Good Paint is Your Protection

If you don't paint, it means that decay starts in—and decay means repair bills. Each year will multiply the expense.
Look, now, at the bases of porch columns; outside window casings; lower corners of window sash; if they show the least sign of decay, the whole house needs a protecting, beautifying coat of du Pont Paint.
Save money by doing it now. The cost will not be great—we'll gladly estimate.

Lewiston Journal: Residents of Squirrel Island will be grieved to learn of the death of George R. Westerfield, formerly a constant visitor to Squirrel Inn and a most active islander. He was especially interested in sports, baseball particularly; managed the island team one season; was a skilful whist and auction player, being a member of one of the oldest whist clubs in New York City. He was a lively, cordial, energetic man with many friends. For some years Mr. Westerfield has not been at Squirrel.

WHITE GOES TO MEXICO

Representative White, of the Second Maine District, who has been appointed by President Coolidge one of three to represent the United States at a conference in Mexico between principal North, South and Central American countries, left yesterday to be absent about one month. This conference, which will convene the 26th, will consider wire, cable and radio problems. It will deal with international phases of the subject, and particularly with the communication between shore stations and vessels at sea. Congressman White was chosen by the President because he is considered the foremost expert in Congress on radio problems and is a leading member of the House committee on merchant marine.

Charles G. Kiff attached more than ordinary significance to last Monday for the reason that it was the 50th anniversary of his going to The Meadows, where he made his home 46 years, and where he was a long time in business.

A RECEIVER ASKED

Ku Klux Klan Appears To Be Having Internal Difficulties In Portland.

Financial difficulties of the Ku Klux Klan of Maine are reflected in a bill in equity filed in the supreme judicial court in Portland Monday, seeking appointment of a receiver for the Loyal Realty Company, a corporation formed to hold title to Klan real estate, dissolution of this organization, and sale of the Klan headquarters on Forrest avenue.

The bill was filed by Frank H. Haskell, Portland attorney, on behalf of Moses W. Lucas, brick manufacturer and president of the Loyal Realty Company.

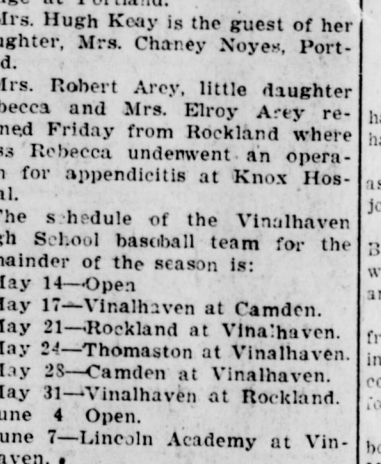

Mention is made in this bill of a controversy between officers of the corporation and it also recited that this difficulty arose from "a large indebtedness caused by repairs and alterations" on the Forrest avenue estate.

A restraining order preventing activity of officials of the Loyal Realty Company, as such, has been granted by Associate Justice Guy H. Sturgis, on the motion of Mr. Haskell, and hearing on a temporary injunction will be held next Monday.

ARTHUR STEVENS LITTLEFIELD

Prominent Rockland Citizen Succumbs To Long Illness, In Washington Hospital—His Busy Career.

Arthur S. Littlefield, president of the Rockland National Bank, one of the most prominent attorneys in Maine, and grand master of the Grand Council of Maine, R. and S. M., died at 11 a. m. yesterday in a Washington hospital. The news was received here shortly after the noon hour, and on all sides evoked expressions of sorrow. The seriousness of his condition had been understood by those nearest to the family, but the news of his death was both a surprise and a shock in view of an encouraging telegram which had been received by Vice President Homer E. Robinson of the Rockland National Bank scarcely two hours before.

A message received by John O. Stevens of the Bureau undertakers yesterday afternoon stated that the body would arrive in this city on the 5 p. m. train today. It will be accompanied by the widow, Charles W. Littlefield of Montclair, N. J., a nephew of the deceased, and possibly others.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 o'clock, the place of holding the service to be announced.

Arthur Stevens Littlefield was born in Vinalhaven 60 years ago, a son of the late Rev. William H. and Mary (Stevens) Littlefield. His educational career was shaped with a view to the study of law, in which profession he was destined to have a very distinguished career. He was a graduate of Nichols Latin School of Lewiston, Bates College (class of 1887) and Columbia Law School (class of 1888) being admitted to the bar of Knox County in December, 1889.

He had previously studied law in the office of his brother, the late Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, with whom he was associated until the latter had begun the achievement of his national fame.

Arthur S. Littlefield was in practice for himself about 15 years. These years ago he adopted a broader field by forming connections with Albert Stanton Woodman and Robert Trent Whitehouse of Portland, the firm style becoming Woodman, Whitehouse & Littlefield. Mr. Whitehouse died a year ago, and Mr. Woodman is now the sole survivor of this firm, which was regarded as one of the leading law partnerships in the State.

Mr. Littlefield had previously been associated with Woodman & Whitehouse in the trial of several important cases, the last being the trial of the late J. D. Dyer of North Haven.

Mr. Dyer was in the city Monday on his way to North Haven to visit her mother, Mrs. A. S. Crockett.

The people of North Haven have secured one of the polished fountains from the Bodwell Granite Co. of Vinalhaven at a merely nominal figure, and are preparing to erect it on the site of the old iron fountain in the center of town. More than a hundred of these fountains have been presented to various cities throughout the country by the National Humane Society. It may be considered a stroke of good fortune that so favorable an opportunity should occur to secure this valuable work. The fountain will be erected in honor of the sons of North Haven who participated in the World War.

HIS WESTERN FARM

C. B. Vinal Tells of His Civil War Legacy—Vinalhaven's Five Veterans.

Early yesterday morning, while the majority of the members of The Courier-Gazette staff were still enjoying their beauty sleep, a tall, erect gentleman, wearing in his lapel the bronze button of the Grand Army, opened the office door and walked in with the sprightly step of a man who enjoys being about early on a fine summer morning.

"Change my paper address back from Minneapolis to Vinalhaven," said he.

The reporter shook hands with C. B. Vinal, who has been in Minnesota since last October, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Folsom. His return was hastened by the serious illness of another daughter, Mrs. F. E. Littlefield, who is in a Wollaston, Mass., hospital.

Winter used the Minnesotans nicely, according to Mr. Vinal, who says that January was quite cold, but that the succeeding months were mild.

In common with all other sections of the country just now there is plenty of talk about politics.

"That section is strong for Coolidge," said Mr. Vinal. "McAdoo seems to find the most favor among the Democrats. La Follette has a strong following out that way, but I did not hear much talk about a third party."

Speaking of politics it is interesting to note that Mr. Vinal will have been a voter 60 years, come next October.

"Let's see," said the reporter, "you've been West a good many times?"

"Godfrey, yes!" replied the Vinalhaven veteran; "more times than I can count fingers and toes."

In fact Mr. Vinal was a wild and woolly Westerner, himself, once upon a time. "Twice like this. When he enlisted in the Army, fresh from the deck of a fishing vessel, the State was giving a bonus of $100 and the government was promising each man 160 acres of land when the war was over."

"I supposed the land would be up in Aroostook, and jumped at the idea," said Mr. Vinal. "Fancy my surprise and indignation when I received my discharge and learned that my land was out in Montana."

And in the privacy of the city editor's office Mr. Vinal repeated some of the shocking things he said, to that government official.

Along about 1912 Mr. Vinal co-ed of the State now that his family is in the State.

"KEEP COOLIDGE"

There are so many "Weeks" and so many "Days," nowadays, that the thing is being properly looked upon as a fad carried to extremes. An exception may be well made in the case of Better Homes Weeks, which begins Monday under the auspices of Better Homes in America, a national educational association which has for its president Herbert Hoover, Secretary of the Department of Commerce. The Better Homes movement is now in the third year of its existence. It was initiated in 1922 by Mrs. William Brown Meloney and an advisory council, with Calvin Coolidge as honorary head, and Herbert Hoover as chairman. Nearly 500 demonstrations were held during the first year. The movement had so developed by last year that the number of demonstrations was approximately doubled in 1923. As it became increasingly evident that the Better Homes in America movement was a force of great importance in the education of the American people to higher standards of home life, it was decided to put it on a permanent basis by incorporating the organization as a national institution. It is believed that more and better demonstrations than ever before will be held under this new arrangement. For the benefit of those who are still delighting the advisability of entering the campaign, Better Homes in America gives the following reasons why every community in the United States should hold a demonstration:

To demonstrate the advantages of the right for home ownership. (Only 45 per cent of the families of America are home owners.)
To overcome the present shortage of homes. America needs at least 600,000 new homes.
To make a wholesome home life available to all.
To assist and encourage home-makers and home-builders. (Over 90 per cent of the women of America do their own home work.)
To improve the home environment, thereby helping to build character.

