Barry Woods of Orono, son of Charles D. Woods, director of the University of Maine agricultural experiment station, has bought the George A. Moore farm in Trenton.

Mr. Woods is a graduate of the University of Maine College of Agriculture. The Moore farm is already in a good state of cultivation, and one of the best farms in this section. Mr. Woods will develop it on modern lines. He will be a valuable acquisition to the agricultural interests of Hancock county.

Does it pay to spray potatoes properly? Just following the recent foggy hot spell, the Farm Bureau office here received word from thirty-two potato-growers whose plants had gone down. Of these, twenty-seven had not sprayed at all, four had sprayed with a commercial mixture, and one claimed to have properly sprayed with Bordeaux. County Agent Bridges says the potato crop in this section has been hit hard by that spell of hot, foggy weather, and by the present drought. Plants are wilting and the spuds not developing, but plants that have been properly sprayed are standing up better against disease and weather than others.

The wonderful life story of Helen Keller, blind since early childhood, but who has risen above her affliction and acquired a knowledge that is the envy of many possessed of all their senses, is told in the picture, "Deliverance," to be shown at the Bijou next Monday and Tuesday.

The film is more or less of an allegorical nature at the beginning, showing the struggle between the forces of ignorance and light for the possession of a little soul, and gradually, as the tale unfolds, the light triumphs, and the Helen Keller of to-day—beautiful, learned and desiring to learn still more—is seen.

A man giving the name of Charles H. Johnson of Detroit is held at the Hancock county jail in default of $1,000 bonds to await action of the October grand jury on the charge against him of stealing an automobile owned by Harry W. Haynes of Ellsworth.

Last Thursday evening Mr. Haynes' son Charles drove to Bar Harbor to attend a dance at the Casino, leaving his car, an Oldsmobile runabout, parked outside. Later in the evening Morton Whitcomb happened to see the car pass him, driven by a strange man, and recognizing the car, he at once informed Charles.

A telephone message to Ellsworth put Night Officer Shea on the alert, and shortly before midnight the car was stopped at the corner of Main and High streets, and the driver put under arrest.

County Agent Bridges has been delegated by the University of Maine college of agriculture to have charge of the potato-judging team and the stock-judging team at the Eastern States agricultural exposition in Springfield, Mass., the week of Sept. 20.

The potato-judging team will come from Aroostook county, and the stock-judging team probably from Hancock county. Mr. Bridges has just been notified of his selection, which gives him but little time to train his team, so that he cannot hope for the success he achieved at the exposition last year, when his team from Sanderson academy, Mass., took the Eastern States championship against 1,200 competitors.

Mr. Bridges will also act as one of the judges in the Guernsey and Jersey classes at the exposition.

Death of Mrs. Alfred P. Lasher.

Mary Gillespy, wife of Alfred P. Lasher of Saugerties, N. Y., died very suddenly last Friday at her summer home at Hancock Point. Mrs. Lasher was out fishing with her husband and a party of friends when she was taken ill. Before reaching the wharf at the Point, she had another attack, and lapsed into unconsciousness. She died a few hours later. Death was due to apoplexy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lasher had been spending the summers at Hancock Point for the past eleven years, highly esteemed among the summer colony, and having many friends in Ellsworth.

Mrs. Lasher was a woman of beautiful character, and always helpful in any community in which she lived. During the war, she was active in various lines of war service work. She was sixty-three years of age.

MUTUAL BENEFIT COLUMN.

Edited by "Aunt Madge."

MOTTO:—HELPFUL AND HOPEFUL.

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestions, a medium for the interchange of ideas, in this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to The American, Ellsworth, Me.

Letters and messages received from absent nieces and read at the reunion, August 26, which were greatly enjoyed:

Goddard Hospital, Brockton, Mass. "I am allowed for the first time to sit up in bed, and will try to write a few lines of greeting to the M. B. friends assembled in reunion. May you have very joyous times. Regret so much that I am preventing Ford from attending too. This card shows my present abode. Love to all. "Esther."

Dear Aunt Madge: May I still call you that? I am more than sorry that I cannot meet with you when the reunion is held. I am so much better, but still quite weak. Best wishes to all. N. D. H.

I expect this card will reach you in time to say "How do you do, M. B.'s." This is all the way that I shall be able to say it to you this year. I shall think of you all, and wonder how many of you will get together and what you will have for dinner. We all send best wishes to you all. "Are."

Brockton, Aug. 23, 1920.

Dear Mutuals: Would very much like to meet with you August 26. However, in my memory still lingers the delightful afternoon East and I spent at "Mountain View" this summer. I am practicing the rally songs and Ford, Esther and I will sing them on that day. I know you all will be very disappointed in not seeing the "sisters" at the reunion. No doubt you will hear from Ford, and she will give the reason for their absence. However, I will say Esther is improving and expects to be able to leave Dr. Goddard's hospital next week. I am very glad she is so near and I can see her often.

With kindly greetings and best wishes to all. H. O. B.

Dear Aunt Madge and Everyone of the M. B.'s.

Hancock-Clark House, Lexington, Mass., Aug. 17. I send greetings for this our reunion. May it be the best ever. While not there in person, surely shall be in mind and can see you all at the table and hear the chatter and will know that some one is passing a cake along the line. I shall take down the telephone receiver and listen for the reunion songs. Those I have read are fine. Let us hope the fog will not cover dear old Bluehill but the sun shine over all and that every one will be on the way early.

