

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK
ALL THE HOME NEWS

Subscription $3.00 per year payable in advance; single copies three cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

It is a great calamity to have a mind anxious about things to come.
—Seneca.

For President
CALVIN COOLIDGE of Massachusetts

For Vice President
CHARLES G. DAWES of Illinois

For United States Senate
BERT M. FERNALD of Poland

For Representative to Congress
WALLACE H. WHITE, JR. of Lewiston

For Governor
RALPH O. BREWSTER of Portland

For State Auditor
ELBERT D. HAYFORD of Farmington

For State Senator
GEORGE W. WALKER of Warren

For Judge of Probate
EDWARD K. GOULD
of Rockland

For Clerk of Courts
MILTON M. GRIFFIN
of Rockland

For County Treasurer
EDWARD R. VEAZIE
of Rockland

For Sheriff
RAYMOND E. THURSTON
of Rockland

For County Attorney
LEONARD R. CAMPBELL
of Rockland

For County Commissioner
GEORGE W. GUSHEE of Appleton

For Representatives to Legislature
Rockland—Rodney I. Thompson,
Thomaston, South Thomaston,
Friendship, Cushing and Owl's Head,
—Hollis H. Gilchrist of Thomaston.
Rockport, Warren, Union and Washington—Samuel E. Norwood of Warren.

Camden, Hope and Appleton—Zelma M. Ordinal of Camden.

North, North Haven, St. George, and all parts of Matineus and Orlehaven—James O. Brown of North Haven.

The Treggett Corner Drug Store says "It seems like magic what FAIRFOOT Bunton Plasters accomplish. Instantly they make the pains vanish. Cost nothing unless they do."
—adv.

"THREE WISE FOOLS"

Famous Play Divides Honors With "Buddies" At the Chautauqua This Year.

Rockland has the name of being one of the best "Chautauqua towns" on the Atlantic seaboard and the authorities of Community Chautauqua have had to exert unusual care in selecting this year's program, to be presented Sept. 2-6, to keep up the splendid record for entertainment already established here.

It must have been a rather difficult thing for the Chautauqua experts to select the play for this year's program that would fit in with the ambitious principles of co-ordination and unification which they had set themselves to accomplish, but it seems that they have picked just the right production for opening. They say that they wanted a play that is strong, unmitigated entertainment and capable of holding audiences breathless and baffled to the last line and curtain—and, something more—a play that tells something and leaves a worthwhile impulse. Not a play that moralizes or sermonizes, but a play with a purpose.

So they picked "Three Wise Fools" which is by Austin Strong, the author of "The Seventh Heaven." The characters—a financier, crabbly, domineering, tied to custom. A slow-moving physician. A cold, judicial, stern judge. These three being the "Wise Fools" who live together—living in a rut. The rut is the theme of the play, and how these men come out of the rut, the action of the drama. Those who help to clear the rut and, unconsciously, almost ruin their lives, are the nephew of the financier—who is not too anxious to work but if a peach of a hockey player; the lady who the "Three Wise Fools" had loved as youngsters and her child, as well as her husband and a combination of notorious criminals, detectives and house servants.

The scenes of the play are before the upheaval of the arrival of the "child" one month after the "child" arrives, the night of the housebreaking, after it and then after that.

"Three Wise Fools" ran a year at the Criterion in New York, three months in Philadelphia, six months in Chicago, closing with three months in Boston.

Two lines stand out from the play in our mind:

"We Three Old Fogies are in a Rut" and
"I Know She's Innocent—I looked into her Eyes."

The closing day brings "Buddies" a comedy with music—Another Hit from the Current Theatre, "Buddies," by George Hobart.

It must have been just such a series of conversations that took place "over there" during the World War, as are retold here in sparkling lines by lovable characters. Here is a comedy with surprises, with laughter and with a tribute to the boys. Here is music of a high order and tunes that are unforgettable.

The company of first rate New York players has been produced by Cecil Owen, the noted English actor-producer, whose American successes have been legion. At the present time, in addition to heading the Community Chautauqua's dramatic department, Mr. Owen is general stage director for the Marcus Loew Stock Companies. Mr. Owen is a Londoner educated at Cambridge. He toured Australia as leading man with Kyle Belieu and Mrs. Brown Potter in repertoire, and supported in this country such stars as Aubrey Bouccault in "Old Heidelberg" and Robert Mantell in Shakespearean repertory and Jane Cowl in her last three successes. He was associated with Frank Reicher in the production of "Johannes Kreiser" and directed seven companies of "Peg O' My Heart" for the Moroscos. He produced himself as director many Broadway successes, notably "Lady of the Lamp" and "Daddy Dumps" in conjunction with Earl Carroll.

Interesting to Chautauqua audiences is the fact that Mr. Owen produced the original stock company of "Buddies" for the Selwyns.

By the way, the cast of "Buddies" includes some splendid popular music singers and in the afternoon, they are presenting what they term "a popular music jamboree." They will sing the choruses of the hits from all the long run musical comedies now on Broadway.

WHEELING & LAKE ERIE

Will it enter the Nickle Plate merger?
If so, at what price?
Will it duplicate me in the future?
Send for our special letter.

C. P. DOW & CO
Member
Cons. Stock Exchange of New York
10 STATE STREET, BOSTON
DIRECT WIRE TO NEW YORK

Wan-e-set Inn

Tenant's Harbor, Me.
Open for the Season

One of the most attractive summer hotels on the Maine coast. Everything modern and sanitary. Nice place for deep sea fishing and bathing. Fine state roads for automobiles. Fish dinners a specialty. Board by day or week.

For further information call Tenant's Harbor, Me.
Telephone 27 or write
CHARLES W. RAWLEY, Proprietor

COAL

Just received 2000 tons of very nice Free Burning Lehigh Nut, Stove and Egg Coal. The Free Burning Nut and Stove is just right for Ranges and small heaters. The Lehigh for Steam, Hot water and Hot Air heaters, can't be beaten. It is durable, economical and full of pep. It makes warm friends and friends warm. Try it and be convinced. Orders by mail and phone promptly attended to.

FRED R. SPEAR
Telephone 255

FULL LINE OF COLUMBIA RECORDS

STONINGTON FURNITURE CO.
L. MARCUS, 315-315 Main Street
Rockland, Maine

EXCURSIONS

Parties taken any time, anywhere, in the fine pleasure boat "Sea Horse."

Capacity 20 people.
Boat in charge of two licensed men

SPECIAL ATTRACTION
Trip to a wild and lovely island, with picnic dinner served ashore on an outdoor grill.

RATES
All day trip, including dinner $5.00 per person
Afternoon trip, without dinner $3.00 per person
Moonlight Excursions with Clam-Bake and Bonfire $3.00 per person

All Day Fishing Trips
$3.00 per person

For further particulars
Telephone W. M. GRANT, Rockland, 21-12

Boat leaves from Public Landing, Rockland, and other places by arrangement.

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

Sundays Only
July 13 to Sept. 7th, inc.

Rockland to Bar Harbor and Return, $3.50
Rockland to Bangor and Return, $2.50
Rockland to Bluehill and Return, $3.00
Camden to Bangor and Return, $2.30

Proportionately low rates from intermediate landings

Steamers scheduled to leave Rockland at 5 A. M. Standard Time

EASTERN STEAMSHIP LINES, INC.
F. S. Sherman, Supt.
Rockland, Me.
Telephone Rockland 140

NEW PUBLIC CARS

OPEN OR CLOSED
Go Anywhere—Day or Night
SPECIAL PRICES ON ALL LONG TRIPS
GIVE US A CALL
MITCHELL & RANLETT
TELEPHONE 227-M

COOLIDGE SENSE

Is Found In Every Line of the President's Speech of Acceptance.

The calm simplicity of Mr. Coolidge's speech of acceptance is a refreshing draft after the rhetorical exaltations of Mr. Davis, emulating the Governor of New York and endeavoring to be rough. For inaccuracy there is careful precision, for vagueness and rhythmical generalities there are hard, specific facts; for loose promise of undefined projects there are clear plans for action. Principles, not personalities, are its subject matter. The whole speech breathes that lucidity, moderation and homespun dignity which Mr. Coolidge could not forget if he would.

It would be difficult to make a sounder analysis of the accomplishment of the Harding-Coolidge Administration than does the President. The situation that confronted Mr. Harding on taking office was all that Mr. Coolidge portrays and more. Thanks to the deadlock between Mr. Wilson and the Senate, the foreign relations of the country were hopelessly entangled. The extravagance and waste of the war, due chiefly to the unwillingness of the Democratic Administration to lift a finger in preparation for the inevitable, left the treasury of the nation confronted by the gravest problems and necessitated taxation in an amount which was a blight upon the industry and prosperity of the whole people.

Of the services of Mr. Hughes in bringing order out of chaos in our foreign affairs, Mr. Coolidge says: "Our foreign affairs have been handled with a technical skill and a broad statesmanship which has seldom, if ever, been surpassed."

The labor of Mr. Mellon is thus estimated: "The finances of this nation have been managed with a genius and a success unmatched since the days of Hamilton."

Both of these tributes will seem, in the judgment of most Americans, temperate and just. The achievements constitute the outstanding success of Mr. Harding's regime. They will be remembered, long after the few blunders of his Administration are forgotten.

Mr. Coolidge treats of the issue of honesty in government with his usual candor. He recites the record and he reiterates his purpose "to use every possible effort to resist corruption in office"—not by delivering speeches but by punishing the guilty. The effort of Mr. Davis, tossing aside his kid gloves, to damn the entire Republican party as sordid and corrupt, meets the fate it deserves in this frank and fair weighing of the facts. Great accomplishments and the ablest Cabinet in a generation, unquestioned integrity and high purpose, are not to be besmirched by the loose phrases of a candidate seeking office with mud as his principal ammunition.

Mr. Coolidge rightly places the policy of protection side by side with the policy of restricted immigration. Both are necessary for the maintenance of American standards of living. To keep America American demands the high wages of the American worker quite as much as it demands a limitation on the numbers of aliens to be Americanized within a given period. The broad principles upon which the party rests its economic policy were well stated by Mr. Coolidge:

"This is one country; we are one people united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outcasts; no race or religious prejudices in government. America opposes special privileges for anybody and favors equal opportunity for everybody. It has adopted these principles because they are the logical conclusion of our ideals of freedom. Moreover, we believe they contribute to our material welfare. We oppose the artificial supports of privilege and monopoly because they are both unjust and uneconomic. They are not right. They do not work."

It is about this large conception of nationalism, that tests every law by its service to the whole people, that the President centers his political faith. It gives a unity to his speech.

THE STRAND

COMING—
"NELLIE, THE BEAUTIFUL CLOAK MODEL"

The melodrama with a thousand thrills, with a real All-Star cast.
CLAUDE WINSTON, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, LEW CODY, EDWARD LOWE, RAYMOND GRIFFIN
And Others

SHIP YOUR APPLES TO

"The House Built on the Apple"

Where the trade finds APPLES

fifty-two weeks every year

We also sell other produce which you raise, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Berries, Turnips

Best Prices Quick Returns

KINGMAN and HEARTY INC.
20 No. Side Faneuil Hall Market BOSTON MASS.
S & T-96-1f

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that all bills against the City of Rockland should be presented before the last Thursday of the month. For order
Committee on Accounts and Claims,
City of Rockland, Me.
Rockland, Me., May 23

EGGS WANTED

One to five cases a week of real HENNEY EGGS from reliable shippers the whole year round. Top prices and premiums paid.

SUNNYSIDE FARM EGG CO.
WAVERLEY, MASS.
1009-1f

THE CAMPAIGN IN MAINE

Early Evident That Democrats Are Whistling To Keep Up Their Courage—"Cy" Blanchard Gets Into the Second District Fight.

Someone is going to be disappointed when the votes cast in this State are counted on the evening of the 8th of September says the Portland Sunday Telegram. Of course both sides are claiming success but that is to be discounted for "claim everything" is a common number one of the political decalogues. But apparently the Democratic leaders are sincere in their belief that Mr. Pattangall has better than an even chance of being elected. They think that they can elect Pattangall and they think that they can elect Mr. McIntire in the Second District. They may go further than that publicly, but privately they are not extending their hopes beyond these two places. Mr. Redman has even said in public that he doesn't expect to be elected and never did.

The re-election of Representatives Beedy, Nelson and Hersey is conceded privately in Democratic circles, although quite naturally they are going to fight it out until election day.

Practically all Republicans and many Democrats appear to have no doubt in their own minds about the success of Senator Brewster. Among Republicans this view of the situation is growing stronger every day. A month ago members of the Republican organization were very doubtful about their ability to elect the present candidate in case it should be found that he had been nominated. It is a fact that all or practically all of them have changed their minds. Chairman Emery of course must claim everything in public, but in private he is just as confident regarding the head of the State ticket as he is that his own county of York will go Republican.

He doesn't say that Mr. Brewster will pull through by a narrow margin. He says that he is going over big. Going around among Republican workers, the head of the organization may naturally be shown the brightest side of things but the Republican chairman is one of the shrewdest political observers in the State and he is anything but a rain-howl chaser.

Within the past fortnight the writer has discussed the political situation with Republican committeemen in every county of the State and from none has he heard any doubt expressed but that Mr. Brewster would be elected, although all do not agree as to the size of the victory. If there was anything to cause uneasiness in these discussions it is that some have expressed the thought that the State as a whole was all right, but have been in doubt about their own localities.

For instance, a candidate for office in Somerset county said to the writer on Monday that he was in considerable doubt about his own County, calling attention to the fact that it has been a strong Farrington county. Others had the same fear, but the Brewster tour of the county which took place last Tuesday did much to cheer the leaders there. Col. Roy L. Marston of Skowhegan, who conducted the tour told the writer that he had never seen a more successful tour in all of his political experience. "Somerset was strongly for Farrington," he said, "and all of the party had voted for him, but we are all for Brewster now, and he met with a most cordial reception everywhere he went. It was a fine series of meetings."

Republicans generally believe that Congressman White will win out although they concede that the district is good fighting ground for Mr. McIntire, who is personally very popular, especially in his own county of Oxford. The Second District is the closest in the State anyway and several factors have contributed to making it more doubtful. The chief of these of course is the fact that the present representative permitted Mr. Blanchard to get into the fight and then decided to run himself. To many this seemed unfair and possibly to show lack of decision on the part of the present congressman.

As a matter of fact as the writer has been told on good authority, Mr. White was induced to make the run against his leaders, following it with an outline of something he contemplated using in a speech. If the decision is against him, he accepts it and the subject matter is eliminated.

Many had expected that the Republican candidate would be apt to reply to certain attacks made upon him, but he has not and this has proved pleasant to all.

"I am not going to descend to personalities," he said to one man who discussed the campaign with him this week. "Others may do that if they desire, but I shall not. I do not approve of it. I am a Republican and am not ashamed to say so. I want to conduct myself in a manner which I feel is in harmony with Republican principles. If I cannot wage such a campaign I would rather not make one."

For preserving use Queen Glass Jars. Pints $1.50; quarts $1.75 per dozen at Gonia's—adv. 85-1f

THE STRAND

COMING—
"NELLIE, THE BEAUTIFUL CLOAK MODEL"

The melodrama with a thousand thrills, with a real All-Star cast.
CLAUDE WINSTON, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, LEW CODY, EDWARD LOWE, RAYMOND GRIFFIN
And Others

SHIP YOUR APPLES TO

"The House Built on the Apple"

Where the trade finds APPLES

fifty-two weeks every year

We also sell other produce which you raise, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Berries, Turnips

Best Prices Quick Returns

KINGMAN and HEARTY INC.
20 No. Side Faneuil Hall Market BOSTON MASS.
S & T-96-1f

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that all bills against the City of Rockland should be presented before the last Thursday of the month. For order
Committee on Accounts and Claims,
City of Rockland, Me.
Rockland, Me., May 23

EGGS WANTED

One to five cases a week of real HENNEY EGGS from reliable shippers the whole year round. Top prices and premiums paid.

