NEW ESSENCE LAW

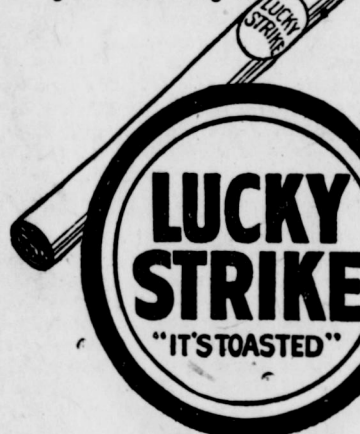

What the Legislature Did With a Problem Now Much Discussed.

On the 5th of April the Legislature passed an act amending section 22 of Chapter 127 of the Revised Statutes, as amended by chapter 291 of the public laws of 1917, relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors. In view of the widespread interest caused by the charge of Judge Philbrook to the jury at the April term, 1922, of the Supreme Judicial Court of Lincoln county in the Steer vanilla case, the recent events in the Municipal Court and the Supreme Court, touching the sale of vanilla and lemon extracts, alcohol and the so-called moonshine, the ingredients of which the wit of man has so far failed to locate; and the disposition of the Rockland cases in the United States District Court at Portland last week, a publication of the amended liquor law may serve a good and useful purpose and be illuminative to the general public, critical or otherwise. The amended section follows:

"Who by himself, clerk, servant or agent, sells any intoxicating liquors in this state, OR WHO SHALL KNOWINGLY SELL ANY EXTRACT OR SYRUP FOR INTOXICATING BEVERAGE PURPOSES, OR WHO SHALL SELL ANY OF THE SAME, UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES FROM WHICH THE SELLER MIGHT REASONABLY ADDUCE THE INTENTION OF THE PURCHASER TO BE TO USE THEM FOR SUCH PURPOSE, IN VIOLATION OF LAW shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and costs, and in addition thereto be imprisoned for not less than two nor more than six months, and in default of payment of said fine and costs he shall be imprisoned not less than two nor more than six months additional, and on each subsequent conviction he shall be punished by a fine of five hundred dollars and costs and in addition thereto be imprisoned six months, and in default of payment of said fine and costs shall be imprisoned six months additional. Any person who aids in the sale of intoxicating liquor, by acting as agent, broker, clerk, employee, servant or otherwise, or in any manner aids or assists in violating any provisions of law relating to intoxicating liquors, is equally guilty with the principal and shall suffer like penalties."

An Augusta despatch of April 12, in the Portland Press Herald had the following news hearing on the subject: "A verdict of guilty was returned against Lewis Levine of Gardiner in the Kennebec Superior Court today after 45 minutes deliberation by the jury. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $400, costs of $50, and six months in jail, with six months additional for non-payment of fine. He was placed on probation on payment of fine and costs. His bail, Levine was indicted in a search and seizure case for having in his fruit store at Gardiner a quantity of vanilla extract."

GEN. LORD'S TOUR

Director of the Bureau of the Budget Speaks In Large
Centers of the Middle West.

The important work being carried on by Brigadier Gen. H. M. Lord in his capacity as Director of the Bureau of the Budget is a subject of much interest to the financial world and taxpayers throughout the country. The desire to see and hear this man, who is better acquainted with Uncle Sam's pocketbook than any other person in the country, is widespread, and there come to his department in Washington many requests for his services as a speaker on the topic nearest his heart.

Gen. Lord has recently completed a speaking tour in the Middle West which included the cities of Fort Wayne, Ind., Jackson, Mich., Dayton and Cleveland, O., and St. Louis, Mo. In each of those places he was given a reception that could scarcely have been exceeded if it had been the President of the country, instead of the man who handles the purse-strings.

In Dayton, Ohio, his coming was announced by striking posters, printed on highest grade paper, signed by the National Cash Register Co. and headed by crossed American flags. The poster read thus:

The flags are flying in honor of Brigadier Gen. Herbert M. Lord, Director of the National Budget. Gen. Lord has a long and enviable record as an officer in the U. S. Army. During the World War, as Director of Finance, he was in charge of appropriations amounting to more than twenty-four billion dollars. In his present important position, his efficiency and ability are reflected in better government at lower cost. It is a privilege and an honor to welcome this distinguished guest.

GARDNER'S FUTURE

Rockland Democrat Being
Named As Possible Candidate
For Governor and U. S.
Senator.

Speculation is rife as to the political future of Hon. Obadiah Gardner who recently retired from the International Joint Commission. Defeated for re-election as United States Senator, Mr. Gardner became a member of the Commission in the capacity of what is politically known as a "lame duck," and his retirement furnished a place for a Republican "lame duck" who had also failed of re-election to the Senate so that honors are even on that score.

There has been some talk to the effect that Mr. Gardner would again be a candidate for United States Senator; also that his hat might also be tossed into the gubernatorial ring. In any event it is quite likely that the Rockland man will have to be taken into account when the next slate is made up.

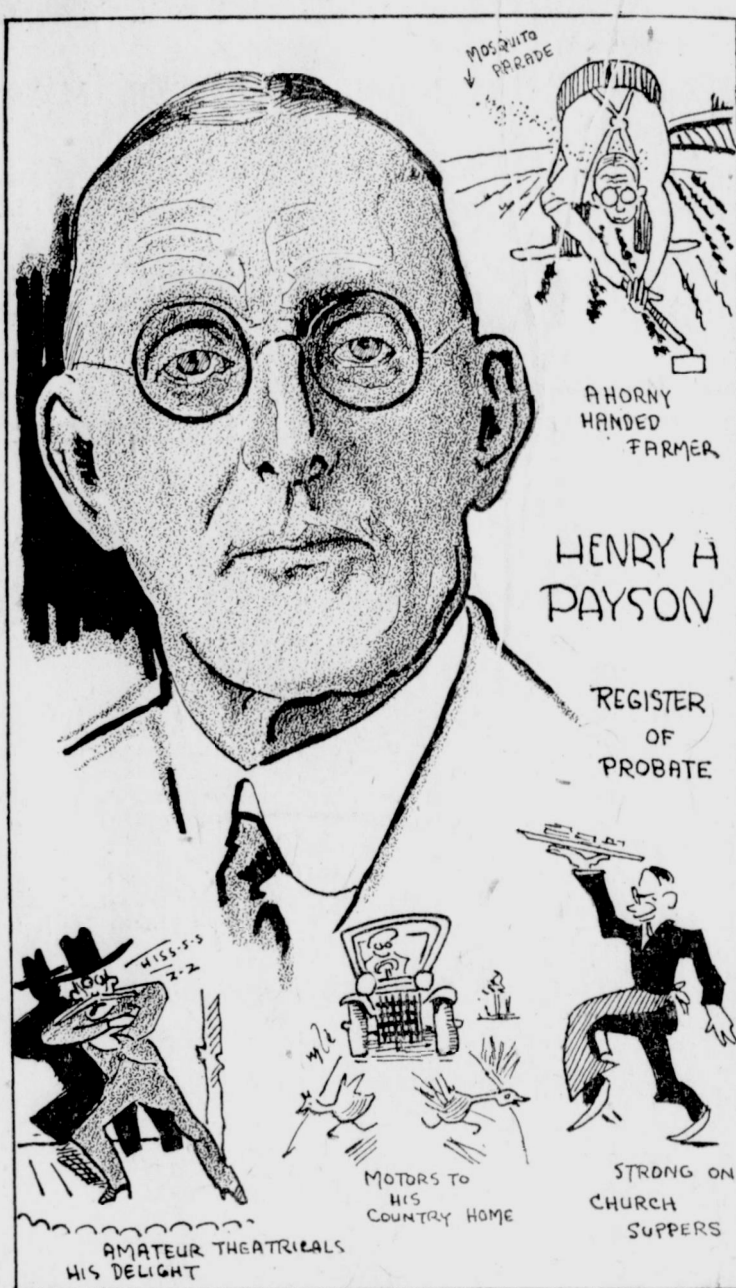

Returns from the questionnaires recently sent out by the Democratic State Committee as to the choices for candidates for 1924 are being received. The following candidates are being mentioned:

For Governor—Mayor Louis J. Brann, Lewiston; Frank A. Morey, Lewiston; Charles M. Sleeper, South Berwick; William M. Ingraham, Portland; Mayor Leon A. Tebbetts, Waterville; William R. Pattangall, Augusta; ex-Representative Daniel J. McGillicuddy, Lewiston; Mayor Ernest L. McLean, Augusta; James B. Perkins, Augusta.

