COOLIDGE'S SONS AT DEVENS

The Citizens Military Training Camp authorities at the headquarters of the First Corps Area have received a formal application from John Coolidge, the son of the president. This will be his second year at Camp Devens and he will enter the Red course. Calvin Coolidge, Jr., youngest son of the President, has sent for application blanks and will, if accepted, attend the basic course. It will be very gratifying to New England parents whose boys contemplate attending Camp Devens this summer, to know that the President's sons will also attend. The fact that the President of the United States has approved the decision of each of his two sons to attend the Citizens Military Training Camp indicates his approval of these camps and has confidence in them as an agency to teach young Americans the right principles of sturdy Americanism.

RODE OUT THE BIG GALE

Schooner Anna Sophia Had Rough Time in the Vineyard—Other News of the Sea.

"Next to the November gale of 1898, it was the worst storm I was ever out in," said Capt. B. F. Pascal, when he came ashore, Sunday from the new schooner Anna Sophia, which was in the Vineyard when the recent big blow struck.

"Sometimes she would jump so high that I thought I was in an airship," continued Capt. Pascal, "and then she would go down so far I thought it must be a submarine. The gale meant she was blowing 80 miles an hour." "The storm began at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, and lasted until Thursday night. On the previous Saturday the schooner was only 12 miles astern of the six-sticker Wyoming, which is now considered to have foundered in the storm.

The Ann Sophia, which by the way was launched Dec. 12, 1923, and was making her second trip, was bound from Undercliffe with a 210 tons of anthracite coal for the Rockport Fuel Co. The schooner sprang a leak under the force of the gale, and for three days the wrecking pump was in operation. The vessel was leaking a foot an hour. The topsail sheet parted, and the foretopmast went over the bow, jib and all.

The schooner finally grounded, and was on from Tuesday night at 9 o'clock until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock when she was hoisted. Wireless reports said that the schooner was stranded, and a cutter was sent to her assistance. Long before its arrival, however, she had floated without aid. The Scott Wrecking Co. also had a lighter alongside, but Capt. Pascal saved the underwriters a big salvage bill by trusting to his own judgment and efforts. Where the schooner struck was on the western side of Vineyard Haven harbor.

After the schooner has discharged her cargo at Rockport she will return to this port and go to the South Railroad.

BISHOP BREWSTER

Spoke At St. Peter's and Confirmed Class of Nineteen.

Bishop Benjamin Brewster of Portland preached at St. Peter's church Sunday night and confirmed a record breaking class of 19 members. The church was crowded to the doors with an audience gathered from the Episcopalian residents here and of Camden, Thomaston and outside towns who desired to hear the bishop. A special feature of the service was the blessing of the processional cross of the Thomaston church. It was constructed by Rev. John B. Pitcher, rector of St. Peter's and of St. John the Baptist church.

As always Bishop Brewster preached a scholarly and well balanced sermon thoroughly understandable and appreciated. The confirmation of the big class was the most impressive part of the fine service. The confirmations included Swinburne P. Perry, Mrs. Maria C. Bird, Miss Gertrude Smith, Miss Grace P. Armstrong, Frances C. March, Evelyn F. Niles, Vera T. Nye, Robert V. Johnson, Clifford Ladd, Stephen A. Barry, Addie L. McIntosh, Mary E. McIntosh, Madeline E. Stone, Kathryn Newhall, Clara B. Newhall, Vera E. Shankle, Mrs. Myra E. Flagg, Myra V. Flagg and Daisy Economy.

Michael Hickey, the ex-service man, who came to this city last week, ostensibly seeking work, but whose somewhat peculiar actions in Thomaston and this city gained him a rather cool reception, was in Bangor at last reports, with a similar hard luck story.

CAME BY THE HUNDREDS

The Courier-Gazette's Housewarming Was a Remarkable Demonstration of Community's Good-Will.

The Courier-Gazette's cup of happiness was filled to overflowing Saturday afternoon when citizens of Rockland and adjoining towns came to offer their congratulations on the accession of its new and (moderately) palatial quarters. Their words of praise unmistakably came from the bottom of their hearts, as did their cordial well wishes, the memory of which will continue to ring so pleasantly in the ears of the happy newspaper staff to whom they were addressed.

A definite estimate of the number of visitors is not easily made, for they came at times so thickly and rapidly that a count could not readily have been made. Certainly they numbered more than 2000—some set it as high as 3000.

The hours of the opening were advertised as from 2 to 5, but the stream of callers began long before 2 o'clock, and continued uninterruptedly until 9 o'clock at night, when the doors were closed and the lights extinguished.

The visitors were first shown through the main business office and editorial rooms, passing thence to the newspaper composing room and printing department where for these continuous hours Marston's five-piece orchestra furnished a most delightful program of jazz, popular and classical selections. Director Marston looked as happy as though it were his own housewarming, and a more generous program has seldom been presented in the same space of time.

To all who came, punch, fancy cookies and confections were served, with the speed and rhythm of well-ordered machinery. The fruit punch concocted by Albert C. Jones, was found to have a most agreeable taste. The only "stick" in it was the one used in stirring. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold H. Jones had charge of the refreshments, and in the serving of them were assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Berry, 2d, Mrs. Albert C. Jones, Mrs. H. F. Mann, Mrs. William S. White, Miss Etta O'Brien and Miss Charlotte Thompson.

But the visitors found other diversions besides music and refreshments. They saw the linotype machines in operation, and to many of them came brand new impressions of how type is prepared for newspaper use. The machines were operated by The Courier-Gazette's regular crew—Harold G. Cole, Mrs. Harold G. Cole, Miss Etta O'Brien and Esten M. Blake. These operators were given a lift during the afternoon by Miss Helen M. York, a former member of the staff, who for some years has been a linotype operator for the Portland Evening Express. It was a source of much satisfaction to her corner associates that she could be present at the opening.

Why the machines are called linotypes was demonstrated to the visitors when each was presented with a line of type into which their names had been set. Eventually there came such a congestion of applications that the three machines could not keep pace with the requests.

From the composing room the visitors were shunted to the commodious basement, where they had the opportunity of seeing the new Duplex printing press in operation, under the direction of Pressman Frank S. Lydell. They marvelled at the great rolls of paper, which had come out of the Northern Maine forests, and they marvelled at man's ingenuity as they saw how the paper was threaded into the great press, finally to emerge a printed, cut and folded newspaper, ready for the reader's consumption. Each visitor was presented with a copy of this souvenir edition and The Courier-Gazette went into hundreds of homes where there is now a new understanding of some of the steps which go to make up a newspaper, of which from force of habit we sometimes say there is "nothing in it," but whose non-delivery causes considerable sputteration.

Two forms of comment were uppermost Saturday. "It looks like a bank," said one group. "A florist shop," said another. A bank because of the arrangement of the modern office furnishings; a florist's shop because of the great quantities of magnificent flowers which adorned the business counter and all of the desks—flowers which had been sent for the opening by The Courier-Gazette's thoughtful friends "along the street" and some from out of town. Words do not come easily to express the appreciation which the proprietors feel for these demonstrations of kindness. The donors of these floral offerings were:

Fuller-Cobb-Davis, Hon. William T. Cobb, George B. Wood, the Red Cross nurses, Miss Griffin, Miss Sawyer and Miss Hertzgaard, Mrs. A. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jones and Nathalie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Philbrook, Mrs. Adela S. Hill, Mrs. Mary F. Veazie, the Glanzel flower shop, the Little Flower Shop, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Veazie, Maynard S. Bird & Co., V. F. Studley, Inc., Fireproof Garage and the Julius Mathews Special Advertising Agency of Boston. Among the callers during the afternoon were the members of Edwin Libby Post, G. A. R. who had been attending the weekly meeting of the Post. The Courier-Gazette has a warm corner in its heart for these aging veterans of the Civil War, and was glad to be honored by their visit. A well-known Thomaston Grand Army man who came in about this time was A. C. Strout. He looked over the news-

SOME KIND WORDS

That Came To Hand In Connection With Saturday's Opening.