SUNNYSIDE FARM EGG CO.
WAVERLEY, MASS.
1009-1f

Past Officers' Association Meeting In Farmington Chooses Rockland Man.

The fourth annual outing of the Past Officers' Association of Maine was held in Farmington Tuesday, with more than 30 guests present, including the ladies, for these annual events are not only field days for the Association, but social events in which the gentle sex are asked to participate. It was a rainy day, but this did not deter the motorists, for most of the guests came to Farmington that way, and after their arrival the hours carried a round of pleasure, the result of careful planning by the local members.

The headquarters of the Association were at the Masonic Club and at about one o'clock a fine luncheon was served by Florence Norton King in the banquet hall. Following this a business session was held and these officers chosen for the ensuing year: President, J. A. Richan, Rockland; vice president, Cyrus N. Blanchard, Wilton; secretary, A. I. Mather, Rockland; treasurer, A. H. Newbert, Rockland. It may be said in passing that this Association was organized some 13 years ago by a Maine man—A. I. Mather of Rockland, with nine members. Its membership now numbers 35, all but two of whom are living in Maine. It is the only Association of its kind in the United States, but bids fair to become nationwide. It includes in its membership only such men as have passed through the chairs of the Blue Lodge, Chapter, Council and Commandery, and of such only as are living in Franklin County. Cyrus N. Blanchard and Fred E. Trefethen of Wilton and H. Burton Votter of Farmington.

After a social hour or two in the Clubroom, the party motored to Porter Lake Inn, where one of the new famous chicken dinners was served. Then the company returned to Farmington and attended the performance of the Trumbull Players in the New Music Hall Theatre, occupying seats en bloc, and thoroughly enjoying the delightful comedy, in Love With Love. Most of the party passed the night in Farmington as guests of friends at the hotels—Franklin County Journal.

Rockland was represented at this meeting by Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Mather, Capt. Israel Snow, Henry J. Keating and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Newbert.

THE STRAND

COMING—
"NELLIE, THE BEAUTIFUL CLOAK MODEL"

The melodrama with a thousand thrills, with a real All-Star cast.
CLAUDE WINSTON, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, LEW CODY, EDWARD LOWE, RAYMOND GRIFFIN
And Others

SHIP YOUR APPLES TO

"The House Built on the Apple"

Where the trade finds APPLES

fifty-two weeks every year

We also sell other produce which you raise, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Berries, Turnips

Best Prices Quick Returns

KINGMAN and HEARTY INC.
20 No. Side Faneuil Hall Market BOSTON MASS.
S & T-96-1f

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that all bills against the City of Rockland should be presented before the last Thursday of the month. For order
Committee on Accounts and Claims,
City of Rockland, Me.
Rockland, Me., May 23

EGGS WANTED

One to five cases a week of real HENNEY EGGS from reliable shippers the whole year round. Top prices and premiums paid.

SUNNYSIDE FARM EGG CO.
WAVERLEY, MASS.
1009-1f

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR DAY

Knights Templar Day will be one of the features of the Central Maine Fair at Waterville. The date will be Wednesday, Aug. 27. St. Omer Commandery of Waterville will be the host organization and extends an invitation to the Sir Knights of all other commanderies to be present. The fair association with the commandery and headquarters will be established on the Fair Grounds for the day.

Each Sir Knight will be asked to register and will be provided with a badge of identification, so that each member will be able to recognize a brother Templar at a glance.

The headquarters will provide shelter and accommodations for the visitors.

In the evening at 6 o'clock a banquet will be served at Masonic hall, which will be furnished to visiting brothers free of expense.

At 7:45 St. Omer Commandery will confer the Order of Temple upon several candidates.

THE STRAND

COMING—
"NELLIE, THE BEAUTIFUL CLOAK MODEL"

The melodrama with a thousand thrills, with a real All-Star cast.
CLAUDE WINSTON, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, LEW CODY, EDWARD LOWE, RAYMOND GRIFFIN
And Others

SHIP YOUR APPLES TO

"The House Built on the Apple"

Where the trade finds APPLES

fifty-two weeks every year

We also sell other produce which you raise, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Berries, Turnips

Best Prices Quick Returns

KINGMAN and HEARTY INC.
20 No. Side Faneuil Hall Market BOSTON MASS.
S & T-96-1f

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that all bills against the City of Rockland should be presented before the last Thursday of the month. For order
Committee on Accounts and Claims,
City of Rockland, Me.
Rockland, Me., May 23

EGGS WANTED

One to five cases a week of real HENNEY EGGS from reliable shippers the whole year round. Top prices and premiums paid.

SUNNYSIDE FARM EGG CO.
WAVERLEY, MASS.
1009-1f

THOMASTON'S BATTERY

Adjutant General James V. Hanson and Major Charles E. Davis, disbursing officers, were in Thomaston last Thursday evening to pay a visit to Battery F of the 240th Coast Artillery Corps. That organization has been practically reorganized in the past three months. Its present strength being three officers and 60 men, all of whom are enthusiastic young men. General Hanson stated that he expects that by another year the battery will be one of the most efficient organizations in the regiment.

THE STRAND

COMING—
"NELLIE, THE BEAUTIFUL CLOAK MODEL"

The melodrama with a thousand thrills, with a real All-Star cast.
CLAUDE WINSTON, HOBART BOSWORTH, MAE BUSCH, LEW CODY, EDWARD LOWE, RAYMOND GRIFFIN
And Others

SHIP YOUR APPLES TO

"The House Built on the Apple"

Where the trade finds APPLES

fifty-two weeks every year

We also sell other produce which you raise, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Berries, Turnips

Best Prices Quick Returns

KINGMAN and HEARTY INC.
20 No. Side Faneuil Hall Market BOSTON MASS.
S & T-96-1f

NOTICE

The public is hereby notified that all bills against the City of Rockland should be presented before the last Thursday of the month. For order
Committee on Accounts and Claims,
City of Rockland, Me.
Rockland, Me., May 23

EGGS WANTED

One to five cases a week of real HENNEY EGGS from reliable shippers the whole year round. Top prices and premiums paid.

SUNNYSIDE FARM EGG CO.
WAVERLEY, MASS.
1009-1f

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a love life as pretty and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

LADY BUTTON-EYES

Through the muck and mist and gloom
When the busy day is done,
And my weary little one
Rocketh gently to and fro;
When the clock's dull monotone
Tells of the day that's done;
And the crickets in the glen
Chirp and chirp, and chirp again;
When upon the haunted green
Fairies dance around their queen—
Then from yonder misty skies
Cometh Lady Button-Eyes.

Through the muck and mist and gloom
To our quiet, cozy home,
Where to sing, sweet and low,
Rocks a cradle to and fro;
Where the clock's dull monotone
Tells of the day that's done;
And the moonbeams hover o'er
Playthings sleeping on the floor—
Where my weary one lies
Cometh Lady Button-Eyes.

Comeh like a feeling ghost
From some distant, eerie coast;
Never football can you hear
As that spirit farish near—
Never whisper, never weep
From that shadow-queen is heard.
In ethereal raiment dight,
From the realm of light and sprite
In the depth of yonder skies
Cometh Lady Button-Eyes.

Layeth she her hands upon
My dear weary little one,
And those white hands outspread
Like a veil the curly hair,
Seem to fondle and caress
Every little aching trace;
Then she smooths the eyelids down
Over those two eyes of brown—
In such soothing, tender wise
Cometh Lady Button-Eyes.

Dearest, feel upon your brow
That caressing magic now;
For the crickets in the glen
Chirp and chirp and chirp again,
While upon the haunted green
Fairies dance around their queen,
And the moonbeams hover o'er
Playthings sleeping on the floor—
Hush, my sweet, hush, tender wise
Cometh Lady Button-Eyes.

PITCHED EASTERNS TO VICTORY

American tourists are spending about $300,000,000 a year in Europe. If the Democrats win the November election they will change the tariff laws so that it will take a few hundred thousand dollars more to balance an adverse trade account, and then it will be all outgo and no income. That way leads to hard times for America.

Every-Other-Day

TALK OF THE TOWN

COMING NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS

Aug. 18-23-Bangor Fair.
Aug. 19-Bridge and mah jong party at the Country Club.
Aug. 20-Thomaston County Fair.
Aug. 21-(Baseball) Rockland vs Camden in Camden at 5:30 p. m.
Aug. 21-Knox County Speaking Tour of Republican State Committee.
Aug. 22-Knox Pomona Grange meets with Acorn Grange in Cushing.
Aug. 23-24-Washington Adventist Camp-meeting.
Aug. 24 (Baseball)-Rockland vs. Togus in Togus.
Aug. 25-"Love Glove" presented at Watts hall, Thomaston, by Camp Wapello boys.
Aug. 25-27-Waterville American Legion State Convention.
Aug. 28-29-Waterville Fair.
Aug. 29-31-Norfolk Methodist Camp-meeting.
Aug. 30-Fair in Owl's Head town hall at Head of the Bay.
Aug. 30-Annual fair of the Bay View Society of Owl's Head at Town hall, Head of the Bay.
Aug. 30-Medmak-Lincoln county field day at E. S.
Aug. 28-Thomaston-"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" presented by Mrs. Edith C. Picher in K. of P. hall.
Aug. 29-30-Annual fair at Community hall, Simonsville.
Sept. 1-Labor Day.
Sept. 1-4-Lewiston Fair.
Sept. 2-4-Rockland Community Chautauqua.
Sept. 2-4-Opening of First Baptist Parish at Oakland Park.
Sept. 6-Dog days end.
Sept. 8-Maine State Election.
Sept. 9-City schools open.
Sept. 11-Dedication of new State Prison buildings.
Sept. 12-National Defense Day.
Sept. 16-17-Montville Fair.
Sept. 18-First day of Autumn.
Sept. 23-25-North Knox Fair in Union.
Sept. 25-26-Daylight Saving ends—set clocks back one hour.
Sept. 30-Oct 2-Lincoln County Fair in Danversville.
Oct. 12-Columbus Day.
Oct. 14-16-Topsam Fair.
Oct. 15-Opening meeting Baptist Men's League.
Nov. 4-Presidential election.

REUNIONS

Aug. 20-Caldwell family at Penobscot View Grange hall.
Aug. 21-Gilchrist family in St. George Grange hall.
Aug. 21-Ingraham family reunion at Penobscot View Grange hall.
Aug. 21-Shibles family at home of Fred W. Aug. 21-Rockland Community Chautauqua.
Aug. 21-Starr-Stear families at Rejoice Grange hall.
Aug. 21-Sweeney family at Mrs. Amelia Taylor's, Tenants Harbor.
Aug. 21-Barnes family at home of C. E. Jackson, South Wadsworth.
Aug. 26-Macey family at Oakland.
Aug. 27-Kalish family at Oakland Park.
Aug. 27-Hills family at the home of E. H. Rickett, Union.
Aug. 28-Wilson and Teel families at Port Clyde.
Aug. 27-Rayson-Puffer families at Penobscot View Grange hall.
Aug. 27-Mark family at E. A. Mark's Grange, East Wadsworth.
Aug. 27-Wentworth family at W. B. Arrington's, Appleton.
Aug. 28-Rodman family at home of Levi Bucklin, South Warren.
Aug. 28-Hoffes family at Mank grove, Warren.
Aug. 28-Knight family at home of B. H. Greenleaf, Beachy Center.
Aug. 28-Annual reunion of 19th Maine Regimental Association in Waterville.
Aug. 30-40, B. 24th Me., Regt. at 1.0. O. F. hall, Waterville.
Aug. 30-Norwood-Carroll families at home of J. J. Carroll, Pleasant.
Sept. 2-3-Sept. 1-56th Pioneer Infantry at Togus.
Sept. 4-Leadbetter family at Union hall, North Haven.
Sept. 10-Annual reunion of Fourth Maine Infantry, Second Maine and Naval Veterans at Grand Army Hall, Rockland.

Weather This Week

Weather outlook for this week in the North Atlantic States: Light and cool first part, local showers middle part, warmer middle of week.

Fred W. Lamb of Burpee & Lamb went on lambing on his annual vacation.

The Past Noble Grand's Association will meet at Oakland Park, Wednesday. Supper will be served in the grove.

The Elks Circus sign continues to point the way to the Willow street grounds. The grounds are there, but the circus is not.

The annual outing and picnic of the First Baptist Parish scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed two weeks to Sept. 3.

A perfect crop of sweet corn, surrounded by 10 immature ears, ranging from one to 4½ inches in length, inaugurates the fresh vegetable season at this office. It came from the garden of Henry Sleeper at the Northend.

The baseball managers should call the games at 5 p. m., instead of 5:30 owing to the earlier approach of twilight. It is extremely unsatisfactory to the players and public to play the official innings of a game in semi-dark.

R. S. Sherman, who recently resigned his position as Rockland agent of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., to enter the insurance business, will remain with the company until about Sept. 15, after which time he will be pretty much over. Except for two dates the staterooms out of Rockland are sold out to Sept. 6.

When Frank L. Newhall of 12 Brewster street threw some beans in among the coat ashes last spring, he did it more because he had beans to spare than because he expected reward. He didn't even give them the benefit of fertilizer or dressing. Last night Mr. Newhall brought to this office a bag of green beans picked from the ash heap. The pods were about 10 inches long and well filled. The breed is Kentucky Wonders.

Miss Ida Rokes, who was elected national president of the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary, has since received gratifying evidences of her friends' esteem. The Maine delegation at the Boston convention pre-acted her with a purse containing $30 in gold; the Maine Division, Sons of Veterans presented her with $25 in gold. Massachusetts friends added $5, and Mrs. May Cross of Rockland sent her a cut glass vase. Miss Rokes' election was unanimous, although originally it was a three-cornered contest.

The 56th annual convention of the Maine State Sunday School Association for Religious Education is to be held in State Street Congregational Church, Portland, Oct. 15, 16 and 17. Rev. E. H. Brewster, former secretary, has been preparing the official program, the announcement of which will shortly be made. Mr. Brewster is superintendent of Religious Education in the Philadelphia Convention of Methodist Episcopal Churches and is now located in Philadelphia, but will return to the State to assist in the direction of the program, which will be completed by Rev. J. M. M. of the new general secretary of the Maine State Sunday School Association.

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS

A SPECIAL MARK-DOWN SALE OF DRESSES

To make room for our new fall stock of Silk and Wool Dresses, we have taken from our stock the following dresses that we would like to sell, and have marked them at very low prices. Some of these are new summer Sport Dresses, others spring styles in light colors, and still others that are slightly damaged and have been marked very low. We are giving you a list of the dresses, sizes and prices, and we are sure you will find one or more dresses to please you.