On May 14, an enthusiastic party to the Beta Alpha Club met Monday evening with Miss Harriet Levensaler.

At the request of Mrs. Alma Newhall a correction is hereby made of an item that appeared in Saturday's Courier-Gazette—The Newhall farm has not been sold.

Mrs. Jennie Benner who spent the winter in Rhode Island has returned and has opened her house on Beechwood street for the season. Her brother Benjamin Young, who is recovering slowly from a shock will make his home with her.

Mrs. Fred C. Green, formerly Geneva Copeland of this town, was recently re-elected secretary of the Watertown (Mass.) Woman's Club. It is her third year in that office. The club which has a membership of 460 is one of the largest in Greater Boston.

Miss Hortense B. Wilson, regent of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution, returned Saturday from a trip to Washington where she attended the Continental Congress, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, held April 14-19 in Memorial Continental hall. At the annual meeting of the chapter held at the home of the regent Monday, a very interesting report of the congress was given. She reported this congress as the largest in the history of the society and the sessions most interesting. Many notable speakers were on the program, the high point being the Congress on Tuesday night when the Congress was addressed by President Coolidge, Ambassador Jusserand, Sir Esme Howard, the new ambassador of Great Britain and Gen. John J. Pershing. Among the topics discussed during the sessions were law enforcement, preservation of historic spots and relics, Americanization, the selective immigration bills and pending national legislation regarding conservation of natural resources, the correct use of the flag, the educational work of the D.A.R., pan-Americanism, genealogical research, international relations, better films, the American Indian, the George Washington memorial, the national defense and the American opera movement. The total registration of the Congress was 2307, representative of every State in the Union, Cuba, the Philippines, Hawaii and the Orient. The President and Mrs. Coolidge paid tribute to the accomplishments of the Daughters by receiving them at a formal reception in the White House on Wednesday afternoon with all the appointments of a State function, including marine band and the entire corps of White House military and marine aids in full dress uniform. The President and Mrs. Coolidge stood in the blue room to receive the guests. Mrs. Coolidge looking very handsome in a gown of new blue georgette embroidered all over in translucent beads and made on straight lines. Mrs. Hale, mother of Senator Frederick Hale, assisted by Mrs. Carroll Beedy, wife of Representative Beedy, gave the Maine delegation.

POLITICAL POINTS

The race for the Democratic Presidential nomination from now on is going to look like a McAdoo procession, according to Mark Sullivan, political expert, who says that the Californian has in sight a maximum potential strength of 525 votes.

Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, is the candidate of Democratic party leaders for the Presidential nomination and will receive the support of George E. Brennan's Illinois "regular" delegates in the national convention. He will also receive the support of Tom Taggart, Indiana leader, and the leaderless Tammany of New York, according to the opinion expressed in an editorial in "The Retail Coalman" published in Chicago by Morion Hacco. Gov. Smith of New York, the article adds, is not and has not been a serious candidate.

Houston Post—The trouble with Governor Pinchot was that, he has talked too much, meddled too much, and accomplished too little.

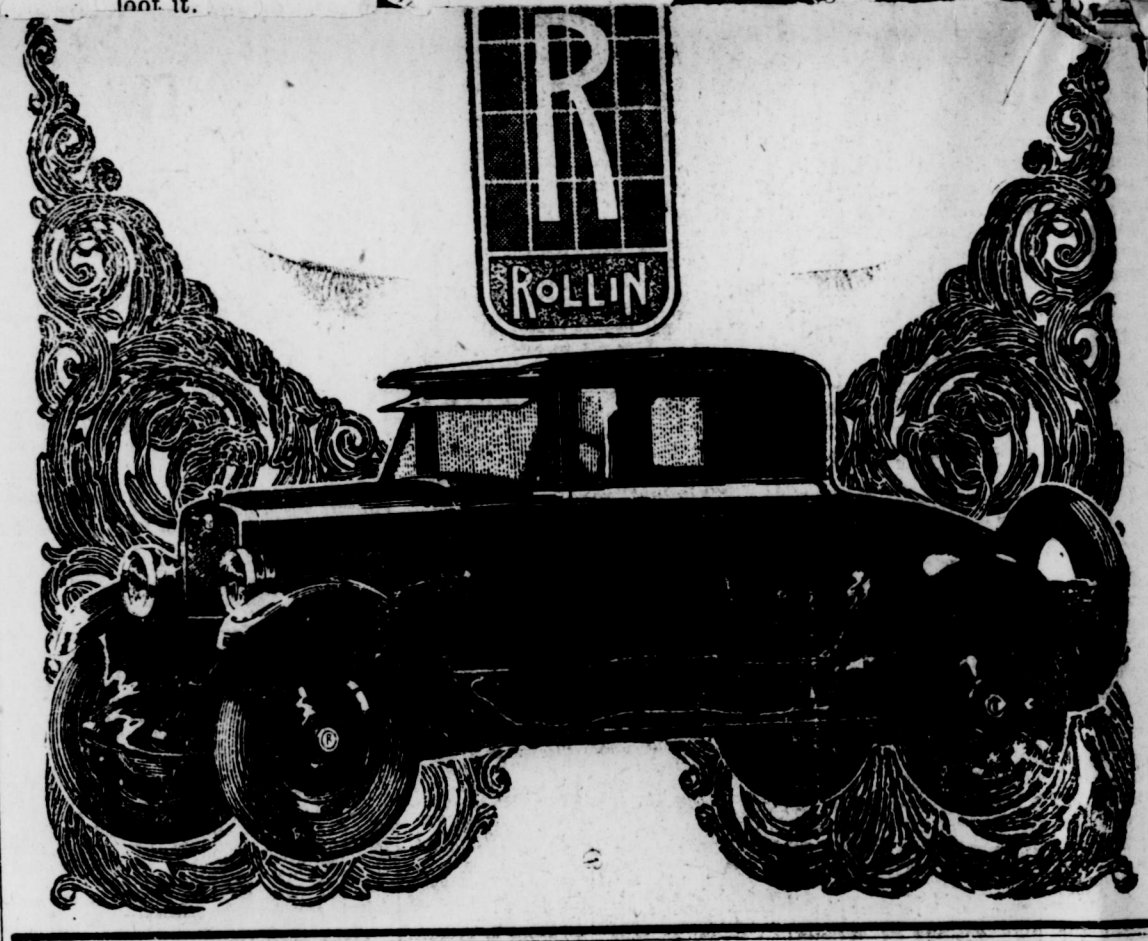

La Porte (Ind.) Argus—The fault in primaries is that they indicate what the people want, not what the politicians want.

Letter to Housekeepers

Dear Madam:—

Curtains contribute more to a room's appearance, than any other article of decoration.

And curtains—even the best of them—are so inexpensive. Did you ever consider this?

You must pay fifty or sixty dollars for a good rug. But you can get a set of beautiful curtains for $2.25 to $6.00 or even less, that should wear ten years with proper care.

It is really astonishing the variety of effects that can be secured with different curtains.

To illustrate different treatments in line with the new modes of interior decoration, we have fitted up a corner of our Drapery Department so that it looks like a big cozy living room!

We call this section "CURTAINLAND."

It is a real wonderland of beautiful curtains for the home!

Here are displayed in charming arrangement, Curtains and Draperies of every sort! So that you can visualize their appearance in your home.

A visit here is an inspiration! You really owe yourself the pleasure of coming!

May we expect you?

Yours very truly,

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS

"That Rascal Pat" makes his appearance in the Methodist vestry at 7:30 tonight. He will be accompanied by a strong cast and some good specialty entertainers.

Repairs to the Wilson & White block caused by the fire two weeks ago began yesterday. The laying of a large section of the Maine Music Co.'s floor is one of the things which will be necessary.

An extra word oftentimes ruins an entire sentence and this was true in the Hospital Day item in the Tuesday issue of this paper. The program presented at Sibley Hospital by the Martin children consisted only of songs. There were no dances.

