MISS COUGHLIN RESIGNS

And Is Immediately Elected Teacher of Civics—Other School Proceedings.

The resignation of Miss Anna E. Coughlin as principal of Rockland High School and her prompt election as teacher of Civics in that school featured an extended session of the School Committee Thursday night. Miss Coughlin has held the position 11 years and recent re-election by the new School Committee was hailed with much satisfaction by the citizens at large, who will now be equally regretful that her efficient services as principal are to be lost to the school. Miss Coughlin's letter of resignation follows:

Rockland, May 16, 1924.
Mr. Harry C. Hull,
Sec'y of the Board of Education,
My Dear Sir:—

Eleven years ago at the earnest solicitation of both citizens and the board of education, I took charge of our High School. This election came without any application on my part, as I had not made, nor did I ever intend to make such application. But so unanimous was the call, and so inspiring the duties and privileges, that even a duller person than the writer, could feel nothing but a favorable reaction.

The problems of any High School are many and difficult, but our particular ones of overcrowded conditions, insufficient equipment, and inexperienced teachers, have been taxing to the last degree. However, almost all of our teachers have been willing to learn; the school authorities and the parents have always given us unlimited help and confidence; the student body has always been loyal; hence, each morning as Miss Lena F. Cleveland was granted a year's leave of absence as director of drawing, and Mrs. Esther Black was elected as substitute. Miss Doris Black was elected assistant physical director for the girls, at a

CLARK—CAULIFLOWER KING

Rockland Garden Farmer Feeds Boston Market—His Big Maverick Street Venture.

Nine years ago this spring a broad shouldered stranger walked up Tillson avenue through the early morning dusk, following the arrival of the Boston boat, and was picked up by a passing milkman. As they jangled along the milkman said, "There's a great chance here for some live young fellow who knows his business in truck farming." A few months later the stranger, Lloyd E. Clark, made a second appearance in this city accompanied by his family and located on the John Bird place, Broadway, where he proceeded to follow the milkman's advice.

Truck farming or market gardening as it is termed in the more dignified circles, was not altogether a new idea for this section, though nobody had ever gone at it intensively. Most of the farms produced general crops of varied nature and brought them to market in season, shipping some to the larger cities. The farms devoted much acreage to hay and pasture and always comprised a big stand of buildings. The truck farmer really reverses his philosophy. He selects two or three products which he knows find ready market and rotates them, so planting that his supply is always just coming in. He builds hot houses for starting his plants and ties up his capital in machinery. General farming and the keeping of horses and cattle he avoids. He builds up a reputation in the big markets—Boston, New York, Philadelphia—for reliability and quality, but only on certain articles. He is a specialist.

Mr. Clark had had an experience really nationwide in scope and discarded at once such crops as beans, corn, squash, etc., as unprofitable and devoted his energies to cauliflower, lettuce, celery and beets. Other commodities he raised only to supply direct local market demand. At first all his local carting he did on a wheelbarrow shipping to some extent by express. The growth was rapid however and he soon leased a tract of 20 acres west of the Country Club golf course and six acres of Isaac Fields and the daily tasks are now more than his two motor trucks and pair of horses can attend to.

"The old farmer didn't think this field fit for anything except pasturing," said Mr. Clark to The Courier-Gazette reporter, pointing to the big tract of the Country Club field. Half of it is already planted in cauliflower and beets, about 50,000 of each with yet other acres ready for planting. The lower half of the field is sowed with green trenches every 100 feet which serve to drain it and the adjoining heights as well.

footed for the Kennebec Bridge,"
said Mr. Carver.

"But he is for it," said Major Welch.
"But Mr. Carver is nothing if not persistent," he heard, said he, "that Mr. Farrington was quoted as favorizing a bridge 'somewhere' across the Kennebec River. We've got four 'somewhere' bridges now.
What we want is a bridge at Bath."

"I think I can satisfy your doubts," said Major Welch, and he proceeded straightway to arrange an interview with Mr. Farrington, who was also in Portland at that time.

"You can tell your folks," declared Mr. Farrington emphatically, "that I am for a Kennebec Bridge at Bath,
and furthermore that I am in favor of having the next Legislature authorize its construction."

"This was good enough for the Rockland men, who said they would be only too glad to pass such good news along."

"I'm coming down your way pretty soon," said Mr. Farrington, at parting.

"That's good," said Mr. Carver,
"but I only hope there will be 150 cars waiting at the Bath Ferry and that your's is the last one. Not wishing you any harm," he added
with a smile.

The visitors found Mr. Farrington highly optimistic over his chances of getting the nomination.

THE POLITICAL WORLD

The South Dakota delegation to the Republican National Convention will cast its vote for John C.
President, regardless of the Senator's action in releasing it. Senator Peter Norbeck, head of the state delegation, declared in a message Tuesday. Declaring that the delegation was not bound by the wishes of Senator Johnson but by the mandate of the Presidential primary. Senator Norbeck asserted that inasmuch as the delegates are instructed under the law to vote three times for the candidate endorsed by the voters, they "will obey
the law."

McAdoo gave Washington a few thinks Thursday when he entertained Senator Ralston at luncheon, wired Florida friends to support Bryan as a delegate, and selected ex-Senator Phelan of California—a prominent Catholic to place his name in nomination.

The Indiana Republican convention
Thursday selected 40 delegates to cast the State's 33 votes in the national convention, instructed to support
President Coolidge and United States Senator James E. Watson, the latter for the Vice Presidency; adopted a State platform and bound the national delegation by a resolution on the presidential balloting.

Tennessee's 24 delegates to the national Democratic convention were instructed for McAdoo. The roll call gave McAdoo 1360 votes to 745 for the opposition. Only 1033 votes were necessary for an instructed delegation.

