Subscription $3.00 per year payable in advance; single copies three cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable. Communications upon topics of general interest are solicited. Entered at the postoffice in Rockland for circulation at second-class postal rates.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear.—Socrates.

If there is a subject above all others that Knox county women would like to hear an address upon just now, it is Disarmament and World Peace Agreements. This is the topic upon which ex-Congressman Frank E. Guernsey of Dover has chosen for his address before the Woman's Educational Club next Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. As announced in a telegram just received from him, Mr. Guernsey is especially interested in this topic, as he is a candidate to displace Senator Hale in the body which must ratify all treaties. Members are urged to be present and ask questions relative to the rejected League of Nations.

Rockland Lodge of Perfection has a meeting tomorrow afternoon and evening. The candidates are to meet the secretary in the Armory at 4 p. m. At 4:30 there will be a business meeting, with balloting upon applications. At 5 p. m. the grade of Provost and Judge will be conferred and at 7:30 the grade of Grand Elect and Sublime Mason will be conferred. An Eastern Star banquet is to be served at 6:30.

Knox County Business Houses Who Did the Square Thing By the Soldiers.

The following communication from the Adjutant General's office has been received, dated at Augusta, Dec. 9: Editor of The Courier-Gazette: In reply to your letter of Dec. 8th, concerning the names of Knox county business houses which gave men belonging to the National Guard in their employ leaves of absence with pay during this year's National Guard encampments, the following is a list of such concerns:

Carleton-Pascal Co., Camden.
Camden Woolen Co., Camden.
Knox Woolen Co., Camden.
J. H. Dillingham, Camden.
Penobscot Woolen Co., Camden.
Camden & Rockland Water Co., Rockland.
Central Maine Power Co., Rockland.
Fuller-Cobb-Davis, Rockland.
Rockland & Rockport Lime Corp., Rockland.

Fred R. Spear, Rockland.
Sea Products Co., Rockland.

While Knox county in area is one of the smallest in the State, in the military sense it is the largest one of our sixteen counties. With National Guard organizations at Rockland, Thomaston, Camden and Vinalhaven, the number of men in the military service of the State exceeds that of any other county. This is very commendable, showing and proving the fact that the people of your section of the State are wide awake, patriotic and alive to their responsibilities as citizens.

The attitude of the above named business houses during the past year has been of great assistance in building up the National Guard here in Maine. Letters of appreciation have been sent out from this office to all such concerns. I might add that out of the 57 different industries throughout the State which paid their employees belonging to the National Guard during periods of this year's encampments, 11 or about twenty per cent. of such industries, are located in Knox county.

This office deeply appreciates your interest and the stand you are taking in getting behind and boosting the National Guard. May we ask for still further cooperation from you.

John A. Hadley.
The letter of appreciation to which General Hadley alludes, a copy of which has been received by each of the above-named business houses of Knox county, reads as follows:

Gentlemen:—On behalf of the National Guard of this State I wish to express to you sincere appreciation for the most commendable and patriotic action on the part of your company in granting men in your employ who are members of the National Guard leaves of absence with pay during the periods of this year's National Guard encampments.

The National Guard needs just such encouragement as has been given by your company. Your action proves that you are alive to the fact that preparation against war in time of peace is as necessary as is preparation for war when the emergency comes and your attitude in this matter goes to show that you appreciate the great efforts of National Guardsmen who are alive to their responsibilities and seriously conscious of their positions in the military system of our Country. It is the duty of every man who is physically fit to prepare himself for his military duties as a citizen of this great Nation. The National Guard offers him this opportunity. By our Constitution this Nation places its faith for our common defense in the Militia. Our recent experience places it in all classes of our citizens except the slacker. We cannot all belong to the National Guard but those of us who cannot become members of the organization can be of tremendous assistance in aiding to build up this great force of citizen soldiers who are training themselves in time of peace to take their places in the first line of the Nation's defense when the emergency comes.

The action of your company during the past summer has been of great assistance in building up the Guard here in Maine. May we ask that you continue to support us in the same loyal spirit.

Again thanking you and assuring you that your action bears the appreciation of the Militia Bureau at Washington as well as this office, I am, Very respectfully yours,
John A. Hadley,
The Adjutant General.

THE ELEPHANT PRANCED

Republicans Made Clean Sweep In Bangor, Westbrook and Eastport Elections Monday.

In the first city election under the amended charter, changing the date from March to December, Bangor Republicans Monday elected their candidates for mayor, Albert R. Day, and carried four of the seven wards on the council ticket, insuring control of both branches of the city council. The vote for mayor was: Day, Republican, 3159; Marcellus E. Strout, Democrat, 1479. In wards two and seven the contest was very close, the Republican candidate for Alderman in ward seven, Miss Winifred Taylor, running within 56 votes of the winning Democrat, Alderman John H. Magee. The weather was fine, and women voted in unexpected numbers.

Walkover In Westbrook
Westbrook Republicans elected all their candidates at the municipal election with exception of two of the thirteen aldermen. Ward 4, the Democratic stronghold, elected two Democrats, but the three Republican candidates for aldermen at large carried the ward. John Lawrence, Republican, was re-elected mayor by a plurality of 1076, the largest ever given a candidate for mayor in this city. He received 1805 votes to 729 for Edwin L. Brown, Democrat. Wade L. Bridgman, Republican candidate for city clerk, was elected by about 400 plurality in a three cornered contest. Alexander G. Wilson, Democrat and incumbent running independently after being refused a renomination by his party.