Best of wishes, good cheer and love for every M. B. from one who has always enjoyed meeting with you. Eliza A. Hinckley.

Wish I could be there to help you, meet all the M. B. and enjoy the party. Do hope you will have good weather and a delightful day.

With much love. "Edwina."

Vinalhaven, Aug. 23, 1920.

Dear Aunt Madge and Mutuals: I can hardly believe a year has gone by since I wrote a few words of greeting to you at the last reunion. I intended to take the time to-day and write a nice long letter, but my "tother half" came in just before dinner and said he'd take me over to a neighboring island on a blueberrying trip, so here it is dark and no letter done and my brain rather "woolly" from over-exertion and worry for fear my only son, who has just departed for the merry-go-round, will fall off a horse and kill himself.

Have just returned from a visit to my home town where I saw N. L. H., who I am glad to report, is improving after a serious illness. I was much surprised to read Aunt Maria's letter not long ago written from her home, as

ESCAPED AN OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many Such Cases.

Cairo, Ill.—"Sometime ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."

Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letter, and many others like it, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

I had packed her off for Seattle with Esther and Ford to make the third sister. Aunt Maria, I dreamed I was up to your house a few nights ago, and that I had to walk to Castine to take the boat for home. It seemed a big job for me and no wonder, for it must be twenty miles. I ate dinner with your son Herbert's family and got choked on a fishbone in the operation. His family consisted of four small children in my dream, two of them going about on crutches. When I awoke and didn't have to walk twenty miles, I repeated "Of all glad words a poet can paint. The gladdest are these, I'm glad it aint." I am sure Mr. Ginn would say ditto if he could know that a helpless family I had dreamed on him.

Will close with best wishes for a happy reunion, and go down street to mail this so it will get there on time. I will write very soon about a trip around the island we took not long ago. Greetings to B. E. S. on her birthday. If I don't send her a card, which I mean to do.

"Betsey Prig."

East Holden, Aug. 23, 1920.

Dear Aunt Madge and all M. B.'s: As the time is nigh for the M. B. reunion, my conscience troubles me so I must write for the column if I haven't anything of interest to write about. I have meant to write for a long time, in fact ever since Law spoke right out in meeting and called names.

I should like very much to be with you, but it is impossible this time. I sincerely hope that you will have a beautiful day and all the clan will be there. I would like a seat at table beside Aunt Maria.

I suppose all the sisters are busy canning everything. We had squash yesterday and made new pumpkin pies to-day.

With best wishes to all for a pleasant reunion I am still "Grandma Disable."

Bangor.

Dear Aunt Madge:

This is to greet you on your birthday. I shall think of you and all the clan on the 26th, and wish I could be with you on that day. I do hope it will be pleasant and B. E. S. will be able to get there. I wish I could hear you all when singing the songs Helen and A. M. Y. and S. J. Y. wrote. I can imagine the tables how they will groan (darn mine added here "and the M. B.'s too") with all the good things. Hope

Aunt Maria and her dahlia get there. Remember me to all; also to the Johns. With best wishes from "Idora."

Whitman, Mass., Aug. 25, 1920.

Dear Aunt Madge: As I cannot be present at the reunion August 26, I will write a letter for that goodly occasion, when the nieces will come from far and near to do honor to the host and hostess of Mountain View farm. I hope Aunt Maria will be present to represent the absent sisters who will think of you all on that most festive day.

Just at present I am traveling mostly between Whitman and Brockton, and on my way I see corymbose embowered in flowers, stretches of woodland that tempt you to leave the car and gather the wild flowers that grow in profusion among the trees. The fragrant wild pepper bush is in bloom and the pink blossoms of motherwort make the roadside gay with color. There are quantities of sweet elder berries, too, and children are gathering them by the basketful, as they make pies and wine of them. I hope you will have a "pink line" pink grows wild in Massachusetts and the blossoms look good to me, for we had it in the garden in my childhood days. There are fields of cabbage and potatoes, with dahlias edging the rows, and clumps of sunny golden glow brighten all the corners and shady places.

Just as H. O. B.'s home on the way to Brockton. Such a cosy house, pale green in color, with fruit trees about it. The garden is gay with cosmos and many other old-fashioned flowers. A crimson rambler has climbed way up to the chamber windows, and a splendid wine-red rose is blossoming near the back porch. I was my good fortune to enter the house and tarry awhile. The interior of the house was as delightful as the outside, and such a delicious supper as H. O. B. gave us! Just stop at Wendell avenue, where you way to Brockton and verify my report.

Brockton is a hustling city of seventy-five thousand inhabitants. There are many shoe factories within its borders, and at night, when the work is over, the streets are filled with men and women workers hastening to take the trolley cars to Campello, Bridge-water, Whitman and other nearby towns where many of them live, as Brockton hasn't room enough to accommodate them all.

Not far from Brockton the Plymouth Cordage Co. has the largest rope walk in the world. The employees have a fine clubhouse, library and extensive grounds where they can play tennis, golf, etc. Hanson is another adjoining town, and many retired sea captains live there in beautiful old colonial houses. Some of the houses have the old-fashioned doorway with the green fanlight above the door.

