HERE THIS WEEK

Veteran's Bureau Ready To Attend To ex-Service Men's Claims.

A group of specialists from the newly organized Veterans' Bureau, consisting of medical examiners, compensation and insurance men, and vocational training men, is in Rockland this week with headquarters at the C. A. C. armory.

It is very much desired to have all ex-service men and women who have any claim against the United States Government to present themselves to this board between Oct. 11 and 14 inclusive. Compensation cases will be speedily attended to, insurance claims adjusted, applicants hospitalized if necessary, and applications for vocational training passed upon.

Transportation, meals and lodging if necessary will be furnished those applicants residing in the immediate vicinity of Rockland.

Kindly forward at once to Dr. Laughlin, Wiscasset, Maine, the names and addresses of those in your locality who should take advantage of this opportunity. All names and addresses must be in before Oct. 14. In event that the applicant is not physically able to appear before this board, kindly notify Mr. Laughlin of the same.

If this does not apply to you, look around and report in at once the name and address of any ex-service man that you happen to know and who needs the attention of these representatives of the Veterans' Bureau.

"UNKNOWN"

Burial of American Soldier Will Be Great Event On Armistice Day.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Thousands of persons in New York, Chicago and San Francisco may hear President Harding's speech at the burial of the unknown American soldier at Arlington, Nov. 11, if the local arrangements can be made to assemble them within range of sound amplifiers to be installed by American telephone and telegraph engineers.

In the three cities, if audiences can be assembled in clear spaces where there is quiet and where there would be no disturbing echoes, it is entirely possible that a million persons could be placed to hear the speech. It will be the first time anything on so large a scale has been attempted in public, but experiments by Bell engineers between the three cities have demonstrated that the key-note of the conference would be the solemnity and historic importance of the occasion. Across the continent numbers of skilled engineers will act as operatives for the successful amplification of the President's voice. The loud speakers to be used are not commercial devices but are the product of the ingenuity of the telephone engineers, and are to be used for public purposes wherever they can be of the greatest benefit.

The facilities were offered to President Harding more than a month ago by Albert E. Berry, president of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company, as a part of the nation's entertainment for the delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments. When it was decided that the key-note of the conference would be sounded in the funeral services of the unknown soldier on Armistice Day, the matter was turned over to the Secretary of War, and details for the perfection of the plan were worked out by the General Staff in connection with the telephone engineers.

President Harding and his Cabinet will go afoot up Pennsylvania avenue at the head of the funeral cortege of the unknown soldier. By Presidential proclamation the business and pleasure of the nation will stand at rest two minutes on that day in tribute to the dead going to his last rest in the peaceful Virginia hills that look down across the Potomac on the nation's capital.

Not since President Wilson led a preparedness march up the great avenue in 1915, has the Chief Executive appeared afoot in any parade in the capital and never previously has any President set for himself so long a trip as President Harding will undertake. He will walk to the Viaduct bridge, a distance of several miles.

The War Department announced the make-up of the military escort which will precede the gun carriage on which the casket is carried. In addition to the regular sailors and marines, a provisional battalion of New York and Pennsylvania National Guard will share in the honors to the dead comrade. Under Army regulations the escort will be that provided for the highest military rank of the service, a general.

The department made public the list of non-commissioned warrant officers who will actually bear the casket to and from the caisson on which the last stage of the journey will be made. They are:

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, Thirtieth Recruit Company, Fort Thomas, Kentucky, who has served in the Army since 1901, reaching the rank of captain during the war and promptly re-enlisting after the war. He was severely wounded in France and among his many decorations wears the Medal of Honor.

Sergeant Harry Taylor, headquarters First Cavalry, Douglas, Arizona, serving his sixth enlistment with the cavalry and cited for gallantry in the Meuse-Argonne action.

Sergeant Thomas D. Saunders, Company A, Second Engineers, Camp Travis, Tex., also wounded overseas and decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry.

Sergeant Louis Raga, 52d Coast Artillery, Camp Eustis, Virginia, also wounded in action overseas.

Staff Sergeant James W. Dell, 15th Field Artillery, Camp Travis, Texas, a veteran of long service with the guns and cited for gallantry in France.

From the Navy will come: Chief Torpedo Man James Delaney. He wears a Navy Cross for conspicuous gallantry, and was taken prisoner by the Germans when the steamship Campana was sunk by the U-51, but refused any information to the enemy in the face of the repeated threats of death.

Chief Water Tender Charles Leo O'Connor, of eight years' service afloat and awarded a decoration for heroism when the U. S. S. Mount Vernon was torpedoed.

Gunnery Sergeant Ernest A. Janson, Marine Corps, who has served one army enlistment and three in the Marines and fought overseas with the 4th Company, Fifth Marines, was severely wounded and wears the Congressional Medal of Honor and other American and French Decorations for gallantry.

The body will come direct to Washington Navy Yard from France. The War Department has ruled that there shall be no other ceremony but the Nation's tribute in the Nation's capitol. When the cruiser Olympia completes her mission, the casket will be carried at night to the vast rotunda of the Capitol to lie in state with a full military guard of honor through the night of November 10, under the great dome.

MISSIONARY WORKERS HERE

Annual Convention of New England Branch Brings To Rockland Many Prominent Men and Women.

The 52d annual convention of the New England Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was convening when The Courier-Gazette went to press this forenoon, and gave promise of being a large gathering, as credentials had been issued to about 180 delegates. Many of the visitors arrived on the afternoon train yesterday followed in their down east journey by a delirious rain storm, which was certainly not a pleasing accompaniment to the long trip which had been made by those who came from the far corners of New England.

From out of an atmosphere of dampness and chill the delegates stepped into the cozy rooms of the Methodist vestry, where they found a most cordial welcome upon the part of the local committee headed by Mrs. S. H. Rogers and Mrs. H. A. Dunton, with Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham as chairman of the hospitality committee and Mrs. David S. Beach. Their efforts were supplemented by the genial presence and valuable assistance of the pastor, Rev. Eugene V. Allen, and other loyal church workers. The registration was handled expeditiously by Mrs. H. V. Tweedie.

Supper was served in the vestry, under the direction of Mrs. Austin W. Smith, and was followed at 7.30 by an informal reception to the conference and district officials, which proved to be a happy event of the get-together sort.

The following officers of the New England branch were in attendance when the convention opened this morning:

President—Mrs. F. H. Morgan, Wollaston, Mass.

Mrs. Charles Parkhurst (whose husband was long editor of Zion's Herald), first vice president.

Mrs. Robert Raymond, Newton Centre, Mass., second vice president.

Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis, Boston, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. C. Edmund Neil, Boston, recording secretary.

Miss Sophronia B. Rich, Newton, Mass., treasurer.

Miss Clementina Butler, Providence, secretary of Home Base.

Mrs. A. P. Sharp, Boston, secretary of special work.

Mrs. William L. Snow, Brookline, Mass., superintendent of literature.

Mrs. A. L. Lamont, Somerville, Mass., superintendent of Young People's department.

Mrs. I. H. Packard, Boston, superintendent of Junior department.

Mrs. Morgan, the president of the New England Branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, is a Maine woman. She has been very prominent in missionary circles of greater Boston; has served for many years as president of Boston district and as titling secretary for the New England Branch. At an early age Mrs. Morgan engaged in the evangelistic field, and for several years gave her entire time to that work, principally in the States of Maine and New Hampshire. Mrs. Morgan is the wife of F. H. Morgan, field agent for the Zion's Herald, is of a commanding presence and a fluent speaker.

Miss Clementina Butler, base secretary, was born in India. She has spent seven years in Mexico, has since been two years in India and visited mission fields of all denominations. Miss Butler's escape in disguise, after staying alone to protect students of one of the Methodist schools, in the troubled days preceding the occupation of Vera Cruz, is a thrilling tale.

Mrs. Raymond, the second vice president, is the wife of one of Massachusetts' Supreme Court judges.

This forenoon's session was given over to a general discussion of conference and district problems in the course of which the delegates were told graphically about the Branch "engine," and how the "wheels turned." Departmental conferences are planned for this afternoon. Holy Communion will be administered by the district superintendent, Rev. J. H. Gray, former pastor of the Rockland church, and Rev. Thomas Whiteside, and the local pastor, Rev. Mr. Allen.

At 8 p. m. there will be a young people's banquet, followed by a young people's rally, at which Mrs. A. L. Lamont will preside. Mrs. W. H. Armstrong is the soloist of the convention and Mrs. L. N. Littlehale has charge of the special music.

The program for Wednesday and Thursday follows:

Wednesday Morning
8.30 Devotions, Mrs. M. G. Bailey;

Parkhurst; 4.30 Adjournment.