Unopposed In Eastport
Fred B. Spear, Republican, was elected mayor of Eastport without opposition, to fill the vacancy caused by the death last month of Mayor John N. Henward. He has been president of the council for the last year.

DAMON FAMILY LONGEVITY

Half Sister of Rockland Dentist Dies In 105th Year—His Father Was Nearly As Old.

Over in Oxford county they live to a ripe old age, if one is to judge from the career of the Ezekiel Damon family, which now, however, has but one descendant—Dr. J. H. Damon, the well known Rockland dentist, who is a son by a second marriage, and who has many more years to spend on earth if he follows the pathway that his forebears have trod.

Attention to the remarkable family was again directed recently by the death in South Paris of Mrs. Diantha Fuller, who was a daughter of Ezekiel Damon by the first marriage, and upon whose tombstone will be inscribed the fact that she lived to be 104 years, 3 months and 2 days old. It is believed that she was the oldest woman in the State.

Ezekiel Damon was born in 1792, according to the most authentic record the family was able to obtain, and was 104 years old when death claimed him in 1896. His father lived to be nearly 98 years old and his mother 97. All of his four brothers were past 90 when they died, and one sister was nearly 100.

Ezekiel Damon became the father of eight children by his first marriage, and four by his second.

If there is another family in Maine or for that matter in New England, which can claim a similar record The Courier-Gazette would be interested to know about it.

Talk of the Town

Knox county has 45 students at the University of Maine this winter.

The Rockland Coal Co. is harvesting 8-inch ice on Chikawaunkie Lake this week.

King Hiram Council has its first meeting of the year Friday, Jan. 6, and will start the ball right with a large class of candidates.

Miss E. F. Roberts of Vinalhaven has just issued another edition of her Scripture Rolls, and is ready to take orders for Christmas delivery.

Charles M. Richardson will soon occupy the house on Masonic street to be vacated by E. S. Levensaler, who moves to the J. Fred Knight house on Broad street.

Postmaster Blotchen's Christmas mail handling plans contemplate a special delivery of Christmas packages on Saturday night, the 24th so that gifts may not remain in the office until the holiday has passed. Thoughtful man, G. H. B.

Fred Keating, who is employed at the Lime Company's Gregory shed, stepped on a small piece of lime at the head of the stairs the other day and rolled to the bottom without being injured. All of which would seem to qualify him for a position on the roller polo team.

The Knox Electrics with a non-skid lineup will try conclusions with the husky Limerock Tigers at the Arcade tonight. Next Monday night's game will be between the Snowbirds and Texaco Stars. The Snowbirds will have been on the roost for about 10 days and ought to be in prime condition to stop McLoon's Texacos.

Frank H. Ingraham has begun proceedings for the pardon of Frank P. Parks, who is serving a life sentence at the State Prison for murder committed in York county in 1899. The pardon petition will be placed before the Executive Council at the meeting Jan. 3, when a date for hearing will be assigned.

Operation of the Farrand quarry, head of Limerock street began recently with an entire new crew. Charles Mackey is foreman, the crew being Louie of No. 1, Alfred "Chapman" Chapman, Frank Ames, Charles Winslow, A. A. Haskell, and George Page. Allie Chapman is doing the hoisting and John Mills is dump man. This quarry is now known as Crockett No. 2.

The Rockland High school basketball team will oppose Morse High in the opening game of the season at Bath Saturday night. Judging from the Bath Times' report there will be a big crowd on hand. That paper says: "To get the Rockland team here a big guarantee of expenses had to be made for the Rockland boys will have to stay here over night and the Morse management wants every follower of the game to attend Friday night."

Noting the appointment of Fred E. Ellis as probation officer for Waldo county, a Belfast correspondent who is too far behind the times to ever catch up says that with the exception of Knox every county in the State now has such an official. For the benefit of the unenlightened Belfast scribbles we will say that Alvah B. Clark is Knox county's probation officer—one of the first to be appointed in the State and one of the best.

Frank J. Ham, former warden of the State Prison, and now collector of internal revenue for the District of Maine has the sympathy of his many Knox county friends in the death of his mother, Mrs. Narcissa S. Ham, who died at Belgrade Lakes, Monday, at the age of 92 years. She had been confined to her bed one year. The deceased was a granddaughter of Moses Austin, who was a Revolutionary soldier of English ancestry. Her father, Nahum Austin, served against England in the War of 1812.

The Wight Company always plans to have something interesting in its display window, but just now the attention is monopolized by a majestic candle which stands 3 1/2 feet tall, is 2 1/2 inches in diameter and weighs 10 pounds. It was manufactured in Indiana, and will meet its fate next week when Proprietor Wight will touch a lighted match to the wick. How long will the candle burn? That's a question which is arousing a good deal of speculation, and everybody is entitled to a guess, providing they take advantage of their opportunity before the store closes Saturday night. The illumination will begin Monday night.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Whatever your occupation may be and how ever crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.