Rockland Garage announces the following Studebaker sales: E. J. Moore, Light Six; Fred Humphrey of Tenant's Harbor, Light Six five-passenger coupe; Arthur P. Haines, Light Six sedan; Ernest Gamage, Light Six sedan; John H. Feehan, Thomaston, Light Six touring; Dr. Benjamin H. Keller of Thomaston, Special Six, with balloon tires.

"There's a man driving a truck down there loaded to the limit" said a citizen to one of Rockland's finest Tuesday and the officer rushed to the scene only to find that it was the truck, not the man that was loaded. The truckman had jacked the huge refrigerator from the old Wooster store onto his rig.

Several hundred people assembled at Rankin block about 10 o'clock last night to see Chemical 1 extinguish a small fire on the second floor. The blaze itself started in a pile of wood and litter in a wood closet and did not spread.

Rehearsals for the Masonic local talent show "Ship Ahoy" are going along splendidly and rapidly nearing completion. All members of the large cast are making the most of the parts assigned to them and when the show is presented in Park Theatre, Monday and Thursday, it will be a success.

Rev. Oscar W. Stuart, the pastor, has been doing splendid work in this parish, and the people are behind him strongly. Supper will be served both nights at 6:30.

Following is the campaign organization:

Thomas Nickerson is "home from Sailors' Snug Harbor on a week's furlough. Reports the Rockland colony happy, and none more so than "Uncle Cy" Gahan, who is 88 years young.

The May dance given by the B. and P. Women's Club at Temple hall tomorrow night is sure to bring out a large crowd. It will be the last dance of the season given by this energetic club.

Go to that baseball meeting in the American Legion hall next Tuesday evening at 7:30 if you really mean that you want local baseball this summer. Your presence will count, and this is not a money-raising meeting.

"Patchy" Saville and Linwood Rogers, the local Tex Rickards, who are managing the sparring exhibition in the Arcade May 28, are much elated over the fact that they have secured George Bolduc the Lewiston lightweight champion of Maine to meet Tommy Flaurant of Biddeford in the main event. This is one of the best drawing cards offered here in recent years.

These are the days to get outdoors and walk in comfort. The Cantilever Shoe, because of its flexible arch, harmonizes with every movement of the foot. It gives freedom to the foot muscles, permits them to exercise so that they grow strong and supple. And the flexible arch of the curves up to fit the under-foot snugly, giving helpful support to the foot arch. The shoe is patterned on natural lines, giving wonderful comfort. The toes find plenty of room in the gracefully rounded toe of the shoe. The well set, moderate heels distribute the weight without strain on the arches. You can work or stand on your feet all day in Cantilever Shoes with little or no fatigue. Their ease and freedom make walking a beautiful and enjoyable sport.

Try a pair of Cantilever Shoes this week. There are good looking Oxford, strap pumps and boots in fashionable leathers and colors to complete your Spring costumes. Widths from AAAA to E.

"SHIP AHOY"

Is To Delight a Big Crowd of Rockland People Next Week.

Rehearsals for the Masonic local talent show "Ship Ahoy" are going along splendidly and rapidly nearing completion. All members of the large cast are making the most of the parts assigned to them and when the show is presented in Park Theatre, Monday and Thursday, it will be a success.

Rev. Oscar W. Stuart, the pastor, has been doing splendid work in this parish, and the people are behind him strongly. Supper will be served both nights at 6:30.

Following is the campaign organization:

Very Low Cost of Operation

The Chevrolet policy is to insure quality first—then set the price as low as great volume production and sales will permit. The correctness of this policy is shown by the fact that, in 1922, Chevrolet sales jumped from seventh place to second, and, in the latter part of that year in numerous parts of the United States, to first place.

In economy of operation Chevrolet is unsurpassed. Its engineering design and construction have kept pace with progress, and overcome the difficulties due to the present low-grade motor fuels now in use.

In comfort and beauty it leads in the low-priced field. This is particularly true of the closed cars, which have highest-grade bodies designed and built for comfort in all weathers, handsomely appointed, and instantly convertible from weather-proof condition to open cool comfort.

Having the world's largest manufacturing capacity for high-grade closed cars, we are able to offer the utmost per dollar of value in this rapidly-growing market.

No matter what car you own or think of owning, it will surely pay you to SEE CHEVROLET FIRST.

With the Radio Fans

(By the Radio Editor)

Radio applause cards which I have sent out to different stations have commenced to bear fruit in the shape of acknowledgment from the station directors and artists to whom the cards were sent. Perhaps the most interesting of the replies received last week is from the Edison Light Station, WTAZ, of Boston, in the form of a personal letter from J. J. Caddington, director of broadcasting of that station. Mr. Caddington's letter explains the importance of written applause to the operation of a broadcasting station, and more especially to the artists themselves, who invariably call at the stations a few days after their broadcast to inquire how they pleased the public. He also adds that many times the artists are not only disappointed but displeased at the lack of appreciation from those listening in. In closing Mr. Caddington says:

"Programs to a great extent in the future, not only from this station, but at all broadcasting stations, will depend upon the amount of applause letters and cards that the artists receive from those listening in. I am sure that you will appreciate how far a few words of praise will go with the performers, and how very willing it will tend to make them repeat when requested to do so."

This last paragraph expresses exactly what I had in mind when I suggested to the management of The Courier-Gazette that it issue applause cards for radio readers, and I believe that these readers are commencing to grasp the significance of applauding the artists to whom they listen every night without cost or obligation to themselves. Let it not be said that we are an unappreciative race of people who sit comfortably by our receiving sets night after night and listen to these artists, who do their bit expressly for our entertainment, without even some slight expression of our appreciation for their efforts. If we were to attend a theatre

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Rubbish is bound to accumulate in and about our homes and unless it is removed becomes a menace to health, increases the danger of fire, and furthermore gives our premises a cluttered and untidy appearance.

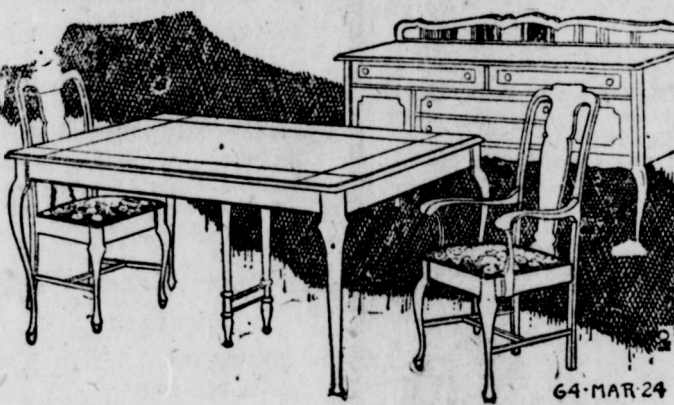

Therefore, having full confidence in the civic pride of our citizens, I set apart the week of MAY 12th as CLEAN-UP WEEK, and ask the co-operation of all in order to establish our reputation for well kept homes.

The city teams will collect rubbish that is placed in proper receptacles on the side of the street.

C. F. SNOW, Mayor.

These are the Rules for Clean-up Week. They should be Carefully Observed:

- First: All rubbish must be placed in receptacles of some kind.
- Second: Receptacles containing rubbish must be placed on the curb before the date of collection.
- Third: Positively no garbage will be picked up.

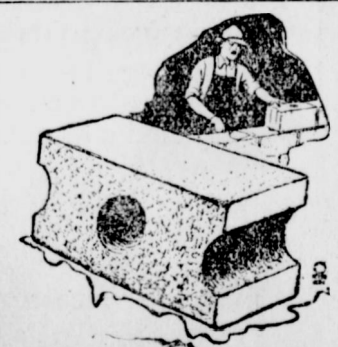

Clean Up Inside the Home as well as Outside. We have the requisite for Every Household Need—New Floor Coverings, Curtains, in Excellent Designs; Mops, Dusters, Brooms, Household Ranges, Reed Furniture, Sanitary Refrigerators, Porch Furniture.

Local Farmers Engage In the Highly Valuable Work of Reforestation.