The corresponding secretary of the New England Branch, Mrs. Mary Carr Curtis of Boston, who is also a member of the national executive committee of the society, secretary of its educational committee and chairman of the committee on foreign students. She is responsible for the appropriation of $105,000 pledged by New England Branch, also for the missionary candidates and the general correspondence with the eighteen foreign countries where the society is at work.

Mrs. Curtis, who is now head of the Foreign Missions department, Boston University School of Religious Education, was five years a missionary in Malaysia, founding the Taipeing Girls School there. For seven years she was national student secretary for the society, visiting colleges and universities in all parts of the United States; originating the now widespread Sister College Movement and the Isabella Thoburn Auxiliary among college women.

Schooner Henrietta Whitney is at the South Railway receiving a new foremast and various other repairs.

The charge for publishing a Card of Thanks is 50 cents, cash to accompany the order. Poetry published with an obituary is charged for at 10 cents a line.

BACK FROM INDIANA

Department Commander Butler Attended Grand Army Encampment—Some of the Incidents.

Department Commander E. A. Butler arrived home Thursday from Indianapolis, where he has been attending the 55th national encampment of the Grand Army. He says that the event was favored by excellent weather, and was a success from every standpoint. Protection of Memorial Day from commercialism and consecration of the day to the memory of the soldiers of all the nation's wars should be an aim of the Grand Army of the Republic and its allied organizations, Commander-in-Chief William A. Ketcham declared in his address at the first business session of the 55th annual encampment. Failure to protect the day from desecration will be a reproach to the Grand Army, its leader said.

Revival of the Ku Klux Klan was condemned by Commander Ketcham along with other organizations. While the Grand Army has scant influence in the state in which the Klan was incorporated the commander declared the G. A. R. "should see to it that any organization with so offensive and discredited a name should not be permitted to invade state lines where we still have influence and strength."

"We ought to set our faces like flint," said Commander Ketcham, "against all the evils of the modern day

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, Oct. 11, 1921.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydie, who on oath declares that he is pressman in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of Oct. 8, 1921, there was printed a total of 5,000 copies. Before me,
FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

This year marks the 600th anniversary of the birth of the Italian poet Dante. The newspapers, especially those featuring a literary department appear to be making a great deal of the event—we will not say unjustly, for Dante is a recognized literary force. But how few of us know anything about him, or ever read his writings. In the course of a long and somewhat varied life, as lives go, we have enjoyed the acquaintance of just one man who confessed to a knowledge and enjoyment of the great Italian's poetry. He was a deep-water sea captain, a Rockland man of bluff exterior and gentle heart, and he used always to speak the poet's name in a single syllable.

One of the most beneficial provisions of the pending revenue bill is a section that, while it does not lower the tax rate removes some of the petty annoyances of the existing law. The new section reads as follows: "That no taxpayer shall be subjected to unnecessary examinations or investigations, and only one inspection of a taxpayer's books of account shall be made for each taxable year unless the taxpayer requests otherwise or unless the commissioner, after investigation, notifies the taxpayer in writing that an additional inspection is necessary." Heretofore honest taxpayers have been subjected to repeated visits and inquiries by collectors after a thorough examination was supposed to have been made. Under the new bill all such annoyances will be done away with.

That world-wide institution for good, the Young Men's Christian Association, had its beginnings in London, through the efforts of a young man, George Williams, to provide some small recreation for a group of his fellow-clerks. He was Sir George Williams at the end of his life, having lived to see those humble beginnings expanded into an organization doing a prosperous business in the four quarters of the globe. Today is the 100th anniversary of his birth. It is not out of place to note in the connection that there is an inviting field in Rockland for the setting up of Y. M. C. A. machinery.

The suggestion of Secretary of Labor Davis is a good one. Instead of talking about the millions who are reported to be out of work, let us turn our attention to the numbers who have employment. At present there are about 12,000,000 busy men and women in the country, not counting farmers and farm labor. Let us take that encouraging fact as the basis for future effort, and try to add to it until only those are unemployed who are unable to work. It is more likely to produce results to look at the affirmative side of the question rather than the negative.

The called meeting of the Knox County Public Health Association should be well attended. In its first year the organization has done good initial work and deserves every encouragement on the part of the public.

From a cord suspended between the walls of Sanford K. Welt's workshop yesterday hung six musical instruments which excited the reporter's curiosity. "Those," said Sunny, with a dramatic wave of his southern arm, "are tummy turn tums," and Sunny was not joking, for the six instruments comprised a musical set for an orchestra which he is soon to organize and he made them from a special design of his own creation. There are two guitars—one of the familiar Hawaiian type, and the other born in captivity; a cello, a tenor, a mandolin and a violin. It was a painstaking task, requiring lots of time and the best of materials. The woods used in the construction were mahogany, beech, maple, spruce, and sycamore, and the workmanship is high class. Mr. Welt values the set at $200. His original vocation was barbering, but he was always tinkering with violins. He happened to be a player, but after long practice was abandoned that he would never set the world afire, so 12 years ago he started making violins for others to play. He read many books on the subject, and then applied his natural aptitude to the work. Twenty-five violins has been his output thus far. And now comes Mr. Welt's Tummy Turn Tum Orchestra, designed to give his hearers something out of the ordinary in the way of music.

That Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Philbrick, formerly of Rockland, are appreciated at the Dark Harbor telephone exchange, has been evidenced in many ways. The current issue of Telephone Topics says: "The attached letter was received at the Dark Harbor, Maine, exchange and is in appreciation of services rendered on calls to Baltimore, Md., by Mrs. Philbrick. A number of calls were made and one in particular was late at night. The agent opened the office and rendered all assistance possible during the time necessary to secure the call. How well she succeeded is testified to by the letter from G. L. Radcliffe: 'I am sorry that Mr. Williams and I upset the arrangements in your office and made ourselves such a nuisance generally. I shall always remember with appreciation your patience and courtesy, and I trust I will some time have an opportunity of doing you a real favor.'"

Rockland is entertaining this week many strangers who have come to attend the big missionary convention which commences today in the Methodist church. Go out of your way to extend courtesies to them, for by the hospitality which the city shows, it shall be known in all corners of New England.

When Cris balanced the egg they cost about as much then as today and his clothes cost him five times as much as the best suit we sell.

THE "SUN" IN SUNDAY

Dr. Crofts Denounces Some Things Which He Believes Eclipse It.

Dr. Wilbur F. Crofts, the unsmiling head of the International Reform Bureau, speaking in the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N. Y., denounced practically everything that goes to make up the present Sunday in America, apart from church attendance. It was his intention, he said, to put "the sun in Sunday and the vampires out." Sunday should be sunlit, a day of joy. But during the whole of the hour of his address Dr. Crofts smiled not once, not even when he said he hoped for a $1,000,000 contribution to the work of the International Reform Bureau.

It was difficult to gather from Dr. Crofts' remarks just what was to flood the Sunday of the future with sunlight. It was to be a day of rest, but he gave no hint as to the manner in which the leisure hours might be filled. Golf, although not exactly forbidden, would be frowned upon. It is a low, selfish pleasure, in the eyes of Dr. Crofts, and selfish pleasures and selfish work should not be a part of the sunlit Sunday of the future.

It is not for America to borrow the Sunday of Continental nations, Dr. Crofts declared. He outlined a picture of the German beer garden Sunday—and inquired if that was the sort of Sunday people want, or the Spanish Sunday of bull fights and cock fights, or the French Sunday of one suit bathing beaches?

Some clue to the spotless hours of the future was afforded by Dr. Crofts' definition of the test of a day as "the morning after." Nothing is pleasure today, he declared, that is headache tomorrow and heartache thereafter.

"What seems like a joy ride tonight may seem like a woe ride tomorrow."

"Why is the color blue attached to us as a stigma?" he asked. "It's God's favorite color, the color of tried fidelity. The color of bluebells and bluebirds and blueberries. The color of the sky and sea. Do you like yellow better?"

OUR GRANGE CORNER

Tolman; vocal solo, Mabel Putnam; reading, James Riley; vocal duet, Katherine Maloney and Lillian Putnam; reading, Elizabeth Gregory. A speaker is expected.

E. M. O'Neil returned yesterday from New York, where he witnessed the first four games of the great World Series now being played by the Yankees and Giants. Through the kindness of New York friends he had one of the best seats in the double-decked grandstand, and thoroughly enjoyed every game. Frisch of the Giants is as much of a favorite with the crowd as Babe Ruth, he says. As to predictions—nix for Mr. O'Neil.

AUGUSTUS D. SMALL

Well Known Boston Educator
Was Four Years Principal of Rockland High School.