The Courier-Gazette is represented in the general advertising field by that leading New England agency, the Julius Mathews Special Agency of Boston, which has branch offices in New York, Chicago and Detroit, from each of which came telegrams of congratulation.

We wish all the members of our estimable organization much happiness and success in your new home, and we hope you will always continue to require more white space and floor space in your steady and sturdy growth as an indispensable institution, rendering the very best service to the enterprising people of your important community.

The Julius Mathews Special Agency.

New York, March 29.

Our new office here sends its best wishes and congratulations on the opening of your new offices. Our wish is unbounded success to you and your associates. Unable to be with you in person, we can at least be with you all in spirit. C. W. Brocker, Manager.

In view of formal opening of your new offices today, we extend congratulations and well-wishes for your continued growth and success.

Detroit Manager.

Chicago, March 29.

Your Chicago office wishes to thank you for the invitation to attend formal opening and inspection of your new quarters. We regret distance prevents our being present. Congratulations to The Courier-Gazette organization, individually and collectively. As the writer's parents were born in Islesboro and Camden respectively, he must admit and hope you agree that Rockland and the adjacent country so well served by The Courier-Gazette represents the most intelligent section of Maine. (Don't mention this to Mr. Mathews, who was raised in Lewiston.) Harry S. Gould, Manager.

FROM MASSACHUSETTS

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— I am very glad to accept your kind invitation to inspect some day your new office. I congratulate you upon having such an up-to-date, modern home for the best country newspaper in the State of Maine. May your shadow never grow less and may you continue in the years to come to spread the gospel of good cheer throughout the country. Your sincere friend and well-wisher. Boze. Somerville, Mass., March 28.

AND FROM WALDOBORO

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— I read that you are to have the opening of your new building to-morrow. I had hoped to be present and extend my congratulations in person, but I find that this is impossible, so am writing to say how glad I am that The Courier-Gazette is to be so fittingly housed. It is a "fine paper"—clean, up-to-date and broad-minded in its views. As I have said before I am indeed proud to be connected with it as your Waldoboro news correspondent. With best wishes to you and all the staff. Maude Clark Gay.

ROCKLAND PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. J. M. Ratcliff Goes To Beverly, Mass., and Will Combine University Courses With His Labors.

A surprise—and a distinctly unpleasant one—awaited many persons Sunday, when from the pulpit of the Universalist church Rev. John M. Ratcliff read his resignation.

Mr. Ratcliff has accepted a call to the First Universalist church in Beverly, Mass., the duties of whose pastor include the supply of the church in Essex.

Mr. Ratcliff's letter of resignation was addressed to the trustees of the Universalist Society. "For some time," he said, "it has been my ambition to finish my university training and become a candidate for the higher degrees. Recently a proposition was tendered me by the Universalist churches of Beverly and Essex, which will enable me to take a course at Harvard and Boston Universities and at the same time earn a sufficient salary to defray my expenses."

"Feeling that this was a rare opportunity, and one which might not come my way again for some time, I have accepted the proposition and therefore present my resignation as the pastor of the First Universalist Society in Rockland to take place at such a time as it may be agreed upon."

It is understood that Mr. Ratcliff will remain here until after Easter Sunday. He came to Rockland from Halifax, N. S. three years ago the coming May, and in addition to giving his church an active administration has shared prominently in the city's civic activities. He has stressed the importance of work among the young people, and last year had personal charge of a group of boys who went by motor to the national Y.P.C.U. convention in Muncie, Ind. Under his pastorate a lively troop of Boy Scouts has been maintained, and on most of their hikes and outings he has joined heartily. He was one of the organizers of the Children's Playground, which has now had two successful seasons, and was its first president.

Mr. Ratcliff engineered a task of large proportions when his church last year entertained the State Convention of Universalist churches. In that convention he was elected a member of the State executive committee.

The budget system of the local church has been increased about $2500, and every department has been maintained at a high standard.

Mr. Ratcliff included a membership in the Chamber of Commerce among his activities. He was a member of the committee which had charge of the drive, and of the tourist camp committee. He wanted to see Rockland prosper.

Cash receipts dated March 12 are redeemable at Perry's Market.—adv.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

WORDS OF STRENGTH

There are three lessons I would write. Three words, as with a burning pen. In tracings of eternal light. Upon the hearts of men.

Have hope. Though clouds environ now, And gladness hides her face in scorn, Put thou the shadow from thy brow— No night, but has its morn.

Have faith. Where'er thy bark is driven, The calm'st of port, the tempest's wrath— Know this—God rules the hosts of heav'n. The inhabitants of earth.

Have love. Not love alone for one, But man as man thy brother call. And scatter like the circling sun Thy charities on all.

Thus I gave these lessons on the soul. Hope, Faith and Love, and thou shalt find Strength when life's surges rudest roll. Light when thou else wert blind.—Frederick Schiller.

"KEEP COOLIDGE"

The Republicans of Thomaston are to be congratulated on their splendid victory in yesterday's town meeting—a victory so complete as to exceed the wildest dreams of a few years ago when Thomaston was one of the strongest of Maine's Democratic strongholds. The victory was made possible by the nomination of men and women whom the townspeople knew to be fully capable of meeting their official responsibilities. The victory was made possible by united and harmonious effort, just as Rockland's Republican victory was made possible March 3. The political situation in Knox County, as forecast by the town meetings in Camden and Thomaston, and the city election in Rockland, has a very rosy Republican hue, and will inspire the party workers in every town to their utmost endeavors. "Harmony and Work"—that's the watchword.

The Sunday newspapers were full of the dire things which Harry M. Daugherty had threatened to do, because President Coolidge had demanded that he resign from the Cabinet. He was either misquoted or has since cooled off, for yesterday's despatches quote him as saying that he has no personal feeling against the President and that he is yet Mr. Coolidge's "dependable friend and supporter." This would be a very manly stand for Mr. Daugherty to take—and a just one.

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, has changed his mind about coming voluntarily to this country and serve his deferred sentence. His objection seems to be that he is not properly impressed with the genuineness of the conditions that were named. Perhaps he thought there might be more warmth than cordiality to his reception.

Gort Curly 9th, a Kerry cow, can scarcely be accused of "eating her head off" the past winter. According to an Associated Press despatch she produced 11,333 pounds of milk in 46 weeks, or more than 13 times her own weight. In the spring of 1921 a Kerry produced 11,396 pounds, which at that time was said to be a world's record for a cow.

The Sunday Globe had a nice little notice of The Courier-Gazette's housewarming, but the heartless linotype operator dropped a cipher and made it appear that 300 were present instead of 3000, as the correspondent wrote it. And yet there was a time when the Globe used to be accused of exaggeration.

COUNTY CANDIDATES

Adelbert L. Miles, who declined to take a second term as judge of probate, this morning announced that he will be a candidate for the county attorney nomination on the Republican ticket.

S. E. Norwood of Warren announces that he will be a Republican candidate for the representative nomination in the Warren, Rockport, Union and Washington class, and will put into the campaign the extra effort which would have sufficed to elect him two years ago when he was a candidate. Mr. Norwood stands very high in the regard of Warren voters, and would make an ideal representative. H. N. Brazier of Rockport is the Democratic candidate in this class.

CAPIN KIDD TREASURE FOUND

After Long and Careful Search Captain Kidd Unearths It.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
At last the long-sought treasure of Capt. Kidd has been discovered.

"Oh, my name was Captain Kidd,
As I sailed, as I sailed,
And God's laws I did forbid,
As I sailed, as I sailed."

The scene of the find was not far from famous Ballyhac. I have searched everywhere on the Maine coast for the hidden treasure and at last have found it. You would hardly believe that the famous pirate would come down to the coast of Maine to bury his ill-gotten treasure, but he did. About the last place to look for it would be Crow Island, but there was where it was found. I searched for it on Pleasant, Andrews, Eagle, Grafton, Flag, Bar, Mink, Seal and Norton islands, but all to no purpose. Then finally I tried Crow—and eureka!