United States Senator—George E. Hanson, Calais; Obadiah Gardner, Rockland; Leon O. Tebbetts, Waterville; ex-Governor Frederick W. Plaisted, Augusta; Leonard A. Pierce, Portland; W. R. Pattangall, Augusta.

For Representative—Ex-Gov. Oakley C. Curtis, Portland; Charles M. Starbird, Auburn; D. J. McGillicuddy, Lewiston; Bertram G. McIntyre, Norway; W. R. Pattangall, Augusta; Leon S. Tebbetts, Waterville; Louis J. Brann, Lewiston; Albert W. Plummer, Lisbon; Frank H. Haskell, Portland; William H. Ingraham, Portland.

FOR MADAM BROWNE

Utility Shower Given By the Members of Opportunity
Class—Teacher Is Leaving.

One of the happiest events of the past week, was the utility shower given by the Opportunity Class of the First Baptist church, to their teacher, Madame Browne, who is leaving Rockland this month, to make her home in Bangor. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Maurice Snow, Mechanic street, and seldom does one see so many beautiful and useful love gifts as were given Madame Browne on this occasion. Among the gifts noted, were beautiful embroidered quilts, and pillow cases, a handsome quilted coverlet, one fancy sofa pillow, one half dozen glass goblets, which the giver said were about 100 years old, several pairs of lovely bath towels, a beautiful chocolate pot, silverware, and all kinds of kitchen ware, including a nice nickel kettle and a large dishpan, with a card attached, requesting Madame Browne to remember the giver while washing the dishes. Rhymes and verses were attached to most of the gifts. Mrs. Evelyn McKusick in absence of the class president, Mrs. Faith Callahan, presented Madame Browne with a beautiful traveling bag, in behalf of the class. Mrs. McKusick in presenting the bag said:

"You have been among us two years. We have learned to love you and you have stretched your love to include every one of us. You have reached another milestone in your life, as you will soon be leaving us to go to Bangor. We shall never forget you. We will go onward in our Christian lives, and make them better and nobler for having known you. These are love tokens which we bring you tonight."

Quiet reigns around the Burpee Furniture Co. owing to the fact that Cliff (Capt. Charles Clifford) Smith is suffering from an aggravated attack of rheumatism and neuralgia. His associates hope the seige will be a brief one.

A concert by the Colonial Singing Orchestra of Waltham was listened to with much pleasure by some of the local radio fans Thursday night. They would have been even more interested had they known that the cornet solos were being played by a former Rockland band leader—Mark Crockett. A few did know it, among them Roland Crockett of Rockport, a brother of the musician, who immediately sent a telegram of appreciation. Medford Hillside, which was broadcasting the concert, immediately acknowledged the receipt of the telegram, by radio.

Camden Herald: "The workmen of Camden have started a movement to have a half holiday Saturday afternoon with a 48 hour week, which is meeting with approval from the majority of the employers. There will be a meeting in the G. A. R. hall Saturday, April 21 at 7 o'clock sharp to make the necessary arrangements. All those interested should be there." It is not unlikely that when this movement was started some of the Camden workmen had in mind the thrilling Saturday afternoon ball games like those of last summer. The Saturday afternoon holiday idea has been spreading steadily in the past few years.

John D. Dwyer sends us a copy of the Hyannis (Mass.) Patriot whose generous dimensions admirably equip it for cupboard shelves after the subscriber has extracted the wealth of news therefrom. Blue index fingers, drawn by John himself, point to several interesting items. One of these is an article about the pretentious bank building being constructed for the Hyannis Trust Co.; another directs attention to a bowling alley which is about to be added to the Cape Cod town's attractions. John will probably keep his principal in the bank and spend some of the interest in the bowling alley. The sporting editor would like to tackle him at a string of candlepins.

Miss Charlotte Buffum of 22 Grove street has accepted chairmanship of the Thomaston and Rockland district for a $500,000 building and endowment fund campaign for Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass. The campaign opens May 2 and will last two weeks. A quota of $275 is expected to be given or secured by each Bradford alumna. Of the half million it is hoped to raise, $250,000 will be used for buildings, including a separate dormitory for the girls of the preparatory division, and the balance will be devoted to permanent endowment funds. Bradford now has practically none. Bradford Academy has the distinction of being the oldest institution of higher learning for women in the United States. It was founded in 1893. One hundred and thirty-five girls from Maine to California are enrolled in the school this year.

Whatever your occupation may be and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your mind with a bit of poetry.

KILLARNEY

By Killarney's lakes and fells,
Enfolded lakes and winding bays,
Mountain paths and woodland dells,
Merry ever fondly strays.
Bounteous nature loves all lands
Beauty wanders everywhere,
Footprints leave on many strands,
But her home surely there!
Angels fold their wings and rest,
In that Eden of the West,
Beauty's home, Killarney,
Ever fair Killarney.

Unfallen's ruined shrine
May suggest a passing sigh;
But man's faith can ne'er decline
Such God's wonders floating by.
Castle Lough and Glenabeg,
Mountains Tote and Eagle's Nest;
Still at Muckross you must pray
Tho' the monks are now at rest.
Angels wonder not that man
There would fain prolong life's span,
Beauty's home, Killarney,
Ever fair Killarney.

No place else can charm the eye,
With such bright and varied tints;
Ev'ry rock that you pass by,
Verdure brooders or besprings,
Virgin there the green grass grows,
Ev'ry mossy spring's natal day;
Bright-hued berries daff the snows,
Smelling winter's frown away.
Angels often pause there,
Doubt if Eden were more fair,
Beauty's home, Killarney,
Ever fair Killarney.

Musical there for Echo dwells,
Makes each sound a warbling choir,
Many-voiced the chorus swells,
Till it fades in ecstasy;
With the charmed words that follow
Seems the Heaven above to vie;
All rich colors that we know
Tinge the clover-leaves that sky.
Wings of angels so might shine,
Glancing back soft light divine,
Beauty's home, Killarney,
Ever fair Killarney.

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, Maine, April 17, 1923.
I, the undersigned, declare that the above is a true and correct statement of the circulation of the Rockland Courier-Gazette for the week ending April 14, 1923, there was printed a total of 6,005 copies.
Before me,
FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

THEY KEEPER—The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand—Psalm 121:5.

Lord Robert Cecil, the English nobleman who is on a speaking tour of this country urging the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations, is a very kindly gentleman and no doubt is in earnest when he gives expression to his belief that the League can be rendered effective only by our association with it. Mr. Wilson last week broke silence by declaring his unalterable advocacy of the League which he brought back from Paris and which this country by a majority of seven million votes rejected, the League that Sir Robert pleads for us to support and of which the Providence Journal says:

Thus far the League of Nations has been conspicuous by its pathetic futility rather than by its record of achievement. Of course no international body, made up as the League is made up, could fail to accomplish something in the course of three or four years. An international meeting of schoolmasters might be expected to have results of a sort. But the League of Nations has actually made very little impression upon the world, has had almost no influence on the course of human affairs, has been a League of Nations only by a far stretching of the imagination, and does not give promise of occupying any larger place in the public eye in the future than it has in the past.

We grow so blasé, a lot of us, that we incline to undervalue the great service that Mr. Chapman musically does our somewhat out-of-the-way community, in bringing to us, as he has been doing year after year, artists of such high rank as calls them ordinarily to the concert stages of only the larger centers. Take for example last week's concert in this city, presenting a cellist and a singer whose usual fee for a concert is $600 to $800 respectively—and Rockland was privileged to enjoy them for the nominal ticket price of one dollar. Only because he secures his artists at the season's end for a tour of thirty concerts is it possible for Mr. Chapman thus to favor the music lovers of small towns. What Rockland and Damariscotta on dollar tickets fail to yield to his investment, the larger places, with larger audiences and prices, make good, so that the tour as a whole prospers. And we get the benefit of it. The Chapman concert has come to be the one great high-grade piece of refreshment offered to us in the season. Let us not be too chary with our appreciation.

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
On Thursday next of Paul Revere.

When Congress convenes next December Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will renew his recommendation that the surtax rates on incomes be further reduced. In the revenue act of 1921 the maximum rates were lowered to 50 per cent, with corresponding reductions in the lower schedules. The effect of this change did not become apparent until the tax returns of this year were made. The payments for the first quarter of the year due March 15, were more than $70,000,000 greater than had been anticipated. Most of the increase is ascribed by Secretary Mellon to the cut in the surtaxes, which encouraged the investment of capital in productive enterprise rather than in tax-free securities, thereby increasing profits subject to tax and increasing the aggregate receipts of the treasury. The secretary recommends a maximum surtax of 25 per cent, believing the reduction will still further stimulate business.