Augustus D. Small, retired headmaster of the South Boston High School, died suddenly while attending mass in St. Anthony's church on Holton street, Allston, at 8.30 Sunday morning. Mr. Small was seated in a pew at the left of the church when stricken. James Hannon and several other parishioners went to his assistance and carried him into the vestibule at the rear. Dr. John F. Casey of Franklin street, Allston, was called and responded at once, but Mr. Small was dead when the physician arrived.

Mr. Small lived at 67 Ashford street, Allston. He was born in Bangor, March 28, 1844, and passed his boyhood upon the paternal farm. With such assistance as the country schools afforded, and by diligent study at home in the long intervals between attendance at school, he prepared for Colby College, from which he was graduated in 1865. During his senior year the faculty placed him in charge of Coburn Classical Institute, the preparatory school of the college.

Following his graduation he taught modern languages in Suffield, Conn., for a year and then for four years was principal of the schools of Salem, Mass., and in 1881 was appointed submaster of the Lawrence School in South Boston. In 1901 he was made headmaster of the South Boston High School, where he served until he retired to his home at Allston in 1914.

In 1874 he was married to Annie Louise Harrington of Rockland, by whom he had two daughters. He was the manager of the editorial department of the New England agency of D. Appleton & Co. He was a member of the American Institution of Instruction, Schoolmasters' Club, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Handel and Haydn Society, Schumann Music Club and of the Masonic bodies (lodge, chapter, commandery and council).

Mr. Small was principal of the Rockland High School when its sessions were held in Beal's hall, which stood on the present postoffice site, and transferred the school in 1869 to the present building on Lincoln street. He was a fine instructor, conscientious and thorough, and there are living many old-time pupils who recall him with affection.

Funeral services were held in Allston at 9 o'clock this morning. The remains will arrive in Rockland Wednesday noon, and will be taken directly to Achorn cemetery. The interment will be in charge of Crozier & Bowes.

A knockabout auxiliary fisherman, designed by John J. Wardwell and drafted by Libby Wardwell and David Wardwell, will be built for Boston parties in Damariscotta, this winter, the work being done by the Neweastle Shipbuilding Co. It will be a craft of 130 tons—and a crackjack, as the designer's name would indicate.

Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—

Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records.

Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Sept. 24, 1921
Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Jacksonville, Fla.
Gentlemen:—
I submit herewith the history of a 31st Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 57,000 miles. I have maintained it in excellent condition. The mileage to each record was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tire proper rotation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another record. I am mailing photographs under separate cover.
C. U. Penney,
Pilot City, Mo.

Sept. 2, 1921
The Harvey E. Mack Co., Detroit, Mich.
Gentlemen:—
It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the 31st Firestone Cord tire on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 25,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 24,000 and 25,000 miles and was still in good condition. The two front tires have gone better than 25,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of the 31st and 32nd. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of the 31st and 32nd. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of the 31st and 32nd.

The chilly spell of the past two days was a reminder that it is time to gather that perishable garden truck, and to start the furnace fire. It has been a long and glorious summer. Who has any kick coming?

Bath Times: G. Herbert Blethen has been named as President Harding for postmaster at Rockland. Mr. Blethen is well known in Bath and many of his friends have been sending him their congratulations.

In the latter part of the summer there arrived at this port a 16-foot open boat named "Vel" in which three Canadian ex-service men—Arthur Spragg, J. H. Engle and J. H. Morrison were making a cruise from Halifax to Vancouver. B. C. Mr. Morrison left the expedition the day following its departure from Rockland—"frozen out," he claimed when he came back to Rockland penniless, and reporting rough treatment. Saturday the newspapers carried an Associated Press despatch stating that the "Vel" had been found half submerged near Sakonnet Light in Narragansett Bay, and that no word had been received concerning the occupants, who are now supposed to have been lost.

Who says that summer has fled? Yesterday's receipts at The Courier-Gazette office included a ripe strawberry and a strawberry blossom, plucked Sunday on Dodge's Mountain by Alfred Benner, and a blue violet plucked Sunday at Whitehead Light by Winfield Sprague.

When John Beaton drove in from Warren with his auto truck Sunday folks rushed to the windows thinking a floral parade was passing. Posies enough to fill five washtubs were crowded into the body of the car and made a spectacle of it to look upon. The flowers came from the gardens of William Spear in Warren, and were presented to V. F. Studley's store, which has been a liberal patron of these gardens all season. As a heavy frost was imminent that night all the blossoms were cut. They were shown in the expansive display windows of the Studley store yesterday and attracted much attention from passers-by.

Isidor Gordon has traded his auto for the Preble cottage at Crescent Beach, the owner of which was Arthur Smalley.

Rockland Lodge, F. & A. M., has a special meeting tonight, for work on the first degree.

Bowdoin and Williams played a scoreless tie Saturday and the game between Bates and Massachusetts had the same result. University of Maine overwhelmed Lowell Textile 34 to 0. Next Saturday comes the opening game of the Maine College championship series—Bates vs. Colby in Waterville. A member of Rockland fans are going.

Sidney Kaler, who has been in the employ of the Thorndike & Hix lobster department the past 10 years, completed his labors there Saturday and is now associated with L. Pomeroy in the smoking of Finnan haddies near the John Bird block. Later the new firm will also engage in the lobster business.

Francis A. Curtis and Miss Josie E. Larrabee were married at 69 Tillson avenue last Friday by Judge Frank B. Miller, J. P. M. A. Johnson did the honors as best man. The bride is a former resident of Eastport. The bridegroom is a well-known junk merchant, who during the World War was in service with the Milliken Regiment in a southern training camp, and who is now with the 5th Company, C. A. C. He is a member of Winslow-Holbrook Post.

The following, from the current issue of the Winthrop (Mass.) Review, will be read with interest and appreciation by the friends of the former Rockland pastor, who is named therein: "Last Sunday, the Rev. William J. Day preached his eighth anniversary sermon. The best wishes of the church membership are extended to Mr. Day for the best possible success during his ninth year as pastor of the First Baptist church of Winthrop. On Tuesday evening, the church further showed its appreciation of their pastor and his wife by an informal reception in the church vestry. A purse containing fifty dollars in gold was presented to Mr. Day, while Mrs. Day received a handsome bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Day received many expressions of regard and good wishes while standing in an alcove which was decorated with palms, potted plants and cut flowers. The pastor's reception will be followed by an observation of the fiftieth anniversary of the church to be celebrated during the last of October."

The first annual Fair of the W. O. G. C. will be held in Cleveland hall, Camden, Oct. 12-13. All are welcome. Dance both evenings.—adv.

Alderman W. J. Sullivan has been off duty for a few days on account of ulcerated throat, which have resulted in a badly swollen jaw, and temporarily giving to M. B. & Co. O. Perry's genial book-keeper the appearance of a middleweight champion.

The Atlantic Fishermen says: "Mr. and Mrs. Powell, East Boston, have gone to Rockland, Me., to superintend their lobster business there and attend to the stocking of their lobster pond at South Bristol in that state. They manage, respectively, the Boston Lobster Co. and the Parnell Lobster Co., the head office and chief dispatching station of which is on Meridian street bridge, Chelsea."

The Wight Philharmonic Society and patrons in good numbers left yesterday morning's train to take part in the Portland Festival. Notable in the group were the society's original director and pianist, Mr. and Mrs. James Wight, who have not missed one of the festival's 25 annual sessions, in his 92nd year, there is no doubt that "Uncle Jimmy" will be the oldest person in the auditorium.

Mrs. A. B. Kirkpatrick as chairman of the committee for the Republican women of Rockville, is collecting its quota, to be forwarded to Mrs. Mary P. Rich, chairman for Knox county.

"They have a most wonderful apple crop on the Pacific Coast this year," says E. M. Lawrence, who arrived Saturday from Seattle, Washington, after a round trip which lasted two days less than two weeks. "Oregon, Washington and California will ship 40,000 carloads eastward this season. I saw from 25 to 30 boxes of apples picked from 12-year-old trees. Pears have been selling at $4.00 a ton for canning purposes. The wheat crop in Montana is enormous with the result that the price is down to $1.07. Bumper crops in other Western States have had this natural result on most commodities. One woman told me she was making soap grease out of her butter, because the market is not high enough to pay for shipping butter. And it's the same with cattle in Idaho and Wyoming."

The Relief Corps will have a rummage sale Thursday afternoon. Those contributing are asked to leave articles at Grand Army hall that morning.—adv.

The R. H. Counce Hose Co. of Thomaston hold a dance in Counce hall Thursday evening. Music by Clark's Orchestra.

Another golf tournament takes place at the Country Club next Saturday afternoon—a best ball foursome, with preferred lies. Every performer is expected to take part.