I dare not disclose the amount of the treasure on account of the income tax that would fall on it, but it is enough to keep me "at mine ease" for the balance of my life. I have made my will and left all my goods and chattels to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, with Charlie Godfrey as executor, without surety on his bond, knowing full well that his word is as good as his bond and neither one as good as a tinker mackerel fried in pork fat and well browned.

Capt. Isaac Cottle.

GOV. BAXTER SAYS "NO!"

Is Not a Candidate for Renomination—Twenty-six Democrats Seek the Presidential Nomination.

Twenty-six aspirants for the Democratic nomination for President, avowed or receptive, are revealed as the result of a canvass by Democratic leaders in New York. A field of this size was said to be the largest ever gathered for a race for a Presidential nomination and belief was expressed that the number might increase before the Democratic National Convention convenes June 24.

There was said to be every reason to believe that everyone of the 26 mentioned would receive at least a few votes in the convention, particularly, if, as expected, a deadlock should result. Included in the list are a number of "favorite son" candidates. Each of these was said to be a more or less serious candidate in the sense that the situation was such that his supporters at least hoped for a chance to put forward seriously as a compromise candidate. The list by states follows:

Alabama, Senator Oscar W. Underwood; Arkansas, Senator Joseph T. Robinson; California, William G. McAdoo; Colorado, Gov. William E. Sweet; Connecticut, Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic National committee; Florida, William J. Bryan; Illinois, Mayor William E. Dever of Chicago; Indiana, Senator Samuel M. Ralston and former Vice President Thomas R. Marshall; Iowa, E. T. Meredith, formerly Secretary of Agriculture; Kansas, Governor Jonathan M. Davis; Louisiana, Gov. John M. Parker; Missouri, Senator James A. Reed; Montana, Senators Thomas J. Walsh and E. K. Wheeler; Nebraska, Gov. Charles W. Bryan; New Jersey, Governor George S. Silzer; New York, Governor Alfred E. Smith, Senator Royal S. Copeland and William R. Hearst; North Carolina, Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy; Ohio, James M. Cox, former governor and Democratic nominee for President in 1920; Tennessee, Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National committee; Texas, Governor Pat M. Neff; Virginia, Senator Carter Glass; West Virginia, John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain.

According to the information obtained by a nationwide survey, Mr. McAdoo, Gov. Smith and Senator Underwood are expected to be the leading candidates on the early ballots. Other candidates expected to be placed in nomination and to get at least some votes from their home states on the early ballots are Senator Robinson, Senator Ralston, Mr. Meredith, Gov. Silzer, Mr. Cox, Gov. Neff, Senator Glass and Mr. Davis.

Senator Ralston has been the most frequently mentioned "dark horse" candidate and will probably remain in the running until a decision is reached on the nominee. Former Vice President Marshall has been mentioned as a possible alternative candidate from Indiana if the movement of Senator Ralston should not make the progress expected. Gov. Neff of Texas is likely to receive the 40 votes of Texas on early ballots as the result of a truce with Mr. McAdoo's supporters in that state, providing Senator Underwood, whose friends are entered in the Texas primaries, does not win in that state. According to the information received here at the McAdoo headquarters, the Texas vote will ultimately go to Mr. McAdoo. Mr. Meredith is said to be friendly to Mr. McAdoo's candidacy. The friends of John W. Davis expect his strength to grow as the convention progresses. Gov. Silzer, Senator Glass and Mr. Cox are expected to start each with the vote of his own state delegation or nearly all of it.

Mr. Cummings, who is supporting Mr. McAdoo, will probably not be placed in nomination at the beginning of the convention, but his friends will await opportunity to put him forward as a candidate. Mayor Deever of Chicago was said to be in about the same situation. Senator Reed was beaten in the Missouri county convention but it is expected to have a few delegates from that state. With the exception of Mr. Hearst, for whom there have been recent signs of activity, the others mentioned, including William J. Bryan and his brother, Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, were said to be largely in the receptive class.

Baxter Says "No."
Setting at rest all rumors that he would shortly announce himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, Governor Baxter issued a statement Friday in which he declared that he had no thought of seeking the office and that his platform was not intended in any sense as an advance announcement of his entering the primary contest. His statement was as follows:

"During the past six months I repeatedly have been asked if I would stand again for Governor. Urgent requests that I do so have come from every section of the State, and since my suggestions for a platform were published these appeals have multiplied. To them all I have replied expressing my appreciation of the confidence shown in me, but saying I am not a candidate.

"The good opinion of my fellow citizens is valued by me more than anything else in the world. I, however, cannot enter into a "scramble" for office, for that would be unworthy of any Governor, especially one who has served two terms.

"My platform suggestions were prepared for the purpose of helping the Republican party and the State of Maine. Three different members of the State Committee asked me to draft them. I want our State to have a sound businesslike government. I want the good name of Maine to remain untarnished. The present unrest and ill-feeling are deplorable and reflect no credit upon us. We are in a dangerous state of mind, and good will and tolerance need to be restored among our people. No one can foresee what the future has in store for us.

"Personally I do not crave public office, although I enjoy my work at Augusta. I am, and ever shall be, ready to serve my State. It will be my duty to do so quite as effectively out of office, as in. The greatest honor in the gift of our people has been bestowed on me. I accepted it under a sense of duty and a desire to serve my fellow-citizens. These should be the governing motives of every man in public life. I am grateful for the honor but shall not strive for it again.

"Twice already I publicly have stated I am not a candidate for any office. To set at rest prevailing rumors I once again repeat: I am doing the day's work at Augusta to the best of my ability and am devoting my entire time to it. I am not a candidate, have no thought of being one and my platform was not intended in any sense as an advance announcement of my entering the primary contest.

Maine is Divided

Senator Underwood is held in high esteem by several in the Maine Democratic delegation that will have membership in the National convention in New York in June. There is some preference for McAdoo, some for Gov. Smith of New York, some for Ralston of Indiana and a strong undercurrent that may swing to John W. Davis of West Virginia as the favorite sons are eliminated, one after another.

These facts developed at a recent conference of delegates and alternates, though even the informality of a straw vote was deferred. An expression of opinion from each led to an agreement that each should exercise his or her shaping itself in the early stages of the contest.

Carter Keene of the delegation is an out and out Davis man and is president for Maine of the Davis club. He is hopeful and even confident that once the exceptional ability of his man is demonstrated that the 12 votes of the Dixie State will be found in the Davis column and eventually will aid in victory. He does not believe any of the other prominent aspirants can win or offer such elements of strength as the man he is backing.

Eventually the delegates believe it will be wise to settle in support of one man as a unit and when two-thirds of the delegation is so minded, all will be bound to concur.

Lincoln County Politics

Forest H. Bond of Jefferson, a former sheriff of Lincoln county, has announced that at the primaries he will be a candidate for nomination as State Senator. Mr. Bond has long been prominent in the councils of the Republican party and his services entitle him to consideration. Nomination papers are being circulated and an active canvass will be made.

The chiefs of the Democratic party in Lincoln county met Friday and picked out candidates for the primary elections in June. The line of action pursued at the State Convention gave the cue but for that matter, the nominees of the Democratic party have been handpicked for many years. The ticket selected follows: James Perkins, Boothbay Harbor, State Senator; James Spinney, Boothbay, sheriff; B. C. Redonnet of Wiscasset, clerk of courts; Percy E. Storer, Waldoboro, county commissioner. The office of county commissioner remains to be filled. Carl P. Larrabee, Wiscasset, candidate at the last election, declines to run again.

Weather This Week

Weather outlook for the coming week in the North Atlantic States: Clearing and much colder at the beginning; generally fair with temperature somewhat below normal thereafter until Thursday when weather will become unsettled and warmer with probably rain.

At its regular meeting Thursday night King Solomon Temple Chapter will have work on the Mark Master degree.

Close to a million pounds of fresh fish were landed at Portland Saturday by the Deep Sea trawlers Osprey, Coot, Loon and Flover.

Knowlton's Restaurant has moved from the Case building two doors north to the Donohue building formerly occupied by Levy's clothing store.

L. D. Jones, civil engineer and attorney, has moved his office from the old Courier-Gazette building to the second floor of the City Building.