Brockton has many fine department stores, and the windows are gay with summer goods, hats and coats. The prices are somewhat lower than they have been, but the feather hats for fall are quoted at $12.50 to $25. They are beautiful creations, and I only lack a fascinating serpent to tempt me to buy one.

Eldon B. Keith, a citizen of Brockton, has given a large tract of land for an athletic field in memory of his son who died in France. The field is just opposite the Goddard hospital, where Esther is taking an enforced vacation. I have been much interested in the work, for they have made a deep cement culvert and buried a river. They used an immense steam shovel for excavating. The noise it made was rasping to the nerves, but I enjoyed watching the powerful thing at work. Two shovels would fill a two-horse cart, and it did the work of many men. I shall not be able to see the completion of the work, for Esther is gaining in health and I must be getting back to old Bluehill.

You will be getting tired of this rambling letter that I began early this morning, but callers, and making a custard and rhubarb pie have interrupted my labors. With most cordial greetings to you all, I will close, with many regrets that I cannot join you to-morrow.

"Ford."

To Aunt Madge, M. B. Sisters and Friends:

I send greetings, hoping that it will be a happy day for anyone who is fortunate enough to meet with Aunt Madge in her home for another M. B. reunion. I shall try to imagine you all, eating and drinking, talking and laughing, and singing the new M. B. songs. I should be delighted to be with you.

"Alexia."

carrying two passengers, was seen flying westward over Swan's Island on the return journey.

Since the recent accident to the steamer Vinalhaven, passengers for Rockland have to leave home the night before in order to be on deck when the steamer Gov. Bodwell leaves the dock at Old Harbor at 4.15 a. m., for the long but beautiful (in pleasant weather) sail to Isle au Haut, Stonington, North Haven and Vinalhaven, arriving in Rockland in time to connect with the morning train west. Lucillus A. Emery.

Ellsworth loses its foremost citizen, the Hancock county bar its oldest member, the State one of its ablest jurists, in the death of ex-Chief-Justice Lucillus A. Emery. He was recognized beyond the confines of the State for his knowledge of the law, his clearness in interpreting it, his impartiality in administering it, his dignity in maintaining it, no less than for his scholarly attainments. In him, the dignity of the law was personified. He was naturally reserved, almost austere, yet those privileged to a closer acquaintance with him found within a heart beating strong with human sympathy, a man whose friendship, once given, could be depended upon, a man interested in his fellowmen and in his town.

For many years Mr. Emery was financially interested in The American, and his interest in the welfare of the paper did not cease when he relinquished his ownership in it. The present editor is glad to acknowledge many valuable suggestions from him, criticisms always kindly and tactfully given, and praise no less stinted and with unquestioned sincerity.

No man courted public favor or popular applause less than he, and it follows that he often ran contrary to popular opinion in Ellsworth, yet no one could question the soundness of his judgment or the sincerity of his purpose. Ellsworth has lost a wise counselor and loyal friend in Judge Emery.

Registration of Women Voters.

Women may vote at the coming State and presidential elections. This was made possible by the ratification of the federal amendment giving them equal rights with men in voting, and the Maine legislature, in special session yesterday, provided the necessary machinery for registering women voters, as must be done before they can vote.

The board of registration in Ellsworth will be in special session on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week for registration of women voters. The place for registration is at the office of the city clerk in Hancock hall, and the hours are from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Women may also register at the regular session of the board of registration Tuesday to Saturday of next week, when the men register, but no new names will be received after 5 p. m. Friday of next week.

Women must register if they wish to vote.

Medical Veterans Organize.

At a recent meeting of the medical officers from Maine who served with the United States forces, or with those of our allies, during the war, held at Augusta, it was voted to establish a State organization. The object of the association is to perpetuate friendships made during the war, interest in the medical reserve corps, better co-operation between the reserve and the regular corps, and to promote the welfare of members so far as it relates to government matters of interest to them.

The following State officers were chosen: President, Estes Nichols, Portland; first vice-president, Blai F. Bradbury, Norway; second vice-president, J. G. Towne, Waterville; secretary and treasurer, Frank Y. Gilbert, Portland; executive council, W. L. Cousins of Portland, W. C. Peters of Bangor, H. R. Farris of Oxford, J. W. Loughlin of Newcastle and Edgar Flint of Foxcroft.