A large and appreciative audience enjoyed services of "harvest home" Sunday night at the First Baptist church. The solo and violin selections by Dr. Luce and Miss Luce were of a high order and Mrs. Howard as usual had the choir in excellent form. With the orchestra, piano and organ the singing of the old hymns brought appreciative response from the audience, which later gave attention to the telling address by Rev. Mr. Browne of the story of the Prodigal Son.

The annual basket meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of the Lincoln Association takes place at the Chestnut Street Baptist church, Camden, Thursday, with forenoon and afternoon sessions, commencing at 9:30 a. m. There will be two speakers from the mission fields.

J. N. Southard, Dr. H. L. Richards and Zenas C. Melvin arrived home yesterday, after a vacation trip which took them first to Quebec. They were much interested in the ancient city, but did not see it to best advantage, for the autumn stage settings had been removed, temporarily at least, and our three wayfarers were greeted by a snow squall. Mr. Melvin contracted a severe cold and was in bed for a spell. After leaving Quebec the trio came by rail to Colebrook, N. H., thence "hoofed" it through the Presidential Range to Bartlett, a distance of 65 miles. The scenery was amazingly fine for the apple orchards were still laden, and the foliage of the other trees was in its most gorgeous hues—all being in striking contrast to the conditions northward, where nearly all trees were bare, and where lofty summits were snowclad. The long hike told severely on the three travelers, who for several years have been doing most of their hiking between their houses and their garages. But they had a fine time and wouldn't have missed it for all the blisters that man is heir to.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sanson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bird, motored to Belfast Saturday to witness the opening of the bridge. They remained for the weekend.

Mrs. Walter T. Duncan died at her home, 48 Thomaston street, yesterday morning, after two weeks' illness of typhoid fever. The funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Is Frank Gardner qualifying for an international cup, or anything of that sort? The way in which he is disposing of his opponents at Kennedy's alley would seem to indicate that there is something special in the air. Last night Mank was his victim, the totals of their respective 10 strings being 911 and 890. The highest string was 110, also rolled by Gardner.

The annual meeting of the Knox County Public Health Association will be held at the headquarters, 464 Main street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. W. D. Thurber, executive secretary of the State Association, will speak. All persons interested in public health work are invited.

The annual tombstone tournament Saturday afternoon called out a good number of golfers on the Country Club links, the winners being M. E. Wotton, David H. Buffum and H. A. Buffum, in the order named. The day ended with one of those notable Country Club suppers, followed by animated discussion of golf in its many features, and particularly that phase of it presented by the improvements being made in the local grounds that are destined to make Rockland's golf course the finest in Maine. As a testimonial to the health features of the game James F. Carver, a this-year's convert, stated that he had played golf without missing a day from June 1 to Oct. 8. "And look at me," he added proudly, "last spring I had a new suit of clothes with a waistband measuring 42 inches. Yesterday I ordered another suit and my waist-line measure showed 35 1/2 inches. Me for the little white ball." The reading of the epitaphs inscribed by each contestant upon the shingle tombstone that marked the point on the course where he "died" yielded amusement. The prize golf balls for the best one being awarded by ballot to Henry Gardner.

THE WORLD SERIES

Yankees Now Have Three Games To Opponents' Two, But Series Is Far From Settled.

The Fourth Game
Babe Ruth made a home run at the Polo Grounds Sunday, but his circuit blow, a tremendous wallop into the right field bleachers, came in the ninth inning with nobody on bases and failed to save the Yankees from defeat. The Giants won by the score of 4 to 2, in the fourth game of the World Series. The series now stands at two victories each. The summary:

Base hits, Giants 8, Yankees 7. Errors, Giants 1, Yankees 1. Batteries, Douglas and Snyder; Mays and Schang.

The Fifth Game
The Giants made 10 hits off Hoyt yesterday, but could not bunt them, and the Yankees took the fifth game of the series 3 to 1. The series now stands 3 to 2 in the Yankees' favor and will continue until one of the teams has won five games. Yesterday's summary:

Base hits, Yankees 6, Giants 10. Errors, Yankees 1, Giants 1. Batteries, Hoyt and Schang; Neft and Smith.

The Chapin class of the Universalist church will hold a Mammouth Rummage Sale in the vestry of the church on Union street, Friday, Oct. 29. Mrs. Maude Glidden is general chairman and the following have been appointed to serve in the different wards: Wards 1 and 2, Miss Harriet Rankin, Mrs. Wilbur Cross; Ward 3, Mrs. Faith Berry, Mrs. Katherine Vozzie, Mrs. Ethel Campbell; Ward 4, Miss Mabel Lamb, Miss Jennie Trussell, Miss Edith McAlman; Ward 5, Mrs. Maud Glidden, Miss Ada Perry, Miss Gladys Blethen, Miss Lena Lawrence, Mrs. Ernest P. Jones; Ward 6, Miss Adelaide Holmes, Miss Alice Fuller; Ward 7, Miss Gladys S. Jones; Ward 8, Mrs. Adelaide Snow, Mrs. Cora Smith. Members of the Universalist parish having articles to contribute kindly notify one of the above committees, and articles will be called for.—adv.

WIGHT'S U-TOTEM STORE

If this is a cold winter, as some predict, and the snow piles up and harbor freezes over and no trains come in at night, what long quiet evenings we will have. Everybody will know who snores and who talks in their sleep. There is no way anyone can come into the city to trade, by railroad, as there is only time to get down town to shop before it's time to go back again, and if you are in Boston and want to come home and cannot catch the nine o'clock train in the morning and do get the 1.15 you can get down to Bath around six o'clock at night and there you stay until morning, almost in sight of your home—and no train. And then one mail, it lays at Bath and Portland and gets a good night's rest. There is a freight but they won't let you ride, so we are not even freight. In other parts of the State trains have been cancelled this very year, the people made a vigorous protest and the trains have been put back. On the other hand we ride in automobiles in the summer and on the train in the winter.

The Wight Company

The Rockland Motor Mart has added the Cadillac to their line of automobiles and will push its sale in this territory. They will have the new model on display at their showrooms in a few days.

Schooner Lincoln is chartered to load paving from the St. George Granite Co. at Wildcat, for New York. —Schooner Thomas H. Lawrence is in port with paving from Sullivan for New York.—Schooner William Booth is in port with paving from Hall Quarry for New York.—Schooner Lucy May, St. John for Boston with lumber is at this port.

King Hiram Council, R. & S. M., held its last work meeting of the year last Friday, conferring the Royal and Select Masters' degrees in the afternoon and the Super Excellent degree in the evening. There were 23 candidates: Stanley R. Cushing, Thomaston; Tobias Smalley, Ralph U. Clark, Thomas, Maker, John J. Carter, Axel E. Brunberg, Avasthugh M. Ames, Edward R. Veazie, Raymond L. Watts, Fred C. Dyer and Dr. Emory E. Howard; Jonah D. Morse, F. A. Geyer, and Austin B. Cook, Friendship, Charles H. Smith, Charles C. McFarland and Clarence L. Williams, Union; Wesley E. Spear, Warren; Willard E. Overlock, Washington; H. L. Ames, S. W. Hastings and J. B. Hutchings, Camden; Chester M. Carver, Rockport; and P. Ellsworth Darling, Melrose, Mass. It has been a record-breaking year for King Hiram Council, which has taken 117 members, or more than double the number made in any previous year. Friday night's banquet was one of the Star's best, and the 250 Masons who sat down to the tables found it a very jolly affair, with Eastman's Orchestra furnishing music while they ate. "The Irish Washerwoman" brought the customary "Hi!" from all, and everybody was beating time. A band of 15 pieces furnished music for the degree work, and the members were so enthusiastic over it that they voted then and there to buy uniforms for it. The council is also to have a uniformed patrol, which will be drilled by Companion James P. Carver, formerly of the National Guard.

Charles G. Kiff has sold his cottage known as "The Music Box," at Holladay Beach to Mrs. Ida M. Copeland of Albion. Mrs. Copeland and her husband are not only greatly pleased with the location, but this particular cottage has a sentimental interest for them, owing to the fact that their child was born there last year. The event was also immortalized by bestowing upon the youngster the name of William Holliday Copeland. Mr. Kiff has owned the cottage about 15 years, and it has been the scene of many pleasant social occasions.

The public is invited to attend a short convention with the McLain school children Wednesday morning at 8:30. The various grades are to be grouped about the flag. The exercises will be appropriate to Columbus Day. Each grade will have some part. All Grade schools in the city will during some part of the day devote time to a review of the time and spirit of the 15th century which led to the discovery of America.