1 Cocoa Georgette Dress, fringe trimmed, size 40	$45.00
1 Black Satin Dress, size 38	39.50
1 Black Satin Dress, size 40	25.00
1 Orchid Georgette Party Dress, size 16	10.00
1 Navy Satin Dress, size 44	35.00
1 Ashes of Roses Crepe Roma, size 18	29.50
1 Navy and Gray Canton Dress, size 38	50.00
1 Black Canton Dress, size 16	25.00
1 Navy Satin Chinchilla Dress, size 42	29.50
1 Brown Satin and Lace Dress, size 42	35.00
1 Navy Canton Crepe Dress, size 18	35.00
2 Black and Navy Satin Canton Dresses, sizes 38-40, each	35.00
1 Black Morie Silk Dress, size 18	35.00
1 Tan Crepe Roma Dress, size 40	39.50
1 Black Morie Silk Dress, size 16	25.00
1 Black Satin and Capon Georgette Dress, size 18	35.00
1 Gold Crepe de Chine, size 18	25.00
1 Navy Satin Canton Dress, size 40½, fits a 46 bust	29.50
1 Black Canton Dress, size 40	25.00
1 Taupe Canton and Lace Dress, size 40½	39.50
1 Black Self Figured Silk Dress, size 42	35.00
1 Brown Satin Embroidered Dress, size 38	35.00
1 Navy Georgette Dress, size 36	35.00
1 Sapphire Blue Velvet Evening Dress, size 40	35.00
1 Navy Self Figured Canton Dress, size 44	25.00
1 Orange Maline Evening Gown, size 18	5.00
1 Black Beaded Georgette Dress, size 42½, fits a 48 bust	35.00
1 Red Velvet and Georgette Evening Dress, size 18	45.00
1 Navy Georgette Dress, size 20	15.00
1 Black Georgette and Canton Dress, size 42	65.00
1 Apricot Maline and Sequin Evening Dress, size 16	5.00
1 Navy Point Dress, size 20	20.00
1 Black and White Sequin Evening Dress, size 16	15.00
1 Orchid Taffeta Evening Dress, size 38	10.00
1 Navy Point Dress, size 18	25.00
1 Black Maline Dinner Dress, size 40	20.00
1 Black Satin Evening Dress, size 40	5.00
2 Figured Silk Dresses, sizes 40-44, each	20.00
1 Gray Figured Cotton Dress, size 40	12.50
1 Navy Point Dress, size 16	20.00
1 White and Black Figured Crepe de Chine Dress, size 36	35.00
1 Tan Figured Crepe Dress, size 36	35.00
1 Brown Point Dress, size 16	10.00
2 Tan and Navy Knit Dresses, size 38-40, each	10.00
1 Tan Figured Wool Dress, size 40	29.50
2 Navy Serge Sleeveless Dresses, size 16, each	5.00
3 Navy Serge Sailor Suits, sizes 16-18, each	5.00
1 Black Canton Crepe Dress, size 16	25.00

We have also placed on sale the balance of our stock of summer cotton dresses (in our second floor department) at one-half price.

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS
ROCKLAND, MAINE

Limerock street attractions this season include the hollyhocks on Mrs. Lillian S. Coppin's premises and the wonderful dahlia garden at Dr. H. L. Stevens.

A Belfast item says that Miss Mattie Royal of Ellsworth is in that city copying the Knox County deeds of an early date which are recorded in the Waldo county registry of deeds.

Oscar M. Ellemes is back with the Combination Chemical crew at the conclusion of two weeks' vacation which has left him fit as a fiddle. Oliver B. Brown is now on the rusticating list.

The last held at the Samoset Hotel fair held by the Ladies' Guild of St. Peter's church netted in excess of $130. The guests not only showed their generosity in this respect but have contributed considerably more than that sum toward the winter's fuel supply of the church.

Arthur L. Rogers one of the tonorial all stars at the Thorndike Hotel is having his annual vacation which will be spent at his old home in Brewer, on a trip to Quebec, back via Buffalo and Niagara Falls if the conditions are right. He delayed his departure one day, in order to see the Rockland-Brewer game.

Harvey L. Howard has The Courier-Gazette's thanks for copies of the Providence Daily News, containing reports of the 26th annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which is being held in that city. Mr. Howard is a delegate, and evidently enjoyed his experience, but it is a safe bet that he wished himself on the bleachers at yesterday's game between Rockland and Brewer.

S

PERRY'S Market

YELLOW EYE BEANS, 2 qts. 25c

Limited Quantity—Order Early

STEAK SALMON, can 25c

The regular price is 50c. Finest Quality

TOMATOES, large can 18c

Sun-Kist Brand—Finest Quality

CLOVERBLOOM CREAMERY BUTTER, pound 45c

¼ lb. blocks—Fresh Churned

BLUE LABEL KETHUP, 8 oz. bottle 15c

EVAPORATED MILK, 3 cans 25c

THOMASTON
Fourth Annual COUNTY FAIR

ALL EVENTS ON DAYLIGHT TIME

GRAND STREET PARADE, 10.30 A. M.

PARADE OF NATIONS, 2.30 P. M.

ENTERTAINMENTS IN TENT, 3.30 and 8.00

BIG MIDWAY ALL DAY

Things To Do. Things To Eat. Things To Buy.

BAND CONCERT IN EVENING

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 20

If stormy postponed to next fair day

98-100

CONTRACT IS LET

F. W. Carleton of Woolwich To Build Camden's New Wharf Plant.

The contract for building the Camden wharf and the new buildings thereon has been let to F. W. Carleton of Woolwich, who began work Saturday. It is expected that the new plant will be ready for occupancy in about three months.

Supt. F. S. Sherman, who has the care of 19 wharf buildings, is an enthusiast in all his undertakings, but it is not mere enthusiasm which leads him to say that the new plant will be the most modern and complete freight and passenger terminal east of Portland.

The roofs will be covered with red asphalt shingles, which is to be adopted as the standard roof color for all of the Eastern Steamship's property. Another new wrinkle in the freight sheds will be the horizontal windows, which will be installed to facilitate the storing of freight.

The blue prints show two attractive structures, and there is every reason to believe that the new wharf will be very proud of the new installation.

Much interest is being manifested in "Dearest Night" scheduled to take place at Oakland Park dancing pavilion Aug. 26. Prizes to the amount of $20 will be awarded in gold.

Arrangements are being completed for the reunion of the 56th Pioneer Infantry at Togus beginning after lunch Aug. 30 and ending after supper Sept. 1. Capt. Rufus W. Brown and Col. Walter H. Butler are members of the committee on arrangements.

Peter Woodland Lodge, K. of P., of Lynn, Mass., is to work the degree in Belfast, Oct. 4, at which time Silver Cross Lodges to be maintained the Grand Convention. Gen. Berry Lodge of this city will have a meeting Thursday night to make arrangements for attending.

Dr. R. J. Waggatt has returned from a month's stay in Boston, during which time he took the full course in physiotherapy, presented at the Harvard Post Graduate School at Boston City Hospital. A noted specialist, Dr. Frank B. Granger, was in charge of the course.

Supt. C. F. Ames paid an official visit to the Western Union telephone office Saturday, and at the conclusion of his inspection paid Manager Sullivan a very high compliment. It is doubtful if another telephone office in the State has had as much work to do in connection with the number of employees as Rockland, which not only handled many thousands of words of press matter during the stay of John W. Davis at Islesboro, but "covered" the visits of the several yacht clubs and other big events.

Manager Sullivan has known what it means to go hungry and sleepless, but he has done yeoman service for the Western Union and has put Rockland on the map as a city where service can be obtained. He modestly disclaims any personal glory, and attributes the efficiency of this office to the faithful work of his capable assistants.

Sport Coats in our Bargain Basement priced at $3.95, $5.00, $7.50. All colors and sizes. Fuller-Cobb-Davis—adv.

Thomaston County Fair, Wednesday, Aug. 20. If stormy, the next fair day.

99-100

SPRUCE HEAD

Mrs. Annie Burton has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Newhall in Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, Jr. and Mrs. Robert Rodgers and children, Mrs. William Rodgers, Jr. and children and Gilbert Rodgers of Rockland were guests of L. C. Elwell at Sea Grove for a picnic.

William Norton and two sons of Detroit, Mich., are camping on Ellsworth Point. Mr. Norton's father, Horace Norton, was the first keeper of the Coast Guard station, then known as the "Life Saving Station."

Rev. Maurice Dunbar of Pawtucket, R. I., will preach in Union chapel Sunday afternoon and Prof. C. Wilbert Snow read several of his poems in the chapel in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Todd came down from Boston for the weekend in their new Dodge sedan. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Donald Grassick and daughter Anna, who has been visiting Mrs. Cassie McLeod.

Caroline Robinson celebrated her 56th birthday Friday at the St. George Grange hall with a dinner party of between 40 and 50. The menu consisted of fish chowder, cold boiled ham, potatoes, green peas, cabbage salad, cucumbers, hot rolls, crackers, assorted cakes, pies, ice cream, bananas and plums. Miss Robinson received many fine gifts of money, cards, letters, flowers, aprons and confectionery. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wellington, Miss Ida L. Symmes, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wellington and son Burleigh of West Medford, Mass.

Mrs. Leroy Clark and sons Waldo and Warren, West Somerville, Mass., Mrs. Lida Riley and children and Mrs. Mabelle H. Caddy, Medfield, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Robinson of Warren, Mrs. Annie Rivers, Windsor, Mrs. Fred S. Collamore and Miss Emma Wellington, Rockland, Capt. P. O. Hill, Mrs. P. O. Hill and son Willard, Matineuse Rock, D. A. Hathorn, Alex. Hathorn, Mrs. Lilla Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hocking and son Donald, Mrs. Cyrus Hill and three daughters, Mrs. Nellie Kinney and daughter Nannie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kinney and daughter Ida, of St. George, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Merrill, Mrs. Nancy P. Hall, Mrs. Alice Grant and W. M. Grant of Spruce Head.

FAIR

At—

OWL'S HEAD

TOWN HALL

HEAD-OF-THE-BAY

BAY VIEW SOCIETY

TUESDAY, AUG. 26

Afternoon and Evening

Fish Supper from 5.30 to 7.30—35c

Good Musical Entertainment

Afternoon and Evening

100-103

MERRY-GO-ROUND

All This Week

AFTERNOON AND EVENING

City Parking Lot

Tillson Avenue

PINE TREE STATE

AMUSEMENT COMPANY

100-101

Opening Sale Saturday, Aug. 23
E. B. CROCKETT'S 5 & 10c to $1.00 STORE

(One of Maine's Greatest Variety Stores)

WE WILL BE OPEN FOR BUSINESS IN OUR NEW QUARTERS ON THE ABOVE DATE AND TO CELEBRATE THIS EVENT WE OFFER YOU EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS.

25 SPECIAL SALE ITEMS.

25 BIG SALES

Every item mentioned below is underpriced and go on sale at 8:15 A. M., SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, and will be on sale all day or as long as each item lasts.

Large Mavis Talc, can 15c	Woodbury's Facial Soap, 3 cakes 50c
Palmolive Soap, cake 5c	Life Buoy Soap, cake 5c
Enamelware, each 10c	Electric Curling Irons 79c
$2.00 Lunch Kits with Thermos	Floor Rugs, each 10c
Bottle, complete $1.00	Shopping Baskets, each 25c
10 qt. Galv. Pails, each 19c	Gold Band Crockery, each 10c
Small Galv. Tubs, each 39c	Linen Box Paper, box 10c
Linen Box Paper, box 25c	House Dresses, each $1.00
Men's Overalls $1.00	Child's Rain Capes, each $1.00
Men's Khaki Pants $1.00	All Linen Crash, half yard 10c
Men's Work Shirts, each 49c	Cretonnes, half yard 10c
Boys' Knickers $1.00	Ginghams, half yard 10c
Golf Hose, 50c and 60c	Ladies' Handkerchiefs, each ... 10c

AN UP TO DATE CANDY DEPARTMENT

Buy Your School Supplies Now for School Opening

The Big Specials are:

8:15 A. M.	1:30 P. M.
White Enamelware, each 50c	Aluminum Ware, each 69c
9:00 A. M.	2:30 P. M.
Turkish Towels, each 19c	6 Qt. Covered Kettles, each 39c
Pictures, each 10c	Turkish Towels, each 29c
10:00 A. M.	3:30 P. M.
Floor Brooms, each 39c	Large Agate Dish Pans, each 39c

Rockland's Biggest Sale Event. Small Army of Clerks To Wait On You. Come and See the Greatest Assortment of Merchandise on Display in Eastern Maine.

THE DATE IS SATURDAY, AUGUST 23

E. B. CROCKETT'S 5 & 10c to $1.00 STORE
331 to 337 MAIN STREET

BUYS WINDSOR ESTATE

W. J. Rich Becomes Owner of Camden Property, a Show Place On the Coast.

Walter J. Rich of Rockland, who recently retired from business, has bought the famous H. H. Windsor estate in Camden and with his family will enjoy their first dinner there tonight.

Rumor says that the late Mr. Windsor and the previous owner of this estate expended between $300,000 and $400,000 in its development, and these figures scarcely seem exaggerated when it is taken into consideration that the specially built highway leading to the estate cost about $60,000 alone.

The property includes 180 acres of the finest property to be found on the New England coast. The set of buildings comprehends the "White House," with 22 rooms; the guest cottage, with 10 rooms; the superintendent's cottage, with 12 rooms; the farmer's house, with 7 rooms; and the seven-car garage with five-room accommodations for chauffeurs.

High up among the hills is a swimming pool 100x35 feet.

Since their arrival in Camden this season Mr. Rich and family have been occupying the Young cottage on Ocean avenue.

They plan to occupy their new home until Nov. 1st, and will then be in New York until Christmas. They will spend the winter in Palm Beach.

WISCASSET TABERNACLE

Dr. Lyell M. Rader, the noted chemist, of Maywood, N. J., spoke Sunday on "The Second Coming of Christ" to the largest audience yet present at the Wiscasset Tabernacle campaign, over 1200 being in attendance. Dr. Rader, who has delivered some of the most stirring addresses ever heard in this part of the country the past week, is well known throughout two continents and has brought with him the widespread knowledge gained from years of association with men of affairs, as well as results of his scientific search of the scriptures. He will continue to speak each evening this week and three times next Sunday.

Dr. Rader has 44 guests with him on his farm, among them a number of noted speakers and musicians who will be heard during the week. The famous Rader Quartette will also be in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crawford and daughters of Philadelphia will be heard in the open air meetings. The campaign closes Sunday, August 24.

T O N I G H T

At:

OAKLAND PARK

BERT MYERS' ORCHETRA.

Will Be Here In All Its Glory

Keep In Mind

"The Dearest Girl and The Dearest Boy"

TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 26

Remember, the fly comes from the garbage can and dump heap to your table bringing the worst of filth and poisons.
Rockland Red Cross.

1865 1924
Memorials
E. A. GLIDDEN & CO.
WALDOBORO, ME.

BORN
Thomas—Rockland, Aug. 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Thomas, a son—John Beaton Wilson—Rockland, at Brit's Maternity Home, Aug. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. Wilson of Thomaston, a son—Earle Farnsworth, Jr.
Turner—Swan's Island, Aug. 8, to Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, a son.
Sprague—Swan's Island, Aug. —, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sprague, a son.
Allison—West Rockport, Aug. 13, to Mr. and Mrs. John Allison, a son—Robert Theodore.

MARRIED
Candon-Young—Rockport, at the Methodist Parsonage, Aug. 17, by Rev. J. W. Palmer, Henry H. Candon and Frances L. Young, both of Brooksville.
Goldberg-Ross—Portland, Aug. 17, Louis Goldberg of Worcester, Sigma, and Miss Sarah Ross, formerly of Rockland, both of Portland.
Fuller-Charles—St. George, Aug. 18, by Rev. Herman Winchenbach, Seymour W. Fuller and Miss Eric Charles, both of St. George.
Stoddard-Merrill—Swan's Island, Aug. 18, by Rev. A. T. Bradstreet, Charles A. Stoddard of Palermo and Miss Beulah Merrill of Swan's Island.
Jellison-Grant—Swan's Island, July 28, by Rev. F. N. Johnson, Almond Jellison of Swan's Island and Ella Grant of Matamoras.