These April snows have their useful side also, if one has been properly taught. In earlier times the youth of Rockland used to have it pointed out to them that through the simple process of washing the face in snow fallen in April freckles disappeared. There were some dreadfully freckled faces in town those days, we remember, ours among the number—seems as though they don't have 'em so violently nowadays—and the faith that was practiced with respect to this form of facial anointing is hardly to be imagined. Recalling the ancient custom as we looked into our shaving glass this morning we observed that our countenance—such as it is—disported not so much as a single freckle. So there must have been something in it.

Yesterday morning when you stepped out of doors into four inches of new-laid snow your heart sank in your bosom—and then your ears were assaulted by the riotous song of birds till the whole sky seemed full of them. "Cheer up!" you said, and laughed aloud.

STRONG FOR HARDING

Congressman Begg Gives Reasons Why Ohio Will Stand By the President.

Representative James T. Begg of Ohio comes out strongly for President Harding and his administration, calls attention to the beneficial legislation that has been passed by Congress, upholds President Harding's favorable attitude towards a permanent court of international justice, and believes the people of the country prefer the present Republican rule because of the absence of empty dinner pails and soup houses. Representative Begg expresses himself as follows:

"Judging from conditions in the 12th Congressional District and in other parts of Ohio it has been my privilege to visit, President Harding's own state will stand consistently by him in 1924."

"One of the main reasons for that condition," said Mr. Begg, himself a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the lower house, "is that an overwhelming majority of the people in Ohio believe that the foreign policy of the Harding administration has been constructively sound. Disputes arising out of the late war between the United States and other nations have been amicably settled so that today the United States is at peace with all the nations in the world and has absolutely friendly diplomatic relations with all, save Russia and Mexico."

Mexican Situation Improving
"The Mexican situation is improving so rapidly," continued the Ohio solon "that diplomatic relations may be restored with that country before this statement has had time to cool off."

"The present Russian ideals of government are so foreign and contradictory to our cherished American principles that it would seem folly to take any steps toward recognition at this time. The fact that the basic intent of sovietism is to destroy all other forms of government, ours included, warns me to lend no encouragement."

"The people of Ohio have every confidence in President Harding and Secretary Hughes and their ability to act wisely at the proper time in dealing with other countries. The disarming achievement alone contained enough elements of greatness to justify implicit confidence of all in the administration's ability to handle foreign relations."

Debt Settlement Satisfactory
"The terms obtained from Great Britain in the settlement of her debt to the United States were so favorable to this country that the Harding critics were stunned. That settlement will serve to stimulate the confidence in the business stability of every nation in the world and will do more to restore international commerce than probably any other achievement."

"The President's suggestion to the Senate prior to adjournment that he favored the entrance of the United States to an international court shows conclusively the attitude of the President and his cabinet in their willingness to advance to the farthest outpost in international relations. To those critics who say it is an entrance into the League of Nations by the back door the answer is clearly that the league was an instrument created by executive machinery to enforce the will of the majority of the nations on the minority. While the international court is a piece of machinery for the rendering of decisions on international disputes, which machinery carries with it no police powers. Every lover of peace is willing to have disputed international questions submitted to an independent court for a judgment, while the most ardent supporter of peace would hardly go so far as to recommend the creation of an international army for the purpose of enforcing the decrees of the court."

"Still another prime reason why the people of the entire country will demonstrate their approval of the Harding administration in 1924 is because of domestic industrial conditions. Scarcely 25 per cent of the industries were in operation when Mr. Harding and his Cabinet assumed control. There were soup houses and bread lines in every large city in Ohio as well as in other states. In two years' time the bread lines and soup houses have disappeared; unemployment is unknown; factories are working overtime; labor has never been paid better under normal conditions; and business optimism has supplanted financial depression and expansion of industry has taken the place of retrenchment in operating costs."

Employment Brings Happiness
"When everyone is employed everywhere is happy and the people of the country are not going to take a gambler's chance on changing administrations under prosperous conditions for an unknown and uncertain quantity."

"This boom in business is due more to the tariff than any other factor and with the elastic provision in the law which permits the President to raise or lower rates as he finds a necessity therefor refutes conclusively the argument of the critic who says the rates are too high. Democrats who advocate a tariff for revenue only prophesied that when the tariff bill was passed that imports would be shut out by the 'tariff wall.' The contrary has proven true and imports are coming into this country now at an unheard of rate, so fast in fact that the duties on the imports amount to $2,000,000 a day. In a year's time that makes over three-quarters of a billion dollars which goes into the United States treasury and by relieving the taxpaying public of that amount will serve as a stimulant to future expansion of business."

"The emergency tariff bill, packers control bill, farm credit bill, and a number of other measures looking toward the curing of the financial ills of the agricultural interests in this country will, I am sure, have caused the same increased financial activities in the agricultural field, before 1924 as have been brought about in the industrial world."

"The defects in the Transportation Act will undoubtedly have been eliminated by that time and with two more years to go before the public will pass upon his stewardship there will be produced by better and better conditions a state of public mind which will preclude serious criticism of the Harding administration except perhaps by the strictly partisan politicians, none of whom would be pleased no matter how efficient and capable the administration might have proven."

But lest there be any unnecessary alarm in that vicinity be it known that this particular "devil" is a motor racing car. The man who is racing the devil is Donald Kelsey.

ALEX THE WRECKER

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

These are some of the tales told by Alex the Wrecker as we ride on the cars mornings in to Boston.

"I followed the wrecking business for a number of years, being employed by one of the big concerns of Boston. The work got to be a little too strenuous, so I quit it for a shore job. I suppose I know every rock and shoal from Cape Cod to Grand Manan, having at one time or another helped wreck some vessel along those coasts. The shifting sands of Cape Cod are about the worst spots. Sand-bars form over night, bury a vessel and keep her there. We tried all one winter to get a big three-master off the beach at Orleans, Mass., but every time we got a chance to work a sand-bar would form and block us. We had about given up hope when one day on a high course of tides we got hooked onto her and off she came. Even after being on that beach exposed to the sea all winter she wasn't leaking much. The sand had worn her planking but we towed her to Boston for repairs."

"Did you ever hear of the schooner Caroline Gray of Rockland?"
"Sure I did. Saw her once in Tenants' Harbor. She used to be a brig, and was considered some vessel in her day. Once on a time she was going into Provincetown when the captain hauled her up too quick and shoved her on the beach. The wrecking company got the news and two tow boats started for Provincetown. We got there about noon and got an anchor out but could not start her. The next high water there was a northeaster with a long swell and we hooked onto her and hauled her off."

Then we reached Scollay Square, so I didn't get any more that trip.

STRAND THEATRE

"One hundred per cent better than 'French Heels' is what they say about 'No Trespassing,' which is having its final showing today. So strong is the drawing power of the name Irene Castle that attendance records were broken in scores of theatres where her first production, 'French Heels,' was shown. Thousands who came out of idle curiosity went away satisfied and convinced that she is the most charming spirit the stage and screen has ever produced. In New York last winter, where she danced nightly at the Knickerbocker Grill, thousands paid tribute to her charm and grace. More vivacious, more alluring than ever, this dainty little personage, with her bobbed hair and twinkling feet, added hosts of admirers to the millions who already counted her their favorite."

Allan Dwan's production of his own story, 'The Sin of Martha Qued,' which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday is a drama with a big idea behind it. And in the telling Mr. Dwan is said to have created some scenes that for power are dynamic, others that for tenderness are poignant, some that for brutality are madening, and many that for beauty are exquisite. The Sin of Martha Qued existed only in the poisoned mind of her suspicious, tyrannical, bigoted father, a role enacted by the splendid actor, Joseph J. Dowling. He was so corrupt of mind that he believed the lying evidence of a scoundrel, instead of the pure truth of his own daughter. She had degraded the fair name of Qued! He was a descendant of a man who signed the death warrant of his own son for sleeping on guard duty. He could also sacrifice his own daughter on the altar of his false family pride.—adv.

Clarence E. Rollins was called yesterday to Bath, where his father, Fred J. Rollins, had died very suddenly of pneumonia. The deceased was a brother of the late Erastus Rollins, who died suddenly a year ago.

WEATHER THIS WEEK

Washington, April 15—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday in North Atlantic States: Cloudy, unsettled and cold first part; middle and latter parts generally fair; moderate temperature.

The membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce meets tonight.

John A. Frost is home from Jefferson, where he has been engaged in lumbering the past five weeks.