SIMONTON'S SIMONTON'S

Gigantic RUG Sale

One of our buyers has just returned from a trip of two weeks duration among the Carpet Mills, the Commission Houses and the Jobbers of Floor Coverings—as a result of his purchases we ANNOUNCE THIS TIMELY RUG SALE

A WORD AS TO THE CAUSE OF THIS SALE—

For fifty years this store has been selling floor coverings to the people of Rockland and vicinity. Year after year it has been the policy of this store to sell only first class Rugs and Carpets at Reasonable Prices. Many customers have bought floor coverings of us in 1921, who have told us that their mothers and grandmothers always bought their CARPETS and RUGS at this store. As they expressed it "they always felt they could do a little better at SIMONTON'S." To show our appreciation of this long continued patronage, and to acquaint the younger generations with the stocks and values to be found in our Carpet Annex, we have prepared this extraordinary shopping event.

THE CANNING OF CAMDEN

Rockland High Observes the Preserve Season—Victory Was a Long Time Coming, However.

In the gathering dusk of an October afternoon 11 football warriors, steaming from their afternoon's exertions, marched triumphantly from Camden Trotting Park, forgetting both fatigue and casualties as they listened to the resounding cheers of their supporters. The sweaters which they wore carried an orange letter on a black background, and the world was being told that a Rockland team had bested Camden, in Camden's dooryard. The bitter disappointment of five successive seasons was wiped away as fog is wiped from a windshield.

It all happened Saturday, Oct. 8, 1921, a date which will be writ large in the history of Rockland High School. The recital gains dramatic force when those not privileged to see the game are told that it was as a brand plucked from the burning. Two periods had passed, and with the score 20 to 7 in Camden's favor, the Camden cheering section was singing all the joy songs it had ever learned. The delirium which comes with triumph over one's dearest enemy was in full swing. What happened to quell that demonstration, and at the same moment to start pandemonium on the Rockland side of the field let the story tell.

Rockland had the kick-off. On the third play Camden, evidently failing to surprise the visitors, as Lincolnton Academy had, attempted a forward pass. Keen-eyed Otto Record was Johnny on the spot, and before the ball could reach its intended destination he had intercepted its flight, and was rushing madly down the field with the entire Camden team in pursuit. It's a long, long way to Tipperary, and the Camden goal line was 85 yards away, but when one is filled with the fire of youth, and wears seven-league boots, wonders may be accomplished. And so the dazed Camden spectators saw the ball implanted behind their trenches and heard the Rockland fans yelling like so many demons. It all happened quicker'n Jerry wrote the note. Not "Jerry" Whitney, to be sure, although the Rockland coach was the wildest demon among them.

Enter now a new factor in Rockland's destinies, a tall rangy lad, William Flanagan by name, resurrected from the bench of oblivion to take his proper place in the season's festivities and to show what a clear-eyed youth may do with the toe of a man's sized shoe. He was selected by Coach Whitney to do the kicking in this game, and he fully satisfied the latter's judging, both in punting and in kicking for goals.

Rockland's joy in the first period was short lived, however. Rockland kicked to Camden, and the ball was brought well up the field by four first downs. Rockland held for downs on her 40-yard line, but on the second down Lord fumbled. Bean secured the ball, and was down the field for a touchdown. Bean also kicked a goal, and the score was tied.

Rockland received the ball on her 30-yard and with two first downs advanced it about 20 yards, when it was lost to Camden, and that team showing great offensive power, carried the ball across for a touchdown, in six plays. Again Bean kicked a goal. This process was repeated once more, before the first period ended, Rockland springing fatally by not punting at the critical moment. But this time Bean missed the goal—a circumstance which then appeared trivial to the happy Camdenites, but which eventually transformed their joy into deep-seated gloom.

The second period found Rockland better accustomed to Camden's shift plays and neither side was able to gain any decided advantage in the duel which followed.

The 15 minutes which elapsed between the two halves saw Mealey drafted for the backfield in place of Sleeper, and it proved to be the turning point of the game. Record received the ball on the kick-off and advanced it to the center of the field. Mealey immediately made a first down, and Reed followed suit after three lines, the ball then being on Camden's 10-yard line. Mealey went through left tackle, and would have scored a touchdown, but Rockland was off-side and was penalized. Reed tore through for what seemed to be a touchdown, but the play was nullified because the referee's whistle had not been blown. Rockland was bound to score, however, and it was Mealey who finally circled the Camden left end for the touchdown. Flanagan kicked a goal and with the score 14 to 20 Rockland suddenly found itself within striking distance of victory.

How it found the right path is shown in Mealey's sensational run around Camden's right end, with the splendid interference of Lord, Reed and Record to aid him the speedy "Jeff" flew up the field and when the Camden's goal line was reached, after an 80-yard sprint, he had outdistanced all of his desperate opponents. This touchdown tied the score, and it was up to Flanagan to say whether Rockland High should be content with merely overtaking its rival, or whether it should take the edge which might mean victory. Again Flanagan's nerve was steady and his arm was true. The ball shot over the bar and the score was 21 to 20 with Rockland on the long end. The close of the fourth period, which seemed to be an inordinately long one, found Camden fighting valiantly for another touchdown, and using the air route. But Rockland was strong on the defense and her goal was not again seriously threatened.

The spectacular work of Mealey, resulting in the two touchdowns which spell victory, was, of course, the outstanding feature of the great game, but the fans did not lose sight of Record's splendid work, which prevented any gain being made around the left end; of Reed's ground gaining prowess; of Flanagan's capacity for tackling; and of other fine work done by Andrews, the plucky Freshman fullback. Coaches Whitney and Thomas believe Flanagan was developed into one of the best tackles in Knox county before the season is over.

The Rockland boys feel that they have beaten a good team when they defeat Camden. It is perhaps not up to last season's standard, but it should also be remembered that Rockland has a great preponderance of green men in its lineup. The Camden players who fished were Bean and F. Hanson, but the team has a strong line, and its backfield is pretty evenly matched.

ROCKVILLE

The Republican ladies of this place are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. J. S. Ranlett, Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Sadie (Copeland) Dalton, of Amesbury, Mass., was the guest of her brother, Charles Tolman, recently.

Mrs. Rankin, superintendent of Lincolnville schools, called on Mrs. Ranlett Saturday.

Mrs. Bucklin and Miss Lottie Ewell were in Rockland recently on business. Charles Tolman and Mrs. L. M. Blawie called on friends in Rockport, Saturday.

We are sorry to learn that one of our esteemed neighbors, Mrs. Fannie Brewster has undergone an operation at Silsby Hospital. We extend our heartfelt wishes for her speedy recovery.

John Ranlett is sitting up in bed. It won't be long before we see his cheerful smile again.

Encourage us in the school work we are doing. All calls will be appreciated by the teacher as well as by the scholars.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clough has received its finishing touches in painting. Mr. Clough deserves praise for his artistic work.

The hunting season is on here. Although the foliage is a hindrance, we don't have to hunt much, as partridges and friend skunk come right to our doors.

Mrs. Nora Carol has returned to her home in Rockland, after spending a few days at her summer home here. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Thurston and Mrs. Sadie Dalton of Rockport called for Miss Leola Tolman Sunday and they all enjoyed an auto ride to Owl's Head.

PARK THEATRE

Elsie Ferguson has two roles to add—an unsophisticated country girl and a Russian actress. In the latter she wears a wealth of French gowns. The picture is entitled "Footlights."

Some perilous diving and difficult swimming is done by Dorothy Dalton in "Behind Masks," which will be presented Wednesday. Miss Dalton, who has become known as one of the most athletic of women stars, does the most spectacular "stunt" work of her career in this film. As Jeanne Mesurier, the unfortunate victim of the plots of Mme. Ena Dolore, her unscrupulous guardian, Miss Dalton, in this story, is locked up in an ancient smugglers' cave with the supposed dead body of Ronald Engleton. She breaks down a door and defies death when she dives into the storm-tossed sea below. Her rescue by Andrew Bourne, her sweetheart, follows.

The Thursday-Friday special for this week is "Madame X," featuring Pauline Frederick. One of the strangest and most tragic cases in criminal history is that of Jacqueline Floriot, who was brought to trial on a charge of murder. It so happened that her case was set for trial in the court over which her former husband presided. Not knowing the identity of the penniless woman the authorities appoint a young lawyer to defend her. The attorney turned out to be her son. Find out the rest by seeing the picture.—adv.

DAMARISCOTTA RACES

Margaret Wilkes and Carl C. Were Winners Both Days.

The Lincoln County fair opened Wednesday with one of the largest first day crowds in the history of the Association, about 5,000 persons being on the grounds. There were three races on the card, Margaret Wilkes winning the 2.35 class in straight heats, Minnie Direct turning the same trick in the 2.25 class, and the 2.20 class being unfinished at sunset with Carl C. holding the advantage of winning two heats, while King Brino and in Time each had led the field once under the wire. This race is scheduled to be finished in addition to the regular card today.