—Charles Elliot Norton.

THE CHERRY-TREE CAROL
As Joseph was a-walking,
He heard an angel sing,
"This night shall be the birth-time
Of Christ, the heavenly King."
"He neither shall be born
In house nor in hall,
Nor in the place of paradise,
But in an ox's stall."
"He neither shall be clothed
In purple nor in pall,
But in the fair white linen
That usen babies all."
"He neither shall be rocked
In silver nor in gold,
But in a wooden manger
That resteth on the mould."
As Joseph was a-walking,
There did an angel sing,
And Mary's child at midnight
Was born to be our King.
Then be ye glad, good people,
This night of all the year,
And light ye up your candles,
For his star it shineth clear.
—Old English.

INSIDE YOUR WATCH

WRIST WATCHES, $12.00 to $80.00, PLUS TAX

When you select your watch shall you examine the movement as closely as you do the case? Probably not. For most people select a watch for its appearance, and leave the rest to our recommendation and the reputation of the make chosen.

When we select a watch we judge it by the movement as well as by its appearance. Through long experience we know when a timepiece has had its ninety odd parts adjusted with that painstaking care which marks good workmanship.

Many people wonder why it is necessary to have a watch adjusted after they purchase it. The mechanism is so complicated that it is susceptible to heat or cold, to a change in the position in which it is carried, in short, to any change in its mode of living.

You can be the judge of the outside of your watch. Let us be the judge of what is inside your watch.

We are sorry for Boston that it should, come so close to winning its election in the name of good government, to lose in the end by the narrow margin of 2700 votes. Apparently the element that stood behind the striking policeman continues in the ascendant. We believe the adherents of good government in Boston greatly outnumber the forces on the other side, but the latter know what they want; they get together and go out for it.

There is a great wealth of matter that falls to be read at this time, helpful to the creation of what we come to regard as the Christmas feeling, but The Courier-Gazette knows of nothing in all the range of it more worth attention than the writings of Charles Dickens. The whole series of his Christmas stories is worthy of consideration, but in particular we like to recommend the best of all that immortal series, "A Christmas Carol," and those glorious chapters in "Pickwick Papers"—the greatest book of humor the world has ever known—recounting the Christmas festivities at Manor Farm.

SNOW BUSY FOLKS

What's Doing At the South Railway—Whereabouts of Snow Fleet.

A busy corner of Rockland these days is the South Marine Railway. The steamer May Archer is there for a thorough overhauling to hull, machinery and boiler, and incidentally is being dolled up with paint. The steamer Betsey Ross will spend a couple more weeks in the yard. Her hull has been thoroughly overhauled, and a similar turn is being done to the boiler and machinery. The lumber-laden schooner, Rebecca G. Whildin, Bangor for New York, is having a new windlass installed, together with a gasoline engine for hoisting sails and anchor.

The electric mill is running full blast in an endeavor to keep abreast of the business which is cut out for it with the many logs that the farmers and builders are bringing along; and by the same token the machine shop and boiler shop are kept busy with work accumulating from the Lime-rock Railroad and steamers.
Schooner Lavinia M. Snow is due in New York from Nantucket, where she discharged coal, and will load coal again, with Cape Jellison, as her next destination. Thence she comes to Rockland, Capt. Strout will then come ashore for the winter, and Capt. A. Anderson will replace him as master.
Schooner William Bisbee, Capt. Walter E. Hutchinson, is due in Jacksonville, with cement from New York.

After discharging she will load dry cypress at Palatka for Stamford, Conn., or other sound port. Similar cargoes will be taken on at Palatka by schooner Helvetia, Capt. Thomas, which is due at Jacksonville, light, from Boston; and Wawenock, Capt. A. B. Outhouse, which is due in Jacksonville, from Philadelphia, with coal. The Helvetia will load for New York and the Wawenock for Boston.

THE BOSTON ELECTION

Former Mayor James M. Curley was elected Mayor of Boston Tuesday by a plurality of 2,315 votes over John R. Murphy, former fire commissioner, in one of the closest mayoralty contests in the history of the city. The other two candidates ran far behind. The vote was: Curley, 73,869; Murphy, 71,554; Charles S. Baxter, 4,243; Charles S. O'Connor 10,812.

Checker players are having their inning at the "Steamship Athletic," and new stars are being developed every day.

The Security Trust Co. is turning into Christmas trade channels this week $46,627, which represents the savings of more than 960 members of the last Christmas Club. This is a trifling sum when the accumulations of the 1920

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows conferred the first degree upon William R. Lufkin Monday. Further nominations of officers will be in order at the next meeting and the election will take place the 26th.

Rather than pay a fine of $20 for neglecting his drill duties, a member of 3d Company, C. A. C. of Camden is serving a sentence of ten days in the Knox county jail. "I hate to turn the key on that uniform," remarked Turnkey Rokes. "I don't know any easier way that I can earn $20," was the calm reply.

The top of a vulcanizer in the workroom of Dr. R. W. Bickford's dental parlors blew off Tuesday afternoon, and passed through the steel ceiling into the room above. The only person in the room at the time was Dr. F. E. Follett, who adopted the pompadour style of hair-cut until the scare left.