DIED
Pease—Rockland, Aug. 15, Melville O. Pease, aged 73 years.
Thomson—Rockport, Aug. 16, Margaret Thomson, aged 6 years.
Payson—Rockport, Aug. 14, Henry L. Payson, aged 79 years, 9 months, 6 days.
Burgess—Camden, Aug. 16, Julia M., widow of Gordon Burgess, aged 74 years.
Simmons—Vinalhaven, Aug. 16, Mrs. Mary, wife of Alexander Simmons, 80 years.

THE EVIL SHEPHERD

by E. Phillips Oppenheim

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

Copyright by Little, Brown, and Company.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Francis Ledsam, a powerful business man, in a murder case and succeeds in getting him off, only to be told by a young, prepossessing woman, who says that she is Oliver Hilditch's wife, that Ledsam has turned loose a dangerous man to resume his preying upon society.

CHAPTER II—Ledsam dines with his greatest friend, the wealthy William, a journalist, at a fashionable restaurant that same night and, to their astonishment, they see Oliver Hilditch and his wife come there to dine also. Before leaving, Hilditch extracts a promise from Ledsam that he will dine with him the following night.

CHAPTER III—At dinner with the Hilditches, Oliver shows Ledsam how he killed his victim and says his own death the same way would make his wife supremely happy. Returning home, Ledsam receives a phone call from Margaret, saying Oliver has been murdered.

CHAPTER IV—Ledsam gets the coroner to set Oliver's death down as suicide. Later on he admits to them that he has developed a keen interest in Margaret, the girl whose father, Sir Timothy Brast, the evil shepherd, who tells him a crime will be committed before they leave the cafe.

CHAPTER V—While leaving the restaurant and waiting for his car, a young couple attracts Ledsam's attention. The girl urges her partner, Oliver Hilditch, a young man-about-town, to go out into the fog and hail a taxi. He does so and is brought back, almost instantly, killed. The friends immediately connect Sir Timothy with the crime. In their own minds, but can find no facts on which to act. Shopland, Scotland Yard detective drawn into the case, asks Ledsam to call on Daisy Hydon, the girl in the taxi.

CHAPTER VI—Daisy tells Ledsam nothing much, except that her companion had led a pretty fast life and was trying to break away from his old evil company.

CHAPTER VII—By chance Francis meets Margaret and asks her permission to call, which she refuses. He tells her that he has her father's permission and Margaret begs him to have nothing to do with Sir Timothy, although she admits he is everything that is kind to her.

CHAPTER VIII—Just as Sir Timothy appears to be the murderer in the second act, he is shown as a suicide, admitting his guilt.

CHAPTER IX—Brast displays an unusual humane side to his character and mystifies Ledsam by it.

CHAPTER X—Francis is invited to dine with Brast at his cottage. Returning to his home, he finds an unfinished scrawl from the brother of William, asking aid, but ending abruptly. William then tells him his younger brother has been missing for days and that he fears harm has befallen him. Search for him proves unavailing.

CHAPTER XI—Under the influence of a lovely moon and the quiet of the river, Francis meets Margaret, and the latter does not resent it, although asking Francis to escort her back to her home. She tells Sir Timothy had taken Lady Cynthia to see the Waldoboro. The next morning Ledsam and finds Margaret had left before them. Francis admits that he wishes to marry Margaret.

CHAPTER XII—Continued
"Of course I should," he assured her. "Believe me, there isn't such an obstinate person in the world as the man of early middle age who suddenly discovers the woman he means to marry."

"But you can't marry me," she protested.

"Because I was Oliver Hilditch's wife, for one thing."

"Look here," he said, "if you had been Beelzebub's wife, it wouldn't make the least difference to me. You haven't given me much of a chance to tell you so yet, Margaret, but I love you."

"But how can you?" she exclaimed. "You know nothing of me except my associations, and they have been horrible. What is there to love in me? I am a frozen woman. Everything is dead here," she went on, clasping her hand to her heart. "I have no sentiment, no passion, nothing but an animal desire to live my life luxuriously and quickly."

He smiled confidently. "Then, with very little warning, he sank on one knee, drew her face to his, kissed her lips and then her eyes. 'Are you so sure of all these things, Margaret?' he whispered. 'Don't you think it is, perhaps, because there has been no one to care for you as I do—as I shall—to the end of my days? The life you left on your chair last night was like you—fair and stately and beautiful, but a little bruised. You will come back to the world. My love will bring you back. My care. Believe me, please!"

Then he saw the first signs of change in her face. There was the faintest shade of almost shell-like pink underneath the creamy-white of her cheeks. Her lips were trembling a little, her eyes were misty. With a sudden passion, he pressed his arms around her neck, her lips sought his of their own accord.

"Let me forget," she sobbed. "Kiss me . . . let me forget!" Francis' servant was both heavily-footed and discreet. When he entered the room with a tray, his master was standing at the sideboard.

"I've done the best I could, sir," he announced a little apologetically. "Shall I lay the cloth?"

"Leave everything on the tray, Brooks," Francis directed. "We will help ourselves. In an hour's time bring coffee."

The man glanced around the room. "There are glasses on the sideboard, sir, and the works are here. I think you will have everything you want."

He departed, closing the door behind him. Francis held out his hands to Margaret. She rose slowly to her feet, looked in the glass helplessly and then back at him. She was very beautiful, but a little dazed.

"Are we going to have lunch?" she asked.

"Of course," he answered. "Did you think I meant to starve you?"

He picked up the long envelope which she had dropped upon the carpet and threw it onto the sofa. Then he drew up two chairs to the table, and opened a small bottle of champagne.

"I hope you won't mind a picnic," he said. "Really, Brooks hasn't done so badly—pate de foie gras, hot toast and Devonshire butter. Let me spread some for you. A cold chicken afterward, and some strawberries. Please be hungry, Margaret."

She laughed at him. It occurred to him suddenly, with a little pang, that he had never heard her laugh before. It was like music.

"I'm too happy," she murmured. "Believe me," he assured her, "as he buttered a piece of toast, happiness and hunger might well be twins. They go so well together. Misery can take away one's appetite. Happiness, when one gets over the gulph of it, is the best tonic in the world. And I never saw anyone, dear, with whom happiness agreed so well," he added, pausing in his task to bend over and kiss her. "Do you know you are the most beautiful thing on earth? It is a lucky thing we are going to live in England, and that these are sober, matter-of-fact the ugly things. And now away with sentiment. I had a very excellent but solitary breakfast this morning, and it seems a long time ago."

"It seems amazing to think that you spent last night at the Sanctuary," she reflected.

"And that you and I were in a punt," he reminded her, "in the pool of darkness where the trees met, and the lilies leaned over to us."

"And you nearly upset the punt," "Nothing of the sort! As a simple matter of fact, I was very careful. But," he proceeded, with a sudden wave of memory, "I don't think my heart will ever beat normally again. It seemed as though it would tear its way out of my side when I leaned toward you, and you knew, and you lay still."

She laughed.

"You surely didn't expect I was going to get up? It was quite encouragement enough to remain passive. As a matter of fact," she went on, "I couldn't have moved. I couldn't have uttered a sound. I suppose I must have been like one of those poor birds you read about, when some devouring animal crouches for its last spring."

"Compliments already," he remarked. "You won't forget that my name is Francis, will you? Try and practice it while I carve the chicken."

"You carve very badly, Francis," she told him demurely.

"My dear," he said, "thank heavens we shall be able to afford a butler. By-the-by, I told your father this morning that I was going to marry you, and he didn't seem to think it possible because he had two million pounds."

"Brags!" she murmured. "When did you see my father?"

"He came to my rooms in the Temple soon after I arrived this morning. He seemed to think I might know where you were. I dare say he isn't like me, a son-in-law." Francis continued with a smile. "I can't help that. He shouldn't have let me go out with you in a punt."

There was a discreet knock at the door. Brooks made his apologies and somewhat troubled entrance.

"Sir Timothy Brast is here to see you, sir," he announced. "I ventured to say that you were not at home."

"But I happened to know otherwise," a still voice marked from outside. "May I come in, Mr. Ledsam?"

Sir Timothy stepped past the servant, who at a sign from Francis disappeared, closing the door behind him.

CHAPTER XIII
SIR TIMOTHY laid his hat upon the sideboard and slowly removed his gloves.

"I trust," he said, "that this pint bottle does not depress you, Mr. Ledsam. I will drink a glass of wine with you, and with your permission make myself a pate sandwich. I was just sitting down to luncheon when I received the information which brought me here."

Francis produced another bottle of wine from the sideboard and filled his visitor's glass.

"You will drink, I hope, to my happiness," he said.

"I shall do nothing of the sort," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself with care to the glass.

"I am not a person of breaking bread with an enemy, or I should not have asked you to visit me at the Sanctuary, Mr. Ledsam. I object to your marriage with my daughter, and I shall take what steps I can to prevent it."

"Sir Timothy did not at once reply. He seemed to be enjoying his sandwich; he also appreciated the flavor of his wine.

"Your question," he said, "strikes me as being a little ingenious. You are at the present moment suspecting me of crimes beyond number. You encourage Scotland Yard detectives to make assays of themselves in my stream. Your myrmidons scramble onto the top of my walls and try to bribe my servants. You are the master of my household. You have accepted to the fullest extent my volunteered statement that I am a patron of crime. You are, in short—forgive me if I help myself to a little more of this pate—engaged in a strenuous attempt to bring me to justice."

"None of these things affects your daughter," Francis pointed out.

"Pardon me," Sir Timothy objected. "You are a great and shining figure in the English law. People speak of you as a future chancellor. How can you contemplate an alliance with the widow of one criminal and the daughter of another?"

"As to Margaret being Oliver Hilditch's widow," Francis replied, "you were responsible for that, and no one else. He was your protégé; you gave your consent to the marriage. As to your being her father, that again is not Margaret's fault. I should marry her if Oliver Hilditch had been three times the devil himself."

"I am getting quite to like you, Mr. Ledsam," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself to another piece of toast and commencing to butter it.

"Margaret, what have you to say about all this?"

"I have nothing to say," she answered. "Francis is speaking for me. I never dreamed that after what I have gone through I should be able to care for any one again in this world. I do care, and I am very happy about it. Last night I lay awake, making up my mind to run away, and this morning I actually booked my passage to Buenos Aires. Then we met—just outside the steamship office—and I knew at once that I was making a mistake. I shall marry Francis exactly when he wants me to."

Sir Timothy passed his glass towards his proposed son-in-law. "Might one suggest," he began—"thank you very much. This is, of course, very upsetting to me. I seem to be set completely at defiance. It is very excellent wine, this, and a wonderful vintage."

Francis leaned over Margaret. "Please finish your lunch, dear," he begged. "It is perhaps just what you need. You are very tired. We will wait exactly where we are."

"Just so," Sir Timothy agreed. There was a queer constrained silence for several moments. Then Sir Timothy leaned back in his chair, and with a word of apology, lit a cigarette.

"Let us," he said, "consider the situation. Margaret is my daughter. You wish to marry her. Margaret is of age and has been married before. She is at liberty, therefore, to make her own choice. You agree with me so far, daughter, and you know, and you lay still."

She laughed.

"You surely didn't expect I was going to get up? It was quite encouragement enough to remain passive. As a matter of fact," she went on, "I couldn't have moved. I couldn't have uttered a sound. I suppose I must have been like one of those poor birds you read about, when some devouring animal crouches for its last spring."

"Compliments already," he remarked. "You won't forget that my name is Francis, will you? Try and practice it while I carve the chicken."

"You carve very badly, Francis," she told him demurely.

"My dear," he said, "thank heavens we shall be able to afford a butler. By-the-by, I told your father this morning that I was going to marry you, and he didn't seem to think it possible because he had two million pounds."

"Brags!" she murmured. "When did you see my father?"

"He came to my rooms in the Temple soon after I arrived this morning. He seemed to think I might know where you were. I dare say he isn't like me, a son-in-law." Francis continued with a smile. "I can't help that. He shouldn't have let me go out with you in a punt."

There was a discreet knock at the door. Brooks made his apologies and somewhat troubled entrance.

"Sir Timothy Brast is here to see you, sir," he announced. "I ventured to say that you were not at home."

"But I happened to know otherwise," a still voice marked from outside. "May I come in, Mr. Ledsam?"

Sir Timothy stepped past the servant, who at a sign from Francis disappeared, closing the door behind him.

CHAPTER XIII
SIR TIMOTHY laid his hat upon the sideboard and slowly removed his gloves.

"I trust," he said, "that this pint bottle does not depress you, Mr. Ledsam. I will drink a glass of wine with you, and with your permission make myself a pate sandwich. I was just sitting down to luncheon when I received the information which brought me here."

Francis produced another bottle of wine from the sideboard and filled his visitor's glass.

"You will drink, I hope, to my happiness," he said.

"I shall do nothing of the sort," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself with care to the glass.

"I am not a person of breaking bread with an enemy, or I should not have asked you to visit me at the Sanctuary, Mr. Ledsam. I object to your marriage with my daughter, and I shall take what steps I can to prevent it."

"Sir Timothy did not at once reply. He seemed to be enjoying his sandwich; he also appreciated the flavor of his wine.

"Your question," he said, "strikes me as being a little ingenious. You are at the present moment suspecting me of crimes beyond number. You encourage Scotland Yard detectives to make assays of themselves in my stream. Your myrmidons scramble onto the top of my walls and try to bribe my servants. You are the master of my household. You have accepted to the fullest extent my volunteered statement that I am a patron of crime. You are, in short—forgive me if I help myself to a little more of this pate—engaged in a strenuous attempt to bring me to justice."

"None of these things affects your daughter," Francis pointed out.

"Pardon me," Sir Timothy objected. "You are a great and shining figure in the English law. People speak of you as a future chancellor. How can you contemplate an alliance with the widow of one criminal and the daughter of another?"

"As to Margaret being Oliver Hilditch's widow," Francis replied, "you were responsible for that, and no one else. He was your protégé; you gave your consent to the marriage. As to your being her father, that again is not Margaret's fault. I should marry her if Oliver Hilditch had been three times the devil himself."

"I am getting quite to like you, Mr. Ledsam," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself to another piece of toast and commencing to butter it.

"Margaret, what have you to say about all this?"

"I have nothing to say," she answered. "Francis is speaking for me. I never dreamed that after what I have gone through I should be able to care for any one again in this world. I do care, and I am very happy about it. Last night I lay awake, making up my mind to run away, and this morning I actually booked my passage to Buenos Aires. Then we met—just outside the steamship office—and I knew at once that I was making a mistake. I shall marry Francis exactly when he wants me to."

Sir Timothy passed his glass towards his proposed son-in-law. "Might one suggest," he began—"thank you very much. This is, of course, very upsetting to me. I seem to be set completely at defiance. It is very excellent wine, this, and a wonderful vintage."

Francis leaned over Margaret. "Please finish your lunch, dear," he begged. "It is perhaps just what you need. You are very tired. We will wait exactly where we are."

"Just so," Sir Timothy agreed. There was a queer constrained silence for several moments. Then Sir Timothy leaned back in his chair, and with a word of apology, lit a cigarette.

"Let us," he said, "consider the situation. Margaret is my daughter. You wish to marry her. Margaret is of age and has been married before. She is at liberty, therefore, to make her own choice. You agree with me so far, daughter, and you know, and you lay still."

She laughed.

"You surely didn't expect I was going to get up? It was quite encouragement enough to remain passive. As a matter of fact," she went on, "I couldn't have moved. I couldn't have uttered a sound. I suppose I must have been like one of those poor birds you read about, when some devouring animal crouches for its last spring."