Speaking of the State assessors appointment soon to be made the Press Herald says:

"The latest guess which has been made as to the appointment is that it might possibly go to Obadiah Caplan of Rockland. Ex-Senator Garner is entirely familiar with the work of the State Board of Assessors and resigned as chairman of the Board of Assessors and as State Assessor to fill the unexpired term of Senator Prye."

George L. Emery of Biddeford, the newly elected member from York county, was elected chairman of Republican State committee at the organization meeting of the committee held in this city Wednesday. Judge Emery succeeds Robert J. Penney, who refused to accept reelection because of the pressure of his personal business interests. Other officers were re-elected unanimously, Eva C.
Mason of Dover-Foxcroft, as vice chairman; Mrs. Alice Butler of Farrington, as secretary, and Joseph
W. Simpson of York as treasurer.

Philadelphia Ledger—President
Coolidge by his veto of the Four-Billion Dollar Bonus Bill has justified
the confidence of the country and of the taxpayers to whom he has appealed for support and justification.

St. Louis Times—Unless Congress
gets its act to the ground and quits
playing politics the American people at the polls next November may decide to put into effect an exclusion act of their own.

Edward F. Goveall of Berwick was elected grand chancellor at the annual session of the Grand Lodge,
Knights of Pythias in Lewiston
Wednesday. Grand Chancellor Lutz, in his address, deplored the failure of the order to gain in membership in Maine and spoke of the problems confronting the grand officers. He believed, however, that the prospects for the future were brighter than a year ago. The report of the grand keeper of records and seal showed that no new lodges had been instituted during the year, and he outlined a plan for a campaign to build up the order, to help delinquent and backward lodges and institute
new ones.

MY STATE—DIRIGO
(Written for The Courier-Gazette)
I've watched the orange blossoms fade and wither.
The magnolia bloom shed its sweetness on the air.
The elder, with its myriad flowers and
fragrance,
Grace city, country, wayside, everywhere.
In climate, fruit and flowers, I've revelled.
In this Emerald pendant State, so green and fair!

But, now—'tis apple-blossom time in North States.
The spring's fulfillment—verdant month of May!
I feel the homeland calling—calling—calling
To my island home, in fair Penobscot Bay!
With time's passing, I am counting
The hours that bring me nearer day by day.
I'm always looking forward—North or Southward.
When changing seasons lure and fleeting joys exchange.
I love the sun-kissed greeting of the Southland.
When summer days are past and autumn
beauty waned;
But, still my heart responds with all the joy
of greeting
Old friends—old scenes—My State—"Dirigo!"
—Maine!

When Bert Machine Collamore
walked into the shed at Rockport
last week, he was not much but "hello!" was said, as everybody knew what he could do, and he finished the day with 150. The next day he sent his partner Albert Borneman to take his place on the help-out.
Borneman was a new one to them,
and when they saw him coming the remark was made, "Wonder what farm he came off from?" They found out at the close of the day, when the farmer-trimmer had polished off 200 barrels for the day's work, with tight head hoops all pounded down. He is now known as the trimmer king.
Truly, "Looks is deceivin'!"

Five Kilns
A Percy Dinsmore came on last week
as jobber and spare kiln man.
An electric light has been installed
at western entrance to shed.
Horace Miller, who has been working at Rockport, is on as jobber and spare kiln man.

Barge Rockville loaded 3500 barrels
the 6th, and the Rockland finished the 13th with 4200 barrels and went to the Gregory.
Melroe Dyer, who has been with the Bryant Co. at Rockport, is on No.
2 kiln, taking the place of Melvin Dinkwater, transferred to No. 5.
St. Clair and Shepherd of the Walsh crew have been making general repairs around the plant, as recommended by the workmen's committee.

Charles Blake was out for a week
with finger injury, received when a wrench he was using slipped and struck it while he was working on his auto at home.

Kiln No. 5 (the coffee pot) went afire the 8th with the following crew:
Arthur Marks from the Point, I. J.
Putnam, 2-shifter, and Melvin Drink-
water from No. 2 kiln.

An inefficient water supply for all of the five kilns owing to leaky service has retarded production since
No. 5 went afire. It has been remedied by laying a new top service pipe from water main at Pacific and Ocean streets.

Ed Bishop with a Crockett team is hauling 520 barrels a day from the Point coopee shop. The rack car is also making tri-weekly trips from the North coopee shop.

Charles Robshaw received hand injuries last Saturday, when he fell from track runway at the track below. Somebody didn't put the blocks in at end of runway planks, allowing them to spread so that one of them tipped as Charles was passing over them.

For the week ending May 10, the full week kilns maintained a high average of 1140 per kiln for the week:

No. 1 had 1072½; 2, 1131; 3, 1198½;
4, 1158. For the week of May 17
the average was 1112½ barrels per kiln for the week. No. 1 had 1047;
2, 1114½; 3, 1116; 4, 1167; 5, 1089.

Quarries
The new siding to prevent cars
running wild going to the main track is in.

Foundation is being prepared for a new stock storage building to be erected south of the office. The old stock building will be taken down.

New quarrymen are Everett Wysenberg and John Nason in Cobb 1.
Winifred Safenberg in hard rock 2.
They have been in the granite quarries in Massachusetts.

Four derricks for 15 kilns burning hard rock necessitates daily overtime and Sunday operation at the hard rock quarries. With the ten Gregory pits and the five kilns averaging over 1100 barrels per kiln weekly, it takes some rock to keep them going.