The North Haven girls' basketball team, which plays the Rockland High girls in Kimball hall Friday night, is making its first appearance in a regular game, but has done much practicing and is said to be a speedy sextette. The Freshmen and Sophomore boys' teams of Rockland High School will appear in the double bill.

The Rockland man who kept a jar of guava jelly 30 years, or so, has nothing on E. B. Hastings, the dry goods merchant, in whose store sale still reposes two slices of wedding cake which were given out more than 40 years ago when two of his clerks were married.

Thus far there is nothing to indicate that there will be a food fair this winter. The Methodist Church is planning however an unique exhibition to last two days, and with continuous entertainment. This will take place next month.

The Hob Nob Masquerade Ball held at Camden opera house last Friday night was a very successful affair. The hall was decorated very artistically. Balloons, serpentine and confetti helped to make the ball a success. Miss Gladys Donlan, stenographer for A. C. McLeon & Co., won the prize for having the prettiest costume. It was a butterfly gown and was of her own design and making. It was the largest ball held in Knox county this winter and at 12 o'clock everyone went home well satisfied.

Miss Harvey's class in dancing opened very satisfactorily last week. The two aesthetic classes under the direction of Miss Rausser are given at the Copper Kettle Porch, and later two separate classes for High and Grammar school pupils will also be held. The Temple hall classes meet Thursday afternoons.

W. W. Morse, resident vice president of the Eastern Casualty Insurance Co. was in the city from Portland yesterday in consultation with "Challenger" Dow. He was accompanied by Mr. Peyton of the staff.

John J. Perry's trip to Naples on the steamship Colombo is being made unexpectedly pleasant by the fact that his stateroom is being shared by another young man who has been assigned to consular service in Egypt and who will be his traveling companion practically the entire distance, as he goes to Cairo. A radio message from Mr. Perry on the day after the steamship left New York told of a smooth voyage during the first 24 hours.

Canton Lafayette, P. M., I. O. O. F., has elected these officers: Captain, H. L. Stevens; lieutenant, A. E. Spear; ensign, Alfred S. Berry; clerk, Luke S. Davis; accountant, O. B. Lovejoy. The Canton has gained 20 per cent in membership the past year, and is planning to have a military ball in January, with Canton Molyneux of Camden as special guest.—Luke S. Collins, Mrs. Orrin Sweetland of North Reading, Mass. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson of Cribhaven. Obituary deferred.

The Chapter has another special meeting tonight for work on the Past and Most Excellent degrees.

Christmas Club but a better showing when the prevailing conditions are taken into account. The distribution affects all classes of trade, and a considerable portion of it finds a resting place in the city treasury in the form of tax payments and for the most part it is money which might otherwise have been frittered away with nothing substantial to show for it. In the seven years that the Christmas Club has been in existence nearly $275,000 has been saved. The majority of the members are enrolled in the new club which started Monday, and others will join the procession.

In its report of the State Grange session in Portland Tuesday's Press Herald says: "The Knox county delegation was promptly on hand, the most of its members having arrived in Portland on the noon train. The Sixth Grade, Tyler Building, had a busy week selling Christmas seals. The work appeared to be undertaken very willingly, and $17 was brought in from the sale of stamps. The largest number of stamps was sold by Richard Perry.

A beautiful calendar for 1922 has been received from Mrs. L. Wilbur Messer of Chicago, who is interested in the work of Grade 8-C. Mrs. Messer has already given each pupil of this grade a copy of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," which were used in the Armistice Day program. A letter of thanks from this grade was written by Gertrude Aylward.

There has been but one half day's absence during the week in Grade 3, Tyler School.

One of the boys from Grade 1, Tyler building upon seeing the janitor in Woolworth's, remarked to his mother: "That boy goes to my school."

Mrs. William Bird has been substituting in Grade II, McLain, the past week during the absence of the regular teacher, Miss Carey.

In the arithmetic drill and review in Grade 8-A Friday, the boys led, having attained first place three times out of four.

This afternoon Grade 8-C will have an exhibition of historical posters, essays will be read and Christmas carols sung. Parents and friends are invited.

In the last arithmetic test Grade 8-C had fifteen 100's for which the successful pupils received 50 extra credits.

The room of Grade 8-C has a very festive and holiday appearance. The Christmas idea is carried out in decorations of evergreens, bells, blackboard drawings in color, etc.

The pupils who have done the best in Spelling in Grade 8-C this term are Thelma Titus, Sheldon Gray, Bessie Brown, Lockhart Curry, Clara McNurey, Charles Demmons, Everett Thompson and Frederica Sylvester.

Grade 8-A is learning a rousing class rally song for which Lucille Hodgkins is playing the accompaniment.

For the historic and geographic setting of the Christmas story, the pupils in Grade VI, McLain, are studying ancient Palestine. They are also comparing it with Palestine of today.

On stormy days the pupils at Benner Hill are having hot chocolate served for their noon lunch by their teacher, Mrs. Packard. Pupils act as housekeepers.

Grade 8-A is reading Dickens' Christmas Carol in place of their regular reading work. The class especially enjoyed the Victrola records from this story which were loaned by William Wood.