Many farmers in Knox-Lincoln county are putting waste land to work through reforestation. At the present time there is very little timber left in the county and that is rapidly being consumed. The Extension Service and the County Farm Bureau are cooperating in their work this year, and five planting demonstrations have been held by County Agent Wentworth as follows:

George Walker, Alma, 500 white pine and spruce; Chester Combs, Bristol, 1000 white pine; John Andrews, Jefferson, 1000 white pine; L. H. Stevens, Washington, 500 white pine and 500 spruce; and F. M. Poland, Washington, 2000 white pine and 2000 spruce. This is only a start and the plots will be used for demonstration purposes.

The young seedlings were obtained from the State Forestry nursery at Orono. The plants are set 6x6 feet, which allows 120 trees per acre. At the demonstrations there were a number of men who are planning to reforest some of their waste land this coming year. The expense of planting is small so that it is only a case of having on hand some seed.

In order to equalize the unfair discrimination of taxation on forest crops, a law was passed by the legislature providing for exemption from taxation for a period of 20 years, the trees being not less in number than 400 on each acre.

Anyone interested in this reforesting work should get in touch with County Agent Wentworth.

RAZORVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hibbert and family of Meadfield, Mass., and Irvin Hibbert of Cambridge, visited their brothers and sisters here over Sunday. On their way they called on their mother, Mrs. Clara Hibbert, who was recently operated upon at the Augusta General Hospital and stopped there again Monday on their return trip.

Mrs. Willard Overlook is very sick with the grippe and tonsillitis. Mrs. Rachel Achorn of Slickville's Corner is her nurse and Dr. Pierpont and Plummer are in attendance.

Arthur Lekker is home from the hospital for a short vacation but will return again after he does his planting.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilson were here Sunday and Mrs. Tilson preached another of her splendid sermons. She will be here again at the Razorville chapel next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Everybody should be sure to attend as this may be her last service here. She will preach at Brown Town in the morning at 10:30.

Clarence and Ralph Hibbert and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kahrmann visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clara Hibbert at the Augusta General Hospital Sunday and report that she is comfortable and getting along nicely.

Charles F. Lombard of South Portland is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Erna Wellman.

Addie Olevia Farrar, one of the best of mothers, was here Sunday.

STRAND THEATRE

Last chance tonight to see "David Copperfield," wherein the screen tells the story contained by one of the greatest novels ever written.

No greater love existed than that between the boy, David Copperfield, and his mother. Ten years of great love. His mother married Mr. Murdstone. Resentment appeared natural for David when his stepfather flogged him. His mother died. David was taken from school and forced to go to work in Murdstone's factory. The boy's only friends were Peggotty, the Copperfield servant, and Mr. Micawber, who was a penniless character, always "waiting for something to turn up." David ran away from the factory and went to his aunt, Betsy Trotwood, who adopted him. A new happiness came into his life. He met Mr. Wickfield and his sweet daughter, Agnes. He also met Uriah Heep, the wicked clerk, who turned out to be a miserly, unscrupulous individual who also longed to marry Agnes. From law to writing, David Copperfield turned his bent and became a great success. He met Dorcas Spenlow. Love at first sight. The affable and clever David plied his suit. They were married. More happiness for David until Dorcas became ill and died. For solace and comfort David turned to his old and loyal friends. Mr. Micawber was always ready to lend a cheering hand. Agnes came back into his life. Also the wily Uriah Heep. And from this point the story works steadily toward its highly interesting climax. One of the best story writers of his time is Emerson Hough, the man who wrote "The Covered Wagon." He also wrote "The Sagebrusher," which will be seen Friday and Saturday in seven reels, with Roy Stewart and Marguerite de la Motte as the stars—adv.

PARK THEATRE

"Leibund," an adaptation of the Pulitzer prize play by Owen Davis is now on. In the leading role opposite Miss Wilson is Richard Dix. Others are Helen Dubois, Edna May Oliver, Vera Reynolds and Ethel Walter. Leather Pushers, No. 2. Paces and News will complete an excellent program.

A picture dedicated to the "flapper." This is "Flaming Youth," an absorbing photoplay version of Warner Fabian's sensational and widely read story of the same title, which will be shown this week Friday and Saturday. Dealing with the love adventures of a daring young girl who sets out to live to the fullest, "Flaming Youth" is considered one of the most outstanding stories of contemporary life ever filmed. It treats of the laxity of the present-day girl in her observance of the conventions, and while in no way a preachment, it points to the danger that beset the pleasure-loving girl who is apt to be just a trifle in excess in her pursuit of happiness. Deplete with highly dramatic situations, "Flaming Youth" tells of the life of a girl who, when the brilliant Rock-

There are a large number ill with had grippe-colds. The community was glad to see this entire community that W. E. Overlook, working day and night.

He had previously experienced a siege of pleurisy necessitating a minor operation, and upon one of his trips to Rockland suffered an acute attack. Early in November he laid aside his legal work and entered Knox Hospital for an operation. He recovered to such an extent that he was able to go to St. Petersburg, Fla., early in January. From that city came conflicting reports—some of a grave nature, and some calculated to encourage his anxious relatives and friends in this section.

A few weeks ago, accompanied by his wife, who has scarcely left his bedside during his long period of invalidism, Mr. Littlefield started North. The next news was to the effect that the long journey was being broken by a stop at Pinehurst, N. C. Later plans called for his arrival in Rockland last week, but there came despatches saying that he was in a hospital in Washington, D. C. That the situation even then had its hopeful aspect is to be judged from a telegram received yesterday from an intimate friend of Mr. Littlefield who is at present residing in Washington.

Aside from the practice of law to which he was intensely devoted, and to which he gave such tireless energy, Mr. Littlefield was prominently identified with local banking interests. He had been president of the Rockland National Bank since the death of the late G. Howe Wiggin in 1916 having risen to that position from the vice presidency which he held since 1913. He had been a director 14 years. Mr. Littlefield had served as president of the Maine Bankers' Association and Maine National Bankers' Association and was vice president from Maine of the American Bankers' Association. He had also been president of the Maine Bar Association.

Working long hours at his legal practice Mr. Littlefield found but little time for other matters, or for what the average person considers in the light of diversions. He did, however, become very much devoted to Masonry, as shown by the fact that he is a member of the Past Officers' Association. Membership in this organization is limited to men who have served as worshipful master of the Blue Lodge, high priest of the Chapter, three illustrious master of the Council and eminent commander of the Commandery. He was made a Mason in Aurora Lodge. It was to be expected that a man of his prominence would make rapid strides in the grand bodies, and Mr. Littlefield did not disappoint his friends. He had been grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Maine, Knights Templar; and only a few days before his death had been

Years as a trustee of the Congregational Parish and was counselor to the church.

The Republican party of Maine regarded Mr. Littlefield as one of its ablest leaders. He had represented Rockland in the Maine Legislatures of 1903 and 1905, and serving on important committees was one of the most influential members of the House. He had stamped the State in several important campaigns, and had freely contributed to the party's support.

In this brief review of a busy life one does not need to read between the lines to see the important sphere which Mr. Littlefield had filled, or to judge of the high value which his fellow citizens have placed upon his services and worth. Because of his devotion to his profession, and the endless hours which he spent in the preparation of a vast number of cases, it was not given to him to mingle socially with his fellow men as much as he would have liked, but those who knew him most intimately saw revealed a nature, which was full of kindness and courtesy, never refusing a legitimate appeal for assistance, and never lacking that vein of humor which made him one of the most companionable of men. That such a brilliant career should be terminated in the height of its usefulness and with its climax not yet revealed, is another of the ways of the mysterious Providence to which men bow.

Mr. Littlefield is survived by his wife, formerly Rosa A. Weymouth of Lewiston, to whom he was married in 1902; one sister, Miss Martha Littlefield, and one brother, Frank, both of Vinalhaven; a nephew, Charles W. Littlefield of Montclair, N. J., and a niece, Miss Carolyn Littlefield of Rockland.

The annual meeting of the Rockland Savings Bank was held yesterday, these officers being chosen: Frank W. Fuller, president; E. D. Spear, treasurer; Miss Annie Blackington assistant treasurer. The board of trustees comprises R. K. Snow, N. F. Cobb, E. D. Spear, Frank W. Fuller, M. E. Wotton, Arthur L. Orne and Charles S. Robbins. A very satisfactory year was reported, with the declaration of the usual dividend and addition to the reserve fund.

When Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd N. Lawrence rode in from Boston Tuesday in their sport model Apperson everybody paused to admire the handsome car. It has a blue body, with Spanish upholstery, and is equipped with disc wheels, and four-wheel brakes. "Pat" is much pleased with his new possession.