This is the last week at Strand Theatre until the proposed changes have progressed to the extent of having evening performances. Three extra good bills are offered this week.

It's going to be a great circus year in New England, according to Billboard, which says that the shows certain to make this territory are Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey, Seils-Floto, Walter L. Main, Christy Bros., and Sparks. Rockland will get none of the big shows until the Kennebec Bridge is built, but it will probably draw at least one of the smaller ones.

A good sized Matineus delegation is in the city with a view to attending a case which is due for trial at the present term of Supreme Court. Included in the group are First Selectman Leon Young, Town Clerk Ralph Philbrook, Harbor Master James Teel, Oscar Ames, Harold Bunker, Horace Osier, and Deputy Sheriff E. H. Ripley. Another Matineus delegation interested in the same case, is making its headquarters in Camden.

At the Empire—today, "The Sea Raiders"; Wednesday and Thursday, Bryant Washburn in "Mine to Keep"; Friday and Saturday, John Gilbert in "A Man's Mate."

A Rockland traveling man who always has an eye open for interesting things, and who always remembers The Courier-Gazette when he sees them is Adelbert Walker. Mr. Walker hands us a copy of a hand made poster which he picked up in Damarscott the other day, and which advertises Gay's grocery store. It is a clever proposition, and could not have failed to attract attention.

The quota for the Citizens' Military Training Camp to be held at Camp Devens during the month of August has been boosted by applications from all over New England, and all who desire to go should signify their intentions. There are ten of Rockland's young men going this summer, which means that none will be homesick. One of the latest to sign up is Dick Reed, who is spending his vacation in Rockland. The age is 17 to 24, the time the month of August, and the expense nothing. Application blanks may be obtained from Major C. A. Whitney, 3 Grove street, Rockland.

WAITING THE WORD

The Rockland Country Club's Golf Course Will Be Ready In a Fortnight.

Impatiently awaiting the opening of the golf season at the Rockland Country Club are the 62 resident members of that organization, who, after practising in theory during the winter months feel themselves competent to perform some wonderful stunts this summer. The total playing membership of the Club is 94, and there is quite a formidable waiting list.

L. E. Wardwell of Camden, who is chairman of the grounds committee, made a cursory examination of the course yesterday, and felt warranted in saying that it will be playable in two weeks, except for the greens which are apt to be soft until the first of May.

In the latter connection it is interesting to note that the new third green will be completed this spring. The usual spring work will be done on the grounds, and this will include a "bee" for the purpose of burning the grass to improve the fairways and smooth out the rough places. A calm day will be selected for this purpose, on the principal of "safety first."

The membership will be well pleased to know that the Club has been fortunate enough to retain the services of Percy Condon as green keeper for the season.

Like every other community which has a golf course the Rockland Country Club expects the busiest season in its history.

The lure of the great outdoors is on.

France has nationwide daylight saving, and it is already in operation.

Rockland Encampment will have a drill meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Ethel Howard has returned from Winslow, where she spent the week's recess.

A. C. Jones is in Bangor to attend the auto show, which will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The Veteran Firemen's Drum Corps will have a drum major in the person of Charles Cook, who has volunteered his services to the boys.

HOW'S THE WEATHER

All Fool's Day sees the brightest of sun shining and the temperature fairly mild. Notice that the three or four blizzards that lately have had the west caught in their fierce grip—zero weather and deep snows—have died a natural death before reaching Rockland. Spring advanced toward us steadily all through March, which went out the mildest sort of a lamb.—The Weather Man.

"If you can go on the strength of Dark Harbor reports it's going to be a ripping good season on the Maine coast," said Capt. F. S. Sherman yesterday. "Hotel, boarding houses and private residences have signed up their full quota."

A Sunday School conference will be held at the First Baptist church Saturday, April 12. Warren, Thomaston, Camden, Rockport, West Rockport and Rockland churches will be represented. Watch this paper for further announcements.

The Rockland Band gave its final indoor concert of the season in Park Theatre Sunday afternoon. The program was featured by Prof. Claffey's violin solos. That this talented musician has located in Rockland is a source of universal satisfaction.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp the High School girls play their last game of the season at the Arcade. Morse High girls from Bath are the visitors and there will be action during every second of play. Rockland met defeat from this team earlier in the season and Coach Sullivan is out to even the score by a win this week. Morse has one of the best girls' teams in the State and it will be a game worth seeing.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

Major Lord Transferred From New Haven, Conn., To the National Capital.

A New London newspaper gives the following information concerning Major Lord's new assignment.

Major Lord, U. S. A., F. A., D. O. I., has been relieved from the detail as instructor of the National Guards, according to an announcement of the war department received here today.

Major Lord's transfer becomes effective after the annual encampment in July of the 102nd field artillery, to which he is assigned, when he will report to the chief of the militia bureau at Washington, D. C., for duty in his office.

Major Lord is now in Stamford, inspecting the Third battalion, and will return to this city Friday. He learned of his change in post through Capt. Otto H. Schroeter, regimental adjutant, who relayed the news to the major as soon as it was received here.

Major Lord was assigned to the local post in June, 1922, succeeding Maj. George W. Easterday. He accompanied his regiment to Fort Eustis, Virginia, in July of that year, and again in September of the following year.

For the last time, while on the local post, he will accompany the regiment to camp on July 26 and at the close of the encampment in August, will be entitled to a leave of absence, at the termination of which he is to present himself for duty at Washington.

While Major Lord will retain the title of his rank, the assignment to his new post is regarded in military circles as a promotion, coming as a mark of recognition for his faithful service while in this city.

Major Lord since his assignment here, has won a large circle of friends. He is equally well liked by the officers and men under him who regret his departure but who have been pleased to learn of his promotion to a higher field of activity. Socially Major Lord is well known in this city, where he is a member of the Rotary Club. His father, is Major General Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget at Washington.

Mrs. Lelia Gray entertained the members of the Apron Club Thursday evening at her home. Supper was served.

Mrs. Llewellyn Vinal left Saturday for Boston to meet her husband who has just arrived from France.

The first performance of the Minstrel Follies was given Monday evening under the auspices of the C. A. C's. The show was staged and rehearsed by Albert E. Haynes of the Acme Theatrical Producing Co., Burlington, Vt., whose efficiency in that line of work gave the touch of professionalization to the remarkable performance. "Memorial hall" was filled to its utmost capacity and the crowd showed their appreciation by frequent applause. The big cast of local artists did wonderful work in their songs and dances and Vinalhaven should feel proud of its unusual talent.

J. C. Harmon, who spent the winter in Rockland, returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Powers of North Haven are spending a few days with Mrs. Annie Richardson.

Miriam Tracy is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Tracy, in Rockland.

G. E. Pitts left for St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, Wednesday and is going on the U. S. Ranger as assistant engineer, employed in coast survey work.

Mel Hard of Ellsworth was in town Friday appraising the stock of the late H. O. Staples.

Mrs. Ray Small who has been away for two months has returned.

Milo Clarke who has been employed at Whittinsville, Mass., returned home Saturday.

Elder Rich was called to Dixfield last Monday to officiate at a funeral.

Mrs. Stewart Gross is entertaining her grandmother, Mrs. E. B. Cook of Deer Isle and her mother Mrs. Annie Emmons this week.

The Deer Island Granite Co. after expending considerable in their newly acquired property on Crotch Island in the way of machinery, derricks and tools are ready to operate their quarries.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rawley and little daughter Agnes were weekend guests of relatives in Rockland.

Mrs. Albert Slingsby and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wilson are confined to their homes with mumps.

Dr. Walter Hall is out of town on a visit.

The St. George bakery is to have a new coat of paint which will add greatly to its appearance on the corner of Main street. Sue is some hustler and will make his place of business look attractive outside as well as in. The town is proud to boast of such an up-to-date bakery.

Fred Watts is employed in Waldo-boro for a few weeks.

Elizabeth Wheeler is able to be out after an attack of mumps.

Charles Rawley and family will soon occupy the house owned by Mrs. Weston Pierson.

Mrs. Emerson Murphy is ill.