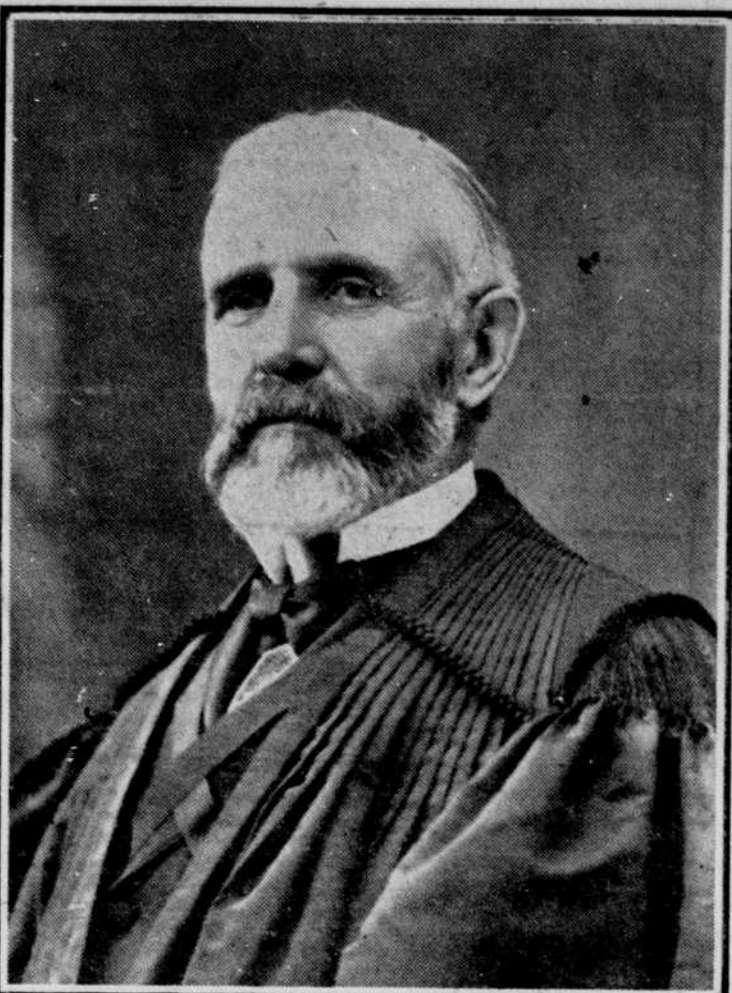

Medical officers from Hancock county should join the association now. There should be a 100 per cent membership from Hancock county. Communicate with and send dues to the secretary-treasurer, or with Dr. I. B. Gage, Atlantic, Maine. Initial dues are $2.

DEATH OF L. A. EMERY.

FORMER CHIEF-JUSTICE PASSES AWAY AT HANCOCK POINT.

Long Term of Distinguished Service on Supreme Bench—Funeral at Ellsworth Sunday.

Hon. Lucillus A. Emery of Ellsworth, former chief-justice of the Maine supreme court and recognized as one of the foremost jurists in the State, died at his summer home at Hancock Point last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Death came suddenly and unexpectedly from a heart attack, but to his close friends and family it had been known for some time that Judge Emery's health was in a precarious state. He had recently returned to Hancock Point after a few weeks in the hospital at Bar Harbor.

Lucillus Alonzo Emery was born at Carmel, in Penobscot county, July 27, 1840, the son of James and Eliza (Wing) Emery. In 1850 the family moved to Hampden, the elder Emery being for years prominent there as merchant, ship-builder and town official.

Justice Emery fitted for college at Hampden academy, entered Bowdoin, and was graduated in 1861 in a class later distinguished by the number of its members who attained eminent places in letters and in law.

Upon leaving college, Mr. Emery entered the office of Hon. A. W. Paine in Bangor, to read law, and was admitted to the Penobscot county bar in August, 1863. In October of the same year he opened a law office in Ellsworth and enrolled as a member of the Hancock county bar.

Mr. Emery's ability as a lawyer was at once recognized, and he rose rapidly in his profession. In 1866 he was elected county attorney for Hancock county, and before the expiration of his term he was invited by the late Senator Eugene Hale, then just entering upon his congressional career, to enter his office as a law partner. The invitation was accepted, and for fifteen years the law firm of Hale & Emery was continued.

In 1874-75 Judge Emery served in the Maine Senate, and in 1876 was elected attorney-general of the State, serving in that capacity three years. He was again sent to the Senate in 1880, and during that term served as chairman of the judiciary committee.

In the fall of 1883 he was appointed to the supreme court bench by Governor Robie, being reappointed as associate justice three times. In December, 1906, following the death of Chief-Justice Wiswell, he was appointed chief-justice, and held that office until his resignation in June, 1911, thus completing nearly twenty-eight years on the supreme bench of Maine, a record of service exceeded only twice in the history of the State—by Judge Appleton, who served thirty-one years, and by Judge Walton, who served thirty-five years.

Judge Emery's long career on the bench was marked by diligent application to work, absolute impartiality, clearness of vision and of diction, ready knowledge of the law and belief in the law and in justice. The bench was dignified by him, and the scales of justice were held evenly balanced in his hands. He has written into the Reports of Maine opinions involving principles of law that will ever stand as a monument to his clearness of thought and of expression, and his knowledge of the law and the history of law.

In 1889 Justice Emery was elected professor of medical jurisprudence in the Maine medical school at Bowdoin college, which he held until 1912. He also served on the board of overseers, and at the time of his death was a member of the board of trustees. Bowdoin conferred upon him the LL. D. degree in 1898. He had been lecturer on Roman Law on the faculty of the University of Maine College of Law since 1896. He had also, since his retirement from the bench, lectured at Yale and Harvard.