Blackington farm quarry 4 is in full operation on its new head, with the following crew: Everett Condon, hoisting engineer, Edward Spear
dumper, Romeo Jones, boss, Fred Gentner, Ralph Gillis; Bert Jones,
Winifred Flint, Thomas Smith.
Bert Jones has returned to the quarries after an absence of eight years.

Gregory
Repairs on No. 1 kiln began Monday.

The ten kilns operating are all on hard rock.

The pets are using up some rock roadways, 70 cars and frequently more, being the daily dumping schedule.

The hardwood truck runway has been widened two feet the entire length, making it now all that could be desired.

For the week of May 10, No. 2 kiln took the lead in production, with 1184½ barrels, No. 3 being second with 1148 and No. 5 third with 1134½. The others had: No. 2, 1122;
4, 1024½; 6, 1126; 7, 1091½; 9, 1099½;
11, 1027. The average production per kiln being 1131, as against 1108
for the week before. The individual kiln production was as follows: 2, 1233; 3, 1207 1-3; 4, 1063; 5, 1153½;
6, 1162½; 7, 1117½; 8, 1161; 9, 1086;
10, 1078½; 11, 1049.

Point
Kiln 3 finished repairing last Thursday. New side hearths were put in.

Walter Strout has returned after an eight days' outing with a bad cold.
John Phelps returned last Saturday
after being out nine days with a severe cold.

A schooner load of soft, and two carloads of hard staves, were received last week.

Arthur Marks has returned to his first love, the Five-kilns. Adam Cristo takes his place on No. 2.
John Jordan is still confined at home by a severe cold, with symptoms of pneumonia. He has been out since April 26. Jake, Roger and Arthur are operating the trolley
during John's absence.

Good soft rock average was had for the week of May 10, it being 1146½
barrels per kiln. No. 1 had 1200; 2, 1049; 4, 1101; 5, 1253½. For the week of May 17 there was a falling away in production, owing to receipts of "hard stuff" in the shape of rock except for two days. The average per kiln was 1055.

Lime Rock Railroad
No. 1 engine is in the machine shop
for general repairs.

Fred Situs is on duty at the Tillson avenue signal station, substituting for Joseph Brasier who is ill.
Albert Cables has transferred from the repair shop to the Northend blacksmith shop. Leon Callahan is now assisting Will Ulmer at the forge.

The coal carrier will be an entirely different affair when it emerges from the machine shop. With new delivery chute, new high side pieces,
and 14 inch angle iron on carrier
belt, this remodeled machine to fit conditions will be all that could be desired.

Andrew Larsen of the trestle crew received a painful finger injury last week, while assisting in dumping a car of chips.
James Cates is making good recovery from his recent finger injury, when a drag he was dumping swung against his hand. It was thought at first that he would lose two fingers,
but that danger has passed.

Rockport
Production is practically all Jacobs.
Kilns 7 and 8 have finished repairing and are filled for operation.
The masons are now working on No.
9.
The scaffolding at the O. P. kiln
has been removed by a shed crew.
Windows are to be put in at this part of the shed, which will brighten up the corner and fill a long-felt need of more light.

The question of what to do with the rock in the old Martin kiln,
where the buildings are being taken down, was settled by firing the kiln and burning it. The rock produced 419 barrels of lime, all Jacobs. The kiln had been filled for six years.

DENVER COURTESY

Assistant Attorney General
S. T. Kimball Has Interesting Meeting With Former Rockland Man.

While Assistant Attorney General
S. T. Kimball and Philip D. Stubbs were in Denver, Colo., recently they improved the opportunity to make a call upon George Q. Richmond, who is an uncle of Miss Richmond, chief clerk in the attorney general's office
at Augusta.

And in so doing Mr. Kimball, at least, was furnished with another demonstration of how small the world is.

Mr. Richmond was formerly president of the Court of Appeals in Colorado, and when the office was abolished and the Supreme Court took its place he resigned for business reasons. He was extremely cordial to his visitors from the East, and became very enthusiastic when he learned that Mr. Kimball was from Rockland, Me.

"I suppose you knew Jeremiah
Berry?" he said.

Mr. Kimball informed him that Mr.
Berry was long deceased and that
John T. George W. and Hiram G.
Berry and Gen. William H. Ticom-
b for whom he inquired, had also passed on. Friends still living for whom he inquired were C. W. S. Cobb, now of St. Louis; and J. W. Crocker of Orange street. Mr. Richmond remembered the Thorndike Hotel and knew who built it. He also remembered the Limerock National Bank.
It developed that he and his father
were former residents of this city.

Mr. Richmond was scheduled for an important hearing on the day the two Maine officials called, but he at once issued orders to have the case continued while he took them on a tour of the city. Among other places visited was the Supreme Court room, where all the justices happened to be sitting on an important matter.

When the case was over the justices came down from the bench and greeted Mr. Richmond with great cordiality. The Maine officials had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with all of the judges.

A visit was also paid to the office of Gov. Sweet.

"I wanted these gentlemen to see what a Socialist governor looks like,"
said Mr. Richmond.

Ringling Bros. and Barnum &

at Portland, June 9.

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum &

men stars has now reached a total of eight hundred of the world's premier letes. There are a hundred of the funniest clowns on earth.

sons. More than 50 trainers and keepers are alone required for the

Some idea of the increased size of this great circus may be had from the estimate made by a New York statistician when it was playing at Madison Square Garden. After taking a census of the Big Show's people, horses, trained animals and the thousands of the world's premier riders, acrobats, gymnasts and athletes, he announced that were it possible to place them shoulder to shoulder they would form a line more than two miles long! A hundred circus exceeds sixteen hundred persons. More than 50 trainers and keepers are alone required for the stuntion.—adv.

Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F. will confer the initiatory degree on a class of candidates Monday night.