2.35 Class, Purse $200

Time: 2.19½, 2.16½, 2.21½, 2.20.

The 2.20 class was finished Thursday, Carl C. winning the final heat. Wesley Nichols' bay gelding Maine Time was second and J. A. Wincapaw's bay gelding King Brino was third. The time in the final heat was 2.14½, thus lowering the track record by one second.

Thursday's races were featureless, and in the second heat of the 2.35 class the drivers apparently jogged along without effort to make time. The summary:

THOMASTON

Dr. and Mrs. Peaslee and son Edward and Mrs. L. E. Peaslee and son Harold motored to Gardiner Saturday, returning home Sunday. Mrs. L. E. Peaslee will remain a week.

Miss Phyllis Moore, who has been employed at Thompson's Inn, South Bristol, for the summer, has returned home.

Mrs. Lawrence Colgan of Augusta spent the weekend with her husband, Deputy Warden Colgan.

C. E. Shorey left Monday morning on a business trip which includes Lewiston, Portland and Boston.

Capt. James Creighton was home from New York for the weekend.

Monday evening the girls of the pant department of B. Pearson & Co. enjoyed a fine picnic supper in the recreation room. The evening passed pleasantly with music, dancing and games.

Mrs. Alice Tibbets and daughter, Mrs. A. B. Brown, are in Portland this week, attending the Festival.

Miss Elita Winslow McLain of Hottel Center, is visiting her brother and niece, R. B. Fillmore and Miss Annie Fillmore. Mrs. McLain will return to her home Thursday.

Mrs. Frances Carter, who has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Peabody, left Saturday for San Diego, Cal., where she will spend the winter with another daughter, Mrs. E. H. Montz.

Don't forget the dance in Council hall Thursday night. Music will be furnished by Clark's Orchestra.

Mrs. John E. Walker and brother, Charles Percy of New York left Monday for Phippsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cushing moved to Portland Sunday, where Mrs. Cushing is attending the Festival this week.

Miss Regina Santy arrived Saturday from Boston, where she has been employed.

Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, Miss Hattie Dunn and Mrs. Arthur Elliot are attending the Festival in Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brazier have returned from a motor trip which included Portland, Boston and the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmus Morse and daughter Eleanor motored to Belfast Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Shrad.

Mrs. Marie Singer has returned from a week's visit in Bangor.

Mrs. John Stevens and Miss Horlense Wilson are among the number attending the Festival this week.

Miss Hilda George returned to Middleton Sunday after spending a week at home. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Alice George, and Robert Creighton.

The first monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, which was held at the Congregational vestry last Friday evening, proved to be a very successful and enjoyable occasion.

The meeting was conducted by Miss McPhail, the president, who spoke briefly of the most important work of the Association for the coming year.

The increasing and furthering of the new school building fund in every possible way, and the keeping alive of the spirit that even if the town may feel financially unable to undertake this proposition in the very near future, eventually there must be a new building, therefore the only way to conquer difficulties is to keep right on and feel that something valuable is being accomplished by continually working toward the end. That this need is realized by the whole community, and giving evidence of what can be done when the many work together for a common good, the statement of Mrs. John Creighton, the treasurer, showing the total amount of the School Building Fund to have already reached the creditable sum of $1652.88, with $10 more to be deposited, was most encouraging, especially when it is considered that the work was only proposed the last of May. The receipts from the County Fair were stated as being about $1410. Miss Rita Smith, president of the High School Alumni Association, which has done equally as much as the Parent-Teacher Association for this cause, spoke of that organization's keen interest and desire to continue to co-operate in every way, and mentioned that the entertainment which was to have been given in connection with the County Fair will probably be given the first of next month; also that a mass meeting will be held about the same time to present to the townspeople, through a distinguished speaker, all feasible plans for a new school building that the people may have opportunity for free and full discussion, both at that meeting and afterwards among themselves, of something tangible and definite, and thus in the end evolve the one plan which seems best for the town and acceptable to the majority, regardless of sex, creed, or politics. To most of those present, the first opportunity of meeting the new superintendent of schools, Mr. Paine, was given when he spoke very pleasantly on the question of How Can Parents and Teachers Best Co-operate? Miss Chapin, the County Nurse, read a most interesting paper on "The Importance of Health in the School Child," emphasizing as the main objective of her work in the schools this year the keeping of clean hands, clean mouth and early bedtime, was enjoyed, followed by a social Community singing, led by Miss Rughour during which refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held November 4, at the same place and hour, and another good program is promised. It is hoped all will show their willingness to help by their attendance.

"Don't rub your youth away"

Is any one else doing what Mrs. Emily Morton was?

Mrs. Morton, who wrote us this letter, at first failed to soak her clothes according to the directions below. Now that she is soaking them she gets the same wonderful results with Rinso as her neighbors do.

Among the thousands of enthusiastic letters we have received about Rinso there have been a few like Mrs. Morton's raising some question about its use.

We are giving on this page all the questions we have received and our answers. If any other woman has any question, won't she write us?

Should I dissolve Rinso in boiling water first?

Question: "Should I dissolve Rinso in boiling water first or pour it right into the tub from the package?"

Answer: You will get a much richer, soapier suds if you dissolve Rinso in boiling water, according to the directions below, before pouring it into your tub.

Should I use Rinso on silks?

Question: "I have been using Rinso for over a year for all my regular wash. I would never have believed it possible to get clothes clean without rubbing. I have never used it on my husband's silk shirts or on my own silk things. Would it be all right?"

Answer: No. Rinso is made especially for the regular family wash. Silks, woollens, and the very fine sheer fabrics should be washed in Lux.

Is any other soap needed with Rinso?

Question: "Do I have to use any other soap when I use Rinso?"

Answer: No. Soak the clothes with Rinso as directed below and the dirt will all come out and leave the clothes spotlessly clean. No other soap is needed.

Does hard water make any difference?

Question: "I have used Rinso for nearly a month. It makes the work easier but I still have to rub quite a little. I use it according to directions—half a package to a tub of clothes. The water is very hard here. Do you suppose that has anything to do with it?"

Answer: Yes, when the water is hard, a larger amount of Rinso must be used to get a good, rich, soapy suds. Try using 3/4 or even a full package to a tub.

Can I use Rinso in my washing machine?

Question: "I have a washing machine. Can I use Rinso in it?"

Answer: Rinso is the ideal soap product for washing machines. With it you don't have to do any rubbing—not even the most badly soiled spots. Follow the regular directions given below. After soaking the clothes, wring them into machine full of hot water to which has been added enough fresh Rinso solution to make a good suds. Operate machine and wring clothes. No other soap product is needed when Rinso is used.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. It loosens and dissolves the dirt from even the heaviest pieces of the weekly wash, without injury to a single fabric.

Don't rub your youth away. Get Rinso today from your grocer or any department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Rinso 8¢

Made in U. S. A.

Pour into tub

of lukewarm water—mix well. Keep adding the solution until you get a good, rich, lasting, soapy suds even after the clothes have been put in.

Then let your clothes soak

—and rinse without any hard rubbing

Soak one hour—two hours—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful mild suds loosen every particle of dirt. Rinse, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

The babies were Stuart MacAlman, Robert Hills, Charlotte Staples, Ruth Rhodes, Grant Davis, Kathleen Chase, Clarence Peterson, Dorothy Smith, Richard Haverly, Barbara Perry, Marion Emerson and Katherine Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad Carver and Miss Ida Barker of Pratt, Kansas, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robbins, Crescent street, and Thursday the party will motor to the Topsham fair. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Robbins had as guests Mr. Phil Johnson of Detroit and Miss Aurora Randall of Vinalhaven. Tomorrow they will entertain Mr. and Mrs. M. Noyes, Mrs. Cora Spaulding and Miss Olive Guild of North Haven, and a motor trip to Stockton Springs is in prospect.

Miss Alice Ames of Matineus was in the city this morning, on her way to Billerica, Mass., where she will spend the winter.

The Dorcas Club met with Mrs. Annie Simmons, Middle street, yesterday.

Mrs. Emory B. Howard and Miss Hazel Hardy were hostesses last night at a utility shower, at Mrs. Howard's home, for Miss Doris Perry. The rooms were gaily decorated with red berries. After a delicious supper a huge ball in the living-room was filled to overflowing with beautiful and useful gifts. The guests were Mrs. Clarence Shaw, Mrs. Fred C. Black, Mrs. Harold Connon, Mrs. Ernest House, Mrs. Harrison MacAlman, Mrs. William S. Healy, Mrs. Benjamin C. Perry, Jr., Mrs. Albert Peterson and Miss Edna MacAlister, Dorothy Holbrook, Clara Fields, Marion Brewster, Florie Kirkpatrick and Doris Perry.