Geography work on Asia has begun in Grade 8-A, and the class is taking up the study of that continent with much interest. China is to be the special subject for the first month. The pictures on China given by Miss Bartlett, city librarian have helped the grade to visualize plainly the country which they are to study.

Myrtle Grover, Evelyn Simmons, Mildred Carver, Kathleen Seavey, Edna McCartney, Warren Davis, Leo Winchenbach, Francis Jackson, Donald Annis and Benjamin Lindsey, pupils of Grade Three, Tyler School, have had perfect spelling papers for the past week.

McLain School sold $130 worth of Christmas seals in the recent drive. Miss Thorndike's room led in this effort, selling more than one-third of the total amount. The largest individual sales were made by Cedric French, 802 stamps; Francis Orne, 400; Phyllis Dyer, 400.

other children to enjoy? A new shelf has been added to the book-case which will accommodate any number of books.

A reading list for Christmas has been given to Grade VI, McLain. It is the desire of the teacher that wholesome, purposeful reading will be the result. The class extends its appreciation to the efficient librarian, Miss Bartlett and her workers who have made it possible for the boys and girls to get much good material.

The following pupils from Grade 1, Tyler, have had correct number papers for two weeks: Marjory Kellar, Virginia Carver, Shirley Barbour, Leander Thomas, Alice Gay, Lyra Cook, Elizabeth Moon, Myra Simmons, Herbert Pendleton, Sherman Rubenstein and Ernestine Simmons.

The youngest children at McLain school are very sure that if Santa Claus could just come into the school room and see the nice pictures they have made of him, that he would bring them anything they could ask for. They have also brought many nice things for the children who do not have many presents, and are very anxious that they should have a lot of them. Of course Santa Claus is the most talked of person just now, one pupil being quite sure that he lived on the same island with him. The children are much worried for fear it will snow so hard that he won't get through the drifts, but another said he could come in his airship, so that they felt a little less anxious then.

John Clancy of Rockport, who recently served 30 days in the Knox county jail for intoxication, is now taking a 90 days' post-graduate course there, for the same offense.

WARREN School Notes.—The results of Education Week surpassed all expectations. Two hundred forty-eight visitors were welcomed at our schools. Malcolm Corner had the highest number, 53. Dorothy Jones secured the greatest number in visiting. Other pupils whose efforts in securing visitors worthy of special mention are: Parker Starrett, Middlebrook, Barrett, Clark and Arthur Anderson, Bigland, and Donald Mank, Libby School. One of the posters by Ann Leino, High School Senior, well illustrates the attitude of the pupils during the week. Other posters displayed about town were made by pupils of the Grammar and Intermediate schools. Their attractiveness caused unusual attention and brought forth much favorable comment. Grade and rural schools closed Friday for three weeks. High school will close Dec. 16 for two weeks.

Grammar School Notes.—Martha Connell, Ellen Stoddard, William Stickney, Bennie Harding, and Charles Dohman, were not absent during the term of four weeks. We hope our music teacher, Miss Dorothy Whitney of Thomaston will continue to visit us every week for the remainder of the year. We not only enjoy her work now but we realize that we can in the future receive much enjoyment from knowing something of music and the selections we are learning.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Fred Allen has gone to Lowell, Mass., for the winter, where he has employment.

The church fair, supper and entertainment held last Thursday afternoon and evening in Grange hall was successful in every way and a fairly good sum of money was realized considering the season and stagnant business conditions. The supper and entertainment were especially pleasing and the village has splendid musical possibilities when once the musicians make the start and they should keep the ball rolling after what they gave us last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boddy and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. MacLachlan of Rockland entertained the hunting party of which they were members at dinner Sunday evening at their home on Pleasant street. A table groaning with the weight of good things was spread and the party left at a late hour very well pleased with their host and hostess. John McLoon was also one of the happy guests.

Mrs. Fred Clark spent the weekend in Camden.

Mrs. I. W. Morgan, Sr., received a box of beautiful hollyhock blossoms and roses last week. The gift was sent by Mrs. Lizzie Pearson, who is in St. Petersburg, Fla., with Joshua Thordike. The blossoms as well as the roses were in exceptionally good condition considering their long journey and the weather.

A village improvement supper and dance is to be given in Grange hall Friday night and it is hoped that a large number of the town needs are many things for which the town needs funds. The townspeople are very grateful to all outsiders who have so kindly attended these functions all along.

The people of the town were very sorry to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Clarence Shaw, who died Monday. Dearest of her life is extended to the bereaved family. Mrs. Shaw left a two weeks old daughter.

Forrest McNoe Chapter is to work the degrees on three candidates Monday evening. Refreshments are to be served following the work.

Stirling Harbour of Stonington, father of Mrs. I. Putnam, is in Knox hospital, where he is receiving surgical treatment.

ROCKVILLE

Someone has discovered that "Rockville is a new place," and has suggested that "we have electric lights." We do wish to improve our village and have the roads cared for before the summer months are ended. We have already received the assistance of the Public Works Department for our circulating library and if it is possible we would like to have electric lights. The majority of our people have already had to have their homes wired. There is an electric light within 1 1/2 miles of our doors, so "electric lights" doesn't sound impossible. We do not expect Rockville to be a second New York city but we can by friends and all work together for the improvement of our little village.