Jefferson Hopkins is a guest of his son in Jefferson.

James Barter is improving at a hospital in Rockland where he is receiving medical treatment.

Cash receipts dated March 12 are redeemable at Perry's Market.—adv.

WITH THE RADIO FANS

(By the Radio Editor)

A wooden box, a panel black, Condensers, coils of wire, and a vacuum tube, some batteries! And while says "Ain't radio grand!" —Exchange.

If you fellows haven't yet heard Jay Riseman's Orchestra broadcasting the dinner dance programs from station WNAC lately by all means get the old set in shape to get down to 275 meters and get in on this now. The difficulty that is reported to me every day by many fans in this locality that they cannot get down to the Shepard Stores wave length certainly means that they are missing some of the most entertaining programs broadcast here in the East. I cannot understand why so many perfectly good receivers will not get the Shepard Stores here, and I have concluded that the fault must be in the construction of the set.

My affection for the Haynes DX naturally causes me at this time to bring up this set as an example of efficiency in this respect. It is on the short waves that this simple little circuit shines its ability in the face of all other types of receiving sets, and with a combined length of not over 175 feet of aerial and ground the Haynes DX brings in the short waves easily.

The Superdine that I am now using is also equally as efficient on the short waves and it is easy to say that I am covering the entire band from 175 to 600 with a 200-foot antenna. I admit that a shorter antenna would make the set more selective but find that WBZ and KDKA are the only two stations that leak through one another.

I have letters here in the desk from over a score of fans who have never yet listened to station WNAC and the whole thing is a mystery to me, probably showing up how little I really know about radio.

A. J. Haynes, designer and builder of the Haynes DX has favored me with a nice letter from his New York store. Along with his letter comes the building instruction of his simplified Super-Hetrodyne, which appeared in recent issues of the "Radio Broadcast."

This "Super-Het" is a six-tube affair and from the experienced radio man's point of view is probably a simple receiver to make, but you can count me out from any present attempt at making one of these. My pet Super-dyne has got me nearly "bug-housed" already with its ins and outs and I think I will master this one first. Incidentally Mr. Haynes speaks of a vacation and fishing trip to Maine later in the season and in all probabilities he will visit Rockland to shake hands with his many friends here.

The Courier-Gazette is probably the first Maine newspaper to issue Radio applause cards to its radio readers. Applause cards have been successfully distributed for some time by many of the Southern papers who conduct a radio department and I am trying it out here in an effort to get more applause through to the broadcasting stations and their artists who nightly put their wonderful programs on the air for our entertainment.

Below is an exact copy of the proposed applause cards, and it is hoped you will grasp at once the idea that I am trying to put over. These cards will be sent to any interested reader who has a receiving set who will send me for them and enclose a stamp to help cover the expense. Fans here is an easy way to express your appreciation for the wonderful programs you are now receiving. Send for some cards and distribute them liberally among the stations whose programs you like most, and be sure to call attention to the name of the artist who rendered your favorite selection. Your card will then be serving a double purpose. This is how the card reads:

I am listening to your program of .....

And send this card as an expression of my appreciation of the above numbers in your program.

I have enjoyed your program very much and hope to hear you again.

Signed .....

The "Topics of 1923" which was put over by two Massachusetts stations last Monday evening was about the most successfully received musical play ever broadcast for New England fans. I haven't talked with a single radio fan this week that did not at some time or other during that evening run across this spicily little show and many have wished that they had stuck to it all the evening. Who can say that these broadcasted plays are not a benefit to the production? Several here have already expressed their regret that they could not attend the show at once and I am not sure that many of those who get to Boston during the run of the "Topics" will not recall their pleasant radio connections with this play and take it in as part of their business trip to the "hub."

Readers: I am leaving again Monday for Portland. This time to enter the Marine Hospital under observation of the U. S. Veterans Bureau. If I am there long I will try to get a column in to you from there touching on whatever items of radio interest that I can dig up in that locality. I sincerely hope there will be a big mail for me in the box when I get back at least one letter from each one of you.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Noyes have arrived from Cambridge where they have spent the winter. They have as house guests Mr. and Mrs. Alton Roberts of Marquette, Mich., and three children, Horace, John and Mary.

The Unity Guild held their monthly social Friday evening at the church.

Each member had the privilege of inviting one guest. Music was furnished by Brown's orchestra which was greatly enjoyed, also readings by Mrs. Leon B. Stone. The chorus singing was a huge success especially the round of "Three Blind Mice." The prize in the pie contest fell to Mrs. Harry Whitmore. Refreshments were served. Miss Jennie Beverage, Mrs. Isadore Young and Mrs. Orilla Sampson were the committee in charge.

NORTH HAVEN NEWS

Island Correspondent Sends Cheery Gossip Through Medium of Verse.

Wednesday a party of ladies went up to Aunt Eliza Waterman's to spend the day and, although the walking was bad the welcome they received amply repaid them for their trip.

Now let's see, who were there this time? Well let's tell it to you in rhyme. There was Aunt Eliza and although very lame, She could enjoy her fun just the same. Walter and Charles, natural as life, Old bachelors both—they don't care for a wife. Now comes Nora W. hale and hearty. She it was who got up the party. Then Harriet and Catherine D. Elizabeth and aunt Bernice G. Some and life in her lolly-bear suit. We all thought her very cute. Meddies South and McDonald of Scotch descent— Believe me, they all were on pleasure bent. We went out to dinner in a line. The prettiest went first—so we stayed behind. We had sweet pickled herring. Vegetables, cakes, and pies galore. We ate all we could. And still wanted more.

When next we go to Aunt Eliza's to dine, Mabel has promised dandelion wine. These verses were written by Eliza F. and Estelle L.

Any of the party could have done as well. Now I think this is all and I'm sure we'll all say, 'Twas a perfect end to a perfect day.

Some folks think an officer of a bank is a cold, dignified, unresponsive sort of person. Generally, that is not true. In cases where it is, it is not true dignity—it is either assumed or false. It is not the dignity that comes from known ability to serve, nor from a just pride in having served well.

Certainly the officers of this bank have dignity. They would not be here if they did not. It is part of the banking profession. People like to feel that those who are taking care of their money are that sort of persons—men who are sure of themselves because of what they have accomplished, and may not be swayed from the path of strict integrity and proven method.

If you have not already had the experience, just drop in here some day. Approach any of the officers and see what a cordial welcome you will get, what a hearty handshake, and what an interest in your own affairs.

When you merely want to open a small savings account or a checking account, or want advice on some business problem, or can offer us any sort of opportunity to serve you, you may be surprised at the reception you will have.

It costs nothing to try it—come in today.

QUARRY AND KILN

The Big Industry Is Getting In Some Strong Licks These Days.

New Equipment

A new 5 h. p. electric motor has been installed in the Northend blacksmith shop, and shafting placed for running new machines added. A new large power hack saw has been installed and also a new emery wheel outfit. The power drill has been changed from floor to angle iron overhead support, which allows for the free handling of barrows and other large pieces for drilling. The new arrangement is going to be a time saver, and is a pleasing one to Cobb, A. L. Adams and Russell, and to machine crews who have occasion to do drilling and requiring blacksmithing work done.

Safety Department Work

Leroy N. Koonz, federal rehabilitation agent for Maine, was a visitor at safety headquarters last week. His last visit here was several months ago, at which time he investigated two cases of partial disability, brought to his attention by Mr. Libby of the safety department. Upon Mr. Koonz' report and recommendation, one of these cases was provided a correspondence school course in electrical work, and the other was furnished instruction in sign and show card painting. His visit at this time was to learn how things were progressing. They proved to be very satisfactory, both beneficiaries having made rapid progress in their studies. The rehabilitation work is under federal supervision, the State bearing part of the expense upon a 50-50 basis.

R. &amp; R. Relief Association

The next regular meeting of the relief association will be held in the K. of P. hall, Monday evening, April 7, one week from next Monday.