Movie fans have another chance today to see two extra good pictures—"Adam's Rib" at the Park, and "No Trespassing" at the Strand.

Arthur B. Packard christened his new Dodge touring car in yesterday morning's snow storm. The car was bought through Fred C. Dyer's agency.

Fred A. Clark who has been nursing a twice broken rib all winter, has reappeared on the street with his public car. You can't keep a good man down.

R. E. Philbrick of the Sea View Garage has just delivered two Super for Chevrolet touring cars, one to Ensign Otis of Rockland and one to Chester Simmons of Friendship.

Capt. John A. Stevens knows a lot about vessels; the proprietor of the Southend Garage also knows a lot about automobiles. That's why he is gladly offering to demonstrate the American Six.

The Baptist Men's League hasn't had a dull meeting this season, and tomorrow night's will certainly not be an exception. The speaker will be E. I. Herbert of Bangor, district manager of the New England Telephone Co., who will discuss the progress and problems of the telephone business. The members can fire all the questions they like. Mr. Herbert will answer 'em. And the accommodating waiters will serve double orders for all hungry members.

A district missionary meeting will be held in the Camden Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. Rev. A. M. Bliss of Boston will be the principal speaker. Supper will be served to out-of-town delegates. Rockland people planning to go are requested to notify Mr. Rounds.

The sporting editor is in receipt of the following word from Charles Turner promoter of the Boost Sports Athletic Club of Lewiston: "Philadelphia Joe Stanley is back in Maine again and is ready to take on featherweights or lightweights, although only a bantam himself. All the bantams in these parts are sidetracking Joe, so in order to keep boxing he has to take on the heavier boxes. Joe would like to show his wares in Rockland in the near future with any boxer that the local promoters can secure."

A severe case of bronchitis causes the illness of Rev. Milton G. Perry of North Haven, engaged as speaker for the Educational Club next Friday evening so that Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead of Boston, the famous lecturer, author and traveler will be the only speaker. She will discuss the League of Nations; subject, "The World Crisis and America's part in it," a vital topic just now. Her lecture is exclusively for club members, who first have a picnic supper, then business and discussions, as usual.

Charles E. Bicknell's schooner Clinton had the unique experience Saturday of being impaled on a snowdrift. Capt. Patterson was "grounding out" the craft for the purpose of having some repairs made. Instead of stopping where the captain intended the schooner ran full tilt into the massive bank of snow which had been dumped to the southward of Perry's coal office during the winter and the bowsprit remained hard and fast. The engine was set to work without avail and the disgraced crew clambered ashore to borrow picks and shovels. It took an hour's hard work to free the schooner from her strange prison.

WE ARE GOING TO HAVE A BRIDGE ACROSS THE KENNEBEC

The Maine Central steamship Norumbega was inspected yesterday.

Mrs. Alfred Murray is the owner of a new Marmion car, bought through George M. Simmons' agency.

The types made us say that a picnic supper would be served by the Grange, Scowling Circle at Pleasant Valley Grange hall tonight. It will be a public supper.

Trawler Plover arrived at this port Saturday and immediately prepared for another trip to the banks. Trawler Osprey, which has been at Pulpit Harbor for some time past, is being put in commission at this port.

When Rev. Eugene V. Allen left yesterday for the Maine Methodist Conference in Bangor he was in a very complacent mood as regards his own church, which has not only ended this conference free from debt, but has raised $200 toward the next centenary. The local church has seldom been in better financial standing than at the present moment.

Bath Times: The highway east of the Kennebec to Rockland is said to be in very good condition for so early in the season. One car has made the run through to the Lime City and back. There is some ice on the road but this can be gone over without danger if one uses a little caution, and does not try too much speed in doing it. A few warm days will remove the last of this ice which is in shady spots on the road.

Maynard Dymmonds, who beat it back home last week, after escaping from the State School for Boys in South Portland, was surrendered to the police Saturday night by his parents, and at the request of Sup't. Dunn, was taken back to the institution by Marshal Gilchrist yesterday. He celebrated his weekend visit by taking charge of a bicycle belonging to George A. Tarr's son. The machine was restored.

John D. Rockefeller would have forgotten his dyspepsia if he had seen delicacies displayed in the window of Trainer's new bakery yesterday. Inside everything was neat and sweet. In the airy work room is a big oven, a doughnut vat, a brownbread steamer and an electric mixer with four speeds and an Iren Castle whirl. The head baker is Forest A. Ward, a master craftsman of 30 years' experience. The front shop is presided over by Mrs. Annie Aylward and the genial Mont P. himself.

C. W. Simmons, who has been in St. Petersburg, Fla. during the winter, has arrived home for an indefinite stay. He reports a booming Florida, with seven million-dollar hotels in process of construction in St. Petersburg alone. Mr. Simmons motored home, finding the only poor roads between New York and Portland. He saw quite a number of Rockland persons in St. Petersburg, among them John L. Donohue who was doing a land office business (in many senses than one) for Jack Taylor's Pasadena-on-the-Gulf proposition. Mr. Donohue is known as "The Man From Maine" and already has about as wide a circulation in the Florida winter resort as he has in his home city. According to Mr. Simmons, he will be home in about a month.

The Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary will have its regular supper at Grand Army hall tomorrow night.

S. F. Copeland of Warren is back with the sales force of the Rockland Motor Mart, after a few weeks in Boston.

Ever since "The Sailor Made Man" was shown at Strand Theatre, Manager Dondis has been besieged with inquiries as to when there would be another Harold Lloyd comedy. To meet this demand he has signed up for nine of 'em.

John Breen, messenger boy at the Western Union wrote another chapter in his book of adventures Saturday, when he coasted down toward The Brook on his bicycle and ran plunko into a Central Maine truck. The youngster was unconscious for a short time, but was soon delivering telegrams in his usual cheery manner.

The opening of the Fireproof Garage Company Saturday was particularly pleasing to the proprietors. Five boxes of cigars and over 150 pinks were distributed as tokens of the management's good will. The big floor space is rapidly filling with cars and the organization is shaking down into working order. Hurley Oliver, an experienced auto-mechanic and engineer is day man and Wilfred Bouchard of polo fame has charge of nights. Charles Emery has installed an accurate bookkeeping system, of which Miss Kate Costello is in charge.

Today's fine weather was specially ordered for the Catholic coffee party in Temple hall. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30, after which the musical comedy "Market Day" will be presented by a cast of young people, under the direction of Miss Anna Coughlin, Miss Margaret Harrington and Mrs. Lucy Walsh. In connection with the supper there will be a sale of various articles. The annual coffee party has always had liberal patronage and Dr. Carey and his diligent committees may rest assured that today's event will not be lagging either in success or receipts.

Graham Hills invaded the Lindsey grove district yesterday, and brought home some of the finest specimens of pussy willows gathered this year, or any other year. They may be seen in the window of Gregory's clothing store.

The Deep Sea trawlers Plover, Tern and Meric did good stunt last week when they carried nearly a million pounds of fresh fish into Portland. The Meric weighed out 306,000 pounds, and the happy crew came back home jingling $146.10 apiece in their jeans.

Wilfred Bouchard, who had no peer on a polo surface the past winter, liked Rockland so well that he has come back here to take a position as night man at the Fireproof Garage. Bouchard is also a professional ball player, and will be seen in action the coming summer.

The golf season at the Country Club opened gently last week, a few of the more ardent players breaking the impatience of their long vacation. While the greens are not yet playable the fairways are in very good condition and play can be enjoyed. Preferred lies.

Edward W. Egan, former steward of the Owl Benevolent and Fraternal Club, leaves tomorrow for Lake Massabesic, Manchester, N. H., where he will spend the summer, seeking complete rest and restoration of health. The best wishes of a large circle of friends will follow him.

A bursting pipe carrying hot oil caused very severe injuries to a former Rockland boy, Maurice Bird, in a Standard Oil plant in Charleston, S. C., recently. A message received yesterday reports him as resting comfortably in Riverside Hospital, Charleston, with hope of discharge in another week.

Rockland folks who voted for daylight saving find themselves in pretty good company. Among the Atlantic coast cities which will be in the procession this summer are Rockland, Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Yesterday's papers announced that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad will change its schedules to conform to daylight saving.