Mrs. W. F. Pratt has gone to Springfield for a month's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Thurston motored to Farmington and spent the weekend with Mrs. Thurston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. White.

Mrs. Carrie Burpee Shaw and Mrs. Winifred Fales left on the Sunday morning train, called to New York by the illness of E. M. Shaw.

Black duck and woodcock formed the basis of a delightful picnic supper given last night at the Country Club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Montoro R. Pillsbury of Portland. There were 26 guests. After supper a raffle was played, the women's prizes being taken by Mrs. Alan L. Bird, Mrs. B. B.

DANCE

FRIDAY NIGHT

ODD FELLOWS HALL

SCHOOL STREET

By Canton Lafayette

120-121

Smith and Mrs. J. Fred Knight; the men's prizes by George B. Wood, Glenn A. Lawrence and C. H. Duff.

Sunday afternoon relatives and friends of Elmer E. Brown, Masonic street, dropped in to celebrate that gentleman's birthday, and although the affair was rather informal it was none the less enjoyable. Refreshments were served and a beautiful birthday cake was much admired and enjoyed. It was a matter of regret to some of the party that the event should have fallen upon Sunday, but the gentleman will have other birthdays—and then on with the dance!

Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Furbush of Attleboro Falls, Mass., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Spear, returned home Monday.

Wednesday evening will occur the first social gathering of the season of the First Baptist church, when members and friends will sit down to supper in the parlors at 6.30. From 6 to 6.30 an informal reception will be tendered Rev. Willard L. Pratt of Boston, former pastor of the church. Following supper the people will assemble in the auditorium at 7.30 to elect church officers and to hear an address by Mr. Pratt. Many old friends are looking forward to hearing him again and it is expected that a large number will be in attendance at the roll-call.

Ralph E. Doherty and Miss Mabelle Emmons Haskell were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist parsonage, 134 Talbot avenue. Rev. B. P. Browne officiating. Friends of the bride and groom were in attendance.

Mrs. Helen S. Collins of Salem, Mass., who has been spending the summer in Belfast, returns there today after a week's visit with her sister Mrs. Mary E. Messer, North Main street.

At the annual meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational Church, Oct. 5, officers for the coming year were elected: President, Mrs. J. P. Cooper; vice president, Mrs. Elonia Tuttle; secretary, Mrs. E. S. Levensaler; treasurer, Mrs. Alan Bird; Mrs. Geo. W. Foster and Mrs. J. E. Stevens, hospitality and church aid; Mrs. H. A. Buffum, Mrs. A. C. Hahn, Mrs. A. E. Keyes and Mrs. Robert Collins, relief committee. The first circle supper of the season will be held tomorrow night, Mrs. John I. Snow, Mrs. W. A. Hill, Mrs. S. S. Rounds, Mrs. Alfred E. Keyes, Mrs. Robert U. Collins, Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. Pendleton and Mrs. L. B. Mortland being the committee in charge of the supper. The association has pledged the usual financial support to the church and will immediately begin sewing for the poor, and will have as its advisor and distributor Miss Dorothy Snow. Realizing that many deserving people in the city will need assistance the coming winter, who will not ask or accept charity, the ladies are planning to hold a rummage sale of warm and useful articles at prices within the reach of all. Mrs. Arthur L. Orne will be chairman of missions and Rev. Mr. Rounds has consented to act as leader.

PERSONAL A. Gies63 6. 6. 6. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. W. Burpee have returned from their visit in Malden, Mass.

E. C. Moran and family have closed their cottage at Ingraham Hill, and are again occupying their residence on Beech street.

Miss Lucy Karl is attending Maine Music Festival in Portland. Before returning she will visit in Bangor, N. H., and with her uncle, A. W. Richards, will motor through the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Packard returned the last of the week from a motor trip to Quebec and Montreal, on which they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Bangor. Favored by a very superior brand of autumn weather they visited all of the show places in the two Canadian cities, and on the homeward journey came by the way of the Adirondacks and Mrs. Packard's former home in Lenox, Mass., where four days were spent. The party was joined in Springfield by Miss Platt, who returned after spending the weekend here. Mr. Packard's car showed a mileage of 1600.

Mrs. Clarence A. Whitney and son have returned from a week's visit in Orono.

RISEING-JOYCE

An event of much interest and pleasure to their many friends took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Joyce at Atlantic, Swan's Island, Friday evening, when they gave their daughter Myrtis B., in marriage to Everett W. Rising of Rockland. The bride party stood beneath an arch of evergreen, interspersed with wild red berries. The bride was beautifully dressed in white georgette and wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms. She carried a cluster of cosmos. The room was filled with relatives and guests, who held the bride and groom in high esteem and wish them a long happy life. Rev. H. H. Hathaway, pastor on Swan's Island, officiated, using the single ring service.

At the close of the wedding service a delegation from Old Harbor, with the help of some of the Atlantic friends, gave the couple a good send-off with a set of silver knife and forks. Many useful presents were given by other friends, including silver and a dinner set. Ice cream, cake and lemonade were served. The bride and groom are both graduates of Rockland High School, where several of the Swan's Island girls find their sweethearts. Mr. and Mrs. Rising left early the next morning for Portland for a short visit, after which they will return to Rockland, where they will make their home.

THOMAS-MOODY

An attractive autumn wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, when Shirley H. Moody and Herbert K. Thomas were united in marriage by Rev. B. P. Browne at their home in Warren. The double ring service was used. The couple were attended by Miss Doris Moody and Percy Moody of Nobleboro, cousins of the bride. The bride was becomingly dressed in white net, trimmed with white satin, while the bridesmaid was clad in pink georgette. The marriage was performed under an arch of yellow and white chrysanthemums, from which was suspending a white wedding bell. The house was attractively decorated with bouquets of red berries and pine and white dahlias.

The couple were the recipients of very many useful and pretty presents, including silver, cut glass, money, and electrical appliances. After light refreshments were served, the couple left by automobile amid a shower of confetti and much hilarity. They will be at home to their friends at their home on Montgomery street after Oct. 17.

DORMAN-WEST

Wilmer J. Dorman and Sara Edith West, both well known and popular residents of Belfast, were married at noon Oct. 1, in Boston at the New Old South (Congregational) church by the pastor, Rev. Albert Dunning, D. D. They are now on a trip to Quebec, Montreal and other places of interest and will be in Belfast by the middle of the month. They will then be at home in their attractive residence, formerly the Woodcock house on Church street, which they have renovated and handsomely furnished with many antiques. Mrs. Dorman resigned as secretary to the postmaster in Boston to prepare for her marriage. Mr. Dorman resigned as treasurer of the Belfast Savings Bank and is now connected with the local shoe factory. A large number of friends extend congratulations and best wishes.—Belfast Journal.

"Earth-Light"

In studying the amount of light in the sky on a starlit night, one scientist has reached the interesting conclusion that the luminosity of the sky is caused partly by direct starlight and partly by some other source of light. This latter he proposes to call "earthlight," and he suggests that it may be due to a permanent aurora attending the earth. The light is variable, not only on different nights, but at different hours of the same night. He has found it to be from seven to fifteen times the amount of moon starlight, but it is believed that this ratio is exceptional, and does not prevail everywhere. Some observations indicate that the light had its origin close to the surface of the earth. It has been suggested that it may have a similar origin to that of the light emitted by the coma of a comet.

Worth Less Than a Cent.

Most persons do not know that Uncle Sam coins farthings, but he does, and millions of them. They represent half a cent. Oddly enough, while made of exactly the same material as the bronze cent—95 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin and zinc—they are much larger than the cent piece. The latter weighs 48 grains, the farthing 80 grains. All the farthings, however, are made for circulation, not in this country, where they are not acceptable as money, but in the "Philippines." They are called "centavos," and the reason they are of a bigger size than the cent piece is to be found in the fact that the Philippines are accustomed to good-sized coppers and like them better.

Do You Do It? If So, Why?

Ever see a man arise to leave a street car, then turn around and carefully feel all his pockets and give a final glance toward his seat so see that he has not dropped anything there? That is the sign of either a careful or an experienced man. Many street car riders never leave a seat without carefully examining the spot where they had been sitting. Some do it because the habit has grown on them. Then there is another class of travelers who always do it. They are the ones who remember a sad experience when they left some valuable belonging in a train and never recovered it; or when a purchase for the wife had been left on the seat.—New York Sun.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mrs. Lizzie Merchant and Ethelyn Stevens of Thomaston and Capt. John Meservy of Providence, R. I., were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt, Jr., following which the party rode through Martinsville, Port Clyde and Glenmere, enjoying the beauties of the fall season.

Watermelon Is Native of Africa.