The entertainment and dance to be given for the benefit of the association will be held on Wednesday evening, April 9, in Temple hall. Marston's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. The entertainment program will be under the direction of John Dan Shepherd, which is a guarantee that it will be a good one. J. Robert Adams will be floor manager and have charge of the dance. Refreshments will be on sale. Cars will run after the dance. The committee are: E. E. Libby, Robert Adams, John Welch, John D. Shepherd.

At present there is only one member on the sick list. Since the meeting of March 3, one other member has received two day's benefit and two others 13 days each. One of the 13 days' men also received a compensation of $16 per week, and the additional $6 he received from the association made life seem easier and also made him glad he "joined."

A secret grip and countersign has been adopted for association members in good standing, and George K. Mitchell of the store has been appointed as chief demonstrator with authority to choose aids, so that all members may receive it as soon as possible. There is no charge.

Point

No. 1 kiln went after the 19th, making five kilns now in operation at the Point.

Two carloads of Lumber City brick and one of medium heads were received last week.

William Young has resigned as kilnman and is working at the new High School building.

The cooper shop shut down last week for a short period, on account of lack of storage room for barrels.

An average per kiln for the week of March 15, of 1,125 barrels and for the week of March 22, of 1,126 barrels, on soft rock, is keeping the standard of production at top notch. For week of March 15 No. 2 had 1016; 3, 1108; 4, 1063; 5, 1303; total, 4500. For week of March 22; No. 2, 1077; 3, 1098; 4, 1080½; 5, 1251; total, 4506½.

Quarries

Operation of small crusher has started.

James Cates has returned to his old position as dumper at Cobb 2.

Eimer Shultz has returned to hard rock 1 after a winter's sojourn at his home at Wiley's Corner.

Lawrence Upham, who has been drilling in hard rock 1, has transferred to Cobb 2 as boss, taking the place of Dan Gidd who has gone to the Gregory shed.

Quick work on drum shifting was had one day last week when a Faulkner crew removed a holder drum from Crockett 1 hoist house to the Crockett 2 house. It was all ready for operation in one and one-half hours' time from starting removal.

The pump and piping in Crockett 1, which was removed last fall to allow blowing in of bluff, has been replaced and pumping operation begun. As there are ninety feet of water in the quarry, it is estimated it will require about two months' time to clear it for operation.

Fred Faulkner returned to work last Wednesday, after being out for 12 weeks on account of leg injury. Mr. Faulkner inspected several jobs did by his crews while he was absent and was very complimentary in his remarks as to the manner in which the work was done, especially the Crockett 1 job of piping and pump arrangement.

By-Products

The walk on northern side of coal tower track trestle is under completion. The Crockett spur track trestle has been graded and the walks repaired by a Walsh crew.

Schooner Morris & Cliff has been sold to Capt. Fred Robinson of Wiley's Corner, recently first mate on steamer Ripogonus.

Ralph Colson, who is on half compensation for leg injury received last April, is bunched laths in a portable mill down Owl's Head way.

Charles Boardman and Harry Ripley of the Walsh crew, who have been at the quarries during the winter, have returned to the city crew.

A Walsh crew is getting out material for the Rockport tenement house which the company is to make of the building recently purchased by them.

An iron chute extending from top of gas kilns to surface has been put in by the Spow company. It is for taking screenings from the dumping platform.

Jasper Amata, formerly of the quarries, is working in a mill crew, on an irregular schedule, "breaking in" on light work until he regains strength

Mrs. George Wentworth has returned from the Knox Hospital, Rockland and is recovering from a recent operation.

Miss Virginia Bean returned Saturday from a week's visit at her home in Greene.

Mrs. Fred J. Parsons returned Saturday from Malden, Mass., where she has been spending the winter.

Miss Effie Roberts entertained friends Friday evening at her home on Ambury Hills on the occasion of her birthday. Those present were Mrs. H. Heistad, Miss Ragnhild Heistad, Miss Lillian Brann and Miss Margaret Crockett. Supper was served. A very attractive birthday cake adorned the table and the hostess received several very nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Burns were in Boston last week.

The funeral services of Mrs. Ada Watts, wife of Leslie Watts, were held Sunday afternoon at Burpee's undertaking rooms in Rockland. Mrs. Watts was for a number of years been a resident of Rockport where she had many friends who were saddened to learn of her death which occurred in Rockland, Friday, where she had been ill for several weeks. Interment was in Rockland.

Loring Philbrook is the guest of relatives in Boston and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wilder and family have been in town for a few days and are moving their household goods to Denysville, where they have been spending the winter and where they will make their home for the future.

Arthur Gotton is at home from Seaport.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Twentieth Century Club was held Friday afternoon at the home of its retiring president, Mrs. Harriet Patterson. The following officers were chosen for the year: president, Mrs. Harriet Patterson; vice president, Mrs. Rona Carroll; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Alice Gardner; executive committee, Mrs. Frances Carleton, Miss Nellie Thorndike, Mrs. Nancy Tribou; lecture committee, Mrs. Harriet Patterson, Mrs. Athelia Truham, Mrs. Ada Libby; picnic committee, Miss Ella Mackey, Mrs. Katharine Dubar, Mrs. Maude Walker. The club will take a travel course during the next year. This was the first meeting of the season. Refreshments were served and music was enjoyed.

Ernest Grover from the Bryant shed is regular man in No. 4 crew, in place of No. 1 Louie, transferred to No. 7 crew.

The new windlass arrangement for operating the track runway near the office is now a howling success. It was put in last week by Shepherd and St. Clair.

For the week ending March 15, No. 3 kiln led the rest with 1285½ barrels, No. 6 being second with 1225. The others were: 1 (5 days), 820½; 7 (3 days), 474; 8, 1157½; 9, 1013; 10, 1125; 11, 102½. The full week kilns made an average of 1144 per kiln each, which wasn't so bad. For the week of March 22, No. 3 led the string with 1179, No. 1 being second with 1170, the others were: 2, 1152.6; 1150½; 8, 1119; 9, 1096½; 11, 1025; 10, 997½; 5, (2 days) 234.

Northend Cooper Shop

A cut on production makes the daily schedule now at 1290 barrels.

William Burns is working in the shop during the suspension of Point shop.

Alvin Richards of the Point shop is working on repair work around the shop.

George A. St. Clair has returned, having given up his heading machine job at the Point cooper shop.

Gum wood staves shipments are now coming in so frequently that continuous operation on this stock is being had.

Philip Burns, who is out on account of jaw trouble, has returned from Bangor, where he has been taking a course of radium treatment for jaw.

Coy Harraden, a former employee, is working for the Bryant Co. He has been in Adams, Mass., since December, where he has had charge of one of the International shops. John Farr, until recently of this shop succeeds Mr. Harraden as manager of the Adams shop.

The section speed car is in a garage for rehabilitation.

Harvey Howard of the repair shop went to Boston last week for a visit of two or three weeks.

John Kendall, formerly of the L. R. R. R. section, went to work in a Walsh crew last Friday morning.

Harold Kaler of Waldoboro, and Victor Grindle who has been with Eastern Steamship Co., are two new men in the section crew.

New ties are being put in on main line at the Gregory sheds. It's some job, as the road bed there is a fill, the old ties being spiked to trestle underneath.

Rockport

Cliff Richards has returned and is in the trimming crew.

The Pets' ash runway has been newly ironed and extended twenty feet.

Albert Rhodes has recovered from his gripe attack, but is not yet able to be on full time.

The lighter Berwick is making frequent trips, transporting Jacobs and No. 1 to Rockland.

Everett Hendricks, who was on the barges last summer and has been employed at the Rockland coal tower, is "breaking in" on No. 8 pet.

The large wooden structure next north of the office building has been purchased by the company and will be from back trouble incurred at the quarries some time ago.

Gregory

James Simmons is on the trimming crew.

Nine kilns are in operation; two are out for repairs.

Dan Gidd from the Cobb 2 quarry has joined the jobbing crew.

Joe Haskell of Florida and Ike Simmons' store, has returned to the trimming crew after a winter off duty.

Barge Rockhaven began loading Saturday noon, and will finish here. There is more than enough lime for a cargo.