Bird and nature lovers of Rockland and Knox county will have an opportunity of hearing in the near future a lecture on bird life, to be given by one of the foremost ornithologists in America, Dr. Herbert K. Job. Dr. Job, who is at present in charge of the department of applied ornithology for the National Association of Audubon Societies, was formerly State Ornithologist of Connecticut, is a member of the American Ornithologists' Union, author, lecturer and an expert in animal photography. The lecture which he will give his Rockland audience will be of special interest to Knox county folks as it will be accompanied by several sets of moving pictures of the sea bird colonies of Matinicus, where he spent the entire summer of 1921, studying and photographing these birds. Further announcements will be made.

HOLIDAY DANCE

Thursday, April 19, Temple hall, afternoon Sunlight Hop—2:30 to 5; evening 8 to 12. The Venetian Melody Boys can be heard at their best, which is saying something we believe, for these boys have been heard here before. "Day by day in every way this band gets better and better," as Prof. Coue would say. You no doubt have all the latest music and dance hits at home on your Victrola, but hearing the artists play in person is much more appreciated than listening to the work in a little wooden box, and though these boys do not profess to be Whitmans they are artists in their line. They have been requested to play a sunlight hop in the afternoon from 2:30 to 5, which should be popular among the dancers of Rockland. Friday the Band puts to sea for the island of Vinalhaven to play, providing they prove as good sailors as musicians, and the islandites are due for some good sea-going music. Pulling anchor Saturday morning they start for Camden over sea and land to entertain at the Opera House, which no doubt will be full of lovers of good dancing from the entire surrounding country—adv.

Closing out sale of all goods and fixtures at cost. Come in and look over goods over. MRS. WITHAM'S GROCERY STORE, 36 State Street.

William Anderson, who resides on the Ash Point road, made a misadventure while chopping wood Friday and cut a two-inch gash in the instep of his left foot. Dr. Armstrong put him right again.

It used to be John Thomas who got the first salmon from Bangor pool, but this year the honors went to Albert Fisher of Bangor, who landed a 15-pounder Saturday.

The sale of two antique chairs is not usually worthy of comment but when the buyer is such a celebrity as Joseph Hergesheimer it is a different matter. David Rubenstein shipped two such chairs, this week.

Mrs. Walter E. Fasset resumed her duties as stenographer at Moran's insurance office yesterday. The warbler of the firm whistled "Here comes the bride." Miss Audrey Blackington has been officiating in Mrs. Fasset's absence.

The Portland Express-Advertiser reports that Rev. Ralph W. George is likely to be appointed pastor of the Pine Street Methodist Church in that city. Mr. George is a former Rockland man, who is soon to graduate from the Yale University School of Religion.

The late Ephraim Perry and Capt. John H. Leo, who died on the same day, were the two oldest members of Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows. Mr. Perry, who joined Jan. 27, 1877, was the 21st member to be admitted, and Capt. Leo, who joined Dec. 12 of the same year, was the 31st member admitted.

J. N. Farnham reports that his flock of 28 Rosecomb R. I. Red pullets, hatched May 9 to 17, have laid from Jan. 1 to April 15, 2115 eggs, a daily average of 29, or a percentage for the 105 days of 71. None of these pullets has yet become broody, but all are still cheerfully at work at their job of laying 29 eggs every day.

Folks who had been hoping for a little rain "to settle the dust," got more than they bargained for when they awoke yesterday morning and found four inches of slush and snow on the ground. That new snow plow ordered by the Street Railway may be handy along about the Fourth of July, if it gets here.

The next ladies' night at the Elks Home will also be the last—of the season. The date is April 26. The events have contributed a very interesting chapter to the history of Rockland Lodge, and it goes without saying that there will be a large attendance at the last one.

A well known flower specialist predicts that this year will be a great dahlia year and that that handsome bloom will rule the flower kingdom for several years to come. Great progress has been made in their improvement and they run easily 9 or 10 inches in diameter. The large estates have adopted the dahlia widely and the more celebrated strains sell at from $5 to 50 cents a bulb.

Cora Killoran of Cushing knows The Courier-Gazette's interest in this usual, so yesterday she mailed to this office two russet apples which were found under a tree in the orchard the other day after the winter's accumulation of snow had disappeared. The fruit was in a fine state of preservation; in fact the family has been making use of other apples which were found in the orchard at the same time.

A small boy laying still and white on the brick sidewalk in front of Abbott block at the Northend drew a sympathetic crowd in record time yesterday. It was Herbert the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Perry, who had fallen down the steep stairs from the tenement above. He was picked up by Fred P. Haskell and borne tenderly back to his home where he soon recovered consciousness.

A $400.00 memorial drive for Hebron Academy has been launched. Preliminary sketches for the new Hebron academy gymnasium which will be erected with funds obtained from the memorial drive have been completed. The architect is John Calvin Stevens of Portland. The gymnasium will cost $150,000, and will be one of the finest school gymnasiums in New England.

One hundred and fifty Sir Knights gathered at the asylum of Claremont Commandery, in Masonic Temple, last night, the occasion being the official visit of Eminent Sir Edward K. Gould, Grand Master of the Grand Commandery. He was assisted on inspection duty by Eminent Sir A. O. Pillsbury of Camden, who is grand sword bearer. There were 20 past commanders in their suite. Visitors were present from Camden, Vinalhaven, Lewiston, Portland and Richmond, Va. The Order of the Temple was conferred on Bertram H. Roberts. The inspecting officers expressed much satisfaction with the showing made by Claremont, especially with the military movements, which reflect much credit upon the careful drilling under the direction of James F. Carver. Claremont Commandery now has 240 members, and expects to round out the 300 mark before the end of the Templar year.

W. A. Kennedy's white front store at The Brook was formally opened yesterday, and the many callers who called at the transformation which has been wrought since it was known as the Havenner store. The interior has been completely renovated, and the daintily tinted walls harmonize with the newly painted and newly varnished fixtures. A lattice work partition separates the main store and ice cream parlor, the latter being an especially nifty apartment with robin's egg blue ceiling and panel effect walls. The show cases, with their dainty contents are scrupulously clean. In addition to candy, fruit and tobacco, Mr. Kennedy will carry a line of small groceries, and will also handle the quack costumes. So many were the compliments he received that Mr. Kennedy blushed the color of the cherry fixtures. He needs no introduction to the public, for he was in the lunchroom business 12 years and a bowling alley proprietor 13 years. His new venture has the best wishes of his many friends.

There will be a dance in Havenner Hall, Wednesday night. Music by Marston's orchestra—Adv.

Smalley's Auto is now making two trips daily to Belfast, leaving Hotel Rockland and Thorndike Hotel at 7 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., connecting with the Bangor auto at Hotel Windsor, Belfast, leaving for Rockland at 10:30 and 4:30. 46-48

HIGH GRADE CLOTHING AT REASONABLE PRICES

For many years we have been doing business with the good people of Rockland and vicinity; and it is with pardonable pride that we look back upon our achievements in the commercial world during that period. The principal reason for our success has been—and we trust will be—the great number of people who constitute our regular customers—some of them representing families who have traded with us for four decades; others, no less valued, who have more recently become acquainted with the character of the goods we carry and the liberal business policy that we have always maintained.

The Woman's Educational Club holds its first picnic supper of the season at 6 o'clock in the Methodist vestry Friday evening. Those who have not been solicited will furnish the sweets. Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham, chairman, Mrs. G. H. Bligh, Mrs. Clara Spaulding, Mrs. A. F. Wisner, Mrs. Dora Crockett, Mrs. F. C. Flint, Mrs. Ida Simmons, Mrs. Ella Lurvey, Mrs. Nora Wilde and Mrs. Gardiner Wheeler.

Openings were the order of the day in Rockland business circles, Saturday. One of the most successful was at the Simonton dry goods store, the management of which has just been taken over by M. E. Wotton, the well-known commercial traveler. The opening inaugurated a week's sale, which has for its purpose a clearance of stock so that the shelves may be filled with goods just ordered. Mr. Wotton's striking advertisement in this paper brought the new proprietor the most satisfactory results, for the store was thronged the entire day, and the staff worked like beavers until the closing hour. Mr. Wotton was the recipient of many congratulations and his genial smile was more radiant than ever.

This Week

 TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A review from the columns of this paper of some of the events which interested Rockland and vicinity for month ending April 12 1898.

The Board of Health organized with Charles D. Jones as chairman and Dr. E. H. Wheeler as secretary and executive officer. The third member was Charles C. Crockett.

Mrs. G. Francis Shaw was elected president of the Methodist Club, with Mrs. Jennie Achor as vice president, Miss Mabel Prescott as secretary and Miss Emma Litchfield as treasurer. The club's membership was 90.

Frank Pierce was elected manager of the High School Athletic Association and Richard Rhodes was elected captain of the basketball team.