We wish to announce that we have taken over the agency for HYDE FULCRUM SPRINGS for Ford Cars. We have ridden with Mr. Belyea over railroad crossings, paving, washboard roads, etc., and are thoroughly convinced that it is the easiest riding car in the world. There are many other mechanical features which we can see but would be too numerous to mention which are of great benefit to the car. There is one which we should bring out—the elimination of the danger of a wishbone snapping off and causing a serious accident which this contrivance entirely does away with. Every man owes three things to his bank

THE DEPOSITOR who wrote the following letter has given permission to publish it. Has the thought he expresses ever occurred to you? Do you agree with him?

THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY
37 WALL STREET, NEW YORK

Gentlemen:

You have published many advertisements about your obligations to me as a depositor. I think it is time for one of your customers to write an advertisement about his obligations to you, his bank.

As I see it, I owe you three things—and money (at the moment, thank the Lord) is not one of them.

1. I owe it to you, as well as to myself, to maintain a good business reputation. To you because I expect you to demand this of your other depositors. If I have business dealings with a customer of the Equitable I assume that because he is an Equitable customer, he pays his bills, has regard to the sanctity of a contract, and is otherwise dependable. I cannot expect you to uphold this standard on the part of others, unless I do my personal share in upholding it.

2. I owe it to you to maintain a balance on which you can make a profit. I expect you to maintain convenient offices, which means high rents, high taxes and other expenses. I call on you for a variety of services, many of which were never thought of as a part of banking ten years ago.

3. I owe you an obligation to accept your decision cheerfully, if you sometime say "No." If you haven't the courage to say "No" many times a day, and stick to it, I don't want my money in your bank. I expect you to say "No" when you are invited to make speculative investments—because part of the money you invest is my money. I expect you to say "No" when you are asked to make questionable loans, or to pay too high a rate of interest, or to lend at too low a rate.

I want all the interest I can get; and all the accommodation I can get. But first of all I want to be dead sure that what money I have with you is absolutely safe. It can't be safe unless you are conservative. And any man or institution that is conservative must necessarily say "No" every day. If ever you say it to me, therefore, I owe it to you to believe that you are saying it because it is in the best interests of all your depositors of whom I am one.

THOMASTON

Russell Gray has received his commission as captain of F. Co. 240th C. A. C.

Pythian Sisters held their regular meeting Friday evening, work is expected.

Capt. Samuel Waits of Tenants' Harbor who spent the winter with his sons and daughters in Massachusetts, was the guest of Mrs. Edward Brown Wednesday enroute home.

Capt. Howard Barter of Martinsville was in town recently.

Miss Bernice Whitney who has been in town a few weeks, has returned to Florida.

Miss Hilda George who left town Tuesday to work as district nurse among the Tuni Indians will have charge of five villages. A few white families reside in the village she will make her home. Miss George is to be commended for the self-sacrificing spirit she is manifesting.

Chief of Police Meservy reports a general compliance with the laws relating to the parking of motor vehicles since the announcement in The Courier-Gazette that they would be enforced.

Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific railroad has been a guest the past week of his son Russell Gray. He found much pleasure in the company of his new granddaughter, Eleanor.

A general overhauling of water pipes is going on. The system was put in in 1886-7 and many pipes are filled with rust.

Mrs. Ida Newcombe is the guest of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Washburn for a few days.

Miss Anna French has been detained at home a few days by sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bradley and daughter came from Bangor Tuesday.

Jerome Bushnell arrived from Boston this week with a new couple.

The Ladies' Circle of the Baptist church held a meeting at the vestry Wednesday. At 6 o'clock supper was served at which the husbands of the members were guests, also Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Short.

A chimney fire in the Crawford building again called out the firemen with their hand chemicals. Fires there are of too frequent occurrence and suggest that some action should be taken to remove the cause.

R. S. Webster, a resident engineer of the F. W. Cunningham Construction Co., who has been at the prison several months has finished his work and returned to his home in Gray.

S. Emerson Smith and Miss Christine Moore will arrive home from Boston today.

G. Edgar Wilson is having a session with the measles.

Mrs. Edward Risteen who has been visiting her son George, in Skowhegan and a sister in Bath, returned home Tuesday.

Frank Hills, niece and child are in town.

Dr. E. W. Peaslee is attending a Masonic convocation in Portland.

The Mission Circle of the Baptist church presented Mr. R. H. Short with an electric table lamp for a birthday present.

Mrs. George Creighton entertained a party of ladies from Rockland Tuesday. The evening was pleasant and in a social and industrial way.

What are they trying to do to stop it? It is frequently heard in connection with violations of the prohibitory laws. Seth May, prohibition director for Maine, told a Bangor audience Sunday that in 400 Maine cases there had been 100 per cent convictions; that fines amounting to $95,000 had been collected and that prison sentences aggregating 23 years had been imposed. Those who violate the law would seem to be running an element of risk, to say the least.

"Be-er when is Father's Day?" asked Ed Pointer in the Boston Globe. We were somewhat of the impression that Father isn't so fussy about the Day if he can have a Night now and then.

The McAdoo forces are much elated over their victory in Texas and make bold to state that they will win on the first ballot. But there's many a slip on an oily step.

Arthur L. Orne was re-elected president of the Rockland Country Club Tuesday night, as a tribute to the excellent work he has done for that organization the past year.

The other officials chosen Tuesday night are: Vice president, George B. Wood; treasurer, Arthur F. Lamb; secretary, Will P. Burpee; directors, the officers and M. E. Wotton, Raymond Eaton, James F. Carver, William H. Rhodes, Dr. A. W. Foss, E. L. Brown, Alan L. Bird, and L. E. Wardwell. Walter H. Spear was elected chairman of the grounds committee, but the election of a chairman of the house committee was deferred to next month. It was thought advisable to change the date of the annual meeting to the first Tuesday in November. The club's active membership is 154. The golf course is being put in first class condition and the annual tournament will next receive attention. A supper was tendered the outgoing officials.

The Baptist Men's League holds its last meeting of the season next Wednesday night, with two big drawing cards. One is the extra good supper which a local caterer will furnish, and the other is the speaker, B. C. Reddick, former register of deeds in Lincoln County, who is an orator of such unusual ability that he has often been mentioned as a logical candidate for the Congressional nomination. Although a Democrat he has been frequently elected in Lincoln County when large majorities were being cast for Republican candidates. His lecture next Wednesday night will have nothing to do with politics, however. He has charged for his subject "Why America is Big-Brother of It Stands the Home." It is rumored that there will also be musical features.

WANT LOCAL BASEBALL?

Opportunity To Say So Tuesday Night—Rockland High Starts Right In Pennant Chase.

A group of earnest baseball fans is determined that Rockland shall have a local team this season, playing two home games a week, and to that end will have a meeting in the American Legion rooms next Tuesday evening at 7.30. It takes more than a little group, however, to put baseball across in proper shape, and all who are interested in the proposition should attend this meeting and say so. No collection will be taken and no pledges asked. The meeting is to discuss ways and means. As Rockland is not to have a Fourth of July muster or large celebration it is figured that merchants who would have donated for it, will even more gladly subscribe to local baseball which will furnish diversion and bring money into the city the entire summer. If a committee can raise $300 to $500 as a starter it will mean that Rockland will put a team into the field that can meet other strong Maine teams. Watch these columns for further particulars.

Rockland High played its first game in the Knox and Lincoln League yesterday and did not disappoint its followers. The real test will come with Saturday's game in Thomaston. Defeat for Rockland would not necessarily mean a death blow to the pennant hopes of the orange and black, because there would still be the game to be played between Rockland and Thomaston on Rockland's home territory. On the other hand a victory for Rockland Saturday would certainly give that team much prestige. Hence the importance of the great contest which

A happy bunch of Rockland ball-tossers came back from Newcastle last night—happy over the fact that a clean-out and decisive victory had been won over Lincoln Academy, and happy because the team has made an auspicious start in the Knox and Lincoln pennant chase. Elmer Rising treated the Scotts-Newcastle fans to an exhibition of classy pitching, striking out 19 men and holding the home team to Oliver's solitary hit. Not quite so satisfactory is the fact that Rockland made only two hits. The need of intensive batting practice before meeting Peckham Saturday was evidenced.

Rockland won the game in the 3d.