"Compliments already," he remarked. "You won't forget that my name is Francis, will you? Try and practice it while I carve the chicken."

"You carve very badly, Francis," she told him demurely.

"My dear," he said, "thank heavens we shall be able to afford a butler. By-the-by, I told your father this morning that I was going to marry you, and he didn't seem to think it possible because he had two million pounds."

"Brags!" she murmured. "When did you see my father?"

"He came to my rooms in the Temple soon after I arrived this morning. He seemed to think I might know where you were. I dare say he isn't like me, a son-in-law." Francis continued with a smile. "I can't help that. He shouldn't have let me go out with you in a punt."

There was a discreet knock at the door. Brooks made his apologies and somewhat troubled entrance.

"Sir Timothy Brast is here to see you, sir," he announced. "I ventured to say that you were not at home."

"But I happened to know otherwise," a still voice marked from outside. "May I come in, Mr. Ledsam?"

Sir Timothy stepped past the servant, who at a sign from Francis disappeared, closing the door behind him.

CHAPTER XIII
SIR TIMOTHY laid his hat upon the sideboard and slowly removed his gloves.

"I trust," he said, "that this pint bottle does not depress you, Mr. Ledsam. I will drink a glass of wine with you, and with your permission make myself a pate sandwich. I was just sitting down to luncheon when I received the information which brought me here."

Francis produced another bottle of wine from the sideboard and filled his visitor's glass.

"You will drink, I hope, to my happiness," he said.

"I shall do nothing of the sort," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself with care to the glass.

"I am not a person of breaking bread with an enemy, or I should not have asked you to visit me at the Sanctuary, Mr. Ledsam. I object to your marriage with my daughter, and I shall take what steps I can to prevent it."

"Sir Timothy did not at once reply. He seemed to be enjoying his sandwich; he also appreciated the flavor of his wine.

"Your question," he said, "strikes me as being a little ingenious. You are at the present moment suspecting me of crimes beyond number. You encourage Scotland Yard detectives to make assays of themselves in my stream. Your myrmidons scramble onto the top of my walls and try to bribe my servants. You are the master of my household. You have accepted to the fullest extent my volunteered statement that I am a patron of crime. You are, in short—forgive me if I help myself to a little more of this pate—engaged in a strenuous attempt to bring me to justice."

"None of these things affects your daughter," Francis pointed out.

"Pardon me," Sir Timothy objected. "You are a great and shining figure in the English law. People speak of you as a future chancellor. How can you contemplate an alliance with the widow of one criminal and the daughter of another?"

"As to Margaret being Oliver Hilditch's widow," Francis replied, "you were responsible for that, and no one else. He was your protégé; you gave your consent to the marriage. As to your being her father, that again is not Margaret's fault. I should marry her if Oliver Hilditch had been three times the devil himself."

"I am getting quite to like you, Mr. Ledsam," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself to another piece of toast and commencing to butter it.

"Margaret, what have you to say about all this?"

"I have nothing to say," she answered. "Francis is speaking for me. I never dreamed that after what I have gone through I should be able to care for any one again in this world. I do care, and I am very happy about it. Last night I lay awake, making up my mind to run away, and this morning I actually booked my passage to Buenos Aires. Then we met—just outside the steamship office—and I knew at once that I was making a mistake. I shall marry Francis exactly when he wants me to."

Sir Timothy passed his glass towards his proposed son-in-law. "Might one suggest," he began—"thank you very much. This is, of course, very upsetting to me. I seem to be set completely at defiance. It is very excellent wine, this, and a wonderful vintage."

Francis leaned over Margaret. "Please finish your lunch, dear," he begged. "It is perhaps just what you need. You are very tired. We will wait exactly where we are."

"Just so," Sir Timothy agreed. There was a queer constrained silence for several moments. Then Sir Timothy leaned back in his chair, and with a word of apology, lit a cigarette.

"Let us," he said, "consider the situation. Margaret is my daughter. You wish to marry her. Margaret is of age and has been married before. She is at liberty, therefore, to make her own choice. You agree with me so far, daughter, and you know, and you lay still."

She laughed.

"You surely didn't expect I was going to get up? It was quite encouragement enough to remain passive. As a matter of fact," she went on, "I couldn't have moved. I couldn't have uttered a sound. I suppose I must have been like one of those poor birds you read about, when some devouring animal crouches for its last spring."

"Compliments already," he remarked. "You won't forget that my name is Francis, will you? Try and practice it while I carve the chicken."

"You carve very badly, Francis," she told him demurely.

"My dear," he said, "thank heavens we shall be able to afford a butler. By-the-by, I told your father this morning that I was going to marry you, and he didn't seem to think it possible because he had two million pounds."

"Brags!" she murmured. "When did you see my father?"

"He came to my rooms in the Temple soon after I arrived this morning. He seemed to think I might know where you were. I dare say he isn't like me, a son-in-law." Francis continued with a smile. "I can't help that. He shouldn't have let me go out with you in a punt."

There was a discreet knock at the door. Brooks made his apologies and somewhat troubled entrance.

"Sir Timothy Brast is here to see you, sir," he announced. "I ventured to say that you were not at home."

"But I happened to know otherwise," a still voice marked from outside. "May I come in, Mr. Ledsam?"

Sir Timothy stepped past the servant, who at a sign from Francis disappeared, closing the door behind him.

CHAPTER XIII
SIR TIMOTHY laid his hat upon the sideboard and slowly removed his gloves.

"I trust," he said, "that this pint bottle does not depress you, Mr. Ledsam. I will drink a glass of wine with you, and with your permission make myself a pate sandwich. I was just sitting down to luncheon when I received the information which brought me here."

Francis produced another bottle of wine from the sideboard and filled his visitor's glass.

"You will drink, I hope, to my happiness," he said.

"I shall do nothing of the sort," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself with care to the glass.

"I am not a person of breaking bread with an enemy, or I should not have asked you to visit me at the Sanctuary, Mr. Ledsam. I object to your marriage with my daughter, and I shall take what steps I can to prevent it."

"Sir Timothy did not at once reply. He seemed to be enjoying his sandwich; he also appreciated the flavor of his wine.

"Your question," he said, "strikes me as being a little ingenious. You are at the present moment suspecting me of crimes beyond number. You encourage Scotland Yard detectives to make assays of themselves in my stream. Your myrmidons scramble onto the top of my walls and try to bribe my servants. You are the master of my household. You have accepted to the fullest extent my volunteered statement that I am a patron of crime. You are, in short—forgive me if I help myself to a little more of this pate—engaged in a strenuous attempt to bring me to justice."

"None of these things affects your daughter," Francis pointed out.

"Pardon me," Sir Timothy objected. "You are a great and shining figure in the English law. People speak of you as a future chancellor. How can you contemplate an alliance with the widow of one criminal and the daughter of another?"

"As to Margaret being Oliver Hilditch's widow," Francis replied, "you were responsible for that, and no one else. He was your protégé; you gave your consent to the marriage. As to your being her father, that again is not Margaret's fault. I should marry her if Oliver Hilditch had been three times the devil himself."

"I am getting quite to like you, Mr. Ledsam," Sir Timothy declared, helping himself to another piece of toast and commencing to butter it.

"Margaret, what have you to say about all this?"

"I have nothing to say," she answered. "Francis is speaking for me. I never dreamed that after what I have gone through I should be able to care for any one again in this world. I do care, and I am very happy about it. Last night I lay awake, making up my mind to run away, and this morning I actually booked my passage to Buenos Aires. Then we met—just outside the steamship office—and I knew at once that I was making a mistake. I shall marry Francis exactly when he wants me to."

Sir Timothy passed his glass towards his proposed son-in-law. "Might one suggest," he began—"thank you very much. This is, of course, very upsetting to me. I seem to be set completely at defiance. It is very excellent wine, this, and a wonderful vintage."

Francis leaned over Margaret. "Please finish your lunch, dear," he begged. "It is perhaps just what you need. You are very tired. We will wait exactly where we are."

"Just so," Sir Timothy agreed. There was a queer constrained silence for several moments. Then Sir Timothy leaned back in his chair, and with a word of apology, lit a cigarette.

"Let us," he said, "consider the situation. Margaret is my daughter. You wish to marry her. Margaret is of age and has been married before. She is at liberty, therefore, to make her own choice. You agree with me so far, daughter,

SARDINE CANNERIES

Being Investigated By a Federal Expert Hoping To Establish Better Methods.

The Washington Correspondent of the Express writes: An investigation is to be made by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, through Harry R. Beard, assistant technologist, of the sardine industry of Maine, for the purpose of devising plans whereby sardines can be packed and canned in a better manner than that of the present time and also at a lower cost.

Mr. Beard, who has for several years been stationed at the experimental laboratory, San Pedro, California, experimenting along this line for the government, developed plans which meet with the approval of the California sardine packers. Three plans, Mr. Beard tells the writer for the Evening Express, undoubtedly can be successfully carried out by the Maine sardine canners. Mr. Beard is arranging to go to Maine this summer and will explain the plans to the sardine packers. He will also spend next summer in Maine.

The principal difference between Maine and the California industry is the output in Maine is generally "quarter-oil," being small herring which meet with the approval of the sardine packers. While in California the pack consists almost entirely from four to ten large pilchards, or sardines, with tomato sauce, in fifteen-ounce flat oval cans, giving the so-called "pound oval," which is the standard size.

The usual method of preparation in Maine is to first lightly salt the fish (clupea harengus), or place them in brine, after which they are packed in cans, covered with oil or sauce, sealed, and next cooked and sterilized in hot water or steam.

California sardines (sardina caerulea) are usually binned, partially dried, pre-cooked in hot oil, cooled, packed into cans with the proper sauce and exhausted. After sealing the cans are packed in a water bath, and then partially dried by moving warm air. When cool, the fish are packed into cans, covered with oil or sauce, sealed, and next cooked and sterilized in hot water or steam.

The oil from the fish darkened the other oil. When fat fish were fried the increase was so rapid that in only a short time the oil was being used in a mixture largely made up of fish oil. This gave a peculiar odor and taste to the fish. The elimination of frying as a step in the preparation of sardines for canning was one of the first steps in the California method.

Fryburg has practically been eliminated in Maine because a steamed pack is much cheaper to prepare, teaming as done in Maine, is believed unsuitable for California use. In this investigation three methods of preparing the fish for making the "pound oval" pack were taken up. These methods were: teaming, cooking in brine and packing raw.

The preparation of fish for canning has been shown to be essentially a process of removing excess water from the fish and getting them into good physical condition for canning. Mr. Beard, who has made sardine teaming a thorough study for a number of years, will endeavor to show Maine canners how to bring their product up to a higher state of excellence at a less expense to which they are put at the present time. Sardine teaming in the United States is carried on in two localities, the coast of Maine and the coast of California from Monterey to San Diego. In 1923 over two and one-half million cases were packed, having a value close to $10,000,000.

It's Very Easy to get quality canned foods at a reasonable price if you say Hatchet Brand to your grocer. He knows we select the very finest yield of fruit and field and housewives know Hatchet Brand is in a class that feels no competition.

Let the Hatchet Brand Gardens supply your table the year around. Selected from the best, they cost no more than the rest. To make serving simple—

Always Ask For

HATCHET BRAND 150 Kinds

ROCKPORT

Rockport voters will have an opportunity to meet Ralph O. Brewster, Republican candidate for governor, at the postoffice Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the "whirlwind tour" reaches this town. Accompanying this much discussed candidate will be Senator Fernald, Congressman White, and the county candidates. The stay will be very brief as the tour will still have the southern half of the county to cover.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben York and son Eben, Jr., of Providence, R. I., are guests of his mother, Mrs. Ethel York.

Miss Minnie P. Shepherd of Boston is spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen Shepherd. The Nitsumsoom Club was very pleasantly entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hattie Spear. Refreshments were served.

Alfred Smith of Winthrop, Mass., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Tucker of Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Avilla Gordon of Minneapolis, were recent guests at Mrs. Calista Cole's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Goodwin and family of Providence, R. I., and guests of his sister, Mrs. Bert Lowell.

Miss Elsie Roberts is spending the week with friends in Bar Harbor.

Capt. Delmont C. Torrey and Miss Bessie Scott of North Deer Isle were guests of Capt. and Mrs. Emma Torrey Saturday.

Mrs. Everett E. F. Libby returned Friday from Castine, where she has been attending summer school.

Margaret, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lois Thorsen, died Saturday of diphtheria, after only a few days illness. She was an unusually bright and attractive child, and the parents have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. Interment was in Sea View cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Furbush, maid and chauffeur of Lynnfield, Mass., are guests at the Thorsen home. They were accompanied here by Mrs. Furbush's sister, Mrs. Ella Eaton, who has been spending several weeks in Boston and vicinity.

Miss Mabel Wall, who has been attending summer school at Boston University, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Withee and Miss Maxine Spofford have returned from Blanchard, where they were spending several days. They were accompanied by Mrs. Withee's mother, Mrs. Genie Simmons, who has been the guest of her son, Rev. G. L. Pressey in Portland, Me., and Mrs. Pressey are spending their vacation in Rockport and Camden.

Miss Ella Mackey entertained the Whist Club Friday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Harkness on West street, in honor of Miss Minnie P. Shepherd, who is spending a few days in town. A delicious picnic supper was served and the event was a most enjoyable one.

Fred J. Parsons, who has been spending several weeks at his home, left by Monday night's boat for Bangor.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward and son Miss Pearl White of Newton, Mass. and Mrs. Seaman Wilbur of Rosinville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett last week.

Miss Mildred Gaffman was the guest of Miss Clara Walker Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Webster Harriman and daughter returned Saturday to Bangor, after spending a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Berry.

Miss Florence Bowden of Marcellus, N. Y., and Miss Marion Weidman, were entertained at 6 o'clock dinner Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. F. Libby.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carroll and son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis and son Douglas have returned from an enjoyable outing at E. E. Thorsen's cottage, Lake Megunticook.

The Public Library is closed until further notice.

John Lane of Whitman, Mass., was calling on relatives in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Murphy and son Kenneth of Vineyard Haven, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Austin Winchester and Madam Winchester of Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Winchester of Martin's Point were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. St. Clair.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ridgwell of Mapleton are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ingraham.

The parlor of the Methodist parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding reception after dinner when Henry R. Condon and Miss Frances L. Young both of Brooksville, were united in marriage. The impressive double ring service was performed at 4 o'clock, by Rev. J. N. Palmer, little Miss Barbara Johnson acting as ring bearer. The bride was becomingly attired in blue, crepe de chine, with lace and flower trimmings and carried a bouquet of white asters. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Young, parents of the bride, Mrs. Elsie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stover of Belfast, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young of Brooksville, Miss Bernice Godding of Masardis, Miss Eva Palmer and Miss Elsie Braden. The groom is one of Brooksville's most enterprising young men, employed as draftsman in the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. The bride is a successful teacher. Congratulations are extended.