MT. PLEASANT VALLEY

R. U. Collins of Rockland brought a party Sunday to look over Mrs. J. E. Brewster's farm, which is in the New York city but we can by friends and all work together for the improvement of our little village.

Mr. Johnson will move his family and household goods this week. He will also operate his farm in Seabrook. Old friends and neighbors regret the change he is making, as the old farm he is leaving has been his home practically all his life, but all unite in wishing him good luck in his new venture.

The Calista D. Morrill has been put in preparation for winter. She has been sheathed at the water line and has had a ladies' cabin and toilet added. "All ready now" says the captain.

The suspicion is daily growing stronger in the minds of the lobstermen that the dealers put something over on them.

The hog crop is now maturing. Capt. Will Ames and Orren Burgess have each killed an "old humdinger".

The high cost of living, the high cost of everything that goes into a lobsterman's business; the severity and uncertainty of winter weather; the scarcity and low price of lobsters; the combination of the above circumstances are causing many men to take up their traps and enter the ranks of workers elsewhere employed.

Buddie says: "Whenever you feel inclined to start something, consider it well; make sure in your own mind whether you will be able to finish it yourself, or whether somebody else will finish it for you."

Togette Hill can claim many championships. One however will suffice, namely, BRAINS. Sharpen up your wits a little, old dear, and come again.

Geel! The "wireless" works "tic-tac" it said, "tic-tac" and sure enough, that's what it proved to be, a tic-tac machine. The game of shivering on the other end of it, down in the pasture. An ancient game is the game of tic-tac. Nearly all boys have engaged in it. It is essentially a game for "kids," not very often do "men" take a whirl at it. Well do I remember how we used to play it when I was a boy. For instance, we never chose a bright, moonlight night for it, so that people in the house could recognize us plainly. Neither did we try it on a cold night, and at shivering in the wind for half an hour or more while the people in the house were laughing at us. Next time use a little judgment, boys.

Little question for today: Knecker or Boos-ter?

In Social Circles

In addition to personal notes recording departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be gladly received.

Miss Mabel Chaples of Lake avenue is out again after being confined to the house with a very severe cold.

Act 1 of "Twelfth Night" was read and studied Monday night when the Shakespeare Society met with Mrs. J. Albert Jameson, North Main street. Mrs. Albert Hastings was leader. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Arthur L. Orne, Dec. 19.

The World Wide Guild of the Littlefield Memorial church will meet with Miss Celeste Bridges, 27 Spruce street, Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nash of Wal-doboro were recent guests of their son, Perley Nash, Court street.

Mrs. Lillian B. Mortland, who recently went to Jamaica for the winter, is located at present in Mandeville.

Mrs. Pearl Look entertained the Chummy Club at her home, 34 McLoud street, Tuesday afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Freeman Linden street.

Miss Helen Corbett, who has gone to New York to spend the holiday season with her brother, will return the first of the year to Roxbury, Mass., and assume the position of assistant superintendent in the hospital there.

The mite box opening of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, at the home of Mrs. W. O. Fuller yesterday afternoon, was a highly successful recurrence of that annual event. The program, of a literary and musical character, was grouped around the story of the Fellowship ship that lately sailed with its huge cargo of Christmas things for the poor of Europe. The afternoon concluded with tea.

Mrs. William C. Clements of Everett, Mass., who has been visiting her mother Mrs. Lillian Coombs, Warren-ton Park, has returned home.

Dr. Ruth McBeath and Betty McBeath are in Boston. They will return Saturday afternoon.

The Tarratines and Wawenocks, who figured so prominently in social affairs at the southern end of the city, are planning a Christmas pow-wow, which will take place at the home of Mrs. R. K. Snow, next Wednesday. In place of the time-honored Christmas tree the affair is to take the form of a Post Office party.

Those who heard Congressman Guernsey's address at the Glencove Social Center three years ago will not miss the chance to listen to him again at the Methodist vesty, 8.15, next Monday evening on "Disarmament," for they will recall him vividly as a speaker of unusual ability, clear, forceful, interesting. The Woman's Educational Club was delighted with Mrs. Nettie Stewart's reading recently, especially the selection in which Mrs. Stewart tries in vain to select a fashionable hat, trying on one by one, commenting on them in an irresistibly humorous manner.

"I am just rambling along on my way to Austin, Texas," writes Thomas Hawken from Washington, D. C., where he has been spending three days. "I left Boston last Thursday night at 10.45 and was in Philadelphia early next morning. I traveled over the Pennsylvania road, the great engine must have been hauling the long train a mile a minute. Today I put in seven solid hours in the new National Museum. Teddy Roosevelt's African animals mightily interested me."

SMALL-DOUCETTE

Alvin Eldridge Small of this city and Minnie Bernice Doucette of Rockport were united in marriage last evening at the First Baptist parsonage, Talbot Avenue, Rev. B. P. Browne officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Cates of this city. Mrs. Small has been employed by the Hastings Dry Goods Co. and Mr. Small until his recent return to Rockland, was proprietor of a cafe in Bath. The couple will reside at 10 Chestnut street, Rockland.