Ruth Mayhew Tent will give another of its popular auction parties in G. A. R. hall next Monday evening.

There was a man's sized frost Thursday night. There's nothing suggestive of the tropics about the month of May, thus far.

The Sears "boys" realized over $15 apiece from their annual ball held Thursday night in Havener hall. There was a record crowd such as the Sears deserves, for the company answers all alarms.

Tug Sommers N. Smith which has been having a holiday on the South Railway got into harness immediately after being launched. She will tow the large Rockport from Searsport to load lumber.

The Greenville Village Revue, headed by Ben Loring, and with a snappy cast of 20, will have the distinction of opening Strand Theatre as a playhouse. Date and details will be announced in due season.

Manager D. B. Arnold, who recently closed a very successful winter season in Nassau, has arrived at Rockland Breakwater and is busily arranging the preliminaries for the season at the Samoset Hotel.

Backward weather is not only hindering the foliage, but appears to have put a quarantine on political ambitions. With the primary election only three weeks away apparently but little interest is being taken. And that, too, on Presidential year.

The lighthouse tender Hibiscus, which has been at the eastward for several days, arrived back at Port on Wednesday. She has been engaged in buoyage work at Runk Pond, and also set a lot of stone buoys in the river above Waldoboro. The Zizania is also at the eastward engaged in buoyage work.

Circulars are out announcing the Central Maine Summer School of Religious Education which will be held at Oak Grove Seminary, Vassalboro, June 30-July 8, under the auspices of the Maine State Sunday School Association for Religious Education. All who desire training for leadership in Sunday School work or religious education of any kind are urged to enroll. The minimum age is 15. Enroll in advance if possible. This will help the management to make assignment of rooms. Every church within the area of the School should be represented. Register with the State Sunday School Association, Press Herald Building, Portland.

It will be interesting and welcome news to many persons that Crescent Beach is again to take its place as a public resort this season. Fred A. Thordike, Cleveland Sleeper and George W. Bachelard, owners of the hotel, store, dining pavilion, etc., have leased the property to A. T. Flower, an experienced hotel man who has served as landlord at the Great Northern Water Co.'s hotels the past 17 years. He is already after the services of a chef, who he says, has no superior in the State, and plans to make the table a popular feature of the Beach attractions. The hotel is to be thoroughly renovated, and will be opened as soon as the work can be completed. The surrounding premises will also be made to look much more attractive. The dancing pavilion and store will be opened immediately.

Kents Hill Seminary will observe its 100th commencement June 13-16. Some of the principal events are: June 13, annual prize contests and awards; June 14, class day exercises, commencement luncheon, baseball game, alumni dinner and pageant; June 15 commencement sermon, and cantata; June 16, graduating exercises. Many of the State's most prominent men will be among the guests at the celebration and will have a part in the anniversary exercises. Gov. Baxter has accepted an invitation to be present and will be accompanied by State Commissioner of Education A. O. Thomas and many of the highest officials of the State. President Sills of Bowdoin, President Little of the University of Maine and President Gray of Bates have also announced their intention of being present. President Roberts of Colby is abroad. Among the members of the centennial committee are Ralph W. Bickford '93 of Rockland, formerly of Union.

ACCIDENT WAS FATAL

Archie E. Robshaw, who was fearfully crushed on one of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation's barges three weeks ago died Thursday in the hospital. The deceased was 21 years of age, and was not married. He made his home with his uncle, Mr. Davis, on Pearl street. The funeral services were held at the Burpee parlors this morning. The Veteran Firemen's Association attended in a body.

A telegram received this morning from William P. Burpee announces the death in New York of James Wright, which occurred at 1 o'clock this morning.

Clarence ("Jerry") Whitney is employed on the staff of Hotel Vendome in Boston.

Hiram H. Crie of Rockland has been elected secretary of the combined Colby College Musical Clubs.

Owing to the length of the program tonight's picture at Strand Theatre will begin at 6.45 instead of 7.

The Elks will observe Flag Day—Saturday, June 14—by the usual public exercises on the lawn at the Home.

Jacob Thorndike, Freeman Marston, Daniel H. Conner and Ira Jamieson are home from Sailors' Snug Harbor.

The State Prison Commission was in session at Thomaston Thursday. Routine business was mainly the order of the day.

Theodore R. Sweetland's petition for pardon from Knox County Jail was tabled Wednesday by the Governor and Council.

The city schools will close June 13. The attempt to secure an earlier closing of the High School to facilitate the construction work was unsuccessful, due to State regulations.

The new Rockland local team is expected to make its first appearance on the late afternoon of Memorial Day in a game with the ball team from whatever warship is in the harbor.

The drive for funds for the Children's Playground has been transferred from May 31 to June 7 owing to the fact that many of the teachers must be out of the city on the earlier date.

Masons who are still holding unsold tickets to "Ship Ahoy" are requested to return them at once to the committee in order that a settlement may be made with the Acme Theatrical Producing Co.

Twenty-eight children who are descendants of Grand Army veterans, were guests of Edwin Libby Relief Corps Thursday afternoon, and were put through some very pretty drills by Mrs. Mary Cooper, State President of the organization. Refreshments were served.

A fact oftentimes forgotten or neglected is that the use of the City Council room for public meetings can be obtained only through the suggestion of City hall, Marshal Davis. The neglect of an organization may result in two meetings being called for the same place and time as was the case Thursday night.

B. C. Redonnet of Wiscasset, who made such a strong impression with the Baptist Men's League Wednesday night, was engaged on the spot as Flag Day orator for Rockland Lodge of Elks. Because June 14 falls on Saturday, and is also circus day in this city it is quite probable that the exercises will be held on Sunday, the 15th.