Thomaston County Fair, Wednesday, Aug. 20. If stormy, the next fair day. 99-100

EAST UNION

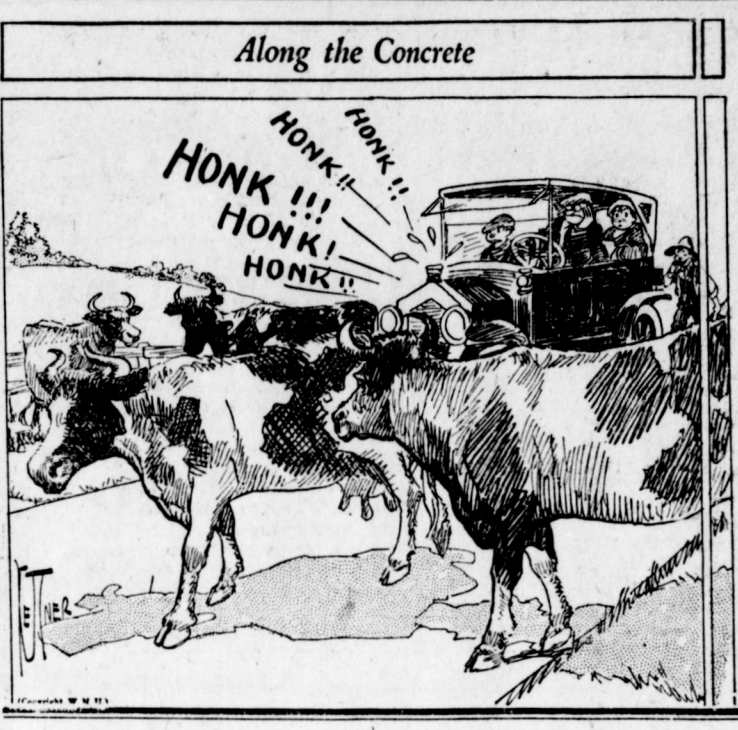

Miss Jessie Linkwater of Attleboro, Mass., was a recent guest of her aunt, Mrs. Louis Robinson.

Mrs. Amanda Spooner of Natick was a weekend caller of Mrs. Randall Robbins.

Mrs. Georgia Marden of Jefferson is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ethel Dornan.

Miss C. A. MacDowell made a trip to this place from Palermo Wednesday where she was the guest of Mrs. C. M. Payson and Mrs. Mary Robbins. Pioneer Garage resumed its meetings Thursday night after a recess of four weeks.

Agnes and Florence Gracie of South Union spent last week with their aunt, Mrs. Allen Young.

WARREN

Warren voters are duty bound to see Ralph O. Brewster, who was shown by the recent recount to have fairly received the Republican nomination for governor of Maine. He will be at the postoffice Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock (standard time) accompanied by Senator Bert M. Fernald, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., and the Republican county candidates. The party's stay will be brief as the entire county is being covered in the space of comparatively few hours.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

WARREN

Warren voters are duty bound to see Ralph O. Brewster, who was shown by the recent recount to have fairly received the Republican nomination for governor of Maine. He will be at the postoffice Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock (standard time) accompanied by Senator Bert M. Fernald, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., and the Republican county candidates. The party's stay will be brief as the entire county is being covered in the space of comparatively few hours.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

Mrs. Sidney Wyllie accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moody to their home in Waterville Sunday where she will make a week's visit.

John S. Cates and W. Frank Thomas motored to Vassalboro, Mass., in their motor car.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

DYER'S GARAGE

Rockland Dealer
Park Street

APPLETON RIDGE

The voters on Thursday will have an opportunity to see and shake hands with a group of Republican candidates, including Senator Bert M. Fernald, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., and Ralph O. Brewster, who won the nomination for governor, after a sensational contest. The county candidates will also take part in the tour, which will reach here at 9 a. m., standard time.

Rev. and Mrs. George Hamlin of Lewiston were at William Pittman's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Newbert and Chrystal Stanley were in Camden Wednesday.

C. M. Pert of South Montville spent Wednesday and Thursday at G. C. Stanley's.

Mr. Frank Barker has as guests his nephew, Henry S. Bullen of Chicago, and his brother Francis Stanley of Belfast.

John Ripley of Massachusetts is the guest of his brother Del.

Mr. Katie Whitney had as guests her niece and nephew, Flora and Terrance Young of Camden a part of last week.

W. M. Newbert and A. G. Pitman made a business trip to Union Saturday.

Hazel Perry and two sons and Harold Thompson and Truman Brown attended the pictures at Union Thursday.

Mrs. Evelyn Pitman and Mrs. Hazel Perry and children attended to Rehoboth picnic at Oakland Park Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sprawl and children were in Rockland Saturday. The Boy Scouts started out Friday for a week's camping. Nelson Moody and Robert Perry are the ones from the Ridge that have joined.

Mrs. Stella Snow of Detroit, Mich., Miss Arolyn Condon of Jamaica Plain, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Jr., and two children of Augusta, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Newbert.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wiley of Martin's Point and sister, Mrs. N. A. Hobbs of Medford, Mass., were guests of their brother Charles last week.

Chauncey Keene and Miss Julia Davis were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis.

Orvis Barker spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith.

Charles Wiley and Ezekiel Jones have been doing mason work for Dr. Clark at Walston and John Fuller at Tenant's Harbor.

Mrs. Norman Simmons of Friendship has returned to her home after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris.

Mrs. Alvah Harris is entertaining her sister for a few days.

Frank Wiley is repairing the chimney on Mrs. Hawkins house at Wiley's Corner that was damaged in the recent thunder storm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kellogg, Mrs. Cora Mordough and Miss Ethel Watts were callers here last Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Harris has returned from the hospital much improved in health.

Miss Mollie Henderson has returned to Boston after spending three weeks with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Giles.

Miss Irene Bond of Boston is the guest of her grandmother for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward and daughter Thelma of Lynn, Mass., are guests of Capt. O. A. Andrews.

Charlie Wincepaw has returned to his work in Framingham, Mass., after spending his vacation at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyle of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Watt.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

The Gyrotronic Traffic Plan

The rotary or gyrotronic traffic system, described by some experts as the most important traffic control system advanced, was originated by William Phelps Eno, the world authority on highway traffic regulation. The plan is this:

"A vehicle passing around a circle, oval or other form of centralized obstruction shall keep to the right of such obstructions."

Education Necessary

"It can be set down as a traffic axiom that familiarity by the public with the general highway traffic regulations is the key to effective and economical traffic management. There is no substitute. It is easy to control a trained army, but next to impossible to regulate a mob."

These are the conclusions of William Phelps Eno, a world authority on the subject of highway traffic regulation.

Mr. Eno believes that the subject of transportation is now of sufficient importance to justify the creation of a new department of the United States Government under a Secretary of Transportation. The Department would have three sub-divisions; land, water and air.

Mr. Eno believes the country needs a Federal Highway Traffic Act.

CUSHING

Miss Josephine Wing, a singer of New York, is spending her annual vacation in town, at H. L. Kilburn's.

Miss Ella Maloney of Chebeague Island and Portland is expected to arrive in town this week to visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Geyer motored to Damariscotta Sunday in the Miller car.

R. H. Pease is raking blueberries at Mrs. Arnold's farm. S. H. Olson is gathering D. T. Rivers' crop.

Mrs. Mary Crute who motored to Portland with her son Charles and wife enroute for their home in Pittsburgh, returned home by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bucklin and two children of Portland are guests of his father, Charles Bucklin. Mr. Bucklin is engineer of the first boat in Portland harbor.

Frank and Helena Sallinen are in Rockport taking blueberries.

Miss Umer generally took the following party to ride in his motor boat: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Thompson; Mrs. Fannie Stokes, Reading, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. James Ulmer, Mrs. Lottie Partridge, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Ulmer and Mrs. William Morse.

They visited Port Clyde, Bonner and Gay's Island, picnicking at the latter and passing a most enjoyable day.

Willie and Valpers Sallinen are at South Wadsworth with their aunt during vacation.

Dr. Hahn of Friendship is attending Mrs. Charles Mank, who remains quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Maloney, Jr., of Thomaston, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Maloney, E. K. Maloney and family and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Maloney motored to Augusta Sunday.

Thomaston County Fair, Wednesday, Aug. 20. If stormy, the next fair day. 99-100

SUMMER LOCAL MAILS

Time of Their Closing and Arrival at the Rockland Postoffice—All Mails Standard Time.

Under the heading "Train Mails" are included Boston, New York and points west; also the towns on the line of the Knox & Lincoln, as well as Union, Appleton, Washington, Liberty, South Hope, etc. Cut this out and hang it up for reference.

All trains are by standard time. The train and boat mails close at the Postoffice one-half hour earlier than the time mentioned below.

Train and Boat Mails—Daily

Arrive	Depart
4:30 A. M.	7:40 A. M.
9:35 A. M.	1:30 P. M.
11:40 A. M.	5:25 P. M.
3:35 P. M.	7:15 P. M.
8:25 P. M.

Train Mails—Sunday

Arrive	Depart
9:35 A. M.	5:25 P. M.

Camden, Lincolnville, Hope, Glen Cove and Rockport

Arrive	Depart
7:30 A. M.	5:30 P. M.
10:20 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
3:00 P. M.	8:30 P. M.

Vinalhaven

Arrive	Depart
8:30 A. M.	9:00 A. M.
2:30 P. M.	3:00 P. M.

North Haven, Stonington and Swans Island

Arrive	Depart
9:15 A. M.	12:45 P. M.

Matinicus and Cribhaven—Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday.

Arrive	Depart
5:30 P. M.	6:45 A. M.

Castine and Dark Harbor

Arrive	Depart
11:45 A. M.	9:00 A. M.
5:15 P. M.	3:00 P. M.

Rockville and West Rockport

Arrive	Depart
7:00 A. M.	12:00 Noon

Ash Point and Owl's Head

Arrive	Depart
7:30 A. M.	11:30 A. M.
2:30 P. M.	3:30 P. M.

South Thomaston Clark Island, Spruce Head

Arrive	Depart
8:30 A. M.	11:30 A. M.
11:30 A. M.	3:30 P. M.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

OLD-FASHIONED SWEETS

IS THERE ever a child who has not been made happy at a candy pull? Even grown-ups enjoy one. Let the little people have the kitchen during the winter occasionally to enjoy a real candy-pulling party.

Velvet Molasses Candy.—Take one cupful each of molasses and boiling water, three cupfuls of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of white vinegar; put on to boil. When the boiling point is reached add one half teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Boil until, when tried in cold water, it becomes brittle. Stir constantly during the last of the cooking. When nearly done add one-half cupful of melted butter and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of soda. Pour into a buttered pan and cool. When cool enough to handle, pull. While pulling, flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla, one-half teaspoonful of lemon extract and a few drops of peppermint or oil of wintergreen.

Sugared Popped Corn.—Put two tablespoonfuls of butter into a saucepan and, when melted, add two cupfuls of brown sugar and one-half cupful of boiling water. Bring to the boiling point and let boil sixteen minutes. Pour over two quarts of popped corn, stirring until each kernel is covered with the sugar.

Peanut Brittle.—Take one pound of granulated sugar, put into a smooth iron pan and place over the heat. Stir until it is melted to a sirup, taking care to keep the sugar stirred from the sides of the pan. When well-melted, add one quart of shelled

THOMASTON

The "whirlwind tour" of the Republican candidates is scheduled to reach this town at 4:15 Thursday afternoon. Because of the extent of territory to be covered the stay will be a brief one, and there will be no set speeches. In the party will be Senator Fernald, Congressman White, Ralph O. Brewster, candidate for governor, the county candidates, State Chairman Emery and others.

Bart Smalley who has been visiting Mrs. Clarence Robinson, returned to his home in Andover, Mass., Saturday.

Mrs. Will Hoffses of Quincy, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. E. L. Montgomery.

James A. Levensaler and Mrs. Mary Dingley of Boston motored down Monday. The former will spend the balance of the season here. Miss Marjorie Butler acted as chorister of the Baptist choir Sunday. A large congregation listened to a very interesting address on "Who is Jesus According to the Old and New Testament Scriptures?" by Mrs. Carl Gray of Omaha. The address showed Mrs. Gray to be thoroughly conversant with the Bible and an able teacher of its doctrines. Her hearers were not left in doubt as to her position in the controversy between the fundamentalists and modernists. The speaker was closely listened to and made an excellent impression.

The Georges National Bank officials are having their doors and windows dressed with a coat of paint.

Mrs. Walter Johnson and daughter returned to Chicago Monday. The presence of a few cases of infantile paralysis in town and vicinity shortened her stay.

Mrs. Frank Beverage who has been visiting her son Frank, in Rockland, is at home.

Miss Myrna Copeland spent a day in Boston recently.

Miss Florence Hyler and friend, Mr. Cowan, of Portland, who spent a week with Miss Alida Hyler, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Watts and daughter Faustina of Haverhill, Mass., and Viram Watts of North Andover, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watts, High street.

The Public Library will be closed next Wednesday evening.

Miss Viola Smith of Portland is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Marian Orne of Pleasant Point was a visitor of Mrs. Minnie Newbert Monday.

W. H. Benner of Worcester, is with his sister, Mrs. A. B. Curing for a few weeks.

Edward Shibles of New York and his sister, Mrs. F. Belle French of Worcester, are at their summer home, West Main street.

Mrs. S. W. Jameson was the guest of Mrs. Helen Bryant at the Hill Top Inn, Warren, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maynard returned to Watertown Monday.

Mrs. Mary Bunker and Miss Rose Merrifield and friend spent a few days in camp at South Pond last week.

Mrs. Fred Overlock and Miss Edith Wilson went to Portland Monday.

Carl E. Regan of the Boston police force, is the guest of Mrs. Nellie McCoy.

Miss Florence Hyler and Mrs. Lillian Cowan of Portland, who were vacation guests of Miss Alida Hyler, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren and Madeline Huston of Waterville have returned home, after spending a week with Mrs. W. P. Strong.

Robert E. McLean and Son launched the boat "Elsie" from their shop to tide water a distance 700 feet or more Monday. The boat was set on shoes made of logs and drawn by eight horses. The route was via Thatcher street to the J. O. Cushing & Co. dock. The time required for the job was four hours.

The Camp Wapello boys will stage another performance of "Love Gloves" at Watts hall, Aug. 25, by popular request.

Master John Singer is improving. He has been brought from the second floor to the first one which brings him nearer to earth where John delights to be.

The funeral service of Miss Helen Jameson was held at her late home Wednesday afternoon. There was a very large attendance. Rev. Mr. Rounds of Rockland officiated. The bearers were Forrest and Stanley Maynard, brothers-in-law.

Miss Edith, a friend of Dr. C. Harold Jameson, and Donald Karl of Rockland, the tender regard in which Helen was held was manifested in the profusion of flowers contributed by many friends.

Albert T. Gould has joined Mrs. Gould at the family home for the season.

County Fair Notes

All cars entered in the morning parade please report at the prison at 10 a. m. sharp. This is the very urgent request of the parade committee. It takes some time to marshal the parade, and it must start punctually at the advertised hour, 10:30 daylight time, or the entire day's program is put back. The route this year will be down Main to Pine, Pine to Gleason, up Gleason to Knox, back to Main, and return by Knox to the prison.

The management of the County Fair had a delightful surprise last week when they received the gift of 100 small dolls in great variety, all beautifully dressed by hand, from one of the fair's most loyal and generous supporters. These dolls will be exhibited through the day Wednesday on a special table, and will go on sale at very moderate prices immediately after the afternoon entertainment.

Have you seen the beautiful big doll which is to be sold at the Fair? It is probably the handsomest ever sold about here.

The afternoon "Parade of the Nations" is scheduled to come up School street at 2:30, proceed down Main as far as Green street, return to the Mall and march around it once before disbanding. During the parade hour automobiles will make the short detour from Knox to Wadsworth street. In order that cars parked along the route may not test off the view from the Mall and sidewalk,

Thomaston County Fair, Wednesday, Aug. 29. If stormy, the next fair day.

Almost an unbelievable fact what Proprietor Treggett of the Corner Drug Store says. FAIRYFOOT Bunion Plasters make bunion pains disappear almost instantly—besides they guarantee they do—adv.

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette is a salesman, visiting three times a week the homes of this vicinity and soliciting business for its advertisers.