Ernest Grover from the Bryant shed is regular man in No. 4 crew, in place of No. 1 Louie, transferred to No. 7 crew.

WILSON-COLBURN
A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Colburn Sunday at 12:30 p. m. when their daughter Elizabeth May was united in marriage to Vernon Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron I. Wilson of Portland. Rev. B. P. Browne of the First Baptist church performed the single ring service in the presence of members of the two immediate families. The couple was attended by the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson of Portland. The bride was very attractive in a dress of cocoa brown tulle and wore a corsage bouquet of violets. Her going away suit was blue, with tan coat and hat.

The bride is a graduate of Rockland High School, class of 1918. Since her graduation she has been employed as stenographer with the B. F. Livermore Co. of Boston, the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation and Burpee Furniture Co. She is a member of the First Baptist church, Miriam Rebekah Lodge and Golden Rod Chapter, O. E. S. She is very popular with the young folks, and by her genial disposition has a large number of friends. The groom was a member of the graduating class of 1918 of the Portland High School. During the war he served as a radio operator and was stationed in Honolulu. At the present time he is a radio salesman and is connected with the Atlantic Radio, Inc., of Boston. During his frequent visits to this city he has become well known and has won a great many friends.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony on a trip through New Hampshire and to Boston. They will make their home in Portland. The good wishes of a host of Rockland friends follow them.

LENTEN RECITAL

The Rubinstein Club Scores
Another Triumph In Its Public Concert.

The Lenten Recital presented by the Rubinstein Club in the auditorium of the First Baptist church last Friday evening, proved to be one of the finest concerts this ambitious club has ever given, and all the more noteworthy because the entire program was given by the club members with no outside talent.

Violin, Piano, Organ—"Estase," Gagne
Bertha M. Lee, Ruth E. Berry, Nettie B. Averill
Rubinstein Chorus—"Holy Redeemer," Marchetti
Mrs. Berry Director, Mrs. Averill Accompanist

Vol. Che Sapete,
Lidia T. Storer, Mozart

Soprano—"My Garden," Hughes
b The Singer, Maxwell
Ruth E. Sanborn, Macdonell

Piano—"A Third Movement from 'Norse Saga,'" Macdonell
b "Einfang," Macdonell

Mezzo—"Three Hills," Marsh
March H. Short, Marsh

Chorus—"Angus Del," (with violin, piano and organ)
Soprano Obligate, Katherine C. Vazile

Piano-Trio—"Trio Soeurs," Brahms
Girarde Saville, Kathleen Singh, Doris F. Bird
Mezzo-Salome's aria from Herodiade "Il Est Doux, il Est Bon," Massenet
Margaret C. Harrington

Paper-Cathedral Music
Alice Eskine, Rogers
Contraalto-"The Last Song,"
Kathleen B. Marston

Vocal Trio-(a Capella) Song of Mary Magdalene, Massenet
Lillian G. Joyce, Rachel S. Brown, Lena H. Lawrence

Organ-"Good Friday Spell," Patrik Vrelblad
Bibel L. Hayden

Soprano-"Death of Joan of Arc," Benberg
Contraalto aria from "The New World"
Symphony, "Goin' Home," Dvorak
(Arranged by Wm. Ames Fisher)

Chorus-"The Omnipotence," Schubert
The program shows the versatility of the numbers—choruses, vocal solos in Italian, French and English, a paper, an organ solo, and accompaniments on three different instruments—(organ, piano and violin), so well made up and so finely presented that it would be difficult really to choose the "high lights." The entire program deserves mention.

The chorus numbers were unusually fine, especially the "Angus Del," by Bisset, with its accompaniment of organ, piano and violin, and the lovely soprano obligato. The organ number especially noted, "Good Friday Spell," played by Mrs. Ethel Hayden, a most welcome newcomer to the Rubinstein Club, was very artistically done, and her artistry again appeared to advantage in the accompaniment for Miss Harrington's solo.

Miss Eskine's paper on "Cathedral Music" was happily and fittingly introduced by a brief number on the organ with the chimes by Mrs. Berry, and proved to be very interesting, her beautiful grouping of words being especially noted. Mrs. Westworth made an instant appeal, being the fortunate possessor of exceptional talent and a winning personality. Her songs were given with rare understanding and charm. Mrs. Sanborn's piano numbers were splendidly given, displaying her brilliant style and remarkable skill. Mrs. Storer's rich contralto voice in the aria from "Marriage of Figaro," Mrs. Short's fine mezzo in a keen presentation of her song, "Three Hills," Mrs. Marston's dramatic style in an exceedingly difficult number, "The Last Song," were all finely done.

Miss Harrington's solo, the aria "Il est doux, il est bon," from "Herodiade," was one of the notable features of the program. Although a very young singer, Miss Harrington has acquired an ease of manner to be envied by many older singers, and in this instance her French was easily and very distinctly given, a joy to all those who are familiar with the language. The violin, piano and organ number, opening the program, was received with much favor, the combination of the three instruments being most effective, and the piano trio, featuring three of the club's pianists, made a bright spot in the program intentionally on a dignified note. The vocal trio was well presented, too, the three voices blending admirably, and being especially effective without accompaniment.

Mrs. Esther Howard gave a splendid dramatic rendering to her song, "Death of Joan of Arc" which she delivered with fine poise and ease.

Since Negro spirituals have become increasingly familiar to our people, their love of that particular type of folk song has been developed until such a selection is sure to be a favorite among others of varied character. The pleasure, evidenced in the closing solo, "Goin' Home," given sympathetically and with charm and finish by Miss Jones, has been voiced by a large proportion of the audience.

The auditorium of the church, with its beautiful and dignified organ, the inspiring painting over the font by William Burpee, and its fine memorial windows, made the fitting setting for this Lenten Recital. The audience, which was of a goodly number, was intensely interested in the entire program and did not fail to show their appreciation in a most happy manner. The concert must have been a source of gratifying pleasure and pride to Mrs. Lillian Sprague Copping, the club's president, who has worked so untiringly and absorbingly in the club's interest during her term of service in that capacity.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

What Our Home Artists and Others Are Doing To Forward the Interests of Musical Art.

I was disappointed not to see Lottie McLaughlin when she was here for her brief visit last week. We all appreciate that Miss McLaughlin's greatest success has come under her name "Kitty" McLaughlin, but it is difficult for her Rockland friends to think of her even as Kitty. She is always going to be Lottie to old friends, no matter how high she climbs under the other name Kitty. I often wish it were possible to give my readers more news of her work and success, for it would be of interest to many. Miss McLaughlin is always so busy, and I fear she is inclined to be altogether too modest regarding her achievements. Here is a review of her recent appearance at the Rubinstein Club in New York, of which a brief mention was made in a previous issue of The Courier-Gazette.

The soloists at the Rubinstein Club concert, on March 11 at the Waldorf-Astoria, were Kitty McLaughlin, soprano; Franklin Baur, tenor; Alfredo Gandolfi, baritone, and Riccardo de Sylva, violinist. Mr. De Sylva was heard by the club last season created a very favorable impression in pieces by Achorn-Zimbalist, Wieniawski, Granados-Kreisler and Winterini. Miss McLaughlin sang an aria from "La Forza del Destino," a song group, and with Mr. Gandolfi, who is a member of the Chicago Opera forces, sang a duet from "Trovatore." Mr. Gandolfi sang the "Monologue" of "Gerard" from "Andrea Chénier," the "Tosca" song, "Carmen" and several songs. Mr. Baur was heard in song groups. All the artists were well received and were compelled to give numerous encores.

We rejoice that the Harmony Club has been reorganized. It has been a source of regret to many that this club dissolved partnership some time ago, for it seemed on a firm footing and was developing talent and resources among the younger musicians of the city that seemed to point to splendid things. Talking with a member since the reorganization, I judged there was much enthusiasm among all the members, which sounds encouraging. They plan in addition to some interesting programs to have an open meeting later in the season, with out-of-town talent.