Judge Emery's last appearance in the court room was at the October term in Ellsworth last year, when memorial exercises were held for the late Senator Eugene Hale. After an eloquent tribute to his long-time friend and former law partner, he said in closing, in words that were felt by all hearers as prophetic:

"And now a few words of farewell. I first addressed this court fifty-six years ago this October term in a cause upon the other side of which was he whom we honor to-day. I have now probably addressed the court for the last time, and I am glad I have lived to express thus publicly my high estimate of his life, character and service. I was admitted to his friendship, and whatever of service I may have been to the State is largely due to the stimulus of that friendship. It is to me a fitting consummation that what is probably my last address to the court and the bar should be in his honor."

"I have now passed the allotted three score and ten years of this life. I feel that the angel is near. I seem at times to hear the beating of his wings. He may summon me before I can meet you Honor and my brothers of the bar here again. Should he do so, I shall follow him uncomplainingly, in the hope that I shall meet my old law partner and friend, and also meet you Honor and you, my brethren of the bar, in that place where the good Bishop Hooker said the law hath her seat—in the bosom of God."

In Ellsworth, his home town, as neighbor, as friend, as business associate, Judge Emery will be missed. He had many friends, few intimates. A natural reserve and dignity, augmented by years of judicial constraint, were responsible for this, yet those who penetrated the outer shell of reserve found beneath a heart full of human sympathy. In his hours of relaxation in his home, with music and books and anecdotes and humor, Judge Emery was delightful, companionable, stimulating.

It was the year following the opening of his office in Ellsworth, in 1864, that Mr. Emery brought here his bride, Miss Annie Crosby of Hampden. For forty-eight years this beautiful woman graced his home, leaving an impress upon the community that can never be effaced. Mrs. Emery died in December, 1912. Judge Emery leaves one son, Henry Crosby Emery, now representing a New York banking house in Peking, China, and one daughter, Mrs. Francis G. Allison of Providence, R. I., who was with her father at Hancock Point.

Mr. Emery was the last survivor of the original incorporators of the First National bank, now the Union Trust Co., the others being Eugene Hale, A. P. Wiswell, Lewis Friend, S. K. Whitcomb, George P. Dutton and E. H. Greely. He retained his interest in and connection with this institution, being a member of the board of directors at his death, and until recently a member of the executive board.

He also took an active interest in the Ellsworth library, and to him, more than to any other one man, is due its present excellence. For years, until his judicial duties demanded more of his time, he was active in educational work in Ellsworth as a member of the school committee, and it was largely through his efforts, against strong opposition, that a high school was established here.

He was a staunch and liberal supporter of the First Congregational church of Ellsworth, and an unfailing source of reliance when sound judgment was needed. He was a commandery Mason, being a member of the several masonic lodges here.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Almost the entire membership of the Hancock county bar was present, with many from Penobscot and other counties. The supreme bench was represented by Chief-Justice Leslie C. Cornish of Augusta, and Associate Justices George M. Hanson of Calais, Warren C. Philbrook of Waterville, Charles J. Dunn of Orono and Luere B. Deasy of Bar Harbor. Kenneth C. M. Sills, president of Bowdoin college, was also present.

The pulpit was banked with magnificent flowers. Rev. R. B. Mathews, pastor of the church, officiated, and the service and remarks by Mr. Mathews were in keeping with the simple, dignified life of Judge Emery. There was congregational singing of two hymns, led by the vested choir. Prof. Hammond of Mt. Holyoke, a summer resident at Hancock Point, was at the organ.

Interment was private, at the family lot in Woodbine cemetery. The bearers were H. E. Hamlin, Henry M. Hall, Dr. Lewis Hodgkins and O. W. Tapley.

OBITUARY.

OLIVER L. ANDERSON.

Friends in Ellsworth were shocked to learn of the death Friday evening of Oliver L. Anderson, of Boston. Only two weeks before his death he was in Ellsworth on his vacation, greeting old friends, apparently in the best of health and spirits. Friday came a letter saying he was to undergo an operation for appendicitis, and this was quickly followed by a message announcing his death at the Homeopathic hospital in Boston.

Oliver L. Anderson was born in Ellsworth, November 27, 1875, a son of Theophilus and Melissa (Webber) Anderson. At the age of fourteen he entered the office of The American and learned the printing trade. Afterwards he worked upon the Bar Harbor Record, the Piscataquis Observer at Dover, and the Chronicle of Cambridge, Mass. After a few years in charge of the printing department of the Perry Box Co. in Cambridge, he became associated with the management of the printing department of the Pilgrim Press in Boston, where he remained until the time of his death.

Mr. Anderson was well known and universally beloved by the whole printing trade of New England. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Foresters.

For two years previous to his death he had been president of the Ellsworth Reunion association. In whose affairs he had always been very active, and a large part of the success of the annual reunions has been due to his untiring efforts and to his large acquaintance among former Ellsworth people.

He is survived by a widow, his aged mother, two sisters, Miss Cora Anderson of Ellsworth and Mrs. Mary Goud of East Boston; three half-brothers, Hollis E. Anderson of Ellsworth, George Anderson of Orono and John Anderson of Gloucester, Mass., and one half-sister, Mrs. A. M. Jenkins of Winslow Mills.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. A. A. Killam, formerly of Ellsworth, at the home in Cambridge, Mass., and interment was in the Cambridge cemetery.

In Confidence.