REPUBLICAN WHIRLWIND TOUR of Knox County

THURSDAY, AUG. 21, Daylight Time

The schedule given below will be adhered to throughout, opening at HOPE, 9.30 A. M.

APPLETON, 10.00 A. M.
WASHINGTON, 10.30 A. M.
UNION, 11.00 A. M.
CAMDEN, 12 (noon) at Opera House
ROCKPORT, 2.00 P. M.
TENANT'S HARBOR, 3.30 P. M.
THOMASTON, 4.15 P. M.
FRIENDSHIP, 5.00 P. M.
WARREN, 6.00 P. M.

Grand Evening Rally

ARCADE, Rockland at 8.30

Preceded by Band Concert, Rockland Band, Beginning at 7.30.

THURSDAY, Aug. 21, IS THE DAY

Speakers will include Hon. Ralph O. Brewster, Republican Candidate for Governor; U. S. Senator Bert M. Fernald; Congressman Wallace H. White and others. The County Candidates will be in the party.

BE ON HAND EARLY AT THE SPECIFIED PLACES

REAPPEARING
By Popular Request
Camp Wapello's Musical Success
"LOVE GLOVES"
WATTS HALL, THOMASTON
Monday Evening, Aug. 25
Dancing After the Performance

no parking will be permitted on Main street from School to Green between 1:30 and the end of the parade, but convenient parking places near will be reserved.

Do not fail to see the 100 beautifully dressed small dolls to be sold at the County Fair at Thomaston next Wednesday. An excellent opportunity to buy gifts for next Christmas.

The tax collector of Thomaston will be at the selection's office Tuesday evenings until further notice to receive taxes for 1924.

CAMDEN
The Republican campaign in this town will open at noon Thursday, when the voters will have an opportunity to meet Senator Bert M. Fernald, Congressman Wallace H. White, Congressman Emery, County Chairman E. K. Gould and the Knox county member of the State committee, E. A. Robbins of Camden. The stop is necessarily a brief one, so that there will be no long speeches. The rally is rather in the nature of a get-acquainted meeting, and the voters will doubtless improve the opportunity.

The Good Time Club met Thursday evening with Mrs. Kate Sherman. A delicious picnic supper was served out-of-doors. Music caused the evening to pass pleasantly. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blank and daughters Viola and Edna of Brooklyn, N. Y., were out-of-town guests.

Miss Edith Hopkins of Boston is the guest of her mother and sisters.

Mrs. A. U. Daugherty and little daughter Eleanor left Monday for Glen Falls, N. Y., for a month's visit.

Mrs. J. T. Sawyer and daughter Evangeline of Boston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Staples.

Peter McGrath is down from Boston for a visit with his family.

Bear in mind the fair to be held at the Methodist vestry tomorrow. Good things to eat and to wear, useful articles and beautiful embroidered articles suitable for gifts may be found there. The sale opens at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Strong accompanied by Miss G. L. Neely and Miss Mary E. Bartlett are enjoying a motor trip to Houlton and Calais.

Mrs. W. L. Tyler is spending the week at Bayside.

Mrs. Adelia Munroe has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mullen in Lincolnville.

Mrs. Harvey Peabody of Bar Harbor was the guest of Mrs. A. R. Hallford last week.

Mrs. David French and daughter are guests of friends in Oldtown.

Tobias Smalley of Rockland is visiting his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Good.

Julia Burgess, widow of Gresham Burgess, died Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. O. Montgomery, aged 74 years. Funeral services were held Monday, Rev. Ralph H. Hayden officiating.

Thomaston County Fair, Wednesday, Aug. 29. If stormy, the next fair day.

Almost an unbelievable fact what Proprietor Treggett of the Corner Drug Store says. FAIRYFOOT Bunion Plasters make bunion pains disappear almost instantly—besides they guarantee they do—adv.

Fuller-Cobb-Davis
announce their

Annual Sale of Fine Furs
During July and August
Rockland, Maine

TENANT'S HARBOR

This village is on the line of the whirlwind tour which the Republicans will make Thursday, and those who gather at the postoffice at 2:30 (standard time) will have an opportunity to see Ralph O. Brewster, the Republican candidate for governor, who has recently been the storm center of the sensational recount. With him will be Senator Fernald, Congressman White and the county candidates. The meeting will be a short one, for the purpose of shaking hands and getting acquainted.

Jos. McNeil returned to Attleboro, Mass., Sunday after visiting his father, J. F. McNeil of Thomaston and his grandmother, Mrs. Ann Long of this place.

Mrs. Belle Clark and two children of West Somerville, Mass., are guests of her mother, Mrs. Lydia Hathorn.

Mrs. David Sumner's mother of Dorchester, Mass., was called here last week by the illness of Capt. Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. Royden Kirk of Medford Hills, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Mary J. Hart.

Mrs. Emma Dwyer of Whitman, Mass., is occupying her late mother's home during her vacation here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Crockstock of West Somerville, Mass., returned to their home Saturday, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Emma Torrey.

Nearly $400 was cleared at the church fair held Aug. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grant have returned to their home in West Somerville, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

Albert Smith returned to his home in West Somerville, Mass., Sunday after spending his vacation with his wife and family at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fuller of Attleboro, Mass., are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller.

ANOTHER BIG PARADE

North Haven Will Celebrate Friday—Children's Hospital Benefits.

On Friday, Aug. 22, it is planned to dedicate the fountain erected by the Village Improvement Society in honor of the ex-service men of the town. The dedication ceremony will be preceded by a parade led by the North Haven band, and will start at 1 o'clock. All units should be in place ready to start on time. All ex-service men in town are invited to take part whether members of the North Haven post or not; and it is hoped that other members of the post now residing elsewhere will arrange to return for this occasion. The band will form in front of Library hall, followed in line up the ex-service men. Other units on foot will fall in directly in their rear. Following the detachments on foot will come automobiles containing those veterans of the Grand Army of Vinalhaven and North Haven who are able to attend. Sons of Veterans, town officials, Ladies of the Auxiliary and families of the members of the Post. People having autos are urged to decorate them and take part in the parade. A detail from the Vinalhaven Company of the Coast Artillery will be present.

Official word has also been received that Eagle Boats 42 and 46, attached to the First Naval District will be in the harbor, and will be represented in the line of march by a shore detail. The Eagles are under Commander John Nelson of the First District Brigade, and weather permitting they will arrive Friday forenoon, and be open to visitors. The boats are patrol craft 200 feet in length and were built on the Great Lakes during the war. They carry 2 four-inch guns and one three-inch anti-aircraft gun, and have a war complement of 64 men and officers.

The parade will go as far as the Grammar School building and then return and form in front of the fountain and listen to the dedication exercises. Those riding in cars will see and hear to better advantage if they leave their seats and form in front of the fountain as so.

The dedication will be followed by a fair held for the joint benefit of the North Haven Baptist church and for the Children's Hospital of Boston where seven beds are maintained by North Haven. Seven hundred dollars of the profit goes to the Hospital and all above that to the church. This is the first time that the church fair and the Hospital benefit have been combined and naturally it will be the largest and most interesting thing of the kind ever held here. Summer visitors and native residents are working hard together to make the day one long to be remembered in North Haven.

Automobile owners are urged to extend a hearty welcome to all visitors and guests of the day and take them for rides around the island.

Grade and rural schools will be open for the fall term, Tuesday, Sept. 2. High School will begin Sept. 9th.

Senator Fernald, Congressman White, Ralph O. Brewster, candidate for governor, and the Republican nominees on the county ticket will visit this town at 10 a. m. (standard time) Thursday, stopping for a few moments at the postoffice.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

Those of the Ingraham family who are in the town, which is to be held this year at the Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove, rain or shine, on Thursday of this week. Miss Kathleen Singh is in charge of the program and the family tree and other things of historical interest will be on exhibition. The street cars stop practically at the door and no one need bring dishes or tableware as all are provided there.

Frank H. Ingraham, Pres.

CLEAN COUNTY FAIRS

Are Urged By Gov. Baxter —Indicates Some Objectionable Features.

Clean fairs for Maine are urged by Gov. Baxter, who on Saturday issued this statement:

"For four years I have visited many county and State fairs in every section of Maine, and as the 'Fair' season now is opening, I urge those in charge of these exhibitions to eliminate all objectionable and sensational features.

"Most of our fairs are a credit to their management while others apparently to obtain a revenue, allow things to be done upon their grounds that have a demoralizing effect upon our people. Such things are to be regretted.

"There are fairs where it is an affront to decent citizens, who take their families out for a day's wholesome amusement, to be obliged to walk by stands on which are grouped half clad women and offensive men who seek to entice the curious into their side shows.

"Deformities, whether human or animal should not be exhibited, for they cater to depraved tastes. There are so many useful and attractive exhibits to be shown from which stimulate healthful competition that it is a shame to bring in those that are actually immoral and revolting.

"It is time that some of our fairs had a house cleaning. I do not believe that it is necessary for any management to license questionable exhibits in order to make a fair a success. If success depends upon such exhibits, it is better to close the fairs.

"Great credit is due to the management of fairs who place a ban upon anything that is suggestive or offensive, and I congratulate such management upon the success which they have achieved and upon the confidence in which the public holds them.

"I should be especially pleased to see the 'pulling' contests eliminated. Oftentimes splendid horses and oxen are strained to the last degree and severely injured in the heat and excitement of these contests. What great sport can it be to see one team drag a load 100 pounds heavier than another, when by doing so faithful animals are driven to such a point that the state is forced to have humane agents on the scene to protect them from being hurt.

"There are so many worth while things, and 'pulling' contests, if eliminated, should not be missed."

STRAND THEATRE

Edith Glynn makes an interesting reply to those critics who have attacked her novel, "Three Weeks," the film version of which is being presented today. I have often been condemned as an immoral writer. Now this is not American justice. I challenge anyone carefully to read every word of "Three Weeks" with an open mind, not with the determined idea to search for sensuality, and then see if he can find a single sentence taken with its context and meaning, which can be construed as a single place where the Lady's words were not to elevate Paul's brain, and his soul, an idiom him, as they did, into a thinking, responsible being of use to his country. "Three Weeks" was adapted from Mrs. Glynn's famous novel.

George Arliss is the star of "320 a Week," which comes for Wednesday and Thursday. He has in his support such stage and screen celebrities as Taylor Holmes, Edith Roberts and Ronald Colman. Also there is a wonderful child actor named Joseph Donohue, six years old and chock full of pep. Forrest Halsey, who has written all of the Arliss stories and recently has provided the scripts for Gloria Swanson and Rodolph Valentino, made "320 a Week" from a magazine story by Edgar Franklin. Arliss takes the role of a millionaire retired steel man who has a spendthrift son. He cuts off the boy with $20 a week spending money just about the time the boy was contemplating marrying a rich girl, daughter of a former partner of his father. The millionaire decides it is only fair to do himself what he is forcing his son to do, so he arranges to get a job as bookkeeper at a steel plant—the one owned by son's fiancée and her brother. With this as a start the story moves rapidly through a series of comedy situations and sterner conspiracies. The boy makes good as a $20 a week man with a bang and the father, through his pitiful little job, finds himself enabled to save the fortune of the girl his son wants to marry—adv.

It's For Piles
Peterson's Ointment

"Hundreds of people have told me," says Peterson, "that Peterson's Ointment is the quickest and best remedy for piles in the world." For chafing, eczema, old sores, sore feet, sunburn, windburn, mosquito bites, cuts, burns and bruises there is nothing better. B.G. box, 35 cents. 94-T-Th-S-F

TRACING LOST CARS

Probably You Too Have Often Wondered How
They Keep Track of 'Em.

"How do you keep track of all your freight cars?" asked a Courier-Gazette reporter of Agent Henry E. Comins, the other day. The question was inspired by the presence in the local yard of cars which belonged to many railroads all over the country.

"Well it is quite a problem," admitted Mr. Comins.

There is a system, however, of tracing cars, and it is an intricate one, but works so successfully that it is said that a lost box car is now unknown on an American railroad. To keep track of the perambulations of freight cars is one of the most intricate problems of the American railroads. One month a car may be grinding along through the sand of the south, the next it may be shoving its way through a Canadian blizzard. It rumbles along between the farm and the city, between the factory center and the seaport, now swinging out to the western grain fields, again swinging unloading in the east, or taking its place in a through train for the Gulf. It may be gone from its home line for several years at a time, wandering from system to system, from coast to coast, ever seeking new roadbeds to explore.

In spite of the difficulty of the task of keeping tabs on such a wanderer, a lost boxcar is unknown on American railroads. Superintendents know where to find every one of their cars. They know when cars left their own lines, what they were loaded with, what their destination was, the route they took and the time they started back home. The man in the street may think that all of the freight cars are lost half of the time, or half of them are lost all the time. If he will step into any railroad car record office and ask the whereabouts of a certain car, he will get the correct information with no more delay than it takes to consult a book.

It is essential to railroad management to know where their cars are. Only by keeping accurate records of car movements can they tell if the cars are loaded and unloaded promptly, if they are piling up sufficient mileage and if they are properly routed. Then, too, the railroad receives a fixed sum from other lines for each day one of its cars is on the foreign system. Frequently, too, the legal department may win an important case by being able to prove that a certain car was or was not at a certain place at a certain time. Accurate knowledge of where cars are is also demanded by shipper who want to know when their products will be delivered or when a shipment of raw material will reach their mills.

To meet these demands American railroads have developed an elaborate system of car movement record-keeping, which is being used by the train conductors out on the road. The conductor who moves a train makes a report of the number and the initials of the cars in its makeup.

These reports are made on large sheets. Opposite the number and the letters of each car there are spaces for telling whether the car is a box, refrigerator, tank, stock, flat, gondola, coal or coke car; whether or not it is loaded and what it contains, the point of shipment, the hour it left and its destination. When the cars pass to a foreign line at a junction point the car accountant of the foreign line supplies the home line car accountant with the date the car arrived on that line and the date it left to return to its home tracks or to go to another system.

The complete information about each car, when entered on these sheets, appears in a single line extending horizontally across the page. When the sheets reach the car record office they are put up by the hundred into a cutting machine, which cuts them horizontally into slips, each slip containing the information about a single car. These slips are then handed to a large force of girl clerks, who enter them according to the roads to which the cars belong, as indicated by their initials.

All of the slips giving information about Great Northern cars are placed in one slot, those about the Santa Fe in another, and so on. These sorted slips are then given to another set of clerks who keep the records of the continuous car movements in huge books, each clerk handling those of one railway system. The information thus secured and classified tells the location of any car at any time and forms its continuous history. Officials can tell where their cars are, where they have been, how much of their time they have spent on the home line, and how much on foreign lines.

WASHINGTON

Republican candidates who are to be voted on Sept. 8, will visit this town Thursday forenoon at 9.30 standard time, stopping for a few moments at the postoffice to chat with the voters and shake hands.

Know the tremendous pulling power of Courier-Gazette ads.

EVERYTHING MUSICAL

We Have For

PIANOS

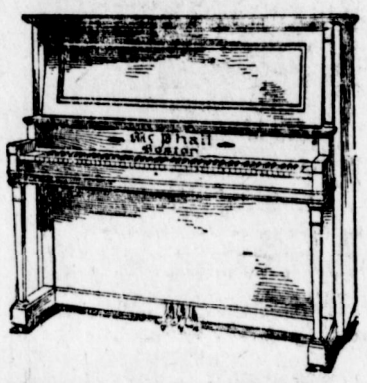

Standard Makes

Ivers & Pond

Merrill

Francis Bacon

McPhail

POPULAR SHEET MUSIC 20c AND 25c

Accordions, $4 to $100	Mandolins, $4 to $25
Auto Harps, $7 to $12	Metronomes, $4.50 to $7
Brief Cases, $3 to $7	Music Cases $1.50 to $20
Clarinets, $35 to $85	Music Stands, $1 to $2.75
Chinese Gongs, $4.50	Music Rolls, $1 to $3.75
Cornets, $15 to $100	Saxophones, $85 to $200
Drum Traps, $30 to $100	Strings for all Instruments
Harmonicas, 15c to $2.00	Violins, Violin Bows
Harmonica Holders, 50c

V. F. STUDLEY INC.

Telephone 713. ROCKLAND. 283 Main St.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Miss Ruth Davis of Boston was the guest of her brother Albert last week.