A straight High School team from Principal Burns' Rockport institution defeated Thomaston High School regulars, minus Pitcher Feehan, 10 to 9 in Rockport yesterday. The game was hard fought throughout and the advantage was with Thomaston until the eighth frame when the Goose River men forced ahead after overcoming a three run lead. In the last of the ninth it looked as though Thomaston might pull the chestnuts out of the fire, for she had the bases full, due to a hit, an error and a patched batter, but clever work by Spear, Calderwood, Grafton and Farrow saved the day for Rockport. Especial mention should be made of the work of Calderwood who stayed the full nine innings. The score:

Rockport		Thomaston
ab	rb	ab	rb
Rockport 11	10 0 0 4 0 0	Thomaston 9	10 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—for Rockport, Calderwood and Grafton; for Thomaston, Teale, Grafton and Condon. Strikeouts, by Calderwood 5, by Teale 2, by Condon 2. Bases on balls, off Grafton 1. Two-base hits, Farrow, Upham, Auslund and Stone. Umpire, Burns.

The Rockland Specials, a baseball outfit organized at The Brook, will make its first crusade today, weather permitting, in search of the scalps of the Vinahaven Indians (not the Old Timers). If weather is too bad the slaughter will be delayed, for the trip will be made in a small boat. The personnel of the Specials—Mealey, of Clark 1b, Tripp, of Ony 3b, Baudoin, ss, Ayer, of Cunningham, c, Kenney 2b, Kivistich, p. The game will be played at 5:30 p.m.

Bridge Lamp $26.00

The bridge lamp is of the most desirable type of lamp. Rays may be directed by means of the adjustable arm. These are of old gold with black enamel decorations. Silk shades with fringe may be had in various popular colors. Complete $26.00.

$36.00 Walnut Finish Bed, $36.00

Here is an odd bed that will sell at $36.00. It cost more than that so some one is going to get a real bargain. In the Tudor period, finished in American walnut with a decorative ornament of darker walnut. The special price $36.00.

$34 Colonial Buffet in Golden Oak $34

Has unusually generous drawer space. Note the long drawer at the top—that is a linen drawer—and very handy. The buffet is made of oak, golden finish, in the Colonial design. This week's price is $34.00.

$77 White Porcelain Top Cabinet, $77

Saves many steps for the housewife. Its snow-white enamel is easy to keep clean. The porcelain top is an added feature. Has sifting flour bin, sugar and spice containers of glass. Conveniently arranged. Quoted at only $77.00.

$30 Genuine Leather Rocker, $30

A big, leather fireside rocker—or if you would rather—in tapestry. Full spring seat and back with well padded arms and wings. Very comfortable and good looking. The leathers is genuine—in brown Spanish grain. Special at $30.00.

Costumer, $4.50

A very high grade costumer of solid oak in an attractive dull rubbed finish. The base is artistically shaped. The hooks at the top are of brushed brass. Convenient for the home or office. This week $4.50.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Fogg's inquiry about the Steamer Governor running ashore in 1853 is beyond me, as I was born in 1854 and for a few years at least was not in close touch with steamboat transportation. If you ever visited the maritime museum in the Old State House in Boston, the first thing as a Down Easter that attracted your attention was the picture of the Bangor, the first steamer of the name to ply between Boston and Bangor, 1834 to 1841. She was sold in 1842 and ran between Constantinople and Alexandria, later bought by the Sultan for his yacht and afterward formed a part of the Turkish navy. My impression is that the Gulf of Maine is that stretch of the Atlantic Ocean lying between Kittery and Grand Manan. Capt. Isaac Cottle, Home Harbor, Maine.

Either Way Is Correct
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Why do I sometimes see the word spelled "center" and sometimes "centre"? Which is right?
Harry E. Butler.

Union, R. F. D. 1
Either is right. It is a matter of the speller's habit or taste. The word comes from the French word centre, Latin centrum. The dictionaries allow either spelling. Webster giving preference to center.—Ed.

SUMMER COTTAGES AND BOARD

About this time of year The Courier-Gazette begins to have inquiries by persons who wish to come to this part of Maine during the summer season. They seek to rent a cottage or to find board. There is no prepared list of such accommodations anywhere to be had, but there ought to be. We propose carrying in our column of classified advertising announcements of this character, which the paper will convey to distant points and copies of which we can mail in response to inquiries for information. The attention of those with boarding accommodations, or cottages for rent or sale, is invited to this opportunity to obtain publicity at very small cost.

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette is a salesman, visiting three times a week the homes of this vicinity and soliciting business for its advertisers.

BEULAH S. OXTON

In the death yesterday of Beulah Sylvester Oxtion Rockland and Knox County lost one of their most outstanding daughters. In her capacity as State Superintendent of Temperance Instruction for the W. C. T. U. she had occasion to carry the work into all parts of the State and through her vigorous conduct of the duties of her office remarkable success was attained. As a writer of romances, plays and historical novels and as a singer of the praises in verse of the State she loved so well, Mrs. Oxtion's fame had extended far beyond the borders of New England.

The deceased was born in Vinalhaven, Dec. 22, 1879, a daughter of Harland P. and Sarah (Mills) Sylvester. Her girlhood was spent at Castine and she graduated from the Eastern Maine Normal School in 1902 with a fine record. During the next ten years she taught in various parts of the State, closing her service teaching in Rockland High School. She took a tremendous interest in her work and in her pupils as is attested by the fact that the teachers will be former students.

On New Year's Day, 1912, she was married to Elbert A. Oxtion of Rockville and since then had divided her time between her Rockville home, Grassways, and this city. As a girl she joined the Methodist church at Castine and later was connected with the Episcopal church at Bar Harbor. Late years she has devoted her energies to social betterment, cooperating earnestly with the workers in all the local churches. She was probably best known in her work with the W. C. T. U. She was local president and soon advanced to the county presidency. Her labors were so successful that the State organization gave her the State Superintendency, its most important single activity, for it reaches the rising generation. These last two offices she held at the time of her death.

Her literary genius had not yet reached full flower but was maturing rapidly and many of the later products of her pen have met with very favorable public reception. She had had verses and stories published by local and State papers and had been successful in the Lewiston Journal and the Maine Club women's prize story contests. Among her works were "Sketch of the Life of Major Dekey," "Romance of Mr. Dekey" and several scenarios and historical novels. She had planned to have her works bound in a volume called "Ballads of Maine" which would include historical sketches and pageants given locally and at Castine Normal School.

Besides her husband Mrs. Oxtion is survived by the aged mother and one sister, Mrs. Clara Emery of this city. Though childless she had charge of the rearing of three children, being guardian of Theodore, Ruth and Frederick, children of her deceased brother, Frederick E. Sylvester. Her illness covered a long and painful 18 months, but during all that period she made no complaint and sustained her interest in her many friends and in her clubs—the Mother and the Maine Literary Club.

day, Tuesday and Wednesday, the theatregoers will witness a rare and unique production. The cast will number in the vicinity of 100 persons, talent selected with the utmost care by the several committees in charge.

Tickets are selling very fast. The seat sale opens Friday at the Park Theatre from 10 to 1 o'clock. All who are interested upon seeing the production should make a special effort to secure their vouchers immediately and be prepared to make the exchange for reserved seats. It is unusual for a production to play three nights in Rockland, but due to the large ticket sale and in order that all may have the opportunity of seeing this remarkable production, the management, ranked with the theatre management and the Acme Theatrical Producing Co. for this three-day showing.

Marston's orchestra with a number of extra musicians will furnish the music for the show and it is confidently expected that this team of talented performers will outshine any previous engagement, and that is saying a lot.

When Milton Griffin shouts out "Gentlemen, Be Seated!" Monday night, the big show will be on. The opening chorus is a special arrangement and will introduce the Sailor's Hornpipe enacted by four High School girls. The end men will make a novel appearance in "Kale Wail" fashion, something entirely new, and will undoubtedly prove one of the hits of the show. Many old and new numbers are included and the music in this part will make one's feet tingle for action. Ted Perry will hand out "Down Among the Sleepy Hills" Tennessee. John Dan Shepherd, the local black-face wizard, will sing "It Ain't Goin' To Rain No More." Billy Monroe, Camden's artist, will render "You Can Take Me Away From Dixie." P. Nutt of Rockport and other parts, knocks them dead with his own version of "Somebody Stole My Gal." Caddy Curtis has just returned from Boston where he took special vocal lessons on the "Kale Wail." "Lula Lou," Mr. Porter is singing "I'm Going Back to That Shack in Hackensack." There are hits too numerous to mention, but all will be heard by an audience that will fill the Park Theatre to the last seat.

