot of holes in the skimmer. That old fellow who had caught lobsters for 35 years was satisfied with the law. When, you find a lobster fisherman who is not, it seems to me you will find a rare bird.

Just a word to the "Ex-Lobster Buyer," who is sure the lightkeepers have such a sheltered life. It does look like that, but in a way we are an auxiliary to the Coast Guard. We are to do all in our power to protect life and property. That seems as it should be. Some times a keeper gets right out into it. I have never known a keeper to squeal when it got right against his back. Pardon this—but if Mr. Buyer had been with me March 19, 1921, I bet he would have met with a change of heart. It has been said of me, as of all other keepers, no doubt, "I would not be in his place for a million dollars." Yet I was playing the game for less than this sum. These experiences are not every day occurrence but they come often enough so we don't forget.

Let me conclude by saying that the lobster fisherman has the best law that could be thought of to protect himself. But if you want to protect the lobster, go straight to the fisherman.

A Light Keeper.

A LIGHTKEEPER'S VIEWS

Thinks It Unfair That He Is Forbidden Lobster Fishing.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In recent issues of your papers we have read communications from lightkeepers, lobster buyers and lightkeepers' wives. The expressed opinion of some is that the main lightkeeper receives salary enough to enable him to live and save money, in spite of present cost of food and clothing, inasmuch as he receives rent, fuel and oil free, while the lobster fisherman has to pay rent, taxes, etc. Therefore, they argue, as the lightkeeper receives enough for his living, let the fisherman have the lobster ground.

But many lobster fishermen fish in the early part of the day and work at farming, carpentering or painting for a good salary the rest of the day. Lobstering for them means a little extra money for clothing and extra things they wouldn't have if it wasn't for lobstering. Eight o'clock in the evening finds some of our local fishermen at the movies, or at a party with their wives and families, while the lightkeepers and their wives and families are constantly on the job, making the ways clear for navigation.

Why not let us earn a little extra money for pleasure. When farmers, carpenters and laborers who have fishing traps and go under the name of lobster fishermen are allowed that privilege?

A Main Lightkeeper.

QUARRY AND KILN

Just a Few Items of News Selected From Last Week's Bulletin.

Quarries—The steam shovel suspended for a few days, the crew making soundings for future work. Approximately 5,000 cubic yards of earth have been removed so far with favorable results.—Clyde Robinson of the steam shovel has left and gone on the new Matineus packet as engineer. Mr. Robinson has been on the shovel since it began operation at the new kiln last winter. Tim Donnelly takes his place on the shovel.—Horatio Hall began work at the steam shovel last week. This is the first work done by Mr. Hall since last March when he went home sick one day from the crusher, the sickness developing into a hospital experience of a serious nature. Everybody is glad to see him back again feeling better than ever.

New Kilns—Crews are being shortened. Mr. Fullerton dropping seven men this week. Of these, Al Graves, Henry Bucklin and Ed Morris are to go to the Deep Sea Fisheries Co.—Completed: Matched board floor, second story storage tank building; flushing and coping on tank B; all roofing except small spot around coal elevator; conveyor line from kilns to storage tanks; all the glazing.

Gregory—Henry Gross was overcome by the heat last Wednesday while working on No. 2 and has been out ever since.—John Thornton is still pursuing his studies in chemistry. John has a little room all his own upstairs in the laboratory, all fitted up with grinders, scoops, etc., where he operates when off crusher duty at the kilns.—The new barrel product is being used in the shed. No shrinkage of stock occurs because it is thoroughly dried before being made up. Some bother is experienced on the heads, as they come in pieces, but a little care and experience in putting in head will soon remedy that.

Barrel Factory No. 1—Production for the week, 3,565 barrels.—It was Boynton Shady who made the barrel set-up record of $20 barrels in one day, and not Bert as stated in the Bulletin.—Mr. Kobay from the International Cooperation Co. of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is operating the new heading machine temporarily, and acting as instructor.

Point—Eight carloads and two cars barrel line were shipped last week.—A carload of 924 bags cement arrived Thursday and one of 49,566 staves arrived Friday.—John Phelps is out for a few days to work on a house he is erecting on a lot he bought on the Thomaston road during the recent land sale.

Fix Kilns—Additional repairs to wharf runway have been made of developed weak places after loading the Ampere.—Barge Ampere began loading Thursday morning and finished at 3:30 that afternoon. The high course of tides enabled the loading of 3,200 barrels selected from this shed.—Production ran high on No. 3 kiln last week, the tally sheet showing 10,424 barrels for the week. This is good work for hot weather and beats 'em all, both large and small.—No accidents of any nature were reported for the month of August. The working crew is smaller here than in other places but the liability to accident is greater, so that the August record shows that much care has been used to prevent accidents.

FRIENDSHIP

A number of young people from this place attended the house-warming at Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Woodcock's in Warren last week. This young couple had just returned from a trip to the White Mountains and were happily surprised when about 30 friends marched in. A delicious treat was soon prepared including pies, ice cream and several kinds of cake. Miss Leda Waltz and Maurice Wellman entertained with their singing. These two are well known through the middle states, having sung in every state in the union. Mr. Wellman at one time sang for the Victor people but since moving east has been a traveling salesman. Margaret Thornton gave some excellent recitations assisted by Charlie Lane. Mr. Woodcock, a musician of great renown, kept his seat at the piano and charmed the company with his rich and melodious tones. A prize was offered to the one drinking the most milk. Miss Eva Bucklin was the winner drinking 2 1/4 quarts more than anyone present. Henry Montgomery, a corned hake merchant from North Cushing, gave a short lecture on women's rights. The party adjourned at a late hour each one very much elated over the evening's entertainment.