Mrs. Lilla G. Combs has a wonderful new Laund-dri-ette washing machine which washes the clothes, wrings and dries them, all by electricity. Her son Harold G. Combs is agent for this machine and has demonstrated several about town. Mrs. Lafolia Barlow and grandson Raymond Whiting, of Flint, Mich., who have visited her aunt, Mrs. Susan Butler for several weeks, have gone to East Hartford, Conn., where she will visit Mrs. Annie Blanchard. Next Friday night the regular supper and dance of the Village Improvement Society occurs. The Grange hall has been beautifully decorated for the occasion and many novelties in dances will be introduced, such as moonlight dance, balloon dance, etc. Al Marsh's orchestra is giving fine satisfaction at these popular dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sleeper motored to Portland and Old Orchard Monday.

Charles Snow of Cambridge, Mass., was again the weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snow.

Miss Helena Pierce is nursing the little daughter of Harold Cannon in Rockland, ill with infantile paralysis. Preparations are being made to build a new stone bridge over the Stanton Brook. A temporary bridge has already been built on the lower side of the present one. This is a much needed improvement as the brook rises to such a height both spring and fall as to overflow the road and destroy the road bed, the present watercourse being much too narrow.

Reed & Davis of Exeter, N. H., have bought the Arthur Dennison wood lot and have a crew of men chopping there now.

Robert Grierson who is engaged in the automobile trucking business is developing a side line of repair work which promises to push his other business aside as he does excellent work.

Charles Watts and family are camping in the cottage formerly occupied by the late Fred Dow. Sunday was a great day for fish dinners judging from the parties at Wessaweskeag Inn, where nearly 100 people were served.

The church fair went over with a bang Friday. In the afternoon there was a sale of fancy articles, etc., with these committees in charge: Fancy work, aprons and flr pillows, Mrs. Bertha Holbrook and Miss Susie Sleeper; candy, Mesdames Nettie Kittredge and Eva Slater; lemonade, Mesdames Ella Wattle and Lilla G. Combs. At 5 o'clock a delicious supper of baked beans, salads, cakes, pies, pickles, doughnuts and coffee was served to a large crowd by Miss Louise Butler, Mrs. Hattie Jackson, Mrs. Janie Fullerton, Mrs. Ethel Harrington, Mrs. Mary Young, Mrs. Emily Watts, Mrs. Jennie Clark, Mrs. Bernice Sleeper, Mrs. Helen Rackliff, Mrs. Hattie Mahoney and Mrs. Lillian Levitt. In the evening a very enjoyable program was furnished by local and Rockland artists assisted by Prof. Wilbert Snow in readings from his books and Mrs. Nettie Kittredge of Flushing, N. Y., in vocal solos. The result was a high class entertainment which was received warmly. About $113 was added to the treasury of that worthy organization known as the Ladies' Aid.

EAST APPLETON

Harry A. Gushee has returned to Boston, after a week's vacation here.

Mrs. Arthur Bliss and Mrs. Foster of Winterport are at the "Squirrel's Nest" Camp.

Mark Ames returned to Thomdike Saturday after a few days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ames.

Albert Gushee still remains very ill.

Mrs. Arthur Bliss visited in Thomdike recently.

The Ames family enjoyed a reunion at the pond shore recently.

Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Union and daughters, Mrs. Burrill of New York City and Mrs. Griffin of Union were present. A "hot dog" roast was enjoyed. Hot coffee was served, while boating and swimming were enjoyed by the younger members of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Keller were recent guests at Camp Squirrel's Nest.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ames and family and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill were in Rockland and Thomdike Friday.

The Boy Scouts are camping at "The Oaks," East Sennebec shore. Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Cook of Rochester, N. H., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Ames.

Rev. L. P. Cook occupied the pulpit of his former church here Sunday. His many friends were glad to hear him once more.

MARTINSVILLE

The Circle Fair held at the Grange hall on Wednesday was very successful, having a large attendance both Saturday and evening.

Miss Mollie Henderson who has been the guest of her mother for the past three weeks, has returned to Boston.

Mr. Cummings and daughter and Miss Williams of East Orange, N. J., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Adriance.

Harold Hupper motored to East Edgerton on Sunday with Mrs. French and daughter Mildred, who have been spending the summer at the Morrison cottage.

New arrivals at the Wayside are: Mr. and Mrs. Templeton of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hester of Maryland and Miss Eunice Brown of Hemstead, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Clark have returned to Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Adriance and family took a trip to Monhegan Friday.

Miss Elizabeth Harris has returned from Castine where she attended summer school.

Donald Marshall of West Somerville, Mass., is in town for a few weeks.

Eugene Allen of Atlantic City, who has been taking a course at Harvard summer school, is a guest of his aunt, Mrs. M. J. Harris.

NORTH HAVEN

Mrs. Louise M. Upham of Rockport spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. H. T. Crockett.

The Whitmore reunion met at the Union hall last Wednesday for a very enjoyable day.

Miss Frances Young of Vinahaven, who is employed at M. G. Perry's has been home on a week's vacation.

Miss Maud Smith of Rockland is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Lewis.

Mrs. Charles D. Norton is expected soon to spend a month.

Avery Whitmore of Bangor is in town visiting relatives.

Mrs. Edward Howard of Eagle was in town last week visiting friends and relatives.

D. A. Whitmore has recently built a small boat for Frank Benson.

Walter Quinn is gaining quite rapidly and is now able to be dressed and sits up most of the time.

George L. McCabe, manager of McCabe & Co., nursery stock house of Bangor, was in town last week.

Mrs. Elisha Thayer and son Dana of Warren was in town Wednesday the guest of her mother, Mrs. Flora Whitmore.

Every issue of The Courier-Gazette is a sales place for the homes of this vicinity and soliciting business for its advertisers.

DISHONESTY'S COST

Over $3,300,000,000 Stolen
From the American People
Every Year.

[From the Congressionalist]

Dishonesty has become one of the most alarming problems in the United States. In his new book, "Be Square," William Bryon Forbush gives some figures which he says represent the annual losses to the American people through theft and fraud. Over three billions of dollars in a year! To this must be added the cost of policemen, courts and judges, jails and prisons, and the loss to the country in idle convicts, which are estimated at five billions additional each year. A total of eight billions—enough to pay the German reparations indemnity in a few years, enough to pay the current expenses of any three Governments, enough to educate every child in this country—so Mr. Forbush estimates. But see the dishonesty statistics table:

Stock frauds, land frauds, and confidence games	$2,000,000,000
Burglary and theft	$25,000,000
Embezzlement and defalcations	125,000,000
Graft and looting the public domain	200,000,000
Fraudulent bankruptcy and credit swindles	100,000,000
Bad debts owing merchants	150,000,000
Forgery and worthless checks	125,000,000
Piracy and seaborne robbery	25,000,000
	$3,300,000,000

It is estimated that some act of theft or treachery is committed in less than every nine minutes, day and night, perpetually, in America. Before the World War insurance companies estimated that there were three burglaries to every fire; now, the ratio is seven burglaries to every fire. In one year one automobile out of every thirty owned in New York City was stolen; in Chicago, one out of every twenty-two.

In ten years the ratio of automobile thefts to the total valuation has increased five or six times, we are told; and surety companies are paying six times as much as ten years ago for embezzlements, and for burglaries, twelve times. Of the thousands of articles lost and found how many are returned? How much selling of worthless goods by misrepresentation should be, but is not added to the tabulated dishonesty record?

A dealer in perfume, who had advertised for boy agents, consigned packages to one thousand boys. Six hundred of them did not return the goods, and refused to answer letters.

Cheating in school examination has become so common that it is practically universal, Mr. Forbush declares.

Mr. Forbush, in "Be Square," presents a constructive text book on honesty, with stimulating precept and example from life.

Last year Mr. Forbush prepared "The Honesty Book" for the National Surety Company, of New York, in whose behalf William B. Joyce founded the National Honesty Bureau, a splendid book which was used in a campaign of education throughout the country. Parents, children, teachers, pastors, social workers and business men should be able to use "The Honesty Book" and "Be Square" (Scribner's 88 cents) to good advantage. They state the alarming facts; they prove that honesty pays, that dishonesty does not pay, and almost certainly leads to trouble. The incidents cited are pertinent and convincing.

It is not difficult to discover some of the causes of the present prevalence of dishonesty. We may blame the war's aftermath for some of it. Home laxity and lack of definite home training in honesty are seriously involved. Cheap, sensational newspapers, with over-emphasis upon crime, dishonesty, and every kind of devilry, have made wrong-doing seem to be a pastime. The automobile has added temptations and zest to the youthful seeker after excitement; it has also facilitated escape for the worst criminal and for the novice in theft and other lawlessness. Men and women rated as respectable citizens are violating the prohibition laws, by trick and fraud and rank dishonesty, and they are boasting about it in the presence of our impressionable youth. All law becomes less binding upon the "scoundrel" and those who come under his influence.

What a challenge to the church, to the Christian home, to the leaders and teachers of youth! Especially must we go back to the home. If we are neglecting our children and leaving their ethical training to the movies, and the comics and crime news of the Hearst newspapers, is it not about time that we made a new start? Is it the religious education program in your church meeting this problem?

We can never get away from honesty as a virtue essential to civilization. Its breakdown destroys business, government, and society, for all are founded upon confidence, credit, and obedience to law—the practical application of honesty. If it is breaking down, some of us are negligent. We must live our Christian religion and more definitely guide and guard our children and other less fortunate children, that they may be taught and trained in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." In other words, we must give our attention to religious education and training in Christian ethics. A crisis is upon us which brooks no delay.

ATLANTIC

G. M. White and F. K. White of Newton Centre, Mass., J. W. Rodie of Auburn, Wayne Clark of Natick, Mass., B. T. Brown of Bangor, Miss Josephine W. Scott of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens of Brookline, Mass., have been recent guests at the Stanley House at Old Harbor.

Lobsters are very scarce and the bakers' fares are slackening.

Miss Beattie E. Merrithew of Swan's Island and Charles A. Studley of Palermo were married Wednesday evening by Rev. A. T. Bradstreet, at the parsonage.

Mr. Mallett of Cutler with a crew has brought his sloop to Mackerel Cove and is going to seine herring.

Mrs. Alice McMenan of Vinahaven is visiting Mrs. Burton Smith for a few days.

The Misses Newhall of Boston are visiting Mrs. Milan at the lighthouse.

Miss Darah, nurse, of Portland, who came to Swan's Island with Mrs. Lewis Butman, has returned home.

Rose Hill Farm at Atlantic has a full list of summer visitors. Among the more recent arrivals are Mrs. Ernest Vandant of New York City, Mrs. Frank Masi, maid and two children of Norfolk, Va., Miss Dalton of Taunton, Mass., and Mrs. Decatur Miller of Baltimore.

Mrs. J. Forbes Beal and daughter

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

All Films Hand Developed

R. W. TYLER

MAIL ORDERS A SPECIALTY

WIRELESS SUPPLIES

W. P. STRONG
WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER
WALL PAPER

ELECTRIC LAMPS AND SUPPLIES
THOMASTON, MAINE
Tu&S-Fr

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

DYER'S GARAGE

Rockland Dealer

Park Street

PARK THEATRE

"The Arab" a Rex Ingraham production featuring Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry is the attraction at the Park today.

"Babbie," which will be shown at the Park Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, glitters with a lot of famous names.

Willard Louis plays the fat, egotistical half hero, half villain. Dorothy Farnum did the scenario and Harry Beaumont the directing. The people in the story are all the small town folk that Sinclair Lewis knows how to depict.

Cissy Fitzgerald plays "Zilla," a forty-year-old flapper. Remember Cissy? She still looks under thirty, fresh and blonde. Once on the music hall stage one night she closed the corner of her eye for fun. Cissy's naughty wink was known on two continents.

But famous as she was once as Prohman's highest priced comedy star, she brings to the part of the old flapper all that personality and talent that made Europe once sit up and take notice—adv.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Today will be the last showing of "Behind the Curtain" featuring Lucille Ricksen and Johnny Harron. Winifred Bryson and Charles Clary in addition there is "The Leather Stockings" No. 3. Firing a photodramatic broadside on the snobs of high society, "The Wanters," produced by John M. Stahl for First National release, will be the special cinema attraction at the Empire Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

As the creator of "The Dangerous Age," "One Clear Call," "The Child Thou Gaves Me" and other notable screen successes, Director Stahl has established the reputation for pictures that carry some poignant thought touching upon the every-day lives of people.

"The Wanters" tells the story of a certain type of American family that considers itself above the average class of citizens, and of the struggles and hopes of a poor girl who strives for the beautiful things that money can buy.

Her rise from the lowly station of a serving maid to enviable social heights despite the overwhelming odds against her forms the basis of the story, with plenty of humor, dramatic sidelights, a number of thrills and a beautiful romance interwoven—adv.

ATLANTIC

G. M. White and F. K. White of Newton Centre, Mass., J. W. Rodie of Auburn, Wayne Clark of Natick, Mass., B. T. Brown of Bangor, Miss Josephine W. Scott of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens of Brookline, Mass., have been recent guests at the Stanley House at Old Harbor.

Lobsters are very scarce and the bakers' fares are slackening.

Miss Beattie E. Merrithew of Swan's Island and Charles A. Studley of Palermo were married Wednesday evening by Rev. A. T. Bradstreet, at the parsonage.

Mr. Mallett of Cutler with a crew has brought his sloop to Mackerel Cove and is going to seine herring.

Mrs. Alice McMenan of Vinahaven is visiting Mrs. Burton Smith for a few days.

The Misses Newhall of Boston are visiting Mrs. Milan at the lighthouse.

Miss Darah, nurse, of Portland, who came to Swan's Island with Mrs. Lewis Butman, has returned home.

Rose Hill Farm at Atlantic has a full list of summer visitors. Among the more recent arrivals are Mrs. Ernest Vandant of New York City, Mrs. Frank Masi, maid and two children of Norfolk, Va., Miss Dalton of Taunton, Mass., and Mrs. Decatur Miller of Baltimore.

Mrs. J. Forbes Beal and daughter

A. C. MOORE

Piano Tuner

WITH THE MAINE MUSIC CO.

Telephone Directory

CALL LIVE BUSINESS HOUSES WHOSE WATCH

CHEVROLET GARAGE

Call 837-M
SEA VIEW GARAGE
Chevrolet Cars, Parts and Service Station. Auto Accessories.
689 Main St., Rockland

LAUNDRY WORK

Call 170
People's Laundry
17 Limerock Street
We do all kinds of Laundry Work. Family Washing a Specialty. Wet Wash, Rough Dry, Finish Flat Work. Shirts, Collars.

HARDWARE AND PAINTS

Telephone 205
BLUEBERRY PICKERS
Assorted sizes
H. H. Crie & Co.
456 Main Street, Rockland

DYER'S GARAGE

Rockland Dealer

Park Street

Call 170

People's Laundry

17 Limerock Street

We do all kinds of Laundry Work.