The second act, a musical extravaganza, will include all sorts of novelties seen in the revue type of show. John Shepard and Arthur Sullivan will do some wooden shoe work that must be seen to be appreciated. Miss Lena Huntley and a chorus of beautiful girls have a singing and dancing specialty. Miss Flora Kelley and girls will sing their stuff in "Dancin' Partners." A peppy, jazzy number that typifies the dancers of today. Caddy Curtis and Ted Shepard are acting out the song that was so popular many years ago, "On the Sidewalks of New York." There are too many hits in this act to attempt to enumerate, so get your tickets and see the show which holds all sorts of treats.

Tickets may be obtained at Mitchell & Ranlett's, Kennedy's fruit store, Corner Drug Store, Burpee & Lamb's, and Orel E. Davies' jewelry store.—ad.

Members of such societies should recognize their responsibility and make a sincere effort to keep faith with the State which supplies the bounty for the encouragement of Agriculture and not for the promotion of amusement carnivals or midway attractions of doubtful character. We earnestly recommend the employment of a regular ground man, each society who shall devote his full time to the regulation of affairs up to the midway with full authority to evict any concessioners who by their actions are found to be jeopardizing the support expected from the State.

We would also respectfully call your attention to Chapter 15 of the P. L. 1923 which provides that "no such society shall receive any portion of such stipend unless it shall have regularly entered and displayed in an attractive manner upon its exhibition grounds not less than one hundred separate and distinct exhibits or copies of vegetables, fruits or dairy products." It will be necessary to see that this law is complied with in 1924 and thereafter.

"We trust that this communication will be accepted in the spirit of helpfulness in which it is written and that we may have better and bigger agricultural fairs in 1924 than ever before."

Sounds of revelry by night issued from the Littlefield Memorial church last evening but it was early in the night and the joy sounds were forthcoming when one of the nine teams in the annual drive announced itself $100 over its quota of $227 on the first day of the drive. Frank B. Gregory, director of the drive, addressed the enthusiastic meeting and the church orchestra provided music during the supper hour and for the rally songs following.

DOWN AT "THE WAWENOCK"

Where Gentle Breezes Blow and Where the Tang of the Sea Makes Life Happy and Healthy.

Lovers of the seacoast, seeking the ideal spot in which to spend their summer vacations, find the realization of their ideals when they arrive at Port Clyde, southernmost point of the town of St. George, county of Knox, State of Maine.

Nature could itself on this picturesque peninsula, and when W. M. Harris built there the summer hotel known as "The Wawenock" he built better than he knew. The first guests to discover this gem by the sea last no time in passing the word to their intimate friends, and today the hotel has a clientele which any resort on the Maine coast might well envy. For the second time since the hotel was opened it has been found necessary to enlarge the quarters, and when the guests arrive this summer they will find a new wing, three stories in height ready for occupancy.

The Wawenock will open about June 25 and close Oct. 1. The house has accommodations for about 50 persons, who find inside light, airy rooms arranged to catch the most advantageous view of the picturesque scenery, and on the exterior 2900 feet of piazza space offer a most delightful lounging place on the hot summer days. There is always a cool breeze coming up through the reach, and summer guests find it more invigorating than medicine.

The food served at this hotel is one of the most potent reasons for its popularity. The fish is always fresh from the water and the meats and poultry are native raised. Thirst is quenched by the pure water which comes from an artesian well drilled into solid rock to a depth of 250 feet.

What do they have for diversions at The Wawenock? Simply day asks. The question is not readily answered in the scope of a few lines. If it is boating which appeals to the taste, the conditions here are ideal. Within a short distance of the hotel is a small, well protected harbor which affords safe anchorage for yachts, steam launches and other craft. Sail boats are always at hand and the smooth water among the islands of the St. Georges River makes an ideal place for pleasure seekers who do not care for a "sea."

And then there's deep sea fishing. Boats go onto the grounds every day, and even the greenhorn who never saw salt water before is sure of a "catch."

Boating, bathing and fishing have charms for most people, but to those who prefer terra firma there are delightful walks and rides, with scenery unsurpassed, and spacious lawns for tennis, croquet and other amusements.

How do I get there? asks the prospective guest. The answer is easy. A public jitney leaves Rockland at 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m., or a private auto will be furnished by request.

his family occupied it but a short time, selling to Capt. Balano. Twenty-two years ago William M. Harris, appreciating the worth of the house and its wonderfully beautiful location, secured it for a summer hotel and chose the name of "Wawenock" because of the early traditions connected with the place.

When the house was ready for occupancy Mr. Harris placed a brief advertisement in The Outlook. His aim was to appeal to people who desired a good, clean, wholesome, attractive place for their summer vacation. This advertisement proved sufficient. Just the sort of people he wanted applied for accommodations.

The house was filled the first season. Everyone delighted in the hotel, its surroundings, and in the kindly, big-hearted hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Harris. They came again and brought their friends. With no further advertising The Wawenock outgrew itself—hence, the annex which was built 12 summers ago.

Realizing that the men would appreciate a place all by their "lonesome"—a place where they might read and smoke to their heart's content—Mr. Harris picked out a beauty spot on the hilltop close by the house, and started to build a small cottage. Just at this time Mr. Eastman of Chicago was cruising along the Maine coast in search of a suitable summer place for himself and family.

He caught sight of the little house in process of construction on the hill. He liked its look. He turned the nose of his boat to shore, cut across the field and was soon talking business with Mr. Harris. He wanted to know for what purpose he was putting up the cottage; if he could not change and arrange it for a sleeping apartment?

They talked the matter over and Mr. Eastman said that he would return to Chicago and consult his family and son, let Mr. Harris know his decision. Within a few days a telegram was received at The Wawenock, saying: "Have decided to take the little cottage on the hill."

Therefore, instead of a den for the boy, the cottage house turned out to be a sleeping apartment for Mr. Eastman and his family and Mr. Harris had to look elsewhere for a location for a smoking-room. He chose wisely when he selected a spot on the very water's edge down over the sloping lawn in front of the big house and the artistic, convenient and comfortable little clubhouse, as it is termed, is a source of much pleasure not only to the men but to all the Wawenock guests.

Beside the large, comfortably furnished living room, the small building at the rear contains two good sized bath-rooms, fitted for the hot and cold salt water baths, the Wawenock being one of the very few beautiful little harbor with its constantly passing boats. Right here, too, is the hotel's boat landing and just a stone's throw away is the Port Clyde wharf.

After the octagon house on the hill had been finished and the last nail in the clubhouse driven, the big house was filled to overflowing with guests and applications for rooms continued to come. Mr. Harris decided to build an annex. A beautiful location only a few rods from the big house was chosen. Here a good sized building, surrounded by broad piazzas, was built. It is well built and contains 18 good sized, light, airy rooms. Every room has an iron bedstead with National spring and silk plush mattresses. Each room has a good sized closet and hot and cold running water. The house itself and its entire equipment are immaculate.

Mr. Harris is all the time "tinkering" on this thing or that—polishing the faucets, leveling off the doors which may have become swollen by the damp weather, fixing the pipes and what not. One of the things which he "hatched up" was a huge refrigerator, seven feet tall, seven feet wide and three feet deep, a refrigerator that would bear inspection by any refrigerator concern. Mrs. Harris is the right woman in the right place. She does by others as she would have them do by her. She has a cheery "good-morning" for everyone. She is never too busy to do this little thing or that for the comfort of a guest. "We want our people to feel at home," she says. And that's just why people love the Wawenock. They do feel at home. They feel that Mr. and Mrs. Harris are genuinely interested in their good time.

Good, clean, wholesome food three times a day and all you want of it, is the order at the Wawenock. Everything is good and well served.

McLain School

Twenty-two pupils in Grade 8A are to compete for the $20 prize offered by the ELKS for the best essay on "The History of the American Flag." The grade wishes to thank Mrs. Ada Mills for the gift of 20 boys' books for the Library, also Henry Field for the life of Theodore Roosevelt. The roll of honor this month contains the names of Melon Bird, Dorothy Eaton, Ralph Fowler, Donald Haskell, Norma Hutchinson, Ruth Lawrence, Wesley Waggatt and Irene Weymouth.