The ancient Greeks dedicated the rose to Harpocrates, the God of Silence, and garlands of roses were draped over the doors of rooms in which debates or conferences were taking place in token that words which were spoken "sub rosa"—under the rose—were secret and not to be repeated outside. Hence our use of the term to denote something told in confidence.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

Students Present Watch to Director Bellatty.

Before the entire student body of the Boston university summer school and a few guests, Prof. Charles E. Bellatty, director of the school here, was presented with an expensive gold watch and chain at a farewell banquet held at the school dining hall Friday evening. The watch was a gift from the students of the school in token of their regard for him.

Making the presentation speech, Walter Dolliver declared that he was expressing the feeling of the ninety-two students of the school in saying that Prof. Bellatty was the first friend that the ex-service men met since beginning their training. He ascribed the Ellsworth summer session and the success with which it has been attended entirely to his efforts. Prof. Bellatty responded feelingly.

Other speakers at the banquet were Charles Leland, president of the board of trade, and Prof. William G. Hoffman of the school. Cheers that shook the building were led by Matthew Boyle. The old Boston university yell was roared out by ninety-two lusty-throated young men.

"It has been an exceptionally pleasant experience that the people of Ellsworth have had with the boys of the summer school," said Mr. Leland, in his speech bidding farewell to the students. "It is almost unbelievable that 100 young men could be brought suddenly into a small place like Ellsworth and make such a good impression as have you boys. The people of Ellsworth are sorry to see you go."

An elaborate chicken dinner was served, the occasion being the last night when the entire student body would be present. The dining hall was decorated with wild flowers.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bellatty, Mrs. Carrie Bellatty, G. W. Higgins, Mrs. Mabel Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gould, Charles H. Leland, Mrs. John H. Leland, Mrs. M. T. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Curley McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Morris.

The summer school baseball team closed its season here last Thursday afternoon, defeating Bar Harbor in the rubber game between these two teams by the score of 20-15.

Wednesday afternoon the summer school team was again defeated by the P. C. F. team at Old Town. It was almost a repetition of its previous game with this team—a ninth-inning carnival of run-getting which netted the P. C. F. team six runs and won the game by one score. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 7-1 in favor of the summer school, but the home team scored twelve runs in the last three innings, while the summer school gathered in

DUTY TO TELL IT, SAYS EX-SOLDIER

Wonderfully Built Up by Tanlac and Able to go to Work Again.

"Yes sir, Tanlac has helped my mother and myself so much that I feel it my duty to tell the whole world about this medicine," said Frank Hamilton, of 20 Bradford St., Portland, Me., a few days ago. Recently Mr. Hamilton received his honorable discharge from the U. S. army.

"I had been in bad health for over a year," continued Mr. Hamilton, "and since my discharge from the army some time ago I had been in such a weak, run-down condition that I was unable to work. My appetite was so poor that I hardly ate enough to keep me going. Mother would have a big dinner prepared for me, but when I got to the table my appetite left me and the sight of food would nauseate me so that I would have to get up and leave. It seemed that everything turned against me and for the past three months I lost strength and energy rapidly. My sleep was restless and when I got up every morning I just felt so weak and worn-out I could hardly drag myself about."

"My mother had been in a miserable run-down condition also, and she had taken Tanlac with such fine results that I started taking it and it began to build me up right away and to-day I am feeling better than I have in all my life and can hardly realize what a remarkable change has come over me. My appetite is as fine, if not better than it ever was and I am eating three and four big, hearty meals every day and still feel hungry. Everything agrees with me perfectly and my strength and energy have come back to me. I sleep so fine at night that they have to call me a half-dozen times and then shout right in my ear before I ever wake up. I feel so strong I am planning to go to work immediately."

Tanlac is sold in Ellsworth by E. G. Moore, in Sullivan by Dunbar Bros., in Little Deer Isle by H. G. Eaton, in Ashville by C. C. Small, in South Bluehill by M. B. Grindle, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Advt.

five, making the final score 13-12 for P. C. F. The summer school boys came home with a poor opinion of the sportsmanship of the P. C. F. team, and attributing defeat to a partisan umpire.

Suffering from a physical and nervous collapse, Joseph McCorry, first baseman on the Boston university summer school baseball team, was overcome Friday evening just after finishing the game with Bar Harbor at Wyman park, and was unconscious for nearly twenty minutes. A doctor was hurriedly called, and McCorry was removed to the residence of friends, where he was under the doctor's care nearly all night.

When the forty or more students of the Boston university summer school who, during their stay in Ellsworth, composed the illustrious and far-famed organization of the Malatra Mala, sit in the men's study at the College of Business Administration in Boston and think of their experience here, perhaps no one person will stand out so clearly in their memories as Mrs. Alice Parker.

Certainly, no one whom the gentry of the Malatra Mala met in Ellsworth will be regarded with more kindly feelings. This, at least, was the sentiment of the boys expressed while they were in Ellsworth.