He was born in Islesboro, the son of the late Orris and Auzilia Coombs Clark. He was located here for several years in the grocery business, the past few in which his son Walter was associated with him. This business was sold recently to Arthur Colson, a former resident of Seaport. The deceased was a member of Amity Lodge, Keystone Chapter, Camden Commandery, Mt. Baldie Lodge, I. O. O. F., Seaside Chapter, O. E. S., and Malden Cliff Rebekah Lodge. He is survived by a wife and a son Walter to whom the deepest sympathy is extended. ### PARK THEATRE

Founded on the world-famous novel is the feature picture which Manager Packard offers for today and Friday. "The Sheikh" (pronounced sheek) took the big cities by storm, and will do the same with Rockland. Diana Mayo, a beautiful English girl, proud and haughty, decides to make a trip into the Sahara desert, despite the protests of her brother and friends. At Biskra, the Paris of the desert, she disguises herself as a slave girl and enters a gambling casino where Sheikh Ahmed, who is holding a fete, meets her. Learning that she is to go into the desert the next day, he bribes a guide and later she falls into his hands. The Sheikh is determined to bow her to his imperious will, but she rebels. He makes a slave of her and one day, while riding with an attendant, she attempts to escape. Her horse falls and breaks its leg and at this moment, Omair, a desert bandit sees and decides to abduct her. The Sheikh arrives at this juncture and takes Diana back to camp. When he hears of Omair's presence in the vicinity, he decides to send Diana back to Biskra. While Diana, the Paris of the desert, a friend of the Sheikh's, and a novelist, are riding in the desert, Omair swoops down upon them.

Dustin Farnum appears Saturday in "The Devil Within." The star has a powerful character to portray—and power it is that he displays. He is seen as a whiskey-crazed sea captain of a smuggling expedition who is apparently devoid of all feeling. His brutality brings him close to destruction, but he survives to repent his sins. After retiring from the sea he tries to live down his past. Years of sorrow and bereavement follow, and then, to his dearest earthly tie, his nephew, proves to be as brutal as the captain once had been. Sudden misfortune regenerates the nephew and brings peace to the aging captain.—adv.

THE PRATTLER

It seems that we are to write a column of something or other in the English language for every issue of The Courier-Gazette that we can possibly get it into. We say English, without meaning to imply that we could dash off a column in Chinese or Eskimo if we chose, for we can't. Our Chinese is a bit rusty and we have forgotten all we ever knew about the Eskimo tongue. A column in Eskimo might be a happy solution for any number of difficulties. We could say anything we wanted to and the chances would be pretty favorable for our getting away with it. We wouldn't even feel obliged to be interesting and could expatiate upon the latest quotations in whale blubber and walrus hide at whatever length we saw fit and no one would be the wiser. We surely must brush up on our Eskimo.

So this vagrant column is to be in English. That is absolutely the only guarantee that goes with it, for we haven't the faintest idea what we are going to write about. Of course, like every haberdasher that ever sold a pair of pajamas, or every hardware man that ever disposed of a wash tub, or in fact anybody that ever put anything over on the ever enduring public, "we strive to please."

Humor and pathos have forever been closely yoked and both qualities are to be met at every turn in every town by him who does not go through life with closed eyes. Charlie Chaplin can switch at will from his most clownish attitudes to that of an infinitely pathetic figure, and generally speaking, he who can see the humorous angle, can perceive the tender side as well. A man's sense of humor and his capacity for human sympathy are his most valued assets for a happy existence, and by catering to such we appreciate we have set before us a shining and a lofty goal.

Now do not think that we shall pretend to be consistently funny or lugubriously compassionate for three columns worth per week. It can't be done—at least not by us. We dislike those presumptive ones who feel themselves under the obligation, being born funny, to carry out their convictions of the world being naught but a long and delicious joke. It isn't, we think. For one thing it's no joke to pound off a column an issue, and to know it. It really must be a frightful sensation for one to feel that one must be funny. We are told that professional funny men are the most harassed and mournful creatures to live with on the face of the earth. Supposing the powers that be said to us every morning:

"Gwan out there and get funny!"

We are very thankful this isn't so. If we can chase along Main street and make you smile or bring a lump to your throats merely three times a week, then we have accomplished all we hoped to do, and by so doing we have enriched the week by just three smiles and three lumps. Besides that, we plan to slip over to Thomaston, Warren and Camden occasionally and if we find something there to write about we shall promptly do so. If you are pleased, then that is reward sufficient; and if you are not—well, it would require a whole column to tell you how sorry we'll be.

The editorial "we" has been used since time immemorial as a merciful cloak to conceal various glaring faults and poignant difficulties. "We" are going to use it for two reasons: because we do not like to talk about ourselves in capital "I's"; and because it may be harder to catch "us" along the street than "me," if we should happen to say something that somebody does not like. We're off, it seems, on a hodge-podge of anecdotes gleaned from "Main Street and Around."

We are relegated to a secluded nook in the back office, by a window which overlooks The Cove in all its wintry aspects. Five squads of gulls are in the midst of a spirited and clamorous skirmish over something that has been cast overboard. They are voracious things. One of them has separated and devoured two yards of something from the tangle and is now sitting back giving his friends the ha-ha. To all appearances, a string of tin cans would not faze the digestive system of a baby gull a particle. They apparently sense that they are being observed for occasionally one of them wheels by the window to view our humble effects with a bold, yellow eye. We rather think that the last one saw what we are writing about, for he gave us a kind of a dirty look when he went by.