Tuesday night will see a big crowd on the Tillson avenue squirts when the handball Albert R. Havener and the steam fire engine City of Rockland (No. 1) will meet for a playoff. The red shirts are confident that the old hand engine will repeat her last week's victory but engineer Cheyne has other ideas on the subject.

Lieut. Col. Walter H. Butler has completed his three years' commission with the National Guard (Coast Artillery Corps) and has been transferred at his own request to the National Guard Reserve, retaining his rank, and also his active membership in the State Army Commission. Col. Butler's practical experience Overseas made him a valuable official for the C. A. C. and the National Guard suffers a distinct loss through his retirement from active service. Albert Peterson, 2d Lieutenant, serving on the headquarters staff, has resigned from the service and it is understood that 1st Lieut. Edward R. Veazie, who was serving on Col. Butler's staff, will request to be transferred to the National Guard Reserve. This Rockland trio of National Guardsmen has been a distinct credit to the city which it represents.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28

Rockland High plays in Camden this afternoon. Take the 1.40 car and your voice.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the R. V. F. A. Monday evening.

A. C. Jones has just delivered a new Apperson sport sedan to A. D. Paige of Danverscott.

The Central Maine Power Co. is about to begin work on its duplicate line between Union and Rockland. Three carloads of poles arrived Thursday and the work of setting them will begin as soon as the rights of way are acquired.

In the southern display window of M. B. & C. O. Perry's market a camel is persistently plodding the desert sands, led by a patient Arab. Miles and miles of footsteps have been toiled off and yet neither man nor beast has progressed an inch. You will see how it is done if you look in on the interesting exhibit of the Dromedary Food Products.

Track athletics will be at the fore Tuesday at the Broadway Athletic Field when Rockland High and Morse High of Bath clash at 3.15. It is hoped that the meet may be made an annual event. The Rockland squad is confident of victory and those who have watched the boys work share their optimism.

Lincoln Academy comes to Rockland Wednesday with high hopes of a baseball victory. Rockland made but two hits in its first game and Lincoln has since "clunked up a winner over Camden. Thomaston High barely nosed out a victory over the Megunticook lads, yet whipped Rockland decisively. Therefore Lincoln's high expectations.

All this hullabaloo about the efficiency of the Rockland Fire Department was personally demonstrated to Mayor Snow yesterday afternoon when he saw the Central Fire Station crew in action at his Tabbot avenue residence. A spark from the chimney ignited the dry shingles and a lively blaze had soon eaten its way through the roof. The big chemical tank made short work of the blaze, however, and the damage was slight. It is interesting to note that the maiden effort of the new Main and Spring street siren was for this fire in the Mayor's house. The signal worked to perfection and proved of inestimable value in helping the officers clear the streets of traffic.

at the Thomaston game the other day. Thomaston was overjoyed when this physician located in that town, not alone because of medical and surgical ability, but because another good patron of sport was added to the lists. Dr. Keller is a man of convictions, and is always ready to back them, as some of the Rockland sports have found to their sorrow. Whistle Bowdoin Beata, and you will command his attention any time.

The team recently made a Maine tour, and the games in Waterville and Portland were witnessed by Mrs. James Record, mother of these popular athletic stars.

Bath has organized a Twilight League of six teams. The Sporting Editor is firm in the opinion that Rockland will make a great mistake if it abandons this popular custom. Baseball has made many new friends through the Twilight League.

The Lincoln Academy basketball team failed to cop the cup last winter, but it did score 252 points against its opponents' 177 and lost only three games out of 14.

George H. Thomas, who has played sterling baseball for the Camden locals several seasons, has bought the property lately occupied by the Camden Lumber & Fuel Co., and will engage in the coal business under the name of the George H. Thomas Fuel Co. All of the baseball fans hope he'll "burn 'em over."

Rockland High School is meeting another of its special rivals this afternoon when it plays in Camden. Vinalhaven High School meantime is entertaining Thomaston High.

MOTOR MOTTOES

An ounce of attention is worth a pound of overhaul.
An oiling a day keeps the repair man away.
Look before you back.
Spare the oil and spoil the car.
A rolling car gathers no crowd.
A tool in the kit is worth thousands in the garage.
Service is as service does.
Pools rush in where experts fear to ride.
A little knowledge of electrical systems is a dangerous thing.
An ounce of instruction may save a pound of repair.
A skid to the wise is sufficient.

The long tunic blouse of the tube lines, and the knee length Russian blouse with belt or the sash, are gaining in favor day by day, although their progress has been conservative, says the Dry Goods Economist. Blouses are being trimmed with crepe, some appliques in the same manner that coats and dresses are decorated. Gold thread machine stitches the cretonne pattern into place. Lace is being used more and more. Some Irish is used in yoke and short sleeve designs, but the narrow Valenciennes edging is employed more than any other lace in this connection. Fillet lace is staging a comeback, although it was never very far behind. White is the color most in demand for blouses, followed by light blue, pale yellow, and light pink. The new citrine yellow, sponsored by the summer fashion show committee, threatens to crowd French or powder blue for second place. The predominance of yellow as a summer color in all lines will assure importance for it in blouses.

This New Laundry Soap

saves you the hardest work of washday
soaks dirt out—no more hard rubbing

The old washday that meant hard, harmful rubbing is a thing of the past.

Simply soaking in rich Rinso soap takes the place of rubbing—does the hard work for you. The loosened dirt comes out easily. Even grimy places where dirt is ground-in come clean with so little trouble, to you—just a light rubbing.

Because Rinso dissolves completely, it rinses out thoroughly. No bits of soap left to turn your clothes yellow under the iron.