George E. Gray joined the Buffalo baseball team of the Eastern League. Shipping Commissioner W. P. Tibbets was advertising for seamen at $20 and $25 a month; mates and cooks, $25 and $30.

The Free Baptist Sunday School elected these officers: F. A. Peterson, superintendent; C. P. Wood, assistant; J. N. Farnham, secretary; Mrs. Eva Snow, treasurer; E. Larrabee, librarian.

Dr. D. C. Perkins retired from active medical practice, aged 60 years.

The James F. Sears Hose Co. was reorganized with these officers: M. H. Burns foreman, I. Haskell and M. J. Keefe assistants, George E. McLaughlin secretary, P. J. Burns treasurer.

The Majors and Bath Juniors were playing a polo series. On the Majors were McLoon and Blackington rushes, Howard and Cross center, Crockett halfback, Thorndike goal.

Schooner St. Elmo, Capt. Henry Hall, owned by the A. F. Crockett Co., founded off Nantucket, all on board being lost except Mate Reed. Capt. Hall's wife was with him on the trip.

John Murphy of Hallowell succeeded John Ferguson of Lewiston as telegraph operator at the Western Union. Steps were taken by the City Government looking toward the defense of Rockland harbor against Spanish invasion.

Arthur S. Macomber entered partnership with his father, S. K. Macomber, in the jewelry business.

Capt. E. S. Farwell was closing out his grocery business at the corner of Park and Union streets, and the building was to be converted into a hotel by M. Frank Donohue.

Guy, 6-year-old son of Andrews A. Mitchell of Rockland street, fell on a glass bottle, cutting his face severely and including one eye.

Blanchard B. Smith was employed as day clerk at the Bay View House in Camden.

C. E. Goulding and son Clifford returned from Vinalhaven, where they had been in charge of the net factory's construction.

Fred A. Hosmer was bitten on the hand by a dog.

The board of assessors organized with Alden U. Brown as chairman and K. C. Rankin as clerk. O. E. Blackington was the third member.

SIX TRIPS SOON

Eastern Has Much Freight To Handle — The Company's New Financial Plans.

Boat service between Bangor and Boston which was inaugurated for the season last Thursday with the arrival of the steamer Camden, will probably be increased to the regular summer schedule earlier than usual on account of freight conditions. With the Camden alone on the run at present making three round trips a week, it is probable that the steamer Belfast will be transferred from New York route at an early date for the maintaining of a schedule of six round trips a week in order to take care of the freight shipments, destined for Penobscot ports, which are piling up in Boston.

The officers of the Camden are A. E. Rawley, captain; Charles McKinnon, pilot; F. S. Pierce, purser; Benjamin Norris, steward; Roy Fox, chief engineer; Samuel Lord, freight clerk; Edward Donlin, baggage-master; Walter Marshall, Frank Lowe, quartermasters.

Stockholders of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., have been notified by President Calvin Austin of a plan for recapitalization.

An additional issue of 35,000 shares seven per cent cumulative first preferred stock, par $100 is proposed for acquiring additional property and lines for betterments, and an issue of 90,000 non-preferred cumulative at $3.50 a share is proposed for issue as a stock dividend, share for share with the common stock outstanding. The statement was explained as in lieu of a distribution of earnings of last year described as "very satisfactory" which will be applied to development.

The statement said that "if plans with reference to the acquisition of additional lines are sufficiently developed at the date of the annual meeting (April 18 at Elliot, Maine) they will be submitted to stockholders at that time."

The statement did not make clear whether the reference to additional lines was intended to apply to acquisitions other than the Old Dominion Steamship Co. and the Kennebec Co. already announced, but not approved by stockholders as yet.

Gov. Baxter has nominated Wilbur D. Spencer of Berwick, a member of the Senate from York county, as State insurance commissioner, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of G. Waldon Smith of Portland. The new appointee is 50, a native of Berwick, and a member of the York County Bar. He was a member of the House of Representatives in 1913 and a member of the Senate in 1921 and 1922.

Additional Stanzas to "EACH IN HIS OWN TONGUE"

The first stanza of this poem, which already has appeared in this department, was written by Professor Carruth. The two new stanzas were added by the Rev. Charles C. Alberson, D. D.

The shiver of dew on the needles,
 The lone bird's wistful call,
 The whisper of wind-blown grasses,
 The gray mist over all;
 The pine trees slowly bending
 O'er paths as yet untried—
 Some of us call it Morning,
 And others call it God.

The thunder of far-off breakers,
 When the wind sings wild and free,
 The snail of storm-tossed branches
 Blown towards the restless sea;
 The music of steady rainfall
 On the welcoming, thirsty sod—
 Some of us call it Midnight,
 And others call it God.

A still small voice in childhood,
 A beckoning hand in youth,
 An impulse prompting justice,
 A heart inclined to truth,
 A firm resolve to follow
 The path where saints have trod—
 Some of us call it Conscience,
 And others call it God.

A will to face the darkness
 Of life's last setting sun,
 An uncomplaining spirit
 When the race of life is run,
 Or we lay our best loved treasure
 Beneath the moulded sod—
 Some of us call it Courage,
 And others call it God.

Plenty of Power to Assure Knox County's Growth

THE DAMARISCOTTA LEATHERBOARD COMPANY, driven out of Damariscotta by lack of power, settled in Richmond—because it could be assured Central Maine Power Company power.

The Pine Tree Pulp Company, engaged in a business that requires considerable power, after looking over many sites, picked one in South Gardiner and built a factory there—where it could be assured ample power.

The Maine Spinning Company built its factory in Skowhegan—where it could be sure of hydro power.

The Dingley-Foss Shoe factory of Auburn, The Cushman-Hollis shoe factory of Auburn, The Keyes Fibre Company of Waterville have enlarged their factories or mills—because they could be sure of ample and steady power.

What chance has a city or town these days to get new industries unless it can offer them reliable power?

Knox County's chance has come.

The handicap of inadequate power can be removed. The new hydro electric plant which Central Maine Power Company proposes to build in Union will put Knox County on the industrial map.

This plant will be built with money raised by the sale of Central Maine Power Company 7% Preferred Stock. It will be started just as soon as this financing is assured.

If you are interested in the growth and future of Knox County—if you believe in home investing—if you want your money earning 6 1-2% in a security that has paid dividends 17 3-4 years—send in this coupon and learn about this plan.

TICKETS SELLING WELL

For the High School Musical Comedy "Kathleen"—Check Seats Tomorrow.

Every day in every way they are getting better and better, meaning that under the direction of J. F. Blue, of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., the principals and choruses of "Kathleen," the High School's musical comedy offering, are daily getting closer to the perfection of the opening night.

Practices are being held daily at the High School. After school in the afternoon and in the evening there is a steady stream of amateur actors wending their way to the school to show how much they have learned toward their part in the biggest amateur theatrical offering in the history of Rockland High School.

Besides the 10 principals, there are 175 members composing the 10 chorus groups in the large production. One feature of the show will be the kid-ies group, a chorus of 40 small girls from the grade school. Other groups are: "The Villagers," "Ladies," "Strollers," "Tennis Girls," "Shy Maids," "By Hecks," "Guest Girls," "Dance-My-Ladies," "Dance-O-Mania."

The tickets for the coming event were passed out to the members of the cast and some few others early this week. A count taken recently shows the sale to be very good. This speaks well for those selling the tickets and also shows that the people of Rockland are interested in the putting across of the "All High School Musical Comedy," as it has been called by the school pupils. The Empire theatre is limited in its seating capacity but the arrangement of the house makes every seat good. To insure a seat, an advance ticket should be purchased early, and exchanged at the box office tomorrow for the seat desired, either for the Thursday or Friday performance. If you like comedy, this is the show.—Adv.

WATERMAN'S BEACH

April 14.—Twenty above this morning. I had to cut open the waterhole. It doesn't look like planting potatoes the 17th of April. The snow is nearly all gone from the fields in sight of my house, but there must be quite a mess of it in the woods yet. I have taken the winter coverings from the strawberry beds and the plants look as green as they did last June. There are lots of spring birds about my door and henpens. They feed with the hens and chickens and appear to like cracked corn and rolled oats. The hens are laying to beat the band this month. I got 39 eggs today from 44 hens. The crows will soon be laying, also the robins.