As an indication of their appreciation for the kindness shown them by Mrs. Parker, who had eight students quartered with her during the summer, the Malatra Mala drew up resolutions couched in verbose language and delicately humorous in style, and read them on the occasion of the presentation of a large cake to the organization. The resolutions, written by Jack Glynn, were as follows:

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION.
August 19, 1920. No. 644-M
Know all men by these presents: nux vomica, e pluribus unum, and Erin Go Braugh (slight applause):
That the cavalieros and senoritas of Malatra Mala in most solemn convocation convened on this day of our Lord, 1920, and of the Declaration of Independence the 14th, do hereafter move, second, vote and now publish to the esteemed friend, Mrs. Parker, to the other kindly spirits whom the aforesaid Mrs. Parker has seen fit to billet in this home of Benevolence and Kindness, viz., the Parker House (applause), to the great city of Ellsworth (one rah), to the State of Maine (two grunts), and to these United States of America, the herewith appended resolutions (wild applause).
Whereas, Through the extreme kindness and benevolence of Mrs. Parker, whose virtues the world might well emulate, we, the Malatra Malas, have partaken of the ambrosial cake of the gods, a cake dripping with nectar and marshmallow, and of a succulency that eke would make a connoisseur of pastries sell his all to obtain; and
Whereas, The Malatra Malas hereby affirm that this is the first cake or edible of any kind that has fallen to our lot to eat while in Ellsworth; and
Whereas, It smacks as nothing else ever did of our own dear mothers' cooking (applause);
Therefore be it resolved that:
1. Mrs. Parker has our greatest thanks for her remarkable gift (applause).
2. That Mrs. Parker, in all her social connections, has shown herself to be a regular fellows' mother (wild applause).
3. That we shall always cherish in our memory not only Mrs. Parker's wonderful cake, not only the beautiful spirit with which it was given, but also shall ever think of her as the kindest mother that homesick boys could have (thundering, tremendous, wild, applause).
Signed:
Jack Glynn, Chief Malatra Mala, Ex-

Bright eyes

Dull eyes and that disagreeable, listless feeling are usually the first signs of a bilious condition. A tablespoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine should be taken promptly to stimulate the action of the liver, bowels and other digestive organs. This household remedy never fails to bring quick relief and may ward off a serious attack of indigestion. Sufferers from biliousness should have a bottle always on hand, and take small doses regularly as a precaution. This will tone the stomach and keep the entire system healthy and normal.

Don't experiment with unknown widely advertised pills and tablets that may contain acetanilid or other coal-tar derivatives. The true "L. F." has established a splendid reputation through 60 years of unchanging quality, and is well worth the confidence it enjoys. It has been used in many families with unvarying beneficial results for three generations. Get a bottle today. Most druggists and storekeepers carry it. Dangers of a Cold

Ellsworth People Will Do Well to Heed Them.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood, and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Here is an experience told by a resident of this locality.

Levi W. Bennett, retired farmer, Mill St., Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "After taking cold I noticed my kidneys were weak and disordered. I also have had headaches and dizzy spells and at times rheumatic pains in my shoulders, arms and hips. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at E. G. Moore's Drug Store and after using them awhile, the trouble disappeared. I can recommend Doan's to anyone suffering from kidney troubles. Whenever I find my kidneys aren't acting right, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to cure the attack."

This Proves That

Statement by Mrs. Lizzie McMassters, 312 Humphrey St., Lowell, Mass.:

W. A. Varney, Dear Sir—
"For seven years I did not know a day that I was without pain. All my joints were afflicted; when I moved my head I could hear and feel grating like there was gravel or sand in my neck. My knees were so drawn up I was unable to straighten them. To sit down I would have to literally fall in a chair. The last doctor said I would never get rid of the disease as it was the worst form of rheumatism, Arthritis Deformans. I was in bed sixteen months.

After taking Var-ne-sis, the pain and stiffness became less noticeable. The chalky bunches of the fingers and knees disappeared, my hands straightened. I can now feed and dress myself, walk down stairs, sew a little, and do some housework."

What Var-ne-sis has done for others it can do for you. In liquid or tablet form at your druggist's. You ought to read "The Rust of Human Hinges." Write to W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass. It's free.

WOMAN SUFFERED IN SILENCE

Health Poor, Beauty Fast Fading Away—
Made Believe She Was Well

A woman of New Auburn, Me., writes: "There must be lots of women who feel as I did. I suffered in silence many times on account of my pride, but now I know that a good laxative is essential to good health. I neglected my health, trying to keep cheery and pretending I was all right when I wasn't. I had terrible pains, was 'grouchy,' and my head aches almost killed me with pain, and worst of all, from my viewpoint, I had a sallow, unbecoming complexion which was not helped by face powders. Why didn't I try to cure myself rather than pretend? After taking Dr. True's Elixir, I now know that a laxative was what I needed. Dr. True's Elixir is mild and pleasant to take, and works just right for me. My complexion cleared up—bright and ruddy—blemishes vanished and every one remarked how much better I looked."—Mrs. E. J. B. New Auburn, Me.

The root of many of the evils of sickness is the bowels, a very vital part of the human body.
A cold, a fever, diseases or the like can be helped at once, providing the operation of the bowels is normal—the first and most important relief can be had by giving a laxative, be sure it is the proper kind.
Most everybody in these days of quick action and strife, forget their health. The laboring people bolt down their meals from go to bed right after eating, and wake up in the morning restless, force down a breakfast and then are distressed all day.
An Outdoor Worker says: "I couldn't puzzle out what made me feel so bad. My good, home-cooked meals didn't even taste good, and I had headaches and was grouchy. I never thought it was constipation, but now I know, for I took four doses of your Dr. True's Elixir, and it fixed me up grand. I will never be without it again in case of constipation."—F. B. B. Allston, Mass.