The March 15 issue of Musical America contained a highly interesting article on church singers. While it was written of New York singers only, it contains many points that can be easily applied to church singers of the world over. It is a city of the small. It touches on their requisites, their necessary training, their obligations, etc. Some of the points which interest us most I present from the article. Speaking of essential requirements, the writer (a man) says:

"First of all, a pleasing voice, of more than average volume. Second, ability to read at sight pretty difficult music. Some choirmasters prefer a quick reader to a fine singer who is an indifferent one. Third, knowledge of choir routine. Fourth, a repertoire of church music and especially of sacred songs of high musical caliber. It is easily seen that these are not qualifications that are acquired in a day or that can be taught in a few lessons. Some of them cannot be taught, but are the result of experience, sometimes of years of it.

"Choir routine includes many things, a knowledge of the ritual of various services; ability to read a hymn tune on one page while reading the words on another; in the Episcopal church, a knowledge of 'pointing' or singing the psalter and chants rhythmically to the little four or eight-measure tunes. "Repertoire, which is perhaps the easiest of all the desiderata to acquire, is the thing in which perhaps the largest number of singers fall down. It is true that there is not an immense number of really good sacred songs outside of the oft-sung oratorio numbers. Many singers refuse to take choir singing seriously. It is a means to an end rather than a career in itself, and a thing so apart from their daily musical life that they forget about it except between the Friday night rehearsal and the Sunday services. Teachers coach them in German lieder and operatic excerpts, but they sing their sacred pieces 'the way they feel psalter and chants rhythmically to the them,' failing to realize that the average music committee prefers to have their music sung the way THEY feel it. This, on the part of the singers, usually amounts to giving most of their attention to the way they place their tones, usually the high ones, and letting interpretation go. Now, as a matter of fact, church congregations are only mildly interested in tone production. It is a foregone conclusion that this should be above reproach. Clavicular or diaphragmatic breathing and vibrations of the sphenoid or ethmoid bones do not interest congregations. It is heart-stuff they want, and if a singer is unable or unwilling to supply this over and above any question of voice production, dismiss him and get another."

March 22 issue of the same paper contained a picture of the record breaking audience that greeted John McCormack in San Francisco on March 2. Some audience! More than 13,000 persons present and 5000 unable to obtain admission. The receipts were $24,000. Imagine the thrill a singer must get in facing such an audience. It would make a sawhorse sing gloriously. I know how it makes me feel when there are 15 or 20 more people than usual at church on a Sunday morning. It is always an inspiration to sing better than usual—to try, at least—and I know the entire choir feels the same way.

I don't intend to confine all my comments to Musical America, but sometimes a number has many things of interest. The last two or three issues have been that way. March 22 issue had a full page advertisement of Armand Tokatyan, tenor, who was received so favorably at the Maine Festivals last October. Since that time he has made rapid strides, having several opportunities this winter to substitute in different operas at the Metropolitan on short notice and making a decided success in each instance. It would seem now that his position in the operatic and concert fields is assured, and I am glad, for not only his beautiful voice impressed me, but his charming personality and graciousness as well.

Mr. O'Hara's many friends have sympathized with him during his recent severe attack of tonsillitis, and he cordially welcome him back to the Strand Theatre and to his position as church organist.

How many remember the strapping violinist, Samuel Gardner, when he appeared at the Maine Festivals several years ago? Nothing but a "kid" then, but even in those tender years he made a most favorable impression on his hearers who felt a promising future was before him. It is gratifying to read that he is counted among the foremost violinists before the public today, and for the first time in many years is to have the distinction of playing his own concerto with a major New York orchestra. On April 2 in Carnegie Hall Mr. Gardner is to play his concerto, composed while playing in the Rockies in Colorado during the summer of 1920, with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Willem Mengelberg. While this concerto was composed during 1920, after two performances, Mr. Gardner was not completely satisfied and withdrew it. Since that time he has revised it, and this performance with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra is to be the first presentation of the revised work. One number he played at the Festival several years ago has always remained in my memory—"From the Canebrake." I have heard it many times since, and it always takes me back to his interpretation of it.

Knowing the editor's love of Charles Dickens and all that pertains to that great writer, I know he will be interested in the following item I came across. "The works of Dickens have not found their way to the operatic stage with a few exceptions, such as Goldmark's 'Cricket on the Hearth,' but a report from London states that the novel's play, 'The Village Coquettes' was set to music by Sir Frederick Bridge not long after his death (just announced) and will be performed at the Trinity College of Music this spring. Sir Frederick was best known as a composer of choral works and was for years organist of Westminster Abbey."

I note in the concert tour booked for Maria Jeritz for next season Portland and Bangor are listed. Undoubtedly there will be some Knox county people avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this famous soprano—famous not only for her magnificent dramatic voice, but for her blonde beauty.

Fritz Kreisler gave his second and last recital of the season in Boston Sunday afternoon at the Opera House before an audience which filled the house. The review I saw said that "Mr. Kreisler's playing is a veritable standard by which the ambitious student governs himself and to which the player of lesser ability aspires to attain. He proved by his marvelous technical prowess, his delicate and colorful nuances, his polished and scholarly interpretations of his selections that he is, perhaps, the greatest of the reigning virtuosi of his instrument."

I greatly shocked some one, who is an ardent student of music, by expressing my admiration for the saxophone. Up to that point I think I had made a very favorable impression on this good person, but after that unfortunate remark I felt that I had indeed been consigned to the low-brow bunch. So I am rather gratified to read the following review in my "staunch ally, Musical America":

"A saxophone recital, but one that had no relation to the jazz invasion, was given by Jascha Gurewicz at Aeolian Hall, March 6. The major works on the program were his own compositions, a Concerto in E Minor, Op. 102, a Mexican Concerto Tango, 'Passion,' and a concert ballet, 'Ida,' Saint-Saens' 'The Swan,' a Brahms Hungarian Dance and Mendelssohn's Venetian Gondolier completed an ambitious program. The interest in the concert was not entirely one of curiosity. There was a lyric beauty in the performance of the Saint-Saens piece, and a virtuoso display of technique throughout. A large audience, with true appreciation of the pioneering spirit, applauded warmly."

Following on the heels of the Rubinstein Club's Recital, I have gleaned some interesting bits—heresay remarks, etc., which to me "sound good," as the saying is. It is interesting to learn that the song which Mrs. Kathleen Marston sang, "The Last Song," is used as a test by the National Federation Board of Examiners, as the arduous accompaniment of continually changing arpeggios gives no clue to the melody, but runs in evident opposition. Frankly, I don't see how Mrs. Marston had the courage to do it. I have this song, and once in awhile I get it out of my music cabinet, place it on the piano rack and sit and gaze at it—and that is as far as I ever get with it.

I heard one member of the audience say "It was a splendidly balanced program—there could be no criticism of its makeup. Why is it that the Rubinstein Club has usually gone outside to secure talent when there is so much in the club itself? To me it contained far more pleasure than some of the previous concerts, when outside talent has been secured. I don't say this because of my interest in 'mine own people,' but because the program showed an advanced development of music in many phases, and the knowledge of artistic presentation." This was particularly effective with me, as it came from one who has been fortunate in a fine musical training and is by nature rarely understanding and appreciative of good music.

George E. Torrey, long a familiar figure in musical circles, gave an expression of praise of what he emphatically declared "a very high-class program." S. A. Burpee, who was enthusiastic in general admiration, speaking particularly of singers and accompaniments, said "I had no idea Rockland could present such a quality of artistry."

One of our well-known organists greatly enjoyed the artistic playing of Mrs. Ethel Hayden, both in the accompaniment and in the organ selection. Mrs. Coppington in chatting with me said that such a concert would have been impossible without the constant efficient support of Mrs. Berry, from inception to presentation. Mrs. Coppington also gave me a letter of congratulation she received from Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Flye of this city:

"Dear Mrs. Coppington: We wish it were possible to think of words that would express fully our appreciation of the privilege, through the courtesy of Mrs. A. Lawry, of listening to such a splendid concert last evening. We realize how much is due to your personal attention and direction in preparing such an exceptionally fine program for the fortunate guests of the Rubinstein Society. Congratulations are due its President, and we sincerely offer them to you.