Fire drill was rung in last Tuesday and in less than three minutes every pupil was back in their desks.

The attendance banner goes to Grade 7A this month.

Cecil Lindsey was winner in the last Grammar contest in Grade 7B with Bernice Clifford as a close second. During the physiology period for Grade 6 Tuesday, demonstration of first aid to the injured was given by Clifford Ladd, Richard Burgess, Vinal Dailey and Freeland Staples. Daisy Economy of Grade 6 has presented the class with a baton. Fain Rindell is marshal for the month. For morning exercises the youngsters, enjoyed a short play which was reproduced and managed by Betty Benson.

Purchase Street

Lillian Rubenstein, Charles Perry and Dorothy Harvey had most star papers for the past two weeks in Grade 2. John Amata, John Bodman, Dorothy Dimick, Ruth Donah, Eugene Dow, Earl Ellis, John Galtant, Charles Gault, Elaine Richter, Helenka Pretorsky, Ruth Rackliffe, Lillian Rubenstein, Eulalia Stanley, Hazel Vasso, Horation Tolfason and Vincent Pellicane had perfect attendance for the past month.

Grades 2 and 6 enjoyed listening Monday to Dorothy Harvey's song, "Mother Dear."

Grade 6 conducted the current events lesson last week in the form of a question box. Each pupil wrote two questions, then they were gathered, mixed, and passed two to each pupil. The questions were read and some one called upon to answer them. The object was to make the lesson interesting and to hold the attention. The Spelling Testers of the A division in spelling, won again last week in the spelling match. The following pupils have passed in some very fine papers on Africa, Asia and Australia: Clifford Oliver, Louise Fields, Jessie Naylor, Myrtle Hall, Harlow Webber, Arlene Boyde, Elna Make, Irene Strout, Walter Post, Margaret Adams, Frances Wallis, Edmond Bodman, Young Gray, Thomas Moulaison and Charles Seavey.

HOPE

Mrs. Adella Godding entertained her brother-in-law, Walter Hewett, last week.

Mrs. T. B. Noyes and daughter Rachel of Rockland were in town Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Robbins has opened a studio at 45 Chestnut street, Camden, and is teaching piano to beginners and advanced pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bills were in Camden last Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gould.

Mrs. Bernice Carver and daughter Vera of Rockland were Sunday guests at W. K. Robbins'. The spring crop of minor ailments is slowly disappearing and now a few warm, sunny days would be much appreciated by the convalescents. Pomona Grange met with Hope Grange Saturday. Dinner was served to a large gathering. Remarks were made by Hon. Obadiah Gardner, A. K. Gardner, H. H. Nash and others. The address of welcome was given by E. L. True, worthy master of Hope Grange.

Now that Memorial Day is approaching, would it not be a good idea for each lot owner to do a little work in the cemetery? Surely, even the busiest might find a little time to improve the appearance of a place that could easily be made a credit to the town and more slightly to every passer by.

Ray Rolfe and family have moved into N. F. Barrett's cottage on the Hobbs Pond road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dunton were Sunday dinner guests at B. P. Nichols at Head-of-the-Lake.

Calvin C. Taylor

The death of Calvin C. Taylor, son of the late William J. and Araminta Taylor, occurred at his home in Hope May 4 at the age of 41 years. He had been in impaired health for several years, but his last illness was of a short duration, he having been confined to his bed but a few days previous to his death. After the death of his mother about four years ago he had cared for his invalid father until he too was called to his final rest one year ago, leaving the son alone in the home where father, mother and son had lived in such close companionship for so many years. Mr. Taylor was a man of many good qualities. Being of a studious nature he found much enjoyment in the study and reading of good books. He was ever ready to assist others in the time of need and will be greatly missed in the community where he had always resided. He was kindly cared for during his last days by Mrs. Edna Huntley. Deceased was a member of Union Lodge F. & A. M., Orient Chapter, O. E. S., also a member of Pioneer Grange. He is survived by two aunts, Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick, Mass., and Mrs. James Littlehale of Warren. Funeral services were held from his late home Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. E. S. Uford of Union The floral offerings were appropriate and beautiful.

"There Is So Much More Room In This Glenwood Oven"

WHEN baking day comes round you'll always appreciate the big roomy oven of a Glenwood range. Here's the Model "C," for instance. Its oven is wide and deep with plenty of space to adjust the sliding rack at different heights. The corners are four-square, allowing you the full width of the oven bottom for anything that needs to be baked very slowly and thoroughly.

The indicator on the door tells you just how hot to keep your fire for cakes, pies, roasts and biscuits. May we show you this range, some day soon?

Model "C" For Coal or Wood

Finished in pearl-gray porcelain enamel or in plain black. To furnish plenty of hot water we can equip this range with either a water front for urban districts or a special reservoir for rural homes.

How much of your land is producing stumps?

BEFORE explosives were used on the farm, clearing land was heavy, costly work. Today, stumping can be done at a surprisingly low cost—less labor and trouble—quicker and better results.

Many farmers in this section are using Dumorite, the du Pont explosive, for clearing their stump land—making their farms "bigger" for profitable crops. Dumorite does the job at lower expense and does it right. Dumorite gives you one-third more sticks per dollar—about the same strength, stick for stick, as 40% dynamite, and the slow, heaving action of 20%. It is non-freezing and won't give you a headache from handling.

We carry complete stocks of Dumorite and other du Pont dynamites—recognized as standard wherever explosives are used. Let us estimate on the cost of clearing some of your stump land.

WALDOBORO

The Past Noble Grand of Good Luck Rebekah Lodge will meet with Mrs. Ernest A. Golden May 29.

Edgar Hagaman has been at home from Portland.

Mrs. Bessie Sumner of Rockland has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Albert Peier. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, who recently sold their house at Kaler's Corner have gone to Mansfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Foster are guests at E. E. Rector's.

James Waltz has returned from Boston where he has been taking a course in an undertaking school.

Twelve delegates from the Baptist church attended the meeting of the Danvers Association in Nobleboro last week. The Waldoboro contingent ranked A-1 among the churches of the association.

Charles Waltz has returned to his home in Greenfield, Mass.

Mrs. Rose Post of Rockland has been visiting friends in town.

Seventy-five members of the Baptist church and parish attended the annual roll call and supper Friday evening. A business meeting followed the supper. The following list of officers was elected: Clerk, Mary E. Castner; treasurer, James H. Castner; benevolent treasurer and collector, Floyd Bennett; deacons, Capt. A. F. Stahl, A. F. Winchenbaugh. The pastor has been recalled for another year. The church will observe its one hundredth anniversary July 7. At this time the ordination of Rev. Guy McQuade will also take place.

Wiverna Chapter, O. E. S., worked the degrees on two candidates Tuesday evening. The Royal Arch Masons of Waldoboro are pleased with the arrangement made at the session of the Grand Lodge last week in Portland when dispensation was granted to Waldoboro lodge to establish a Chapter here. Work will be started in the fall with over 40 candidates ready to receive the four degrees which the Chapter can confer.

Four candidates were admitted to Good Luck Rebekah Lodge at last week's meeting. About 65 members were present. Lunch was served during the evening.

CUSHING

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hall and daughter Agnes have gone to Watertown where they have employment.

Mrs. Evelyn Bigelow was the guest of her father, Hiram Uimer, her past-week. Mrs. Bigelow spent the past winter in North Carolina with her husband. On their way north they stopped in Bristol, Conn., to see Mrs. Hattie Ames who is in a hospital.

Robert Wallace of Waldoboro was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. James Uimer and Miss Lotie Partridge have moved to their home here from Thomaston.

Mrs. I. W. Geyer and Miss Thelma Witherspoon were at home from Thomaston for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Geyer have moved to their home here from Pleasant Point where they have been the past few years.

The Lyman Smith house burned last Thursday night.

The remains of Ira Scavey were brought to the Olson burying ground last week from the tomb in Thomaston by Undertaker Davis and the remains of Lemuel Kaler were interred in the Norton cemetery.

The cold, wet weather the past week has been more like March than May.

Dorothy Maloney is still suffering from injuries from a recent fall from the hay mow in his barn when he injured his back quite badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fint have moved to Thomaston for an indefinite time where he has employment, at the prison.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bucklin have returned to their home here, driving a new Dodge coupe.