Nearly all the neighbors attended Aunt Annie Foster's funeral Thursday afternoon, and quite a number came from Andrews Island, and Capt. Leland Mann and son from Two Bush Light; Ira Snow and S. O. Hurd came from the Keag. John Foster's father was a brother of Mr. Snow's mother, George Harney and wife came from Wheeler's Bay; Annie Foster was Mrs. Barnes' mother's sister. Mrs. Rosalind Sawyer came from Rockland; her mother was a sister to Annie Foster. O. T. Mann and his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Cleveland couldn't get here from Camden, owing to sickness in the family. Undertaker Charles of Thomaston had charge of the funeral, owing to sickness in Mr. Ulmer's family. Six young men, Wesley Snowfield, Archie Rackliff, Lester Post, Harry Waterman and Ralph and Raymond Rackliff, were bearers, and they carried the remains to the cemetery, about 100 rods from the house, on their shoulders. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers. Nearly everyone went to the grave. What wonderful changes one sees in a life of three-score years and ten. I can remember all those strong, well built young men when they were babies, and doubtless Aunt Annie had held the most of them in her arms. Mr. Foster's many friends will be pleased to learn that Frank Graves will remain with him for the present. Mr. Foster will be 80 years old next Thursday. He and Annie were married in 1876 and have always been my neighbors. C. D. S. G.

SPRUCE HEAD

Jasper Drinkwater, who entered the employ last week of the Eastern Steamship Corporation as pilot, spent Sunday with his family here.

H. C. Burton, E. W. Burton and Sidney Thompson were business visitors in Rockland Saturday.

The Smart Set enjoyed another of their picnic suppers Thursday at the home of Mrs. Leslie Thompson.

Benjamin T. Fales celebrated his 80th birthday in February. He has been in excellent health, coming a mile to the postoffice for his mail daily and has only missed when the weather was very severe.

Frank Wall is working at Clark Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Waldron and son Harold of Rockland were called here Sunday by the serious illness of Mr. Waldron's mother, Mrs. Catherine Waldron.

Ernest Meserve and daughter Helen returned home Thursday after spending the winter in Massachusetts.

Melvin Cline and daughter Mrs. J. H. Olson were in Rockland Thursday.

Leslie Thompson has been doing auto repairing at Clark Island for a week.

Mrs. H. F. York and Mrs. L. A. Thompson walked to Rockland Saturday for shopping and the movies.

Miss Alberta York was home from Rockland for the weekend.

Rev. H. B. Winchenbach preached a very able sermon here Sunday and the people were glad to hear him. It was the last meeting of the conference year and it is hoped he will be returned for another year. He goes to conference Thursday morning.

The Community Club held a meeting at E. W. Burton's Saturday evening.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie Foster was held Thursday afternoon. Words of comfort were spoken by Rev. H. B. Winchenbach, and she was carried to her last resting place in the Thorndike cemetery on the shoulders of her nephews, Harry Waterman, Wesley Snowfield, Lester Post, Archie, Ralph and Raymond Rackliff. There were many beautiful flowers banking the casket. Sympathy is extended to the aged husband (who was 80 the day following the funeral) and the foster daughter, Mrs. Florence Monroe, the brother, Ernest Edwell and sister, Mrs. Elvira Wiley.

Frank Graves has been ill but is better and is to live with Mr. Foster, having been there all winter.

Mrs. E. V. Shea will entertain the Ladies Circle Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. H. F. York entertained last week.

Mrs. Edward Conner of Rockland has been a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Clinton E. Stahl.

Those who were discouraged at sight of the 56th snow storm will be relieved to know that April 16, 1904, eight inches of snow fell during the day; April 20 and April 24, 1904 about six inches fell; April 2 and April 18, 1912 it snowed all day and May 2, 1917 we had one of the worst snowstorms of the winter. So there is a chance for summer in 1923 after all.

The last meeting of Wiwuna Chapter, O. E. S., resolved itself into a pleasing social affair. Two members affiliated with the chapter, Mrs. Maude Welt and Mrs. Elizabeth Barter. An entertainment contributed to the enjoyment of the evening, Mrs. Labe and Mrs. Oliver gave several duets on the piano after which Mrs. Oliver sang two charming selections. Mrs. Benner received applause for her amusing recitation, "Aunt Doleful's Visit," and Mrs. Stahl read three of Edgar Guest's poems in a pleasing manner. Lunch was served at the close of the program. About 50 members were present.

Stated meeting, Wiwuna Chapter Tuesday evening, April 24. Three candidates will be received into the lodge. An entertainment will follow the work after which lunch will be in order.

Thursday night will be the first mid-week feature of the season at the Star Theatre. The management has chosen wisely in selecting the big spectacular production, "Blood and Sand," with the popular Rodolph Valentino as the star. This, written by the author of "The Four Horsemen," is a master-drama of passion and thrill staged by the great producer of "The Broken Musketeers." This picture has broken house records wherever shown and is now generally conceded the biggest box-office hit of the new season of 1922-1923. Valentino acts wonderfully in this picture and has fine support from Lila Lee and Nita Naldi. The spectacular bill ring scenes, the wealth of detail, the superb acting and splendid direction mark this picture in a class by itself. The member who miss it will miss a great experience.

MATINICUS

Ames—Burgess

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin T. Burgess was the scene of a quiet wedding Saturday evening when their daughter Lena was married to Elmer Ellsworth Ames. The ceremony was performed by W. Scott Young in the presence of the bride's parents and a few guests. The bride wore an attractive gown of brown messaline.

The marriage took place in the house built and long occupied by the bridegroom's great grandfather, Alexander Philbrook. It is of interest to note that this house stands upon the site of the one in which Mr. Philbrook was himself married and set up his household goods, almost one hundred years ago.

Mr. Ames was one of the first to enroll in the coast patrol, where he served with honor throughout the World War. He has recently completed the building of an exceptionally fine motor boat, christened the Lena G., so with a new wife and a new boat he is doubtless looking upon life through rose-colored glasses. Mr. and Mrs. Ames will make their home with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Miller. Both the young people are highly respected in the community and have a host of friends, all of whom join in wishing them a long and happy life together.

WALTER S. MORTON

Walter S. Morton, a well known carpenter and fraternity man, died Sunday in town, where he had been receiving treatment at the sanatorium the past seven weeks. He had faced the inevitable outcome of his malady in a cheerful and uncomplaining spirit.

The deceased was a native of Friendship, and a son of Silas A. Morton. During his 29 years residence in Rockland he had been in the employ of the W. H. Glover Co. He had represented Ward 2 in the Common Council, was at the head of the Carpenters & Joiners local, was past chancellor of Gen. Berry Lodge, K. of P., and belonged to Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows and Knox Aerie of Eagles. In these organizations, and among his fellow workmen he was especially well liked.

Mr. Morton is survived by his father, and one brother, A. E. Morton of Portland. There will be services at Burial's parlors Wednesday at 10 a. m.

THE AWFUL MUMMY

If You Are At All Superstitious Here Is Something To Consider.

The sinking of the Titanic and a long line of other calamities have been attributed to the revenge of a young Egyptian princess because her sarcophagus was removed from its tomb and transported several years ago from Egypt to England. The story of these disasters and their mysterious origin is revived in connection with the superstitious conjectures offered in explanation of Lord Carnarvon's death. Some of the belated adventures in retribution of this particular princess were sketched by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

The following outline of the ravages attributed to this most potent of mummy's curses is furnished by Shaw Desmond, the English author and journalist:

"Eight years or so ago, at any rate before the war, a mummy of a young princess was brought from Egypt. It had the reputation of having a curse on it for anybody who disturbed it. When it was being taken out of the stone sarcophagus, the slab fell and killed several workmen. Later, on being shipped from Liverpool, a hoisting cable broke, killing a man in a most peculiar way. The mummy was placed in the British Museum, but was credited with bringing so much disaster to all those connected with it that it was finally put away in a storeroom by order of the British Museum authorities. It was said that the curse was on anyone who touched her or interfered with her in any way.

His sister, who was elaborated by Ambrose Lansing, Egyptologist of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York who said that the sinking of the Titanic had been traced to the mummy and fury of the mummy by some devout believers in the curse theory. Rumors were spread, he said, that the British Museum authorities, much disturbed at the mysterious mischief, had sold the mummy to an American who designed to bring it to America. The mummy vetoed this plan, according to followers of her career, and to insure the American's death, used her power to steer an iceberg into the track of the world's greatest ship, sinking it and drowning hundreds, as well as her selected victim.