You need only Rinso for your Monday wash—no other soap or soap powder. It is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soap-makers in the world. It is perfect for all types of washing machines—fine in the boiler—and just wonderful for soaking in set tubs.

Get a package for your next wash—regular size or big new size—from your grocer. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

GARDENS THAT PRODUCE RESULTS

The Varieties of Vegetables Are Legion.

By Seth W. Shoemaker, Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

Varieties of vegetables are legion in number, and the matter is still further complicated by the fact that each seedsman will add a word or two to the name of common seeds in order to distinguish them as his own. Thus we may have two or three dozen names for the same vegetable, confusing the beginner in gardening.

As a matter of fact it is difficult to recommend any particular strain or variety for all conditions of soil and climate. The selection of varieties is of the utmost importance. Many mishaps in home gardening have come from carelessness or ignorance in the selection of varieties.

All of the larger and more reputable seed houses now maintain extensive experimental grounds at which new varieties are continually being produced and old ones tested and improved. Competition between these concerns has brought about a very high standard of excellence which offers to the gardener a wide choice of seeds of proved quality. It is not possible to produce quality vegetables, or, in fact, any other class of plants from inferior seeds, so care and judgment must be exercised.

But every year many novelties are put upon the market by most seed houses. They are advertised in their catalogues in glowing colors and often with extravagant claims. In the hands of experienced growers they will oftentimes live up to the promises made for them by their originators; but, as a rule, they are not well enough established to have proved their worth except under the somewhat artificial environments of an experimental breeding station. The home gardener, therefore, should not mortgage his chance of success by trials of such novelties. There are hundreds of standard varieties of all vegetables that have stood the test of time in thousands of gardens, both commercial and home, in all parts of the country. If ordinary cultural care is given to them they can be counted upon to produce results without the uncertainty of a new introduction.

These the home gardener should choose when making up his seed list, buying them from reliable sources. The following table is not intended to be complete, but will suggest a few of the standard sorts that have been the delight of gardeners for many years.

A Few Standard Varieties

Asparagus: Palmetto, Beans: Dwarf Wax, Challenge, Golden Wax, Michigan White Wax, Dwarf Green Padded Early Refugee, Bountiful, Black Valentine, Pole-Kentucky Wonder, White Creaseback, Beets: Crosby's Egyptian, Detroit Dark Red.

Cabbages: Early Jersey Wakefield, Herderson's Early Summer, Terry's Premium Lake Flat Dutch, Carrots: Danvers, Chantenay, Celery: Golden Yellow, Self Blanching, White Plume, Corn: Crosby's Early Golden Bantam, Country Gentleman, Stowell's Evergreen, Lettuce: May King, Tennis Ball, Grand Rapids, Onions: Southampton, Yellow Globe, Extra Early Red, Peas: Alaska, Telephone, Radish: Non Plus Ultra, Early Scarlet Globe, Squash: Victoria, New Zealand, Squash: Long Island, White Bush, Tomatoes: Earline, Bonny Best, Chalk's Early Jewel Stone.

Anson Leroy Moody

News has been received here of the death on April 24 of Anson Leroy Moody at his home in Excelsior, Minn. He was born in Liberty, March 14, 1847, the son of William and Caroline (Meeser) Moody, one of a family of six children. As a youth he went to Minnesota where he worked two years for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad.

While there he met and was married to Miss Ruth Tyler Chase of Minneapolis. Shortly after this he returned to the home farm at Liberty, with his bride. He spent several winters working in the Maine woods and in 1874 moved his family to Wilm, Maine, where he conducted a barber business for eight years. Selling his business there he moved to Waldoboro, where he continued in the barbering business for the next two years. In 1884 he again turned his face to the West and settled at Excelsior, Minn., then in its infancy as a summer resort, still following barbering as his profession. There he reared his family of six children. In 1912 ill health compelled him to retire and selling his business he quickly passed the remaining years in his home where he lived so long sweetened by the loving care of his devoted wife. During these years he visited Maine several times and always held a large place in his affections for the Maine hills especially in Waldo and Knox counties which he kept refreshed each year with a faithful perusal of The Courier-Gazette which was a constant visitor in his home and always found a royal welcome.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at Excelsior, April 27 and were in charge of the pastor, Rev. H. L. Maunders. Rev. Mr. Spaulding of the latter day Saints church, Mrs. Moody's pastor, preached the sermon. The church was crowded for Mr. Moody was universally loved and all who could came to pay their last respects. The I. O. O. F. lodge of which he was a member attended in a body and took charge of the services at the grave. Mr. Moody is survived by his wife and six children: Tracton L. of Long Beach, Calif., Susie (Mrs. George Gould) Oakland, Calif., Sylvester Henry, of Minneapolis and Lowell Henderson of Excelsior and Dudley Edward of Brunswick, Minn. These five children were born in Maine.

Edward of Fargo, N. D., was born after the family went to Minnesota. There are seven grandchildren besides Mrs. Willard Overlook of this town and Mrs. Arthur E. Johnston of Kennebunk, niece, and W. G. Howard of Belfast, a nephew. These are all who are left of the old family here in Maine.

4 Good Reasons Why Public Utility Securities Make Desirable Investment

The business back of them

1. Is of an essential character.
2. Is nearly on a cash basis.
3. Is properly non-competitive.
4. Has no extensive inventories.

"... we have come to regard the public utility securities, taken as a whole, as the most attractive and desirable class of investment on the market today.

"... the stability of the utility business is due entirely to its essential character. To this may be added consideration of the fact that the business is nearly on a cash basis, is properly non-competitive and involves no extensive inventories. The capital investment is almost committed to fixed assets and the turnover, although slow, is sure."