FIRST AID TRAINING TO MEN AND WOMEN

American Red Cross Is Teaching Hundreds of Thousands Life-Saving Methods.

The purpose of instruction in First Aid to the injured offered by the American Red Cross is to train men and women to administer First Aid treatment promptly and intelligently when emergencies demand it. First Aid treatment is not intended to take the place of a physician's service. A surgeon should always be summoned as a precautionary measure where there is an injury of any consequence, but when one cannot be secured a few minutes' delay may mean a fatality. In such a case a person trained in First Aid is invaluable not only to the individual, but through him to the community in which he lives.

There is perhaps no way of ascertaining the number of deaths or serious disabilities which result from lack of proper safeguards or prompt emergency treatment. It is safe to assert they number thousands daily. There can be no doubt that the application of First Aid methods to each case would immeasurably lighten the country's toll of suffering and death.

The dissemination of First Aid training and information has already produced a far-reaching and beneficial influence in the prevention of accidents on railroads, in mines and in great industrial concerns.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

Red Cross First Aid work includes (1) the formation and conduct, through Red Cross chapters, of classes for instruction in accident prevention and First Aid to the injured among men and women in all communities and in every industry; (2) the introduction of courses of instruction in high schools and colleges.

The Red Cross is prepared to supply First Aid books and equipment at reasonable prices.

Every person in this country able to do so should, in his own interest, receive Red Cross First Aid instruction. Information about the course and instruction classes may be had at the nearest chapter headquarters.

RED CROSS EXTENDS RELIEF TO POLAND

More than $5,000,000 has been spent by the American Red Cross in aiding the stricken people of Poland. The organization has nursed the sick, fed the starving, clothed the naked, sheltered the homeless, schooled the children and cared for the orphans there. It has conducted a relentless fight against typhus, cholera and other terrible diseases. So today millions of men and women in that resurrected nation speak in grateful appreciation of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

Nearly 200 American Red Cross workers are now engaged in relief activities in Poland. Four large relief bases are in operation and eleven mobile units are in the field. During the last twelve months this organization was largely instrumental in the re-establishment of a million refugees at a cost for general relief of more than $1,000,000. Last winter one-half million war orphans were aided materially, and since then a series of large orphanages have been established to give them permanent care.

But for American Red Cross aid, officials of Poland declared recently, millions of people in that country would have perished of disease, exposure or starvation the last eighteen months. And the work there must be kept up for another year.

Sydney's Future Assured.
Sydney, about the size of Cleveland or Detroit, is the largest city in the eastern hemisphere south of the equator and is destined soon to reach a population of 1,000,000. It has a magnificent harbor, ranking with the harbors of New York city, Rio Janeiro and Hongkong, among the finest in the world. More than 200 miles of water front are available, much of which is occupied by public parks and private residences, though ultimately available for commerce if required. The founders of the city wisely provided for an abundance of open space, now utilized in parks and public grounds, with a multitude of excellent roadways and beautiful trees. Flower beds are everywhere. Detached houses are the rule. As in other cities of Australasia, a very large share of the population is located in suburbs, with abundant room.

Minister Somewhat Puzzled.
Here is a story which Dr. Samuel Lough, president of Baker university, told on himself. When he was a young Methodist preacher, just beginning his course in the ministry, a friend asked him to go out into the country and preach the funeral sermon of a young farmer who had just died. "Certainly, I would not refuse such a request if the family desire it," Doctor Lough said. "Well, the family wants you to conduct the funeral," the friend replied. "The father of the young man is rather peculiar," he hastened to explain. "He does not want the Catholic priest to preach the sermon, and he has no use for Protestant preachers, but he says you will do all right." Doctor Lough preached the funeral sermon, but he is not quite certain to this day upon what grounds he was selected for the duty.

Atmosphere Above Earth's Surface.
The atmosphere is believed to extend much more than 100 miles above the earth's surface. Its density decreases rapidly for the first few miles of ascent, then much more gradually. From the phenomena of twilight, due to refraction of light, it may be demonstrated that the air extends up to a height of 45 miles; but other phenomena, such as the behavior of meteors and the aurora, show that rare air exists at a much greater height.

Citizens of Maine

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX HAS SHOWN THAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS COLLECTING $15,000,000 FROM BIG BUSINESS TO BUY THE COMING ELECTION.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY SPENT THREE QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS TO DEBAUCH THE ELECTORATE OF MICHIGAN AND SEND SENATOR NEWBERRY TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE.

THAT THREE QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS GAVE THE REPUBLICANS CONTROL OF THE SENATE BY ONE VOTE, ENABLED THEM TO ORGANIZE THE SENATE AND DEFEAT THE PEACE TREATY, BLOCKING THE EFFORT TO END ALL WAR.

CAN THEY BUY MAINE AND THE COUNTRY, AS NEWBERRY BOUGHT MICHIGAN?

REBUKE THE WAR PROFITEERS, WHO ARE TRYING TO BUY THE NATION TO DEFEAT PERMANENT WORLD PEACE.

Vote the Democratic Ticket FOR PEACE AND PROGRESS