Although scientists disagree on its early history, most historians are of the opinion that the American watermelon began life in Africa way back before Columbus found us. And they further go on to say that it is highly probable that the fruit came over as a stowaway, perhaps only some fugitive seeds, the only possession of some savage black man captured by slavers and chained down in the hold of a vessel for the voyage to the New World. The watermelon was a wild, untutored thing in its native land. Two hundred thousand acres of land are devoted to growing the fruit in this country, mostly in Texas, Georgia and Missouri. Next after the United States, Russia has been most addicted to devouring watermelons.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Mrs. Lizette Rollins is in Portland for the week. While there she will attend the Festival.

The death of Elisha C. Calderwood occurred at his home Friday afternoon. Dearest sympathy is being extended to the bereaved family.

The people of our town who are not church inclined are missing some very good sermons, which are being given by our pastor, Rev. H. R. Winchester. Come once and you will come again, many times, we feel sure. Last Sunday's subject, "The Eventide of Life," was one of the best he has given and we feel safe in saying that some of the thoughts throughout in that discourse will long remain with us.

Joshua Thorndike expects to leave for St. Petersburg, Fla., the 17th of this month.

Mrs. Richard Hodsdon, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Green, recuperating after a long and serious illness, returned to her home in Lynn, Mass., Friday night.

Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Tibbetts, accompanied by Mrs. Cora Whitman, who has been their guest, have motored to Portland for the Maine Music Festival.

THREE-PIECE SUITS

Much In Evidence Among Fall and Winter Models Displayed in New York.

In the collection of fall and winter models shown by the New York importers and dressmakers' supply houses, interest was centered in the variety of trimmings, lengths of skirts and cut of sleeves. Practically all types of gowns were exhibited, including cloth, silk, velvet, lace and chiffon for street, afternoon and evening wear.

Three-piece suits were much in evidence as were coat dresses, while two-piece suits and coats were noticeably in the background. Prominence given to dresses in the collection is attributed to the fact that the houses exhibiting cater to the high-class dressmaking trade and these types of costumes are better adapted to their needs than are suits or tailored costumes.

Variety was featured in the three-piece suits in both materials and design. For instance, a model of Callot rouge and black Georgette mounted over black Georgette satin favored the seven-eighths length coat. The bodice of the model was straight and long-waisted with skirt part made circular and flaring from the hips. A deep shawl collar of flying squirrel added richness to the costume.

A unique method of trimming was introduced in the bodice and sleeves of the dress of this costume. It was of one-quarter inch picot edged black and silver ribbon sewed on in a zigzag design and large scroll motifs which from a distance give the impression of embroidery. The Callot rouge Georgette was set in strips running over the shoulder and down the length of the sleeve with this ribbon as a connecting trimming to the body of the garment which was black.

In striking contrast to the long graceful lines of the Georgette model was a three-piece suit by Patou of blue Poiret twill. In this creation a short flaring jacket and straight narrow skirt were the dominating features. The fullness of the coat was accentuated in the method of trimming, which was developed in small cross-stitch squares of red wool with a center of black radiating in two-inch stripes from the collar to the hem. The hem of the straight narrow skirt of this costume was slashed and bound with a narrow band of red Georgette.

Still another variation of the three-piece suit was noted in a Lanvin model of gray broadcloth with the coat in straight line effect and hip length.

A wide, loose panel was draped into a wide belt at the back, while at the front a diagonal opening ran from a high standing collar of fur to a brilliant buckle of steel at the left side.—Dry Goods Economist.

The Cow That Starved in Clover

A certain cow, though pastured in bountiful meadows, was attracted by the more tempting appearance of distant fields. Shunning the abundance at hand, she wandered afar, always finding the new spots less appetizing and less plentiful, and always leaving them untasted for the new fields inviting her on.

Growing hunger only spurred her on until finally, exhausted by it, she fell to the sands of a desert whence she never again arose.

People who shun the stores at home because of the allurements of those in larger towns often find themselves getting less than they expected. Get in the habit of seeing your local dealer first. If he hasn't what you want, he will gladly get it. You'll be helping him to serve you better by helping him to make it pay.

THE OLD CEMETERIES

They Require Constant Care Less They Fall Into Neglect

Editor of the Courier-Gazette:—

There are hundreds of old neglected cemeteries scattered throughout Maine, some with a great many graves, some with only one lone grave.

In the town of Liberty, on the highway road leading from South Liberty to the village, near the residence of Horace Nash, is one of these very old yards. In this neighborhood three-quarters of a century ago lived many prosperous farmers who took pride in this then-called Cargill Cemetery, later changed to the Moody Cemetery. The names of Cargill, Moody, Light, Lemond, Overlock and Brown were among the number who composed this prosperous, God-fearing, law-abiding, unselfish and happy people; but as the years came and went these families dwindled down or became extinct, many moving to other towns or States, until today but a very few of the grand old families remain.

As a result, the old cemetery, where sleep many of these noble dead, has become almost forsaken and sadly neglected. On my first visit I noticed it was almost hidden from view by bushes and trees. Many of the headstones had fallen down and some of them were broken. I stood for a few moments buried in thought, for I knew much of the past history of these people. I pictured the scenes of other days, when a large company of people gathered there to deposit their dead—it might be an old and influential man, a Godly mother, or perhaps a dear little babe who left behind it broken hearts—and now all forgotten.

I noticed one stone more than a hundred years old; also the little mounds, some without a marker, save a stone from the fields, to show that a human being slept there.

This fall I visited the place again. Through the earnest efforts of Seth T. Overlock of South Liberty, a few people had gathered and cut the brush and grass and righted up some of the stones, which made a great change for the better, but there is a large amount of work that yet should be done to honor these noble dead, by further clearing up the yard, resetting the broken stones, grading in places and other much-needed work. Mr. Overlock was assisted in this worthy undertaking by Frank and Llewellyn Brown, all three giving their services. Two others were hired to work by relatives who could not be present. Any of these lots could be put in shape for a very small amount of money, thus honoring the memory of those buried there—more than flowers at the funeral, or money sent to the Near East Relief or the Chinese Famine Fund; and many like benevolences that are daily calling for our consideration.

Tuesday evening a few gathered at the home of Mr. Overlock and perfected an organization to systematically care for this hallowed old spot. Efforts are being made to raise a small amount of money for further improvements. The officers chosen were, Albert F. Light, president, address Liberty, R. F. D.; Frank Brown, vice president, Liberty R. F. D.; Seth T. Overlock, secretary and treasurer, Liberty R. F. D., to whom communications and remittances should be sent.

Perhaps some, interested in the welfare of the town, and especially in this old cemetery, may chance to read these lines. They are invited to communicate with the secretary, who will gladly reply to inquiries. He will also see that instructions sent him are carried out as closely as possible, and expend judiciously any money entrusted to his care for making needed repairs in the cemetery.

Non-Resident.

WARREN

Mrs. Charles Achorn, Mrs. Wilbur Cross and Master William Cross of Rockland were at Lester Dolham's Tuesday.

The Sisters of Crescent Temple are requested to be present at the next regular meeting Oct. 14.

The Circle of the Congregational church will hold their regular supper at the church parlors Oct. 13. The housekeepers are: Edna Boggs, Iva McKellar, Martha Spear and Hattie Hahn.

Tom Mathews and family called on Miss Rilla Piper in Thomaston Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Spear, Mrs. Rhines and Al. Spear were in town over Sunday to attend the funeral of their sister.

The second annual Progressive Teachers' Meeting was held at the village schools last Friday. The rural teachers met at the Malcolm Corner Primary school at 8.30 where they stayed until 9.45. All of the work was interesting especially the postoffice conducted by the first grade, the dramatizing by the second, the examples worked and explained as the work was being done by the third grade, and the socialized recitation in reading conducted by the fourth grade. The teachers next went to the Grammar School where a second profitable hour was spent. The eighth grade was talking of bills and discounts and explained examples that had been worked on the boards, the seventh grade history, told interestingly of our early colonies, the eighth grade geography talked on Europe, and the seventh grade read from Turkington's "My Country" illustrating the meaning of some of the words which were new to them. The last hour in the morning the Intermediate School was visited. Both the fifth and sixth grades were reciting and studying "The Chambered Nautilus" by Holmes.

The sixth grade travelled over the New England and Central States, a journey which was enjoyed by teachers and pupils. The last ten minutes was devoted to a writing lesson. At one o'clock the teachers met at the Hinckley Corner Primary School. Here the Story telling and Bus' work of the first grade and the stories and poems of the second grade were especially interesting as was also the socialized recitation in the third grade geography, and the fourth grade in general and local geography. The next meeting will be held early in November at Oyster River school where each of the experienced teachers will teach some of the recitations, dividing the work of the day or half day whichever is arranged. This plan was recently carried out with success at a meeting held at Hawes school, Union.