Lansing said that this was the last calamity traced to the mummy, so far as he knew, but that he would not be surprised if the mummy's adherents made her the instigator of the world war. For a time the rumors were quiet, but they were revived when the British Museum to hide away the mummy and break the murderous force of three or four thousand-year-old incantations, that Sir Ernest A. Wallis Budge, keeper of Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities at the British Museum, issued a denial, according to Mr. Lansing, that any precautions had been taken to elude the vindictiveness of the princess. He ridiculed the whole story.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's account of the posthumous (by 30 or 40 centuries) crimes of the noble maiden would make her or her guardian spirit a bacteriologist, for the last of the chain of the mummy murders was brought about by inoculation. Typhoid fever germs were introduced into the system of a journalist who sought merely to weave an article around the girl who had made a forward pass of her ferocious disposition from early antiquity to the present day.

Hundreds of mummies have been brought to this country, have traveled about with Barnum's circus and have stocked various museums, but so far no mummy in this country has been accused of a murder not even in the Elwell case when 400 writers of anonymous letters paid nearly every other soldier of the World War carried War Risk insurance. These beneficiaries number 158,145 and the amount paid out during the last fiscal year was $109,073,801. Of the survivors of the World War 544,179 are continuing their insurance policies with the government. It is estimated that approximately $450,000,000 will be required to pay for the compensation, care and training of veterans of the World War for the next fiscal year.

"Comment seems unnecessary, but if anyone will take the trouble to learn the facts, I think they will not charge our country with being ungrateful to those brave and patriotic men who were disabled in the defense of their country."

If you feel too tired for work or pleasure, take Hood's Sarsaparilla—it cures that tired feeling.—Adv.

EMPIRE THEATRE

It is not definitely known who coined the phrase "There's one born every minute." Nearly every day one reads in the paper of some smooth individual who has utilized this desire for easy money to enrich himself at the expense of someone else's toil and labor. A demonstration of just how it is done is portrayed in "Dollar Devils" at the Empire today. In this case, however, the witty promoter investigates an entire community into giving him their money. The companion feature is "When The Desert Calls" with Barney Sherry and Huntley Gordon and a big cast of picked favorites. A comedy completes this pleasing program with

Mrs. Fannie B. Clement entertained the Chummy Club at "The Farm" last Tuesday, when the birthday of Mrs. Jennie Sadler was celebrated. The lunch consisted of fruit salad, sandwiches, olives, fancy cookies, coffee, grape juice, sherbert. A birthday cake with six candles, was a conspicuous feature. Mrs. Sadler was presented with a cut glass dish. The guests expressed many regrets at the prospective departure of the hostess.

The Charity Club had a very pleasant session at Ingraham Hill last Thursday, the hostess being Mrs. Charles S. Robbins.

Rhama E. Philbrick is in Boston this week on business connected with the Sea View Garage.

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, of Boston, who is to address the Woman's Educational Club, April 20, on the League of Nations, has more than a national reputation as both a writer and lecturer. She has made 13 trips to Europe. She has been a delegate to various foreign congresses and has given addresses on international questions in many cities from Budapest to Los Angeles. She is author of "Milton's England," "Swords and Ploughshares" and many brochures. Every member should make it a point to be present, excluding all other engagements. The discussions of Hutchinson's problem novel, "This Freedom," and the primary law will be continued in Open Forum, and members are urged to come prepared to participate.

Miss Dorothy Cooper resumes her studies at Gorham Normal School today.

The Fortnightly Club met with Mrs. N. B. Allen Friday afternoon with Mrs. I. J. Shuman and Mrs. Mida Packard as hostesses. A particularly nice buffet lunch was served. Prizes were won by Mrs. George T. Wade, Mrs. Mida Packard, Mrs. Austin M. Moody and Mrs. N. B. Allen.

"Up and walking about" is the welcome word from J. A. Jameson, who is convalescing from an operation at Carney Hospital, Boston, three weeks ago. He hopes to be home next week.

Mrs. Charles G. Fairbanks of Hudson, Mass., and Mrs. Annie Jennison of Waltham, Mass., who came here to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Annette Lamson, have returned home.

Walter W. Spaulding of Boston has been looking up friends in the old home town the past few days, his vacation being necessarily brief because his duties as assistant cashier of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc. in the Boston office, keep him pretty busily occupied. Grove street, Friday at 2.30 will close the season's schedule of regular meetings to be followed by the complimentary recital on the evening of April 27.

Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, who has been spending a few days with her daughter, Miss Rhandena Armstrong in Bucksport went from there to Orono, where she will spend the balance of the week with her daughter, Grace. Wednesday night they attend in Bangor, a concert of the Bangor Symphony Orchestra, of which Miss Grace Armstrong is a member.

There will be a meeting of the Chapin class of the Universalist church in the vestry, Union street, following the regular circle supper there Wednesday evening. Members please make an extra effort to attend. Also please take any small boxes, such as candy boxes, strawberry baskets, etc., that would be suitable for making May baskets. Take scissors, too.

Miss Hazel Merrill has returned to her home in Thomaston, after having spent the weekend with her cousin, Mrs. Arlene Rhodes, Broadway.

The World Wide Guild of the Littlefield Memorial Church will give a missionary concert in the vestry Wednesday evening with a short play entitled "For Want of Funds."

Miss Dorothy Hughes of Winchester, Mass., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Susan Smith, Broad street. Mrs. Smith also has as a guest her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ralph L. Smith, of New London, Conn.

Miss Edith Wilson, a teacher in the Malden, Mass., schools, and Miss Hortense Wilson of Thomaston were honor guests at a happy little family dinner party given by Mrs. John O. Stevens, Sunday.

Capt. and Mrs. R. K. Snow arrived home Saturday night from California, where they spent the greater part of the winter.

Lewis S. Crosby, athletic director at the High School, spent the weekend at his Bangor home. He returned Sunday in his Ford coupe, which has been wintering in Bangor. The roads were like a hospital patient—"as well as could be expected."

Mrs. William C. Bird has gone to Washington, D. C., for a month's visit with her sister, Mrs. Wilson B. Keene.

S. S. Waldron is home from Stonington, called by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Waldron of Spruce Head, who died this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Burpee who have spent the winter at The Laurie are now occupying their home on Beech street, the other residents of which are glad to see Mr. Burpee's familiar figure again with clocklike regularity passing to and from business.

John E. Crie and Fred S. Rhodes of 33 Talbot avenue were at Cribhaven from Tuesday to Friday last week looking over their summer estates and having the cottages put in order for the people who will occupy them through the summer season. Mr. Crie and Mr. Rhodes, accompanied by the latter's wife and daughter, Mrs. Wilson, leave on the boat tonight for Boston. After spending a few days with relatives in Brookline they start for the West, visiting Dr. Frank L. Crie in Mitchell, Neb., Robert R. Crie at Ault, Colo., and Mrs. Percy Candlin in Gering, Neb. They plan to be away from home about a month.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR

John Graves, Civil War veteran, aged 96, died in West Rockport.

J. G. Dimick of North Conway opened the Princess bowling alleys on Park street.

Afford's Lake was free of ice and Phil Thomas and George A. Wooster were the first to catch salmon.

There were 17 kilns afire in Rockland, including the five gas kilns.

The Universalists raised their budget of $7000, and a little better.

The Republican county committee organized with George W. Roberts as chairman.

If you want to know what happened to William Jay, see the epitaph in the window of George Roberts' insurance office on Limerock street.

Camden Herald.—At the regular meeting of Maiden Cliff Commandery, U. O. G. C. last week W. H. Thomas of Masonic street, Rockland, entertained with a long talk on his experiences in foreign countries. Mr. Thomas has been third officer on a merchant marine ship and has been in eight different countries. His experience on shore in Norway, Sweden and Germany, telling of the way the people lived and dressed, cost of food, clothing and things the natives used in every day life, were certainly very interesting. He told of a number of American made articles that he could buy in those countries for nearly one-half the price they could be bought for here in America. One thing in particular was American made cheese could be bought there for 18 cents per pound and here at home we have to pay 35 cents or more. He said the cold countries, such as Norway and Sweden, had had an extra warm winter. His last trip across to New York was one of the roughest ever seen on the Atlantic. Mr. Thomas is a very interesting man to listen to and all present enjoyed the hour very much.

Mickey says autos go through our business streets altogether too fast. The idea of a big empty truck making 30 miles on Main street is absurd. The officers should get these "bugs" named before the busy season opens. There's plenty of room up in Sperm Bakes' Limerock street hotel for them. When that's filled we can utilize the old Wisconsin jail, perhaps.

Smalley's Camden, Belfast and Bangor auto bus is on the old route making two daily trips.

REWARD OFFERED

For information leading to arrest and conviction of person or persons depositing tin cans on Farnsworth lot, on Elm Street, a reward of $10 will be paid.