Singh of New York were in the city yesterday, bringing the remains of their mother, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Singh for interment in Sea View cemetery. Woodbury, was the widow of the late Ferdinand G. Singh, and was in the millinery business here for a number of years. She had been making her home in New York the past year, with her son Ferdinand, and prior to that had resided in Portland. She was born in Ireland, and with her son Frank in Lowell. This company will remain here offering two distinct performances, the first for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and on Thursday a new offering for the balance of the week. STRAND THEATRE

Today offers the last opportunities to see that widely discussed picture, "Little Old New York." Marion Davies in the dual role of Patricia and Pat O'Day, was said by the newspaper critics of New York, London, Toronto, Los Angeles and other cities where it was first shown, to have scaled new pantomime and acting heights, and to have achieved a success even greater than that which she scored as "Princess Mary Tudor" in "When Knighthood Was in Flower." "Little Old New York" is a photoplay which holds a special appeal for every American, and which has been the first trip of Robert Fulton's steamboat, the "Hudson," to New York. The picture is a history of the city of New York, from the first of the Hudson to the present day. The picture is a history of the city of New York, from the first of the Hudson to the present day. The picture is a history of the city of New York, from the first of the Hudson to the present day.

Speaking of this great picture, Mayor Ryan of New York said: "This production is unquestionably the greatest screen epic I ever looked upon, and Marion Davies is the most versatile screen star ever cast in any part. Every man, woman and child ought to see this splendid picture. I must pay tribute to the geniuses in all lines who created such a masterpiece."

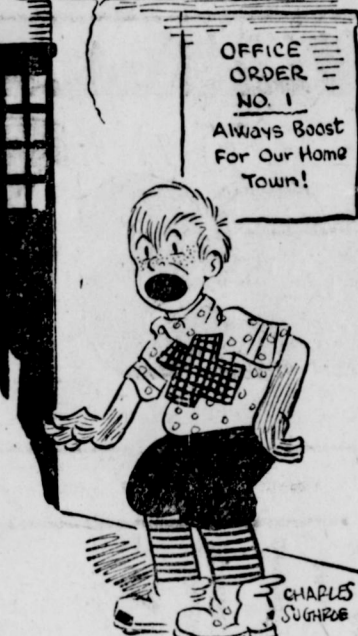

For those who love a stirring story of adventure, coupled with a charming bit of romance—the announcement that "One-Eighth Apache" will be shown Monday and Tuesday nights, will come as welcome news. "One-Eighth Apache," a Ben Wilson production released by Arrow, was adapted to the screen from Peter B. Kyne's fascinating story of the same name which appeared originally in the Red Book Magazine. It deals with the love affair of Brant Murdoch and Norma Kiddie, a young girl who is lured away from her home by a cunning and ruthless trader who does everything within his power to bring her to ruin. Many of the most intensely dramatic scenes are laid amid the frozen wastes of the Canadian Northwest, while in striking contrast to this a goodly portion of the action is photographed on the grounds and within the walls of a palatial home on Long Island—adv.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The "early start" rule, combined with careful preparation for every scene, has made James Cruze one of the quickest and most efficient directors of the present day. In filming scenes for "The Fighting Coward," his latest Paramount production, he traveled over 1000 miles to and from location in Mississippi and completed the picture in a week under six weeks. Booth Tarkington wrote the story and Ernest Torrence, Mary Astor, Noah Beery, Phyllis Haver and Cul-De-Ver are featured. It will be shown Monday and Tuesday—adv.

BOXING STARS COMING

Kid Bolduc Will Defend State Title Against Tommy Fleurant—Other Bouts.

Biff, bang, biff!

Uppercuts, jabs and clinches. You'll see the whole show at The Arcade Wednesday night when Lieut. ("Patchy") Saville and Linwood ("Tex") Rogers pull off their big sparring exhibition, which begins sharp at 8:15 daylight time. Jimmy Delaney is to be the third man in the ring this time and the popular ex-pug permits no long waits between acts. As fast as the ambulance carts away the victims he will have a fresh crop on hand.

The main bout Wednesday night offers two of the best known boxers in Maine. One of them in fact holds the fly-bantam weight championship of Maine. This is Kid Bolduc of Lewiston who long ago got a newspaper decision over Eddie Polo. Tommy Fleurant, who will be Bolduc's opponent on this occasion, has fought a draw with Eddie Polo, and was matched with Jimmy Kid Risk who is said to have cancelled the match on account of cold feet, or some such malady. Fleurant has also fought such men as Ruby Levine and Al Ketchell. Nobody need be told that this main bout is going to be a koshwallaper. Three weeks ago, before a big bangor crowd, Bolduc got the newspaper decision over young Mantell.

There will be three four-round bouts—Soldier Widdowomb of Rockland and Kid Smedburg of Belfast; Kid Mason of Rockland vs Johnny Mundo of Belfast; Young Patterson of Belfast vs Young Conning of Belfast.

Young Webber of Rockland will mix it up three rounds, and the curtain raiser will be a two-round battle between Hank and Hoyt, two of the fiercest young pugilists ever born in captivity.

Waldoboro, one of the premier sporting towns of the Maine coast, has ordered a big block of seats, and it behooves you to get your ringside reservation now, if you have not already done so. Tickets may be obtained from either promoter or at Chisholm Bros. candy store.

IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Week days—9 a. m. to 9 p. m.
Sundays—2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

"Everywhere have I sought peace and found it nowhere save in a corner with a book."—Thomas A. Kempis.

Form the library habit. Spend your spare minutes by reading at the library. Here may be found the daily papers, Boston, New York and local. Here may be found the recent magazines—the current issues are kept on the magazine table. Over seventy are subscribed to for your use. Back files are available and may be borrowed for seven or 14 days. The rooms are cool, light and quiet. There are books for every taste. Know your library.