While on the subject of The Cove, Adriel Bird told us something exemplifying the persistence and initiative of rats, which we inclined to be sceptical about, but subsequently visited the scene of operations and after verified most unusual circumstances. Rats, large enough to strike terror in the heart of a blood hound, apparently did not feel satisfied with the heating facilities of their wharf abode. So they began to burrow under the John Bird Co. plant and gnaw holes through a two-inch cement floor. About six holes did they gnaw, to Adriel's consternation, dragging up the dirt after them and placing it in neat piles beside the holes. Adriel filled up the holes with cement and ground glass, under the logical enough assumption that he had fixed the invaders for now, ever and always. They must have considered the ground glass a sort of crystallized dessert and the cement something new in cheese, for next morning they had come up through again. Thoroughly alarmed, Adriel poured a keg or so of rat poison down the holes and cemented them up again. In so far as we know this last expedient was perfectly satisfactory and the rats must rest content in their summer residence.

We dislike to devote too much space to rats, but we can't resist the one about the rat that charged five men in the rear of John Bird Co.'s. Adriel told this one also. One of the truckmen had wounded a rat which he found in the covering for his team. Being wounded the rat couldn't get away. One of a group of five men began to poke him with a stick amid many squeals of protest. Suddenly from somewhere appeared a chain lightning speed another rat, to champion its brother's cause. According to Adriel's account, the rat dashed straight at him, with fangs bared, turning from one to the other of the amazed group after being kicked all over the place. Finally the five of them managed to overcome their weird assailant. Further corroboration of the incident might be forthcoming from Bill Sansom.

What prompted Adriel to gather his surprising data on rats, is more than we know. He told several others, among them an account of a terrific battle between a mink and a rat down back of St. Clair & Allen's. Adriel ought to write a book and call it "Wild Wharf Rats I Have Known."

A Brand of Packaged Fresh Fish

So Clean, Sweet and Odorless that Your Grocer Sells It

ARE you one of the great number of women who would like to have fish for dinner tonight if you could be assured that it was of good quality, that it had been handled with the same care and cleanliness as the milk you drink, and that it was as fresh and as odorless as it was the minute it was caught? Wouldn't you like to buy fresh fish that didn't have to be scaled or scraped? Fish all prepared so that you didn't have to bother about cutting off tails and heads?

Fish all ready to pop into the frying pan, or broiler, or oven? Wouldn't fish as firm and sweet as when taken from the cold waters of the Atlantic appeal to you?

Well—from now on you can buy just the kind of fresh fish you've always wanted to buy.

It's CHILPAK—a new trademarked brand of packaged fresh ocean fish, so clean, so sweet, and so odorless that your grocer sells it.

WHAT CHILPAK IS

CHILPAK—appeals to you and to everyone who values cleanliness and up-to-date methods of handling food. Let us tell you about it.

Every day great glistening hordes of cod, haddock, hake, halibut, pollock and sole are brought to our extensive headquarters at Rockland, Maine, by our swift fleet of steam trawlers. Our Inspection Department selects only the choice, plump, firm fish.

Cleaned—Ready for You to Cook—The fish are cleaned, heads and tails removed in our light, sanitary dressing stations. Every precaution is taken to insure cleanliness.

Chilled—Not Frozen—The clean, inviting fish are then chilled, not frozen, in pure ocean water pumped in fresh from the sea, by our new CHILPAK process of definite temperatures. No chemicals or preservatives are used—simply cold salt water.

Packaged—Each fish is now wrapped in snowy white parchment paper and sealed by our trademark band. The fish are then packed in especially constructed boxes to even further insure for you the rich and delicious flavor and quality of fresh-caught ocean fish. No dirty hands or smelly boxes ever touch CHILPAK fish.

Delivered Without Delay—CHILPAK fresh fish are shipped daily from Rockland, Maine, by special express and delivered to your grocer in our own fleet of trucks. There is no delay. Your grocer always has a supply of fresh CHILPAK fish.

CHILPAK Fresh Fish are Guaranteed—Because of the quality of the fish selected, the scrupulous care with which they are packaged, your grocer guarantees the quality, the freshness and the cleanliness of every CHILPAK fish he sells.

Inexpensive—CHILPAK fish are no more expensive than fish handled in the ordinary way. You pay for heads, tails, fins, scales and entrails, a waste of 30%, when you buy less appetizing fish. With CHILPAK you pay for solid meat—no waste. The prices in the left-hand margin are standard at all progressive grocery stores listed below.

CHILPAK packaged fresh fish means fresh fish, cleaned fish, fish with all the tang of the sea in them, fish that don't smell up your icebox, cooking utensils and kitchen,—fish of known quality and guaranteed to give you absolute satisfaction. All the old methods of handling fish have been discarded. The CHILPAK method is the new, modern, sanitary, enlightened way of handling fish.

Place an order with your grocer EARLY tomorrow. You'll be mighty glad you tried it. One trial will convince you that CHILPAK is the only kind of fresh ocean fish to buy.