Carl Hull of the Millinocket Memorial Library was a guest at the library Wednesday. Mr. Hull has the distinction of being one of the few men librarians in the State and also one of the most progressive. Under his leadership the Millinocket library has more than doubled its stock and use of books and is known as one of the foremost libraries in the State. It has been recognized less than five years but blessed with an ample book fund (raised by taxation) has a very up-to-date and active collection.

Plans are being completed for the Storyland Party which the children of the Saturday morning story hour are to have on the library lawn Wednesday afternoon, May 28. The children are to come dressed in costume representing some character from a library book. There is to be a May Queen, a story play and several dances. All children who have attended this story hour during the year are asked to attend in costume. Parents and friends are also cordially invited, a ten-cent admission tag being charged for adults, the proceeds to go towards much needed juvenile books.

The library will be closed all day Friday in order that the staff may attend the library convention in Augusta. With one exception this is the first day since Christmas during which the library has not been open to the public.

Thursday evening marked the end of the story hours for older boys and girls for this season. Last week's story of "Pip" from Great Expectations, was followed by requests for the story of Oliver Twist. This evening group has claimed an average attendance of 40 during the year.

Next Saturday morning marks the last story hour for the younger children—then, no more story hours until September. Last Saturday's group listened to the stories out on the lawn, passing traffic accompanied by the musical put'n' pound of a nearby steam roller diminished but little the charm of the marvelous adventures of Billy Beg and his Bull.

From a young patron: "Gosh, Mith Sthnow! Don't see how yer goin' to have a party on that lawn. Gosh! 'f anybody shays on it you give 'em th' devil!" (Nevertheless, we are going to have the party!)

(Librarian's note: Adults, please notice: The above quotation from a-Kempis does not hold true for this library on May 28.)

PARTIES DARE NOT

Put Wet Plank in Platform, Says President Eliot In Strong Stand For Prohibition.

Charles W. Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard University, took issue Monday with recent declarations of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, to the effect that prohibition was a failure because the laws were too drastic.

Dr. Eliot asserted that complete prohibition enforcement was in sight; that Dr. Butler's statements would neither dishearten the dry nor bring reinforcements to the wets; and that neither the Republican nor Democratic party would dare, much less be compelled, to spike a wet plank to the presidential campaign platform.

Dr. Eliot's views were set forth in a letter written at Cambridge, Mass., to Fred B. Smith of New York City, chairman of the Committee of 1000 for law enforcement. It was the first response to the circular sent 150 college presidents, after Dr. Butler recently appeared before the Missouri Society as an advocate of the enactment of national prohibition laws less drastic than the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment. "You tell me," wrote Mr. Eliot, "that the citizens' committee of 1000 believe that if the statement made by President Nicholas Murray Butler goes unchallenged it will have three very bad effects, first: it will encourage people to violate the prohibition law and other laws; secondly, it will dishearten the students of American universities in their efforts to enforce prohibition legislation on university premises; thirdly, it will announce to the whole world that American constitutional government has failed." In my opinion, President Butler's statement will have no such effects. It will not increase the number of wets in the United States; it will dishearten no dry students; and it has no tendency whatever to prove that American constitutional government has failed.

"You asked me for a 'concise statement of the attitude of our educators' towards the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. Of course, I have no authority to speak for our educators; but I am glad to have this opportunity to express three opinions, my own opinion, as follows: "An overwhelming majority of the teachers and educators of our country believe in bringing up all children not to use alcohol in any form for the sake of their own health and of the public health. . . . "The testimony now being given by manufacturers, physicians, nurses and social workers as to the improvement in the conditions of the population at large which has taken place since the eighteenth amendment was adopted is so potent that it will soon convince the great majority of the American population, both native and foreign, that the complete disuse of alcoholic drinks will result in enormous benefits to any people that accomplishes it. "The prohibitory legislation is being better and better enforced; and its complete enforcement will follow after a time upon the appointment of enforcing officers on the merit system instead of the 'spoils' system. . . . "Neither the Republican nor the Democratic party will venture to put a 'wet' plank into its party platform at the coming presidential election. Even the wettest of the politicians see the strong trend of public opinion towards the enforcement of all the laws against the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks." Know the tremendous pulling power of Courier-Gazette ads.

Portland Oregonian—The primary vote is more than ordinary endorsement of Coolidge; it is a great uprising in his favor and against the miscellaneous assortment of scandal-mongering small men with large mouths that besets him.

Boston Transcript—Constructive work in Congress would seem to consist largely in the construction of a deficit. Omaha Bee—The Democratic ideal seems to be a deficit.

Johns-Manville Asbestos

—for every roof in town

EVERY building to-day costs enough to deserve the full protection of asbestos. You want to protect your property from fire, weather and the wear and tear of time.

That is what Johns-Manville Asbestos Roofing does—because it is rock.

About price—it costs very little more than rag-felt roofing which often won't give one-half the service.

You'll like Johns-Manville Flexstone Shingles and Roofing. It is slate surfaced in three rich colors—red, green and blue-black. We sell it both in shingles and in roll form, and we recommend it for almost every purpose, but we carry also all grades of roofing to meet any price requirements.

THE EYES OF THE HOME

Are its Windows. The Outside World is Seen Through Them and Effective and Tasteful Draperies are Essential. No single Element Contributes so Profoundly to a Room's Character as do these and None Can be Obtained at so slight a Cost. The Outside World Looks in, too, through the Windows and our late designs offer rare opportunity to improve the Home's External Appearance through careful selection.
